A well-made practical machine that no rider can afford to be without. Develop your muscles and keep in condition. For sale by cycle manufacturers and agents generally, price $7.50.
M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer,
Patents applied for. Bradford, Pa.

MAKER OF FINE JEWELRY. MEDALS & BADGES MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS
HENRY C. HASKELL
18 JOHN & 7 N.Y.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

League Uniforms.

John Wanamaker, Philadelphia,

OFFICIAL CONTRACTOR.

These are the prices: Coat, $6.20; Knee Breeches, $4.34; Shirt, $1.95; Hose, 80 cts.; Cap, 84 cts.; Delivered without extra cost to any part of the U. S. where there is mail or express service.

Regulation League Cloth, Burlington Mills, $2.18 a yard: League Buttons, large, 5 cts. each; small, 2 1-2 cts., full set for suit, 55 cts. Uniform sent C. O. D., privilege of examining, and ONLY TO LEAGUE MEMBERS. We do not pay delivery charges on cloth.

All orders must be accompanied by League Number.

JOHN WANAMAKER,
PHILADELPHIA.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

YANKEE ENAMEL,

The Latest and Best.

Put up and for sale by

BENNETT & HALE,
112 ORANGE ST., NEW HAVEN, CT.

Price Per Bottle, with Brush, 50 cts.

A full line of cycling sundries always on hand. We have an extensive Repair Shop, and pay particular attention to difficult repairs on bicycles and tricycles.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street, NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE OF OUR WHEELS.

MURRAY'S

100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

BEFORE YOU BUY A BICYCLE OR GUN

Send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for ILLUSTRATED NEW AND SECOND-HAND PRICE LIST. Bicycles repaired and nickeled. Second-hand BICYCLES, GUNS and REVOLVERS taken in exchange.

DAYTON BICYCLE STAND AND CAMP STOOL

Can be used as a stand or stool; used for cleaning; adjusted to different size wheels. Price $2, delivered free of express to any point east of Omaha. Patented by A. W. GUMP, Dayton, O.

323 MILES IN 24 HOURS.

DESPATCHES have been received claiming the twenty-four hour record for Stillman G. Whittaker, of the Gormully & Jeffery team. We are advised that ample proof of the record will be furnished. The run was made at Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 27-28. Whittaker's time was as follows: 50 miles, 3.17 2-5; 105 miles, 6.44.22 1-5; 155 miles, 10.30.49; 210 miles, 15.11.32 2-5; 260 miles, 18.34.42 2-5; 315 miles, 23.12.37 3-5; 323 miles, 23.58.35. He was checked at all points, and the officials were all leading men of the city. Frank E. Dingley, the 100-mile champion, paced him for over 280 miles. Whittaker was about to quit at the end of 287 miles, but Dingley shook him up. He finished quite weak. He only rested 28 minutes. He was looked after by T. W. Eck.

CYCLETS.

THANKSGIVING is set for Nov. 24. Now arrange for the farewell run.

OUR former correspondent "Phœnix" is now private secretary to George M. Pullman, of palace-car fame.

SENATOR MORGAN says that he has contracted with Howell to come to America and meet Rowe next year.

CHICAGO riders will have a joint run to Pullman Nov. 13. Three hundred riders are expected to be in the line.

WHITTAKER makes a sweeping challenge to Percy Stone. Stone can choose his own distance and track if he will only race.

THE man who rides all the hills may be called a pusher; but how about the man who gets off and walks? Is n't he a pusher, too?

CAPT. BOLTON and Lieut. White of the Taunton (Mass.,) Club, made a century run of 104 miles Oct. 22. Time, 9.20; riding time, 7.45.

FRED A. BLISS won the Bristol County (R. I.) three-mile road championship, last Saturday, defeating Arthur Beauchene, of Warren, who won the same last September from Max W. Turner. The time made by Bliss was 12.39, which is the best on record.

ANNA, ILL. has an ordinance prohibiting the use of bicycles in the street. Mr. Chas. Goodman was, on Oct. 27, arrested and charged with violating the ordinance by riding his wheel on the main street of the city. He will contest the case, and will have the assistance of the League officials in his case.

E. J. DOUHET has put the Ohio road record up to 190 miles in 23.45. A full corps of timers and checkers were on hand, and the record was fairly made. The start was made at 7.30 A. M. on Oct. 21. A great many wheelmen went out to see E. J. Douhet.

HOW funny it is that Woodside never could beat Howell till he got upon a Rudge, the same kind of a wheel that Howell rides. And is n't it funny that the Rudge people are now advertising "Woodside, on other makes of machine, never could approach Howell, but when he obtained a Rudge he succeeded in beating Howell in his first race." And would n't we all think it funny if this beating and the advertisement were a shrewd business scheme?

THE Springbok and Brer Ptolemy were down the Ripley road last Sunday on a tandem, and noticing that the latter treated the former with more than the usual amount of civility, we were so astonished that we asked the reason for it. "My boy," said Ptolemy gravely, "my life is in the man's hands, he is steering the tandem." — Wheeling.

F. W. ALLARD and E. Oxborrow rode a tandem for a record Oct. 17, at Coventry, Eng. They succeeded in riding twenty miles inside the hour, — 58.51 2-5, — and in an hour covered 20 miles, 715 yards. They covered twenty-five miles in 1.13.42 4-5. The machine ridden was a Marlboro Club, geared to seventy inches and weighing forty-nine pounds.

A LETTER from one of Steven's Teheran friends, states that no less than six bicycles have appeared on the streets of the Shah's Capital, as a direct result of his visit to that city. Four are ridden by Englishmen in the telegraph service, and the other two by young Persian nobles. Before Steven's visit the wheel was entirely unknown to the Persians. The machines were all imported from England direct by the individual buyers. Two of them are Safeties. Other points yet to hear from.

THE annual fifteen mile championship road race of the New York Bicycle Club will be held on "Election Day," Nov. 8, at 11 o'clock, A. M. Course: From Peabody House, Yonkers, to 59th Street and Boulevard, via. Brick Church. Train leaves Grand Central Depot at 9.05 A. M. Leave Yonkers at 11.14 A. M. A group picture of the club will be taken at the Circle at Riverside Drive, at 2.30 o'clock, immediately after which there will be a short run.

A MONMOUTH, Ill. correspondent writes: Representative Davis had his wheel stolen some time since. It seems there were two parties who did the work; one of the perpetrators becoming alarmed, sent Mr. Davis word through P. O., stating where his machine could be found, but the guilty ones could not be definitely located at the time. Rumor has it now that the grand jury have indicted a young man for the offence, and they propose to grind out justice. The way of the transgressor is hard to endure.

THE petition which has been forwarded by those interested in the cycle industry, to the President of Police, to permit free riding of bicycles in the streets of Berlin has received a large number of signatures. It is to be hoped that the request will be granted. The permission to ride bicycles in Berlin would be an inestimable boom to the cycle industry, and would not only bring in a large increase of profits, but give employment to many who are badly in need of it. — Kuhlow's German Trade Review.

MR. E. L. SMITH, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, has sent us a very pretty souvenir of the Ohio meet, which was held at Mansfield, Marion, and Springfield, last July. Mr. Smith has taken a number of views of interesting subjects in each place; the club house, parade, hotels, etc., and collecting them on one broadside, he has photographed the whole down to 5x8 size. The work is skilfully done, and the picture forms an interesting story of the meeting.

MOST wheelmen have heard of the admirable plan of wrapping paper round one's legs inside the knickerbockers in case of wet weather, but it was reserved for the record-breaking Bower to use paper as an outside covering. One wet night last week he might have been seen riding home from Ham Common with a large newspaper pinned on his back, as he was on a light Safety with no mud guard, and knew what his coat would be like after a ten-mile run through mud. We believe he was taken for a new sandwich-board man on wheels. — Wheeling.

MOST riders would consider a run of seventy miles over rough roads for two consecutive days rather punishing, especially at this time of the year. A lady of our acquaintance lately accomplished this distance, and without considering it anything remarkable, or being fatigued either. Starting from beyond Oldcastle she rode to Dalkey, and next day went on to a friend's residence, situated between Wexford and Gorey, and returned to town some days later. She was alone during the entire journey. — Irish Cyclist.

J. HARRY SHERMAN, of Lynn, has been trying to beat Hal Greenwood's Corey Hill record. The record as made by Greenwood not long ago, stands four successive ascents and descents without dismounting, Mr. Sherman made the first two ascents with comparative ease, but then began to show evidence of exhaustion, and when half way up the hill on the third trip was obliged to dismount, and for the present forego the undertaking, though he was not discouraged, and proposes to try again at an early day.

A CORRESPONDENT writes: "About Oct. 1, I wrote you concerning a suit for damages which I was about to bring against a drunken rough who drove into my bicycle from behind, throwing me off, and driving over the machine wrecking it pretty badly. He did not stand a suit, thanks to the legal decisions I was able to present, through the kindness of you and Mr. Charles H. Luscomb, but we compromised, I receiving twenty (20) dollars, he paying all Squire fees and charges. I think this will be a healthy lesson for the 'Road Hog' in our section. We had the proceeding printed in both our daily papers."

ON Thursday of last week, William A. Rowe, the champion cyclist, and Miss Alice B. Ayers, of Lynn, were united in marriage at the home of the bride, by Rev. A. W. Moore. A reception followed, the young couple receiving congratulations until 9.30 o'clock, when they departed for New York on their bridal tour, a shower of rice descending upon them as they left the house. They will be absent two weeks. Among the numerous presents bestowed upon them was a silk plush parlor suite, a gift to the bride from Placide Herbert, by whom she had until recently been employed as bookkeeper, and a hand-painted china dinner set to the groom from the Pope Manufacturing Company.

THE style of wit peculiar to Americans is the exaggeration of an idea to the point of ludicrousness. We often get a good thing in this vein, but the following from the N. Y. Tribune is one of many failures in an attempt to be funny. "The Sultan of Morrocco (is or was) much married; to the extent of some 1,500 wives. His chief instrument for maintaining domestic discipline is (or was) a bicycle. This machine was presented to him by a French manufacturer. Of course His Majesty never would learn to ride it himself. But he had a circular track laid out in his courtyard, and whenever any of his wives were guilty of misdemeanors he made them go out there and ride the wheel. The least offender had to keep at it till she had fallen off five times, while the worst culprits had twenty-five falls to make. Meantime, His Majesty would stand by and watch them with ghoulish glee."

STEAM has been applied to the bicycle. A small boiler, the fuel for which is supplied by kerosene, is placed beneath the seat of the machine, and the rider is propelled rapidly and smoothly with no exertion on his own part. Thus does luxury step in to overcome the usefulness of the bicycle. The "wheel" has been praised as an instrument for the enlargement of shrunken calves and the increase of muscle on weak frames. Is this one great virtue of the bicycle to evaporate in steam? Until some gallant rider is found in pieces, with one arm hanging to a church steeple and the rest of his body scattered about the surrounding country, doubtless the boiler will be a popular adjunct to the bicycle, but its use should not be encouraged. It takes from the "wheel" its athletic character and classes it with the deadly steam launch. — N. Y. World.

> BREATHES there a man with soul so dead,
> Who owns a wheel and has not said,
> Now is my time and now I 'll ride,
> Whose blood hath not within him burned,
> As forth his wheel he quickly turned,
> To travel with Pegasus' stride

A REMARKABLE performance was executed by Maltby, of the American team of bicyclists, at present in Aberdeen, yesterday afternoon. Maltby, in presence of a large number of spectators, rode upon a one-wheeled cycle along the wall of the North Pier. His progress from the point of the pier to its upper end was one which showed exceptional daring and skill. During the journey, a boat was in attendance in case of the rider losing his balance and falling into the sea, but fortunately he accomplished the surprising feat in an astonishingly short time without a single hitch. This afternoon, Mr. W. S. Maltby rode on a unicycle, — which is just the large wheel of a bicycle, — from the Lighthouse on the North Pier along the sea wall to the upper end of the pier, which is the second time he has accomplished the feat. While working his way along the top of the sea wall, Maltby and his machine were photographed by Mr. Morgan, Market Street. There were about three hundred people present, who gave the daring and skilful cyclist three ringing cheers when he finished his feat. Maltby was dressed in light racing costume, so as to be able to swim in the event of his falling into the sea, and Morgan, Temple, and Woodside were at hand to give assistance in the event of its being required. A bet of £5 was on the feat, which, of course, was gained by Maltby. — Aberdeen Express.

SENATOR MORGAN has sent us a photo of a group of English cyclists, in the centre of which himself and Temple are standing.

THE Plymouth Rock Pants Company have gotten out a fine picture of the landing of the pilgrims on Plymouth Rock. Our forefathers have landed and they are met by the agents of the company who are engaged in fitting them with modern pantaloons. The sublime and the ludicrous come together in the picture.

VICTORS!

Easiest Hill Climbers, ——— Fastest Coasters.

STIFFEST, STRONGEST AND HANDSOMEST!

You will make a mistake if you buy without seeing them. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., MAKERS OF VICTOR BICYCLES, TRICYCLES AND SAFETIES, weighing from 18 to 60 pounds, 182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE, BOSTON.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

(YOST & McCUNE PATENTS),

19 PEARL STREET - - - - BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster. Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington Street, Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

ROVER SAFETY BI HUMBER CRIPPER TRI CYCLES.

We have fresh invoices of these Celebrated Machines, which are unequalled for RIDING ALL THE YEAR ROUND, which we have had built specially for American roads, and which we offer at attractive prices. Send for illustrated catalogues.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We want a few good second-hand wheels, 48 to 54-inch, for our local trade, and will allow full value for these in exchange for new

Rovers, Crippers, or Tandems.

LLEWELLYN H. JOHNSON,

401 Main Street . . . . . Orange, N. J.

THE QUICK AND SAFE ROAD TO WEALTH.

A. L. ATKINS,

Investment Broker.

PASADENA - - CAL.

Special attention given to investments in land for Eastern Capitalists.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

REFERENCES

POPE MFG. CO., Boston.
C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.
W. P. COOKE, 100 Boylston, Boston.

JOHN HARRIOTT.

MEDALS AND BADGES,

ALSO

Bicycle Club Pins of Every Description.

Designs on application.

3 Winter Street - - BOSTON, MASS.

Kingston Knitting Co.

27 Kingston Street -- BOSTON, MASS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Knit Worsted and Woollen

ATHLETIC GOODS

In all the popular styles of the season.

Bicycle Outfits in Jerseys, Jackets, Tights, Pants. Stockings and Caps to match.

Full Body Tights in Plain and Ribbed Jersey Cloth, with Plain and Fly Fronts, re-enforced, and pockets.

POLO and TENNIS OUTFITS,

With Caps to match.

L. A. W. JERSEY UNIFORMS,

Very stylish, with Knee Pants, Stockings and Caps. These garments we also make in English Navys, and Blacks, and Colors.

The Cloth for all of our suits we manufacture ourselves, and it is unsurpassed for quality and durability.

Many novelties in Toboggan and Sporting Goods, in Plain, Striped and Figured Guernseys. Toques and Sashes for ladies and gentlemen.

We are prepared to execute any orders from the trade or clubs at very reasonable prices. Correspondence solicited.

For Sale, Cheap!

BICYCLES and TRICYCLES. Send for list before you buy, to WM. M. FRISBIE & CO., New Haven, Ct. O. P. Drawer 64.

ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.

Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICYCLES in the WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

ATTENTION, WHEELMEN!

SEND 20 CENTS,

And get a Copy of the Wheelmen's Reference Book,

CONTAINING

Forty-nine Lithographic Portraits of Racing and Prominent Wheelmen, Two Hundred Biographical Sketches of Racing and Leading Wheelmen.
Modern Mount Club. Directory.
History of the L. A. W. How to Enjoy Touring.
List of Agents and Dealers in the United States.

ALL FOR 20 CENTS, POST PAID.

DUCKER & GOODMAN,

HARTFORD, CONN.

BICYCLES ON

EASY PAYMENTS.

New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto, and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories, including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on instalments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

OCTOBER 4, Mills and Tingley rode 301 miles in twenty-four hours on an Ivel tandem. This was the best record ever made on a cycle, and stood as such till Whittaker put the figures to 323 miles.

UP HILL WORK TO COLLEGE.

ON Friday last, the Rhode Island wheelmen, of Providence, gave a reception to the Bristol County wheelmen, of Warren, as a return of courtesies received. A hot chowder supper was served in the club rooms, and there was a musical and social entertainment.

The Crescent Bicycle Club held a hill-climbing contest the same evening, the hill chosen being College Hill, which leads from South Main Street to Prospect Street. The hill was climbed by the following riders: —

T. Lahey, 1.13, first prize.
W. Lahey, 1.20, second prize.
W. C. Campbell, 1.30 1-4.
H. Worral, 1.31 1-2.
C. E. Munroe, 1.38.
C. J. Campbell, 1.42.
Roy Barker, 1.53.
John Carr, 2.3 1-4.

The winner was challenged to a contest up the hill by Mr. M. Scott. The race took place, and Scott was left far behind The Rhode Island wheelmen then offered the hill to their guests from Warren, but none could climb it. Max Turner, came the nearest to getting up and was awarded a box of cigars.

THE WORLD RACE.

RECOGNIZING the necessity for something in the way of system in the organization and carrying out of contests on the road, the Bicycling World is promoting a series of races which it is conducting with commendable attention to detail, and in a systematic manner. The first contest, a twenty-four hour race, was started on Monday last, from the Faneuil House, at Brighton The men who drew up in line were W A Rhodes, of the Dorchester Club, and R. A. Neilson, of Boston, both on Victor machines, and Samuel P. Hollingsworth, of Indiana, on a Columbia bicycle Before the word was given for the start, the men were photographed on their machines.

The contestants went away at 3.13 o'clock, Neilson first, closely followed by Hollingsworth and Rhodes, in the order named The course was 20 1-2 miles long, and is marked by mile posts the full distance.

Rhodes and Neilson made four circuits and withdrew. Both had taken headers.

Hollingsworth continued till 4.47 A. M. of Tuesday and was then called off by the referee. He made eight circuits, 164 miles.

The next race will take place on Saturday, and will be for 100 miles.

THE PATH.

DETROIT, MICH., Oct. 22. Races held under the auspices of Detroit Bicycle Club. A splendid track and large attendance. Summary: —

Quarter-mile.— Chas. S. Cole, (1); R. Miller, (2).

One-mile State Championship. — F. Spranger, Jr. (1). 3.26 1-5; G. E. Lane, (2).

Quarter-mile hands off.— B. J. Holcombe, (1), 55 seconds.

One-mile Club Handicap. — G E. Lane, (1); R. Laramour, (2).

Obstacle race. — Laramour, (1).

Half-mile Club Handicap.— Lane, (1); J. Hanley, (2).

One-mile Four-Minute Class. — Holcombe, (1), 4.10; C. A. Lightener, (2).

Quarter-mile One Leg. — W. E. Metzger, (1), 55 sec; A. Peck, (2).

Quarter-mile Umbrella.— A. F Peck, (1); R. Laramour, (2). This race was a source of considerable amusement to the spectators. Each rider was obliged to carry an open umbrella and ride with one hand, and speedy riding was impossible.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

R. I. HOTEL.

THE Perry House is appointed League hotel for Newport. Open all the year.

C. S. DAVOL, C. C.

WARREN, Oct. 28, 1887.

MISSOURI HOTEL.

THE Harrington House has been appointed League hotel for Carthage, Mo. Rates to L. A. W. members per day, $1.50; meals, thirty-five cents. To others, $2.00; meals, fifty cents.

W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 111 — Total 27 — 11,758.

BOSTON, Nov. 4, 1887.

COLORADO DIVISION — 3. — 45.

Unattached.

17052 Kelley, Robert L., Colorado Springs
17053 Parsons, J. C., 114 So. Wahsatch Ave., "
17054 Wheelon, Chas. A., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 10. — 640.

Hartford Wheel Club.

17067 Brewer, Chas. R., 42 John St., Hartford.
17068 Burnham, F. C., 88 Hudson St., "
17069 Francis, W. M., Drawer 8, "
17070 Graham, Jas. T., 9 Atlantic St., "
17071 Griswold, W. B., 53 Charter Oak St., "
17072 Greunller, A. G., 76 Vermont St., "
17073 Lox, Wm. K., 187 Main St., "
17074 Smith, Frank W., Jr., Box 543, "
17075 Woodford, Luther M., 38 Church St., "

Unattached.

17076 Bishop, Fred L., 46 Walnut St., New Britain.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 1. — 610.

Unattached.

17076 Goodman, Chas. H., Anna.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 3. — 1,312.

Unattached.

17064 Faxon, Dr. F. S., Box 171 Brockton.
17057 Kane, J. H., North Adams.
17058 Linnell, F. M., 304 Columbia St., Dorchester.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 1. — 362.

Missouri Bi. Club.

17065 Lynch, Geo. M., 2814 Chestnut St., St. Louis.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 2. — 863.

Unattached.

17060 Edsall, Thos. D., Hamburg.
17061 Wood, Wm. B., 584 Jersey Ave., Jersey City.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 4. — 2,269.

Buffalo Bi. Club.

17062 Yantis, Stover W., 64 Johnson Pl., Buffalo.

Niagara Falls Bi. Club.

17063 Hinckley, J. F., Niagara Falls.

Unattached.

17077 Dias, Burt C., Horseheads.
17066 German, Judson B., Green Haven.

NORTH CAROLINA — 1. — 10.

Unattached.

17059 Meares, Wm. B., Jr., Salisbury.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 1. — 172.

Unattached.

17055 Hutchings, W. O., 15 Angell St., Providence.

SWITZERLAND — 1. — 1.

Oesterrichisch Ung, Radfahrer Bund.

17051 De Strozecki, Dr. M. B., Lausanne, Suisse. (Poste Principale Restante.)

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

MARRIED, at St. Louis, Nov. 3, Miss Marion Rhodes to Mr. Griff Glover. Our congratulations and good wishes are extended.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

STAR WANTED.—Will give crank machine of equal value, any size desired, for 48-inch 1887 Special Star, in first-class order; must have direct spokes. Address, giving full particulars, L. H. JOHNSON, Orange, N. J.

FOR SALE.— A 51-inch Special Star, enamelled, in splendid condition, having been run less than two hundred miles; price, $80. HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

FOR SALE.— 57 inch Columbia Light Roadster, half nickel pattern, in good order, new long cranks, and Kirkpatrick saddle, Warwick rims, three quarter-inch tire to rear wheel; price, $95; crated. Address C. D., Box 1362, Boston, Mass.

FOR SALE.— A 58-inch Harvard, has not been on any runs or had any hard usage, and is in particularly good condition as it is protected by that best of finishing, Harrington's enamel FRANK P. TERRY, 281 Knapp St., Milwaukee, Wis.

BICYCLE.— 50-inch New Rapid, in excellent condition, price low. Address ROBERT MOORE, P. O. Box 240, Philadelphia, Pa.

$75 CASH BUYS A 44-INCH FACILE SAFETY bicycle, if sold at once; balls all round, cradel spring, adjustable saddle; warranted all right; worth $100 in the spring; a superb winter wheel. A. HALL, Box 5335, Boston, Mass.

BUDGE CRESCENT TRICYCLE.— Balls all over, including pedals; cost $182.50; guaranteed as good as new; perfect in every part; ridden less than one hundred miles; price $135. Address M. E. S., 1130 Barclay St., Baltimore, Md.

50 — BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES — 50.— Great inducements this fall in shop-worn and second-hand machines; send for list. WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

TRICYCLES.— One Royal Mail, shop-worn, $125; Rudge Crescent, ridden less than fifty miles, $125; Humber Tandem, 54-inch, used only this season, $150; other bargains in tricycles and even greater in bicycles; send for list. WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

50-INCH STANDARD COLUMBIA, $40; 52-inch Standard Columbia, $40; 50-inch Expert, $75; 54-inch Expert, $45; 56-inch British Challenge, $65; 52-inch American Rudge, $65; 52-inch Rudge L. R., new, $125; 54-inch Mail, new, $125; 42-inch Pony Star, $55; 51-inch American Star, $65; 52-inch Shadow, $40; Humber Tandem, $175; Humber Tandem, $200; Humber Cripper tricycle, $125. LEWIS L. EVANS, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

STAR.— 48-inch Special Star, two thirds nickel, latest pattern, with all improvements; is in first-class condition; will sell at a bargain. Address W. T. CONNELL, Room 46, Grand Central Depot, New York, N. Y.

54-INCH, ENGLISH, BALLS, FAIR CONDITION, worth $75, to close at $35; 54-inch Expert, late pattern, full nickel, balls all over, cost $140, good as new, only $100; 48-inch Road Racing Star, new in September, 1887, cost $160, only $105; 46-inch American Safety, all balls, $50. L. P. THAYER, West Randolph.

FOR SALE.— One Royal Crescent Tandem Tricycle, run but very little and good as new in every way, not marred in the least. Will sell for one hundred and seventy-five ($175) dollars cash. W. E. PENCE, 41 Superior St. Cleveland, Ohio.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND.— If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

SINGER STRAIGHT STEERER TRICYCLE, NEW, 1876, cost $180; nearest approach to absolute perfection, enormously increased rigidity, twisting strain removed, straining leverage of handle bar reduced one half. 210 Quincy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

48-INCH SPECIAL STAR, SILENT RATCHETS, in excellent condition; $60 takes it; pattern of 1886. Box 65 Norwalk, O.

FOR SALE.— New 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle for $135 cash. Address HENRY PURINTON, Detroit, Mich.

BICYCLE.— 58-inch, full-nickelled Expert, ball pedals, in good condition; price $75. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BICYCLE.— 54-inch Expert, full nickelled, ball pedals, cow-horn bars, and in excellent order, $80. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

GOOD MEN ON GOOD WHEELS

Put the Records Where They Stay.

IT IS ABOUT A YEAR NOW SINCE STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER MADE THE FOLLOWING SET OF WORLD'S RECORDS ON THE CRAWFORDSVILLE COURSE, VIZ.:

10 Miles in 29 Minutes 1 3-4 Seconds.

20 Miles in 59 Minutes 35 4-5 Seconds.

100 Miles in 6 Hours 1 1-2 Minutes.

And these Records have stood ever since, notwithstanding the Fact that the Competitive Trade has done its utmost to acquire them.

While other Manufacturers have built Special Wheels for this Purpose, which differed materially from those they offered the Public, all of our Performances have been on the Identical Wheels listed in our Catalogue; and we claim, therefore, that they are remarkably significant, and demonstrate, unquestionably, the

EASY RUNNING QUALITY OF OUR BEARINGS.

THEN THAT PERFORMANCE OF FRANK DINGLEY'S ON THE LYNN TRACK,

100 Miles in 5 Hours 38 Minutes 44 1-5 Seconds.

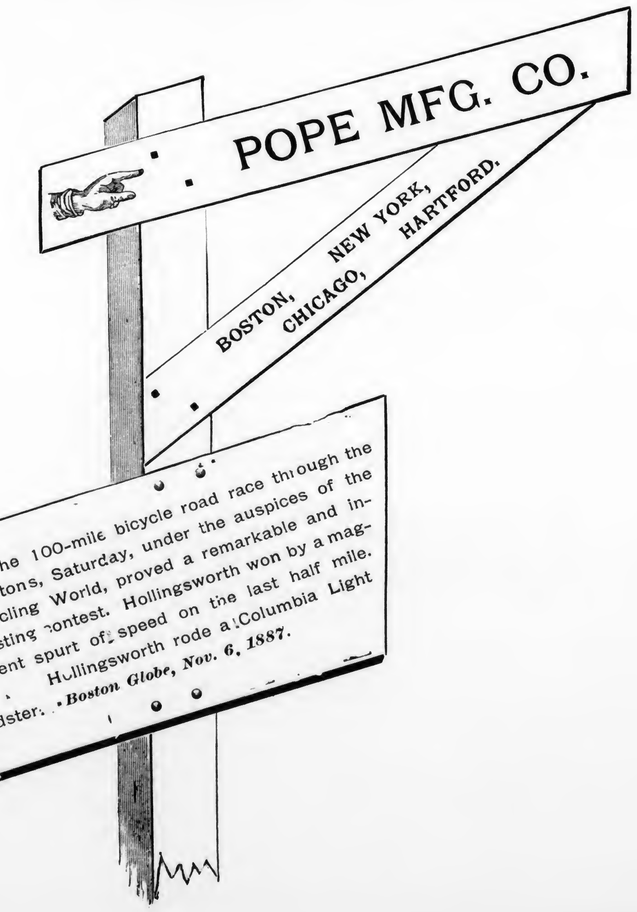
Being Twenty-five Minutes better than the American Record, and Eleven Minutes better than the English Record. Quite a Number of Attempts have been made to Lower this by Other Makers since, all of which proved to be Failures.

We think the above is ample evidence to convince the most skeptical, and to efface any impression to the contrary caused by the false statements of our traducers. Respectfully submitted.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. COMPANY.

CHICAGO - - - - - - ILL.

SEND FOR THE LAST EDITION OF OUR CATALOGUE.



THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, NOVEMBER 11, 1887. | VOL. V. No. 19. WHOLE NUMBER, 124.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress Street - - - - - BOSTON.

New York Headquarters, George R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN THE JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - 3 CENTS

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

THE city of Jacksonville, Ill., has been sued by a horseman, who seeks to recover for damages caused by a runaway horse, which he claims, was frightened by a bicycle. The horseman claims that the city was guilty of neglect, in not preventing the use of bicycles on the street. The case will be defended by the city attorney, who is advising with League officials.

WITH the advent of winter comes the question, how shall the cycler divert himself? Balls and socials are well enough in their way, but many wheelmen want outdoor exercise. Pedestrian clubs are spoken of, and in Massachusetts, several clubs are talking of snowshoe outings. Those who live where the sun shines all the year round have no need to look about for other sports than wheeling.

WOULD it not be a good idea for the League officials to consider the question of organizing a national association composed of all who are interested in the improvement of public highways? The question of road improvement is by far the most important that wheelmen are trying to deal with. There are others, too, to whom this question is as important, and we see no reason why all such could not pull together to accomplish the common desire. There are the farmers, the civil engineers, road contractors, and owners of vehicles generally, all wanting good roads, but making no concerted action to get them. If we could get the representatives of these different interests together, we would have a powerful organization, capable of doing even more than the League can do. Every year large amounts of money are spent by national and State governments on internal improvement, but seldom does a cent go toward highway improvement; most of it is spent in dredging creeks, building levees, etc., and only occasionally does the work do the general public any good. It is an open secret that the annual internal improvement appropriation is more for the purpose of solidifying "deestricts" and getting rid of money, than anything else. So if the money is going to be spent, why not make some effort to have a little of it squandered on the roads, and why not have a strong organization that can look after the matter? — Wheelmen's Record.

THE OWL.

THOMAS C. DUNHAM is the name of the only senator who voted against the passage of the "Liberty Bill," when it was before the New York Senate. Of course, as Mr. Dunham was the senator from Park Commissioner Crimmin's district, one could hardly expect the henchman to differ from his political master; but what is the consequence of this ill-advised servility on his part? He has merited and received the political and personal ill-will of over five thousand wheelmen in this State, a few of whom have made it their business to keep him from securing a renomination, and in consequence of offending the wheelmen, Mr. Thomas C. Dunham has been politically and emphatically shelved. Now for the next one!

IN my reply to "Bon's" plea in last week's BULLETIN that Brooklyn had not "chipped in" on the "Liberty Bill," because they had not been asked to, I forgot to mention the difference in action on the part of the Mercury Wheelmen of Flushing, who, without any solicitation, remitted to Chief Consul Bidwell a club subscription for the debt, stating that they thought the victory one certainly worth paying for, though they personally were only indirectly benefited thereby. I am pleased to announce that from other points throughout the State, too, have remittances been received, accompanied by words of encouragement to the Chief Consul, and in almost every instance, the contributors have stated that should the subscriptions not prove of sufficient numbers to pay the debt off, that they, the writers, stood ready to respond again. This is as it should be. The Chief Consul should not have to beg or solicit from the members of this Division the money to pay this debt, but they should spontaneously subscribe the amount voluntarily.

IN my last week's notes, I spoke of the absurd prejudice existing here against bicycle clubs, and the consequent difficulty the New York Club were experiencing in securing a desirable site for their new club house. I am pleased to be able to state that they have at last discovered a fair-minded owner, and have purchased a lot 25 x 100 on West End Avenue, between Seventy-first and Seventy-second Streets. This is beyond compare the most aristocratic neighborhood in the city, and is a most excellent location for a bicycle club. The site overlooks the Hudson River, and is but a few hundred feet from Riverside Drive. The members of the New York Club are to be envied their rosy outlook for the future, and should, with the site secured and the house proposed, be but a short time in reaching their limit of two hundred and fifty members, having already almost half that number.

SEVERAL years ago, Roland G. Rood used to devote some of the spare energy in his six feet of anatomy in propelling a 55-inch bicycle. As to how well, or rather as to how fast, he could do this, I take the liberty of referring to any of the "old timers," or to his record of one hour and four minutes from Fifty-ninth Street to Peabody House, Yonkers, a performance never equalled. Several years ago, he gave up riding and went West to "grow up with the weeds," and his many friends lost track of him To-day I met on Broadway a specimen of humanity whose length of locks at once betokened either actor, anarchist, or artist, and my surprise can be imagined when it introduced itself as this same Rood, and I learned that he was beginning to become famous as one of New York's most promising etchers. So goes the world! A grand rider spoiled to make a mere scratcher of copper. Bah!

IN every line of business now, one sees the birth of "trusts." It seems to be the most promising form of monopoly, and I certainly shall expect to see shortly the formation on the part of the manufacturers of a bicycle trust. There has been a great deal of bicycle trust already on the part of the dealers, and those I have interviewed don't seem to think it a profitable method of amusement. But perhaps they are prejudiced. I guess they are. I interviewed the apterous resident of an attic apiary, who sometimes corresponds poetically for a Philadelphia wheel paper as to what he thought of the subject, and he replied in psychic verse, as follows: —

"To trust
Is to bust.
To bust
Is loss.
No trust,
No bust.
No bust,
No loss."

THE OWL.

ST. LOUIS.

LINDELL GORDON and Tom Reynolds, who, with Will, alias "Pie," Parkhurst, have gone for a jaunt in the warm regions of Honduras, are wished a hearty godspeed by all the old riders, though we hate to see them give up the wheel as completely as their trip compels. They were among the earliest riders; their names are interwoven through all the legends of the past. They fought the first prejudices against the wheel, and were Cola Stone's ablest lieutenants in asserting the new maxim in law: "The roads were made for man." Their bicycling experiences will no doubt play them well, as they expect to do much "roughing it." They have had experiences a-wheel that will cause the excitements of the far South to pale a little. I wonder if Lindell will have a much harder time down there than he had one night in the spring of 1885, when he and Cola rode all the way in the dark down the railroad track to St. Charles, and Lin fell through a bridge, but luckily landed in mud and sank no deeper than his neck, being hauled out by his big partner, and reaching St. Charles all right. Will Tom forget, in the escapades of the South, that ride on the ice of the Meramec River, when they all nearly got drowned, or the terrific and famous mud ride from DeSoto? Besides these physical preparations, they are fixed linguistically, having studied Spanish under a dark eyed senorita for the past six months, and having progressed so well that Tom could say "darling" in velvety words, and sing two love songs clear through. As he is a twanger of the guitar, this proficiency is enough for him. As for Lin, he mastered the more practical part of the language, and you can bet that while Tom is drawing on his vocabulary for kisses, Lin will be using his to get something more satisfying to the inner man. They have been gone now a week or two, and if you hear of a bicycle corps figuring in some of the everyday rebellions of that country, you 'll know that the old Ramblers are in the saddle again, and this time for blood.

GEORGE E. TIVY, of the Cycle Club, who has just returned from a trip to St. Paul, Minn., which he made entirely on his wheel in twenty-two days, is enthusiastic in praise of the hospitality of the wheelmen he met en route. I am afraid his modesty kept him from getting the attention he deserved. He was the real founder of the Cycle Club, which in six months has leaped into a strength and firmness expected only as the outgrowth of years of hard work. This, of course, was not known to the wheelmen of the North, as Tivy is a quiet, retiring fellow, and says nothing of his own exploits. But, nevertheless, he has achieved a vast deal by working until he has gathered together the wandering wheelmen of the city, and giving them a central object. The assiduity of the man is something astonishing. Beginning immediately after the Ramblers broke up last winter, he began to take the names of all who wished to join the new club, and kept pegging away till he got enough to warrant the calling of a meeting to organize, which was just after the League Meet.

Now the club has nearly or quite one hundred members, with many more applications in sight. They have had harmonious meetings throughout the summer, and have avoided anything like partisan demonstrations. The consequences are that the efforts of a few to keep alive the fires of a fading feud are growing more and more into disfavor. The club has just had struck off a pretty club emblem of gold, combining the L. A. W. and the club emblems. This united use of the emblems is rare among the clubs of the country. The consent of the inventor of the L. A. W. emblem was secured by Hal Greenwood, and so both are made into one. The design is in the form of a circle suspended from a pair of handles. On the outer edge of the circle run the words "St. Louis Cycle Club"; within this is "L. A. W." with the familiar wings. The whole is not larger than a silver quarter. The club has secured winter quarters at the Natatorium, conveniently situated at the Eastern end of the Pine Street asphalt. I say secured, but probably that is going too far. The final arrangements, I understand, are not yet made, but the club will meet there next week. It is my opinion that it will hibernate there, as the rent is not very high and the accommodations are extensive.

IT looks as if H. W. Belding were in for it. Some days ago the Post-Dispatch quoted Belding as saying that he believed he could beat Hal Greenwood to DeSoto. Hal let it rest till this week, when he answered in such a way as will either force a race or a backdown. He offered Belding a handicap of twenty minutes for a race to Bulltown, forty minutes to DeSoto, or an hour and forty minutes for the round trip. I hear that the boys put up a scheme on Belding, last Sunday. He was coming down Bartold's long hill, when he was spied by a group of cyclists at the inn at the foot, among whom was Greenwood. They quickly pushed Hal and his wheel out of sight, and arranged that they should ask Belding if he meant what he said in the Post-Dispatch. If he answered yes, Greenwood was to step out and challenge him on the spot. But Belding could n't be caught that way. He smelled some kind of a rodent, and he dodged the question, so that the joke and the face-to-face challenge did not materialize. It is not very likely that the race will come off, as Belding expects to go to Florida to be gone six weeks, but we all hope he will not have to go, as he has been doing some excellent riding since he got his safety, and is not in the habit of making bluffs unless he is able to stand by them.

NOW that Harry Gordon has gone to Denver, Klipstein resumes his old position of the "only and original." He is always original, but Gordon's fancy riding kept him from being the "only." I don't think, though, that the charm of being the champion fancy rider of St. Louis is as great to Klip. as it was in the days of his youth. He is not gray yet, to be sure, but other things have dawned in his life that lessen the delights of the past.

THE visit of Dr. Emery was not entirely satisfactory, and we are afraid he went away with a poorer opinion of the hospitality of the boys here than the circumstances would warrant. The quiet dinner at the hotel the day he left was not the limit of our hospitality or intentions. It was the result of conflicting dates. Everybody was very busy, and arrangements were made to give him a banquet one evening when nearly all those interested could get off. But after the invitations had gone out, it was found that he had been previously bound by an engagement, and so the banquet was called off. There was no chance to get up another before his departure, and so a dinner at noon was served, to which some of his friends dropped in. Had his engagements been arranged a little more conveniently, we would have shown him what we could do.

OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

MAUD has been telling me about her annual tour to Castle Rock. This tour comes off every year with as much regularity as the North Shore trip, but it is less pretentious in its character, and it is patronized only by the ladies. The rock is about nine miles distant from the place of rendezvous.

THIS year there were fourteen in the party. There was good prospect of an unlucky thirteen gathering, but the ladies worked like beavers to get another recruit, and succeeded in diverting the attention of the genius of impending evil.

ALL were on singles. Maud was "Tourmiss" as she calls it and Violet was "Rearguard." They had a pleasant run out, no accidents, a delightful lunch on the summit, a ramble in the woods, an uneventful ride home, and a charming memory. "Please tell them," says my little friend, "that we didn't have an ambulance or a mechanic and that we were abundantly able to attend to our own machines. We had three dogs along and we felt that we had in them ample protection from tramps and cows, for they were business dogs and not pets. On two occasions the canines ran ahead and drove cows from the road, and when a cur would run from a yard to bark at us, our army of dogs would charge at him and drive him back."

"AND speaking of dogs," Maud continues, "I heard the other day of a lady in Eastern Massachusetts who rides very much, accompanied by a huge Newfoundland dog. She has had a harness made for him and when she comes to a hill she attaches him to her machine and he helps her to climb it. He doesn't pull much, but it is enough to take away many of the terrors of hill climbing."

MAUD's army of dogs is a good idea, if they are well trained to keep from under the wheels. I have read articles in the cycling press regarding the best method of protection from attacking curs and it has been suggested that red-pepper, torpedoes or ammonia be taken along to throw at them; but why not employ the "dog eat dog" idea, and take a four-footed follower of good fighting ability along? Perhaps, after a time, the dogs would learn to keep within gates when they saw a cycle coming for fear of bringing upon themselves an attack from a professional fighter. This idea is given out gratis. For myself, I do not need it. I prefer to ride dogless.

AN English lady has written to one of the papers asking for medical opinion as to the beneficial or deleterious effects of tricycling upon womankind in general. One imagined that that point had been pretty well disposed of some time ago. Says Violet Lorne: "There is hardly a doctor throughout the country who does not recommend tricycling in moderation to his lady patients. Of course, in this, as in every other line of life, reason and common sense must be consulted. For instance, it is hardly wise to let growing girls ride to an unlimited extent; neither would a woman afflicted with curvature of the spine, or a sprained ankle, do well to take to the saddle; and to ride at any time when tired out, or to pursue the exertion beyond the point of healthy fatigue, is an act of folly which will probably bring about its own reward. But for the average woman, in a reasonably sound state of health, tricycling is an exercise valuable beyond all words."

I KNOW of very many cases where cycling has been taken by the advice of a physician with the best of results, and I know of other cases where the sport has had to be given up. One young lady told me the other day that her physician had advised her to give up the wheel because she had found it impossible to ride in moderation. Naturally impetuous, she was inclined to overdo, and there was danger of bringing upon herself troubles she had a tendency towards. One or two cases of this kind are offset by hundreds of others where riding has given positive benefit.

DAISIE.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

THE Brooklyn Club held the first of their regular monthly entertainments of the present season, at their club-house, on Wednesday evening last. As usual, the rooms very much overcrowded, but this did not detract from the pleasure of the evening. A suitable programme had been prepared, at the conclusion of which refreshments were served. All present expressed unqualified satisfaction and congratulated the Club on their recent improvements.

ON Sunday last, W. J. Kenmore, Jr., of the Brooklyn Club was severely cut about the face and hands, from taking a bad header on Springfield Ave., Orange, directly in front of the Hilton Hotel. His injuries though not serious are painful, and will cause his confinement at home for a week or so. He was a possible candidate for the team of that club, and his accident is therefore the more to be regretted.

HARRY HALL, it is said, is suffering from neuralgia of the eyes, and will be unable to ride in the coming contest. This will be a heavy blow for the King's County boys, but they have still some good material among them, and may come out all right. As the day for the contest approaches, the interest does not diminish, and if the weather be fine, Election Day will witness such an assemblage of wheelmen at Orange as will not be forgotten for many a day. It is much to be regretted that the course is in such poor shape, as it was confidently expected that the previous record would be badly beaten. It hardly seems possible that with the present quantity of loose broken stone and earth that has been put on the road, the previous time can be beaten or even equalled, but there are some dark horses who may prove to be much faster than is generally supposed.

THE Ilderan's expect to turn out strong on Election Day and will have a club picture taken before starting for the course. Their team is in good shape and they will make a strong pull for first place. They hold their annual election during the present month. Calkins their present captain will leave the city early during the coming year and is therefore not a candidate for re-election. G. L. Warner, a very popular member and an active rider, has received the regular nomination and will probably be elected. Greenman is up for third term as President, and as he is most popular in his club as well as outside, it is safe to say his election is certain.

THE Long Island had a run to Montclair and Caldwell on Sunday last, Capt. Luscomb being present with sixteen men.

IT may, or it may not pay for railroads to cater to wheelmen, but when it becomes necessary to put on a special car to carry wheels, as is the case, almost every Sunday on the Orange branch of the Erie R. R., I think it does pay, and also shows that wheelmen will patronize roads which offer them inducements.

BON.

November 5 1887.

WHITTAKER'S RECORD.

THE Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co. offer the following satisfactory proof of Whittaker's record:—

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 28, 1887.

WE the undersigned, officials for Stillman G. Whittaker, in his 24-hour bicycle ride, against the road record of 305 miles, made by A. A. McCurdy, do hereby certify to the best of our knowledge and belief, that said Whittaker covered 323 miles in 23. 50.35. Referee, William F. Schroeizer; judges, E. H. Comer, C. E. Gilbert, E. H. Cowan, M. D., Lon Lee; timers, C. L. Rost, M. H. Insley, Fred T. Brown; T. W. Eck, extra timer; checkers: checker 25-mile post, W. B. Ramey; checker, 27 1-2 mile post, Harry C. Hughes; checker, 4-mile turn, R. K. Krout, Jr.; checker, starting point, Milan Overton; starter, W. E. Rosebro.

Start Oct. 27, 1887, 1 P. M.

MILES.	H.	M.	S.
50	3	00	17 2-5
105	6	44	22 1-5
155	10	39	40
210	15	11	33 2-5
260	18	34	42 2-5
315	23	12	37 3-5
323	23	58	35

We the undersigned, official timers, certify that the above time is correct.

FRED T. BROWN,
M. H. INSLEY,
C. L. ROST.
(T. W. ECK, extra timer).

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 29, 1887.

To all whom it may concern: — This is to certify that the above-named gentlemen, who officiated as timers, judges, etc., on the occasion of Stillman G. Whittaker's attempt to beat the road record of three hundred and five miles, Oct. 27–28, 1886, are all reputable citizens of Crawfordsville, and are reliable and trustworthy in every respect.

BYRON R. RUSSELL,
Mayor of Crawfordsville.

STATE OF INDIANA.
Montgomery County.

WILLIAM B. RAMEY and Henry A. Ramsbrook being first duly sworn upon their oaths, say that they carefully measured the entire course over which Stillman G. Whittaker made his twenty-four hour bicycle run, which he began at 1 o'clock P. M., on Thursday, Oct. 27, 1887, and that the distance so measured by them is correct, to the best of their knowledge and belief.

WM. B. RAMEY,
HARRY A. RAMSBROOK.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 29th day of Oct., 1887.

WILLIAM T. BRUSH.
Notary Public.

I hereby certify that I appointed the above-named chainmen, W. B. Ramey and Henry A. Ramsbrook, to measure said course, and believe that they did their work honestly and correct.

É. S. SIMPSON, Civil Engineer.

Oct. 29, 1887.

NASHUA ROAD RACE.

THE Handicap road-race of the Manchester, N. H. Bicycle Club, occurred Wednesday, Nov. 2. The course was over the Mill Dam and Fletcher's Island road, starting and finishing at a point near the shoe shop in East Manchester, a distance of six and eleven-sixteenths miles. There were ten entries, and seven starters, with the following handicaps: D. E. Price, 7m.; A. E. Eastman, 6m.; F. O. Moulton, 4m.; H. M. Bennett, 3 1-2m.; J. E. Newton, 3m.; C. H. Fish, 2 1-2m.; Moses Sheriff, scratch. Price's handicap was sufficient to allow him to easily win the first prize, a gold medal, given by the club. Newton won the second prize, a silver medal, given by Capt. H. M. Bennett. Eastman won third prize, a cut glass berry dish, given by Clint. A. Moore. Fish and Moulton were tied for fourth position, coming in the last mile together, Bennett won the leather medal. Sheriff took a bad header, and was disabled from finishing. The several times made were: Newton 34m.; Fish, 34.40; Price, 35.55; Sheriff, 36m.; Moulton, 36.10; Bennett, 36.15; Eastman, 37.15; C. D. Palmer, handicapper.

CHARLES H. FISH.
Secretary.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE hospitality of our brethren of the Baltimore Clubs has been tested so frequently and often that the Cycle has felt somewhat burdened with an obligation which they have longed to repay. It was therefore, with a pleasant feeling of satisfaction that they were informed at the recent race meeting in Baltimore, that a visit was contemplated to our city. The cobble-stone streets which belong to that metropolis of the South were somewhat monotonous, not to say damaging, and they just "ached" to have one day's riding over our many miles of delightful asphalt, and view our grand public buildings and the many new and attractive dwellings which the representatives of the Nation — with a big N— have been indulging in of recent years.

The day dawned bright and bracing, after a week of rain, and the promise of a glorious day brought out a goodly number of the members, who were ordered to report at the railroad depots to do escort duty. As the train came rolling in, the band (of wheelmen) struck up, "See the conquering (of records) wheelmen come," and there alighted a dozen of good men and true, representing the Baltimore, Centaur, and Ramblers Clubs. The number was somewhat of a disappointment, as we had hoped for more, but then the word went round that this dozen must have just twice as good a time to make the matter even, and when they left at night they said they had. Of course the club house must be first shown off, and after they had been introduced around and made to feel themselves at home, and had been shown the pictures of our handsome members, more particularly that of the President and Chief Consul before he had those darling whiskers taken off, a run was proposed to Cabin John Bridge, which is our best riding out of the city. And such a ride a straightaway stretch of seven miles over a splendid road with the wind blowing about 47 knots to the minute, and a head wind at that.

Kingsland, the Maryland crack, was along, as was MacKenzie of ours, who holds a good record, and it was noticed that they seemed to have formed a strong attachment for each other, and the boys kept their eyes open to see some rapid transit business. But the Chief Consul was along, and as he had but just returned from New York and the meeting of the Board of Officers, he recited the law in regard to road racing as there promulgated; and, although the boys chafed a little, they were good, law-abiding League men and did no racing, at least, when the C. C. was about. The "funny man" of the Club was along, and the best joke he got off was to allow all the other fellows to get about a mile ahead of him, and leisurely ruminate as to what he could work off on them at a more opportune time. When he arrived and despairingly recounted a loss he had met with, some of them greedily bit, and found out that it was only his "wind." The return was made in good order, and after a short rest at the club-house, dinner was announced and the best time yet recorded was then made. After dinner a run around the city and to the Navy Yard, where the Fish Commission steamer the Albatross was inspected; and a stop on the plaza in front of the U. S. Capitol, where some fancy riding was indulged in. The return to the club-house was then in order, and a smoker was the next act. Our musical member, Burden, who is generally called "Birdy," on account of his sweet notes, was enticed to the piano, and soon entrancing music ravished the ears of our visitors. The members of the Club were hardened, and so they had no difficulty in enjoying (?) it, but the visitors shed tears of sympathy and pain, and many of them seem ed to think that the question "Is life worth living" was a pertinent one.

The funny man was now in his element, and as if the sufferings of our visitors had not been enough to endure, he was let loose upon them. But why continue the harrowing tale. At eight o'clock all made ready to depart, and the Club again performed escort duty to the depots, where, amid expressions of satisfaction it a day well spent, and cordial invitations to come over and return the visit, the gong sounded, the train started, and soon the last glimmering light was gone out of sight, and we turned sorrowfully home, to live over again in memory, the delights of the day, and to join in one acclaim about the Baltimore wheelmen, "For they are jolly good fellows."

KRONICLER.

November 1, 1887.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

A PETITION is being circulated and signed by the wheelmen of this city asking Chief Consul Jessup to reappoint, or rather again recommend, Mr. John A. Wells for representativeship of this State, in spite of the action of the Board of Officers at its last meeting. The paper has already received the signatures of Isaac Elwell, president of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club; Kirk Brown, president of the Century Wheelmen; G. E. Bartol, president of the Philadelphia; and Frank Read, president of the Germantown and vice-president of the Century, to say nothing of the quantity of high privates of Philadelphia wheeldom. As one of the latter, I have signed it myself, Mr. Editor, not because of any personal feeling for or against Mr. Wells, but because I think the expressed wish of so many members of this Division is entitled to some consideration at the hands of the Board of Officers of the League, and it is my impression that the majority of the wheelmen feel the same way. They care nothing either way for Mr. Wells as an individual, but for Mr. Wells as entitled to representativeship, recommended by the Chief Consul of the third largest League State in the country, and appointed therefore by the President of the League, they do care enough to make a fight if he is not confirmed. The Division's mistake was in choosing Mr. Wells; but they have a perfect right to choose.

The Pennsylvania Bicycle Club, with its membership of close to a century and a half, has withdrawn as a club from the League, and it is said that many of the members will allow their membership in the League to lapse. It is not probable that the League will go altogether to pieces on this account, however.

The races of the West Philadelphia Athletic Association came off on Saturday last, postponed from the previous week, and were the occasion of the most enthusiastic gathering of wheelmen seen in Philadelphia for many a long day. The surface was in splendid condition, and but for the awkward turns and the lack of proper banking at the corners, the track as good as could be wished for in a five-lap course. The programme was good, twenty-six contestants being entered for the various events, with ten starters for the 3 20 class. A good innovation was the substitution of colored silk ribbons instead of numbers. The management was poor,— very poor,— the crowd running all over the track, apparently without let or hindrance.

All the home clubs, except the Germantown, were represented in the races, and there were visitors from Camden and Cedarville, N. J., and Honeybrook and Reading, Pa. The inter-club race was run in darkness, and the one-mile, three-minute class, bicycle race was postponed until Saturday next.

The first event was a mile race for novices, with four starters: J. H. Crossley, Camden; George J. Bowman, Vesper; D. L. Douglas, Reading, and W. W. Taxis. The latter fell on the second lap, and the race fell between Crossley and Douglas. The former led until the third lap, when Douglas came to the front and won easily in 3 23.

F. E. Bechtold and J. G. Bradley were in the mile race for South End Wheelmen. L. J. Kolb not starting. The former won by twenty feet, in 3.16 2-5, leading all the way.

A one-mile match race between J. J. Potter, of Camden, and H. C. Middleton, of Philadelphia, was won by the home representative. Time, 3.21.

I. Van Deusen had a walk-over in the mile race for members of the Tioga Bicycle Club. Time, 3.33 2-5.

The half-mile bicycle race for Philadelphia riders only, was won by T. A. Schaeffer, of the Pennsylvania Club, in 1.26 2-5; John G. Fuller, University of Pennsylvania, second, and I. Van Dusen, Tioga Club, third. A good race.

There were eight entries in the one mile, three minute limit, but W. I. Wilhelm and H. B. Schwartz, of Reading, and F. M. Dampman, of Honeybrook, were the only starters. Wilhelm made the pace at the start, and held the lead until the fourth lap, when Schwartz showed a big burst of speed and finished first, Wilhelm second, Dampman third. Time, 2.58 4-5. Wilhelm challenged in the last fifty yards, but Schwartz had a little left, and won by a short length.

The event of the day proved to be the one-mile bicycle race for the 3.20 class. The ten entries were divided into two heats. F. E. Bechtold, South End Wheelmen; H. C. Middleton, J. G. Fuller, University of Pennsylvania; W. Flenard and Murray Killiner, of Reading, were in the first heat. Fuller won easily, with Bechtold second. Time, 3.06 2-5.

There were also five in the second heat, D. L. Douglas, of Reading; I. Van Dusen, Tioga; R. D. Thompson, Vesper; Homer Synnestdvelt, Pennsylvania Club. Douglas made the pace for a lap and then gave way to Van Dusen, who finished first, with Synnestdvelt second. Time, 3 07 4-5.

Fuller, Bechtold, Synnestdvelt and Van Dusen started in the final heat. Bechtold won in 3.09 3-5, Synnestdvelt second, Van Dusen third.

Potter and Weaver of the Camden Club, had a lively club race, Potter winning in 3.26 2-5.

The half-mile bicycle race for boys under sixteen years, was won by W. W. Taxis, who beat Murray Killiner, of Reading, in a close race. Time, 1.34.

T. A. Schaeffer, of the Pennsylvania Club; H. T. Harding, Vesper Club, and D. L. Douglas, of Reading, started in the one-mile bicycle race, 3.10 class. Schaeffer took a long lead at the start and won easily. Time, 3 01 1-5. As he said, "to show Reading how much we can beat them."

I. G. Bradley, South End Wheelmen, and I. Van Dusen, Tioga Club, were the only starters in the inter-club bicycle race. Bradley led for three laps when Van Dusen spurted and took the lead. Bradley regained the lead on the last lap and won in 3.15.

The features of the day were, Schaeffers' good form and fine training, Van Dusen's plucky riding under adverse circumstances, and the appearance of two dark horses, Bechtold and Bradley, of the South End Wheelmen.

"There's blood on the face of the moon, Aha!"

W. I. Wilhelm of the Reading Bicycle Club, yesterday broke the record from Paoli to Fifty-Second Street, making the distance about 16 miles in 48.10, beating Schwartz's time, 3.55. The timers were W. Schroeder, Reading Bicycling Club, Messrs. Chew and Brown, of the Camden Wheelmen, and Robert Shaffer, of the Century Wheelmen.

First Wilhelm wins the championship of Reading, from Schwartz in a five mile race on Friday. Then Schwartz beats Wilhelm at the West Phila. races. Now Wilhelm lowers Schwartz's pike record and puts it where it will be likely to stay for a while,— who's the next man? Not

PHACTO.

CYCLETS.

NOVEMBER.

THANKSGIVING and turkey.

THE end of the riding season.

NOW balls, parties, whist, and bowling engage attention.

THREE hundred and twenty-three miles is good to last till another season.

THE past season has not been one to convince makers of the necessity for a racing team.

THE Pennsylvania Club has withdrawn from the League.

EDWIN OLIVER is collecting cycling photographs for the decoration of his office.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE-PRESIDENT. — H. W. Hayes, Cambridge, Mass.

TREASURER. — W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR. — Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. R. Bidwell.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP. — James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES. — C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. C. Stewart, Equitable Building St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS. — C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Share, 336 Navy Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD. — Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 99 Superior Street, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. H. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION. — Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street, New York; W. S. Bull, 360 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER. — W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION. — A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan & Co., 22 Old Broad Street, London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

TOURING DEPARTMENT.

W. S. Bomberger, tourmaster, Hagerstown, Md.; A. B. Barkman, Bookmaster, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Joseph Pennell, Marshal Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information:

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 15 cents. Address C. A. Underwood, 386 Tremont Street.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official): — Officers, Consuls, hotels, and rates of California Division, California bicycle clubs and officers. Over 2,000 miles reported roads, 100 pages, tabulated form. Bound in flexible leather, $1.00. Ready Aug. 1, 1887. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 612 Hyde Street, San Francisco, Cal.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT (Official): — In progress. Address Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within fifty miles of New York City — very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (Official, 1884): — Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address S. Lawton, Springfield, Mass. New Road Book in preparation; will probably be issued early in 1888.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN (Official); with best roads of Ontario and through route from Chicago to N. Y. City Sectional and general maps; lists of Consuls, hotels, repair shops, and points of interest. Flexible leather cover. Free to Division members joining before July 1; after that date, 25 cents extra. Price to L. A. W. members of other States, $1.00. Address J. H. Johnson, 397 Second Ave., Detroit, Mich. Remit to J. E. Beal, Sec.-Treas., Ann Arbor, Mich.

L. A. W. HAND AND ROAD BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official). — Two hundred pages, numerous maps, lists of Consuls, hotels, and repair shops, general information about the L. A. W. and N. Y. Division, etc., with complete indexes. Tabulated reports of 14,000 miles of roadway, extending east to Mt. Desert, Maine; west to Cleveland, Ohio; north to Quebec, P. Q., and south to the Natural Bridge, Virginia, and Washington, D. C. General description of local riding districts, and much other information of value to cyclers, bound in flexible leather. Free to Division members joining in the first quarter; 15 cents to those joining in the second quarter, ending June 30, 1887; after that date, 50 cents. Price to League members of other States, $1.50 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official): — Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, bound in flexible leather. This work is now out of print. A revised edition will probably appear in 1888.

RECORD BOOK OF SHELL ROADS IN VICINITY OF NORFOLK. — A description of the shell roads around the city of Norfolk. Contains in addition several pages for records of rides. Bound in paper: 10 cents. By V. Paul Ellis, Norfolk, Va.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official): — Complete lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. Full description of riding districts and large folding road map of the State. Price, bound in flexible leather, $1.00; cloth, 50c. Address Frank C. Meyer, Secretary-Treasurer, Room 26 Saxton Block, Canton, Ohio.

ROAD-MAP OF CENTRAL INDIANA (L. A. W. Official), covering 90 miles N. and S., and 153 miles E. and W., and showing the famous Crawfordsville record-breaking district. Contains list of Consuls and hotels, and shows towns, railroads, etc. Free to Division members joining in first quarter, 13 cents in second quarter, 25 cents in third quarter, and 38 cents in fourth quarter. Price, to other League members, 75 cents. Scale of nine miles to one inch. Address Josh. Zimmerman, Secretary-Treasurer, 37 So. Alabama Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official): — Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers. Price, 50 cents each, or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.

TEN THOUSAND MILES ON A BICYCLE; A Gazetteer of American Roads. — Cloth bound, gilt top, 41 chapters, 908 pages, elaborate indexes, no advertisements. Mailed on receipt of $2.00, by Karl Kron, University Building, Washington Square, New York City, D. Analytical contents-table, descriptive circulars, and specimen pages sent free.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO (L. A. W.). See Ohio Hand-Book.

ROAD MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND: — Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as below.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA: — Three parts, Eastern, Central, Western. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Phila., Pa.

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents. Address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS.— Sketches of cities towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. Address George Chinn. Beverly, Mass., price 20 cents.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $1.25, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by: —

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $1.25 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1887. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State, ...

REFERENCES:

.....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

THE Denver Ramblers opened new club rooms on Thursday evening, Nov. 3.

AND now the safety goes twenty miles within the hour. A. P. Engleheart rode 20 miles, 474 yards on a safety, Oct 19.

C. W. BROWN, of England, has lowered the one hundred miles tricycle road record to 7.31.49, he riding a "Wasp."

HUGH CALLAN, of England, has just put his "Wanderings on Wheel and Foot through Europe," between book covers.

ASA DOLPH, ex-champion bicycle rider, and Miss Flora Smith, of Loudenville, were married in Wooster, Ohio, Oct. 27.

THE property of the Lynn Cycle Track Association will be sold by public auction, Saturday, Nov. 19. See advertisement.

THE Warren wheel Club, of Roxbury, recognized the marriage of Capt. J. E. Savell, by the present of a clock.

THE New York Club has purchased ground for its new club house on West End Avenue, between Seventy-first and Seventy-second Streets.

CHARLES DICKENS has been engaged by the Atalanta (N. J.) wheelmen to give several readings from his father's works, in Association Hall, Nov. 14.

F. DE CIVRY has been disqualified by the Union Vélocipédique de France for using the official report of his fifty kilo. record as an advertisement for the "Rudge" machine which he rode.

J. F. MIDGLEY took a ride the other day, the sixty-three miles of tough road between Worcester and Lynn being run by him in the excellent time of five and a quarter hours.

DUCKER & GOODMAN'S Reference book has still many very fine things of interest, though some of the articles are out of date. The firm is selling off the copies at a very low price, twenty cents each.

THE Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Company has furnished us with certificates and proofs of Whittaker's road record, which convince us that the rider is fairly entitled to the record claimed.

THE Chelsea Club held a run to Maplewood last week to call on Mr. R. E. Burnett, a member who has recently married and settled there. They presented him with a marble clock as a mark of their esteem.

W. B. EVERETT & Co. have received the following telegram from Denver, Col.: "C. C. Hopkins made twelve and eleven-sixteenths miles in one hour, on fifty-five inch Apollo unicycle. Proofs positive. W. L. Van Horn."

THEY, the records, fall as the leaves do fall, early in October. English wheelmen are pulling them down very fast, but on this side the water, the records seem to be more permanently fixed, and can't be pulled so often.

By invitation of the Boston Club, the Massachusetts Board of Officers, L. A. W., will hold a monthly meeting and dinner in the club rooms at 36 St. James Avenue, on Saturday, Nov. 12, at 7.30 P. M.

BROOKLYN, L. I., is called the "City of Churches." Why not the "City of Clubs"? It has more cycle clubs to the square inch than any city in America, we believe, and now comes another, the Universal Cycling Club, with a membership of twenty-six.

SATURDAY, Oct. 22, at Coventry, Eng., F. S. Buckingham and Major Knox-Holmes established tandem path records from twenty-six to thirty miles inclusive, riding a "Premier" tandem. The same day, F. W. Allard, on a "Marlboro' Club" tricycle, rode fifty miles in 2.43-53 3-5, beating the world's record by 6.15 1-5.

NEILSON wanted to make terms with Mr. Overman for the 100-mile track record, claiming that he could lower Dingley's figures. Mr. Overman did n't appear to be inclined to accept the bait, and told Bob that he would bet him $100 that he could n't, which would make it something of an object for him to make the trial.

AT a meeting of the Columbia Bicycle Club of North Attleboro, Mass., held Nov. 4, Dr. William H. Emery, of Boston, was elected an honorary member. A pool tournament is now in progress at the club rooms, and the members are making arrangements for the annual ball.

THE Manchester, N. H., Bicycle Club held its semi-annual hill-climbing contest Saturday, Oct. 29, on Hanover Street Hill, the distance being one-fourth mile, for the Wilkin's medal. Moses Sheriff won in 1.23; C. H. Fish, second, in 1.25. Having won the medal three times, it now becomes Sheriff's property, under the conditions on which the medal was given.

LEWIS CLARK a member of the Riverside Wheelmen's Club, of New York City, missed his bicycle last July. A few days ago he found it in the possession of D. W. Sherwood, of No. 212 West 128th Street, who said he had bought it from George A. Bensel, the janitor of the club. Bensel was arrested, and in the Harlem police court was held for trial.

MESSRS. W. D. AND A. C. BANKER, of Pittsburgh, having ridden 116 miles on the road (which was not sand papered) in eighteen and one-half hours, fourteen and one-half of which was actual riding time, would like to know if any one in Western Pennsylvania has ever done any better, and if not, their 116 miles stands as record for this end of the State.

THE Ariel Bicycle Club, of San Francisco, has agreed to hold a joint meeting with the Pacific Coast Amateur Athletic Association on Thanksgiving Day, at the Centre Street Grounds, Oakland. This consolidation will insure an interesting and varied programme. The bicycle events will comprise the one-mile novice, half-mile League of American Wheelmen State championship, one-mile Safety, two-mile lap, one-mile open, one-mile club handicap, one-lap obstruction, and three-mile handicap races.

THEY say doctors differ. They do more than that, for what they recommend at one time they condemn at another. A lady relative of ours, who had been in very delicate health for some time, asked a prominent Dublin doctor if she might try cycling. "On no account," was the reply; "nothing could be worse for you." Shortly afterwards the doctor commenced to cycle himself, and about a year later the lady, her health being if anything worse, put the same question. "By all means," was the answer; "nothing could be better for you." Experientia docet. — Irish Cyclist.

La Nature has recently described and illustrated a steam tricycle designed by MM. Roger de Montais and L'Heritier. It states that the machine will go nine to eleven miles per hour with one person, and eight to ten with two. In front is a small petroleum-heated boiler, and a petroleum reservoir is placed under the seat, holding ten litres, and said to be enough to last ten hours. A water reservoir, which holds thirty-four litres, is mounted, carrying a supply for two and a half hours. Exhaust steam passes into one part of the tank from a small vertical engine. — The Engineer.

THE slang phrase, "Oh, he 's all right," is said to have originated at St. Louis during the recent G. A. R. convention there. When the parade was in progress some one shouted out, as Gen. Tuttle's post was passing, "How 's Gen. Tuttle?" From a score of voices came back the answer: "Oh, he 's all right, you bet." The phrase caught the ear of the post, and was repeated until other posts took it up, and at the banquet it received a general adoption. — New York World. This is news indeed. The cry was extensively used by wheelmen in Buffalo at the League meet of 1885, and we believe it was not new at that time.

THE Trenton (N. J.) Bicycle Club disbanded Oct. 27, and a new club was formed the next evening by some of the members of the old club. Articles of incorporation have been filed, and this club will take the old name. Another new club will also be formed by those of the other faction, for the disbandment grew out of a divided purpose, among the members, and we shall look for rivalry between the two organizations. Let us hope that it will be a friendly rivalry, and that there will be no clashing.

J. H. SHERMAN, of Lynn, has beaten Greenwood's Corey Hill record. On Saturday last, Nov. 5, in presence of a large number of wheelmen, he climbed the hill four times, which is the record held by Greenwood, and then he started for another ascent. This he could have easily accomplished, but just before reaching the top he pulled his handle-bar off and was obliged to dismount. Thus he beat Greenwood by the fraction of an ascent, but he is not content with this and will try again. He rode a Springfield roadster.

A CORRESPONDENT sends us the following curious item. He says: "It will no doubt be a novel thing to your readers to hear that the 'iron wheel,' the pride and glory of every true-hearted British rider, has been lately the cause of raising a religious discussion amongst the ecclesiastical authorities of the Jews in Italy. As it is well known, bicycles and tricycles are in great vogue in Italy, and they have been introduced as a speedy means of transport in the army, which contains a large number of Jews. Now, the majority of the Rabbis will not permit the Jewish soldiers to ride a machine on their Sabbath, arguing that a ride on a machine is a fatiguing exercise, and comes within the category of labor. The more enlightened of the Rabbis, of course, oppose this argument from the standpoint that riding a velocipede, far from being a fatiguing exercise, is, on the contrary, a most pleasant one. Well, is it not curious that the dear, innocent cycle should be transformed into a block of stumbling to the Jewish Rabbis?" — Cyclist.

THE Harrisburg (Pa.), Bicycle Club, has gone into new quarters. The quarters are 17x44 feet in size, divided into two rooms, by elegantly arranged portières. The rear portion will be used as a pool room, and that portion fronting on the street, as a parlor. The entire wall and ceiling surface has been papered with a rich terra cotta pattern of paper, with a "frieze" surface and bordering of gold and carmine, giving the rooms a fine appearance. The six or eight large windows are draped with old gold plush curtains, bordered with red. A handsome Brussel's carpet will be put down, and suitable furniture procured to match. The parlor will be an attractive bijou, in which the young gentlemen can while away the time, and enjoy the comforts of a refined home, and enjoy themselves in a rational manner, after the business of the day is over. The officers of the club are: President, George A. Gorgas; vice-president, Frank I. Cook; captain, Charles H. Chayne. A banquet was served on the opening night and a musical entertainment was given.

SYDNEY LEE, of the Kildare Bicycle and Tricycle Club, appears to be a good deal of a man. According to Sporting Life (Eng.), he was travelling on his tricycle along the highway south of London town, when a one-horse wagonette, containing altogether six men and three women, was driven straight at him, and he had just time to throw himself on the footpath, when the cartwheel went over his machine, smashing it up in the most wholesale fashion. Mr. Lee ran after the wagonette, and seized upon the back, whereupon one of the men struck him. Being a particularly powerful man, Mr. Lee, who was a little soured — shall I say? by the incident, went for the horse's head, and half pulling him round, made a spring at the box seat. As he did so, one of the men bent over to strike him, and Mr. Lee, catching him by the collar, pulled him out, and he fell on his head in the road, where he lay insensible for some time. Springing up, the enraged cyclist hurled one of the remaining two on the box into the body of the trap, and the other, saying it was n't his fault, gave up the reins, and Mr. Lee drove the now thoroughly cowed party to the neighboring police station, picking up en route the fallen brave. In consideration of the damage done to the latter, Mr. Lee consented to accept full compensation in lieu of charging the men, two of whom broke down and became almost tearful. It will be a long time before they interfere with an athletic cyclist again.

THE Louisiana Cycling Club held its regular monthly confab on the 6th. President Renaud and his walking cane were there by a large majority, but the "fat and stumpy" secretary was non est; cause, very pressing engagements, — ladies and theatre. His place being filled, the ball opened and the usual routine work was rapidly waltzed away. It being necessary to elect a vice-president, Don't-guy-me-boys-I 'm-weak Lazarus, as jovial an Israelite as ever mounted a wheel, was chosen to occupy the president's chair when that luminary is working the festive typewriter during the busy nights of winter. Pelican Fairchild and Elliott M. Graham were also elected to keep the officers of the club's executive committee straight. A committee was appointed to cast around for quarters, and before a great while the club hopes to hang out its shingle and give a piece of its latch string to visitors. The next in order was the captain's report, and as its reading was commenced, silence, that is usually worth $40 per yard, was a very noticeable feature, and free, too. The reading got

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ⁕ WHEEL ⁕ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

SECOND-HAND BI TRI CYCLES.
Large Stock! Many as Good as New! Bargain List FREE upon application!
PRICES LOW.

SOLE AGENTS
For New York for the celebrated New Rapid and Quadrant Cycles.
New York Bicycle Co.,
NEW MANAGEMENT.
No. 38 Park Place, N. Y.

OLD MOUNTS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE.
For New Rapids and Quadrants we are prepared to make exceedingly liberal allowances.
CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED

E. R. STOCKWELL,
19 John St., N. Y.
Manufacturers of
RECORD PRIZES.
Bicycle and Athletic Medals.
CLUB PINS and BADGES.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.
Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

MAKER OF FINE JEWELRY. MEDALS & BADGES MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS
HENRY C. HASKELL
181 JOHN ST. N.Y.

League Uniforms.

John Wanamaker, Philadelphia,

OFFICIAL CONTRACTOR.

These are the prices: Coat, $6.20; Knee Breeches, $4.34; Shirt, $1.95; Hose, 80 cts.; Cap, 84 cts.; Delivered without extra cost to any part of the U. S. where there is mail or express service.

Regulation League Cloth, Burlington Mills, $2.18 a yard; League Buttons, large, 5 cts. each; small, 2 1-2 cts., full set for suit, 55 cts. Uniform sent C. O. D., privilege of examining, and ONLY TO LEAGUE MEMBERS. We do not pay delivery charges on cloth.

All orders must be accompanied by League Number.

JOHN WANAMAKER,
PHILADELPHIA.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
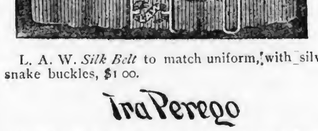
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.



Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

YANKEE ENAMEL,
The Latest and Best.
Put up and for sale by
BENNETT & HALE,
112 ORANGE ST., NEW HAVEN, CT.
Price Per Bottle, with Brush, 50 cts.

A full line of cycling sundries always on hand. We have an extensive Repair Shop, and pay particular attention to difficult repairs on bicycles and tricycles.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego
128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,
NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE OF OUR WHEELS.

MURRAY'S
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BICYCLES.

50 Club, new, $58. 53 Premier, almost new, ball bearings, $42. 58 Expert, good order, $67. 54 Harvard, splendid order, $47. 60 Champion, full nickeled, like new, $75. 50 Victor, ball bearings, $85. 52 Champion, used four weeks, $89. 48 Expert, ball bearings, $60. 46 English Bicycle, new, $55. 54 Victor Light Roadster, latest pattern, $73. 50 Harvard, spade handles, $48. 42 American Safety, $45. Springfield Roadster, new, $78. Also a job lot of new English Bicycles, with ball bearings, in 48, 50, 52, 54 and 56 inches, at only $48, and the same sizes in plain bearings at $43 each. Over 100 other second hand bicycles. SEND STAMP FOR LIST AND MENTION THIS PAPER.
A. W. GUMP, DAYTON, OHIO.

down to the members' monthly mileage. "Fairchild, 650," read the secretary; an involuntary "whew!" from the listeners; "Betts, 445"; "oh!" "Hodgson, 112"; "ah!" "Total for the three, 1,207 miles, which added to their mileage of last month, 1,592, makes 2,799 miles for two months." "That's good!" But it did not stop here. The report urged on the members the desirability of cyclometers, and modestly claimed the club's mileage to be as great, if not greater, than any other in the South; in response to which came in a familiar voice: "That's right, be like Blaine, claim everything. How's Memphis?" Bi.

THE New Orleans Bicycle Club's new quarters are by far the most complete and comfortable of any it has yet occupied; the fixtures are not yet all in ship-shape, but enough can be seen to make this apparent to any one who has a knowledge of the club's previous home. Capt. Rea says that he intends getting the boys out on the road a little more frequently than in the past.

MARRIED, Oct. 27, at Terre Haute, Ind., Mary C. Bannister, of Terre Haute, to Anton Hulman, a popular wheelman of Indianapolis.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

QUARTERLY REPORT ON "X. M. M."

EDITOR BULLETIN:—More than three months have elapsed since I last wrote anything to you about my "Gazetteer of American Roads, in many States, and Encyclopedia of Wheeling Progress in many Countries." You were good enough then to allow me a half-page, (BULETIN, Aug. 19, p. 103), for arguing with League men, that my investment of $12.00, for the production of a monster "League document," deserved some sort of recognition at their hands; and I now ask a shorter space for proclaiming to them my plans about distributing it.

An "abnormally small business faculty" has been attributed to me in the cycling press, because, after putting so low a price as $2, upon a book which no other publisher would dare to rate at less than $5, I still allow original subscribers the privilege of claiming their copies at half-price. The experiment of thus "giving away" the autograph edition, (in the hope that the recipients would be sufficiently pleased and grateful to force a rapid sale of the $2 books, which alone offer any margin of profit), was certainly a risky experiment, and the results thus far reported are not such as to encourage me to persist in it much longer.

During June and July, I despatched about 4,600 books, (say 2,700 subscribers copies and 1,900 others) to depositories in nearly 200 towns; and I've worked absorbingly, during the quarter year, since then, at the one task of trying to get reports from the agents to whom I sent these numerous packages for distribution. Hence, I have not been able, except in very few cases, to request that individual men call at these agencies for their books; I have taken no further steps towards distributing the 300 subscribers' copies still at the manufactory; and I have not even made a beginning of my canvass for new buyers of the $2 books.

As I continue to get letters, from League men and others, inquiring "when the book is to be published," or "why it has not been mailed," (to a man, who subscribed three years ago, and has changed his address several times since, without notifying me), I wish to announce, that, whenever a subscriber sends me $1.20, I will either mail the book to him, or else an order by which he can procure it at the depository in his town. I have just now posted a placard at my chief agency, 12 Warren Street, this city, saying that the price of sub.-books which may remain there on Dec. 15, labelled to New York, Brooklyn, and Jersey City, will be advanced to $1.50; and that if any are left in January, they will be marked at the regular $2 rate. Similarly, whenever I get time to issue a circular to subscribers in other towns, it will notify them that the $1.20 rate will be raised to $1.50 in a month, and to $2 in two months, after the serving of the notice.

Despite my wearisome burden of correspondence, there are agents in nearly forty towns who have not yet sent me any reports about the books; and I hope such of them as may read these lines, will consent to do it now, without waiting for a written reminder. I wish every agent would try to sell a book to the public library in his town (lending it to the librarian for a fortnight's examination, if necessary); and would remember that unsold copies are never to be returned to me, but are to be sent elsewhere, by use of stamped mailing labels, which I will supply.

Those persons who ridicule my over-confidence in the honesty of wheelmen, as shown by my offer to send books "on approval" to perfect strangers, may be interested to know the result of that suggestion, as made in the BULLETIN, last summer. Of seven books so sent, five were "approved" and paid for, and the other two were remailed to later purchasers, in the exact manner agreed upon. Hence, I feel emboldened to give prominence to this plan, (in the pamphlet which I shall issue in December, containing favorable reviews and notices from about fifty journals); and I hereby offer to forward the book to any League consul, representative, or higher officer, who will send me twenty cents in postage stamps, with the promise that, at the end of thirty days, he will either pay the remaining $1.80, or will notify me to send him a stamped label for mailing the volume elsewhere.

I wish to call special attention to my agencies, at Boston, 79 Franklin St.; Baltimore, 2 Hanover St.; Chicago, 291 Wabash Ave.; Cleveland, 1222 Euclid Ave.; Cincinnati, 6 East Fourth St.; Newark, Oraton Hall; Philadelphia, 811 Arch St.; St. Louis, 310 North Eleventh St., and Washington, 1713 New York Ave. At all those places, quite a number of sub-books still lack claimants at $1.20, while it is not practicable for me to notify individuals of the prospective rise in price to $1.50 and $2. Subscribers in all these cities, and elsewhere will be cheerfully released from any obligation to take the book, on the simple condition of mailing to me a postal card signifying their wishes to that effect.

KARL KRON.

THE UNIVERSITY BUILDING, WASHINGTON SQUARE, NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 5, 1887.

IS IT JOCKEYING?

EDITOR BULLETIN:—We are a government of the people, for the people, and by the people, and when individuals transgress the laws they are punished by the proper authorities. Leniency is extended and sentences commuted by the proper authorities. Sometimes individuals become dissatisfied and talk of the equal distribution of property, and sometimes they use arguments that incite the unthinking and uninformed to commit acts of violence. This is called a breach of the peace, and authors of such arguments are sometimes called upon to render to justice that which justice calls upon the perpetrators of the deed of violence incited by the author to render, namely, their necks (as in some recent cases that must be fresh in the minds of us all) and we should think the Hudson County wheelmen would feel perfectly satisfied in the decision rendered in the case of their friend and fellow member, Charles E. Kluge. We have no doubt they would be delighted to please everybody, but we believe that has been tried by greater philosophers than they claim to be, without success. It would be very impolite to the authority that has seen fit to reinstate Kluge and also to him, to ask him "to please not take part in the festivities Election Day," although we think they feel confident of success, should he grant them such a request, even should "Bon" himself take the lists against them.

Who has heard any grumbling because Kluge is to ride? Is any one grumbling because Hall is entered by the Kings County Wheelmen, or because he makes his livelihood by selling wheels? If "every one knows that Kluge was but recently a professional" of what use is it to tell them? People are sometimes "morally certain" of things which they cannot be made morally responsible for stating.

The Hudson County Wheelmen, we have no doubt, think it a credit to them to have Kluge on their team. The Association is composed of thinking men who know their business without being told.

We fail to see where there is any "jockeying" or anything "questionable" in the methods employed, and we should be pleased to have "Bon" more explicit in his charges.

His suggestion of a remedy is certainly unique—either kill the Club or the Association, or both. What have we left? Bon! He is certainly modest in his advice to the Association, but the questions he asks them, seem not to us as to him, pertinent, but quite the reverse. L. A. W. 12,048.

DE SOTO BUTTERMILK.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Allow me to inform "Omen" that the DeSoto road is far from being "the worst road in the country." Cola, Stone, Greenwood, and myself were the explorers of that road, and our report, which has since been unanimously adopted, was as follows: "It is an A 1 road but it stands mostly on end." Greenwood rode a Harvard then, but it did not fit him so well as the Star does. He also enjoyed drinking sour buttermilk, but the rapid changes of level so bewildered the buttermilk that it forgot which way to go. Result, Greenwood took to the shade of a tree where he waited till the buttermilk settled and a train for home came along. I don't know whether Greenwood still likes buttermilk or not; or whether it still thus affects him; but, if "Omen" is desirous of backing Belding, would suggest that he arrange to supply Greenwood with the said beverage during the race. Respectfully,

CHAS. E. DURYEA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 31 Oct. 1887.

THE COST OF POOR ROADS.

A NUMBER of experiments made by Prof. J. W. Sanborn, of the Missouri Agricultural College, show that on a moist dirt road a force equal to 487 pounds was necessary to move a load of 3,665 pounds, or 57 per cent more than was needed to move the same load on a gravel road having a grade of one foot in twenty-eight. On a level gravel road, the force needed was only one fourth as much as on the dirt, and on a plank floor but one seventh as much power was required as was needed in moving the load over the dirt road. This made no allowance for energy wasted by the horse in pulling his feet from the mud and in lifting them over the little elevations always before them on a muddy road. These facts suggest a few calculations that may not be entirely without interest to those who have to haul loads in town or in country.

Supposing that the highways on each alternate section line be well made of gravel or other equally good material at a cost of, say, $2,080 per mile, and that this cost be equally divided between the sections adjoining the improved highways, the annual interest to be paid by each section of land at six per cent will be $124, or 19.5 cents per acre per year. Can farmers afford to pay this tax for the sake of having well-graded, hard, smooth roads every day in the year from their doors to the market town? How many loads must each haul to save enough in the time and wear of men, horses, harness, and wagons to equal the interest, assuming that a fair day's work should average fifteen miles of hauling, and be worth $3 per load of whatever weight, could be safely hauled over dirt roads. According to the conclusions reached through the experiments mentioned, forty-two loads on the dirt road, twenty-seven loads on a well-gravelled road having an incline of one foot in twenty-eight, and ten and a half loads on a level, well-gravelled road would equal the interest, on the above basis of $3 per day. If wagons strong enough to bear the burden were used, the number of loads on smooth and level macadam might be reduced to six. The pay would practically be, for hauling loads over the several kinds of roads, equal to $3 on dirt, $4.67 on inclined gravelled, and $12 on leveled gravelled roads respectively, per load, while on level, smooth macadam it would be equal to $21 per load.

These figures are all based upon a comparison between the forces necessary to move a specific weight over a dirt road only slightly moist and those required for moving the same weight over the other descriptions of roads. The advantages of the improved over the dirt roads would not fully appear until wet weather or spring or a mild winter should come to make channels of deep mud of the highways through districts where the soil is rich like that of the fertile bottom lands of the unctuous prairies of the West. At such times, work with teams becomes extremely difficult, if not quite impossible, so far as the roads are concerned; and in the fields no hauling should be done for reasons that will appear to any good farmer. In such seasons, horses and men lie idle, thus wasting time and food that, with better highways, might be made to bring profit to the farmer. With hard and level roads, good use could be made of those days when work with teams could not be done in fields without cutting up their surface and over-working their horses.—Insurance Journal.

THE PATH.

BOSTON, Nov. 5. One-hundred mile bicycle and tricycle race under the management of the Bicycling World. Contestants on bicycles: W. A. Rhodes, Dorchester; S. P. Hollingsworth, Indiana; P. J. Berlo, South Boston; J. Fred Midgley, Worcester; Frank Carmen, Cambridge, and G. J. Lyons, Lynn. Contestants on tricycles: A. Kennedy Child and R. G. Beazley. Bicycle race,—S. P. Hollingsworth (1), 8.14; W. A. Rhodes (2), 8.14.9 1-2; Frank Carmen (3), 8.24. No others finished. In the tricycle race Beazley stopped at 10 miles, and on the 46th mile Child's machine broke. He covered 46 miles in 3.40.

OTTAWA, KAN. The "Ottawa Wheelmens'" race meet, held on the 26th of October, was in every respect a success, and the visiting wheelmen who came from all over the State and Missouri, went home well pleased with the races, ball and banquet, and unanimously declaring the Ottawa Meet to be the wheeling event of the season. The races were all hotly contested, and the fastest time ever made in Kansas, was accomplished on a track very heavy by recent rains. Two trick riders were in attendance, Prof. Ley, of Kansas City, gave a wonderful exhibition on the ordinary, and John M. Stout, a deaf mute of Ripley, Ills., and the champion of the world as a trick rider on the Star, gave one of his unexcelled performances. A banquet was tendered to the visitors early in the evening, and the day was closed by a grand ball, and reception. Below is a list of the races and the winners thereof:

Half-mile Novice.— Harry Phelps, (1), 1.32; A. M. Officer, (2).

One-mile L. A. W. State Championship.— H. S. Hale, (1), 3.04; J. H. Everest. (2).

One-mile Open.— Frank S. Ray, (1), 3.8 1-2; Harry Ashcroft, (2).

Half-mile, Franklin County.— Lee Patrick, (1), 1.36 1-2.

One-mile Handicap.— F. S. Ray, scratch, (1), 3.2 3-4; Harry Stuart, 50 yards, (2).

Half-mile, L. A. W. State.— J. H. Everest, (1), 1.25 1-2; H. S. Hale, (2).

Half-mile, Hands Off.— J. H. De Tar, (1), 1.38 3-4; J. H. Everest, (2).

Two-mile Handicap, Open.— H. S. Hale, 20 yards, (1), 6.18; F. S. Ray, scratch, (2).

Consolation.— Barthol, (1), 1.45 1-2; W. E. Bowles, (2).

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE.—Genuine Rover Safety, 1887 pattern; has been used only three weeks, good as new; balls all over; bargain at $115. H. A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J.

QUADRANT TANDEM.—Been ridden less than one hundred miles, practically new and a bargain, will sell this fall for $190 cash; here is a chance to save $70. Address No. 7,833, No. 25 Wallace St., Cambridge, Mass.

STAR.—48-inch Special Star, enamelled, with all improvements, never been ridden; will sell cheap, as I have no use for it. Address M. C. S., care Letter Carrier, No. 58, Boston, Mass.

FOR SALE.—One 53 and 55-inch, new, 1887 Columbia Light Roadster; best offer over $100 received before Dec. 1 takes either. One new 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle at best offer over $125 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit.

CHEAP FOR CASH.—A 52-inch Victor, enamelled, $90; 52-inch Rudge L. R., nickelled forks and bone, $90; warranted perfect; have purchased Safety machines. Address ROBT. W. EVANS, Hudson, N. Y.

STAR.—48-inch Special Star, two thirds nickel, latest pattern, with all improvements; is in first-class condition; will sell at a bargain. Address W. T. CONNELL, Room 46, Grand Central Depot, New York, N. Y.

BICYCLE.—50-inch New Rapid, in excellent condition, price low. Address ROBERT MOORE, P. O. Box 240, Philadelphia, Pa.

RUDGE CRESCENT TRICYCLE.—Balls all over, including pedals; cost $182.50; guaranteed as good as new; perfect in every part; ridden less than one hundred miles; price $135. Address M. E. S., 1130 Barclay St., Baltimore, Md.

50-INCH STANDARD COLUMBIA, $40; 52-inch Standard Columbia, $40; 50-inch Expert, $75; 54-inch Expert, $45; 56-inch British Challenge, $65; 52-inch American Rudge, $95; 52-inch Rudge L. R., new, $125; 54-inch Mail, new, $125; 42-inch Pony Star, $55; 51-inch American Star, $65; 52-inch Shadow, $40; Humber Tandem, $175; Humber Tandem, $200; Humber Cripper tricycle, $125. LEWIS L. EVANS, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

54-INCH, ENGLISH, BALLS, FAIR CONDITION, worth $75, to close at $35; 54-inch Expert, late pattern, full nickel, balls all over, cost $140, good as new, only $109; 48-inch Road Racing Star, new in September, 1887, cost $160, only $103; 46-inch American Safety, all balls, $59. L. P. THAYER, West Randolph.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND.—If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

BICYCLE.—52-inch, full-nickelled Expert, ball pedals, in good condition; price $75. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BICYCLE.—54-inch Expert, full nickelled, ball pedals, cow-horn bars, and in excellent order, $80. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Assignee's Sale at Public Auction.

OF PROPERTY OF THE LYNN CYCLE CLUB TRACK ASSOCIATION, AN INSOLVENT CORPORATION.

This valuable property, so well known to the sporting world will be sold at Public Auction on the premises of said association, at the corner of Western Avenue and New Chatham Street, in Lynn, Mass., on Saturday, the nineteenth day of November, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The property consists in part of the interest of the Assignee in the Lease of said premises and of the Track, Fences, Grand Stand, Judges' Stand, Band Stand, Ticket Office, one large Dressing House, ten Cot Beds, about one hundred Chairs, one five hundred pound roller, Rakes, Tools, etc. For further particulars inquire of the Assignee or Auctioneer. Terms made known at the time and place of sale.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 4, 1887.

EZRA BAKER, Auctioneer. GEO. J. CAR, Assignee.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats.)

Owing to the present great depression in WOOL and WOOLLEN GOODS, together with the tight money market, we have been able to buy FOR CASH, at a great discount, some lines of woollens that hitherto have been too high priced to be made into $3.00 pants. Samples of these goods will be found in our package of twenty samples that we mail to any address upon receipt of SIX CENTS, together with self-measurement blank, and (as a special inducement to mention this paper) a good linen tape measure free. If you cannot WAIT for samples, tell us about what styles you prefer; send us your WAIST, INSIDE LEG, and HIP measures, together with $3.00, and thirty-five cents for prepaid express or postage, and we will guarantee satisfaction.

EVERY BUYER OF OUR GOODS HAS THE PRIVILEGE OF RETURNING THEM FOR ANY CAUSE, AND RECEIVING BACK HIS MONEY, OR A NEW PAIR.

The American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) will cheerfully reply to any inquiry sent to their Boston office about us, and the way we treat our customers.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

For Sale, Cheap!

BICYCLES and TRICYCLES. Send for list before you buy, to WM. M. FRISBIE & CO., New Haven, Ct. O. P. Drawer 64.

ROVER SAFETY BI
HUMBER CRIPPER TRI CYCLES.

We have fresh invoices of these Celebrated Machines, which are unequalled for RIDING ALL THE YEAR ROUND, which we have had built specially for American roads, and which we offer at attractive prices. Send for illustrated catalogues.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We want a few good second-hand wheels, 48 to 54-inch, for our local trade, and will allow full value for these in exchange for new

Rovers, Crippers, or Tandems.

LLEWELLYN H. JOHNSON,
401 Main Street . . . . . Orange, N. J.

THE QUICK AND SAFE ROAD TO WEALTH.

A. L. ATKINS,
Investment Broker.

PASADENA - - CAL.

Special attention given to investments in land for Eastern Capitalists.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

REFERENCES

POPE MFG. CO., Boston.
C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.
W. P. COOKE, 100 Boylston, Boston.

JOHN HARRIOTT.

MEDALS AND BADGES,

ALSO

Bicycle Club Pins of Every Description.

Designs on application.

3 Winter Street - - BOSTON, MASS.

Kingston Knitting Co.

27 Kingston Street - - BOSTON, MASS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Knit Worsted and Woollen

ATHLETIC GOODS

In all the popular styles of the season.

Bicycle Outfits in Jerseys, Jackets, Tights, Pants, Stockings and Caps to match.

Full Body Tights in Plain and Ribbed Jersey Cloth, with Plain and Fly Fronts, re-enforced, and pockets.

POLO and TENNIS OUTFITS,

With Caps to match.

L. A. W. JERSEY UNIFORMS,

Very stylish, with Knee Pants, Stockings and Caps. These garments we also make in English Navys, and Blacks, and Colors.

The Cloth for all of our suits we manufacture ourselves, and it is unsurpassed for quality and durability.

Many novelties in Toboggan and Sporting Goods, in Plain, Striped and Figured Guernseys. Toques and Sashes for ladies and gentlemen.

We are prepared to execute any orders from the trade or clubs at very reasonable prices. Correspondence solicited.

ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.

Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICYCLES in the WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

UNDER the heading of "An Angel on a Dandy Horse," Wheeling has a curious article on the discovery of a dandy horse depicted on a window in Stokes Pogis Church: "On entering the chapel upon the left is the window Messrs. Marsh and Cooke were in search of. This contains at the top a bird, a name and date,—1643,—two coats-of-arms, and then a circle; at the top of the circle is a duck, below a horned satyr, and lower down the dandy horse, while the bottom of the circle is filled in with a shield borne by a dragon. The piece containing the angel and the dandy horse measures 7 1 4 in. in length by 5 3-4 in. in depth. The angel, naked, and without wings, represents a rather robust youth with curly hair; in his hands he holds a long trumpet, and by the distension of his cheeks he appears to be sounding a vigorous call. He is astride a genuine dandy horse; the front wheel is very small, and the rear one large. The trumpet passes through a cleft in the curved head of the horse. At the top of the square are the rays of the sun, and out of them a cord passes through a sort of pulley, and is attached to the rear wheel.

WHY is not cycling popular at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge? Well, the reason is not far to look for. It is not "swell" enough. The undergraduates at Oxford and Cambridge are undoubtedly a mixed lot; but the vast majority of them are gentlemen, and, in after life, after contact with the world and a wearing down of angles, turn out, in many cases, first-rate fellows; but no one can deny —and we trust no 'Varsity man who reads this will feel offended at our saying so,—that there is a very strong feeling of "priggism" rampant even amongst men who are gentlemen, just as they are emerging from boyhood to manhood. A few men, with money enough to indulge in more expensive pastime than cycling, set the example, and "the men" follow like a flock of sheep. Ten years later, or in less time, when, as barristers, doctors, clergymen, or what not, they want recreative exercise, they will welcome cycling with open arms; but when the peach bloom of early manhood is on the cheek, a certain class of Englishmen follow only fashion. It is not the fashion at present. Voila tout!—The Cyclist.

THE CLUB.

CALUMET CYCLING CLUB.

AT the last meeting of the "Calumet Cycling Club," of Brooklyn, N. Y., held Tuesday, Nov. 1, the following officers were elected: President, Robert Mabie; vice-president, C. J. Hauck, Jr.; secretary, John W. B. Quail; treasurer, Arthur L. Ward; captain, R. L. Jones; 1st lieutenant, Walter Bonner; 2d lieutenant, Wm. G. Hodge; color-bearer, Chas. H. Madole; bugler, Wm. Murphy.

THE FAVORITE LINE TO CALIFORNIA.

THE Great Rock Island (C. R. I. & P. R'y), offers a choice of routes beyond Missouri River, on both single and round-trip tickets. First-class excursions every week. Rates as low as the lowest. Trains composed of elegant day coaches, superb dining cars, magnificent chair cars and Pullman palace sleeping cars. For full information, address E. A. Holbrook, G. T. and P. A., Chicago, Ill.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

APPOINTMENT FOR WEST VIRGINIA.

JACOB W. GRUMP, Chief Consul for West Virginia, having resigned I hereby appointg as his successor Howard P. Wilkinson of Wheelng, who will be respected accordingly.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Pres.

GEORGIA APPOINTMENT.

AT the reque t of a number of Georgia members, I take pleasure in hereby appointing as Chief Consul for that State, T. L. Ingram, of Columbus, Ga.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Pres.

PENNSYLVANIA REPRESENTATIVE.

I HAVE appointed W. R. Tucker, Esq., of the Philadelphia Club, as a representative for Pennsylvania.

GEO. A. JESSUP, C. C.

SCRANTON, Nov. 2, 1887.

CALIFORNIA APPOINTMENTS.

THE Chief Consul has appointed the Cliff House L. A. W. headquarters for Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, and has also made appointments of local consuls as follows: L. B. Metcalf, Santa Barbara: H. S. Eiderman, Willows; W. S. Hoover, Napa City.

N. A. ROBINSON, Sec.-Treas.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27, 1887.

KANSAS MEMBERS, ATTENTION!

MR. OTTO H. WULFKUHLER, Leavenworth, Ka., is hereby appointed Secretary-Treasurer of the Kansas Division, vice Chas. C. Candy resigned. Appointment to take effect Nov. 1. All communications should be addressed accordingly, by direction of Chief Consul Everest.

CHAS. C. CANDY, Sec.-Treas.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, KA., Oct. 31, 1887.

NEW BRITAIN CLUB.

EDITOR BULLETIN,—Please accept the resignation of the New Britain Wheel Club as a club from the League of American Wheelmen.

A. W. ABBE, Secy.

NEW BRITAIN, CONN., Oct. 27, 1887.

PENNSYLVANIA CLUB.

EDITOR BULLETIN,—Please note that at the regular meeting of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club, of Philadelphia, held Nov. 3, 1887, it was decided by unanimous vote to withdraw from the League as a League Club.

LEE R. MCKINSTRY, Secy.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4, 1887.

DELAWARE DIVISION, L. A. W.

THE annual meeting of this Division will be held on Thursday, Nov 17, at 7.30 P. M., at the room of the Wilmington Wheel Club, 826 Market Street. We request all members to note the time and place of meeting, as no further notice will be sent. A full attendance is requested.

By order,

J. E. PALMER, C. C.

Attest: CHARLES W. TODD, Sec.-Treas.

TO CALIFORNIA L. A. W. MEMBERS.

AT a meeting of this Board, held in the city of Los Angeles, on the 18th inst., the following business was transacted:—

Application of Mr. Wm. C. Hull, for reinstatement as an amateur, accompanied by his written statement, which was formerly presented by Dr. Thos. L. Hill, of San Francisco, was favorably passed upon, individually endorsed by each member of this Board, and forwarded to the United States Racing Board, praying said Board to give the matter all the consideration it is entitled to.

Assignment of the half-mile State championship for 1887 to the Ariel Bicycle Club, to be contested at Oakland on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, 1887. The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Preamble. In view of the doleful fact that this Division was, through the misunderstanding of the United States Racing Board, left at its last annual meeting, held at Santa Cruz, without a United States championship, which our ever-diligent Chief Consul had petitioned for in ample time; in response to which petition an undesirable event (unfortunately the only event then remaining with that Board) against which the thirty-day rule had begun to run, was assigned to this Division; therefore, be it

Resolved, That our worthy Chief Consul, R. M. Welch, petition the Racing Board of the League of American Wheelmen, through its Chairman, D. J. H. Cooley, at Plainfield, N. J., at the earliest moment for the five-mile United States championship for 1888; and further

Resolved, That he petition said Board to assign to this Division as soon as the United States championships are agreed upon for 1888, said above-mentioned five-mile United States championship to be contested on July 4, 1888, or on the date of the holding of the annual meeting of this Division, at any locality in this State, that this Division may select at least thirty days before the date of contest; and be it further

Resolved, That this preamble and resolutions be spread in full upon the records of this Board, and that they appear in full in the columns of the L. A. W. BULLETIN, and that a c py hereof be forwarded to the United States Racing Board, and that a like copy be sent to the Chief Consul so that he will be instructed as to the actions of this Board in the premises.

All of the championships for this year being agreeably disposed of, we now establish the following as the championships for this State for the year 1888:—

A one-half-mile.	A one-mile.
A two-mile.	A three mile.
A four-mile.	A five-mile.
A ten-mile.	A twenty-mile.

Applications for assignment of the above events, excepting the one-mile and the twenty mile events, which are hereby reserved for the Division Meet, will be received from clubs.

The five-mile and the ten-mile events are hereby reserved for the last half of the year and will not be assigned to any club for competition until after July 1, 1888.

Not more than two championship events will be allowed or assigned to any one club; one event in the first half of the year, and the other event in the last half of the year.

Entries to any of the above championships are restricted to Division L. A. W. members.

Championship medals must be uniform in design. Messrs. Wagner & Co., No. 13 Trinity Place, San Francisco, have the contract to supply them at twenty-five dollars per pair, or set of two, fifteen dollars for gold and ten dollars for silver.

It was decided that riders not having a record are entitled to the full limit, and the limit men in handicaps are to be placed at the following distances:—

One-quarter-mile, 75 yds.	Four miles, 225 yds
One-half-mile, 50 yds.	Five miles, 250 yds.
One-mile, 100 yds.	Ten miles, 440 yds.
Two miles, 175 yds.	Twenty miles, 880 yds.
Three miles, 200 yds.

It was further decided that all amateur cycle clubs or amateur athletic clubs to which a championship event might be assigned in this State owe a duty to this Board in the following particulars:—

That when they hold a race meeting a complete report is to be made to the Chairman of this Board, and that said report is to embody a programme of the meeting, a list of those starting, time of first and second man, and a careful minute of the position of each and every man in each and every mile.

Cyclingly and truly yours,

H. C. FINKLER,
Chairman Racing Board.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:—

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct

List 112—Total 28—11,786.

BOSTON, Nov. 11, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—2.—341.

Unattached.

17092 Brother, Hunt, Vacaville.
17093 Stitt, Wm. B., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—1.—641.

Unattached.

17086 Putney, Wm. S., Suffield.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—2.—101.

Unattached.

17078 Albert, L. E., 1515 T St., N. W. Washington.
17079 Colman, Willard P., 2008 Ninth St., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—3.—613.

Ædus Cycling Club.

17 80 Anderson, Chas., Humboldt Park P. O., Chicago.
17081 Wunderle, T. P., Humboldt Park, P. O., "

Illinois Cycling Club.

17099 McCorquodale, E. S., 30 Park Ave., "

INDIANA DIVISION—1.—234.

Unattached.

17100 Stewart, Frank A., Hartford City.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.—97.

Unattached.

17101 McLane, Thos. C., 1414 W. Market St., Louisville.

MAINE DIVISION—1.—129.

York County Wheelmen.

17094 Willard, Geo. E., Biddeford.

MARYLAND DIVISION—1.—283.

Unattached.

17082 Moore, Frank H., 708 W. Howard St., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—1.—1,313.

Unattached.

17102 Stockwell, Wm. B., Box 277, Millbury.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—1.—278.

E. Saginaw Bi Club.

17087 Osborn, H. D., E. Saginaw.

NEW YORK DIVISION—7.—2,276.

Long Island Wheelmen.

17103 Monell, Fred B., 23 Macon St., Brooklyn.
17104 Steel, Geo. H., 302 Hart St., "

Unattached.

17083 Kell r, Gerald, 320 W. 14th St., New York.
17084 Schaffner, Robert F., 50 W. 90th St., "
17085 Watkins, Alfred, 183 W. 71st St., "
17105 Kellogg, P. H., Rushford.
17095 Webb, Frank K., 180 Warren St., Hudson.

OHIO DIVISION—3.—930.

Unattached.

17088 Brown, Chas. S., Ravenna.
17096 Griffin, Thos. L., 601 Lark Pl., Columbus.
17097 Schaibel, W. V., Ohio State University, "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—1.—1,710.

Unattached.

17089 Pine, E. M., 1716 Oxford St., Philadelphia.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—2.—174.

Rhode Island Wheelmen.

17090 Heath, Willis H., 16 Franklin St., Providence.

Unattached.

17098 Morgan, J. Howard, M. D., Westerly.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—1.—87.

Unattached.

17091 Zacharias, Frank, 708 Ninth St., Milwaukee.

GOOD MEN ON GOOD WHEELS

Put the Records Where They Stay.

IT IS ABOUT A YEAR NOW SINCE STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER MADE THE FOLLOWING SET OF WORLD'S RECORDS ON THE CRAWFORDSVILLE COURSE, VIZ.:

10 Miles in 29 Minutes 1 3-4 Seconds.

20 Miles in 59 Minutes 35 4-5 Seconds.

100 Miles in 6 Hours 1 1-2 Minutes.

And these Records have stood ever since, notwithstanding the Fact that the Competitive Trade has done its utmost to acquire them.

While other Manufacturers have built Special Wheels for this Purpose, which differed materially from those they offered the Public, all of our Performances have been on the Identical Wheels listed in our Catalogue; and we claim, therefore, that they are remarkably significant, and demonstrate, unquestionably, the

EASY RUNNING QUALITY OF OUR BEARINGS.

THEN THAT PERFORMANCE OF FRANK DINGLEY'S ON THE LYNN TRACK,

100 Miles in 5 Hours 38 Minutes 44 1-5 Seconds.

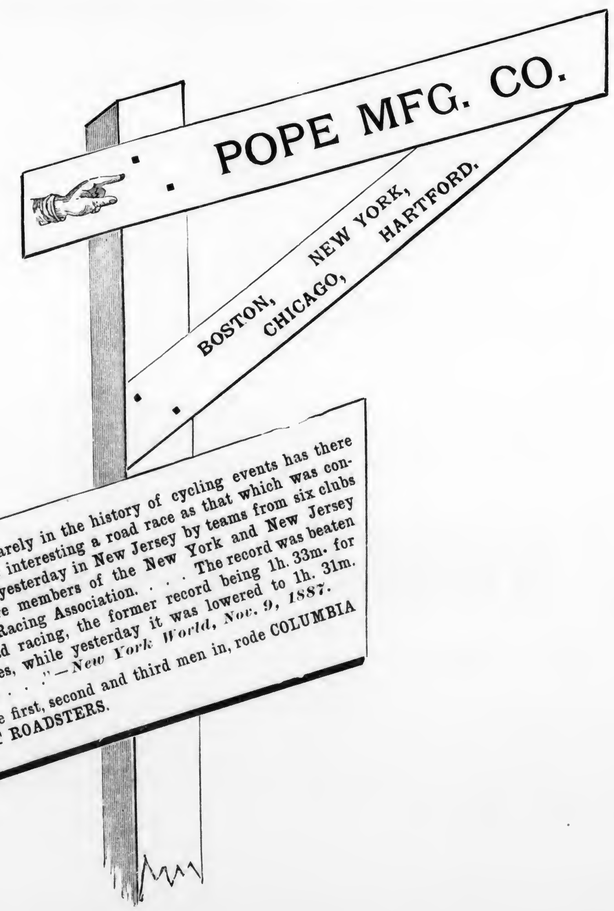
Being Twenty-five Minutes better than the American Record, and Eleven Minutes better than the English Record. Quite a Number of Attempts have been made to Lower this by Other Makers since, all of which proved to be Failures.

We think the above is ample evidence to convince the most skeptical, and to efface any impression to the contrary caused by false statements of our traducers. Respectfully submitted.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. COMPANY.

CHICAGO - - - - - - ILL.

SEND FOR THE LAST EDITION OF OUR CATALOGUE.



THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, NOVEMBER 18, 1887. | VOL. V. No. 20. WHOLE NUMBER, 125.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress Street - - - - - BOSTON.

New York Headquarters, George R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

THE renewal season impends.

OUR books will be opened Dec. 1 for the reception of renewals.

THOSE who apply for membership in December, and send us $2, will be entered upon the books and carried to Dec. 31, 1888.

WE shall have a new system of numbering. Renewals will be entered and numbered upon the books in the order in which they are received. The new number will be called the yearly number, and it will indicate the promptness of renewal. Members will also retain their original number, which will appear on the ticket as such.

UNDER the new system it can easily be told at any time how many renewals have been received, and very much writing will be saved by the economizing of entries in this office.

APPLICANTS for membership will be given numbers in regular sequence from those now in use, and will have but one number the first year.

WE shall reserve a few numbers up to Dec. 1 for League officials, giving them precedence of entry on that day; but after Dec. 1 the names must go down in regular order, without regard to the member's position.

RENEWALS will not be published in the BULLETIN. The Executive Committee has decided this to be an unnecessary expense, and of benefit to no one but the State secretaries. Weekly reports will go from this office to these secretaries, and these will be fuller and more satisfactory than the published reports have been. We shall give each week the number entered by States, and we may decide to give the returns from the larger clubs.

THERE has been a demand for a ticket holder which shall be waterproof, and which will carry the ticket so that it can easily be exposed. We have had samples submitted to us, and have contracted for a number of the one which we decided upon. It will be made of the best calf stock, be waterproof, will have a place for the ticket and a pocket for one's personal card. We shall supply these to members for twenty-five cents each. Members will oblige us by ordering these when they renew.

WE shall print a renewal blank which we will supply to consuls, agents, and club secretaries as they are wanted. It would add much to our convenience if club secretaries would apply to us for these blanks and fill them out, rather than send us a list of names on a single sheet.

Do not forget to send old number.

LIFE members will be entered on a special list, and be numbered from one upwards, according to date of entry. They will be numbered L.1, L.2, L.3, etc., and a ticket varying in minor details from the regular will be issued to them.

RECOGNIZING the guideboard law of Massachusetts, the officials of Chelsea have called upon the wheelmen to co-operate with them in erecting direction boards at all the cross roads. Committees have been chosen by the local clubs, and it will devolve upon them to select places for the new boards and to indicate what shall appear upon them. The city officials agree to erect the boards according to the wheelmen's wishes. It is safe to say that Chelsea will be well furnished with guideboards. Brookline has a model set of boards, and Chelsea will take many ideas from that city.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

FAREWELL runs now engage the attention of wheelmen and wheelwomen. Soon will the snows of winter mantle the roads in robes of snowy white and put a barrier to all riding. Then we live over the past and revel in the anticipation of the future.

IF you will excuse me for bringing in my personality, I want to say that I am going where roads are perfect from one's doorway for miles and miles away. I have been located where I had to ride a mile to get good roads, and where the hardest mile of all was at the conclusion of every long run. All that will be changed now, for I am packing up my household goods preparatory to a removal to the Newton district, where poor roads are unknown. I expect to place a good record to my credit next year, for I am a good distance from the village centre, and I suspect that my ready saddled horse will stand at the door all the time.

AND speaking of records, it is quite time for the ladies to send me their figures for the year. Last year I had the great pleasure to publish a number of very interesting letters from the lady riders, giving a sketch of how far they had ridden during the season just then closing. I want to repeat the idea this year, and I will ask each and every lady rider who reads this to send me for publication a short sketch of what she has done this year, and add any suggestion, tell of any experience, or give any hint for the benefit of her sisters, that she thinks will be of value. Send all such to "Daisie," care of Editor, box 5267, Boston, Mass.

THERE has been handed to me a clipping from a Washington paper, from which I select the following. The first party spoken of I have heard no account of before, but the second is undoubtedly our North Shore trip, and since the chronicler is very far from right in that, I am inclined to believe that perhaps the first is a myth.

"THERE was a party of eight who toured it on their wheels as far as Saratoga this summer. There were couples, husband and wife, on tandem tricycles and two unattended ladies on singles. They had the best sport and the reddest of cheeks to bring back to New York. A Boston touring party covered some 500 miles at about the same time. Its numbers varied somewhat from day to day, but there were usually about eleven ladies along on tandems or single machines. One who went the whole 500 miles declared that she felt much better at the five hundredth than at the first."

LATEST reports from the North Shore trip show that the assessment of $3 per person was almost sufficient to cover the incidental expenses. There was a very small deficit which the committee made up. The Secretary is making inquiries concerning his nickel-plated lantern, which was taken away by mistake. He says he doesn't want the japanned lamp that was left in its place.

I AM in receipt of a letter from California, which tells me of the experiences of two feminine cyclists in that far-distant State. They are mounted on wheels weighing one hundred pounds each, and are as yet strangers to the delights of a light bar steerer. They write a very bright and chatty letter, asking advice which has been sent to them, and as I read what they say I am inclined to believe that riding the wheel has been responsible in good part for their flow of spirits.

MRS. SMITH, of London, has been able to go upon the race track without sacrifice of dignity, and has shown us what a woman can do in the way of quick riding. Speaking to a newspaper writer about her recent tandem ride, she says: "At the finish of this ride I was not in any way distressed, and had it not been for the darkness which set in, we should have continued for fifty miles. Our tandem was geared to 60 inches, and weighed about 70 pounds. A correspondent, in last week's 'B. A.,' suggested my saddle being raised, and also my handles; but I have tried a higher saddle and cannot ride so well, as I use 6 1-2 inch cranks, and I like my handles rather low, so that I can lean on them when going very fast; otherwise, I like them about two inches higher for road riding. Have always found one should have saddle fairly low and well back to get best results with least possible fatigue."

IT would seem from this that Mrs. Smith is an advocate of the thrust action, as opposed to the vertical, and I am glad to know this, for I have noticed a disposition on the part of lady riders to get forward to a degree that would be to me distressing.

I AM inclined to believe the tandem is responsible for the error of a too-vertical action, if it can be called an error, for I find that the three-wheeled tandem is balanced so evenly that the lady must be placed well forward in order to keep the little wheel from rising. I am not able to discuss mechanics with the gentlemen, but if they will bear with me in my ignorance, I will say that the tandem can be very much improved in the way of balance. As at present built, the lady has to sit so far forward, that she is not comfortable, and the gentleman is not perfectly happy between bruises that he gets by striking the axle, and his uncomfortable — and on many machines dangerous — position in coasting. I may be all wrong in this, but I am willing to be corrected.

IN Cork a ladies' tricycling club has been formed called the Tivoli Cycling Club, and the ladies have been enterprising enough to hold a race meeting Save the mark!

DAISIE.

HARRY ETHERINGTON has sold Wheeling to C. W. Nairn, who has been London editor of the Cyclist for eight years. W. M. McCandlish remains with the paper as associate editor, and F. Percy Low is editorial contributor. It is understood that H. J. Swindley will supply Mr. Nairn's place on the Cyclist. The new management issues its first number reduced in size to that employed by all the other wheel papers, for Wheeling has always carried the largest page of all.

THE OWL.

HEZEKIAH B. SMITH, who owned the whole town of Smithville, N. J., including the machinery factory bearing his name, who has become well known to wheelmen as the builder of the Star bicycle, died at his home in Smithville on the 5th inst. He came originally from New England, where he had made a fortune, and settled down near Mount Holly, where he built his village and factory. Mr. Smith was an exceedingly eccentric individual, and when he wanted anything, he wanted it badly, and usually got it, being a free spender without being extravagant, a fact that may account, somewhat, for the way the Star has been brought to the front in the few years it has been upon the market. An example will more clearly show what Mr. Smith was. He wanted to go to Congress on the Greenback ticket, some ten years ago, and his opponents, to defeat him, had to run the price of votes up to $15 to $20 apiece, but Mr. Smith secured a renomination and introduced the particularly open system of "$5 down, and $10 when I'm elected," and that settled the opposition. Mr. Smith served four terms as a State senator, in the New Jersey Senate.

THE New York Club, after their road race on election day, which was won by P. M. Harris, in 1.7.30, adjourned to Riverside Drive and had the annual picture of the club taken. The New Yorks have introduced a new system in wheel club management; they have abolished the usual monthly meetings, holding them only semi annually in the future, he entire business of the club in the interim being managed by standing committees, under the control of the Board of Governors. This plan is a great improvement over the old one of meeting each month, and allowing each club man to attempt to manage the club's affairs, which as a rule usually terminates in the birth of factions and discord.

THE wheelmen in New York were particularly interested in the election just passed, and succeeded in electing the father of the "Liberty Bill," Mr. Jacob Cantor, to the State Senate, and Mr. Rastus S. Ransom, to Surrogateship. As a compliment probably to the wheelman vote, a bicycling complexion was given the whole affair by the rivalry for District Attorney between Messrs. Nichol and Fellows. Now if there is anything the average wheelman considers himself posted upon, it is the merits of nickel and felloes, so the fight was a hot one, but as usual, the felloes outlasted the nickel, and Jno. R. Fellows is to-day the District Attorney of New York. Wheelman, as a rule, did not seem to take kindly to the George candidate for this office, and he was, in racing parlance, "left standing at the post" in the race for the political honors of this office.

THE cartoons in Puck are usually noted for their perfection of satire and wit, but perhaps the furthest removed from either of these features is one that graces, or rather disgraces, the last sheet of this week's issue. A park driveway is represented, with "road hogs" and "snubs" in profusion, while a most truthful representative of a tramp, mounted upon a most untruthful representation of a bicycle, is pictured as holding his hat out for alms to the horror-stricken dude, who sits in a dog cart alongside of his, or somebody else's, "best girl." Beneath all of this is the following explanation for the benefit of those who see the picture, and without which I am sure no one could see the point of it, "Keeping up with the times — The progressive tramp takes to the wheel." I, for one, after reading this am still unable to see the point of the cartoon, if it has any. It certainly is not my idea of a progressive tramp or otherwise, who would bestride such a monstrosity of a wheel as is shown in that picture, but if there ever was an example of a retrogressive one, he is the example.

DID you ever notice how it does tire some men to see another one easily wheeling his way along on a bicycle?

IN my experience in cycling journalism and as a rider, I have met some glaring examples of ignorance among wheelmen, but the culminating one is as usual discovered by that old standby of journalism, "A Contributor," who along with "Vox Populi" and "A Subscriber" is always looked for in every newspaper office, to ask idiotic questions and air their own and others' ignorance. Mr. "A Contributor" in your issue of 4th inst. claims to have spoken with a "well-known wheelmen," who, among a lot of other questions equally as bright, wants to know, in regard to the "Liberty Bill," as to "What the benefit consists of?" When any wheelman, "well known" or otherwise, asks me what the "benefit" of this bill is, his obtuseness is, I am afraid, of that order which would need an auger for the surgical operation requisite for his enlightenment, not a pen; and I therefore give the job over to some carpenter, who with a well-tempered tool of recognized boring ability, may bore a hole in the head (if he has one) of this "well-known wheelman," and then pour into it a concentrated extract of the benefits of liberty in general, and wheeling liberty in particular.

WHILE these and other queries are being asked by a "well-known wheelman" who also thinks "it might be possible to say a great deal on both sides,"—to further quote from his friend Mr. "A Contributor's" letter,—our debt remains unpaid, and our treasury is bankrupt, and I must once again announce what I know to be a fact, that the Park Commissioners intend introducing an amendment to the "Liberty Bill," exempting all New York City parks and roadways from the equality elsewhere granted wheelmen by this law. Allow me, therefore, to add my query to those of the gentleman who is so thoroughly disguised under the title of "a well-known wheelman" as to be utterly unrecognizable here, and ask him, through his sponsor, Mr. "A Contributor," how are you going to keep this amendment from passing?

THE OWL.

A MEETING TO ORGANIZE A CYCLE MILITARY COMPANY.

A NUMBER of gentlemen interested in the movement to organize a company of militia mounted on wheels was held at the Capital Bicycle Club-House last night. Herbert S. Owen was made temporary chairman and A. B. Dent was elected secretary. It was decided to form a social club, with the ultimate object of forming a military organization, to be mounted on wheels and mustered into the National Guard. A. F. Dinsmore was elected permanent chairman, and Messrs. Owen, Johnston and Dent were appointed a committee to select a name for the organization and to draft a suitable constitution and by-laws. The thanks of the organization were tendered to the Capital Club for the use of their rooms for the meeting The chairman stated that though the meeting was held in the rooms of the Capital Club, it was not intended that the new organization was to be in any manner allied to that club or any other wheelmen's organization, in the District of Columbia. The question as to whether bicycles or tricycles would be best suited for use by the corps was discussed, but no determination was reached, and it is probable that tricycles will be used at the start, though in time a bicycle company may be added. An effort will probably be made to induce Congress to make some special provision for the wheel corps, as it will be largely in the nature of an experiment that will be looked upon with great interest by military men with a view to determining the fitness for 'cycles for use in the Regular Army and in the State National Guards.

Another meeting of the club will be held Wednesday evening, November 23, at the same place, when the committee on name and constitution will report, and new members will be elected.

Washington Post, Nov. 10.

ANOTHER "EARTH'S" RECORD.

WHILE all eyes were fixed on Whittaker in the West, and the Bi. World races in the East, a quiet unassuming rider in Warren, R. I. strained himself, and secured a record, that even the Katama Railroad would feel proud of.

While in Warren, a day or so ago, I was furnished the following, as facts beyond dispute, and as they came only second-hand I feel compelled to swallow them. I trust your readers, with the aid of a little oil, can do likewise.

The Victor people are ably represented in Warren by William S. Mills, and to prove his belief in the wheel he propels a "Safety." Mr. Mills is a prominent member of the "Bristol Co. Wheelmen," and ever since Capt. Bliss won the county championship (3 1-4 miles) in 12.39, he has worn a determined do or die look, and the boys daily expected a challenge.

Secretly, quietly, ofttimes after dark, he had been training, until his muscles were like iron, and his wind strong enough for defence in case of a riot. Previous to a trial for the championship, he decided to privately take an exercising run from Bristol to Warren. Friday, Nov. 4, he judged about correct, and pedalled slowing towards B., saving himself for the return trip against time. On arrival at B. he discovered he was minus a watch; but the day was so fine he decided to start by the Episcopal Church clock, and stop by the Baptist clock in Warren, distance 4 3-4 miles. Are you ready? go! and he was off. His course was through the principal street, and "geese, gals, and onions" flew past until they appeared like the holes in a cribbage board. Up by the gas house, over the macadam road, up the rough, sandy, one-mile grade, down the other side, across the flats, over the railroad crossing, through the town, whoa, time? Ye gods, it can't be it is ten minutes. Four miles and three quarters in ten minutes!

He said nothing, but hitched up a team, took the time of the clock in Warren, and drove back to Bristol to compare.

Two and one half minutes' difference, and against him. Actual time, twelve and one half minutes, for four and three quarters miles. Say, do you accept "Safety" records? Allow me to suggest that this record be accepted.

Good riders, on large wheels, don't care to do that road better than nineteen minutes. "Blood will tell" every time. I understand that Mr. Bliss has offered Mr. Mills the championship medal, saying a contest was unnecessary. I hope Rowe won't read this. It might make him feel blue on his honeymoon. I see Englehart required nearly fifteen minutes to make five miles on the path; but here behold a man that spurts on the road for fun, at better than a three-minute clip.

Did I hear you wink an eye Mr. Editor?

R. I. D.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 6, 1887.

A THANKSGIVING DAY RUN ON BURLINGTON PIKE.

I CONTEMPLATE a run on my "Facile" out the Burlington (N. J.) pike, as far as Beverly (15 miles), or even Burlington (18 miles, each way), on Thanksgiving Day, leaving Market St. Ferry House, in Camden, about 9.15 A. M. Would like to hear of one or more cyclists, who propose taking such a trip, on this last holiday of the wheeling season, whom I might accompany.

Fraternally,

WM. STANTON MACOMB, L. A. W. No. 6768.
45 SAUNDERS AVE., W. PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 9, 1887.

HOPKINS BREAKS THE 10-MILE UNICYCLE RECORD.

C. C. HOPKINS had a "go" at the ten-mile unicycle or one wheel record yesterday at the old Exposition track in the presence of a number of wheelmen and others. He captured the record "by a large majority," lowering the best previous performance 12 minutes and 22 seconds. Prince Wells, the fancy rider, recently did ten miles in 59 minutes 36 seconds. Hopkins's time yesterday for that distance was 47 minutes 14 seconds. He rode for an hour's record, and in that time covered 12 11-16 miles. He rode a 55-inch Apollo, stripped of everything but pedals, forks and handle-bars. His time by miles was as follows:—

Miles.	Time.	Miles.	Time.
1	4.32	8	38.10
2	9.06	9	42.36
3	13.42	10	47 14
4	18.20	11	51.57
5	22.48¾	12	56.48
6	27.21	12 11-16	1 hour
7	31.55

The following gentlemen officiated:—

Timers Austin Banks and Robert Gerwing; scorers, John F. Allers and R. E. Reiche; starter and extra timer, W. L. Van Horn.

Denver Republican, Nov. 7.

CHAS. A. BEIDERMAN, captain of the Outing Cyling Club, of San Francisco, is departing for Southern California, and San Francisco loses a very enthusiastic wheelmen. J. W. Gibson, another San Francisco wheelman, goes to Philadelphia to study medicine.

ST. LOUIS.

I AM glad that the Missouri Club, at its last meeting, decided to get out of what might wear into a rut, and cyclists above all should be afraid of ruts. Its opportunities for making the winter pass pleasantly and instructively are manifold. With an elegant suite of reception and entertainment rooms, and with a large and well fitted-up gymnasium, it can arrange and carry out almost any plan of pleasure. It took a step in that direction at the meeting. Will Barron, who has just seceded from the big Missouri Gymnasium, preferring to go with his bicycle club, offered to teach a gymnastic class two nights in the week, and the offer was favorably received with the cry, "What's the matter with Barron?" Then the inauguration of a boxing class was discussed, and the exposition of the art of self-defence by a "professor" was seen later on downstairs. The putting on of another story to furnish additional billiard-room was deferred in discussion till another meeting, when several champions and opponents of the scheme will be on hand to air their views.

MY letter in the BULLETIN the other day, suggesting a compounding of words to form club names, has brought upon me requests to furnish names for Eastern clubs about to be formed. Now, it was not my intention to pose as a name-dispenser, but I thought that a little hint might be useful. In the prompt requests that have come to me, I see that the hint was needed and did not fall upon barren ground. I know no more names than anybody else can make who knows words enough to coupound. Indeed, I should be sorry to furnish any, because one of the nicest things about such naming is the discussion of names in a club meeting. Get the members together and spend an evening in compounding a name. You will find it very entertaining, almost as much so as progressive conversation. And then, don't you see, the name would mean so much more to you if evolved by yourselves than if you got it from a stranger.

ELIOT TODD, president of the Todd Pulley and Shafting Company, rolled over the big bridge the other day on his tricycle. As he went over he met a wheelman, who asked, "Hello, Todd, goin' to East St. Louis?" "Farther than that, you bet," was the laconic reply, as the tricycle sped on to the Illinois side. Yes, he was right in saying he was going farther. His immediate destination was Louisville, Ky., but from there he is going to ride to Atlanta, and then to New Orleans, and in fact all over the South. He will be gone three months, and will probably make a record before he gets back. Todd is a peculiar fellow, being quiet, almost taciturn. He went away on this long trip as silently as the Arab folds his tent, and hardly let anybody know of it. His reticence is in a measure caused by policy. He has the idea that a knowledge that he rides would hurt him in his business, and so his mouth is always puckered to say, "Hush!" I say it's a pity such a fear — a groundless fear — exists; that the prominent business men in the community who cycle hide their light under a bushel; that they do not learn that a man's neighbors and associates admire moral courage.

WE are discussing a hare and hounds chase to give us an appetite for our Thanksgiving turkey, and it is sufficiently novel here as a cycler's diversion to cause talk. The prospects are good for a lively time on that holiday, as I think a number of the boys will go into the chase.

THE talk about having a special path built from New York to Philadelphia for the use of cyclists, puts me in mind of the fact that two years ago the Spectator urged that a special side path be built on Lindell Boulevard from Grand Avenue to Forest Park, to keep the wheelmen from interfering with the horses or being interfered with. The wheelmen very promptly sat down on such a scheme, and knocked the Spectator out in one round by showing that the horsemen would argue like this: If the wheelmen can be kept off the main road on Lindell Avenue, what is the matter with keeping them off every thoroughfare? This reasoning, you see, if carried out, would make such a path the entering wedge for prohibitory enactments. What the wheelmen want to do is to insist upon being allowed to use the main road, and have nothing to do with side roads or bridle paths.

REPRESENTATIVE SUDA has found a nice course, he says, for a road race. It is a thirty-mile route by way of Kirkwood, Fenton, and the Gravois Road. This route is well known to nearly all the road riding wheelmen of this city. I say "road-riding," because there are a great many wheelmen who know nothing of riding outside of the boulevards and parks. They make up that large class of riders known as "park pets." About the course, Suda says nobody can say anything but what is favorable. Its grades are easy, and as twenty-five miles could be covered without any portion of it being ridden over twice, it would make a good long-distance course.

A. M. BLANCHARD, the artist, is back after spending the summer in New England. He did n't do much riding, as he went to visit relatives, and they did n't ride not only, but did n't like to see anybody else ride. He speaks in high terms of Rev. Mr. Melden, of Northampton, Mass., an enthusiastic wheelman, who extended the St. Louis traveller many courtesies.

THE revised constitution, as drawn up by Messrs. A. C. Stewart, W. M. Brewster, and George H. Lucas, has been submitted to the Division. Its changes are not many, but one or two are important. The chief consul is given power to fill all vacancies, which does not seem to be consistent with another section that gives to chairmen of committees the right to constitute their committees. If the chief consul's power in filling vacancies is to extend only to local consuls and representatives, I think it ought to be so stated, as an ambiguity of language in such a document often generates much wrangling. Another alteration gives a member the right to one proxy vote, provided the proxy is made out in the handwriting of the person giving the proxy. Another change, I think, needs looking into. The finance committee is to audit the accounts of the secretary-treasurer, and the latter is made a member of the committee, thus being called upon to pass on his own ability. To a modest man, this might seem rather painful, and to a dishonest one rather a good thing. There is no certainty of having such a careful officer as J. A. Lewis all the time, and it might be a good thing to leave him off the committee. Robert's "Rules of Order" is made the parliamentary authority. A mail vote will be taken on the adoption of this constitution, at once.

THE bridge toll across the river has been raised from five to fifteen cents. The Cycle Club found this out to their sorrow the other day on going out on the Belleville run, which is across the river, — "over on the other side." I have not heard exactly why the increase has been made, but expect to learn shortly. The rise may result in some official protesting. This load of fifteen cents each way would weigh pretty heavily on wheelmen having to cross twice a day. In fact, I hear of one wheelman in East St. Louis, who has disposed of his wheel for that very reason. For my part, I would like the right of the company to make such a charge examined into, and I am glad that the chief consul is looking into it. He tells me that he is pretty sure that the matter can be compromised, if no indiscreet person makes a break and gets the company angry. Brewster says that wheelmen are very funny. They want to have their wheels recognized as vehicles, and then when a vehicle charge is put upon them, they object. I hear that the action of the company was caused by a new rider trying to learn to coast on the smooth inclines. He ran into a buggy and caused a general upset. It is one of those unfortunate instances where the many suffer because of the individual.

I TRUST that matrimony will not put an end to Griff Glover's use of the wheel. I have my fears that it will, though. He used to ride nearly all the time, and there is a tradition that he rode in and out from Normandy, twelve miles, every day of one summer. But the past two seasons he has practically given the wheel the go-by. In that time he has been busy getting a new business in shape, and claims that has kept him from it. But I believe there is a deeper cause, and my heart is chilled by the sudden thought that this aversion to wheels is the necessary outgrowth of buying a wedding ring, and the fate that has been, lies in store for those who wait. Let me say that I cannot understand why a bicyclist, as has been the case so often, should cease to be a bicyclist simply because he gets married. The plea that your wife does n't want you to cycle is no reason at all. If the wheel has done for you, Mr. Benedict, physically what it has for me and scores of others, your wife ought to have sense enough to urge you to persist in continuing such exercise. She may object to the time you give to it. If you are reasonable and ride consistently, there is no more reason why she should complain of the time you give to it, than there would be in her objecting to the time you spent at the gymnasium. Any woman who objects to what will keep her husband healthy, is a fit subject for some pretty vigorous treatment.

BURLEY AYERS told me recently that the prospects of a European tour next year were by no means bad. The one projected for the past summer fell through because there seemed to be nobody with time to spare to go. He was sure this must have been the reason, as he had heard of no kicks from anybody, and there would have been some if anybody had been much put out. Burley is as confident as ever that the trip can be made in six weeks after leaving New York, from the Skager Rack down to Italy. He admits, though, that the trip will admit of little sleeping, as it will have to be a "demition grind" from start to finish.

ONE of the prettiest sets of resolutions I ever saw is the engrossed vote of thanks of the Plainfield (N. J.) Bicycle Club to the Missouri Club for courtesies shown Dr. J. H. Cooley, who, the resolutions say, was the representative at the meet of the Plainfield Club. The resolutions are handsomely framed, and what is as good as anything is the legibility of the three signatures, Messrs. Howard J. Runyon, J. B. Madine, and T. S. Barr. This beautiful expression of thanks arrived only the other day, and was first hung up last Saturday week.

THE Missouri Club has issued its invitations for the winter entertainments, which will be on a more extensive scale than last year's. The opening will be a hop next Friday. Musical and literary entertainments will follow on Dec. 15 and Jan. 12, and a bal masque on Feb. 9. Lent will shut out March, but on April 5 the series will end with an April-fool party. These entertainments last year gave the club and the sport a standing in the social world that was gratifying to every true lover of the wheel. They are select, quiet, and promotive of a healthy sociability that increases the influence of the club.

BELDING has turned up sick, and so the race with Greenwood must be considered as only a dim hope. Belding says that a doctor has recommended him to give up riding, as he (the doctor) believes it caused his trouble, — kidney ailment. Belding takes it all in and thinks his name will be Dennis if he rides any more. The idea that his riding has brought about any ailment is the merest moonshine, as he never has ridden enough to agitate materially any portion of his anatomy. Belding does n't look very sick, in fact he strikes me as being as vigorous as ever, and I can only regret with many others that he should be stricken down just when the friends of the safety wanted to see it vindicated. But there are other safety riders, and Greenwood and the De Soto road are fixtures hereabouts. Why cannot the rear driver be sent over this famous road by some other rider?

OMEN.

THOSE cyclists whose ideas on the fitness of things in general do not persuade them to clean their machines immediately after a hard or dirty ride, should remember what neglect does for their steeds. Years ago, in the innocence of our heart, we believed that a painted or enamelled machine could come to no harm, even though covered with mud. Time has taught us differently, however. We found out some long time ago that the rims of a machine, if left with wet mud standing upon them, got rusted round about the holes drilled for the spokes, and that, after a time, the spokes rattled sadly, and made the machine rickety. Remember, therefore, the rims when cleaning. — Bicycling News.

THE speed attained by the bicycles and tricycles on a good road is superior to that attained by a fast trotter for the same distance, and as a speedy mode of conveyance is only surpassed by a few of the fastest steamships and the locomotive. Two riders recently rode a tricycle 20 miles 715 yards in one hour, and rode 25 miles in 73 minutes 42 8 seconds, or at an average rate of 20.35 miles per hour. The mechanical construction of a bicycle is well worth study. The requisite amount of strength is probably obtained with a smaller proportion of weight than in any other machine, and considering the trying nature of the strains, a fair amount of durability and immunity from breakdowns are obtained. The price, however, per pound (about $3) of the best and lightest machines is considerably in excess of that of almost any other machinery. — R. R. Gazette.

AGAIN THE K. C. W.

WINS THE INTERSTATE CUP. — KLUGE BEATS ALL RECORDS OVER THE COURSE. — A PROTEST FROM THE BROOKLYNS.

THE fourth semi-annual contest of that firebrand and obnoxious alphabetical road-racing association has come and gone, and again left the gallant Kings County boys the winners of the champion cup. There are some to say that good luck gave it to them. I say that such unsportsmanlike paper wisecracres are unworthy of notice. Good riding did it. We have nothing to do with what might have happened if Stenken and Baggot and Smith, of the Hudson County run, had not met with accidents to their wheels that caused them grave delays. When they might have finished is mere conjecture. We have to deal with happenings, not probabilities. All sympathize with them in their misfortunes, none the less the Kings County men, I venture to state. And further, the Hudson County men have shown no disposition to do other than abide by the results, without grieving over shattered possibilities. The unlucky trio can go much faster than accident allowed them to. This all will admit; but whether they could have gone fast enough to win, I leave the calculators to discuss.

Election day was a rather bleak day, and a stiff breeze blew from somewhere about Milburn toward Irvington. Nor was the northern end of the course in good condition. Recent repairs had left the road in pretty rough trim. Altogether, taking wind and surface into consideration, the knowing ones estimated that the conditions were such as to slow the time for the whole distance from three to five minutes, and the result seemed to prove it. There was a large attendance of wheelmen and spectators, not near so large as that of last spring, but large for all that, a large one, say five hundred cyclers and one thousand on foot and in carriages. Then there was a jolly crowd of Ilderans, who had forsaken their wheels for a six-in-hand tally-ho; and the wheelmen were on their good behavior, and Marshal Edwards and his assistants had little difficulty in keeping a clear course, except in the excitement of the last ten miles. Carriages readily and cheerfully gave way, as though they wished to disabuse the minds of all that they considered the race a nuisance or anything but a harmless day's outing, to be looked on with indulgence. Those who have proclaimed this race the violation of human rights par excellence would have been silenced could they have been there. I am inclined to think that we have not seen the last road race, over this course at least. Do I utter heresy, Mr. Editor? Can the League stand a bare statement of facts, or must all this be blue pencilled?

The old-time semper paratus bevy of clubs was on hand to start of course; all of them with new blood. Kings County had Wilson, Marion, and Tom Hall; Brooklyn, Mead, Williams, and Waters; Ilderan, Warner and Class; Union County, Rhett and Warner; and Elizabeth, Berry, Gilbert, and Jenkins. Among the missing were such established scorchers as Harry Hall and Valentine of the Kings County, Caldwell of Elizabeth, Greenman of the Ilderans, and Pierson of Union County. It was practically a new deal all around. The story of the race can be easily told by a statement of the leaders and their times at the intermediate distances: —

Five Miles.

1	Kluge, H. C. W.	17.10
2	Stenken, H. C. W.	17.56
3	Baggot, H. C. W.	18.19
4	Bradley, T. B. C.	18.21
5	T. J. Hall, K. C. W.	19.03½
6	Wilson, K. C. W.	19.20
7	Schoefer, I. B. C.	19.21
8	Mead, B. B. C.	19.26
9	Todd, B. B. C.	19.39
10	Waters, B. B. C.	19.40

Ten Miles.

1	Kluge, H. C. W.	35.22
2	Stenken, H. C. W.	36.47
3	Bradley, T. B. C.	37.33
4	Hall, K. C. W.	37.38
5	Wilson, K. C. W.	39.08
6	Todd, B. B. C.	39.19
7	Mead, B. B. C.	39.23
8	Schoefer, I. B. C.	39.23
9	Bowman, E. W.	39.29
10	Waters, B. B. C.	39.59

Fifteen Miles.

1	Kluge, H. C. W.	53.54
2	Bradley, I. B. C.	56.45
3	Hall, K. C. W.	57.25
4	Mead, B. B. C.	58.39
5	Wilson, K. C. W.	58.39
6	Todd, B. B. C.	59.11
7	Waters, B. B. C.	59.30
8	Schoefer, I. B. C.	59.30
9	Bowman, E. W.	1.00.11
10	Knox, K. C. W.	1.00.31

Twenty Miles.

1	Kluge, K. C. W.	1.12.45
2	Bradley, I. B. C.	1.16.40
3	Hall, K. C. W.	1.17.27
4	Wilson, K. C. W.	1.18.56
5	Mead, B. B. C.	1.20.05
6	Todd, B. B. C.	1.20.08
7	Waters, B. B. C.	1.20.11
8	Bowman, E. W.	1.20.45
9	Knox, K. C. W.	1.21.42
10	Baggot, K. C. W.	1.22.23

How the teams stood relatively at different distances may be seen from a summary of the points.

	5m.	10m.	15m.	20m.	25m.
1 K. C. W.	62	67	70	71	73
2 B. B. C.	56	61	68	68	65
3 H. C. W.	78	63	42	48	52
4 I. B. C.	47	43	49	45	44
5 E. W.	42	39	41	40	39
6 U. C. W.	15	27	30	27	26

Considering the day and the track, Kluge's performance was a most remarkable one. So was Bradley's. A comparison of the leader's times in the two contests is interesting.

	5m.	10m.	15m.	20m.	25m.
Stenken, S.	17.38	36.01	54.47	1.13.46	1.33.57
H. Huse, S.	17.38½	36.02	54.47½	1.13.47	1.33.53
Valentine, S.	17.39	36.56	55.56	1.15.18	1.34.48
Bradley, S.	18.03	36.57	55.52	1.15.19	1.34.49
Kluge, F.	17.10	35.22	53.54	1.12.45	1.31.03½
Bradley, F.	18.21	37.33	56.45	1.16.40	1.36.21
T. Hall, F.	19.03½	37.38	57.25	1.17.27	1.37.30

Under equally favorable conditions, Bradley would certainly have beaten last spring's record, Tom Hall would probably have, and possibly Wilson and Mead. That Kluge would have gone well under 1.30 no one doubts. After the breaking down of his wheel between ten and fifteen miles, Stenken pluckily, after a long delay, got another and finished. Baggot's spokes were broken, and his pedal bent after five miles. He fell back from third to fourteenth in consequence, and then got as far front again as ninth. Smith also made substantial gains after having fallen back and being obliged to change wheels. It was an unlucky race for Hudson County, but they were game to the end, and all finished despite their accidents. Jenkins of the E. W. lost many places from the slipping of an ill-fastened saddle, while Warner of the Ilderans was knocked out by a header. The former races have been singularly free from mishaps; but this time the law of compensation seemed to be determined to get in its fine work. The men finished as follows: —

	Club.	Time.
1	C. E. Kluge, H. C. W.	1.31.03½
2	H. L. Bradley, I. B. C.	1.36.21
3	T. J. Hall, Jr., K. C. W.	1.37.30
4	T. L. Wilson, K. C. W.	1.38.52
5	W. S. M. Mead, B. B. C.	1.39.37
6	N. F. Waters, B. B. C.	1.40 30
7	S. B. Bowman, E. W.	1.42.12
8	E. B. Baggot, H. C. W.	1.42.35
9	J. Knox, K. C. W.	1.42 45
10	G. E. D. Todd, B. B. C.	1.43.19
11	W. C. Marion, Jr., K. C. W.	1.43 29
12	S. J. Berry, Jr., E. W.	1.47.05
13	J. W. Schoefer, I. B. C.	1 47 35
14	E. D. Williams, B. B. C.	1.47.47
15	T. H. Burnet, U. C. W.	1.49.03
16	W. B. Rhett, U. C. W.	1.50.00
17	E. M. Smith, H. C. W.	1.50.40
18	J. E. Warner, U. C. W.	1.52.44
19	U. C. Jenkins, E. W.	1.54.43
20	W. G. F. Class, I. B. C.	1.56.50
21	G. L. Warner, I. B. C.	1.59.06
22	C. A. Stenken, H. C. W.	2.01.18
23	F. C. Gilbert, E. W.	2.01.20
24	A. Farrington, U. C. W.	Did not finish.

The K. C. W. thus won the cup by the score above given, and the B. B. C. took the banner for second.

The following protest was entered by the Brooklyn B. C. against Kluge's riding: —

BROOKLYN BICYCLE CLUB,
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 7, 1887.

MR. M. L. BRIDGMAN,
Secretary N. Y. and N. J., T. R. R. A.:

Dear Sir, — I hereby notify you that I protest against Mr. Charles Kluge riding or competing in the road race of the above association to be held on election day next, for the following reasons: —

First. On the ground that he has not been an active member in good standing of the club he represents, for three months previous to the race.

Second. That he is a professional or promateur.

Third. That the Racing Board had no right and has no power to reinstate him, or any other professional.

Fourth. That allowing men of his class to compete is contrary to the spirit of the association, which is to foster purely amateur and friendly competition between the contestants; and Fifth. That allowing him to ride will establish a bad precedent and demoralize the harmonious workings of the association.

In entering this protest, I would say that I have been urged to do so, and that I voice the sentiment of a large number of wheelmen, and I protest, not only as captain of the club I represent, but also as a delegate to the association.

Very truly yours,
A. B. BARKMAN.

The Hudson County men say they will not allow the protest to be withdrawn, and stand ready to meet all the charges and arguments therein contained. The executive committee will shortly hold a meeting to take action on the protest. JER. C.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

THE grand closing event of the season, the interstate road race, is now a thing of the past, but Brooklyn still holds the cup; the Kings County winning with seventy-three points, the Brooklyn club capturing second prize with sixty-five points. The day was clear, cloudless, and not too cold, but a stiff gale from the west very much interfered with the racers. As was predicted, several falls were taken and three wheels went to smash, though less of the accidents were attributable to the bad condition of the road than had been supposed. A large representation of wheelmen was present, though fewer than ever before, and this, with a like decrease in the number of carriages, enabled the committee to preserve better order and interfere less with traffic. The results were a surprise to every one, as it was generally conceded that the Hudson County would would secure first place, barring accident; they indeed had hard luck, both Stenken and Baggot meeting disaster. The riding of Bradley of the Ilderans, who is a pure and untainted amateur, was wonderful, and it is to be hoped that he will be awarded first medal. The Brooklyn team showed up well, and made a grand effort for first honors. The riding of Mead and Waters was a surprise to everybody, and they may be looked upon as dangerous men in the future. At the conclusion of the race, and when the crowd was scurrying homeward, a pleasant little incident occurred at the Hilton Hotel: it was the presentation of the second prize, a handsome silken banner, to the Brooklyn club. The presentation was made by Mr. Howard Greenman, with a short and suitable address; the trophy was received by Mr. Barkman, captain of the Brooklyn club, who replied on behalf of the club, thanking the committee for the unexpected pleasure, and expressing a hope that the first and second prizes might continue in the future, as in the past, to remain with representatives from the City of Churches.

THE heavy rain of Thursday has left the roads in a very muddy condition and it only requires a sharp frost to rut them so as to make riding anything but enjoyable. The clubs are already making preparations for the winter season; bowling parties, whist and pool tournaments, are now talked of, and in the Brooklyns the toboggan club is being reorganized and a snow-shoe club is being formed.

THE Long Island wheelmen hold their house warming on the evening of Wednesday, the 23d inst. Great preparations are being made for the event, and it is expected that it will be one of the leading social features of club life this winter.

THE Kings County and Brooklyn clubs both intend presenting the members of their teams with suitable souvenirs, in commemoration of their efforts on election day. This action is meritorious, as any one who rides such a race for his club, whether or not he lands a winner, is worthy of some substantial remembrance.

MR. CHARLES SCHWALBACH has just recovered from a severe case of fright. We are not aware that Charlie has any cause to fear an anarchist invasion of his peaceful establishment, but, be that as it may, he was the recipent, a few days since, of a mysterious package, about three inches square and twelve long. The package was unexpected and unmarked, except as to the direction, and, as it strongly smelt of powder or fulminate, a warning cry of "dynamite" caused it to be hastily put aside, while plans were formed for its safe inspection. No one had the courage to open the parcel, so it was taken to a neighboring field and tied to the end of a string, two or three hundred feet long; then some venturesome person, taking the other end of the string, dragged the parcel over several hundred feet of rough ground, when, no explosion ensuing, courage enough was mustered up to make a careful inspection of the inside; the wrappers were carefully cut away and a knife cautiously inserted at the corner of the box, when, behold! it contained a lot of new vulcanite brake handles for the New Mail. The joke was on Charlie, so he treated the crowd. BOS.

Nov. 12, 1887.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

THE first meeting this season of the board of officers of the Massachusetts Division was held last Saturday evening at the house of the Boston Club, St. James Avenue. The meeting was held at the Boston Club House by invitation of the members of the board who belong to that club.

After an hour spent in social intercourse and talking over cycling affairs, the wheelmen adjourned to the dining-room, where Steward Nottingham served a dinner which was a credit to the cuisine of the club.

Chief Consul Hayes presided, and at either side were seated Secretary Sanford Lawton of Springfield, and Charles Richards Dodge. The other members present were E. B. Coleman and John Amee of the Cambridge Club, W. S. Slocum of the Massachusetts Club, A. W Robinson of the Rovers Club of Charlestown, J. B. Seward of the Chelsea Club, W. C. Marsh of the Springfield Club, Dr. W. H. Emery of the Roxbury Club, W. R. Maxwell of the Somerville Club, and Captain E. G. Whitney, J. S. Dean, W. G. Kendall, and C. S. Howard of the Boston Club. After the repast, Chief Consul Hayes made a brief address and briefly reviewed the work of the year. He stated that the road book would be ready for delivery Jan. 1.

Whether or not the book should be allowed circulation among other than League members produced a lengthy discussion, in which most of the members present parti ipated. It was finally voted to rescind the vote of a previous meeting, and permit the book to be sold to other than wheelmen at a stated price.

It is hoped that some time in the not very distant future a macadamized road through the State may be constructed, and on motion, a committee, consisting of Dr. Emery and Messrs. Dodge and Slocum, was appointed to consider the most advisable measures to be pursued in attaining this object.

A law was passed by the legislature last year making the erection of guideboards compulsory, but the statute has not been very generally complied with, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Howard, Emery, and Dean was appointed to do what they could in the matter.

It was voted to have the meetings of the board held once a month at such places as the chief consul should designate, and various other matters of routine business were transacted.

After passing a vote of thanks for the entertainment provided by the Boston Club members, the meeting adjourned until next month.

HORACE G. CROCKER of the Columbia team returned last week from Atlanta, where he has been spending four weeks. He raced at Atlanta, Macon, and Athens, participating in fifteen or eighteen races. He reports the people as enthusiastic over wheeling and racing, and the roads excellent. Every effort was made to induce him to remain in the South, but Mr. Crocker determined to return home, and will winter in Newton.

ARIEL AWHEEL. READING, PA., NOTES.

THINGS bicycular have been very quiet up here among the Pennsylvania hills, for sometimes past. About the only affair of any interest was the race between Schwartz and Wilhelm, at the half-mile track on the Fair Grounds last Friday, the 4th inst. There has been a great deal of talking done, and much speculation indulged in for several months over the relative merits of the two men, and when a race was finally agreed on, every one felt glad to think the subject would be finally laid to rest. The race was a five-mile one, held under L. A. W. rules. Consul H. Crowther was referee, with J. H. Jacobs, H. K. Whitner, and A. H. Kretz as judges. Both men used 54-inch Star bicycles. Schwartz had the pole, and the men pull out steadily with Schwartz leading, and Wilhelm following a length behind. This they kept up until the last quarter had been entered, when Wilhelm suddenly put on a tremendous spurt and left Schwartz a hundred feet. Wilhelm's time was 16.38; Schwartz, 5 seconds later. The latter ran a game race, and it is no discredit to him that he was beaten, although the race would have been much more interesting if it had been a half mile or a mile. It was too much of a procession to be very interesting, especially to outsiders. Wheelmen were of course interested in the different style of the two racers, and it was noticeable how much easier Wilhelm's riding was. He simply followed the pace set by Schwartz, while the latter appeared to be working very much harder. The wind was very high and very raw, and the six hundred spectators — among whom were quite a number of ladies — shivered throughout the race. The result was not much of a surprise, although the friends of both men had been sanguine enough before the race, but the cycling community were surprised the next day, when Schwartz beat Wilhelm in the one mile open, at the races of the West Philadelphia Athletic Association in Philadelphia, on the famous five-lap track, which caused so much discussion last autumn. Quite a number of Reading riders went down to these races, and Douglas scooped the novice prize.

Some Philadelphian plaintively asks, in a late issue of the Am. Athlete: "Can't we prevent the Schwartzs and Wilhelms from coming down here and carrying off all our prizes?" For answer, I can tell him that there is another man in Reading, who, if he could only be induced to train, could show the rear wheel of his 58-inch Victor to any one in town — bar none. Yes, I believe he could show Wilhelm the way down the home stretch, unless indeed Irv were to ride a crank wheel, and then it would be a race worth seeing, for no one can gainsay the fact that Irv Wilhelm is a fast man and naturally built for a racer. But the man I refer to — Captain Schmidt, of the Ariel Wheel Club — is a typical athlete. Weighing one hundred and eighty pounds, without five superfluous pounds on his body, six feet two in his stockings, and only twenty, if he only would train, what a promising future he would have on the path, time alone could tell. But what 's the use of talking racing to a man who won't get down to work? There 's George Scheele, who will get him out on the track or road, and wind him in a mile run. By the way, George himself — who is one of the nicest, most genial fellows you ever saw — is a fast man himself and could make some of the others hustle if he wanted to. "Jack" could tell all about it, for "Jack" knows. That poor dog has a hard time of it when Scheele takes him along for a twenty-mile spin down country and back. Jack comes home an utterly disgusted dog, swearing he 'll never look at a bicycle again, and yet the very next time there 's Jack along.

THIS Democratic administration is a great success so far as the weather is concerned. For the past fortnight we have been having Indian-summer weather, and our roads have likewise been at their best. So, ho, for the merry road, and shame to the laggard who keeps his wheel housed! There are a good many of the latter, by the way. Our club runs show up a mighty sparse attendance in spite of the fact that never is the wheel more enjoyable than during the crisp autumn days. Well, theirs is the loss. Only what the deuce does a man buy a wheel for, if he does n't want to ride? ARIEL.

Nov. 9, 1887.

MASSACHUSETTS hopes soon to have a series of good macadam roads reaching from Boston to Pittsfield.

THE WHITE FLYER.

"THE White Flyer," a new wheel invented by Frederick White, inventor of the Cyclone, is now on exhibition at 61 State St., Boston. It is somewhat different from the ordinary tricycle, for it has neither rotary action nor lever action as usually employed. The drivers are 40 inches, the pilot 23 inches. Handle-bar steering and brake on front wheel. Weight, 75 pounds. On the axle are two drums, forming the rings around the friction clutches; fastened to these drums are two steel cables, one eighth of an inch in diameter. These cables leave the drums in such a manner as to pass slightly upward and over two rolls provided with roller bearings, and thence perpendicularly down, and are fastened to the pedals. The pedals, which are provided with rolls, which in turn are provided with roller bearings, work directly up and down in V-shaped grooves or stringers, and as the rolls have a convex surface and roll instead of slide in the grooves, the result attained is practically that of a ball bearing. One pedal raises the other by a reciprocating mechanism consisting of two gears, with a pinion fitted to the clutches; the only strain upon these gears is the weight of the pedal, and the slight weight which the rider allows his foot to exert on the pedal while being raised; this mechanism allows the rider to make any length stroke from one inch to the full stroke of eighteen inches.

The cables are very light, and have a guaranteed braking strain of 1,600 pounds; can be attached to or detached from the machine in a very few seconds. On a tour, when a hotel is reached, the cables can be detached, rolled up and placed in the pocket, thus preventing any one from riding away with the machine. There is no oil used on any parts front of the axle, thus preventing any soiling of clothes.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

LONDON HOTEL.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In a late number of the BULLETIN I notice a statement that our American wheelmen have failed to find proper accommodations for themselves and machines in London. When there some two years ago, I was very pleasantly cared for at Mr. Burr's hotel, No. 10, 11, and 12 Queen's Square, near the British Museum. Mr. Burr is himself an enthusiastic wheelman, and has a large number of locker stalls for his guests' wheels, with all conveniences for washing and cleaning, and is authority on all of the roads about London. Our American tourists will find it quite worth while to give Mr. Burr a call when in the "great city," and I am sure their comfort and convenience will not suffer thereby.

WM. ALLEN BUTLER, 16,863.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 12, 1887.

J. L. SNYDER'S FALL.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I take the liberty of informing the members of the L. A. W., that one of their number, Joseph L. Snyder by name and one of the original "1,000," has fallen by the wayside like the good seed. He came to Denver last summer, with a letter of introduction from a prominent Eastern wheel firm, and seems to have taken advantage of every opportunity offered to beat people, finally robbing his room-mate, a Mr. Moorehead, of about $200, in money and valuables, for which he was sent to the State Penitentiary for eighteen months. He hails from Pennsylvania, and claims to be an insurance agent.

GEO. E. HANNAN.

DENVER, Nov. 9, 1887.

FRIENDS AT COURT.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In your issue of Nov. 4, L. A. W. No 9938 takes the Owl rather severely to task for his instruction to League members in regard to voting. While the practice of voting for or against a man, simply on account of his attitude towards wheeling, would perhaps be unwise, I think in the instance noted by the Owl, that wheelmen should have followed his suggestion. Self-preservation is among the first of nature's laws. If we do not try to defend our rights, to whom shall we look to care for them? The Owl suggests that we do this once,

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ✣ WHEEL ✣ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

SECOND-HAND BI TRI CYCLES.

Large Stock! Many as Good as New! Bargain List FREE upon application!

PRICES LOW.

SOLE AGENTS

For New York for the celebrated New Rapid and Quadrant Cycles.

New York Bicycle Co.,

NEW MANAGEMENT.

No. 38 Park Place, N. Y.

OLD MOUNTS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE.

For New Rapids and Quadrants we are prepared to make exceedingly liberal allowances.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

E. R. STOCKWELL,
19 John St., N. Y.
Manufacturers of
RECORD PRIZES.
Bicycle and Athletic Medals.
CLUB PINS and BADGES.

Patents applied for.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.
M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

League Uniforms.

John Wanamaker, Philadelphia,

OFFICIAL CONTRACTOR.

These are the prices: Coat, $6.20; Knee Breeches, $4.34; Shirt, $1.95; Hose, 80 cts.; Cap, 84 cts. Delivered without extra cost to any part of the U. S. where there is mail or express service.

Regulation League Cloth, Burlington Mills, $2.18 a yard; League Buttons, large, 5 cts. each; small, 2 1-2 cts., full set for suit, 55 cts. Uniform sent C. O. D., privilege of examining, and ONLY TO LEAGUE MEMBERS. We do not pay delivery charges on cloth.

All orders must be accompanied by League Number.

JOHN WANAMAKER,
PHILADELPHIA.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00, for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 55th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

YANKEE ENAMEL,
The Latest and Best.
Put up and for sale by
BENNETT & HALE,
112 ORANGE ST., NEW HAVEN, CT.
Price Per Bottle, with Brush, 50 cts.

A full line of cycling sundries always on hand. We have an extensive Repair Shop, and pay particular attention to difficult repairs on bicycles and tricycles.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street, NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE OF OUR WHEELS.

MURRAY'S
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BICYCLES.

56 Club, new, $58. 52 Premier, almost new, ball bearings, $42. 58 Expert, good order, $57. 54 Harvard, splendid order, $47. 60 Champion, full nickeled, like new, $55. 50 Victor, ball bearings, $65. 52 Champion, used four weeks, $60. 48 Expert, ball bearings, $50. 46 English Bicycle, new, $25. 54 Victor Light Roadster, latest pattern, $75. 50 Harvard, spade handles, $48. 42 American Safety, $45. Springfield Roadster, new, $68. Also a job lot of new English Bicycles, with ball bearings, in 48, 50, 52, 54 and 56 inches, at only $48, and the same sizes in plain bearings at $43 each. Over 100 other second hand bicycles. SEND STAMP FOR LIST AND MENTION THIS PAPER.

A. W. GUMP, DAYTON, OHIO.

and repetition will be unnecessary. I think the wiser plan would be to do so as often as demanded. The courts are always open to us, to be sure, where we may maintain our cause, but the overthrow of an unjust law requires a great deal of time, trouble, and expense. When, then, it is to decide whether a man is to occupy a position in which he can do us much harm, it would seem a sensible thing to do to choose a friend rather than an avowed enemy. We should act in this way from the standpoint of self-protection and not of malice, however. We keep criminals behind bars, not in a spirit of revenge, but that they may do society no further injury. And so it seems to me, that aspirants for office who would use their power in abridging our privileges, should be made to feel our weight at the polls. PUNCH.

CYCLETS.

THANKSGIVING

WILL come next week.

THE last club run may now be held.

AN after-dinner run on Turkey day is ill-advised.

RIDE before dinner and get up an appetite.

THE father of the liberty bill was run in on a Cantor, at the last election.

THE Boston Club will have a paper chase on election day.

BICYCLISTS and cow-boys have been racing in London.

NEW YORK wheelmen made themselves felt at the polls on election day.

SAFETIES exceed the ordinary wheel in Washington by a ratio of three to one.

HENDEE is travelling through the South in the interest of the Springfield Roadster.

THE Copeland steam bicycle will be brought to Boston in a few weeks.

CHICAGO wheelmen will have a hare and hounds chase Thanksgiving day.

THE Manchester Bicycle Club will hold a series of short races on Thanksgiving day.

HOWELL commenced riding in 1879, and his star has been in the ascendency ever since.

THE Chelsea Club recently gave a complimentary supper to the victors in the Eastern road race.

THE Cambridge Club has got a boom on. At the last meeting thirty-six new members were admitted.

IT is said that Harry Etherington is coming here from England to start a large business in the sporting line.

ALLARD, Engleheart, Lee, and Oxborrow, who were suspended by the N. C. U., have been declared professionals.

A WASHINGTON correspondent intimates that Crist will donate all his racing trophies to the National Museum.

JOHN KEEN was down for a race on his geared bicycle against Senator Morgan at Agricultural Hall, London, Nov. 5.

IT is not uncommon to read in English papers advertisements of houses to let with gateways wide enough for tricycles.

SENATOR MORGAN was not able to exhibit his trick riders before the Queen. Her Majesty did n't care to see them.

WE have got a new word from England. Here it is, "rideist." Soon we shall hear about raceists. These things make us feel like a disgustist.

THE Dover, N. H., city marshal has determined to put a stop to the sidewalk-riding nuisance, and has issued a notice to that effect.

THE Hyde Park Ramblers are to have a hare and hound chase Thanksgiving morning at 9.30. The start will be made from the club room.

MR. LUSCOMB, of the Rights and Privileges Committee, and Dr. Gilfillan, of Brooklyn, have been in Boston recently, enjoying Boston cycling hospitalities.

THE New York Bicycle Club will undoubtedly attain a mileage of 25,000 miles for the year. J. M. McFadden of the club had ridden 2678 miles up to Nov. 1.

NOV. 15 the Chicago members of the L. A. W. will have a run to Pullman, Ill. It is expected that fully three hundred riders will participate in the run.

ON election day twenty-two members of the New York Bicycle Club rode five hundred and ninety miles. The highest individual record was fifty, and the lowest eight miles.

THE social season will be fairly inaugurated this week. The Malden Cycle Club will hold a ball Nov. 18; Chelsea Ramblers, Nov. 29; and the Chelsea Club, Dec. 14.

WHEELMEN will be represented in the Massachusetts Legislature by W. S. Slocum, Esq., of the Rights and Privileges Committee, and by John Read Esq., of Wm. Read & Sons.

CAPTAIN ROMAINE, of the Passaic County Wheelmen, won the medal for best mileage in that club during 1887. He cycled 3,075 miles. W. D. Banker was second man, with a record of 2,800 miles.

EARLE HITCHCOCK, a bicycler, ran into a carriage at Springfield, Mass., last Monday. Mr. Hitchcock was borne to the ground, and in some way his left eye was torn from its socket.

THE Missouri Club has arranged a very attractive series of entertainments for the winter. The ladies are invited to attend these. Among other attractions there will be a bal masque and an April-fool party.

THE Boston Bicycle Club will give a hare and hound run, open to cyclers, on Thanksgiving day. Two medals will be given as prizes. Entries close Tuesday, Nov. 22, with Capt. E. G. Whitney, 36 St. James Avenue.

MARRIED at Harrisonburg, Va., Nov. 9, Miss Bettie Conrad to Mr. John L. Logan. A large number of the bridegroom's cycling friends were present at the ceremony. The couple are on a bridal tour East.

CHAS. E. WHITTEN, of Lynn, has made a new bicycle with the little wheel in front. It has lever action and the foot travels in an oval. It weighs eighteen pounds less than the Star, and has ball bearings all around.

BOSTON wheelmen meet every Saturday at one o'clock for lunch at a French restaurant in Sewall Place, off Milk Street. The proprietors reserve one room for the wheelmen, and many take the opportunity to look in for lunch at the appointed time.

THE Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Company has removed from 19 Pearl Street to No. 9 Cornhill. They have made preparations for an active summer campaign, and are filling orders daily. The new offices are at the warerooms of John P. Lovell & Sons.

C. G. KING was "roped" one day last week on the Littleton road by some frisky cow-boys and received a dangerous fall. This is the second occurrence of this kind, and it is to be hoped the last. Wheelmen in the future will be prepared for emergencies. — Denver Republican.

PERCY STONE answers Whittaker's challenge, and deposits $50 forfeit with Mr. J. A. Lewis of St. Louis. He is willing to meet Whit in the five races proposed, for any amount of money, and will race him at any time between April 1 and June 1, 1888, on such tracks as may be agreed on.

THE N. C. U. at its quarterly meeting decided not to establish a racing board. In place of Mr. Robert Todd, resigned, Mr. Finlay Macrae has been appointed the new secretary, and he is to receive a salary of £125 per annum, and a bonus to be hereafter determined upon all members' subscriptions.

R. H. DAVIS, '91, who at the fall games of the Harvard College Athletic Club, rode a bicycle two miles in better time than had ever before been made at that place, was born in Boston, Mass., and is only nineteen years of age, stands five feet eleven and one half inches in height, and weighs one hundred and fifty-three and one half pounds. He will probably show considerable improvement next year.

THE sixth annual road race of the New York Bicycle Club took place on election day. The course was from the Peabody House, Yonkers, via Broadway to Kingsbridge, Kingsbridge road to 170th Street boulevard to 59th Street, fifteen miles. Start 11 A. M. Percy M. Harris made the course in 1.7.20. He rode a Springfield roadster, geared to sixty-three inches.

TRAINER Charles P. Daniels, now that the racing season is over, is back to the Boston Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium for the winter, where he has charge of a number of pupils. He will stay there until the spring, when he expects to have several athletes in his hands. He says that he thinks that W. A. Rhodes or Hollingsworth can do as well under favorable circumstances.

AT the Detroit Bicycle Club races a novel race will be the run-and-ride by pairs, one mile, each pair to use one machine. A team of two will start together, one riding and one running. At the first quarter of a lap the one that started riding will dismount and hand the wheel to his partner, who will mount and ride the next quarter lap, and so on alternating in running and riding. The finish must be made together.

R. M. LOCKWOOD, Secretary-Treasurer of Maryland, has returned from his European trip. He visited Scotland, England, France, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, and Australia. He rode his machine on a tour in the Highlands, in London, Paris, and Brussels, and was received cordially everywhere by foreign bicyclists, who have organized clubs in most of the large European cities. The Speedwell Club, of London, entertained him.

WE think the uniform question has been discussed widely enough in our columns, and so we have sent several letters that have come to us to the Uniform Committee. These letters contain facts which it is well for that committee to have, and if any other member has a grievance it will be as well to let it be heard, but enough has been said in the BULLETIN on the subject.

WE always regret to hear of misdoings on the part of wheelmen, and especially so when they come after a record for good deeds. J. L. Snyder, recently of Pennsylvania, was one of the original members of the League. He was an active worker in cycling matters several years ago, and, though we knew him only by correspondence, we are cognizant of many services he has done the cause. He is now paying the penalty of a convicted thief at Denver.

IT was only a few weeks ago that the hundred-mile tricycle record for England on the road was lowered by C. W. Brown to 7.31.40. He was not, however, destined to hold the coveted honor long, for on Tuesday, Oct. 24, E. Hale, mounted upon a Ripley tricycle, succeeded in riding the one hundred miles in 7.11.6, beating Brown's time by over twenty minutes. At the same time, S. F. Edge and G. L. Morris, on an Olympia tandem, took the record for that machine into their charge, accomplishing the hundred miles in 6.57.32, cutting previous best by some nine minutes.

MORGAN'S six-day race at the Waverley Market, Edinburgh, was a great success. The racing was for eight hours a day, or forty-eight hours in all. Woodside was thrown from his machine the first day by running into a man who crossed the track. J. D. Lumsden, the Scottish champion, and Jules Dubois, of Paris, rode at the head of the procession from the first day. Lumsden finally won by half a wheel. Lumsden made 651 miles 12 laps. Several special races occurred during the long race, and Temple beat Howell in two of these.

AT the last meeting of the Society of Cyclists, in London, Mr. J. B. Marsh read a paper describing the stained-glass window in Stoke Pogis Church, bearing the representation of an angel mounted, apparently, upon a dandy-horse. A copy of the subject was handed round for the inspection of the audience, but from the discussion that ensued, it would seem probable that the supposed hobby-horse is, after all, nothing of the sort, but merely a portion of renaissance ornamentation bearing an accidental resemblance to the ancient velocipede. — Cyclist.

THE breaking of the Harvard bicycle record, this fall, has stirred up the wheelmen into extraordinary activity. The Harvard Bicycle Club has had several successful runs, a hare and hounds chase, and now proposes to have a club handicap road race Friday. The distance to be covered by competitors will be about fifteen miles, and the start will be made at Central Square, proceeding thence to Mount Auburn by way of Brighton, Newtonville, Waltham, and Watertown. Prizes will be given to the first two men in at the finish, and cups to all others who cover the distance inside a specified time.

VICTORS!

Easiest Hill Climbers, Fastest Coasters.

STIFFEST, STRONGEST AND HANDSOMEST!

You will make a mistake if you buy without seeing them. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., MAKERS OF VICTOR BICYCLES, TRICYCLES AND SAFETIES, 182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE, BOSTON.

THE time may come when a man without a bicycle will be looked upon as pitifully as the wretch who shivers in midwinter without an overcoat. — Chicago Inter-Ocean.

IT has been rumored for some time that J. Kemp Bartlett, Chief Consul of the Maryland Division L. A. W., intended to resign his office, owing to business engagements, which prevented his giving the office of chief consul the attention it should have. This rumor has been made a certainty. Mr. Bartlett on last Thursday forwarded his resignation to T. J. Kirkpatrick, president of the L. A. W., and recommended that A. E. Mealy be appointed to fill the unexpired term of chief consul. While Chief Consul Bartlett's resignation is a matter of much regret to all wheelmen in Maryland, he having made a most efficient and industrious officer, the choice of Mr. Mealy as his successor is one that will meet the approval of all, and his appointment to the important office will give entire satisfaction. — Baltimore Argus.

MR. H. B. SMITH, of the H. B. Smith Machine Co., died at his residence in Smithville, N. J., Saturday, Nov. 5. Mr. Smith was a New Englander by birth. He went to New Jersey about 1834, and owned, at the time of his death, the entire town of Smithville. He had served creditably as a member of the New Jersey Legislature, and leaves a host of friends. His estate is valued at about a quarter of a million, and by his will he provides that the large machine shops at Smithville shall be kept in operation for an indefinite period, and also that the income from his estate shall be devoted to the construction and maintenance of a school for the free education of young men in mechanics. The trustees appointed by him to carry out this design are Andrew J. Smith, Charles H. Chickering, E. F. Burns, Joseph J. White, B. W. Storey, G. D. Fields, Benjamin Crozer, Eayre O. Lippincott, George Lippincott.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES. — Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, Standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agents for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO, No. 38 Park Place, New York.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THE RETURN OF a 50-inch full nickeled Columbia bicycle, No. 12,229, 1887 style, double grip handles. Stolen from WM. P. RADLEY, 324 W. 47th street, New York.

FOR SALE. — Genuine Rover Safety, 1887 pattern; has been run about 500 miles, good as new; balls all over; bargain at $115. H. A. SMITH & CO., Newark, N. J.

FOR SALE. — One 53 and 55 inch, new, 1887 Columbia Light Roadster; best offer over $100 received before Dec. 1 takes either. One new 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle at best offer over $125 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit.

STAR. — 48-inch Special Star, enamelled, with all improvements, never been ridden; will sell cheap, as I have no use for it. Address M. C. S., care Letter Carrier, No. 58, Boston, Mass.

BICYCLE. — 50-inch New Rapid, in excellent condition, price low. Address ROBERT MOORE, P. O. Box 240, Philadelphia, Pa.

50-INCH STANDARD COLUMBIA, $40; 52-inch Standard Columbia, $40; 50-inch Expert, $75; 54-inch Expert, $45; 56-inch British Challenge, $65; 52-inch American Rudge, $95; 52-inch Rudge L. R., new, $125; 54-inch Mail, new, $125; 42-inch Pony Star, $55; 51-inch American Star, $65; 52-inch Shadow, $40; Humber Tandem, $175; Humber Tandem, $200; Humber Cripper tricycle, $125. LEWIS L. EVANS, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

BICYCLE. — 58-inch, full-nickelled Expert, ball pedals, in good condition; price $75. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BICYCLE. — 54-inch Expert, full nickelled, ball pedals, cow-horn bars, and in excellent order, $80. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Assignee's Sale at Public Auction.

OF PROPERTY OF THE LYNN CYCLE CLUB TRACK ASSOCIATION, AN INSOLVENT CORPORATION.

This valuable property, so well known to the sporting world, will be sold at Public Auction on the premises of said association, at the corner of Western Avenue and New Chatham Street, in Lynn, Mass., on Saturday, the nineteenth day of November, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The property consists in part of the interest of the Assignee in the Lease of said premises, and of the Track, Fences, Grand Stand, Judges' Stand, Band Stand, Ticket Office, one large Dressing House, ten Cot Beds, about one hundred Chairs, one five hundred pound roller, Rakes, Tools, etc. For further particulars inquire of the Assignee or Auctioneer. Terms made known at the time and place of sale.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 4, 1887.

EZRA BAKER, Auctioneer. GEO. J. CARR, Assignee.

ROVER SAFETY BI HUMBER CRIPPER TRI CYCLES.

We have fresh invoices of these Celebrated Machines, which are unequalled for RIDING ALL THE YEAR ROUND, which we have had built specially for American roads, and which we offer at attractive prices. Send for illustrated catalogues.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We want a few good second-hand wheels, 48 to 54-inch, for our local trade, and will allow full value for these in exchange for new

Rovers, Crippers, or Tandems.

LLEWELLYN H. JOHNSON,

401 Main Street . . . . . Orange, N. J.

For Sale, Cheap!

BICYCLES and TRICYCLES. Send for list before you buy, to WM. M. FRISBIE & CO., New Haven, Ct. O. P. Drawer 64.

BICYCLES ON EASY PAYMENTS.

New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto, and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories, including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on instalments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

Kingston Knitting Co.

27 Kingston Street - - BOSTON, MASS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Knit Worsted and Woollen

ATHLETIC GOODS

In all the popular styles of the season.

Bicycle Outfits in Jerseys, Jackets, Tights, Pants. Stockings and Caps to match.

Full Body Tights in Plain and Ribbed Jersey Cloth, with Plain and Fly Fronts, re-enforced, and pockets.

POLO and TENNIS OUTFITS,

With Caps to match.

L. A. W. JERSEY UNIFORMS.

Very stylish, with Knee Pants, Stockings and Caps. These garments we also make in English Navys, and Blacks, and Colors.

The Cloth for all of our suits we manufacture ourselves, and it is unsurpassed for quality and durability.

Many novelties in Toboggan and Sporting Goods, in Plain, Striped and Figured Guernseys. Toques and Sashes for ladies and gentlemen.

We are prepared to execute any orders from the trade or clubs at very reasonable prices. Correspondence solicited.

ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.

Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICYCLES IN THE WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100, has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels are identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE English associations that put up danger boards are much annoyed by bill posters, who cover them, and mischievous persons, who knock them down.

THE Lynn Cycle Club Track Association is a thing of the past. Having become insolvent some time ago, its creditors delayed pushing their claims, hoping that matters would turn out more successful, but now, seeing no hope of gaining anything by a delay, they have petitioned it into insolvency, and accordingly the property will be sold at public auction next Saturday, George J. Carr, Esq., being assignee, and Ezra Baker, auctioneer. The property includes premises at the corner of Western Avenue and New Chatham Streets, grand stand, fences, band stand, chairs, etc., and many minor effects. Sporting men from all parts of New England will be present.

THOMAS B. JEFFREY, of Chicago, is the inventor of a process of fastening rubber tires upon bicycle or other metallic wheels. It consists in first rotating the wheel with its rim in contact with the rim of a secondary wheel which runs in the cement; next, rotating the wheel with its cement-covered rim in contact with cement-dressing devices shaped conformably to the tire which is to be cemented on to the rim; thirdly, stretching the tire over the rim; fourthly, heating the rim sufficiently to make the cement yield to the tire, and, lastly, revolving the wheel with its tire exposed to radial pressure, while the cement is cooling. — Invention.

A WELL-KNOWN advertising agent said to us the other day: "There is n't a paper in America that has the circulation of the BULLETIN, but that claims fifty thousand circulation." We are like George Washington, for we cannot tell a lie. We publish the figures every week.

OUR ideal of an ordinary for rough road work would be as follows: Weight, not less than 40 lbs.; 22 to 24 in. hind wheel; front wheel two or three inches below rider's stretch, with good, high, easy spring; rubbers, 1 in. or 7-8 in. to front wheel, 7-8 in. to back; rake, 2 in. to 3 in.; cranks, 5 1-2 in. to 6 1-2 in. throw; ample clearance, handles brought low, and a little back, so as to give a straight pull; and last, but most important, Fisher's "Noncropper." Such a machine would be almost, if not quite, as safe as a safety, lighter, much more graceful in appearance, much more durable, and easier driven over rough or muddy roads. In case of mounting and luggage-carrying capabilities, the safety stands first; in these the ordinary cannot hope to rival it. — Irish Cyclist.

THE CLUB.

HARTFORD WHEEL CLUB. — Hartford, Conn.— Officers elected Nov. 8. President, L. A. Tracy; vice-president, J. J. Grace; financial secretary, F. C. Burnham; recording secretary, F. W. Saunders; treasurer, F. E. Eaton; captain, H. H. Chapman.

A NEW bicycle club has been organized at Lawrence, with the following officers: President, Charles H. Davis; vice-president, Dr. C. W. Partridge; treasurer, William S. Jewett; secretary, H. L. Sherman; directors, Charles H. Davis, C. H. Beedle, A. H. Robinson, Francis Cogswell, Dr. George W. Dow.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

THE FOREIGN MARSHAL.

LONDON, Oct. 30, 1887.

TOURMASTER, L. A. W.: —

Sir, — I do not know that it is incumbent upon me to make any report to you, as Foreign Marshal of the L. A. W., but still I believe it will interest you to know that during the past season I have received numerous letters from members of the L. A. W., who contemplated touring in Europe, asking for advice on the subject — and that I endeavored to answer these letters to the best of my ability. I also heard from members touring in England, Scotland, France and Germany; and endeavored to aid them when it was in my power.

A number also called on me personally — and I am always glad to see fellow cyclers. And I must say though the past season has shown a remarkable growth in the number of American cyclers touring in Europe, I hope the coming year will see the number doubled.

And, sir, I would ask, if you do not think the time has arrived for a regularly organized tour in Europe by the L. A. W. A tour which would not only show Europeans what American cyclers really are, but would, I know, be a delightful experience for all Americans who have never seen a perfect road in their lives, and who look forward to a trip to Europe.

In conclusion, I must say that the tour of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Lewis, though only planned for their own pleasure, is the most remarkable and successful cycling journey ever made.

JOSEPH PENNELL,
Foreign Marshal, L. A. W., 14.

ILLINOIS APPOINTMENTS.

UNION HOUSE, Blue Island, F. Englehart, proprietor. Meals, twenty-five cents. No. 27, Maywood Hotel, Maywood; meals, fifty cents. No. 28, Summit House, Summit, Dennis O'Brien proprietor; meals, twenty-five cents. No. 29, Windsor Hotel, Bloomington; two dollars per day to L. A. W., regular rate, two fifty and three dollars. No. 30, M. J. Frenneson is appointed Local Consul, No. 39, District 1, Englewood, Ill.

N. H. VAN SICKLEN, C. C.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11, 1887.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 113 — Total 37 — 11,823.

BOSTON, Nov. 18, 1887.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 1. — 642.

New Haven Bi. Club.

17106 Weare, Wm. W., 393 Temple St., New Haven.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 4. — 617.

Æolus Cycling Club.

17136 Cizkowsky, Joseph, 446 Jefferson St., Chicago.

Unattached.

17137 Knight, Ed. N. Kankakee.
17138 Lalty, Frank L., 161 So. Water St., Chicago.
17124 Roach, J. Coy, Lincoln.

IOWA DIVISION — 1. — 146.

Milford Bi. Club.

17107 McCutchin, Al., Milford.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 1. — 284.

Centaur Cycle Club.

17125 Ehrman, Henry, 114 S. Broadway, Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 1. — 1,314.

Unattached.

17131 Horton, Frank L., 1 Walnut St., Fall River.

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 2. — 107.

Unattached.

17126 Morton, Grant, Fergus Falls.
17127 Svensgaard, Harry, "

MISSOURI DIVISION — 5. — 367.

St. Louis Cycle Club.

17140 Greilich, Jos., 1318 Market St., St. Louis.
17141 Urquhart, Geo., 117 No. 3d St., "
7015 Wheeler, H. D., 3954 Morgan St., "

Unattached.

17128 Pearsons, Abner, C., 1611 Baltimore Ave., Kansas City.
17132 Smith, Gregory H., Box 59 "

NEW YORK DIVISION — 17. — 2,293.

Albany Bi. Club.

17108 Brainard, A. E., 313 Clinton Ave., Albany.
17109 Emmet, J. K., Jr., Rensselaer Ave., "
17110 Guilford, H. B., 4 No. Pearl St., "
17111 Harper, Ira, 966 Madison Ave., "
17112 Harrison, G. Wm., 128 State St., "
17113 Hawley, C. E., 182 State St., "
17114 Martin, Howard, care D. L. White, Lumber Dis., "
17115 McFarland, J. H., 234 Madison Ave., "
17116 Paddock, Wm. G., 3 Green St., "
17117 Shanks, D. W., 56 No. Pearl St., "
17118 Van Benthuysen, F., 407 Broadway, "
17119 Van Dusen, F., 510 Broadway, "
17120 Van Schoonhoven, J. J., 84 Clinton Ave., "
17121 Vine, Elwood W., 56 Chestnut St., "
17122 Wendell, C. E., 89 No. Pearl St., "

Kings County Wheelmen.

17129 Sniffen, M., 144 Hooper St., Brooklyn.

Unattached.

17130 Perkins, Albert J., High St., Newark.

OHIO DIVISION — 2. — 932.

Logan Co. Bi. Club.

17133 Wellman, Vance, Bellefontaine.

Unattached.

17134 Porter, Jermain G. Cin. Observatory, Cincinnati.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 1. — 1,712.

Unattached.

17123 Haage, Chas. F., Penn. St., above 7th, Reading.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 2. — 176.

R. I. Wheelmen.

17135 Farnum, Ormsbee T., 47 Charles St., Providence.

Unattached.

17139 Clapp, Albert G., 22 Sprague St., "

GOOD MEN ON GOOD WHEELS

Put the Records Where They Stay.

IT IS ABOUT A YEAR NOW SINCE STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER MADE THE FOLLOWING SET OF WORLD'S RECORDS ON THE CRAWFORDSVILLE COURSE, VIZ.:

10 Miles in 29 Minutes 1 3-4 Seconds.

20 Miles in 59 Minutes 35 4-5 Seconds.

100 Miles in 6 Hours 1 1-2 Minutes.

And these Records have stood ever since, notwithstanding the Fact that the Competitive Trade has done its utmost to acquire them.

While other Manufacturers have built Special Wheels for this Purpose, which differed materially from those they offered the Public, all of our Performances have been on the Identical Wheels listed in our Catalogue; and we claim, therefore, that they are remarkably significant, and demonstrate, unquestionably, the

EASY RUNNING QUALITY OF OUR BEARINGS.

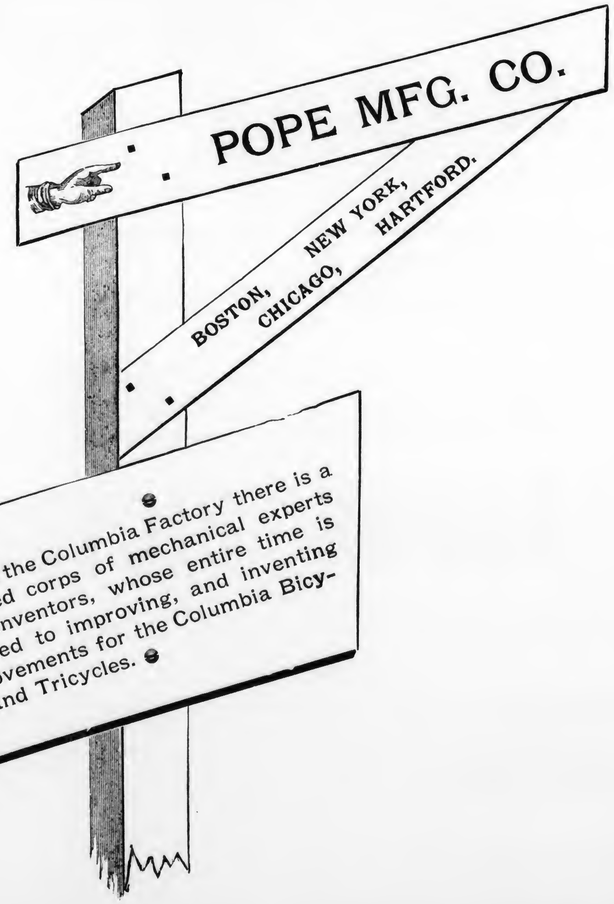
THEN THAT PERFORMANCE OF FRANK DINGLEY'S ON THE LYNN TRACK,

100 Miles in 5 Hours 38 Minutes 44 1-5 Seconds.

Being Twenty-five Minutes better than the American Record, and Eleven Minutes better than the English Record. Quite a Number of Attempts have been made to Lower this by Other Makers since, all of which proved to be Failures.

We think the above is ample evidence to convince the most skeptical, and to efface any impression to the contrary caused by the false statements of our traducers. Respectfully submitted.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. COMPANY.



CHICAGO - - - - - - ILL.

SEND FOR THE LAST EDITION OF OUR CATALOGUE.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, NOVEMBER 25, 1887. | VOL. V. No. 21. WHOLE NUMBER, 126.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress Street - - - - - BOSTON.

New York Headquarters, George R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

IN deciding to sell its road book to anybody and everybody that has a mind to pay for it, we think the Massachusetts Division has made a mistake. We believe in the doctrine of League privileges to League members only, for without this idea in view the success of the League will be small. We already hear the remark, "Why should I join the League, when I can get all the benefits by staying outside?" The road book is the result of the combined labor of hundreds of enthusiastic League workers in Massachusetts. This labor was given gratuitously, and in the interest of the League, and we question the moral right of those assembled at the late meeting of the division to rescind the vote of a previous board, wherein it was declared that only League members could have the book, for much of the work has been done with the understanding that the former vote should stand.

WE cannot quite concede that the article that appeared in the BULLETIN about the proportion of dues that should go into the general fund and into the division treasury was politic. It is sure to raise adverse comment, and, in case the readers thereof see in the suggestion a hint of what the Executive Committee may aim to bring about, incalculable harm may come of it. —World.

The World thinks our editorial on the proportion of dues which should go to the divisions is impolitic, because it will lead to adverse comment. We think not. If the BULLETIN cannot be used for the discussion of the ways and means of the League without fear of adverse comment, we mistake its mission. If there are those who do not agree with us, they may be heard in its columns. We have no personal axe to grind, and it matters little to us how the money is divided. The money that is paid for League dues should be used for the benefit of cycling in America, and the best way to use it is one of the problems which the League has to meet. Inasmuch as several of the divisions have spent much money this year, and are now embarrassed for want of funds; and inasmuch as many divisions have money lying idle in their treasuries, with no immediate nor prospective use for it; and inasmuch as this idle money ($2,000) would more than pay all the outstanding bills of all the divisions, and do much to promote the cause of cycling, — we are inclined to believe that the question we have started is one well worth looking into, and we do not value the opinion of any person who condemns us for starting the discussion, and imputes to us other motives than the best interest of the League.

FURTHERMORE, we desire to say that our editorial was in no way "a hint of what the Executive Committee may aim to bring about." They can "bring about" nothing. The Board of Officers must act on this question, and they represent the membership in all the States. The Reorganization Committee is the one most interested in this discussion, for it is now preparing the new scheme of organization, and all such points as the one involved in the division of dues will be considered by it.

IF there is a wrong principle involved in a division of dues which sends money to all divisions in equal proportion, whether they have use for it or not, it will be aggravated by the adoption of a rule which simply increases the allotment. In this view of the case, it might be well to appropriate certain stated sums, large enough to cover current expenses, to the divisions, and beyond this the money might be specially appropriated for special work. All these questions are worth considering, and the columns of the BULLETIN are open for a discussion of them; but it will be as well, for the good of everybody, for correspondents to refrain from impugning the motives of the editor, or of those who take part in the discussion.

WE will say that for the benefit of the Reorganization Committee, we have been gathering statements from the secretary-treasurers regarding the amount of money on hand in the division treasuries. They have nearly all furnished the statement asked for, and we find, as stated above, that there are two thousand dollars in these treasuries, for which there is no immediate nor prospective use. One treasurer refused to furnish a statement, and replied to us in effect that it was none of our business, and that if he was to be asked questions, he would first like to put a few to us. It is a thing to be grateful for that there is but one such official in the whole list.

JUDGE BARRETT, of New York, decides that a club has a right to expel a member for the violation of any rule in its code; for if a man joins a club or remains with it, he accepts any and all rules that are on the books or that may be made. All that he can demand is a fair trial under the rules.

THE city council of Anna, Ill., repealed the ordinance forbidding bicycle riding in the streets at a meeting held Nov. 7. The action of the council puts an end to the case of Charles P. Goodman, which the local wheelmen, in conjunction with the L. A. W., took up, and the League scores one more triumph.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

WHEN I asked the ladies to send me their records for the year that has passed, I had no idea that I should receive such quick responses, but I found on my table this morning two very interesting letters, which I want you to read with me. The first comes from a lady living about eight miles out from Boston, and reads as follows: —

MY DEAR DAISIE: — I hasten to tell you what I have done on the wheel this year, for I have enjoyed your articles in the BULLETIN, and wish to contribute my mite towards making the ladies' column interesting; that is, if I am capable of doing so. I have been a rider for three years, and have, until this year, ridden a single machine. My husband purchased a tandem at the opening of the season, and we have ridden together many, many miles. We live a mile from the railroad station, and it has been my custom to ride the tandem with him to the station in the morning, and then after he has departed on the train I have ridden the machine home alone, if I could not find a companion. Several times friends have been at the station, by appointment, and have pedalled home with me, and on such occasions we generally took a round-about way, in order that the ride should be of sufficient length to pay my friend for her trouble. Very many times I have ridden to Boston with my husband, and stored the machine in the city during the day, going into town again at night to ride out. I think I must have covered many miles, but I have kept no record. I find that riding keeps me in excellent health, and I can do my work much easier than formerly. I have less of the distressing sick headache that I am a victim to, and I bear up under toil in a way impossible to me several years ago. I wish I could make ladies see the benefit of riding as I see it, for I know that with a more general use of the wheel we should have healthier and stronger women.

Yours, for the good cause,
M. F. C.

MY next letter comes from the North Shore of Massachusetts.

MY DEAR DAISIE: — I have ridden this year 864 miles, by cyclometer. My riding has been on the roads between Lynn and Beverly, as well as in the direction of Marblehead. I have done all this riding on a single machine, and considerable of it alone. I spend a great deal of time prowling about on my wheel, and have done little but desultory riding. Last year I rode only 200 miles.

Faithfully,
LULU N. G.

SO far, so good. Now let others send in their records, that cyclers in America, as well as those abroad, may know what American women are doing.

I HAD a gentle protest last week from a good lady friend, who told me that she was sorry not to be able to go on the North Shore trip, on account of the short notice. Her vacation was taken in the summer, and she could get no time from business in the fall. It is the purpose of the committee to lay out the programme for next year in the spring, and plenty of time will be taken to drum up recruits. In this connection it may be well for me to notify the ladies of the annual Cottage City Meet, where are gathered a large number of riders on the delightful island. This comes in August.

AN English physician writes to the C. T. C. Gazette as follows: "Having a large practice among ladies, I am in the habit of recommending moderate cycling for many cases of debility, poorness of blood, nervousness, indigestion, torpidity of liver, and other functional disorders peculiar to the female sex, and I find that, when my advice is followed, my patients improve wonderfully in health. At the same time, I always stipulate for all-wool clothing (outer and under), and no racing over the ground. I advise ladies always to walk up stiff hills, and never to over-exert themselves by trying to do too great distances. No lady, who has any tendency to lung or heart disease, should cycle without proper medical advice first.

DAISIE.

THE OWL.

IT has been remarked that "a policeman's lot is not a happy one." While many of us, no doubt, do not accept this assertion without many and several reservations, I am sure that had the lot of the Secretary-Editor been the one under consideration, the most of us would have agreed that, decidedly, it was not a happy one. Instruction comes often to us from most unexpected quarters. Who would have thought, for instance, that when you, Mr. Secretary-Editor, wrote to Mr. Josh Zimmerman, the Treasurer of the Indiana State Division, that there should have pervaded your epistle, some subtile odor which would cause the genial Josh to have "at once smelled a mice," as he declares, upon his official honor, he did? Why! oh, why! did you try to borrow that $97 from Josh's official keeping? What do you know about running the office you hold anyway, when compared to Josh? See how much better he is posted than you are. You, in your report, tell us that to issue the BULLETIN for the past year has cost so many dollars less than for the year preceding, but Josh declares it has cost 10 per cent more; a statement I know he or no other gentleman would put into print, till after they had made a study of the bills paid by the L. A. W. for both years, and, of course, Josh has done all this,—of course. Take my advice, Mr. Secretary-Editor, and resign your office. Before I read Josh's letter about your faults and his own shrewdness, I thought you ran your office very well, but since reading Josh's letter, I see that he, not you, is the only man for the office, and unless we at once have Josh at the helm, the L. A. W. is doomed. At least do something, Mr. Secretary-Editor, to prevent Josh from writing such scorching denunciations of your official inability, and we, your suffering friends, will bless the silence thus gained, that, like a poultice, will come to heal the blows of sound made by the sledge-hammer arguments of Josh.

"FOUR races! Admission, fifty cents," was the sign I saw the other day upon the gate of an athletic ground, where some bicycle races were to be held. They must have played an awful funny game to have four aces, and let you in for as low as fifty cents. I have seen it cost $50 to come in when there were only three aces.

THE streets of New York are to be further improved. (?) This time it is some system of "truck tramway" with which our already wretched streets are to be still further destroyed. Permission has been given by the Board of Aldermen to lay these tramways through the streets, consisting of two wide flat rails for the truck wheels to run upon, between which will be placed a roughened foothold for the horses. What next, I wonder, will be done to make New York, beyond compare, the worst paved city in the world?

J. HAMPDEN ROBB, who has but recently been appointed a Park Commissioner, and is in consequence an object of some interest to New York wheelmen, is a brother-in-law of Jno. Andrew, a Park Commissioner of Boston, and it is sincerely hoped that Mr. Robb may conclude to visit Boston, and take a few lessons from his brother-in-law regarding the liberal treatment of wheelmen in public parks.

I WAS reading that thrilling narrative, "Across New Jersey on a Bicycle," the other evening, and when I came to the part where the author remarks that he "stood beside a waste of sand," I could not help thinking that this would be a satisfactory proceeding rather than a disagreeable one. If you undertake to put your arm around it, it will neither slap your cheek and run away, nor lay its head on your shoulder and tell you what an impudent fellow you are, yet I cannot say I prefer a waste of sand, to owners of the kind of waists who do all of these things.

I AM afraid that "Senator" Morgan is trying to take advantage of my well-known innocence, when he writes me that he had to decline, for the American Team now in England, an invitation to dine with the Prince of Wales. Perhaps it may be so now, since the "Senator" and his men have gathered in the festive ducats of our British cousins; but I can remember the day, and I guess the "Senator" can too, when things were not so rosy with him, and he would have accepted an invitation to dine with any one, even the Prince of Wales, and have been mighty glad of the chance, too.

MRS. MARIA PHILLIPS has just died at Denver, after celebrating her one hundred and first birthday. It is related of this lady that she never used tobacco in any form, never wore a bustle of any style, and had not, up to the time of her death, taken to tricycling, which latter peculiarity is the only connection between this item and cycling.

W. H. MCCORMACK, the well-known scorcher of the Citizens' Club, is thinking of offering a magnificent silver vase, made by Tiffany & Co., for annual competition between the members of New York City wheel clubs; the course to be from Yonkers to New York, and the date election day; the winner of the cup for three successive years to become its owner. The idea is an excellent one, and would enable us to settle the vexed question as to who is the best rider on Manhattan Island.

TOBOGGANING is again going to be the craze for the coming winter. A plan is on foot to have the prominent wheel clubs here combine to erect a mammoth slide, to be kept for their own private use.

WHILE it may be just a little bit early to announce it, yet to enable such wheelmen as desire to pass a New-Year's eve with the greatest amount of enjoyment, I must mention the fact, that the Citizens' Club intend having their usual celebration on that evening. The affair will be in the hands of such well-known conductors of these kind of events as Messrs. McCormack, Nelson, Martine, and Spier, and it is needless to say that they are beyond compare as the promoters of any class of "High Jinks," and that the result will be eminently satisfactory.

THE New York Athletic Club is contemplating building a half-mile bicycle track upon the most modern plans, and going in for the encouragement of international competitions between wheelmen.

THE OWL.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

THE event of the past week has been the farewell dinner tendered by the Century Wheelmen to Mr. George H. Ralston, of that club, who is about leaving the country for a permanent residence in Brazil. Thirty-seven members turned out on the evening of the 15th, and a happier, more enthusiastic dinner party would be hard to find. The usual amount of speech-making was indulged in, Mr. Frank Read acting as toast-master, and the neat way in which the "club poet," Mr. Rosenal, turned the tables on those who expected a good time at his expense, provoked much favorable comment. Mr. Ralston will sail this week.

I have been looking up this matter of the Philadelphia clubs leaving the League, as clubs, Mr. Editor, and I find a very general desire on the part of the members thereof that they shall not be understood to be partisans of Mr. Wells, and that as a matter of fact, Mr. Wells's name has hardly been referred to in connection with such action. The Pennsylvania Club, from what I can learn, feels aggrieved, if at all, more at what they consider the indisposition of the Board of Officers to allow Philadelphians the right of franchise in the League, than because Mr. Wells himself was rejected; as one of the prominent riders remarked, "We have the right to choose the devil if we want him, and they (the Board) should not object." The Philadelphia Club in its new quarters is naturally under a very heavy expense, and the matter of sending a check each year, directly from the club treasury, for a hundred or hundred and twenty-five dollars, is a matter they feel obliged to carefully consider. The Century men say that there has been no discussion on the question whatever as yet, and most of them are quite indifferent as to whether the club stays in or goes out. The Germantown would most likely object on the score of expense. The Tioga will probably remain, as it has been from its organization a League club.

As an instance of the ability of the post, office officials in this country, the following is worthy of comment. A letter addressed simply "Manufacturer of Steam Tricycles, Atlantic, U. S. A." was received by Mr. Kirk Brown, the agent for the Copeland engines, from a party in England, who desired to become agent for such a machine as he had seen the description of in a scientific paper, quoting the exhibition given by the Copeland Tricycle Company at Atlantic City, some weeks since. The Briton had nothing to go by save this newspaper article, and yet the slim address he gave carried the letter safely.

John A. Green, of the Star firm of Strong & Green, is safely back into the League fold, and his return is the subject of considerable favorable comment with wheelmen here, with whom Mr. Green is quite a favorite. Wilhelm's Star record for the Paoli to 52d St. business still holds good, although Dampman, of Honeybrook, Pa., has twice attempted to lower it, and has gotten closer to it in forty-nine minutes, than any other rider so far. As the distance is all of sixteen miles, the record (48.10) is a world's road record for the distance, is it not?

"Phacto," of the BULLETIN, had better study up a little on League history. In the last issue of that paper, he calls Pennsylvania the third largest State in the League. This State rose from third to second place over a year ago under the chief consulship of Mr. Wells, and now holds second position by a margin of about four hundred members. The exact membership of each State is now published in the BULLETIN each week, so that if "Phacto" will keep his eyes open, he may be able in the future to avoid making himself ridiculous.—American Athlete.

Thanks, Mr. Athlete, thanks. Your kindness is only equalled by your veracity; but really I don't care to study up on League political history, even of the last year or two. I can recall nothing in it particularly elevating or instructive. I do recall, however, now that you mention it, that Pennsylvania is in second place in the League; but somehow I can't say that I see that Ex-Chief Consul Wells has had much, if anything, to do with putting it there. It has really appeared to me that almost all the League troubles we have had have come up since that gentleman was elected to the consulship by his friend and brother, the famous Mr. Aaron, and I am positive that I have not yet seen a word in his paper that has, by any accident, tended to encourage the increase in League membership. Hence, as I read the Athlete quite faithfully, I hope I may be forgiven for having "ridiculously" placed Pennsylvania in third place. And while we are on the subject of errors, suppose we turn to the very next page of the Athlete, and see how it carefully remarks that in the West Philadelphia races, Mr. Wells's tandem partner, Synnesvedt, was the "only rider mounted on a light roadster"; quite a ridiculous error, Mr. Athlete, as the man who beat him in the first heat and pushed him so closely in the second was on a machine about five pounds, I should judge, heavier. Please, Mr. Pot, don't call the Kettle so black.

PHACTO.

CHICAGO.

THE Spectator is neither dead nor dreaming, but has been waiting for St. Louis to bob up serenely and volunteer her opinion of the Quincy races. "Omen," you have kicked before you were spurred. I have heard no one say that "the Quincy races were a representative contest between the two big cities." So you see that the kicking is all at your end of the bridge. You say Sanders is no flyer, although he made the fastest time in the recent Manchester road race. Bowbeer never claimed to be a flyer, and had no hopes of getting nearer than second place in any of the races. Ehlert had his eye fixed upon the first prizes. This is the man that we will put against S. Louis, and we will bet "dollars to doughnuts" that Hart, or anything else in the West, can't even make it interesting for him. Rememb r, this is Ehlert's first year, or the year of experience, on the track, and now he can do a mile in 2.42 with ease. Well do I remember the day that Hart caught Van, "the old war horse," napping, and had a complete walk over in a one-mile contest at Cheltenham Beach. One mile is a little short for Van, and for five miles, I think he could allow Hart a respectable handicap Now, St. Louis, any time you want "a representative contest between the two big cities," just say so and we will accommodate you, either on road or track, lap race, team race, or anything you may wish.

THAT combination run, composed of the various city clubs and unattached wheelmen, started for Pullman Sunday last, at 10 A.M. We managed to get over two hundred in line, Joliet being the only outside town that was represented. Sloan and Ned Oliver were in knee pants for the first time this year. The Chicago Club resurrected a captain and color-bearer for the occasion. Other clubs out in full force. For the return trip we left Pullman at 3 P.M., and returned via Woodlawn Avenue, through South Park and Kenwood. The scorch between "Verax" and "Thistle" did not take place, owing to sickness of the latter. The credit and success of this run is due to Mr. C. H. Sieg, with whom the idea originated.

ALTHOUGH the Ehlert-McCurdy road race is a thing of the past, a word or two on the subject will not be out of order. In the first race the course was selected by mutual agreement, and was from Forty-third and Drexel, through South and Jackson Parks, and back over the same course to the starting point, a distance of nine miles. McCurdy took the lead, and was fifty yards ahead at the entrance of South Park. At this point Ehlert found good use for a spurt, and took a position just in rear of the Star man, which he kept till near the finish, when he made his final effort, and won by less than a yard. Time, 32.08. McCurdy was not satisfied, but wanted another race, and the privilege of selecting the course. This was granted him and Pullman was the favored course. The race took place on Sunday morning, two weeks since. A heavy rain of the day previous left the lower end of Stony Island Avenue in bad condition. Ehlert took the lead and kept it to the Sand Hill, at which point McCurdy left him, and crossed the tape in Pullman, a good winner. Time from Forty-third Street, 31m. The third and last race was run on election day over the same course as the first race. McCurdy, mounted on a racing Star, took the lead, and was cutting out a very fine pace, until he reached the car tracks, at which point he became familiar with the fact that the racing wheel was minus eleven spokes. Ehlert left him here, and crossed the tape in the very good time of 28.15. A strong head wind prevented still better time being made. In the mean time, McCurdy had gotten another wheel, and finished a few minutes later. Tales of all kinds are being told about how much time McCurdy lost in changing wheels. The latest is to the effect that he walked two miles for the extra wheel. All very "fishy," but I dare not give my opinion on the subject, for I know nothing more than any one else.

ALL arrangements for the paper chase, on Thanksgiving, have been completed. At present we are "snowed under," and our chances for good weather are very doubtful. Riggs and Bowbeer are to be the hares from the Illinois Club, and Bray and Stamm from the Æolus. Other clubs not heard from.

SPECTATOR.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

THE question of all others that is agitating this community at the present time is what the verdict of the Executive Committee of the Alphabetical Association will be regarding the recent protest of Mr. Kluge by the Brooklyn Club. As the matter will probably be decided pro or con before this appears in print, it will be no breach of faith in my herein speaking about some of the said pros and cons.

The Hudson County Wheelmen, I am told, now claim that they are not and have not been a League club for some time past; that Kluge was, therefore, eligible to membership, while a promateur, and was an active member while a promateur, and that he is not a professional or a promateur at present.

The Brooklyn Club say that the protest was made for the best interests of the Association, to promote peace and harmony at all future meetings, by establishing a precedent in the present case, and for the purpose of debarring all who were not amateurs, or who had even a suspicion of professionalism or promateurism from competing at the semi-annual contests; and it is their desire that the case be decided strictly upon its merits, considering not only the interests of the individual, but also those of the Association. Regarding the first section of their protest,—that Kluge has not been an active member of the Hudson County Wheelmen in good standing; for three months previous to the race,—they claim, that at the time Kluge became a promateur, the Hudson County Wheelmen were a League club, that there was a clause in their by-laws which said, a person to be eligible to membership must be eligible to membership in the L. A. W.; and another clause which said the Hudson County Wheelmen shall be a League club. At the time Kluge left the League he also left the Hudson County Wheelmen, as an active member. A resolution was offered changing the by-laws, and annulling the two before-mentioned clauses, in consideration of the fact that their captain was chief consul of the State of New Jersey at the time this resolution was tabled, and was not carried until too late to allow Kluge getting the benefit of the three month limit.

Regarding the second section, they claim that Kluge became a promateur the moment he mounted his wheel on the day of the race, and would like to have Mr. Kluge testify as to who paid his expenses during the six weeks in which he was in constant training on the course, and whether he has received, before or since the race, or whether he expects to receive in the future, directly or indirectly, from any person, any remuneration for, or contribution toward his expenses or his services. Regarding the third section, they claim it is a technicality, and not in the province of the committee to consider or take action upon.

Regarding the fourth and fifth sections, they claim the justice of the assertions are manifest to any one, and involve a precedent established by the Association a year ago, in the case of Wilhelm and Powell, who were debarred from competing at that time for precisely the same reasons; that they were suspected professionals, though not proven ones, though the real issue was covered up by a clause adopted at that time, restricting competitors to a residence within the thirty-mile limit.

All who were present at the recent race could not fail to notice the exceeding bad grace and unkind expressions with which the majority of the wheelmen present received Mr. Kluge, and this was due not to any personal feeling, but entirely to the injustice of allowing such men as he to compete in such a race, the superior advantages of the man, resulting from his perfect training, placing him in a class entirely beyond those who were to run against him. Such perfection as he displayed is only to be obtained by the most careful and persistent training, and at a loss of time and expense entirely beyond what ordinary individuals can afford. Such men should not be classed with, or allowed to compete with the class who form the breast-work of the Association, and who represent the class for whom the Association was organized.

To allow them to compete will debar other clubs from entering teams and ultimately disrupt the Association. The rules of the Association, as we have said before, provide that a competitor shall have been an active member, in good standing, of the club he represents, for three months previous to the race. The races are governed by League rules, and the Association is formed of clubs, and the clubs of members who are supposedly amateurs. An amateur must, therefore, be an amateur three months to enable him to compete. It seems reasonable and just, therefore, to insist that in the case of a professional being reinstated and allowed to compete as an amateur, the date of his reinstatement be, at least, three months prior to the date of the race, and that the intervening period be free from suspicion. It is hardly equitable that converted professionals be accorded special privileges.

The Association is not an organization of professionals, but of amateurs, both in letter and in spirit, and deals with amateurs only. Kluge's reinstatement was published in BULLETIN of Sept 30, being about five weeks prior to the race. If a professional can be reinstated five weeks before a race, and ride, why not five days, or five minutes? Why not be a professional for two months and twenty-nine days prior to the race, and on the last day be reinstated and ride. If such is to be the ruling of the Association, we would like to know it. Think of it yourself. Is it just?

BON.

Nov. 21, 1887.

ST. LOUIS.

THE attention of wheelmen cannot well be directed to a better subject than street sprinkling, which is the source of both annoyance and expense, in pocket and physical comfort. It is coexistent with the riding season. It does n't shadow the cycler's life for a few days and then step out of sight; but, like the possibility of a header, it stays right with him. I don't presume there is any city which has attained a large life in which the cyclist is not bothered by sprinkling. It spoils his ride down to business in the morning, for if he does n't get his wheel all muddy in the side streets, he is likely to take a flop or a header on the slippery paving, and damage himself or his wheel; and I know of a no more tlepressing way of starting the day than by taking a bad fall, while going to work. In the evening, ten chances it is slop, slop, all the way home, with the nerves kept at a steel tension, until the husband or father, if the wheelman is lucky enough to be so classed, is cross and disgusted on arriving at home. Nobody that has ridden much in a city where sprinkling is extensively carried on will deny this.

Now, what is the remedy? Simply this: put the sprinkling entirely in the hands of the municipality. Then, if you want to petition for less sprinkling or more careful sprinkling, your petitions will have some weight. When sprinkling is done by private contract your redress is hard to secure. How are you going to get it? Suppose you go to the contractor and say, "Here, you are putting too much water on this or that block." What will he reply? That he is n't sprinkling for the benefit of the city; he is pleasing the people in the block, who pay him, and as they don't complain, he 'll keep right on. Put the work in the hands of the city, and every citizen then has a right to make a kick. This has been shown the past summer in this city. When the Post-Dispatch began its anti-dust crusade last spring, to take the sprinkling away from the private contractors, and make the city do it, the wheelmen all said, "Oh, that will spoil all our riding: we can find some dry spots now, but when all the streets are wet by the city, it will be an ocean of mud." But the contrary has proved true. The city had not been sprinkling long on the old flooding plan when kicks came in so fast that the street commissioner was compelled to order a lighter application of water; and, as a consequence, the asphalt is always ridable, with comfort and safety, and, in the main, every down-town street city sprinkling has proved a blessing in disguise. Let the wheelmen think about these cold facts, and when their streets are rendered unridable, let them strive to get the city to control the water carts.

The members of the Missouri Club, and all lovers of athletics, ought to be eternally thankful to Will Barron for the gratuitous interest he is taking in arousing the club to a proper appreciation of gymnastics. He has just issued, at his own expense, I take it, a circular, which he has sent to every member of the club, calling his attention to the class which is to begin, on Monday next, a course of gymnastics. It will meet Monday and Thursday evenings through the winter, and will be under the teaching of Mr. Barron, who has for some years, nearly a decade, been one of the leading lights at the down-town gymnasium. He is versed in all the branches of physical training, and is thoroughly capable of making the boys "fit." Moreover, he is a gentleman, and a very companionable one at that. If the club don't take advantage of this chance, it ought to quit being a club; as one of the principal things for which a club is valuable is its ability to bring out and use talent and experience that count in the progress of the members. Outside of the entertainments, no one will deny that last winter was a dull one in the club; that its many facilities for instruction and amusement were not utilized as they might have been. Billiards, pool, and cards were about the only diversions. Now comes along a member, who says he will organize and carry through a class that will help dissipate the popular belief that the average cycler is a flat-chested, round-shouldered, weak-lunged young fellow, with abnormally developed calves. It may be that this preponderance of calf accounts for the phenomenal thirst for milk. But Mr. Barron proposes to make the wheelman something more than an aggravated case of leg. He proposes to make him what he ought to be, "the paragon of animals"; for the latest cipher discloses that Shakespeare had a bicyclist in mind when he penned his tribute to man's superiority.

Percy Stone's reinstatement has been largely the theme of local talk this week. Whether he will get in or not, his friends will make a good hard fight to get him back into the League. Of course, it is understood that if he don't get back he will have to leave the Missouri Club. I don't mean to say he ought to, or anything like that, but I do say that since there has been some talk of his being out of place as a professional among amateurs, he is too manly not to defer to such an opinion, either by making a manly attempt to become an amateur, or by leaving the club. Whether the motive which impels him to return to the League which once he spurned is unselfish, is a question with which I have nothing to do. Everybody knows how Percy came to leave the amateur ranks, as well as I do, and there is no use trying to enlighten the powers that be. Other fellows with a motive as selfish have left the L. A. W., and been taken back with open arms. Why should n't there be a white shirt left for Stone, if he comes around and asks for it? He would have had a much better show to get back if he had not gone to the Cleveland races, last summer, and entered the professional events. Before that he was mostly that unique and short-lived specimen, known as the promateur; afterwards, he fell to the common level of a professional.

Before this is out in type, the first cycling hare and hounds chase in St. Louis will be a thing of the past. Dent Taylor, of the Missouris, and George Tivy, of the Cycle Club, will be the hares, and as they know every tortuous path in Forest Park, the scene of the chase, there is every reason why we should expect lots of fun. There will be considerable rivalry in the chase line on Thanksgiving Day. The Missouri Amateur Athletic Club and the Christian Brothers Athletes have each a paper chase, starting at 10 A. M., and at the same hour and place the wheelmen have theirs. That is one reason why I wish to see a big turnout of the hounds, as it would be a big feather in our cap if we could turn out the best chase in our initial effort.

The Missouri's opening entertainment occurs this evening. It is a hop and, it is said, is to be a very swell affair. I will give you fuller particulars next week.

OMEN.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

MR. BELDING'S REPLY.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — As your correspondent, together with "Hew," and the Post-Dispatch, has of late used my name rather freely and without authority, I beg to ask for space to correct the wild statements made by the aforesaid party. I never said that I could beat Greenwood, nor have I at any time intimated that I would like to meet him. The facts are these: On the 25th of September, Professor Stone and myself started out to see what the Victor Safety would do, and, much to our surprise, we made the trip from St. Louis to DeSoto in 6.03. We stopped one hour for dinner, so that our riding time was 5.03, not counting several short stops for water, milk, etc. Naturally, the Professor and myself felt very much elated to think that we had come so near to Greenwood's time of 4 23, and in speaking of it to your correspondent I said that I believed I could, with a very little training, beat Greenwood's time, and I say so now. When one takes into consideration that in that trip we walked over more than five miles of new gravel, I cannot see that I made a very wild assertion. This was the first time I had ever made the trip, while it is one of Greenwood's favorite routes. Hicks became so excited, that he published all sorts of stories and statements that were without foundation, and had they appeared only in the P.-D., where the writer was known, I should not attempt to contradict them. I was praising the Safety wheel more than myself, and I believe that, mounted by a good rider, like Professor or Percy Stone, or Greenwood, the DeSoto trip can be made with it in less than four hours. I doubt very much whether Greenwood ever challenged me or any one else, as I think him too well posted in sporting etiquette to do such a thing. At all events, I am no sporting man, and until I have had more than one ride over the DeSoto road I shall not challenge any one. I was telling Hicks, a few days since, that acting under the advice of my physician, Dr. W. A. Wilcox, I had quit riding altogether. He at once publishes the fact in a very sneering way, so as to make his readers think I was afraid to make a race. I have only to say that I hope he or any other wheelman will never be afflicted physically as I am. If I recover, in the spring, I may undertake to do some tall riding on the Safety.

H. W. BELDING.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16, 1887.

DRILL CODE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The League of American Wheelmen has excellent organization, a neat and serviceable uniform, a model Constitution, and a first-class paper. Now, let it give us an authorized manual of club and battalion drill and code of whistle (or bugle) and of silent (or hand and cap) signals. Some clubs have drill and signals, notably the L. I. W., whose simple code, published some tim since, deserves attention. There must be in the membership many military men who can provide us with a plain, sensible, and serviceable drill and code, which the proper League authorities will approve. Will they, and will the BULLETIN aid in obtaining these?

L. A. W., 2,465.

D. D. S. TO "BON."

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In the issue of Nov. 4, your correspondent "Bon" makes some very wild assertions which are not founded on facts, and which not only question the right of the Hudson County Wheelmen to enter one of its members, but also N. Y. and N. J. T. R. R. R. A. for allowing him to enter. He also charges that the Hudson County Wheelmen are guilty of "jockeying and other questionable methods to gain the supremacy." This I deny most emphatically, as every one knows that the Hudson County Wheelmen are composed of gentlemen, as their record on the track both as racers and officers will show their loyalty to amateur racing, and his charging this to them is a personal insult to each and every member. He also states that C. E. Kluge is a professional or was recently. This is also false, as Mr. Kluge made an affidavit when applying for reinstatement to L. A. W., that he had never raced for money, or otherwise violated the amateur rules. I will state that Mr. Kluge does not live on the course, or that his expenses are paid by the Pope Company, but that he has worked at his trade (interior decorator) part of every day. "Bon" last week says, that Kluge would be protested on the grounds that he had not been a member of the Hudson County Wheelmen three months previous to the race. Mr. Kluge has been a member of the Hudson County Wheelmen over two years, and when he resigned from the L. A. W., the Hudson County Wheelmen, rather than to expel Mr. Kluge, suspended its by-laws and withdrew from the League, as a League club, but each member retained his membership in the L. A. W. He says that "the Association was organized for purely amateur and friendly races between clubs composing it." Does he suppose that, by writing such letters, he will promote a friendly feeling between clubs and their members? And last, but not least, I will answer his question by stating that every member of the Hudson County Wheelmen signed the application for Kluge's reinstatement in the L. A. W., and it was at their request that he made application.

D. D. S., 12,398.

"BON" REPLIES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Much amusement has been afforded both myself and the wheelmen of this city by the attempted sarcasm which appeared in your issue of the 11th inst., entitled "Is it Jockeying?" and signed by L. A. W., 12,048. This brilliant youth starts off with a lot of gibberish about "equal rights," "distribution of property," "breaches of the peace," and ultimate stretching of necks, evidently taken bodily from some one of the numerous editorials recently published on the anarchist question, and having no bearing whatever on the point in question. The gentleman evidently has a brilliant imagination, or else a wonderful construction of the English language, to have the audacity to sandwich in this little anarchist sermon in his pitiful effort to be great, and gush with grand quotations. Finally, when he comes down to common-sense, he is very ignorant of facts, or very much puffed up with his own importance. He asks, "Who has heard any grumbling because Kluge is to ride?" In reply, we would simply like to know where the gentleman has resided during the past three weeks previous to the race. Certainly not around New York, or he would have heard of it, had he ears. He next asks, "Is any one grumbling because Hall is entered, or because he makes his livelihood by selling wheels?" This is the first time we knew that selling wheels was an offence which an amateur could not commit; and as for grumbling, we have heard a little, but as we were not "morally certain" of any reason why he could be disqualified, and as we were "morally certain" that if there was a good reason, the honor of the K. C. W. would not allow him to be one of their team, if was not necessary to say anything about it. Truly, your correspondent was a great "moralist" when he says, "The H. C. W., we have no doubt, think it a credit to them to have Kluge on their team." This assertion is, undoubtedly, correct; but a question of more importance is, what do the majority of wheelmen interested think about Kluge being on their team? not what do they think, but what does the world think? not what does the culprit think, but what does the court think which tries him? In regard to his question as to where there is any "jockeying" or any "questionable methods," he would, perhaps, have been wiser if he had waited or been better posted, before rushing into print. He remarks that my "suggestion of a remedy is certainly unique." This may be so, but it is certainly not more unique nor nearly as obtuse as his wonderful epistle, more of which, I trust, will be forthcoming, though we would prefer more originality in future.

BON.

Nov. 21, 1887.

(This correspondence must now cease.—ED.)

TEXAS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I noticed in your issue of October 28, that Percy Stone was in our city "winning prizes in professional races with the Texans." Now I will say that the so called Stone was not in our midst during the late "round up," and if he had been we are not ignorant enough to disregard the amateur rule, and be led and "lassoed" by a professional which would result in our being "branded" "P." We are, as you say, Texans, but we keep pretty well posted regarding, "Am's., Pro's., wheels" etc., even if our steel "broncho's," are inclined to "buck" occasionally in the midst of some cactus or prairie-dog holes. The boys are all becoming "tough" here on account of substituting "temales" for chewing gum while racing, which has been decided a success, and we hope our Yankee friends will pattern after us. They retail by our Senoritas, at the small price of one for a "clakey," the prescription for making same can be had by addressing Sec'y of Dallas Wheel Club. Our races this fall consisted of two one-mile, and one quarter-mile, the two first named were "fetched" by T. L. Monagan, the other by Geo. Arbuckle, who has come into our ranks recently and from whom we anticipate great things. W. A. L. Knox (chief consul), James, and Keen amused the crowd in their triple act. H. Blakeney used good judgment in his close decisions. Our Houston friend, Smith, has also returned to his first love, and he intends making things lively for the boys in the future.

ANTI-PRO.

DALLAS, Nov. 7, 1887.

ONLY $1 FOR THREE TIMES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — As a proof of the unequalled value of the L. A. W. BULLETIN as an advertising medium, we beg to state that our four-line advertisement, "Star Wanted in Exchange for Crank Machine," in your issue of 4th inst., has brought us over forty replies, with several districts yet to be heard from. Comment is needless.

L. H. JOHNSON.

HER RIM MARK.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The Wheelman for October has an article about a girl who rode a bicycle which "had neither spokes nor hub, and consisted simply of the felloe." On reading the item to a lady friend, she remarked, "That 's all any girl needs."

13,282.

THE Dorchester Bicycle Club will give a five-mile road race on Thanksgiving Day for boys living in Dorchester, starting from the corner of River and Washington Streets, Milton, at 9 A. M. After this race, a hare and hounds chase will be started. The club will give a social party at Lyceum Hall, Dorchester, Dec. 15.

CYCLETS.

RENEW.

AND be happy.

SEND your dollar early.

AND get a low number.

BE among the first thousand if you can.

SEND for a ticket holder and keep your ticket clean and nice.

DON'T forget to send your old number when you renew.

IT saves us very much trouble and annoyance if you do this.

DO you want to sell your wheel? Try a fifty-cent advertisement in the BULLETIN.

A SNOWSHOE club is to be formed by the wheelmen of Melrose this winter.

THE Manhattan Bicycle Club, of New York, held a house warming last Monday evening.

THE Somerville, Mass., Club will hold its annual ball at Odd Fellows' Hall, Dec. 12.

H. D. COREY arrived in New York, Friday, per the North German Lloyd steamship "Saale" from Liverpool.

THE Warren Wheel Club, of Roxbury, has fitted up a shooting gallery, and a shooting tournament is in progress.

RALPH AHL, well known in racing circles a few years ago, returned from an extended tour of Europe recently.

THE last report of the secretary of the Cyclists' Touring Club shows the total number of members enrolled to be 21,928.

MR. WILLDIGG, of Brooklyn, formerly of Messrs. Schwalbach & Willdigg, took a severe header at Fort Hamilton recently, breaking his arm.

THE wheelmen of St. Louis will ask to have Percy Stone made an amateur. He must become an amateur if he would remain with his club.

THE Corey Hill Toboggan Club has a large number of cyclists among its members. Many more will probably join before the coasting season opens.

THE Hyde Park (Mass.) Ramblers are pushing the work on their new club rooms, and will commence the regular Friday-night sociables as soon as the new quarters are complete.

THE Citizens' Bicycle Club, of New York, has withdrawn from the New Jersey Road Racing Association. They do this as an indorsement of the League's attitude towards road racing.

MR. C. R. EISENBRANDT, of Baltimore, was in Boston last week, getting points about League meets. If the League goes to Baltimore it is very probable that one day of the meet will be spent in Washington.

THE Owls, of Chicago, held a "stag" party on Saturday evening last, and on Thanksgiving Day they will have a one-pedal race at Jackson Park, the first prize being set down as an "intelligent turkey."

THE Long Island Wheelmen built a fire in their furnace on Wednesday evening and invited their friends to see the blaze. We are invited to the "house warming," but cannot be there. We imagine they will have a hot time.

IT is very probable that the Pope Manufacturing Company will have no racing team next year. They will keep Rowe in condition to meet Howell, but will do no more. Since Temple has beaten Howell several times, it may be

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ✣ WHEEL ✣ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

SECOND-HAND BI TRI CYCLES.
Large Stock! Many as Good as New! Bargain List FREE upon application!
PRICES LOW.

SOLE AGENTS
For New York for the celebrated New Rapid and Quadrant Cycles.
New York Bicycle Co,
NEW MANAGEMENT.
No. 88 Park Place, N. Y.

OLD MOUNTS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE.
For New Rapids and Quadrants we are prepared to make exceedingly liberal allowances.
CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

E. R. STOCKWELL,
19 John St., N. Y.
Manufacturers of
RECORD PRIZES.
Bicycle and Athletic Medals.
CLUB PINS and BADGES.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.
Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

MAKER OF FINE JEWELRY. MEDALS & BADGES MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS
HENRY C. HASKELL
18 JOHN ST. N.Y.

League Uniforms.

John Wanamaker, Philadelphia,

OFFICIAL CONTRACTOR.

These are the prices: Coat, $6.20; Knee Breeches, $4.34; Shirt, $1.95; Hose, 80 cts.; Cap, 84 cts. Delivered without extra cost to any part of the U. S. where there is mail or express service.

Regulation League Cloth, Burlington Mills, $2.18 a yard; League Buttons, large, 5 cts. each; small, 2 1-2 cts., full set for suit, 55 cts. Uniform sent C. O. D., privilege of examining, and ONLY TO LEAGUE MEMBERS. We do not pay delivery charges on cloth.

All orders must be accompanied by League Number.

JOHN WANAMAKER,
PHILADELPHIA.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
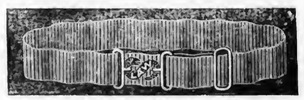
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.



The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

YANKEE ENAMEL,
The Latest and Best.
Put up and for sale by
BENNETT & HALE,
112 ORANGE ST., NEW HAVEN, CT.
Price Per Bottle, with Brush, 50 cts.

A full line of cycling sundries always on hand. We have an extensive Repair Shop, and pay particular attention to difficult repairs on bicycles and tricycles.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego
128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,
NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE OF OUR WHEELS.

MURRAY'S
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BICYCLES.

56 Club, new, $58. 52 Premier, almost new, ball bearings, $42. 58 Expert, good order, $57. 54 Harvard, splendid order, $47. 60 Champion, full nickeled, like new, $55. 50 Victor, ball bearings, $65. 52 Champion, used four weeks, $60. 48 Expert, ball bearings, $50. 46 English Bicycle, new, $25. 54 Victor Light Roadster, latest pattern, $73. 50 Harvard, spade handles, $48. 42 American Safety, $45. Springfield Roadster, new, $68. Also a job lot of new English Bicycles, with ball bearings, in 48, 50, 52, 54 and 56 inches, at only $48, and the same sizes in plain bearings at $43 each. Over 100 other second hand bicycles. ☞ SEND STAMP FOR LIST AND MENTION THIS PAPER. ☜
A. W. GUMP, DAYTON, OHIO.

a pleasing spectacle to see if he could defeat Rowe.

W. I. WILHELM, the crack Star rider of Reading, Pa., is twenty-eight years of age; he has won eighty-six prizes, including fifty-eight medals, valued at two thousand dollars, sleeve buttons, rings, opera glasses, bicycle sundries, etc. Wilhelm is captain of his club and very popular.

DR. W. G. BUDINGTON, of New York, who has been to Bermuda three times, and is well acquainted with all the routes about the island, would like a companion for a tour to that place this winter. We will send the doctor's address to any one wishing to correspond with him regarding such a trip.

LONDON, Nov. 12, 1887. — A six-day race between Woodside and Howell on bicycles, and two American cow-boys on horses, was ended to-night in Agricultural Hall. The cowboys, who were allowed to use an unlimited number of horses, won the race by two miles and three hundred and thirty-five yards.

THE Stanley Show will be held next year at the Royal Westminster Aquarium. The date of opening is set for Jan. 28.

THE American Wheelman believes that the League should let road racing alone, but the following paragraph would seem to indicate that the Wheelman believes it may be practised to the detriment of the sport: —

"The attempts at record-breaking between the Missouri Club House and Forest Park are liable to cause the wheelmen of this city a great deal of trouble. Racing over crowded city streets and boulevards is encroaching as seriously on the rights of horsemen as they ever encroach upon the rights of wheelmen."

IT is now the proper thing for California wheelmen to felicitate themselves on our glorious climate, and to express pity for their Eastern brethren who have to put their wheels away and give up riding during the winter months. As a matter of fact the dark mornings and short days of winter afford little opportunity for riding, especially when supplemented by rainy weather and sloppy roads, and until spring there are other forms of recreation that can be adopted to far greater advantage than wheeling. There will be more or less riding possible all winter, but it must necessarily be of a desultory character. — San Francisco Chronicle.

LET us be patient, though severe afflictions
Do from the ground arise;
Half bricks, that rouse our wrathful maledictions,
Are blessings in disguise.

There is no wheel, however oiled and tended,
But latent squeaks are there;
No saddle spring, however deftly bended,
But hurts, at least, somewhere. Wheeling.

THE Dorchester Bicycle Club inaugurated the social season with a progressive euchre party on Nov. 15. There was a large attendance of members and their ladies, and the affair passed off very enjoyably to all present. Miss Jackson, Mrs. Swan, and Miss Drake secured the ladies' prizes; Messrs. Schallenbach, Swan, and Forbes winning those for gentlemen. The club will have a social party at Lyceum Hall on Dec. 15; J. Howard Richardson's orchestra.

THE Columbia Calendar for 1888 is far ahead of its predecessors, so far as utility goes. The calendar, in block form, rests upon a portable and compact stand. Each leaf has a space for memoranda, while the quotations relating to cycling, which have been compiled, are as apt as ever before. One can have in this a ready repository for memoranda, notes, etc., and moreover he can easily remove the leaves: a thing not so easy to do in the former block calendar. N. C. Fowler, Jr., is responsible for the results obtained in this calendar, and there is no doubt that wheelmen will appreciate his work. Sent to any one for twelve two-cent stamps to cover cost.

"WHERE will they race?" is the question that is aptly put by the World, anent the visit of the English racing men next spring. The Springfield track has been going to ruin for two years, and the tracks at Lynn and Roseville may be sold for other purposes. Cleveland has a good track, which might be used. The prospect that 1888 will be a brilliant race year is not very encouraging.

NEVER hurry in your labors,
If your aims are high or lowly,
But, if forced by circumstances,
When you hurry, hurry slowly.
Texas Siftings.

Never hurry on your cycle,
If you ride for pleasure solely,
But, if forced by circumstances,
When you hurry, hurry slowly.

KIRK BROWN and R. Clyde Swayze, of the Century Wheelman, while riding their bicycles through the Park, last Sunday, met with what is known to all cyclers as the "road hog," who attempted to run them down, and who used the most obscene and insulting language to them. The R. H. was at once arrested and cited to appear before a magistrate the following day, but did n't "show up," and a warrant is now out for his arrest. Brown and Swayze assert they will punish this fellow to the fullest extent of the law. — Baltimore Argus.

THE Harvard Bicycle Club held a handicap race last Saturday afternoon, starting from the corner of River and Harvard Streets, at 3.15. The course was fifteen miles long, extending through Brighton, Newtonville, Waltham, and Watertown. The finish was made at the railroad bridge near Mt. Auburn. Nine contestants started, R. H. Davis, '91, and Elliot Norton, L. S., being the only ones on the scratch. A rule prohibited men who were out more than an hour and ten minutes from receiving cups. Bailey, '91, who ran in 1.5.20; Davis, '91, 1.1.30; and Norton, L. S., 1.7.46, were the only ones awarded prizes. Freight trains interfered seriously with the speed.

"HOW to enjoy a bicycle or tricycle during the winter." Such was the attractive head-line which caught our eye as we turned over the advertising pages of the "I. C. & A." last week. Here, thought we, is some new and useful "tip," — some method for avoiding splashes of mud, to keep off the rain, or for guarding against colds, — something that will support us in our oft-reiterated statement that winter cycling is enjoyable. We went on to the next line, and the office boy leaped from his seat in terror, as our hair rose on end, and our eyes rolled "in a fine frenzy," and our hand instinctively clutched the cut-glass inkbottle. This is what we saw: "Pop it at the Cycle Pawn Office." — Irish Cyclist.

SOME prominent Eastern wheelmen have lately been coming to California. A recent arrival in this city is H. S. Wood, of Philadelphia. Mr. Wood is best known in connection with his work for the encouragement of touring. He was the first bookmaster of the League, and compiled the Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and, later, the Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland road books, the first complete and practical works for the information of touring wheelmen published. The original and particularly clear and concise form he designed for these books has since been very generally adopted for similar purposes. The wheelmen of California will be fortunate if Mr. Wood can be induced to interest himself in their affairs. — San Francisco Chronicle.

W. J. MORGAN and John Hamilton, of West Brompton, Eng., started on a six-day race at London, Nov. 7, at 3 P. M. They rode eight hours per day. On the morning of Nov. 7, Morgan raced John Keen for ten miles. Results not at hand.

ALPHONSE KING will navigate his water bicycle in Boston Harbor on Thanksgiving Day.

PROVIDENCE wheelmen run to the park on Thanksgiving Day, and have a photo taken. A road race will also be held.

THE B. C. W., of Warren, R. I., has passed a rule forbidding smoking in the club rooms.

UNCLE SAM says that the League badge is an advertisement, and it must n't go on third-class matter.

THE Glenmere bicycle track at Lynn was sold Saturday afternoon by Auctioneer Ezra Baker to a combine, consisting of John Sheehan, of Lynn; Scott Tuttle, of Swampscott; A. M. Richards, of Charlestown; and P. Henry Murphy, of Lynn, for $1,250.

NEW-YORKERS have given us a new word. A rear-driving Safety is a "goat."

IT is reported that Rudge & Co. will open a branch house in the United States. Mr. H. D. Corey has been offered the management of it. A representative of the company will visit America to make arrangements for the transfer from Stoddard, Lovering & Co., within a short time. The cycle business has been an outside venture for Stoddard, Lovering & Co., and the change has been contemplated for some time.

NEW ORLEANS.

THE New Orleans wheelmen will celebrate Thanksgiving Day with a five-mile and a quarter handicap road race to West End, and will give the Atlanta (Ga.) "moving grand stand" a trial, the course being so situated that a train of cars will follow the racers the entire distance, affording a fine view of the contest in its various stages. There are four or five prizes offered, and a large field of starters, and a big time is promised. Aside from the "moving grand stand," another somewhat novel and commendable example will be introduced by the New-Orleanians: instead of fixing an entrance fee to the race, it is left optional with each entry to either give any amount that he may see fit, or else give nothing at all, if he is built that way. The money so secured is to be used in purchasing Thanksgiving turkeys and jelly, which will be presented, with the wheelmen's compliments, to the Infant Orphan Asylum of the city, making the day one of free-will offering and thanksgiving in reality.

AYERS ON CHASES.

BURLEY AYERS thus writes to a contemporary regarding hare-and-hounds chases: —

"A hare-and-hounds chase is the simplest kind of thing; in fact, things chaste are usually simple. Our course used to be around the boulevards, but that got to be too long, so we have for the past few years made the course to Pullman, seventeen miles. We divide the parties in two. The herd of fellows who can't race to amount to anything go in the hares, while your crack men go as hounds. Give the hares a fair handicap, say ten to fifteen minutes, according to your relative strength. Take your men who have no record, and who are supposed to make nothing better than a mile in four minutes or a little less, and then put your cracks, who have made their mile in 2.50 and such, after them. Figure on the cracks catching the hares just at destination, and you have it. It is for you to make the figures, so calculating that all will arrive at destination very nearly the same time. The hounds, of course, come in first; we have always had it that way. Once in a while a hare would beat the hounds, and then

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

we would rejoice with the hare, and lo, drink with him much and at his expense. There is lots of fun in an h. and h. chase. You must, of course, have a good dinner at the destination; that's the chief wrinkle of the whole thing. And, above all, make the handicaps so fair that all your fellows can go in. In St. Louis you would, perhaps, do it very much different than we do here. For instance, you have quite a field of crack racers and fast men, while you have another and larger field of fellows who don't race, but who like to tour. Therefore, put the roadsters all in the hounds, and handicap your racing men so bad that the hares will have an equal chance with them."

MEXICAN ROADS AND RIDING.

THE beautiful riding districts of this republic may be of interest to some of our readers. I am station agent and operator here, and the only American within fifty miles. My "Bueno Caballo," as the Mexicans call my bike, meaning "good horse," is a thing of great interest to their ignorant minds. Our riding here is, without exception, the finest to be found. We have a smooth level road,—natural make,—as hard as a board. After leaving town about forty miles, we near the mountains and the road maintains its smooth hard surface, but takes on a gradual incline. The return trip from the mountains is a continual coast for fully fifteen miles. We never have wind, rain or snow here; riding the whole year round. I left Kansas City a year ago, expecting to die with consumption, and was unable to walk a block without rest. Now I ride my wheel for twenty miles without a dismount. Should any of your readers have lung trouble I would suggest this climate in preference to California or other so-called health resorts. In addition to the fun of a ride, there is a great deal of excitement. I've chased coyotes, deer, and mountain lions along the road on my wheel. Should we have some "gentlemen of leisure" in the L. A. W., who wish beautiful weather and fine riding the year round, I should suggest this place. Such persons could also readily acquire the Spanish language, the most beautiful tongue in the world.

B. KELLERHOUSE, 10,427.

SAN JOSÉ, MEXICO, Nov. 14, 1887.

TWO ITEMS.

THE New York Division, L. A. W., through its New York correspondent to the BULLETIN, is loudly calling on its members for financial aid to help it out of debt, caused, it is claimed, by the great cost of carrying the Liberty Bill through the last Legislature. The wheelmen of Buffalo, it seems, are rather backward in coming forward in response to this call. As one of them said, "If the division had not spent some $300 to $400 last summer in paying the expenses of eight or ten representatives on the useless junketing trip to St. Louis, it would have money in the treasury now."—Buffalo Express, Nov. 5, 1887.

DR. C. S. BUTLER writes this letter: "In last Sunday's Express an injustice is done Buffalo wheelmen, by the statement that they have not responded very generally to the call for assistance in paying the indebtedness incurred in the passage of the Liberty Bill. As yet, Buffalo wheelmen have not been asked to contribute to that fund. The benefits of the bill were direct to the wheelmen of New York City and vicinity in opening Central Park, and it was the opinion of Chief Consul Bidwell that they should bear the burden of the expense. To them and to them only was the appeal made. But should it not receive the response that is expected, it may be thought best to appeal to the whole division, in which case, I am sure, Buffalo wheelmen would respond heartily and liberally, for it is their disposition to do just that."—Buffalo Express, Nov. 12, 1887.

THE PATH.

SHREVEPORT, LA. The cycle races in connection with the State Fair, which were run under the auspices of the Shreveport Wheelmen on Nov. 11 and 12, proved eminently successful and were among the most attractive features of the fair. The following is a summary of the events: —

Nov. 11. Weather, clear and pleasant; track, poor; attendance, large.

Two-mile Dash. M. B. Sprigg, Shreveport, 1; R. G. Betts, New Orleans, 2; E. L. Alford, Sheveport, 3. Time 8. 3.8.

Nov. 12. Weather, clear and pleasant; track, poor; attendance, large.

Half-mile Dash. R. G. Betts, 1; E. L. Alford, 2; M. B. Sprigg, 3.

One-mile Shreveport Championship. M. B. Sprigg, 1; E. L. Alford, 2; Guido Marburg, 3.

THE CLUB.

BELMONT CYCLING CLUB, Philadelphia Pa. — Officers elected at third annual meeting, Nov. 10. President, M. B. Stern; secretary-treasurer, H. B. Stern; captain, P. B. Lee.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

PENNSYLVANIA APPOINTMENT.

I HAVE appointed Clayton Phillips, Consul at Waynesboro', Pa., vice E. J. Rider, resigned.

GEO. A. JESSUP,
Chief Consul, Pennsylvania.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 114 — Total 14 — 11,837.

BOSTON, Nov. 25, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 2. — 343.

Oak Leaf Wheelmen.

17151 Staiger, Jo., Stockton.

Unattached.

17142 Rider, F., 504 Bush St., San Francisco.

GEORGIA — 1. — 29.

Unattached.

17152 Bresee, O. F., Jr., Box 41, Atlanta.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 1. — 621.

Owl Cycling Club.

17143 Bogue, J. H., 216 La Salle St., Chicago.
17144 Colegrove, F. H., 70 Vale St., Normal Park P. O.
17145 Meade, C. C., 3564 Vernon Ave., Chicago.
17146 Stevens, C. C., 335 Rialto Building, "

INDIANA DIVISION — 1 — 235.

Unattached.

17147 Willhite, Hubert T., Crawfordsville.

KANSAS DIVISION — 1. — 178.

Unattached.

17153 Lewis, Geo. S., 305 N. Topeka Ave., Wichita.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 1. — 854.

Unattached.

17154 Lichtenberg, Henry M., Englewood.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 1. — 2,294.

Unattached.

17155 Underhill, Geo. H., Horseheads.

OHIO DIVISION — 2. — 934.

Cincinnati Bi. Club.

17148 Miller, W. A., Price Hill, Cincinnati.
17149 Norton, A. B., 286 W. 4th St., "

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 1. — 177.

Unattached.

17150 Batchellor, Clifford H., 20 Sutton St., Providence.

APPLICATION FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

List No. 8 — Total 1.

BOSTON, Nov. 25, 1887.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 1.

Detroit Bi. Club.

3842 Holcombe, B. J., 222 Woodward Ave., Detroit.

LEAGUE CLUBS.

189. — Trenton Bicycle Club, Trenton, N. J.: Organized Oct. 28, 1887; incorporated Oct. 29, 1887; joined League Oct. 28, 1887. Address Box 429, Trenton, N. J.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

BUFFALO HOME TRAINER FOR SALE CHEAP. — Been ridden very little by one rider; practically new. Also, 53-inch Apollo bicycle, in splendid order; price, $75; a bargain. C. A. C., Box 2384, Boston.

FOR SALE. — 48-inch Expert, cow-horn handle bar, grip ball pedals; price, $70; all parts enamelled and in good condition. A. P. McCLURE, Greenville, Pa.

FACILE, 42-INCH, EQUAL TO 50 OR 52-INCH, ordinary; cow-horn handle bars, extra saddle; is in first-class condition; will sell very cheap. Address M. R. CONNELL, room 42, Grand Central Depot, New York, N. Y.

BARGAIN EXTRAORDINARY. 50-inch New Rapid 1887 pattern, all improvements, good condition. Will sell very low for immediate cash.

NEW RAPID,
112 Orange St., New Haven, Conn.

WANTED. — A Victor Safety, Apollo Safety, or Special Rover bicycle, 1887 pattern, latest improvements, must be in good condition; give price and description, whether new or used. F. W. HAID, 2231 Benton St., St. Louis, Mo.

PHOTOGRAPHS. — Cabinet size of T. Stevens, S. G. Whittaker, W. A. Rowe, F. Foster, H. G. Crocker, G. M. Hendee, W. E. Crist, A. B. Rich, R. A. Nielson, E. P. Burnham, C. P. Adams, E. De Blois, Willie Harradon, F. Wood, C. F. Frazier, A. McCurdy, Victor Team, Hal. W. Greenwood, at twenty-five cents each. Address F. H. ROBERTS, Collinsville, Ill.

A VALUABLE POCKET-PIECE. — Having a number of duplicate Ancient Roman Coins not less than 1,500 years old, we will send one to all sending us twenty-five cents or postal note of twenty-two cents, three for fifty-seven cents. CURIOSITY SHOP, Ellington, N. Y.

TO MEMBERS OF L. A. W. — To introduce a fine grade of portraiture I will make (from any good copy) a 20 by 24 crayon for $10. Satisfaction guaranteed. Reference: Rev. A. H. Miller, Beaver Falls; Rev. T. N. Eaton, Beaver, Pa.; Ed. Craig, captain B. V. W.; Will Bell, National Bank, Beaver Falls; W. I. Wilhelm, Harry Wilhelm, Reading, Pa.; Ernett Ceiple, National Bank, New Brighton, Pa.; Chas. Miller, Rochester, Pa.; S. Murray, Sewickley, Pa.; J. Sevin, Lettsdale, Pa.; M. G. Oliphant, 8th and Market, Philadelphia. WILL H. LEIGH, Artist, Beaver Falls, Pa., L. A. W., 7134. This offer good for ninety days only.

FOR SALE. — One 53 and 55 inch, new, 1887 Columbia Light Roadster; best offer over $100 received before Dec. 1 takes either. One new 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle at best offer over $125 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit.

STAR. — 48-inch Special Star, enamelled, with all improvements, never been ridden; will sell cheap, as I have no use for it. Address M. C. S., care Letter Carrier, No. 58, Boston, Mass.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES. — Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, Standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agents for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list, NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

BICYCLE. — 58-inch, full-nickelled Expert, ball pedals, in good condition; price $75. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BICYCLE. — 54-inch Expert, full nickelled, ball pedals, cow-horn bars, and in excellent order, $80. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THE RETURN OF a 50-inch full nickelled Columbia bicycle, No. 12,229, 1887 style, double grip handles. Stolen from WM. P. RADLEY, 324 W. 47th Street, New York.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats.)

Owing to the present great depression in WOOL and WOOLLEN GOODS, together with the tight money market, we have been able to buy FOR CASH, at a great discount, some lines of woollens that hitherto have been too high priced to be made into $3.00 pants. Samples of these goods will be found in our package of twenty samples that we mail to any address upon receipt of SIX CENTS, together with self-measurement blank, and (as a special inducement to mention this paper) a good linen tape measure free. If you cannot WAIT for samples, tell us about what styles you prefer; send us your WAIST, INSIDE LEG and HIP measures, together with $3.00, and thirty-five cents for prepaid express or postage, and we will guarantee satisfaction.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

EVERY BUYER OF OUR GOODS HAS THE PRIVILEGE OF RETURNING THEM FOR ANY CAUSE, AND RECEIVING BACK HIS MONEY, OR A NEW PAIR.

The American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) will cheerfully reply to any inquiry sent to their Boston office about us, and the way we treat our customers.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

For Sale, Cheap!

BICYCLES and TRICYCLES. Send for list before you buy, to WM. M. FRISBIE & CO., New Haven, Ct. O. P. Drawer 64.

ROVER SAFETY BI
HUMBER CRIPPER TRI CYCLES.

We have fresh invoices of these Celebrated Machines, which are unequalled for RIDING ALL THE YEAR ROUND, which we have had built specially for American roads, and which we offer at attractive prices. Send for illustrated catalogues.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We want a few good second-hand wheels, 48 to 54-inch, for our local trade, and will allow full value for these in exchange for new

Rovers, Crippers, or Tandems.

LLEWELLYN H. JOHNSON,
401 Main Street . . . . . Orange, N. J.

Kingston Knitting Co.

27 Kingston Street - - BOSTON, MASS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Knit Worsted and Woollen

ATHLETIC GOODS

In all the popular styles of the season.

Bicycle Outfits in Jerseys, Jackets, Tights, Pants. Stockings and Caps to match.

Full Body Tights in Plain and Ribbed Jersey Cloth, with Plain and Fly Fronts, re-enforced, and pockets.

POLO and TENNIS OUTFITS,

With Caps to match.

L. A. W. JERSEY UNIFORMS.

Very stylish, with Knee Pants, Stockings and Caps. These garments we also make in English Navys, and Blacks, and Colors.

The Cloth for all of our suits we manufacture ourselves, and it is unsurpassed for quality and durability.

Many novelties in Toboggan and Sporting Goods, in Plain, Striped and Figured Guernseys. Toques and Sashes for ladies and gentlemen.

We are prepared to execute any orders from the trade or clubs at very reasonable prices. Correspondence solicited.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOTT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

GOOD MEN ON GOOD WHEELS

Put the Records Where They Stay.

IT IS ABOUT A YEAR NOW SINCE STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER MADE THE FOLLOWING SET OF WORLD'S RECORDS ON THE CRAWFORDSVILLE COURSE, VIZ.:

10 Miles in 29 Minutes 1 3-4 Seconds.

20 Miles in 59 Minutes 35 4-5 Seconds.

100 Miles in 6 Hours 1 1-2 Minutes.

And these Records have stood ever since, notwithstanding the Fact that the Competitive Trade has done its utmost to acquire them.

While other Manufacturers have built Special Wheels for this Purpose, which differed materially from those they offered the Public, all of our Performances have been on the Identical Wheels listed in our Catalogue; and we claim, therefore, that they are remarkably significant, and demonstrate, unquestionably, the

EASY RUNNING QUALITY OF OUR BEARINGS.

THEN THAT PERFORMANCE OF FRANK DINGLEY'S ON THE LYNN TRACK,

100 Miles in 5 Hours 38 Minutes 44 1-5 Seconds.

Being Twenty-five Minutes better than the American Record, and Eleven Minutes better than the English Record. Quite a Number of Attempts have been made to Lower this by Other Makers since, all of which proved to be Failures.

We think the above is ample evidence to convince the most skeptical, and to efface any impression to the contrary caused by the false statements of our traducers. Respectfully submitted.

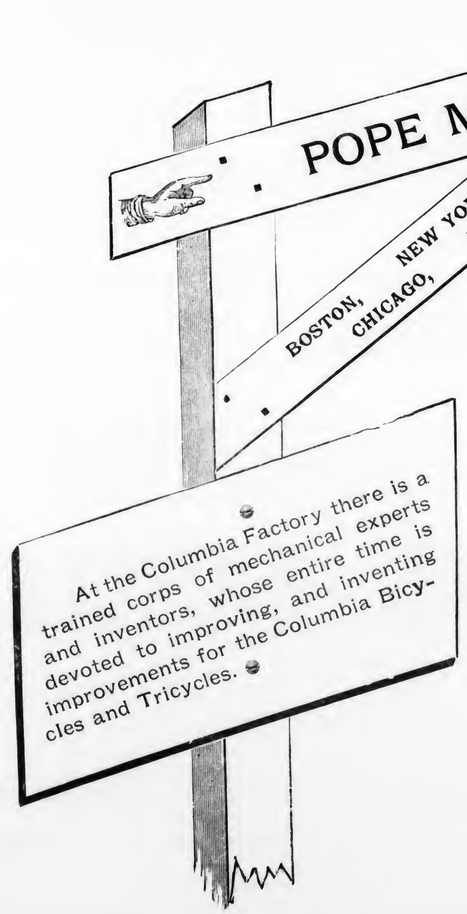
GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. COMPANY.

CHICAGO - - - - - - ILL.

SEND FOR THE LAST EDITION OF OUR CATALOGUE.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN



A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY.

BOSTON, DECEMBER 2, 1887.

VOL. V. No. 22. WHOLE NUMBER, 127.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress Street - - - - - BOSTON.

New York Headquarters, George R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS. $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

A PRESS of matter this week obliges us to lay aside many articles in type; and to oblige many who wish to be heard, we will stand aside with others.

THE OWL.

PERHAPS the strongest points in favor of adopting a tricycle in preference to a bicycle have heretofore been its safety, and the ability to mount, dismount, or remain seated at a stand-still. The introduction of the rear-driven safety of the Rover type has, I think, robbed the tricyclers of every one of their boasted advantages. It is as safe as a trike, lighter, easier running and less cumbersome, both in use or when storing; but the tricyclist, when driven to the wall for an argument in favor of his mount, has always presented the luxury of his ability to come to a stand-still without a dismount. I understand that the makers of the two wheeler now intend to take away from the tricycle this its only remaining claim of superiority. An extra lever, like that operating the brake, is to be attached to the left handle bar, and when the rider has slowed up and desires to stop, he has only to press both levers simultaneously, and while one puts on the brake, the other drops to the ground a couple of brace rods, which enable the rider to sit as much at his ease as though mounted upon a trike. When he desires to proceed, he has only to press upon the pedals as heretofore, and at once the supports are lifted into place ready for use, whenever they may be again wanted. By the addition of this invention, timid and elderly riders can now become riders of the safety, as the props do away with any need of their learning how to mount or dismount, since the machine can be placed in a perfectly stationary position for either purpose.

SHE stood on Riverside Drive surrounded by nine wheelmen, each of whom was trying to outdo his club mates in his gallantry, hoping thereby to win just one smile from the rosy lips of Clara Cripper. Finally, she seemed to tire of the sport, and she turned to them and asked if they did not think she was a perfect bicycle wheel. The question was too much for them, and they could answer it only by asking another of "Why?" "Because I have nine fellows"; and it dawned on them that there was rather too large an assembly of wheelmen in that vicinity, and each at once recalled a forgotten engagement, and the fair Clara in consequence found herself to be more like a car wheel than a bicycle one, because she did n't have any fellow. All this goes to show it don't always do to spring antiquated gags upon wheelmen.

I RECEIVED a letter from a correspondent the other day asking me, if he was to beat Rowe in a race, if he would thereby sacrifice his amateur standing. My advice was, first defeat Rowe, and then talk of the consequences afterwards.

As to the merits of the coat of whitewash the Racing Board has in its wisdom seen fit to give the record of Kluge, I have nothing to say, other than to remark, as showing my own individual opinion as to its advisability, that during my own service in the Racing Board, I voted "Nay" upon every application for reinstatement, but as to the power of the Racing Board to reinstate as an amateur any wheelman that they may deem has a sufficient ground for such action on their part, I do want to uphold. In Mr. A. B. Barkman's protest against Kluge in Section 111., he says, "That the Racing Board has no right, and has no power to reinstate him or any other professional." Now Mr. Barkman, as a member of the Board of Officers of the L. A. W., has, at the meetings of that body, several times been present when the report of the Racing Board was read, wherein appeared the names of wheelmen who have both been expelled and reinstated, and, to the best of my knowledge, he has never heretofore questioned the ability of the Racing Board to take such action and surely, as a member of the Board of Officers, it was his duty to have protested to the Board any action of the Racing Board wherein they exceeded the powers of their office. I think Mr. Barkman was present at the last meeting of the Board of Officers, when the Racing Board reported the reinstatement of Kluge, and I do not remember him then to have questioned the power of their ability to reinstate; in fact, it occurs to me now, that Mr. Barkman's attention to Mr. Kluge's case at so late a date is rather ill timed. Had he protested in the Board of Officers meeting, as he should have done, if he held the beliefs he claims, then the protest would seem in rather better form. The wind changes and so do our ideas. I think I remember Mr. Barkman indorsing the reinstatement of Mr. Thomas Stevens to membership in the fold of the League's elect, and he then made no protest against the authority of the Racing Board to so act, and why, then, does he so in the case of Kluge?

ONE of the virtues possessed by the rear-driven safety, that I have not seen noted elsewhere, is its tendency to cause the rider of it to appear in better form, the absence of any forks between the legs of the wheelman helping to induce him to ride in a more graceful manner than on the old vertical-forked wheel, upon which many of them caused their legs to appear like a brace of parentheses, or a pair of calipers, much to the disgust of such of us as had been wont to consider cycling the poetry of action and motion.

THE young English-trained nurse, who has but recently come prominently before the public through her marriage with Senator Hawley, is an example of the prejudice still existing against cycling, and against the lady portion of it particularly, even in a city otherwise exhibiting so much enlightenment on the subject as Philadelphia. It will be remembered that this lady was induced to come from England and take charge of the corps of nurses in Blockley Almshouse. Being an adherent of tricycling at home, which her training as a professional nurse taught her was the most perfect system of exercise she could adopt, she was no sooner fairly settled in her new position, than she began to look around for a trike, and the chance for riding it. Her first ride was her last. In going through Fairmount Park, she met several of the officials of the almshouse, one of whom afterwards, in a friendly way, cautioned her that among the old fossils who controlled the institution, her devotion to tricycling might be looked upon as too progressive, and she would, therefore, be wise to abandon it; a hint which, upon further investigation, she saw it was well to follow, and she rode no more. This is but one of many examples of the official and social prejudices exerted against women going in for tricycling, and the average wheelman has but little idea of the immense force of character a woman must exhibit before she mounts a tricycle. So much so is this the case, that I am afraid many of us, who are riders to-day, probably never would have become such, had we had to undergo a like novitiate when we adopted the wheel.

PIGG is a judge in Ohio. Hogg is a member of Congress. These two facts I would call to the attention of the "road hog." Here's a chance to see "what 's in a name." They might get Congressman Hogg to father a bill before Congress, which would compel every bicycler, upon meeting a horse, to dismount, and, upon his knees with bended head, wait until the equine emperor of the road and his porcine master had passed. This bill, I think, would meet the approval and support of the less rabid class of "road hogs," though, of course, it would have to be drawn much stronger to meet the ideas of the more radical members of the herd. The bill once passed, as of course it would be, undoubtedly, the idiot of a wheelman who thinks he has some legal cause for living as such, would make a faint kick against what he insanely terms unjust discrimination, then the remaining member of the family could be used as a final settler. The case could be tried before Judge Hogg, who for family reasons would, of course, give a verdict in favor of the new law, and there you are, — wheeling is extinct. I have just mapped out this little plan for the benefit of the "road hog," who wants to blot wheeling and wheelmen from the face of the globe, simply upon the strength of the peculiarity of name and position of the Congressman and judge named, and not upon any known adverseness of theirs to ourselves or the cause we represent. I present the plan to the consideration of the "road hogs," then, as the only one I can see that seems feasible for accomplishing the ends they have in view. The theory is an excellent one, and, if in practice it should be found that no deviation occurred from the above, think what a happy lot of "road hogs" there would be next Thanksgiving day; still, it would be well, perhaps, for wheelmen not to get rid of their wheels until all of this has happened, because, sometimes, you know, things don't happen just as they are planned and expected to.

THANKSGIVING DAY succeeded in making the year of 1 87 a record one in cycling, it being the only year in such, that the two holidays in November, it and Election Day, were both perfect riding days, both of them, as a rule, usually being given over to rain or snow. As it was, every wheelman in New York seemed to be out in the morning and forenoon. At that time it was a hollow-day, but around dinner time the scene was changed. The hour passed by, the turkey woke, that bright dream was his last, and his well-browned corpse was soon knocked out, Marquis of Cranberry's rules, by the festive wheelmen. The combat was short and sharp, and the defeat of the turkey unquestionable, but the result was, that in the afternoon the roads were not so full of wheelmen, because the wheelmen were so full of turkey.

THE OWL.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

WE had him on our double last week and he gave us the repetition of a record we have made many times. "Why this is grand," said he, "I must get a machine. I wonder if my wife will ride, I fear she won't, I hope she will, I 'll suggest it to her, and you 'd better put in a word." We agreed to use our influence and we advised a tandem. He went home and hesitatingly introduced the subject: "Wife, I 've been advised to buy a tandem so that you and I can ride together, what do you think of it?" Her reply surprised him. "Think of it, why I think it an excellent idea. I shall be delighted to ride." He thought he would have to argue her into riding. Her reply not only surprised him, but it decidedly committed him to the purchase of a machine. Now I will tell you a secret. We had been all over the question with the wife beforehand, and it was no new idea to her. Thus do we make riders in spite of themselves.

I AM not using the "we" editorially, for there were two of us in the plot. I have not yet arrived at the dignified and professional pronoun and I dare not assume it.

I HAVE had several records sent in this week, many of which are reduced to the briefest statement of figures. R. F. C. writes that she has ridden 1,000 miles. Mrs. M. is resident where roads are not good, and her rides are necessarily short. She estimates her season's record at 350 miles. Madge B. claims 1,500 miles over Central Park and Riverside Drive roads in New York.

MAUD writes: "I have wheeled about 900 miles this year. This means very many rides, for I go only short distances. My longest runs have been eighteen miles, and by the advice of my physician I do not venture beyond this distance. I grow enthusiastic as I grow older in the service, and untold gold could not buy my wheel. Being, as yet, my own guide and mistress, I ride the single tricycle, and though I go slower than the tandem riders and work harder on the hills, I am not yet wearied of paddling my own canoe."

I HAVE received a mysterious letter this week. It comes unsigned, and gives no hint of its authorship. It encloses a newspaper slip giving an account of a pleasant reunion held by the Raymond excursionists, and the following note is added: "When will the reunion of the North Shore tourists take place?" when indeed? I can only second a motion which I formulate from the hint given by my unknown correspondent.

I HAVE received the following in response to my call for records. It tells its own story and is given entire: —

DEAR DAISIE:—In response to your request to the ladies to give their season's experience, I respectfully submit the following: I commenced riding a Columbia two-track March 15, and have ridden nearly every day since, doing all marketing, etc., on my wheel. At first riding over pavements was very unpleasant, but now I would rather ride over a rough street than not at all. One afternoon in April I rode 22 miles in 5 hours, and although somewhat fatigued, I was ready the next morning for my usual daily ride of about 10 miles. On May 31 I rode from New York City to Croton Lake, 37 miles, the last 15 miles being very hard riding. In August, I rode to Babylon, L. I., one day, returning the next, covering in the two days 82½ miles. I speak of these three trips to show my advancement. My excursions have been numerous, and in all directions. I have no lady companion to join me, for my friends that ride prefer the tandem, and a gentleman to do two thirds the work, and ride only during the dark hours, some from necessity, but most from a fear of making an exhibition of themselves. I have a companion, however, who, when business permits, is always ready, and that is my husband, who also rides a Columbia two-track. Our journeys after wild flowers, our lunches under the trees, and above all our independence of the heated public conveyances, have made the past summer one of pleasure, and long to be remembered. Three years ago I was an invalid. My riding has improved my appetite, spirits, and health generally, and what is more, I have lost none of my enthusiasm, and look forward with anticipation to the future. My season's record is about 1,500 miles. L. A. W. 13,913. DAISIE.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

THE January meeting of the committees from the various clubs, looking to a local union for the furtherance of cycling aims, promises to be a successful one. The Pennsylvania, Century, Tioga, South End, and Germantown clubs will each have a representative present at the meeting, which will be at the Philadelphia Club House. If the new organization proposes purely local work, there is room, and to spare, for it; if it intends or attempts usurping the place of the present national organization, it will, doubtless, meet with the fate of the A. C. U. There is little doubt, however, that the conservative Philadelphia Club men intend that this project shall be so handled that the new union will devote its attention to the correction of local evils in the shape of bad drives, road hogs, etc.

The wise heads and old, Mr. Editor, still give their periodical shake of the head over the evils of training and racing on bicycles, — bad effects on the constitution, danger to lungs and heart, etc. Yet, one seldom hears of much growling at the foot racing, and the latter must be much harder on a man than bicycling. At the finish of a "cross country run," given here on Thanksgiving Day, the winner came in barely able to reach the tape, evidently unable to see, for the last thirty yards, where he was going, and dropped into a faint after finishing. He was the worst looking object I ever saw finish a race, and it was ten minutes or more before he came to his senses. He was properly and carefully trained, had had a month to train in, with nothing else to do, and yet was completely used up. I can not believe that it is possible for a man to run himself so completely out in a bicycle race. A rider may be winded and used up, but no matter how hard a race he has ridden, he can always see to finish and dismount. This, certainly, is evidence that the wheel is easier, and less strain in racing, than running, so why not growl at the greater evil first? Athletes, who have tried both, admit that the wheel is less work.

"GEORGE D. GIDEON, the father of Pennsylvania cycling scribes, now relinquishes both pen and pedal." — Duquesne, in Bi. World.

ONE goes away from home, surely, to learn the news. I happen to be perhaps as intimately acquainted with "Brer Gideon" as any one, and I am quite positive that up to Sunday of this week he had no idea whatever of relinquishing either pen or pedal. His tandem is still in active use, and his order is in for the first Victor Safety of 1888. He has, however, given up both the ordinary bicycle and the Germantown Club, neither of which, he opines, are absolutely necessary to his continuance of wheeling.

AT Wilmington, on Thanksgiving Day, the half-mile scratch race fell to Merrihew, of the Pennsylvanias, in 1m. 42s., McDaniels of Wilmington, second. The novices' race was won by Richard Dallett of the Tioga Club in 8.45. Tioga is looking up this year, and will be even better next.

FLEMING, of the Century, will have the largest mileage record in this State, and probably also the largest in the country for this year. As captain of the Centurions, Fleming has made another record of which he may well be proud.

PHACTO.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

THE weather since Thanksgiving has been glorious, and wheelmen hereabouts have been taking advantage of the supplementary riding season that was ushered in with that holiday, which witnessed such a turnout of wheelmen in the park as has seldom if ever been equalled before. The Long Islands were out en masse, which was remarkable, considering the little rest they had the night previous. The Iderans had a club photograph taken, and consequently were well represented. The Kings County Wheelmen had a successful hare-and-hounds chase, and the Brooklyns were to have had one, but, owing to some misunderstanding as to the place of meeting, the party did not assemble until too late to have the run and their Thanksgiving turkey also, — so the former was abandoned. Although the clubs were well represented, it was the unattached who took the prize. They were out by the hundred, and the club men marvelled where they came from. The Brooklyn clubs have had a very healthy growth during the past year, and judging by the appearances of Thursday's turnout, they have every prospect of a much more rapid growth during the coming winter, to say nothing of the new clubs that we hear are forming; in fact, cycling may be said to be booming in this town.

ON Thanksgiving Day, two wheelmen were arrested in Flatbush, for riding on the sidewalk. They were taken before a magistrate and discharged with a reprimand, and the assurance that a repetition of the offence would prove a more serious matter. Clarkson Street, Flatbush, is one of the main streets to many of our most popular runs, as well as being the best route to Jamaica. The roadway is poor, but the sidewalks are excellent. Complaint has been made of the reckless manner in which wheelmen are in the habit of riding on the sidewalks, and this has spurred the authorities to take their present decided action. Thus it is that the majority suffer for the acts of a few, and it is to be hoped that the present trouble will produce some good result, by making the thoughtless ones more careful that we are not deprived of our privileges in other sections.

THERE has been much dissatisfaction expressed in the clubs, and by many prominent League members, about the proposal to omit the publication of League club renewals, as such, in the BULLETIN. There does not exist a League club of any size, among whose members there is not a fairly large percentage who care nothing for the League, are always ready to attack it, and who are members simply because their club rules compelled them to become such. League clubs, as such, receive practically no benefits from the League. If a club be not a League club, any member of that club can join the League and secure all its benefits, independent of the club in any way. League clubs, therefore, do increase the League membership, and swell its revenue, and in return they are entitled to all the credit and consideration that can reasonably be afforded them.

THE Ilderans have issued a very neat little programme of their numerous social entertainments which are to occur during the coming winter. Among them are included lectures, musical entertainments, card and theatre parties, skating and toboggan meets, and an annual dinner, which will occur Dec. 31. Their amusement committee is truly a wide-awake organization, and deserving of much credit.

MY letter would not be complete without a passing remark on the house warming of the Long Island Wheelmen, which occurred on Thanksgiving eve, and which was the most successful and enjoyable entertainment of the kind it has ever been my pleasure to attend. I refrain from writing at length about the beauties of their new club house, and the good cheer which prevailed on that occasion, as I was assured that one, far more capable of doing justice to the event than myself, would send the BULLETIN full particulars. Nevertheless, we all wish the Long Island Wheelmen many happy returns of that, their anniversary day.

THE Executive Committee of the Alphabetical Association have decided the protest against Kluge, entered by the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, adversely. As to the justice or wisdom of the decision, I have at present nothing to say, but time will perhaps show who was right. BOX.

ST. LOUIS.

THERE is not very much to say about the Missouri Club's initial hop, last Friday, the 18th. It was such a swell affair, you know, that everything went off without special incident; and without incidents, of course, a veracious correspondent cannot speak except on the costumes, and you care nothing for those, barring the display of knickerbockers, which was not small. George Boswell, whom you all remember as the head of the finely managed excursion on the river, at the Meet, was out in a lovely pair of black silk hose, shorts, and a swallow tail; and Fred Beckers, the tough rider of the club, formerly, but now a society devotee, showed he had n't entirely forgotten his teachings, by imitating Boswell; and Williamson, at whose bugle blast a thousand men would rise and run, had encased his muscular limbs in a most ravishing suit of black. Dr. Keith was in long pants, but he ought to count as on the short side of the market, as in his case the spirit was willing, but the flesh too strong. He had put on his knickerbockers at home, with the firm intention of frisking around later in the evening to the "lascivious pleasing of a lute." But the genial doctor, who had bought the elegant black pair, when he was worn thin in getting up the League banquet, did not think he had increased in flesh since then, and after getting them on, he sat down suddenly at the family table. There was a snap, a giving way somewhere, a backing out upstairs, and — Dr. Keith wore long trousers at the ball. Probably, it's a good thing he did. He escaped being classed among Brewster's Shanghai roosters, for the captain does not disguise his dislike for swallow-tails and shorts, and does not hesitate to class people who combine the two with the long-legged representatives of Chinese civilization. "Yes, they put me in mind of Shanghais," he says. "With their long-tailed coats and thinly clad legs, they look like a big Shanghai — all legs and tail. I like to see them in bob-tail coats, with shorts. I may not be an artist, but that 's the way it strikes me."

THE ladies were richly clad, and their attire merited and received a column mention in a daily paper, the next day. The toilets were beautiful, but nothing to compare with the faces and forms they adorned. "Well, sir," said one of the participants, the next day, to the BULLETIN correspondent, "I've been to a great many society doings in St. Louis, in my time" — and he plucked at a gray hair — "but I never saw so many pretty ladies. Why, there were — there were — were — slothers of 'em," and as he fell back upon the good strong word, he meandered up to a looking-glass, twisted his mustache, and came back, muttering, "and they call me his Jaggs." Dancing and refreshments occupied the night, and the gymnasium never looked prettier than it did about twelve o'clock, midnight, when the tripping was at its height, not even last summer, at the League reception. It was no wonder that the entertainment committee, Captain Brewster and Frank Pratt, looked extremely happy, as they perambulated through the throng. The next entertainment will be Dec. 15.

ALL the arrangements for the hare-and hounds chase on Thanksgiving were thoroughly made, and the outlook was good for a lively time. But the night before, the Post-Dispatch published a despatch from Indianapolis announcing the death and burial of George S. Darrow, editor of the Wheelmen's Record. His paper circulates largely here, being, next to the BULLETIN, nearest the cyclers' hearts, and it was with a feeling of profound sorrow that we learned that that sensitive nature and active brain were taken forever out of our midst. The friendships he formed during his visit to the Meet had only been strengthened by the appreciative and intelligent way in which he treated the Meet in his paper. He was a gentleman, in and out of his paper, and we had all come to know it. The announcement that he had been laid away from human sight came before we had even learned of his sickness, and cast a gloom upon the contemplated chase. When the next day dawned, following a rainy night, the added sombreness of things threw a damper on the boys, and they showed that though ready to go in, they would do so not for sport but for duty. So it was thought best to postpone the chase and wait till the feelings of the riders and the atmospheric conditions were more in harmony with the occasion. The hares, Messrs. Bert Taylor and George Tivy, had labored hard to make the chase a success, and are entitled to much credit for their interest in the affair.

A LITTLE postal card came to me the other day, saying: "The first meeting of the Glee Club will be held at the Missouri Bicycle Club-house, this evening." Signed, George C. Oeters. That was all, yet it seemed like the first bird of spring, — a harbinger of the delicious music yet to be. The club met, and Prof. Allman, the director of the celebrated Hatton Glee Club, was there to give the voices a test. His opinion was that the vocal powers were all there. In fact, he said: "Really, gentlemen, you surprise me. I had no idea you had such vocal talent in the club." The organization of the club, as then arranged, is as follows: First tenor, William H. Barron, George C. Oeters, Robert McNeill; second tenor, George W. Boswell, S. B. Schuyler, E. C. Klipstein; first bass, George K. Andrews, L. C. Christiansen; second bass, E. B. Kidson, C. W. Hughes, Tom Lynch; unclassified, Jones S. Irvine, H. H. Keith, H. J. McCormick, and H. W. Baker. For a beginning, I think this showing is remarkably good, and as many more are going in, the prospects are that the Missouri Club will soon have one of the largest club musical organizations in the city. The members will meet every Tuesday night.

VERY little interest is taken here about the reinstatement of Percy Stone. This is not so much because nobody cares, as it is because he has not been looked upon as a professional, locally. All his racing here has been done as an amateur, and it has been only away from home that his professional racing has been done. Consequently, it is but natural for most of us to regard him as still an amateur. Then, again, he has gone on club runs and acted so much like an amateur, that he has seemed one of us. But, nevertheless, the lack of interest shows another thing. It shows that we don't care about getting mixed up in any more wrangles over the question as to who is or who is not an amateur. We got so thoroughly dosed with it over a year ago, when the Racing Board was trying to purify things, that we don't want any more of it.

TALKING about long-distance riding, George Tivy, of the Cycle Club, has ridden five thousand four hundred miles from Jan. 1, 1887, to Nov. 15. This is one thousand miles more than E. A. Smith expects to make in his ride for the Missouris' cup. But Smith began riding only March 1, which makes his four thousand miles a pretty good record. And yet Tivy could not do much riding between January and March, surely not fourteen hundred miles, or anything like it, and that is the difference between their scores. OMEN.

JERSEY.

As far as news goes, everything is about at a standstill down here in Jerseyland just now. There is considerable riding being done, of course, as the roads have kept in passably good shape. The warm weather of Saturday and unday brought out quite a number of wheelmen, and the roads were quite well patronized.

ON Thanksgiving Day, six of the Elizabeth Wheelmen responded to the call for the fifty-mile Morristown run. They found the roads quite muddy in places; but the cool air was bracing, and they made the trip up in about two hours and a quarter. Caterer Day, ever kind to wheelmen, had prepared a fine dinner for them, and the sextet boast of the feat of having demolished entirely a turkey of no mean proportions. In consequence, as might be expected, the pace home was a trifle slower, nearly three hours being required to cover the twenty-five miles.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen had their outing on Staten Island, wheeling to Fort Wadsworth. It was the last formal run of the season; though, of course, individuals will take advantage of every chance the clerk of the weather gives them. By the way, Captain Baggot has been distinguishing himself on the amateur minstrel stage the past week, playing in "Erminie in Black" at the Jersey City A. C. Club theatre. Most of the members of the H. C. W. are also members of the J. C. A. C., and thus enjoy the privileges of one of the handsomest club houses in the country. Ex-Chief Consul Johnson was the moving spirit in the erection of this elegant structure, and is the president of the club. He wanted the wheelmen to consolidate with the athletes, but the former feared that they might sacrifice the independence of their organization thereby, and so did not join as a club. There is a fine place for storing wheels on the ground floor, alongside the bowling alleys, and I saw, on a recent visit, that many of the cycling members had taken advantage of it.

THE rapid growth of cycling may be felt by the attention the big athletic clubs are giving to it in the way of offering wheelmen inducements to join. What will no doubt prove a great organization in the athletic world has recently been formed at Bergen Point with the title of the New Jersey Athletic Club. A fine plot of ground has been purchased on Newark Bay, and work has been already begun on laying out a ball ground, tennis and croquet courts, and a quarter mile running and bicycle track. Handsome boat and club houses are to be erected, and in all there will be an outlay of some fifty thousand dollars. The Central Railroad of New Jersey is to establish a station at the grounds, which will thus be made accessible easily to residents of Newark, Jersey City, New York, Elizabeth, Westfield and Plainfield. The membership is already over two hundred and fifty, and it is expected that it will not be far from the limit of one thousand before next season closes, as applications are now pouring in by the score. The Ilderan Cycling Club of Bergen Point has joined practically in a body, and many members of the prominent wheel clubs of the vicinity are already members, or are among the applicants. The bicycle track is, of course, the main inducement to the latter. It will be a good training ground, as it can be reached inside of a half an hour from all the points named. A special committee will have charge of the cycling interests, and we can look for some wheel tournaments.

TOMMY BURNET leads the Union County Wheelmen in mileage for the year. His score is 1,600 miles. Al Farrington is second, with 1,575. Tommy takes a rather pessimistic view of the wheeling boom, thinks there is less enthusiasm than ever, with small prospects of its ever getting as high as in former years, citing as examples terribles the State Meet on the Fourth of July, and this year's racing on path and road, and asks me, "What is going to be the future for wheelmen?" Now I can see no cause for feeling blue. To be sure there is not the rush and noise about wheeling there was a year or so ago, when we were starting the ball a-rolling. We do not have now to use so many advertising dodges to attract the public's attention to the wheel. It is here now and has come to stay. Wheeling as a recreation and a new means of locomotion is established, and has now settled down to a steady and natural growth.

THE days of parades, and picnics, and drills, and advertising jamborees of all kinds are about past, and the followers of the wheel have now cooled down to a thorough and rational enjoyment of it. In actual mileage the clubs may have fallen off some, but if there is less riding, measured by miles, there are more who ride. The big scores were mere show pieces, most of the miles being made just for the sake of the making and not for pleasure of riding. The interest in racing on the past may be less, but that has been supplied by the enthusiasm over the road races. Certainly, my friend Tommy will not say that the enthusiasm over the great team road races is lessening, or that the road racers are doing poorer work. For my part, I can see nothing but bright skies ahead. The clubs, with hardly an exception, have a larger membership than ever. All those who were simply carried away by the excitement of the first boom have dropped out, leaving the rest active members in every sense of the word.

The cause is being pushed with as much vigor as ever, but the effort is being exerted more in behalf of good roads and the establishment of wheelmen's rights. The evidences of success in both these directions are manifest on every hand in our own State, and especially in the regions frequented by Tommy's clubmates and mine. Tommy, be of a stout heart. The wheel is here to stay and grow until the cycling millennium arrives, when all benighted mankind shall have acknowledged its advantages and profited by them.

THE Executive Committee have settled the protest against Kluge, by throwing it out, and awarding him the championship medal, by a vote of three to one. Dr. E. W. Johnson showed to them that the Hudson County Wheelmen was not a League club, and that Kluge had been elected a life member, with all the privileges of active membership. The Brooklyn representatives failed to produce any proof that he was a promateur or professional; but Dr. Johnson volunteered to prove that Kluge had signed the document sent out by the Racing Board, and had sworn before a notary, that he had received no money from a manufacturer, and had paid his own expenses at meets. With this presentation of facts, and this decision of the powers that be, Kluge's eligibility to race in the contests of the Association is about settled, and the best thing all hands can do is to accept the verdict of the trial, and let the Association resume its normal state of harmony. JER C.

Nov. 28, 1887.

ARIEL AWHEEL.

THE morning of Thanksgiving Day opened cloudy and lowering, with muddy roads and streets, and about nine o'clock a slight, drizzly rain set in, dispelling any lingering hopes the wheelmen of our city may have entertained of having a pleasant run to wind up the season on. At one time it was feared that there would be so much rain that the hill-climbing contest, which was to take place at ten o'clock, would be unable to be run off. However, Jupiter Pluvius, for once, was gracious, and the skies withheld their watery deluge until afternoon.

A hill-climbing contest was something of a novelty in this locality; consequently, as the affair had been extensively advertised in the daily press, upwards of two thousand people were on hand at the place in the suburbs selected as the scene of the contest. This was the East Laurel street hill, the course being from Ninth to Tenth streets. The hill is about five hundred feet long, and has a grade of seventeen feet to the hundred, or about one in six. In addition, it was in very poor condition, the surface being rough, loose, and wet from the recent rains. I don't know anything about Corey Hill, but I'll venture to assert that every one of the men who climbed Laurel street hill this morning can make the top of Boston's famous ascent. The fact of the matter is, that the earth is piled up so all through this section of the country that we're all of us hill-climbers, willy-nilly, if we want to do any riding at all. Mr. C. R. Overman says this ought to be the home of the Safety. It will, Mr. O.; it will! Just give our people a little time to get educated up to the thing; and, by the way, it might be a good idea for you to box up one of your Safeties in that travelling boarding-house you carry around with you to hold your wheel, when you get down this way again.

The contest this morning was for a gold medal offered by Mr. Wilhelm, and, although there were a number of entries, but four started. The first was Murray Killmer, who made the top in 1.3. George Scheele came next, in 58s., and it was generally agreed by the spectators that it would take pretty lively riding to beat his time, and this proved to be the case as the last two — Chas. Miller and S. Snyder — made 1.2½, and 59½s. respectively. Mr. Scheele was awarded the prize, a very handsome medal, which he won fairly and squarely. Jack accompanied him up the hill as pace-maker, cheering him on to victory, and when his master was given the medal, looked as proud as any dog could look who felt that he had done all he could toward winning the race. Both Wilhelm and Schwartz very generously withheld from the race, but both rode against Scheele's time afterward, making it in 47½s. and 48s. respectively. It is but fair to Mr. Scheele to state that he slipped his pedals at a critical part of the hill, and that he rode the hill in a trial the other day, in 49s., climbing it three times in succession. Mr. Wilhelm started the contestants, and Chas. G. Willson and Morris Diener were the timers.

MR. HARRY WILHELM, a brother of the racing man, while training on the Five Mile House road, met with an accident that will interfere with his riding for some time. In riding in from the Kurtz House, with Murray Killmer making pace, the rubber tire of the small wheel of the Star machine which Mr. Wilhelm was riding became loosened, and he took a header, throwing him a dozen feet ahead of the machine. He fell on his right side, badly spraining his arm and otherwise injuring himself.

THIS is the second accident this week, although the other one fortunately resulted in no damage worth speaking of to the rider. Capt. Smith, of the Ariel Wheel Club, while coasting a hill on his big 58, was run into by a green rider on a Star, and sheering off sharply to get out of his way, he struck a gully and finished the coast on the re-enforcement of his League breeches. When he got up, there was n't any re-enforcement there worth speaking about. It was scattered at intervals along the surface of the hill, and now the Captain has a prejudice against the official contractors for the League uniform, just because the latter don't put in material strong enough to withstand the ordinary wear and tear of the road. He says the Safety is his mount next season. By the way, it is wonderful how these Rover type safeties have advanced this year. On all sides you hear nothing but "safety," and, if straws show which way the wind blows, then there will be an unprecedented rush for these little wheels next spring. There seems to be nothing but universal praise from those who have tried them. Far superior to either Facile, Star, or Springfield Roadster, so far as absolute safety is concerned, they embody the yet more important (if anything) feature of perfect control of the machine by back pedalling while riding down hill, relieving the rider from entire dependence upon the brake. I have seen and heard of more than one accident resulting from a brake giving way at a critical point in the descent of a steep grade. Then the luxuriousness (I use the word advisedly) of the seat. I have only tried the Crypto and the Victor safeties, but I must say that I never was on anything equal to the saddle and spring of the latter wheel. Perfectly isolated from all jar, you sway back and forth with a motion between that of a cushioned rocking-chair, cradle, and hammock, all combined. Q. E. D.? Very well; try one yourself and "be convinced," — as the advertisements say.

CAN it be possible, Mr. Editor, that the following actually occurred in Boston, the city of "cultah" and refinement, — the home of Emerson, Lowell, et al.? Surely, surely, there must be some mistake.

A Boston mother was putting her little one to bed, and said: —

"I think, Flossie, you are old enough to learn an evening prayer. I am going to say it for you, and you will repeat it after me."

"Yeth 'm," lisped the little one.

"Well, we 'll begin. Are you ready?"

"Yeth 'm. Let 'er do, Dallagher!"

READING, PA., Nov. 25, 1887. ARIEL.

THANKSGIVING SPORTS.

THOUSANDS of people crowded the old Charlestown Bridge, Thanksgiving Day, to see Mr. Alphonse King ride his marine bicycle to East Boston. His machine had two cylinders to act as floats, and paddles on the large wheel. The distance was ridden in nineteen minutes, in the face of a strong wind, and with rough water to retard his progress. Several times he was almost upset by the "wash" of passing ferry boats, but he managed to retain his balance, and landed with dry clothes. Several tugs and a small fleet of row boats followed him.

THE members of the Boston Bicycle Club enjoyed a hare-and-hounds run Thanksgiving morning, the hares winning after a run of three hours. The hounds lost the scent after riding about a mile. The run was through Brookline to Newton and return 'cross country or by road as the hares thought best. There were no accidents to interfere with the sport. The hares were Messrs. F. F. Wilson and W. H. Senter; the hounds were Messrs. P. J. Berlo, B. S. Martin, James Brown, R. H. Davis, H. H. Potter, M. B. Frost, and J. E. Bigelow. The winners received gold medals.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club held a successful hare-and-hounds run, nearly all the members riding. The run was through Hyde Park, Dedham, and Needham. The club give an entertainment and dance in Eliot Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 29.

THE Dorchester Club gave a five-mile boys' race starting at 9.15 A. M. The entries were, P. Alexander and J. Brandreau, of Boston; A. Dilloway, J. Gibbs, Mr. Hamilton, and J. E. Hall, Jr., of Dorchester. The race was a very pretty one from start to finish, and was won easily by P. Alexander, who came in, in 21.15, with hands down, with J. Brandreau three seconds behind, and the rest in close order. The roads were very heavy and the mud was against them for half the way. Considering the conditions, it looks as though Alexander will prove a tough one for the boys to tackle next season.

AFTER the finish of the boys' race the hare-and-hound run was started. Benson and Doane, of the Dorchester Club, were the hares; and Rhodes, Eddy, Forbes, Clark, and a number of others, started ten minutes after the hares. Rhodes was out of sight of the hounds at the end of a mile. The hares took for their course, Blue Hill Avenue to Atherton Street, to Paul Bridge, up Shaw's Hill to the Big Blue Hill, and trundled their machines up to the observatory and down through the woods in the direction of Houghton's Pond. Anybody familiar with this region, knows what a wild desolate country it is, and with all the hills that were ridden before Blue Hill was reached, it made it a terribly hard ride. Rhodes, however, succeeded in gaining and catching the hares on the back side of Blue Hill in the bushes, and kept on with them to the finish, which went by the way of Randolph Avenue, Milton and Codman Hills, to Mellville Avenue, through a field, across a brook, and two stone walls, through another field, where a game of foot-ball was in progress, and thence to their club rooms. Two of the hounds came in fifteen minutes later. Doane was the first hare in, and Rhodes in first hound. Benson, Doane, and Rhodes finishing in a bunch.

THE CONNECTICUT ROAD BOOK.

THE Connecticut Road Book has been "in progress" since a comparatively early date in the cycling history of the State, and the committee take pleasure in now announcing its completion. It is in press, and will be issued soon after Jan. 1 next. The State officers are not yet fully determined as to the details of its distribution and sale; but it is certain that it will be placed at the disposal of Connecticut members of the L. A. W. in a way to render it a special inducement to membership.

Material for this work has been rapidly accumulating during the last two years, and a tabulated book, similar in design and make up to Mr. Barkman's excellent Road Book of New York, had been contemplated; but after a large amount of copy had been prepared, it became apparent that the tabulated system would in the end prove hardly sufficient to afford the reader an intelligent idea of the three thousand miles of crooks and turns whereof we have succeeded in obtaining exhaustive reports in this little State of Connecticut, a territory measuring less than one hundred miles in length, and less than sixty miles in breadth. Every considerable route table would have to be interpolated with numerous variations, and nearly three hundred disconnected short routes would be jumbled together in a manner which could be only confusing to the ordinary road-book student.

The plan finally substituted in place of the tabulated method, had formerly been favorably considered by the committee, but was abandoned as impracticable, on account of its great expense; and it was only after the inadequacy of tabulation to our special requirements became more and more manifest, as the work of final preparation progressed, that the committee was moved to reconsider; and after much study, consultation, and travel, we, much to our own surprise, perhaps, succeeded in completing arrangements which rendered the new plan feasible. This change, of course, involved the loss of a large amount of labor already expended in tabulating, but to the rather unsatisfactory contemplation of this, we reconcile ourselves in the belief that we have now finished a work, nothing better than which could be derived for a complete guide to the cycling roads of Connecticut. It may be briefly described as follows: —

Messrs. J. B. Beers & Co., of New York, have been awarded a contract for maps of each county covered by our reports, — the eight counties of Connecticut and Westchester County, New York. These separate county maps will be printed from Beers' 1887 revised plates, and on each our reported roads will be reprinted in red tint, together with a simple system of Arabic and Roman numerals, indicating the character of each road, grades, etc., and referable to marginal explanatory tables. The maps will be on tough bond paper, warranted to outlast an ordinary binding, and will fold into a book of convenient pocket size, containing reading matter descriptive of the more important routes, certain through routes outside the territory mapped, hotel and consular lists, and other appropriate information.

Of the merits of Beers's map of Connecticut, special mention is hardly necessary. It has long been the standard map of the State, and no more faithful delineation of a portion of the earth's surface was ever produced on a similar scale. Every road open to public travel, cities, towns, villages, railroad stations, country post-offices, rivers, brooks, and all considerable elevations are represented, each in its true proportion and relative position. It has been proved accurate, even to the showing of our city streets. As prepared for our book, these maps show the tourist every road in the State, and with those adapted to cycling so distinctly indicated and described that a glance will afford as much essential cycling information as could be obtained from much reading of anything we could devise in the way of tabulated routes.

The accompanying letter press work will be condensed as far as possible, but will be sufficient to comprehend all necessary information not attainable from the maps alone.

This has been a costly and elaborate work for the Connecticut Division to undertake, but it will be offered entire to each member of the organization at less than the cost of a single one of these county maps, exclusive of the cycling reprint, if purchased of the ordinary dealer.

Westchester County, it may be said, was not originally contemplated, but has been added in view of its importance as a connecting link between New York City and Connecticut.

CHARLES G. HUNTINGTON,
Chairman Road Book Comm.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

LIGHT TRICYCLES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In your issue of Nov. 4 you venture the assertion that American roads will not permit the use of lighter tricycles than are at present supplied, or words to that effect.

Permit me to describe an experimental machine that I have been using part of the time since last spring and which has, so far, sustained a great deal of hard usage without breaking. I weigh about one hundred and seventy-five pounds, and am taller than the average; use a wheel for business mostly, and seldom spare it: therefore, I think, I can give a cycle a pretty thorough test.

Being experimental, this machine is somewhat heavy in construction, as will be seen from the following description: Wheels, forty and twenty-two inches, tires seven eighths all around, solid rims; Nos. 10 and 12 gauge iron spokes, not butted; brass hubs, bearings, spoked wheels, and joints; iron pipe for frame of about No. 10 gauge; malleable iron drive chain and cranks. When the iron and brass are replaced by steel, and the whole machine constructed of such materials as high-grade machines are now made of, it is evident that it will weigh little if any over two thirds of its present weight, which is sixty pounds. The great saving of weight lies in the design of the frame, which has less parts than any frame I have ever seen. It is central gear and the steering wheel is controlled through the tube that supports the pedals. Steering is effected by either or both hands without lost motion, and there is nothing on either side of the steering wheel to interfere with the mount or dismount: foot-brake on front wheel. So far, the only fault I have found, for all things have faults, is that it is a single driver; but a long, narrow wheel base so far corrects this fault that it goes as well as most tricycles having a Pritchard balance gear. Its light weight and convenience in mounting make it specially adapted for ladies' use, while it seems amply strong for anybody.

CHAS. E. DURYEA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22, 1887.

[We think our correspondent will find that we qualified our assertion regarding American roads. We believe that in some sections of the country we have roads as good, or nearly as good as those of England, but by far the greater proportion of our territory is burdened with roads that prohibit tricycle riding or else demand heavy machines. We believe that we may have lighter machines for the roads about Boston and Orange, and possibly for other districts. — ED.]

MASSACHUSETTS ROAD BOOK.

EDITOR OF BULLETIN: — I was glad to see the energetic protest in the editorial column of last BULLETIN, re road book for Massachusetts. In my experience of the "great unwashed," I find a large contingent who inquire, "What is the good of the L. A. W., any way?"

Court decisions, fraternity, or improved roads are no tangible evidence to their minds, but when you talk of twenty per cent discount, BULLETIN, and road book, you touch them where they can feel it, and they understand. One man said he "would wait and see the long-promised road book, and if it was worth the money, would join. What he will answer me next year is not hard to guess, unless the price is higher than L. A. W. dues. I sweat over a great many miles of the worst roads in the State, not that I supposed any one would be

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ✣ WHEEL ✣ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

For Sale, Cheap!

BICYCLES and TRICYCLES. Send for list before you buy, to WM. M. FRISBIE & CO., New Haven, Ct. O. P. Drawer 64.

ROVER SAFETY BI HUMBER CRIPPER TRI CYCLES.

We have fresh invoices of these Celebrated Machines, which are unequalled for RIDING ALL THE YEAR ROUND, which we have had built specially for American roads, and which we offer at attractive prices. Send for illustrated catalogues.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We want a few good second-hand wheels, 48 to 54-inch, for our local trade, and will allow full value for these in exchange for new

Rovers, Crippers, or Tandems.

LLEWELLYN H. JOHNSON,

401 Main Street . . . . . Orange, N. J.

BICYCLES ON EASY PAYMENTS.

New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto, and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories, including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on instalments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

A VALUABLE POCKET-PIECE. — Having a number of duplicate Ancient Roman Coins not less than 1,500 years old, we will send one to all sending us twenty-five cents or postal note of twenty-two cents, three for fifty-seven cents. CURIOSITY SHOP, Ellington, N. Y.

TO MEMBERS OF L. A. W. — To introduce a fine grade of portraiture I will make (from any good copy) a 20 by 24 crayon for $10. Satisfaction guaranteed. Reference: Rev. A. H. Miller, Beaver Falls; Rev. T. N. Eaton, Beaver, Pa.; Ed. Craig, captain B. V. W.; Will Bell, National Bank, Beaver Falls; W. I. Wilhelm, Harry Wilhelm, Reading, Pa.; Ernett Ceiple, National Bank, New Brighton, Pa.; Chas. Miller, Rochester, Pa.; S. Murray, Sewickley, Pa.; J. Sevin, Lettsdale, Pa.; M. G. Oliphant, 8th and Market, Philadelphia. WILL H. LEIGH, Artist, Beaver Falls, Pa., L. A. W., 7134. This offer good for ninety days only.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

E. R. STOCKWELL,
19 John St., N. Y.
Manufacturers of
RECORD PRIZES.
Bicycle and Athletic Medals.
CLUB PINS and BADGES.

League Uniforms.

John Wanamaker, Philadelphia,

OFFICIAL CONTRACTOR.

These are the prices: Coat, $6.20; Knee Breeches, $4.34; Shirt, $1.95; Hose, 80 cts.; Cap, 84 cts. Delivered without extra cost to any part of the U. S. where there is mail or express service.

Regulation League Cloth, Burlington Mills, $2.18 a yard; League Buttons, large, 5 cts. each; small, 2 1-2 cts., full set for suit, 55 cts. Uniform sent C. O. D., privilege of examining, and ONLY TO LEAGUE MEMBERS. We do not pay delivery charges on cloth.

All orders must be accompanied by League Number.

JOHN WANAMAKER,

PHILADELPHIA.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BICYCLES.

56 Club, new, $58. 52 Premier, almost new, ball bearings, $42. 48 Expert, good order, $37. 54 Harvard, splendid order, $47. 60 Champion, full nickeled, like new, $75. 50 Victor, ball bearings, $55. 52 Champion, used four weeks, $80. 48 Expert, ball bearings, $50. 46 English Bicycle, new, $35. 54 Victor Light Roadster, latest pattern, $75. 50 Harvard, spade handles, $48. 42 American Safety, $45. Springfield Roadster, new, $68. Also a job lot of new English Bicycles, with ball bearings, in 48, 50, 52, 54 and 56 inches, at only $48, and the same sizes in plain bearings at $43 each. Over 100 other second hand bicycles. ☞ SEND STAMP FOR LIST AND MENTION THIS PAPER. ☜ fool enough to ride them if they could help it, but that the road book might be completed, and I am just selfish enough to say that I did not do it for the general public, but only for that section who unite in support of the L. A. W., and in furthering its aims.

A. W. GUMP, DAYTON, OHIO.

The road book has always been one of the most telling arguments in my missionary labors, and I think the powers that be do wrong when they cheapen the labors of those who worked for it, and weaken the hands of those who recruit. L. A. W. members worked for it, paid for it, prayed for it, and I think it hard on them that their pearl should be "cast before swine."

No. 7,276.

RUBBISH.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I desire to call attention of South Jersey wheelmen to the dumping of rubbish on the side path of the Moorestown pike, about a mile west of Merchantville, causing wheelmen some uncalled-for annoyance.

"If there's a remedy, try and find it;
If there's none, never mind it."

No. 6,768.

CYCLETS.

DECEMBER.

THE year is nearly burnt out.

WE are turning over the last of the "embers."

WINTER begins in earnest, and now we can cycle but little.

WE cannot cycle, therefore we must read. Read your BULLETIN with care.

FOR you must know that it is now time to pay up, and start anew.

THE early birds are looking for worms in the shape of small numbers.

ON Dec. 1 the books were opened, and names will now go down as they are received.

WE shall use the yearly number for identification, and correspondents will please use it in writing us.

SAVE your old ticket as a souvenir. Do not send it to us. Your number is sufficient.

WE shall try to get the tickets out early. We say this with a full understanding of the old adage concerning the pavement of Satan's kingdom.

EVERYBODY that sees our ticket holder wants one. The League makes only a small margin on it, for we have insisted on the best material and the most careful work.

SINGER & Co. have built a bicycle for police use in Ireland.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club, of Jamaica Plain (Mass.), held an entertainment and dance Tuesday evening.

CAPT. E. G. WHITNEY, of the Boston Club, goes to New Mexico and California next week. He will be absent two months.

THE Kansas City Wheelmen and the Outing Cyclists have consolidated, under the name of The United Wheelmen.

IN contributing a life boat to the Life Boat Institution, the cyclists of England have made a very creditable recognition of the Jubilee year.

AMONG the Benedicts of the past week are J. D. Huggins, treasurer of the L. I. W., of Brooklyn, and D. Edgar Hunter, of racing fame.

"IF Percy Stone is reinstated, why should not I be?" said Mr. E. P. Burnham, the other day. If not, why not? We can't for the life of us see.

THREE wheelmen of Washington, D. C., were last week fined $5 apiece for violating the police ordinance requiring them to have a lighted lamp on their machines after dark.

THE Citizens' Club, of New York, has subscribed $300 for the Liberty Bill. Bravo, Citizens! The Manhattan Club has sent in $50. Bravo, Manhattan!

IN the Morgan-Keen race the Senator was victor. Veteran Jack held the lead for nearly a mile, when his tire came off, thus throwing him out of the race.

IT was n't all pleasure for those who ventured on a wheel Thanksgiving Day, but it was possible to ride. Wheelmen were thankful that it was n't any worse.

DINGLEY is said to have expressed the opinion that three hundred and sixty miles is about the distance that he is able to cover on a cycle in twenty-four hours.

THE Lynn track is not lost to cycling. The purchasers are interested in the sport and will provide entertainment of this kind. A trotting track will be built outside the cycle track.

THE New Jersey Cycling and Athletic Association is not dead yet, nor has it gone out of business. The Roseville track will be retained, and several tournaments will be held next season.

THE Thorndike Club, of Beverly, will give its sixth annual promenade concert and ball in the Beverly town hall, Dec. 15. Concert music will be furnished by the Salem Cadet Band and orchestra.

THERE is to be a seventy-two hour race on rowing tricycles at Philadelphia during Christmas week. All of the great oarsmen of the country, including Teemer, will go in, and he says he does not doubt that he can cover 850 miles.

WE regret to learn of the death of George S. Darrow, editor of the Wheelmen's Record, of Indianapolis. He died on Sunday Nov. 20, of typhoid fever. He made his paper bright and interesting, and gave it a prominent place in cycling literature, and he will be sadly missed in wheeling circles.

THE POPE MANUFACTURING CO. will put a new tricycle on the market next year. It will have a large rear wheel and two small front ones. The front will be open and the machine can be folded into a narrow compass to take through narrow doorways. The list price will be a little less than that of the standard pattern.

A NEW HAVEN wheelman has seen the item on the Pope calendar to the effect that Chicago boasts fifteen hundred cyclists, and he writes to say that little New Haven, with one eighth the population, has a thousand riders. He claims more wheelmen for New Haven, in proportion to its size, than any city in America.

T. W. MOORE, of New York, has invented a tricycle which has, according to the circular describing, "Multi-Lever Propellers," and "Er-keep-er-goin' Bearings." It has one large wheel, fifty-four inches, and two front wheels, twenty-seven inches, and the long-named bearings seem to be rollers with small rolls between them to keep them from rubbing together.

REV. LOUIS A. POPE, of Warren, R. I., a brother of Col. Pope, mounted his bicycle shortly after breakfast Friday morning, and arrived in Boston in time for dinner. Mr. Pope is one of the oldest and most practical bicyclers in the country, and for at least nine months in the year his bicycle furnishes him with his conveyance and means of exercise.

A CORRESPONDENT of the World announces that Gideon, of Philadelphia, "now relinquishes pen and pedal." We don't believe it. The old veteran still retains his tandem and his enthusiasm, and Mr. and Mrs. G. look forward to many rides next season, including a tour about Boston. The idea that "Gid" can lay aside the pedal is one not to be cherished for a moment.

IT is proposed to present Woodside with a souvenir of the cowboy 7c. bicycle race, in view of his splendid performance in it. He not only rode the grand distance of 422 miles 4 laps in 24 hours, riding four hours a day — which is equal to close on 18 miles an hour — but he worthily upheld cycling against horses by covering 15 miles more than the leading cowboy in the same length of time.

THE revival of the scheme to pave Market Street with bituminous rock, and the gradual extension of this kind of pavement, together with the evidently growing favor with which the Santa Cruz bituminous rock is regarded by the public arouses the hope that San Francisco may shortly have a system of clean, smooth, noiseless pavement, which will make this city as much a wheelman's delight as Washington is. If all that is claimed for the Santa Cruz rock is realized, it will be the best and cheapest paving material possible to obtain, when the almost inexhaustible deposits of it, and their near location to the city, are considered. — San Francisco Chronicle.

THE scene was Hampton, and adown the gentle slope the bounding bicycler came, legs over. Towards the bottom occurred a patch of stones with a narrow passage on the one side, and in this narrow pass stood a yokel in all the glory of his Sunday war paint, inciuding flaming necktie, Lewis's 2s. hat, and clean straw pipe. Bell made no impression, neither did the cyclist's stentorian voice, and as the rider did not care to disarrange that carpet of cut stones, he dropped his feet on to the pedals, and, sailing close to that yokel, brought his brawny palm upon the 2s. tile, smashing it, and landing the wearer on the many-cornered stones, likewise shivering that brand new clay. The cyclist went on his way rejoicing, and the yokel picked himself up, reciting the Athanasian Creed backwards and ruefully regarding the battered tile and shattered pipe, likewise commenting forcibly upon the sharp corners of the aforesaid stones. — Sport and Play.

THE Indiana Division has a plan for disseminating a knowledge of the rights of wheelmen among farmers and the rural classes. The following will be adopted, says the Wheelmen's Record, as being the cheapest and most effective: —

"Country papers all use what is known as patent plates. These they buy of the news companies, at so much a column, use them once, and return them to be used over again until worn out. We propose furnishing plates of this kind, containing the matter we wish printed. The matter will not only consist of extracts of decisions of the courts on wheelmen's rights, but general information regarding the wheel and its uses, with an occasional humorous sketch to liven things up. These plates we will send out a column at a time to a dozen different papers, and by changing plates every week, a running fire can be kept up in each paper for a considerable time on a limited quantity of matter. The country editor will no doubt welcome the plates as a saving on his composition bill, for we will furnish the plates free, if he will print all we send him. In this way fifteen or twenty columns of matter, with say ten plates from each column, can be made to do duty for the whole State. The expense will not be over fifty dollars, and the Division will be vastly better off. The plan is not copyrighted and we suggest to other Divisions to try it."

VICTORS!

Easiest Hill Climbers, ——— Fastest Coasters.

STIFFEST, STRONGEST AND HANDSOMEST!

You will make a mistake if you buy without seeing them. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., MAKERS OF VICTOR BICYCLES, TRICYCLES AND SAFETIES, 182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE, BOSTON.

THE Binghamton (N. Y.) Club rejoices in the completion of the cinder path between Binghamton and Union, a distance of nine miles. The club expended eight hundred dollars in the work, and may well be proud of what they have accomplished. Will some Binghamton wheelman send us a full description of the path, its width, depth, construction, course as compared to the highway, etc.? Other localities may desire to borrow from their experience.

A ROAD race between teams chosen from the R. I. Wheelmen and the Crescent Cycle Club, both of Providence, took place on Thansgiving Day. The course was six miles long. Several tumbles took place, and the men finished as follows: G. P. Hutchins, R. I. (1); E. R. Phillips, C. C. (2); C. E. Munroe, C. C. (3); G. W. Bugbee, C. C. (4); A. F. Clapp, R. I. (5); E. M. Bixby, R. I. (6). Hutchins, Clapp, and Bixby took bad falls, Hutchins covered the distance in 23.40½.

THE secretary of the Surrey Wheelers, an English cycling club, has been officially thanked by the Postmaster-General, for the services rendered by some members of the club in conveying the mail bags to their destination on account of an accident to the Beckenham mail cart, which had been upset, and the horse fatally injured, by a recklessly driven trap. The offender also was chased and caught by a member of the club.

THOUSANDS of people gathered to see Prof. King ride on a marine bicycle from Boston to East Boston, on Thanksgiving Day, and it is said that the Professor won a wager of one thousand dollars by accomplishing the feat. And yet the Portsmouth marine bicycle, that was used several years ago in New England waters, was wont to be propelled to the Isle of Shoals and to other outside points, and in one case it was ridden from Salem to Boston in a driving snowstorm.

THERE is some talk of holding a first-class bicycle tournament in Buffalo next summer, bringing hither the crack riders of England and the United States. If Henry E. Ducker, who acquired a national reputation by his successful management of the famous Springfield tournaments, and who is now a resident of Buffalo, can be persuaded to put his inexhaustible energy into such a scheme, the tournament would beyond a question prove the sporting event of the season, although previous attempts to excite general interest hereabouts in bicycle racing have been unavailing. In the Eastern cities larger crowds are attracted to the race tracks during the week of the bicycle tournament than at any other time in the year. — Buffalo Courier.

THE death is announced of William Woodside, a former Philadelphian, at Dunduan House, Coleraine, Ireland, on Saturday last. Mr. Woodside was a native of Ireland. In 1846, he started in the wholesale tea business with his two brothers, John and Robert, in the firm of John Woodside & Co., on Front Street below Chestnut. They dissolved partnership during the war, after each of them had amassed a fortune. William Woodside visited this country three times since he retired from business, each time to recover his health. He leaves a widow and a family, one of his sons, William M. Woodside, being noted as an English bicyclist. The third brother, Robert Woodside, is still living in Ireland. — Philadelphia Express.

JESSIE OAKES, who hails from England, has thus addressed Miss Elsa Von Blumen: "I wish, by this card, to challenge you to a bicycle contest, which shall determine the relative speed and endurance of American and English lady bicycle riders. I recognize the fact that you hold the leading position among lady bicyclists of America, and for that reason, as an English rider, I wish to issue this challenge to you. I do not desire to insist upon any conditions beyond stipulating that we shall both ride crank machines, and that each of us shall have the liberty of selecting the make and the weight of wheels. If you accept this challenge, I think we can easily agree as to time, place, and distance. We can then arrange the necessary details and conditions. I only ask that as early a date as may be convenient to you may be selected. I suggest that, as consideration, the winner of the race take the larger percentage of the receipts."

A SHORT time since, W. B. Everett & Co. built an iron oven in the basement of their store, for the purpose of baking the enamel on their wheels. On Tuesday of last week the oven was in use, when suddenly the gas which heats the oven went out. Instead of turning the supply off, Mr. W. L. Ross, Mr. Everett's superintendent, who, with Mr. Butcher, of cyclometer fame, was in the cellar, lighted a taper and started to ignite the gas again. Both these gentlemen then approached the oven, Ross with a taper; but no sooner did they open the oven door and apply the light than a terrific explosion took places. When found by those who went down to investigate the trouble, both men were discovered lying on the floor badly bruised and burned, and insensible. The injuries are very painful, though not of a serious nature. Both gentlemen were removed to their respective homes as soon as practicable, and at latest accounts are doing well. The explosion broke a good deal of plate glass, some of which fell on some passers-by, doing a little damage.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE. — A 54-inch 1887 New Mail Bicycle, in good condition, best offer over $75 takes it. D. L. EMANUEL, Catasauqua, Pa.

FOR SALE. — Or will exchange Remington typewriter in A No. 1 condition, has had about nine months' steady use, for a Columbia bicycle. Address A. C. PHILIPS, 200 East 4th St., Wilmington, Del.

WANTED. — 48-inch Expert Columbia or Rudge Light Roadster, must be in perfect condition; give lowest price for cash, also full description, year made, finish, condition, etc. J. C., JR., 40 East 68th St., New York.

FOR SALE. — One 56-inch Expert Columbia, ball bearings throughout, in good condition; best offer over $80 takes it; also, one 52-inch Rudge Roadster. E. F. AUSTIN, 175 St. Clair St., Toledo, O.

BUFFALO HOME TRAINER FOR SALE CHEAP. — Been ridden very little by one rider; practically new. also, 53-inch Apollo bicycle, in splendid order; price, $75; a bargain. C. A. C., Box 2384, Boston.

FACILE, 42-INCH, EQUAL TO 50 OR 52-INCH, ordinary; cow-horn handle bars, extra saddle; is in first-class condition; will sell very cheap. Address M. R. CONNELL, room 42, Grand Central Depot, New York, N. Y.

BARGAIN EXTRAORDINARY. 50-inch New Rapid 1887 pattern, all improvements, good condition. Will sel very low for immediate cash.

NEW RAPID,
112 Orange St., New Haven, Conn.

PHOTOGRAPHS. — Cabinet size of T. Stevens, S. G. Whittaker, W. A. Rowe, F. Foster, H. G. Crocker, G. M. Hendee, W. E. Crist, A. B. Rich, R. A. Nielson, E. P. Burnham, C. P. Adams, E. De Blois, Willie Harradon, F. Wood, C. F. Frazier, A. McCurdy, Victor Team, Hal. W. Greenwood. At twenty-five cents each. Address F. H. ROBERTS, Collinsville, Ill.

FOR SALE. — One 53 and 55 inch, new, 1887 Columbia Light Roadster; best offer over $100 received before Dec. 1 takes either. One new 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle at best offer over $125 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit.

STAR. — 48-inch Special Star, enamelled, with all improvements, never been ridden; will sell cheap, as I have no use for it. Address M. C. S., care Letter Carrier, No. 58, Boston, Mass.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES. — Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, Standard maker, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agent for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list, NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

BICYCLE. — 58-inch, full-nickelled Expert, ball pedals, in good condition; price $75. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THE RETURN OF a 50-inch full nickelled Columbia bicycle, No. 12,220, 1887 style, double grip handles. Stolen from WM. P. RADLEY, 324 W. 47th Street, New York.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE PATH.

NEW BEDFORD, NOV. 24.— Races under the auspices of the New Bedford Cycle Club.

Five-Mile for President's Medal.— C. L. Dunham (1), 21.23 5 8; F. L. Wing (2).

Half-Mile Dash. — H. Smith (1), 1.37½; A. L Blackmer (2).

Quarter-Mile. — H. Smith (1), 38 sec.; F. L. Wing (2).

WILMINGTON, DEL., NOV. 24.— Races under the auspices of the Wilmington Wheel Club.

Half-Mile. — S. W. Merrihew (1), 1.42; B. F. McDaniel (2).

Two-Mile State Championship.— J. S. Bertolette (1), 8.20.

One-Mile Four-Minute Class. — N. R. Bertolette (1), 3.47; A. Jefferis (2).

Two-Mile Handicap. — B. F. McDaniel, scratch (1), 7.20; S. D. Wilson, 100-yards (2).

One-Mile Novice.— R. Dallett (1), 3.46; S. G. Wilson (2).

One-Mile Handicap.—B. F. McDaniel, scratch (1), 3.33; A. Jefferis, 115 yds. (2).

Three-Mile Lap.— B. F. McDaniel (1), 12.15; F. M. Dampman (2).

THE CLUB.

AT a meeting of the Cincinnati Bicycle Club, held Oct. 31, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, H. S. Livingston; captain, C. M. Galway; secretary, W. H. Miller; treasurer, M. A. High; first lieutenant, J. R. Pigman, Jr.; second lieutenant, T. M. Schultz; club committee, A. A. Bennett, A. Wilhelmy, H. W. Longley.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

ALABAMA APPOINTMENT.

UPON recommendation of several members in the State, I take pleasure in hereby appointing R. H. Polk, Montgomery, as Chief Consul for Alabama.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Pres.

MARYLAND APPOINTMENT.

J. KEMP BARTLETT, JR., having for business reasons tendered his resignation as Chief Consul of Maryland, I hereby appoint A. E. Mealy, 110 South Howard Street, Baltimore, to succeed him.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Pres.

MASSACHUSETTS APPOINTMENT.

WM. A. MOSMAN, of Jamaica Plain, is appointed a representative for Massachusetts.

H. W. HAYES, C. C.

DELAWARE APPOINTMENT.

W. S. LETHERBURY is appointed local consul for Middletown, Del.

J. E. PALMER, C. C.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 115 — Total 5 — 11,842.

BOSTON, Dec. 2 1887.

KANSAS DIVISION — 1. — 179.

Unattached.

17159 Toers, Henry T., Newton.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 4. — 2,298.

Albany Wheelmen.

17160 MacCormack, Harry H., Slingerlands.

Ilderan Bi. Club.

17156 Burton, Roy, Citizen Office, Brooklyn.

17157 Robertson, N. A., 203 Sterling Pl., "

Kings County Wheelmen.

17158 Snyder, J. S., 62 So. 9th St., "

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

OUR LITTLE FLYER.

STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER

Has closed the season for us with the most wonderful road performance ever recorded by the wheel press, making in the 24 hours, on an ordinary 51-inch Light Champion taken out of stock and weighing 40 pounds, the phenomenal distance of 323 MILES.

Proofs of the ride have been submitted to the interested press, and this record has been accepted by every cycle paper in the country without a single dissenting voice, and the doubter has but to write any cycling editor to become himself convinced.

The American Cycles are road machines, and strong enough for the toughest American roads. They hold every American road record from 10 miles up to 24 hours; hence it would seem that they run even more easily than the frail and specially constructed wheels that our competitors have used in their futile attempts to wrest the records from riders of Champions.

Oh, but the bearings do tell, sure enough!

And that little track trial of Dingley's, at Lynn, on a 36-lb. Champion, still stands at the head, notwithstanding that most of the racing cracks, on racing machines, mind you, have had a go at it. In the words of Sammy Hollingsworth, "It was a wonderful record."

If you wish to purchase the best and easiest running road machines in the world, correspond with

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, DECEMBER 9, 1887. | VOL. V. No. 23. WHOLE NUMBER, 128.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress Street - - - - - BOSTON.

New York Headquarters, George R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

IF those who say the League does nothing, will look in upon the Rights and Privileges Committee, we think they will be undeceived. It is a common remark that the wheelman now has his rights, and there is no need for a National Association; but the records of our Legal Committee will show that this is far from true. We think that no year since the League was formed has shown so many legal cases as that just past will exhibit. In another column, a correspondent tells what was done in Oil City, Pa.; and the cases in Nebraska and Illinois are fresh in the minds of members. New York has now an interesting case, which will be pressed to a solution.

As Dr. Wm. M. Pettit, of Lockport, N. Y., was riding his wheel on the highway, about three miles out from that city, Nov. 23, he was met by a farmer, driving a team attached to a heavy wagon; the farmer kept the road, though the Doctor turned out as far as possible, and deliberately ran the wheelman down, driving over his wheel and wrecking it. The Doctor is one of the best known riders in Lockport; and the local wheelmen have taken up his case and will press it to a solution. They will have the assistance of the New York Division and the National Association, and the farmer will be made to know that the wheel has equal rights on the road with his farm wagon. The farmer has had his fun, and now he will be made to pay dearly for it.

OUR correspondent "Bon" regretted in his article of last week that the renewals of League clubs were not to be published. We don't know where he got the idea that they were not to be published, for it has never been our intention to omit them. We have tried to introduce some system in the recording of League clubs, and it is important to us that they be published, for we shall not enter any name on the list this year, unless we get a certificate from the secretary, stating that the club continues with the League. We cannot take it for granted that a club is with us, because a secretary sends a long list of names, for very many clubs that are not on the list send in a large proportion of their memberships. Club secretaries will oblige us by sending with their renewal lists a brief certificate as follows: "This certifies that the Blank Club continues a League club for the year 1888. Blank, Sec." Clubs that have sent in lists without certificates, will oblige us by sending them without delay, and we will withhold publication of club renewals till next week.

THE case of Rowland Evans, bicycler, of Philadelphia, against A. Carnell, butcher, for assault with a whip while Mr. Evans was riding his wheel in Fairmount Park, last spring, was decided Tuesday, Nov. 22, and in spite of the fact that Mr. Evans's testimony as to the assault was corroborated in every detail, and the butcher admitted that he used his whip "accidentally," the jury decided in favor of the defendant and against the bicycle. When the evidence was all in, every one thought that the case was sure for Mr. Evans, but it seems that some of the jurymen were drivers, and doubtless each felt "a bit of a road hog himself," so found for their fellow porker. Judge Mitchell, on receipt of the verdict, remarked that he could not see how any jury could possibly have brought in such a verdict. Hereafter, it is probable that Philadelphia athletes on bicycles will not stop to carry their cases to court, but will administer justice promptly on the spot. Pennsylvania seems to be a good field for League work.

WE are tired of the cry, "The League does nothing!" Take away the BULLETIN and the disadvantages of the want of a medium for communication between the officials and members would be keenly felt. Take away all the committees who are laboring for the rights of wheelmen, for free transportation of wheels, and for the regulation of racing, etc., etc., and it would be quickly seen that the League had been doing something.

IT is frequently said that the divisions do all the work. With all due credit to the divisions for what they have done, we object to the statement. The National body gets fifty cents from each renewal, and for this it must supply a paper weekly, besides doing all the routine work of the association. If members will look about them and see what weekly cycling papers charge per year for their journals, they perhaps may see what the League does for the half-dollar.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

THE verdict rendered by the jury in the recent Evans-Carnell case has set Philadelphia cyclers by the ears; indignation is loudly expressed, and woe betide the luckless horseman who next uses his whip on an athletic wheelman in this City of Brotherly Love. He may well expect to go home minus much cuticle, and plus collections of extravasated blood in spots exhibitable to best advantage. For be it known to the uninitiated, that the average wheelman is not infrequently a more than average boxer, and is usually in much better physical condition than individuals inclined to too free use of the whip and other stimulants. The Philadelphia News deserves a vote of thanks from the wheelmen, for its editorial championship of their cause, as follows: —

"Every man and boy in Philadelphia, who owns or uses a bicycle, is interested in the wonderful verdict of 'not guilty,' rendered in the case of Albert Carnell, charged with whipping Rowland Evans while the latter was riding last summer in Fairmount Park. Judge Mitchell, before whom the case was tried, says that the verdict amazed him. Every one who heard the evidence was amazed at the result of the jury's deliberations. Perhaps no one was more amazed than Carnell himself, who will hereafter feel that no bicyclist has any rights which he or any one else is bound to respect.

"The law gives bicycles the same right of way enjoyed by other vehicles, stipulating only that they must use a bell in the daytime and a lantern at night as a signal of approach. This is common-sense. Bicycles are used by thousands of persons in every great city in the country, and if drivers have horses that are afraid of the two-wheeled vehicles, they should overcome the terror of the steeds by a short course of training, as is done with horses afraid of engines and street cars.

"Riders of bicycles will probably have to pool their interest in cases of assault by hot-headed horsemen, until several of the latter are convicted and punished. It seems clear that nothing else will protect the host of those who enjoy a 'spin on the wheel.'"

Hurrah for the News! Not much of the "horsey" about that, is there? Albeit lots of "horse-sense."

"The Evans suit was brought upon the criminal charge of assault and battery, and as an appeal is not permissible, the advisability of bringing suit for damages is now under consideration by Mr. Evans, who will probably institute further proceedings. Another case will come up before Magistrate Clarke, shortly. Kirk Brown and R. C. Swayze, of the Century Wheelmen, are the plaintiffs, and the defendant is a saloon-keeper on Eighth Street near Bainbridge. On Sunday, Nov. 13, Brown and Swayze were wheeling down Sweet Briar Hill in the West Park, when the man drove up behind them and tried to run them down, at the same time using abusive and profane language. The two cyclers kept out of his way until they reached Girard Avenue bridge, where they had him arrested. He promised to appear before a magistrate, on the following morning, but failed to keep the agreement, and went out of town. Last week a warrant was served upon him, and to-day he is to appear before Magistrate Clarke to answer the charge of using profane and obscene language in the Park.

"These cases are of rare occurrence in the Park now, as most of the horses have become accustomed to bicycles, and are no longer afraid of them. Far more trouble is experienced with the drivers of heavy teams in the country, who frequently embrace an opportunity to worry wheelmen, particularly in Jersey."

The Century had their annual election of officers last week, and it speaks well for the harmony of the club that but one nomination was made for each office, and of course every election was unanimous. Mr. Frank Read now enjoys the biblical distinction of the man with two masters, as he is president of both the Century and Germantown. It does one good to hear his enthusiastic indorsement of the Century boys as a lot of active, progressive, clean-spirited young men whose association is a credit to any city. The Century will keep open house on January 1, and will have their second "hare and hounds" on Christmas morning. The new list of officers is, Frank Read, president; Thomas Hare, vice-president; R. C. Swayze, secretary; P. S. Collins, treasurer; and W. T. Fleming the "8,000 miler," captain.

By the way, the friendly discussion between members of the Century and the South End as to which originated the hare-and-hounds meeting in Philadelphia is entirely unnecessary. In the good old days of cycling, when the Germantown was the most active, and had the hardest riders of any of the clubs, several hare-and-hounds races were run under the auspices of the Germantown Bicycle Club. The first, in 1880, had Thomas K. Longstreth (president of the Philadelphia Club, and father of cycling in Philadelphia), Joseph Pennell, and Warren H. Poley (first captain of the Germantown) for hares, and the dance they led the luckless hounds was a caution, being finally caught by F. W. Corse, and one or two others. A second meeting a year later had Corse, Gideon, and Tatum for the hares, and they were never headed, coming in with an increased lead of over a mile. An effort still later to run out through the Park was stopped by the authorities, because of the necessity for leaving a trail by torn paper, against the rules of the Park.

So, you see, neither Century nor South End can claim precedence on this score.

PHACTO.

ST. LOUIS.

LINDELL GORDON, Tom Reynolds, and Will Parkhurst are back already from their trip to Central America. Their stay was cut short by the beginning of the rainy season, which set in on their arrival, and caused them to think they had hoodooed the country. They brought back a number of tiger skins, which they claimed to have got legitimately, and say they saw a lot of monkeys. These latter made them homesick, as they suggested the sweet airs of home and childhood's singing. And then, after seeing any of these monkeys, Tom would manage to run foul of a guitar and torture out some American melody that would bring tears to both his companions' eyes, and they would cry, "Lord, is n't our lot hard enough, anyway?" They came back much sooner than they expected, as there was no use staying in the country until the rain was over. They did buy some horses at Truxillo for $80, and plunged into the interior, and a plunge it was, literally, as what time they were not wallowing in the mud they were swimming suddenly swollen streams. Altogether, they have poor recollections of the country, but a high appreciation of the shrewdness of the natives, who induced them to pay $80 each for horses which they were glad to sell later on for $50. This bargain, I think, is less a credit to the natives' shrewdness than a tribute to the trio's devotion to the wheel in the past, which had left them unable to tell anything about the value of a horse. Wait till the "tired trio," as the Post-Dispatch calls them, go to England, and want to buy a bike. Then see who will get left. Of course, they found no "bicyclable" roads in their brief wanderings, as the roads there are nearly all bridle paths.

I AM sorry to see that Mr. Belding has seen fit to misinterpret my little joke about his physician saying the De Soto road was hard to ride, and to say that in the joke there lay hidden the insinuation that he tried to dodge the race with Greenwood. Since then, however, I have formed the opinion that Belding did n't want to race Greenwood, and I believe that every wheelman in the city holds the same opinion. And this is a credit to Belding, as I, as a friend of his, would be sorry to see him, a married man, attempting to beat Greenwood over the dangerous road. But I am sorry he did what looks like dodging. I would have preferred to see him manfully say he would n't race, rather than attack the truthfulness of a brother wheelmen, who quoted him as challenging Greenwood. It would have been better for him all around, as the card in the BULLETIN of the 25th, denying a statement, has called out Prof. Stone, who declares that Belding did make the statement, with the qualification which I mentioned, I think, and which we all understood, — that he was to train before racing. Belding now admits that he made that qualified statement, which is all the vindication I want.

THE success achieved by the Missouri Club in the formation of the singing department suggests the wide field which lies open to the club. No other organization has such facilities for general advancement, and such a membership to take advantage of them. By that I mean, that a bicycle club is preëminently composed of young men. They have the enthusiasm and time necessary for progressing along the several lines a club opens to them. Other large clubs are not so. They are composed of older members, men who are engaged in the cares of business and have no thought but to rest and find luxurious amusement. To them, amusement that requires any degree of physical exertion is not amusement. In a bicycle club like the Missouris look at the advantages: A large membership to recruit from; a fine meeting place; the support and encouragement of a large club. Would not it have been lamentable if these advantages had been overlooked forever? Take the athletic advantages: An immense unsurpassed gymnasium; competent instructors among the members themselves; opportunities for bathing unequalled. Would it not be lamentable if these chances should be neglected, and the members a year hence, with a few exceptions, know as little of the apparatus as they know now?

AT the last meeting of the Missouri Club I had a talk with James W. Grahame, Professor of Physical Culture, who was looking about quite a deal surprised at the fine appointments on every hand. "What do you think of this, professor?" said I. "I think," he replied, "this one of the finest places in the way of arrangement that I ever saw. From the location of the club and its appointments, it ought to be made a centre in the West End. And it could be, too, if the young men in the membership realized their opportunities. From what I have seen of them, they are in a great measure well-built, likely young fellows with any end of capital, physically, to be developed."

BERT TAYLOR is a good rider, — about as good as they are found here or hereabouts, — but he will quit trying tricks on the road. He started out one or two Sundays ago, for a spin to the park. As usual with him, he adopted his dangerous and very cute tactics of grasping his companion's handle bars, trying to shake hands, etc. On reaching the top of Lindell Hill, he was not content with coasting ordinarily, but insisted upon standing up in the saddle, and all the while his wheel's velocity was increasing. Finally, he said he would stand up and let go of the handles. Somebody warned him, but no, he would do it. He did do it, and a great deal more. He joined the wheel in making a fricassee of legs and spokes, and hair and dust. Where each had been divorced from the other, one was lying twisted and bent in the road; the other was bent over and twisting around in all sorts of shapes, holding his head, and asking in pitiable accents, "What did the mule kick me for?" What little riding Bert does now is done sitting on the seat.

OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4, 1887.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

DIED, Nov. 30, at Chelsea, Mass., Miss Nellie M. Hollis. A devoted daughter, a cherished sister, a noble woman, and an enthusiastic cycler.

SHE was with us the first day of the North Shore trips of 1886 and 1887, and though her stay was brief she made many friends. She took to the wheel last year, and entered into the sport with all the enthusiasm she was capable of, and this is saying very much. But though her spirit was never flagging, her body was weak, and it was not long before her physician told her she was doing too much. It was with much reluctance that she curtailed her rides, and she was obliged with a heavy heart to give up the trip to the North Shore. Those who have heart trouble, fall an easy prey to disease, and when our friend was stricken with pneumonia, she was taken away after an illness of a few days. She leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss, for she was one beloved of many. Her loss to the household, in which she was an important factor, is irreparable. Her memory will long remain a cherished one in the minds of all who knew her.

THANKSGIVING Day is gone, but we are still thankful for the bounty of good roads and fine weather. We are well into winter, with no sign of snow upon the ground, and the hard and smooth roads invite the cycler to mount and away.

I WAS shown a new bicycle the other day, and the inventor was loud in its praises. I believe that I am one of a very few who have seen the new wheel, for it is built upon new principles, and is very much unlike the ordinary machine. It was shown to me, not because it was thought I ought to be interested in that especial wheel, but for the purpose of explaining to me how, with a few alterations, the wheel could be changed to one which ladies could ride.

I CAN easily see how the purpose of the inventor can be accomplished, and how a machine with but two wheels can be made for ladies' use, but I think it will be harder to find the lady rider than to make the machine.

I THINK I have said all this before, and I have a recollection that my remarks were taken exception to by a correspondent, who claimed for the bicycle a greater degree of lightness, a single track with the accompanying ease of going over roads impassible to the three wheeler, and many other advantages. With all due respect to my critic, I still believe that the ladies do not care for a machine that they have to dismount from every time they stop, that they cannot easily mount, — for remember we have to adjust skirts when we get upon a machine, — and that they have to keep in balance all the time. I may be a mistaken exponent of the sex in my position, and I am willing to see a demonstration of my error, but I firmly believe that the ideal machine for ladies will have not less than three wheels and weigh less than fifty pounds.

AN Irish girl writes a very bright and sparkling letter to a Dublin paper, in which she tells of her experiences on the wheel, and notes several runs by a club of lady riders, who go on "primrose hunts" and berrying excursions. She says: —

"We formed a kind of small private club among ourselves, when we became fairly good riders, — three or four other girls, my sister, and myself. We dressed alike, in most approved cycling costume, arranged 'club rides,' and always went, 'come wind, come weather,' unless the latter was something too appalling. We had 'runs' twice a week, then came home to tea at alternate houses, on the different days, and generally ended by very social pleasant evenings. We were each allowed to invite one gentleman to join our party, but did not always avail ourselves of the privilege (?), but Jack and one or two of his friends frequently hinted strongly that they desired an invitation, so then we allowed them to come, if they promised to ride slowly, and keep to our pace. And we had several delightful expeditions in the spring, 'primrose hunting.' We used to bring home baskets full of them, which made the house look so sweet, as if a little breath of the country had come in to gladden the dull town; and violets, too, what searches we had for them along the green banks; and I always liked to get plenty of moss, which looks so pretty when settled with flowers. We had many an impromptu 'afternoon tea party' up the country too, for we seldom started without a supply of refreshments safely strapped on to our machines, as we found that the keen mountain air produced excellent appetites, and, with the help of an obliging cottage dame, we had little trouble in preparing 'the cup that cheers,' etc."

I HAVE had only two records this week. One comes from Boston and tells of the rides of Mrs. M., who wheels about on a single machine in company with her husband, who rides a bicycle. She tells me that she has recorded 1,800 miles, including a long ride on a tour of 200 miles. Miss H. S. B. has ridden from Newton (Mass.) to Worcester on one occasion, to South Framingham twice, and to Natick a great many times. She thinks she has a record not far from 1,000 miles, though she can only estimate her distance. She advises colored glasses for riding during the summer when the sun is hot, and the roads are all of a glare, and says that they relieve aching eyes and aching heads, which naturally follow riding without these.

I HAVE not yet heard from Orange, N. J., where the ladies run up records which put ours to the blush, nor have I heard from the Brooklyn ladies. I hope that all will contribute to the cause by letting the world know what woman can do on the wheel.

DAISIE.

THE OWL.

SO George D. Gideon has forsaken the wheel, after his years of service in its behalf, with both wheel and pen. Well, I am sorry; but, then, a man may go out of cycling without cycling going out of him, and I hope this may prove to be Gideon's case.

MANY old fossils object to cycling because a man riding a wheel is so apt to lose his balance: but that 's no argument. How many of these same old moss-backs lose their balance through broken banks and skipping cashiers, but they don't use that as any argument against banks, do they?

I DON'T want to trespass upon "Daisie's" prerogative by introducing into my notes matter relative to the fair sex, but, you see, she only claims to look at it from a "feminine point of view," while I, per force of circumstances, must present the other side of the question in writing up the subject as it is viewed by men. With my apologies, therefore, as above, I will proceed to give my ideas in relation to the whereasness of the why, as to the cause of the slow increase of woman tricyclists. Almost the first thing that seems to stagger the fair neophyte when she is brought to face a tricycle for her first lesson, is the fact that she must use a saddle similar to those used by the sterner sex; then, forthwith, in nine cases out of ten, some idiotic idea of outraged propriety gets possession of her, and she at once and forthwith abandons all idea of becoming a rider, simply because she cannot sit upon a tricycle in the idiotic manner in which custom and fashion awkwardly place her upon a horse. Woman, as a rule, is an imitative creature, and follows blindly in the footsteps of any one of her sex who may be bold or foolish enough to set her an example; hence, when a deformed queen of England, some centuries ago, was compelled to ride horseback sideways, from physical incapacity to do otherwise, the women of the civilized world have felt compelled ever since to ride in the same way. The attitude which a woman is forced to assume on a side saddle is the perfection of awkwardness, to say nothing of the twisted spine and cramped position of the legs, and yet, as before stated, I verily believe that the lack of fair recruits to the cause of cycling arises more from the fact that the vehicle and its saddle are made primarily for healthfulness and grace, which has more to do with the absence of woman riders than all others put together. Some day, perhaps, a shrewd maker will invent a tricycle, and adopt some spine-deforming side-saddle, and then the fair sex, fearing not Mrs. Grundy, will rush pell-mell into cycling; but until then, I have not much hopes of any great number of the fair sex becoming riders.

IN the New York World of Sunday appears an article from the able pen of Mrs. John Sherwood, entitled "The Future of the Park," in which that lady urges many English innovations for its improvement, prominent among which she thinks should be the setting apart of some stretch of road therein for a parade of all the fashionable turnouts, similiar to that in Hyde Park, London, known as the "Ladies' Mile." Of course, from this estimable lady's point of view, this would be a vast improvement over existing arrangements, as it would enable all of our Anglo-maniacs to imagine themselves in "dear old London, don't cher know," without their having to go three thousand miles to actually get there, but to the more sensible part of the community, of whom the wheelmen are a part, at least in regard to the use of the park roadways, I am afraid the plan won't meet with any hearty support. If Mrs. Sherwood, though, really does want to see a "Ladies' Mile" in Central Park, if she will only set the date, I will be pleased to accompany her and show it to her. All that will have to be done, will be for us to await the passing of one of the unwashed, in his variegated uniform, with his legs working at right angles to the wheel he is riding, and I am sure she will see a lady smile, wherever he passes one.

I SAW a case of an expert's opinion of the beneficial points of cycling as an exercise, the other day, that rather put its merits in a new light to me. A gentleman who is at the same time the secretary of one of the most prominent wheel clubs here, and of the leading tennis club in the country, found himself gradually arriving at a point in which chronic insomnia was threatened him, and he went at once to an eminent authority on mental complaints, who, in questioning him to ascertain the cause thereof, found that the gentleman had been devoting all of his spare time to tennis, neglecting his cycling almost entirely. The expert's decision was, no more tennis, but any amount of bicycling; and yet this man of science had never seen a bicycle nearer than passing one in the Park, and could not, therefore, be accused of being prejudiced in the advice he gave. The ground on which he based this decision was, that the nervous organization of the patient was caused to be overtaxed through the study of the game in his tennis playing, thus injuring more than benefiting him; while in cycling, his mind dwelt only on the passing scene, and the exercise and fresh air thus gained were left to benefit the rider to the fullest extent. I am not physician enough to determine whether these arguments are valid; but in the case in point, I do know that the gentleman quit tennis, went back to cycling, rode often, and has never had to consult the man of medicine since. This is not an ad., it is a fact.

HARRY COREY has, as usual, given us one of the earliest and most impartial reviews of the English wheel-market, in his recent article in the Boston Herald. I always look upon this report of Harry's, when he returns from his annual jaunt abroad, as the first official forecast of the coming season's wheels in America which, as a rule, are of course formulated after the prevailing ideas abroad.

I WAS almost astonished when I read an article from your Philadelphia correspondent last week, wherein he quoted a prominent rider there as saying, in regard to the secession idea now so popular in that village, that "we have the right to chose the devil if we want him" (this refers to his Satanic Majesty representing them on the Board of Officers L. A. W.), "and they (the Board) should not object." This peculiar idea is worthy of Philadelphia. I agree with them in saying that if the devil was a fit representative of Philadelphia cycling that he should be chosen by them, but there is certainly another side to the question, and the gentlemen who compose the Board of Officers certainly should be allowed to have something to say about those who consort with them, and there are a number of them who would object to the presence of the devil, even though he was there as a representative of Philadelphia, and it was perhaps this class who have caused this cry of secession to be raised. I wonder if the "milk in the cocoanut" cannot be explained by the following lines in the article quoted, "the matter of sending a check each year, directly from the club treasury, for a hundred or hundred and twenty-five dollars, is a matter they feel obliged to carefully consider." Of course a Philadelphia club should "carefully consider" the sending of such an amount to any organization that they suspect to be capable of refusing to accept the devil as the representative of Philadelphia wheelmen, should he be chosen by them for that purpose.

THE OWL.

MR. ALBERT ELY, of the Cleveland Bicycle Club, was a visitor at the Missouri Club-house yesterday. He is a prominent cyclist of the Ohio city, and is connected with the Cleveland Race Track Association. The burden of his talk was on the decay of racing, and the certainty of his track going the way of the short-lived Lynn track. — Post-Dispatch.

ENAMELINE, wearing qualities equal to any; lustre, finest in the world. Process, patented. For bicycles, sewing machines, hardware, furniture, glass, willow ware, etc. By express, four-ounce, twenty cents; eight-ounce, thirty-eight cents. By mail, sample, ten cents; four-ounce, thirty-five cents; eight-ounce, fifty-five cents; brush, ten cents extra. Chicago Manufacturing and Printing Company, 71 and 73 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

THE recent cold snap hardened up the roads, and they were just getting hammered out into the usual excellent condition they attain during the interval between the first frost and the first snow, when the present tropical spell came along and thawed them again into their previous soft and muddy state. With the first touch of severe frost or cold weather, many riders put their machines away until the coming spring, apparently unaware of the delightful wheeling a continued cold spell, without snow, will bring. I have, in the winter, ridden over roads as level and smooth as the famous roads of Orange, that in summer were impassable for the deep sand. Our boulevard is never so good as when frozen hard, in fact, that is the only time it can be called good at all; yet during the beautiful bracing weather just past, comparatively few wheelmen were to be met with. Winter riding is not such cold work as many would suppose; in fact, it is prudent not to dress too warmly for winter work. The parts that require most protection are the hands and feet. The body will be kept warm by the exercise, and it is for this reason that one should not be overclad, as it will produce free perspiration, which is to be avoided in cold weather on account of the danger of taking cold resulting therefrom, and for like reasons don't stand about, but keep in motion, and, when a stop is made, go indoors. The riding season does not close until the snow covers the ground, and if you want proof of this assertion, take a good long spin during a continued cold snap.

THE Ilderan Club held their annual meeting and election of officers on the evening of Nov. 17. The best of good fellowship prevailed, many of the old officers being re-elected. The officers for 1888 are: Howard Greenman, president; D. W. Barker, vice-president; H. C. Mettler, secretary; W. F. Miller, treasurer; W. J. Savoy, captain; E. Hopkins, first lieutenant; J. W. Shoefer, second lieutenant. Their regular "Saturday nights," inaugurated two weeks ago, and which are to continue during the winter, have proved very successful, and the boys may look forward to an enjoyable season.

THE Brooklyn Club are working up all sorts of novelties for their regular monthly "stags." On the club-house bulletin, the other evening, the following notice, conspicuously posted, gave an insight as to one of the coming events: —

Justices' Court, 29th District.
Trial by Jury.
HOWARD SPELMAN, Esq., Plaintiff,
v.
L. W. SLOCUM, Esq., Defendant.
Action to recover damages for alleged irregularities in the sale of a horse.
For Plaintiff, ISAAC B. POTTER.
For Defendant, H. S. STALLKNECHT.

The trial of this case is set down for the regular term of this court, to be held at the court house, No. 112 St. Felix Street, on the twenty-first day of December, 1887, at 8.30 P. M.

Mr. Potter is well known by his Liberty Bill fame. Mr. Stallknecht is of the law firm of Messrs. Coudert Bros., New York City. The jury is to be selected from among the visitors, and a prominent attorney is to act as judge. Some pretty tall swearing, very strong argument, and an enjoyable time generally are to be expected. Rumor says the party who loses his case is to stand champagne for the crowd.

Meeteer, first lieutenant of the Brooklyn Club, has been compelled, by business engagements, to desert his companions and take up his residence in Buffalo for the winter. The boys all look forward to his return, as his ever-ready wit and uniform good humor made him a universal favorite with all who knew him.

It is confidently asserted that tobogganing is to be the popular craze this winter. The wheelmen hereabouts, ever ready to enjoy all the good things of this life, are taking time by the forelock, and are already organizing tobogan clubs. Manager Byrne, of Washington Park, has promised that the slides will be in apple-pie order ere the snow flies, and has been talking of inaugurating a carnival for the boys. The boys are willing, and the only lacking ingredient to the consummation of the project is the absence of snow, which may be expected, as usual, in due season.

Charlie Schwalbach, or "Dynamite Charlie," as the boys now call him, is authority for the statement that the lady riders hereabouts are about organizing a tricycle club, and have already twenty names as charter members.

BON.

Dec. 5, 1887.

THE NEW ORLEANS ROAD RACE.

FIFTEEN STARTERS, A FINE DAY, AND A MOVING GRAND STAND MAKE IT QUITE AN EVENT.

FIFTEEN starters in a race — and a road race at that — is quite an extraordinary occurrence in New Orleans, but, just the same, when the time for the start of our first Thanksgiving Day handicap came around, exactly that many men faced the starter for the five and a half miles pull over the "rocky" road to the West End. The race itself was quite an event. Aside from being the first of its sort in New Orleans, it was characterized by not only a big field of starters, but by the introduction of the "moving grand stand" which was recently tried and found up to the mark, over in Georgia. Our trial proved entirely satisfactory, and it can be set down as a certainty that in future races to West End, the "moving grand stand" will be there by a large majority. Last Thursday's "grand stand" was made up of locomotive and seven coaches, all pretty well filled with spectators. A large crowd gathered at the starting point, who, together with those gathered at various points along the route and aboard the cars, would make probably two thousand or three thousand witnesses of the race.

The handicaps proved too much for the scratch men, but the handicappers, under the circumstances, did the best they could, there being no less than nine new and untried men among the fifteen starters, making it a difficult and thankless job to place them to suit every one. Next time it will be easier, now that all have records. But I am as far from details of the race itself, as when I started. To come a peg nearer, let me say that the road was in poor condition, that the sky was cloudless, the wind favorable, and the starters, with their handicaps, as follows: F. Machin, five minutes; E. A. Jonas, four and a half minutes; R. McKenzie, E. M. Graham, four and a quarter minutes; M. S. Graham, R. A. Kirk, L. J. Frederic, four minutes; J. W. Dodge, T. M. Hill, S. Harly Plough, J. P. Phelan, three minutes; R. G. Betts, two minutes; C. B. Guillotte, A. M. Hill, G. E. Guedry, scratch. Guedry had been allowed forty seconds, but refused it. He needed about that much to have finished with Guillotte. (Moral: take all you can get, for if you take merely the chances, you're very apt to get — left).

As the scratch men mounted, the "grand stand" started, and, keeping abreast of the trio, afforded the spectators what was expected, and what has always been the result when Hill and Guillotte have met — a beautiful race. It was a battle from the very start, and for three miles neither had the advantage; it was nip and tuck all the way, with Guedry trailing a few yards in the background. Every now and then the spectators on the train would set up a cheer, which would spur the men on, and a pretty brush ensue. About the third mile, Guillotte went to the front with a strong, steady stroke that scarcely once wavered, quite in contrast to Hill's riding, The latter would fall back a piece, then suddenly spurt abreast of his competitor, and fall back again, apparently to rest and gather himself for another spurt. This repeated spurting told on Hill, and at the finish, when most needed, it was wanting, and he finished fully fifty yards behind Guillotte. While all this was going on, several of the weaker handicap men had been passed, but before Guillotte reached the tape, seven of them had already crossed. The fight between the handicap men was not so close or exciting as between the scratch men.

M. S. Graham, the "leather medal" winner of the September races, by the way, set a rattling pace from the start, passing all before him inside of the first two miles, and crossed the line as red in the face as a boiled lobster, but with his laurels retrieved, and a handsome silver medal, this time as the result of his good work. McKenzie, a comparatively new and little known rider, came next, with Bob Kirk, another new 'un, third; but the real surprise was when Jonas crossed the line fourth. From his showing on his Star at the September meet, he had been set down as one of those who "couldn't go a little bit." but he rode a crank wheel this time, and surprised himself and every one else by holding his own so well. The times and positions of the first eight men were as follows: —

		Time.	Corrected Time.
1.	M. S. Graham	21.38⅘	25.38⅘
2.	R. McKenzie	21.58	26.13
.	R. A. Kirk	22.58	26.58
4.	E. A. Jonas	23.01	27.31
5.	E. M. Graham	23.41⅘	27.56⅘
6.	J. W. Dodge	23.53⅗	26.53⅗
7.	T. M. Hill	24.15⅘	27.15⅘
8.	C. B. Guillotte	24.17	24.17

Betts, A. M. Hill, Frederics, Guedry, and the others followed in the order named, but their times were not included in the official score.

The officers of the event were: W. W. Crain, referee; Frank Fenner, judge at start; W. L. Hughes, time and starter; B. W. Abbott, Prince, Wells, judges at finish; C. H. Fenner, C. M. Fairchild, timers at finish.

The unusual interest taken in this race by many wheelmen heretofore scarcely known, and their excellent showing, bode much good for future doings in the New Orleans cycling world. It is not improbable that a race over the same course will be held annually hereafter, but the date will be changed to some more general holiday than Thanksgiving. BI.

WARREN, R. I.

LAST spring our local club offered three medals for the largest number of miles ridden by any three members. Butcher's cyclometers were used, and a record taken every Monday by a committee appointed for that purpose. The riding season ended last night, and the committee find that Capt. Fred A. Bliss wins first, with a total of 4,000 miles; Secretary "Alf" Barton, second, with 3,500; and Mr. C. F. Gladding, third, with 3,000. Mr. L. E. Place made a total of 2,250, and the boys are talking of giving him a fourth. These four are the riders of the club, and it has been a struggle for the lead. One member tried to "work" the committee by claiming 500 miles for four days' riding, and one of the days it rained "great guns." His cyclometer recorded 500, but the committee "failed to connect." His style did not please the boys, and he gave up the effort. These figures are correct, and while 4,000 may appear large to some, I know Capt. Bliss to be an honest rider, and above any trickery or deceit. He holds the championship of Rhode Island for one mile, the championship of Bristol County for three miles, and leads the State and his club in number of miles ridden this year. Honor enough for one man.

While giving this account, I desire to speak of another Warren rider, Mr. F. Montrose Brown. Mr. Brown declined to enter the club race, but has quietly taken his own distance, and is very close to Bliss. "Mont" has gray hair, and is no longer as young and sprightly as his associates, but he "gets there," and if he claims 100 miles for a day's riding, we all know that he has been that distance. "Mont" says, "Let the boys have their medals; they appreciate them more than I would." This maintains a good feeling between "Mont" and the "boys," and on all their runs you will see him in the front rank. He is one of the best mechanics that ever handled a tool, and can change a "bike" into any style desired. The first wheel owned in Warren was built by Mr. Brown, and many of our older riders have patiently awaited their "next turn" to ride it. I have wandered from my subject, but trust to be forgiven, as "Mont" was the pioneer of cycling in Warren.

7368.

WARREN, Dec. 1, 1887.

A TOUR TO THE TWIN CITIES.

SEVERAL wheelmen and myself are working in the interest of a bicycle tour to St. Paul and Minneapolis, early in the season of '88, probably May or June. The start to be made from the vicinity of Mattoon, Ill, about 100 miles east of St. Louis, on the I. & St L. R. R. It will doubtless be a grand success, and all parties are anticipating an enjoyable time. We shall find fine roads north of Peoria until we reach our destination. No professionals will be classed among us; the tour will be conducted as much as possible on an economical plan, but everything of interest will be seen. Time, possibly thirty days. All who may feel interested will do well to communicate; all letters answered. Address, J. H. Zumstein, Windsor, Ill.

A TRIP TO WASHINGTON.

THE cold and uncomfortable rain which fell in this locality on Thanksgiving Day did not dampen the ardor or enthusiasm of the members of the Rambler and Baltimore Cycle Clubs. About forty-five members of these clubs, together with a few others, paid an all-day visit to Washington, and the Washington Cycle Club, the only League club in the city. Upon arriving at the depot, at about ten o'clock, a delegation of that club met the visitors and escorted them to the club-house, which was thrown open for their benefit the entire day. Shortly afterwards the whole party, to the number of about sixty, in column of fours, led by Captain Smith of the Washington Club, started on a run through the city and out to the Soldiers' Home, and the surrounding country, attracting not a little attention on the way. At the Soldiers' Home, Messrs. Eberman and Kingsland, of the Rambler Club, gave a short exhibition of their wonderful trick riding, much to the amusement and astonishment of the assembled veterans of the Home. After a delightful run to the city, dinner was served. After dinner, another run was taken through the city. Just before dinner, Mr. Babcock, of the Washington Club, took the picture of the whole party as they stood before the club-house.

In the evening, the boys were entertained at the club-house, by singing, dancing, etc., until a late hour.

The Baltimore boys returned home on late trains with only two thoughts; and they, that Washington was a glorious place to visit on a wheel, and that the Washington Cycle Club was the only club in the country.

14,852.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26, 1887.

A QUEER VERDICT.

PRODUCE dealer Albert Carnell was before Judge Mitchell on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Rowland Evans, a wheelman. The latter testified that on July 18, last, about eight o'clock in the evening, while riding a bicycle in Fairmount Park, he overtook Carnell in a carriage between the Green Street entrance and the Lincoln Monument. As he was passing the vehicle, Carnell, with an oath, told him to keep back, and as he refused to do so, the defendant struck him three times across the back with his whip. He passed on, and Carnell followed him, and near the boat-house threatened to give him some more. A park guard was called, and Carnell was taken into custody.

In his own behalf, Carnell testified that the red light of the bicycle frightened his horse, and as he had a youth and a baby in the carriage with him he was afraid of an accident. He admitted swinging his whip toward Evans, but said that if it struck the prosecutor it was an accident. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

"I don't know how you arrived at that verdict," said the Judge. "But, still, it is your province to find such a verdict as you please."— Philadelphia Record, Nov. 30.

PENNSYLVANIA'S PETITION.

"GEO. A. JESSUP, ESQ., Chief Consul Pennsylvania Division, L. A. W. Dear Sir: The undersigned, members of the Pennsylvania Division, L. A. W., respectfully request and urge you to reappoint Mr. John A. Wells, of Philadelphia, as a Pennsylvania representative in the Board of Officers, notwithstanding the refusal of the Board to confirm his appointment at their recent meeting.

"In view of the fact that the persons now responsible for League management distinctly agreed with the Pennsylvania and Maryland representatives at St. Louis, in May last, that all past differences should be dropped, we deem the action of those persons in rejecting Mr. Wells a gross breach of faith, and demand that Pennsylvania be allowed to name her own representative without interference from any source."

This petition has also been signed individually by the presidents and many leading members of all the clubs in the city.

WHY GRIND?

IT is to us a rather bad omen, that a proposed cycling tour in Europe will be so long and so hurried as to allow but little sleep or rest, in order to get in just so many miles, to have it said that the party had been to such and such places, instead of taking a leisurely tour, and being able to see the country in an enjoyable way.

Such a "grind from start to finish" is the reverse of "Our Club's" way, either on long or short runs, and will not be profitable nor advisable.

Our plan was to aim for some prominent place a day's ride ahead, and arrive there, or not, just as it happened and was best, for we could of course find lodging where a large party could not.

If you mean to scorch through a country, better take to the railways, as the easiest, and the way of the usual poor, unfortunate non-cycler tourist, who has but a very vague impression of the region visited, and a sense of having seen too much in a given time.

No spectre of an angry landlord, with a cold dinner on his hands, haunts the solitary wheelman, or the pair or two, and it 's our private opinion — sh! — that he or they will see about double the pleasure that the members of a large company can on such a tour as "thirty-five days the other side," more or less.

Our mileage varied from twenty five to fifty-five, and average thirty-five, which is enough, where you go for pleasure; stop to see "decaying piles of former grandeur"; stray up narrow and crooked lanes in the country; and in towns and villages, explore the curiously narrow courts and alleys, that offer attractions to the stranger tourists, from their very oddity.

Some you could touch both sides of with outstretched hand, and get lost in their sinuous windings. How the native footfalls resound on the stone floors, for their shoes are iron-shod, not merely hobnailed, but have a strip of iron round soles and heels!

No matter how you disguise your "American nationality" by wearing English clothing, the habitant singles you out to stare at, not as a cycler, merely, but as a foreigner, for they can tell in some way, probably by your accent, as well as your general appearance.

Even a small party will often find difficulty in securing lodgings in villages, and will have to push on to some larger town: as we did many times.

This refers only to England and Wales, but the trouble would be still greater in continental villages, unless you were master of the lingo; even in England the country landlord and his minions are dull and difficult to make understand, and you will have to repeat two or three times any question you ask them.

We met an English cyclist returning from a run in France and Belgium, who said the hotel charges were very high, and that every chance was taken to "make hay while the sun was beaming," and he would not go over the border-land again. England was to be his touring ground in future.

July and August are the months least liable to floods, and in ordinary seasons are best for cycling, as the summer temperature is not too high for comfortable riding throughout the day.

The past summer was exceptionally dry over there, but notwithstanding much deep dust we had to wheel through, the charm of the whole delightful tour is yet with

THE SOLITARY CLUB,
3,228.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

BUGLERS, ATTENTION!

EDITOR BULLETIN: — L. A. W., 2,465, who asks for a drill manual and bugle code in a late issue, is probably unaware that the League officially adopted (1886) the bugle code used by the Citizens Club of New York. This code was arranged by me, as the club's bugler, with considerable care and study, and I am convinced it is the simplest and most practicable in use. A man, writing a code for use by bicyclists, is much handicapped from the fact that he knows the rank and file of the club will not memorize the different signals, and consequently, the signals themselves must appeal to the riders as descriptive of the action which they are commanded to do. This is what I claim to have done in this code. It has been adopted by a number of clubs, all over the country, and has given the best of satisfaction. It is not meant as a drill manual, excepting that under the description of the different signals are given instructions as to the fulfilling of the commands, but which I think will be found all that are necessary for that purpose. Such has been the experience of my club. I will mail one or two copies of this code to the bugler of any League club upon application, and would ask that they write me their opinion of the code and notify me if it is adopted by their club.

E. A. HOFFMAN, JR.,
426 W. 23d St., New York City.

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ✣ WHEEL ✣ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

WE are exceedingly sorry to have to record the death of Mr. Woodside, Sen., father of W. M. Woodside, of the American team. The intimation comes in a letter from Morgan, on the 21st instant. He says: "Mr. Woodside received a wire on unday from Ireland, stating his father was sinking rapidly, and asking him to go home at once. The wire reached us at 9.30 P. M., and at ten o'clock we (Temple and myself) drove with him to the Eastern depot. We found he could not leave till Monday, 7.15 A. M., and so he stayed at the company's hotel, and took the first train home. I received a wire this afternoon: 'Funeral Wednesday. Have Willie hasten home.' I wired yesterday that Woodside would come first train, and wired again this afternoon that he was en route. I also wired poor 'Woody,' care of the Holyhead steamer, telling him to prepare for the worst, as he was ignorant of his father's death when leaving. The future of Woodside is now undecided, as it is quite possible he may, as eldest son, be called to manage his home affairs. The team will go on as usual. Our partner has our hearty sympathy in his hour of trial, and, I know, that of your readers who knew him. His father took a deep interest in cycling, and was a kind father, enthusiastic sportsman, and a genial friend." We had the great pleasure of meeting Mr. Woodside, Sen., personally, a few months since, and most heartily echo Mr. Morgan's sentiments concerning him. We are sure Woodside will meet with the fullest sympathy of all who have come in contact with him. — Cyclist.

The McClintock Home Trainer for 1888.

Riders, now is the time to exercise at home. This trainer gives you the same motion as road riding. You shouldn't be without one. It can be used with any style of cycle. Send for circulars. Price, $13.00. Special discounts to dealers.

Address, McClintock Home Trainer Co.,

No. 431 Market St., Williamsport, Penn.

Patents applied for.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $4.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Daillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats.)

In colonial history no name is better known than Plymouth Rock. In more modern days the name of Plymouth Rock stands in commercial history for the most successful departure from old business ruts that the business world has ever known. For years the consumer has dealt with the retail clothing dealer and the tailor. By one bold cut this company, manufacturing on bed rock has succeeded in reaching the consumer direct, and by doing an enormous business, it can so gauge its prices as to give the customer tailor-made clothing at one-half the previous cost of ready-made. For every garment is cut to order, and money refunded for any cause. The American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) will gladly testify to this, if any one will write their Boston office.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

Of course you cannot get the benefits we offer without a little trouble and time. For SIX CENTS, we mail you twenty samples to select from and self-measurement blanks—also, if you mention this paper, a good linen tape measure, or if you would save time and leave choice of goods to us, tell us about what colors you prefer, send us your WAIST, INSIDE LEG and HIP measures, together with $3.00, and thirty-five cents and we will forward you the goods, guaranteeing satisfaction or money refunded.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,

18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

E. R. STOCKWELL,

19 John St., N. Y.

Manufacturer of

RECORD PRIZES.

Bicycle and Athletic Medals.

CLUB PINS and BADGES.

MAKER OF FINE JEWELRY. MEDALS & BADGES MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS. HENRY C. HASKELL 18 JOHN ST. N.Y.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BICYCLES.

56 Club, new, $68. 52 Premier, almost new, ball bearings, $42. 48 Expert, good order, $27. 54 Harvard, splendid order, $47. 60 Champion, full nickeled, like new, $55. 50 Victor, ball bearings, $65. 52 Champion, used four weeks, $60. 48 Expert, ball bearings, $50. 46 English Bicycle, new, $75. 54 Victor Light Roadster, latest pattern, $73. 50 Harvard, spade handles, $48. 42 American Safety, $45. Springfield Roadster, new, $58. Also a job lot of new English Bicycles, with ball bearings, in 48, 50, 52, 54 and 56 inches, at only $48, and the same sizes in plain bearings at $38 each. Over 100 other second hand bicycles. ☞ SEND STAMP FOR LIST AND MENTION THIS PAPER.

A. W. GUMP, DAYTON, OHIO.

CENTRAL PARK.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Having ridden the wheel for over five years in this city, I have seen all the changes in our sport which have taken place in that time, from the first dash for liberty in the Park, which resulted in defeat, to the last, which ended in victory. It is now obvious to me, unless something is done, and done quickly, that we will lose Central Park as a riding ground. Every day, and more especially on Sundays and holidays, may be seen boys from ten to twenty years of age, with long trousers pushed up several inches above their shoe tops, cut-away coats and derby hats, on a machine whose rattling can be heard a block. This grotesque combination now wobbles along the drive, to the imminent risk, not only of its own neck, but that of every living creature in its path. I have seen, by actual count, over a dozen of the above in the Park on a Sunday morning.

I hold that these novices and reckless riders should be excluded for the common good. There is also the fresh youth, who coasts amongst the carriages, and practises fancy riding for the delectation of the nursemaids on the foot paths, or races with carriages in the position à la grasshopper. For this man (?) our only relief is the Park police.

For the learner, the remedy would be the old badge system, which worked well. To get one of these badges would necessitate an examination as to ability to ride, and, if possible, a certain amount of respectability. A committee from the principal New York clubs could issue the badges to those properly qualified to receive them. The above may seem harsh and impracticable, but, Mr. Editor, are the time, labor, and money spent for the Liberty Bill to be lost for the sake of a little trouble and a number of hoodlums, who are not League members, and who in some cases are unaware of its existence?

If possible, I would like to see the Park run on the "League-privileges-and-products-for-League members-only" principle: but this would be, in this case, impracticable. For the benefit of the unattached members of the L. A. W., who might think that my remedy would bear heavily on them, I will only say that I am one of them.

L. A. W., 3,878.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29, 1887.

THE LEAGUE INFLUENCE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — During the past summer several L. A. W. wheelmen have been arrested in our town, and in one instance fined for riding in the streets. For several weeks past we have been in correspondence with Mr. Luscomb, of Rights and Privileges Committee, and others, and with their assistance have been able to present various opinions and decisions, to the mayor and chief of police, and this has resulted in a complete backdown on their part. In future, wheelmen will not be molested while riding in the street. CHAS. H. LAY, JR., 16,087.

OIL CITY, PENN., Dec. 1, 1887.

CONDITIONS OF MEMBERSHIP.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In recent issues of the BULLETIN, attention has been asked to that condition of L. A. W. membership depending upon the age of the candidate, and the suggestion has been made that the limit be reduced below eighteen years. The suggestion is an excellent one, and I hope the committee will seriously consider the matter. There will, doubtless, be a variety of opinions as to what the limit should be, but, personally, I can see no objection to sixteen years, provided the applicant possesses a bicycle.

Among my best friends I include a noble boy of sixteen, who is an accomplished rider, and one who is anxious to join the League, but he is barred out by the present age limit. He would be a much more desirable acquisition than some older persons who have been admitted, although they do not possess a bicycle, and could not ride if they did. I know of such in my own town. These gentlemen do not own cycles, yet they wear the L. A. W. uniform, and try to force themselves into the local clubs by reason of their League membership. The ownership of a wheel ought to be made a prerequisite of admission, although the owner may not be able to ride; he will probably learn in time. Are there any objections to the reduction of the age limit to sixteen, with the condition mentioned?

SEKOTS.

MILLBURY MILLINGS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — What numerous funny and oftentimes interesting incidents occur to wheelmen on the road. These will serve to beguile the winter hours now so near. I have upon the front of my cap the letters L. A. W.; and one day in riding along, I passed some ladies, and one of them remarked, "I guess he must be a lawyer." I have found out, the past season, that riding a little every day, is what develops a good rider. A bicyclist knows nothing (so to speak) of the real good of riding who only mounts his machine once a week. I speak from experience. Neither is the full enjoyment of cycling in racing (perhaps I am prompted to say this because I am not a racer), but rather, so it seems to me, in "going as you please." I have found some of the most delightful riding in these late autumn months, and as I think of the many delightful trips of the past season I have so much enjoyed, I say, with a tinge of regret, good-by season of '87, and welcome to 1888.

WM. B. STOCKWELL.

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHY.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In the taking of groups where, in attempting to catch to the fullest extent the intellectual (?) expression of each individual, all scenic effects are sacrificed, a picture is produced that is uninteresting to the general public, however much it is prized by the parties concerned. For the enthusiastic amateur cycling photographer, there is a field where he can earn, not only the plaudits of his cycling companions, but the gratitude of the public at large. Within a radius of twenty-five miles of the centre of the city of Cincinnati are many places that teem with legendary lore, many landmarks that are fast fading away, which, if caught by a camera before it is too late, and should the history connected with them be jotted down, would make a collection that would be simply invaluable.

WILLIAM D. KEMPTON, 14,353.

"WHO amongst our members," writes a member of the C. T. C., "has not frequently witnessed the ludicrous sight of a string of cyclists grinding along a slight incline, with backs bent to a position at right angles to the nether limbs, eyes intently gazing at the front tire, elbows akimbo, resembling as closely as possible a grasshopper in the act of springing from a five-barred gate? The attitude of riding a bicycle is at best not a dignified one, but it behooves us to avoid appearing ridiculous. As a cyclist of fifteen years' experience, I uphold that it is totally unnecessary, either on the plea of increase of speed or comfort, to assume such an absurd position as I have attempted to describe. As a rule, the younger cyclers and so-called "scorchers" are the greatest sinners in this respect. The lengthened handle-bar, which came in vogue a few years since, is, in my opinion, partly the cause of the elbows being stuck out, and I very much question the benefit, from a health-promoting aspect, of the cow-horn handle-bars now in use, as being apt to generate a stoop.

XMAS souvenirs, large sample lot, retail twenty-five cents each. Two mailed for ten cents, six for twenty-five cents. New Year valentine, birthday gift, or reward of merit mottoes, if preferred. Stamps taken. Chicago Manufacturing and Printing Company, 71 and 73 Randolph treet, Chicago, Ill

CYCLETS.

THE books are open.

AND the names are going down.

RENEWALS are coming in very fast.

CONFIDENCE in the League is being exhibited by prompt renewals.

LAST year one hundred and seventy men renewed up to Dec. 13.

WE had very many more than that before the books were opened.

MEMBERS are saving us a great deal of work by sending their numbers with renewals.

ONE dollar pays for three insertions of a for-sale advertisement.

THE Bicycle South retires. It will be merged in a sporting publication.

FLATBUSH, L. I., officials are enforcing the law against sidewalk riding.

THE Century Club, of Philadelphia, will keep open house on New-Year's Day.

BALTIMORE cyclists are talking about a hare-and-hounds run by moonlight.

A. KENNEDY-CHILD has resigned his position with the Pope Manufacturing Company.

CAPT. WOODMAN, of the Chelsea Club, has run up a record of 4,350 miles the past year.

THE Quaker City Wheelmen, of Salem, Ohio, will hold a masquerade ball Dec. 16.

CLUB secretaries should not forget to send certificates that their clubs remain with the League.

"THOU art so near and yet so far." We are saying this nowadays, when we think of our hoped-for 12,000.

THE ticket-holders meet the old "long-felt want" that we hear so much about. About seven in ten order these.

THE Rovers' Cycle Club, of Charlestown, will dine at the Tremont House on Thursday evening next.

THE Manhattan Club, of New York, has taken the New York Club rooms, and the New York Club goes to the Ixion rooms.

THE Baltimore Club is promised a series of talks on cycling in Europe from Secretary Lockwood, who has been there.

MASSACHUSETTS wheelmen who renew for 1888 will get a road book free. It is worth much more than one dollar.

RHODE ISLAND wheelmen, under Chief Consul Davol, are preparing to mark the cross roads with guideboards.

CLUB secretaries, who write for renewal blanks, will please state the number required and give their addresses.

"WHEELING" is going to enter the camp of the enemy and establish an office in Coventry, where the Cyclist is published.

THE Rovers' Club, of Charlestown, Mass., was the first to renew, but hard upon its heels came the Brooklyn Bicycle Club.

THE League will inscribe many legal victories in 1887 on its banners, and but few defeats. The victories by far outweigh the defeats.

RENEWALS are coming in fast, and with them come many good wishes for the success of the League. The rank and file are loyal yet.

BY a unanimous vote of the members, the Philadelphia Club continues a League club for 1888, and the renewal blanks are now being filled out.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE Saturday dinner of wheelmen at the French restaurant in Sewall Place is becoming quite popular. All wheelmen are requested to drop in at one o'clock.

WHEN the uniform contractor fails to give good fits, he gets fits himself from the indignant wheelmen. Here is a case where a man gets as good as he sends.

THE Boston Club tendered a farewell dinner to Capt. Whitney on Saturday evening last at the club house. Capt. Whitney departed on his Western trip on Monday last.

"TOM" ROE, of Chicago, has great faith in McCurdy, and is willing to make a very large bet that he can beat Ehlert, over the same course that was used in the late road races.

THE Passaic (N. J.) County wheelmen held an entertainment, Nov. 29, in which Mr. J. S. Burdette, the humorist, and the Tipaldi Mandolin Quartette furnished the programme.

THE Buffalo Club will hold its annual meeting in the new club-house on Dec. 13, and the members expect to occupy the house entirely by Jan. 1, and a reception will be held Feb. 1.

IT is very probable that Woodside will retire from racing, and settle down as a country gentleman in Ireland. As the eldest son, he inherits the family estate, which is very considerable.

MR. ZIBA CARPENTER, proprietor of the Franklin House, Tarrytown, N. Y., will present a two-quart bottle of wine to the first New York City wheelman who arrives at his house in 1888.

BROTHER Tom says bicycle riding is splendid exercise for the calves. Grandma says it may be, but she can't, for the life of her, see how you would get them to stay on.—Harper's Bazar.

THE Cyclist is arranging for "lantern socials" in the principal cities of England. This will be a stereopticon exhibition, the views of which will depict persons, places, and events of interest to cyclists.

THE Ramblers, of Chelsea, held a very successful ball on Tuesday evening of last week. During the evening, a silk banner was presented the club by Mr. and Mrs. Crocker, parents of one of the members.

BRANCH houses in America will be the popular idea with English manufacturers next year. When they establish a branch house, they save the agents' profit, and can therefore look for a good margin.

WANAMAKER & BROWN, of Philadelphia, now make the League uniform, and we may look for better results. They are a clothing house, and know what is demanded in the way of fits and trimmings.

CYCLISTS are now in the height of the dancing season. We are glad to notice one change in the ideas of wheelmen. We seldom see on the bottom of a dance invitation : . "Wheelmen will please appear in uniform."

THE Xmas numbers of the English cycling papers promise to be very fine this year. England is pre-eminent in this work, but over in Dublin there is a paper that gets out a good Christmas book that is not far behind the English publications.

THE new Kempster rowing tricycle is now on view. It has been changed in many ways from the machines that were shown at Cottage City, The side bars are gone, the wheels are now made of wood, and the weight has been very much reduced.

SECRETARY Raymond, of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, must be a treasure to his club, if he does all his work as promptly and as satisfactorily as he did that of getting in his renewals. Every name and address was plainly written, and every number was given.

The News advises clubs that do not care for a swell dinner to go in for a "tripe-and-onion supper." Great Scott! what a combination. The editor says that he has enjoyed many such feasts, and that here shirt sleeves are de rigeur, and bitter beer the favored beverage.

THE L. A. W. Pointer, of Oshkosh, Wis., has been constituted a division organ for Wisconsin and Minnesota. It starts out well in its new field, and it can be of great service to wheelmen in these States, if they will appreciate it by giving it generous support.

THE Ramblers, of Baltimore, held a social dance on Wednesday, Nov. 30. A feature of the affair was the presentation to every lady visitor of a pretty white satin club badge. The dance was a pleasant event in the history of the club, and it is likely another will be given at an early date.

THE New York clubs are responding liberally towards the Liberty Bill fund. The Citizens have given $300, the New York Club has sent $100, and the Manhattans contribute $50. We venture to say that these clubs never scrutinize the record to see what they are getting out of the League.

IN a certain New York home for crippled children, tricycles are used by boys and girls with deformed, emaciated, or weak limbs. The children ride up and down a large hall, under direction of a physician. This method of developing strength is not only popular but successful.—Wheel.

THE "Chas. P. Chouteau," on which the League members went to Montesano Springs from St. Louis, has recently been burned to the water's edge. We suppose she was burned "to the water's edge," for all steamers that burn generally go thus far; but, at all events, she was entirely destroyed by fire.

HE was cleaning his cycle, when his wife entered the room and said to him, "I wish I was a cycle, for then I should receive more of your attention, my dear." "Well, love," said he, "if you wish to be transformed into anything, let it be a tricycle, and then I could enjoy a new one every year."—Wheeling.

SCENE.—Fortnightly meeting of the Emerson Club. Miss Smalltalk—"Mr. Griggs, what is your opinion of Howells? Don't you think he is just grand?" Mr. Griggs (from Minneapolis)—"Howells's all right as far as he goes; but say, did you ever see Frank Dingley? Well, I bet two to one he can do Howells up on a hundred miles."—Wheelman's Gazette.

"OUTING" publishes a picture of the boy and bicycle seen at Clarksville during the road race last May. The wheel was home-made, and shaped from rough cordwood, with no other implements than a saw, a hatchet and a jackknife. It weighed not much less than a ton, but the boy rode it in from the country, over twelve miles of rough road, that morning.

THE World declares war to the knife against Lacy Hillier, and charges him with prejudice against America, and resultant bitter attacks. But is not our contemporary a little unjust in ascribing to Hillier all that has appeared in his paper? Hillier is an arm's-length editor only, and writes not nearly all of the editorials. We happen to know that some of the anti-American articles were not seen by Hillier till they appeared in print.

IT was stated in the hall during the Cowboys v. Bicyclists race, that the cycle track was between forty or fifty yards over the mile, whilst the horsemen's path was some seventeen yards over in that distance. The wheelmen rode quite wide all the way, and on an eight-lap track that would make a serious difference, and a protest has been lodged, on the ground that the cyclists rode some ten miles over the distance. So a surveyor will officially measure the path to decide the matter.—Bicycling News.

WILLIAM H. BEGG, nineteen years old, who is wanted in Salem for theft of a bicycle, surrendered himself at Providence police headquarters, Thursday, of last week. Cold weather, thin clothing, and thievish tramping companions had brought him to hail with pleasure the prospect of a season in jail after his rough experience on the road. The bicycle belonged to George A. Millett, of Salem. Begg took the machine and rode it to Nashua, N. H., where he gave it to a hotel keeper for a month's board. He was charged with the theft by Marshal Hart and Millett, and promised to go to Nashua with the latter and recover the bicycle, but failed to do so. Millett went up and found the machine, but he could not get it. He found that Begg had attempted to steal a suit of clothes at the hotel.

PERCY STONE claims to have done quite a remarkable thing at the M. A. A. C. paper chase on Thanksgiving Day. When the bicyclists gave up their chase, Percy went over to the M. A. A. C. and, on their invitation, joined the chase on his wheel. He started a few mintes after the hares. Among them was Joe Murphy, the well-known runner. Percy claims to have followed the trail, either on his wheel or pushing it, through the brush, bogs, and the roughest, wildest part of Forest Park, and gained steadily on the hares, catching Murphy some distance from the finish, and running past him on foot, pushing his wheel, Murphy being fagged out. When the hares dropped their bags, they struck out for home over a good gravel road, which gave Stone an opportunity to mount and, by a spurt, get in ahead of them. Stone's riding was a surprise to the speedy athletes, who had little idea that a bicyclist could stay with them when they left the road. The result did much to elevate the wheel in the opinions of the sporting men in and around the finish.—Post-Dispatch.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA REPRESENTATIVE

GEO. S. ATWATER, of Washington, is hereby appointed representative from the District of Columbia.

E. T. PETTENGILL, C. C.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3, 1887.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:—

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 116—Total 13—11,855.

BOSTON, Dec. 9, 1887.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—1.—622.

Unattached.

17164 Beecher, C. R., 1724 So. Adams St., Peoria.

IOWA DIVISION—1.—147.

Unattached.

17168 Hall, C. B., Osceola.

MARYLAND DIVISION—1.—285.

Ramblers' Cycle Club.

17165 Knatz, Philip, Jr., 1514 Hollins St., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—2.—1,316.

Roxbury Bi. Club.

17167 Draper, A. H., 5 Atlantic St., So. Boston.

Unattached.

17161 Dodge, C. M., Manchester.

NEW YORK DIVISION—2.—2,300.

Unattached.

17169 Morgan, Fred D., corner Frank and Lorimer Sts., Rochester.

17163 Nichols, Ashton, 64 John St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION—1.—935.

Unattached.

17166 Fawcett, Walter B., Salem.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—5.—1,717.

Unattached.

17174 Allerton, O. H., Jr., 252 Shady Ave, Pittsburgh.
17170 Deverts, C. O., 103 James St., Allegheny.
17171 Hinds, J. G., 179 Adams St., "
17172 Moeckel, Oliver P., 609 Liberty St., "
17162 Street, Wm. P., Jr., 30 So. 6th St., Philadelphia.

APPLICATION FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

List No. 9—Total 1.

BOSTON, Dec. 9, 1887.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—1.

Harrisburg Wheel Club.

15255 Roberts, Jno. B., 10 S. Market Sq., Harrisburg.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Dec. 5, 1887.

LIST 1.

THE following renewals are received to date:—

Alabama,	1.	Michigan,	4.
California,	1.	Minnesota,	1.
Connecticut,	18.	Missouri,	7.
Delaware,	1.	New Hampshire,	11.
District of Columbia,	3.	New Jersey,	15.
Florida,	2.	New Mexico,	1.
Illinois,	13.	New York,	114.
Indiana,	8.	Ohio,	25.
Iowa,	7.	Pennsylvania,	32.
Kansas,	3.	Rhode Island,	9.
Kentucky,	1.	Vermont,	4.
Louisiana,	3.	Virginia,	4.
Maine,	2.	West Virginia,	2.
Maryland,	5.	Wisconsin,	1.
Massachusetts,	74.	Nova Scotia,	1.
		Total,	373.

RUST REMOVER, fine, medium, or coarse: nothing better made: per package post paid, twenty-two cents. Rust preventative, per package post paid, twenty cents. Finest quality sewing machine or bicycle oil, will not freeze, gum, or become rancid: two-ounce bottles, post paid, twelve cents, three for thirty cents; one dozen by express, fifty cents. Chicago Manufacturing and Printing Company, 71 and 73 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE.—One 50-inch American Light Champion, 1887 pattern, and one 52-inch Victor Roadster, 1885 pattern; both in first-class condition. Champion, $80; Victor, $75, cash. Address WILL W. PEDRICK, Box 716, Milford, Mass.

TRICK WHEEL, 48-INCH NICKELLED EXPERT, built especially for trick riding; will be sold at a positive bargain; also, 52-inch New Mail, latest pattern, nickelled. RICHARDS, 12 Warren St., New York.

$95—BICYCLE FOR $50.—One 52-inch Standard Columbia, ball bearings to front wheel, newly painted, and in excellent condition, with tool bag and tools, for only $50. H. H. B., Lock Box 50, Wappinger's Falls, N. Y.

PHOTOGRAPHIC OUTFIT.—Mahogany 5 x 8 camera, with rising front, swing back, and patent latch; fine achromatic lens, fitted with revolving diaphragm and instantaneous shutter, folding tripod, double dry plate holder, carrying case, focusing cloth, etc.; equal to new: cost about $40; must be sold at once: best offer takes it; sent on approval if desired. Address L. A. W., 7699, P. O. Box 1010, Orange, N. J.

BARGAIN EXTRAORDINARY. 50-inch New Rapid 1887 pattern, all improvements, good condition. Will sell very low for immediate cash.

NEW RAPID,
112 Orange St., New Haven, Conn.

FOR SALE.—One 53 and 55 inch, new, 1887 Columbia Light Roadster; best offer over $100 received before Dec. 1 takes either. One new 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle at best offer over $125 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES.—Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, Standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agent for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND.—If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THE RETURN OF a 50-inch full nickelled Columbia bicycle, No. 12,229, 1887 style, double grip handles. Stolen from WM. P. RADLEY, 324 W. 47th Street, New York.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

OUR LITTLE FLYER.

STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER

Has closed the season for us with the most wonderful road performance ever recorded by the wheel press, making in the 24 hours, on an ordinary 51-inch Light Champion taken out of stock and weighing 40 pounds, the phenomenal distance of 323 MILES.

Proofs of the ride have been submitted to the interested press, and this record has been accepted by every cycle paper in the country without a single dissenting voice, and the doubter has but to write any cycling editor to become himself convinced.

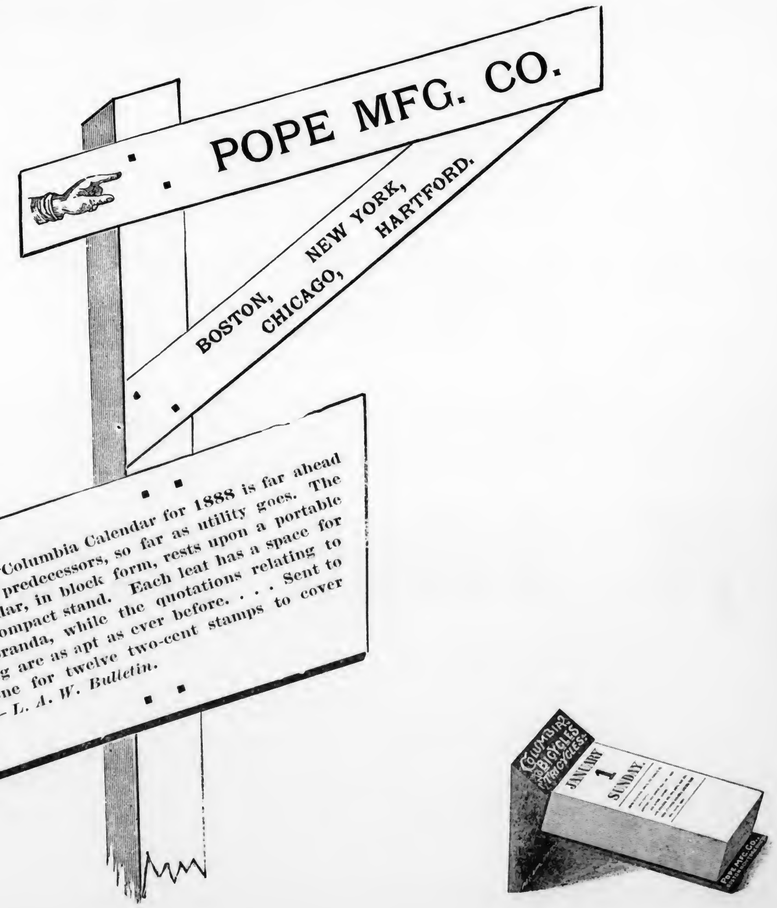
The American Cycles are road machines, and strong enough for the toughest American roads. They hold every American road record from 10 miles up to 24 hours; hence it would seem that they run even more easily than the frail and specially constructed wheels that our competitors have used in their futile attempts to wrest the records from riders of Champions.

Oh, but the bearings do tell, sure enough!

And that little track trial of Dingley's, at Lynn, on a 36-lb. Champion, still stands at the head, notwithstanding that most of the racing cracks, on racing machines, mind you, have had a go at it. In the words of Sammy Hollingsworth, "It was a wonderful record."

If you wish to purchase the best and easiest running road machines in the world, correspond with

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.



CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, DECEMBER 16, 1887. | VOL. V. No. 24 WHOLE NUMBER, 129.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

SEND FOR

1887

CATALOGUE.

THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress Street - - - - - BOSTON.

New York Headquarters, George R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

MR. DUCKER is out with a characteristic letter, in which he places upon the amateur rule all responsibility for the failure of racing in America, and all the losses that have been met by track owners and cycle dealers. He wants the amateur rule abolished, in order that the foreign racing men, who are to come over next fall, may meet some of the best riders.

MR. DUCKER forgets that our best racing men are professionals, and well qualified to meet the foreigners. He also forgets that he himself started out with an association formed for the especial purpose of encouraging racing; that the leading racing men of the country united with him, and that the League stood aside and allowed him to try his experiment. He must remember that the experiment was a failure, and he should also know that the abolition of the amateur rule will do nothing towards making cycle racing popular.

WHY not look this thing squarely in the face, and admit that the great and mighty outside world does n't care a chip for cycle racing? It does not attract the lay public, and until it does, the sport will not pay. Boston will turn out five thousand people on a business day to see a base-ball match, and on a holiday twenty thousand people will go to the grounds. The best aggregation of cycle racers that could be gathered would not draw a thousand men on a holiday in Boston, and in this respect Boston is not unlike her sister cities.

SPRINGFIELD did what no other city in America has done on the same scale. She closed her schools and her stores on cycling days, and the people turned out en masse to see the racing. Those who have built race tracks with the idea of a patronage equal to that given by Springfield have been made to see their mistake.

ASK Lynn, or Roseville, or Cleveland, how the lay public, outside of immediate friends, has responded to requests to purchase tickets. They will tell you that the sport pales before base-ball, and that the people do not enthuse.

GRANTED that men do like to see the flyers in competition, but who will say that the spectators care a chip whether the riders be amateur or professional, so long as the contest is fair and close? If there was any "go" to cycle racing, the A. C. U. would have proved it and have been a flourishing organization to-day. Everything was in their favor. They had the best men, and such tracks as Lynn, Springfield, and Roseville to demonstrate their right to live. They started out with flying colors, but the great public could n't be made to see anything attractive in cycle racing, and it held back. There was no patronage, and consequent failure all around.

NO, Mr. Ducker, the existence of the amateur rule has nothing to do with the failure of racing, and it does not stand in the way of its future success. The men who are coming over are professionals every one. We have good professionals to meet them. Let the two engage in a struggle for supremacy, make the racing attractive to the outside world, make it profitable for the riders, and the professional ranks will soon be recruited from amateur wheelmen who are now waiting to see which side of the fence it is politic to be on.

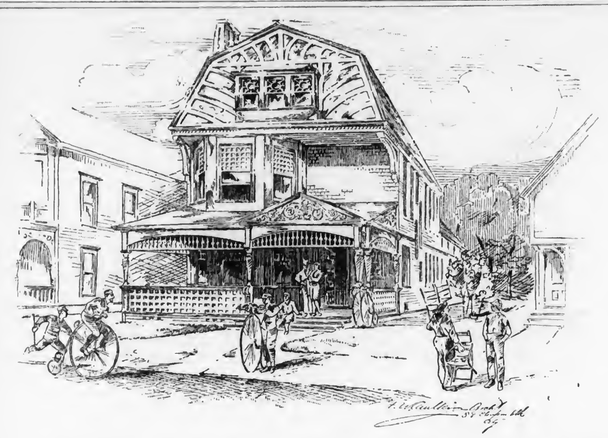
THERE can be no great money to be gotten from amateur tournaments, and there ought not to be. When greed comes in at the front door, honor often walks out at the back. We believe that the professionals, under the best condition of things, can give us the best racing, and not until the sport is well organized and worked can the patronage of the world be looked for. Mr. Ducker sees light ahead in the mixture of the classes. Let him look over into another field and see how attractive a match between the Detroit Base Ball Club and a club from Wayback would be.

THE League has now another ordinance to kill off. The officials of Salem, N. C., have passed an ordinance prohibiting the riding of a bicycle on the public highway. A citizen of Winston, which lies next to Salem, rode his wheel over the border, and was arrested when he had ridden but a short distance, and was fined for violating the ordinance. Riders of the wheel in Winston have been notified by the Mayor of Salem not to cross the line on their wheels. Chairman Luscomb has the case in hand, and the Mayor of Salem will be made to know that there are certain rights that a city cannot take away, even by ordinance.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

MAGISTRATE CLARK has held, under advisement, a decision in the prosecution brought by Kirk Brown and R. C. Swayze, of the Century Wheelmen, against saloon-keeper Joseph Dougherty, who attempted to drive over them in Fairmount Park, and used profane and abusive language toward them. H. C. Williams, who was with Dougherty, and John J. Donovan, swore that no improper language was used by the saloon-keeper. Of course, people's views of abuse and "improper language" may differ. For instance, the string of oaths and epithets with which the wheelmen were greeted on this occasion may, very possibly, be part and parcel of the regular daily conversation of the saloon-keeper and his friends, and, therefore, to him quite the proper and elegant thing.

SOLID old Philadelphia, the pioneer wheel organization in this section of the country, has decided, with her usual practical unanimity, to remain a League Club for 1888, and, doubtless, for many years thereafter. This is a fair sample of about how weighty the Wells crusade against the League is considered by the older and most conservative wheelmen of our city.



FOR the Pennsylvania Club, it is reported that Captain Roberts, perhaps the most successful cycling captain Philadelphia has ever had, will resign after his years of good service; and Suplee, one of the club's best-looking riders, is well spoken of for the succession. The club-house warming will come off in January, instead of this month, as at first proposed.

ONE of the many things we want to know, Mr. Editor, is whether the League is going to take the burden of the prosecution of the road-hog Carnell from the shoulders of Mr. Rowland Evans. Mr. E. has already spent considerable money and a great deal of time in a matter of quite as much importance to other wheelmen as to himself, and it certainly does not seem the fair thing, that, with the entire League at his back, he should be allowed to remain a loser, financially, at any rate.

AND now the Press man has consolidated the Century and the Germantown clubs again. See what he says: "Indications point to the consolidation of the Century and Germantown clubs some time next year. This plan was proposed in both of these clubs about a year ago, but a conservative element in each offered numerous objections, and the scheme was abandoned. The Century, though a young club, possesses the livest and most wide-awake memberships of any club in this State. The Germantown Club has gradually ceased to be an active wheeling organization, and the membership is composed of about thirty personal friends, caring more for the social privileges of a club than for bicycling. These two elements combined would, undoubtedly, make a strong and active club!" It looks to me much as if the aforesaid "elements" are not of a combinable kind. At least, when the idea (which I really believe originated mainly in "Cal. Wallace's" fertile brain) was promulgated last year, a bitter fight resulted in the Germantown, and the scant courtesy with which the overtures from the Century were treated was hardly calculated to beget a second consideration of the subject on the part of the latter organization.

PHACTO.

THE Ilderans, of Brooklyn, have issued an attractive programme of entertainments reaching through the winter months till the riding season of 1888. Card parties, entertatnments, receptions, occur frequently, and besides these there is a sleighing party to Coney Island, a skating party, a magic-lantern exhibition, a toboggan party, a theatre party, and a minstrel show. "Here's richness!"

THE BUFFALO CLUB HOUSE.

THE following account of the Buffalo Bicycle Club is taken from the Buffalo Express, to which paper we are indebted for the loan of the cut of the house: —

The Buffalo Bicycle Club, of whose new headquarters we present a view this week, was organized Feb. 22, 1879, and is thus the oldest as well as the largest body of wheelmen in this city. At that time there were just four riders of the bicycle in Buffalo, and these united to form the new club. The first officers were: President, Dr. H. T. Appleby; secretary and treasurer, George F. Chavel (the first who ever rode a bicycle in Buffalo); captain, John T. Gard. The other member of the club was Mr. Geo. R. Bidwell. Dr. Appleby still belongs to the club, and is one of its most active riders.

For several years the monthly business meetings were held in the old Fremont Place Armory, and during the winter months the members also assembled every Saturday night in the large drill hall for drill and exercise, the last part of the evening usually being devoted to a game of foot-ball. Since its organization, the club has slowly but steadily increased, until it now numbers one hundred and three active and eleven honorary members. These gentlemen average about twenty-seven years of age, and are of various occupations. Lawyers, dentists, physicians, clerks, and merchants are found among them, and in the last-named class are included some of the most solid and substantial business men of this community.

The club was incorporated Jan. 20, 1885, with a board of seven trustees, which was increased the next year to fifteen. In the following spring, the club rented the premises No. 288 Virginia Street for a club house, and occupied them until the spring of 1886, when it became necessary to obtain more commodious quarters. The club, therefore, rented the old Dorsheimer House, No. 881 Main Street. This property changed hands in the spring of this year, and, finding itself unable to lease the premises from the new owner on satisfactory terms, or to find any other place which was at once suitable for its purpose and within its means, the club thought it best to secure, if possible, a building of its own, so as not to be compelled to move every year.

The idea of building a club house had probably suggested itself to some of the members before, but in March last it was put in definite action by Mr. John B. Newman, the treasurer, who, to the great regret of his fellow members, has just resigned that office in order to make a voyage to Europe. Mr. Newman made careful estimates showing that it would, in a term of years, cost the club much less to build and maintain a house of its own than to rent and keep moving once in a year or two. A special meeting of the club was held to consider the project, which was heartily sanctioned. A subscription list was started and soon amounted to nearly two thousand dollars. With encouraging prospects ahead, the trustees went to work in earnest. The lot at No. 132 College Street was purchased and paid for, and a loan secured for the purpose of erecting the house. Mr. F. W. Caulkins was appointed the architect, and the erection of the house was placed under the supervision of a committee of the trustees consisting of Charles P. Churchill, John R. Newman, Albert C. Spann, Charles S. Butler, and W. S. Bull. These gentlemen have devoted much time and thought to the matter, and the outcome of their labors is certain to prove satisfactory to the club. The contract for building was awarded to Mr. C. S. Chapin.

The house as completed is one hundred and fifteen feet by twenty-four, and contains on the lower floor a vestibule, hall, drawing-room, janitor's kitchen, a spacious locker and bathroom, and the gymnasium. The latter is the grand feature of the building, and is placed in rear of the main structure. It is of ample dimensions, fifty by twenty-three feet, and twenty-four in height, and when supplied with apparatus will prove exceedingly attractive. The business meetings of the club and all its receptions, entertainments, etc., will be held in it. The bath and locker-room adjoin it, and will be furnished with wash-basins, shower and tub baths, and other necessary conveniences. A cemented cellar extends under the whole front part of the house, and is easily accessible from the outside, so that the members' machines may be stored in it if necessary.

A staircase in the front hall leads to the second story. In this are found a large and well-lighted front room, occupying the entire width of the house, four card-rooms, one of which will be used as a ladies' reception-room and will contain a lavatory and other conveniences, and two rooms for the use of the janitor. The janitor's apartments are separate from the rest of the club house, having a side entrance and stairway of their own. The attic or upper part of the house will be finished and used as a billiard and pool room. The house is heated by a furnace, but has several open fireplaces, and is supplied with electric bells. There is a spacious veranda in front, which will add greatly to the comfort and convenience of the members during the summer months.

It is expected that the annual meeting of the club will be held in the new gymnasium on Dec. 13, and that the whole house will be formally occupied by the club about Jan. 1.

The club joined the League of American Wheelmen in 1884, and has always been very influential in that body. Of its members, Messrs. Appleby, Butler, W. S. Bull, and J. R. Williams are representatives, and Mr. Bull is vice-consul of the State of New York. The chief consul, Mr. George R. Bidwell, is also an honorary member of the club. Both the League and the State Division of it recently have been entertained in this city under the auspices of the club.

The Buffalo Bicycle Club is composed of sober, industrious young business and professional men, who ride their wheels for the sake of healthful recreation and relaxation from the cares of their ordinary pursuits. It is what its names imports, — a bicycle, and not a social club. It is not an expensive organization; the initiation fee is five dollars, and the annual dues twelve dollars. When the house is fully completed, there will be no club in the country giving its members equal privileges for so small an outlay. The whole spirit of the club, as well as the tendency of its favorite recreation, is steadily opposed to what is commonly known as "fastness" or dissipation of any sort. The following section of the by-laws is quoted as an illustration of this fact: —

ART. 12. No wine, beer, cider, or intoxicating liquors of any kind shall be kept or used in the rooms or on the premises of the club. No bets shall be made, nor shall any games be played in the club rooms or on the premises for money, under penalty of expulsion from the club, and no games shall be played in the club rooms on Sunday nor after midnight on Saturday.

The officers and trustees of the club for the current year are as follows: President, Charles P. Churchill; vice-president, George Dakin; secretary, A. C. Richardson; treasurer, Charles W. Adams; attorney, Albert C. Spann; captain, Robert C. Chapin; trustees, these officers and the following members: W. S. Bull, Chas. S. Butler, Clifford G. Gething, George H. Courter, Charles F. Hotchkiss, R. B. Hoffman, Willis K. Jackson, Otto W. Volger. The recent resignation of Mr. J. B. Newman leaves a vacancy in the Board, which will be filled in December.

THE OWL.

FRANK WHITE, the ever-popular wheelman, has returned to his friends from a six months' business and pleasure trip to California. To hear him dilate upon the "glorious climate of Californy," its perfect roads, its hospitable wheelmen, and its charming girls, is almost enough to make an old bachelor, like me, wish he was young again, just so I could strike for a railroad pass and hie me westward. But such hopes are useless; the hands of time cannot be set back, and the cast-iron rulings of the interstate law bar me out from any hopes of ever indulging in such delights.

MARINO G. PEOLI, one of the organizers of the Ixion Bicycle Club, and one of its most enterprising members, intends taking up his residence in Chicago. His club-mates give him a farewell banquet on Thursday evening. Now, if my old friend Ned Oliver, now president of the Lincoln Bicycle Club, is as smart as I take him for, he will meet Mr. Peoli at the depot and get him to sign there, and at once, an application for membership. Mr. Peoli has, for five years past, never failed to ride the old year out and the new one in, to keep up the record of his club in this respect. I mention this only as an evidence of the fact that he will hold his own as a rider wherever he may go.

"SENATOR" MORGAN has blossomed into a cycling Alexander throughout the length and breadth of England, and like his warrior prototype in the days of old, he weeps for new fields to conquer, hence, we find him now looking over the ground in Paris and Vienna, with a view of taking thence the champions from the land of the Great Eagle. I was startled the other morning by seeing, in a morning paper, a cable message, announcing that a man named Morgan had discovered a gold mine in Merionethshire, Wales, of unsurpassed richness. I at once thought I detected in this the "Senator's" masterly manner of working the press, and concluded that since he and his team had scooped all of the available cash above ground abroad, and they had concluded to complete the job by taking whatever there was below. But all of these ideas vanished when, upon reading further, I found that "no opportunity will be offered to the public of investing in the new enterprise." That settled it. The "Senator" is too good an American to refuse the dear public a chance to invest their money in the stock of any enterprise he might control, and I at once saw that this was some inferior Morgan, and not the cycling "Senator."

THE streets of New York are, to put it most mildly, not as perfect as some of us might desire. To such an extent have the pavements become impassable, that the Chamber of Commerce has had to take cognizance of the affair, and at the last meeting of that august body, its president, Mr. Jackson S Schultz, said: "The merchants could well afford to put their hands in their pockets and pay for the repair of the streets themselves, because their trucks could now carry only half loads, instead of whole loads, and that owing to the wretched state of the streets, it now costs about as much to send a truck to Jersey City and bring goods back, as it costs to bring goods from Chicago." Coming from such a source, none can claim this to be any exaggeration of the deplorable condition of our street pavements here, and we of the wheel hail with delight the near approach of the day when our streets will become utterly impassable for vehicle or pedestrian; and then, and not until then, do we expect any attempt at an improvement, by the adopting of some more modern surfacing than the bone-racking cobblestone.

IN penning my little screed against horseback riding vs. tricycling, as a means of physical improvement of women, and in my advocating the laying aside of the foolish prejudice against the common-sense method in which a woman is forced to seat herself when upon a trike, I had no idea that the very next week I should pick up a journal, devoted to women, and find therein, from so able a pen as Mrs. Miller's, the editress thereof, a perfect agreement on her part as to the stand I had taken. So nearly does this approach to my ideas on the subject, and of so much importance do I deem the subject to be, that I cannot refrain from inserting it here, for the benefit, not of those ladies who do ride, for they already know it, but for the encouragement of such of their fair friends as still claim the superiority of horseback riding, and if there can be any stronger, though unintentional, advocacy of the superiority of tricycling over horseback riding for women, from any higher source, I should like to hear it. Here is what Mrs. Miller writes: "One of the most needed reforms, and, I believe, the most difficult to introduce, because public opinion is so very strong on the subject, is, in my estimation, our manner of horseback riding. I have been passionately fond of riding, and have ridden since I was a young girl, and know all that a woman has to contend with. May I communicate a few reasons why a woman should not ride as she does? The position is cramped and strains the back; the circulation is stopped in the right leg; the difficulty of getting a skirt to stay comfortably in place is very great, they are now so closely fitted and strapped down; the danger in case of accident is also great. A very one-sided development is the consequence. I think it is especially hurtful to a growing girl to assume the cramped-up position on one side of the horse. Why should we try to pretend we have but one leg? We take great pains to fit the form, from neck to hip, skin tight, and the form shows plainly from back to knee from the right side, and very much more immodestly than if we rode with our feet down. Even now, women travellers, over dangerous and intricate paths, find the square-seated method of riding imperative; and if this end can be compassed without an apparent suggestion of legs (which seems to be an offence against fastidiousness in woman), then, by the courtesy of Fate, it wins!"

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

I MUST take issue with the "Owl" in regard to the deductions he makes from certain observations regarding the whys and wherefores of woman's failure to ride the wheel as generally and numerously as man does. It occurs to me that our friend is illogical, for in one breath he says that the average woman shrinks from riding the wheel because she cannot bring herself to use the little awkward saddle employed by man, and right upon the heels of this he avers that woman will not ride because she cannot put herself in the awkward position necessarily assumed on the side saddle while riding horseback. His conclusion I take decided issue with. He says: "Some day, perhaps, a shrewd maker will invent a tricycle, and adopt some spine-deforming side-saddle, and then the fair sex, fearing not Mrs. Grundy, will rush pell-mell into cycling; but until then, I have not much hopes of any great number of the fair sex becoming riders."

IT may be that I am arguing seriously with one who is only indulging in a little bit of pleasantry, but our friend puts his case in a plausible way, and wrong impressions may be gained if he is not controverted.

I THINK I can tell the world why more women do not ride the wheel, and I know that other lady riders who have tried to make converts will indorse me. One restraining cause, and a very important one is, the cost of the wheel. I don't wish to be understood that manufacturers are unreasonable in their charges, nor that the wheel can be put upon sale at a lower price, but certain it is, that very many women who would gladly ride, cannot raise the money necessary to the purchase of the wheel.

PATERFAMILIAS will draw his purse to purchase a bicycle for Harry, but when Clarissa asks for nearly double the sum for a tricycle, he hesitates. Hector will provide himself with a wheel, but he cannot afford an extra one for his wife, and she must go without. The young lady who goes to the city to earn her living cannot get enough, in nine cases out of ten, to pay for necessaries, much less a luxury of this kind. If wheels could be bought for one half what they now sell for, we should see ten lady riders where we now see one.

ONE other restraining influence. It is not fashionable. The gilded butterflies of the fashionable world would not be estopped from riding if it were the fashion to do it. Let some one invent a way to make tricycling a popular craze, and we shall see the manufacturers deluged with orders.

THERE are a few, a very few women who will object to the position one has to take on a wheel, others will plead that it is infra dignitatem, others will hesitate for fear of what Mrs. Grundy will say, but, believe me that underneath those objections lies one or both of the principal ones I have named above.

AND yet in spite of all this, the little army of women is increasing every day. Note the large attendance at the North Shore run. Most of these ladies were in their first year of riding. The tandem is bringing more ladies to the ranks than the single machine succeeded in converting. It is encouraging to note that we are not going backwards but steadily and surely moving on.

MRS. MCA., of Malden, has ridden the past year 1,150 miles on a tandem. Her runs have been over distances of from ten to fifty miles, and have been frequent rather than extended.

MISS H. H. F., of Brooklyn, writes that she has done little more than park riding, but has enjoyed this immensely. She estimates her record at eight hundred miles.

MISS G., of Washington, writes that she uses her wheel for going to market, and for shopping purposes. She writes: "There are so many wheels in Washington that they attract little or no attention. We have no clubs and no concerted runs, but those who own their wheels keep them for use, just as a man does his horse. Those who let machines have a good patronage, and the consequence is, that we see many women in the most unbecoming and inappropriate dresses. They are out for a short ride only, and the idea of a special costume does not abide with them."

DAISIE.

ST. LOUIS.

GREENWOOD'S offer to climb Corey Hill, which appeared in the Wheelman's Record, was dwarfed in importance to us by the publication here of John A. Wells's challenge to Greenwood to a contest on Eagle Rock Hill, and Hal's prompt acceptance of the same. The promptness of Greenwood's reply pleased all his friends, and they are happy in feeling that there is something to open out next season with, even if the Whittaker-Stone race should fall through. Wells's challenge was to a climb on both a Star and an ordinary; but Greenwood, in accepting, stated that he is not a crank rider, and that he will do all his climbing on a Star. He, however, gives Mr. Wells the privilege of using any kind of wheel he wishes. But Hal will not have his title in any way endangered by a contest on a hill on which, he says, "Wells has been sleeping." So he asks Wells to come West and climb some of our hills, provided he will go East to meet Wells, which he declares himself perfectly willing to do. He has already put up $100 to cover a good medal, to go to the winner. By the way, Greenwood disparages Eagle Rock Hill, which he asserts is inferior in tough qualities to Corey, Son-of-a-Gun, and other "grades of which we talk."

Now, if Mr. Wells has the amount of sand in his craw we have been led to suppose existed, by his aggressiveness in the editorial road race, there will be some climbing next year that would make Excelsior wish he had stopped to rest his weary head upon her breast.

THE rivalry that exists between the Missouri's glee club and the gymnastic class is very great. It is of a healthy and stimulating kind, and each class is impelled to do its most to get the biggest turnout on practice nights. When rivalry exists between such widely dis-

NOW!

Send us your name, address and League number, if a member, on a postal card, and we will add it to our PERMANENT MAILING LIST. During the coming year we expect to circulate a great deal of IMPORTANT INFORMATION through the mails, and you can get it for the trouble of writing a postal card. Very soon we will have something to say to you about VICTOR CYCLES FOR 1888, and it will be worth your while to read it. WRITE A POSTAL.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., 182-188 Columbus Ave., BOSTON.

similar classes, one is more and more impressed with the thought of how great the competition between more closely related classes would be, and how rapid the progress that would be made. For instance, if a fencing class should be formed, and should come into rivalry with the gymnasts, there would be some lively times, and in six months the club would turn out a pretty accomplished lot of fellows. Since the members have tasted of the singing and gymnastics and found them good, like Eve, they want others to taste too. I hear that several of the members who care neither for singing nor "gym" work, are talking about taking fencing lessons.

THE Cycle Club may be said to have become established in their new quarters, the Natatorium, as they have put in a billiard-table, and that is generally considered a sign of permanency. I have n't looked in on them yet, but I am told that their place is very cosy. With one of their leading members, George Tivy, leading this locality in long-distance records for the year, and another member just appointed a representative, they could afford to put on airs without even the glory of having made as rapid a ride into prosperity as any of their men ever made going down hill.

A. T. STEVENS has not yet completed his mileage report of the Missouri Club, as the boys are wofully slow in sending in their reports, "among whom I am one of which." But he has totals of the longest riders completed, from which I learn that from April 1 to Dec. 1, E. A. Smith leads, with 4,003 miles; Brewster is second, with 3,671; and Alex. Lewis third, with 2,531. Smith thus gets the club medal, and the challenge cup, which if won two consecutive years, becomes the winner's permanent property. Last year, A. T. Stevens won it with 4,178 1-4 miles. Now begins the fun of the cup business. With two fellows, each yearning to carry it off permanently, there promises to be some big riding next year.

THE publication of the season's long-distanee records puts me in mind of the fact that I can ride more now with less exertion than I used to be able to. Is it because my legs are more powerful? No; they measure just the same. Is my wind getting better? No; because in running afoot I find that my wind is not as good as it was three years ago. Surely, then, there is something. I let fall this secret within reach of Burley Ayers's receptive ear not long ago. At the time we were spurting steadily over a twenty-mile road and had n't stopped for ten miles. Burley slowed up a little as if to think. But there is no use in his doing that, as his think tank works just the same, whether he is riding fast or not. "By jinks," said he, as he hit his handle-bar with his fist, and nearly threw his big wheel into mine, "that reminds me that I 've been thinking about the same thing. Minds of great men run in the same — you know the rest. Don't, eh? Well, they run in the same rut. That 's a big improvement on channel, don't you think? Well, I have found this season that I can ride twenty-five miles a day more than I could last season and feel less tired. I have made up my mind that it is because of the present style of wheels, their lightness, their rigidity, their improved bearings. I know there are some envious fellows who did n't get the prize last summer for big calves, who are mean enough to say it is my practice with the home trainer that does it; but I know better, because there are other riders who have felt this same insensible but blessed increase of riding strength come to them without any special effort. It 's the wheel that is doing it — whoa 'p, there, mister, give me more of the road, or I 'll send you one of Van's circulars on road rights," was the way the conversation came to an end on the interruption of a road hog. OMEN.

TO RHODE ISLAND MEMBERS.

As the L. A. W. books are now open for renewals, I take the time to urge our members to forward their names for 1888. Every wheelman should unite with our League. "In numbers there is strength," and riders must realize that a large organization can accomplish much more than a small body, where each man is fighting single-handed.

The renewal of each old member carries conviction to the minds of the new riders, who stand undecided whether to join or not. The Division to-day has one hundred and seventy-nine on its roll, is financially in good condition, for a small State, and a harmonious feeling exists throughout. Now comes the most trying time, and a consul can do good work at this time. Many wheelmen want to join, — intend to join, but put it off or forget, until too late. I hope consuls will see that old members in their towns are reminded of the renewal season, so that none will lose their standing through forgetfulness. One dollar for the year, or less than two cents a week, will renew a member, and the BULLETIN alone is worth more than that, not to speak of reduced hotel rates, and the pleasant acquaintances made at division meets, races, etc. Not satisfied with these alone, the Executive Board of your State has united with Massachusetts in the road book publication, and the roads of the two States will be in one book. This book will be ready by spring, and a copy will be given, free, to each member that renews.

Arrangements have been made to place guideboards on all the principal routes in the State. The plans are drawn, distances measured, and by Jan. 1 the boards will be in the hands of the painter, and on the opening of spring placed at the various corners. Surely, any wheelman should be willing to assist such a cause as that. Rhode Island is the first State that makes the attempt of guideboarding ALL its ridable roads, and without the full support of its wheelmen it may prove a failure. I would state that a few copies of the road book will be left on hand, if the entire present membership should renew, which is not probable. New members will each receive a book, until the supply is exhausted. Let each present member renew, and do a little missionary work, and Little Rhody can reach two hundred, and gain an additional representative in the Board of Officers.

Now is the time to commence, and not stop until we get there.

Yours fraternally,
CHAS. S. DAVOL,
WARREN, Dec. 6, 1887. C. C.

TO THE OWL.

YOUR very unjust and uncalled-for article on page 300 of BULLETIN causes me to reply as follows; but, before going further, I want that, as you have had a go, and so have I, let 's quit, and I 'll leave it to you to decide the fall.

Your article shows that the correspondence between Secretary-Editor Bassett and myself has been shown to you; also, as you have now taken it up, maybe you can answer the questions I asked! Having seen the letters, you know they contain no criticism against Secretary-Editor's administration. Some errors and oversights have occurred (and they always will) and I was trying to have them straightened, but you, in your narrow head, have looked upon these as criticisms. To not have you worried about the ninety-seven dollars, I will here say the Indiana Division officers will see, and are able to see that it will be taken good care of.

This now leads me to say that I have long wondered, when reading your most-times amusing notes, to what class of owls you belong. My wonder has been satisfied, and no doubt now exists but you are a screech owl.

The reasons are two:

1. They are never attending to their business, but always mixing up others.

2. They are to the owl family as the vulture is to the scavengers; viz., the vilest of the vile.

Thanking you for your attention, and knowing you are hungry, I 'll now set your stomach to aching by saying "Rats."

Yours wheelingly, but not "perly,"
JOSH ZIMMERMAN.

[Our correspondent is mistaken. The "Owl" has not seen the correspondence referred to. Mr. Zimmerman rushed into print with his alleged grievance, and it was this published letter that the "Owl" used as a text for his sermon. — ED.]

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

CENTRAL PARK.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In your last issue appears a letter from 3,878, re the use and abuse of Central Park. I heartily concur with his expressed wish that a committee of the clubs would try and take hold of the matter, though I do not see how it can be done. I thought that the Park policemen were supposed to use their discretion, but from some of the things that I have seen, I should judge that they have none. Small boys on toy bicycles are always to be found in the Park, and on several occasions I have seen a boy on a velocipede on the East Drive.

It appears to me as if the policemen have received instructions to let anything in the shape of a bicycle into he Park, so as to give others a good cause for complaint. So that the worthy (?) Commissioners will truthfully be able to say, on some future occasion, should it arise, "that we have received complaints" and so forth.

By all means let us take this matter in hand of our own free will, before we are forced into it, or out of the Park. L. A. W., 13,080.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The article headed "Central Park" in your issue of Dec. 9 is exactly my idea of the practice of juvenile riders of all ages in Central Park as injurious to the privileges we have bought at so high a price, for you are aware there is still a feeling among some assembly-men to pass a bill exempting Central Park from the operation of the act which now gives us the privilege. I earnestly hope something can be done to restrict the use of Central Park to competent riders, similar to the previous arrangement, and does it not come through your paper to open the subject to the proper committee? L. A. W., 4,787.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I want to raise my voice in protest against the proposition made by L. A. W., 3,878, in the BULLETIN of Dec. 9, 1887. I fail to see why wheelmen should be treated differently from any other citizens.

So long as anybody who can hold the reins over any kind of equine beast is permitted to make use of the driveways in Central Park, just so long should anybody who can manage to straddle a bicycle be permitted to use said driveways. The proposition to subject wheelmen to an examination, and to require them to wear some sort of badge or livery as the price of being permitted to make use of a public park, is simply an outrage. Even if it were proposed to subject horsemen to like conditions it would be an outrage, but when it is proposed to make such special rules for wheelmen only, it becomes a piece of "class legislation" not to be tolerated in a free country. If any wheelman or horseman misbehaves in the Park, and by incompetent, careless, or reckless riding or driving endangers the lives or comfort of others, let him be dealt with as an individual. Let it be remembered that wheelmen claimed the right to use the Park roads and all other public roads in this State as a right and not as a privilege, and on this platform we made our fight and won.

As to certain men, or boys, riding in long trousers, cutaway coats, and derby hats, that is their privilege, though some may question their taste just as others may question the good taste of certain exquisite members of metropolitan athletic clubs appearing before their lady friends in the scanty costume which usage sanctions on such occasions and in such company. But it is a matter of taste after all, and the idea that a free-born American citizen must get a permit from a "committee from the principal New York clubs" or wear some special style of dress, in order to ride, walk, or drive in Central Park or any other public place, is exceedingly repugnant to L. A. W., 464.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I was very sorry in your last issue to see a letter advocating a return to the ridiculous system of badges for the admission of wheelmen to Central Park, accompanied with an intolerant expression of regret that the privilege of riding there cannot be confined to League members. When wheelmen can be found to entertain such views as these, there is little wonder that we had so long a fight with non-cycling commissioners. We do not want or need any exclusive privilege, but only to stand upon equitable right. If men go there who cannot ride, and endanger the public safety, let them be arrested by the police appointed for such duties, just as incompetent drivers or drunken pedestrians would be. If some of these wheelmen wear costumes that offend the æsthetic taste of others among us, it by no means reflects on the riders who dress well. I have seen even League members clad in such abominations as a high white hat with a sack coat, or wearing a satin tie with evening dress, but I never felt that my own social status was endangered thereby. How one man may dress is no other man's business, and interference like this is simply ill-bred impertinence. Don't let us set ourselves up for little gods on wheels.

Suggestions like that made by "3,878" really arise from the absurd assumption that there is something specially aristocratic about bicycle riding and riders; as a matter of fact, the social prejudice is rather against us; and unfair as this may be, it does not better matters for us to be continually seeking a chance to vindicate ourselves, by marking out a new social distinction at the expense of somebody else. "3,878" does n't like fellows who ride in trousers and derby hats; no more do I, but I don't have to associate with them. Some of us don't like gaudy uniforms and would rather see no uniforms at all, but we would hardly advocate the exclusion of a club uniform that might not suit us.

Nor is it wise for us to establish ourselves as censors of skill. After years of struggle, we 've put ourselves on the same footing as other citizens. We had better stay there, and let the authorities look after infractions of the law, careful that we keep within it ourselves.

EDWARD J. SHRIVER.

EDUCATING THE MASSES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I WAS somewhat amused to read in last week's BULLETIN the scheme of the Illinois State Division "for disseminating a knowledge of the rights of wheelmen among farmers and the rural classes." I have been a wheelman eight years and know that said knowledge is in sad need of dissemination, but after two years in the employ of the largest stereotype plate concern in the world, I know that their plan will not work.

The article says "all country papers use plates"; the truth is, that perhaps two thirds of them use plates. Again, it says the purchaser of the plates returns them after using, "to be used over again until worn out." In reality plates are always melted and recast when returned from the first purchaser. Even country editors have some preferences regarding what shall be published in their papers. The cost of composition is not always a primary consideration; literary merit must also be taken into the question. To go into the plate business — even on a small scale — requires an expensive plant of special machinery, a corps of skilled workmen, a generous supply of expensive metal, and weeks of hard solid work before customers can be found.

A way in which this much-needed knowledge of good roads, and how to make them, might be spread all over the country, would be to interest some leading plate house in the matter. Let some of our literary brethren write a good article of from one thousand to two thousand words, then, if put out in plate form, it will appear in hundreds of the best country papers in the land. To any one interested, I will furnish any information in my power concerning the proper parties to reach, and how to reach them. L. A. W., H. 97.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 5, 1887.

ENAMEL.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Apropos of the necessity of abandoning riding and putting mounts in order for next year, will some member kindly inform me how to prepare a good and durable enamel? Have tried several and with but small degree of success. 15,185.

CYCLETS.

HAVE you renewed?

IF not, do so at once.

WE have got the first thousand.

AND the "three-figure" men have got their tickets.

WE are sending the tickets now within three days.

WE can't do this later when the grand rush comes.

The early birds get advantages in many ways.

MR. DUCKER has led us into a discussion of the amateur rule. Excuse us. We sha'n't give you much of this.

ROWE has gone back to lasting shoes for the winter. He will go into training for racing in the spring.

NEW ORLEANS wheelmen will hold a lantern parade, Feb. 15, the night before Mardi Gras. His Majesty Rex will be invited to review the parade.

GREENWOOD agrees to climb Corey Hill a dozen times if any one will pay his expenses to Boston, and give him a $50 medal. He will pay his own expenses if he loses.

AND now the question comes: "What shall we give our friends for Christmas? We hear a League badge suggested. What 's the matter with a League badge? Oh, that 's all right.

SAMUEL B. STERLING, of Bridgeport, Conn., announces his arrival at Jacksonville, and reports good roads, excellent weather, and the best of wheeling. A long stretch of road has just been built in Jacksonville, constructed of shells and of cypress-wood blocks. The surface is fine and invites the cycle.

W. H. MILLIKEN, treasurer of the Plainfield (N. J.) Bicycle Club, has run up a record of 6,404 miles during the year of 1887 to Nov. 1. The record was kept on a Butcher cyclometer, and the cyclometer was tested once a month, over a measured mile of roadway, by some other member of the club. The club calls for a record that will beat this.

A CORRESPONDENT writes that he has made a mile in 2.24$\frac{3}{4}$ on the highway. He tells us not to expose him, and we shall not, for he wants to surprise the racing men one of these days. Now, we shall not publish his name, but

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ✣ WHEEL ✣ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

A "MEAN thing" occurred recently. A certain cycler, who is not a member of the L. A. W., borrowed a League ticket to get the discount at dinner, in a League hotel. The L. A. W. dues are only one dollar per year, and every cycler ought to join. In a very short time he would get his money back from the discount allowed to League members at certain hotels. — Baltimore News. The member who loaned the ticket rendered himself liable to expulsion from the League.

RUST REMOVER, fine, medium, or coarse; nothing better made; per package post-paid, twenty-two cents. Rust preventative, per package post-paid, twenty cents. Finest quality sewing machine or bicycle oil, will not freeze, gum, or become rancid; two-ounce bottles, post-paid, twelve cents, three for thirty cents; one dozen by express, fifty cents. Chicago Manufacturing and Printing Company, 71 and 73 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

CHEAP. — A 50-inch Expert, half nickelled, with lamp, bell, whistle, two cementing lamps, spoke grip, and all tools and tool bag, 1885 pattern, Kirkpatrick saddle; all for $75 cash; have been offered $90, in exchange. Address L. A. W., 12,152, Box 404, Larned, Ka.

SOCIABLE FOR SALE. — Meteor Sociable, 48-inch wheels, balls all over, open front, keep-step crank shaft; good order and condition; cost $225; will sell for $125. Address X. X., this office.

FOR SALE. — Columbia Tandem tricycle, new last June, latest improvements, used very little; cost $250; best cash offer over $150 takes it; will sell on instalments. A. J. KOLP, Scranton, Pa.

VICTOR LIGHT ROADSTER, 54-INCH, 1887 pattern, full ball bearings; first-class condition, and as good as new; ridden only three hundred miles; with Lakin cyclometer and Ross luggage carrier; the offer nearest $100 takes all. LOCK-BOX 1, Bedford, O.

FOR SALE. — 54-inch American Star, ridden about three hundred miles, good order, for $55; or will exchange for a 45 or 48 inch Star in same condition. O. F. LANDIS, Shelby, O.

WANTED. — Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

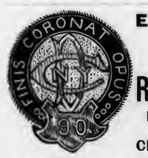
$95-BICYCLE FOR $50. — One 52-inch Standard Columbia, ball bearings to front wheel, newly painted, and in excellent condition, with tool bag and tools, for only $50. H. H. B., Lock Box 50, Wappinger's Falls, N. Y.

FOR SALE. — One 53 and 55 inch, new, 1887 Columbia Light Roadster; best offer over $100 received before Dec. 1 takes either. One new 1887 Columbia Light Roadster tricycle at best offer over $125 cash. T. B. KAYL & CO., Detroit.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES. — Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agents for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list, NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THE RETURN OF a 50-inch full nickelled Columbia bicycle, No. 12,229, 1887 style, double grip handles. Stolen from WM. P. RADLEY, 324 W. 47th Street, New York.



BICYCLES ON EASY PAYMENTS.

New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto, and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories, including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on instalments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

E. R. STOCKWELL,
19 John St., N. Y.
Manufacturers of
RECORD PRIZES.
Bicycle and Athletic Medals.
CLUB PINS and BADGES.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego
128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,
NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

one of these days, when he beats Rowe and Howell and Greenwood, we are going to refer to this paragraph and say, "That 's our man." We publish this as a sort of warning to the flyers, and we advise them to get ready.

H. E. DUCKER, of Springfield tournament fame, who is now a resident of Buffalo, confidently asserts that he will give a tournament in Buffalo next summer that will positively eclipse anything that he has ever undertaken before. A half-mile bicycle track will be built on the outskirts of the city, and such men as Howell, the English champion, and Woodside, the Irish champion, are already under contract to compete in the professional races. — Buffalo Express.

AN old subject has been revived — the "motions of a wheel through space." We had an idea of reading a paper on the subject before a scientific society once upon a time. Few — not one in 654,321 — understand the relative movements of a wheel. To begin with, there is no such thing as revolution and progression. The wheel, when travelling, does not go round. Crack that nut, ye scientists. The down stroke of a pedal on a 54-inch machine is between eight and ten feet. This is only the beginning of the fun — but "we are not a scientific paper." — S. M. and C. News.

THE Boston Clubites seem to have wasted some time in discussing whether the top of a bicycle wheel goes faster than the bottom. Why, Macaulay's Schoolboy would not require to think twice about such a problem. We have no space to discuss the question (if, indeed, it needs any discussion, which we deny), but should recommend any one desirous of being convinced of this truth, to turn to Molesworth's "Pocket Book of Engineering Formulæ" (page 652), where will be found three diagrams of the cycloidal curve. No. 2, the common cycloid, is the curve described at any point in a bicycle wheel when running on the road, in relation to the road. The top of the wheel always travels at a much greater velocity than the bottom. — Cyclist.

THE Hagerstown Bicycle Club attended in a body, on Tuesday night, the Masonic fair, which has been in progress in that city. Tuesday night was the closing night, and the members of the club to the number of thirty-five entered the room to the music of the song and march of "Liberty Enlightening the World." The club orchestra had preceded them, and were stationed on the stage. The cyclers on entering arranged themselves in front of the stage, and united in singing the chorus of the song. The effect was fine, as the club had some good voices in its membership, and the voices harmonizing with the orchestra, made one of the pleasant features of the evening. — Argus.

THE Board of Officers of L. A. W. representing the Maryland Division held a meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 7. The full board was represented, consisting of Chief Consul A. E. Mealy, Secretary and Treasurer R. M. Lockwood, and Representatives Samuel T. Clark, W. H. Barrington, and C. W. Abbott, of Baltimore, Updegraff, of Hagerstown, and Seabrook, of Westminster. The principal business before the board was the discussion of the advisability of inviting the National Association of Wheelmen to hold the annual meet in Baltimore. All the representatives expressed themselves as favorable to the idea. It was decided, after a careful consideration of the matter, to hold a general meeting of the entire Division on the evening of Dec. 20, and let the action of that meeting decide whether or not Baltimore shall be offered as a place for holding the national meet. — Argus.

WE have, from time to time, protests against the publication of accidents that occur to cyclists. We can see no harm coming from such publication, and we believe some good may result. If riders are reasonably careful, there is little danger on the wheel. It is the careless riders who come to grief in the great majority of cases, though there are many unavoidable mishaps. Accidents must inevitably come to those who ride in carriages or on the wheel, and pedestrians are not altogether free from these. We believe it will do the cause of cycling more harm than good if the cycling papers suppress the accidents, for what is concealed often assumes undue proportions in the public mind.

JERSEY.

I HAVE but little news this week, and that little comes from those lively fellows, the Passaic County Wheelmen. The boys have done much to boom the good cause in this vicinity this season. They have adopted the plan so successfully used by the Elizabeth cyclers in their early struggles to advance wheel enthusiasm in their city of bad roads, now improving some, thanks to their efforts. The local press has been made use of to popularize the sport and keep its pleasures and benefits before the public. Volunteer writers apparently have not been wanting, and the deeds of the wheelmen have been recorded ably and fully. Many a dull week have the Passaic's clippings been most gratefully received by me. So it is this week.

The results of enthusiastic labor are seen in an increase of membership from twenty-seven to forty. Tours through neighboring States have been made frequently, and more than one member can boast of having covered over 3,000 miles of road awheel. Representative W. B. Banker has just crossed this mark. Notwithstanding his large score, he says his riding has been of the moderate type. During the season, he wheeled to business every day, to Paterson frequently, and to Newark and Cranford occasionally, and claims to have thus acquired his large score with hardly an effort. He is enthusiastic over the benefits to him, physically, his riding has been.

The club is now comfortably housed on Bloomfield Avenue, and the rooms have been fitted up at a cost that somewhat depleted the treasury. To supply this aching void an entertainment was given on the 29th ult.; the main attractions being the Tipoldi Mandolin Club and James S. Burdett, the well-known cyclist and humorist. The entertainment was an artistic and financial success. The club and visiting wheelmen donned their uniforms in honor of the occasion, and altogether Passaic's pretty girls were well pleased, and the P. W.'s club pocket-book was fattened.

By the way, the entertainment committee of the Elizabeth Wheelmen will probably announce this week some sort of a shindig in aid of the bond redemption fund. JER. C.

DEC. 6, 1887.

SOUTH END WHEELMEN.

THE South End Wheelmen, of Philadelphia, celebrated the first anniversary on Monday evening, Dec. 5, 1887. The club house was handsomely decorated with flags, bunting, Chinese lanterns, and colored lights. Bicycles on the roof, portico, and garden in front of the house made a very nice appearance and attracted great attention. During the evening, the Mutual band of thirty pieces rendered some very fine operatic selections. The principal features of the evening were a floral design of a bicycle, presented by J. W. Pepper, Esq., also a very handsome club banner of blue and old gold, presented by Mr. George Caryl. Mr. J. J. Bradley was presented with a club medal in honor of upholding the South End at the recent races at the West Philadelphia A. A. The wheel-room, which was more like a splendidly decorated dining-room, presented a grand appearance, with its two large tables filled with all the delicacies of the season. Too much praise cannot be given the committee of arrangements, as everything was carried out splendidly. The club started with six members, Dec. 4, 1886, and now has a membership of forty, which is doing remarkably well, and there will be more on the list, as this anniversary created quite a sensation amongst the down-town public. 16,880.ATH

THE CLUB.

NATCHEZ CYCLE CLUB, Natchez, Miss. — Officers elected: Captain, P. P. Gluck; secretary-treasurer, P. H. Essig; lieutenant, F. Sanford; bugler, D. R. Sharpe.

NORTHAMPTON WHEEL CLUB, Northampton, Mass. — Officers elected Dec. 6: President, L. L. Campbell; vice-president, E. E. Davis; secretary-treasurer, H. R. Graves; captain, A. A. Chabot.

CENTAUR CYCLE CLUB, Baltimore, Md. — Officers elected for ensuing year: President, C. Henry Eisenbrandt; vice-president, W. B. Diggs; secretary-treasurer, C. L. Mitchell; captain, B. B. Long.

LEAVENWORTH COUNTY WHEELMEN, Leavenworth, Kan. — Officers elected are as follows: President, W. C. Schott; secretary-treasurer, Otto H. Wulfekuhler; captain, E. R. Jewett.

At the annual meeting of the Manchester Bicycle Club, Friday evening, Dec. 2, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Wm. J. Price; secretary, Chas. H. Fish; treasurer, C. E. Temple; captain, Clarence D. Palmer; first lieutenant, John E. Newton; second lieutenant, D. E. Price; color bearer, C. E. Temple; bugler, Wm. J. Price; executive committee, Wm. J. Price, C. H. Fish, C. E. Temple, C. D. Palmer, H. M. Bennett. After the election, followed the annual supper at Robert's Cafe. The club is in a flourishing condition, having a membership of forty-five, and on Dec. 10 a card tournament will commence, for prizes given by the club. CHAS. H. FISH, Sec'y.

THE La Porte (Ind.) Wheelmen will hold a reception at Concert Hall, Monday evening, Dec. 26.

THE Nonantum Club, of Newtonville, instituted a series of Saturday night smokers and entertainments, on Saturday last.

THE Chelsea Cycle Club held its annual ball on Wednesday evening. It was a very brilliant affair, and many wheelmen from other places, and several League officials were present.

THE annual ball of the Roxbury Bicycle Club will be held on the evening of Jan. 18, at Orienta Hall, 2152 Washington Street. It is the aim of the club to make this affair one of the cycling events of the winter, and its success is already assured. Prominent cyclists in this portion of the State and others, together with representative members of all clubs in this vicinity, are expected to be present.

THE Trenton (N. J.) Bicycle Club had a house warming on Thursday evening, Dec. 1. The club has rented rooms on the third story of the Opera House, and fitted them up in elegant style. Among the furnishings are a fully equipped gymnasium, a pool-table, piano, etc.; parlor quoits and other games are also provided. The opening of this elegant house was

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

celebrated by a banquet, at which fifty members of the club sat down, together with twenty-five invited guests. The President, Dr. William McCullough, sat at one end, with Vice-President E. E. Booze at the other. At one end of the cross-section sat Secretary-Treasurer S. P. Camp, and facing him was Capt. Clark Cooper. Lieut. Lewis Fisher was to the left of the vice-president. At the end of the repast President McCullough called upon Professor C. E. Cady, of the C. C. C. C., who made some humorous remarks, and gave very good advice to the members of the club. He was followed by Superintendent E. C. Stahl, in his characteristic humorous strain, and Burroughs S. Rose and others. After the speeches, the party adjourned to the gymnasium, where professors of gymnastics, William Klemmer and William Constanza, gave an exhibition of their skill upon the various apparatus. Several piano solos were rendered by Caleb Houston. Besides the officers above named, the club has elected the following board of trustees: Dr. William G. McCullough, E. E. Booze, Howard M. White, William M. Thompson, and S. P. Camp. On Wednesday, Dec. 7, the club held "Ladies' Night," and their parlor was thronged with Trenton's fairest daughters. Some of them took kindly to club life, and spent the evening playing cards, while others chatted. Several piano solos were rendered by Mr. E. Booze and Mr. Louis Fischer. Coffee and cake were served during the evening.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 117 — Total 20 — 11,875.

BOSTON, Dec. 16, 1887.

DELAWARE DIVISION — 1. — 35.

Wilmington Wheel Club.

17187 Wilson, Samuel D., 813 Franklin St., Wilmington.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 2. — 624.

Unattached.

17175 Mock, Horace J., Cambridge.
17176 Woodbury, A. G., Danville.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 1. — 98.

Kenton Wheel Club.

17177 Read, Thos W., 9 E. Pike St., Covington.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 9. — 1,325.

New Bedford Cycle Club.

17179 Marston, E. W., New Bedford.
17180 Smyth, Hoyland, 229 Acushnet Ave., "
17181 Weaver, Frank E., Dartmouth St., "

Puritan Bi. Club.

17188 Kingsley, H., 53 Summer St., Salem.
17189 Murray, J. C., 21 Harbor St., "
17190 Ober, Arthur W., 21 Mall St., "

Taunton Bi. Club.

17191 Hassenforder, Paul L., Taunton.

Unattached.

17178 Allen, I. M., care H. and J. Brewer, Springfield.
17182 McArthur, Mrs. G. J., Malden.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION — 1. — 134.

Manchester Bi. Club.

17183 Elliott, Wm. J., 492 Pine St., Manchester.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 2. — 2,302.

County Seat Wheelmen.

17192 Matthews, W. T., Goshen.

Unattached.

17184 Randell, Harry M., Westchester.

OHIO DIVISION — 2. — 937.

Central Wheelmen.

17193 Simper, J. G., 168 W. 4th St., Cincinnati.

Unattached.

17185 Scriven, W. H., Little Miami Depot, "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 1. — 1,718.

Unattached.

17194 Eaton, Rev. F. N., Beaver.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 1. — 178.

Rhode Island Wheelmen.

17186 Mott, P. E., 490 Pine St., Providence.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Dec. 12, 1887.

LIST 2.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

California,	6.	Minnesota,	2.
Colorado,	2.	Missouri,	6.
Connecticut,	11.	Nebraska,	4.
Dist. Col.,	6.	New Hampshire,	9.
Illinois,	16.	New Jersey,	10.
Indiana,	7.	New York,	61.
Iowa,	3.	Ohio,	23.
Kansas,	19.	Pennsylvania,	37.
Kentucky,	3.	Rhode Island,	46.
Louisiana,	2.	Tennessee,	1.
Maine,	1.	Texas,	2.
Maryland,	23.	Vermont,	2.
Massachusetts,	55.	Virginia,	1.
Michigan,	4.	Wisconsin,	2.
Total,			364.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

THE following clubs have renewed membership in the League for 1888, and have filed certificates to that effect in this office: —

Rover's Cycle Club, Charlestown, Mass., twelve members.

Brooklyn Bicycle Club, Brooklyn, N. Y., seventy-three members.

Roxbury Bicycle Club, Roxbury, Mass., twenty members.

Puritan Bicycle Club, Salem, Mass., eight members.

League club secretaries must file the certificate before the renewal can be published. Many lists have been sent in without certificates.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MARYLAND APPOINTMENTS.

SAMUEL T. CLARK, of Baltimore, is appointed the fifth representative from Maryland.

Louis Dashiel is appointed Local Consul for Princess Ann, Md.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 6, 1887.

MR. CARL SYKES is hereby appointed Local Consul for Ellicott City, Md., and Mr. W. W. Blake Local Consul for Catonsville, Md.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10, 1887.

MISSOURI APPOINTMENTS.

LOCAL Consuls are appointed as follows: St. Louis, Prof. C. H. Stone; Joplin, Charles Barney.

W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5, 1887.

MR. A. C. STEWART having resigned, owing to press of professional duties, the office of representative for the fifth district of this Division, I have appointed Mr. Robert Holm to fill the vacancy.

For the additional representative to which the Division is now entitled, I have appointed Mr. Edward L. Mockler.

W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7, 1887.

MISSOURI RESIGNATION.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 9, 1887.

I am in receipt of the resignation of Mr. Harry G. Stuart, of Kansas City, as representative for the fourth district, Missouri division, L. A. W. The resignation is made necessary by Mr. Stuart's proposed removal to Los Angeles, California. Mr. Stuart was one of the most active and efficient of the Missouri board, and his resignation is received with regret. I commend him most heartily to the wheelmen of the Pacific Coast.

Fraternally,

W. M. BREWSTER,
Chief Consul.

REINSTATEMENT.

By unanimous vote of the Racing Board, Mr. John Illston, of Birmingham, Eng., has been reinstated as an amateur.

J. H. COOLEY, Chairman.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Dec. 12, 1887.

MARYLAND DIVISION.

A SPECIAL meeting of this Division for the transacting of business of much importance will be held at 8 P. M., Tuesday, Dec. 20, at the club-house of the Maryland Bicycle Club, Mount Royal Avenue, Baltimore. Each and every member is earnestly requested to be present and to be prompt.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

ENAMELINE, wearing qualities equal to any; lustre, finest in the world. Process, patented. For bicycles, sewing machines, hardware, furniture, glass, willow ware, etc. By express, four-ounce, twenty cents; eight-ounce, thirty-eight cents. By mail, sample, ten cents; four-ounce, thirty-five cents; eight-ounce, fifty-five cents; brush, ten cents extra. Chicago Manufacturing and Printing Company, 71 and 73 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS.

WEEKLY, 10 CENTS.

The American Edition is produced from advance duplicate plates furnished by the London Publishers under special contract, and is published in New York City about one week later than in London.

For nearly a half century, the illustrations and information on all subjects of world-wide interest appearing in this paper have delighted its many readers, and established for it such a reputation that particular comment is unnecessary. During the coming year the paper will maintain the same high standard of excellence and interest as in the past. A special feature of interest will be the publication of WILLIAM BLACK'S new illustrated serial, "The Strange Adventures of a House-Boat," which will commence Jan. 7, 1888.

Subscription - - - $4.00 a Year.

SAMPLE COPIES, TEN CENTS.

THE CHRISTMAS NUMBER,

(THE ORIGINAL EDITION IMPORTED,)

This year is more attractive than usual, containing FOUR PRESENTATION PICTURES IN COLORS, printed in the finest style of Chromo-Lithography.

1. BUBBLES - - - By Sir J. E. Millais, Bart., R. A.
2. FAITH - - - - - - - - - By A. Piot.
3. A ROSE AND CHRYSANTHEMUMS - By J. Tofano.
4. DON'T TOUCH - - - - - - - By E. Grivaz.

COMPLETE STORY BY BRET HARTE,

Entitled "A PHYLLIS OF THE SIERRAS." Illustrated by R. C. WOODVILLE.

Illustrations drawn by R. C. WOODVILLE, FLORENCE GRAVIER, A. HUNT, G. MONTBARD, KATE CRAUFORD, HAL LUDLOW, LUCIEN DAVIES, LOUIS WAIN, H. REINECKE, STANLEY BENKELEY. Those subscribing before Jan. 1 will receive the Christmas Number without Extra Charge.

PRICE OF CHRISTMAS NUMBER, 50 CENTS.

THE ILLUSTRATED NEWS COMPANY,

237 Potter Building, New York.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No.

Name,

P. O. Address,

City and State,

Club,

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

OUR LITTLE FLYER.

STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER

Has closed the season for us with the most wonderful road performance ever recorded by the wheel press, making in the 24 hours, on an ordinary 51-inch Light Champion taken out of stock and weighing 40 pounds, the phenomenal distance of 323 MILES.

Proofs of the ride have been submitted to the interested press, and this record has been accepted by every cycle paper in the country without a single dissenting voice, and the doubter has but to write any cycling editor to become himself convinced.

The American Cycles are road machines, and strong enough for the toughest American roads. They hold every American road record from 10 miles up to 24 hours; hence it would seem that they run even more easily than the frail and specially constructed wheels that our competitors have used in their futile attempts to wrest the records from riders of Champions.

Oh, but the bearings do tell, sure enough!

And that little track trial of Dingley's, at Lynn, on a 36-lb. Champion, still stands at the head, notwithstanding that most of the racing cracks, on racing machines, mind you, have had a go at it. In the words of Sammy Hollingsworth, "It was a wonderful record."

If you wish to purchase the best and easiest running road machines in the world, correspond with

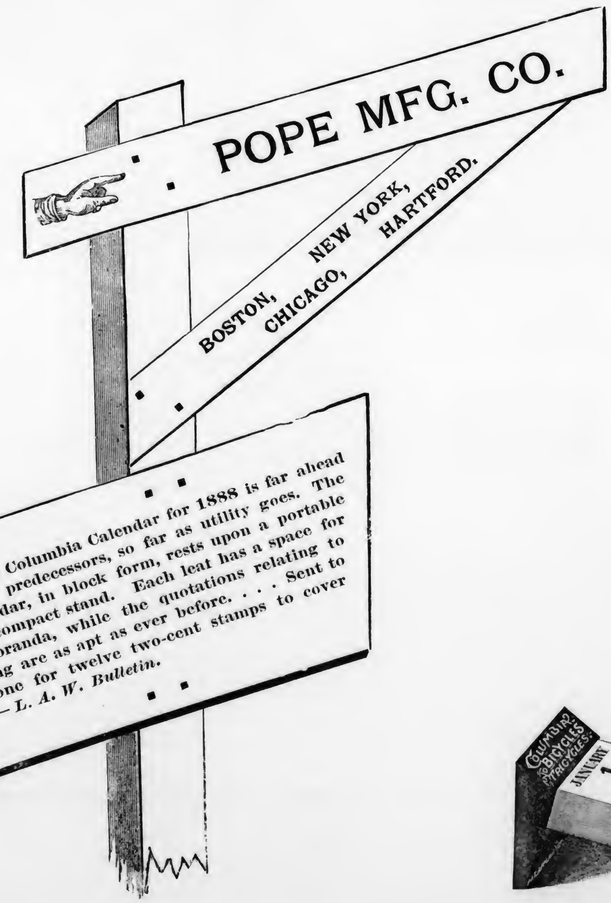
GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN



A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY.

BOSTON, DECEMBER 23, 1887.

VOL. V. No. 25. WHOLE NUMBER, 130.

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN ⁘ WHEEL ⁘ COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

WHO knows but that before the next century dawns it will be recognized that the inventor of the bicycle has done more to revolutionize the religious, moral, and social ideas of mankind than all the philosophers of our time? — Pall Mall Gazette.

THE TRADE IN GERMANY. — It is interesting to note that cycling is now being applied more and more to practical purposes. In one of the last sittings of the Hanoverian Diet, seven thousand marks were voted for the purchase of cycles for the use of highway overseers, former experiments in this direction having turned out satisfactorily. — German Trade Review.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats.)

It has been hard work to make people believe that we can cut, and make to order, a good pair of pants for $3.00. Pants that will look well, fit well, and wear well. By persistent advertising, we have induced a great many people to risk $3.00 upon our agreement, endorsed by the American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) to refund money for any cause. Then doubt yields to surprise, and the question everywhere is asked "How can we do it?" In that way we are building up and holding a large trade, scattered from Maine to California, that is buying everything from us, Suits, Overcoats, and Pants. For six cents we mail you twenty samples to select from, and self-measurement blanks, so accurate that we can safely guarantee a fit; also a good linen tape-measure, if you mention this paper; or if you would save time and leave choice of goods you prefer, send us your waist, inside leg and hip measures, together with $3.00 and thirty-five cents to prepay express or postage and packing and we will forward the goods, guaranteeing safe delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

"HOW CAN THEY DO IT?"

Write the American Express Co., Boston, about us, and they will reply at once.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

MORE POWER AND SPEED.

A New Tricycle and Bicycle.

Large increase of propelling power, and a bearing which has no frictional resistance whatever. Other important improvements. Desire to arrange with manufacturer to make on royalty.

T. W. MOORE,
42 Elizabeth Street, New York.

The McClintock Home Trainer for 1888.

(PATENTED MARCH 22, 1887.)

Riders, now is the time to exercise at home. This trainer gives you the same motion as road riding. You shouldn't be without one. It can be used with any style of cycle. Send for circulars. Price, $13.00. Special discounts to dealers.

Address, McClintock Home Trainer Co.,
No. 431 Market St., Williamsport, Penn.

ESTABLISHED 1846 MUNN & Co PATENTS NEW YORK

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

Patents applied for.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

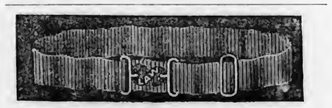
CHAS. H. LAMSON,



177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest List of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

THE renewals come in upon us thick and fast. We recorded the thousandth on Dec. 15, and scored the best on record.

THESE early comers have faith in the League, for they come right up to the captain's office before the expiration of the year.

THE ladies are sending in their renewals among the very first. The League has no more enthusiastic or more loyal members than it counts among the ladies. The interest evinced by them in the column set apart in their behalf is unequalled. Those who have said, "Why do you have a ladies' column?" would not ask the question could they know with what interest the ladies read it, or could they see how many members this one department has made for the League.

WE hope to see more ladies in the League next year. Many husbands join the organization, and say, "My membership gives me a paper, and one paper will do for both of us." But the paper is not all. There are other benefits to be had, and the wife should share them. And so, good friend, you should let your wife be one of us. "And the extra paper?" you say; why, use that among your friends, to persuade them to join also.

IT is reported that bicyclers are not allowed to use the shell road at Mobile, Ala., and it is said that burly negroes are hired to waylay and beat cyclers found riding on this road.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

AFTER a week of the most delightful riding weather, we are again afflicted with a spell of fog, mist, and rain, making riding impracticable, and outdoor life a misery. Many pleasant runs and excursions that had been planned for to-day are necessarily postponed, and grumbling is heard on all sides from those who are utilizing every favorable opportunity to increase their mileage or make the most of this protracted season. It is seldom that we are afforded such unusually good and uninterrupted riding as it has been our pleasure to enjoy during the present fall and winter; but the past has been a remarkable season in many ways, both throughout the country and in the "City of Churches," where it has produced many changes in our cycling history.

EACH one of the important clubs of this city has made marvellous advancement. The old veterans, the Brooklyns, have removed from their former contracted quarters to a large and commodious club house, which is to-day the best furnished, most cosy, and as convenient as any other. The Long Islands have, and the Kings County are about to take possession of their new and elegant club houses, the only buildings in the city constructed especially for the requirements of cyclers and the Ilderans have followed the example of the Brooklyns and secured, by rental, a building suitable to their needs. Even the embryo clubs, which have sprung up like mushrooms, have enjoyed a most healthy growth during the season, one in particular seeming destined to continued life and ultimate prosperity, though the others, through lack of accommodation, appear to be hovering between disruption or consolidation with some one of the larger and more influential organizations. Indeed, the past season may be said to have been the banner year in our cycling history, and we have every indication of a still more prosperous one the coming year. This remarkable growth and prosperity are directly traceable to the tremendous increase in the number of new riders. I use this superlative adjective, Mr. Editor, because that growth has simply been tremendous. And for very much of this increase our thanks are due to our worthy friend Charles Schwalbach, who had the ambition and pluck to start, in this small town of nearly a million inhabitants, the first cycling establishment worthy of the name. Nine out of ten of our new riders learned the art on his convenient and accessible riding ground, and as the end should justify the means, it is only right that honor should be given where honor is due.

THE several cycling papers received yesterday contained descriptions of the new club house now in course of erection for the Buffalo Bicycle Club. A most interesting feature, to me, is the gymnasium, which, according to the description, is to be on a grand scale, and will occupy about one half of the building. The large majority of cyclers are more or less fond of other athletic exercise, and I have always maintained that no well-appointed club house is complete without a suitable gymnasium or other place where those who desire may exercise. The Buffalo Club propose to economize space by utilizing the large room of the gymnasium for their meetings and social gatherings. This plan is an admirable one, and could be adopted with advantage by others who are contemplating building in the future. There is a crying demand for a good gymnasium in every town of any considerable importance. In this city we have one, — and by the way, it is one of the best in the country, — but it is controlled by the Y. M. C. A., and for that reason is particularly obnoxious to many who would otherwise like to enjoy its benefits, being overcrowded, promiscuous, and governed by foolish restrictions. Nevertheless, this institution receives a very large support from members of various athletic clubs, many of them cyclers, who are compelled to patronize it because there is no other place of the kind to substitute. Now if any one of our cycling clubs had, in connection with its club house, a first-class gymnasium, what a bid they could make for public patronage, and if their gymnasium was of sufficient size to permit it, what an income they could derive from allowing the members of other clubs the privilege of its use! There are at present about one hundred and sixty members of our various boat clubs who do their winter work at the gymnasium above mentioned, paying each fifteen dollars for the privilege, and from interviews with the most prominent members, it is safe to say that any other well-appointed gymnasium would get their patronage, even at an increase of cost.

"MARKET extremely dull, small offerings, with active demand. Indications point to a continuance of this dulness until the new spring crop, when we may look for an increased activity and larger offerings." The above quotation, stolen by me from the "Brooklyn Notes" of my friend "Alert," in Wheel of this week, describes to a nicety the state of the local news market at present. Club news, particularly, is very scarce, though all the clubs are making active preparations for an enjoyable social season during the winter. The principal topic of cycle talk at the club houses is the improvements that are to appear in next year's wheels, and though no one seems to have much definite information on the subject, many have various ideas and opinions that are readily discussed. Certain it is that the dwarf safety has made an impression during the past season and has won many friends. All who have toured with them are loud in their praise, and several of our old reliables are very strongly inclined to change. The time in which practical riders "rode on their shape" is past. Comfort and convenience are now the desideratum, and as the dwarf seems to provide these requisites, and has outlived the former foolish prejudice that existed against it on account of its awkward appearance, indications are that it is to be the wheel of the future. BON.

DEC. 10, 1887.

ST. LOUIS.

D. CASTLEMAN WEBB, the young attorney, gave a peculiar tribute to the wheel the other day. He was riding out to Forest Park, when he said: "I wonder if I am lazy after all. Here I was going to hitch up my horse and drive out, but when I came to think about the trouble it would be to get the horse ready, I just said, 'Here, I'll jump on my bike and skip out there,' and here I am astraddle the coffee mill. It plays a pretty tune, does n't it?" And sure enough it did, although it was largely clogged with mud with which the boulevard was covered, but through which Cas. preferred to pump his wheel to harnessing the horse.

CHIEF CONSUL BREWSTER was the first one to renew from this end of the line. He was speaking of it at the club the other day, when a chorus went up: "Oh, yes, you did, because they reserved places for the officers, and thou art treasurer, most noble Festus." "Nay, verily," quoth the money-handler of the Leagues, "I did not get there thusly. On the contrary, though getting there first, my ticket numbers five. That's the advantage of wearing a crown, ha, ha!" and he laughed a laugh of scorn.

TESTIMONIALS have come to hand quite numerously regarding the excellence of the L. A. W. meet programme and its rare artistic merit, but I think that the best tribute is from the orders received by Buxton & Skinner, the firm that turned out the programme. They tell me that they have received orders from England and France, from parties who say they had seen the bicycle programmes. Anthony Comstock and page 16 are yet to be heard from.

Brewster says he is still the recipient of inquiries from all over the country regarding the details of illuminated parades which are being worked up. The latest is from San Francisco, and these inquiries show that although other parades may come and go, the great St. Louis parade goes on and on, forever.

FRANK J. SUDA, as representative, has done his work with a thoroughness that ought to make him a shining example to those official members of divisions who too often do nothing but bear the honors of their position. Suda's district includez Ironton, Potosi, and other places to the south of here. Suda's plan was very comprehensive. He first wrote to all the L. A. W. members in the district for information regarding the non-League riders in their community. These requests were ignored with a cold-blooded and shameful indifference that would have caused a cessation of work on the part of anybody not having such lofty ideas of duty as Suda. He kept pegging away just the same. When the wheelmen went back on him, he wrote to the business men in the district, asking them to furnish him the names of riders in their vicinity. These requests were honored so willingly that Suda soon had uncovered whole nests of riders who probably never had heard of the League.

For instance, at the little town of Marble Hill he found ten riders; at Potosi, nine; and at other places enough to swell the total to about thirty. To these Suda has sent applications and L. A. W. documents, showing them their duties as riders, regarding the joining of the League, and Chief Consul Brewster is in hopes that out of Suda's persistent efforts will come a good healthy brood of new chickens for 1888. If the other representatives were as faithful as Suda, we might come to be the banner division. We have over three hundred and fifty members now, and seven representatives. Now, suppose that each representative should secure thirty new members as Suda, no doubt, will. Why, we would have nearly six hundred members and a voting strength in the Board of Officers of twelve or more. But hence, idle dreams! Our representatives are not all Sudas and therefore we will have to "bide a wee."

POOR Dr. Emery, of Roxbury! He left here under a cloud, after being made the victim of a practical joke that is enough to make him an eternal misogynist. One evening during his visit, he went with Klipstein and Hildebrand to call on a friend, with the understanding that several ladies would make up the party. On the way to the house, Dr. Emery's two friends filled him full of accounts of the great attractiveness and accomplishments of the ladies they were about to meet. On reaching the house, the friend invited them in and did his utmost to entertain the three, but it was no use; at the least sound of the door, they would look yearningly toward the doorway and listen for the rustle of the robes. But all the long evening — and it was very long — they waited, but there was n't the least bit of a rustle. Finally, they went home, the three did, two of them sad, disconsolate, and gloomy. Emery laughed and said it was a good joke. The next day they bounced the host and asked him how he came to disappoint them in re the gentler sex. "Why," said he, "I did it out of respect to the Doctor, of course, who wrote me last month, saying he did n't care for ladies' company, and, naturally, I concluded he was a woman-hater." And the worst of it was that the host went "home," and got the Doctor's letter, and the next day was showing it around as a vindication of his apparent discourtesy. The boys have indited these lines to the Doctor: —

"Oh, woman, in our hours of ease,
Uncertain, coy, and hard to please,"
How hard it is to call on thee,
And be entertained only by a "he."

OMEN.

THE OWL.

SINCE the appearance in this column for the past few weeks of several notices regarding the fair sex, my mail has been increased by numerous letters from them consulting me on various questions relative to cycling in connection with themselves. While I am, of course, pleased to receive such flattering notices of my supposed knowledge in the matter, I must declare that I am not the authority on the subject that my fair correspondents seem to think I am, yet I have endeavored to answer all of them to the best of my ability. To-day I received the following letter from some fair aspirant for cycling glory and ducats: —

"MY DEAR MRS. OWL" [while this is an evident mistake on the writer's part as to my sex, yet in view of the absence of any Mrs. Owl at present, I accepted the letter as intended for me]: "Do you think that a female professional rider would succeed, in the present craze for cycling novelties? Please let me know, as I am thinking of learning how to ride with this object in view, if, in your opinion, there is any money in it for

"Yours very truly,
"NANCY NICKLE."

Yes, Nancy, I think there is a chance for such. From a long and somewhat varied experience with cycling professionals, both male and female, I must declare though that it depends something on the fee. As a rule, the more you fee male professionals the more they succeed.

"BICYCLES nickelled inside" is the sign on a Centre Street store, and while I have long wondered at the craze of new riders for nickel-plated wheels, I had no idea that they had carried it to the extreme of getting them nickelled inside.

"WHY don't you get off something new?" was plainly written on a postal card by some disgusted reader of this column, last week. I was rather hurt at this curt and somewhat personal inquiry, and I thought that I really ought to do something to furnish him less cause for complaint, though the question was much easier of asking than of answering. Yet fate and a new Star belonging to one of my clubmates have kindly enabled me to comply with the writer's request. Had he only seen me get off that new Star, he would feel satisfied completely with my having at last got "off something new." If I was hurt at his question, he may rest assured that I was more hurt by the sudden way I was thus forced to get off that wheel.

IN the days of old, according to biblical lore, we were informed that the "wise men came from the East"; but, if we believe the journals of the West, especially those devoted to cycling, we must now reverse this, and admit their claims that the wise men come only from the West, and the East furnishes only fools to be taught by these cycling Solomons.

THE horsemen, who have an organization for the promulgating of their doctrine that they should have constructed, for their sole use in Central Park, a race road for their pets, to be paid for out of the pockets of the taxpayer, of course, but the use of which shall be limited to such as are the owners of fast trotters, do not seem to be meeting with much success. Their first meeting, some two weeks ago, was so slimly attended that it was determined that something must be done to attract the public attention and attendance outside the mere question of road hogism. So on Saturday evening they adopted a sort of Salvation Army dodge and extensively advertised that a free concert would be given at Association Hall, and, incidentally thereto, a little horse talk indulged in. Results proved that road hogism and harmony of sound did not assimilate, notwithstanding the fact that "I Feel Thy Angel Spirit" was warbled in duet, and another angel in the presence of Judge Angel sturdily held forth upon the angelic pleasure of horse adoration. A sample of the strong (?) arguments they advanced in favor of the building of this road, at the expense of a couple of hundred thousand dollars, was set forth by a gentleman disguised as "a wealthy gentleman," as follows: "If you had a roadway for fast driving in Central Park, I would bring down two teams every year and stop not less than two months, and could name at least fifty gentlemen of our acquaintance who would do the same thing." A nice sort of argument this is. For the sake of these few exclusives, the million and a quarter of residents of New York are asked to tax themselves to build a road for their sole use and enjoyment. Just think what a hue and cry would be raised if it were the wheelmen asking this instead of the horsemen!

THE Union Club, which is the most exclusive and wealthy organization of its kind in this country, has just paid a high compliment to the locality chosen by the New York Bicycle Club for their new club house. It is proposed for a hundred or hundred and fifty families, whose heads are members of the Union Club, to join a party and purchase property on West End Avenue around the New Yorks' site, and to erect handsome residences thereon, making it take the place in swelldom formerly occupied by 5th Avenue. Should this be accomplished, as seems more than likely, the New Yorks will be situated in the very heart of Gotham's Belgravia.

DEATH on the pale horse — a jay rider on a nickelled wheel, flying down a rocky hill, with his brake broken.

TOOT terrible — the attempts of the club bugler when practising.

SMART ALECK met Miss Cripper up on the Riverside Drive one evening last summer, and, as usual, she started off bewailing the misfortune of her sex that prohibited her from becoming an ardent bicyclist. The time and place being appropriate, Smart Aleck suggested that she seat herself side-saddle wise upon his wheel, and he would wheel her round, giving her thereby a faint idea of some of the pleasures of bicycling. After much coaxing, this was finally accomplished. To steady his fair charge, Smart Aleck placed his arm around Miss Cripper's waist. Growing used to the novelty of the riding after a while, she became aware of this fact, and gently removing his arm, said, "Why, Mr. Smart Aleck! Is that proper?" To which he replied, "Most certainly it is, Miss Cripper! Whenever a lady rides a bicycle as you are doing, it is necessary to prop her, and the means I was using seem to me to be the most proper propper to prop her with": and then the lesson continued as before.

I AM more convinced each day, through a series of observations of both married men and bicycle lamps, that there is a great similarity between the two, owing to the fact that both of them show a decided tendency to go out at night when they had n't ought to.

THE OWL.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

"GOD bless us every one!" So said Tiny Tim, and so say I. The glory of the holidays is full upon us. Custom flings wide open the doors, and hospitality reigns with royal grace and elegance. Now is the time to lay aside all enmity and strife, and to be at peace with all the world.

WELCOME, then, the children's Christmas and ours! Welcome, if only for a day, the cessation of foolish struggle and tormenting care. For a moment let us forget the great things which we have done or expect to do, and, surrendering ourselves to sports which bring no repentance, let us keep a carnival without coarseness and saturnalia, cleanly and without shame.

WE can get along without Willam Tell, we can spare Pocahontas, we will not complain if it is proven that George Washington never had a hatchet, but we cannot dispense with Santa Claus, or Kris Kringle, or any other shape in which the Christmas spirit is embodied in the legends of different nations. Always the fancy of the children will hear the patter of his reindeer hoofs upon the roof, as they lie waiting for Christmas dawn. Always will paternal and maternal love take delight in concealing its own plans and gifts under the fur-trimmed mantle of the merry and waggish Christmas sprite.

WHAT has this to do with cycling? Nothing! and yet much. It is a time when mankind forgets his special hobby; it is the era when all the world remembers that it is akin, and has a common interest. And so let us hope that Christmas will be a merry one, not only for wheelmen, but for all of God's creatures.

A LADY member of the Elizabeth Wheelmen of Elizabeth, N. J., writes as follows:—

"I am a converted horse-woman; have always had at least one and oftener several horses to keep exercised. In November, 1884, I commenced to ride a wheel, and have kept it up with increased enthusiasm. Our city is not all that could be wished for as regards pavements, and we cannot make large records. Every time I go out it is necessary, in going and returning, to ride three miles of rough Belgian blocks before reaching the macadam. My wheel takes the place of a horse for pleasure riding. I have covered in all over two thousand miles. Have never taken any very long rides, my average being about ten miles. My longest ride was fifty-two miles on a very antiquated wheel, and partly over rough roads. For my use I prefer a tandem. Have also a 60-pound Cripper trike. I consider cycling the best form of exercise for women. I have but little use for doctors and medicine. My sister, who has been an invalid for years and unable to walk any distance over a quarter of a mile, has, within the past year, taken to cycling and has experienced great benefit. She is able, without undue fatigue, to ride five or six miles at a time. There are over a dozen lady riders in this city. The number is increasing, and they are all enthusiastic. One of them on a tandem rode sixty miles in one day last year. It was on the circuit to Morristown and return by way of Pine Brook and Montclair, part over rough roads. It is counted an all-day run for a more than average bicyclist. Another one takes long trips on a single. We have had a few 'ladies' runs,' but it is difficult to find a day and hour that will suit all. One word more. Full benefit cannot be expected from cycling, or in fact from any exercise, unless a change is made of all clothing. The ordinary lady's dress and underwear are not fit to ride in. Don't be afraid to get good and hot while on the wheel, the luxury of a sponge bath on returning need only be once tried to be appreciated. This removes all danger of taking cold. I talk this all the time, but I am often met with the objection, 'It's too much trouble.'"

I HAVE, for a long while, desired to find one who could talk from experience regarding the relative ease, comfort, and enjoyment of horseback and tricycle riding. Our friend above has tried both, and pronounces in favor of the wheel. Can we not have more testimony of this kind? It is fashionable to ride horseback, and many ladies turn to that kind of exercise, believing it to be easy and pleasant. They shrink from what they conceive to be the hard work of cycling, but, from what I can learn, horseback riding is far more fatiguing.

I SYMPATHIZE with the Elizabeth riders who have to ride miles over granite-paved streets before getting to good roads. Until the last month I had to pay this price for every ride I took, but now that I am in the "Paradise of Cycling," the good, hard macadam roads come to my very door. My wheel stands on the piazza, and takes me to the post-office or stores whenever I am called to go there. I had a delightful ride yesterday (Dec. 15), and found the roads in most excellent condition. I have never before ridden later than Thanksgiving.

DAISIE.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

AT the regular stated meeting of the Philadelphia Bicycle Club, a resolution was adopted expressing the deep interest the club takes in the case of Mr. Rowland Evans against his assailant, Mr. Carnell, and regretting the verdict rendered by the jury, which called forth a criticism from the presiding judge. The resolution concludes: "The Philadelphia Bicycle Club trusts that Mr. Evans will seek the redress which the law gives him in a civil action, feeling sure that he has the sympathy of all wheelmen, and if necessary, will receive their co-operation and support."

THE Century Wheelmen are looking about for a place to build themselves a new club house which it is promised shall exceed in usefulness and beauty both the Philadelphia and Pennsylvania club houses. There is some little talk of the Pennsylvania and Century uniting on a race meeting in this city on a large scale; the clubs had far better devote any spare funds they may have for this purpose to their respective buildings, as it has been proven, time and again, that race meetings to the Philadelphia public are as "love's labor lost."

THE petition to Chief Consul Jessup, asking for the reappointment of Jno. A. Wells only received about one hundred and twenty signatures out of the thousands of Philadelphia riders. Mr. Jessup will most likely refer the entire matter, with the views of his constituency, to the Board of Officers.

THIS is not a "puff," Mr. Editor, before you get out your blue pencil, but simply a little brag about a Philadelphia institution, — the Hart Cycle Company, the Columbia agency here.

In a chat with Mr. Hart, in a few leisure moments, culled from a recent busy day, he explained the line of improvement marked out, which will give his concern the largest cycling warerooms, outside of the manufactories, in the country. The improvements now in order will leave the entire first floor of the building, 811 Arch Street, about one hundred feet in depth, for office and salesroom, and the second floor will constitute the repair shop. Big and little lathes, drills, burnishers, and rim testers and straighteners, patent velocipedes, old wheels and new, and a small steam engine were sadly mixed, but the corps of workmen, hard at it, seemed to promise order from chaos at an early date.

Karl Kron's book has been taken up by just about one half the subscribers. PHACTO.

THE SALEM CASE.

A CORRESPONDENT in Winston, N. C., sends us the following account of the arrest of a cycler at Salem, N. C.: —

There is one street which divides Salem and Winston, and on the twenty-eighth day of November, Mr. Joe Terry, of Winston, mounted Mr. Gibson's bicycle, for a short ride. He crossed the line into Salem, was seen by a policeman, and was told to consider himself under arrest. He then made for the Winston line or the city of refuge, pursued by the officer, and says he had a good race, but crossed the line in time. The next day he received a notice to appear before the mayor of Salem. He went, and was fined two dollars for riding the wheel, eighty cents for witness fees, one dollar for costs, making a total of three dollars and eighty cents. Mr. Gibson was notified the next day not to ride his wheel across the line. My business is both in Salem and Winston, as I keep books for our factory in Salem, and for the store in Winston. I intended getting me a bicycle to save me the long walk between places, and to save time, but what am I to do, if I am barred from attending to my business with the aid of a wheel? If the wheel is a man's means of conveyance, why has he not the same right to the public thoroughfare as a horse and buggy? And what right has a corporation to impose a fine on or arrest a man for peaceably riding along in the middle of the road, attending to his business? I say that if they arrest a wheelman, they should arrest parties with other vehicles of conveyance.

J. C. SIMMONS.

CINCINNATI.

THE Central Wheelmen, the youngest and liveliest of the Queen City's wheel clubs, has just moved into its new and elegantly appointed club-rooms, No. 287 Vine Street. The new rooms consist of parlors, library, smoking and meeting rooms, and any wheelman, whether local or visiting, may be sure of a hearty welcome and pleasant evening if he will give the boys a call.

THE Avondale Bicycle Club will give a minstrel performance at Avon Hall, Avondale, on the 13th of January. The proceeds will be devoted to finishing and furnishing the club house. The A. B. Cs. are hustlers and deserve a large patronage.

THE Cincinnati Bicycle Club, although quiet, enjoys a pleasant smoker and social meet every Monday evening at the cosy club-rooms on Elm Street.

THE Brightons and Northsides are seldom heard of, while the Kentons and Newports are as hospitable as ever, and any stranger within their gates will be taken in and done for in the most approved fashion.

WHEELMEN of this city see the benefits of the League, and many recruits will be found after Jan 1.

THE Centrals announce themselves as "at home" New-Year's Day, and cordially invite all wheelmen to give them a call from 2 to 10 P. M.

L. A. W., 16,010.

IT is said that engraved visiting cards are becoming very fashionable of late. To meet this demand, we have added an engraving department, and can furnish 50 engraved cards from copper-plate, postpaid, for $1.25. Prices for stamping and embossing, plain or in colors, upon application. Estimates for engraving or printing of any kind furnished. CHICAGO MANFG. AND PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

DINGLEY'S RECORD.

It was announced some time ago that Frank E. Dingley, of the Gormully & Jeffery team, would attempt to lower all the world's records from one hundred miles, up to what he could do in twenty-four hours, at the earliest opportunity. Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9th and 10th, were the days set for the attempt at an entertainment, given for the benefit of the News Boys' Home, on which occasion several other events took place, the following being the order of the programme: First race, one mile roller skating race, between Geo. Shaw and Chas. Cole, the former winning; time, 3.28. Second race, two mile bicycle race for boys, between Harry Blain and Frank Stockdale; Blain won; time, 6 58. Third event was a race for newsboys, one half mile, which was won by John Golden. Fourth race was a three-mile professional bicycle race between the two well-known flyers, S. G. Whittaker and W. F. Knapp. This was undoubtedly the best race ever run in the rink, the time for each mile being as follows: first mile, 2.54; two miles, 5.54; three miles, 8.54 2-5, the best indoor record in America for three miles. The fifth event was a two-mile amateur race between E. J. Hale and Chas. Bartlett; this was a grand race from start to finish, Hale finally winning by a few feet, time 6.6. This was closely followed by the appearance of Frank E. Dingley, who started in on his long journey in an attempt to make three hundred and fifty miles in twenty-four hours. He was paced the first ten miles by A. A. McCurdy the famous Star rider, and then he was taken along alternately by Whittaker, Knapp, and Eck. He covered the first hundred miles in 5.52.25. He rested a few minutes and was off again like a flash, making an even two hundred before he again dismounted, time 12.56.50 He began to break all previous world's records from one hundred miles. As he started on his next hundred, T. W. Eck came out mounted on a Gormully & Jeffery American Safety Bicycle, forty-six inches not geared up. Eck was down on the programme for an attempt to establish an American Safety record. He set pace for Dingley the whole way, making a record of 3.18.50, his time for each five miles being given in the table below.

When Dingley had completed two hundred and fifty miles in sixteen hours thirty-nine minutes forty-two seconds, he retired for a few minutes, and Whittaker came out again with him, and hustled him up for about twenty miles, when Knapp took a turn for about the same number of miles. Dingley completed three hundred miles in twenty hours sixteen minutes twelve seconds. By this time he began to show signs of weakness. The building was not any too warm, and his left leg began to get stiff, but he kept pluckily to his work, and turned off mile after mile to slow music. At times it looked as though he would not make more than three hundred and forty miles, then he would turn up for a fast spurt, and everybody would say, "He will make three hundred and sixty," when he would almost cave again, and he got to wabbling on the track, and his trainer, Eck, caught hold of his wheel and stopped him, made him dismount, and walk once around the track. This seemed to revive him, and he struck out at a seventeen mile an hour clip, when McCurdy appeared in a slick suit of tights and jockey cap. Whittaker was on the track at the same time they began to spurt, and Dingley would pass Whittaker down one side and McCurdy down the other. The two pace makers played these tactics on Dingley for over six miles, which brought his score up in good shape, but the fast work began to tell, and he soon slowed down to a ten mile an hour gait, when Carlisle let all the boys on the street in at the door free, telling them to holler from then until the finish, which they did in good style, not letting up for a moment. The band was kept busy, and there was one continuous yell until the finish, when Dingley crossed the mark, breaking every existing record from one hundred miles up to three hundred and fifty and a half miles, which wonderful distance he accomplished in twenty-three hours fifty-nine minutes fifty-eight seconds, a performance that will stand for some time to come.

He was mounted on a 53-inch American Champion, full nickel plated, which showed up beautifully in the electric light. Dingley deserves a good deal of credit for the plucky manner in which he held out to the finish, as he was under the weather before he started, and has not felt well since his arrival home from the East. He was well looked after by T. W. Eck, who looked after Dingley and Whittaker in both their record-breaking feats this year. The following are the records for each ten miles, also Eck's time for each five miles for his safety record, which is the best professional record in the world:—

Table showing time for each ten miles of Frank E. Dingley's twenty-four hour ride against time, at Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 9 and 10, 1887.

Miles.	H.	M.	S.	Miles.		M.	S.
10		31	53	190	12	13	22
20	1	04	32	200	12	56	50
30	1	37	08	210	13	58	55
40	2	11	22	220	14	38	52
50	2	46	09	230	15	22	25
60	3	23	06	240	15	58	15
70	3	58	25	250	16	39	42
80	4	35	09	260	17	23	37
90	5	12	08	270	18	05	10
100	5	52	25	280	18	44	15
110	6	42	10	290	19	32	35
120	7	22	48	300	20	16	12
130	8	04	55	310	21	03	10
140	8	44	37	320	21	45	25
150	9	24	52	330	22	30	35
160	10	06	45	340	23	15	25
170	10	48	53	350	23	58	18
180	11	28	08	350½	23	59	58

The English record for eight hours is one hundred and eighteen miles, by J. B. Tireney.

Dingley's is as follows: eight hours, one hundred and twenty-eight miles, five laps.

The previous American record for eight hours was one hundred and twenty-seven miles, by W. J. Morgan.

The English record for twelve hours is one hundred and eighty-six miles, one hundred and forty yards, by Fred Lees; twelve hours, one hundred and eighty-seven miles, two laps.

The previous American record for twelve hours was one hundred and eighty-five and one eighth miles, by John S. Prince.

The previous world's record for twenty-four hours is three hundred and seventeen and one eighth miles, by W. J. Morgan, at Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 21, 1886.

Whittaker rode three hundred and twenty-three miles on the road in twenty-four hours, at Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 18 and 19, 1887.

Dingley's is the best now in the world, from one hundred miles to three hundred and fifty and a half miles.

Dingley breaks the eight hour, twelve hour, and twenty-four hour world's records.

GOOD WORK

And low prices do not always go together. However, we have a contract that enables us to furnish both for some time to come. Cards, printed with name and address, with or without L. A. W. Badge, plain or crazy edge bevel, 25 for 35c., 50 for 50c. Gold bevel or superfine wedding Bristol, 25 for 45c., 50 for 65c., POSTPAID. Will be pleased to furnish estimates for printing of any kind. Address, CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

Table showing the time for each five miles of T. E. Eck's fifty-mile Safety bicycle record, made on a 46-inch American Champion, not geared up.

Miles	H.	M.	S.	Miles.	H.	M.	S.
5		18	30	30	1	59	30
10		37	30	35	2	17	30
15		57	40	40	2	37	28
20	1	18	05	45	2	58	43
25	1	39	12	50	3	18	50

MINNEAPOLIS.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Dec. 12, 1887.

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that we acted as officials in the twenty-four hour record-breaking attempt of Frank E. Dingley at the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 9 and 10, 1887, and that, to the best of our knowledge and belief, he accomplished the distance of three hundred and fifty and a half miles in the twenty-four hours; and that T. W. Eck on Dec. 10, at same place, rode fifty miles on a safety bicycle in 3h. 18m. 20s. on a track that measures eight laps to the mile.

Referee.....JOHN NICHOLSON.
Judges.....S. F. HEATH.
O. W. SMITH.
Pace Makers.....S. G. WHITTAKER.
A. A. MCCURDY.
W. F. KNAPP.
T. W. ECK.
Scorers and Timers...GEO. H. BARTLETT.
FRANK T. GAYLORD.
EDWARD P. KENDALL.
Starter.....B. WALLACE.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Last Wednesday evening I had a genuine treat. I was invited to a "smoker" at the cosy club house of the R. I. Wheelmen. Going in about eight, with the genial lieutenant to whose kindness I owed my invitation, I found some thirty or more assembled, members of the Crescent and Rhode Island Clubs.

Among the gentlemen assembled, I met several whom I had known through the columns of the BULLETIN, one of these being Dr. Bogman, whose quickness with his pocket flask brought the "road hog" to a standstill out in the Wellesley Hills, last fall.

This little affair, of which an account was given in the BULLETIN some time in the fall, has been beautifully illustrated by one of the clubmen, in pen-and-ink sketches, framed, and now hangs on the wall in the front room of the club house. The start, the ride out to the Wellesley Hills, the "road hog," the assault, the chase, the capture where the doctor's flask did duty as a "shooter," the trial and conviction, are all vividly portrayed. The fine and costs amounted to $16.79, and now every one of the run wears a button bearing the figures 1679.

The club rooms, which take the lower floor and basement of a very pretty cottage, are handsomely furnished and very cosy and homelike.

Strolling about the rooms, I came suddenly upon the "Duke of Wellington" and his wife, or "Spinning Jenny"; not the actual flesh and blood duke or his wife, who wanted to take the dinner as it came without bothering about ordering, at the Agawam House, in Ipswich, in October, '86, but very fine photographs of each. It seemed almost like home to see those photos. and brought up many reminiscences of the "Ladies' Run" of '86.

In one of the rooms, the club have a fine pool table, which the members much appreciate.

Here I was invited to cross cues, but being in a kindly mood, I declined. The club-rooms are supplied with wheel literature, maps, guide-books, etc., and every arrangement is made for pleasantly spending the time. During the evening we had a very nice lunch, and with cigars and conversation the evening passed all too quickly. I wish to say right here a word for the L. A. W. While there is no doubt that I should have been just as cordially treated had I not been an L. A. W. man, still had it not been for my L. A. W. pin, I should not probably have been invited, as I am a stranger here.

In closing, I wish to thank the Rhode Island Wheelmen, and particularly Mr. Spier.

L. A. W., 3,385.

THE BINGHAMTON CINDER PATH.

A short time ago you asked to hear from some one in regard to our Cinder Path. July 21, 1887, we organized the Binghamton Wheel Club with thirty charter members. At our regular meeting, Aug. 4, we decided to build a path from Binghamton to Union. We appointed a committee of five, J. H. Copeland, chairman, Walter Sherwood, C. E. Titchener, Harry W. Arnold, and E. H. Fowle, to solicit subscriptions and have charge of building path.

We raised one hundred dollars from the club as a starter. Then we called on all wheelmen and all that were willing to assist us. We raised four hundred dollars in a few weeks.

Our ideas were in favor of a cinder path, but cinders are scarce here, and we use coal ashes, which we think are just as good.

Binghamton and Union are nine miles apart, and we have a few short hills to ride which makes it more pleasant than a dead level. First, we got the consent of road commissioners and property owners along the highway. You will always find some one to kick, so we had to cross the road a few times. Some farmers do not know what a good thing is. A good walk in front of their farm is worth having, as it did not cost them a cent.

We employed Mr. John Shultz to build our path. We paid him $2.50 per day, his men $1.50. First he removed the sod and picked up the dirt and gravel about six to eight inches in depth, then raked and rounded it up in centre. The path is three feet wide, next to fence, same as you would build a walk. A great part of this distance the shade trees are about four feet from the fence and will make a shady ride on a warm day. We built some five bridges over places we could not fill with gravel. Bridges four feet wide with a railing. In the spring we will cover this path with about three inches of coal ashes and roll it well with a roller. Then we will have a grand good path of nine miles that will cost us about eight hundred dollars with bridges and all completed. Our club now numbers thirty-eight members, organized six months ago.

L. A. W., 15,203.

THE WHEEL.

H. D. Corey's Observations during his Trip Abroad.

Harry Corey, the bright, energetic, and popular exponent of cycling on the road, on the track, and in the factory, has returned from another trip to the other side. As usual, upon his arrival home, he has kindly given his experiences for the benefit of those interested in his favorite sport, and they will be read with interest. This is his story: "I left New York Oct. 15, on the North German Lloyd steamship "Eider." On reaching London, I called on my old friend Sidney Lee, whose acquaintance I had made some four years ago, and whom I had met on every trip. He is manager of probably the largest new and second-hand establishment in the world, with headquarters at No. Chancery Lane, and his close connection with the cycling industry in all its different forms, representing, as he does, almost every reliable maker, renders him a particularly valuable person to furnish information. After chatting with him a short time on the outlooks of the trade, and what had been going on during the past year, I walked down Holburn Viaduct, where most of the English makers have their London houses.

"The first one I came to was Humber & Company, who are now a very large stock company, and manufacture all grades and kinds of bicycles and tricycles.

"Their London manager, Mr. Rucker, is a particularly pleasant gentleman, and one of the best known cyclists in England. Since my visit to England last year, Rudge & Co. had grown to such an extent that it was deemed advisable to form it into a very large stock company, similar to Humber's, and this move was in process on my arrival in London. Branch houses were being established in all the different countries, in order to bring the manufacturer into the closest relations with the distributor of the factory's productions. Just beyond Rudge & Co. was the Coventry Machinists' Company, who have probably the largest showrooms in London. Mr. Bale, the London manager, is well known in this country, having been here several times in connection with the branch house established in Boston He called my attention to a racing tricycle in the window, which was a marvel of lightness and strength. It was of the Cripper type, the three wheels being each about 30 inches in size, and actually weighed less than 23 pounds. It was the lightest machine that I had ever seen, and I had no idea they could reduce them to this weight and preserve strength and durability. This particular mount had already several valuable records to its credit. I picked it up with two fingers, and suggested that he had better send it to America for some cattle king or gambler to hang on his watch chain. Gaskell, the former manager of the American branch, was out of town, and I did not have an opportunity to see him, but I understood that he was not connected with the bicycle business at present.

"The next door beyond led me to the warerooms of Hillman, Herbert & Cooper, the makers of the Premier bicycles and tricycles. In their showrooms was a Premier safety of the Rover type, covered with mud, and standing like a race horse after having won a hard-fought victory, and indeed it was, for that light machine, that seemed hardly able to stand the weight of an ordinary man, was the proud possessor of the one hundred-mile world's record. Across the street is the well-known firm of Marriott & Cooper, probably two of the best known riders in the whole trade. Fred Cooper is, without doubt, one of the best tandem riders in England, and his skill in steering and riding this type of machine is simply marvellous. To my mind a successful manufacturer must be also a good rider, for it is only by intense strain on a bicycle, and when subjected to its roughest use, that its weak points are discovered, and in this case, a firm like Marriott & Cooper, who are always riding, it is no wonder that their machines are so well thought of. Cooper called my attention to a very curious looking tandem, which they had lately invented, and which he told me to keep my eye on. He said it was the fastest thing that had yet been produced, and so it proved, for two days afterwards, Messrs. Edge and Morris captured the one hundred mile tandem record on the Great North road, in 6h. 57m. and 3?s. The fifty miles was covered in 3h. 4m. At the same time, Hale started on a Ripley tricycle of the same firm, and rode one hundred miles in 7h. 11m., beating the record by 35m. It would take too much time and space to give a description of every machine that I saw, but for several days I did nothing but look at all the various makes of bicycles and tricycles and safeties, and to note what had been done during the past year.

"In the ordinary bicycle, I find very little change. I brought up the subject of ball heads to several of the largest makers, but they shook their heads and said, 'We got over that idea last year.' It can be compared to the two-speed gear craze of several years ago. In further conversation, one of them remarked: 'There was a time when it was almost impossible to sell a bicycle unless it was covered with so-called improvements of all kinds, falsely calculated to reduce the power, to increase the speed, and lessen the exertion. We found the riders demanding all sorts of novelties, which we were forced to adopt, but, after the first year or so, we found the riders coming back with their machines, and wishing to exchange for the same machine of a simpler design.' A careful inquiry into this matter revealed the following facts: The rider believed that he had something different on his machine, and that every invention was an improvement, but found afterward that it was difficult to keep it in repair, and he was only too glad to sell or exchange for a much simpler machine of an equally good make. 'It is impossible,' he said, 'to conduct a successful bicycle business, unless you pin your faith to two words,—simplicity and durability.' I found that the general opinion among the most successful manufacturers, that those who had the simplest and most mechanically correct machines were also the most successful in a commercial sense, for the more complicated you build a bicycle or tricycle, the more expensive it becomes in the long run. One manufacturer told me that he had achieved his greatest success in building the simplest machine possible, and keeping up with the times, but never forcing them.

"I found that the bicycle business was gradually developing toward large firms, which was the result of the combination of several smaller ones. The cycling industry has been, for a number of years, a recognized branch of manufacturing, and to any sceptic who believes it is short lived, I would respectfully refer him to 'Sturmey's Indispensable,' a book which would convince him very quickly that, if anything, there was too much capital invested in the business.

"Larger rear wheels were being used on the ordinary, generally about eighteen inches instead of sixteen or seventeen, as heretofore. Of course, in the high class light roadster bicycles, tangent spokes, ball bearings, hollow rims, ball pedals, etc., were the order of the day, while in the roadster the direct spoke and solid rims predominated, otherwise it being the same. The kangaroo type of machine had fallen off considerably, and was succeeded by the new 'Rover safety pattern.' The peculiar construction of this type of machine gives it numerous advantages, without in the least detracting from bicycle action in propulsion, guiding and balance. It is safe in every respect, a header being impossible, the seat of the rider being so low that he feels as secure as when on his feet; in fact, his feet are only a few inches from the ground, so that if it were possible to fall, no injury would arise. The wheels are of about equal size, the rear wheel being the driver by means of an endless chain, communicating with the hub to the pedals, which are situated between the two wheels. The front wheel is the steerer, so that the power required to propel the machine does not affect the steering as in the ordinary bicycle. On this account, and the proximity of the rider to the ground, a learner can make himself master of the art of riding in a much shorter time and with considerable less danger than upon the ordinary bicycle. The seat and handles can be adjusted so that the machine can be altered in a few moments to suit the length of leg or arm of the rider. The weight is a little more than the ordinary bicycle, on account of its great number of parts. As a runner on level ground, its speed fully equals the ordinary bicycle; and as a hill climber it easily excels any type of bicycle — a fact proved time and again. As a machine for road use combined with speed, I point to the performance of Mr. G. P. Mills, who recently accomplished two hundred and ninety-four and one half miles in twenty-four hours, on this type of machine. This was his first attempt, but before the close of the year 1888, I predict that all records will be held on this pattern of safety.

"There are a great many patterns of the Rover type manufactured, but they are almost all identical, the principal ones being the Premier, the Rudge, Singer's Challenge, the Humber, the Ivel, Marriott & Cooper's Ripley, the Whippet & Moore's Invicta. The last two are spring-fork machines, which were calculated to relieve the rider from any jar, but my experience has been, so far, that the rider needs a machine shop with him to keep these last two in order, and the simpler you can make them the better. I find that the best thing to relieve the vibration on this type of machine was a comfortable saddle and the wheels fitted with good-sized tires; these two points, with the handles placed at right angles, would render the machine as free from vibration, and the steering as easy as on the ordinary bicycle. I believe that there is a great future for this type of machine, and should not be at all surprised if I should see our American manufacturers making them in great quantities next year. While I do not think that it will hurt the sale of the ordinary bicycle, it will open the pleasures of cycling to a great many who have been afraid to venture upon a high machine, and professional men in particular will find it a great boon both as a means of conveyance and an exercise which combines safety and comfort with speed, with no more than the usual power required to drive the ordinary. This type of machine was used a great deal by physicians in preference to horses, and by artists and others who depended entirely on their hands."— Boston Herald.

CYCLETS.

MERRY Christmas.

KNOW all men by these presents.

EVERYBODY is stocking up with presents now.

AND happiness perches aloft and is enjoyed by all.

IF it is a "green Yule," you may ride and you'll doubly enjoy the day.

IF snow mantles the ground, let us remember that it is for the best.

BUT they don't have snow down South, and this talk about the weather is only for Northern readers.

DOWN South they will be touring and racing on Christmas Day. This is their turn, but wait till next summer, when old Sol drives them to shelter and lets us ride.

J. C. STRINGER, junior partner in the firm of Singer & Company, is in America on a business visit in the interests of that firm.

THE members of the Rovers Cycle Club, of Charlestown, are rehearsing a comic opera written by J. Howard Richardson.

REPRESENTATIVE W. I. HARRIS, of Massachusetts, is no longer a single man. He has our congratulations and our best wishes.

THE Manhattan Bicycle Club, of New York, is adding to its membership very fast. Ten new members were taken in last Monday night.

MR. BARROW, of the Rudge Cycle Company, of Coventry, Eng., is in Boston, and making arrangements to establish a branch house in America.

S. G. WHITTAKER and A. A. McCurdy are matched for a five and ten mile race for five thousand dollars a side. The races will come off at Minneapolis during the first part of January.

WITH the 1st of January, Stoddard, Lovering & Co. go out of the cycle business, and though they will continue to import for other firms, they will be actively known to the cycle trade no longer.

WE are in receipt of a photo of the late George S. Darrow, of Indianapolis, taken with his son "Bob" last September. The likeness is very good, and the presence of the boy makes the picture a unique one.

DESPITE the inclement weather of Thursday, Dec. 3, Lyceum Hall, Dorchester, was well crowded at the first annual ball of the Dorchester Bicycle Club, and the funds of the club were considerably increased.

AT the time the Binghamton Wheel Club was organized, a year ago, the club rooms were furnished gratuitously by Messrs. Copeland & Harris, members of the club. In appreciation of this the club has presented the donors with a beautiful silver water serice.

THE Poughkeepsie (N. Y.) Bicycle Club held a reception at the Casino Rink on the evening of Dec. 7, and it was a most successful affair. Representatives were present from the different clubs along the river, and everybody had a most enjoyable time.

A RACE meeting was held at Moscow, Russia, on Oct. 27. The two-mile safety race was won in 7.45; excellent time, considering the name of the winner, viz.: Wischniakoff. In the ten-mile championship, a Prince Dolgornkoff competed, and was beaten one second by G. Grossman; time, 41.01.

THE Rovers Cycle Club, of Charlestown, held its second annual dinner on Thursday evening, Dec. 8, at the Tremont House. Some twenty-five covers were laid. President A. W. Robinson presided, and on either side were seated the invited guests: H. W. Hayes, vice-president of the L. A. W.; Abbot Bassett, secretary of the L. A. W.; John B. Seward, vice-president of the Chelsea Club, and Charles S. Howard, of the Globe. Speeches were made by the president, and each of the invited guests responded to toasts. The glee club furnished some most excellent music during the evening.

ACCORDING to official announcements the Board of Division Officers of the L. A. W. will hold a meeting Dec. 18, at the office of the Chief Consul, room 5, San Francisco Stock Exchange Building. The object will be to consider the division and its relations to the national organization in this connection. The Chief Consul again agitates the question of secession from the national body, and organizing a Pacific Coast Association. He requests the members to hold their renewals back until the question can be thoroughly discussed. He says there is no benefit derived by belonging to the L. A. W. in California, as this State is too isolated. We, of course, do not know the inside workings of the division and its officers, but these utterances sound immensely like high treason, as the highest officer a State division of the League of American Wheelmen can have is deliberately working against the best interests of the body in which he holds office. — S. F. Mercury.

IN spite of many assertions to the contrary, the practice of giving Christmas, Birthday, Valentine and Easter cards is constantly increasing. It is conceded that better results are obtained by purchasing direct from manufacturers, rather than dealers, in any line of trade. A simple souvenir for Valentine, Easter, Reward of Merit, or Birthday occasions, will be mailed for 5c., 10c., 15c., or 25c. each. Price governing quality and size. Elegant valentines at 25c., 45c., 70c. and 90c each. Money will be refunded if not satisfactory. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Proprietors.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

WHIST.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — This winter the Puritan Club, of Salem, has a score book for whist, made something like the score of baseball, which the members seem to take quite an interest in. I have submitted a plan with this, showing how it is kept, thinking that some of the other clubs would find it equally interesting. We first cut for deal and partners, and then play the game, just the same as in the regular whist; only each man takes the tricks that he has taken, and at the end of the hand calls them off to the scorer, who puts them down under the players' initials, as per plan; and the partners who have taken more than the six tricks requisite for the book score the points; each man has to take three tricks before he can score a point; and if he has taken more than three tricks, and his partner less than three; he has to make up his partner's, it being credited to him as assists, and is designated by one or more check marks over the number of tricks which he has taken for that hand. When a man does not take a trick during the hand it is termed a "goose-egg," and when he does n't make a point during the game it is called a "skunk," and where neither he or his partner make a point during the game it is called a "double skunk."

During the month each man's record is carried to his account, and at the end of the month it is footed up, and the average taken; or at the end of the season, the average will be taken then. When there are more than ten points, we call it a lap, and put it to the credit of the next games in the total column.

	G. A.	L. M.	J. W.	J. C.
1	4	1	3	5 2	C.
2	3	4 1	3	3	H.
3	6 3	3	2	2	S.
4	3	3	5 1	2	D
5	2	7 3	0	4	D.
6	6	0	4 1	3	H
7	2	1	6 3	4 1	C.
8	4 1	4 1	2	3	C.
9	3	3	3	4 1	H.
10	4 1	3	3	3	S.
	37—5	29—5=10=31—5	— 33—4=9=
	4	1	1	1

The figures at the left mean the number of the hands, and the letters at the right meaning the trump. At the end of the evening, each man's account is footed up so as to make less work in posting to his accounts. The first column is the tricks, the second column the points which a man takes. The first four columns are the partners who cut the two highest cards, and the fifth column is for the laps and sum of the points for the game. On our monthly page we put the score this way.

	L.	F.	M.
	= G.—W.—L.—T.—P.—A.—G. E.—S.—D. S.=
Dec. 7,	2 — 1 — 1 — 50 — 12 — 4 — 1 — 0 — 0 —
30,	5 — 3 — 2 — 120 — 22 — 7 — 1 — 1 — 1 —
	7 — 4 — 3 — 170 — 34 — 11 — 1 — 1 — 1

G., games; W., won; L., lost; T., tricks; P., points; A., assists; G. E., goose eggs; S., skunks; D. S., double skunks.

15,077. L. F. MURRAY.

A LADY'S BICYCLE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I do not wish to seem impertinent, nor am I striving for the last word, but I am a firm believer in "bicycles for both sexes," and therefore beg to be allowed a few words in answer to the objections to a bicycle for ladies which are raised by "Daisie" in your issue of Dec. 9. She objects to being obliged to dismount at every stop, to a mount that is not easy and deliberate, and to the necessity for balancing. The first two objections seem well taken, but are fully met by mechanical devices for supporting the bicycle when not in motion. Several such devices have already been patented and used to some extent. They have not come into general use, for the reason that the present class of riders do not feel the objections referred to enough to appreciate such a device. Generally speaking, these devices consist of arms attached one to each side of the bicycle, and provided with means whereby they can be extended so as to bear on the ground and support the bicycle when not in motion, or be folded up out of the way when in motion. They are as easily operated as a brake, and enable a rider to remain mounted on a bicycle when not in motion with as much comfort as on a tricycle. That it is necessary to balance a bicycle when in motion is an advantage rather than an objection, for otherwise we should not have that beautiful gliding movement which is so fascinating, and which is truly "the poetry of motion." The Owl wonders why there are not more lady cyclers. The answer is easy. Because no vehicle making more than one track can give the pleasure that is found in the bicycle, and no bicycle has yet been provided for the ladies.

The labor and attention necessary are very slight, and the fact that a bicycle may be wholly controlled by the feet puts it ahead of most tricycles in that respect. Races and hill-climbing contests, hands off, are not uncommon, and many a rider will read a newspaper while riding. Can tricycle riders do better? Another point in favor of the bicycle is that in case of an unavoidable accident, the tricycle is all around the rider, making it difficult to get out, while the bicycle for ladies must and will be so constructed that there will be nothing to prevent the rider from stepping freely out at either side.

If there are any objections to a properly made bicycle for ladies' use, which have not or cannot be met, I shall be pleased to learn them.

CHAS. E. DURYEA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14, 1887.

NO TOP.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The "top" of a moving wheel does not exist. Any point on the wheel moves fastest when traversing its highest position. L. A. W. 190.

FOREIGN TRAVEL.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I have to-day received from "Stamson," of Stamford, Conn., a four-page circular called "Hints for Cycling Tourists in England." Whether this is the work advertised to be sold at twenty-five cents, for the benefit of prospective cycling tourists, I do not know, but I do know that many of the statements contained in it are misleading, especially when compared with a very honest and straightforward letter which accompanies it. Had Stamson said in his circular, as he says in this letter, that his object was to "see England for a moderate sum," and that this circular was only intended for tourists who wish to do England in the cheapest possible manner, I should probably not have criticised it, though his opening paragraphs on tickets are misleading. July and August are not the best months for cycling, because they are the driest, and therefore the roads are at their worst. Stamson is always complaining about them. May and June are certainly much better, and the country is greener and fresher.

Secondly, he publicly says, that the intermediate cabin on an ocean steamer is "passably endurable," and hints that he would take it again; in his letter he remarks, "we bought round-trip tickets intermediate, and they had us," and "I would go first another time." That is, he recommends his prospective tourists to do what he would n't himself. A hint to be grateful for.

As to coffee-houses, the C. T. C. publishes a list of them, and those who wish to, may patronize them. There is too little difference between a hotel and a coffee-house in price, and too great a gulf in accommodation for my taste. And though you cannot get a good bed at "a small wayside inn" for sixpence, neither is it necessary to pay three shillings and sixpence. One shilling and sixpence to two shillings sixpence is the usual price in decent hotels. Again, though I admit the "invariable custom of charging for attendance" is abominable, neither Stamson or coffee-houses have yet changed it. And when one visits a foreign country it is necessary to put up with its customs or suffer, knowingly or not. Many English cyclers avoid the C. T. C. houses, not because the tariff is too high, but because the houses in many cases do not ordinarily charge C. T. C. rates, and better accommodation can be had for the same money elsewhere. I do not doubt that Stamson has lived for four shillings a day or less. I could not in comfort. I should say six, or seven and six. While touring with my wife, I usually count on sixteen shillings ($4.00) for both. Mr. H. A. Lewis told me his trip averaged $6.50 per day for himself and wife. If economy is the object of your tour, $1.00 (as Stamson says) will see you through. If pleasure, profit, comfort, and

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4.— An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by:—

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

recreation, which bring health and strength, are the objects, you may get on, on $2.00 in England, and for one third or half of it on the Continent, where despite the "English tourist, who had been on the Continent," it pays in pleasure, in good roads, in civility, in scenery, and in economy, if one was to understand foreign languages, and I cannot conceive any pleasure in cycling unless one is more or less at home in a country. His suggestions about clothes, luggage carriers, etc., and I suppose crating your machine (though I never have done it), are excellent. But this tractlet shows that a tour of thirty-five days does not necessarily make a man an authority on the subject of touring in England. JOSEPH PENNELL,

L. A. W., 14, Foreign Marshal.

The suggestion of Burr's Private Hotel as a London stopping place is good, but the charge is more than four shillings. I should say eight or ten. The Charing Cross (most central) and Anderton's, Fleet Street, store machines — Anderton's certainly, without charge.

LONDON, Dec. 6, 1887.

ENAMELINE, wearing qualities equal to any; lustre, finest in the world. Process, patented. For bicycles, sewing machines, hardware, furniture, glass, willow ware, etc. By express, four-ounce, twenty cents; eight-ounce, thirty-eight cents. By mail, sample, ten cents; four-ounce, thirty-five cents; eight-ounce, fifty-five cents; brush, ten cents extra. Chicago Manufacturing and Printing Company, 71 and 73 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.

THE CLUB.

CAPITAL CITY CYCLING CLUB, Springfield, Ill. — Officers elected for ensuing year: President, Thomas F. Sheridan; vice-president, I. J. Kusel; secretary-treasurer., W. S. Reed; captain, S. M. Clarke.

NIAGARA FALLS BICYCLE CLUB, Niagara Falls, N. Y. — Officers elected Dec. 12: President, F. I. Pierce; secretary and treasurer, D. F. Bentley; captain, A. G. Reeve.

HAGERSTOWN BICYCLE CLUB, Hagerstown, Ind. — Officers elected for ensuing year: President, Albert Heard; secretary, V. M. Cushwa; treasurer, F. A. Lechlider; captain, George F. Updegraff.

The club rooms have been remodelled, and the secretary reports the club to be in a very flourishing condition. Thursday night of each week has been set apart for the ladies, and the members enjoy themselves very much on these occasions.

THE Buffalo (N. Y.) Bicycle Club held its annual meeting in the gymnasium of its new club house on Monday evening, Dec. 12, and elected a new board of officers for 1888: President, Dr. Charles S. Butler; vice-president, Otto W. Volger; secretary, R. B. Hoffman; treasurer, Charles W. Adams; attorney, Albert C. Spann; captain, Charles F. Hotchkiss.

THE Taunton (Mass.) Bicycle Club reports twenty-two club runs the past year, and an aggregate mileage of 1,001 miles or 45½ miles to a run. Number of hours employed in riding on club runs, 99.48, showing an average of ten miles to the hour. Number of members present on all the runs, 198, or an average of nine to a run. Largest run, 130 miles. The club has fifty-two members. Club rooms always at the disposal of touring wheelmen.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 118 — Total 24 — 11,899.

BOSTON, Dec. 23, 1887.

DELAWARE DIVISION — 2. — 37.

Unattached.

17195 Maxwell, Jacob B., Middletown.
17215 Rittenhouse, Elias B., State Road.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 3 — 288.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

17196 Black, W. A., 527 Franklin St., Baltimore.
17197 Kappelman, Arthur, 605 W. Carrollton St., "

Centaur Cycle Club.

17209 Reynolds, Byron, 2311 Calvert St., "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 1. — 1,326.

Taunton Bi. Club.

17210 Strange, Chas. E., 21 Washington St., Taunton.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 1. — 368.

United Wheelmen.

17211 Egelston, Jno. C., 1040 Main St., Kansas City.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 1. — 865.

Brunswick Bi. Club.

17212 Wikoff, Edw. H., Bayard St., New Brunswick.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 1. — 2,303.

Alleghany Co. Wheelmen.

17216 Warner, F. W., Angelica.

OHIO DIVISION — 2. — 939.

Central Wheelmen.

17217 Bock, Phil., 202 Brown St., Cincinnati.

Unattached.

17218 Evans, J. E., 177 W. 4th St., "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 11. 1,700.

Mountain Wheel Club.

17206 Todd, Frederick, Philipsburg.
17207 Van Daniker, I. R., "

Philadelphia Bi. Club.

17213 Armbruster, Miss C. T., 1120 Arch St., Philadelphia.
17198 Beck, Thos. J., 700 Walnut St., "
17199 Douredoure, Fred W., 103 Walnut St., "
17200 Givin, Sam. F., 2313 DeLancy St., "
17201 Havens, H. E., 112 So. Front St., "
17202 Johnson, Edw. H., 614 Locust St., "
17203 Laird, Jno. L., 12th and Arch Sts., "
17204 Moody, Carlton M., 323 Walnut St., "
17205 Schaum, Otto W., 1213 No. 29th St., "

VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1. — 85.

Norfolk Cyclers.

17208 Johnson, Lee, Norfolk.

WISCONSIN DIVISION — 1. — 88.

Milwaukee Wheelmen.

17214 Smith, G. F., 730 11th St., Milwaukee.

APPLICATION FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

List No. 10 — Total 2.

BOSTON, Dec. 19, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION. — 1.

Unattached.

10178 Stevens, Frank, 215 Kearney St., San Francisco.

NEW YORK DIVISION. — 1.

Unattached.

12849 Arnold, H. W., Binghamton.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Dec. 19, 1887.

LIST 3.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

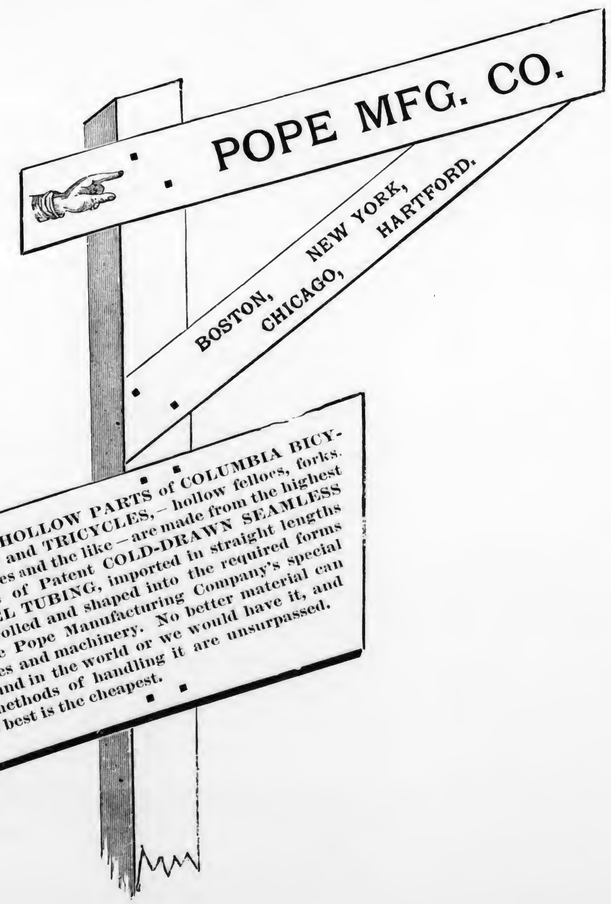
Alabama,	1.	Maryland, 21.
Arizona,	1.	Massachusetts, 45.
California,	1.	Michigan, 6.
Colorado,	4.	Minnesota, 14.
Connecticut,	9.	Missouri, 5.
Dakota,	2.	Nebraska, 1.
Delaware,	7.	New Hampshire, 3.
District of Columbia,	3.	New Jersey, 16.
Florida,	1.	New York, 63.
Illinois,	18.	Ohio, 24
Indiana,	8.	Pennsylvania, 106.
Iowa,	3.	Rhode Island, 9.
Kansas,	6.	Tennessee, 1.
Kentucky,	2.	Texas, 2.
Louisiana,	3.	Wisconsin, 3.
Total,		388.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Philadelphia Bicycle Club, of Philadelphia, Pa., seventy-eight members.
Rhode Island Wheelmen, Providence, R. I., members.
Baltimore Cycle Club, Baltimore, Md., sixteen members.
Capital City Cycling Club, Springfield, Ill., nine members.
Manhattan Bicycle Club, New York.
Winona Bicycle Club, Winona, Minn., ten members.
Chelsea Cycle Club, Chelsea, Mass., twenty-six members.
Brunswick Bicycle Club, New Brunswick, N. J.
Joplin Bicycle Club, Joplin, Mo.
Auburn Cycle Club, Auburn, N. Y.

NEW CLUB.



184. Y. M. C. A. Wheelmen, New York City. Organized May 10, 1887. Joins the League, Dec. 20, 1887.

We have received several club lists this week without certificates. We must have the special certificate, for these lists are no evidence that the club is a League club, since many non-League clubs send in large lists.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, DECEMBER 30, 1887. | VOL. V. No. 26. WHOLE NUMBER, 131.

THE TEST OF TIME

Adds to the esteem in which VICTOR CYCLES are held. LIGHT ROADSTER, TRICYCLE and SAFETY, all give evidence of expense in time and money applied to their production. More distinctive points than any others, and no change except for improvement. Nothing too expensive for VICTORS. Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN * WHEEL * COMPANY,

Victor Bicycles, Tricycles and Accessories,

182-188 COLUMBUS AVENUE - - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

Mentioning this paper, and we will

Send Cc. for Samples and Rules for Measuring,

Men of all stations, you should know The price of Pants is very low. Only three dollars for Custom-made Pants, Fit for the work shop, church or dance.

THE BAY STATE PANTS Co

send you an Artistic Calendar for 1888.

Vests, $2.25; Coats, $8.00.

By reason of late purchases of large lots of Woollen Cloths, we can surprise you by the superior quality of Woollen Goods in our $3 Pants. Reference, American Express Co.

BAY STATE PANTS CO., Custom Clothiers,

34 HAWLEY STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

The McClintock Home Trainer for 1888.

(PATENTED MARCH 22, 1887.)

Riders, now is the time to exercise at home. This trainer gives you the same motion as road riding. You shouldn't be without one. It can be used with any style of cycle. Send for circulars. Price, $13.00. Special discounts to dealers.

Address, McClintock Home Trainer Co., No 431 Market St., Williamsport, Penn.

BICYCLES ON EASY PAYMENTS.

New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto, and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories, including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on instalments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

MORE POWER AND SPEED.

A New Tricycle and Bicycle.

Large increase of propelling power, and a bearing which has no frictional resistance whatever. Other important improvements. Desire to arrange with manufacturer to make on royalty.

T. W. MOORE,
42 Elizabeth Street, New York.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

MUNN & Co. PATENTS

ESTABLISHED 1846 — NEW YORK

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

To the readers of the BULLETIN, one and all, a happy New Year.

MAY the year that is to come see all our reasonable hopes accomplished, and our best wishes gratified.

IT is the time for good resolutions; but it is better to resolve not to resolve unless we have a resolute purpose.

IN public and private life alike, we need good resolutions; but more than that we need the firm will and the ready hand to do. There is too much repining at the past and resolving for the future. It is only the present that we have, and faithful action in the present will make the past noble and the future secure.

A CONTINUAL now will run through this new year. Our yesterdays we cannot reclaim; our to-morrows never come. It is always to-day, and to-day faithfully employed in the duties that belong to it will sanctify all our time. 'Tis well to make good resolutions, but they should be for immediate execution and not for the hours to come. To-day and to-day and to-day are the successive steps of time. Yesterday is beyond the reach of regret, and to-morrow fulfils no hopes.

THE year that has gone has not been the happiest nor the most eventful of all the years in cycling history. Things have been in a somewhat chaotic state, not only in League history, but in business circles. We hope for better things in the year to come. Let us resolve to do our part in making the good time coming one of exceeding joy to us all.

MARYLAND is ready and anxious to receive and entertain the League. There is but one opinion in the Monumental City. "Let them come and we 'll give them a good time," say one and all. But during May, Baltimore is in the midst of its busy season, and a postponement for a few weeks of the usual date will probably be asked for in order that the wheelmen may be free to devote more time to preparations.

NOT quite 12,000 members this year, including list published this week. Our total membership for 1887 will foot up 11,939. This gives us 1,675 more member than we had in 1886. We start out well for 1888, with 1,565 renewals to Dec. 27 as against 758 on the same date last year.

ST. LOUIS.

BILLY BARRON, Bert Taylor, and I were sitting in front of the Missouri Club's cheerful fire a recent Sunday afternoon. The mingled twilight and firelight were toying with Billy's fine mustache, and adding a richer glow to the justly celebrated complexion which he wears. Suddenly he looked up and said: "By thunder, I 'm going to get a nickel-plated machine." "You say you will, but will you?" we asked in union and consternation, as we knew how much he hated unnecessary work. "Yes, I am, and if you fellows think I'll have to work harder to keep it clean than I have to on my ordinary, that's where you 'll be fooled. I 'm no spring chicken. The first wheel I had after I got so I could ride was full nickelled. That wheel made me famous in a little while. I always kept it clean and shining, and when anybody saw that wheel coming like a burst of beauty and light they always thought of me"; and we thought he blushed a little at our possible misinterpretation of his words. "Yes," he went on, "at the pump or anywhere, when my wheel was in the crowd it was always observed even if my humble self was not. Then I got an enamelled wheel, and I have it now, and I'll swear I would much rather have the nickel plate. It's less trouble, that 's the reason. On an enamelled wheel you can't brush the dirt off. If you go over it with a wet rag, you 'll have to follow it up with an oiled rag to give it the polish. With nickel plate you can brush the dust off as clean as a whistle, and leave every part with the one brushing. How about rust? Oh, that 's a bugaboo. My wheel was not a particle rusty after my long use of it, and I took no particular pains, either, to keep the nickel from rusting." In order that you may understand our surprise at the last part of this story, I may say that Mr. Barron has always stood high in our community as a gentleman of truth and veracity, and not prone to exaggerate, except, of course, in that instance where exaggeration is always pardonable — in giving an account of the latest run.

PROF. HOSMER, Washington University, feels very much like a bridegroom whose bride has returned to him. Some time in the early part of last September he had his tricycle shipped West from some Eastern house and expected to have a fine time riding, the last of the season. But days went by and then weeks and then months. All inquiries elicited the reply that it had been duly shipped. At last the most rigid tracing was adopted by the railroad company which resulted in the discovery last week, in the warehouse in East St. Louis, of the professor's trike. He is a mild-mannered man, but when he found it there, and thought of the golden autumn days that will never come back again, the breath that flowed from between his lips out upon the frosty air threw its vapor into the shape of a big big D. The address of the professor had been put wrong on the wheel, and so no notice of its arrival here had been received by him.

BY the way, I hear that Principal James Dillard, late of Virginia, of Mary Institute, this city, has fallen into the cycling maelstrom that swirls around Washington University, and I would n't be surprised if next season sees him on the wheel. This might result in introducing the wheel among the rich young ladies at the institute, and thus do something to encourage the adoption of tricycling by the ladies in general in this city, which is the most backward in that respect in the country.

THE last entertainment of the Missouri Bicycle Club, on the 15th inst., was a musical and literary affair, till about nine o'clock, when the tuneful violin began to merrify (I coin the word) the assembly, which nearly tripped off its dancing slippers before stopping. The evening was very happily spent by the large company.

I BELIEVE that one remedy for road hogism is the cultivation of sparring abilities. To those who say that is degrading, I would quote the sentiment: "A man is no less a good citizen because he can defend himself without the use of a knife or a revolver." The truth is, that the man who declaims against sparring as degrading, does n't know what he is talking about. There is no reason why a man should not cultivate his hands and arms, any more than there is why he should not learn how to handle his feet in dancing. I am convinced that if the general public came to suspect that they were liable to run against a good boxer in every third wheelman, they would leave us alone. I can remember that away back four or five years ago the cyclists used to go out on the Manchester road, and shoot at a mark with revolvers. Teamsters heard of it, and for a long time after that the wheelmen were treated well. In fact that was the beginning of that deference which marks the actions of the Manchester road people. The want of personal power to assert a right is often the cause of insult.

I HAVE discovered that there is a class of persons who at heart think a great deal of the wheel, but who do not care to let it be known. A case in point: When I was canvassing in the fall of 1886 for money to carry on the great illuminated parade, I ran across Post-Office Inspector McAfee, a friend of mine, and asked him for a subscription. He laughed a laugh of apparent ridicule. Two weeks later he hailed me on the street, and said: "Look here. I saw the parade. I was only joking the other day, when I refused to give anything to help it along. Here, take this"; and he laid in my hand a shining coin for the fund. I saw him again the other day, a year later. He said: "I did n't let you know how much I thought of the wheel last year, but just the same two of my boys were riding them, and I expect to get my little girl a tricycle as soon as she gets old enough." Since then I have been thinking what an army of sympathizers and well-wishers we have in the parents, who may seem to have no interest in the wheel, but to whom the wheel is dear, because their children have found delight and health in it. It is a strange parent that is not well disposed toward that which is dear to his child.

OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 25.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

THE New Year may be generous,
The New Year may be blest;
But the Old Year is an old friend,
And old friends are best.

The New Year is a lovely youth,
The Old is bent and gray;
But counsel comes with hoary hairs,
We fain would have him stay.

The New Year can gayly laugh
And sweetly can he sing;
But the Old Year's voice is sweeter still
In its dim whispering.

The New Year may promise fair
Of bloom and fruit to come;
But the Old Year has reaped his grain,
And held his harvest-home.

Oh, New Year! gay New Year!
Be lithe and strong of will;
Youth is the time for hardihood,
And age the time for chill.

But this we wish you, wishing well,
That when your end shall be,
As now we mourn the dear Old Year,
So we may mourn for thee.

STANDING at the portal of the new year it is always profitable to look back for an instant upon the ground we have traversed to draw upon our experience for a better equipment in meeting the exigencies which are before us.

FROM a feminine point of view, the year 1887 has been a most eventful one. I venture to say that more ladies have taken up cycling during the year that is going out than were riding at the time of the last new year.

WE have surely doubled our numbers, and where we gain one recruit we are sure to have one other, if not more. Ladies are slow to take up the sport, but let them once get into it and they are enthusiasts of the most pronounced type.

THE year has given us improved machines, and many kinds to choose from. The Columbia tandem, the first one made in America I believe, was responsible for very many lady riders. They seemed to have waited for an American machine, and having gotten it, they rushed in great numbers to welcome it. This hint should not be lost to American makers of machines.

THE single machine has been very much improved during the year, and reductions in weight have been made. It can be noted that nearly every manufacturer has realized the need to cater to the ladies in shaping the machines. In 1886 we had several machines that could be ridden only by gentlemen. These were not popular, and 1887 saw the manufacturers reshaping them, so that they could be used by the feminine portion of wheeldom.

IN short, 1887 has done much, but there is still something for 1888 to do. Many of the tandems that go upon three wheels are said to be adapted for the use of two ladies. It is true that two ladies can ride them, but the rearward rider cannot be said to be well accommodated. I have essayed to mount the rear seat of several of these, but I have always noticed that the gentleman in charge is particular to say, "Be careful and not get your foot caught between the pedal and axle; sit back so that you will not strike the axle, and don't attempt to coast."

CAN it be that the makers are unable to make a wheel whereon two ladies can ride with equal ease and comfort? Let 1888 give the answer.

1887 gave us the most successful and the most numerously attended ladies' run the world ever saw. England tried in vain to match it, and a projected ladies' run to the Lakes of Killarney in Ireland was a failure, though it had so lovely a destination.

1888 should and will give us a largely increased number of lady riders. It will give us lighter single wheels, better tandems, and lower prices. It will give us several organized tours, which will be participated in by both sexes, and in fact it promises to outdo all years that have gone before.

THESE are the views of an optimist. The future has a rose-colored exposure always to my view, and I am the proprietor of many Chateaux en Espagne, but though these structures have little that is tangible to them, it is for us to make them so, and to labor diligently to put foundations beneath our Spanish possessions, that they may be castles which we may enter and enjoy.

DAISIE.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

A MERRY Christmas to you, Mr. Editor, and to all my readers. Contrary to the prognostications of our celebrated weather bureau, celebrated for its general failure to make connections between its predictions and the results, the day dawned bright and beautiful, the atmosphere was mild and pleasant, and the roads in excellent condition. Many an enthusiastic wheelman was out for his morning spin, and the Park presented a decidedly animated appearance for this season of the year. All who were abroad enjoyed themselves, and as a result some long runs are planned for to-morrow, provided the same favorable conditions prevail.

I DROPPED in at the Ilderans' last evening, and found one of their customary "Saturday nights" in progress. A miscellaneous programme of songs, recitations, and music, interspersed with a little boxing and legerdemain, was being rendered for the edification of those present, the whole to conclude with a Christmas tree and presentation of gifts both unique and amusing. President Greenman informed me that things were progressing most swimmingly, and that they looked forward to a most successful season. Among other novelties they propose inaugurating, is a "Camera Club" of amateur photographers, membership in which may be enjoyed by those not members of the club. They claim to have about fifteen members of the club interested in amateur photography, and with the inducements they will offer to outsiders to become members, they hope to establish a strong and healthy organization. A room in the club house is to be set apart for the use of the "Camera Club," and they expect next winter to have an interesting collection of views as a result of their labor.

THE great "mock trial" of the Brooklyns was held last Wednesday evening, and the proceedings were watched with great interest by a gathering that filled to overflowing their handsomely appointed club house. Cards of admission were at a premium, requests coming from all directions, and, as a consequence, scarcely one half of those present were able to get inside the court room, the excess overflowing into the halls and other apartments. The affair was very amusing and thoroughly enjoyed by all present, particularly when the opposing counsel mixed up the witnesses in cross-examination and perpetrated ghastly "gags" at their expense; also when the eminent veterinary surgeon dissected various portions of the anatomy of the horse produced in evidence. After an eloquent display of legal talent on either side, the jury, which had been selected from the visitors, retired, and returned with a verdict of eleven thousand dollars for the plaintiff. At the conclusion of the trial, a collation was served at which all hands had a fair show to do justice.

AT the last regular meeting of this club, the members of the team in the recent interstate road race were presented with beautiful souvenirs commemorative of the event and their efforts in behalf of the club. The souvenirs are of gold and enamel, exceedingly artistic in design, and so arranged that they may be worn either as a medal or watch charm. The trophy for second place won by this team at that race has been handsomely encased and is a conspicuous object in the club parlor.

LIEUT. MEETEER, of the Brooklyn Club, who has been in Buffalo for two months past, surprised his fellow-clubmates by dropping in on them this morning, receiving such an ovation as he will not forget for many a day. He expressed himself as well pleased with his stay in the Lake City, though glad to get home again. Press of business prevented his visiting the clubs or making many wheeling acquaintances, but he was particularly impressed with the excellent riding about the city. Would that we could say the same of our benighted town of car tracks and cobbles.

THE Long Island Wheelmen hold their annual election of officers early in the coming month, and from present indications they are in the heat of a most exciting canvass. Mr. Share is to retire, and Messrs. Mabee and Bradford are each with the aid of their friends making vigorous efforts to jump into his place as president. Capt. Luscomb is still on deck, but report says he is being closely pressed by Mr. Furst, who desires to wear the captain's boots for the coming year. We are willing to bet on the man who wins, who takes us up?

RUMOR says that two prominent Brooklyn Clubs are about to vote upon the question of remaining in the League. We expect developments very soon, and will then give more particulars.

BON.

XMAS, 1887.

THE OWL.

THE average politician carries that organ which he calls his heart very near the pit of his stomach, and the only way you can possibly appeal to it is by the way of his stomach, instead of his head. The latter is sure to be as weak as the former is strong. An example of this, which is of interest to wheelmen, is afforded by the results of the feed given at the opening of the Long Island Wheelmen's new house. Among the guests were the park commissioners of Brooklyn, who liberally sampled the cup that cheers and inebriates. As an outcome of the whole affair, the name of C. H. Luscomb, the talented orator of the Long Island Wheelmen, and able member of the League Rights and Privileges Committees, is now mentioned favorably for a park commissionership in Brooklyn. Here is a victory for wheelmen, if Luscomb gets the appointment.

W. C. HERRING, who was expected to return home from London, and bring with him a party of English wheelmen for a hunting and fishing expedition, has concluded to defer his return for another year, and has asked for a year's furlough from the New York Bicycle Club, which has been granted him.

THE Manhattan Bicycle Club is out with an extensive winter programme of house entertainments. The climax of these will be its reception and entertainment at the Lexington Avenue Opera House, on Feb. 3. The energetic secretary, Mr. Shehan, informs me that the affair will be unequalled in the annals of wheeldom here, and as an example, he notes the fact that from present contracts the club is sure to clear nearly five hundred dollars from the ads. on the programme.

BEN. G. SANFORD, who under the title of "Chic" was for many years a wheel correspondent from here, and whose letters as such have never been equalled, was this week the winner of a handsome ivory-mounted cue, the emblem of the pool championship of the Manhattan Athletic Club.

I MET Stephen Terry, the ex-treasurer of the L. A. W., in an elevated railroad train, the other day. He has taken off his beard, and with it full ten years of his age in appearance. When he spoke to me, I did not recognize him, and mentally paid him the compliment of being one of the smartest men in the world. I thought he was a bunco steerer. Not that he looks or acts like one, but here in New York whenever an extremely gentlemanly stranger addresses you, you at once come to this conclusion, and Terry was certainly both of these to me, till he mentioned his name. He is the only one of the old timers that I know, who seems to grow younger in appearance.

IT comes high, does litigation. I understand that one of the concerns now indulging in an extensive lawsuit regarding the validity of some wheel patents, pay their attorneys $3,000 per month in retaining fees. Must be some profit somewhere in building bicycles.

ON Saturday night the New York Bicycle Club held its birthday party. While the exact date of organization was Dec. 18, 1879, yet the committee determined to celebrate the event a week later, so as to combine both a natal and a Christmas event in one. The affair was a roaring success. While the club orchestra appeared under the baton of its able leader, Oscar Lee Moses, the spread, by Mazzetti, disappeared under the onslaught of a hundred members present. It was the hour when the milkman makes his rounds ere all of the music, guests, and grub had vanished from the club.

IT's funny, very funny, the way news travels, and how, in doing so, it loses its birthplace, and is made to adopt new ones, through the means of paste-pot and shears. Nearly two months ago I noted here the fact that the New York Bicycle Club was experiencing some difficulty in getting a suitable location for a building, owing to the idiotic prejudice of property owners against a bicycle club.

Now I know it is fashionable to have everything imported,—imported, too, from England,—but don't you think we are carrying anglophobia to too great an extent, when we import New York wares from London? Yet this is what a Western cycling paper is doing. They clip from the Bicycling News the above item about objecting property owners, and insert it for news. This is a Record, I think.

I DON'T think the following has ever appeared in print yet, and as the mistake is a somewhat ludicrous one, in which some prominent League officers are the heroes, I cannot refrain from giving it publicity. When the committee was chosen to look up and select a new uniform for the League it was composed of Dr. Beckwith, Dr. Johnson, and Chief Consul George Bidwell. After many trials a cloth was finally selected which was manufactured at Burlington, Vt. The committee, intending to carry out their labors in a thorough manner, decided to visit the mill and see the cloth manufactured. In consequence, they hied themselves to Burlington, and were received with full honors by the superintendent of the mill. After the introductions of the two doctors to him by Bidwell, he seemed to become impressed with the fact that the L. A. W. was a particularly learned body, since out of a committee of three, only one was a plain, ordinary, everyday, untitled individual, and the others both doctors; so having exhausted all the curiosities of cloth manufacture, he suddenly turned, and addressed himself to Dr. Beckwith, saying, "By the by, doctor, I am sure you and Dr. Johnson will be pleased to see our new hospital, and meet some of your professional brethren." Of course nothing but an assent could be given, and to the hospital they went. Here the superintendent introduced Drs. Johnson and Beck with to the doctor in charge, telling him they were two of the best known practitioners in New Jersey and New York, who had heard of his splendid institution, and come to visit it. Of course this was not strictly a fact, but everything went, and forthwith they were piloted around, and the beauties of the place, from a professional point of view, fully expatiated upon. Finally, nothing remained to be shown the visitors, and upon leaving they handed the kindly physician their cards, and he discovered that one was a dentist and the other a chiropodist, instead of brother M. Ds. as he had thought them.

THE OWL.

THE WHEEL.

H. D. COREY'S OBSERVATIONS DURING HIS TRIP ABROAD.

PART II.

"FROM what I could discover about the single tricycles, I found the Cripper pattern was at the present time the favorite, but I am inclined to think that the new tricycle of Messrs. Marriott & Cooper indicates a change for the better in a great many ways. This new machine is driven by a chain extending from a large rear wheel, which is the driver, to an axle suspended from a tube running in a vertical direction towards the front part of the machine. It is really the old Humber pattern twisted round, with the two front wheels about twenty-two inches in size, but without its difficult steering. This tricycles possesses advantages contained in no other machine, and more will be heard of it later.

"I could discover no particular change in the form of tandems, with the exception of the Marriott & Cooper Olympia, which I believe will be heard from in the near future. The Cripper and Humber are still the leading types.

"In the matter of saddles and bags for machines, there is little that is interesting, as the American hammock saddle of the Kirkpatrick type is far superior to any English saddle then on the market.

"As a general thing the roads in England are very slippery and greasy, and tires comes off there very much more easily than in the States. I inquired of a manufacturer if there was any remedy for this, and he said that the most satisfactory way that they had discovered in the course of fifteen years' experience was to carefully stick them on with Loudon's cement. He said that all sorts of patent schemes had been devised and different kinds of rims had been invented, but where a patent process is used, the chemicals usually rusted the spokes and left them in such a condition that they soon snapped off at the rim. The patent rims had worked well for a while, but it was found that the tires wore out very much quicker and were much more easily cut up, while it was not long before the tire stretched, and a piece must be taken out of it to fit the wheel tightly.

"In company with Mr. Lee I made a great many excursions to different parts of England to inspect any inventions that had been made, and to be thoroughly posted on what was going on. One Saturday afternoon we ran down to Biggleswade to see Dan Albone of 'Ivel' fame. This is a Rover type safety, and one of the best there is in the English market, for it is one of the few that can be steered without the hands, and it is almost identical with the Premier. Biggleswade is situated on what is called the 'flat country,' about forty miles from London, and on the line of the Great North road, where so many of the long-distance road races have taken place. Albone is one of the pleasantest fellows in the trade, and has connected with him Mr. G. P. Mills, who seems to make a business of record breaking, for he has done a number of grand good performances within the last two years, although I believe he has a number of records yet in hand to break, if he wishes to capture them all, one of which I think is Mr. Sidney Lee's fifty-mile tricycle record, which at present remains unequalled. Mills is a powerful, well-built young fellow, standing about 5 feet 9 inches, and, I should judge, weighs about 165 pounds. He rides a 53-inch ordinary. The success of the 'Ivel' bicycles and tricycles is in a measure due to his wonderful performances, for he appears to an equally good advantage on bicycle, tricycle or safety. Albone has a nice little factory with a hotel adjoining, which is a favorite resort for a large number of cyclists who are there most of the time. He very kindly loaned me a machine while there, and in company with him I had the pleasure of a spin around the town. It is an ideal record-breaking spot, for the roads are like Chestnut Hill Reservoir, and plenty of them in all directions. Stones appear at every mile, and it is an easy matter to figure how far one has gone. I should judge some of our American manufacturers would be well pleased if it was planted anywhere within one hundred miles of Boston. While at the hotel I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Finlay MacRae, the new secretary of the National Cyclists' Union, beside a number of other cyclists of more or less prominence.

"One morning while in London I ran down to Surbiton to see John Keen, probably the most popular and best-known cyclist in England, and a rider who has been before the public for fifteen years. If Keen had the full benefit of all his inventions he would be a very wealthy man, but, unfortunately for him, somebody always seemed to get hold of his ideas, and the profits went into their pockets instead of his. Much to my surprise, I found the old war-horse married, and a charming wife he has. I believe there is a little bit of romance about it, from the fact that the lady was very popular among the young gentlemen of her native town, but all of a sudden Jack appeared, and without more ado set to work and succeeded in pulling out the prize, much to the discomfiture of his competitors. He had a number of very curious things to show me in his workshops, among which was a geared bicycle. Keen and I have always agreed upon one point, namely, that the average road rider of to-day is using too large a machine. Keen measures for a 55-inch, but uses on the road a 52-inch fitted with 6-inch cranks. He gives as a reason that it is safer and faster, particularly in going up and down hill, and on a level by practising a little quick pedalling, he is able to distance most of his competitors, as many of the Ripley road riders can testify.

"While in London, W. J. Morgan, the manager of the American team, was holding a six-day bicycle vs. horse race at the Agricultural Hall, and one night a party of us went up to see how it was progressing. I was simply astonished to see the crowd that was there and not at all surprised at Morgan's success. When we first entered the hall, I saw a tall figure rushing around the hall that I thought looked familiar, and sure enough it was Dick Howell on his 59-inch Rudge racer. The valiant Richard was very busy giving the horse-

NOW!

Send us your name, address and League number, if a member, on a postal card, and we will add it to our PERMANENT MAILING LIST. During the coming year we expect to circulate a great deal of IMPORTANT INFORMATION through the mails, and you can get it for the trouble of writing a postal card. Very soon we will have something to say to you about VICTOR CYCLES FOR 1888, and it will be worth your while to read it. WRITE A POSTAL.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., 182-188 Columbus Ave., BOSTON.

man a hard pull as lap after lap was rolled off. Pretty soon, another figure came out. It was Woodside, wearing the green suit which created so much excitement among the fair sex at the Springfield races of 1884. Morgan appeared shortly afterward, and as soon as he caught sight of me he invited me into his quarters, and I soon found myself in the midst of a number of the racing celebrities of the day. The whole American team seemed to be in good health and spirits, and I should judge that they had been very successful, from a financial point of view, for they certainly can attract tremendous crowds. While the six-day race was going on in Edinburgh, Scotland, five thousand people were turned away from the building the last night. How in the world Morgan manages to find time for all his engagements is more than I could discover, for he seems to be in half a dozen different parts of England at once. He hinted to me that he might be seen in America next year with a team of racing cyclists, in the interest of some manufacturer, and, if he does come, I have no doubt that he will make a success of it.

"I spent several days in Birmingham and Coventry looking up the different makers, and found much to interest me in various ways. The Rudge Company were hard at work getting out their new sample machines, which were not ready, and in due time full details of their plans for 1888 will be given to the public. Singer & Co. are building two very large factories in addition to what they have already, and Mr. Singer, the head of the firm, informed me that they had not been able to keep up with their orders during the past year. The policy of Singer & Co. had been somewhat different to any of the other cycle makers. This firm had built machines for road use solely, and I understand had never entered into open competition in a racing connection. How well this has paid them is shown by the fact that the productions are probably second to none in the cycling trade, and what many of the other makers spend in racing, Mr. Singer quietly puts into his pockets and lets his competitors do the fretting. Messrs. Hillman, Herbert & Cooper, the makers of the well-known 'Premier' bicycles, are a particularly active firm, and they have in their employ one of the best fellows and riders in England, Mr. F. S. Buckingham, who is the proud possessor of thirty-four French marble clocks that he has won in various bicycle competitions. On a wet Sunday, if he has nothing particularly to do, he generally winds them, which gives him employment for the day. He very kindly took me out on a Premier tandem, for a spin around Coventry, and the way the machine travelled was a caution, it only weighing a matter of 60 pounds and geared to 60 inches. While in Birmingham that night I saw Hon. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) walking on the sidewalk in front of my hotel, and a crowd of little gamins following on behind, gazing at the tall Indian fighter with intense admiration, and probably wondering whether he was going to shoot anybody just then. Cripps, who is well known as one of the Humber team of 1885, is managing a cycling depot in this city, and appears the same old fellow, but he has not done very much racing the past year.

"Coming back to London, I bade good by to my friends, embarked on the North German Lloyd steamship 'Saale,' which sailed from Southampton on the 10th of November, and after one of the roughest passages I have ever experienced, I was indeed glad to see the statue of Liberty again in New York Harbor.

"In a general way, I can say of my trip to England, that the cycle business is now conducted almost on the same lines as every other business, and the success of the manufacturer and agents depends on the quality and reputation of his goods. To a certain extent, the question of price enters into it, but, after all that is said and done, the prospective bicycle purchaser cannot help realizing very clearly, if he is at all a judge of a machines, that a cheap article is dear at any price. The reputation of the maker for quality and workmanship, simplicity of design and durability of material, do more to sell his goods than extensive or eccentric advertising, for although he may do a good business with a novel machine for the first year or so, it is the following years, when the repairs come in, that he sees where he has made his errors, and then it is too late." — Herald.

In spite of many assertions to the contrary, the practice of giving Christmas, Birthday, Valentine and Easter cards is constantly increasing. It is conceded that better results are obtained by purchasing direct from manufacturers, rather than dealers, in any line of trade. A sample souvenir for Valentine, Easter, Reward of Merit or Birthday occasions will be mailed for 5c., 10c., 15c., or 25c. each. Price governing quality and size. Elegant valentines at 25c., 45c., 70c., and 90c. each. Money will be refunded if not satisfactory. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Proprietors.)

MEXICO AGAIN.

I HAVE received so many letters in response to my article in the BULLETIN, that I feel inclined to write more fully, but let me say right here that seven out of the eleven letters received for more particulars, asked for a long letter from me, but contained no postage stamps for the answer. The Mexican government, on account of poverty, does not furnish stamps free. Last week I covered sixty-seven miles in three and a half hours. You can see by that that our roads are more than good, as I do not aspire to the title of a record rider. There appear to be quite a number of your readers who are afflicted with lung troubles. To them in particular, I wish to write this article. In the first place, when such a person comes here to seek health, he must be prepared to lead a rough, uncouth life; and in the second place, must take all the exercise possible; and last, but not least, must let all kinds of liquor alone. In my ride last week, I went into the mountains, and coasted down a ravine, and ran so swiftly that I coasted up a hill, called Mollie's Nipple, about one hundred feet, and down the other side. The uniform I ride in is perhaps different from that of the L. A. W. suit. Mine consists of a leather suit, trimmed with heavy plated nickel fancy work, two revolvers around my waist, and a big sombrero (hat) with a nine-inch brim. Such is the dress of "our" people here. Persons coming here will find it difficult to get along until they master the Spanish language. I have become so used to it, that when I do see an American, I never think to speak English. To all who are seeking health, and desire to come here, I would say, "Vamos aqui, moi Senor amago, poco tiempo."

B. KELLERHOUSE, 10,427.

SAN JOSÉ, MEXICO, Dec. 13, 1887.

WHITTAKER AND McCURDY.

THE following agreement has been entered into for the race to come off between Whittaker and McCurdy: —

Articles of agreement entered into this day, Dec. 16, 1887, between S. G. Whittaker, of Chicago, Ill., and A. A. McCurdy, of Boston, Mass., for a five-mile bicycle race, to take place at the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 9, 1888, the best man to win; the stake to be $2,000 a side, with a privilege of making it $5,000 a side. One thousand dollars a side has been placed in the hands of S. A. Carlisle, the other $1,000 a side to be put up two days before the race. It is further mutually agreed that S. A. Carlisle shall act as final stakeholder and referee; and we agree to the above agreement.

W. A. TANNER.
TOM ROE.

McCurdy is backed by Tom Roe, of Chicago; Whittaker's backer is W. A. Tanner, of Minneapolis.

GOOD WORK and low prices do not alway go together. However, we have a contract that enables us to furnish both for some time to come. Cards, printed with name and address, with or without L. A. W. Badge, plain or crazy edge bevel, 25 for 35c., 50 for 50c. Gold bevel or superfine wedding Bristol, 25 for 45c., 50 for 65c., POSTPAID. Will be pleased to furnish estimates for printing of any kind. Address, CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

LADIES SHOULD RIDE.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN: — I have been very much interested in the comments I have read from time to time in the BULLETIN on the subject of "Ladies' Tricycling."

I think that "Daisie" is about right in her opinion that the cost of the wheel has much to do with the matter; and that fashion has not yet set her seal of approval. These two obstacles removed, and we would soon meet scores of ladies enjoying this unequalled sport and recreation. But there are always a large number of conservative females who are also deterred from undertaking any novel exercise, by the fear that the said exercise may not be consistent with health; and on this point, I wish to drop a suggestion or two, speaking from the standpoint of one who has the right to claim some familiarity with the subject.

In the pursuit of a profession which has necessarily brought me in contact with matters pertaining especially to the health of women, I have been anxious to be able to specify some definite forms of exercise for those whom I advise. To tell a lady to "take plenty of exercise," is as old and trite a saying as it is useless, unless we can teach her how to exercise. As well might a physican say to a dyspeptic, "take food, medicine, etc.," without qualification, as to tell a lady to "take exercise." It is necessary to tell her how much, and of what kind of exercise to partake. Walking is good, and I strongly recommend it in many cases, but it is too passive, too commonplace and tedious, to be a recreation. The opportunities for rowing are rather limited, good as that exercise is. Tennis playing is excellent, but does not suit every one. Horseback riding is considered good, but I am inclined to believe that many are injured by it. In fact, I know that many ladies indulge in it who are specially unfitted for any such awkward violence. And, then, horseback riding is a very expensive luxury; and, I may add, to young girls, is by no means, generally, a harmless amusement.

I have tested practically the subject of "wheeling," and, as far as my observation has gone, I am compelled to say that it offers a most safe, graceful, and beneficent exercise for women; and when indulged in at the proper times and places, it will do a vast amount of good to the sex. I have put convalescent ladies on the tricycle, to whom horseback riding would be impossible, and they have steadily and rapidly improved in health. One of these ladies has this season passed her 1,500 mile mark in the ordinary rides for health.

There is one practical point to which I ought to allude. In riding the tricycle, a lady sits upright, with the muscles acting in exact correlation on either side of the spine, so that "lateral curvature" is prevented, or, if already existing, greatly relieved. This alone should recommend the tricycle to young girls and women, and to their physicians also.

I should not like to see the tandem supersede the single tricycle, as that beautiful contrivance gives a lady an opportunity to cheat herself out of valuable exercise, notwithstanding the fact that her delighted companion may enjoy (?) his trifling portion of the labor. Recommend, then, the tricycle for ladies, and assure them that they will not only find it a delightful recreation for body and mind, but also an exercise which will bring them none of the evils which so frequently result to their sex from the indulgence which "society" generally offers them.

Any physican, who is not a bigot, will be able to easily select out those very rare and exceptional cases who are not fit to ride a wheel, and such cases are not fit to ride a horse, nor to dance to a single strain of a waltz.

L. A. W., 13,539.

EXPENSE OF A TOUR IN ENGLAND.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I can hardly thank the Foreign Marshal, who, in last week's BULLETIN, says that many of the statements in my circular of Hints to Tourists are misleading, which I deny, for I lived comfortably on the sum mentioned.

He forgets that the hints are as they say, more for the information of those who wish to see England at moderate expense, as I did, and not for wealthy people who do not need to economize in any way.

Without pretending to know it all, I have written some hints that can be relied upon, and to those who really wish to go over will be useful, for I could not find anything I most wanted last spring, and had to go over and experiment.

The Marshal may be right in saying that May and June are the two best months over there, but they are the busiest ones here, also, and to take them means to lose the whole summer, which men less than millionnaires cannot afford to do.

I was told postively that July and August had least rain, and half the vacation spent in hotels, on account of rain and mud, would mean collapse in my case, and I do not feel lonely in it, either.

As to passage, I say plainly that with money to spare for it I would go first cabin, but intermediate does not kill, and "it is a matter of pocket-book, chiefly," which way you go.

The hints explain the "Three shilling sixpence vs. one shilling lodging" question.

Coffee houses never charged me for attendance, nor have hotels any right to, but they do it all the same.

I have had good beds at sixpence a night, and consider my word worth something, too.

On approaching Buxton, three English cyclists were kind enough to stop me to warn me away from a C. T. C. hotel where they had just paid four shillings sixpence each, for "sky-attic lodging and attendance." All along the way I saw posters of this same house, soliciting cycling patronage. The three cyclers had my thanks, surely.

The Marshal admits that a tour on the Continent would not pay unless you know something of the various languages, which coincides with my "Tractlet" and it tells surely how to get pleasure, profit, comfort and good satisfaction for $1.00 per day in England.

STAMSON.

TEACHING ROAD HOGS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In Dec. 16 issue I notice the article of L. A. W., H. 97, criticising the plan of the Illinois State Division to "disseminate a knowledge of the rights of wheelmen among farmers and the rural classes."

The author of the article is a wheelman of eight years' standing, and doubtless has had considerable experience, and I would like to ask him to give us the needed information in regard to some other method of distributing the desired knowledge, as he says the country newspaper plan will not work. I think myself it would be at considerable expense. However, Indiana and several other States are talking up the scheme.

All wheelmen know that it will take too much long and aggravative work to teach the road hog to look at our rights in the correct light by actual illustrations.

Young as I am at wheeling, I have encountered an unlimited amount of useless arguing, hard words, etc., on the road, and heaven knows Illinois is as bad a State as there is in the Union to produce regular bristling, stubborn-headed road hogs; otherwise, she can't be beat. I account for it in this manner: Bicycles as a rule are "new things" here; they did not come into general use as they did in the East, on the "slow but sure" plan, but within the past four years they have taken one or two jumps, and landed right here among the easy-going suspicious farmers, in a manner that they do not understand. They can see no good in them at present, but, of course, eventually they will cool off to some extent. I know of several young men of timid natures who would gladly become wheelmen if they were convinced that the bicycle stood on equal footing in the matter of right as any other vehicle. Illinois is never behind in anything (except politics), and I think it about time she was doing something on the much-argued question, "wheelmen's rights." We have a large number of unattached wheelmen all over the country who are anxious to follow in the tracks of their Eastern brethren.

Will 97 write an article and give us some hints in regard to the best manner of distributing our "rights" over the country? For my part, I will do all I can toward any plan that will work, and am more than willing to pay my share, to carry it through.

L. A. W., No. 17,819.

CENTRAL PARK.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The question of Central Park being a park, for the people and by the people, is looked at by No. —— in a late issue of the BULLETIN in a very different light. No. —— prefaces his remarks with "Having ridden the wheel for 'over five years,'" and from this I judge him to be well up in cycling matters, but the purport of his discourse verges on the ridiculous, and I hope he will be fair-minded enough to see he is in error. We are in a free country, and in a free metropolis where the restrictions on cyclists have been removed.

It is a fact that there are inconsiderate and reckless wheelmen who ride in the park, as well as there are careless drivers, who disregard the rights and privileges of their fellow-citizens on the roadways. The law takes care of the latter, and I am sure will prescribe the medicine for the former, but the idea of No. —— advocating "a privilege-for-League members-only" principle, makes me think whether this is a free country or not. The park is the pleasure ground of Gotham, and is intended for the enjoyment of all the people. A renewal of the badge system for wheelmen is out of the question, but the reckless riders, and a few who monopolize some of the roads for circus riding, will surely be attended to as prescribed in the park laws.

In regard to the various tastes of costume, I think No. —— oversteps the line, as the proper apparel is that which cannot be legislated for, except for a club. A wheelman has a perfect right to ride in long trousers and a cut-away coat if he chooses, and I frequently ride through the park from my home to my club in similar habiliments, and no one can question my right in this respect.

ZANY.

WORKING THE COMMITTEE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — There appeared in the BULLETIN of Dec. 9 a short item under the head of Warren, R. I., which I should like to correct. This and a similar item which appeared in the Providence Sunday Journal in July last leaves no doubt but that I am the person referred to.

The item in the Journal states that the cyclometer of a certain member of the Bristol

County Wheelmen jumped in four days from 1,000 to 1,500 miles, said member being one of the contestants in the cyclometer race, and being at the time of this extraordinary jump laid up with slow fever. The additional fact brought to light by the item in the BULLETIN of its having rained "great guns" one of those four days has evidently been just discovered. The facts of the case are, however, that when I was first taken sick, that is on June 5, and before the appearance of the article in the Journal, my record as already received and posted by the committee was over 1,400 instead of 1,000 miles, and that I did not register 1,500 until some time after the appearance of the article aforesaid.

Furthermore, instead of the committee "failing to connect," my record was received and promptly recorded by them with those of the other contestants. And that I finished close on to the fourth man at the close, instead of "giving up the effort."

As the writer of these items is not a member of the club and not a member of the committee, I would humbly suggest that should he again have occasion to write, on this or other subjects, from hearsay only, he would confine himself a little more closely to facts.

A. B. STAPLES, 8,179.

A PIONEER WHEEL.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In the BULLETIN of Dec. 9, L. A. W. 7,368 states that Mr. Brown, commonly called "Mort," was the pioneer rider in Warren, R. I., and built the first wheel there. The first wheel in that town was built by an enthusiastic wheelman, and one of the original eleven members of the B. C. W., while the one referred to by 7,368 was not built until some months after by Mr. Brown. The wheel was made mostly of wood and some wrought iron. The wheels were made by a wheelwrigh , and were forty-two and eighteen inches in diameter, with seven eighths steel tire, the rider not wishing to risk his neck at the perilous height of fifty-four inches. The backbone was made in two pieces, bent and glued together. Afterwards the pieces were riveted together, the glue not enduring the dampness. The main bearings were very carefully placed for lightness and ease of running, and yet had sufficient strength. They were one inch in diameter, and made of cast steel, and run in cast-iron bearings (plain). Cranks were eight-inch throw. Forks, wood, and made with open head like the Standard Columbia. Its weight was at first about twenty pounds; afterward, made somewhat heavier. There was a very brilliant scheme concocted, but never put into practice, viz., to load the rear wheel, at the forks with a fifty-pound sand bag, to prevent headers. The seat and spring were at first like the Rudge people's Townsend saddle, afterwards, a block of wood and a piece of carpet tacked on and bolted to the backbone, for ease and comfort, no doubt. The wheel was quite successfully used by its builder, and when last heard from was in riding condition. The rider having in the mean while become owner of a fifty-inch Meteor, which was the first real bicycle ever owned or brought into Warren, and continued as such for some little time. It was a forty-two pound racing machine, the ease of running and other good qualities of which no doubt laid the foundation for the achievement of several wonderful flights of speed and the remarkable "Earth's record" which appeared in the BULLETIN a few weeks since.

No. 8,178.

ENAMELINE, wearing qualities equal to any; lustre, finest in the world. Process, patented. For bicycles, sewing machines, hardware, furniture, glass, willow ware, etc. By express, four-ounce, 20c.; eight-ounce, 38c. By mail, sample, 10c.; four-ounce, 35c.; eight-ounce, 55c.; brush, 10c. extra. CHI. CAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

SOME complaints as to the behavior of wheelmen on Golden Gate Avenue, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, have recently appeared in one of the daily papers, and, unwillingly enough, it must be admitted that these complaints are not without foundation. Wherever a prejudice to the wheel has been developed, it can always be traced to the action of some silly fellow who, having recently acquired a bicycle, starts out to conquer everything that moves. The disposition to throw the legs over the handle-bar on every piece of road that tilts down, to curve from side to side of the road, and otherwise attempt an exhibition, all unmistakably stamp the novice, and awaken only feelings of contempt on the part of a man who knows how to ride. Men must bear in mind that they have the right to use their wheels on the public highway only in a quiet, orderly manner, as respectable people use their carriages, and when they come recklessly rushing down a crowded thoroughfare, attempting to monopolize the roadway, they place themselves in the same category with the hoodlum arrested for furious driving, and should properly meet with the same punishment. The aim of every right-minded person who rides a bicycle has been to demonstrate that it is a practical vehicle which can be used without interfering with the rights and comforts of others on the public highway, and so it is. It is not too much to assert that no bicycle in the hands of a reasonable person ever frightened a horse and thereby caused an accident. The bicycle traffic out the avenue and through the park is assuming considerable proportions, and it rests with the wheelmen whether it shall become necessary to establish special police regulations to control this traffic. Horses are taken to the circus ring for trick-riding and to the track for racing, and so must bicycles. — San Francisco Chronicle.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by: —

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address,

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

CYCLETS.

A

HAPPY

NEW YEAR

To one and all.

MAY the New Year

BE a red-letter one in our calendar.

MAY we all strive to bring about the happiness we are now wishing for our friends.

AS we are all brothers of one fraternity, let us strive to bring peace and harmony within the ranks.

THE reorganization committee will meet in Buffalo next month.

THE Baltimore Club will present the drama "Ours" on the evening of Jan. 13.

WHEELMEN are oiling up wheels preparatory to riding the old year out and the new year in.

T. W. ECK covered fifty miles in 3.18.50, at Minneapolis, Dec. 10, on the new Champion Safety.

KNAPP beat Whittaker Dec. 9 at Minneapolis, by a foot, in a three-mile race. Time, 8 54 4-5.

THE Centaur Cycle Club, of Baltimore, was at home to friends on Christmas Day from 2 to 10 P. M.

THE Maryland Division will hold a second meeting to talk over League Meet matters on Saturday, Jan. 7.

DEC. 5, at Newcastle, English beat Howell on the boards. The latter seems to be unable to adapt himself to indoor performances.

QUEEN KAPIOLANI of the Hawaiian Islands has purchased, through her consul at San Francisco, a lady's two-track Columbia tricycle.

YOU can't always tell what a man means by what he says, but when he runs over a dog and takes a header he generally means just what he says.

J. FRED MIDGELEY, of Worcester, has bought out a livery stable, and announces that he will not go on to the cycle racing track next season.

THE Martha's Vineyard Club has appointed a committee to invite the Massachusetts Division to meet upon the island the coming summer, and to entertain them.

AT Newcastle, Eng., Dec. 3, Battensby beat Young by a length in 2.42.39. Howell dropped out seven miles ten laps. Dubois was third by a length. Wood and English also started.

A SAN FRANCISCO gentleman, thirty-five years of age, who never mounted a bicycle until last April, is such an enthusiast, that in twenty rides on Sundays and holidays between that date and November, he covered upward of 1,200 miles.

CLUBS that hope to go to Baltimore should begin active rehearsal of the old song, which used to run something like this: "Baltimore girls, ain't you coming out to-night, coming out to-night, coming out to-night; Baltimore girls, ain't you coming out to-night, to dance by the light of the moon?"

HERE is a new championship. It will probably stay in Baltimore. The Argus says: "The Eisenbrandt Brothers, and there are only five of them, contemplate issuing a challenge to any other five brothers in the State for a team race for the five brothers' championship. It is safe to say that the above will be a safe challenge, whether they intend to ride safety machines or not, as it would be hard to find in the State five brothers who ride wheels."

HARRY COREY has entered the employment of the Pope Manufacturing Company. He will go about the country and look up the agents. And now expect to see wheel correspondents say: "Harry Corey, of Boston, was in town to-day. He went on a run with our club and climbed Pull Bar Hill. The boys like Harry."

DEC. 24, 25, and 26 saw us upon the road under the most favorable conditions for riding. The roads were hard and smooth, and the air was bracing. We took a spin on the ice at Bullough's Pond, Newtonville, on the 26th, and found that the fleetest skaters were easily left behind. Ice riding is very fine, unless you want to stop in a hurry.

SOMEBODY writes about the article describing a girl riding inside a monster monocycle, which had neither spokes nor hub, and consisted simply of the felloe; and he says that "on reading the item to a lady friend, she remarked, 'That 's all any girl needs.'" Is it? Come to think it over, I fancy the girl would not be satisfied until the felloe spoke out and became her hub. — An Old File in C. J.

WE are invited to a mysterious meeting to be held at the club house of the Harlem Wheelmen (N. Y.), Dec. 30. The "king" commands the attendance of all his faithful subjects at a feast of reason, a flow of soul, and a lay out of flesh pots. We regret that a previous engagement with the "queen" will forbid our attendance, but we hope the king will take every jack in the pack.

EDWARD A. LAWSON, of Louisville, Ky., was riding his bicycle in that city last week, when a valuable horse belonging to William Zable became frightened and ran away, seriously injuring the horse and doing considerable other damage. A suit for damages will be brought by the owner of the horse, who must prove careless riding on the part of the wheelman.

THE Cyclist people have gotten off another huge joke. Last year they announced that a Chinese trick rider was coming to England, and the press took up the tale and spread it broadcast. It proved to be only a covert announcement of the Christmas Cyclist. This year they announced that Sturmey would institute a lantern show to travel over England. The Christmas number for 1887 is called the "Lantern," and will be the traveller. We were taken in with the rest. Wonder if there 'll be anything wick-ed in the "Lantern"? It 'll be light literature anyway.

THE New Orleans bicyclists met Monday night to consider the lantern parade. The co-operation of the carnival people was promised. No definite programme was arranged and will not be until the second Saturday in January, when the committee appointed will report. It will take considerable money to give the parade, which it is desired to make a grand affair, and a canvass for financial aid will be made. The committee of arrangements is composed of E. A. Shields, chairman, and Messrs. Boullemet, Rea, Betts, Patton, Ziegler, and C. H. Fenner. — New Orleans Picayune.

A BALTIMORE paper thus describes a stag dance held by the Rambler Club: "Those present, who helped to make the night hideous, were Barrington, Kingsland, Hoover, Dan Bowers, 'Gene' Denmead, Sam Cassard, Dug Cassard and Broadbent. Dug Cassard led the german, and Barrington furnished the music. When the latter finally became exhausted from fatigue, Dug Cassard relieved him at the piano, and Dan Bowers, who dances like an elephant, led the german for the balance of the evening."

A WOMAN was seen bowling up Main Street on a tricycle yesterday, her lap and various parts of the machine piled up with bundles of all sizes. Perhaps it is only reasonable to prognosticate that within a generation tricycles will swarm in the neighborhood of the dry-goods and jewelry stores. In that case, a new employment will spring up for small boys who will take charge of the steeds of steel at a charge of ten cents or so, while the fair riders go in to do their shopping. — Buffalo Courier.

ON Saturday afternoon last we stood in the Agricultural Hall, amid a group of cracks and crocks, and drew their attention to the ankle action of Richard Howell, the champion professor of the art of cycling. Though saddle-sore and weary with the continuous riding of a whole week, commenced without any special training, — when he was many pounds overweight, — and continued simply by dint of dogged determination, Howell rode round, and absolutely the only joints in his body which seemed unwearied were his ankles, which were playing straight, strong, and true, like veritable pieces of machinery. Truly, the idiot who said Howell did not use his ankles, must have touched "strong liquors which do bemuse a man," as Rose Maybud says, when he gave off that opinion, for the big champion's ankle action, on the occasion in question, was a liberal education in the art of cycle riding. — Bicycling News.

THE Free Presbytery of Scotland, a body which, some time ago, denounced dancing as "close-breasted whirling," — being apparently ignorant of the fact that no good dancer ever does, or indeed can, properly hold his partner otherwise than at semi-arm's length, if he is to reverse, — have now issued their edict against Sunday riding of wheels. The opening of ice-cream shops on Sunday is the first or greatest sin to which the Presbytery refer, and the second is that many of their young men now start on the Sabbath, immediately after breakfast, to the country on their bicycles, persons coming to church meeting them on the way. That these riders qualify as bona fide travellers when they penetrate into the country is also a sore point with the Presbytery of the Free Kirk. Sunday in London is dull enough; but Sunday in a Scotch town is worse, and surely the sin of riding off into the country and seeing God's works, in preference to the bricks and mortar of man's work, is not a very heinous one. No amount of "going to church" will avail unless the mind desires it, and "example" is really the only plea the Kirk can confidently urge. — Wheeling.

IN speaking of bicycle road racing, an English sporting paper says: "Road racing is all the more to be condemned, because there are ample facilities for conducting competition otherwise. In the early days of the sport, perhaps, there was greater excuse to be found for it. Prepared tracks were then unknown, or were very rare, and, while the present rate of speed had not been attained, the number of entries was commonly much below that to which we have recently been accustomed. Now, however, there are cinder tracks in most places of importance, and where these are not to be obtained it is seldom difficult to get a tolerably good grass track, which is certainly much better for racing purposes than a rough, uneven road. Consequently, no apology can be made for road racing. No doubt there is a certain amount of interest in knowing how far and how fast a man can travel on a bicycle or a tricycle on the highway, but evidence sufficient to gratify curiosity on that point has already been afforded, and the public are willing to take for granted everything that can reasonably be claimed in the matter. What they demand, and have a right to demand, is that contests which can be better and more profitably and harmlessly decided elsewhere shall not take place on the high road."

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

A SIX-DAY race at Newcastle, Eng., was started Dec. 5. At the end of the fifth day the score stood: Battensby, 659 miles 3 laps; Young, 659 miles 3 laps; Terront, 650 miles 10 laps; Parkes, 604 miles 4 laps; Lamb, 597 miles 7 laps: and Symington, 551 miles 5 laps. The final scores were: —

	Miles.	Laps.
Battensby	792	3
Young	792	2
Terront	704	3
Lamb	686	4
Parkes	677	1
Symington	600	6

ONE of the most remarkable cases of lost, strayed, or stolen bicycles has just been hunted to the finish. About the middle of last October the Pope Manufacturing Company shipped a Columbia light roadster from their factory at Hartford, by freight, to a party in a Western city. When the crate reached the consignee it was found to contain a second-hand Expert, instead of the new light roadster. The Pope Manufacturing Company has always employed a complete system of numbering, and an examination of the second-hand Expert proved it to be a machine which was sent out new from the factory a year or so ago, billed to a place which happened to be on the line of railroad through which the new machine passed. Detectives were employed, and suspicion soon centred upon a former employee of the railroad company at that town. A search warrant was procured, his mother's house searched, and the bicycle was found in the parlor. It seems that the party originally had stolen the Expert; that he exchanged it during the night while the car containing the light roadster was side-tracked and accidentally left unlocked. The thief represented to his mother that he had made an exchange of his old bicycle for a new one, and was to pay five dollars a month instalments until the bonus was made up. The mother believed the boy, and had already promised to advance him the necessary money to pay up the instalments. A warrant for his arrest was to be taken out, and he was to have been brought before the grand jury, which was then sitting in a neighboring town; but on account of his widowed mother, the Pope Manufacturing Company very considerately refused to prosecute him, and have suppressed the name of the town and party. — Herald.

IT is said that engraved visiting cards are becoming very fashionable of late. To meet this demand, we have added an engraving department, and can furnish 50 engraved cards from copper-plate, post-paid, for $1.25. Prices for stamping and embossing, plain or in colors, upon application. Estimates for engraving or printing of any kind furnished. CHICAGO MANFG. AND PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 119 — Total 40 — 11,939.

BOSTON, Dec. 30, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 1. — 344.

Unattached.

17173 Claymour, Edw., 118 Sutter St., San Francisco.

COLORADO DIVISION — 1. — 46.

Unattached.

17240 Ammen, D. K., 1215 Twenty-seventh St., Denver.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 11. — 635.

Ottawa Cycling Club.

17220 Amber, Bert, Ottawa.
17221 Day, Elmer E., "
17222 Devlin, D. E., "
17223 Merrifield, Lou, "
17224 Seeley, W. L., "
17225 Strawn, Lester H., "

Quincy Bi. Club.

17219 Osborn, Frank W., 720 No. 4th St., Quincy.

Unattached.

17241 McLean, B. F., Macomb.
17242 Whitaker, C. H., Jr., "
17243 Beatty, Guy, Delavan.
17244 Young, Thos., Le Roy.

IOWA DIVISION — 3. — 150.

Unattached.

17245 Bell, Wm. B., 207 E. 4th St., Muscatine.
17246 Lee, A. W., "
17247 Reuling, Ad., 109 E. 4th St., "

KANSAS DIVISION — 1. — 180.

Unattached.

17248 Kirk, D. K., Garnett.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 1. — 289.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

17226 Beckley, G. Herbert, Reisterstown.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 2. — 1,328.

Columbia Bi. Club.

17249 Schmadl, Fred. A., No. Attleboro.

Unattached.

17250 McDowell, John, 20 Cedar St., Malden.

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 1. — 108.

Unattached.

17251 Gates, J. G., N. P. Frt. Office, Minneapolis.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 14. — 2,317.

Citizens' Bi. Club.

17252 Ashforth, George, 151 W. 44th St., New York.
17253 Wells, Dr. B. H., 72 W. 115th St., "

College Club.

17227 Landon, Chas. W., Claverack.

Cortland County Cyclists.

17254 Corey, Fred B., Homer.

Lockport Wheelmen.

17228 Scott, Bert, care Holly Mfg. Co., Lockport.

Long Island Wheelmen.

17229 Bishoprick, N. J., 343 Decatur St., Brooklyn.
17230 Ruwe, Geo. H., 55 Maiden Lane, New York.
17231 Smith, Wilson K., 112 Rodney St., Brooklyn,
17232 Tunison, F. M., 177 Gates Ave., "

Y. M. C. A. Wheelmen.

17233 Dunham, G. M., 416 W. 14th St., New York.
17234 Hart, Wm. J., 314 W. 12th St., "
17235 Yates, S. W. M., 472 W. 34th St., "

Unattached.

17236 Guthrie, H. Will, 85 Central Ave., Rochester.
17237 Nelson, L. H., 26 W. 60th St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION — 1. — 940.

Unattached.

17255 Martin, Kile K., 80 No. 4th St., Columbus.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 1. 1,730.

Unattached.

17238 Allen, Grant S., Emporium.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 1. — 179.

Unattached.

17256 Rawlings, Geo. S., 17 Coville St., Providence.

SOUTH CAROLINA. — 1. — 2.

Unattached.

17257. Whilden, Herbert B., 163 Spring St., Charleston.

VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1. — 86.

Norfolk Cyclists.

17239 Taylor, W. R., 15 York St., Norfolk.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1887.

LIST 4.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

Alabama,	1.	Minnesota, 4.
California,	3.	Missouri, 36.
Colorado,	1.	Montana, 1.
Connecticut,	19.	Nebraska, 1.
District of Columbia,	24.	New Hampshire, 2.
Georgia,	3.	New Jersey, 30.
Illinois,	33.	New York, 102.
Indiana,	5.	Ohio, 18.
Iowa,	8.	Pennsylvania, 39.
Kansas,	3.	Rhode Island, 5.
Kentucky,	3.	Tennessee, 1.
Louisiana,	4.	Texas, 1.
Maine,	1.	Vermont, 2.
Maryland,	25.	Virginia, 2.
Massachusetts,	42.	West Virginia, 2.
Michigan,	8.	Wisconsin, 6.
Total,		446.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Washington Cycle Club, Washington, D. C.
Mercury Bicycle Club, Minneapolis, Minn.
Mercury Wheel Club, Flushing, Long Island, N. Y.
Cortlandt Wheelmen, Peekskill, N. Y.
McKeesport Cyclers, McKeesport, Pa.

NEW CLUB.

185. Ottawa Cycling Club, Ottawa, Ill. Organized December, 1887; joined the League, Dec. 30, 1887.

AUBURN, N. Y., hopes to have a bicycle factory within its borders. The Dispatch says: "A prominent manufacturer of bicycles from England is now in Auburn for the purpose of discussing the project of establishing a bicycle manufactory in this city. This gentleman is owner of valuable patents on every part of bicycles in general use throughout this country and England. The location of an enterprise of this kind in our midst would be of great value to Auburn, and would probably grow to large proportions. This fact was recognized immediately by leading members of the Board of Trade, and the gentleman was invited to meet the board and give the matter a thorough discussion. On Thursday he met the manufacturing committee of the board, and his representations were received with such favor that, at the suggestion of the committee, Secretary Lawton sent out of the city for bicycle experts who appeared before the committee on Friday and acknowledged the superiority and desirability of bicycles equipped with the English gentleman's patents over all other wheels made in the world At the conclusion of the session the committee passed a resolution to bring the matter before the Board of Trustees on Monday evening."

THE CLUB.

WAPPINGERS WHEEL CLUB, Wappingers, N. Y. — Organized Nov. 16. Officers elected for ensuing year: President, A. M. Roy; secretary, James Hunter; treasurer, Frank Warhurst; captain, H. H. Brown. The club has rooms in a fine location, and have at present a membership of seventeen, with bright prospects of growing stronger before spring.

THE Columbia Bicycle Club of North Attleboro', Mass., opened its new quarters in Boyle Block on Thursday evening of last week. The guests were received in the new rooms, and a ball was held in the hall above. The new quarters comprise five rooms well furnished. Among the invited guests present were President Emery and Capt. Lowell of the Roxbury Club. At the annual meeting Monday evening the 19th, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, O. W. Clifford; vice-president, W. E. Luce; secretary, Thos. E. Bell; treas., C. F. Kurtz; capt., F. C. Groton; 1st lieut., W. F. Swift; 2d lieut., E. A. Whitney; bugler, C. C. Whitmarsh; examing committee, president, secretary, treasurer, J. G. Platner and F. B. Brigham.

RUST REMOVER, fine, medium, or coarse; nothing better made; per package post-paid, 22c. Rust preventative, per package post-paid, 20c. Finest quality sewing machine or bicycle oil, will not freeze, gum, or become rancid; two-ounce bottles, post-paid, 12c., three for 30c.; one dozen by express, 50c. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MICHIGAN DIVISION.

Hotels.	L. A. W. Rate.
Devil's Lake, Allen's,	$1 12½
Jonesville, Grosvenor,	"
Milan, Rive's,	1 00

J. H. JOHNSON, C. C.

DETROIT, Dec. 19, 1887.

MARYLAND DIVISION.

A SPECIAL meeting of the Maryland Division will be held on Saturday morning, Jan. 7, at the club house of the Maryland Bicycle Club, Mount Royal Terrace, Baltimore.

It is earnestly requested that every member of this Division will make it a point to be present on the above date, as the business before this meeting will be of great importance, and a full and representative meeting is very necessary to intelligent action.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

MICHIGAN ROAD BOOK, 1888.

CORRECTIONS and additions to 1887 road book will be sent to press in January, consequently, it is important that all such should reach me as early in the month as possible.

Let each and every member consider himself a special committee on the subject, and contribute his mite without delay. The changes will be printed and arranged so that they can be attached to the stubs left for the purpose.

J. H. JOHNSON, C. C.

DETROIT, Dec. 19, 1887.

MARYLAND APPOINTMENT.

I TAKE pleasure in appointing as local consul of Baltimore (Eastern) Mr. Chas. L. Mitchell, corner Gay and Lombard Streets.

The following hotels are hereby appointed as L. A. W. hotels. The reduction to members, on presentation of L. A. W. tickets, are as follows: —

Hotel Hamilton, Hagerstown, Md.: Regular rates, $2.00; L. A. W. rates, $1.50

Griffith House, New Market, Md.: Regular rates, $1.50; L. A. W. rates, $1.00.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 23, 1887.

NEBRASKA REPRESENTATIVE.

T. H. POLLACK, of Omaha, is appointed representative for Nebraska.

H. C. Miller is appointed local consul for South Omaha.

F. N. CLARKE, C. C.

COAL AND COKE.

Another Splendid Christmas and New Year's Annual for 1888. — The Latest and Best of the Rock Island Series.

THOUSANDS who have perused with delighted interest the pages of "Watt Stevens, the Genius of Steam" (1885); "Voltagal, the Genius of Electricity" (1886); and "Petroleum and Natural Gas" (1887), will be pleased to know that the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway will issue another magnificent souvenir for the Christmas and New Year season of 1888, which surpasses in many respects, anything of the kind heretofore published. "Coal and Coke" is the title of the work, and the subject has been exhaustively treated. It is written in a captivating colloquial style, embodying a vast amount of information in regard to coal strata; their relative position in the earth's crust; where deposits occur, — their nature and extent; the different processes of underground mining; how coal is converted into coke, and some of its varied and multiple uses.

The book is profusely illstrated from original sketches. Although the expense has been very great, the Rock Island has concluded to supply "Coal and Coke" at the nominal rate of ten cents (for postage) per copy. Enclose your address plainly written (also ten cents in stamps) to E. A. Holbrook, general ticket and passenger agent at Chicago, Ill., and a copy of "Coal and Coke," will be mailed to you, prepaid, to any part of the world.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

DOES ANY ONE WANT TO BUY A NEW Columbia Light Roadster tricycle or bicycle? If so, make us an offer. T. R. RAYL & CO., Detroit, Mich.

CHEAP. — A 50-inch Expert, half nickelled, with lamp, bell, whistle, two cementing lamps, spoke grip, and all tools and tool bag, 1887 pattern, Kirkpatrick saddle; all for $75 cash; have been offered $90, in exchange. Address L. A. W., 12,152, Box 404, Larned, Ka.

SOCIABLE FOR SALE. — Meteor Sociable, 48-inch wheels, balls all over, open front, keep-step crank shaft; good order and condition; cost $225; will sell for $125. Address X. X., this office.

WANTED. — Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 5267,

Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

OUR LITTLE FLYER.

STILLMAN G. WHITTAKER

Has closed the season for us with the most wonderful road performance ever recorded by the wheel press, making in the 24 hours, on an ordinary 51-inch Light Champion taken out of stock and weighing 40 pounds, the phenomenal distance of 323 MILES.

Proofs of the ride have been submitted to the interested press, and this record has been accepted by every cycle paper in the country without a single dissenting voice, and the doubter has but to write any cycling editor to become himself convinced.

The American Cycles are road machines, and strong enough for the toughest American roads. They hold every American road record from 10 miles up to 24 hours; hence it would seem that they run even more easily than the frail and specially constructed wheels that our competitors have used in their futile attempts to wrest the records from riders of Champions.

Oh, but the bearings do tell, sure enough!

And that little track trial of Dingley's, at Lynn, on a 36-lb. Champion, still stands at the head, notwithstanding that most of the racing cracks, on racing machines, mind you, have had a go at it. In the words of Sammy Hollingsworth, "It was a wonderful record."

If you wish to purchase the best and easiest running road machines in the world, correspond with

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

VOLUME NO.

6

THE L A W BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

FLEMING-B. BREWSTER-ALLEN, N.Y.

$1,00 A YEAR.
3 CENTS PER COPY.

BOSTON, JANUARY 6, 1888.

VOL. VI. No. 1.
WHOLE NUMBER, 132.

"The Most Comprehensive Cycling Catalogue Published."

60 PAGES.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

FOR 1888.

Published Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1888. Free by mail upon application.

POPE MANUFACTURING CO. } Principal Offices, 79 Franklin Street, BOSTON.
Branch Houses, { 12 Warren Street, NEW YORK.
291 Wabash Avenue, CHICAGO.

THE RUDGE AGENCY.

OF THE

CITY OF BOSTON

The Rudge Agency (recently relinquished by Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co.), will be continued at the same place, 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., by H. M. SABEN, who has been actively connected with the agency during the past two years. The 1888 Rudge Catalogue is now in press.

$5000 a 10 cent.

NOW!

Abbot Bassett. Mass. 6, 1924.

Send us your name, address and League number, if a member, on a postal card, and we will add it to our PERMANENT MAILING LIST. During the coming year we expect to circulate a great deal of IMPORTANT INFORMATION through the mails, and you can get it for the trouble of writing a postal card. Very soon we will have something to say to you about VICTOR CYCLES FOR 1888, and it will be worth your while to read it. WRITE A POSTAL.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., 182-188 Columbus Ave., BOSTON.

FRED B. KIMBALL, of the Somerville Club, has been declared the winner of the gold watch offered as a prize to the member who made the largest number of club runs during the season. Mr. Kimball attended every run made by the club but one.

RUST REMOVER, fine, medium, or coarse; nothing better made; per package post-paid, 22c. Rust preventative, per package post-paid, 20c. Finest quality sewing machine or bicycle oil, will not freeze, gum, or become rancid; two-ounce bottles, post-paid, 12c., three for 30c.; one dozen by express, 50c. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

CHEAP FARMING LANDS SOUTH.

IT is a recognized fact that the cheapest farming lands in America to-day are in the South, and men of much or moderate means, looking for real estate investments, or permanent homes, should not fail to visit the following points, where so many northern people are now settling, viz.: Jackson, Tennessee; Aberdeen and Jackson, Mississippi; Hammoud, Crowley, Jennings, Welsh and Lake Charles, Louisiana. Round Trip Tourist tickets, limited to June 1, 1888, with stop-over privileges south of Cairo, Illinois, are on sale to New Orleans, Jennings and Lake Charles. For rates, apply to nearest ticket agent, and be sure your tickets read via the Illinois Central Railroad from Chicago or St. Louis. For pamphlet entitled "Southern Home Seeker's Guide," and circulars concerning the above-named points, address the undersigned, at Manchester, Iowa.

J. F. MERRY,
Gen. West. Pass. Agt.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

SIX CENTS IS N'T MUCH!

But it will buy the neatest, best, most accurate and satisfactory Guide-book of New York City ever issued — 128 pages and map. 50,000 of these already issued. Send six cents in stamps to Advertising Department,

Grand Union Hotel, New York.

Mention the BULLETIN and an extra copy will be mailed free.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats.)

It has been hard work to make people believe that we can cut, and make to order, a good pair of pants for $3.00. Pants that will look well, fit well, and wear well. By persistent advertising, we have induced a great many people to risk $3.00 upon our agreement, endorsed by the American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) to refund money for any cause. Then doubt yields to surprise, and the question everywhere is asked "How can we do it?" In that way we are building up and holding a large trade, scattered from Maine to California, that is buying everything from hats, Suits, Overcoats, and pants. For six cents we mail you twenty samples to select from, and self-measurement blanks, so accurate that we can safely guarantee a fit; also a good linen tape-measure, if you mention this paper; or if you would save time and leave choice of goods you prefer, send us your waist, inside leg and hip measures, together with $3.00 and thirty-five cents to prepay express or postage and packing and we will forward the goods, guaranteeing safe delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

"HOW CAN THEY DO IT?"

Write the American Express Co., Boston, about us, and they will reply at once.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Hadley, Mass.

STEEL BALLS OF BEST CAST-STEEL, FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS,

HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

The McClintock Home Trainer for 1888.

(PATENTED MARCH 22, 1887.)

Riders, now is the time to exercise at home. This trainer gives you the same motion as road riding. You shouldn't be without one. It can be used with any style of cycle. Send for circulars. Price, $13.00. Special discounts to dealers.

Address, McClintock Home Trainer Co.,
No 431 Market St., Williamsport, Penn.

ESTABLISHED 1846

MUNN & Co. PATENTS

NEW YORK

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest List of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

THE League has been criticised by the press for refusing to do anything for the riders of Alabama who are not allowed on the road controlled by a private corporation. It is a case where there is the will without the power. It must be remembered that every time the League has gone to law in a case of this kind, it has lost. The North Carolina case and the Central Park case are notable examples. In the first case, the courts decided that a corporation, which builds a road and maintains it, can have the right to regulate travel upon it; and in the Central Park case, the Commissioners were conceded the right to prohibit the entrance of cyclers. The Alabama case is one precisely similar to that of North Carolina. The decisions are against us. The public highway is open to all vehicles, cycles included, and the League has shown this in the courts several times. Corporation roads do not appear to be subject to the same laws that public highways are. It may be that in the near future we shall be able to get justice from the private corporations, but just now it is fruitless to go to the courts.

BUT there are other ways in which the ends of the League may be gained. Public opinion can be moulded and legislation can be obtained. The League cannot with ease do this work for the wheelmen of Alabama, but it can extend aid in many directions. It will be well, therefore, if the editors and correspondents will stop criticising the League for not doing what it would gladly do had it the power, and unite with the League officials and the wheelmen of Alabama in converting the powers that be in that State to a correct understanding of what they must soon do for the wheel. This is a case where the law has to be shaped to meet our purposes. It seems to be against us now.

NOW give us your ideas, or else forever after hold your peace. The League is to be reorganized. We are to start out anew, under rules and regulations which are thought to be best suited to a large organization such as the League has grown to be. The committee invites suggestions and hints from each and every member. These will be received, considered, and acted upon at a meeting to be held in Buffalo, Jan. 27. If you have an idea, send it to the committee. At this time hints and suggestions will be of more value than they can possibly be after the rules are made.

IT is desired to organize the League in the best possible manner for speedy and effective work. There are no axes to be ground, and the minds of the Special and the Executive Committee are open to good ideas from whatever source.

THE plan of the committee will come before the New York meeting in February, but the new code cannot be finally acted upon until the annual meeting. If those people who have been saying, "The League does nothing!" will send to the committee just their ideas regarding what should be done, and the manner of doing, they will now be given a patient hearing.

THERE are some who claim that the BULLETIN should be issued monthly, others say that once in two weeks is often enough. Some claim that we should have a newspaper, and from other quarters comes the cry, "Make it simply a League circular." The BULLETIN has, for want of funds, been unable the past year to present what it would like to, but hopes for better things in the future. The committee would be glad to get the ideas of the membership regarding the frequency of issue, and the character of the BULLETIN.

THIS proposition will come before the Buffalo meeting, and be urged very strongly. A well-known member of the League tells us he believes it to be the right thing to do towards clubs that are loyal to the League, and compel the members, one and all, to unite with it. It will be proposed that the dues be increased to $1.25 per year, and that clubs that qualify as League clubs be allowed a discount of twenty-five cents pe member. This question will come up for discussion. If you have an idea for or against it, send it to Buffalo.

AN English writer, starting with the assumption that all cyclers have inbent knees, recommends occasional horseback riding to correct the evil.

HARRY D. COREY.

UPON the retirement of Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co. from the bicycle business, their manager, Mr. H. D. Corey, who is so well and favorably known in the cycling world, accepted the invitation of Col. Pope to enter the service of The Pope Manufacturing Company. A brief sketch of Mr. Corey is appended: —

Beginning as a rider of "The Bone Shakers" in 1878, he transferred his affections in 1879 to the ordinary bicycle and has since that time been one of the most energetic wheelmen in the country.

In 1883 he was offered the position of manager of the bicycle department of Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co., and in that capacity has continued with them up to Dec. 31, 1887. This firm had been importing bicycles for other houses for some time, and perceiving a great future in the wheel business, they decided to make it one of the departments of their already large importing business, and finding in Mr. Corey the person they wanted, they offered him the position as their manager. He was first heard of in the racing line in 1883, and during that year placed to his credit thirteen first prizes out of a possible sixteen. During the last three years the pressing demands of business have required his undivided attention, but he has managed to break several long-distance records during that time. Unlike most of the racing men, who trained long and steadily for a performance, he did his racing almost always at a few days' notice, depending upon his fine physique to accomplish his purpose, and was generally successful. During the Springfield Tournament of 1883, he mounted his bicycle and broke all the records from one to ten miles inclusive, excepting the 2-mile and 5-mile, the act being more remarkable as he had never ridden a 10-mile race in his life until the day before. For his performance, the Springfield Bicycle Club presented him with an elegant gold watch, valued at $150.

This ended his career on the path, but among a number of his noteworthy performances was his riding down Mount Washington in the spring of the same year. Any one who has come down this steep ride can have some idea of the nerve it required to handle the bicycle during the descent. In the same year he rode up Corey Hill, at Brookline, on an ordinary bicycle, being the first to successfully mount the hill, although it had been tried by numberless riders, and it was some two years later before another rider accomplished the same feat. For this performance, Messrs. Rudge & Company presented him with a beautiful 53-inch Rudge Light Roadster, during his visit to England in 1884. A little later in the same year, he broke the record around Chestnut Hill Reservoir, which had been standing for four years, and in the latter part of the same year he broke the twenty-four-hour record on his bicycle. For his many notable performances he was called the "Record Breaker."

As a judge of bicycles and tricycles, Mr. Corey is considered one of the best authorities, as his extensive acquaintance among manufacturers and cyclists, both in England and America, combined with a decided mechanical taste, gives him unequalled advantages for ascertaining the wants of riders and in securing the most valuable improvements. It has been his policy to carefully consider the requirements of cyclists and combine, in the greatest measure, simplicity with durability. When only twenty years old, he was sent to England by his firm to superintend the building of their stock of cycles, and after the completion of his sample machines, he gave Messrs. Rudge & Co. the largest export order that was ever given. The death of his father, while Mr. Corey was in England, a short time ago, left him in an independent position, but he much preferred to be busy; and upon the retirement of Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co. from the bicycle business, after considering several very flattering offers, he decided to enter the service of the Pope Manufacturing Company, believing in the great future of American manufacturers.

Although heretofore a strong competitor of the above firm, his relations with them had been most friendly, and while having nothing but the kindest feelings towards his English rivals, his energies for the future will be used for the perfecting Columbia bicycles and tricycles, a departure in which many of his friends will greatly welcome him.

THE OWL.

DR. BECKWITH has been astonished during the past week by the number of his friends who have called upon him in an unprecedented manner, and each one of whom seemed particularly anxious about the welfare of his family, while the more intimate ones openly requested an introduction to his daughter. Now as doctor is a confirmed bachelor, he was somewhat astonished at this request, which, needless to relate, he had to refuse to grant. Inquiry as to the cause of the mistake developed the fact that the error grew out of the publishing in Saturday's Graphic of a series of illustrations, having for their subjects the belles of New York, prominent among which was a Miss Beckwith, whom the Graphic stated had spent most of her time abroad, but was the daughter of Mr. N. M. Beckwith, and doctor's friends at once concluded that he was the honored parent, and had been trying to steal a march on them by keeping the young lady in Europe. While I am of the idea that doctor would not object to playing father to so handsome a daugher, yet I am forced to declare that he is at present unblessed with any such lovely incumbrance as the foregoing, so manufacturers can save postage by not sending him the usual price lists for ladies' trikes, tandems, etc.

IN a recent article on the chefs of New York, in the World, which was accompanied by illustrations of the most celebrated of them, a likeness of a handsome young man in bicycle uniform was shown as representing Frederick Hemmerle, who presides over the kitchen in the palace of Cornelius Vanderbilt. Mr. Hemmerle spends part of the $200 per month that he receives for his services in bicycling, at which he is as great an adept as at cooking. Here's a chance for some swell club to get up a bicycling banquet under competent and experienced management.

MESSRS. RANCHFUSS & SCHRENKHEISEN, of the New York Club, have gone to Bermuda to continue the wheeling there, that is denied them here by the inclemency of the climate.

THE Citizens Club held high carnival on New-Year's eve, sent the old year out with a hurrah, and welcomed the new one in with wine, smoke, and song. As is usual upon these annual high jinks of the otherwise sedate Citizens, they worked in perfect accord with old, for while the former attended to keeping everybody wet upon the outside, by means of a pouring rainstorm, the Citizens saw that every one got thoroughly wet upon the inside, so that one treatment neutralized the other in a most harmonious and satisfactory manner.

THE latest aspirant for honors under the management of the famous "Senator" Morgan, will be Miss Myrtie Peek, who sailed on Saturday for Liverpool. She is under contract with the "Senator" to ride in six-day races against the American team. Miss Peek is a very dashing specimen of an American Amazonian equestrienne, and has been for several years past a drawing card upon the various trotting tracks, where her riding against Time has pushed that old gentleman pretty close to the wall of record. She makes use of several horses in these exhibitions changing them every mile or so without dismounting. The "Senator" has shown his usual shrewdness in capturing this drawing card for his cycling aggregation. I understand, however, that should Miss Peek succeed in defeating the wheelmen, that the "Senator" will at once issue a challenge in the name of an "unknown" of her own sex, to ride against her for six days. While I am not entirely positive as regards this "unknown's" identity, yet I am led to believe that she will prove to be a lovely Sioux squaw, the daughter of a prominent chief, who has been secured for this purpose by "Senator's" agents, at a great expense and much diplomacy.

IN a small social club in one of the rural districts of Russia, which bears the sneeze-like title of Tchernizoff, the following set of rules are in existence, and are prominently displayed in the club-rooms: —

1. It is prohibited to enter the club with greased boots.
2. Tradesmen are not allowed to enter the club in their working clothes, which exhale the disagreeable odor of fish, grease, or leather.
3. A dress coat must be worn at all New-Year's or Easter dances. Any one appearing in a velvet waistcoat or a green necktie is fined one rouble. The fines cover the expenses for the band.
4. The members are especially requested not to use the window curtains as pocket-handkerchiefs. Offenders of this sort will be expelled from the club.
5. During dances, members smoking in the ladies' room will be fined twenty-five copecks, the fines to be expended in toilet power and eau de cologne for the ladies.
6. During quadrilles flirting is prohibited, and no one is allowed to step over the borders of decency.
7. It is strictly prohibited to get indecently drunk, as has happened before now.
8. It is prohibited to strike a partner in the face.
9. In case of disagreement at billiards, it is strictly prohibited to hit a partner with a cue.

After reading them, I have concluded to insert them here for the benefit of cycling clubs just forming, who may perhaps by modifying them make them serve for their own use.

THE OWL.

WHEELMEN think more of revolutions than of resolutions.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

I HAVE just received the tourmaster's beautiful souvenir of the ladies' tour. It is beautifully bound in book form, and contains an account of the tour written by the tourmaster, a number of views of Gloucester and Magnolia, including Norman's Woe, Rafe's Chasm, the quarries at Rockport, distant views of Rockport, several groups taken by the roadside, and a separate picture of each couple that attended. Mr. Spencer has made a very pretty frontispiece in water colors. The whole thing forms a most attractive souvenir of a very memorable and delightful trip.

THERE has come to me from Northboro', Mass., a photo showing a tandem driven by two young ladies, who use the machine for going to and from school. They write me as follows: —

"The riding season in this vicinity has just ended with our first fall of snow, and in compliance with your request, I send you our record for the year. We have made three hundred and ninety miles on the tandem, since the 1st of May. Also, Alice has made one hundred and sixty-five miles and Jennie thirty miles on the single tricycle. With the exception of a few short trips, this record has been made riding to and from school.

"Very truly yours,
"ALICE M. WOOD.
JENNIE BIGELOW."

MISS CARRIE D., of Brooklyn, writes that she has ridden seventeen hundred miles the past year, the greater part of which has been on a tandem. "My riding," she says, "is somewhat devoid of interest to the world, though it is full of delight to me, for I ride mostly over the park roads, varying these only occasionally by runs to Coney Island and other places."

I WISH the letter from a physician published in the last BULLETIN could be given a large circulation among the ladies who do not ride, for I believe it would convince many of what we, who ride, are well assured, that of all forms of out-door exercise, tricycling is decidedly the best. I am very glad to have the indorsement of a physician regarding its superiority to horseback riding and walking, and I shall make good use of what he says in talking with my friends.

ONE of the English papers has given a great deal of space to letters from ladies regarding the benefits of cycling. In a copy which is before me, a lady doctor advises ladies, who doubt the widsom of cycling for themselves, to consult their doctors, and not the general public, on the subject. She adds, quite as sensibly, that some practical knowledge of cycling is necessary, in many cases, to enable a doctor to give an opinion of much value. Another lady, apparently "hailing" from Devonshire, writes a long letter on the subject of cycling costume, and ends by announcing that four or five years ago she was "a very frail creature," and unfit for much exertion, whereas now she counts a seventy-mile ride a trifle, and rowing on a long boating trip a joy. "My present good health," she says, "may be owing to something else, but my friends mostly agree with me that cycling is the cause of it."

VIOLET LORNE says: "We are all on the tiptoe of expectation for the Stanley Show, and the new patterns of tricycles for which our souls are thirsting. Various firms throw out dark hints as to the perfected perfection one may expect, especially in the matter of machines especially dedicated to feminine riding, makers having at last awakened to a sense of their solemn responsibilities in that matter. Humber & Co. promise us something lighter, better, and more tempting than anything ever yet seen, while the other manufacturers are evidently determined to outdo all their own past efforts."

AMERICA will not be behind England in this respect, rest assured. I am told that the Pope Manufacturing Company will bring out a new machine for the ladies which will have an open front, be of light weight and of moderate cost This is good news. Mark the open front feature. I believe I have sa d more than once that the handle bar was an objection in the ladies machine, though it improved the old form of side handle steering. And now the leading maker comes out with an open front machine, and another manufacturer will have one to offer.

I HAD the pleasure of riding a new wheel last week, which is to come out next season. I think it will take with the ladies, for it is light, inexpensive, very firm on the ground, and has an open front, and handles which adjust forward and back, as well as up and down.

IT departs somewhat from the machines we have been riding, for it has four wheels which are placed in the same position regarding each other as carriage wheels are placed, thus giving two tracks instead of three, and having a broader and firmer base than the triangle of a tricycle can possibly offer. Though it has four wheels, it will weigh not over fifty-five pounds. The wheels are of wood, very light and graceful, and the action is like all our wheels, the ordinary crank movement, with two toothed wheels, and a connecting chain.

I WANT to say here and now, that this column is for the benefit of the ladies, and any machine or accessory that appeals to the especial consideration of the sex will receive attention if properly introduced. I am familiar enough with newspaper practices to know that the editor's blue pencil wars against anything that has the appearance of a puff for a dealer's goods, but the ladies' column has been specially favored in the past by the editor, and I think it will be in the future. And so, Messrs. Manufacturers, let us know what you are going to do for us, that we may proclaim it. DAISIE.

THE KEMPSTER ROWING TRICYCLE.

THERE was an exhibition and trial of the Kempster Rowing Tricycle at the Mechanics' Building, on Thursday of last week. The great hall was opened, and some half-dozen of the machines were placed at the disposal of visitors to ride about upon. The machine has been greatly improved since last season. It is now much lighter, is free from the objectionable side bars that were upon the first machine, and has wooden wheels in place of the spider wheels. The motion is precisely like that of rowing, and the rider sits on a sliding seat. There is no question but that, as an exercising machine on a floor, it is a grand thing. Every muscle of the body is brought into play, and there is an exhilaration about the riding not unlike that which goes with a pedomotive machine. We found it to be grand fun to circle at speed about the great hall, but when we are asked if we consider this to be a good road machine, we prefer to reserve our opinion until it is proven to be such. We are willing to grant that upon good roads the machine presents a very fine method for exercising, but we are not yet convinced that it can be used for travel or for riding about with any other object in view than athletic exercise. Among those who tried the machine were Colonel Pope, Chas. E. Pratt, Esq., and several other well-known wheelmen.

THE VOLUNTEER COLUMBIA.

MANUFACTURED BY THE POPE MANUF'G CO.,
79 FRANKLIN STREET, BOSTON.

THE Pope Manufacturing Company allow us, this week, to announce the new bicycle which they will put upon the market the coming year. The choice of a name is a most happy one, and it may prove an omen of success on the land, as it did on the water last year. The bicycle is made entirely of steel, is first-class in every respect, though it sells at a moderate price. The following is given as a brief of the machine, and it tells the whole story: —

BRIEF OF 50-INCH. — Metal parts all steel, and no castings. Endless moulded rubber tires, $\frac{7}{8}$-inch front and $\frac{3}{4}$-inch rear. Crescent felloes. 56 and 18 direct spokes. No. 11$\frac{1}{2}$ gauge, with both ends enlarged. 4$\frac{1}{4}$-inch recessed steel hubs, on 8$\frac{3}{4}$-inch axle, with 5$\frac{3}{4}$-inch spread of spokes. Detachable Knous cranks, 5, 5$\frac{1}{2}$, and 6 inch throw. Columbia "double-grip" rubber ball-pedals. 18-inch rear wheel. Columbia adjustable ball-bearings to front and rear wheels. 1$\frac{3}{8}$ inch cylindrical perch, made of imported patent cold-drawn seamless steel tube. No. 15 gauge. 5 inch cylindrical head. 4$\frac{5}{8}$-inch conical centres. Columbia elliptical, cold-drawn, seamless steel, tubular front, and semi-tubular rear forks. 28-inch hollow, continuous-steel, cow-horn handle-bar, 2$\frac{1}{2}$-inch drop. "Double-grip" vulcanite handles. One-piece leg-guard. Grip-lever spoon brake. Adjustable step. Kirkpatrick saddle. Tool-bag, with B. & S. monkey-wrench, screw-driver, and oil-can. Weight, with saddle and pedals on, 41 lbs. Price, $100, or $95 with parallel pedals. Difference of $2.50 for each two inches in size, up or down.

The company will make but four sizes of this machine, 48, 50, 52, 54 inch, and they offer this explanation of the low price at which they offer the wheel: —

"By dispensing with a few of the least essential advantages of our high-grade machines; by devoting less tool-work, labor, and time to the finishing of parts where appearance only, and not efficiency, is affected, omitting the expensive rubbing down and polishing of the successive coats of enamel; and, perhaps the most important factor entering into this side of the case, by constructing a large number of machines at once, of but four sizes and one finish, we are enabled to make and put our Volunteer upon the market at a lower price than a wheel of equal value has yet been sold at."

1887 RECORDS.

THE New York Club has brought up its mileage for 1887 to 26,141, reported by forty members. Those making over 1,000 miles are as follows, with their average per riding day, and best in a single day: —

	Miles.	Average.	In 24h.
J. M. McFadden,	3,004	29	116
H. M. Ascher,	2,170	21$\frac{3}{4}$	67
F. M. Daniels,	2,125	20$\frac{1}{4}$	61
J. H. Hansen,	1,958	21	77
G. M. Nisbett,	1,618	31$\frac{3}{4}$	75
E. J. Shriver,	1,524	30$\frac{1}{2}$	103
A. J. Patterson,	1,421	18$\frac{1}{4}$	62
W. B. Weir,	1,100	16$\frac{1}{2}$	69
E. M. English,	1,082	19$\frac{1}{4}$	54
A. L. Paynter,	1,046	17$\frac{3}{4}$	54

J. O. Jimenis has the high average of forty miles, with fourteen days' riding, and wins one of the prizes offered by the club at the beginning of the year.

IN spite of many assertions to the contrary, the practice of giving Christmas, Birthday, Valentine and Easter cards is constantly increasing. It is conceded that better results are obtained by purchasing direct from manufacturers, rather than dealers, in any line of trade. A sample souvenir for Valentine, Easter, Reward of Merit or Birthday occasions will be mailed for 5c., 10c., 15c., or 25c. each. Price governing quality and size. Elegant valentines at 25c., 45c., 70c., and 90c. each. Money will be refunded if not satisfactory. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Proprietors.)

ST. LOUIS.

J. B. McCUNE, of the Springfield Roadster Company, was in the city this week. He could not say whether George Hendee would ride on the track any more or not, but he caused a great many eyes to bulge out by saying he has a man who can make a mile, on a 51-pound machine of his make, in 2.35. As this is pretty early in the season of 1888, Mr. McCune is forgiven for showing such a keen appreciation of the sentiment that, even in yarns, the early bird catches the worm.

"SPECTATOR" denied some time ago that anybody had claimed the Quincy races as a representative contest between St. Louis and Chicago. I never said that any official statement had been made, and so if "Spectator" wants to make himself an authority on all expressions that fall from heedless lips, he will get a reputation for ear capacity only equalled by Balaam's ass. I know that Ed. Sanders is laying for Bowbeer, of Chicago. He said he was not in good trim at Quincy, and fell an easy victim; but next year — bah! he already has bloody dreams of a Chicago scalp hanging at his belt.

JORDAN, of Simmons's Hardware Company, who has repaired so many of the boys' wheels in the past two years, went over to Louisville last week and got married. No doubt his experienced eye is already looking over the tandems.

THE cold weather and the absence of snow have given the bicyclists a big advantage over the rest of humanity in the matter of skating. The roads have all packed down nice and hard, enabling a wheelman to go to any pond in the city and suburbs. The dozen little lakes in Forest Park have afforded fine skating, and the boys have jumped on their wheels and rolled out there in the merry moonlight. They were somewhat ahead of shivering mortals who arrived via horsecars or afoot, but it was after the skate, with the two-mile return to the city ahead of them, that the wheelmen rejoiced in their steed. While all aglow with the exercise, they did n't get into a buggy or a cold street car and shake and shiver all the way to town, but mounting their wheels, had several lively brushes with fast horses on the boulevard. So it goes. Winter or summer, the bike always gets there.

PERCY STONE taught a road hog a good lesson the other night. Several wheelmen were returning from skating, and riding down Pine Street. They had been annoyed for some distance by a sporting man in a buggy, who tried to run them down several times. Percy smelled trouble, so slipping his skate bag down close to his hand, he made it into a pretty good slung shot.

The driver made for Percy, his horse on the gallop. As he got within reach, the cyclist let fly the bag and caught the horse squarely between the eyes, staggering him and making him go plunging down the street as if the fiends were after him. This fellow is spotted now, and if he tries any more monkey-shines he will be sharply dealt with. We are gradually chalking the road hogs for a grand reckoning some time in the future. I have in mind, particularly, an individual for whom there is a small edition of Hades preparing. He is a smooth-faced old villain, with a big scar on his cheek, and has become specially odious to the wheelmen, because he broke the parade at the meet last spring. I, for one, have sworn a solemn oath that if he ever makes any attempt to interfere with me, I shall give him a dose he will never forget.

L. J. BERGER, better known as "Phœnix," spent Christmas in the city, visiting old friends and scenes. One of the happiest hours he spent here was in sitting on the sofa in the Missouri Club's reading-room and listening to the cycling stories of the long ago. OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

IN a late number of the Bicycling World I note a wail from Mr. Geo. S. Hart, the teacher of cycling at the West Philadelphia Rink, in which there is perhaps a great deal too much truth. I cannot believe with him, however, that all the men he teaches are such cads; in fact I know quite a number who are glad to know him and would willingly associate with him. He says: —

"I am at a loss to know how it is. I am a professional rider, but I make no profession of riding, I simply teach the rudiments, and there are many men in the ranks of the L. A. W. to-day, and good wheelmen too, that would never have learned to balance themselves on a bicycle had it not been that I was patient with them, and encouraged them in a dozen ways when they were learning to ride, and were just about ready to 'give it up as a bad job.' Odd is n't it, that while I associated with these men before they learned how to ride, now that they have learned and have no further use for my instructions, I am looked upon as a person to be avoided?"

Surely this is wrong! In Democratic America "Jack 's as good as his master," and every man as good as the other, so long as he is peaceful, moral, and honest. Everything tending to the erection of class barriers and distinctions should be eradicated, when possible, from every line of life, and the sport of cycling should be no exception. Of course this question has been hashed and rehashed so often that there is little to be said, but I must say that I cannot see wherein Geo. S. Hart, for instance, who earns his living by teaching, is more of a "professional" or calculated to do any more injury to the fancied ethics of track cycle racing, than his brother H. B. of the Hart Cycle Co., who gets his precarious livelihood by the sale of some dozens of Columbia machines every week. One is as good a fellow as the other; both are good, square, fair-minded men, and for the life of me I cannot see why one should be left and the other taken; one made a sort of pariah by the unfortunately too frequent "cads on casters" and the other a head centre in that conservatory of conservatism, the good old Philadelphia Club. And to tell the truth I am satisfied that Geo. S. has unintentionally somewhat exaggerated the matter, particularly as to the older riders, many of whom I well know regard him as an old and valued friend and from whom his nickname "John" comes as freely and as naturally as though he were twenty times a League member.

The Times gives the following good account of the new "Pennsy" quarters: —

The Pennsylvania Bicycle Club's new building, on Girard Avenue, below Fortieth Street, is one of the best adapted buildings of its kind in America. The lot on which it stands faces the Concourse and is 195 by 40 feet. The base of the building is of an imported English redstone and the walls above are of the Perth Amboy mottled brick. All the exterior ornaments are of hammered copper. In the subcellar two large heaters and a boiler furnish the hot water for the use of members and heat the house. Above the cellar and leading to the street by an easy incline is the wheel-room. This room is supplied with washstands, hot and cold water and racks for holding the machines. Adjoining the wheel-room is a fireproof vault for the storage of oils and waste. The reception-room is on the second floor. The most prominent features of this room are the handsomely carved mantel-piece and fireplaces. The mantel is nine feet long and surmounts an open grate. An upright piano stands in one corner, handsome curtains are at the windows, and the furniture is in keeping with the exterior of the building. Adjoining the reception-room is the reading-room, which is supplied with all the choice literature of the day. These rooms are connected by folding doors, which, when open, form a spacious dancing floor. On the right of this spacious floor are the ladies' toilet rooms, which are supplied with all modern conveniences.

The third floor is used as a meeting-room, and contains the billiard and pool tables. The front room is used as a smoking and card room, and the bay-window commands an excellent view of the Park and the city. The fourth floor is taken up by the dressing-rooms, gymnasium, and bath-rooms, which are the finest in the city. The entire building is finished in hard woods, and the gas is lighted by electricity. The club has an orchestra, organized by Harry Mayer, which has attracted considerable attention. The officers of the club are Isaac Etwell, president; F. W. Grugan, vice-president; Lee R. MacKinstry, secretary; W. S. Harper, assistant secretary, and John B. Young, treasurer. W. D. Supplee is the captain. The club numbers among its members some of the fastest amateur riders in this country.

It may be added however that the majority of Pennsy's fast amateurs are addicted to road work rather than the track, and as a consequence Shaeffer and Fuller are the only track riders of prominence. Fuller, in another year, if he takes care of himself, should give a good account of himself.

PHACTO.

THE OWL'S MIDNIGHT RUN.

THERE were only six members of the Owl Bicycle Club at the roll call, 11 P. M., Dec. 31. 1887, to participate in the first club run of 1888, and two of these ignominiously backed out, being averse to exposing their nickelled machines to the damp rain and raw midnight air, so they remained at the club house, and kept the cider warm by stirring with a hot poker as often as they could bring the said poker to the desired red-hot heat; this delightful occupation seemed to afford endless amusement to the same measly little Owl that subsequently nearly died of strangulation from trying to eat, drink, and smoke at one and the same time, in a heroic endeavor to make away with all the comestibles ere the return of the riders.

The captain was a little reluctant about starting, as he remembered the first run of '87, when after a hurried dismount (?) over the handle-bars, he "lit" on his nose in a snowbank; but the eloquence of the boys was too much for him, they represented that as he no longer rode a big wheel, but a little forty-two, no amount of snow or ice could cause such another "great act," so he grasped his wheel, and nobly led the "forlorn hope."

When they left the headquarters at 11.55 P. M. the rain was falling merrily and cheerily on about three inches of snow and the captain's silk tile.

They mounted amid the blare of the bugle and screeching of calliopes, and rolled down the icy sidewalk on to the snowy road, up and down the erstwhile silent streets, making the air melodious (?) and startling the cautious pedestrians picking their way home from "watch meeting," by the apparition of the captain in long overcoat, galoches and new silk hat, on a 42 inch Pony Star (picture the scene); the bugler on his 48-inch Star; the secretary on his 54-inch New Rapid; and bringing up in the rear, making the night as hideous as one of Doré's conceptions, the "holy terror" on his 51-inch Star, the only nickelled wheel that recked not of the storm.

The going was not so good as to make them yearn for their customary all-night run, and at 12.15 A. M. of Jan. 1, 1888, they dismounted at the club-house door, when each and every man made a determined and resistless rush for the refreshments. Here let the curtain drop, the first run of '88 is past.

It is but fitting to remark here, that an unwritten but well-observed and unalterable by-law of the Owls calls for a "first club run" as near Jan. 1 as a wheel can be pushed through the roads (which describes it better than over at this time of year); the run must also occur at midnight, called by the captain at as short a notice as he is pleased to give.

It most frequently occurs, as it did in '87, after the annual election of officers the first Tuesday in January. The charter members of the club used to do nearly all their riding by night, back in the early days of cycling, hence the name and time-honored observance of above custom.

We hereby extend an invitation to any and all L. A. W. riders to accompany us on our next and try our cider (we permit nothing stronger).

THE OWLS.

SPRINGFIELD M'F'G CO.'S CATALOGUE.

THE Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Company is out with its catalogue for 1888. It contains forty pages devoted to a description of the Springfield Roadster and its parts, which are fully illustrated. The new wheel for 1888 has ball bearings all around, and sells for one hundred dollars. The mechanical construction of the two wheels are identical, but the No. 2 is somewhat better in finish, besides having the Bown bearings. The company has a large number of accessories which it offers for sale, and these are all illustrated in the catalogue. Their whistle is a great improvement over the ordinary, for its sound is musical, and it is easily blown. Among the specialties which the company will introduce this year, is the Yost combination coat and vest, and inside seamless pants. The coat and vest are made in one piece, and the pants have no inside seam to chafe the wearer. These suits will be made at a moderate price from cloth which the company will supply, or customers may furnish the cloth.

PROVIDENCE NIGHT RIDERS.

WISHING to receive the New Year in a befitting manner, several members of the Rhode Island Wheelmen, with their wheels, gathered at the club house about 11 o'clock Saturday evening, to participate in a run to Roger Williams Park. Capt. Mitchell had command, assisted by Lieuts. Speirs and Bennett, and Messrs. Bogman, Cooke, Titus, Gibbs, Clapp, Claflin, Doe, and Perkins were in the ranks. The mounts were four bicycles, two tandems, and three tricycles. After bundling up our ears and hands we started, passing up Westminster Street and causing the people to stop and stare at the unusual sight. Arriving at the Park, the tricycles were quickly placed upon the ice, and we partook of our first treat at ice riding, and it was a nice ride. The tandems indulged in a scrub race the length of the lake, Lieutenant Bennett and partner having a slight advantage at the first. A race on the half-mile circle was next in order, and was won easily by Dr. Bogman. Messrs. Doe and Bennett also won a tandem race; Captain Mitchell having his timer, with "split and fly back hour hands," was able to take the time. No records very badly beat, however. After a short wait the wheels were headed for home, where we arrived about two o'clock. I claim the record for the Rhode Island Wheelmen for making the last run of 1887 and the first one of 1888. In fact, we rode out of 1887 and into 1888 on our wheels. Do we get record? PERK.

NEW ORLEANS.

WHILE our Northern brethren are wrapped up in their furs and heavy clothing, and hugging the fire to keep warm, we of the South are yet riding, and the weather never getting too cold for that exercise, the rain is the only trouble we experience, and we can continue to roll up our mileage until the 31st.

The present topic here is a lantern parade for Feb. 13, 1888, the night before Mardi Gras; several committees are now at work, and will report on Jan. 14, for final decision. We propose to represent some subject on wheels, say "Characters from Shakespeare's Plays," Nations of the Earth, Mother Goose's Melodies, or any subject to be selected, and after the parade to have a series of handsome tableaux, inviting our friends to witness the same. I will advise you when we finally decide as to what we will do.

The wheelman who started for New Orleans some months ago to beat the time from New Orleans made by Hill, Fairfax, and Fairchild, of the New Orleans Bicycle Club, has, like the celebrated letter, never arrived.

The New Orleans Bicycle Club has one of the handsomest fitted club houses in the South, and, with its increasing membership, is destined soon to be the largest in the South; we now number fifty-three members.

There are now almost completed eight squares of asphalt that will make a continuous ride of seven miles from Canal Street, with the exception of two squares; this is in front of the Bicycle Club House, and members can now ride within a few squares of their business.

Last year the Louisiana Division numbered sixty-three, this year the renewals were some thirty-five, and we now number seventy-two members, and hope next year to reach the coveted one hundred.

I take this medium to call on all members of the Louisiana Division to send on their renewals as soon as possible; those members outside of New Orleans to send to Abbot Bassett, direct, and the city members to send to Ritchie Betts, Secretary-Treasurer, Louisiana Division, care I. C. R. R. Co., Cotton Exchange Building, New Orleans.

George Hendee has been with us showing his Springfield Roadster, and has appointed one of our L. A. W. members as agent; he made a host of friends here, and expects to return after the holidays.

HARRY H. HODGSON,
Chief Consul, Louisiana Division.

THE EAGLE BICYCLE.

L. B. GAYLOR, of Stamford, Conn., has invented and patented a new bicycle, which he calls "The Eagle." It has the little wheel in front, and drives with cranks. The driving wheel is connected with the steering rod and saddle spring by three straight rods radiating from the centre. The steering rod turns on adjustable cone bearings, and the forks of the front wheel are curved to conform with general outline. The inventor claims that he can build a very light and a perfectly safe bicycle on the lines of the Eagle. The first question that arises is, "Will not the machine tip backwards?" Mr. Gaylor says the machine can be ridden up the steepest hills, and up and down curves, with no danger of coming off. The weight is almost entirely on the large wheel, and it is a very easy thing to lift the little wheel off the ground, and ride on the driver. The machine can be run backwards also, a thing impossible to do on the ordinary.

A very interesting exhibition of the new machine was recently given in Stamford, by Mr. Wm. A. Clark. Among the feats performed, showing the capacity of the machine for all sorts of work, was the mounting a platform eighteen inches high by two steps of nine inches each, also riding swiftly across a railroad tie end ways, cross ways and every way. That the machine is also specially adapted for the most expert and fancy riding was shown by several feats, revealing not only the extraordinary skill of the rider, but the capacity of the machine for all the work of the professional expert as well as for all the practical uses of the road. The machine is not yet on the market, but the inventor hopes to have it on sale next year.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

RACING.

ITS FAILURES, CAUSES, AND EFFECTS.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN: — So far, I have not seen any good solution as to the failure of racing, outside of those sentiments of Mr. Eck, and so far no one has proposed a plan that will better the sport than Mr. Eck himself, and none know better what is wanted than those that are in the racing business. The comments in the BULLETIN of the 16th inst. rather partake of a misleading nature (though not intentional), and I rise to correct some of them, or at least to present the other side. I think that there is only one side to the failure of racing, and, as I remarked before, it is the amateur rule, and the editor kindly shows that to be so when he says that "Boston will, on any business day, turn out five thousand people to see a game of base-ball, and twenty thousand on a holiday." A pertinent question right here is how many would attend the game of ball if it were hampered with that antediluvian idea, "the amateur rule"? That is looking the thing square in the face, as the editor says.

[We fail to see the pertinency of the question. The base-ball teams are made up of professionals, — men who make it their business to play. Had we an aggregation of professional cycle racers like these, they might draw the crowds. Amateur ball players and amateur cycle racers cannot, in the nature of things, give us the best exhibition of prowess. — ED.]

True, we have some good professionals, but we have not got enough. We don't want to go to a meeting and see nine races each day contested by the same set of men, with the certainty of being able to pick out the winner every time. We want more racers and a number of classes (that is the only way out of it, and that way we cannot have, so long as the amateur rule exists). With racing on that principle, the dear public will attend. Again, the editor says: "If there was any 'go' to cycle racing, the A. C. U. would have proved it and have been a flourishing organization to-day. Everything was in their favor. They had the best men, and such tracks as Lynn, Springfield, and Roseville to demonstrate their right to live. They started out with flying colors, but the great public could n't be made to see anything attractive in cycle racing, and it held back. There was no patronage, and consequent failure all around."

Not so, for the A. C. U. was not founded on the right principles, and if the editor will recollect a certain meeting of the A. C. U., which he was invited to attend, that I opposed the three-class idea, but that I gave in only to the majority, who thought they saw a way out of it without conflict with the L. A. W.

[Very true, the A. C. U. was not founded on the right principles. The Union was too careful to offend the unreasonable prejudices of the makers' amateurs. The League placed them where they belonged, in the professional ranks,

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT MONTH.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.
P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by: —

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....
.....
.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

but the Union listened to their arguments and made a new class. The Union tried to make "promateur" racing popular. If it had taken hold of professional racing, as the base-ball people take hold of professional ball playing, the promateurs would soon have been professionals, and many amateurs would have left the fold. Business (professional) cycle racing may be a profitable sport later; but play (amateur) cycle racing can never be profitable, except in the case of club tournaments held occasionally, just as the clubs now hold festivals and balls. — ED.]

Again, those races held under A. C. U. rules, in 1886, were a success, and as none were held under them the past year, the failure cannot be laid at the Association's door; but, on the contrary, the races for 1887 were all held under the L. A. W. rules, and were of the pure amateur kind, and, with one exception, were all dismal failures. Even Springfield, on a national holiday, failed to draw a thousand people to the grounds.

[This follows our ideas as given above. — ED.]

The coming season will see if we can hold race meetings. Some of the best talent in the world will be here; for, besides Senator Morgan's team, there are at least two others who contemplate a visit to our shores.

[These teams are coming to our shores as a business venture. They hope to carry home well-filled purses. If they give us good sport, we will not grudge the money. No amateur can afford the time and expense necessary to put himself into condition to meet these men. If any of our racing men see money and glory ahead, let them go into cycle racing as a business; in no other way can we hope to see success rest with America. — ED.]

Now as it will cost the League nothing to try the experiment, and as most of the League members will agree with all sensible men, that it will not hurt their standing any to be associated with such men as Rowe, Hendee, and others, let us give racing a chance and abolish the amateur law as regards eligibility to membership, and then we will see that bicycling will claim its share of public attention. We ask it only for one year; why not give us a trial? And if Buffalo does not turn out more than five thousand people each tournament, then gently tie me to a raft and set it adrift in the Niagara River, where I will never be heard of again. No, I do not see light ahead in the mixture of the classes, but only in the separation of the racing men into classes according to their racing ability; that is the true solution. Racing is not only a failure in this country, but in the Old, and Wheeling hits the nail on the head when it says: "The small cloud in the sky! The famous track at Lynn, Mass., is to be broken up because it does not pay. American racing has been scotched. Scotch racing has been similarly dealt with on this side of the pond. Manufacturers, track proprietors, and sport promoters should seriously consider what is coming over cycle racing, owing to the efforts of amateur legislators, who are also amateur thinkers. America's tracks will soon be followed into oblivion by those of England, if irresponsibility gets much more rope."

It is the amateur legislators, who, as Wheeling remarks, are amateur thinkers, that has killed racing, and there is no way of dodging it. What we want is to let those men who have the interest of the sport at heart, and who also have progressive ideas, handle this question for a while, and then we shall see racing that will not depend on wheelmen to make it a success. In speaking of L. A. W. rules, I do not mean the racing rules, but that part of them which makes the absurd distinction as between amateur and professional.

In speaking with one of the founders of the League the other day on this question, he said that it was never the intention to have any such distinction, but that it came about in the League's infancy, and was adopted to curry favor with sister associations; but he saw no reason for continuing it now, as the League was able to stand alone and to make and enforce its own laws. Till our worthy editor was secretary, he favored admitting professionals to membership in the League; is not the scheme just as good to-day as it was three years ago?

[The editor still believes that the League would suffer no harm if professionals should be admitted, but he cannot see why the amateur rule should be abolished. Mr. Ducker starts out by crying for the repeal of the amateur rule, and at the end he seems to be satisfied with a change in the League rule, which relates to membership in the League. — ED.]

HENRY E. DUCKER.

BUFFALO, Dec. 27, 1887.

LITTLE RHODY RECORDS.

MR. EDITOR: — I have just finished reading an article in this week's BULLETIN, entitled "Working the Committee," in which I am accused of misstatement.

Mr. Staples is correct in thinking he was the party referred to in the Providence Journal and L. A. W. BULLETIN, although no names were mentioned. "If the coat fits," etc. But now for facts.

I am not a member of his club, but what I have written, and what I intend to write, is furnished me by a prominent member of the club, and other members are willing to swear to its truth.

On June 6, Mr. Staples's cyclometer registered 64 miles. I will state, he had purchased a new cyclometer, and his total, on old and new, was 1,459 miles, — the new cyclometer showing 064. At this time he was taken sick, and the wheel stood in the club room until July 4, at which time it still registered 064. On that date he carried the machine home. During that time he was reported sick with slow fever, and different ones spoke of how badly he was looking. The committee on the Cyclometer Race did not see his wheel again until July 25, just three weeks later, although it should be taken each week. It then stood 579 miles. We will consider this score a moment, before mentioning other facts. 515 miles in 21 days is a daily average of 24½ miles. Even Captain Bliss, the club's hardest rider, only averaged 15⅝ miles for this period, and why? simply because it rained almost every day, at about that time, and was anything but inviting. But Mr. Staples rattled off 24½ miles a day, after being confined to the house by slow fever for a month previous. Now look at September, the finest month in the year for riding, and see his daily average — 6⅛ miles. Quite a change. Now for a few other points. I have heard others, and good members of his club, make the statement that they "saw his cyclometer four days previous to the committee's examination, and it stood less than 100." According to their view he must have wheeled very close to 500 miles in four days. The remarks were not made privately, but in the presence of others, and I have found that those present remember of hearing such statements. At the end of the season (Dec. 1), the cyclometers were taken, and prizes awarded to Messrs. Bliss, Barton, Gladding, and Place. According to the committee's account, Mr. Place had 2,222 miles, and Mr. Staples 2,259 (including that 515). Why don't he get the fourth prize?

One member inquired among Mr. Staples's friends about his riding, and (he says) he could n't find one that had seen him riding since his sickness. But these things are only talk, figures show up the facts. If any one is interested enough to read this article, I will leave him to judge. A few words in regard to this trouble, and I will end. Mr. Staples is a good, strong road rider, and his sickness was very unfortunate. Where he might have stood at the end of the season is only to be guessed at. He is not the only member that tried to "work the committee," but Mr. Staples, very wisely, did not press his claim, and thus saved them the trouble of "setting" on him. If Mr. S. could hear some of his clubmates talk, he would be less liable to rush into print over this matter. 67,368.

ENAMELINE, wearing qualities equal to any; lustre, finest in the world. Process, patented. For bicycles, sewing machines, hardware, furniture, glass, willow ware, etc. By express, four-ounce, 20c.; eight-ounce, 35c. By mail, sample, 10c.; four-ounce, 35c.; eight-ounce, 55c.; brush, 10c. extra. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

CYCLETS.

RENEWALS
ARE coming
IN very fast,
AND soon we shall
HAVE them all back again.
WE want 15,000 this year, sure.

ONE dollar for the cause is not much, and it should readily come forth.

LEAGUE membership is a sort of lottery. There are big prizes to be had, though we may not get them.

THE League makes it possible for a man to save a great deal of money at the hotels. If he be a traveller he will soon find this out.

MASSACHUSETTS members will have a road book this year worth many times the cost of membership.

NOT only Massachusetts, but other States will publish road books, and give members much more than their money's worth.

ONE of the Kempster rowing tricycles has been sent to England.

THE Brooklyn Camera Club has been evolved from the ranks of the Ilderan Bicycle Club.

THE Chelsea (Mass.) Ramblers give a minstrel entertainment on Tuesday evening next.

J. M. MCFADDEN, of New York Bicycle Club, has just completed 3,004 miles for the year.

THE New York Club's mileage for Xmas day, was 140! and for Monday, 170!! Longest ride, 36; shortest, 2 miles.

ON the second day of January we received and entered up to and including number 2,155 on the renewal list.

BANGS is always hungry. He has a cycler's appetite. He will have ate enough when this year is over, for there are three eights this time.

THE Boston Club celebrated the departure of the old year. A jolly company sat down to a "feed," and there was some fine singing, recitations, etc.

THE Hudson River is sheeted with ice from Albany to Poughkeepsie. Here then can be had a fifty-mile straightaway course. What a chance for a record!

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE Overman Wheel Company claims to have received the largest order ever given for bicycles. They did n't give us the number, but asserted that it was greater than 1,200.

THE New York Club has secured the bowling alleys next door, for use during the winter months, every Monday evening, and the attendance shows that they are well appreciated.

CHARLES A. COLLINS, of Boston, claims a riding record of 5,206 1-2 miles for 1887. This was made in 170 riding days. Longest ride, 130 miles. Total for 1886 and 1887, 9,413 miles.

EXCEPT for rain, we have had good roads for riding and fairly good weather to January 4, with good prospect of more of it. It is a grand year to try new machines intended for the market of 1888.

CHRISTMAS eve witnessed a very jolly gathering of the New York Bicycle Club members at their club house, 151 West 59th Street, at which they had plenty of good music, and a supper by Mazzeti.

THE Sterling Cycle Company held a meeting on Monday last, and made a contract for a large number of machines for next season. The new machine will be a quadricycle with wooden wheels and rotary action, open front, and will weigh not many pounds over fifty.

THE Rovers' Cycle Club, of Charlestown, held its first "Ladies' Night" for '88, on the 2d inst., and indulged in an old-fashioned candy scrape, with an abundance of popcorn, fruit, nuts, etc., as side dishes. The affair was a great success, and a repetition is called for.

GEO M. NISBETT, of the New York Club, claims the second-best riding record among New York City wheelmen. His mileage is 3,282 miles, and he thinks that E. I. Halsted of the Harlem Wheelmen, who has 4,000 miles to his credit, is the only man that can show larger figures.

ON one of the runs of the Hamberger Bicycle Club, of Germany, Richard Schulz accompanied the party the entire distance — twenty-eight miles — on one wheel; the front wheel of a 52-inch ordinary. One soft and muddy stretch four and a half miles long was ridden in thirty minutes.

THE new holders are being taken very generally, except in the cases where clubs renew in a body. Those who join in this way may have the holders by enclosing twenty-five cents and a stamp for return postage to this office. New York members can get them at Mr. Bidwell's warerooms.

HOW business is being shaken up! Stoddard, Lovering & Co. have gone out, Singer & Co. will establish a branch house to succeed W. B. Everett & Co., Corey goes to the Pope Manufacturing Company, several new wheels will come out, and the trade of 1888 will be very much unlike the trade of 1887.

CAPT. ELMER G. WHITNEY, of the Boston Club, who recently went to New Mexico to inspect a ranch property there, has concluded to buy it, and will, consequently, sever his connections with the Hub. He expects to visit Boston again in May. The club will elect a new captain in February, and the choice will undoubtedly fall upon Lieut. W. G. Kendall.

The Wheelmen's Record has ceased to exist. Mr. P. C. Darrow finds himself inadequate to conduct and find material for two cycling papers, and he decides to discontinue the Record, and continue the Gazette. We shall miss the bright little Record, but Mr. Darrow's pencil will still do its work for wheeling in the monthly.

WE saw, last week, Messrs. Butcher and Ross, the victims of the recent explosion at W. B. Everett & Co.'s. They are both coming out of the disaster all right, though they have had a painful confinement. Their faces and hands still bear the fire marks, but they hope to escape all scars. They have been skilfully treated, and owe much gratitude to their attending physician.

REUBEN T. PETTINGILL, in a suit against the city of Yonkers, N. Y., in the Westchester County Circuit Court, at White Plains, to recover $5,000 damages for the loss of his wife, Frances Pettingill, who died of injuries received by being thrown from a carriage, owing to the bad condition of the highway, was awarded $2,000. Wheels are vehicles, and he who meets with an accident on the highway, owing to defects of the roadway, can surely recover.

IN the BULLETIN, of Nov, 25, I noticed an item from the San Francisco Chronicle about how the wheelmen of that section of the country express pity for their Eastern brethren who have to put their wheels away during the winter months. But our California friends have perhaps never experienced what it is to ride on a perfect sheet of ice. Wednesday evening, Nov. 30, the following members of the Milwaukee wheelmen, Messrs. Allen Hathaway, Fred Schmitz, Herm Andrae, Jerry Andrae, and H. P. Andrae, started out for a run up the river. The wheels were taken down the forty-foot bank at North Street bridge, the ice was found to be perfect, no snow, no ruts, no hills to climb, etc., about seven miles were covered on the ice. Schmitz got a spell of his sickness, scorching mania, and had several tests of speed, with a number of expert skaters, but Schmitz did them up as usual. — Pedal in L. A. W. Pointer.

FRED WOOD, the English professional cyclist, shook the dust of America from his feet when he left this country, and declared he never would return. He went to Australia where his bad luck followed him. The litigation in which he became involved in Melbourne some months ago not only used up all his ready money, but necessitated the putting away of such collateral as he possessed in the form of jewelry and trophies. Owing mainly to the determined opposition manifested by the press, he was afterwards unable to secure engagements to ride, or to induce other cyclists to compete against him in races, and, his chief source of revenue being thus cut off, he was soon down to the hardest kind of financial bed-rock. Hearing of the strait to which their pet wheelman was reduced, Wood's friends in Leicester started a subscription for his relief, and it is likely that in the early part of the year he will be enabled through their kind offices to redeem the treasures with which he has been compelled to part, and return to England, a sadder and a wiser man.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE.

To the Members of the L. A. W.:

The Committee on Reorganization announce that toward the latter part of January a meeting will be held at which a definite plan of reorganization or revision of our constitution and by-laws will be determined on.

As it is the desire of the committee to proceed in accordance with the general wish of the membership, common expression of opinion is earnestly solicited.

All communications received by the undersigned before Jan. 20 will be placed before the committee.

Yours fraternally,
CHARLES H. LUSCOMB,
Chairman Com. on Reorganization, L. A. W.

MISSOURI APPOINTMENT.

MR. H. G. STUART, of Kansas City, having decided not to go to California, has kindly consented to resume his duties as representative of the fourth district, and his appointment will take effect at once.

W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 27, 1887.

LOUISIANA MEMBERS, ATTENTION!

IN accordance with the constitution and by-laws, a meeting of this Division will be held on the second Monday, Jan. 9, 1888, at 7.30 P. M., at the rooms of the New Orleans Bicycle Club, No 178 Baronne Street. A full and punctual attendance is desired.

RITCHIE G. BETTS,
Sec.-Treas., Louisiana Division.

PENNSYLVANIA REPRESENTATIVE.

I HAVE this day appointed John A. Wells to be a representative for Pennsylvania.

GEO. A. JESSUP, C. C.

SCRANTON, PA., Dec. 28, 1887.

THE Volunteer is on the market. Now for the Mayflower and Puritan. Perhaps England will give us a Thistle.

IT is said that engraved visiting cards are becoming very fashionable of late. To meet this demand, we have added an engraving department, and can furnish 50 engraved cards from copper-plate, postpaid, for $1.25. Prices for stamping and embossing, plain or in colors, upon application. Estimates for engraving or printing of any kind furnished. CHICAGO MANFG. AND PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 120 — Total 36.

BOSTON, Jan. 6, 1888.

ALABAMA. — 1.

Unattached.
17258 Myers, Harry W., Box 248, Birmingham.

COLORADO DIVISION — 1.

Denver Ramblers.
17275 Kreider, Eugene F., 2113 Curtis St., Denver.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 9.

Illinois Cycling Club.

17276	Allen, A. F., 772 Van Buren St.,	Chicago.
17277	Batdorf, C. S., 131 W. Wash St.,	"
17278	Black, W. H., 22 Walnut St.,	"
17279	Cohen, A. M., 232 Wash. Blvd.,	"
17280	Gardner, Geo. A., 190 Warren Ave.,	"
17281	Means, J. O., 232 Warren Ave.,	"
17282	Pribyl, E. G., 993 Monroe St.,	"
17283	Ross, Ovington, 584 Wash. Blvd.,	"
17284	Woodcock, R. H., 449 Wash. Blvd.,	"

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.

17259	Kackley, J. T.,	Maysville.
17260	Jenkins, R. P.,	"

MARYLAND DIVISION — 4.

Baltimore Cycle Club.
17261 Ford, John T., 514 W. Balt. St., Baltimore.

Unattached.

17262	Chilton, O. M., 1500 Prestman St.,	"
17263	Nelson, Wm. O., 1522 Baker St.,	"
17264	Speed, Wm. G., 1538 Harlem St.,	"

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17265 Brooks, Fred A., 53 William St., Worcester.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 3.

Flint Bi. Club.

17285	McDonald, Bruce J.,	Flint.
17286	Monroe, Wm. C.,	"
17287	Ober, Hilen W.,	"

MISSOURI DIVISION — 1.

United Wheelmen.
17288 Boyd, D. F., Safe Dep. Savings Bank, Kansas City.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 3.

Unattached.
17266 Heyne, Albert, 204 Hudson St., Hoboken.
17273 Koniger, Edw. H., Box 237 Montclair.
17289 Wilson, Wm. Gibson, 109 Sussex St., Jersey City.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 6.

Binghamton Wheel Club.

17267	Ellis, Harry F.,	Binghamton.
17268	Everts, E. S.,	"
17269	Gardner, Harry A.,	"
17270	Mosher, Geo. H.,	"
17271	Vigdor, Louis,	"

Unattached.
17272 Guiteau, Chas, C., 57 W. 83d St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17292 Zenner, Henry, Athens,

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17274 Alllison, A. C., Punxsutawney.

SOUTH CAROLINA. — 2.

Bloomfield (N. J.) Cyclers.
17291 Van Wagoner, Wm., Waverly House, Charleston.

Unattached.
17290 Van Wagoner, Elbert, Waverly House, "

WISCONSIN DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17293 Rutz, August, 742 Eighth St., Milwaukee.

APPLICATION FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

List No. 11 — Total 1.

BOSTON, Dec. 30, 1887.

NORTH CAROLINA — 1.

Auburn (N. Y.) Cycling Club.
6416 Latimer, H. G., 202 So. 3d St., Wilmington.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Jan. 2, 1888.

LIST 5.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

California,	7.	Minnesota,	25.
Colorado,	8.	Missouri,	8.
Connecticut,	10.	Nebraska,	3.
Dakota,	1.	New Hampshire,	2.
Delaware,	1.	New Jersey,	14.
District of Columbia,	2.	New York,	117.
Georgia,	1.	North Carolina,	1.
Illinois,	15.	Ohio,	21.
Indiana,	7.	Pennsylvania,	58.
Iowa,	16	Rhode Island,	6.
Kansas,	2.	Vermont,	2.
Louisiana,	4.	Virginia,	2.
Maine,	2.	West Virginia,	2.
Maryland,	2.	Wisconsin,	1.
Massachusetts,	46.	England,	1.
Michigan,	8.
Total,			395.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Keystone Bicycle Club, Pittsburg, Pa.
Illinois Cycling Club, Chicago, Ill.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

WANTED. — Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 48 inch or 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

TO PURCHASE. — Good second-hand single tricycle, late pattern, reasonable for cash; wanted at once. FRED'K. S. VAN HORN, No. 54 Warren St., New York City.

SMALL WHEEL CHEAP. — 42 or 44-inch, any good make; give full particulars. W. H. GEARY, No. 37 Reade St., New York City.

WANTED. — A second-hand Rudge or Victor bicyclette, former preferred, 1887 pattern, in good order, and low priced. E. BRYANT, 847 Prospect Place, Brooklyn.

DOES ANY ONE WANT TO BUY A NEW Columbia Light Roadster tricycle or bicycle? If so, make us an offer. T. R. RAYL & CO, Detroit, Mich.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easily than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison.

Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track.

350½ MILES IN 24 HOURS

Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount a 40-pound Light Champion), of

323 MILES IN 24 HOURS.

Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5h., 38m., 44⅕s.

still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the

G. & J. BALL BEARINGS.

Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE BULLETIN

THE L A W

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. BOSTON, JANUARY 13, 1888. VOL. VI. No. 2. WHOLE NUMBER, 133.

"The Most Comprehensive Cycling Catalogue Published."

60 PAGES.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

FOR 1888.

Published Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1888. Free by mail upon application.

POPE MANUFACTURING CO. } Principal Offices, 79 Franklin Street, BOSTON. Branch Houses, { 12 Warren Street, NEW YORK. 291 Wabash Avenue, CHICAGO.

THE RUDGE AGENCY.

The Rudge Agency (recently relinquished by Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co.) will be continued at the same place, 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., by H. M. SABEN, who has been actively connected with the agency during the past two years. The 1888 Rudge Catalogue is now in press.

NOW!

Send us your name, address and League number, if a member, on a postal card, and we will add it to our PERMANENT MAILING LIST. During the coming year we expect to circulate a great deal of IMPORTANT INFORMATION through the mails, and you can get it for the trouble of writing a postal card. Very soon we will have something to say to you about VICTOR CYCLES FOR 1888, and it will be worth your while to read it. WRITE A POSTAL.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., 182-188 Columbus Ave., BOSTON.

PARADOXES are all the rage. Here is one made over to suit the peculiar tastes of our readers. If a bicycle weighs twenty pounds, and half its own weight, what is its own weight? Don't say thirty pounds, because that will be wrong.

RUST REMOVER, fine, medium, or coarse; nothing better made; per package post-paid, 22c. Rust preventative, per package post-paid, 20c. Finest quality sewing machine or bicycle oil, will not freeze, gum, or become rancid; two-ounce bottles, post-paid, 12c., three for 30c.; one dozen by express, 50c. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

CHEAP FARMING LANDS SOUTH.

IT is a recognized fact that the cheapest farming lands in America to-day are in the South, and men of much or moderate means, looking for real estate investments, or permanent homes, should not fail to visit the following points, where so many northern people are now settling, viz.: Jackson, Tennessee; Aberdeen, Jackson, Mississippi; Hammond, Crowley, Jennings, Welsh and Lake Charles, Louisiana. Round Trip Tourist tickets, limited to June 1, 1888, with stop-over privileges south of Cairo, Illinois, are on sale to New Orleans, Jennings and Lake Charles. For rates, apply to nearest ticket agent, and be sure your tickets read via the Illinois Central Railroad from Chicago or St. Louis. For pamphlet entitled "Southern Home Seeker's Guide," and circulars concerning the above-named points, address the undersigned, at Manchester, Iowa.

J. F. MERRY,
Gen. West. Pass. Agt.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

STEEL BALL OF BEST CAST-STEEL, FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Bind "The Bulletin" Yourself.

A Binder keeps the covers clean, keeps the file complete, and keeps back numbers where they can be easily referred to.

The beauty of the UNIVERSAL BINDER is that its back varies in width according to the thickness of the matter between the covers, so that, whether the binder contains one BULLETIN or any number, it looks almost exactly like an ordinary bound volume, and the magazine can be opened with perfect ease. The Binder does not hurt them for stitching later on, and some or all of them can be removed at will.

This magazine is an odd size, and the UNIVERSAL is made to order to fit, with "THE BULLETIN" handsomely stamped on the cover. It will be sent to any address for One Dollar.

Address, ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267, Boston, Mass.

The McClintock Home Trainer for 1888.

(PATENTED MARCH 22, 1887.)

Riders, now is the time to exercise at home. This trainer gives you the same motion as road riding. You shouldn't be without one. It can be used with any style of cycle. Send for circulars. Price, $13.00. Special discounts to dealers.

Address, McClintock Home Trainer Co., No 431 Market St., Williamsport, Penn.

ESTABLISHED 1846 MUNN & Co PATENTS NEW YORK

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent, write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest List of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

"WHILE the League fulfils its mission as a National organization, it is not adapted to the requirements of special localities."— Extract from resolutions passed by a Philadelphia club.

To those who voted for this resolution, we commend a careful reading of the letter written by our Alabama correspondent, and published in this issue. Pennsylvania talks of forming a local association, and there are mutterings of secession from the League. California has taken up the cry, and the wheelmen of the Pacific Coast are debating the question of a local league. In other words, these two sections propose to shut themselves up in their own shells and close their eyes to what is going on outside in the great world, where the road hog rages and officials frown.

WE have shown why the League is powerless to move on the courts in the Alabama case, but we have indicated that there were other ways to relieve this long-suffering community of wheelmen, — ways in which the League can move to the best advantage if it has the power of numbers; and we submit to those who propose to abandon the League, that they owe a duty to their fellow-wheelmen in Alabama and in other outlying districts where lawful rights are denied.

THE League has secured to the wheelmen of the populous States all their legal rights. Is it the right thing to do, then, for the members of those States to withdraw their patronage, and say, "We have no further use for the League"?

WE are not going to say a word about the advantages one derives from membership in the League. We will forget that there is a weekly paper, besides hotel and railroad privileges. We will ignore the social benefits of the League, and we will ask those who talk of deserting the League if there is not still work for us to do? Is it not seriously to the discredit of wheelmen in America that so small a proportion of them unite with the National Association?

WE will not say that the League always does the right thing, nor will we aver that its officials are infallible; but we will say to the credit of League workers that they have made an enviable record, and given time and service to the cause which is of inestimable value, and this they have done without money and without price. This time and these services have advantaged every wheelman in America, be he with us or be he against us.

THE National organization gets fifty cents from every member, and a little more than this from every applicant. The proportion, as we figure it for last year, gave sixty-four cents to the National Association and thirty-six cents to the divisions. Who will say this is a heavy tax?

WE do not desire to discourage local organizations, though we think the divisions are the best of this kind; but we believe all wheelmen owe a duty to the National organization. With large numbers it can do much work. We appeal to wheelmen throughout America to stand by the League, and help it to carry on the grand work that has been commenced.

MEANTIME we are glad to note that renewals are coming in very fast, and we find in our correspondence so many kind words and assurances of confidence that we are not at all disturbed by what the dissatisfied ones have to say.

WE can assure our Alabama friends that they are not forgotten. The League will soon find a way to help them, rest assured; and meantime it is for them, by their conduct, by the voice, and by the power of the public press, to mould public opinion in the direction of their crying necessity.

ED. MOHRIG'S little boy, aged three years eight months, is becoming quite an adept in riding the miniature safety, which his proud papa made for him. Mr. Mohrig, Jr., is a little unsteady in steering the machine, but will doubtless overcome that in a very short time. The knack of riding a bicycle, so far as Mohrig, Jr., is concerned, is very probably hereditary, as he learned to ride in three attempts. Ed. Mohrig, Sr., is the same in this respect, as, no matter what kind of a wheel he gets in his hands, be it Star, safety, crank, or anything else in the line of cycles, he will ride in a few attempts. — S. F. Mercury.

THE OWL.

MANY years have gone and many changes transpired in cycling since the thirty-first day of May, 1880, saw the birth of the League of American Wheelmen. Perhaps no one individual is entitled to the honor of this important natal event as much as Mr. Kirk Munroe, then president of the New York Bicycle Club, of which he still remains a member; and it was in recognition of his services in this respect, and of those of his club, that the newly formed organization elected him its first commander, and made the New York Club number one on the list of League clubs, an honor it still retains. These few words of ancient history have been penned to introduce Mr. Munroe to the present generation of riders, he needing nothing from my pen to make him known to the "old timers"; and the cause of the entire item being written here, was his being re-elected for the tenth consecutive term to the office of the commodore of the New York Canoe Club. Mr. Munroe is editor of Harper's Young People, and sailed Saturday for Key West for his winter home in Florida, where he will devote his time to literary work. This home of his, by the by, is a queer sort of a thing. Along with seven of his friends and their families, Mr. Munroe has located in the wilds of Florida a settlement which is one hundred and fifty miles from civilization, and to reach which requires that at Key West they charter a schooner to carry themselves and their effects to their quarters, where for five months in each year they live, "the world forgetting and by the world forgot."

I THINK it was along in 1882 or 1883 that I journeyed away up to Springfield one Washington's Birthday, as a guest of the Springfield Bicycle Club, and while there witnessed the performance of a youngster named Nash, who was the first rider that I know of who essayed to propel himself upon a bicycle wheel from which had been removed the forks, etc., leaving only the pedals and wheel. I shall not soon forget how profoundly I was impressed by what I then thought was little short of a miracle. Nash had attached to his hands two spools upon wires, something like the bale of a bucket, and by keeping these closely pressed against the felloe of the wheel, he was enabled to retain his position upon the wheel, while he propelled it a few feet, though at a later date he adopted the plan now universally employed by all professional trick riders in their one-wheel act. The other night I drifted into a winter circus in the American Institute, and among the performers was this Nash, now a full-grown man, and a master of difficult evolutions upon the wheel, and as I saw the easy manner in which he manipulated the unicycle, my thoughts went back to that Washington's Birthday in that New England town where I had first seen him, and I thought that, while his present performance was as far more perfect a one, when compared with the old one, as one could well imagine, yet I doubted if it impressed the audience like the old one did that winter's night, when we shouted ourselves hoarse in our endeavor to give vent to our appreciation.

WHILE England turns her attention to cycles as a means of locomotion for her soldiery in time of war, France has not failed to follow suit, though in a somewhat different direction. Recently, at Pantin, a trial was made of a cycle, made to run upon the existing rails of railways, and a speed of twenty-five miles an hour was easily made. The machine tested was made for the French engineer corps, and rests upon four 30-inch wheels, and weighed about four hundred pounds.

CHIEF CONSUL BIDWELL is "shaking up the dry bones" throughout the State in League matters. He has sent a circular letter to each of the one hundred and fifty consuls instructing them to interview the local road commissioners as to whether they would, at the expense of their county, erect signboards at road crossings, etc., as by law they are required to do, and as to whether in erecting same they would accept the L. A. W. signboards of the New York State Division.

With but few, and I am pleased to say, very few exceptions, the replies were in the affirmative; and the Chief Consul will now proceed to contract for handsome enamelled iron boards, and shortly the touring cyclist may "read his title clear," or at least the road to it, when his eyes will rest upon a handsome signboard erected by the State Division, informing him that it is only "nineteen miles to Godforsakenville," "Podunk," or wherever else he may want to journey to. Each board will thus have to be specially made for the locality in which it is intended to use it, and the consuls will receive a blank copy of one, reading, "———— miles to ———," which blanks they will fill out with distance and name of town, and return to the Chief Consul, who will then have them made and shipped back to the consul, who will collect from the commissioner only the exact cost of manufacture, by which means the State Division contracting for several thousand will save the various counties' money, and gain uniformity in finish and correctness in distance.

HEREAFTER Mr. A. B. Barkman, the bookmaster of the L. A. W., will have charge of the bicycle department in A. G. Spalding's, so that wheelmen can at the same time learn where the best roads are, and what is the best machine to use in riding upon them.

I EXPECT, now that Harry Corey has joined the Pope Company, that we shall see him push the far-famed Kennedy hyphen Child from his position of "the best advertised wheelman in America," and from far and near, wheel correspondents will keep us posted as to Harry's whereabouts. Well, he is a genial companion, and will make many new friends in his present position, while he retains all of his old ones, among whom is THE OWL.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

ONE who was with us at Cottage City writes as follows: —

TO DAISIE: — In the issue of the BULLETIN for Dec. 30, you speak of the tandems produced in 1887, and regret that none have been made that were altogether satisfactory for two ladies, saying that the rear seat is generally so arranged that the rider is cramped, and cannot safely coast. I want to say that I am the owner of one of the much-abused Cunard tandems, and that it answers all the requirements you desire, after strengthening the weak parts, which I have done, with the aid of Mr. Chester. It has a wide space between the two saddles. Can be steered from front or rear seat. Luggage carrier large enough for two large grip-sacks, and has a wider space between the rear saddle and axle than any tandem made. It is well adapted for coasting, as every lady who has ridden on the rear seat can testify. The space is so wide between saddles that at times I have carried a third person in the shape of my ten-year-old son, on the luggage carrier. Another admirable point about it is the folding handle bar (which has never gotten out of order), and which makes it much easier for a lady to mount the front saddle. You personally called attention to this fact, having examined the same at the Meet at Cottage City when I had half of it converted to a single. I will be happy to give the owners of Cunards the benefit of my improvements, which do not alter the shape or appearance of the machine, but greatly strengthen it. Yours fraternally,

E. B. HUTCHINSON, Brooklyn.

I AM very glad to know of one machine that ladies can enjoy. Other machines can be ridden, but this one alone can be enjoyed, if I mistake not.

MISS GRACE H—— writes: —

"I can't boast of much of a record for riding this year, for I have not ciphered it down to miles ridden, nor runs made, and no measure of the fun I have had can possibly be taken, for it is incalculable and inestimable. I suppose I have been out upon my wheel, on an average, three times a week, and I rode during twenty-four weeks, exclusive of four weeks spent in the country. There are seventy-two rides, and I have never gone less than three nor more than twenty miles. Say the average is eight miles, and you have a record of five hundred and seventy-six miles. What a dreadfully pinched-up and meagre-looking record that seems to be. When I think of how great the figures are that the city ladies boast, I wonder how they get time for it."

"I WANT to tell you what fun we are having this winter. Just below my residence is a long river, which swells at this point to a sizable pond. Here we skate, and on several occasions a gentleman friend has helped me over the snow with my tricycle, and I have ridden along the smooth and glassy surface of the ice. On such a surface one seems to fly. There seems to be no resistance to the pedals. I have spun along on this frozen surface for three miles down the river, and as far back, and I have sadly beaten the gentleman who gallantly tried to acompany me. I tried a venture of this kind last week under the beautiful light of the moon, and a richer or more enjoyable experience I never had. If I had an inspired pen, I might try to paint in words the glorious scene in all its enchanting weirdness, but I am powerless to do it justice, and I resign the task. Success to the ladies' column. I read it eagerly every week, and scrap it always. You are doing a good work, Daisie, and I hope the ladies appreciate it."

WHAT enthusiasts does the wheel make of us all! Our friend who writes the foregoing, lives where roads are not the best, and where there is so much hard work to be done that women are discouraged from attempting to cycle. And yet she gets from it no end of pleasure, and a deal of delightful experience.

MY thanks are due No. 16,210 for a beautiful calendar sent me. Mrs. M. W. T. may expect a letter in a few days.

DAISIE.

IT is said that Jack Keen will astonish the world at the Stanley Show with a new pedal, which renders slipping impossible, and yet does not hold or confine the foot in any way.

IN spite of many assertions to the contrary, the practice of giving Christmas, Birthday, Valentine and Easter cards is constantly increasing. It is conceded that better results are obtained by purchasing direct from manufacturers, rather than dealers, in any line of trade. A sample souvenir for Valentine, Easter, Reward of Merit or Birthday occasions will be mailed for 5c., 10c., 15c., or 25c. each. Price governing quality and size. Elegant valentines at 25c., 45c., 70c., and 90c. each. Money will be refunded if not satisfactory. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Proprietors.)

GRADING, NOT MUDDING, PAYS.

THE road problem is one which should engage the earnest attention of every township and road supervisor's district in the State. If the question has had no agitation in your locality, see that a meeting of citizens is called. All the roads in the State cannot be improved in a day. But devise and determine upon some definite plan, and pursue it continuously and tenaciously, and in a few years you will be astonished at the results.

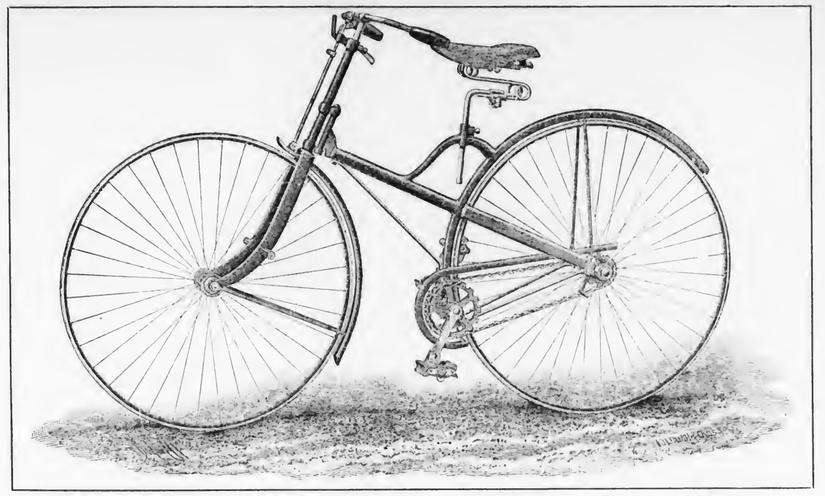
The ordinary method of indiscriminately plowing up a solid road-bed and harrowing it into the condition of a cornfield, without any object in view beyond the "putting in of time" required by the road law, should be enough to brand men as candidates for a mad-house. Such a process is a source of expense to every man who must travel or pull a load over such a road. The only occasion for breaking ground in a public highway is for the purpose of grading. When doing this, the objects sought should be to give a high and evenly rolling central road-bed, which will drain into the gutters at the sides. In no case leave a gutter which will not drain itself. It is better to have none at all, since they will hold water, which in turn is taken up by the adjoining earth for many feet, and instead of benefiting the road-way, it will soften it and work an injury.

Whenever it is possible to take six inches, a foot, or a number of feet from a hill-top, and place it in the hollow, see that it is done; in a few years it will save thousands of dollars in time, trouble and horseflesh, and before you are aware of it, you will have handsomely graded, broad and beautiful highways, instead of the present hilly, muddy and almost impassable road.

Insurance Journal.

KANSAS CITY'S "MENTOR."

THE most important news of the past week was the reappointment of H. G. Stuart as representative, owing to his remaining in Kansas City instead of removing to Los Angeles, Cal., as he fully intended some time since. The friends of Mr. Stuart have been offering their condolences to him in the loss, by death, of a little sister in California, last Saturday, 31.



"Omen," the BULLETIN'S St. Louis correspondent, in a recent number of that pamphlet, lauds Frank J. Suda, representative, to the skies, and advances the suggestion that the other representatives should pattern after him in re securing new members. I am informed by Mr. Stuart, our representative, that he has written all over his district, and failed to get the names of but a few wheelmen. Omen should not compare the western part of Missouri to the eastern district, for outside of Marshall, Lexington, and Warrensburg there are no wheelmen in his district. Wheelmen in these towns cannot see the advantages of League membership, although they have been written to and flooded with circulars. St. Louis is a wonderful city.

During the holidays quite a number of wheelmen have been out of the city. Among them were the following, and where they enjoyed the Christmastide: P. H. Kent, Lafayette, Ind.; R. M. Seibel, Hannibal; H. W. Bennett, Cleveland, O.; T. H. McNeill, Cutler.

The Wheelmen's Record has suspended publication, and "Scorcher's" (its K. C. correspondent) occupation is gone. He will not have an opportunity to set afloat his mildewed chestnuts. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

New-Year's, as far as wheelmen were concerned, was quite a tame affair. The club should have kept open house.

THE Board of Officers of the California Division will meet Jan. 19. The present chief consul and secretary-treasurer of the division announce that they will retire from office the coming year, and successors are being looked for.

THE VELOCE COLUMBIA.

THE following is a brief of the Veloce Columbia, the new safety, which the Pope Manufacturing Co. will put on the market the coming year.

BRIEF.— 31-inch rear (driving) wheel, 30-inch front wheel. Endless moulded ⅞-inch rubber tires. Crescent felloes. 40 and 36 direct spokes, No. 11½ gauge with both ends enlarged. Columbia adjustable ball-bearings, all around. Seamless-steel, tubular front and rear forks and perch. Adjustable crank-and-chain driving-gear. Ewart forged-steel, detachable-link chain. Detachable Knous cranks, 5, 5½ and 6 inch throw. Columbia "double-grip" rubber ball pedals. 4½-inch cone steering-centres. 28-inch hollow, continuous steel curved handle-bar, adjustable for height. Vulcanite handles. Adjustable plunger brake. Adjustable L seat-rod. Harrington cradle-spring. Knous adjustable saddle. Lantern bracket. Foot-rests. Steering-wheel shield. Gear 55. Weight 51 pounds. Price, with "double-grip" ball pedals, $135; with "double grip" parallel pedals, $130.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

IT does seem as though it was about time for the Sunday papers, in their respective cycling columns, to drop the year-old question of the amalgamation of the Century and Germantown clubs. Cal. Wallace, of the Press, harps on the worn string to a greater extent than any one else; for why, no one seems to know. Unless matters in these clubs have wonderfully changed in the past few days, such a union of May and December will never be brought about. The actual resentment with which certain members refused to consider, or allow the Germantown Club to consider, such a movement, causing the Germantown Club to overstep the bounds of common courtesy to the Centurions, will not soon be forgotten by the Century; and to quote from the ex-president, "Such a proposition must now come from the Germantown, and most of us feel like receiving it with the resentment that greeted our overtures last year." The Century has nothing to gain by such a conjunction, though to every one but the opposing clique in the Germantown, it has long been patent that something of the kind should be done. On New-Year's day a visit to the Century's quarters disclosed some one hundred and seventy odd cyclers, visitors and members. The Germantown rooms, less than a square away, were exceedingly lonesome-like and sad. "'T is true, 'tis pity; pity 'tis, 'tis true."

W. T. Fleming and E. B. Carter, a fellow-member of the Century, have started for the island of Jamaica for a four months' trip. Four members of the Century started the new year well by a ride in the slush and hard driving rain at midnight Sunday evening.

Richard Dallett, the smiling flyer of the Tioga Club, is a prospective new member of the Pennsylvania. He will retain his membership in the Tioga. For road racing Pennsy has gained one of the fastest men in the State, and one who, with a few more years' development, will make the best of them "hustle."

The Tioga's annual dinner comes off on the 10th inst., with election of officers and distribution of prizes for the year's riding. Dallett comes in for one prize, Van Deusen for another, and Leisen for a third, while the happy possessor of the "booby prize" does not yet know it. PHACTO.

IN another particular, the safety requires to be studied. The position of the saddle is a most potent factor in the stability of the machine and its ease of steering. From careful experiments we found that the farther the saddle was back over the rear wheel the more the machine slipped. To avoid slipping, one third of the rider's weight should rest on the front wheel, and any rider can prove this by putting forward his saddle. But again, putting forward the saddle makes the steering more erratic: so it is for the rider himself to consider whether he will increase the stability of his machine at the expense of its steering power; or he might adopt the plan of keeping the saddle back in dry weather and forward in wet or when riding much over setts. There are a few machines on the market in which are united both good points. They steer well, and do not slip.— Irish Cyclist.

LETTER FROM BROOKLYN.

THE storm cloud, which for a little while threatened to make the then pending election of the Long Island Wheelmen most interesting, if not exciting, disappeared under the skilful manœuvring of some of the leading spirits, and everything passed off as harmonious as could be wished for. Messrs. Mabie and Bradford issued a joint circular letter, in which both declined the honor of being a candidate for president, and in which one of them expressed a preference for Mr. Jos. D. Huggins, who, as the result will show, was elected. Friend Furst assured me that he was not and never had been a candidate for the captaincy. The rumor of his candidacy originated from the fact that he was asked by some of the members to stand for the office, he being a very popular member of the club, but he declined on the spot, and there the matter of any opposition to our old Friend Luscomb dropped, and when the time came, he was elected unanimously. There was but one ticket in the field, and it was elected, the result being as follows: —

President, Joseph D. Huggins; vice-president, F. J. Warburton; recording secretary, C. C. Alden; corresponding secretary, E. A. Caner; treasurer, Michael Furst; captain, C. H. Luscomb; first lieutenant, George S. Teller; second lieutenant, Louis F. Wise; lieutenant of tricycles, W. N. Walker; trustees, W. W. Share and W. H. Hoole.

THE election was held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 3; over seventy votes were cast, and the meeting was most enthusiastic. The club now has about one hundred and twenty-five members, and the treasurer reports the finances in a satisfactory state.

AT the last meeting of the Ilderan Bicycle Club, the article in the constitution requiring the club to be a League club was abolished by a large majority, for the reason that the members fail to see any advantages accruing to the club, as a club, by reason of its League membership. Many of the members will, of course, renew individually, and the club, as a club, will always stand ready to lend a helping hand to the New York State Division in any way it possibly can.

THE "Camera Club," which is an institution of the Ilderan Bicycle Club, started off Tuesday last with twenty guaranteed members. Two rooms in the Ilderan club house have been engaged for the present needs of the new organization and the New York Camera Club gave it encouragement by its president applying for membership. To-morrow evening a meeting will be held to formally organize, elect officers, adopt a constitution, etc.

THE new club house of the Kings County Wheelmen is rapidly approaching completion, and promises to eclipse anything of the kind in the city, both in size and appointments. Their house warming is expected to take place during the latter part of the present month, and the boys promise that the event will be one not to be forgotten.

MR. C. R. OVERMAN, of the Overman Wheel Company, was in town yesterday. From his description of the various improvements made in the Victor cycles during the past winter, the coming year will find them more popular than ever. The Light Roadster, pretty near perfection as it is, will have several minor improvements that will be appreciated. The safety will receive several material changes, the entire frame being changed, and the spring fork working in ball-bearing sockets, making it even more easy than before. Many other minor attractions will be noted upon inspection. The tricycle will remain unchanged for the present, but they intend introducing a children's trike of the Cripper type that will be sold at a very reasonable figure, and also a boys' bicycle, the Victor Junior, which in form and general get up is a little Victor, and will, I think, become very popular.

THE Pope Company are not yet ready to state their intended improvements. Their Volunteer has been announced, and it is generally known that they will abolish the "resultant," and adopt a "tangent" spoke in their Light Roadster. Both these firms, as yet, decline to introduce the ball head on their machines, believing it to be still embryo and experimental. The prices in all wheels are to be reduced five dollars with the opening of the spring trade.

BON.

JAN. 8, 1888.

IT is said that engraved visiting cards are becoming very fashionable of late. To meet this demand, we have added an engraving department, and can furnish 50 engraved cards from copper-plate, postpaid, for $1.25. Prices for stamping and embossing, plain or in colors, upon application. Estimates for engraving or printing of any kind furnished. CHICAGO MANFG. AND PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

CYCLETS.

CAPTURED.

SHE would n't have captured my heart, I know;
It is certain of that I feel!
Though she swayed so bewitchingly to and fro,
Like a willow branch when the zephyrs blow,
As she pedalled her dainty wheel.

There was buoyant grace in her girlish tread,
There was art in the way she sat;
A coy, arch poise to her dainty head,
But she cannot capture my heart, I said,
Lest it be by her cunning hat.

The sunlight gleamed in her dark brown hair,
Ah, how I remember that;
And her smile was as bright as the day was fair,
But oh, such trifles cannot ensnare!
Yet I 'm caught — for she set her cap.

Wheelmen's Gazette.

TRADE
NOW feels
THE first impulse
OF the season of 1888.
NEW wheels are being shown to the public,
AND the order books of the manufacturers are filling up.

IF the renewals continue to come in as they have started, we shall have the members nearly all back.

THE Chelsea Club is talking up a club-house scheme.

THE Cambridge Club will shake the light fantastic club toe on Friday night next.

CORRESPONDENTS will please use number for 1888, in correspondence with this office.

DR. A. G. COLEMAN, Canandaigua, N. Y., has given up cycling. Another veteran gone.

WHEN cyclers want to take a day off, they have only to manipulate the "Columbia Calendar."

NEW YORK wheelmen can get ticket holders of George R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York.

THE Vermont Wheel Club will hold a concert and ball at Town Hall, Brattleboro, on Jan. 17.

MR. WM. L. ROSS is superintendent of the branch house of Singer & Co., at 6 Berkeley Street.

SIX hundred and nine thousand nine hundred and fifty copies of the BULLETIN were printed last year.

THE Massachusetts Club has instituted the idea of a collation at every meeting, and now the boys turn out.

WE are indebted to E. B. Hutchinson, Esq., of the Long Island Wheelmen, for a very fine photograph of the club house

HARRY D. COREY'S engagement to Miss Mary Wallace is formally announced. He has the tandem, so don't suggest it!

WE have now a good binder for the BULLETIN. If you desire to keep your numbers, one of these binders will be the best thing to have.

ST. LOUIS wheelmen are running up a winter cycling record by riding to the various skating ponds, which abound in the suburbs of that city.

W. B. EVERETT is lost to the trade, though he leaves his name behind. It will be a good many years before he is lost to wheeling, though.

WE have received calendars the past week from Degraaf & Taylor, New York, the Union Metallic Cartridge Company, and from Smith & Anthony, Boston.

THE editor gratefully acknowledges the very many compliments of the season he has received. To answer them individually would be a hopeless task.

R. W. CREUZBAUR, of the Kings County Wheelmen, is in Galveston. He intends to ride on his wheel across the State to Northern Mexico.

THE Vermont Bicycle has this suggestion in its editorial column: "Reduce the surplus by reducing taxation." That item ought to be arrested for trespass.

KENNETH BROWN, of Chicago, now at Harvard College, has a mileage record for 1887 of 4,057 miles, including a tour of 915 miles from Chicago to Syracuse, N. Y.

THE people of Warren are warring among themselves regarding records and pioneer wheelmen. It is a tremendous affair. And such a little place, too.

CAPTAIN WOODMAN, of the Chelsea Club, went into two long road races last year, and ran up a record of 4,350 miles, and yet he went through the year without a header.

CHRISTMAS week put our stamper a little behind during the last week of the year, but he has caught up with his orders, and there is now no delay in getting out marked holders.

A 50-INCH Expert Columbia, enamel finish, 1887 pattern, is missing from the clubroom of the Calumet Cycling Club, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Any information will be thankfully received by the secretary.

MR. A. P. BENSON, first lieutenant of the Dorchester Bicycle Club, has 3,850 miles to his credit, having ridden the last 250 miles in December. He has taken three century runs during the season.

"THEY don't die in the house," was called after a Boston cyclist by an urchin. He did n't know what the young fellow meant until he read his morning paper, and ascertained the fate of poisoned "Rats."

IT 's a pretty heavy strain on a man's memory to keep the figures of his mileage in mind when he gets into four figures. This should be remembered when we hear stories of records which are hard to believe.

AN Englishman leaves a sum of money, the income of which is to go towards keeping a certain specified highway in order. Rich wheelmen will please take the hint, and immediately put a new clause in their wills.

THE Springfield Bicycle Club minstrel company are getting into good working order for an entertainment at the Chicopee Opera House, on the 13th. They have secured the services of the Edwards Brothers, gymnasts and tumblers.

THE Berlin (Prussia) Racing Association made a net profit of $1,592 on eight days' racing during the past season, forty-two events being decided, for which the entries numbered four hundred and nineteen. The value of the prizes was $1,887.50, and of the medals $400.

AN English wheeling organization has taken the name, "The Architectural Association Cycling Club," and has for its chief object the visiting, by the happy medium of club runs, the innumerable buildings, such as churches and others, interesting from an architectural point of view.

THE two Arthurs, Wilson and Morrison, known as Faed and Nym, have exercised their peculiar talents this year in a Christmas number for Sport and Play, and the result is a very bright book, full of stories and rhymes, written in the inimitable style of these two worthies.

THE annual ball of the Roxbury Bicycle Club will be held at Orienta Hall, 2152 Washington Street, on Wednesday evening next. Dancing from eight to two. A very large number of invitations have been sent out to representative wheelmen in and about Boston, and a large company is expected.

SECRETARY-TREASURER CARPENTER, of the Pennsylvania Division, has, by order of Chief Consul Jessup, fowarded a check for $25 to Mr. Elwell, to be used in defraying the court costs of the past and future prosecution of Carnell, the Philadelphia road hog, who assaulted Rowland Evans.

THE Massachusetts Club still lives, and moves, and has its being. The club house remains as it was of old, but there is good prospect that a portion of it will be let for other purposes, for with its present membership the club cannot afford to pay what the corporation ought to have.

HOW very strange that advertisers are slow to see that circulation counts. Many will give a dollar for an advertisement in a paper with a small circulation, and hesitate to give three dollars to one with ten times the circulation. The BULLETIN gives more than value for every dollar spent in advertising.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT MONTH.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

IKE WEIR, who is familiarly known as "The Spider," and who has gained notoriety in the prize-ring, has challenged any bicyclist to ride a race, in which he will ride horses. Schock has accepted the challenge, and the race will take place during the latter part of this month. It will Schock us very much if he downs the Spider wheel.

THE Malden Bicycle Club had a very pleasant "ladies' night," Friday evening last, at which a musical entertainment was given, Mr. Francis W. Griffin, Mr. Harold Hopkins, Mr. Frank M. Sherburne, pianists; Mr. Edward Everett, violinist; Miss Edith Hatch and Mr. Charles Spofford, vocalists, and Mr. Ralph E. Moon, fife, participating.

ABOUT one League club secretary in five sends us the special certificate we ask for. One of these days the delinquent secretaries will be surprised if their club is not on the list, and then they will say they never knew that a special certificate was necessary, though we have been calling for it till we are tired, and we suspect our readers are tired as well.

THE Lynn Cycle Club held a leap-year party at Exchange Hall, Monday evening, Jan. 2, and it was a very successful affair. The march and circle was started at 8.30 o'clock, led by Frank W. Goodwin and Miss Gertie Libby, followed by about sixty couples. The dance order contained fifteen numbers, not including fancies; and Perkins's orchestra furnished the music. Dancing was kept up until midnight.

THE Kings County Wheelmen will give a grand opening at their new club house on Bedford Avenue, near Fulton Street, on February 1. The club house, when completed, will be the largest one in the United States. It will contain a large storeroom for the wheels of its members, a reading-room, billiard-room, and bowling alley. The upper floor is to be fixed up as bachelor apartments for those members who are desirous of making their homes in the club house.

THOUGH Wm. B. Everett has retired from the firm which bears his name, there will be no practical change in the management of the business. Mr. W. L. Ross, who was manager for the old firm, will continue in charge, and there will be no change in the clerical force. The new concern will have all the advantages that a manufacturer has over a dealer, and with Mr. Ross at the head, there is no doubt but that it will be ably managed.

THE following was clipped from a Parisian exchange: "Canary, the celebrated bicycle rider, who has been performing in Paris for some time, has, at length, a rival, who also calls himself champion of America. Although the disputes for the title have been numerous, no understanding can be arrived at. The manager of the performance has therefore decided that a contest shall be held, and the public are to judge who shall wear the laurels."

TWO of the fastest amateurs in America, W. E. Crist, of Washington, and Fred Foster, of Canada, are laying plans to go upon the track in the best condition the coming season. They have engaged Mr. W. J. Corcoran, a professional trainer, and will go into active training at Buffalo.

A committee of the Bay City Wheelmen, of San Francisco, has sent a circular to all the clubs in the State, inviting them to send three delegates each to a meeting to be held on the evening of Saturday, Jan. 14, at the club house, 220 Van Ness Avenue, for the purpose of forming an inter-club road-racing association. The idea is to hold a series of road races during the year, of twenty-five, fifty, and one hundred miles each, the first to come off Feb. 22, and probably be twenty-five miles around the San Leandro course.

"THE American system. This is how they do things in the States. The stranger enters the L. A. W. hotel, and is handed a card as follows: 'Headquarters League of American Wheelmen, Washington Hotel, Vicksburg, Miss. First-class accommodations. No cut rates. James Purvis Bruce, representative L. A. W.; Patrick Henry, attorney; Dr. Sam D. Robbins, surgeon; Dr. E. B. Robbins, Dentist; A. L. Blanks, photographer.'" J. P. B. has probably been using the cards he had while in Mississippi, and "stuffing" the editor in Yankee fashion.

IF a Pacific Coast League could be made to be self-sustaining, it would undoubtedly be a good project to carry the matter through. The California Division and its members receive so much more than the value of their initiation fees and dues, that it would be well to stand by the National body; at the same time, if a Pacific Coast League were formed, the members would undoubtedly be benefited to a greater extent, and could be better attended to and more easily reached. Form a Pacific Coast League independent of the National body of the League of American Wheelmen, but under no circumstances favor secession, and the sooner the California Division members of the League send in the renewals and fees the better it will be. The sum is so small and insignificant, that the most impecunious can afford to join and renew. — S. F. Mercury.

THE Irish Cyclist and Athlete has parodied Longfellow's Hiawatha, and in its Christmas number for 1887, a story of the wanderings of an American Indian through English and Irish cycledom is told in a very interesting manner, and is finely embellished with pictures. The modern Hiawatha rides a bicycle, goes to Eng-

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE-PRESIDENT — H. W. Hayes, Cambridge, Mass.

TREASURER. — W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR. — Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. R. Bidwell.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP. — James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES. — C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 421 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS. — C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Share, 336 Navy Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD. — Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 99 Superior Street, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. H. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION. — Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street, New York; W. S. Bull, 360 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER. — W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION. — A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan & Co., 22 Old Bread Street, London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

TOURING DEPARTMENT.

W. S. Bomberger, tourmaster, Hagerstown, Md.; A. B. Barkman, Bookmaster, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Joseph Pennell, Marshal Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information:

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 15 cents. Address C. A. Underwood, 386 Tremont Street.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official): — Officers, Consuls, hotels, and rates of California Division, California bicycle clubs and officers. Over 2,000 miles reported roads, 100 pages, tabulated form. Bound in flexible leather, $1.00. Ready Aug. 1, 1887. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 612 Hyde Street, San Francisco, Cal.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT (Official): — In progress. Address Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within fifty miles of New York City — very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (Official, 1884): — Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address S. Lawton, Springfield, Mass. New Road Book in preparation will probably be issued early in 1888.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN (Official); with best roads of Ontario and through route from Chicago to N. Y. City Sectional and general maps; lists of Consuls, hotels, repair shops, and points of interest. Flexible leather cover. Free to Division members joining before July 1; after that date, 25 cents extra. Price to L. A. W. members of other States, $1.00. Address J. H. Johnson, 397 Second Ave., Detroit, Mich. Remit to J. E. Beal, Sec.-Treas., Ann Arbor, Mich.

L. A. W. HAND AND ROAD BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official). — Two hundred pages, numerous maps, lists of Consuls, hotels, and repair shops, general information about the L. A. W. and N. Y. Division, etc., with complete indexes. Tabulated reports of 14,000 miles of roadway, extending east to Mt. Desert, Maine; west to Cleveland, Ohio; north to Quebec, P. Q., and south to the Natural Bridge, Virginia, and Washington, D. C. General description of local riding districts, and much other information of value to cyclers, bound in flexible leather. Free to Division members joining in the first quarter; 17 cents to those joining in the second quarter, ending June 30, 1887; after that date, 50 cents. Price to League members of other States, $1.50 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official): — Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, bound in flexible leather. This work is now out of print. A revised edition will probably appear in 1888.

RECORD BOOK OF SHELL ROADS IN VICINITY OF NORFOLK. — A description of the shell roads around the city of Norfolk. Contains in addition several pages for records of rides. Bound in paper: 10 cents. By V. Paul Ellis, Norfolk, Va.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official): — Complete lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. Full description of riding districts and large folding road map of the State. Price, bound in flexible leather, $1.00; cloth, 50c. Address Frank C. Meyer, Secretary-Treasurer, Room 26 Saxton Block, Canton, Ohio.

ROAD-MAP OF CENTRAL INDIANA (L. A. W. Official), covering 90 miles N. and S., and 153 miles E. and W., and showing the famous Crawfordsville record-breaking district. Contains list of Consuls and hotels, and shows towns, railroads, etc. Free to Division members joining in first quarter, 13 cents in second quarter, 25 cents in third quarter, and 38 cents in fourth quarter. Price, to other League members, 75 cents. Scale of nine miles to one inch. Address Josh. Zimmerman, Secretary-Treasurer, 37 So. Alabama Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official): — Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers. Price, 50 cents each, or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.

TEN THOUSAND MILES ON A BICYCLE: A Gazetteer of American Roads. — Cloth bound, gilt top, 41 chapters, 908 pages, elaborate indexes, no advertisements. Mailed on receipt of $2.00, by Karl Kron, University Building, Washington Square, New York City, D. Analytical content-table, descriptive circulars, and specimen pages sent free.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO (L. A. W.). See Ohio Hand-Book.

ROAD MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND: — Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as below.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA: — Three parts, Eastern, Central, Western. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Phila., Pa.

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents. Address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS.— Sketches of cities towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. Address George Chinn. Beverly, Mass., price 20 cents.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by: —

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

land and Ireland, and comes home to tell the tale to his children. Those who care to get a copy, and we can recommend it, can procure one of the Bicycling World Company, 12 Pearl Street, Boston.

MR. A. B. BARKMAN, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has entered the employment of A. G. Spalding & Bro., New York, and will have charge of their bicycle department. In securing Mr. Barkman, the firm has obtained one whose knowledge of the wheel and of wheelmen will make him a successful manager, and those who know of his work for the League will not doubt his push and enterprise. We congratulate the firm and we congratulate Mr. Barkman. All that is wanted now is a big advertisement in the BULLETIN.

AT a meeting of the Board of Officers, Massachusetts Division, held last Saturday evening, the vote of a previous meeting, whereby every one who joins the League during 1888 would be given a copy of the new road book, was rescinded, and it was voted that the book be given free to those who join during the first quarter of the year; for those joining during the second quarter, a charge of ten cents; third quarter, twenty-five cents; and fourth quarter, fifty cents. This was done so that the division may not be out of pocket by furnishing the book.

THE reception held by the Maryland Club on New-Year's day was one of the grandest affairs of the kind that has been given for a long time. Over eight hundred visitors attended the reception during the day. Music was a feature, and vocal selections were given by Messrs. Charles A. Fisher, W. Harding, and Chas. Harding. Mayor Latrobe and other prominent people were present during the day. The dance given by the Baltimore Club on New-Year's night was one of the nicest affairs of the season, and was much enjoyed by all present. The ladies and gentlemen were all in full-dress. Refreshments were served at midnight, after which, dancing was kept up until the "wee sma'" hours. — Argus.

R. J. MECREDY, the Irish champion, has taken a hand in the discussion regarding loafing in cycle racing. Agreeing with Mr. Hillier, that judgment must help muscles between men of equal calibre, he refuses to go to the extremities of Furnivall and one or two others, and says: "But, on the other hand, waiting races, as we have seen them in England, are a disgrace to the sport, and detrimental to its best interests. We don't for one moment wish to urge that a man should put down his head, and cut out the pace from start to finish at his best speed; but we do think that in long races no man should let his judgment so far get the better of his sportsmanlike feeling as to crawl round at a funereal pace for mile after mile. Each man should make a point of taking some of the pacemaking, cutting it out hot or otherwise, according to his judgment, but never allowing it to sink to a mere dawdle. It is the example of one or two cracks, who persistently refuse to make pace, and who will almost get down and walk rather than do so, which has made 'waiting' so fashionable in first-class scratch events."

THE ease of propulsion of a safety depends greatly on the gearing. It is a mistaken idea altogether that high gears insure speed. On fairly level roads with good surface this may be so, but on rough hilly roads the labor is increased and the speed even less. For a long time we had our safety geared to 58, and through mud, up hill or against wind, suffered severely in consequence. A short time ago we had the gear changed to 54, and the difference was marvellous. With much less labor we are now enabled to maintain a higher average rate of speed. Similarly, we have our tandem geared to 52, and never had a road machine of any type on which we were able to get up better pace with less labor. — Irish Cyclist.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

THE BULLETIN.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I notice in this week's issue of the BULLETIN a hint to the effect that the present manner of its publication may be changed. I sincerely hope that such an idea may not prevail. To my mind, the surest way to keep wheelmen interested in the League is by the frequent issue of the League paper, and I believe a change to a semi-monthly or monthly edition would be a sad mistake. There can be no questioning the fact that with four fifths of all wheelmen the cycle is a "hobby." Now note the peculiarities of a man with a "hobby." Let it be the wheel. You meet him socially, and mention dancing, skating, his family, and even his business, without awakening more than a polite interest; but speak the word "bicycle," and instantly his eyes brighten, and you have him interested to the deepest extent. He will chat with you for any length, enjoy himself and entertain you. Now, I believe the more frequently this interest is excited, and the affairs of the wheel placed before our members, the stronger will be the hold of the League. (Long life to it!) Put this question to yourself, and to those whom you may meet, and see if they do not take kindly to the same view.

WM. ALLEN BUTLER.

We agree with our correspondent fully, and can assure him that no change will be made, if it is possible to avoid it. The question reduces itself to dollars and cents. To print and circulate the BULLETIN costs a great deal of money, and under the present condition of things, this money must come very largely from advertisers. The dealers do not hesitate to pay, during the business season, the large sum we are obliged to charge for advertising; but when the snow is on the ground, and there is no riding, they do not readily pay for full-page advertisements and they have heretofore done so only because they believe the League a worthy institution, and deserving their support. It costs about $200 to print a twelve-page paper, in addition to what is paid to correspondents and in salaries, and any one can easily approximate how many pages of advertisements at $20 a page it will take to pay the expenses. Our rates will be higher the coming year, and if we find advertisers who will pay them, the BULLETIN can run along; but it these rates exclude advertisers from the paper during the winter season, the money must come from elsewhere, and any suggestion to increase dues meets with opposition.

THE ALABAMA CASE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — As one of the very few members of the L. A. W. in Alabama, I most earnestly appeal to you, and through you to the other officers of the League, to do all in your power to aid the wheelmen of Mobile to assert their rights, and maintain them. No one knows better than I what the wheelmen of this section have to put up with from the narrow-minded prejudice and frequently the gross ignorance and boorishness of some of its people. If you want to find the genuine blue-blooded "road hog," come to Alabama. The idea of a man who is so foolish as to ride one of "them things on two wheels," having any rights on the highway, is to him perfectly preposterous. He can't see it. And the only way to make him see it, is to bring him up before a court of justice. The League takes cognizance of cases like this nearer home, and I hope it will show, by its action in this matter, that, unlike Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, it "knows no North, no South." A member of the L. A. W. has as much claim to its protection in California as he has in Massachusetts, and as much in Alabama as in California.

L. D. A., 3,922.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Jan. 3, 1888.

THE PIONEER WHEELMAN OF WARREN.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I seem to be "catching it" all around this last week, and finally am "picked up" on such a small affair as pioneer wheeling in the quiet town of Warren. Any one chancing to have read those two articles last week, would think I was writing simply to misstate. I claimed that Mr. F. Montrose Brown was the pioneer wheelman of Warren, and I can prove it. I don't remember the wheel that No. 8,178 writes about; but I do not doubt that he had it, as he states. I never knew of many of the boys having a "try" at it, so judge it was sent away soon after construction.

In 1868, the Messrs. Seymour were running a grist mill near Kelly's Bridge, and in the second story was quite a large room unoccupied. Being young men, and in for fun, the idea occurred that something might be made whereby they could ride in this room, and kill time on rainy days and evenings. Where the idea came from I cannot say; but my impression is that a hall over the Union Depot, in Providence, was used for such a purpose, the old-fashioned velocipede being the favorite mount. Not wishing to expend the amount required to purchase wheels like those at Providence, the Seymour Brothers called to their aid "Mont" Brown and Walter Davis (now dead). "Mont" said he could beat those in Providence, and men of today, who were then boys, say he did it. For ease of running and comfort in the saddle they preferred the home-made wheel. Davis shaped the woodwork, and "Mont" the iron, and after it was completed "Mont" rode it, and that is why I call him the pioneer wheelman of Warren. Later, he made others, and it was quite a treat to ride round that old loft. This all occurred before my day, although I had the pleasure of owning the third "real bicycle" ever owned in Warren, No. 8,178 being the first owner, and Mr. M. W. Turner the second.

Now, I hope 8,178 will not try to rob Mr. Brown of his title, on the plea that it was not a "bike," but a velocipede that he made, because Lallement made the same general style of machine, and the bicycle of to-day is only an improvement.

Lallement holds his title undisputed, except by men of other nationality who claim to have constructed a similar wheel before his came out. In finishing this article, I want to speak of the results arising from the early riding days in that old mill. Three of the Seymour brothers are still riding, two on the "bike," and one on a "trike." Mr. Clarence Seymour has one, and Mr. Joseph Seymour has two sons that are riders, and while Mr. James Seymour does not ride, he is ably represented by two sons that push the pedal. Mr. Joseph Seymour also has a daughter that handles the tricycle very easily, so the old saying comes to mind, "What 's bred in the bone," etc. By the way, if I am not mistaken, when "Mont" built and rode his first wheel, No. 8,178 was living in Minnesota.

6-7368.

GOOD WORK and low prices do not always go together. However, we have a contract that enables us to furnish both for some time to come. Cards, printed with name and address, with or without L. A. W. Badge, plain or crazy edge bevel, 25 for 35c., 50 for 50c. Gold bevel or superfine wedding Bristol, 25 for 45c., 50 for 65c., POSTPAID. Will be pleased to furnish estimates for printing of any kind. Address, CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago. (Van Sicklen & Thorne, Props.)

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

Branch Offices in all the leading cities.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE CLUB.

MALDEN. — At the annual meeting of the Malden Bicycle Club, the following officers were elected: President, E. E. Foye; vice-president, F. M. Sherburn; secretary and treasurer, A. N. Foque; assistant treasurer, William Watts; club committee, F. M. Sherburn, W. C. Pilicy, H. W. Sherburne, William Watts. The retiring secretary and treasurer, E. E. Foye, was presented with a handsome silver-headed cane by the club, in appreciation of his services for the past year.

SPRINGFIELD. — The Springfield Bicycle Club has elected the following officers: Secretary, Francis H. Williams; treasurer, Wilbur Burns; directors, W. H. Selvey, D. E. Miller, L. J. Chandler, F. H Nickerson, A. B. Wassung, F. H. W. Williams, and Wilbur Burns; captain, F. A. Eldred; first lieutenant, E. E. Sawtelle; second lieutenant, H. B. Wadsworth; bugler, C. F. Cooper; color bearer, J. D. Law. Dr. H. E. Rice was unanimously elected club surgeon. Entertainment committee, C. O. George, L. J. Chandler, G. H. Lucas, J. E. Haynes and J. W. Drown.

LONG ISLAND WHEELMEN. — The Long Island Wheelmen held their annual meeting at the club house, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 3, and by a harmonious and unanimous vote elected the following board of officers for the ensuing year: President, Joseph D. Huggins; vice-president, Frederick J. Warburton; treasurer, Michael Furst; assistant treasurer, Louis F. Ballard: recording secretary, Carl C. Alden; corresponding secretary, Edward A. Caner; trustees, William W. Share, William H. Hoble: captain, Charles H. Luscomb; first lieutenant, George G. Teller; second lieutenant, Louis H. Wise; lieutenant of tricycles, Walter N. Walker; first color-bearer, Henry F. Donaldson; second color-bearer, Albert H. Harris; first bugler, T. M. Lamberson; second bugler, Fred. B. Monell; surgeon, Frank P. Hudnut, M. D.

HYDE PARK. — At the semi-annual meeting of the Hyde Park Ramblers for the election of officers the following members were elected: President, J. E. Walter; secretary-treasurer, J. P. Boyden; captain, F. G. Hall; first lieutenant, A. H. Morse; second lieutenant, Robert E. Grant; color-bearer, E. E. Galloupe.

DETROIT. — The Star Bicycle Club had its annual election of officers Jan. 4, and chose the following for the ensuing year: President, F. C. Blodgett; secretary-treasurer, R. F. Medbury; captain, W. E. Metzger; first lieutenant, N. G. Huff; second lieutenant, Chas. G. Blodgett; standard-bearer, W. H. Bradish; club committee, the president, secretary-treasurer, ex-officio, and Leon Coquard and W. E. Metzger.

NEWPORT (Ky). — Newport Bicycle Club. Officers for 1888: President, Chas. A. Van Duzen; secretary-treasurer, L. L. Buchanan; captain, Geo. Van Duzen; lieutenant, E. K. Lowe. The club kept open house in their handsome new quarters, Monday, Jan. 2, and entertained a large number of wheelmen.

SAN FRANCISCO. — At their last meeting the Bay City Wheelmen, of San Francisco, elected the following officers to serve for the six months commencing Jan. 1: President, Emil Fahrbach; vice-president, J. R. Hopkins; secretary, Harry C. Cummins; treasurer, C. A. Elliot; captain, Porter A. Libby; first lieutenant, Sanford Plummer; second lieutenant, Clarence A. Howard; color-bearer, J. E. Bauer; buglers, Lyman Cole and C. C. Moore.

THE Star Club, of Detroit, Mich., appreciates its president. At its last meeting, President Blodgett was presented with a handsome watch charm, the workmanship of M. S. Smith & Co. It is of heavy gold, in diamond shape, with raised edges richly chased. On its face is raised a miniature Star bicycle of solid gold, exquisitely executed. The relief bears a monogram of the letters "F. C B." Each letter is worked in a different alloy, copper, platinum and silver being used. Within the charm, and exposed by touching a spring, is a perfect coil-spring of gold that is a pretty conceit. Tradition has it that whenever Mr. Blodgett rides with an extra spring at hand, the coil of his machine never gets out of working order. He is now provided with the magic spring that insures against wreck and mishap.

REGARDING the proposition to form a Pacific Coast Association, the San Francisco Chronicle says: "It is a question, however, whether the movement can be made to go. It hardly seems probable there are a sufficient number of wheelmen on the Pacific Coast to support an independent association. Then the work of organization would call for a vast deal of labor, which in the nature of things could not be remunerated, and working for glory soon becomes tiresome. Only those who went through it can form any appreciation of the work and attention to details that were required to establish the present League in California. Those who bore the heat and burden of the day have no desire for any more work of this kind, and if they did, however displeased they may be at present, would hesitate, when put to the test, to strike a blow at what represents to them the result of two years of patient, loving care and enthusiasm, for, however disguised, a Pacific Coast organization cannot fail to injure the League of American Wheelmen in California."

ENAMELINE, wearing qualities equal to any; lustre, finest in the world. Process, patented. For bicycles, sewing machines, hardware, furniture, glass, willow ware, etc. By express, four-ounce, 20c.; eight-ounce, 38c. By mail, sample, 10c.; four-ounce, 35c.; eight-ounce, 55c.; brush, 10c. extra. CHICAGO MANFG. & PRINTING CO., 71 and 73 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

LEAGUE MEMBERSHIP.

	1886.	1887.	Reps.
Alabama	17	7	..
Arizona	....	2	..
Arkansas	11	12	..
California	210	344	6
Colorado	50	46	..
Connecticut	584	642	12
Dakota	8	20	..
Delaware	27	37	..
District of Columbia	72	101	2
Florida	10	12	..
Georgia	28	29	..
Idaho	20	3	..
Illinois	491	635	12
Indiana	207	235	4
Iowa	112	150	3
Kansas	76	180	3
Kentucky	87	98	1
Louisiana	66	71	1
Maine	101	129	2
Maryland	220	289	5
Massachusetts	1,444	1,328	26
Michigan	226	278	5
Minnesota	108	108	2
Mississippi	4	3	..
Missouri	258	368	7
Montana	3	5	..
Nebraska	70	115	2
New Hampshire	144	134	2
New Jersey	944	865	17
New Mexico	....	2	..
New York	1,747	2,317	46
North Carolina	12	10	..
Ohio	847	940	18
Oregon	3	2	..
Pennsylvania	1,488	1,730	34
Rhode Island	148	179	3
South Carolina	1	2	..
Tennessee	80	85	1
Texas	14	23	..
Utah	13	14	..
Vermont	103	92	1
Virginia	58	86	1
West Virginia	51	56	1
Wisconsin	37	88	1
Wyoming	49	42	..
FOREIGN.
Austria	....	5	..
Bermuda	1	1	..
Canada	7	9	..
England	2	4	..
France	....	1	..
Germany	1	....	..
Nova Scotia	4	4	..
Switzerland	....	1	..
Total	10,264	11,939	218

L. A. W. FINANCIAL STATEMENT, Jan. 1, 1888.

Cash on hand	$604 30
Accounts receivable (good)	1,530 73
Accounts receivable (doubtful)	515 56
		$2,650 59
Accounts payable to Divisions	$1,284 10
Accounts payable for printing	1,074 40
Accounts payable on card cases	188 40
Accounts payable for correspondence	65 75
		$2,612 65
		$37.94

LETTERS intended for the reorganization committee should be addressed to Chas. H. Luscomb, Esq., 280 Broadway, New York.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

ILLINOIS HOTEL.

THE Ætna House, Danville, is hereby appointed L. A. W. hotel for that point. L. A. W. rate, $1.50 per day; meals, forty cents.

N. H. VAN SICKLEN, C. C.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6, 1888.

MINNESOTA REPRESENTATIVE.

I HEREBY appoint Mr. L. B. Graves, of Minneapolis, as the second representative for our State Division.

S. F. HEATH, C. C.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Jan. 7, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 121 — Total 38.

BOSTON, Jan. 13, 1888.

DELAWARE DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17294 Chamberlaine, A. M., Middletown.

GEORGIA — 3.

Brunswick Wheelmen.
17295 Brown, F. McC., Brunswick
17296 Cunningham, F. E., "
Unattached.
17297 Beatty, H. B., Macon.

INDIANA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17323 Shank, W. A., Union City.

IOWA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17321 Betts, Roy C., care Tribune, Muscatine.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 3.

Cycling Ramblers.
17298 Shower, Jno. A., Westminister.
Unattached.
17299 Cone, Sydney M., 1607 Eutaw Pl., Baltimore.
17300 Kelso, Geo. R., 1205 Linden Ave., "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 2.

Columbia Bi. Club.
17301 Whiting, George, No. Attleboro.
Unattached.
17322 Anderson, Gustaf, 44 Central St., Worcester.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17302 Slussar, L. E., Mancelona.

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.
17303 Prickett, E. K., 1610 First Ave., Minneapolis.
17304 Wicht, Charles, 800 Central Ave., "

MISSISSIPPI — 1.

Natchez Cyclists.
17305 Clarke, Geo. G., Greenville.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 14.

Albany Wheelmen.
17306 Merrihew, George, Slingerlands.
17307 Shields, Frank A., 83 Hamilton St., Albany.
Manhattan Bi. Club.
17308 Fry, Chas. P., 280 Broadway, room 217, New York.
17309 Kaufman, Leo, 502 Broadway, "
17310 Newton, D. C., 25 Union Sq., "
17311 Putney, W. H., 109 Bank St., "
17312 Roys, Geo. A., 345 Broadway, "
Nassau Wheelmen.
17327 Mellor, Jno. H., 248 9th St., So. Brooklyn.
New York Bi. Club.
17313 Haight, T. S., 58 Horatio St., New York.
Unattached.
17324 Arnold, Carrie M., 41 Rowley St., Rochester.
17325 Arnold, Mary C., 41 Rowley St., "
17326 Forbes, Geo. M., 16 Tracy St., "
17314 Garland, A. E., 34 Niagara St., Buffalo.
17328 Williams, Fred B., 244 E. 86th St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION — 5.

Canton Bi. Club.
17315 Stauffer, Ira M., Box 202, Canton.
Unattached.
17329 Ballard, L. W., Alliance.
17316 Braggs, Andrew J., 261 Superior St., Cleveland.
17317 Dyer, W. S., 296 Findlay St., Cincinnati.
17318 Hunt, L. D., 31 Spruce St., Columbus.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17319 Harrington, Clifford A., City Hall, Providence.

TEXAS DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.
17330 Hughes, Ed. V., Sherman.
17331 Truslow, W. B., "

VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17320 Jefferson, H. M., No. Danville.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Jan. 9, 1888.

LIST 6.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

California,	21.	Nebraska,	2.
Colorado,	2.	New Hampshire,	10.
Connecticut,	15.	New Jersey,	38.
Delaware,	2.	New York,	171.
District of Columbia,	4.	Ohio,	46.
Florida,	4.	Pennsylvania,	80.
Georgia,	2.	Rhode Island,	8.
Illinois,	69.	South Carolina,	1.
Indiana,	4.	Tennessee,	4.
Iowa,	16	Texas,	1.
Kansas,	9.	Vermont,	10.
Kentucky,	2.	Virginia,	2.
Maine,	3.	West Virginia,	2.
Maryland,	13.	Wisconsin,	3.
Massachusetts,	57.
Michigan,	6.	Canada,	1.
Minnesota,	5.	England,	1.
Missouri,	12.
Total,			626.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

New York Bicycle Club, New York City.
Richland Ramblers, Mansfield, O.
Grand Rapids Bicycle Club, Grand Rapids, Mich.
Olathe Wheelmen, Olathe, Kan.
San Francisco Bicycle Club, San Francisco, Cal.
Detroit Bicycle Club, Detroit, Mich.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

BARGAINS. — 45 and 48 inch Stars; will be sold cheap; 1887 pattern. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR SALE. — Columbia Tandem tricycle, in perfect order, good as new; also, one Rudge Crescent tricycle; will be sold cheap to prompt buyer. W. H. DEGRAAF, 47 and 49 W. 14th St., New York City.

WANTED. — Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 48 inch or 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

TO PURCHASE. — Good second-hand single tricycle, late pattern, reasonable for cash; wanted at once. FRED'K. S. VAN HORN, No. 54 Warren St., New York City.

SMALL WHEEL CHEAP. — 42 or 44-inch, any good make; give full particulars. W. H. GEARY, No. 37 Reade St., New York City.

WANTED. — A second-hand Rudge or Victor bicyclette, former preferred, 1887 pattern, in good order, and low priced. E. BRYANT, 847 Prospect Place, Brooklyn.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 5267,

Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easily than the fra ı and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison.

Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track.

350½ MILES IN 24 HOURS

Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount a 40-pound Light Champion), of

323 MILES IN 24 HOURS.

Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5h., 38m., 44⅕s.

still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the

G. & J. BALL BEARINGS.

Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, JANUARY 20, 1888. | VOL. VI. No. 3. WHOLE NUMBER, 134.

"The Most Comprehensive Cycling Catalogue Published."

SIXTY PAGES, FORTY ENGRAVINGS.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

FOR 1888.

NOW READY. Free by mail upon application.

POPE MFG. CO. Principal Offices, 79 Franklin Street, BOSTON. Branch Houses, 12 Warren Street, NEW YORK. 291 Wabash Avenue, CHICAGO.

THE RUDGE AGENCY.

The Rudge Agency (recently relinquished by Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co.) will be continued at the same place, 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., by H. M. SABEN, who has been actively connected with the agency during the past two years. The 1888 Rudge Catalogue is now in press.

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT MONTH.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
For the League of American Wheelmen,
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES . . . . . 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS. $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

HAVE you renewed yet? Don't put it off till the last moment. Up to last Saturday we had over thirty-one hundred names on the roll, and Monday morning brought us a very heavy mail. This looks encouraging, for it surpasses, by many hundreds, the record of last year.

FROM the letters we have received, we are persuaded that any effort to make the BULLETIN other than a weekly will not meet with popular favor. The paper has been cried down a great deal, but it seems to have lost little favor with the rank and file.

WE get an occasional suggestion from a member, who says: "The League should let racing alone." The writer cares little for competition between riders, doubtless, but he forgets that there are many that do. We believe it to be one of the duties of the L. A. W. to keep the sport respectable, and no feature will more quickly bring the wheel into disrepute, if let alone, than the business of racing. The League makes rules for racing, but it does not hold race meetings, nor does it spend much money in racing interests. No member suffers for what the League does in this respect.

NEW YORK leads the way in nearly every good work. And now a Roads Improvement Association is proposed, and it will be carried out in a practtal business way; and this always leads to success.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

NOTE the appearance of the Surprise tricycle, manufactured by the Pope Manufacturing Co. Shall we not take this as an indication that the feminine element is appreciated, and that its wants are recognized and supplied? I long ago came to the conclusion that the handle-bar steering is not the best for ladies, since it is open to many serious objections, and I have more than once given utterance to my ideas. I will not undertake to say that these utterances are responsible for the new machines that have come out, for I prefer to believe that experience has read the same lesson to others that I have imbibed.

THE two machines that I refer to — the Surprise tricycle of the Pope Manufacturing Co. and the Quadricycle of the Sterling Cycle Co.— have each several points to commend themselves to the ladies. The front is open, and therefore the mount and dismount are easily accomplished; this in marked contrast with the awkward mount of the handle-bar-steered machine.

I HAVE never met with an accident on my wheel, and have no experience to draw from, but when an accident does come, whether it be an overset or a collision, I prefer to be on one of these open-front machines, rather than hemmed in by the bar of the ordinary formed tricycle. Both machines I have referred to have the open front, while they are without the objections I have always had to a two-track machine, which gives one an open front at the expense of unsteady running.

ONE more point: I believe most thoroughly that a lady should sit erect while riding. Though I have been able to do better work on the bar-steerer than I could on the side-handle steerer, I have never taken kindly to the bent-over position one has to assume, nor am I convinced that the fact that the bar-steerer weighs some twenty pounds less than my old mount had nothing to do with the results obtained.

THE Boston papers have recently been discussing the benefits of athletic training, and the ideas of leading men in each sport have been obtained and published, and to these have been added the opinions of medical men and others. It is to be expected that each man believes the sport he is interested in to be the very best for the physical development of the body, else it is hardly to be supposed that he would have followed it up. Very many say a good word for cycling, and the only word that is said to its detriment comes from those who think the best results in physical training cannot come from a sport where the shoulders are not thrown back and the chest expanded.

IT is not my purpose to controvert what these writers say, nor to evidence the beneficial results of cycling. Suffice it to say, that, upon either of the machines which I am speaking of, one can enjoy the wheel free from the objections which these critics have urged against the sport. If there are other wheels in the market that meet the want of ladies so well as these do I shall be glad to know it. Many will claim that they sit erect on a bar-steerer, and they will place themselves upright in demonstration of this; but see them on the road in an unguarded moment, and notice if the back is perpendicular.

I HAVE an interesting letter from one of the North Shore party. Maggie and Jennie were the youngest of the party, and decidedly the smallest, but nobody waited for them, and they asked for no consideration on account of youth or size. Here is Maggie's letter:

DEAR DAISIE: — Since I wrote to you last year in regard to the distance I covered in wheeling, perhaps unless I let you know this year you will think that I have lost interest in cycling. It seems to me now as though I never could be anything but enthusiastic about the wheel. This is my second year, and though I have not ridden as many miles as I hoped at the beginning of the season, still every mile has been one of pleasure. I might state one exception, such as the day when three of us returned from Gloucester, riding from Magnolia to our home in the pouring rain. I never shall forget that trip, for we had to push hard, as the roads were very muddy, consequently, in my estimation, horrible. We (my sister and I) have ridden our tandem almost exclusively this season, as we like it better; not because it is any easier to ride than our single, but we can go together, and both can enjoy the trips instead of one. We have ridden about nine hundred miles in all, counting what I have ridden on the single, the latter being very little over fifty miles. Though I had a cyclometer, I cannot tell you the exact number of miles, as it could not be depended upon, and also gave out several times. We do not have a great deal of time for riding: I do not get home at night until seven o'clock, so we only have the evenings and Sundays. We make the best use of these, however, and always enjoy what time we have. This year we have not had half the rides in the direction of Malden, of which we used to think so much. The new line of horse-car tracks put an end to that. It has brought the Newburyport road into more favor though (with tricyclists any way), and, really, in the summer time, I think that there is no prettier road anywhere near here than that turnpike. We shall always remember the "Ladies' North Shore Trip of '87." It does not seem as though there could be much improvement on that tour; and as for me, I am only waiting until '88 brings one more to be added to the list.

We watch for the BULLETIN every week, as we think the letters from the different ladies in your column "From a Feminine Point of View" very interesting. So I hope that there will be plenty more forthcoming. Yours truly,

MAGGIE KIRKWOOD.

MAPLEWOOD, MASS., Jan. 10, 1888.

A LADY rider said to me the other day: "I have quite often felt inclined to ride into Boston on my wheel and do a little shopping, but, alas, I can't ride in the business streets, and I have nowhere to store my wheel up-town, and so I have had to give up the idea." I know very well that the dealers are very polite to the ladies, and I do not doubt that any one of them would allow my friend to leave her wheel at his place; but a lady does not always like to thus put herself under obligations to a stranger, and it would be much better for all concerned were a stable established, a fee for stabling fixed, and an announcement made in the papers. I do not know that it would pay any dealer to go to the expense and trouble to set up a tricycle stable, but I do know that gentlemen pay from ten to twenty dollars a year in club dues who have no object in joining the club save to get the advantages of a wheel room, and I think it fair to suppose that very many who cannot afford to pay large club dues would patronize a stable. Then it must be remembered that ladies are not eligible to club membership.

DAISIE.

THE Massachusetts Division has appointed a special committee to provide entertainment for the delegation that will go to New York to attend the winter meeting of the L. A. W. These trips to New York are very much enjoyed by those who are in the delegations, and now it is proposed to add jollity to the jollity that is sure to come.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

On Monday evening, Jan. 9, the delegates from the six principal clubs of Philadelphia met at the handsome quarters of the Philadelphia Club to consider the preliminary steps for an organization of "the Associated Cycling Clubs of Philadelphia." The home committee of the Philadelphia Club had already arranged a proposed line of action for the new organization, which was duly submitted, and so well arranged was it that, although well talked over, so little fault could be found with it that the changes suggested by the delegates present amounted to practically nothing. The proposed association of the clubs is intended to be a kind of congress or council of the clubs, with power to act promptly when the necessity for prompt action arises without referring to the clubs for instructions. It is purely local in its intentions, and it has ample scope, and any amount of work blocked out for it. If carried out upon the lines proposed it cannot fail of support, as it is unquestionably the best thing of the kind, so far, started in this country. The delegates meet again on the 18th inst., to furthur consider the provisions of the proposed by-laws.

On Tuesday evening, 10th inst., the Tioga Club gave its annual dinner, at Guy's Hotel, Philadelphia, in connection with, or rather after, the regular monthly meeting. Quite a goodly representation surrounded the table, and the fleshpots appeared and disappeared at an alarming rate — for the Boniface. Prizes for the year's riding were presented as follows: —

For the greatest number of miles during 1887, to Richard Dallett, 2,502 miles. The club silver cup and gold medal.

For the greatest number of rides of over three miles each, to I. Van Deusen, Jr., gold medal.

For the longest ride in one day, to C. S. Liesen, 103 miles, a gold medal. Dallet had ridden 102 miles, but Liesen went him "one better."

These records are only remarkable for the fact that no Sunday riding is allowed to count in the make-up of said records.

At the after-dinner speeches Mr. John F. Simons, the oldest charter member, responded to "The History of the Club." Mr. J. Howe Adams depicted in glowing terms the future of the club and well earned his title of the "club prophet"; others gave well-considered talks, and the delegates to the new proposed association endeavored between them to give an idea of the scope of the new union. After a long and pleasant evening's entertainment the club adjourned.

The Gormully & Jeffery agency in this city will be hereafter located with Mr. Kirk Brown, who now handles the Quadrant and New Rapid wheels. The Victor agency stays with Tryon & Co., and of course the Hart Cycle Co. will do their usual best with the Columbia, of the wonderful improvements in which for this year we hear many tales. PHACTO.

The total mileage of the Elizabeth (N. J.) Wheelmen for 1887 was 22,597 miles. The individual records ranged from sixty-nine miles to 3,495. Those who rode more than a thousand miles were, Gilbert, 1,106; Finck, 1,107; L. B. Bonnett, 1,162; Decker, 1,200; Caldwell, 1,336; Bowman, 1,467; Chandler, 1,637; and D. B. Bonnett, 3,495. The latter gentleman thus won the long-distance medal. Gilbert made the largest monthly record, covering 459½ miles in July. He also is added to the list of century riders, having ridden one hundred and two miles inside twenty-four hours on the 21st of July. Eight members reported rides of fifty miles or over in the day. Ex-Captain Martin made the highest average per ride, — 22.6 miles, — but, having failed to cover a thousand miles in the year, the medal was given to L. B. Bonnett, whose average was 17.8.

THE OWL.

There has always, to wheelmen, existed a well-known connection between cycling and astronomy, and the recumbent headerite has, by means of cycling, been shown in one fleeting moment more stars of more original varieties than all the astronomers of the world have labored in vain for years to discover; but it remained for Mr. James Lick to bring astronomical observation and cycling into yet more direct practical combination, this gentleman having erected upon the summit of Mt. Hamilton, in California, the largest equatorial telescope in the world. The contract for the framework, etc., of this enormous celestial searcher, weighing nearly 200 tons, was given to a California firm, and in building same it was soon discovered that the enormous weight of the instrument would make it practically useless, since it would be almost impossible to move same rapidly and easily enough for practical purposes. While much worriment was thus being undergone, a young engineer in the employment of the company stepped foward and offered to remedy the difficulty that had proved too much for his superiors. He proposed to equip the different wheels upon which the monster revolved with ball bearings, such as he had already so satisfactorily tested upon many a bicycle rider. In an instant the difficulty was overcome, and to-day the immense mass of metal revolves upon its ball bearings, and one pound pressure thus easily moves 1,000 pounds of metal, so that an ordinary man finds no trouble in the handling of the two-hundred-ton telescope; and science thus takes another lesson from the progressive page of cycling.

Edwin Oliver, now a resident of the wild and woolly West, and well known as Gormully & Jeffery's right bower, and the president of the Lincoln Cycle Club, of Chicago, has gladdened the hearts of his many friends in New York by paying them a flying visit last week. He is as breezy a specimen of the Windy City as one could well expect to see, and, to us residents of the effete East, proves a shining example of that class of young men who go West to grow up with the weeds, and return here overflowing with the immensity of the land he has lived in. There is but one Edwin Oliver, and, unfortunately for us, Chicago owns him.

It has often been remarked that there is nothing in the world so much patented as a bicycle, and no matter what improvement or alteration one may desire to patent on it, he is at once met by the claims of about a dozen others, who have already patented the same thing twenty years ago. A case in point happened a few days since that is worth relating. A long-haired inventor made application for a patent on an entirely new kind of bicycle, and was refused upon the same old grounds, that the invention was not a new one. The bicycle was a mammoth affair, and was intended to be sustained and propelled by a smaller wheel ridden inside of it, described as a "wheel within a wheel." The examiner, who, by the by, was a Sunday-school superintendent, refused it, on the grounds that the machine had been described in Ezekial i. 16, as follows: "The appearance of the wheels and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel . . . and the wheels were lifted up over against them, for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels." There was no going back on this record, and the inventor is now devoting his genius to perfecting a "life-preserving coffin, to be used in doubtful cases of actual death." Speaking of new-fangled wheels reminds me that their failure, as a rule, results from the inventor failing to invent the riders to use them.

Good advice is said to be worth more than money, but some way, when the rider has given the manufacturer any amount of good advice about how to build wheels to meet the requirements of the riders, he finds that the manufacturer still insists on the money in payment of his bill, utterly ignoring the more valuable advice as a method of payment.

They had quite an argument the other evening in one of our city bicycle clubs on the admission of lady members, and finally, by solid vote of the married members, the motion was defeated. The argument used by one of the objectors was, "What does a woman need with a club, any way; has n't she already got the rolling-pin and the broom?" The bachelor members didn't understand the remark, but it seemed to have great effect upon the married ones.

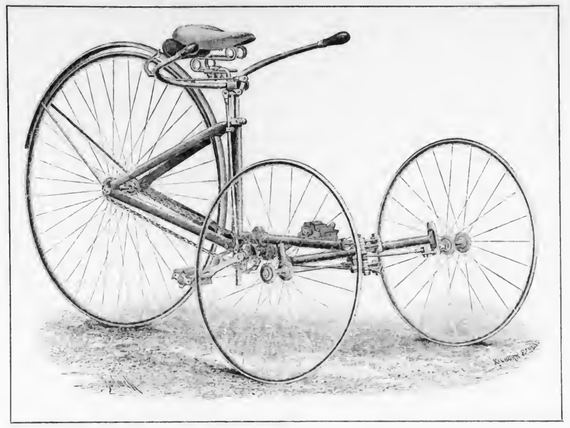
Most wheel papers these days are like some kinds of trees, — many leaves but mighty little fruit.

W. C. Herring writes me from abroad, that in a recent tour through Ireland he found he could do no night riding in one of the counties in Ireland, because he could not keep his lamp lighted. Somehow he forgot to mention which county this was, and I, like a fool, spent five cents postage on a letter to him, asking the name of the county, and I got back just this one word, "Wick-low." Thinks he 's mighty smart, I suppose.

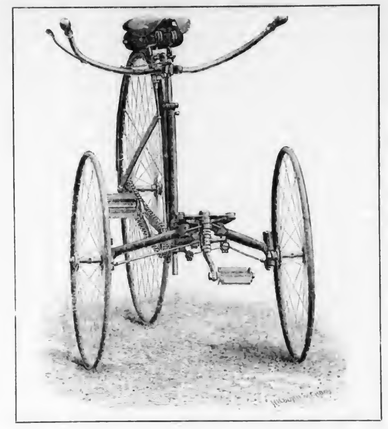
Many a young man gets his bicycle entirely upon his pa-value.

G. M. Nisbett, of the New York Bicycle Club, induced sixty-five wheelmen to join the L. A. W. last year, a record that he may well feel proud of.

Somebody, over the title of "Bi," in a recent number of the Wheel, devotes about a page of that paper to telling how he went to sleep somewhere around St. Paul's graveyard, the other night, and by the honorable method of watching through a keyhole was enabled to give almost everybody and everything in cycling a hauling over. Of course it is not expected that any one would notice any remarks on the part of any one who secured his information in so "Peeping Tom" a style, so I won't take the trouble to refute some criticisms he made there of THE OWL.



A DIALOGUE.



(Held in the new house of the Pa. Bi. Club.)

M. — "You 're welcome, comrade, come inside,
Don't stand there in the cold;
You 've had a jolly winter's ride?
Gad! old chap, you 're mighty bold
To brave this chilling wintry blast
That whistles o'er the pike;
I guess you hustled somewhat fast
That good old battered bike?"

Carlo. — "My dear old chum, it does me proud
To see your hearty welcome ways.
Let 's go in there and 'blow a cloud'
Before that genial hickory blaze,
And chat the while the smoke floats higher, —
Floats in coils of matchless grace;
Perhaps down somewhere in that fire
Gleams a well-loved roguish face."

M. — "Ha-ha! Carlo! youth 's returning;
Thought I that her face half came
Where that stubborn knot is burning;
But, surely, no! 'T is not the same.
Now, comrade, put romance in fetters,
Let your optic ponder o'er
That street-car sign, that our betters
Want NO SMOKING ON THIS FLOOR."

THE SURPRISE COLUMBIA TRICYCLE.

Manufactured by the Pope Manufacturing Company, Boston, Mass.

The Pope Manufacturing Company presents an entirely new form of tricycle for the coming season, and puts it on the market at a price very much lower than the standard machine, though it is as carefully made and the material is none the less worthy. The cut gives one a good idea of the form and details of the machine, and the brief which we publish below will supply all that is lacking to a comprehension of the wheel. The open front will commend itself to the ladies. The folding arrangement allows the wheel to be compressed to a width over all of twenty-nine inches, and this will enable the owner to take it through an ordinary doorway. The running track may be varied in width from thirty-four inches to thirty inches. The saddle, handle, and pedals are adjustable. The form of the machine renders a balance gear unnecessary, and thus one complication of the ordinary double driver is done away with.

Brief. — 32-inch driving wheel, 26-inch front steering wheels. Endless moulded rubber tires, 1 inch to driver, ¾ inch to steerers. Crescent felloes. 44 and 24 direct spokes. No. 11¼ wi e, with both ends enlarged. Copeland folding frame of seamless tubular steel. Tubular driving-wheel forks. Wallace dwarf steering-heads. Adjustable handle-bar steering. Hollow curved handle bars, adjustable for height. Vulcanite handles. Adjustable plunger brake. Adjustable crank-and-chain driving gear. Wallace sprocket-wheels. Ewart forged steel, detachable link chain. Detachable Knous cranks. Columbia "double-grip" rubber ball pedals. Columbia adjustable ball-bearings all around. Adjustable L seat-rod. Harrington cradle-spring. Knous adjustable saddle. Dust shield. Width over all, open, 39 inches; folded, 29 inches. Gear, 48¼. Weight all on, 73 pounds. Finish, enamel, and nickel tips. Price, with ball pedals, $150; with parallel pedals, $145.

There was fierce competition on Saturday amongst the frequenters of the Anchor to secure the honor, if it may be so considered, of being the first signer in the visitors' book of 1888. Eight men, we hear, waited "on the bridge at midnight," and as the last stroke of the witching hour died away sprinted for the "old house." The finish may be considered a dead-heat, but the first three names down are — Henry Cornivell (1), W. Kennedy (2), J. S. Reekie (3), all of the Polytechnic C. C. — Cyclist.

ST. LOUIS.

Ned Oliver, of Chicago, was in the city last week. I did n't get a chance to see him, but I hear he talked as enthusiastically as ever of the company he represented. I expected he would have some light to shed on Whittaker's relation to Stone's challenge, but he did n't seem to shed it if he had it.

Having heard that Frank Mehlig, the well-known rider, had been imprisoned and fined on the De Soto road late last fall, I wrote him to ascertain the facts. He is now living in De Soto, and it took some days for my letter to reach him. I received his answer the other day, and was surprised to find that such an outrage had been committed almost within sound of St. Louis, and on a road famous among cyclers the world over. Unless something is done about it, I shall be very much surprised. Mehlig says: "I started from St. Louis Nov. 23, for a ride to De Soto, to close my riding season. I had a very tough time of it, too, as the road was very bad, worse than I ever saw it, there was new macadam on it. I had to walk about half the way, and when I reached the Corker, just at the bottom and around the bluff, came a mule with part of a buggy attached to him, and in the buggy sat two men. Well, when the mule got sight of my bike, you might imagine what happened. The mule got frightened, and ran down the embankment of the bluff, upset the buggy and threw the men out. Well, as I was too tired to run fast, and the road was bad, I stood still and awaited the result. We three waited until a wagon came along, when they put my wheel in it and took myself and machine to Hillsboro, where I was locked up until the next morning, when I telegraphed to De Soto for my brother-in-law to come out and pay my fine, which was five dollars, for the damage done to the buggy. My brother-in-law came, paid the fine, and I was released, and oh, how glad I was! as it was the first time I was ever locked up, and I hope it will be the last. I don't care about making a complaint to the L. A. W. this time, as everything is settled now."

That is all very well, Mr. Mehlig, you may not wish to complain, but there are a number of wheelmen who would like to know under what antiquated law you were fined. I have ridden through Hillsboro, I have scared horses and mules on that road, and I should like to know whether I am liable for damages caused by a fool of a horse. Others who have ridden that road, or expect to, have a peculiar interest in the case, as have all who ride anywhere. If damages are thus assessable at Hillsboro, why not at Ballwin or Manchester? We want to know about this case, and we are going to find out. Of course the fine is paid, and the matter is out of court, but an investigation by the Division officials would not do any harm.

Several startling reports affecting local wheelmen have been going the rounds. One to the effect that Harry Gordon was dying of an abscess in the neck, in Denver, and the other that Alex. Nicholson had been killed in a Western town. The former turns out to have been a great exaggeration, while the latter has not been either confirmed or disproved.

"Cupid" Baker, who skipped the city some months ago, dropped in on the boys rather suddenly the other day. He is the wheelman who made the St. Louis-Boston ride two years ago. He got to flying too high some time ago, and one day had to keep right on flying.

At the last meeting of the Missouri Bicycle Club Bert Taylor was appointed librarian. This is the first step probably towards a regular club library. So far, he has no powers beyond those given him by the house committee, but in time, doubtless, he will have a wider scope; and Taylor has for many months deplored the want of any system in the handling of the club periodicals, and it is no doubt a tribute to his persistence that he is chosen to bring order out of chaos. Jack Watson having left the house committee, Billy Barron was put in his place. The house committee as it now stands is Frank Pratt, chairman, with Chauvenet and Barron.

The Missouris' last entertainment, on Thursday evening, was like each one of its predecessors par excellence, from whatever standpoint considered. There were the usual literary exercises, lasting an hour or so, and then came the presentation of the challenge road cup to E. A. Smith for making the best record during the season of 1887. A. T. Stevens, who had held it for a year past, had the honor of making the speech of presentation, and did so in an address that was loaded with sorrow and regret. He said it made his heart heavy to part with the trophy, and all the scenes which he had gone through to win it came back to him with unusual clearness as his hold on it grew slighter and slighter. He said the vividness with which the past came back alone could tell of the sadness that pressed upon his arterial system, and made his heart feel like a sugar-cured ham. Again, in his ears sounded the dull thud of the header, again he heard the gleeful growl of the Cheltenham bull-pup, and again his feet grew weary climbing old Solomon's grade. "I cannot go any further," he concluded, as a big tear thrust aside an eyelid, and promenaded down his soft and tender cheek. "No, no, I cannot sing the old songs," he gasped, as he handed over the cup to his successor, who made a neat speech in response.

GEORGE TIVY, of the Cycle Club, as usual, the past two years captured the first new-year signature in the Ballwin register. To do it this time he left the city alone, at midnight of the 31st, with the mercury at zero, and the Manchester road a succession of frozen ruts, which would have been bad enough to ride even in daylight. He made the distance in a little less than four hours. He was followed in a few minutes by Wolzendorf, the Star rider, who found it a pretty tough task keeping his little wheel out of the ruts. He says he has all the new-year register glory to last him a while. Tivy, by the way, has his features reproduced in a long article in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, giving the last season's road records, in which Tivy leads, having 5,400 miles to his credit.

A. T. STEVENS, as the mileage committee, all by himself, presented at the Missouri Club's meeting last Tuesday the club's riding record for the season of 1887, from April 1 to Dec. 1.

Only fifty-eight of the ninety-six active members kept account of their mileage. These fifty-eight made a total of over 45,000 miles. There were ten, however, who rode nearly half of this great distance. The ten, with their mileage, were as follows: E. A. Smith, 4,003 miles; W. M. Brewster, 3,671; Alex. Lewis, 2,531; C. C. Hildebrand, 2,401; E. C. Klipstein, 2,255; Bert Taylor, 1,650; W. P. Grath, 1,557; E. B. Kidson, 1,450; A. W. Douglass, 1,308; Robert Holm, 1,228. The total of these ten was 22,054 miles, and the average per day was nine miles.

E. A. SMITH, who thus gets the club medal for 1887, and the trophy until it is wrested from him, is connected with the Missouri Safe Deposit Company. He is one of the new riders, having joined the Missouris less than a year ago, and having begun riding in earnest not much before. Although a little short of the 1886 record of Stevens, 4,178¼, Smith's biggest month was ahead of another thirty-days' ride. He covered 1,130 in September against 1,058 made by Stevens in one of the months of 1885. Smith's total by months was as follows: April, 325; May, 350; June, 370; July, 453; August, 562; September, 1,130; October, 483; November, 330. His longest single-day ride was 94 miles, made mostly over the Creve Cœur and the Manchester roads. The presentation of the prizes of the year will be made at the club entertainment next Thursday, the 12th. I understand that A. T. Stevens, the present and modest holder of the medal, is required by the rules of war to make the presentation.

OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.

NO VICTOR TEAM FOR 1888.

To the Cycling Public: — We beg to announce that we have "retired from the path," and shall hereafter leave to the amateur all the glory that is to be won in that arena. We now feel that the state of things which has existed in this connection has been and can be productive of no benefit to any of the parties concerned, and our present action is the result of this conviction. We have proved our ability to make wheels capable of being ridden as fast as the fastest. Ours were the first American wheels to hold world records, and we have at times during the past three years held more world records than any other one make.

As regards "records" made outside of competition, they are a standing jest among wheelmen, and are accounted more wind than record. It is evident that the riding public believes that attempts are being made to impose on it, in the matter of "records" made only on paper. It has been said that there are riders who require only to know what is desired, and straightway there is forthcoming a "record" built to order, regardless of conditions or possibilities.

In the great Clarksville race, where was fought the greatest wheel battle ever seen in this or any other land, the Victor was found at the front, taking both first and second places. Such contests alone are of value in deciding the merits of different wheels. We propose hereafter to spend our coin in making machines, not in paying riders to show them. We are the first to take this stand, and expect to be the last to recede from the position so taken.

Very truly yours,
OVERMAN WHEEL CO.
A. H. OVERMAN, President.

ARIEL WHEEL CLUB, POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.

AFTER five years of active interest in wheeling, the Ariel Wheel Club, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has resolved itself out of existence. The club, which was organized in 1882, has had considerable influence among the wheeling fraternity of Dutchess County, and is known to many wheelmen of the country. The club-rooms were the headquarters of the visitors and delegates at the annual meet of the American Division of the C. T. C., which was held in Poughkeepsie in 1884, and became the place of rendezvous and recuperation for many of the members of the "Big Four" tour of 1885. In fact, the latch-string has always been on the outside of the club-room doors for visiting wheelmen.

To create an interest in wheeling in the community was the sole purpose of the organization, and the club, which ranked sixth or seventh on the list of L. A. W. clubs in the State of New York, dissolves now because of the fact that many of its members have given up riding or have sold their wheels, which seemed to be likely to lessen the interest of the club in the sport. It is the purpose of the riding members to continue their membership in the League, and, as individuals, their efforts in behalf of good roads and equal rights will not be abated.

DENVER.

THE Christmas cycling carnival of the Denver Ramblers, held at the Mammoth Rink, Dec. 26 to 31, was a grand success. H. V. Croll and R. Gerwing made the prettiest race ever exhibited in Denver. H. G. Kennedy is rapidly coming to the front as a fancy rider, and will soon hold the State championship. The drill squad went through some difficult and entertaining movements. As a result of the carnival, several committees are at work furnishing decorations for the club rooms. Several Ramblers now have cyclometers which register in the neighborhood of fifty miles since the 1st of January. Kid Gordon will be out again next week, after a six weeks' attack of erysipelas.

RETLAW.

BUFFALO.

A HAPPY New Year to the L. A. W. and BULLETIN, and may its course be ever prosperous! Bicycling news is very scarce just now, but your "humble" has been able to gather a few "spokes" to show you we're not dead yet. In your issue of the 6th inst., I see Buffalo is chosen as the place of meeting. I hope they will act upon the suggestion of "a well-known member of the League" in regard to increasing the membership dues and allowing a discount to clubs that qualify as League clubs. As it stands now, the League offers no inducement to clubs to join.

THE Ramblers gave their second annual assembly Dec. 14, which was fairly successful, being handicapped by counter attractions, although a very enjoyable time was had. Niagara Falls wheelmen were present, and I'm afraid left their hearts behind them. There is another assembly slated for about the middle of next month, to which we extend an invitation to one and all L. A. W. members to be present.

THESE cold evenings you will always find the club-rooms far from quiet, with a group of riders here and there discussing the "famous" rides taken the past season, and what they intend to do the next. The election of officers took place at the regular meeting, Jan. 7, and we are now prepared to "outdo or be outdone," which, I am sure, will not be the latter.

THE Buffalo Club's new house is rapidly nearing completion, and all the apartments will be in readiness in a few days to receive its members. The club extends a kind invitation to the L. A. W. committee to hold their meeting in the new club-house. The formal opening will take place about that time, and no efforts will be spared to make t e occasion one to be remembered and keep up the social standing and prosp rity of the club. The club has a total mileage of sixty thousand miles for 1887, which, in addition to the Ramblers' twenty-eight thousand miles, is a splendid record for the Buffalo wheelmen.

MR. DUCKER is to have a large tournament here this year, and, I hear, is engaging some of the "big" riders to attend. I hope he will be successful in his undertaking. If any man can make it a "go," Ducker is that man. I'm sure our wheelmen will do all in their power to aid him. He has my best wishes for success.

BISON.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

THE WRONG BRUTE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In your issue of Jan. 6 I note a very curious method of subduing the road-hog.

"Omen" relates that Percy Stone recently used his skates with telling effect on a specimen of the aforementioned class of humanity, by striking his horse a blow between the eyes, staggering him, and making him go plunging down the street as if the fiends were after him (which in one instance at least might have been the case). I admit, Mr. Editor, that the striking of the road-hog between the eyes might have been excusable, but I fail to see how such treatment of the road-hog's horse, if it became general among wheelmen, would bring about the results desired. I fear that if all cyclists endeavored to conquer one beast by brutally maltreating another they would themselves soon degenerate into the worst class of road-hog. "ANTI-HOG."

WESTERN AMENITIES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I have seen in BULLETIN of Jan. 6, 1888, an item from St. Louis, speaking of the contest between St. Louis and Chicago cyclers at Quincy, Ill., and placing Sanders in rather a glaring light, as if he had pushed Bowbeer hard or hustled him. But he did not. An ordinary, inoffensive individual by the name of Myers, from the little burg of Peoria, Ill., did Sanders up in every heat. In fact this village by the lake will have Chicago's scalp before St. Louis gets it, if it depends on such men as Sanders. Now St. Louis has already laid claim to Stone's having carried off the best medal for hill climbing. But the aforesaid Myers has a medal worth perhaps three times as much, and one of the finest ever offered for such a contest, given for the amateur record at the same time and place, in spite of Stone's boast that "it was a cold day when the professionals get left, and that he would carry home the best medal." We like to hear men boast: it shows spirit; but when St. Louis wants to put Sanders after a scalp, just drop him off at Peoria, Ill. We have a track, good roads, a hill or two, and a beardless youth who will hustle him a round or so.

P. O. RIA.

PEORIA, ILL., Jan. 9, 1888.

The Faculty of Harvard prohibited the baseball nine from playing with professional nines for the same reasons that are urged for the present amateur law, and it is generally confessed that the style of playing has deteriorated, without the honorableness (if I may say so) at all being improved, and very likely this rule will be changed soon.

KAY BEE.

THAT B. C. W. RECORD.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I desire to make a few corrections to the article by No. 67,368 in the BULLETIN of Jan. 6. I see in this article the writer admits that my record up to July 4 was 1,459 miles. Thanks, 459 miles more than I got credit for in your article in the Providence Journal.

Now my total record for the month of May, as received week by week, and posted by the committee, was 950 miles, or an average of about thirty miles per day for the entire month, which included several rainy days.

During this month, in company with Mr. Turner, I made a single day's record of 131 1-2 miles. Nothing is said of these facts by the writer, but what appears to stick in his crop is that I should have been able to cover 515 miles in twenty-one days during the following July.

"Several members of my club are willing to swear to it." So they are, and so am I, but what I defy the writer to prove is that these miles were made in four days, as repeatedly stated by him.

And as for "hearing my club-mates talk," I have had the pleasure of hearing several of them talk on this subject, and can only say that I am perfectly safe in leaving my reputation in this matter in the hands of the boys. No. 8,179.

[This correspondence must must now cease. ED.]

REORGANIZATION.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The time for the meeting of the board for the revision of the constitution is rapidly approaching, and various suggestions have been ventilated in print, but it is a noticeable fact that the principal agitators of League reform have been rather backward in coming to the front and portraying their ideas. Although not quite as prominent a member of the L. A. W. as a good many to whom I refer, I beg to set forth my own ideas in regard to our national organization. The L. A. W. has had prosperous and somewhat unprosperous years since its foundation, and in the future I should hope to see greater interest taken in the association by our largest clubs, and "put their shoulders to the wheel" in obtaining recruits to the L. A. W. ranks. For a country like ours a membership of about 12,000 is, to say the least, small, and can only be increased by the wheelmen taking more interest in the League's welfare and prosperity. The national body should be governed by representatives from the divisions, as at present, and the sole objects of this body of representatives should be the contesting in law of all cases pertaining to cycling throughout the country, and the issuing of a monthly organ in place of a weekly, thereby decreasing one expense.

The wheeling interests do not want a periodical devoted to such matters as the contemporaries now write about which are foreign from cycling, and also clippings from previous issues of other papers, but they want an organ devoted to matters that are instructive to cyclers, and topics that are of general interest among wheelmen.

Secondly, the divisions should retain three quarters of the annual dues received from the members, and not let same lie idle in a treasury, or bank it up to accumulate, but spend it judiciously in the placing of sign-posts for tourists and other necessities for the good of wheelmen. Increase the annual dues to $2.00, and, with a total membership in the League of, say, 12,000, divided one quarter to the national body, would be $6,000 per year for the contesting of law cases, and the issuing of a monthly organ, which should, with proper management, pay for itself by the advertisements, as a monthly periodical generally brings in higher prices advertising than a weekly.

In increasing the dues to $2.00, it would not be considered as exorbitant when it is to be used only for the wheelmen interest as above. Lastly, the racing interests should not be governed by the League, which should have no jurisdiction over same; the distinction between amateur and professional should be obliterated, and also the word amateur, in the L. A. W. Constitution and By-Laws, leaving the requisites for admission to our ranks, viz., that the applicant be proposed and seconded by two active members. Then racing would take a boom, and we would see not only more competitors in the races but more spectators, and more successful race meets.

Road races would gradually become extinct, as a small club could then make a race meet a success, as they would have enough well-contested races to draw a large attendance; and surely road racing can never be profitable, and it is rapidly declining.

ZANY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.

ANOTHER CYCLE ROAD.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Encouraged by the success of Binghamton, N. Y., wheelmen in building a path to Union, the Holyoke Bicycle Club, at its last meeting, elected a committee of three to raise the money and build a path to Northampton, Mass., nine and a half miles, and a subscription list has been started for this purpose.

All the agitation for better roads the last few years has produced so little effect that many wheelmen are concluding that they must put their hands into their own pockets, if they are to get decent roads.

It is singular with what apathy the farmers and horsemen look upon this subject of roads.

5,253.

HOLYOKE, MASS., Jan. 16, 1888.

THE following statement, taken from the Sporting Life, should not go unchallenged by those it implicates. For the good name of the sport, we hesitate to believe these statements till further light is thrown upon the transaction: "The Whittaker McCurdy five-mile bicycle race for $2,500, and which was to have taken place at the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, last Monday night, was prevented, owing to the bursting of steam-pipes. The race was ordered for the next evening, but did not occur, owing to objections from both men. The whole week was consumed in wrangling. In the mean time the stakes had been increased to $4,000 a side and $9,000 in wagers on the outside had been posted by the admirers of each on the result. McCurdy, however, finally refused to race at the time set by Referee Carlisle, and the latter declared Whittaker the winner, and Friday morning paid Whittaker's backer, W. A. Tanner, $16,400, the full amount placed in his hands.

"'I could see no other way out of the matter than to turn the money over to Tanner,' said Mr. Wood. Those fellows brought McCurdy on here from Boston with the purpose of doing up Minneapolis men, and they bought up Whittaker to 'throw' the race, because they knew that he could beat McCurdy. Whittaker had an agreement in his pocket, signed by McCurdy's backer, in which they promised to give him $2,500 to 'throw' the race. They then began to fear that the other side had bought him up, and their scheme was then to prevent the race."

WHEELS FOR 1888.

Our Catalogue of Bicycles for the season of '88 is now ready to be mailed to those interested.

ALL GRADES. ALL SIZES. ALL PRICES.

Those contemplating a purchase will do well to examine what we have to offer.

AGENTS especially should carefully study our line before contracting for their season's supply.

ST. NICHOLAS MFG. CO., FACTORY AND OFFICE, 784 to 794 Madison Street - - - Chicago, Ill.

THEY speak of the dangers of cycling; what sport is there that has not dangers? In foot-ball you are liable to get your bones broken or your shins barked; in cricket to get your head cracked with the ball, and other petty injuries; and I think it will be found the same with every sport under the sun. Danger, — it is the danger in our sports that makes us the bold and fearless Englishmen that we are. — English Exchange.

A CORRESPONDENT from New York State writes: "I wish you would publish an article in the BULLETIN in regard to tourists stopping at L. A. W. hotels. There were several through here last year, who were League men, who stopped at all the other hotels but the L. A. W. one, and it 's pretty hard work to get a reduction at a certain hotel, and then have men go to some other."

MR. J. J. BOLT, of Portsmouth, England, has recently patented an improved mud-guard, which affords more efficient protection than those now in use, and is not liable to be bent or broken by catching in obstacles on the road. It is made longer than the ordinary mud-guard, and jointed at the lower end, to allow of its passing over stones or other obstacles, a spring attachment compelling it to return to its ordinary position when the obstacle is passed. It is simple and cheap, and the additional weight is but trifling.

"IN travelling through the country I have had, of course, a great many amusing experiences. In the Ozark Mountains, in Southern Missouri, the inhabitants had never seen a bicycle, and insisted that we were the advance agents of a circus. It was also in this district that I got into the only actual row in which I was ever engaged. Two countrymen with a load of wood refused to allow us to pass them, and one of them struck Gould with his whip. This was too much for the endurance of even Quaker City riders, and when we proceeded on our way, one of the citizens of the 'Muddy River State' was feet up in a ditch and the other one had entirely vanished. As a rule, touring wheelmen receive uniformly hospitable treatment, and it is only in back districts like the one mentioned that riders experience difficulty with drivers. At one house in a small town in Kentucky, where we stopped to inquire about meals, the proprietor appeared with a shotgun and significantly pointed to a sign on the gate-post: 'No bums fed hear.'"— W. T. Fleming, of Philadelphia, to an interviewer.

HINTS FOR PROSPECTIVE CYCLING TOURISTS IN ENGLAND. — Particulars of tour at very moderate cost, — things they most want to know, twenty-five cents, of STAMSON, Stamford, Conn.

Have You Renewed?
IF NOT, COME RIGHT ALONG.

Mention this paper, and we will include good linen tape-measure.

THE FAMOUS PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

Send 6 cts. for SAMPLES and MEASURE BLANKS.

Every pair custom-made by Plymouth Rock Pants Co., 18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

STEEL BALL OF BEST CAST-STEEL, FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS,

HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1.00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Bind "The Bulletin" Yourself.

A Binder keeps the covers clean, keeps the file complete, and keeps back numbers where they can be easily referred to.

The beauty of the UNIVERSAL BINDER is that its back varies in width according to the thickness of the matter between the covers, so that, whether the binder contains one BULLETIN or any number, it looks almost exactly like an ordinary bound volume, and the magazine can be opened with perfect ease. The Binder does not hurt them for stitching later on, and some or all of them can be removed at will.

This magazine is an odd size, and the UNIVERSAL is made to order to fit, with "THE BULLETIN" handsomely stamped on the cover. It will be sent to any address for One Dollar.

Address, ABBOT BASSETT, Box 5267, Boston, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

CYCLETS.

THE League

WILL reorganize,

WILL turn over a new leaf,

AND start with a new lease of life.

THE organization has outgrown its present rules,

AND new ones must be framed in order that work may be done more effectually.

THE new leaf will not be turned till later in the year, and not before every step is well considered.

BOXING is a favorite divertisement with the London clubs.

IT is stated that Kluge will ride a Columbia racer in future races.

THE Denver Ramblers have elected a club poet on the regular list of officers.

A. B. BARKMAN, of Spalding & Bro., was in town last week, looking up trade interests.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO. will have a New York house, and Edwin Oliver will manage it.

THE League will be invited to go to Baltimore, and the date is suggested for about June 15.

THE wheel reported missing from the rooms of the Calumet Club of Brooklyn has been recovered.

IT is said that W. S. Atwell, with Wm. Read & Son, has prepared a new liquid enamel that will commend itself.

L. B. GAYLOR writes that the Eagle bicycle will be on the market the coming season, and that it will be pushed for all it is worth.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., will give its second entertainment and dance, Thursday evening, Feb. 2, at Eliot Hall.

THE cyclists Howell, Woodside, and Terront defeated the cowboys in the six-days' race at Birmingham by a score of 804 miles to 795 miles.

WOODSIDE has respectfully declined the purse which was being raised for him in honor of his plucky riding against the cowboys in London.

NEW YORK wheelmen mourn the loss of Dr. Wm. H. Austin, who has been a wheelman for many years, and who has many friends in the Brooklyn clubs.

LAST Tuesday was the anniversary of the New York meeting. It was a very stormy occasion. Let us hope that its like will not occur again.

THE Royal Fire Insurance Company, of New York, sends us a very neat calendar for 1888 — one of the large-figure affairs, that business men like so well.

Outing has again changed hands. The new management will be shortly announced, and there is good promise that it will come back to the fold as a wheelman's paper.

THE Long Island Wheelmen bowled out the Harlem Wheelmen on the smooth and slippery alley, Jan. 6, to the tune of 1,601 to 1,524. A return game was down for last evening.

HARRY ETHERINGTON will back Mr. Kaufmann as the best of all trick riders, and Senator Morgan will furnish one or two men to meet him. The contest will take place in London.

THE Buffalo Bicycle Club heads the list of clubs thus far in point of numbers. They have sent in eighty-seven names. The New York Club is number two, with seventy-one names.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen (N. Y.) will give a thousand-mile medal to each member who rides one thousand miles, beginning Jan. 1, 1888, and an extra bar for each successive thousand miles.

PEORIA, ILL., is talking. We always set down Chicago and St. Louis as the giant cities of the West, but now comes little Peoria, with the boast that the scalp of each shall one day hang at her belt.

THE Massachusetts Road Book will be sent out March 1. It will be ready before that time, but it has been thought best to wait until the close of the renewal season before delivering them to members.

THE Victor Junior is the name given by the Overman Wheel Company to their new wheel for boys. It will be made in sizes from 38 to 50 inch, and sell for $75 for the largest size, with a discount of $5.00 for each size less.

A FAMILIAR sight in the Park is W. A. Rogers — Harlem Wheelmen — and his dog. The dog is tied to the step of the wheel and the pedal comes within a few inches of his head as he trots joyously along beside the rider.—Wheel.

THE Times-Democrat, New Orleans, for Jan. 1, has sketches and pictures of popular New Orleans wheelmen, including, Ed. Shields, president of the N. O. Club, Benjamin C. Rea, the captain, Frank Fenner, and Harry W. Fairfax.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club gave a dinner at the Tremont House, Friday evening, complimentary to E. J. Woodworth, for a long time the secretary of the club, and who is soon to go to Texas to engage in business. The affair was informal.

RUDGE & Co. are making the Kempster rowing tricycle. The English patents have 17369 Sherwood, W. F., 1918 So. 11th St., Philadelphia.

Unattached.

17370 Bair, Edw. W., Hanover.
17371 Ewing, W. Brown, M. D., Dixmont.
17372 Graham, Geo. G., "
17398 Hayes, Wm. V., Box 414, Lewisburgh.
17373 Lott, W. E., Clifford.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 2.

Crescent Bi Club.

The officers write that nearly all the active members will join the League, though the club has withdrawn as a club.

SENATOR MORGAN has written a book, a copy of which has been received. It contains biographical sketches of the cyclists comprising the American team, Richard Howell and Charles Terront; also sketches of the cowboys Broncho Charley and Marve Beardsley.

THE Records Committee of the National Cyclists' Union have passed the claim of G. P. Mills to the 100-mile tricycle record (road) — time, 7.46.33 — on Sept. 24, in N. R. C. C. 100-mile race. The claim of C. W. Brown, with respect to his 100-mile tricycle ride on Oct. 21, has not been allowed, as the evidence as to time is not satisfactory.

W. S. DOANE, of the Dorchester Club, and formerly with Stoddard, Lovering & Co., has gone to Chicago to take charge of the cycle department of the firm that has secured the local agency of the Springfield Roadster. He will be a valuable man to the firm, and will add a strong rider to the Chicago contingent.

THE New Mail makes its 1888 bow in this issue, and it is an obeisance that will find much favor. The machine has passed through its first year with great success. Its special features have proved good ones. The ball-head finds favor with the riders. Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons control the Trigwell patents for America, and are, therefore, able to present the only ball-head that will hold the balls when the neck is taken out. The firm report larger orders for the coming season than were ever booked before.

FROM the Anheuser-Busch Brewery, at St. Louis, we have received a beautiful calendar, which is ornamented with a sprig of roses and the picture of a beautiful young lady. We have heard of "Wine, Woman, and Song," and are not lost to the attractions of either, but there is something entrancing in the association of beer, woman, and dates, which this calendar happily combines.

TOM ECK has issued a challenge to John S. Prince and S. G. Whittaker in behalf of Frank E. Dingley and Wilbur F. Knapp. He will match the latter two against the former two for a "six-day eight-hour-per-day race, the combined scores of each team to count together, or the man who makes the most miles, of either team, to be the winner, and he is willing to make the race for five hundred dollars a side and sixty-five per cent of the gate receipts to the winner and thirty-five per cent to the loser, said race to take place in the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, any time within one month."

FRANK DINGLEY started to break the 100-mile indoor bicycle record at eight o'clock at the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 11. Whittaker and McCurdy paced him. His object in making the attempt was to win a two-hundred-dollar prize, offered by his employers. Dingley mounted his wheel in excellent form, and made the first five miles in 16.20. From this time on the mercury dropped rapidly in the rink, and, after having ridden twenty-five miles, Dingley was forced to dismount for good on account of the cold. His time for the twenty-five miles was 1.23.10. He will make another attempt when the weather is more favorable.

view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

THE Calumet Cycling Club, of Brooklyn, has awarded prizes for mileage during the year past. The first prize for road riding during 1887 was won by First Lieutenant Bonner, with a record of 2,333 miles, and the second prize by Captain Jones, with 2,080 miles. Mr Bonner rod ninety days, averaging 26 miles. His best month was May, with 617 miles, and his best ride in one day, 66 miles. Mr. Jones rode eighty-seven days, averaging 24 miles. His best month was May, with 402 miles, and his best day's ride, 66 miles. A good number in the club were close to 2,000 miles.

THE Columbia Bicycle Catalogue for 1888 has just been published by the Pope Manufacturing Company, of Boston, New York, and Chicago. It is a handsomely printed book of sixty pages, illustrated with forty fine wood engravings. In it appear descriptions of the Light Roadster, Expert, Volunteer (new), Veloce (new), Safety, Semi-Roadster, Standard, and Racer Columbia bicycles, and the Light Roadster, Ladies' Two-Track, Surprise (new), Tandem, and Racer Columbia tricycles. This catalogue, which is the most comprehensive of its class published, will be sent free by mail upon application.

THE Massachusetts Club is flourishing, and will soon show those who think it dead that it still lives. At the last meeting the by-laws were amended so as to allow the admission of associate members. Such members must be non-

WHEELS FOR 1888.

Our Catalogue of Bicycles for the season of '88 is now ready to be mailed to those interested.

ALL GRADES. ALL SIZES. ALL PRICES.

Those contemplating a purchase will do well to examine what we have to offer.

AGENTS especially should carefully study our line before contracting for their season's supply.

ST. NICHOLAS MFG. CO., FACTORY AND OFFICE, 784 to 794 Madison Street - - - Chicago, Ill.

THEY speak of the dangers of cycling; what sport is there that has not dangers? In foot-ball you are liable to get your bones broken or your shins barked; in cricket to get your head cracked with the ball, and other petty injuries; and I think it will be found the same with every sport under the sun. Danger, — it is the danger in our sports that makes us the bold and fearless Englishmen that we are. — English Exchange.

A CORRESPONDENT from New York State writes: "I wish you would publish an article in the BULLETIN in regard to tourists stopping at L. A. W. hotels. There were several through here last year, who were League men, who stopped at all the other hotels but the L. A. W. one, and it 's pretty hard work to get a reduction at a certain hotel, and then have men go to some other."

MR. J. J. BOLT, of Portsmouth, England, has recently patented an improved mud-guard, which affords more efficient protection than those now in use, and is not liable to be bent or broken by catching in obstacles on the road. It is made longer than the ordinary mud-guard, and jointed at the lower end, to allow of its passing over stones or other obstacles, a spring attachment compelling it to return to its ordinary position when the obstacle is passed. It is simple and cheap, and the additional weight is but trifling.

"IN travelling through the country I have had, of course, a great many amusing experiences. In the Ozark Mountains, in Southern Missouri, the inhabitants had never seen a bicycle, and insisted that we were the advance agents of a circus. It was also in this district that I got into the only actual row in which I was ever engaged. Two countrymen with a load of wood refused to allow us to pass them, and one of them struck Gould with his whip. This was too much for the endurance of even Quaker City riders, and when we proceeded on our way, one of the citizens of the 'Muddy River State' was feet up in a ditch and the other one had entirely vanished. As a rule, touring wheelmen receive uniformly hospitable treatment, and it is only in back districts like the one mentioned that riders experience difficulty with drivers. At one house in a small town in Kentucky, where we stopped to inquire about meals, the proprietor appeared with a shotgun and significantly pointed to a sign on the gate-post: 'No bums fed hear.'" — W. T. Fleming, of Philadelphia, to an interviewer.

HINTS FOR PROSPECTIVE CYCLING TOURISTS IN ENGLAND.— Particulars of tour at very moderate cost,— things they most want to know, twenty-five cents, of STAMSON, Stamford, Conn.

Have You Renewed?
IF NOT, COME RIGHT ALONG.

Mention this paper, and we will include good linen tape-measure.

THE FAMOUS PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

Every pair custom-made by Plymouth Rock Pants Co., 18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

Send 6 cts. for SAMPLES and MEASURE BLANKS.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 312 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 812 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

STEEL BALL OF BEST CAST-STEEL, FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS, HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Bind "The Bulletin" Yourself.

A Binder keeps the covers clean, keeps the file complete, and keeps back numbers where they can be easily referred to.

The beauty of the UNIVERSAL BINDER is that its back varies in width according to the thickness of the matter between the covers, so that, whether the binder contains one BULLETIN or any number, it looks almost exactly like an ordinary bound volume, and the magazine can be opened with perfect ease. The Binder does not hurt them for stitching later on, and some or all of them can be removed at will.

This magazine is an odd size, and the UNIVERSAL is made to order to fit, with "THE BULLETIN" handsomely stamped on the cover. It will be sent to any address for One Dollar.

Address, ABBOT BASSETT, Box 5267. Boston, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

CYCLETS.

THE League
WILL reorganize,
WILL turn over a new leaf,
AND start with a new lease of life.

THE organization has outgrown its present rules,
AND new ones must be framed in order that work may be done more effectually.

THE new leaf will not be turned till later in the year, and not before every step is well considered.

BOXING is a favorite divertisement with the London clubs.

IT is stated that Kluge will ride a Columbia racer in future races.

THE Denver Ramblers have elected a club poet on the regular list of officers.

A. B. BARKMAN, of Spalding & Bro., was in town last week, looking up trade interests.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. Co. will have a New York house, and Edwin Oliver will manage it.

THE League will be invited to go to Baltimore, and the date is suggested for about June 15.

THE wheel reported missing from the rooms of the Calumet Club of Brooklyn has been recovered.

IT is said that W. S. Atwell, with Wm. Read & Son, has prepared a new liquid enamel that will commend itself.

L. B. GAYLOR writes that the Eagle bicycle will be on the market the coming season, and that it will be pushed for all it is worth.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., will give its second entertainment and dance, Thursday evening, Feb. 2, at Eliot Hall.

THE cyclists Howell, Woodside, and Terront defeated the cowboys in the six-days' race at Birmingham by a score of 804 miles to 795 miles.

WOODSIDE has respectfully declined the purse which was being raised for him in honor of his plucky riding against the cowboys in London.

NEW YORK wheelmen mourn the loss of Dr. Wm. H. Austin, who has been a wheelman for many years, and who has many friends in the Brooklyn clubs.

LAST Tuesday was the anniversary of the New York meeting. It was a very stormy occasion. Let us hope that its like will not occur again.

THE Royal Fire Insurance Company, of New York, sends us a very neat calendar for 1888 — one of the large-figure affairs, that business men like so well.

Outing has again changed hands. The new management will be shortly announced, and there is good promise that it will come back to the fold as a wheelman's paper.

THE Long Island Wheelmen bowled out the Harlem Wheelmen on the smooth and slippery alley, Jan. 6, to the tune of 1,601 to 1,524. A return game was down for last evening.

HARRY ETHERINGTON will back Mr. Kaufmann as the best of all trick riders, and Senator Morgan will furnish one or two men to meet him. The contest will take place in London.

THE Buffalo Bicycle Club heads the list of clubs thus far in point of numbers. They have sent in eighty-seven names. The New York Club is number two, with seventy-one names.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen (N. Y.) will give a thousand-mile medal to each member who rides one thousand miles, beginning Jan. 1, 1888, and an extra bar for each successive thousand miles.

PEORIA, ILL., is talking. We always set down Chicago and St. Louis as the giant cities of the West, but now comes little Peoria, with the boast that the scalp of each shall one day hang at her belt.

THE Massachusetts Road Book will be sent out March 1. It will be ready before that time, but it has been thought best to wait until the close of the renewal season before delivering them to members.

THE Victor Junior is the name given by the Overman Wheel Company to their new wheel for boys. It will be made in sizes from 38 to 50 inch, and sell for $75 for the largest size, with a discount of $5.00 for each size less.

A FAMILIAR sight in the Park is W. A. Rogers — Harlem Wheelmen — and his dog. The dog is tied to the step of the wheel and the pedal comes within a few inches of his head as he trots joyously along beside the rider.— Wheel.

THE Times-Democrat, New Orleans, for Jan. 1, has sketches and pictures of popular New Orleans wheelmen, including, Ed. Shields, president of the N. O. Club, Benjamin C. Rea, the captain, Frank Fenner, and Harry W. Fairfax.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club gave a dinner at the Tremont House, Friday evening, complimentary to E. J. Woodworth, for a long time the secretary of the club, and who is soon to go to Texas to engage in business. The affair was informal.

RUDGE & Co. are making the Kempster rowing tricycle. The English patents have

The officers write that nearly all the active members will join the League, though the club has withdrawn as a club.

SENATOR MORGAN has written a book, a copy of which has been received. It contains biographical sketches of the cyclists comprising the American team, Richard Howell and Charles Terront; also sketches of the cowboys Broncho Charley and Marve Beardsley.

THE Records Committee of the National Cyclists' Union have passed the claim of G. P. Mills to the 100-mile tricycle record (road) — time, 7.46.33 — on Sept. 24, in N. R. C. C. 100-mile race. The claim of C. W. Brown, with respect to his 100-mile tricycle ride on Oct. 21, has not been allowed, as the evidence as to time is not satisfactory.

W. S. DOANE, of the Dorchester Club, and formerly with Stoddard, Lovering & Co., has gone to Chicago to take charge of the cycle department of the firm that has secured the local agency of the Springfield Roadster. He will be a valuable man to the firm, and will add a strong rider to the Chicago contingent.

THE New Mail makes its 1888 bow in this issue, and it is an obeisance that will find much favor. The machine has passed through its first year with great success. Its special features have proved good ones. The ball-head finds favor with the riders. Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons control the Trigwell patents for America, and are, therefore, able to present the only ball-head that will hold the balls when the neck is taken out. The firm report larger orders for the coming season than were ever booked before.

FROM the Anheuser-Busch Brewery, at St. Louis, we have received a beautiful calendar, which is ornamented with a sprig of roses and the picture of a beautiful young lady. We have heard of "Wine, Woman, and Song," and are not lost to the attractions of either, but there is something entrancing in the association of beer, woman, and dates, which this calendar happily combines.

TOM ECK has issued a challenge to John S. Prince and S. G. Whittaker in behalf of Frank E. Dingley and Wilbur F. Knapp. He will match the latter two against the former two for a "six-day eight-hour-per-day race, the combined scores of each team to count together, or the man who makes the most miles, of either team, to be the winner, and he is willing to make the race for five hundred dollars a side and sixty-five per cent of the gate receipts to the winner and thirty-five per cent to the loser, said race to take place in the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, any time within one month."

FRANK DINGLEY started to break the 100-mile indoor bicycle record at eight o'clock at the Washington Rink, Minneapolis, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 11. Whittaker and McCurdy paced him. His object in making the attempt was to win a two-hundred-dollar prize, offered by his employers. Dingley mounted his wheel in excellent form, and made the first five miles in 16.20. From this time on the mercury dropped rapidly in the rink, and, after having ridden twenty-five miles, Dingley was forced to dismount for good on account of the cold. His time for the twenty-five miles was 1.23.10. He will make another attempt when the weather is more favorable.

THE Calumet Cycling Club, of Brooklyn, has awarded prizes for mileage during the year past. The first prize for road riding during 1887 was won by First Lieutenant Bonner, with a record of 2,333 miles, and the second prize by Captain Jones, with 2,080 miles. Mr Bonner rod ninety days, averaging 26 miles. His best month was May, with 617 miles, and his best ride in one day, 66 miles. Mr. Jones rode eighty-seven days, averaging 24 miles. His best month was May, with 402 miles, and his best day's ride, 66 miles. A good number in the club were close to 2,000 miles.

THE Columbia Bicycle Catalogue for 1888 has just been published by the Pope Manufacturing Company, of Boston, New York, and Chicago. It is a handsomely printed book of sixty pages, illustrated with forty fine wood engravings. In it appear descriptions of the Light Roadster, Expert, Volunteer (new), Veloce (new), Safety, Semi-Roadster, Standard, and Racer Columbia bicycles, and the Light Roadster, Ladies' Two-Track, Surprise (new), Tandem, and Racer Columbia tricycles. This catalogue, which is the most comprehensive of its class published, will be sent free by mail upon application.

THE Massachusetts Club is flourishing, and will soon show those who think it dead that it still lives. At the last meeting the by-laws were amended so as to allow the admission of associate members. Such members must be non-

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone, and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

BRANCH OFFICES IN ALL THE LEADING CITIES.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

wheelmen, and will pay an annual assessment fee of ten dollars. They will have the full use of the club-house, except for the storage of wheels, but will not have the right to vote or hold office. The club has already begun to receive applications on this list. A light supper is served by the steward after each monthly meeting, and has proved a great success. A series of musical entertainments will be inaugurated very soon, under the charge of a special committee.

A PARIS correspondent telegraphs: "The [illegible] on rails was made at [illegible] — News.

SEVERAL articles crowded out this week. Renewals are never crowded out. Have you renewed?

THE CLUB.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—Officers of the Rockingham Bicycle Club: President, C. A. Hazlett; secretary and treasurer, W. C. Walton; captain, G. E. Philbrick; 1st lieutenant, F. H. Ward; 2d lieutenant, C. W. Gray; bugler, W. W. McIntire; color-bearer, H. P. Montgomery.

WESTFIELD, N. J.—The Union County Wheelmen will continue its membership in the L. A. W. Monday, Jan. 9, the following officers were elected: President, Dr. Fred A. Kinch, Jr.; secretary, Frank E. Reese; treasurer, Chas. D. Reese; captain, Arthur N. Pierson; 1st lieutenant, John A. Brunner; 2d lieutenant, A. Farrington; color-bearer, Chas. D. Reese; bugler, John L. Hatfield.

ELIZABETH, N. J.—The annual meeting of the Elizabeth Wheelmen was held Thursday evening, Jan. 12. The following officers were elected: President, George C. Pennell; vice-president, Walter Chandler; secretary, A. N. Lukens; trustees, Aug. S. Crane, D. B Bonnett, W. N. Edelsten, E. A. Faulks and A. G. Jenkins; captain, Samuel J. Berry, Jr.; 1st lieutenant, L. B. Bonnett; 2d lieutenant, F. C. Gilbert; sergeant, A. C. Jenkins; color-bearer, W. N. Caldwell; bugler, A. N. Lukens; surgeon, D M. Miller, M. D.; legal counsel, C. A. Swift;

The question as to whether the E. W. should remain an L. A. W. club was decided in the affirmative by an almost unanimous vote. The club boasts the largest lady membership of any club in the country.

JAMAICA PLAIN.—Officers of the Jamaica Cycle Club elected Jan. 31: President, Charles A. Underwood; vice-president, William A. Mosman; secretary and treasurer, Frank P. Walker; captain, Edward C. Chase; first lieutenant, George F. Riley; second lieutenant, Joseph G. Sherman; bugler, William D. Eldridge.

DENVER.—The semi-annual election of officers of the Ramblers occurred on the evening of Jan. 5, resulting in the election of the "Non Scorchers" ticket as follows: President, J. F. Allers; captain, Robert Gerwing; secretary, W. E. Perkins; treasurer, W. L. Van Horn: first lieutenant, A. A. Morris; bugler, A. T. Hoevet; color-bearer, H. G. Kennedy; club poet and editor, W. E. Perkins.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Officers of the Chicago Bicycle Club for 1888: President, W. C. Thorne; vice-president, L. W. Conkling; captain, F. A. Ingalls; secretary and treasurer, Richard E. Schmidt; lieutenants, R. G. Surbridge, Jno. Valentine and J. K. White; quartermaster, C. B. Hills; librarian, B. B. Ayers. At the last meeting it was resolved: That the club announce itself a stanch supporter of the League, that it was gratified with the League's work, and that the club will do all in its power to further the interests of the League.

FRANKFORD, PHILA., PENN.—At a regular meeting of the Frankford Bicycle Club, held on Dec. 29, 1887, the following officers were elected for 1888: President, Richard Crankshaw; vice-president, William Denn; treasurer, Charles Denn; secretary, George Hare; captain, James Dyson; lieutenant, Walter G. Denn.

KANKAKEE, ILL.—The wheelmen of Kankakee have organized themselves as a club, under the name of "Kankakee Ramblers," having a membership of about twelve at the present date, and abundant indications for doubling the number before the season fairly commences.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year: President, George F. Crawford; vice-president, W. S. Halsey; secretary-treasurer, A. L. Hatch; captain, C. F. Dickey; first lieutenant, Fred. Durfee.

BROOKLYN.—President Joseph D. Huggins, of the Long Island Wheelmen, has made the following appointments for the ensuing year: House Committee, Mr. William S. Hawxhurst, chairman; Messrs. E. B. Hutchinson, Frank P. Share, William M. Whitney, H. F. Donaldson, Joseph Mathers, Jr., Ira M. Clapp, and C. L. Healy. Membership Committee, Mr. Henry H. Bell, Jr., chairman; Messrs E. W. Starr, J. N. Richards, E. S. Mailler, and A. W. Caswell. A ladies' reception will be held on the 30th inst., the first ever given by the Long Island Wheelmen, but, it is to be hoped, not the last. It is to be a very swell affair. Other social entertainments will be given weekly, it is expected, and the interest of the members is at its height.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE.—53-inch Rudge Light Roadster, enamelled, new in 1886, bearings good as new, tires good, spade handles and Lillibridge saddle; cost $144; wheel in first-class condition; cash price, $110. Address J. R. WILSON, Clarksville, Tenn.

FOR EXCHANGE, BILLIARD TABLE, BRUNSWICK-BALKE MAKE, standard size, quick cushions, handsome; cost $266 cash; suitable for club-room or private house; will exchange for a Safety bicycle; in good order. For particulars, address W. C. MUNRO, Box 583, Cincinnati, O.

FOR SALE.—Columbia Tandem tricycle, in perfect order, good as new; also, one Rudge Crescent tricycle; will be sold cheap to prompt buyer. W. H. DEGRAAF, 47 and 49 W. 14th St., New York City.

WANTED.—Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 48 inch or 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

TO PURCHASE.—Good second-hand single tricycle, late pattern, reasonable for cash; wanted at once. FRED'K. S. VAN HORN, No. 54 Warren St., New York City.

SMALL WHEEL CHEAP.—42 or 44-inch, any good make; give full particulars. W. H. GEARY, No. 37 Reade St., New York City.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND.—If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MISSOURI APPOINTMENT.

MR. J. B. JENNINGS has been appointed Consul at Moberly, Mo.

W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Jan. 10, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:—

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 122—Total 67.

BOSTON, Jan. 20, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.—3.

San Francisco Bi. Club.
17332 Childs, Rufus H., San Francisco.
17333 Day, Wm. H., 204 Sansome St., "
Unattached.
17384 Noble Burr, 36 New Montgomery St., "

COLORADO DIVISION—2.

Unattached.
17385 Wehncke, George, Box 257 Trinidad.
17334 Wilson, Alex., 1029 No. Corona St., Colorado Springs.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—2.

Middletown Wheel Club.
17377 Hale, B. J., Middletown.
17378 Platt, W. C., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—5.

Chicago Bi. Club.
17386 Chapin, C. E., 108 Madison St, Chicago.
17387 Langworthy, S. F., 1347 Wabash Ave., "
17388 Rueping, Robert, 523 Opera House Block, "
Unattached.
17335 Anderson, G. A. T., Marseilles.
17336 Derby, F. G., "

INDIANA DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17337 Darrow, Ben. L., Indianapolis.

IOWA DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17338 Raymond, J. S., Hampton.

KANSAS DIVISION—2.

Olathe Wheelmen.
17339 Keefer, W. C., Olathe.
Unattached.
17340 Davies, M. R., Bala.

MAINE DIVISION—2.

Unattached.
17379 Coburn, Edward L., M. C. R. R., Belfast.
17341 Neal, Fred H., Fairfield.

MARYLAND DIVISION—2.

Centaur Cycle Club.
17389 Civish, Jos. W., 235 So. Broadway, Baltimore.
Unattached.
17342 Harrison, Hugh, Ellicott City.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—2.

Unattached.
17343 Burt, Fred B., Box 722, Fall River.
17380 Macomber, H. I., 12 Mercer St., So. Boston.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—10.

Detroit Bi. Club.
17344 Bush, W. K., 401 Cass Ave., Detroit.
17345 Jackson, H., 220 Wood Ave., "
17346 Powers, Sumner, care R. G. Dun & Co., "
17347 Smith, C. H., 43 Liberty St., Ann Arbor.
Grand Rapids Bi. Club.
17348 Denny, F. E., 4 Monroe St., Grand Rapids.
17349 Hain, R. B., 2 Pearl St., "
17350 Miller, D. A., 121 Lagrave St., "
Tecumseh Bi. Club.
17351 Comfort, W. E., Raisin.
Unattached.
17352 Dutcher, A. E., St. John's.
17353 Young, W. E., Richmond.

MISSOURI DIVISION—2.

Ruralist Bi. Club.
17381 Hall, Chas. G., 120 N. 5th St., St. Joseph.
United Wheelmen.
17354 Kelly, Thomas L., 615 Locust St., Kansas City.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—4.

Roselle Ramblers.
17355 Bogert, Geo. H., Roselle.
17356 Howe, Jno. I., Jr., "
Trenton Bi. Club.
17390 Sutterly, Job R., 213 Cummings Ave., Trenton.
17391 Thompson, Wm. M., 738 Centre St., "

NEW YORK DIVISION—10.

Brooklyn Bi. Club.
17382 Joost, Chris. Jr., 161 Hart St., Brooklyn.
Buffalo Bi. Club.
17357 Allen, W. W., Jr., 183 Hodge Ave., New York.
17358 Hinkley, Geo. E., 98 W. Huron St., "
17359 Lee, Geo. W., 165 North St., "
17360 Shoemaker, H. J. S., 303 15th St., "
Riverside Wheelmen.
17361 Moore, Jehiel W., 220 W. 105th St., "
17362 Macon, Robert F., 443 W. 113th St., "
Unattached.
17392 Griffin, Herman, 69 Wall St., "
17364 Patchin, Burt. C., 1552 9th Ave., "
17363 Hall, James E., Westfield.

OHIO DIVISION—11.

Cincinnati Bi. Club.
17393 Oskamp, A., Hartwell.
17394 Seinsemer, H. A., 321 West 8th St., Cincinnati.
17395 Trumbauer, J. E., 211 Race St., "
17396 Webster, E. R., 60 W. 2d St., "
Toledo Cycling Club.
17397 Jackson, M., Merrill & Jackson, Summit St., Toledo.
Unattached.
17365 Boone, Dr. D. W., Bellaire.
17366 Ludwig, Wm., "
17367 Smith, C. A., "
17375 Marceau, Theo. P., 148 W. 4th St., Cincinnati.
17376 Hey, Lucy B., 551 W. 9th St., "
17368 Krapp, Edw. A., No. Hampton.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—6.

South End Wheelmen.
17369 Sherwood, W. F., 1918 So. 11th St., Philadelphia.
Unattached.
17370 Bair, Edw. W., Hanover.
17371 Ewing, W. Brown, M. D., Dixmont.
17372 Graham, Geo. G., "
17398 Hayes, Wm. V., Box 414, Lewisburgh.
17373 Lott, W. E., Clifford.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—2.

Crescent Bi. Club.
17374 Lakey, Chas. T., Georgiaville.
Pawtucket Wheelmen.
17383 Lee, Herbert G., Pawtucket.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Jan. 16, 1888.

LIST 7.

THE following renewals are received to date:—

Alabama,	3.	New Hampshire,	3.
Arkansas,	5.	New Jersey,	31.
California,	26.	New York,	150.
Connecticut,	31.	Ohio,	25.
Dakota,	1.	Pennsylvania,	50.
District of Columbia,	2.	Rhode Island,	5.
Illinois,	22.	Tennessee,	6.
Indiana,	3.	Texas,	2.
Iowa,	1.	Utah,	1.
Kansas,	12.	Vermont,	12.
Kentucky,	2.	Virginia,	7.
Maine,	1.	West Virginia,	2.
Maryland,	3.	Wisconsin,	1.
Massachusetts,	45.
Michigan,	48.	Canada,	2.
Minnesota,	1.	Switzerland,	1.
Missouri,	15.
Total,			519.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Outing Club, San Francisco, Cal.
Vermont Wheel Club, Brattleboro, Vt.
Buffalo Bicycle Club, Buffalo, N. Y.
Chicago Bicycle Club, Chicago, Ill.
Cincinnati Bicycle Club, Cincinnati, O.
Toledo Cycling Club, Toledo, O.
Frankfor , Bicycle Club, Frankford, Philadelphia, Pa.
Owl Bicycle Club, Bordentown, N. J.
Union County Wheelmen, Westfield, N. J.
Rockingham Bicycle Club, Portsmouth, N. H.
Elizabeth Wheelmen, Elizabeth, N. J.
Genesee Bicycle Club, Rochester, N. Y.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. . . .

Name, . . .

P. O. Address, . . .

City and State, . . .

Club, . . .

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easiiy than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison.

Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track.

350½ MILES IN 24 HOURS

Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount a 40-pound Light Champion), of

323 MILES IN 24 HOURS.

Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5h., 38m., 44⅕s.

still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the

G. & J. BALL BEARINGS.

Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, JANUARY 27, 1888. | VOL. VI. No. 4. WHOLE NUMBER, 135.

"The Most Comprehensive Cycling Catalogue Published."

SIXTY PAGES, FORTY ENGRAVINGS.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

FOR 1888.

NOW READY. Free by mail upon application.

POPE MFG. CO. Principal Offices, 79 Franklin Street, BOSTON. Branch Houses, 12 Warren Street, NEW YORK. 291 Wabash Avenue, CHICAGO.

THE RUDGE AGENCY.

The Rudge Agency (recently relinquished by Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co.) will be continued at the same place, 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., by H. M. SABEN, who has been actively connected with the agency during the past two years. The 1888 Rudge Catalogue is now in press.

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT MONTH.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
For the League of American Wheelmen,
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS. $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

THE World is after us hammer and tongs, coal-scuttle and poker, because we have said that the law was against us in the Alabama case, and they condemn what they call "Bassett's law," and cite an opinion adverse to our position. Now we will say that we have a great contempt for "Bassett's law," and, in answer to our esteemed contemporary's question as to whether or no we are the League's legal adviser, we will say, "Heaven save the mark!" But we have a legal committee composed of three worthy [illegible] get no redress from the Alabama courts, we are willing to adopt their position. This is what our esteemed contemporary calls "Bassett's law," and pronounces unjust and illogical. Quoting Chief Justice Shaw, our esteemed contemporary says his law "is sound by every test." And yet the League has paid dearly for two Supreme Court decisions, which have been against the position of wheelmen, though they have gone to these courts armed with the "sound law" that the World quotes.

mittee at work arranging for an extended summer tour by the club through Vermont and Canada. It is intended to start from Cambridge, Aug. 12, pass through Fitchburg, Mass., Keene, N. H., Rutland, Burlington, St.

THE World furthermore assumes that nothing has been done in the Alabama case, and it speaks of certain "inactive and indolent officials of the League." These are harsh terms to apply to the hard-worked committee members, who give their time and talents gratis to the League. The charge is based on an assumption which is an error, and we protest that it is uncalled for, unfair, unjust, and untrue. If the critics of these men could show work of their own for the good of the League, they might have good reason to criticise; but criticisms like these generally come from the non-workers. The League has reason to be proud of its committees. They give time, enthusiasm, and talent to the cause that money could not buy, and their reward is too often found in what the World refers to in speaking of what it has done in this Alabama case: "the sharp lash of criticism is drawn across the backs of the inactive and indolent officials." In the name of common decency we protest against this. That the League has its work done for it as it is now being done can be attributed very much to the fact that there has been so much boyish growling at committees and officials. They have come to learn that certain organs and certain men are bound to growl any way, and it is very much better to let them growl it out alone. And yet it always give us pleasure to say that the World continues to be our esteemed contemporary.

MR. DUCKER would have the League do away with the BULLETIN or charge an extra fee for it. We do not altogether agree with what Mr. Ducker says, but there is something of truth in his communication which can formulate itself as follows: The wheelman who asks, What can I get in return for the dollar I pay to the League? is not so desirable a member as he who sends his dollar with the remark: This much for the good of the cause.

MR. DUCKER dislikes very much to have the free paper urged as an inducement to join the League. And so do we. We generally leave that to the last. We do not believe that there is very much force in great numerical strength, and we would rather see a membership of five thousand active workers, each of whom would be willing to pay two dollars a year, than ten thousand one-dollar men, half of whom were hangers-on to the organization, getting the benefit of the work of others and doing none themselves.

WE do not altogether like the idea of reorganizing the League at Baltimore. We have nothing to urge against Baltimore, more than that the hospitality of the Baltimorean will be so attractive that wheelmen will be in no condition of mind for business. It is always so. Members go to the annual meet for a good time, and business matters are always hurried over. More work is done at the New York spring meeting than at any other meeting during the year. Why? Because members go to that city for business, and for business alone. It is very true that the committee's plan will be discussed and acted upon at the New York meeting, but that meeting can do no more than recommend changes to the Baltimore meeting, and it may be that all the good work of January will be overthrown by hasty action in June.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

HOBBIES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I take exception to the remark of Mr. Wm. Allen Butler, in last week's issue, l. c.: "There can be no questioning the fact that with four fifths of all wheelmen the cycle is a hobby." This is exactly the view that the road-hog takes of us, and the view is certainly not the correct one. As far as my observation goes, I have not found one out of thirty who ride merely as a hobby. It may be that four fifths take it up as a hobby, but the general physical benefits derived from it soon disabuse them of that idea, and it becomes a pleasing necessity, not a pleasant diversion, or hobby. I must say that it would be a serious hobby from a Pittsburgh point of view, as the few roads we have are exceedingly hilly and the surface is generally undergoing an operation know as "repairing the road."

No. 12,078.

SHALL THE LEAGUE CONTINUE TO ISSUE THE BULLETIN?

EDITOR BULLETIN: — "To be or not to be?" seems to be the question as to issuing the BULLETIN. Any thinking man who has the best interest of the wheelmen and the League at heart would at once say, "No"; the selfish man who cares only for gain would say, "Yes"; while on the whole it certainly seems to me that it is one of the most detrimental things to the League that it has to contend with. In the first place, the League is not a publication house, or it ought not to be, as it has plenty of other business to attend to. The Masons or Odd Fellows don't need a paper, and surely they are as large as the League, and if we had no paper the daily and weekly press would gladly publish official notices free, which would bring the League's doings to a large number of wheelmen who do not know anything of what we are doing and tend to increase our numbers, at the same time create public interest. About the first thing that is said to a wheelman asking the question, "What has the League done?" the answer that he will invariably get is, that it furnishes a good paper every week free, and great stress is laid on the fact. When we get down to this it is a deplorable state of things indeed. If with all our boasted membership half of them join just to get the paper and would begrudge the paltry sum of two cents a week in the interest of wheeling, then the sooner we are rid of them the better. What we want is wheelmen who are willing to join the League for the good it has done and with the faith that they will do better in the future. That and that only should be all that a wheelman should expect. If, on the other hand, we find that our members must and will have the BULLETIN, let it cost the League what it will, then I would suggest that the League establish a publication bureau, and that the price of the BULLETIN be set at the same price as the other weeklies of a like character. Then if a man wanted the paper he would subscribe, just as I do for my World and Wheel. We might, on consideration of his being a League member, send him his paper for half price, or say for fifty cents additional. Should the League adopt that plan it would decrease the printing bills over one half, and even more, and the subscriptions would put the paper on a paying basis, and test the wheelmen as to whether they want the BULLETIN or not, and also show how much or many of the members are willing to go down into their pockets for the welfare of the League. It would be, too, far better that the League be composed of five thousand wheelmen who are active and alive to the interest of wheeling and the betterment of the roads in the United States, than that we

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT MONTH.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
For the League of American Wheelmen,
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

THE World is after us hammer and tongs, coal-scuttle and poker, because we have said that the law was against us in the Alabama case, and they condemn what they call "Bassett's law," and cite an opinion adverse to our position. Now we will say that we have a great contempt for "Bassett's law," and, in answer to our esteemed contemporary's question as to whether or no we are the League's legal adviser, we will say, "Heaven save the mark!" But we have a legal committee composed of three worthy get no redress from the Alabama courts, we are willing to adopt their position. This is what our esteemed contemporary calls "Bassett's law," and pronounces unjust and illogical. Quoting Chief Justice Shaw, our esteemed contemporary says his law "is sound by every test." And yet the League has paid dearly for two Supreme Court decisions, which have been against the position of wheelmen, though they have gone to these courts armed with the "sound law" that the World quotes.

THE World furthermore assumes that nothing has been done in the Alabama case, and it speaks of certain "inactive and indolent officials of the League." These are harsh terms to apply to the hard-worked committee members, who give their time and talents gratis to the League. The charge is based on an assumption which is an error, and we protest that it is uncalled for, unfair, unjust, and untrue. If the critics of these men could show work of their own for the good of the League, they might have good reason to criticise; but criticisms like these generally come from the non-workers. The League has reason to be proud of its committees. They give time, enthusiasm, and talent to the cause that money could not buy, and their reward is too often found in what the World refers to in speaking of what it has done in this Alabama case: "the sharp lash of criticism is drawn across the backs of the inactive and indolent officials." In the name of common decency we protest against this. That the League has its work done for it as it is now being done can be attributed very much to the fact that there has been so much boyish growling at committees and officials. They have come to learn that certain organs and certain men are bound to growl any way, and it is very much better to let them growl it out alone. And yet it always give us pleasure to say that the World continues to be our esteemed contemporary.

MR. DUCKER would have the League do away with the BULLETIN or charge an extra fee for it. We do not altogether agree with what Mr. Ducker says, but there is something of truth in his communication which can formulate itself as follows: The wheelman who asks, What can I get in return for the dollar I pay to the League? is not so desirable a member as he who sends his dollar with the remark: This much for the good of the cause.

MR. DUCKER dislikes very much to have the free paper urged as an inducement to join the League. And so do we. We generally leave that to the last. We do not believe that there is very much force in great numerical strength, and we would rather see a membership of five thousand active workers, each of whom would be willing to pay two dollars a year, than ten thousand one-dollar men, half of whom were hangers-on to the organization, getting the benefit of the work of others and doing none themselves.

WE do not altogether like the idea of reorganizing the League at Baltimore. We have nothing to urge against Baltimore, more than that the hospitality of the Baltimorean will be so attractive that wheelmen will be in no condition of mind for business. It is always so. Members go to the annual meet for a good time, and business matters are always hurried over. More work is done at the New York spring meeting than at any other meeting during the year. Why? Because members go to that city for business, and for business alone. It is very true that the committee's plan will be discussed and acted upon at the New York meeting, but that meeting can do no more than recommend changes to the Baltimore meeting, and it may be that all the good work of January will be overthrown by hasty action in June.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

HOBBIES.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I take exception to the remark of Mr. Wm. Allen Butler, in last week's issue, i. e.: "There can be no questioning the fact that with four fifths of all wheelmen the cycle is a hobby." This is exactly the view that the road-hog takes of us, and the view is certainly not the correct one. As far as my observation goes, I have not found one out of thirty who ride merely as a hobby. It may be that four fifths take it up as a hobby, but the general physical benefits derived from it soon disabuse them of that idea, and it becomes a pleasing necessity, not a pleasant diversion, or hobby. I must say that it would be a serious hobby from a Pittsburgh point of view, as the few roads we have are exceedingly hilly and the surface is generally undergoing an operation know as "repairing the road."

No. 12,078.

SHALL THE LEAGUE CONTINUE TO ISSUE THE BULLETIN?

EDITOR BULLETIN: — "To be or not to be?" seems to be the question as to issuing the BULLETIN. Any thinking man who has the best interest of the wheelmen and the League at heart would at once say, "No"; the selfish man who cares only for gain would say, "Yes"; while on the whole it certainly seems to me that it is one of the most detrimental things to the League that it has to contend with. In the first place, the League is not a publication house, or it ought not to be, as it has plenty of other business to attend to. The Masons or Odd Fellows don't need a paper, and surely they are as large as the League, and if we had no paper the daily and weekly press would gladly publish official notices free, which would bring the League's doings to a large number of wheelmen who do not know anything of what we are doing and tend to increase our numbers, at the same time create public interest. About the first thing that is said to a wheelman asking the question, "What has the League done?" the answer that he will invariably get is, that it funishes a good paper every week free, and great stress is laid on the fact. When we get down to this it is a deplorable state of things indeed. If with all our boasted membership half of them join just to get the paper and would begrudge the paltry sum of two cents a week in the interest of wheeling, then the sooner we are rid of them the better. What we want is wheelmen who are willing to join the League for the good it has done and with the faith that they will do better in the future. That and that only should be all that a wheelman should expect. If, on the other hand, we find that our members must and will have the BULLETIN, let it cost the League what it will, then I would suggest that the League establish a publication bureau, and that the price of the BULLETIN be set at the same price as the other weeklies of a like character. Then if a man wanted the paper he would subscribe, just as I do for my World and Wheel. We might, on consideration of his being a League member, send him his paper for half price, or say for fifty cents additional. Should the League adopt that plan it would decrease the printing bills over one half, and even more, and the subscriptions would put the paper on a paying basis, and test the wheelmen as to whether they want the BULLETIN or not, and also show how much or many of the members are willing to go down into their pockets for the welfare of the League. It would be, too, far better that the League be composed of five thousand wheelmen who are active and alive to the interest of wheeling and the betterment of the roads in the United States, than that we have forty thousand wheelmen who have only joined the League that they might get the BULLETIN free or at a less rate than the other legitimate papers cost. Of what earthly use, pray, would the other thirty-five thousand men be worth to any organization? We have had too much of this free-paper business; and pray, Mr. Editor, the next time the question is asked, What has the League done? don't, please don't, trot out that old chestnut, "that it furnishes a good paper weekly, free" [We never do, Mr. Ducker. — ED.], but kindly refer them to our past deeds, and ask them to up their little dollars, and have faith that the past is a guarantee of the future, and when there is some money in the treasury to spare they will de able to see for themselves that the League of American Wheelmen is an organization devoted to the interest of the wheelmen in the United States, the improvements of the roads, and all that tends to increase the happiness and enjoyment of the best sport and recreation in the world. Such an organization will the League aim to be, with your support. HENRY E. DUCKER.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 16, 1888.

REORGANIZATION AGAIN.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I have a theory that the prosperity of the League depends upon the amount of practical work it does, and I would define practical work to be (1), enforcement of wheelmen's rights, and (2), improvement of the roads. The former work has been undertaken with a very fair degree of success, — the latter is a new field.

As long as "reorganization" of the League is necessary, so long is it apparent that the League has not found its true sphere of usefulness, or even the best means of operating in that in which it already moves. The League having been formed first, and the State divisions afterwards, it has been too much like a centralized republic (France, for instance), in which the forces of government radiate from the centre, and where the tendency is to largely rely upon that centre, to the destruction of local self-government.

Now, the principle of local self-government is the great principle for which the Anglo-Saxon race has always fought, and is the one upon which the American Revolution hinged, and is at the very foundation of our government. What we need to do is to put it into full operation in the League, and, while maintaining the general organization as absolutely essential for many purposes, make the State divisions feel that the successful development and extension of cycling interests depends upon them. The chairman of the Reoganization Committee will undoubtedly give reasonable attention to this view, for I have learned from debate with him that he adheres to the theory of State "rights," though not, I presume, to that of State "sovereignty."

Another point connected with this is the duration of terms of office. As it stands now, chief consuls are obliged to spend half the season in getting into working order, and that half is the most valuable part of the year. I before suggested that the annual election be held earlier, and I still think that it ought to be held early enough to make it possible to announce the result not later than April 1; but I now suggest that officers be elected for two years. It would then be possible for them to mature and carry out plans. As it is now, by the time they have their work and system organized, the season is so nearly over that little is done.

Still another point is to secure the election of men who are mature enough and deeply enough interested to really do work. Far too many persons who have only been popular, and ambitious to appear prominent in wheel circles, have been in office. They have usually done absolutely nothing. Most important, of course, is the chief consul. Without having in that office a man who has time, energy, judgment, and initiative, a division might almost cease to exist.

I have noticed that renewals come in pretty much according to the amount of practical work done last year by the divisions. I have figured the percentage of last year's members who have renewed in the larger divisions in the first seven weeks. The figures speak for themselves: In New York, .336 per cent; California, .328; Maryland, .319; Michigan, .302; Illinois, .292; Massachusetts, .274; Missouri, .141; Pennsylvania, .229; Ohio, .193; New Jersey, .18.

5,678.

BARKIS IS WILLIN'.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Barkis is willin', willin' to pay two dollars a year and see some work done by the League. Will the "Reorgs." put that in their pipes and smoke it? Tax us a dollar a head, and let the man who pays that amount get the hotel and social privileges. Let him pay fifty cents extra and get the BULLETIN once a month, or pay one dollar extra and get the paper once a week. We can't get something for nothing. We are paying fifty cents to the National organization, and we expect them to give us a paper every week, do all the clerical work of a large organization, keep the accounts, fight all our legal battles, etc. etc., and then we kick like steers, and say the League does nothing. Barkis is disgusted. Why, gentlemen, there is n't a cycling editor in America that can have sponge cake on his table, and they get a dollar for a paper alone. These papers seem to be organized for no other purpose than to kick at the League. They would like to see us drop the BULLETIN, oh yes! They would like to have it made a monthly, oh yes! And then when it was made a monthly they would say, "Give the cause a lift by sending us a dollar for our paper." One of these papers said the other day that the National organization ought to have no more money than will pay the Secretary's salary and for one assistant. How about the office rent? Is the editor to live in the street? Does n't that editor know that, for economy's sake, the office is in the top story of a big building now, and that everybody who climbs up to it spends more than a dollar's worth of wind? Then what will the Secretary do for postage stamps and stationery? And if he is to get nothing but salaries, what does he want an assistant for? Why don't these editors put their subscriptions down to twenty cents? That's all the BULLETIN cost us last year, so the editor tells me. Many say we have a smaller paper this year than last. So we have. I believe it to be a better paper, though I admit the smaller. But we have a smaller deficit, smaller by four thousand dollars. If the editor had used four thousand more, don't you believe he could have given us a larger and better paper than we had last year? I do. But, pshaw! What 's the use of talking? We can't get a turkey dinner for ten cents. If we plank down ten cents we must eat hash. Barkis is willin' to pay five dollars a year to the League, but, for the sake of harmony, he will make the sum two dollars, and say that we ought to pay no less. BARKIS.

ALABAMA.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — I am very glad to see that you, as an officer of the L. A. W., have promised help to the Alabama wheelmen in the Mobile case. Our country roads down here are, as a rule, so poor that bicycling makes very little headway in this region. There are not so many wheelmen in this city as there were two years ago, and, being so weak numerically, it is hard for us to gain any influence through the local press, so that, what with bad roads, a disposition on the part of the average driver not to concede that we have any rights, having the ubiquitous "road-hog" to contend with, and there being so few of us, our "lot is not a happy one." Naturally we turn to the League for help, and a great deal can be accomplished here before very long, if we do get their assistance. Allow me, sir, to congratulate you on the firm stand you have taken in this matter; and if nothing is accomplished it will not be from any lack of interest on your part.

POLLYWOG.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Jan. 17, 1888.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

I HAVE received several letters of late in which I am asked to advise the writer what tandem to buy, or which is the best single tricycle. It is impossible for me to give advice of this kind, since there are so many things to be considered, and the opinions of people are so widely divergent. It is safe to say that every tandem and every single has a champion who will defend it as the best. Our good friend Weston would, in response to a letter of this kind, say, "Don't ride a tandem, get a sociable." He would be indorsed by many riders who advocate the side-by-side wheel; but where he found one indorser, he would be combated by twenty tandemons, and my friend the Duke of Wellington would regard the Westonic position as an evidence of lunacy.

IF I should recommend a three-wheel tandem it is just possible that it might be taken by a gentleman weighing a hundred pounds more than his wife, and then it would be impossible for them to ride it. A hundred things or more must be considered.

ONE writer says, "We can't tell anything by the catalogues, for each proclaims its machine the best." So might we say that we can't depend upon the advice of riders, for every rider thinks his mount the best, as every woman thinks she has the very best sewing machine in the market.

THERE is only one advice that I can give to those who ask me to tell them the best machine. Get a catalogue from each maker, read carefully the specifications of each, and make up your mind as best you can by weighing and sifting the evidence. It is safe to say that any one of the leading makers will supply you with a good machine. Each machine has some peculiarity, or some device which commends it to riders, but if you are a novice it is impossible that you should know the advantages or disadvantages of these different characteristics, and you will surely grow to like your chosen wheel.

[redacted]

and yet we have very many ladies who accomplish it. Think of it, there are but 275 days in the year, after and including April 1, and from these must be taken the thirty-one days of December, when it is hardly possible to ride. Then we must consider the hot season, when it is hard to conquer the lassitude incident to the heated term. Take out all these repellent days and seasons, and we get figures that demand an average ride of five miles each day, be it rainy, or be it a day of sunshine. Can we believe that those who ride in carriages do better than this?

OUR friend from Stockport, N. Y., whom we are always glad to hear from, has a word to say this week.

DEAR DAISIE: — For the benefit of the cause I enclose my "record of riding" for 1887, tabulated by my husband. The first of July I took cold, through carelessness, which brought on chills and fever. This unfortunately interfered with my riding during July and August, though in the end I dispensed with doctors and medicine, and cured myself with my tricycle. My total record is not only greater than in 1886, but my daily rides have been much longer, more enjoyable, and have taken me over a greater extent of country. On October 20, my husband and I took one of the most enjoyable trips we have ever taken during my four years of riding. We started 7 A. M., and rode along the Hudson River to Poughkeepsie (46½ miles), stopping at Red Hook an hour for dinner, and arriving at the Morgan House before 5 P. M. We had the wind against us all of the way, and the road was rather sandy, in places, until we reached Rhinebeck. From there on it was very nice and the scenery was grand. Fifty miles were finished around town, the rain driving us indoors. We had a good supper, and afterward were kindly shown through the club houses by two members of the "Ariel Wheel Club." The next morning we returned home by boat in a rain-storm. My last ride of the year was seven miles, on December 17, a heavy snow-storm closing the wheeling season, and giving us good sleighing instead. Wishing you a "Happy New Year" and many pleasant rides during the season to com ,

MRS. J. R., L. A. W. 4,386.

MRS. J. R.'S RECORD FOR 1887.

MONTHS.	DAYS.	MILES	REMARKS.
January.....	1	3
February....	1	2
March.....	1	2
April.....	11	55
May.....	19	107
June.....	22	140
July.....	6	21	Sick and away from home.
August.....	6	42	" " " "
September..	26	306	Rode 50 miles straight-away.
October....	28	253	Rode 50 miles to Poughkeepsie in ten hours, including stops.
November..	20	125
December...	11	50
TOTALS.	152	1,108

Machine used, a two-track 48-inch "Columbia," weighing 83 pounds, and geared level. It was bought August, 1885, and has run 2,750 miles, over all kinds of roads, at a cost of one saddle spring and two guard straps.

THE winter is now nearly passed, and we eagerly look forward to the riding season of 1888. The editor tells me that the ladies are renewing in large numbers. This is as it should be.

DAISIE.

THE Cambridgeport Cycle Club has a committee at work arranging for an extended summer tour by the club through Vermont and Canada. It is intended to start from Cambridge, Aug. 12, pass through Fitchburg, Mass., Keene, N. H., Rutland, Burlington, St. Albans, Vt., and Phillipsburg to Montreal, Canada. Here the wheels will be left, and a tour of Canada made by train. Returning to Montreal the members of the club will take their wheels again and return to Cambridge. The trip will take about three weeks.

IT is astonishing what one man can do. Harvard College has a lively club once in a while, and when it does you may depend upon it that some active fellow has joined the college, and is shaking up the dry bones. See if K. B. does n't shake them up out there this year, and make the Harvard Club one to be heard from.

DALLAS, Tex., welcomes tramps. It has made them build fifteen miles of turnpike roads and grade many miles of public roads, and therefore the town is disposed to receive the tramps very cordially and extend them a shovel in one hand and a pick in the other. — Houston Herald.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

PHILADELPHIA is to have a new cycling track. Whilst the other clubs have been talking, the Tioga has been quietly working, and as a result the Tioga Athletic Club, many members of which are also members of the Tioga Cycling Club, will build a bicycle track on their new grounds, at Bellevue, this coming spring. It will be four laps to the mile, cinder and gravel, with a good underlying drainage and well banked corners. Dr. E. H. Van Deusen, president of the Tioga Cycle Club, has been one of the prime movers in this very commendable plan, and he certainly deserves the thanks of the wheelmen of this city therefor.

THE final meeting of the committee from the Philadelphia clubs decided to recommend that the association be called the "Associated Cycling Clubs of Philadelphia." The constitution and by-laws as drafted by the committee will be submitted to the clubs for their approval at the February meeting, and the delegates to represent them will be elected at the same time. The first meeting of the board of delegates will be held on the third Tuesday in March, when the officers to serve for the ensuing year will be elected. The clubs included are the Pennsylvania, Century, Philadelphia, Tioga, South End, and Germantown. None but Philadelphia clubs will be admitted to membership. The objects of the association are stated by the proposed constitution to be as follows: To encourage friendly relations between the wheeling clubs of Philadelphia, and to facilitate united action in matters affecting their interest; to promote cycling interests in general and local interests in particular; to defend the rights of wheelmen and to promote inter-club runs, race meets, and other cycling events. The association will be composed entirely of clubs, each club in Philadelphia to be represented by two members of a board of delegates, who will have complete charge of affairs. This move by the cycling organizations of the city ought to be backed up by all city wheelmen, for in united action in the matter of agitating for good roads, etc., lies the only chance for any effect being produced on the municipal authorities.

DIRECTLY on the heels of this local combination of the wheelmen for their greatest good the following petition comes from citizens who are tired of having to jolt themselves apart over the rough paving of North Broad Street: "The residents of the Twenty-second, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-third wards, and citizens residing on the north dependent upon Broad Street as an entrance to the central and southern portions of the city, and who daily suffer from the outrageous condition of said street, it being, as all well know, in a most deplorable condition, and not only dangerous to drive over but discreditable to the city, and realizing, as we do, that a proper pavement placed upon it by the city would not only add to the comfort of all compelled to use the street but would so increase the value of property that the immediate returns from taxation would more than compensate the city for any outlay she might be required to make, we, therefore, ask that you meet and invite the councilmen representing the Twenty-second, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-third wards to take such action as shall secure this improvement, and also that a permanent committee be organized to further not only this but many other needed improvements in this section of the city"; to all of which the wheelmen may return a most hearty Amen. Any indorsement or assistance to this movement to be sent to E. J. Mathews, 216 South 4th Street, Philadelphia.

THE Germantown Cycling Club has these new officers: President, Frank Read; vice-president, Dr. C. B. Knerr; secretary-treasurer, H. Taylor Rogers; captain, George F. Craven; club committee, first three officers and Frank S. Harris and Edward Paramore; house committee, Westcott Norman, Charles R. Harley, and Charles Paramore.

DURING 1887, 24,572 bicycles entered Fairmount Park, so the statistics says.

IN order to promote road riding among its members, the Century Club has offered the following prizes, to be competed for during the season of 1888: 1. A gold medal valued at $15 to the one riding the greatest number of miles during the year. 2. A gold medal valued at $10 to the one riding the next greatest. 3. A gold medal valued at $5 to the third best. 4. A gold medal valued at $10 to the one riding the greatest number of miles in one day (twenty-four hours). 5. A gold medal valued at $10 to the one riding the greatest number of days in the year, no such days to be counted unless at least ten miles shall have been ridden Miles ridden are to be reported by reliable cyclometer or computed from table of distances posted in club-room. Reports of riding done each month are to be made to the captain, and to be handed in from the 1st to the 5th of the following month, and to be on slips prepared for the purpose, and to state number of miles ridden each day and where ridden. In the absence of the captain, members are requested to send in their reports to M. J. Bailey, first lieutentant.

THE Pennsylvania Bicycle Club has already started to pay off the mortgage bonds on its new club-house.

I WONDER why it is that the Quaker boys put such a big head on their associations. We had an A. A. C. once. It was a long name to mouth. And now the new association has taken on a long name. It will be abbreviated, mark my word! Who 'll give us the best short for it?

IF I can find a cycling paper that has n't had that picture of Harry Corey in it I 'm going to frame it.

WE hear a good deal about a hill-climbing contest between Greenwood and Wells. Don't use too much ink on it, Mr. Editor, for there 'll be no contest, see if there will. PHACTO.

MESSRS. SINGER & CO. have put a new "safety" on the market, or rather a modified form of their standard pattern. It has 30-inch driver and 26-in. steerer. It scales 41 lbs., has tangent wheels, ball socket head, straight saddle pillar, and square rubber pedals.

THIS is the way they do it in America: When they find an individual making himself obnoxious to cyclists, in the local press or otherwise, they elect him an honorary member of a local club, and then unanimously expel him. This is distinctly original and good. — Wheeling.

THE World and Wheelman still keep up the cry that the League crushed out the A. C. U. This is rank nonsense. The A. C. U. did n't have stamina enough to live. The League gave it a chance to succeed by letting it severely alone. Did the A. C. U. expect the League to help it along? Moreover, all the large tournaments held by A. C. U. clubs had League men for officials. The A. C. U. was no child of the League, and it had no claim to be coddled.

A CORRESPONDENT writes: "Do wheelmen put anything on their tires when they ride on ice? Else how do they keep their wheels from slipping? I tried it, and I did n't even succeed in mounting. Maybe our ice is slicker than it is farther north." Riding a bicycle on smooth ice is risky business. One cannot possibly save himself from a fall in case of a side slip. Massachusetts men often ride on ice with a tricycle, and enjoy it, but they seldom go upon the slippery surface with a bicycle after one attempt. We have seen one or two ice tires, but such things are not in great demand.

WOULD the World have the League take up the case of every man who is assaulted by a burly negro on the highway? The law gives a man redress in cases of this kind, and we don't see why the League should be asked to fight his battle in the courts. If we are attacked by a highway robber it matters not to the court whether we are riding a cycle or not. The man will go to jail if he is caught, and if we shoot him in self-defence the law will justify us. It is perfectly proper that the League should fight test cases in the courts, but we should not be called upon to do detective work, nor to bring criminals to justice. One of our members was nearly killed the other day by a woman who offered him what appeared to be a glass of wine, and which proved to be vitriol which she threw in his face. Shall the League help him to prosecute? He was not riding a cycle, it is true, but in criminal cases the cycle is not considered.

THE Roxbury Bicycle Club gave a very enjoyable party at Orienta Hall, on Wednesday of last week. President Emery was chairman of the Reception Committee, and received the guests, while Capt. J. S. Lowell had charge of the floor. Vice-President Hayes, President Robinson of the Rovers Club, Editor Fourdrinier and Editor Howard, Captain Gorton and Lieutenant Swift, of North Attleboro, were among the guests. Buffum's orchestra furnished the music, and there were twenty dances on the order. A collation was served at 11.30, and dancing was kept up till two o'clock.

THE Philadelphia association of clubs should receive the support of every club in the city. It means business. Organized for local purposes, it can do the cause much good, and be an aid to the League rather than a rival. We wish a long life to the association, and we note that it is managed by men who have the power to give it a brilliant record.

THE Scientific American should have a funny page for its cycle articles. The last is an "improved tricycle." It has the general appearance of a rocking-chair on wheels, will weigh about a ton, and is as complicated as a steam-engine. Wonder if the Sci. thinks the machine good for anything?

VOLASPODEL is the enigmatical title of a new department of that enterprising sheet, The Office, of New York. It appears that the word means "one who corresponds with the whole world," and that the department is devoted to the new language "Volupük." The November number contains an interesting account of the history and peculiarities of the international language from advance sheets of Sprague's "Hand-book of Volapük." In the December number a series of easy lessons are begun having special reference to commercial correspondence.

SEE here! this thing has got to stop somewhere. English papers have been discussing whether the top of a wheel goes faster than the bottom, and now the Sewing Machine News puts forth another nut to crack. Here is the nut and a solution: If a cyclist (bicycle or tricycle) goes out for say a twenty-mile spin, will all parts of machine travel the same distance? No; certain parts of the moving — or revolving (?) — portions travel — through space — considerably further: the rim goes, perhaps, twenty-five or more miles.

DON'T cyclists have cake when they get married? We have been noticing the marriages of cyclists for years and we haven't got a piece of cake yet. When we were a country editor every marriage in the village was good for a piece of cake to us, and we never would have lived through it if we did n't have a cast-iron stomach. This is n't a bid for cake. The situation is one that calls for investigation. How is it that cyclists who take the cake in everything else never take it when they get married?

UNDER the rules of the new Philadelphia association a member of any club belonging to the association will receive its aid in any dispute or lawsuit relating to cycling in which he may become engaged. In case of such dispute or lawsuit arising, each club of less than fifty members will be assessed a sum not exceeding a sum which is yet to be decided upon, while any club of over fifty members will be assessed a sum not exceeding double that amount, for use in defraying the expenses arising therefrom. This looks like business. It takes money to go to law, and you can't get a great deal of law for a very little money.

THE C. T. C. has become incorporated, and under the law some definite amount had to be stated as to the liability of each member, in case of the winding-up of the concern. This sum was put down at ten shillings, and now the papers that have been crying down the C. T. C. set this personal liability up as a bugaboo to restrain members from reuniting with the club. The possibility of the members being called upon to meet this liability is remote in the extreme. It is one of those matters of form required by law, and is of very little importance. And yet it is a text for the disgruntled ones to preach from. The C. T. C. is a grand institution, and well worthy the support of every English cyclist. Like the L. A. W., it has been unable to suit all parties, and "kickers" rise up all around it. But—and here it is like the L. A. W. again — it goes right along, doing its good work and increasing its membership rolls.

THE Calumet Cycling Club, of Brooklyn, has recently had an unfortunate experience. They admitted a man to membership who proved to be a thief, for he stole two bicycles from the club-house and hid them in the cellar of a friend. The wheels were recovered, the man and his friend arrested and held by the Court under bonds of three thousand dollars.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by:—

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recogoizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address,

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

HILLS TO CLIMB.

MR. ROGERS, of St. Louis, and Mr. Wells, of Philadelphia, are having a little tilt at each other in their respective papers anent the hill-climbing powers of the aforesaid Wells and a young man named Greenwood. Mr. Rogers concludes his last little editorial by making the following offers: —

"We believe that Hal Greenwood is a better man on a hill than John A. Wells. To back up our belief we will bet Mr. Wells one thousand dollars that Greenwood can climb Corey Hill more times on a bicycle without a dismount than Wells can; or, that Greenwood can climb Corey Hill oftener in a given time than Wells can. The loser shall pay the expenses of both parties. If either of these offers is accepted, the American Wheelman will put up a $250 cup for the hill-climbing championship of the world, to go to the winner of this contest, and to be held by him subject to challenge."

"Mr. Wells may pick a team of three Philadelphia men (we are perfectly willing to increase the number if he desires), and we will pick a team of three St. Louis men, these teams to race from St. Louis to De Soto and return, under the usual rules governing such contests. To obviate the unfairness mentioned above, we will bet him one thousand dollars to five hundred dollars that the St. Louis team will win. Furthermore, if the offer is accepted, we will pay the expenses of the Philadelphia team, win or lose.

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS.

CYCLING "struck" this place in the year 1886, I think, and probably half a dozen wheels were used that year. 1887 saw a boom, and by the close of the year there were at least fifty wheelmen in the city, and an L. A. W. club formed with fifteen charter members. It is named the "Capital City Cycling Club," or, as the members rather irreverently call it, "the four sees." It is confidently expected that there will be at least one hundred wheels used here by the close of the next season, and that the club will be among the best and largest in the State (Peoria to the contrary notwithstanding). All makes and sizes of wheels are used here; no manufacturer can claim much of an advantage in the number of his make over the rest. We have New Mails, Victors, Columbias, Gormully & Jefferys, Stars, Springfield Roadsters, Singer Safeties, etc., and the sizes run from forty-six inches to sixty.

Springfield is unexceptionably well located for cycling. It has nearly thirty miles of cedar-block pavement. Then there is Clear Lake Park seven miles to the east, and the city of Decatur thirty-two miles farther on. The city of Jacksonville is thirty-five miles west; while there are numberless smaller towns and villages in the near vicinity. There is a plan on foot here to form a "Plaza" for all the athletic associations in the city, with a bicycle track around the outer edge. The roads outside of the city to the north are hilly enough to please the most ardent of hill climbers, while those to the east, west, and south are level.

Springfield will prove to be a good bicycle centre, and the wheelmen will be glad to see any one who may chance to visit them, and will do all in their power to make the visit pleasant and agreeable. 4 Cs.

THE World man ought to go around a little more and get acquainted. Only a little while ago it wanted to know, "Who is this Dr. Cooley of the Racing Board?" Not to know Dr. Cooley argues one's self unknown. Now it wants to know who the "peppery, cantankerous laddie" is that writes cycling news for the Spectator. You 'll find out, Brother World, after he has Page your paragraph a little attention.

BUFFALO.

IN my last letter I forgot to give the readers of the BULLETIN the names of the Ramblers' officers for the ensuing year. They are as follows: President, Jno. S. Kellner; vice-president, F. A. Barnes; treasurer, A. F. Reiman; corresponding secretary, L. H. Rathmann; financial secretary, C. Wanemacker; captain, Jno. Hanenstien; first lieutenant, Ed. W. Dietzer; second lieutenant, W. O. Graham; bugler, L. Schugens.

Just cast your eye over that list of names and then say we will not hold our own the coming season. Our star rider for the past season was Ed. Dietzer, who covered almost four thousand miles.

MR. DUCKER paid a visit to the Rambler rooms last evening (Jan. 18), and put a proposition before the club to take hold of the tournament he has in view for next season, which will most likely be accepted. He claims he has engaged a German, Irish, and perhaps an English team to take part. He intends taking a regular tour with them, visiting all the principal cities of these United States. The making of a special track for bicycle racing was discussed. Buffalo may expect a boom in wheeling the coming season. Mr. Ducker has an application in his possession, and may be a Rambler before many moons have elapsed.

GRAND preparations are being made for the opening of the Buffalo club-house, which takes place Jan. 27, making it one of the social events of the season. The programme will consist of a reception and ball, perphaps a banquet to conclude. President Kirkpatrick, of the L. A. W., Chief Consul Dunn, of Ohio, Chief Consul Bidwell, of New York, the Secretary-Editor, and other League officials are expected to be present. Messrs. Barker, Chapin, and Morey have the matter in charge. The members will take possession Jan. 21.

THE Pope Company have again made 'Arry Isham their agent for this city; he is a good one. He intends to establish a repair shop on one of the asphalt streets, which will be greatly appreciated by riders who are so unfortunate as to take a header, causing a twisted pedal (which, by the way, is a very awkward thing to have), or broken spoke, etc. BISON.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 19, 1888.

NEW ORLEANS.

DISCOURAGING?

Oh, no! on the contrary, League members who take any interest in division affairs, or in the advancing of matters coming within the scope of the L. A. W., have every reason to feel greatly encouraged and stimulated to renewed effort after the large and enthusiastic assemblage which last night gathered in the rooms of the New Orleans Bicycle Club for the quarterly meeting of the State Division. But stop: last night's doings, or non-doings, rather, are such that they should go on record.

The notices calling the meeting read plainly 7.30 P. M., but at that hour not a gas jet in the club-house was lighted, not a member of the N. O. B. C. having yet arrived to open up, and as two non-members impatiently paced the sidewalk sundry exclamations escaped their lips. Patience finally reached the point where it ceased to be a virtue, and a good banging on the door brought the dusky janitor, who, after some lively scurrying around, turns on the light and shows the couple up to the prettily furnished parlor. Minutes fled, but it was not until 7.55 that a shuffling of feet and sound of voices are heard in the hallway, and a grateful "Thank Heaven! some one at last," is involuntarily uttered as six more members file slowly in, notwithstanding which bets of a quarter to a dime are offered that a quorum (twelve members) won't turn up. Five minutes, and no one else appearing, four of those present announce their intention of taking in the theatre, and a few moments later, as the door closes behind them with a slam, the betters upstairs offer ten to one that there 'll be no meeting at all, with no takers. At 8.10 another man—a Ruhlman, by the way — strolled in, and for the next twenty minutes the five weary watchers while away time between admiring the parlor fixtures and in discussing matters of a cycling nature, but at last they too grow tired, and at 8.30 take their departure, disgusted and disheartened.

Seventy-two members, and only nine with sufficient interest to attend the first meeting in three months! Ye gods! what a showing! Chief Consul Hodgson was out of town; but where, oh where, was the hard-worked representative who was to have presided, and where the hustling local consul who runs the only regular (!) bicycle column in the South? Where, oh where, was the man who wanted to fire hot shot into the League because of its action on the Mobile case, and where the one who argued that quarterly meetings were desirable as acquaintance-promoting factors? Where, oh where, were the members who are complaining about the BULLETIN, the League and its management? Where, yes where, were all of these? Did you hear the echo answer? Yes, I confess to being something of a kicker on certain League matters, but interest myself enough to attend meetings prepared to enter my protests at the proper time and place and in due form. Egotistical! may be. But, gentlemen of the Louisiana Division, — especially ye who wish and cry for a change, — I submit that proper interest is not exhibited on your part, nor does your kicking take the proper shape. If you would have our efforts avail anything, you should interest yourselves a little more, at least enough to attend to the division's meetings. Once in every three months will surely not weary you; and there should certainly be more than twelve members in attendance. Look at previous meetings! barely a quorum present. Look at last night! not even a quorum. Look at it, and resolve to "do better next time," and to show up in proper force at future meetings.

IT seems rather early, but already queries are heard as to whether Mr. Hodgson will again run for the Chief Consulship; or, if not, who will? It is to be regretted that "Hustler Harry," otherwise Chief Consul Hodgson, will not again accept, but such is his announced decision. He has just been admitted to partnership in his father's business, which, with his typewriter agency, will keep him on the jump, and leave him but little time to devote to outside matters. Hence, his ultimatum. Who then is the coming man? Come with me and I 'll show him to you. Do you see that five-footer over there, with his pleasant face ornamented by a retroussé (?) nose, and a somewhat auburn-shaded beard, parted, oh, so carefully in the middle? Well, I 'll wager a dollar to a doughnut that he 's Louisiana's next Chief Consul. His name? Oh! you all know him; but, for convenience' sake, it may be well to say that his name is Charles H. Fenner. A good man for the position, ain't he?

THE projected lantern parade has about fallen through. Lack of interest the cause.

THE Louisiana Cycling Club has quite a respectable mileage record to its credit. With but four members reporting, a total of 5,334 miles has been rolled up during the period extending from Aug. 1 (when the reporting began) to Dec. 31, 1887. The individual records are as follows: Charles M. Fairchild, 2,381; R. G. Betts, 2,063; W. H. Renaud, Jr., 424 (two months only); H. H. Hodgson (trike), 466.

ED. A. JONAS has been elected Secretary-

WHEELS FOR 1888.

Our Catalogue of Bicycles for the season of '88 is now ready to be mailed to those interested.

ALL GRADES. ALL SIZES. ALL PRICES.

Those contemplating a purchase will do well to examine what we have to offer.

AGENTS especially should carefully study our line before contracting for their season's supply.

ST. NICHOLAS MFG. CO., FACTORY AND OFFICE, 784 to 794 Madison Street - - - Chicago, Ill.

THE Cambridge Cycle Club held its annual ball on Friday evening of last week. Some hundred couples were on the floor and the attendance of spectators was very large. President H. W. Hayes was floor director and Richardson's Orchestra furnished the music. The programme of dances was a pretty souvenir of the occasion, and was tied with the club colors, orange and black.

THE Midland Cycle Company, Bell Street, Wolverhampton, England, have patented a new pattern of safety bicycle, which will be called the "Easthope" safety bicycle. The new machine is built upon a spring frame, and is claimed to possess exceptional ease and durability. It consists entirely of straight pieces, which all run in the direction of the strain, and these are arranged in such a fashion as to permit the absence of any supporting-rods. The makers assert that this new type of safety will never break across the "neck"—a disaster which has frequently occurred to safety bicycles. The machine has been constructed almost entirely with the view to sale in the American market, and the spring frame is consequently supplemented by extra thick rubber tires. The transatlantic roads are so heavy that elaborate precautions are needed to insure easy riding upon them. The makers anticipate an excellent demand from this market. The construction of the machine makes it peculiarly suitable for being sent over to New York in parts, payment of tariff upon machinery being by this means avoided. — Ironmonger.

WANTED.

A first-class Bicycle Repairer to work at all kinds of repairing. Must be well recommended. Address

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,
Oraton Hall - - - - - - Newark, N. J.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

HINTS FOR PROSPECTIVE CYCLING TOURISTS IN ENGLAND.—Particulars of tour at very moderate cost,—things they most want to know, twenty-five cents, of STAMSON, Stamford, Conn.

Have You Renewed?
IF NOT, COME RIGHT ALONG.

Mentioning this paper, and we will

Men of all stations, you should know The price of Pants is very low. Only three dollars for Custom-made Pants, Fit for the work shop, church or dance.

Vests, $2.25; Coats, $8.00.

By reason of late purchases of large lots of Woollen Cloths, we can surprise you by the superior quality of Woollen Goods in our $3 Pants. Reference, American Express Co.

BAY STATE PANTS CO., Custom Clothiers,
34 HAWLEY STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Send 6c. for Samples and Rules for Measuring, send you an Artistic Calendar for 1888.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

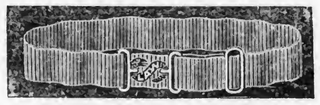
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.



TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

STEEL BALL FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.
OF BEST CAST-STEEL,
HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Bind "The Bulletin" Yourself.

A Binder keeps the covers clean, keeps the file complete, and keeps back numbers where they can be easily referred to.

The beauty of the UNIVERSAL BINDER is that its back varies in width according to the thickness of the matter between the covers, so that whether the binder contains one BULLETIN or any number, it looks almost exactly like an ordinary bound volume, and the magazine can be opened with perfect ease. The Binder does not hurt them for stitching later on, and some or all of them can be removed at will.

This magazine is an odd size, and the UNIVERSAL is made to order to fit, with "THE BULLETIN" handsomely stamped on the cover. It will be sent to any address for One Dollar.

Address, ABBOT BASSETT, Box 5267, Boston, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

Treasurer of the Cycling Club, vice J. P. Phelan.

THE New Orlearns Bicycle Club is now about firmly established in its new quarters. The lockers and wheel racks were put up last week, and, with nicely furnished parlors and meeting rooms, and the street in front just paved with asphalt, the club can now boast as comfortable and convenient quarters as any in the South,—even if there is seldom any one about. The club's billiard table has been removed to make way for a piano, when the "social evening" of each week will be made a trifle more melodious than when the click of the ivories held sway. BI.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10, 1888.

CYCLETS.

BILLY ON ICE.

I HAF me one nice leedle "wheel"
Und ride each summer day,
But ven dot ice und schnow kome 'round
I put him kwick avay.

For vonet I red 'bout vone man Schmit
Vat rode oop on der eis;
He said she vent so schmool along
He dink id pooty nice.

So den I took my leedle wheel
Ond on der froze-oop lake—
I rode oxacla half a mile
Und den I made a brake.

I broke dot ice, I broke my nose,
I broke dot wheel a few;
Mine Got! I velt shust like I broke
Myzelf six times in two.

I want to make shust one more break
Before I shall go dead,
I want to find dot Mr. Schmit
Und broke his krazy head.

So he what vill may ride on ice,
Sutch betzness breaks no law,
But he what tries id once or twice
Vill surely broke his jaw.

Now, still to ride my leedle wheel
Do blease me pooty nice,
But gimency, socrement, sauerkroudt
I'll neffer ride on ice.

VON BILLY SAWYER.

THE Buffalo

PLAN is being outlined

AT that city as you are reading

YOUR BULLETIN of the present week.

THE Reorganization Committee is hearing what the Executive Committee has to say,

AND has called upon the Secretary-Editor for facts, figures, suggestions, etc., regarding League work.

IF Buffalo gives us a new constitution and the big tournament of 1888, may we not look upon that city as the great cycling centre that so many of us have been trying to locate?

DUCKER used to try to claim Springfield as the great cycling centre of the world. Will he claim that honor for Buffalo now? And if he does, shall we set down Henry as the king centre maker?

NOW is the accepted time. Repent and renew

THOMAS STEVENS has joined the Citizens Club, of New York.

RENEW while you are yet young, you will be older next week.

MASSACHUSETTS members are already talking about going to Baltimore by sea.

THE Index for Vol. V. is now ready, and will be sent to members upon application by postal.

THE hop crop is very good this year in wheeling circles. All the clubs are holding them.

IF the League has given much to its members in the past, it will give them more this year.—Baltimore.

THE Baltimore wheelmen have already secured a large bid for the privilege of printing the League programme.

THE Long Island Wheelmen now head the list. One hundred and twenty members renew their memberships.

CHEAP advertising. Think of it! Only fifty cents to tell twenty thousand people that you have a wheel to sell.

CHIEF CONSUL BREWSTER sends copies of the renewal lists received from this office to each one of his representatives.

Missouri wheelmen are to have a road-book this year. The proofs are all read, and the book will soon be ready for delivery.

WE can send out your ticket the day after receiving your money at this time. Next month you may have to wait a week.

D. LORING, JR., of Stamford, Conn., would like to correspond with any member who may have back numbers of the BULLETIN for sale.

THE Waltham Cycle Club have sent a League pin, set with a diamond, to their late president, O. E. Davies, who is now located at Laconia, N. H.

F. P. KNOWLES, of Guilford, Conn., writes that he took a ride on his wheel Jan. 21, in the forenoon, and in the afternoon he took a sleigh ride.

MISSOURI wheelmen are very much excited over certain letters written by one "Hew" for a Western paper. They want to know Hew wrote them.

THE Lynn Bee of Jan. 20 has a special article on cycling, giving, among other things, a table of records, a picture of Rowe, and short sketches of cycling celebrities.

HELLO! There's another Darrow brother, and he comes forward as business manager of the Gazette. His name is Ben. Now, Ben, jam in the advertisements.

THE Buffalo Club will open its new club-house with a reception and dance in honor of the Reorganization Committee on the evening of Friday, Jan. 27 (this evening).

A. B. RICH will retire from the racing path and lead a young lady to the altar. We hope that in his new life his experience will be no less Rich than it was on the path.

OUR ticket holders are voted a success. We have had applications for them from non-members, who wanted them to carry railroad season tickets in. These holders will last many years.

YEARS ago we saw a step which automatically closed up against the backbone when the weight was taken off it. And now a New York man has invented a step of the same kind.

HOW is a man to know which is the leading cycling periodical? They all claim the place, even those not yet out of leading strings. Should n't we consider, also, where they are leading us?

THE Philadelphia Club has already outgrown its new club-house, and a piece of land has been purchased at the rear of the building upon which will be erected an extension of the wheel-room.

THE Kings County Wheelmen have asked the Calumet Cycling Club to unite with them, and the invitation has by vote been accepted. The Calumets will wind up with a reception on Feb. 1, at Knickerbocker Hall.

THE Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Company has established headquarters for the West with C. F. Stokes, 293 Wabash Avenue, Chicago. Mr. W. S. Doane, of Boston, will have charge of the cycle department.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Bicycling News writes that within the past eight years he has ridden 18,846 miles before breakfast, out of a total mileage of 33,400. He rides without refreshment and suffers no evil consequences.

W. L. VAN HORN, of Denver, has taken a Knapp, or, in other words, he has made Miss Alice M. Knapp to be Mrs. Van Horn. Mr. Van Horn has won many victories in cycling, and now he takes a prize in the game of love.

THE women of England to the number of one million one hundred and thirty-two thousand six hundred and eight have asked the Queen to close all public houses on Sunday. A very good lunch bag may be had at a moderate price.

THE San Francisco Club has voted unanimously to remain with the League. The club also voted to ndorse the iname of C. C. Moore, of Stockton, for Chief Consul of California, feeling confident that he will honor the position.

THE American Rambler is the name of the Gormully & Jeffery safety for 1888. Its lines are, to say the least, peculiar, but it can be built strong and light and will sell for $120. Its weight is forty-four pounds. If you want a safety you had better look this up.

KARL KRON is devoting a month to the compilation of a pamphlet, which is to contain the favorable reviews of about fifty newspapers concerning "Ten Thousand Miles on a Bi." He will distribute five thousand copies of this new pamphlet among the new converts to wheeling.

JULES TERRONT, the French rider, won the one-hundred-miles professional bicycle race at Birmingham, Eng., on Saturday, Dec. 24, in 5.58.40. The other contestants were W. M. Woodside, F. Lees, A. H. Robb, Young, English, and another, of whom Robb finished second.

MR. GEORGE W. STEVENS, manager of the American branch of the Coventry Machinists Company, met with an accident last August and broke a leg. He has been confined to the house ever since, and is not yet able to stand on the injured member. Meantime, "George," superintendent of repairs, has run the establishment. It was not a cycle accident. He jumped from a deadly horse car. The horse car must go.

A GENERAL meeting of the Maryland Division of the League of American Wheelmen was held in Baltimore, Jan. 7, to decide whether or not the National League shall be invited to hold its annual meet in Baltimore next spring. It was decided by a vote of thirty-four to nineteen to invite the League to meet in Baltimore. A call was made for subscriptions to defray the expenses of entertaining the expected visitors. The sum raised, added to what was promised at a former meeting, amounted to $749. A number of the members stated that they would subscribe more if necessary. An effort will be made to raise $2,000 or $3,000, but if that amount cannot be obtained, the entertainment of the visitors will be on a less extensive scale than is now proposed.

ANOTHER meeting of Maryland Division was held Jan. 14, and a committee of fifteen was appointed to take full charge of all the arrangements for the annual meet of the L. A. W., to be held in Baltimore. This committee will go actively to work with the preparations, and it is expected that in the interval between now and June, when it is thought the meet will be held, much work can be accomplished. The principal task will be the collection of subscriptions, and every member of the division will be called upon. It is expected that wheelmen who are not members of the L. A. W. will contribute and participate in the festivities in June.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone, and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

BRANCH OFFICES IN ALL THE LEADING CITIES.

Chicago - - - - C. F. STOKES, 298 Wabash Ave.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE CLUB.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Officers of the Genesee Bicycle Club for 1888: President, Bradly Woodhull; vice-president, Burt A. Pratt; secretary, C. H. Doud; treasurer, F. H. Cross; executive committee, Robert Thompson, A. B. Rapalge, Henry Goetzman; property clerk, B. Van Zant; captain, Martin Shafer. The club stands on a stronger basis both financially and socially than at any period since its organization.

BALTIMORE, MD. — Officers of the Rambler Cycle Club, elected Jan. 14: President, H. A. Barrington; vice-president, Wm. E. Swindell; secretary, Fred H. Hoover; treasurer, Howard Diggs; captain, F. M. Clotworthy; sub-captain, E. B. Jones; junior sub-captain, Wm. C. Burgess.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 123 — Total 56.

BOSTON, Jan. 27, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 1.

Outing Cycling Club.

7399 Taylor, W. M., San Francisco.

COLORADO DIVISION — 2.

Denver Ramblers.

17400 Epeneter, J. C., 22 Blake St., Denver.
17437 Gerwing, Robert, 1420 Larimer St., "

GEORGIA — 1.

Thomasville Bi. Club.

17438 Justice, F. W., Thomasville.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 3.

Unattached.

17401 Covell, G. B., Forreston.
17439 Gray, Adam, Chillicothe.
17402 Latimer, W. A., Abingdon.

INDIANA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17440 Phillips, Maggie B., 211 Yandes St., Indianapolis.

IOWA DIVISION — 7.

Cedar Falls Wheelmen.

17403 Bryant, Jas. E., Cedar Falls.
17404 Grundy, Alfred, "
17405 Harris, Chas. B., "
17406 Knapp, Will H., "
17407 Nuhn, Wm. C., "
17408 Rall, Will A., "

Unattached.

17409 Jeffrey, T. W., Osceola.

KANSAS DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17410 Barker, Geo. W., Girard.

LOUISIANA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17411 Frederic, Jeff, Jr., Pitt and Cadiz Sts., New Orleans.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 1.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

17441 Newman, L.L., Baltimore and Charles Sts., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 3.

Unattached.

17412 Hutchings, Albert J., 1672 Washington St., Boston.
17413 Noyes, A. S., Whitinsville.
17414 Searles, Henry S., "

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17415 Youmans, Winston J., 456 Olmstead St., Winona.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION — 1.

Keene Bi. Club.

17416 King, W. Starr, 130 School St., Keene.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 20.

Albany Bi. Club.

17417 Haller, Jno. M., 240 Washington Ave., Albany.
17418 Paddock, Edw., 3 Green St. "

Genesee Bi. Club.

17419 Montgomery, Wm. J., 13 Savannah St., Rochester.

Harlem Wheelmen.

17442 Glover, Mortimer, 414 E. 116th St., New York.

New York Bi. Club.

17420 Bacot, R. W., 185 W. 74th St., New York
17421 Blackwell, C. G., 204 Prod. Exchange, "

Unattached.

17422 Ayers, Henry, 256 W. 128th St., "
17444 Cobb, Edw., 24 W. 125 St., "
17445 Gott, Clarence P., 79 John St., "
17423 Kemp, W. H., 74 Perry St., "
17424 Dyer, Alice, Mount Vernon.
17425 Miller, Louis P., Corning.
17426 Rothfuss, O. M. "
17427 Way, Willard S., "
17446 Bronson, Chas. Willis, Cherry Valley.
17447 Keller, Christopher, "
17448 Roseboom, Wm. Campbell, "
17428 Burzette, Bela S., E. Aurora.
17429 Haynor, Frank, Livingston.
17443 Balcom, Dr. F. A., Lockport.

OHIO DIVISION — 3

Central Wheelmen.

17430 Beckelhan, Harry H., Cincinnati.

Hicksville Bi. Club.

17454 Bruce, H. H., Hicksville.

Orville Bi. Club.

17449 Campbell, Geo. E., Orville.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 2.

Brownsville Cycle Club.

17450 Isler, Chas. J., Brownsville.

Echo Bi. Club.

17431 Christian, W. H., Avoca.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 2.

Rhode Island Wheelmen.

17451 Mason, Robert L. P., Box 947, Providence.

Unattached.

17432 Covell, W. H., 43 Farewell St., Newport.

TENNESSEE DIVISION — 3.

Clarksville Cyclers.

17452 Smith, Norman, Clarksville.

Unattached.

17433 Cox, P. E., Franklin.
17434 Lillie, James, "

TEXAS — 1.

Unattached.

17435 Andruss, Luther, Denison.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17453 Whitaker, H. C., 2227 Chaplin St., Wheeling.

WISCONSIN DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17436 Splitt, William, Wauwatosa.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Jan. 23, 1888.

LIST 8.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

Alabama,	2.	New Hampshire,	1.
Arkansas,	1.	New Jersey,	34.
California,	18.	New York,	227.
Colorado,	4.	Ohio,	93.
Connecticut,	8.	Pennsylvania,	50.
District of Columbia,	1.	Rhode Island,	8.
Georgia,	2.	Texas,	1.
Illinois,	30.	Vermont,	1.
Indiana,	2.	Virginia,	2.
Iowa,	4.	West Virginia,	1.
Kansas,	2.	Wisconsin,	5.
Louisiana,	11.	Wyoming,	2.
Maine,	2.
Maryland,	6.	Bermuda,	1.
Massachusetts,	46.	Canada,	1.
Michigan,	5.	Nova Scotia,	1.
Missouri,	22.
Total,			594.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Yonkers Bicycle Club, Yonkers, N. Y.
Long Island Wheelmen, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Rambler Cycle Club, Baltimore, Md.
Bay State Bicycle Club, Worcester, Mass.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 12 and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filled by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MARYLAND REPRESENTATIVE.

MR. J. KEMP BARTLETT, JR., is hereby appointed representative, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. C. W. Abbott, which was accepted on Jan. 14.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 16, 1888.

MISSOURI CONSULS.

THE following Local Consuls have been appointed for this Division, viz.: Edina, Mo., Louis H. Parsons; Hannibal, Mo., A. C. Miller.

W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Jan. 18, 1888.

WEST VIRGINIA.

I HAVE this day appointed Chas. R. Goetze, of Wheeling, W. Va., to be Secretary-Treasurer; and C. C. Byers, of Parkersburg, W. Va., to be representative of the West Virginia Division of the League of American Wheelmen.

H. P. WILKINSON, C. C.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 21, 1888.

MICHIGAN FINANCIAL REPORT.

As the accounts of the Secretary-Treasurer were so unanimously passed, without inspection, at the July meet of the Michigan Division, he wishes to make the statement below of receipts and expenditures of the moneys which have passed through the treasury, so that all the members may see how their money has been used. The items on the books are more in detail; and the Secretary-Treasurer is pleased at any time to show them to any member of the Division, together with the vouchers therefor: —

RECEIPTS.

1886.

Dues, L. A. W., 1885	$68 50
Treasurer L. A. W., old balance	50
Divison, L. A. W., old balance	60 90
Division Secretary, on account	11 00
Dues	50
	$141 40

DISBURSEMENTS.

1886.

Chief Consul's expenses, postage, etc.	$7 85
Secretary-Treasurer, books	65
Printing and blanks	23 30
Sundry expenses	4 43
L. A. W. applications	5 50
Refunded Marvin account	3 00
Balance on hand	96 07
	$141 40

1886-87.

Blance on hand at Meet	$96 07
Dues, 1886	63 50
Meet entrance fees	13 00
Marvin balance	19 05
Two Division lists	1 00
Dues, 1887, part	92 00
Road-books	11 00
Road-books	25
	$296 47

1886-87.

Meet badges	$40 00
Sundries	2 99
Chief Consul's expenses, postage, etc.	16 72
Stenographer	36 37
Division hand books	18 25
Vouchers, etc.	8 07
Road-book, maps	46 00
Balance	128 16
	$296 47

1887.

Balance at Meet	$128 16
Dues balance, 1887	26 44
Road-books	7 25
Advertisements, Meet programme	87 10
Loan from Secretary-Treasurer	75 00
	$323 95

1887.

Meet badges	$6 33
Meet programmes	71 00
Stenographer, Chief Consul's office	7 19
Chief Consul's expenses	5 20
Sundries	60
Road-books, printing	231 10
Balance	2 23
	$323 95

No other liability exists; and as resources, we have one hundred and four road-books; $.88 from the League, since paid; and the plates for the maps, which are good for another addition of the road-book, when it shall become desirable to issue one.

Respectfully submitted,

JUNIUS E. BRAL, Sec.-Treas.

TO CONNECTICUT MEMBERS.

THE year of 1887 closed with a list of six hundred and fifty-three names on this Division's books, — certainly a very good showing for a miniature State, — yet we have a splendid field in which to work. This little State contains fully one thousand riders, yet but a little over one half have contributed their mite toward the maintenance of an organization which has nursed their cause from infancy to its present healthy condition. Without an organization of this character, bicycling would still be grappling with difficulties long since overcome, and that it would continue to grapple with but poor success no one can doubt, for nothing less than an organized body such as the L. A. W. could hope to contend with the prejudices and obstacles which have been met, conquered, and buried within the past few years. There is yet considerable to be done before our rights can be fully established and our equality with those using other means of conveyance fully recognized, and, to this end, all should join hands under the flag of the organization which has fathered our cause so successfully in the past, and so joined work to right these wrongs.

Any rider who fails to contribute each year the small sum required to furnish this body a working capital, or neglects to assist in bringing about ends which can only result in more privileges and a fuller enjoyment of cycling to all, hardly deserves the health, recreation, and enjoyment he receives from his wheel.

Let all renew, and to these six hundred and fifty-three names let us endeavor to add at least a majority of the present unattached.

SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY-TREASURER.

July 1, 1887:

Dr.

Balance on hand per report BULLETIN, July 15,		$170 64
Aug. 26.	Cash from Abbot Bassett, dues account	149 50
			$320 14

1887.

Cr.

July 30.	Stationery and printing for Representative W. T. Williams	$15 75
Aug. 26.	Electrotypes	50
Sept. 10.	Slips for use of road-book	2 75
Dec. 21.	First payment on account of maps for road-book	100 00
" 24.	Paper and envelopes for use of Secretary-Treasurer	7 75
" 24.	Sundry expenses of Chief Consul Tracy	5 00
" 24.	Stationery and printing, furnished by Hartford Printing Company, in February, March, and August, 1886, by order of Chief Consul Huntington (bill never presented before)	16 50
" 24.	Sundry expenses of C. G. Huntington, on account of road-book	5 00
Balance deposited with Connecticut River Banking Company, Hartford, Conn.		166 89
			$320 14

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID J. POST, Sec.-Treas.

HARTFORD, CONN., Jan. 1, 1888.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE. — 58-inch Expert, ball bearings all round, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle, Butcher cyclometer; cost $105; will sell for $100 cash. "F," Drawer 202, Holyoke, Mass.

FOR SALE. — Superior amateur photograph outfit, or exchange for Springfield bicycle. Address H. T. CLARK, Wilmington, Del.

FOR SALE. — 48-inch Rudge Light Roadster, excellent condition, nickelled except wheels, ball bearings, Butcher spoke, cyclometer, bundle carrier, and Kirkpatrick saddle. FRANK KNOTHE, 521 Broadway, N. Y.

WANTED — Second-hand 50 or 52-inch crank wheel, good condition, with ball bearings; Columbia or Victor preferred; state make, what year's pattern, size, condition, and lowest cash price. Address E. S. KNIGHT, 414 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

FOR SALE. — Columbia Tandem tricycle, in perfect order, good as new; also, one Rudge Crescent tricycle; will be sold cheap to prompt buyer. W. H. DEGRAAF, 47 and 49 W. 14th St., New York City.

WANTED. — Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 48 inch or 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

TO PURCHASE. — Good second-hand single tricycle, late pattern, reasonable for cash; wanted at once. FRED'K. S. VAN HORN, No. 54 Warren St., New York City.

SMALL WHEEL CHEAP. — 42 or 44-inch, any good make; give full particulars. W. H. GEARY, No. 37 Reade St., New York City.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 5267,

Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easily than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison.

Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track.

350½ MILES IN 24 HOURS

Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount a 40-pound Light Champion), of

323 MILES IN 24 HOURS.

Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5h., 38m., 44⅕s.

still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the

G. & J. BALL BEARINGS.

Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. BOSTON, FEBRUARY 3, 1888. VOL. VI. No. 5. WHOLE NUMBER, 136.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

NEW LINE

OF COLUMBIA MACHINES FOR 1888?

CATALOGUE FREE.

POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

THE RUDGE AGENCY.

The Rudge Agency (recently relinquished by Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co.) will be continued at the same place, 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., by H. M. SABEN, who has been actively connected with the agency during the past two years. The 1888 Rudge Catalogue is now in press.

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT MONTH.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
P. O. BOX 5287.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS. $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

THE Reorganization Committee has held its meeting and prepared a scheme for the complete reorganization of the League. Two solid days of work were given to this business, and the committee feels that it has done a good work, and that the membership will be satisfied with what will be presented to them. We are not at liberty to give the details of the plan this week. The chairman will outline it in a communication to the BULLETIN next week. We will, however, say that the States will conduct their own affairs, fix their own dues, and pay a per capita tax to the national body. Those who believe that the States do and should do all the work of the League will be satisfied with the new plan. Those who believe that League clubs should have an inducement to remain such will be satisfied with the plan. Those who think the present board of officers too large and unwieldy will be satisfied with the plan. Those who believe the BULLETIN should be issued weekly will be satisfied with the plan. Our creditors, who think that the League should pay its bills promptly, will be satisfied with the plan. Divisions that desire to do large works, and who have heretofore been hampered for want of money, will be satisfied with the plan. Divisions that have no work on hand nor none in prospect, who do not need money, but who do believe in small dues, will be satisfied with the plan. This is a rose-colored view of the situation, mayhap, but just wait and see if the plan does not warrant it.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

A CYCLING visitation of locusts has descended upon the city. F. W. Eck, Frank E. Dingley, of Minneapolis, and W. F. Knapp, of Denver, all professional bicyclists, are stopping at the Bingham House. Beginning with Feb. 21, they propose to give a six-days' — twelve hours a day — bicycle race at the Elite Rink, and they will go into practice there. Dingley holds the world's record for twenty-four hours, of three hundred and fifty and a half miles, and the others have long been striving to accomplish some kind of a record performance. Knapp holds the three-mile indoor record, having made that distance in 8.32. In the race at the rink an effort will be made to break the 72-hour record, which is 1,043 miles.

THEY also propose to have an "amateurs' week" of races — prizes for which they will furnish, as well as the track, etc. Methinks the local amateur cracks will be apt to look askance at the team's propositions.

ANOTHER cycling celebrity — of an entirely different breed of cats — has been in town last week, in the person of W. W. Stall, the six-foot-three two-hundred-pound Star driver from Boston. He has been spending much of his time up at Smithville, and great things are promised us for the '88 Star.

THE Hart Cycle Company had an exceedingly close shave in the early part of the week. Little old Philadelphia had a million-dollar fire, the edges of which all but took in the Hart establishment. Quite a number of their wheels were deluged with water, the cellar filled, etc., and about three hundred dollars from the insurance companies will be required to straighten the matter up. When Mr. H. B. Hart received a message telling him that his establishment was threatened with fire, he did not rush off at once to see that the department did its duty, but quietly stayed at home and trusted to Providence and the firemen to look out for his goods.

Two members of the Century Wheelmen indulged themselves in an impromptu club run to Germantown on the evening of the 27th of January. The run was an even twelve miles over snow and ice, and under as beautiful a moonlit sky as a Northern winter only can produce. They enjoyed it hugely, and report the riding good.

THE Century's smoker of last week was the usual success for which anything that progressive club undertakes is a synonyme.

CYCLERS have been out on the ice on the Schuylkill in full force this week and last; tandems, tricycles, and safety bicycles, with an occasional inexperienced or reckless one on the ordinary, vied with the skaters, and, as a rule, left them far behind.

THE University Bicycle Club is inclined to object to its omission from the charter clubs of the new associated cycling clubs of Philadelphia, popularly "the A. C. C." The University Club has always been understood to be a portion of the University Athletic Association, and was so classed at the meeting of the A. C. C. If they have really a distinct organization it is an easy matter for them to apply for admission to the association, and there would be no question as to their admission.

THE Press man is a member of the Pennsylvania Club, and he knows; he says: "The Pennsylvania Club is divided into a smoke and an anti-smoke faction. The former demands that a comfortable room in the new house shall be appointed for members who wish to use the weed, while the latter insists that smokers shall confine themselves to the billliard and dressing rooms. Strange to say, the majority of the lady members side with the smokers." When there is so much smoke there must be a little fire, and really the discussion waxeth sufficiently hot to warrant the belief.

THE old and well-known Frankford Club is still alive, and has just elected the following officers for the year: President, Richard Crankshaw; vice-president, William Denn; secretary, Charles Denn; treasurer, George Hare; captain, James Dyson. Next season the Frankfords propose to show Philadelphia cyclers that Dyson, Hare, and one or two others can hold their own against some whose names are more familiar to local cyclers. Time once was when Dyson, Lees, and Mears were names that meant lively pedalling for ambitious opponents.

PHACTO.

BUFFALO.

IN your issue of the 20th inst., Zany "toots his horn" at a great rate. I am glad he does so, for the simple reason that it gives a field for discussion, and also in bringing forth the views and opinions of others on the subject. Some of his points are well taken, and then again on others he is "way off." I will not attempt to "wrestle" with more than one, viz.: He claims the League should have no jurisdiction over racing. Now Zany must be a sensible man (he would never have written the article in question if he was n't), and if he will take everything in consideration he will see it is necessary, for the good of the sport, the L. A. W. should have control of it. If they drop it, I am sure it will go to the "dogs." I may also say, with others, that "any effort to make the BULLETIN other than a weekly will not meet with popular favor. In conclusion, I beg of you, my dear Zany, reconsider your opinion, and try and agree with me. It may come hard at first, but remember the old proverb: 'If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.'"

SPEAKING of road-hogs, a good story came to my notice the other day, which, although being rather old, has a freshness about it which won't wear off. It is as follows: —

Wheelman, coming up behind farmer's wagon, wants to pass. Wheelman (politely): "Room on your left, please." Farmer: "Go to thunder with yer old hoopskirt! Ye ain't got no right on the road, skeerin' hoss's, no how." Wheelman (who knows his rights, sharply): "I 'll ask you just once more to let me pass; if you refuse, I 'll serve you as I served that fellow yesterday." Farmer, not wanting trouble, drives into a ditch to let him pass. Farmer (after wheelman is safely by): "Say, what judo to that fellar yesterday?" Wheelman: "Ahem! I got down!" Just imagine the feelings of that farmer, and also of the wheelman.

[It is, indeed, very, very ancient, that story. — ED.]

I HAVE received an invitation from the Buffalo Bicycle Club to meet the members of the Reorganization Committee of the L. A. W. and some of the officers of the League at the new club-house. I hope to be present, if only to shake hands with the "big" men.

WE have Thomas Stevens here March 13, under the auspices of the Unity Club of the Unitarian Church. He will lecture on his trip around the world on a wheel. He will see many wheelmen among his audience.

ACCORDING to E. Y. Bogman, M. D., a good cyclist should never overeat; it spoils the pleasure of his ride. The Ramblers, on their trip to Youngstown and back, stopping at Niagara Falls for dinner, did not follow the advice. To speak of the International Hotel dinner to them would surely be committing suicide. They felt like the d-deuce the day after.

THE gymnasium apparatus to be placed in the Buffalo club-house will be a "beauty and a joy" — as long as it lasts. It will be ready for use in a couple of weeks. There is every reason to think every member will be an "Apollo" on the wheel.

"We have the formal opening of 'our own' new club-house for the ladies Friday, Jan. 27," said a Buffalo club member to me the other day. "MERCURY."

TROY, NEW YORK.

THE event of particular importance to the members of the Troy Bicycle Club is its annual indoor tournament, which will take place Monday evening, Feb. 6. A programme of unusual excellence has been prepared. Capt. William M. Thiessen will command a bicycle drill of a dozen or more experienced riders, which will be an important feature. Professor Zahn will have charge of the acrobatic portion of the programme, as well as the direction of the tug-of-war team of eight, who have been matched with a team from the Albany wheelmen. The music will be furnished by the club orchestra. Fancy bicycle riding, boxing, fencing, club swinging, and various gymnastic exercises will be given. The attendance a year ago was over 1,300. It promises to be as fully successful this year.

The Troy Bicycle Club is one of the largest in the country, now numbering about one hundred and thirty. It has recently come into possession of the entire property upon which its club-house stands, making for it a very desirable permanent home. New acquisitions are being made to its numbers at each club meeting, and its ultimate prosperity is more than assured. The club has recently completely fitted up its gymnasium with new and improved apparatus, and lessons by two competent instructors are given two evenings a week. Cycling in this part of New York State will doubtless boom when the season opens. The Troy Bicycle Club has about eighty riders in its membership, who take every advantage of good riding weather. "12,664."

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

THE merry dance, the joyful sleigh-ride, and the engrossing game of whist now engage the wheelman's attention and make him forget for a time his steed of steel.

I DON'T know that I envy the people who can ride all the year round, unless we look upon the cycle from a utilitarian point of view. I believe our pleasure is keener and that we appreciate the wheel much more when we are forced to lay it aside for a while.

I AM glad to note that Violet Lorne indorses my position in several instances, and I think therefore I may be excused if I quote her words this week: "Daisie," of the L. A.W. BULLETIN, has hit upon the real reason why cycling is not as universally popular with woman as it ought to be, when she declares that it is because they cannot afford the cost of a machine. This, I am quite certain, is the case. Girls living at home are seldom blessed with such allowances as will enable them to spare the price of an expensive tricycle out of the many necessary items of their expenditure. Personally, I know at least a dozen girls, each and all of whom ride whenever they can get a chance, and delight in the exercise, but are quite unable to indulge themselves in a special machine.— V. L.

I ALSO know a good many cases — alas! for human nature is but a poor and weak thing at its best! — where fathers of families keep a tricycle for themselves, but rather grudge their daughters taking it out on their own account, and would look upon you as an eligible inmate for Colney Hatch if you were to suggest to them so extraordinary an idea as buying a machine for the use of those unfortunate maidens. Under these circumstances, it is easy to understand why more girls don't ride.— V. L.

"DAISIE'S" other reason that it is not a fashionable pastime has a good deal more force on her side of the Atlantic than on ours. Here, where the Princess of Wales and her daughters ride, and women of all classes downwards may be seen a-wheel, there has not been, at least of late years, the fear of losing caste by taking to the tricycle. For my own part, my good fortune has cast my lot in a part of the world where riding is looked on as a peculiarly fashionable amusement, and women who ride are considered to be occupying themselves in a healthful and rational manner.— V. L.

THAT big gooseberry of the cycling press, a bicycle for women, has made its appearance again with the silly season. That a bicycle can be invented for women, and that many such inventions have been presented to the uninterested world, no one means to dispute, but as to such a machine being used by any but professional trick riders — the very idea is absurd. No doubt the rider would achieve speed, ease in travelling, and several other good things. There is also no doubt she would accomplish a good many other things less pleasant, and, amongst others, the discovery that her costume does not permit a rapid dismount every time her machine has occasion to pause. — V. L.

Is it not a little singular that no lady rider of prominence has come forward to second what the gentlemen have said regarding the lady's bicycle? The gentlemen speak in the most positive terms and insist that the ladies do want a two-wheeler, but I have yet to find a lady rider who regards such a machine as a long-felt want. DAISIE.

CALIFORNIA RACING ASSOCIATION.

IN response to a call, delegates from the various clubs of San Francisco met on Saturday evening, Jan. 14, at the rooms of the Bay City Wheelmen, for the purpose of organizing the California Interclub Road-Racing Association. There were represented the Alameda Scorchers, the Ariel Bicycle Club of Oakland, the Bay City Wheelmen, the Garden City Wheelmen of San José, the Oak Leaf Wheelmen of Stockton, the Outing Cycling Club of this city, and the Pasadena Cycling Club. The San Francisco Bicycle Club was engaged with its annual dinner, but sent word that they were in sympathy with the movement and would join the association. Edwin Mohrig, of the Bay City Wheelmen, was elected president and R. J. Mier, of the Outing Cycling Club, secretary-treasurer. The governing body, it was decided, should be composed of three representatives from each club belonging to the association. It was resolved to hold a series of three races, during the season, of 25, 50, and 100 miles, respectively, a handsome trophy of silver to be finally awarded at the close of the series to the club scoring the greatest number of points.

Each club will be allowed to enter a team of not more than three men, the aggregate of the points scored by the team to count for the club. Points will be counted in an arithmetical progression from one to twenty-four, on the theory that each of the eight clubs will enter three men, giving twenty-four entries in all, the first man in to count twenty-four points for his club, the second twenty-three, and so on down to one for the last man. Should less than eight teams enter in any one of the races, the first man will still count twenty-four and the others in the same order, for the reason that since the trophy is finally to be awarded on the total score made in the three races, the respective positions of the men at the finish should always count the same, even though the entries might be fewer.

It was decided to hold the twenty-five-mile race on Feb. 22, around the San Leandro triangle, and C. A. Biederman, of the Pasadena Cycling Club, P. A. Libby, of the Bay City Wheelmen, and W. A. Rathrauff, of the San Francisco Bicycle Club, were appointed a committee to arrange for the same and contract for the trophy, the idea being to obtain and display the trophy as soon as possible, in order to fire the ambition of the clubs for its possession.

Out-of-town clubs were represented by C. C. Moore, of the Oak Leaf Wheelmen of Stockton, C. A. Biederman, formerly of this city, but now of Southern California, for the Pasadena 'Cycling Club; Al Col, of San José, for the Garden City Wheelmen; P. E. Haslett, for the Alameda Scorchers; and C. J. Kryster, W. R. Maxwell, and J. R. Tisdale for the Ariel Bicycle Club of Oakland.

IN EGYPT.

As Southern Illinois is often designated Egypt, I have thought that might be a good heading for a few lines possibly interesting to the readers of the BULLETIN.

On Saturday, Jan. 14, 1888, it commenced sleeting with a rain mixed, and by Sunday morning the roads were a solid mass of icy sleet, hard, and as level as any boulevard. It was suggested that it might be good wheeling by some of the boys, so accordingly machines were gotten down out of the attic, vaseline was wiped off, and everything made ready for a run. Messrs. C. R. Hobbs, Fred Pullen, Ed. Scott, and H. M. Warner answered the call, and at 2.30 that afternoon started out for Irvington, eight and one quarter miles distant. With our ears wrapped up, overshoes on, and warm mittens, we launched out into the three-degree-below-zero air. We rode the distance in thirty-nine minutes, with only one dismount, and that on account of a steep hill with lots of glare ice. Such riding will never again occur, except under the same circumstances; it surpassed any summer-time roads ever known. We often left the road to ride up in some large field, to cut circles, and in some places did not have to use a pedal for a quarter of a mile. Arriving at Irvington, we were met with hot coffee and a splendid lunch. Did we do it justice? I think the hostess can best answer that. After having satisfied the inner man, Who is going to ride back was the question? Every body, of course! We started; we did n't finish, though. The wind had risen, and was directly in our faces; the way it whistled through my whiskers made me pull up to the station-house and wait for the train; was soon joined by the rest of the boys, who said, "Let 's quit wheel: our 'rep.' is up"; and we did, arriving back home at 5.30 P. M., after one of the nicest rides of the season; two American Champions, one Victor, and a — yes, a Star. I rode the Star, and did n't have to eat from the mantel the next day either. Trusting I have not been wearisome, and wishing to hear from other North Pole riders, I am,

HARRY M. WARNER,
L. A. W., 15,714.

STREET PAVEMENTS.

IN an article on the past, present, and future of street pavements, Mr. John H. Sargent, of the Civil Engineers Club of Cleveland, Ohio, has this to say about brick pavements: —

I wish to treat of a material for pavement with which we in Cleveland have had little experience. It is so abundant, so accessible, and so cheap withal, that people discard it as but the dust beneath their feet. So it is with many of the most common things in nature: they often turn out to be our greatest blessings. Petroleum and natural gas took many years to demonstrate their capabilities. Clay, the ore of aluminum, when properly manufactured and burned, becomes what may be called an igneous rock, unaffected by the weather, water, or fire itself. It will stand more pressure in the testing machine than the best of granite. It is homogeneous and slightly elastic; it will neither act upon the horses' shoes nor be acted upon by them. I speak now of brick made of fire-clay. They should be burned hard enough to partially vitrify the moulding sand on their surface. In this condition you cannot sharpen your axe upon them, nor wear away their surface by attrition. The tenacity and wearing quality of an ordinary brick is remarkable. The mason, when he has to shape a brick, will not attack a hard-burned one. If he does, watch him, and see how little effect he has upon it with his sharp steel trowel Look at our tall brick buildings, and see what pressure ordinary brick have to sustain. The walls of my own homestead have stood the buffetings of sixty alternating seasons of frost and heat and storm unimpaired. The bricks of the old Roman ruins, shattered by earthquakes, fire, and war, stand out sharp and jagged; these bricks are but one and a half inches thick, but they, the individual bricks, are now as sound and solid as they were two thousand years ago.

It is thought that the fire-clays of our coal measures will produce a better brick for pavements than our common red clays.

I am inclined to think this is so, but the common brick have been used in Charleston, West Virginia, and Bloomington and other towns in Illinois for a dozen years. Some taken up after ten years' wear had been worn down less than a quarter of an inch. Experience only can determine the best clay and best treatment. Last fall a small section of fire-brick was put down in the street railray track at the intersection of Detroit and Pearl Streets, and another at the intersection of Ontario and Michigan. I would invite the members of the club to examine them. I can see no perceptible wear or deterioration Aside from the question of durabilty and economy, they make a very smooth, quiet, and dustless street. There are certain patent schemes for brick pavement, but they are all "no good," and come under the same category with patents on wood pavements. A perfectly formed and consolidated road-bed made by rolling or pounding and covered by a single course of bricks laid edgewise, with the joints filled with hot asphaltum and sharp sand, makes a perfect, continuous floor, on a foundation that cannot escape.

At the same cost, and I have long front to pave, I should much prefer the brick to stone. The cost of a foundation for the one is practically the same as for the other. The brick will have a more perfect bearing than the stone, for the bricks have a full bearing bed all alike, and are of the same depth, while the stones are of unequal depths, and the lower end more or less wedge shaped. The bricks will fit far closer together, and hence will require much less asphaltum filling, and, having a smoother surface, will shed off the water more perfectly.

WRITTEN FOR MARYLAND, BUT GOOD IN ANY CLIMATE.

THE following is written to the Wheel by "Ralph," its Baltimore correspondent: —

I have frequently heard from the dissatisfied portion of our membership, lately, those old and threadbare questions: "What has the Maryland Division of the League done for our wheelmen?" In answer to your question, gentlemen, I will join you in saying in a direct way almost nothing, but must add, in an indirect way a great deal. Whilst there has been as yet very little necessity for legislation here, in regard to our wheelmen's rights on the roads, it is only natural to suppose that this need would have long since shown itself had not the wheelmen of other States asserted their rights and been vastly assisted therein by the League. One of our prominent wheelmen has a good way of putting the advantage of the League. When he meets one of the "kickers" he calmly informs him of the fact: "That if it were not for the League, my friend, you would be riding your wheel in your back yard or on your roof"; and that is just about the size of it. Now as to the Maryland Division, having done nothing, I can hardly agree with you, gentlemen; for such a small Division, she has certainly done a great deal, and if you will but look about you you will certainly see that she has not been idle. That she has not done more there is no one more to blame, "gentlemen kickers," than yourselves. Ask yourselves, What have you done for the Maryland Division, that you should cry so much for returns? Has your dissatisfaction helped to encourage the unattached to join our ranks? No; quite the contrary. Instead of saying nothing of the wrongs which you suppose are being done you now, and getting to work putting your shoulders to the wheel and doing all you can by increasing our Division membership, etc., you cry it down, and surely you do no one more harm than yourselves. Remember, gentlemen, that every member added to your Division adds just that much to our strength. Like the poor and sickly child, that is compelled, through its weakness, to take the jeers and cuffs of every one, but who, through the attention of some benefactor, eventually finds itself grown a strong and hearty man, asserts its rights and gets them, so is your Division. Make a man of it, gentlemen, and then we can expect a man's share of the returns.

CLEVELAND, O.

WE think the record of the "Star Wheel Club" of this city for 1887 will compare well with that of any club of its size in the country, though before reading reports of the various clubs published in the BULLETIN I had no idea that we were entitled to a large slice of the "cake," if not the whole loaf. We have made in the last year twenty-nine club runs, covering a total of 1,303 miles, an average of nearly forty-five miles per run.

The following members have ridden over two thousand miles during the year: H. E. Chubb, 4,749 miles; A. R. Scott, 4,360; Robert Ruck, 4,240; Wm. N. Taylor, 3,775; R. W. Wright, 2,400; Charles Fogelberg, 2,116; a total of 21,640 miles for the first six.

There have been ten century runs, as follows: A. R. Scott, three, 100, 103, 175; Robert Ruck, three, 100, 103, 175; H. E. Chubb, one, 103; V. Mathews, one, 103; W. Collins, one, 100; Wm. N. Taylor, one, 100;

H. E. CHUBB,
JAN. 24, 1888. Capt.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

HOTELS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In the BULLETIN of Jan. 20, a correspondent complains that many League men did not stop at the L. A. W. hotel. I think the reason will be found in the fact that the L. A. W. hotel is almost invariably the highest priced hotel in the place, and even with the reduction given to League men, does not meet the purse of the average wheelman. In my own vicinity are Buffalo and Niagara Falls. At the former, the Genesee, at the latter the International are the regular League hotels, both $4.00 per day.

In both places may be found good clean well-appointed hotels at from $2.50 to $3.00 per day. The majority of wheelmen here stop at the Niagara House, at the Falls, where a good substantial dinner can be obtained for fifty cents. If we went to the International (L. A. W. hotel) we should pay $1.00 or $1.25 for dinner, and have a much larger number of entrées and desserts, but should be in no better shape to ride home than after eating the somewhat plainer fare of the Niagara House.

Wheelmen are more truly representative of the middle classes of modern society than any other organization in the country. The extremely poor cannot afford wheels; the extremely rich are too enervated by luxury, and are so freely supplied with horses and other means of diversion, that they do not enter into the sport, as a rule, with the enthusiasm and vim of the ordinary middle-class youth. Such being the case, we should select hotels suited to the purse of the average wheelmen, and not the gilt-edge hotels, where only a few of our more wealthy members can afford to stop.

CHAS. T. RAYMOND,
No. 286. Capt. Lockport Wheelmen.

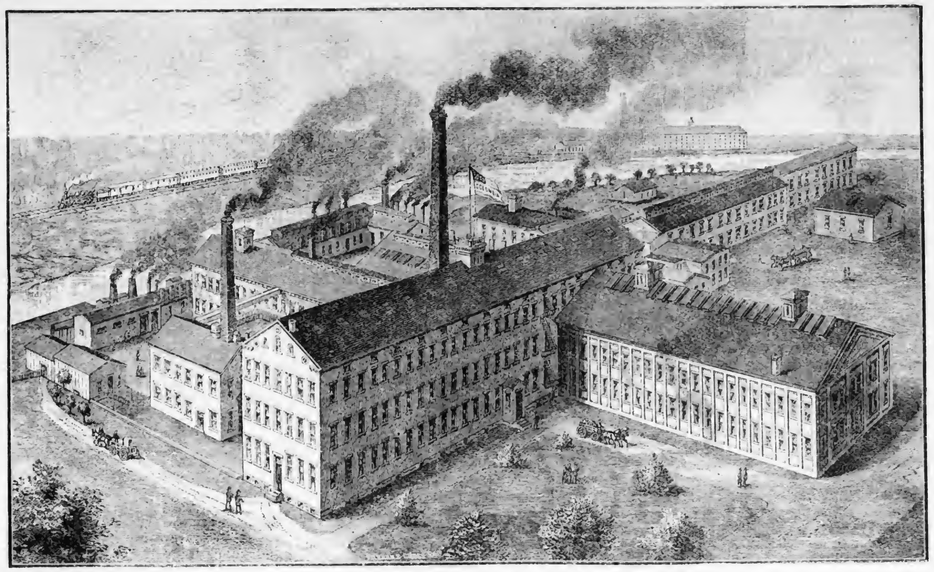
THE Daily Herald of Birmingham, Ala., refutes the statement that cyclers are assaulted on the Alabama roads. It says: —

"It may be true that bicycle riders are not allowed to use the shell road, and there may be a good reason for that prohibition. At this distance from the scene of action, and with the meagre information before us, we are not prepared to express an opinion on that feature of the case. But we totally discredit the statement that 'burly negroes' are hired to waylay and beat the cyclers who have the temerity to violate the regulation complained of. We don't believe it, in the first place, because cyclers are usually active and spirited young white men, who don't, as a rule, tamely submit to beatings from burly negroes, and the b. ns., having a lively appreciation of that fact, would require tall wages to undertake it. Then, too, such a proceeding would be entirely contrary to law, and would not be tolerated in a law-abiding community like Alabama's seaport city.



"It strikes us as being one of those absurdly ridiculous assertions concerning the South frequently made by Northern people, and papers who know nothing of this section, and have a queer idea of the state of affairs down this way."

THE Massachusetts Club held its annual dinner at Young's Hotel, on Friday evening of last week. In the absence of the president, W. S. Slocum, Col. A. A. Pope presided. Some thirty or more covers were laid. The post-prandial exercises were especially fine. Col. Pope, A. D. Salkeld, W. M. Farrington, C. D. V. Graves, and others responded to toasts.

Capt. A. D. Peck, Jr., read the riding record of the club. Mr. Charles A. Collins, with 5,-209 miles, headed the list; Peck, with 4,002 miles, was second; Pillsbury's 2,600 miles on a tricycle was received with shouts of "good." Then followed Coverly, with 2,462 miles; Davis, 2,400; Amory, 2,000; Dowden, 1,600. S. R. Eaton, 1,500. Then came Tibbet, with 1,349; Sprague, 1,325; Corey and Williams, 1,200; Slocum, 1,148; Hill, Salkeld, 1,000.

THE records of the following riders dated with the beginning of their riding: Peck, 14,791; Collins, 14,213½; Slocum, 11,603; Davis, 7,614; Farrington, 7,350; Bellows, 6,193; Pillsbury, 5,236; Eaton, 5,150; Coverly, 5,700; Shillaber, 5,000; Col. A. A. Pope, 5,000.

THE members of the Hyde Park Ramblers Rifle Team would like to hear from the Roxbury Bicycle Club Rifle Team, or some other club's rifle team. Address, P. O. Box 219.

THE COLUMBIA BICYCLE FACTORY.

THE Columbia bicycle factory is situated within easy walking distance from the railway station in Hartford, Conn. The buildings have been enlarged until they now cover five acres of floorage. To the bicycle manufacture are devoted twenty-five different rooms, furnished with an expensive plant of special tools and machinery. Perhaps the most interesting of the several departments are the model and experimental rooms, where there are, at this season, about forty men devising, perfecting, and testing new features and machines. These men are all skilled mechanics, who have given time and study to the special manufacture of bicycles and tricycles, and the tests which they give the several parts separately and the completed machine are much more severe than can be given by continual hard riding on road or path, consequently new Columbias when presented to the public are not untried machines.

One of the most recent additions to the factory is the fire-proof storage warehouse, capable of holding a large stock of machines and parts. Those who have visited the leading cycling houses abroad, as well as the Columbia factory, state that this is the largest and best-appointed cycle factory in the world. Any one interested in mechanics, and especially in the manufacture of bicycles and tricycles, can with much profit spend a day at the Columbia factory, and to them a most cordial invitation is extended by the Pope Manufacturing Company. The above picture gives a very correct idea of the external appearance of the buildings.

THE League has heretofore done little for League clubs, and there has been no inducement for them to unite with the organization. The new plan gives these clubs a voice in the management of the League and of the State Divisions. Clubs should consider this before they leave the League and lose their positions, for when they come in again they must go down to the foot of the list.

THE Pope Mfg. Co. will have an exhibit at the Stanley Show.

CYCLETS.

THE plan
Is fully outlined,
AND will soon be presented.

THE committee worked hard by day at Buffalo,

AND, thanks to the Buffalo Club, they played hard far into the night.

RENEW now, and get on to the books early.

THE record of the Star Club of Cleveland is a large one.

THE Thorndike Bicycle Club, of Beverly, is to construct a toboggan slide.

SAMUEL T. CLARK, of Baltimore, has gone to England for points.

THE Clark Cycle Company has succeeded Samuel T. Clark & Co. of Baltimore.

THE Massachusetts Club intends to revive the very popular "ladies' nights" very soon.

THE Reorgs went to Buffalo in the big storm, but they got there only two hours behind time.

FRED T. MERRILL, the Pacific Coast champion, has issued a defi to any or all riders on the coast.

C. HOWARD HUNT, of Camden, N. J., has our thanks for a beautiful gilt thermometer for our desk.

IT is reported that Senator Morgan will wear bigger diamonds than Alvin Joslin when he returns to America.

PRESIDENT KIRKPATRICK has been travelling in the South. He came North to find zero up so high that he could n't reach it.

CALIFORNIA is loyal yet. We have had a host of testimony to prove this. California will be satisfied with the new plan.

AND now the Pope Mfg. Co. says it will not hire men to race. Note that there is a rush for the amateur ranks coincident with this stand taken by makers.

F. F. IVES, of Meriden, has retired from the race track, and is studying dentistry. Now that he has given up racing, he desires to be an amateur.

THE Meriden Wheel Club will promenade, dance, and sup on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8. We have to acknowledge an invitation to be present.

BUFFALO has within its borders very many pretty — nay, handsome — women. Please accept this testimony from one who knows what he is talking about.

THE Owl is off on a vacation. He has so many fish to fry for several weeks that he cannot find time to talk to the BULLETIN readers in his usual Frank way.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., is informed that we have a regular Jersey correspondent, who will be glad to receive notes at any time. Send to "Jer C." 49 Cortland St., New York.

WE enjoyed the hospitality of the Albany Bi Club Sunday night, while we were delayed by the snow blockade, and, finding Editor Fourdrinier in the city, we journeyed home together.

THE League cannot be expected to take up the cause of a member who is having a dispute with a dealer over a commercial transaction. We have many who think this to be a part of the League's duty.

THE Citizens Club of New York will dine to the tune of six dollars a plate. They say it is worth six dollars to hear Sim Ford preside. The feast will be spread on St. Valentine's Eay.

EDITOR FOURDRINIER is not a large man, but in the sleeper from Albany he made a party of after-midnight talkers believe he weighed a ton. It was necessary for him to speak but once to obtain quiet.

THE Brookline Cycle Club had a very successful ball on Wednesday evening of last week. A large company was present and the costumes of the ladies were brilliant. Mrs. R. A. Cobb and Mrs. President Stearns acted as matrons.

MR. DANN, of Buffalo, says that "bicycling is bad for the heart." We think it may be, for wheelmen were ever susceptible to the fascinations of the fair sex, and we know of several that have completely lost their hearts.

KENNEDY-CHILD is getting out a new corkscrew. It undertakes to take the cork out of a bottle in one time and two motions. Some people are in a terrible hurry to get a drink, and these are the victims that Child is after.

AND are the days of summer missed;
The verdant mead, the leafy grove?
Of course not; we can now play whist
And euchre by the club-room stove.

WE have received many letters regarding reorganization. Since the committee has met and formulated its plans we do not care to publish them. Suggestions regarding the frequency of publishing the BULLETIN are also idle just at this time.

MR. DUCKER told us at Buffalo that he held contracts with several foreign racing teams who agree to come over and race next season. He is now at work on track managers, trying to get them to share the expense of bringing these men over.

TOM ECK is in Philadelphia to get things in readiness for the six-days' bicycle tournament at Elite Rink. The tourney will probably start Feb. 22. The entries will be John S. Prince, Dingley, Knapp, Whittaker, Higham, Eck, and Mlle. Armaindo.

THE Smith National Cycle Manufacturing Co., of Washington, D. C., are the latest comers in the manufacturing field. The firm will manufacture the Dart Safety, Vertical Dart, and Dart Tandem bicycle, and besides will do a general cycle trade.

THE Racing Board has refused to reinstate Phil Hammill, of Chicago. They could see no reason why they should reinstate, and per contra there were many reasons why Mr. Hammill should be allowed to stay just where he elected to go.

IT is worth a dollar a year to know and be known by the crowd of jolly good fellows in the League. We know of scores of men whose acquaintance we have made through the League, who have each given us value in their friendship with very many dollars.

WHEELMEN will please keep their eyes open and look out for Ned Hill of Worcester, Mass. We have it on good authority that he will astonish us all by his riding the coming season. The hills of Worcester have astonished many a wheelman in their day.

STARKWETHER & SHEPLEY, of Providence, have published a very fine calendar, which, in addition to the dates, has a beautiful steel engraving of the "Volunteer" in the second day's race with the "Thistle." Mr. George C. Newell, of Pawtucket, sends us a copy.

Der Radfahrer for Jan. 1 contains illustrations of a new adjustable crank for cycles, in which a secondary crank carries the pedal and slides over the face of the crank proper in a groove cut thereon, being held in one of several positions by a spring catch. It is the invention of Herr Rödel.

A CORRESPONDENT suggests that League clubs form a sort of protective union against expelled members, and would have expulsion from a League club carry with it expulsion from the League. Personal prejudices often work against a worthy man, who though expelled from one club may be welcome in other clubs.

IT is generally known among wheelmen that the Rudge agency, now owned by the Pope Manufacturing Company, is being conducted under the management of Mr. H. M. Saben. Orders are coming in as usual, and orders are being constantly sent abroad for additional stock, so that the Rudge agents will always be assured of a sufficient supply to fill orders.

CHIEF CONSUL F. A. ELWELL, of the League of American Wheelmen, of Maine, is arranging a bicycle tour through England and Ireland in 1889. He states that probably a party of thirty wheelmen will leave New York in June, 1889, for England. Mr. Elwell, as it is well known, for several years past has managed very successfully extensive bicycle tours in various sections of the country, which have been participated in by many prominent wheelmen in the land.

FRED S. HITCHCOCK, of the Lynn Cycle Club, has secured the position of assistant electrician, at a good salary, to the Panama railroad, and is now located at Panama, across the Isthmus. He intended to sail for home Jan. 5, but the Panama Company got hold of him and offered him inducements to remain, and so he stayed.

T. T. ROE, of Chicago, who backed A. A. McCurdy in the late match with S. G. Whittaker, has entered suit in Minneapolis against J. L. Black, J. S. Wood, and W. A. Tanner, to recover $1,000 deposited by him on the event. McCurdy went with him to Chicago on Jan. 15, on which date Whittaker also started on the road in the interests of the bicycle manufacturing firm he represents.

IT is doubtful if there will be any spring election of consuls and representatives this year. The new plan calls for a change in the date of election, and the easiest way to change from the present system to the new seems to be to dispense with the coming election and allow the officials to hold over till a new election, to be held next summer. It is desirable to get to work under the new order of things as soon as possible.

SOME complaint has been made regarding the ticket issued this year. We selected the best stock, and did not have it thick because the ticket is carried either in a holder or a wallet. There has been some complaint from those who desire to carry the ticket in the pocket. We have gotten out a new and thicker ticket, which we will supply to any one in exchange for the old ticket, provided they will send a stamp for return postage. We do not recommend the new ticket for the holder.

THE Rovers' Cycle Club of Charlestown and their lady friends had a very enjoyable sleighride, Tuesday evening, Jan. 24. Two barges conveyed the party to Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale, where dinner was served, and then dancing was in order, and it was early Wednesday morning before the merry party reached home.

THE Racine Bicycle Club invited us to dance with it Jan. 31. The snow blockade between Boston and the West would have prevented us reaching the hall had we elected to go, and as it was useless to undertake an impossible task, we concluded to sit by the fire and eat apples at home. Nevertheless we are obliged for the invitation.

THE National Topographical Society have been directed to prepare a map of the country surrounding Paris within a radius of 150 kilometres, and to specially mark thereon those roads most suitable for the velocipede. The plan will be drawn to a 1-25,000th scale, and is to indicate the character of the roads from a cyclist's point of view, throughout their entire length, so as to afford the completest information to the rider as to gradients, etc., from one town to another within the radius. It is also to contain sundry particulars respecting the recources of the various localities. This is the first step taken by France towards the utilization and official recognition of the cyclist in time of war.

S. G. WHITTAKER has made the following statement, which may or may not be accepted by his friends. He says: "I will expose everything. The race was a fraud, if ever there was one, as there was not a cent of money put up by my backers. There was $8,000 up, and that belonged to Mr. Rowe. The other gang simply took that money and bet it over again. I had a contract, but it was with Wood and Tanner, to win the race and receive $2,500. Now what I want to say is, that the race has never been run, because I did not ride at all, and, consequently, could not have won the race. Besides, I never got a cent out of it; Tanner, Wood, and the rest of them have all the boodle."

ST. LOUIS.

LAST week I had the unpleasant task of furnishing you with some information regarding Frank Mehlig's statement of imprisonment and fining at Hillsboro on the De Soto road. I am pleased this week to publish the following letter to me from the justice of the peace, which, although a source of satisfaction, because of the pervading tone of respect for wheelmen in it, puts Mehlig in rather a peculiar position. As I quoted Mr. Mehlig's letter verbatim, it is but fair to give the other side the same benefit. The Hillsboro letter reads as follows: —

HILLSBORO, Jan. 16.

Dear Sir: — Yours at hand. Will state that no bicyclist, either named Frank Mehlig or anything else, has been arrested, and fined by me. I also made inquiries of the prosecuting attorney whether one had been arrested and fined, either by Squire Williams, of Victoria (a neighboring town), or by any of the De Soto justices, and am told there was not. As I am also in the newspaper business, will state further that no such case has come under my observation, and believe the rumor is wholly without foundation. The reason I did not answer you sooner was because I could not see the prosecuting attorney earlier, he being very busy at present, Circuit Court being in session. Hoping this will be a satisfactory answer to your inquiry, I am yours, F. J. SHEIBLE,
Justice of the Peace.

THE prompt and emphatic manner in which Justice Sheible contradicts Mehlig's statement and the pains he evidently went to to thoroughly sift the matter, are evidences that he feels deeply any such imputation of narrowmindedness as Mehlig's charge would put upon him. It is gratifying to see so complete and righteously indignant an answer. Mehlig is living out of the city, or I would ere this have discovered how he would make his story and the letter agree.

HAL GREENWOOD is not going to let the twelve-time climb of Corey Hill distract attention from John A. Wells. He said this week that he was going to make Wells ride with him, or show him up. He added: "I did n't seek any match with Mr. Wells, but he attacked me openly, doubted my ability, and slurred me in such a way that I cannot let him get away from me. It is n't very long till spring now, and I want to give him a chance to get ready. I believe that Mr. Wells is using my offer to climb Corey Hill twelve times as a means to get out of the contest with me; in other words, I believe Mr. Wells is trying to crawfish, and I don't propose to let him do it without showing the cycling world that he is crawfishing."

HARRY GORDON writes from Denver that he does n't know whether he has been growing older than younger. He is as bald, he says, as a baby or an old man. He lost all his hair during an attack of erysipelas that almost carried him across the Dark River. An abscess formed on his neck, and altogether he thought he would never be riding a wheel again. But now he is up and getting along nicely.

WHEELS FOR 1888.

Our Catalogue of Bicycles for the season of '88 is now ready to be mailed to those interested.

ALL GRADES. ALL SIZES. ALL PRICES.

Those contemplating a purchase will do well to examine what we have to offer.

AGENTS especially should carefully study our line before contracting for their season's supply.

FACTORY AND OFFICE,

ST. NICHOLAS MFG. CO., 784 to 794 Madison Street - - - Chicago, Ill.

ELMER G. WHITNEY, captain of the Boston Bicycle Club, the oldest cycling club in America, and an officer of the Massachusetts Division, was in the city last week. Being a close personal friend of the executive officers of the League, and coming directly from their headquarters, he was able to make certain explanations which in a measure turned his visit into a mission of peace and good-will from the parent body to its wayward sons in California. Much to the regret of those who met him, his stay was cut short by a telegram calling him to New Mexico, where he has extensive interests, and where he will in future spend a portion of each year. — S. F. Chronicle.

MR. J. K. STARLEY, of Starley & Sutton, is reported to have perfected a new spring, which bids fair to make a considerable mark in the world, as it introduces an entirely new principle in construction of springs for cycles, and one which at the same time is a very important one, as it takes up vibration in just the direction it is set up by the movement of the machine.

W. B. EVERETT & Co. have taken off their coats and are going to work. The firm proposes to carry a large stock of accessories and to be headquarters for the same. They have already secured the American agency for the following firms: Lamplugh & Brown, the great saddle and bag makers; J. B. Brooks & Co., saddle makers; Jno. E. Salsburg, maker of the Invincible Safety Lamp; Ardill & Co., liquid enamel; and Loudon, the cement maker. Stocks of goods from these makers are now on the way to America.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

STEEL BALL OF BEST CAST-STEEL, HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED. FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats at proportionate prices.)

For many years January and February have been great months with us for orders from new customers. People who have bought a fall suit at home and now are determined to send us their trial order for pants to patch out with until they are ready for a spring suit. Then we are pretty sure to have their order for that spring suit, as a result of their surprise and satisfaction at the excellence of the pants we cut to order for $3.00, because we cut a full suit, custom-made, for only $13.25. Upon receipt of six cents, we mail twenty samples to select from, self-measurement blanks, so accurate that we assume all risk of fitting, and, if you mention this paper, a good linen tape-measure. Or, if you cannot wait for samples, and will leave selection to us, tell us about what color you prefer, send waist, inside leg, and hip measure, together with $3.00 and thirty-five cents to prepay mail or express, and we will take all chance of pleasing, and guarantee safe delivery. For any cause, we refund money upon return of goods. The American Express Company (capital $20,000,000) will cheerfully reply to any one writing to their Boston office about us.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,

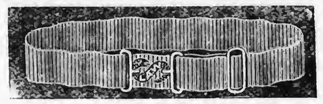
18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

WANTED.

A first-class Bicycle Repairer to work at all kinds of repairing. Must be well recommended. Address

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,

Oraton Hall - - - - - - Newark, N. J.



L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 817 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Bind "The Bulletin" Yourself.

A Binder keeps the covers clean, keeps the file complete, and keeps back numbers where they can be easily referred to.

The beauty of the UNIVERSAL BINDER is that its back varies in width according to the thickness of the matter between the covers, so that, whether the binder contains one BULLETIN or any number, it looks almost exactly like an ordinary bound volume, and the magazine can be opened with perfect ease. The Binder does not hurt them for stitching later on, and some or all of them can be removed at will.

This magazine is an odd size, and the UNIVERSAL is made to order to fit, with "THE BULLETIN" handsomely stamped on the cover. It will be sent to any address for One Dollar.

Address, ABBOT BASSETT, Box 5267, Boston, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest List of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE blizzardy weather the past ten days has spoiled riding, preventing it almost entirely. It is not impossible to ride through snow, but it is to pedal through six inches of sleet that now, six days after falling, is as loose and rolling as when it first fell.

I HAVE n't heard of even the irrepressible Tivy, and when he can't be seen some time during the week driving his wheel you can wager the roads are pretty bad.

THERE is little if any talk in the Missouri Club about the coming annual election, and yet it comes off in March. The present board of officers of the club has A. C. Stewart for president, George Boswell for secretary, and A. P. Dennis for treasurer. I understand that neither Mr. Stewart nor Mr. Dennis wishes to hold again his present position, and indeed it is said that Mr. Stewart will under no circumstances accept the office. Who will succeed him? is a question that has not yet made its appearance on many lips, but somewhere off in the blue distance of probability shines out the smiling face of A. Moore Berry, Esq., the gentleman, some will remember, who made an address at the League meet banquet. He is popular among the members, a pretty steady rider on the tricycle, and a prominent lawyer in the community. What names are mentioned in connection with the other offices have not yet come to my ears. George Boswell has made a good secretary, and established quite a record by the thorough manner in which he handled the excursion attending the meet.

THE muss that Whittaker got into at Minneapolis, Minn., and the bad odor that emanates from the proceeding have caused his friends here considerable regret. Whit used to be a favorite among the boys, and not a suspicion of trickiness ever attached to any of his public riding while he lived in St. Louis. They are sorry that after his excellent performances the past year he should encourage affiliation that would tarnish the finest professional that ever bestrode a wheel. In the mean time, while Whittaker and his pals are trying to find out how much they made, we people down here would like to know why he does not pay any attention to Percy Stone, and whether Tom Eck is sleek enough to slide him out of this match also. Of course it all depends on whether Percy gets back in the League whether he can meet Whit in the spring; but, all the same, the latter ought to say what he intends to do. Whit is expected to visit this city soon, and then we may know. OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 20, 1888.

BUFFALO CLUB OPENING.

THE Buffalo Club opened its new club-house on Friday evening of last week, and had for its guests on that occasion President Kirkpatrick, Messrs. Bidwell and Luscomb, of New York, and the secretary. Members of the club and their ladies were received by President Dr. C. S. Butler and Vice-President Volger, and introduced to the guests of the evening, and then came the dance. The gymnasium was used for the saltatorial exercise, and the mazes were trodden to the music of Kuhn's orchestra. The visitors, except Mr. Luscomb, were never calculated to shine in dancing circles, and they devoted themselves to the entertainment of the young ladies who were willing to give up a dance or two for the fun of a flirtation. It was a very pleasant evening for all. Refreshments were served in the billiard-room. The club has a very fine building, which has been illustrated and described in a previous issue. The walls are ornamented with pictures and bric-a-brac, the gift of lady friends, and the rooms are furnished in good taste.

On Saturday evening a general invitation was given to wheelmen of Buffalo and vicinity to visit the club-house, and many availed themselves of the privilege.

TANDEM TYPES.

AT the risk of being considered ungallant, I must take exception to a very misleading (and I trust, thoughtlessly, penned) paragraph by "Daisie," in last week's BULLETIN. It reads: —

"If I should recommend a three-wheel tandem it is just possible that it might be taken by a gentleman weighing a hundred pounds more than his wife, and then it would be impossible for them to ride it. A hundred things or more must be considered."

"Daisie" ignores every type of three-wheeled tandem except the latest, the Cripper pattern, of which the Springfield, Columbia, and Royal Crescent are examples. In this type of tandem, she makes a good point, as any one can testify who has attempted to control its steering with insufficient weight on the front wheel. Still the fact remains that this is not alone the best, but practically the only tandem type worth buying for two ladies to use.

But where is the Humber, the Rotary, and the rear-steering types, in the first and last of which the very reverse of "Daisie's" statement holds true? The disadvantages of the Rotary and rear steerer have rendered these patterns practically obsolete; but the fact that nearly every large English manufacturer is paying royalties to build Humber-type tandems shows that this well-tried machine is holding its own in the popular favor. Lest I be accused of "talking shop," I will quote from Mr. D. B. Bonnett, who is known throughout the country as a long-distance veteran: —

"One of the most enjoyable forms of cycling is the tandem, either for a gentleman and lady or two gentlemen. A few years since the Sociable was introduced, but it did not meet with favor, having many objectionable features, the most prominent being general unwieldiness and slow speed. Later on we have seen the tandem in several forms.

"Until the introduction of the Humber type, tandems failed to realize expectations, particularly as such expectations were based on the performance of the machines on the sand-papered roads of England. Tandems may be divided into two classes: those that carry the riders on the driving wheels, of which class the Humber is the pronounced type; the second as 'frames of iron on three or more wheels propelled mechanically.'

"The several imitations of the Humber have the advantages of carrying the weight of the riders on the driving wheels, entirely nullified by a steering wheel in front, and other makeshifts to avoid the Humber patents. The disadvantages, and in some cases the danger, consequent upon the use of these makeshifts are only apparent when the machine is used on the road.

"Some of the second class have only one driving wheel. They are, alike with the imitations of the Humber, difficult to propel, except on the smoothest roads or in dealers' halls, and, in addition, have a heavy side draft and increased difficulty and danger in steering, etc.

"It is a fact beyond question that all errors in construction and want of true mechanical principles are greatly magnified on the road, and with every increase of difficulty in propulsion, such as hills, poor roads, etc.

"The Humber type differs from all other tandems more particularly in the following points: —

"The weight of the two riders is nearly balanced. Enough weight is thrown on the rear wheel to give steering power. By practice, this adjustment becomes so even that the rear wheel does not carry but a few pounds. The Humber type is steered like a bicycle, and can be run with 'hands off.'

"All power used to propel the Humber type is applied directly to the driving wheels. There is no loss of power, no side draft, no small wheel in front to 'dig in.' The greater the power applied the lighter the rear wheel runs, and more of the weight is carried, where it should be, on the driving wheels.

"Hill climbing on the Humber type is an easy matter. Two ordinarily good riders will climb a hill with greater ease than on the best forms of bicycles.

"As for speed — an easy-running machine must be a speedy one. It is sufficient to say here that on good roads expert riders can maintain a speed of fifteen miles an hour with ease, on the Humber type, and hills of one foot in seven and eight can be ridden."

This gentleman has tried them all, and "knows whereof he speaks," and it is a noteworthy fact, which "Daisie" may put in her pipe, — beg pardon, teacup, and drink, — that he weighs forty pounds less than his wife, notwithstanding which they have never had an upset. The excellence of the Humber type, in a nutshell, is this: It combines the steadiness of front-steering with the ease and smoothness of running of a rear-steerer. Personally, I am too averse to hard work to ride anything else, and I have yet to record an accident in six thousand miles' riding of this type. IXION.

CYCLING AND WALKING.

THE following is taken from the Iron Age of Jan. 19: —

DEAR SIR: — Referring to your recent quotation from the London Engineer relative to the power required for walking or bicycling, I beg to say that the article conflicts with Newton's first law of motion, in that it claims force to be necessary to keep a body moving uniformly, resistance of air and friction being disregarded. Reference to the first calculation will show that it gives the work necessary for lifting one's own weight 308 feet in one minute, and gives the absurd result that in walking 3½ miles per hour a man does more work than a horse is capable of doing. In walking, the only work that can be calculated is given by the second calculation, 0.08 H.-P. This leaves out of consideration friction of joints and resistance of the air, the aggregate of which is probably about the same in cycling.

With a 50-inch wheel bicycle weighing 40 pounds, weight of rider 150 pounds, and a ¾-inch journal, assuming coefficient of friction at 0.05, the force necessary to overcome the friction will be, as stated, 9½ pounds. The work done in one revolution is $\frac{9\frac{1}{2}\times\frac{3}{4}\times 3.141592}{12} = 1.86$ foot pounds. At a speed of 3½ miles per hour the wheel revoles 23.3 times per minute, making the horse-power required $0.00132 = \frac{1.866\times 23.3}{33000}$

According to Coulomb, we may take the coefficient of rolling friction for wheels of soft wood at 0.04. For the rubber tires of a bicycle it would be at least 0.05, radius of wheel 25 inches. The force required at the centre of the wheel is $0.38 = 0.05 \times \frac{190}{25}$ the work is 0.00026 H.-P. $= \frac{0.38\times 23.3}{33000}$ Taking the work done by the rider in lifting foot and lower limb at 25 foot pounds per revolution (15 pounds, twice lifted 10 inches), the horse-power required is $0.01766 = \frac{25\times 23.3}{33000}$ The sum of these three, 0.01924 H.-P., gives the total work, which, compared with the work done in walking, 0.08 H.-P., would lead to the belief that the bicyclist would make about 4⅓ times the speed of a walker on an asphalt or other smooth track.

JOHN BARTHOLOMEW,
Hudson Bridge Works.

HUDSON, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1887.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone, and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

BRANCH OFFICES IN ALL THE LEADING CITIES.

Chicago - - - - C. F. STOKES, 293 Wabash Ave.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

THE CLUB.

CLARKSVILLE CYCLERS, Clarksville, Tenn. — At the semi-annual election of officers, the following were elected for the ensuing term: Captain, J. R. Wilson, Jr.; first lieutenant, J. D. Herndon; second lieutenant, N. Smith; bugler, W. Parker; secretary-treasurer, N. Smith. The club has about twenty members, and the report of the former treasurer showed a good balance in the treasury. Committees have been appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the annual concert and banquet, March 23.

BERKSHIRE COUNTY WHEELMEN, Pittsfield, Mass. — The following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President, E. H. Kennedy; vice-president, J. N. Robbins; secretary, S. England; treasurer, R. A. Dewey; captain, W. N. Sheridan. The club is just entering upon the eighth year of its existence, and now has the largest membership in its history. Wheel interests still predominate, and the organization was never more prosperous than at present.

CAPITAL CITY WHEELMEN, Sacramento, Cal. — Officers elected for ensuing six months: President, John Breuner, Jr.; secretary-treasurer, H. Y. Toll; captain, C. W. Mier. The club has a handsomely furnished suite of rooms in the Masonic Building, and has a membership of twenty-six.

WINONA CYCLISTS CLUB, Winona, Minn. — On Jan. 2, 1888, there was organized a bicycle club in this city, with ten charter members, under the name of the Winona Cyclists Club, with the following officers: President, W. H. Elmer; captain, J. R. Marfield; lieutenant, J. A. Merigold, Jr.; secretary-treasurer, W. D. Chandler. This club provides in its constitution that its members shall be members of the L. A. W., and that the club shall be an L. A. W. club.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 124 — Total 52.

BOSTON, Feb. 3, 1888.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17455 Bolton, Robert A., Box 257, Wallingford.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.

17485 Bradbury, Ernest Clyde, Abingdon.
17486 Withers, Wm. K., Carrolton.

INDIANA DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.

17457 Berkey, Robert L., Salem.
17458 Berkey, Will C., "

KANSAS DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17487 Gunn, C. B., Leavenworth.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17456 Campbell, Walter, Hopkinsville.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 5.

Nonantum Cycling Club.

17488 Speare, Lewis R., 3 Central Wharf, Boston.

Unattached.

17489 Barnes, Frank E., 58 Warren St., Chelsea.
17459 Shepard, Jno. W., 3 Yarmouth St., Boston.
17460 Spear, Horace F., Quincy.
17461 Whipple, Moses, 44 Central St., Worcester.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 2.

Marion County Wheelmen.

17490 Foss, W. C., Broadway, Ex. Hannibal.

Unattached.

17491 Hildebrand, Leonard, 908 N. Broadway, St. Louis.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION — 1.

Exeter Bi. Club.

17492 Walker, Chas. H., Exeter.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 1.

Owl Bi. Club.

17493 Macfarland, Wm., Bordentown.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 21.

Elmira Bi. Club.

17494 Beers, J. M., 317 E. Water St., Elmira.
17495 Lantry, Chas. F., 213 Washington St., "
17496 Stanley Rufus, 411 Carroll St., "

Troy Bi. Club.

17462 Allendorph, F. R., 116 Fourth St., Troy.
17463 Babcock, J. A., 39 Grand St., "
17464 Baker, C. L., 10 Hall Building, "
17465 Bolton, S. F., Lansingburgh. "
17466 Horton, M. D., 9 Farmer's Lane, "
17467 Ludlow, H. S., corner 4th and State Sts., "
17468 Mosher, M. R., National State Bank, "
17469 Myers, M. H., 53 Congress St., "
17470 Purcell, J. E., care H. Green, Son & Co., "
17471 Simmons, W. C., 211 Eighth St., "
17472 Snyder, W. A., 225 River St., "
17473 Thomas, E. M., care J. D. Spicer & Co., "
17474 Van Dusen, W., 232 Eighth St., "
17475 Van Keuren, J. F., B'way and River St., "
17476 Wheeler, E. S., 171 River St., "
17477 Wheeler, F. M., 441 River St., "
17478 Wheeler, James, 16 First St., "

Unattached.

17497 Bell, Winslow M., Milton.

OHIO DIVISION — 7.

Springfield Wheelmen.

17479 Cook, Ed. J., 95 E. Pleasant St., Springfield.

Unattached.

17480 Bridge, Herbert S., 685 W. 8th St., Cincinnati.
17481 Bridge, Walter G., Foster's.
17498 Cunningham, Geo. W., Fostoria.
17499 Kiser, Dr. S. A., "
17500 Mergenthaler, O. H., "
17501 Sawtelle, E. L., Wellington.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 4.

Century Wheelmen.

17502 Thompson, Walter, 949 No. 7th St., Philadelphia.

Unattached.

17503 Buell, Frank O., 2120 Park Ave., "
17483 Knoppel, Chas., 1108 Arch St., "
17484 Knoppel, Wm., 1108 Arch St., "

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 3.

Ixion Bi. Club.

17505 Lythgoe, Albert M., 61 Almy St., Providence.

Rhode Island Wheelmen.

17504 Burton, Geo. C., Box 163, "

Unattached.

17482 Vaughan, Frank L., Providence Steam Engine Company, Providence.

WISCONSIN DIVISION — 1.

Racine Bi. Club.

17506 Rogers Rollin, Racine.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Jan. 30, 1888.

List 9.

The following renewals are received to date: —

California,	13.	Missouri,	9.
Connecticut,	28.	New Hampshire,	1.
Dakota,	2.	New Jersey,	11.
Delaware,	1.	New York,	77.
District of Columbia,	2.	Ohio,	22.
Georgia,	2.	Pennsylvania,	32.
Illinois,	14.	Rhode Island,	2.
Indiana,	26.	Tennessee,	5.
Iowa,	2.	Texas,	1.
Kansas,	4.	Utah,	4.
Kentucky,	6.	Virginia,	1.
Maine,	1.	West Virginia,	1.
Maryland,	3.	Wisconsin,	7.
Massachusetts,	34.	Washington Territory,	1.
Michigan,	8.
Total,			320.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Middletown Wheel Club, Middletown, Conn.
Allegany County Wheelmen, Friendship, N. Y.
Council Bluffs Ramblers, Council Bluffs, Iowa.
Leavenworth County Wheelmen, Leavenworth, Kas.
York County Wheelmen, Biddeford, Me.
Exeter Bicycle Club, Exeter, N. H.
Riverside Wheelmen, New York City.

NEW CLUB.

Winona Cycle Club, Winona, Minn.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filled by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

Puck has a picture of the tragedian on the road, with his grip and other luggage, and on his back is strapped a bicycle. The following conversation is recorded: —

Temporarily Successful Manager. — "What do you want of that 'prop,' Mr. Daggs? You're cast for tragedy parts on this trip."

Mr. Daggs. — "I know it, dear boy, but in case we have to disband in Waukegan, I want to prevent the tragedy from reaching my legs."

DR. H. T. APLEBY, of Buffalo, writes: "In a recent issue of a Buffalo paper, I noticed, in an interview on athletic sports, that Mr. Dann asserts that 'bicycling is bad for the heart.' If he means bicycle racing he should have said so; and I have no rejoinder. Any supreme effort, such as boat racing, bicycle racing, or running, in youth especially, may produce enlargement of the heart. I deny, however, that the bicycle, when used reasonably, has any tendency to produce other than a good healthy heart action. Mr. Dann may be able to prove his assertion, but as an amateur bicyclist of eleven years I doubt it."

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

WINTER MEETING.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR,
No. 22 SCHOOL STREET, ROOM 19.

BOSTON, MASS., Jan 30, 1888.

THE following call has been received from the President, L. A. W., and is herewith promulgated: —

To the Board of Officers, L. A. W.:

GENTLEMEN: Notice is hereby given that the regular winter meeting of the Board of Officers, L. A. W., will be held at the Grand Union Hotel, New York, on Monday, March 5, 1888, promptly at 10 o'clock, A. M.

The special committee on reorganization will present its report. Being a matter of very great importance, I trust every member of the Board will earnestly endeavor to be present during the entire meeting.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Pres. L. A. W.

BUFFALO, Jan. 28, 1888.

Members who do not attend the above meeting in person may do so by proxy, under the provisions of the by-laws, which are fully set forth on the blank below. Chief Consuls are entitled to vote six proxies in addition to their personal vote, and representatives may vote three proxies in addition to their personal vote. Members giving proxies must write on the blank the name of the person whom they wish to represent them, and they must also write in the name of the alternate. Proxy blanks have been mailed to each and every member of the Board; but to guard against the uncertainties of the mail, we append the regular form of proxy, which may be filled out or copied by those who fail to receive the blank or desire a duplicate.

ABBOT BASSETT, Sec.-Editor.

.....188 .

To the President and Members Board of Officers, L. A. W.:

This to certify that I, ..., a member of your body, have empowered ....., also a member of your body, to vote for me on all questions that come before you at your meeting to be held in New York, March 5, 1888, and to represent me at all adjournments of said meeting. In case Mr. ..... cannot discharge this duty, I empower Mr. ..... to act as his alternate.

Signed,

.....

Office in L. A. W.,

[EXTRACT FROM THE BY-LAWS. Art. II., Sect. 4. — At these meetings (of the Board of Officers) any member of the Board may be represented by proxy, provided that the person holding the proxy shall be a member of the Board, and that no person shall be proxy for more than three members, unless he be a Chief Consul, when he may hold proxies for six members. Provided, however, that no officer shall be proxy for another, and vote in his stead, unless he be designated by name in the handwriting of the officer signing the proxy; and further, no officer holding a proxy shall be empowered to transfer the same to any other officer under any circumstances.]

PENNSYLVANIA MEETING.

THERE will be a meeting of the representatives of the Pennsylvania Division of the L. A. W. on Thursday, Feb. 9, at 7 o'clock, P. M., at the office of Frank Read, Esq., Record building, Philadelphia, Pa., to take into consideration the matter of dividing the State into districts, and other important business. A full attendance is requested.

GEO. A. JESSUP, C. C.

SCRANTON, PA., Jan. 28, 1888.

TO CALIFORNIA MEMBERS.

THE Board of Division Officers have called the annual business meeting of the Division for the evening of Friday, Feb. 24, in Red Men's Building, 320 Post Street, San Francisco.

Any member may hold and vote general proxies to the number of ten (10). Limited proxies to vote aye or nay upon a specific question previously announced may be sent to the Secretary-Treasurer, and shall be cast by him upon the vote as directed (By-Laws: Sect. 3, Art. 2).

To facilitate the work of the Committee on Credentials all proxies must be in the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer by Thursday evening, Feb. 23.

NORVAL A. ROBINSON, Sec.-Treas.,
Room 1, S. F. Stock Exchange.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21, 1888.

TO IOWA DIVISION MEMBERS.

I HAVE changed my address from Iowa Falls to Cedar Rapids, Ia., where I should be pleased to hear from any members.

Let me urge all to renew before it is too late; also so as to be in good standing by the time for the annual election which occurs soon.

J. F. RALL, Sec.-Treas.

CEDAR RAPIDS, IA., Jan 27, 1888.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

WANTED. — New or nearly new Columbia Tandem, in exchange for 42-inch Facile, run two hunored and fifty miles, cyclometer, etc., and a Collender combination pool table, four by eight, nearly new. Address P. O Box 548, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR SALE. — 45-inch Star Semi-Racer (not Pony), 1887 pattern, in perfect order, balls to front wheel, frame nickelled, wheels enamelled, spade handles, spade handle to brake, Butcher cyclometer; a handsome machine; cost $130; price $90; suitable for short leg, say 30 to 31-inch; will send on approval to responsible party. S. I. SNYDER, Clearfield, Pa.

WANTED. — Second-hand Star wheel, small size; must be a bargain. Address FRANK M. DAMPMAN, Honey Brook, Chester Co., Pa.

THE EARLY BIRD CATCHES THE WORM. — We have made unparalleled reductions in our entire stock of Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems and Safeties, both new and second-hand, for cash and exchange; send for list just published; state what you need, and we will send full particulars. L. H. JOHNSON, Orange, N. J.

FOR SALE. — A 50-inch Victor Light Roadster, 1887 pattern, run about four months, in splendid condition; will sell for $100 cash. R. A. HOUSEL, 37 West 4th St., Williamsport, Pa.

FOR SALE. — 58-inch Expert, ball bearings all round, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle, Butcher cyclometer; cost $165; will sell for $100 cash. "F," Drawer 202, Holyoke. Mass.

FOR SALE. — Superior amateur photograph outfit, or exchange for Springfield bicycle. Address H. T CLARK, Wilmington, Del.

FOR SALE. — 48-inch Rudge Light Roadster, excellent condition, nickelled except wheels, ball bearings, Butcher spoke, cyclometer, bundle carrier, and Kirkpatrick saddle. FRANK KNOTHE, 521 Broadway, N. Y.

WANTED. — Expert or other good wheel, enamelled or nickelled, late pattern, 48 inch or 50-inch, ball bearing, in good order; will pay cash. Address BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

TO PURCHASE. — Good second-hand single tricycle, late pattern, reasonable for cash; wanted at once. FRED'K. S. VAN HORN, No. 54 Warren St., New York City.

SMALL WHEEL CHEAP. — 42 or 44-inch, any good make; give full particulars. W. H. GEARY, No. 37 Reade St., New York City.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easily than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison. Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran 350 1-2 MILES IN 24 HOURS on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track. Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount, a 40-pound Light Champion), of 323 MILES IN 24 HOURS. Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5 HOURS, 38 MINUTES, 44 1-5 SECONDS, still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the G. & J. BALL BEARINGS. Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4.—An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by:—

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State. .....

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

THE LAW BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, FEBRUARY 10, 1888. | VOL. VI. No. 6. WHOLE NUMBER, 137.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

NEW LINE

OF COLUMBIA MACHINES FOR 1888?

CATALOGUE FREE.

POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

THE RUDGE AGENCY

IS CONTINUED AT ITS OLD HEADQUARTERS,

152 to 158 Congress Street - - - Boston, Mass.

Under the management of H. M. SABEN.

The Factory is now ready with New Machines, and Specialties for 1888 will be ready next month. The 1888 Catalogue is now ready, and will be sent on application. Good Agents wanted in unoccupied territory.

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT WEEK.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

EVERY member of the League will have a weekly paper during 1888, and the League will make money by the publication. This order of things was brought about, last week, through a contract which the Executive Committee has entered into with the Bicycling World Company for the publication of an official organ in connection with the Bicycling World, the League on its part agreeing to discontinue the BULLETIN. The Bicycling World Company agrees to send a paper each week to every member of the League, to give ample space to the Secretary-Editor for official notices, League news, etc., and to pay the League a specified sum at the end of the year, together with other sums which are based on profits that may accrue.

THUS the members are assured a paper and the League is assured an income. Without some such plan as this, it would be idle to talk of a reorganization of the League on the proposed basis, for the new plan gives a larger proportion of League dues to the divisions than was formerly sent them, and materially reduces the income of the national body. The BULLETIN cannot be run at a profit as it is now conducted. This we say as a result of one year's experience and a talk with advertisers regarding rates for 1888.

IT is possible that the BULLETIN could be made to pay were a publication bureau established and given a large capital and carte blanche to employ the best soliciting agents in all parts of the country. This would be a business venture the success of which could not be foreshadowed. This the Bicycling World Company proposes to do. They have large resources, and they propose to pursue a liberal policy. They are, in fact, trying an experiment for the League at their own expense. We hope for them all the success that their liberality deserves.

WERE it not for the offer of the Bicycling World Company the members would have to accept a monthly organ. We believe a monthly organ could be made to pay an income, but there is a demand, which must be respected, for a weekly paper, and this can now be met.

THERE is no little satisfaction in the pride of ownership, and many will probably regret that the League has had to part with its own paper, but from a business standpoint the outlook is very satisfactory, and there is, after all, much more satisfaction in a good financial standing than there is in the possession of a losing venture, be we never so attached to it.

FOR our part, we are going to labor for the success of the new organ. The interests of the League are closely identified with the success of the contractors, and failure would embarrass us. The contractors pledge loyalty to the organization, and this is guaranteed by a "reasonable supervision" by League officials over the entire contents of the paper.

WITH the issue of Feb. 24, therefore, the BULLETIN will be discontinued, and on March 2 the new paper will go to League members.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Wheel does us an injustice, when he charges us with being opposed to bringing important business before the Board meeting at Baltimore, for he fails to present the objections we have raised and credits us with others that we have never entertained. Why cannot men treat questions of this kind on their merits, without trying to unearth a base motive, and without introducing personalities? If "Ralph" has anything to urge against the objections we have raised we shall be glad to hear from him, but it is very unfair to argue from a standpoint we have not set up. History tells us that business meetings at the annual meets have been barren of good work, and so forcible has been this lesson that the "Buffalo plan" does away with all business meetings at the annual festival. The coming meeting at Baltimore will be one of the most important ever held by the League. Present indications point to the necessity for two solid days of hard work on the new plan. It is important that the members be kept at this work without distracting influences. Can this be done under the circumstances? Again, it is proposed, in order to change with the least possible friction from our present scheme of government to the new scheme, to postpone the coming spring election and hold the next one under the new rules in July. Proper amendments to the by-laws will be presented at the March 5th meeting, and the postponement will be recommended by the Reorganization Committee. When steps have been taken looking to the new election on the new date, it will be important that the States have time to arrange the details of the election, and if the annual meeting is not held till June 18, there will be little time given to them to do it. We have suggested to the chief consul of Maryland that the constitutional convention and business meeting be held as early in May as possible, that on this occasion the members of the board and convention devote themselves to the work in hand, and that, on the date set, June 18 and 19, we go to Baltimore, bent on a good time and nothing else. We hope it will be unnecessary in further discussion of this case to assure correspondents that we mean just what we say in the above, and no more. If there are objections to what we propose, let them be heard. If there are those who claim that good work can be done at business meetings held during a League meet, let them prove their claim by evidence. Baltimore has asked the League to go to that city June 18 and 19, two days. Let any man look at the work before us, and see if it can be done in the two days and give any time for pleasure.

REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE, L. A. W.

CHARLES H. LUSCOMB, Chairman.
CHAS. S. BUTLER.
JAMES R. DUNN.
GEORGE R. BIDWELL.

280 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, Feb. 1, 1888.

To the Membership of the L. A. W.:

THE Committee on Reorganization desire to present to the membership a general summary of the result of their labors up to the present time. Fully comprehending the magnitude and importance of the task committed to them, they seek the best and wisest plan for the present and future government of the League. The object of presenting the result of their deliberations, as they progress, is to invite criticism. If there be errors in the scheme which have not been detected by the committee, they ask correction, hoping thereby to anticipate some of the many defects that any radical departure from old plans develops in operation. They deem it proper, however, to say that the sentiments expressed in the numerous communications received from members differ widely, and frequently irreconcilably, and it is in view of these differences of opinion that the committee needs the best assistance of the membership to guide it in determining the proper course.

Generally stated, and as at present decided, the committee will recommend reorganization, practically upon the following lines: Recognizing and asserting the principal object of the L. A. W. to be to protect the rights of its members, to secure for wheelmen all the rights to which they are entitled, and to cause improvement in the condition of the public highways.

The League has too long suffered its energies to be diverted from the more important channels and wasted upon minor considerations affecting a very small fraction of our membership, neglecting the greater issues, while seeking to establish a hair line amateur distinction, of little, if any, importance to the great body of wheelmen.

The national body should be representative, and State divisions self-governing and self-supporting, uniform, however, in method of government, fixing their own dues and spending their money in and for their individual benefit, only contributing to the National organization enough to pay its running expenses, except in emergencies.

Small States, unable to accomplish work, by reason of limited membership, should be combined into territorial divisions of one hundred or more members, due regard being had for locality, and so be supplied with equal opportunity to regulate their own affairs, with the larger States.

There should be a national assembly, composed of delegates elected from and by the several State and territorial divisions, together with their chief and vice consuls, thus securing a smaller national board, and constituting it, of representatives elected by the membership at large (consuls and vice-consuls) and delegates chosen by the division boards. The body thus created combines both methods of selection, and cannot fail to be fully representative. General representation in divisions should be one for each one hundred, and delegates to the national assembly, one for each two hundred division members.

A change should be made in the fiscal year, and the time of renewals, whereby the work of recruiting the League may be done in the riding season when consuls and representatives are directly among the members.

There should be provided privileges of additional representation for League clubs, securing to them, as such, a voice in the administration of League affairs and the legislation therefor. The maintenance of League clubs is a strong feature in the growth and permanence of the L. A. W., not only because each such club is a recruiting station for the League, but also because the clubs, generally, being conservative and well maintained, bring their stability to the L. A. W., and add materially to its power and influence in effecting the good work for which it was formed. There should be strong committees in the national organization, equipped to advise and aid divisions in the directions wherein they may seek to carry out plans for the advancement of wheeling interests, localizing all work, as far as possible, and providing a means whereby the strength of the whole organization may be concentrated whenever and wherever the occasion may demand it. The committee is of the opinion that far too much importance has been given to the maintenance of the amateur rule, and although believing that good moral character and age limit is the qualification upon which should depend membership in the L. A. W., it prefers not to depart too far from a line at one time demanded by the membership until that membership shall indicate, without shadow of uncertainty, that it also believes the time for the abolition of the amateur distinction has arrived.

The present cumbersome means of acquiring membership should be changed, and any applicant of good moral character, eighteen years old, should be entitled to admission, after two weeks' publication, unless protested in the membership committee.

The executive should be a finance committee as well, and the membership committee invested with the power and duty of apportionment in the formation of territorial divisions. Appeals should he sent to the committee on rights and privileges, and a new national committee be instituted, known as the Committee on the Improvement of Highways.

A weekly official organ should be provided.

These propositions, formed into a constitution, elaborated as to detail for practical working, will be presented at the spring meeting of the board of officers, with such additional changes as the committee may consider advisable. The call twice heretofore made to our members is again renewed. Give us your ideas. The committee desires all the information it can get, and from every source.

Yours fraternally,

CHARLES H. LUSCOMB,
Chairman.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

THE following extracts are from a letter recently handed to me from Jno. A. Wells: —

"I am not a betting man myself, but I have a friend who will bet 'Phacto' any amount from $10 to $500 that the Wells-Greenwood hill-climbing contest will take place this year. If you do not care to take this bet, you might make it public in the BULLETIN.

"If you or your friends have any money to squander on the hill-climbing question, I will be very glad to send them the addresses of a few of my friends."

Now don't all speak at once; if any of my friends in New York or Boston have half the confidence in my abilities as a prophet that Mr. Wells seems to have in his hill-climbing propensities I shall be glad to hear from them. As a reason for not accepting the bet myself, I can only offer Mr. Wells's own reason, as given in the editorial columns of the last Athlete: —

"If The Critic, of St. Louis, wants to wager any money on the result of any of the coming events he will have to go outside of Philadelphia to find takers. It is a well-known fact that a Quaker will not bet, no matter what odds you offer him." Or, in his "reply" to the American Wheelman: "I shall not accept the bets offered by the Wheelman, for several reasons. I am willing to expend any reasonable amount of money in the way of expenses, medals and other prizes, but beyond this I do not think it is either necessary or proper for an amateur to go. I think the rule laid down by the L. A. W., that none of their championship prizes shall cost over $50, is an excellent one. I do not see the necessity of either accepting the offered bet or of 'backing water.' The race will come off, and, barring accidents, the best man will win.

"JOHN A. WELLS."

All the same, I don't think I shall keep awake much at night worrying over the possible results. If Wells is inclined to wager an inter- lub dinner on the matter, I might consider it.

The Pennsylvania Division board of officers meeting will be held Feb. 9, at the office of Mr. Frank Read. The question of the Wells reappointment will, of course, be discussed, and hot measures proposed in the event of its non-confirmation. Just here let me try to say what, in my opinion, is the general view of the majority of Philadelphia riders on this question. We do not particularly care for or admire Mr. Wells; we are none of us ready to vote for him for President of the United States, or even for governor of Pennsylvania; but we would like to have a definite preferment of the charges against Mr. Wells that have led the board of officers to reject him. If the charges are good and valid, or if there should be even some apparently well-grounded suspicions of evil conduct other than the natural disposition to kick, of a man deprived of a paying contract, we will drop him so quick and so hard that the noise of the pieces he breaks into will be heard all over the land. Trot out your charges, gentlemen of the board, and let us have a free field, fair fight, and few favors. If you have no charges, give the man a chance for his little "white alley."

The Pennsylvania and Century Clubs have each voted unanimously to support the "Associated Clubs of Philadelphia." The Century also decided to make a change in the material of their uniforms, retaining about the same color — dark gray — but obtaining a more substantial cloth. By the way, if the best record that England can produce for greatest distance ridden in 1887 is Edges's 7,201 miles, Philadelphia holds the world's championship, inasmuch as W. J. Fleming, of the Century, rode 8,042 miles during the year. PHA TO.

THE Bicycling World Company is making engagements for Maltby, the trick rider.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

I RECEIVED a very interesting letter last week from a lady friend who has gone to Southern California with a Raymond excursion. She speaks in glowing terms of the roads, the climate, and the scenery, and frets under the necessity of walking or driving. "Had I my tricycle with me," she writes, "I could explore this country as I never can on foot or in a carriage, and the only drawback to my beautiful excursion is the absence of my pet steed."

IXION corrects me in your last issue, and gallantly charges me with no worse misdoing than thoughtlessness. I am forced to accept his criticism, and admit myself corrected. I forgot for a moment that the Humber type could be classed as a three wheeler, for I had my mind on a different kind of wheel, the Cripper form, to which I was directing attention. I have read Ixion's tribute to the Humber very carefully, and while I must admit that he makes a strong case for his favorite, I fail to find an answer to the objections which are often raised against this wheel from those who look at it from a feminine point of view. These are found in its want of absolute safety, and the fact that two ladies cannot ride it. Absolute safety is a strong term, and possibly no vehicle can claim it, but the Cripper type approaches it many degrees nearer than the Humber does.

THE following, from an Irish paper, is interesting: —

"We heard recently of a lady who, like many of her sex, was a martyr to neuralgia, and a friend advised her to try a tricycle. As is not usually the case, the advice was followed, and a tricycle obtained. The lady, being at the time under treatment by an eminent doctor of this city, was rather doubtful as to his views on the subject, and when, on one or two of her daily rides, she happened to see him approaching, she executed a hasty dismount and sought the shelter of a friendly shop or cottage until he was out of sight. On her next visit to him he expressed his surprise at the improvement in her health, whereupon she mustered up courage to confess what she had done. To her astonishment and gratification, he was quite pleased, and desired her to continue the practice of what had by this time become her greatest pleasure. She cycled through the summer and was almost free from her dread enemy the whole time. During the recent bad weather she gave up using the machine, and as a consequence she has had a renewal of the neuralgia. Moral for the ladies: Let nothing deter you from having a spin each day, if it be only for a few minutes."

"My husband being a League member, I am a regular reader of the BULLETIN. The ladies' column has been of much interest to myself, and other lady friends, and we all think if each lady lover of the sport would contribute her mite it would become more interesting and varied. I am in favor of the single tricycle in preference to the tandem, as one is more independent in regard to time and distance while riding. Being under a physician's care most of last summer, I decided to purchase a machine and ride last September. Under the circumstances, my rides were at first short, but during November I took many rides from fifteen to twenty miles, without much fatigue. My enjoyment of the sport was so beneficial to me, both mentally and bodily, that I still keep up my exercise on a 'home-trainer,' and am looking forward for the coming of spring, with its green fields and good roads, when with my husband and brother I am to start on a long ride to my former home in New Hampshire. Wishing your ladies' column all the success due your efforts, I am fraternally yours,

MRS. 2,794."

SEVERAL of our veteran riders have yet to be heard from. Where are Merrie Wheeler, Mrs. Tourmaster, and the medallist of Harlem?

DAISIE.

ST. LOUIS.

A. E. PATTISON, of the Pope Manufacturing Company, was in the city this week, and asked about the prospects of racing the coming year. He said there would be much more amateur racing; but Billy Rowe, he said, "they" were saving to meet Dick Howell, and a big event was sure to come out of that plan, too. Regarding the reinstatement of amateurs, he said there was no reason why a professional who had raced for money should be reinstated. "Reinstate one such," said he, "and you might as well reinstate them all." Mr. Pattison talked like one who was thoroughly informed on the amateur question.

So we are to have the Rowe-Howell race, after all. Well, what will become of Rowe as an amateur? If he is to be "kept" to meet the English professional, of course he cannot come back into the amateur fold. But judging from Mr. Pattison's talk there is little prospect of any professional getting back, so Rowe may spare himself the humiliation of asking for a reinstatement and having it refused. Mr. Pattison's position would shut Percy Stone out. If racing for money is to be the sole test, there are very few outside the League who cannot beat their breasts and cry, "Peccavi."

"P. O. RIA" is an individual who thinks that Sanders is not capable of doing much. Just let him wait. I saw a friend of his this week, and he said: "Sanders is laying for Bowbeer of Chicago sure enough. After being at Quincy, Bowbeer goes back to Chicago and claims that St. Louis has nobody that can touch him or Bob Ehlert. I'm not saying anything about Bob, but I do say that Ed. Sanders is going to have some fun with Bowbeer next summer, unless the latter does like all the other Chicago men, — backs out. You know that Sanders is built for racing. He holds the best time in from Manchester, and on the track, though never trained, has shown some good speed. Well, he is now training hard for next summer, and never fails to get his daily exercise at the gymnasium. He will meet and down Bowbeer, either on the track or road, it makes no difference. Bowbeer's goose is cooked, I can tell you that now, and Sanders is the cook.

THERE has been so much of the muscular in the development in the Missouri Club for some time that a sort of reaction is setting in and a literary cult of no small degree of promise got into a nucleous condition last Sunday. It came about this way: Russell Blossom, Gordon McNeil, G. K. Andrews, Bert Taylor, and Harry McCormack were sitting about the reading-room in the evening. The other members were at home, at church, or at the theatre.— for the Sunday theatre is an institution of St. Louis. The five chatted on as the twilight grew deeper. For once the wild tales of bicycle adventure found no charmed listeners, and the conversation even veered around and missed the amateur question. Authors was the theme, and opinions from Dickens and Thackeray to Haggard were expressed on the literary abilities of these gentlemen. The discussion was informal entirely and the occasion was like a symposium. One by one the hours flew by until eleven was reached. Then the hour of parting came and then came a resolution. As the five looked into one another's eyes and thought they might not touch minds like that again, the sense of the dearness of each to each swept over them, and right there they agreed to meet every Sunday evening at the club and discuss some author or story. With a glee club to furnish music, a gymnastic class to supply the muscle, and a literary club to furnish intellectual development, what in the name of Heaven is to be the future of the club? Is it to become a university? In the scale of progression will there be a place for the bicycle, or will the up grade prove worse than Son-of-a-Gun, unclimbable even by a John A. Wells?

"ANTI-HOG," in the last BULLETIN, criticises Percy Stone for hitting the horse instead of the driver for trying to run him down. This puts me in mind of an incident: Some years ago, a gentleman was passing a house, when a dog which he had passed without arousing him was "sicked on" by the owner, and flew at the stranger. The gentleman picked up a big stone, let drive, and caught the dog under the ear, making the bow-wow turn over on his back.

"Here!" said a humane spectator, "That 's no way to do. The dog had nothing to do with it, except in obeying orders. If the man had n't set him on he would n't have come at you. Hit the man next time." "Now, you look here!" said the first: "I defend myself first, and argue out the philosophy afterwards." I have no idea that Percy has any more cruelty in his make-up than "Anti-Hog," but he has much more sense, and will not lend himself as a party to the spectacle presented by a young man being run down by a horse because he has n't made up his mind which one to hit first, the driver or the horse. OMEN.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.

BALTIMORE.

THERE seems to be some inquiry from League members, principally from New England, as to why the Maryland Division, in issuing their invitation to the League to meet in Baltimore on June 18 and 19, did not make the date earlier. For the benefit of those who think the dates named are too late in the season, I would say that it would be impossible for this division to receive and entertain the League earlier than the time mentioned, from the fact that during the months of April and May the business of Baltimore is at its height, and our members, who are mostly commercial men, could not take the time from their business that would be necessary in order to entertain the visiting members in a creditable manner. Furthermore, we could not provide a programme in May that would be near so attractive as in June, as the evenings are too cool, whereas in June the weather is more settled, and the temperature is more pleasant for an evening trip on the bay, which will very likely be one of the features of the programme, and the days are usually all that can be desired, being neither too warm nor too cool for out-of-door pleasures. In fact, June is the most delightful month of the year in this section.

I am informed by advices from reliable source, that the invitation which has been forwarded to President Kirkpatrick some time since cannot be acted upon until the meeting of the board, which is to be held in New York on March 5. This is most unfortunate, as it will be very difficult to arrange a meet that would be satisfactory to all parties concerned in such a short space of only three months. However, if this delay cannot be avoided, we will make every effort to do the best we can, and hope to arrange a meet that will come up to the expectations of all those who favor us with their presence in case the invitation is accepted.

We regret very much to hear of a little project which is on foot. It seems that the plan of reorganizing is to do away with the election in March, and hold it in July, or between July 15 and Aug. 15, and seat the new officers on Sept. 1; and some of our Eastern brothers seem to think that by holding the meet in Baltimore so late as June 18 and 19 that they will not have time after the meet to give proper attention to the election of new officers. Now I can't see how the meet here at this date can affect this point, and, even if it had to be put off till after the meet, there would be nearly a full month to make preparation for the election, which would be ample time, or, if necessary, while we are making arrangements here for the meet, the balance of the divisions could be, and do away with business here altogether, and just come down for a jolly good time, arranging their elections.

It is further suggested that a business meeting be held in New York about May 28, for the purpose of effecting the reorganization, and then come to Baltimore in June for a jolly good time, as it were. Now why is it proposed to hold this business meeting in New York? Quoting my author, "because there can be a larger meeting and attendance gotten in New York than anywhere else." What does this mean? Simply that a larger meeting of Eastern representatives can be had there than anywhere else. Then what?

Now we are going to reorganize the League; we are going to turn things over and start anew. Well, that 's right: it needs turning over and over, and several times over; but when we stop turning over we want to make sure that the right side is up with care. Now right here in Baltimore is the place to do it,— right here where the Eastern, Southern, Northern, and Western representatives can all attend this log-rolling together, turn it over, and have a good time after it is done. Then that old cry of one section ruling things can be hushed, for here the representatives can all come, as the point is more central, and our Eastern friends, whom we hold in highest esteem, will have but little further to travel and the expense to them will be but little more than to New York, and they will have a chance to see something, you know: New York does n't contain all the curiosities of this little world.

Now suppose we divide this meet, — business in New York, jolly good time in Baltimore, — what will be the consequence? Why neither will be a success. Some who should attend the business meeting will not do so, because they don't want to miss the jolly good time in Baltimore; some won't come to Baltimore, because they want to attend the business meeting in New York. Why? Because they can't spare the time or money to attend them both, hence both would prove a failure. Now again, why does the Maryland Division invite the L. A. W. to Baltimore? Because we want you. Why do we want you? To play with you? No; we want the L. A. W. here, in the first place, because we are proud of you as a national association, and want the people of Maryland and Baltimore to see, to know, and to feel your importance as a national association, and we want you here because many of us have enjoyed your hospitality while attending meets and touring in other cities, and we feel that we owe a social debt, and, like all true Marylanders, we want to pay this debt.

But we want first to impress our people here with the fact that the L. A. W. consists of men and not a lot of boys, as is generally supposed; and the only way that this can be done is to have the business meeting held in our city, and let our people and our press see that we are not a lot of boys, but a good selection of representative citizens of this country, and calculated to carry out the plans laid out, and that we are capable of making plans worthy any legislative body. The League has completed its work in a great measure throughout the Eastern States, and how? Why, by holding all meetings there, and keeping themselves always before the public, and at a more or less sacrifice to other parts of the country.

Now move around, and let the national association show that it recognizes other parts of the country, and are willing to assist them; but whatever you do, don't divide your meet. If New York wants the meet, and invites it, and the League wants to go there, accept; if not, Baltimore has invited you, and will be glad to receive you, and you can hold a quiet business meeting here and accomplish and do as much or more good, for here you open new ground, there you tread on the old sod, which you have been kicking so long that it is becoming rusty. Two weeks' delay won't cause you so much annoyance in reorganizing, if some whose corns are a little sore don't put on too long a face. We have trudged along in this old rut for eight long years, and two weeks later than May 28 can't harm us now; if we can wait that long we can wait till June 18 and 19, and jump out altogether, and to the satisfaction of all, then start out. Trusting that the Board at its next meeting will agree with my views on this point, and act wisely in the matter, I am, SKIB.

CALIFORNIA.

THE regular spring meeting of the Board of Officers, California Division, L. A W., was held at the office of the Chief Consul, room 5, S. F. Stock Exchange, on Thursday evening, Jan. 19, 1888.

There were present the Chief Consul, the Secretary-Treasurer, and Representatives Booth and Patrick in person, and Woodworth by proxy.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that he had received payment in full of the division's share of the annual dues for the year 1887, and submitted certain correspondence in this connection that had passed between him and Mr. Hayes, of the Executive Committee, and the Secretary-Editor.

Referring thereto, the Chief Consul explained that the annual business meeting of the division was held on the 24th February last. A full account of the meeting, with reports of the Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer, was sent to the L. A. W. BULLETIN, but it was impossible to make space for them at that time as was explained in a letter from the Secretary-Editor, which was read. In the BULLETIN of March 18 appeared a brief notice of the meeting stating the balance in the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer. In the Pacific Wheelman of March 7, a copy of which was submitted, appeared the Secretary-Treasurer's report in detail. The meeting incidental to the gathering at Santa Cruz in July last was special, and dealt only with a certain subject, the result of which was sent to the Executive Committee L. A. W. and called for action by them.

Whereupon it was expressed as the sense of the Board that all forms of law had been complied with as regards the forwarding to the BULLETIN of reports of business meetings of the division, and that the interests of members in California would be amply conserved by the publication of the Secretary-Treasurer's report once a year.

The Chief Consul then stated that next in order would be the considering of the time and place of holding the next annual business meeting of the division.

The Secretary-Treasurer read an invitation from the Bay City Wheelmen offering their club-rooms for the meeting.

The invitation was received with thanks and ordered placed on file.

On motion it was resolved that the annual business meeting of the division be held in the city of San Francisco, on the evening of Friday, February 24 next, in some hall to be selected by the Chief Consul and duly announced.

On motion adjourned,

N. A. ROBINSON, Secretary-Treasurer.

SAN FRANCISCO.

THE San Francisco Bicycle Club held its annual dinner Jan. 14, at "Frank's." The menu used on the occasion was an artistic card showing a cycling sketch on the front and containing the list of officers and members of the club in addition to the list of viands. The club sat down twenty-five strong and discussed the eatables and drinkables.

At the conclusion of the second division of the menu, Capt Harrison Houseworth, who occupied the seat at the head of the table, started the toasts with a few remarks suitable to the occasion, at the conclusion of which he called upon Dr. Sandford to respond to the toast "The Ladies." As announced, the toasts were to be impromptu, so the members were permitted to suggest subjects to the chairman of the gathering. One of the boys suggested that a toast to the "Bald Heads of Oakland" be drunk, and that Ex-Captain Strong be called upon to respond. (It is hard to say correctly if the member who called for that toast had a spite against Captain Strong, or whether he was envious of the smooth pate.) Captain took the remark as a huge joke, and responded in a very happy strain, keeping the boys in a roar for several minutes. Captain Strong took his turn to call upon one of our boys to respond to a toast. The subject was "The gentlemen who have joined or who are about to join the ranks of the Benedicts." Fortunately for the chairman of the meeting, Captain Strong called upon Mr. Feintuch to do justice to the subject, as he is about to become a member of the army of Benedicts. Toasts were drunk to the "Press," to the L. A. W., and to the "absent members," all of which were feelingly responded to. Mr. Charles B. Wheaton, the newly elected first lieutenant, was thoughtful enough to bring his cornet with him, and during the evening he rendered several selections from the popular operas of the day, besides playing accompaniments to such songs as were sung, either as quartets or in chorus. Finally the cigars and black coffee were brought, and the boys then knew that it was nearing time to go home. Remarks were called for by the chairman, who tried to give all the boys a chance to try their luck at speech-making. At the conclusion of the speechifying all joined hands and sang the good old song "Auld Lang Syne." Thus ended the Ninth Annual Dinner of the San Francisco Bicycle Club, and 1887 was put away on the shelf of the reliquary.

Wheeling matters at this point just now are at a standstill, owing to the rain, which has left our streets in no fit condition for the use of wheelmen. We hope by Saturday that we may be able to get a chance for a short ride; but I am afraid that we will be doomed to disappointment, for the barometer tells another storm is brewing. Well, on the whole it's much safer for our comfort to know that we had better leave riding alone for a day or so rather than go out and get caught in a heavy blow and down-pour.

At the meeting of the San Francisco Bicycle Club held Dec. 8, 1887, the question making a move toward the selection of a candidate for the position of Chief Consul of California Division for the years 1888-1889 was brought up. On regular motion it was unanimously resolved "that the San Francisco Bicycle Club indorse the name of C. C. Moore, of Stockton, for the position of Chief Consul for the State of California."

Under its proper head the election of officers was brought up, and after a spirited contest the result attained is as follows: President, Columbus Waterhouse: captain, Harrison Houseworth; first lieutenant, Charles B. Wheaton; second lieutenant, William A. Ruthrauff; secretary-treasurer, Charles P. Fonda; bugler, Frank H. Royce; members of the club committee, Hampton S. Field and Samuel S. Cobden.

In wheeling circles the Bay City Wheelmen have issued cards for a carnival on wheels and fancy dress party to take place on St. Valentine's evening. This will probably bring out some very grotesque and some pretty costumes. If the ladies could be persuaded to mount wheels in the "Grand Wheel" a very pretty effect could be secured. Somehow, the ladies always appear backward in all such affairs. Could some one but assure them that they would prove a very decided attraction no doubt they might be convinced that their presence (on wheels) would be indispensable.

For the 22d of February there is on the tapis a rumor to the effect that a road race is to be held. That the race is to be held is a fact; but the rumor hangs over the distance. From all indications, the distance will most likely be twenty-five miles. How the entries are likely to pan out it is difficult to predict at this early date, or what the trophy to the winning club or man will be it is equally difficult to say. CAPTAIN.

BUFFALO.

IT was with much interest I read Ducker's letter in your issue of the 27th ult., headed "Shall the League continue to issue the BULLETIN?" and I regret very much the stand he has taken against your readable little paper. I agree with him when he suggests that each and every member of the L. A. W. should be obliged to pay for his subscription. But please, Mr. Editor, don't discontinue the BULLETIN. What would "Daisie," "The Owl," "Phacto," "4 C's," "Bi.," myself, and other contributors do, if they were denied the privilege of having their say and airing their opinions weekly? Include the subscription price in the annual dues, and make the paper self-sustaining, and "we won't say a word."

AH, ha! so you are beginning to recognize our booming city as a cycling centre. Well, you just keep on recognizing; keep your eyes and ears open, and listen to the Bison's roar. There will be a cycling boom in Buffalo this season, a regular "hout and houter," and Ducker will see he has not misplaced his confidence. Buffalo has, up to date, 38.87 miles of asphalt streets, to say nothing of the several miles of macadamized park roads. Right here I would like to suggest to wheelmen who intend visiting Buffalo not to forget to take a spin out Richmond Avenue, Bidwell Parkway, to the Park, around the meadow, and on the way back stop at the Park House for a quiet smoke; or, if you so desire, take a row on our beautiful lake, or mingle with the several wheelmen who are always present, singing and joking as only a wheelmen can, as the time flies swiftly by. You will not be looked upon as an intruder, but as a friend and wheelman. The hospitalities of the Buffalo wheelmen are well known. The past summer Main Street has been paved with asphalt to within two or three blocks of the leading hotels; from there on you have a continuous ride of fifteen miles of asphalt, leading into the most beautiful parts of our city. An evening spent in this way will not be regretted.

SOME time ago last summer one of our wheelmen, while riding along a country road, was attacked by a large dog; the owner, who was near by, seemed to pay no attention to it. As matters were becoming desperate, and the rider was in danger of either being bit or taking a dangerous side fall, he thought of an idea; taking his whistle in his hand pistol-fashion, he demanded: "If you don't call your dog off, I'll shoot him." The owner, considering his dog of some value, quickly complied with the rider's request, and he (the rider) rode on in peace. This little incident calls to mind the old adage, "Necessity is the mother of invention."

MR. BOWEN is out hunting for a wheel which he loaned to some one who forgot to return it. I wonder if anybody ever attempted to steal that sociable of his. It is the most cumbersome thing on wheels. The pedals revolve with a jerk, and if you're not careful your feet are apt to have a tête-à-tête with the stones along the road. "Oh, I've been there!"

THE Ramblers have their third assembly Feb. 8. The members who have the matter in charge are working hard to make it a most enjoyable affair. May success crown their efforts!

I WAS most unfortunate the past week. I figured upon attending the Buffalo Club's reception, but found out later on that it was strictly a "family" affair, with, perhaps, the L. A. W. officers excepted. I was unavoidably engaged elsewhere Saturday, so I also missed the opportunity of meeting the L. A. W. officers, which I regret very much. I hear a very enjoyable time was had at the reception. A whist tournament is talked of, which, I believe, will prove very interesting. "MERCURY."

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

LEAGUE NEWS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The BULLETIN of the 27th inst. reached me to-day, and I hasten to reply to Mr. Ducker's communication in that issue. It is evident that Mr. Ducker does not perceive, or does not value, the good work the BULLETIN is doing not only for the L. A. W. but for cycling in general. I am positive that the interest in the League here is solely due to the BULLETIN. I do not wish Mr. Ducker to infer from this that the members belong to the League because they get the BULLETIN free, but it is the good work of the BULLETIN that retains their memberships, informs them of what the League is doing, and keeps up the interest in the League. Mr. Ducker's assertion that the League needs no paper because the Masons and Odd Fellows have none has no application whatever. Nothing could be more dissimilar than the League and the Masons, Odd Fellows, or any other secret order, with its weekly meetings in every town or township throughout the land. In these orders information and instructions proceed from a certain source and are transmitted verbally from one to another in meetings only. This would not answer the purposes of the League, which needs as much publicity as possible. I think it would be folly to rely on the daily papers to furnish the L. A. W. news, when it is plainly seen that all news (except headers) pertaining to cycling is either entirely suppressed or very begrudgingly printed by the daily papers. I except "headers," because the papers delight in magnifying any slight mishap to a cyclist. There is not a sport in the United States that has as many honest and upright men in it as cycling; yet the news of the doings of cyclists receives the most meagre accounts in the daily papers, while baseball, horse-racing, etc., are minutely reported. Mr. Ducker deplores the fact that all L. A. W. members are not enthusiasts. I deplore it as much as he does; but he must be a very "young" man (in organizations) or very obtuse, if he supposes an organization the size of the L. A. W. could be restricted to enthusiasts only. Organizations are composed of a few hard workers, and many "so-be-its."

YOURS, 10,494.

POTTSVILLE, PA., Jan. 31, 1888.

THEY WILL SHOOT.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In your last issue I notice a challenge from the Hyde Park Ramblers for a rifle contest. I do not know whether the Roxbury Club has a team, or whether the challenge was meant for our team. We should be pleased to meet the Ramblers with a team of three or five men. As they seem willing to meet any club, I will suggest that a match be arranged for Feb. 22, in which any wheel club may enter a team of three or five men, as may be decided. If the captain of the Hyde Park team will send me his address I will be pleased to meet him and make arrangements for such a contest. Yours truly,

J. E. SAVELL,
Captain Warren Wheel Club.

ROXBURY, MASS.

HARLEM WHEELMEN.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN: — Herewith I send you the Harlem Wheelmen's mileage for 1887. It is to be regretted that more of the members did not send in reports of their monthly mileage, which would have greatly increased the already creditable club record.

The medals for best mileage were won by E. I. Halsted and E. C. Parker, who have records of 4,601 and 3,024 miles respectively. A Century Medal was also won by E. I. Halsted, who rode one hundred miles within the ten hours' limit (actual elapsed time, nine hours, ten minutes).

Over sixty daily runs of fifty miles or over have been reported, most of them representing rides out in the country, such as to Babylon, L. I., and various points in that direction; also, frequent trips up the Hudson River, and along the Connecticut shore, not to forget the many rides through Jersey, and the Fourth of July run to Philadelphia, in which a party of nine participated.

Of the lady members, Mrs. Elliott Mason is the only one who has ridden over one thousand miles, and she now wears one of the medals such as the club presents to all members who rode that distance, a bar being added upon the completion of each successive thousand miles.

The following mileage report represents the riding of only twenty-two members, of whom five have reported only five rides each, although they have ridden many times more, but failed to comply with the rules governing the reporting of mileage.

E. IRVING HALSTED,
Captain.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4, 1888.

HARLEM WHEELMEN MILEAGE FOR 1887.

	Riding Days.	Average.	Longest ride in one day.	Total 1887.	Total 1886.
E. I. Halsted	147	31 11-17	101 3-4	4,601	3,602
E. C. Parker	170	17 67-85	87 1-2	3,024	937
A. T. Stesner	157	17 119-157	50	2,799	1,882
W. H. DeGraaf	119	20 70-119	80	2,450	2,521
W. W. Braden	52	26 8-52	75	1,360	.....
Mrs. E. Mason	72	15 11-36	45	1,102	.....
C. W. Griffith	46	23 31-46	50	1,080	1,131
E. A. Quin	59	17 57-59	53	1,060	1,310
H. J. Josephs	45	22 31-45	.....	1,043	.....
F. N. Lord	60	17 13-60	45	1,033	.....
W. H. D. Hoffman	45	22 11-45	78 1-2	1,001	.....
Sundry Members	104	.....	.....	2,805	4,899
Total	1,137	20 229-379		23,127	16,279

COLORADO.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — While the argument is going on as to whether we should have an official organ or not, let me say a few words for Colorado. I can assure you that every dollar paid into the treasury from this State is but little more than a donation, the givers having the privilege, by perusing the BULLETIN, of finding out what is being done by the League in other localities. The benefits which Eastern wheelmen derive from the L. A. W. do not fall upon us. Our cities are so few and far between, and as Denver and Colorado Springs contain nearly all the wheels in the State, hotel rates are out of the question, except such as the club secures. Our natural highways are so far superior to the pikes or manufactured roads in the East that we could not ask the League's assistance to improve them. A road-hog is a thing seldom met in the far West, as the light air seems to expand one's ideas on the question of right and wrong. And in the annals of cycling in this State but one case of assault to a wheelman has occurred. In that instance the culprit escaped to a ranch, and could not be found, so the League was not called upon to prosecute. The League has as yet done nothing for Colorado wheelmen, and it is our hope that her assistance will not be required. In the face of this one can readily see the difficulty we have in increasing the membership from this region, nevertheless we are doing all in our power to give the League her deserved number of members from our six hundred Denver wheelmen. Now, if you shut down on the paper, of what possible advantage is it for us to be members of a national league. Though we do not derive an actual benefit ourselves, we ask, at least, that we be allowed a means of ascertaining what the benefits are to others, through the medium of the BULLETIN. RETLAW.

DENVER, COLORADO, Feb. 1, 1888.

A LIBERAL policy, tenaciously pursued, always tells in the end. That is what the AMERICAN WHEELMAN believes, and that is why they are giving you the chance that they are to-day. Read their advertisement in this paper and then take advantage of it.

THE AMERICAN WHEELMAN'S great prize offer of $500 is attracting universal attention, and it would be well worth our readers' time to look into it. Read their advertisement in this paper.

Next summer you will want a holder for your ticket. Our new holder is just the thing.

CYCLETS.

A MAKER'S WARBLE.

I'VE got a rare boom for the spring,
Tra la,
A very astonishing line,
And grist to the mill it will bring,
Tra la,
And enable the miller to sing,
Tra la,
As he works out another design
That will strengthen his bow with a duplicate string,
And provide a fresh boom for the following spring!
Tra la la la la, etc.

I'm nuts on a boom in the spring,
Tra la,
It raises my spirits sky-high,
And dearly I love a "new thing,"
Tra la,
That goes, when it's pushed, with a swing,
Tra la,
And thousands are crowding to buy:
So, say what you will, I shall doatingly cling
To my middle-aged charmer, a boom in the spring:
Tra la la la la, etc.

THE end
OF the renewal season
IS near at hand, and all are not in.
HE comes well who comes quickly to renew;

THEREFORE lose no further time, but send your dollar while it is yet not too late.

THE League has a bright outlook for 1888, and we guarantee that the dollar spent will be repaid in value.

A WEEKLY bulletin is assured, and more money will go to divisions.

LEAGUE clubs will hereafter have a voice in the government of the League, and will be well represented in the government of State divisions.

BALTIMORE wants us June 18 and 19.

ROWE has really gone across the pond to show his paces to our friends over there.

NOW is the time for chief consuls to send out circulars urging renewals.

THOMAS STEVENS'S bicycle will be on exhibition at the Stanley Show in London.

HERBERT GASKELL is travelling in the South of England for the Rudge Cycle Company.

THE Meriden Wheel Club has asked that F. F. Ives be reinstated as an amateur.

"WHAT in the World are we going to have now?" Why, all the League news, of course.

NOW if the season will make a gentle spring towards the summer, no wheelman will object.

IF your State gets out a road book this year you cannot afford to let your membership lapse.

AFTER this year the renewal season will come in summer, when there is more interest in the wheel.

HAS the club got to go? There seems to be a remarkable lack of interest in the clubs by members.

RAYMOND S. COON, formerly secretary-treasurer of New York, is now a resident of Boston.

W. W. STALL is seeking business, pleasure, and rest in a tour among the cities of the Middle States.

BERMUDA, the little isle of the sea, has renewed its entire membership. One true soul is loyal yet.

THE Warren Wheel Club, of Roxbury, will give a social party at Fauntleroy Hall, Roxbury, Feb. 10.

W. M. WOODSIDE has been presented with a diamond ring. This is the outcome of the proposed souvenir.

THE annual dinner of the Boston Bicycle Club will take place on Saturday evening next at the Parker House.

THE Saratogian will be consolidated with Outing, Dr. J. H. Vrooman, of the former, having purchased the latter.

CHAIRMAN LUSCOMB outlines the ideas of the new plan in his communication this week. Hints are now in order.

THE Massachusetts Club is not a League club as reorganized, but the members are coming into the League individually in good numbers.

THE Denver Ramblers intend publishing a road book of Colorado. This will be of interest to all tourists, whether wheelmen or otherwise.

THE American Wheelman is liberal in its announcement regarding prizes. Their new scheme will do them more good than many road races.

WALLACE ROSS and Bubear, of England, are down for a race on rowing tricycles, at London, Feb. 13. The English call the machine a "Road-Sculler."

WHEN the new plan goes into effect there would seem to be no need for special State organizations. State rights will be fully recognized by the League.

W. D. MEDILL, Windsor, Fla., would like to know the best route from Atlanta, Ga., to Cincinnati, Ohio, and the condition of the roads. Will any one oblige him?

NO lack of ice this year, and the country maiden who next summer hands a glass of milk to a tired wheelman will not begrudge the little piece of ice in it.

TRUE, you have your rights, my friend, but you may thank the League for them. Without the League our sport would never have grown to its present proportions.

THE new Rudge catalogue will be out shortly, and all correspondence should be addressed to Mr. H. M. Saben, manager, 152 Congress Street, Boston, as the business will be conducted on the same premises.

"THE little things in life are what cause us the most pain," murmured Bangs, one day, as he sought in vain for a ball that had dropped from his bearing in the dust.

THE World steps into its old place as official organ of the League, and, as of old, the League secretary runs the League department, while the paper is run by the World manager.

WOULD N'T it be grand if some one would remember the League in his will? But then wheelmen are a healthy set, and we should have to wait a long while for the money.

SEVERAL wheel papers are urging the League to push road and highway improvement. In this case one suggestion as to the method of work is worth a score of prodding articles.

C. W. BROWN, of the Finchley Bicycle Club, of England, covered 7,095 miles in 1887, his longest ride being 259 miles. He averaged about 25 miles a day in 273 riding days.

TWO members of the Albany Bicycle Club were seen riding along the well-packed fashionable drive of the city, sporting with the sleighs and skilfully avoiding collision with the speedy slippers.

THE Universal Cycling Club, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will give its first reception at Rivers's Dancing Academy, Feb. 27. Promenade, 9 P. M. A very large attendance is anticipated. League members welcome.

MANY Boston wheelmen are now engaged in the two kindred sports of tobogganing and snow-shoeing. Several long tramps across the country have recently been taken by snow-shoe parties, and they seem to enjoy it.

THE Wheel of Jan. 27 published a page of cuts of new wheels for 1888. Sample copy free. Subscription, $1.00 a year. F. B. Prial, publisher, 23 Park Row, New York.

Send 6c. for 20 Samples and rules for Measurement, for Coats, Pants, Vests & Overcoats.

Sent by Mail or Express Prepaid.

By reason of our factory connections, and immense production, we can surprise you by the superior quality of woolen goods in

OUR $3 PANTS.

VESTS, $2.25 COATS $8.00

If you cannot wait for samples, send $3 for pants, 35c. for postage or express, giving your waist, hip and inside leg measures, stating about what color you prefer and we will guarantee satisfaction and safe delivery or money refunded. Reference Am. Exp. Co., Boston.

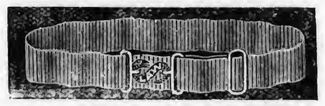
BAY STATE PANTS CO. Custom Clothiers, 34 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.



CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

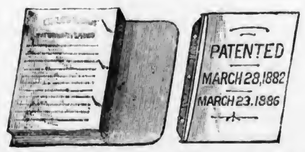
L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.



RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

Bind "The Bulletin" Yourself.

A Binder keeps the covers clean, keeps the file complete, and keeps back numbers where they can be easily referred to.

The beauty of the UNIVERSAL BINDER is that its back varies in width according to the thickness of the matter between the covers, so that, whether the binder contains one BULLETIN or any number, it looks almost exactly like an ordinary bound volume, and the magazine can be opened with perfect ease. The Binder does not hurt them for stitching later on, and some or all of them can be removed at will.

This magazine is an odd size, and the UNIVERSAL is made to order to fit, with "THE BULLETIN" handsomely stamped on the cover. It will be sent to any address for One Dollar.

Address, ABBOT BASSETT, Box 5267, Boston, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

WHAT will the national organization do this year? We will tell you. It will take fifty cents from each member and give them a paper that has been considered worth one dollar a year by a very large number of people who have paid that sum for it year after year.

UP to Saturday, Feb. 4, New York has renewed 1,126 of a total of 2,319; Pennsylvania, 546 of a total of 1,730; Massachusetts, 492 of a total of 1,328; Ohio, 340 of a total of 940; New Jersey, 218 of a total of 865; and Illinois, 271 of a total of 635.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club gave its second entertainment and dance, at Eliot Hall, Thursday evening of last week, and attracted a large number of young people. The committee of arrangements consisted of Messrs. E. C. Chase, W. A. Cushing, C. D. Dennis, and William A. Mosman.

ENGLISH wheelmen are going wild over a distinctively American machine, the rowing tricycle. The News says: "The rowing cycle, or 'Road-sculler,' is not in its inception a novelty. There have been machines of the kind for years. The present machine has the advantage that it is original in design, and the most practical thing of the kind out."

THE Long Island Wheelmen, of Brooklyn, had a very successful ladies' night, Jan. 30, at the new club-house. Two hundred ladies and gentlemen were present. A choice programme of music, vocal and instrumental, was given. At 10.30 dancing commenced in the wheel-room. Refreshments were served in the billiard-room. It was a very successful occasion.

THE Passaic County Wheelmen (N. J.) have disbanded, and reorganized under the name of The Passaic County Wheeling and Athletic Association. They will put up a club-house containing a gymnasium and all other modern conveniences. Since the new club was formed the membership has increased largely, and it is hoped that the new quarters will be completed soon.

THE Long Island wheelmen of Brooklyn are known as the "fossils." Last summer a member of the club was travelling in the West, when he came upon a large fossil fish. This was quickly sent to the club, received with due official ceremony, and given a prominent position among the ornaments of the club-house. Thus do men turn the jests of the crowd to their own advantage.

IT has been urged that the BULLETIN news has a strong Boston flavor. If this be true, whose fault is it? We have paid correspondents in each of the large cities, and they have instructions to send in all the news. This is a sort of race. Each city has equal chances, and when the verdict goes out that the news has a local flavor, the correspondent of that city is awarded the cake. Gentlemen, we respectfully lift our caps, and we likewise bow.

MESSRS. J. A. DU TAR and T. E. Glavin, two prominent members of the United Wheelmen, left last Sunday for a pleasure trip to the Pacific coast. They were accompanied by their wheels. They intend doing considerable wheeling while on the slope. They will return via San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, and Denver. A small delegation was at the Santa Fé train to bid the boys a bon voyage. — Kansas City Times.

AMONG the curiosities of the Stanley Show next week will be the hansom cab coolie cycle, specially constructed by the Coventry Machinists Company for the Emperor of Morocco, and bound for that distant shore the week after the show. It will be driven by four coolies, while his Imperial Majesty will have a hand in the steering. Exquisitely fitted up throughout, this machine is sure to attract attention. A safety with a new spring frame will also be on view, and is highly thought of by the firm.—Wheeling.

THE Jamaica Cycle Club, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., held its second entertainment and dance, Thursday evening, Feb. 2, at Eliot Hall. The following was the programme: Banjo and Guitar Trio, Messrs. Chase, Brewer, and Seaverns; Solo (Vocal), Mr. Walter I. Cowlishaw; Selection (Guitar), Mr. Robert Hyde; Reading, Mr. Henry S. Lawton; Violin Solo, Kuiawiak, Mr. F. P. Von Olker; Selection (Vocal), Mr. Walter I. Cowlishaw; Reading, Mr. Henry S. Lawton; Guitar Solo, Mr. Robert Hyde.

IN order that the bicycling public may understand the future of the Rudge business, we wish to state that some time ago arrangements were perfected with Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co., whereby they sold their stock of machines, parts, and sundries, together with the good-will of the business to the Pope Manufacturing Company, who will conduct it as a separate department, under the management of Mr. H. M. Saben, who has been actively engaged in conducting the business for the last two years. The reputation of the Rudge has always been of the highest, and, now that it is conducted under the direction of the Pope Manufacturing Company, it bids fair to be as prosperous as ever.

A CORRESPONDENT writes: "Strolling last Friday along Holborn, a pitiful sight met my eye. In the doorway of a shop stood a buckled cycle wheel, sans rubber, with spokes hopelessly twisted. Alas! thought I, some 'brother of the wheel' has had cause to rue the fog, combined with the heavy traffic and treacherous asphalte. Sold again! I suddenly became aware that a card hung over the wreck, on which this inscription ran: 'A wheel of a valuable tricycle fifteen minutes in a fire, which might have been extinguished at the outbreak by the use of our extinguisher.' Hastily wiping away an involuntary tear, I departed, reflecting that the success of the cycle as an advertising medium was indeed unbounded."—News.

THE particulars relating to the visit to England of William A. Rowe have been kept very shady, for fear that the trip might possibly fall through, as did the arrangements perfected three months ago. But he is now fairly on the water, and will be in England before the American papers announcing his departure can reach the other side. Rowe will enter all of the scratch and handicap races of the spring meetings to which he is eligible, and, as they will be many, a considerable revenue is counted on from that source, regardless of the returns from such matches as he may get on with Howell and others. Rowe intends to run at least one race for the championship of the world before his return, which will not be until next July.

POST-OFFICE red tape and injustice are well illustrated by an incident that occurred in connection with this office: Last April a quantity of mail sacks were being lowered on an elevator in the post-office building, and one protruding sack had a corner cut off by contact with the side of the well. In this corner was a letter addressed to us, and containing a postal note sent by an applicant for League membership. The letter and note were sent to us in a mutilated form, but the postmaster would not pay the note when presented, because it was mutilated, though he was responsible for the mutilation. Bonds had to be given and the note was sent to Washington to be redeemed. There it has been ever since, and we have been unable to get the money on it. The applicant duplicated his fee when told of the circumstances, and the money belongs to him when obtained. If this is not a case of injustice, we never heard of one.

TO those who have seen that plucky man and world-renowned tight-rope artist, Blondin, ride a bicycle along a rope stretched at a giddy height over their heads, it will be interesting, though a trifle perplexing, to learn that the hero of Niagara has never bestridden an earth bicycle in his life, and could not ride one if he tried. It is obvious that the art of balancing as practised by the common or garden rider is impossible in Blondin's case, so that our curiosity prompts us to ask, in the words of the song, "How does he do it?" We suspect "it 's all along o' that pole," and, to quote Dr. Lynn, "That's how it 's done!" — Cyclist.

CYCLISTS who use the highway between Abridge and Stratford-Langthorne have some right to expect it to be kept in good order, for, at a meeting of the Woodford Local Board the other day, it transpired that one Juan Simpson, — God rest his soul! — in the year 1557, conveyed property of the annual value of five marks (3£ 16s. 8d.) to trustees in trust, to apply such moneys to amending the highways between Abridge and Stratford-Langthorne — forever. The annual income from this bequest now amounts to £25 8s. per annum. From the report it appears to us that the trustees of late have applied the money to matters outside the terms of the bequest, and if the highways referred to are not in good repair, it is high time that the pious intentions of that good old sportsman, Simpson, should be looked after. Would there had been in times past a few more like him! It was also provided by his benign contemporary of Philip and Mary that two persons are to be appointed every Easter Wednesday to see that his pieces are being properly applied. Now, cyclists of Woodford, get two of your number installed, so that the bones of the estimable Juan may rest in peace. — Cyclist.

THE American rowing tricycle has been shown in London. The Cyclist says of it: The appearance of Wallace Ross (Hanlan's old opponent) and the new rowing tricycle in the Great Hall at Euston, en route for Coventry, on Friday last, created quite a stir among the staff at the North Western terminus. After explaining the animal's qualities to the little crowd that gathered round, the great sculler got aboard, and did several fast laps round George Stephenson, to the admiration of the on-lookers. The machine is built upon the general principle of the rowing tricycle last shown at the Agricultural Hall Stanley Show, but the rowing action is obtained by much simpler means. A practical trial would be necessary to determine the machine's capabilities, but Wallace Ross informed us that he had covered the ground between Putney and Euston that morning in something under fifty minutes, and that through the Knightsbridge and Piccadilly traffic. In order thoroughly to test the powers of this machine, we believe a six days' race competition will be shortly arranged at the Japanese Village when Wallace Ross will meet two or three riders mounted on ordinary tricycles. We can form no idea of the result, and although it is an axiom with athletic men that more work can be done with the legs than the arms, yet the act of propelling this new machine seems to utilize the power of all four members so well that in the hands of a trained rowing man a big performance would not greatly surprise us.

THERE are times in every man's life (unless he be fortunate enough to be born a millionnaire) when he feels the need of a little extra spending money. The AMERICAN WHEELMAN offers you a chance to pick up $300 now. You had better take it. Read their advertisement in this paper.

THE CLUB.

LANCASTER, PENN.— Officers elected by the Lancaster Cycle Touring Club: President, Geo. F. Kahler; vice-president, Chas. A. Sauber; secretary-treasurer, C. H. Obreiter; captain,

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone, and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON. BRANCH OFFICES IN ALL THE LEADING CITIES.

JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., New England Agents, No. 147 Washington Street, BOSTON, MASS.

Chicago - - - - C. F. STOKES, 293 Wabash Ave.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

S. B. Downey; bugler, Martin Rudy; color-bearer, Jno. B. Miller.

THE tenth annual meeting of the Boston Bicycle Club was held Feb. 1, when the following officers were elected: President, E. C. Hodges; vice-president, J. R. Chadwick; secretary, E. W. Hodgkins; treasurer, C. W. Fourdrinier; captain, Dr. W. G. Kendall; first lieutenant, G. E. Smalley; second lieutenant, E. F. Myers.

KANSAS CITY.—The following are the officers of the United Wheelmen: President, Dr. G. L. Henderson; vice-president, P. H. Kent; secretary, Harry G. Stuart; treasurer, W. P. Gossard; captain, Nelson T. Haynes; first lieutenant, J. A. Du Tar; second lieutenant, M. R. Seibel; quartermaster, J. A. Du Tar; color-bearer, R. B. Hall; bugler, P. L. Henderson; executive committee, president, treasurer, captain, and Messrs. J. C. Egleston and F. F. Austin.

YORK COUNTY WHEELMEN, Biddeford, Me.—The following officers were elected Jan. 2 for the ensuing year: President, W. T. Bowers; vice-president, A. L. T. Cummings; secretary-treasurer, E. J. Dearborn; captain, W. L. Ayer; lieutenant, Fred B. Cobb. The club voted to remain in the League.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 125 — Total 47.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1888.

Unattached.

ARKANSAS 2.

17542 Angell, Jos. P., Pine Bluff.
17543 Stubblefield Stith, "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 4.

Meriden Wheel Club.

17507 Bartholomew, E. L., Meriden.
17508 Comstock, W. C., "
17509 Sands, F. E., "

Winsted Wheel Club.

17510 Bradford, W. H., Winsted.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 6.

Canton Bi. Club.

17511 Barrere, W., Canton.
17512 Suttle, H. A., "

Illinois Cycling Club.

17513 Lamson, W. H., 44 Laflin St., Chicago.
17514 Whitlock, F. B., 444 Washington St., "

Unattached.

17515 Crocker, J., Marea.
17516 Long, Silas., "

INDIANA DIVISION — 2

Unattached.

17517 Osborn, Arthur W., Economy.
17518 King, Arthur L., 20 McClellan St., Fort Wayne.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17519 Allison, Philip E., 418 W. Main St., Louisville.

MAINE DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17520 Jackson, Chas., Box 8, Deering.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 4.

Centaur Cycle Club.

17544 Neubeck, J. A., 204 So. Durham St., Baltimore.

Ramblers Cycle Club.

17521 Chisin, Jos. T., 527 No. Stricker St., "
17522 Gareis, Chas. A., 613 No. Gay St., "
17523 Innis, F. B., 1127 St. Paul St., "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 5.

Columbia Bi. Club.

17524 Barrows, Geo. A., No. Attleboro.

Unattached.

17525 Colburn, Jno. F., 527 Tremont St., Boston.
17526 Stout, Jno. F., 185 W. 8th St., South Boston.
17545 Brown, Jno. F., Fitchburg.
17550 Nichols, Samuel F., 5128 Germ. Ave., Germantown, Pa.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 2.

Tecumseh Bi. Club.

17527 Anthony, Chas., Tecumseh.

Unattached.

17528 Rastello, Peter B., Hancock.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17529 Cummings, Frederick A. (Box 2807, New York City), Newark.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 1.

Nassau Wheelmen.

17530 Bates, J. W., 463½ Fifth Ave., Brooklyn.

OHIO DIVISION — 4.

Central Wheelmen.

17531 Abeles, E. J., 63 W. 7th St., Cincinnati.

Toledo Cycling Club.

17546 Hull, Frank P., cor. Woodward and 22d Sts., Toledo.
17547 Machen, R. A., care Wood, Colburn & Co., "

Unattached.

17532 Saunders, W. C., Elyria.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 5.

New Castle Bi. Club.

17548 Crawford, L. N., New Castle.
17549 Mengle, Clint. E., "

Scranton Bi. Club.

17533 Sherwood, Jno. G., 344 Mifflin Ave., Scranton.

Unattached.

17534 Jessup, H. C., Montrose.
17535 Tobias, U. S. Grant, Mauch Chunk.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 2.

Ixion Bi. Club.

17553 Paine, Wm. Howard, 114 Broadway, Providence.

Unattached.

17536 Cooke, Miss Frederika, 129 Bowen St., "

TEXAS — 1.

Dallas Wheel Club.

17537 Arbuckle, George, room 5, Mer. Exchange, Dallas.

VIRGINIA DIVISION — 5.

Old Dominion Wheelmen.

17538 Roy, R., 1408 Ross St., Richmond.

Shenandoah Valley Wheelmen.

17540 Baker, Wm. W., Petersburgh.

Unattached.

17539 Baetjer, J. Geo., Winchester.
17551 Dechert, H. D., Harrisonburg.
17552 O'Brien, James, "

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

West Virginia Wheelmen.

17541 Myers, Geo. Wm., Queen St., Martinsburg.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Feb. 6, 1888.

List 10.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

California,	4.	Montana,	1.
Connecticut,	64.	Nebraska,	1.
Delaware,	1.	New Hampshire,	29.
District of Columbia,	2.	New Jersey,	19.
Illinois,	41.	New York,	41.
Indiana,	5.	Ohio,	43.
Iowa,	4	Pennsylvania,	62.
Kansas,	10.	Rhode Island,	4.
Kentucky,	4.	Tennessee,	3.
Maine,	23.	Texas,	5.
Maryland,	16.	Vermont,	3.
Massachusetts,	50.	Virginia,	30.
Michigan,	17.	West Virginia,	1.
Minnesota,	1.	Wisconsin,	4.
Missouri,	13.
Total,			504.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Scranton Bicycle Club, Scranton, Pa.
Pittsburgh Wheelmen, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Canton Bicycle Club, Canton, Ill.
Kenton Wheel Club, Covington, Ky.

NEW CLUBS.

United Wheelmen, Kansas City, Mo.
Tecumseh Bicycle Club, Tecumseh, Mich.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

THE AMERICAN WHEELMAN is always one lap ahead of the times. It will pay you to subscribe to it, to take advantage of its publisher's liberal prize offer of $500. The subscription price is only fifty cents a year. Address, AMERICAN WHEELMAN, 108 N. Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo.

THE Cyclist's Road Book of Boston and vicinity, formerly published by A. L. Atkins, and now published by C. A. Underwood, will be issued for 1888 on March 1. Mr. Underwood has thoroughly revised the contents and added many routes which will be of value. The book will sell for fifteen cents.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MARYLAND HOTEL.

I HAVE this day appointed the Cantonsville Hotel, Cantonsville, Md., as an L. A. W. hotel. Regular rates, $1.40 per day; to L. A. W. members, on presentation of membership ticket, $1.00 per day.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.

MR. H. C. FINKLER, Chairman of the Racing Board, having resigned as a member of that body, Mr. A. S. Ireland succeeds to the position of Chairman; and Mr. R. A. Smythe, of San Francisco, has been appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Finkler.

In this connection, I desire to express for myself and the members of this Division, our appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. Finkler during his term of office, and to assure him of our best wishes for his successful career in the important public position to which he has been chosen.

The Grand View Hotel has been appointed L. A. W. headquarters at Monrovia, Los Angeles County. Rates, $2.00 per day.

ROBERT M. WELCH, C. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30, 1888.

ILLINOIS APPOINTMENTS.

MR. H. J. MOCK, of Cambridge, Henry Co., is hereby appointed Local Consul for Illinois Division at the above place.

The Park House, Sandwich, Ill., is apointed L. A. W. hotel, No. 28. Rates, $1.50 per day.

N. H. VAN SICKLEN, C. C.

TO THE MEMBERS OF NEW YORK STATE DIVISION, L. A. W.

I HAVE received and accepted the resignation of Raymond S. Coon, Troy, N. Y., as Secretary-Treasurer, and he has placed in my hands all books, papers, and vouchers connected with the office; also balance of Division funds. Mr. Coon's resignation was made necessary on account of his business calling him permanently to Boston, Mass.

His successor will be elected at the next regular meeting of the New York State Board of Officers. In the meantime, all communications for or relating to the Secretary-Treasurer's office may be sent to me, and will have prompt attention.

GEO. R. BIDWELL, C. C.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6, 1888.

WE don't wish to be impertinent, but a regard for the truth compels us to assert that no other cycling journal published is the equal of the AMERICAN WHEELMAN for lively and vigorous matter, dished up in a fresh and breezy style, peculiarly its own. Chatty and newsy letters from all parts of America, and in fact, the world; stories of cycling adventure by the brightest authors; articles on the politics and mechanics of cycling, all these are made especial features, while the latest news of the day is always accurately given by writers who know the inside facts. More than this, we are absolutely free and independent, and are the organ of no clique, party, or manufacturer. Our subscription price is fifty cents per year, and the sooner you send that to the AMERICAN WHEELMAN, 108 N. Fourth Street, St. Louis, the sooner you will get the best cycling paper published.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

SPADE HANDLES!

TO FIT ANY BICYCLE - - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making them the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES.—Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agents for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list, NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

FOR SALE.—48-inch Star, 1887 Pattern, enamel and nickel finish, all latest improvements and extras, condition perfect, ridden but two miles on asphalt; cost $151. W. G. MILES, 244 Clark St., Cincinnati, O.

FOR SALE.—56-inch Expert Columbia bicycle, full nickel, balls all round, Kirkpatrick saddle, Hill & Tolman bell, late pattern, little used, first-class condition; cost $150-50; will sell for $100 cash. Address W. M. FERGUSON, Jefferson, Iowa.

FOR SALE.—One 54-inch American Champion, 1887 pattern, standard finish, balls all around, with Lakin cyclometer, cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; rode less than one hundred and fifty miles; good as new; price, $100. One 52-inch American Champion, 1887 pattern, balls all around, standard finish, with Lakin cyclometer, rams-horn handle bars, wonder saddle; rode about five hundred miles, fine order; price, $80. One 52-inch American Challenge, 1887 pattern, balls to both wheels, standard finish, cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; rode about two hundred miles; A 1 order; price, $60. For particulars, apply to M. S. STIMPSON, agent, Onarga, Ill.

FOR SALE.—A bran new 48-inch Victor Light Roadster bicycle, 1888 pattern, condition of machine is perfect, and only reason for selling is too small for owner; terms, and only terms, $105, all cash, and a rare chance, as it is considerably less than cost; machine is just from factory, and will be recrated and put in express office free of charge. Address P. O. Box 88, Cave Spring, Ga.

TO EXCHANGE.—A corner lot worth $100 in a "booming" northern Michigan town, for a 52-inch bicycle, with ball bearings. Address Lock Box No. 30, Marcelona, Mich.

FOR SALE.—52-inch American Sanspareil Roadster, in perfect order, excepting the large tire, which shows natural wear, new tire on rear wheel, ball bearing, weight all on forty-three pounds; cost $122.50; will sell for $55 if taken now. Good reason for selling. Full particulars of H. M. WHITE, Trenton, N. J.

FOR SALE.—Expert Columbia, 1886 pattern, painted black, all improvements, Butcher hub cyclometer; price, $65. A, BULLETIN office.

FOR SALE.—A 45-inch enamelled Star, 1887 pattern, rams-horn handle bar and spade handles, Lakin cyclometer H. W. ROBINSON, 50 State St., Boston, Mass.

THE EARLY BIRD CATCHES THE WORM.—We have made unparalleled reductions in our entire stock of Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems and Safeties, both new and second-hand, for cash and exchange; send for list just published; state what you need, and we will send full particulars. L. H. JOHNSON, Orange, N. J.

FOR SALE.—A 50-inch Victor Light Roadster, 1887 pattern, run about four months, in splendid condition; will sell for $100 cash. R. A. HOUSEL, 37 West 4th St., Williamsport, Pa.

FOR SALE.—58-inch Expert, ball bearings all round, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle, Butcher cyclometer; cost $165; will sell for $100 cash. "F," Drawer 202, Holyoke, Mass.

FOR SALE.—Superior amateur photograph outfit, or exchange for Springfield bicycle. Address H. T CLARK, Wilmington, Del.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND.—If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

STEEL BALL OF BEST CAST-STEEL, FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

TICKET HOLDERS,

Made of the best calfskin, waterproof, and convenient, twenty-five cents each. On sale at GEO. R. BIDWELL'S, 313 W. 58th St., New York.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

.No .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easily than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison. Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran 350 1-2 MILES IN 24 HOURS on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track. Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount, a 40-pound Light Champion), of 323 MILES IN 24 HOURS. Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5 HOURS, 38 MINUTES, 44 1-5 SECONDS, still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the G. & J. BALL BEARINGS. Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

$500 IN GOLD. $500

A RARE PRIZE OFFER.

Wishing to double our circulation during 1888 we have decided to make to our subscribers the following liberal offer, which has never been approached by any cycling paper in the world: To the one who obtains us the greatest number of subscribers during this year we will give the first prize; for the next greatest number the second prize, and so on down.

The prizes are as follows:—

First Prize - - - -	$300	Fourth Prize - - - -	$25
Second Prize - - - -	100	Fifth Prize - - - -	15
Third Prize - - - -	50	Sixth Prize - - - -	10

The only conditions we make are these: The winner of the first prize must have sent in One Hundred names, or the prize will be cut down in proportion. Each competitor must also subscribe, if he is not already a subscriber. For those competing, but failing to win a prize, we have another and very advantageous return, which we will tell you about if you will write us. Send stamps for circular containing full particulars.

AMERICAN WHEELMAN PUBLISHING CO.

No. 108 North Fourth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

$500 IN GOLD. $500

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, FEBRUARY 17, 1888. | VOL. VI. No. 7. WHOLE NUMBER, 138.

THE COLUMBIA LIGHT ROADSTER IS THE LIGHTEST BICYCLE WITH A 7-8 INCH TIRE.

CATALOGUE FREE.

LIGHT COLUMBIAS

POPE MFG. CO. BOSTON. NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

THE EXPERT COLUMBIA, WITH AN INCH TIRE, IS AS LIGHT AS THE AVERAGE LIGHT ROADSTER OF OTHER MAKES.

THE RUDGE AGENCY

IS CONTINUED AT ITS OLD HEADQUARTERS,

152 to 158 Congress Street - - - Boston, Mass.

Under the management of H. M. SABEN.

The Factory is now ready with New Machines, and Specialties for 1888 will be ready next month. The 1888 Catalogue is now ready, and will be sent on application. Good Agents wanted in unoccupied territory.

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER.
"SINGER" SAFETY.
"YOUTH'S" SAFETY.
THE "S. S. S." TRICYCLE.
THE "SPECIAL SINGER" TRICYCLE.
THE "S. S. S." TANDEM.
THE "TRAVELLER" TANDEM.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

CATALOGUES NEXT WEEK.

W. B. EVERETT & CO, 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No. .....

Name, ...

P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

Club, ...

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

LAST CHANCE TO RENEW.

Send Your Dollar Now.

A Weekly Paper Free.

Road Books and Hotel Rates.

Many Dollars' Worth for $1.

Delay No Longer.

THE BULLETIN
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
For the League of American Wheelmen,
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

THE suggestion that the League hold a business meeting entirely disconnected with a pleasure gathering does not meet with favor from Baltimore. It was a suggestion merely, and as it has brought down upon the maker a good deal of harsh criticism, he withdraws it, and refers the whole matter to a tribunal outside the public prints and within League auspices.

UNDER the terms of the contract with the Bicycling World Company, the official organ of date March 2 will go to those only who have renewed. It will be something of a task to strike off all the names of men who have failed to renew, and many who postpone sending their money till the last moment may fail to get this number, which will be a very important one.

I MET a party of two women and two men coming down Fifteenth Street, Washington, about midnight, who, I am certain, must have been delayed by an accident. Accidents will happen, you know, especially on dark nights; and it is a nightly sight to see a man pushing a tired-out woman up a hilly street, or picking her up out of the grasp of the upset machine. In one case of the latter sort recently, the woman's dress caught in one of the wheels, and when the machine turned over on top of her the dress had to be cut away with a penknife. Nevertheless, they all enjoyed it, good and bad riders alike. The steady work required is delightful exercise, and the feeling of power and comfort combined is very grateful. — Philadelphia Record.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

CARDS are out for the reception at the Pennsylvania's new club-house, 30th Street and Girard Avenue, on Washington's Birthday. "Pennsy" usually does things in style, but as a piece of excellent fine-art engraving, the get-up of the aforesaid cards is simply far and away ahead of anything of the kind it has ever been my fortune to see. The committee in charge of this branch of the reception work certainly deserve the thanks of their club-mates, and the entire club the congratulations of every one else. All hail, Penn-syl-van-i-a!

WHY not immigrate to China? Just imagine such a paradise for wheelmen as a Chinese correspondent thus describes the best of the roads around Hong Kong: "The wearing surface is six inches thick, made mainly of granite broken to the size of walnuts, and laid on a foundation of rough stone. In making this road sand and lime are first thoroughly mixed in a box fifteen feet square by one foot deep; the broken stone is then added and also well mixed. When a sufficient quantity is thus prepared to cover a space one hundred by thirty feet, it is spread out quickly and rolled by a granite roller weighing about four tons pulled by about one hundred and fifty men and women. This rolling is continued for four or five days, the only water added being sprinkled over the roller at intervals to keep it clean. In five days the road is perfectly hard and smooth. It should be mentioned that there is no horse traffic over these roads, and the only wheeled vehicles are the jinricksha of the natives." The part about this celestial narrative that strikes me as particularly improbable, is the fact that a "wearing surface six inches thick" is prepared in a box 15x15 x1, in sufficient quantity to "cover a space 100 x 30 feet."

THE Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Division met on Thursday evening, in the office of Read & Caveny, in The Record building, to consider the advisability of dividing the State into more manageable sections. Twelve of the thirty-four members of the Board were present, as follows: Chief Consul George A. Jessup, Scranton; H. F. Crecelius and H. Crowther, Reading; J. G. Carpenter, Wilkesbarre; D. K. Trimmer, York; A. L. Berry, Allentown; Frank Read, Germantown; John A. Wells, Pennsylvania; W. R. Tucker and G. N. Osborne, Philadelphia; S. Jackson, Jr., South End, and Kirk Brown, Century Wheelmen. After much discussion the matter of dividing the State was left to the following committee: W. R. Tucker, Philadelphia Club; Kirk Brown, Century Wheelmen; Frank Read, Germantown Club; D. K. Trimmer, York Club; H. F. Crecelius, Reading Club.

It was voted to appropriate $300 toward getting out a State road-book. The book, which will be a valuable one, will contain a large number of new maps, and will be issued to members at fifty cents each. Outsiders will be furnished at the rate of three dollars. A request from the Delaware Division asking that they be allowed to join with the Pennsylvanians in getting up the book was acceded to. New Jersey and Maryland representatives were notified that unless they made application for admission inside of thirty days the same amount would be charged them as from outsiders. It is intended to make the book the most complete one of the kind ever published. The Treasurer's report showed $313.72 on hand and $286 due the Division by the League of American Wheelmen, making a total of $599.72. It was further agreed that the expenses of Messrs. Brown and Swayze in their suit against a road-hog for assault in the park last November should be paid out of the Division treasury.

The subject of "road-hogs" in general was discussed, and it was decided unanimously to take up all such cases and to prosecute the offenders to the full extent of the law.

Attorney for the Division, Elwell, reported that Cornell, the huckster who struck Mr. Rowland Evans with a whip, and who was so marvellously acquitted by the jury empanelled for the criminal suit, has skipped the town and deserted his family in order to dodge the civil suit.

IT looks as though something really might come out of the Wells-Greenwood hill climbing talk. Wells has ordered a 45-inch Star with long levers and big rubbers for the DeSoto road, and the Wheelman has accepted some of the conditions in regard to Corey, which Wells says he will climb in July next.

THERE is also talk of a team, composed strictly of safety men, being made up to take on the St. Louis boys. Dallett, Bailey, Sam Gideon, Synnesvedt, and Wells would make a hard crowd to beat. An interesting programme has been arranged for the amateur races on Thursday evening next, at the Rink. The only way in which the amateurs would take hold of it at all was as now arranged, that the races shall be under the combined control and auspices of the Century and Pennsylvania Clubs. The entries for the six days' professional race are Prince, Dingley, Whittaker, Knapp, Hardiwick, Hollingsworth, Crocker, McDowell, and Armaindo.

PHACTO

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

I HAVE been reading the cycling life of "Jack Easy," and I have found it filled with interest, though I can imagine but half the tale has been told. The journal that a man keeps can have for no other person the interest that it has for himself, for at best it jots down but a fact here and there, while between the lines there are whole volumes to which these notes are but the key.

THE history of "Jack Easy" came to me as a companion to a New Year's gift, a copy of "My Cycling Log Book," and it was intended as a model to be followed in filling the pages of my gift with a record like that which the author and donor has made in his copy. My thanks are due to my friend, but I fear me I lack his method and his application, and I mistrust that Daisie will have at best but a note here and there, a tour perhaps, an occasional picnic, but never each and every ride, as "Jack" has entered his.

I FIND that my friend took his first ride Nov. 9, 1877, and that he tempted fate by starting upon his cycling career on Friday. He rode half a mile, which is just half the distance that I rode on my first attempt in 1882. On March 9, 1878, he went with the Boston Club on their first club run. They rode up and down Columbus Avenue, and then out to Longwood. Club runs in those days were not much more extended than ten miles.

THE book is admirably adapted to its purposes, and if one desires a full record, or is content with merely a jotting down of important events, he can make this book a vade mecum well worth possessing. It is very probable that my wheel will be used the coming year not only for pleasure but for utilitarian purposes, and if I should become a slave to my log-book the pages would be adorned with entries not unlike these: —

June 15. Went to the centre and bought potatoes.

June 16. Rode to post-office and posted letter, stopped at Gregory's and bought beet and onions.

July 1. Went to centre and paid the rent. Asked the landlord to send a man down to fix the roof.

I think "My Cycling Log Book" will contain only my outings for pleasure.

NO. 12,678 writes for a code of rules for a ladies' tricycle club. I don't know that these would or should differ from those used by a gentlemen's club. Eastern ladies do not as a rule belong to clubs save as they are absorbed by the clubs which welcome both sexes and which generally have a very large proportion of gentlemen. I know of no club composed exclusively of ladies. I have belonged for several years to a little coterie of lady riders, who had no organization, and were bound by one rule only, and that fixed a rendezvous and set a time for reporting each week. We have had very many pleasant runs together. The North Shore tour was patronized by riders who have wheeled in company for several years. I don't know but that a constitution would systematize their outings in a way to draw them together oftener, and be altogether more satisfactory than a dependence upon that intuition which makes them seek and find each other under the present condition of things.

MRS. H. asks for a book on dress for cycle riding. I don't know of any to recommend her. Miss Erskine's book is a little out of date, and I know of no other. I have sent a back number of the BULLETIN in which I treated the subject very fully, and I would further recommend her to read the scrap-book issued by the Pope Mfg. Co. In the latter she will find a collection of articles written by people of ability who write about "tricycling for ladies" in all its phases. The book can be had for a stamp.

THOSE who read the story of the North Shore trip will remember that we had a very fine musical entertainment at Gloucester the second evening. The artists who entertained us were all, save one, riders of the wheel, and of our wheeling party. We are going out to Roxbury next Tuesday night to hear them again, for they have volunteered their services at a benefit concert, given in aid of Miss Carrie V. Hayden, a sister cyclist, who occupies a prominent place in Boston musical circles. Three of our well-known lady riders will participate. Miss Hayden is a solo guitarist, pianist, and vocalist; Miss Hattie Stearns is master of the guitar and piano, and sings a fine contralto; Mrs. Hopkins plays the guitar, sings and impersonates, and for this occasion she has written an original dialect poem about the wheel, which she will recite. Let me commend this entertainment to wheelmen in and about Roxbury. It will take place at the Universalist Church, Feb. 21, and the fee is but 25 cents.

DAISIE.

CHICAGO.

MY esteemed friend "Spectator" has apparently been staying home of late. The "Looker-on" now gazes through the heavy London fogs and dreams of home, sweet home.

"Thistle" has deprived us for many months of the pleasure that always attends the reading of his breezy letters, and the festive Verax is touring through the cultured East, whilst Geis and Claw Hammer are left at home to hammer out their wonderful letters, and inform the cycling public of the doings of Chicago wheelmen.

The Illinois Cycling Club (by the way, one of the largest and most enterprising cycle clubs in the West) will give a grand masquerade shortly. The club has given several very swell dancing parties this winter, and are fully as active on the wheel as they are off.

The Lincoln Cycling Club has grown out of its clothes. Five months in existence, and one hundred and forty strong! The Lincolns have given several complimentary entertainments to all local wheelmen, and as a finishing touch to their victorious launch into success will give a grand minstrel entertainment at the Madison Street Theatre on the evening of Feb. 15.

The first part will be an exquisite piece of stage setting — Joke — thirty "count 'em," thirty talented pedal pushers. The olio will comprise the following: 2. Banjo Eight; 3. Serio-Comic, Mr. Ned. Oliver; 4. Zither Quartet; 5. Champion Clog, Mr. Billy Allen; 6. Weber Quartet; 7. R. G. Allen, Expert Banjo manipulator, with songs, "Taken from my Expert," "Those Old Cone Bearing Days," etc. Eight rounds and wind-up. The Lawyer's Office.

Tickets have been placed on sale at office of The Pope Manufacturing Company, and A. G. Spalding & Bro.

THE Owls are flapping their strong, white wings, and getting in shape for the coming spring. They have undoubtedly the speediest riders of all the clubs, and that is saying a good deal; but such men as Van Sicklen, Winship, Harmon, etc., can back my assertion at almost any time. A grand ball will wind up the Owls' social season.

Mr. C. E. Randall, the popular president of the O. C. C., has just returned from a visit to Vermont.

C. C. Mead, a well-known Owl, writes me from Washington: "I am being treated nicely by Washington wheelmen. Their club-house is a dandy." Mr. Mead is a pleasant companion and a speedy rider, and will leave pleasant recollections with all the members of our League who are fortunate enough to run against him.

Illinois should be represented at the L. A. W. officers' meet that is to be held in New York City soon. Mr. N. H. Van Sicklen, C. C., would be a splendid man to represent us. Try and go, Van.

The Chicago Bicycle Club, organized more than eight years ago, and ranking third on the list of L. A. W. clubs, has put on its bustle and commenced to hustle. Nine new members were admitted to active membership at their recent meeting.

The new set of officers elected at their January meeting, viz.: President, W. C. Thorne; vice-president, L. W. Conkling; secretary-treasurer, R. E. Schmidt; librarian, B. B. Ayers; and captain, Fred A. Ingalls, are of the right material to make the Chicago Bicycle Club what it should be — the Hub of all our clubs.

It is rumored that a series of races between Gus. Kluge, the brother of Charles Kluge, and H. L. Fulton, of the Owl Club, will be run in the Exposition Building. Thomas F. Roe backs Kluge, and R. G. Surbridge, Fulton. The races will be run by the amateurs for a medal; but if they take my advice they will both think twice before they act.

Some ninety members of the Lincoln Club gathered in the spacious parlors of their club-house last Monday night. The double attraction, viz., regular monthly meeting, and raffle for a 54½ nickelled Victor bicycle for the club benefit, being the drawing cards. Two hundred tickets had been sold at one dollar apiece. Nine of them were purchased for the club out of its treasury. Things grew decidedly heated when the scorer announced "but three tickets yet to be drawn." Level-headed Roger Hall, treasurer, held one, and both Roger and one other of the fortunate holders of the fateful three tickets agreed to sell their chances for twenty-five dollars each. The remaining ticket proved to be one of the clubs, and the executive committee promptly accepted the offer. Then they turned around and sold the wheel for $130 cash, leaving a total profit for the Lincoln's bank account of $280.

We have been notified by Chairman Cooley, of the Racing Board, that Phil Hammel's application for reinstatement has been considered by the gentlemen who constitute the Board.

In view of the fact that such rank professionals as L. D. Munger, Ehlert, Smith of Detroit, etc., should be granted the boon that is so eagerly sought for by Phil, I understand the Owls intend to stand by Hammel, and that they will request Dr. Cooley to furnish them with his and the Board's ideas on the reinstatement of professional wheelmen, and why Munger, etc., should be granted the privileges of the immaculate amateur, and why little Phil is denied the same.

"CRIMPY."

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WHEELING has begun again in good earnest since the snow, which a few days ago lay thick upon the pavements, has been removed. Hops have been given frequently, and have been well patronized. I understand that the Capital Club gave a very interesting entertainment last week. This club deserves unbounded praise for the manner in which they have conducted their affairs during the last three years. They have increased their membership largely, and built one of the finest, if not the finest bicycle club-houses in this country. They are envied by all visiting wheelmen.

THE Washington Cycle Club is also in a very prosperous condition, and has recently inaugurated or annexed an honorary list to its membership. By so doing the members have placed the names of many a prominent business man upon the rolls. The Washington Club gave a very successful "at home" last Friday night, which was much enjoyed by all participating. This club will appear in the spring in bright new uniforms.

L. A. W. MATTERS are being looked into, and all are jubilant over the fact that the 1888 meet is to be held in "good old Baltimore." No L. A. W. man ever went to Baltimore and came away without having had a bang-up time.

I UNDERSTAND that Mr. George S. Atwater, late of the Ohio Division, and at present an L. A. W. representative from the District of Columbia, is to be a candidate for the chief consulship of the District of Columbia Division at the next election, and am much pleased to hear it. George is a "pusher," and has gotten to be very popular with the wheelmen here since he joined us. By his coming here, Washington gained and Ohio lost one of the best of L. A. W. members.

THE Smith National Cycle Company gave us a rare treat last Friday night by inviting the wheelmen to its well-equipped and commodious factory, where they exhibited their new tandem bicycle and ladies' bicycle. It certainly demonstrated a new departure in bicycling for ladies. Ladies who had never even been on a tricycle seemed perfectly at home on the front seat of this two-wheeled machine, while the gentleman in the rear guided it around the hall, or rather entire second story, which the company have fitted up as a riding-school. The ladies' bicycle brought forth rounds of applause. It was ridden by a lady who learned to ride it in forty-five minutes. I will not go into a description of the two machines, as it would occupy too much of the BULLETIN'S valuable space. Suffice to say, the ladies are wild over it, and the company's instructor has quite a large number of pupils. I understand that these machines will be exhibited on the Avenue in a day or two.

12,804.

THE LADIES' BICYCLE.

THE Smith National Cycle Manufacturing Company opened their factory, on Water Street, between Ninth and Tenth Streets, Southwest, last night, for the first display of a new bicycle and tandem bicycle. It is designed for use by either sex, but is specially adapted to the use of ladies. It is the only bicycle now made upon which a lady can ride. From the following an idea of the machine may be gathered:—

The ladies' bicycle consists of a 30-inch rear driving wheel, and a 24-inch front steering wheel connected by a U-shaped frame, with ample space between the seat and handle bar to allow freedom to the skirts for graceful mounting and dismounting. The seat is stationed directly over the front of the rear wheel, with the pedals immediately beneath, so that when seated the lady stands in a verticle position over the pedals, and appears in motion to be walking instead of upheld by the seat. The frame to which the pedals are attached is low to the ground, enables the machine to be worked with perfect ease and without awkwardness or disarrangement of skirts. The machine, by an endless chain, is geared to a 54-inch wheel, thus permitting the rider to sit low to the ground and yet have all the speed of a 54-inch wheel, travelling fourteen feet at each revolution of the crank, or seven feet at each step, thus attaining a high rate of speed with the same exertion expended in a slow walk.

The Tandem Bicycle is composed of one 32-inch driving and one 24-inch front steering wheel, with a connecting frame dropping low to the ground, and running forward entirely beneath the feet of the front rider, thus having no gearing or frame of any kind in front of the forward rider, the handle bars extending from the rear around to the side of the forward rider. Both riders sit directly over the rear wheel, and drive it by two sets of pedals and endless chains. The steering and balancing are entirely under the control of the rear rider, making it unnecessary that the front one shall know anything about cycling. Timid ladies who have never been on any kind of cycle can ride on the front seat of this one without holding on to the handle bars.

The company has built only three of these machines as yet, which were ridden in turn by Miss Elda Tegeler, Miss Geneva Wise, Miss Frances M. Smith, Miss Bordley, of Baltimore, Miss King, daughter of J. H. King, cashier of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Miss Xander, and Mrs. Moulton. Many of the gentlemen riders, of whom there were large numbers present, tried the new machine, and all were enthusiastic in their praises of it. Among the company present were many of Washington's solid business men, in many cases accompanied by ladies. — The Capital.

NEW YORK.

THE Owl has seemed to "flewed" from the BULLETIN; Bon we must also wish bon voyage, and even your Jersey correspondent has gone, don't Jer C.? And New York is without a reporter. Well, what's the matter with me?

THE Harlem Wheelmen gave a reception last Friday night at West End Hall. I noticed a number of the Manhattans enjoying the hospitalities of the Harlem boys, and jotted down one more mark for the fraternity of the wheel.

AND this reminds me that the Manhattans have just held an entertainment and reception that was a grand success. George Nash, the fancy rider, gave an exhibition that was one of the best that New York has seen. Members of the New York Club, the Harlem Wheelmen, Riverside Wheelmen, and Hudson County Wheelmen were present. The march was led by D. H. Thistle and Miss Daisy Connors. Each lady present received a bottle of perfumery and a knot of club colors, old gold and purple. About a thousand persons attended this grand affair. Dancing was kept up till 4.45. The programme was quite a pamphlet. It contained, besides a history of the L. A. W., a story by Thomas Stevens, and a special article by "Daisie," of the BULLETIN. The baby club, for that is what we call the Manhattans, are entitled to no little credit for the success of their very ambitious undertaking.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen of Jersey City hold a carnival at the Pavonia Rink Friday, March 2. It will be a fine affair. Polo will be played, races, trick riding, etc.

The Riverside Wheelmen have at present only sixteen members, having just lost a few men. Would it not be well for them to join the Manhattans and make the membership of the latter seventy?

WE hope to see the Owl back on his perch once more, and all will be glad when he is home Egan.

THE EYE.

PACIFIC COAST AMATEUR ASSOCIATION.

A MEETING of the Bay City Wheelmen took place Feb. 1 at the Wheelmen's Club rooms on Van Ness Avenue. The meeting was well attended, about thirty-five being present.

The object of the meeting was to take steps toward forming a Pacific Coast League of Amateur Wheelmen. Fred Russ Cook was elected permanent president, and H. C. Cummins permanent secretary.

A lengthy discussion as to the basis on which the new society should be formed took place. It was ultimately decided to elect an executive committee to take the matter in hand. A committee of five was elected for this purpose: S. F. Booth, Jr., Dr. Thomas L. Hill, E. Mohrig, W. B. Weir, and H. W. Melendy consented to the nominations. In addition to their duties in drawing up the rules for the organization of the new society and pushing forward its interests, the choice of a name for the organization was also left to them.

The organization opens with a roll of over one hunded names for membership. The secretary stated that fifty encouraging replies had been received from those in the country who had received invitations to join the proposed organization. The prospects of the society, he also stated, were extremely satisfactory, and a large number would, doubtless, join when the organization was in definite working order.

R. W. Welch, Chief Consul of the National Wheelmen's League, was present, and offered a suggestion that the amateurs of Oregon should be brought in, if possible, and proposed dividing the Pacific Coast into three equal divisions, with headquarters in each — half the dues to be set aside for their separate use, and the other half to be given to the association.

E. Mohrig proposed that the first thing the association should do, when fixed on a satisfactory and permanent basis, is to combat the ridiculous law now obtaining in Oregon. Cyclists there are obliged to dismount a few yards before meeting any road traffic.

A resolution was passed to abide by the rules of the American League until such time as the executive committee should draw up their rules and regulations.

The meeting adjourned until called by the executive committee.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 2.

BUFFALO.

The third assembly of the Ramblers' Bicycle Club in the Orpheus parlors, Music Hall, was a very successful and brilliant affair in every particular. The parlors were tastefully decorated with plants and ferns, and these, with the bright dresses of the ladies, presented a most charming scene. The club has reason to feel proud of the large attendance, and of the enjoyable time spent by all present. Twenty-one numbers were danced to the tuneful music of Tischendorf's orchestra. Special credit is due the Arrangement Committee, Kellner, Hauenstein, and Reiman, for the admirable manner in which their work was performed, for it left comparatively little to be desired. Supper was served in the banquet hall by caterer Schenkleberger.

Among those present, I noticed the genial face of "our" Mr. Ducker and his two fair daughters, and also several of the Buffalo Club members. I guess Henry does n't indulge in the frivolous fashion of tripping the light fantastic toe. His sphere lies more in cycling.

The Buffalo Club has taken hold of the whist tournament in dead earnest. Several members have already signified their intention to take part, and are forming teams to capture the prize or die — (dye) their hair. The Ramblers, not to be outdone, have decided, at their last monthly meeting, to hold a pool tournament the latter part of this month or in March. Thus will our wheelmen spend the winter evenings, and patiently await the coming of the gentle spring and riding season.

Our worthy secretary-editor appreciates a pretty, nay, handsome woman when he sees one. Buffalo is noted for them, and every man who visits us goes away with that impression.

"Mercury."

Buffalo, Feb. 9, 1888.

TROY, N. Y., BI. CLUB TOURNAMENT.

The commodius quarters of the Troy Bicycle Club were completely filled Monday evening, Feb. 6, with an audience largely made up of ladies called together to witness the events in the fourth annual tournament of the club. Fred A. Converse, the leader of the club orchestra, presented an acceptable musical programme. Exercises on the parallel and horizontal bars were given by Prof. Zahn and Messrs. Stone, Shutt, Rogers, and Zahn, Jr. Kennedy and Rogers did a very clever contortion acrobatic act. William C. Simmons and Charles E. Connor had four three-minute rounds with the gloves. Both were possessed of considerable science, and the referee was compelled to declare the match a draw, to be decided at a future time. Prof. John Leroe was seen in highly interesting balancing acts on the high wire and trapeze. Captain William M. Thiessen and fourteen members — Messrs. Norris, McKee, Connor, Nolan, Snyder, Homer, Bovee, Hudson, Knowlson, Benson, Cole, Taylor, Ellenwood, and Edmans — presented a fine exhibition drill. Many intricate figures were given and every command had a prompt response. George Starkweather engaged in a fencing bout with Captain Thiessen, both fencing in elegant style, and the latter winning three bouts. Edmans and Hudson, young members of the club, were on the bill for a double fancy bicycle act, which they did very gracefully. They were given unlimited applause at the close. Edward Ellenwood, "the" fancy rider of the club, displayed the difficult balancing features of which an experienced rider is capable with a "bike," and his run on a single wheel with no saddle won for him the audience's warmest approbation.

The particularly interesting event of the programme was the tug-of-war contest between representatives of the Albany Wheelmen and the Troy Bicycle Club. Eight men were allowed on each side. Although the Albany team weighed at least one hundred pounds more than its opponent, the latter, by a thorough course of training by Prof. Zahn, succeeded in winning the first two falls, and was declared the victor. The home club desires to express its gratification at the kindness of the Albany wheelmen in doing so much toward making the tournament so complete a success by their presence. Troy would have felt just as well pleased had Albany won. The home club has been engaged in a number of contests of this sort, and its defeat has yet to be recorded.

The meeting was a success throughout. The committee in charge of the tournament, to whom the entire success of the affair belongs, were: Fred H. Norris, William M. Thiessen, Frank W. Perkins, Albert R. Hogben, Prof. George A. Zahn, John R. Mulliken, and George B. Fales. 12,664.

ARIEL AWHEEL.

The region of "Ariel's" wheelings during the coming summer will be principally around the Philadelphia riding district, with an occasional return to the old familiar hills around the city of Reading. Like many another wheeling scribe, I've changed my quarters, and now behold me domiciled in the City of Brotherly Love. I trust "Phacto" will not consider me as trenching on his ground if I occasionally fill in some of the side-lights in Philadelphia scenes, — the chiaro-oscuro which his deft pencil does not touch.

The Pennsylvania representatives held a meeting at the office of Mr. Frank Read last night. It is not to be supposed that at a meeting of the board of officers of the Pennsylvania Division, held at this time, that the one subject above all others which occupies the attention of our L. A. W. members would be kept quiet. Nor was it. I refer, of course, to Mr. Wells's case. Rejected by the board of officers, his appointment as a representative goes in again, and if again thrown out we will elect him at the next election.

Men of the League, a more momentous question than this has never been brought before you! For John A. Wells the man, we care nothing; for John A. Wells the principle, everything!

Take away from us the right to our proper representation, and to choose that representation for ourselves, and you touch the very foundation of our liberties as Anglo-Saxons, and of our rights as American freemen.

Already the question is asked: What can the national body do for us that we cannot do for ourselves — and more? Have we not within our State organization all the means necessary for mutual enjoyment and self-protection? This is of course an essentially selfish view of the matter, and Pennsylvania's loyalty to the League of American Wheelmen hangs by no such thread of self-interest as that. There is no rash talk of secession from the League, as has been wildly stated more than once.

Gentlemen, Pennsylvania simply asks — and she asks it in no uncertain voice — if John A. Wells has done anything which unfits him to represent her, give us the facts. But no man can be condemned until proven guilty. Probably not one in a hundred of us knows Mr. Wells personally; nay, some who signed the petition for his reappointment are personally opposed to him; but on this grand question of principle, we are one! No one who has the good of the League at heart can afford to ignore this issue. Ariel.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10, 1888.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The roads outside of the larger towns in most parts of the old North State are of but little account to wheelmen. Where sand is the prevailing "soil" of course there is no pleasure in riding, or attempting it, rather. Where clay prevails, after a rain, when the roads are dry and not cut up, or when they are worn smooth, the riding is fair; but there are so many parts of the State which are sandy that there are not many scores of miles in the State that are good roads; at least that 's my experience. If any other League member or reader of the Bulletin in North Carolina has a different experience I would be glad to hear from him.

Cyclists are a scarce article throughout the State, as far as I can learn, and are sure to remain so, if the roads do not change for the better. In the thicker settled parts of the State as throughout the South, the wheelmen alone can improve the roads if they try to: they can build a side path, as I described about a year ago in the Bulletin, and as the Binghamton, N. Y., boys built their cinder path.

If they undertake to improve the roads systematically, many of the people are with them.

Chas. E. Gates,
Jonesboro', N. C.

IOWA ROAD BUILDING.

Is there a seeming lag in the interest in L. A. W. matters? Of late I have taken but little. It looks to me that there are other missions than fighting the "road-hog" for our organization to do, one of which is to perfect our roads and the proper expenditure of the money tributary to this part of the public work. I am only going to speak of our county now; and the trouble may be all local. What plan other counties may have in the various States over which the L. A. W. has jurisdiction I know nothing of. Our township clerks make a money draw of the county treasurer twice each year, spring and fall, for the maintenance of the public highways. This is expended by him for material for culverts, etc., and to pay the various road supervisors of the various districts of the township $2.00 per day to attend to the work, warn out residents to come and pay their road tax in work, etc., his bill being allowed spring and fall by the Board of Township Trustees spring or fall. Many times for a day's work he puts in not more than a good half-day's time — going to work at 9 A. M. and quitting at 4 or 5, as he must be at home to do his chores or usual farm work morning and evening. All residents must pay a road tax of $2.50 to $3.00; but how? usually two days of such kind of time as above is all that is required in many cases. This is one way that we have poor roads — thrown up in a slipshod kind of way in a few hours. New officers are coming in every year, too, men who know comparatively nothing of making roads. The man seeks the office, instead of the reverse, simply for the easy work, short time, and fair pay. The result is a useless expenditure of public funds, and poor roads beside.

Our bridge work is managed entirely different, being under the control of the county supervisors, who control a foreman and gang of workmen on the structures, who put in full time, and do good work as a consequence. Now right here is a chance for the L. A. W. to do some good work, it seems to me. To secure legislation on this point, all road tax to be paid in money, and to put the road building into the hands of the county supervisors, same as the bridge work is, and they in turn into the hands of a foreman, who, with the many improved machines of the present day, can build work properly. With such a plan men would be chosen by the people for the work who were capable, and good work for the money secured. I fear that our organization may die a natural death, unless we have more definite plans of operation than we now have, and make ourselves more of a power, that our influence may be felt. 1,459.

WYOMING.

We are going to post our roads out here so that wheelmen can tell which road is the best and where it leads to; then if any of you folks from the States come this way you will see that we are alive. It will be quite handy for wheelmen, in fact for any one, to have the road posted, as out in this country one can ride for forty miles and not see house or man, and to get on the wrong road and have to ride back would be some work.

We have the same right to a road or the streets as a team, and have never had any trouble at all. We are respected and treated like gentlemen. We know our rights, and will have them if we have to fight the town to get them. We are not like the Mobile boys, and would not let Nigs knock us off our wheels with clubs. If one should try it on a Cheyenne rider he would be playing a harp in less time than it takes to tell it; and he would not have to get off his wheel to do it either. I do not believe the story from Mobile. Think the fellow that wrote it had the nightmare. [It was a canard. — Ed.]

Several of our boys were out in the mountains fishing last summer and went on their wheels. As one of them, Mr. Geo. Morgan by name, was ahead of the rest about three miles, he came to a ranch and turned in to see if he could not get a drink while waiting for the rest. As he reached the house he spoke to the man and woman that were standing in the door and asked them for a drink. As he did this the woman remarked to the man at her side in a relieved tone of voice, "My God! I thought it was the Holy Ghost coming; and it is only a man." It is a fact, there are people that came out to this country years ago and settled on a ranch near some stream, and nine cases out of ten the woman has never had a chance to see any one at all. Take a cowboy, that can ride on his horse in most any position while the horse is going at full speed, ask him to get on a bicycle, and he will shake his head, and say that he will only get on one of them things when he has but a few more moments to live. A man that can ride a bicycle is away up in a cowboy's estimation. I cannot begin to tell you the many queer things that happen out here, but wish to extend an invitation to wheelmen to take a trip out this way next summer and go up in the mountains trout fishing. We will show you as much fun in a minute as you ever saw in a month, I think. Bring your wheels.

N. L. Mahen,
Capt.

Cheyenne, Wyoming, Jan. 31, 1888.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

A KING OF PAIN.

Editor Bulletin: — Let those wheelmen who have been pained by the late blizzards keeping them from riding, or, if they did ride, remember that one touch of nature may make the whole world akin (with the cold). This grammatical and correct quotation may be an assistance to the Owl to mount his puny steed on his return, — a stir-up, so to say.

L. A. W. 190.

NEW YORK HOTELS.

Editor Bulletin: — In reply to Chas. T. Raymond's Captain Lockport Wheelmen statement in Bulletin of Feb. 3, in regard to the L. A. W. hotels being "invariably the highest priced hotels in the place," he uses Buffalo as an illustration, and states that the Genesee is the League hotel, at four dollars per day. The Genesee is one League hotel here, but the L. A. W. rate is three dollars per day. In addition to the Genesee, the Stafford House is also a League hotel, at one dollar and seventy-five cents to two dollars per day, and is so published in the New York Road Book, and all official hotel lists. Touring wheelmen, therefore, need not fear to visit Buffalo on the score of high-priced hotels. They pays their money and takes their choice.

Chas. W. Adams,
L. A. W. Consul.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 6, 1888.

THE HUMBER TANDEM AGAIN.

Editor Bulletin: — I was glad to see in last week's Bulletin a pleasant word for the Humber type of tandem, for the machine has so many good points, and so few bad ones, that it ought to be more generally ridden.

Full of prejudice, I first mounted this kind of tricycle, determined to pick all the flaws in it possible, but after a year's experience for my own use, I would not exchange it for any other form of tandem made. Its hill-climbing qualities alone strongly commend it, and though my wife is far from strong, and no one would ever accuse me of being a powerful rider, yet we are able to take some of the steepest hills on Cape Ann without undue effort, and on several occasions have done so when strong riders, mounted upon front-steering or frame machines, — with whom we were riding, — were obliged to walk. We have never had an upset, nor is there any occasion for a spill, for it is only on the steeper hills that caution is necessary, and moderate hills are always coasted. It is true Madam dismounts, and walks the dangerous descents, and she long ago decided that it was far preferable to walk down one or two hills in a day's run and ride up most of the others than to walk up nearly every hill encountered, as we have seen some of our road companions do the past summer.

The delightful bowling motion of the Humber is never experienced on other types of tandem. I allude to its tendency to rock or roll slightly on its axle, when striking small obstructions or uneven places in the road, thereby overcoming the jarring or jolting which is sometimes felt on such machines as are mentioned in the article by "Ixion." It can be ridden "hands off," and steered by the feet, and on a fair road may be run in this manner for considerable distance. It is simple in construction, never chaws up the rear rider's calves when he slips a pedal, and can be readily ridden by one person, as I have several times the past summer ridden mine alone over the mile and a half or more of wretched roads and hills between Eastern Point and Gloucester, when my Light Roadster bicycle was at hand for use if desired.

Though I have tried several makes, I prefer the Singer Traveller, because of its easy adjustable seats (as to height), its comfortable distance between riders, and its graceful lines, in addition to its general good going qualities. Probably twenty novices made runs with me the past summer (the majority of them being ladies) when distances of five to thirty miles were covered with little fatigue to novice or rear rider, save upon one occasion; then the front seat was occupied by a college athlete, whose powerful and kindly yet misdirected efforts nearly "broke up" both riders.

Where speed is wanted the Humber responds readily, though as to its advantages in very long tours I cannot speak, for my longest single day's run was 60 miles, made last fall over the Essex hills with Mr. Loomis, a brother member of the Capital Club, part of the distance being accomplished in sand several inches deep or upon by-paths that I should have avoided with a bicycle.

To sum up, for quiet riders or for married couples, who wish a comfortable, readily controlled and easy running wheel, and who are willing to exert a fair amount of caution until the ins and outs of the machine are fully learned, the Humber is the thing to buy. But, as the former correspondent remarks, it is not the wheel for two ladies.

Charles Richards Dodge.

ALL ABOUT CLOTHES.

Editor Bulletin: — In the course of all my rambles last summer I did n't meet a single L. A. W. man who liked his tunica vaginalis regularis, and if he had any style about him he would n't wear it where he would "be seen."

In the first place, the color is the most uncomfortable imaginable, and does not even possess the virtue of not readily showing dirt. A moderately dark gray Scotch tweed, light weight, is excellent in this respect; and it should be made loose, and full at the knees, fastening snugly with a band and button, or better, a buckle, at the garter, close below the knee. A man does n't look quite so much like a tight-rope walker in this rig, and for comfort it can't be beaten. The present form is too tight at the knee, hindering motion. I stuck loyally to the League uniform summer before last, but last summer gave it up in disgust, and sought and found solid comfort in the costume I have described.

Here is a pointer on shirts: Have them made to reach four inches below the belt, and put an elastic band around the bottom. This will allow the shirt to fold over at the bottom and admit of the use of suspenders, that distinguishing mark between civilism and barbarism. I am indebted to the genius of a feminine member for this idea. As to caps, next to a tam, I think the old straight visor much neater, and fully as comfortable as the new one.

I would like to see this uniform question more satisfactorily agitated than it has yet been, and then settled for good.

10,276.

Stevens's London and New York publishers are now engaged in the preparation of Vol. II. "Around the World on a Bicycle." The last paper of the Outing series will appear in the April number of the magazine, and the book will be issued some time during the same month. Owing to the very long run the series have had in Outing, the narrative has been very largely curtailed of late. In the book there will be about one third entirely new matter, which will not have appeared in Outing. This, Stevens assures us, will embrace a goodly share of the most thrilling incidents of his experiences in Afghanistan, India, China, and Japan, and will contain the whole story of that 6,000 miles which he had to traverse to get around to India, after his arrest by the Afghans. Vol. II. will be a duplicate of Vol. I., as far as size and general appearance are concerned, but will be far the more interesting half of the story. Since the commencement of this remarkable adventure of wheel and pen, Stevens has developed from a novice with both into a seasoned traveller and writer. Vol. I. has turned out a success. The wheeling fraternity did not support the book at first with the enthusiasm that both author and publishers confidently expected, but from the beginning there has been a steadily increasing demand for it. The publishers, two of the oldest and largest book-publishing houses in the world (Chas. Scribner's Sons', New York, and

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio

VICE-PRESIDENT. — H. W. Hayes, Cambridge, Mass.

TREASURER. — W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR. — Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. R. Bidwell.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP. — James R. Dunn, Massilion, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES. — C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Sleeper, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 121 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS. — C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Stare, 356 Navy Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD. — Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 99 Superior Street, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. H. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION. — Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th Street, New York; W. S. Bull, 360 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER. — W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION. — A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan & Co., 22 Old Broad Street, London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

TOURING DEPARTMENT.

W. S. Bomberger, tourmaster, Hagerstown, Md.; A. B. Barkman, Bout-master, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Joseph Pennell, Marshal Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information:

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 15 cents. Address C. A. Underwood, 386 Tremont Street.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official): —Officers, Consuls, hotels, and rates of California Division, California bicycle clubs and officers. Over 2,000 miles reported roads, 100 pages, tabulated form. Bound in flexible leather, $1.00. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 1227 Filbert St., Philadelphia, Penn., or M. R. Gibson, 612 Hyde St., San Francisco, Cal.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT (Official): — In progress. Address Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within fifty miles of New York City — very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (Official, 1884): — Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address S. Lawton, Springfield, Mass. New Road Book in preparation will probably be issued early in 1888.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN (Official); with best roads of Ontario and through route from Chicago to N. Y. City Sectional and general maps; lists of Consuls, hotels, repair shops, and points of interest. Flexible leather cover. Free to Division members joining before July 1; after that date, 25 cents extra. Price to L. A. W. members of other States, $1.00. Address J. H. Johnson, 397 Second Ave., Detroit, Mich. Remit to J. E. Beal, Sec.-Treas., Ann Arbor, Mich.

L. A. W. HAND AND ROAD BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official). — Two hundred pages, numerous maps, lists of Consuls, hotels, and repair shops, general information about the L. A. W. and N. Y. Division, etc., with complete indexes. Tabulated reports of 14,000 miles of roadway, extending east to Mt. Desert, Maine; west to Cleveland, Ohio; north to Quebec, P. Q., and south to the Natural Bridge, Virginia, and Washington, D. C. General description of local riding districts, and much other information of value to cyclers, bound in flexible leather. Free to Division members joining in the first quarter; 17 cents to those joining in the second quarter, ending June 30, 1887; after that date, 50 cents. Price to League members of other States, $1.50 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official): — Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, bound in flexible leather. This work is now out of print. A revised edition will probably appear in 1888.

RECORD BOOK OF SHELL ROADS IN VICINITY OF NORFOLK — A description of the shell roads around the city of Norfolk. Contains in addition several pages for records of rides. Bound in paper: 10 cents. By V. Paul Ellis, Norfolk, Va.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official): —Complete lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. Full description of riding districts and large folding road map of the State. Price, bound in flexible leather, $1.00; cloth, 50c. Address Frank C. Meyer, Secretary-Treasurer, Room 26 Saxton Block, Canton, Ohio.

ROAD-MAP OF CENTRAL INDIANA (L. A. W. Official), covering 90 miles N. and S., and 153 miles E. and W., and showing the famous Crawfordsville record-breaking district. Contains list of Consuls and hotels, and shows towns, railroads, etc. Free to Division members joining in first quarter, 13 cents in second quarter, 25 cents in third quarter, and 38 cents in fourth quarter. Price, to other League members, 75 cents. Scale of nine miles to one inch. Address Josh. Zimmerman, Secretary-Treasurer, 37 So. Alabama Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official): — Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers. Price, 50 cents each, or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.

TEN THOUSAND MILES ON A BICYCLE; A Gazetteer of American Roads. — Cloth bound, gilt top, 41 chapters, 908 pages, elaborate indexes, no advertisements. Mailed on receipt of $2.00, by Karl Kron, University Building, Washington Square, New York City, D. Analytical content-table, descriptive circulars, and specimen pages sent free.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO (L. A. W.). See Ohio Hand-Book.

ROAD MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND: — Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as below.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA: — Three parts, Eastern, Central, Western. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Phila., Pa.

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents. Address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS.— Sketches of cities towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. Address George Chinn. Beverly, Mass., price 20 cents.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by: —

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby cerlify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

Sampson Low's, London), think that the reading public are just beginning to wake up to the fact that Stevens has written a really remarkable book of bona fide adventure which will never be duplicated, and they are so well satisfied with the outlook that they voluntarily offered Stevens the same liberal terms for Vol. II. as Vol. I.

CYCLETS.

RENEW
THIS week
OR you may lose
THE chance to get in
AT the old price of one dollar.

LATER you will have to rejoin the League and pay extra money.

GIVE a dollar to the cause and you will never regret it.

DEALERS are now doing a brisk business in catalogues.

THE cable reports that Rowe and Howell have been matched for a race.

THE Wheel announces a boom that it will erect in the spring.

GIDEON HAYNES, JR., will go upon the road for W. B. Everett & Co.

THE St. Nicholas Manufacturing Company, of Chicago, sends us its catalogue for 1888.

THE King's County (N. Y.) Wheelmen open their new club-house on the evening of Feb. 21.

GERMANY has a comic paper entirely devoted to cycling. How that editor must have to work

THE Greenfield (Mass.) Wheel Club will hold its annual concert and ball on Friday evening, Feb. 17.

THE BULLETIN first saw the light in Buffalo, and the first steps towards its discontinuance were taken in that city.

SIXTEEN lady members at one fell swoop. This is what the R. I. Wheelmen of Providence captured at the last meeting.

THE American Wheelman combines its January and February issues in one, and promises to get out future numbers on time.

WASHINGTON is going wild over a lady's bicycle, and it is stated that one can learn to ride this wheel in a very short time.

WM. READ & SONS promise a new tricycle and a new safety for 1888, and they claim they will soon be able to show as good a machine as any now on the market.

THOSE who have been waiting for things to be settled may now renew with confidence. They are guaranteed a weekly paper worth more than the sum they will pay.

W. S. MALTBY is at his home in Shelton, Ct. He has been gone two years, and visited San Francisco, Honolulu, Australia, Java, India, Egypt, and Great Britain.

OUR collection of photos has been enriched this week by the addition of a picture of E. I. Halsted and W. H. DeGraaf, of the Harlem Wheelmen, on a tandem.

MR. W. H. STONE, a member of the Binghamton Bicycle Club, and formerly a racing man of some reputation, was married, Feb. 8, to Miss Eleanor Welles, of Wyalusing, Pa.

CALIFORNIA has a representative now resident in the East, and she will be personally represented at the next board meeting by Dr. J. W. Gibson, who is now studying in Philadelphia.

THE safety tandem bicycle is attracting attention in England. Several firms have made machines of this kind, and they are being ridden by the wheelmen who are known as wheel testers.

THE Roseville track has been sold out and bought in by the owner of the land. Its future is unknown. The track cannot be well carried off, and it is just possible that cycle races may be held on it in future.

THE Massachusetts Club will hold a Ladies' Night at the club-house on Friday evening, Feb. 17, at eight o'clock. The entertainment will consist of a musicale in the parlor, dancing in the gymnasium, and a supper.

MANY League members want the earth. All right! We are going to give them the World. Please excuse us if we run in a little thing of this kind once in a while. We haven't much longer time to do that sort of thing.

DEALERS in wheels are often at a loss to know how to make their time profitable in the winter. Up at W. B. Everett & Co.'s they have taken to raising dogs, and two sets of puppies of the bull variety now await purchasers at that establishment.

THE Massachusetts delegation is going to the New York meeting in style. They have engaged the very gorgeous bridal state-room on the Fall River boat, and the whole delegation will assemble there for entertainment during the evening.

ONE of the daintiest invitations we have ever seen comes to us from the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club and bids us come to a reception at the new club-house on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22. The front contains a pretty little view of the club-house, and the cards are tied with ribbon of club colors.

W. B. EVERETT & CO. have upon view the new S. S. tricycle for 1888. It has driving wheels of thirty inches, and a pilot wheel of twenty-eight inches. One new feature is the movable stay rod, which can be adjusted so that it is a gentleman's machine, or so that the wheel can be ridden by a lady.

A MISTAKE made in Eliot's Indian Bible has drawn attention to, and given us the correct Indian word for bald head. It is "pompasuhkonkanontup," and was used incorrectly in the Bible in telling of the children who cried out "go up, thou bald head!" We suggest the name for the ball-head bicycle. It is long enough to suit the most fastidious taste.

THE California road-book is issued. It contains lists of officers, consuls, hotels, and rates of California Division, California bicycle clubs, and officers. Over 2,000 miles reported roads; one hundred pages, tabulated form. Bound in flexible leather, $1.00. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 1227 Filbert Street, Philadelphia, Penn., or M. R. Gibson, 612 Hyde Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A SERIES of seven races, five of them for amateurs, was announced to take place at the Elite Rink, Philadelphia, on the evening of Feb. 16. Among the contestants in the two races for professionals were to be Frank Dingley and Wilbur F. Knapp, who are in training there for the 72-hour race (twelve hours a day), to take place at said rink week of Feb. 20 to 25.

THE New Jersey Cycling and Athletic Association failed in its effort to raise the amount of the arrears of rent on the Roseville track. The owner, Mr. Swift, refused to accept four fifths of the arrears and guarantee the use of the track for 1888. The association spent $12,000 in fitting up the property, and it was only a matter of $500 that kept them out of it for 1888. The track will be kept in order and used for tournaments.

THE World will be sent to those members only who renew before March 1. Under our rules, we receive any renewal which is postmarked Feb. 29, but we must cut off all who have not paid their dues Feb. 27, in order to make changes with the least possible friction. We shall try to supply every one who renews with a paper for March 2, but those who postpone sending in their renewals till the last moment may get abandoned.

THE second annual promenade concert and ball of the Melrose Cycle Club will be held in the Town Hall, Melrose, March 2. During the concert, Prof. W. W. Marshall will give an exhibition of fancy trick riding. The club will run a barge into the city at the close of the ball, for those desirous of attending from out of town. It is hoped that a large number will be present, as the boys are working hard to make this one of the most enjoyable events of the season. J. Howard Richardson will furnish music.

THE Rhode Island Wheelmen of Providence, R. I., at the beginning of last season bought a Columbia tandem and a Victor single for the use of club members. The investment proved a profitable one, and has done a good deal of missionary work in interesting ladies in the use of the wheel. Tandems had a great boom in Providence last year, and now there are more ladies wishing to ride than there are tandems to be ridden. The Rhode Island Wheelmen elected sixteen lady members at their meeting of Feb. 13.

AND now Harry Shurman, of Lynn, wants to get into the Corey Hill climb with Wells and Greenwood. He will enter on even terms and has hopes of winning. Mr. Shurman now holds the Corey Hill record. Mr. Shurman is willing to put up $25 if the other two men will also put up $25 each; the $75 thus subscribed to be put into a fine medal, or $50 to be thus applied, and the winning man to receive his entrance fee of $25 back. Mr. Shurman also suggests that the Boston Club take charge of the details of the contest and superintend the affair.

THE Boston Bicycle Club held its tenth annual dinner at Parker's, on Saturday evening last. Toast-master C. P. Donahoe presided at the post-prandial exercises. F. W. Weston responded to the toast, "The Boston Club"; Chief Consul Hayes spoke for the L. A. W., and J. S. Dean responded for the absent ones. A. Kennedy Child spoke for the ladies, and made a telling speech, and Ex-Captain Toombs spoke for last year's officers. President Hodges occupied the head of the table.

WE cannot guarantee a BULLETIN for March 2 to any member whose renewal is not in our hands Feb. 27. On that date the mail list will be revised, and all those who have not renewed will have their names stricken off the list. We can restore a few names in time to send the paper of that week, but we shall form our estimate for printing on the basis of renewals then on our books, and if many come in afterwards, the paper will be o. p. and copies cannot be obtained.

IN view of the fact that the League will meet in Baltimore, the following United States official table of distances may be interesting. The figures show the distance in miles of each city from Baltimore: Boston, 418; Buffalo, 402; Chicago, 802; Cincinnati, 593; Cleveland, 474; Denver, 1,827; Detroit, 653; Elmira, 256; Hagerstown, 85; Harrisburg, 85; Hartford, 301; Indianapolis, 704; Kansas City, 1,211; Milwaukee, 887; Minneapolis, 1,222; New Orleans, 1,150; New York, 188; Philadelphia, 97; Pittsburgh, 334; Providence, 377; St. Louis, 934; San Francisco, 3,156; Scranton, 220; Washington, 40.

MESSRS. GOOLD and Knowles, of Brantford, Ont., have leased a large factory and are fitting it up with the most improved machinery and

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered the public for the money. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone, and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

RETAIL SALESROOM, 147 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON. BRANCH OFFICES IN ALL THE LEADING CITIES.

JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., New England Agents, No. 147 Washington Street, BOSTON, MASS.

Chicago - - - - C. F. STOKES, 293 Wabash Ave.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

with the best workmen they can procure from England, and intend turning out bicycles second to none in England or America. They will have facilities for turning out enough bicycles for the Dominion when running on full time, so Canadian riders will not need to go outside of their own country to get first-class articles; and as all the parts are made interchangeable, any part can be replaced at a moment's notice. — Canadian Wheelman.

OUR experience of lady riders is that they are the most inveterate foot-path riders, and trust to their powers of persuasion to "come round" the "blue bird." We heard of one amusing instance where the guardian of the law had a stony heart that refused to be softened. Her companion had warned her that that path was "proclaimed"; but no! she proudly boasted that she would not go off for a policeman, not she. But the minion of the law suddenly blocked her way, and she had to get down and lift the machine over the curb, for her companion was so convulsed with laughter at her discomfiture that he failed to come to her assistance. — Irish Cyclist.

THE following is a copy of a letter from a wheelman in Birmingham, Ala., received by Mr. Porter. It refers to his article on "Macadam Roads," which appeared in the BULLETIN last August: "I once more am compelled to call upon you for a few of your circulars on road-making. Please mail me what you can spare, for our immediate needs. I shall have a few hundred struck off, for future use. This is a big field for missionary work, and there are but three or four wheelmen; but the horsemen have joined hands with us, and it is likely that good roads will be one of the blessings in the near future, though there seems to be a lack of knowledge in road-making, among even the contractors, hence the need of a general distribution of all the information we can. $200,000 have been authorized to be expended on the county roads, which, if intelligently spent, should make this section equal to the famous Orange District."

KARL KRON writes to us, under date of Feb. 18, that he has returned to his chambers in the University building, Washington Square, New York, after eight week's seclusion in the printing office at Springfield, where he has put together a monumental collection of "newspaper notices and specimen pages," as a bait for the attraction of the needed 30,000 buyers of "X. M. Miles." The pamphlet itself is larger than most of the books published in regard to cycling (comprising 116 pages of about 60,000 words), and can be secured by the outlay of a postal card, addressed as above. The first edition is 5,000 copies; and the gratuitous distribution of the same throughout the habitable globe will be begun by K. K. on Feb. 29.

IT may be interesting for our readers to know that Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co. were the first importers of English wheels in this country; and the English Challenge wheels, which were once sold by the Pope Manufacturing Company, came through their hands, as have most of the English machines during the last ten years, although their name has never appeared in the transactions. They still control the agency of the Rudge in a wholesale way, as Mr. H. M. Saben will continue the distributive part of the business through his numerous agents. Mr. H. D. Corey still retains his interest in the Rudge business, and divides his time between the Rudge and Columbia headquarters.

THE CLUB.

BRUNSWICK, Ga.—The following officers have been elected by the Brunswick wheelmen: President and captain, C. F. Brown; vice-president and lieutenant, J. O. Bostwick; secretary, C. L. Elliott; treasurer, F. Mc. C. Brown. It was unanimously voted that this organization shall be a League club.

WORCESTER.— The Bay State Bicycle Club of Worcester, Mass., held its first annual meeting and supper, Feb. 6, at the Lincoln House. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, A. H. Bellows; vice-president, M. A. Wheeler; secretary and treasurer, E. E. Eames, 2 Rice Court; captain, W. P. Thayer; first lieutenant, L. A. Whittemore; second lieutenant, R. C. Sweetser; bugler, J. F. Murphy; color-bearer, A. C. Copeland; club committee, the president, captain, and secretary, ex officio, with E. E. Reed and J. W. Murphy. The club celebrates its first anniversary, Thursday, Feb. 9, with a dance and supper in Insurance and Ideal Halls.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS.

To the President and Members of Board of Officers, L. A. W.:

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of this Board, called to meet in New York, on the 5th and 6th of March next, your Committe on Rules and Regulations, will submit the following changes in the By-Laws for your consideration: —

ARTICLE IV.

ELECTIONS.

SECTION 1. First line: Substitute June for March.

SECT. 2. Second line: Substitute July for March.
Fourth line: Substitute June for March.
Seventh line: Substitute 15th of July for tenth day of April.
Eleventh line: Substitute first day of August for the twentieth day of April.

SECT. 3. Sixth line: Substitute June for March.
Eighth line: Substitute 15th for 10th.
Ninth line: Substitute July for April.
Fourteenth line: Substitute 1st for 20th.
Fifteenth line: Substitute August for April.

SECT. 4. First and second lines: Substitute 15th for 1st, and August for May.

The sections which we propose to amend now stand on the books as follows: —

SECTION 1. During the month of March, each year, the Secretary shall cause to be printed in the official organ a voting blank for Chief Consuls and Representatives, together with a statistical table, showing the number of Representatives each State is entitled to. And there shall also be published in the BULLETIN, at the same time, full and explicit directions to members regarding the votes which are to be sent to the Secretary-Editor, and full and explicit directions from the Chief Consuls of States where special regulations governing the ballot have been adopted.

SECT. 2. Each member who was admitted or whose dues were paid up to the first day of March shall be entitled to one vote for Chief Consul for the State wherein he resides, and one vote for each Representative that his State is entitled to on March 1. Except in divisions where special regulations governing the ballot have been adopted, each vote shall be signed by the member voting it and returned to the Secretary before the tenth day of April, and by him delivered to the Committee on Rights and Privileges. This Committee shall sort and count the votes, and make a return of the same to the President on or before the twentieth day of April; the person obtaining the largest number of votes in each State for Chief Consul shall be elected, and the persons receiving the largest number of votes as Representatives shall be elected.

SECT. 3. Each State Division may make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the League, regarding the method of apportioning, casting, and counting the vote for Chief Consul and Representatives as its officers may adopt, providing only that the number of Representatives so chosen shall be indicated by the membership of the Division on March 1. Each vote shall be signed by the member voting, and in this case returned to the Secretary of his Division before the tenth day of April. A correct copy of such special regulations and official notice of their adoption shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the League to render this permission operative, and in such cases the vote shall be canvassed in the Division, and the result thereof certified by the Secretary of the Division to the President of the League on or before the twentieth day of April in each year.

SECT. 4. The President shall, on or before the first day of May, declare the result of the election, cause the same to be published without delay in the official organ, and also notify every member of the Board of Officers and person so elected of the result.

The object of these changes is to place the annual elections in the summer, at a time when wheelmen are most active. Also to correspond to the dates fixed upon in the reorganization that the next election may be deferred to July, when it may be held under the new constitution. This will enable the reorganization scheme to go into effect at once instead of lying over for one year from next July.

CHARLES S. BUTLER, Chairman.
WM. W. SHARR,
WINSLOW TRACY WILLIAMS.

IOWA HOTEL.

THE Russell House has been appointed as League hotel at Humboldt, Ia. Regular rates, $2.00; to L. A. W. members, $1.50. Any members visiting Humboldt are earnestly requested to patronize the Russell House.

I would be pleased to hear from all the local consuls of the Division with recommendations for League hotels where there are none as yet; and also a general expression from members of the Board as to their choice for the place of holding the spring meeting.

Yours fraternally,
ROBERT L. THOMPSON, C. C.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Feb. 5, 1888.

RESIGNATION.

OWING to business interests in this territory I feel obliged to tender my resignation of office of representative of Massachusetts Division. Hoping the Division will flourish in the future, as in the past,

I remain, yours respectfully,
E. G. WHITNEY.

KELLY, N. M., Feb. 5, 1888.

MASSACHUSETTS REPRESENTATIVE.

MR. E. C. HODGES is appointed representative for Massachusetts, in place of E. G. Whitney, resigned.

H. W. HAYES, C. C.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 126 — Total 72.

BOSTON, Feb. 17, 1888.

CANADA — 1.

Unattached.
17607 Castle, Kendall B., 401 Sherbourne St., Toronto, Ont.

COLORADO DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.
17608 Gregor, I. W., Colorado Springs.
17609 Wilson, C. D., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 2.

Derby Cycling Club.
17554 Birdseye, Thos. S., Birmingham.
17555 Haugh, Henry A., "

INDIANA DIVISION — 6.

Terre Haute Bi. Club.
17557 Creal, Oscar, 414 No. Centre St., Terre Haute.
17558 Duenweg, Otto, 517 So. 7th St., "
17556 Meisel, Ernest, 201 Ohio St., "
17559 Miller, Owen, 518 Wabash Ave., "
17560 Roltman, W. C., Vandalia R. R., "
17561 Smith, Edgar B., 1339 Chestnut St., "

MAINE DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17562 Macgowan, G. E., 107 Oxford St., Portland.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 1.

Baltimore Cycling Club.
17563 Zimmerman, B. F., Merch. National Bank, Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 21.

Cambridge Bi. Club.
17564 Adams, Harry S., Walnut Ave., No. Cambridge.
17565 Bacon, J. Frank, 154 A. No. Avenue, " "
17566 Beadle, Jas. F., 31 Wendell St., Cambridge.
17567 Brine, J. B., Boylston St., "
17568 Daggett, J. H., 403 Highland Ave., W. Somerville.
17569 Dodge, H. D., Arlington.
17570 Hallett, J. F., 15 Roseland St., No. Cambridge.
17571 Livermore, J. P., 11 Everett St., Cambridge.
17572 Merrill, H. C., Lambert Ave., No. Cambridge.
17573 Roberts, Geo. W., 13 Shepard St., Cambridge.
17574 Sawyer, R. H., 65 Austin St., Cambridgeport.
17575 Small, J. C., 18 T Wharf, Boston.
17576 Smith, Arthur K., 5 Frost St., No. Cambridge.
17577 Webster, J. C., 107 Lake View Ave., Cambridge.
17578 Wilson, C. W., 47 Trowbridge St., "

HYDE PARK RAMBLERS.

17610 Grant, Robert E., Hyde Park.
Unattached.
17580 Kingman, James, 511 Washington St., Boston.
17611 Carsley, A. H., 30 Ash St., Lynn.
17612 Littlefield, J. H., 79 Cedar St., "
17581 Woodbury, Chas. Herbert, 112 Franklin St., "
17579 Bunker, Lewis P., 242 Washington St., Haverhill.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17613 Tappan, C. Q., Caro.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 3.

Missouri Bi. Club.
17614 Calvert, Rupert L., St. Louis.
17615 Winter, L. H., Jr., "
Unattached.
17582 Hotaling, Walter N., Grant City.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 14.

Alpha Wheel Club.
17590 Worrall, Geo. H., 356 Exchange St., Rochester.
Long Island Wheelmen.
17583 Darby, Wm. E., 32 Prospect Pl., Brooklyn.
17584 Halsey, Geo. M., 624 Greene Ave., "
17585 Robus, Dean R., 723 Sixth Ave., New York.
Manhattan Bi. Club.
17586 Knoblauck, C. E., 155 W. 58th St., "
17587 Patterson, S. S., 174 Canal St., "
17588 Rinaldo, Louis, 148 E. 74th St., "
Unattached.
17589 Patrick, Jno. H., Jr., 234 E. 51st St., "
17600 Rich, Howard A., 285 Alexander Ave., "
17590 Buell, Marshall W., 1066 West Ave., Buffalo.
17591 Schmidt, Otto, 88 Goodell St., "
17592 Bock, Frank W., "Sanatorium," Dansville.
17593 Jackson, James Arthur, Box 748, "
17594 George, H. F., Box 2177, Ithaca.

OHIO DIVISION — 1.

Springfield Wheelmen.
17595 Elliott, John S., Springfield.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 15.

Alpha Wheel Club.
17596 Carter, Chas. J. J., Redington.
17597 Eggert, H. B., Bethlehem.
17598 Wolle, J. Samuel, "
Pittsburgh Wheelmen.
17616 Hemphill, W. E., 242 Fish St., Pittsburgh.
Williamsport Wheel Club.
17617 Kilbourn, W. H., Williamsport.
17618 Montelius, F. S., "
17619 Simpson, F. C., "
Unattached.
17620 Bonsall, E. W., 3412 Baring St., Philadelphia.
17621 Bowman, Ray C., Sharon.
17622 Breckley, H., "
17623 Koehler, F. W., "
17600 Hershey, B. H., Manheim.
17601 Kline, Abraham, "
17602 Plantz, M. M., "
17603 Horine, John W., Muhlenberg Coll., Allentown.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 3.

Ixion Bi. Club.
17624 Matteson, Frank W., 237 Broadway, Providence.
Rhode Island Wheelmen.
17604 Eddy, Walter U., 380 Benefit St., "
Unattached.
17625 Wood, Irving S., 12 Lockwood St., "

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
17605 Fout, John Lee, 12 N. Queen St., Martinsburg.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Feb. 13, 1888.

LIST 11.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

Arkansas,	1.	Minnesota,	1.
California,	7.	Missouri,	42.
Colorado,	5.	New Jersey,	16.
Connecticut,	20.	New York,	38.
Dakota,	1.	N rth Carolina,	1.
District of Columbia,	4.	Ohio,	13.
Illinois,	9.	Pennsylvania,	58.
Indiana,	18.	Virginia,	6.
Iowa,	12.	West Virginia,	1.
Kansas,	1.	Wisconsin,	1.
Kentucky,	13.	Wyoming,	1.
Louisiana,	2.
Maryland,	4.	Canada,	1.
Massachusetts,	89.	England,	1.
Michigan,	10.	Nova Scotia,	1.
Total,			377.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

Alpha Wheel Club, Bethlehem, Pa.
Columbia Bicycle Club, North Attleboro, Mass.
Mountain Wheel Club, Philipsburg, Pa.
Hyde Park Ramblers, Hyde Park, Mass.
Williamsport Wheel Club, Williamsport, Pa.
Memphis Cycle Club, Memphis, Tenn.
Cambridge Bicycle Club, Cambridge, Mass.
Alameda Scorchers, San Francisco, Cal.
Maryland Bicycle Club, Baltimore, Md.
St. Paul Standard Bicycle Club, St. Paul, Minn.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE. — 52-inch Premier bicycle, cow-horn bars, spade handles; has been but little used, and is in first-class condition; a big bargain for $60.00; owner has no use for it, the only reason for selling. W. W. GUILFORD, 6 Union St., Boston, Mass.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES. — Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agents for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list, NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

FOR SALE. — 48-inch Star, 1887 Pattern, enamel and nickel finish, all latest improvements and extras, condition perfect, ridden but two miles on asphalt; cost $151. W. G. MILES, 244 Clark St., Cincinnati, O.

FOR SALE. — 56-inch Expert Columbia bicycle, full nickel, balls all round, Kirkpatrick saddle, Hill & Tolman bell, late pattern, little used, first-class condition; cost $156.50; will sell for $100 cash. Address W. M. FERGUSON, Jefferson, Iowa.

FOR SALE. — One 54-inch American Champion, 1887 pattern, standard finish, balls all around, with Lakin cyclometer, cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; rode less than one hundred and fifty miles; good as new; price, $100. One 52-inch American Champion, 1887 pattern, balls all around, standard finish, with Lakin cyclometer, rams-horn handle bars, wonder saddle; rode about five hundred miles, fine order; price, $80. One 52-inch American Challenge, 1887 pattern, balls to both wheels, standard finish, cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; rode about two hundred miles; A 1 order; price, $56. For particulars, apply to M. S. STIMPSON, agent, Onarga, Ill.

TO EXCHANGE. — A corner lot worth $100 in a "booming" northern Michigan town, for a 52-inch bicycle, with ball bearings. Address Lock Box No. 30, Marcelona, Mich.

FOR SALE. — 52-inch American Sanspareil Roadster, in perfect order, excepting the large tire, which shows natural wear, new tire on rear wheel, ball bearing, weight all on forty-three pounds; cost $122.50; will sell for $55 if taken now. Good reason for selling. Full particulars of H. M. WHITE, Trenton, N. J.

FOR SALE. — A 45-inch enamelled Star, 1887 pattern, rams-horn handle bar and spade handles, Lakin cyclometer H. W. ROBINSON, 50 State St., Boston, Mass.

THE EARLY BIRD CATCHES THE WORM. — We have made unparalleled reductions in our entire stock of Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems and Safeties, both new and second-hand, for cash and exchange; send for list just published; state what you need, and we will send full particulars. L. H. JOHNSON, Orange, N. J.

FOR SALE. — A 50-inch Victor Light Roadster, 1887 pattern, run about four months, in splendid condition; will sell for $100 cash. R. A. HOUSEL, 37 West 4th St., Williamsport, Pa.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

WANTED. — Every wheelman to try a box of Prof. Dorrance's Corn and Bunion Cure; something new; never known to fail. Sent to any address on receipt of price, twenty-five cents. P. O. Box, 182,
PROF. DORRANCE,
Bay City, Mich.

SEND A POSTAL TO
HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,
Newark, N. J., for their new "Illustrated Catalogue of Cycling Goods." A dictionary of wheelmen's wants, and where to procure them.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easily than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison. Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran 350 1-2 MILES IN 24 HOURS on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track. Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount, a 40-pound Light Champion), of 323 MILES IN 24 HOURS. Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5 HOURS, 38 MINUTES, 44 1-5 SECONDS, still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the G. & J. BALL BEARINGS. Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS

(Full Suits and Overcoats at proportionate prices.)

For many years January and February have been great months with us for orders from new customers. People who have bought a full suit at home and now are determined to send us their trial order for pants to patch out with until they are ready for a spring suit. Then we are pretty sure to have their order for that spring suit, as a result of their surprise and satisfaction at the excellence of the pants we cut to order for $3 00, because we cut a full suit, custom-made, for only $13.25. Upon receipt of six cents, we mail twenty samples to select from, self-measurement blanks, so accurate that we assume all risk of fitting, and, if you mention this paper, a good linen tape-measure. Or, if you cannot wait for samples, and will leave selection to us, tell us about what color you prefer, send waist, inside leg, and hip measure, together with $3 00 and thirty-five cents to prepay mail or express, and we will take all chance of pleasing, and guarantee safe delivery. For any cause, we refund money upon return of goods. The American Express Company (capital $20,000 000) will cheerfully reply to any one writing to their Boston office about us.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

TO FIT ANY BICYCLE - - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making them the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3 50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEEL BALL FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.
OF BEST CAST-STEEL, HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED,

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, FEBRUARY 24, 1888. | VOL. VI. No. 8. WHOLE NUMBER, 139.

THE COLUMBIA LIGHT ROADSTER IS THE LIGHTEST BICYCLE WITH A 7-8 INCH TIRE.

CATALOGUE FREE.

LIGHT COLUMBIAS

POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

THE EXPERT COLUMBIA, WITH AN INCH TIRE, IS AS LIGHT AS THE AVERAGE LIGHT ROADSTER OF OTHER MAKES.

THE RUDGE AGENCY

IS CONTINUED AT ITS OLD HEADQUARTERS,

152 to 158 Congress Street - - - Boston, Mass.

Under the management of H. M. SABEN.

The Factory is now ready with New Machines, and Specialties for 1888 will be ready next month. The 1888 Catalogue is now ready, and will be sent on application. Good Agents wanted in unoccupied territory.

1888 NEW MAIL!

LOOK OUT FOR IT. READ THIS CAREFULLY.

No Higher Grade. No more successful wheel ever appeared in the market than the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER brought out by us last year, of American Manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable. THE ONLY WHEEL having the Great Improvements of TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD, which we control. Proved an absolute success by actual road use of past two and one half years. Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of our last year's NEW MAIL, and as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders, Stronger Evidence of the Merit of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. ☞ Since some dealers have made exertions to decry the Ball Head as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact, emphatically, that the true MERIT of the Trigwell Patent may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts: that

We control the Trigwell and others CANNOT USE IT. That the Trigwell is the Only Ball Head confining the balls. That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head, and hence have had the most experience with it, and we DECLARE the Trigwell, which we have used two and one half years, A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS. Simple for repair, in case of accident, and more durable than the cone. The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER THE HEAD in a SINGLE DETAIL. Every part has been DEAD RIGHT and no change required. ☞ Don't book your order for a new mount till sending for Descriptive Catalogue of NEW MAIL, out February 1st. Send your name NOW. Good Agents wanted in every town. Our former agents requested to write us AT ONCE if wishing to continue, and book their orders for early deliveries.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

SINGER CYCLES

FROM THE

Largest Cycle Manufacturers in the World.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO" LIGHT ROADSTER	$130.	"S. S. S." TRICYCLE, NO. 1	$175.
"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER	100.	"S. S. S." TRICYCLE, NO. 2	175.
"CHALLENGE" NO. 2	75.	"S. S. S." TRICYCLE, NO. 3	160.
"SINGER" SAFETY	135.	SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE	185.
"MINIATURE" SAFETY	60.	"S. S. S." TANDEM	250.
"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE	70.	"TRAVELLER" TANDEM	235.

☞ For details of these Machines see our regular Catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

A FEW GOOD AGENTS WANTED.

W. B. EVERETT & CO, 6 and 8 Berkeley Street - - - - BOSTON.

RENEWAL BLANK.

Please fill out the blank below, and send it with $1.00 enclosed, and your number, to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 5267,
Boston, Mass.

DO NOT FORGET TO SEND OLD NUMBER.

If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calfskin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

No.

Name,

P. O. Address

City and State,

Club,

Enclosed find
$1 for renewal.
.25 " holder.
.25 " marking.

LAST CHANCE TO RENEW.

Send Your Dollar Now.

A Weekly Paper Free.

Road Books and Hotel Rates.

Many Dollars' Worth for $1.

Delay No Longer.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
For the League of American Wheelmen,
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS
P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS. $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith.

Members should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their residence, giving their old as well as new address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. All changes received after Tuesday night can not be attended to until the following week, as at that time the list goes to printer for revision. Members who write for back numbers will have them forwarded on Friday, our regular mailing day.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W.," see special page in Advertising Department.

MISS BULLETIN begs leave to inform her many dear friends that she has accepted proposals from her friend MR. WORLD, and consented to unite her destiny with his for better or for worse. She hereby announces her engagement, and bids all who have an interest in her to be present at the nuptial ceremonies, which will take place on Friday, March 2. In bidding adieu to single life Miss BULLETIN desires to make known her appreciation of the many kindly words and deeds she has been the recipient of from the many friends she has made in the homes that she has visited so often. She is glad to feel that she has been a welcome visitor. Her maiden life has been largely one of joy and pleasure, though many incidents of an unpleasant nature have obtruded. In her new life she expects to retain the old friendships, though she will go to her friends leaning on the arm of one who has been chosen her companion. Miss BULLETIN is free to confess that her financial resources have been very limited, and she has not been able to make the appearance in society that she desired to, but she is no longer her own purse bearer, and the howl of the wolf about the door will no longer be heard. Friends, you have not lost a friend, you will have her still, and she will bring to you still another friend, whom, for her sake, she hopes you will make welcome.

WE do not altogether agree with the cycling press and the many cycling scribes that the new plan is an assured success from the outset. It is just possible that too much is expected of the plan, and that disappointment will ensue. For ourselves we think the change is an experiment well worth trying, and we look for the best results, but we consider failure to be possible. There is a good deal that may be said in favor of a strong central organization. The outlying districts require our most earnest energies at this time. Wheelmen can obtain their rights in the large States without the help of the League. The cyclophobe grows and flourishes in the remote sections. The plan promises well for those who are able to help themselves. Will we see the strong grow and the weak perish? Let us hope for the best, and be prepared for the worst.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

"WILL the coming woman ride a bicycle?" There would seem, at first, to be but one answer to this question, but since a bicycle has been made which women can ride, and since we find those who are persistent advocates of the two-wheeler, for feminine humanity, we must hesitate in our answer and take refuge in "Perhaps."

I HAVE my opinions on the question, and I have freely expressed them, but I am always open to conviction, and I do not cling to an idea through prejudice when the conditions call with reason for a change of mind. The following letter tells its own story. The writer has ridden the ladies' bicycle and enters the field as its advocate: —

MY DEAR DAISIE: — "From a Feminine Point of View" has endeared you to lady tricycle riders all over the country, so you must not be surprised when you receive letters written as if in the most intimate and friendly relations; for indeed, we feel that we are not strangers to you, and certainly you are not to us, as the weekly BULLETIN, with its ladies' column and "Daisie," is one of our most welcome guests. We have often wondered why some lady in Washington did not write you and tell you of the interest and incidents of cycling in the District, as it is becoming very popular, and such mention would be of greatly added interest to those of us who reside here. Indeed, tricycling has become so popular that we feel very much as Violet Lorne says of herself, "that it is our good fortune to have been cast into a part of the world where riding is looked on as a fashionable amusement." But it was not the desire to supply the void in District news that induces us to write you, for we wou'd perhaps have been content all our lives to read the ladies' column without venturing a different opinion, or offering a single sugge-tion, simply permitting our convictions to be moulded by its teachings, and be governed accordingly. Perhaps destiny has ordered it to be otherwise, selecting myself and friends as its instruments to create a new world for lady cyclists, by making us enthusiastic bicyclists, which we certainly have become, greater than we ever were tricyclists, and we have been votaries of the latter for a very long time, and always frowned at the horrible suggestion of a bicycle for ladies. The thought was full of vulgarity and want of womanly delicacy, and so we heartily indorsed all that you and others have said on the subject.

We hoped that no lady would ever attempt to make unpopular the use of the tricycle for ladies by bestriding a bicycle. The very idea was repulsive! But, as stated, destiny may have wished it otherwise, for it had in store for us a wonderful revelation, a revelation we hope will be experienced by every lady in the land. Even this desire might not have induced us to write you had not our feelings been lacerated by what we can now realize as an honestly expressed opinion by Violet Lorne, and no doubt heartily indorsed by yourself, as we certainly have indorsed it a few short weeks ago. She says: "That a bicycle can be invented for women, and that many such have been presented to the uninterested world no one means to dispute; but as to such a machine being used by any but professional trick riders, the very idea is absurd." So we would have thought so a short time ago! But since we now know what depth of error and fearful injustice there are in such a remark, we feel called upon to come forward and champion the cause of what we believe is woman's best friend in cycling matters, and we know we cannot do better than by telling our own experiences. We did not know that "many ladies' bicycles had been invented and presented to the uninterested world." All that we knew of an actual invention of the kind, was told us by a member of the Smith National Cycle Manufacturing Company, of this city, who claimed to have invented and made a bicycle such as any lady would be glad to ride. Of this, of course, we were incredulous, but when the machines were finally shown us we saw at a glance that our imaginations had drawn a very unsightly picture of a very lovely and charming machine. We will not attempt to describe it to you now, because it is impossible for any one to disassociate the disagreeable from the mind by any description we can give. My own very best and dearest friends, before seeing me on the machine, no matter how much I tried to explain, thought I was overstepping the bounds of propriety, but when they saw me riding, exclamations of delight and words of praise were all I could hear, and it is universally so.

We have yet to hear a word of disparagement; and, as for the remark of Violet Lorne, that "ladies would find their costumes not suitable for rapid dismounting every time their machines had occasion to pause," will say that our enthusiasm over the achievement in this direction is only exceeded by our appreciation of the delightful swinging and independent motion of the bicycle, which is just "too lovely," and which one never experiences in the tricycle, and will never understand, nor what is lost to them, the very best of all pleasures in cycling, until they learn to ride a bicycle.

I know you cannot understand why it is so, and that you can scarcely credit it when I tell you that mounting and dismounting are infinitely easier and more graceful, wonderfully more expeditious, and absolutely without danger. Now don't say "impossible," as I would have done, for it is all so. I learned to ride in a single evening, and I now feel that I never knew what pleasure in cycling was until I learned to ride the bicycle, and I have only had my machine a little over three weeks. Probably the reason why no ladies have come forward to second what the gentlemen have said regarding the ladies' bicycle is because no ladies' bicycle, acceptable to them at least, has ever before been invented.

One now has been. All who have seen us ride are charmed, and a very great many of them have already chosen the ladies' bicycles for their future mount, so it will not be long before what the gentlemen have said about ladies' bicycles will be very generally seconded, at least, from what we already know of the intentions of our friends, they will be here in Washington. But two of us as yet own bicycles, though a number of our friends have already learned to ride on ours, and many more are desirous of learning. Of this you can be assured; a new realm of pleasure is opened for ladies in the bicycle, and though we may not hope to have you believe it all at once, simply because we have tried to tell you in our own way how delightfully successful our experience has been, yet the day is certain to come, and come soon, too, because of the many added charms of bicycling, when the tricycle, by a large majority of ladies, will be looked upon as heavy, slow, and tiresome, just as it does to us now.

We simply hope that our experience may temper your unconceived adverse opinions until you have the opportunity of judging for yourself whether we are not right in forsaking the tricycle, and, trusting for your own sake, this will not be long deferred, we remain as we have been for a long time,

Your sincere friend. E. T.

IN reply to Dr. H., let me say that I know very little about children's machines. Have never seen a child's tandem. Singer & Co. have a very fine assortment of singles for the little people, but no tandems.

MINNA CAROLINE SMITH is off to California with the Raymond party. She goes in her professional character as a journalist, and I suspect she will have her eyes open regarding wheel matters while she is there. DAISIE.

THE Newton Bicycle Club held its regular monthly meeting at the house of Mr. G. H. Hasting, Newton, Tuesday evening last. After the business meeting the club sat down to a delightful spread, furnished by Paxton. Late in the evening music was indulged in, and a jolly good time was enjoyed by all.

QUAKERTOWN QUILLINGS.

E. W. BURT presided at the ninth annual meeting of the Philadelphia Bicycle Club, Tuesday evening, Feb. 14. The following officers were elected: President, George E. Bartol; secretary and treasurer, H. A. Blakiston; board of trustees, Harold R. Lewis, Thomas Hockley, E. W. Burt, H. A. Blakiston, Wm. Morris, R. T. Middleton; captain, Ed. W. Burt; lieutenant, Wm. C. Smith; house committee, G. N. Osborne; chairman, Dr. C. B. Warder, F. Bement, Wm. Morris, L. H. Watt. The membership of the club was reported at one hundred and eighteen, including twenty ladies, the average daily attendance during the year being eleven. For the year ending Feb. 1, the number of miles ridden by members of the club was shown to be 29,282. The "Captain's Cup" was presented to Mrs. H. R. Lewis, who was credited with having ridden during the year, 3,043¼ miles, of which 2,200 were ridden in Europe last summer. Mrs. Lewis, who was the first lady winner of the cup, was also presented with a gold medal. The "President's Cup," awarded for the greatest number of rides during the year, was presented to Capt. E. W. Burt, whose record was one hundred and eighty-two "runs," covering a total of 2,382 miles. Three prizes were awarded to Messrs. Brietenbach, Morris, and Uhler, winners of the club, billiard, and pool tournament.

At the regular business meeting of Tioga Cycling Club, on the same evening, the club voted to join and support the proposed organization to be known as the "Associated Cycling Clubs of Philadelphia." Delegates to represent the club were nominated, and Messrs. Wm. S. Halliwell and George D. Gideon were selected, the latter for the two-year term. The club's president, Dr. Van Dusen, reports everything favorable for the new cycling track on the athletic grounds.

On Feb. 16, the mid-winter cycling tournament, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club and the Century Wheelmen, attracted fully one thousand people to the Elite Rink last evening to witness the contests between the local amateur bicyclers. The lady friends of the Quaker City cyclers were out in force, and they made up a goodly portion of the crowd present.

The officers were: Referee, Capt. William D. Supplee; judges, H. B. Hart, F. Grugan, P. S. Collins, and J. A. Wells; clerk of course, Louis Hill; timers, Frank Kohler, Frank Read, and John G. Fuller; scorers, B. H. Kirkbride, George Strong, and B. B. Craycraft, Jr.; starter, Kirk Brown.

The races were announced to commence promptly at eight o'clock, but the management was even more dilatory than is usual at our race meetings, so that it was fifty minutes after that time before a start was made. A good band was in attendance, perched up in a small crow's nest swung from the roof, and reached by a ladder from the dancing floor, which ladder was a great temptation to the joke-loving cyclists, and was hardly expected to remain in place for the evening. The rink was cold, and contestants were obliged to muffle up in jerseys and coats even while racing. The surprise of the evening was the defeat of Wilhelm by M. J. Bailey, of the Century Wheelmen, and the latter's defeat still later by plucky little John Green, of the South End. The track is eleven and a half laps to the mile, but comparatively safe as the turns are well banked up.

The first event was a one-mile race (3.10 class), in which there were four entries, but Green and Shinn did not start, Green reserving himself for the club race, leaving only Murray Kilmer, of Reading, and John J. Bradley, of the South Pennsylvania Club, of this city, in the race. Kilmer led for the first six laps, but then Bradley passed him, and won easily in four minutes nine and one fifth seconds, as Kilmer took a "header" in the tenth lap.

Homer Synnesvedt had a walk-over in the one-mile Pennsylvania Club race, as R. Dallett was withdrawn before the start was made. He made the time in 3.17 2-5.

The entries in the one-mile Century Wheelmen race were M. J. Bailey and Frank Strasburger. The latter held the lead until the sixth lap, when he was passed by Bailey, who won easily in 3.15.

The next event was a one-mile professional race between Crocker and Rhoads. This was a very exciting contest (?), and ended in a close finish. Crocker was in the lead for the first six laps, when Rhoads passed him, and maintained the lead until the last lap, when Crocker again lead on the home-stretch, and amid great excitement won, in 3.7 1-5.

To the outside public this was indeed a noble race. There were three starters in the one-mile South End Wheelmen race, which proved to be a very exciting match, and was won in great style by John A. Green in three minutes 19 2-5 seconds. Frank E. Bechtold came in second, a lap behind, and Emanuel Kolb last, by three laps. The excitement was not as to who would win, for the winner was never in doubt, but as to how often he would be able to ride around the others.

There were only two starters in the two-mile professional race, viz., S. G. Whitaker of Chicago and W. F. Knapp of Denver, Col. Whitaker took the lead and held it for five laps, when, by a spurt, Knapp passed him and held the lead until the twenty-second lap, when Whitaker again passed the Denver champion and won in six minutes and 6 4-5 seconds. Knapp made the first mile in two minutes 58 1-2 seconds, really very good time for the track. The finish was very close.

The one-mile Camden Wheelmen race was between Geo. N. Strong and Haley B. Weaver, and was won by Weaver by about one foot, in three minutes and 20 seconds, Strong evidently taken by surprise.

The one-mile open race had four entries, but Lamb and Shinn were drawn before the start was made. M. J. Bailey took the lead, rode hard, and held it to the finish, defeating W. J. Wilhelm, of Reading, the present State champion, by about two lengths, in three minutes and 14 2-5 seconds.

The next event was a five-mile professional race between F. E. Dingley of Minneapolis and S. H. Hollingsworth of Indiana. Dingley made the first mile in three minutes 8 seconds, and the second in six minutes 18 seconds, and was given the race in sixteen minutes 10 seconds.

Edwards had a walk over in the one-mile novice race, and made the mile in three minutes 38 1-5 seconds.

The concluding event of the evening was the one-mile inter-club race M. J. Bailey, of the Century Wheelmen, and John A. Green, of the South End Wheelmen, were the only starters.

This proved to be a very exciting match, by far the best of the evening. Bailey took the lead from the start, and held it for eight laps, Green trying all the time to get past, each time falling back at the corners, but finally winning in three minutes 12 2-5 seconds—the best amateur time made during the evening.

The meeting was a very enjoyable one, and quite as interesting as any purely local racing ever seen in this city. PIACTO.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

ONE of our local wheelmen received a letter from Dr. Saxe, of San José, Cal., who eulogizes the riding in his section of the United States. He says: —

San José is situated in a valley about twenty miles wide by one hundred miles long. Most of the roads in the valley are very fine for cycling the greater part of the year. At present they are in excellent condition, and there are tours every Sunday.

San José is forty-three miles from Oakland, and fifty miles from San Francisco, and a run from either place to San José and return is a favorite one with our wheelmen.

We never have the high winds or sand storms of Southern California; but during the summer we have the daily trade-winds, which come up about 11 A. M. and die out about sundown, preventing excessive heat.

We Springfield wheelmen can well envy them their fine roads at this season of the year, but we doubt whether they enjoy their runs any more than we do, or even as much, for having them continually, while we are deprived of them for four months in the year.

If present indications count for anything, we may expect the cycling boom to strike Springfield with renewed force this year. No less than three authorized cycling agents are booked here, all well-known wheelmen, and one more who is not a rider.

The good-natured rivalry which is sure to take place will make many converts to our coming national sport, and a word in time may not be amiss, viz., that the habit of using printer's ink "early and often" is a great help (excuse me, Mr. Editor).

The local club and many of the wheelmen hope to secure the Division Meet of the L. A. W. for Springfield this year. If this can be done the League cannot help but be benefited, as many of our riders are non-L. A. W. members, and some are in the great army of the "unattached"; give both of these classes a chance to see of what material our division is composed, and great will be the number of converts. Our division contains a number of wheelmen who have a national reputation, and are only known to a majority of the Southern and Central Illinois members through the cycling press, such as our C. C. Van Sickden (known as the war-horse), and B. B. Ayres, master of transportation, who is always happy, especially when he has a little run of eighty miles to make in order to reach the annual meet and a fire to put out. The "Irrepressible Ned," as he is familiarly known, Edwin Oliver, and a host of others, great and small, bring the meet to Central Illinois, and let the division see how we can entertain, and what we lack in numbers we will make up in hard work and enthusiasm.

Our BULLETIN reached us Monday, and sad was the news it contained, that the end of the present month will see also the last of our favorite. We have all become attached to the little sheet, partly because each member was a part owner, and many pleasant moments have been whiled away in the breezy chat of "Phenix," "Phacto," "The Owl," and other scribes, with "Daisie's" Feminine Notes. These have become factors in our wheeling life, and I have no doubt a majority of the L. A. W. would rather put their hands in their pockets and pay more to see it stay; but the Reorganization Committee did it, and I suppose their conclusion was for the best interests of the League, and it will in all probability stop the yawping of the cycling editors, who have always had their little fling at "Brother Bassett," while the shaft was really intended for the BULLETIN, for, say what they will, a great many will believe that "they looked at the BULLETIN as a factor in their success or failure."

Some consolation is afforded us in knowing that we will still have our official organ in the Bicycling World, and we hope to recognize old faces in its new(s) columns.

Well, "Ducker" has had his little say, "No BULLETIN," "no amateur line," allow "professionals and amateurs" to race together. I thought that by this time "Ducker" had recovered from that severe attack of (in Springfield, Mass.) "Pro Am" when the A. C. N. was born; one experience should teach, but to some experience never teaches. Wipe out the amateur line, and you will give the L. A. W. its death-blow. Racing is a craze, and in cycling only racers and their friends take any interest whatever; the lay public are too busy to stop and look, while the great body of wheelmen themselves are looking for something besides fast-time records or whether they can beat Tom, Dick, and Harry. They go into the sport for the pleasure it is to ride and the benefit derived from the exercise. Again, will such disgraceful affairs as the "Whittaker-McCurdy" affair at Minneapolis do wheeling any good? No! Professionals go for what there is in it, without any regard as to how, while the amateur is in for something else: their aims are as far apart as the poles.

Several of our riders have defied the elements, wiped the vaseline off, and taken a spin over our pavements, which at present are in a good condition for riding. If this weather continues until Sunday, "bluebirds and wheelmen" will startle some of our church-goers. "Billingsley and Fogarty are going to put up a box of cigars for the greatest number of miles covered by either by May 1. We'll all be there, John, when the box is opened.

Representative Sheridan sent a circular letter to all of the local consuls in his seventh district, and received replies to all, among which was a complete history of the Jacksonville incidents, which may be of interest to the general riders. Local Consul Avery writes:

"We have had two lawsuits in regard to cycling, viz.: Myself for the first. I was sued for five thousand dollars, on the charge of trespass. I accidentally ran against an old gentleman at a street crossing, and he sued me for the above amount. I employed the best counsel in the city, and the courts required the plaintiff to give bonds for costs, which he would not do. The case was virtually continued, but I don't think it will ever come up again.

"The second case was that of a man leaving his horse (unhitched) in front of a saloon while he was getting a drink (the man). The horse took fright at a street car, or a bicycle, or something else, at any rate, there was a bi. about a block away, when the man came out, and of course he said bi. made his horse run away and smash his buggy. So he sued the city for allowing bis. to run on the streets, of which case the judge decided in favor of the city. Inasmuch that there has never been any legislation passed prohibiting the use of bis. on the public highway, the case was decided against the owner of the horse." So much for Central Illinois. I wish they had a few such judges in the city of "Brotherly Love": the horsewhipping of peaceable riders would cease. REX.

BUFFALO.

HURRAH for the Reorg. Committee and their excellent plan! for indeed it is an excellent plan; and I am sure it will meet with the approval of every L. A. W. member who has the League's interest at heart. They invite criticisms. Well, let them criticise; but I hardly think they can improve on it. I congratulate the committee on the able manner in which they have overcome a most difficult task.

Watch "Zany," Mr. Ducker, and other "great" cycling critics come forward and say, "This should be that way, and that should be this way," and "I recommend this to be so and so," etc., and at last turn around with a shake of the head and a wise look upon their blooming physiognomies, and say, "That is so: there is no room for improvement there. The committee's plan is a beauty."

Captain Hotchkiss and Hanenstein, of the Buffalos and Ramblers respectivey, are busy arranging runs and tours for the coming season for their respective clubs. The friendly rivalry existing between the two clubs will be the means of making the members exert themselves to keep up the reputation of their respective clubs. The Ramblers, although being the smaller club of the two, have proved themselves "hustlers from Wayback," judging from their last season's record.

We've been having zero weather for the past two weeks, which seems to have no effect upon our wheelmen and their steeds of steel. Now and then you may recognize Bowen, Dr. Appleby, and others riding on the hard-packed snow along the car tracks. Bowen with his Rover, and the Doctor with his Safety, which makes you almost believe the riding season has come. But Jack Frost takes another nip of your nose and ears as a gentle reminder not to forget him.

Isham and Bowen are looking forward to a busy season. Even in this cold weather they have had sales of two or more wheels. The latter gentleman is enlarging his store and repair shop, and putting in new machinery, etc., so as to be in readiness for the season's rush.

With this letter my connection with the BULLETIN ceases, as does the paper itself. It has been short, but sweet (my connection, I mean). I sometimes wonder whether my letters are read with interest or looked over with the remark: "Let's see what this Buffalo fellow has to croak about," or passed over as N. G. If it be the first — it's no use, it won't be the first. The second is just what I would expect, or perhaps the third. Oh, Lord, turn over.

Dear old BULLETIN, good bye!

MERCURY.

BUFFALO, Feb. 16, 1888.

LEAGUE HOTELS, ETC.

SOME one two BULLETINS ago struck the key-note that hits many cases when he plead for the appointing of at least a few hotels which did not charge four or five dollars per day, for it has been ascertained that there are a few League members who are not wealthy enough to pay such rates, and who belong to the League because it at least promises to do something in the matter of road improvements, which, if done, will be the most benefit to the majority, and the principal one to them, for they long since gave up patronizing the said hotels, consequently could get no benefit that way.

The well-to-do ones, in case, under the reorg., there are a few common-sense houses appointed, could very easily skip them and go to the four-dollar ones, when touring, and such a state of affairs would bring many members into the League that we personally know have dropped out chiefly for the reason stated. This change would benefit many, and harm nor hinder none, the reverse of which is the case now.

This exact state of affairs exists in England, where the obliging landlord rises in his charges, in order to apparently "fall" to C. T. C. members, who then pay about three times the price that good decent coffee-houses charge, — or go to the latter, as we know many to do, and thus avoid financial collapse.

That matter of roads should really be taken hold of with some show of accomplishing something this spring, for any one can see that it is of the greatest moment to them all, and should take precedence at any and all times, for good roads will mean ten cycles to where there is one now; and you know the rest.

Only one machine, and that a safety, that is the only kind that so far can be got over our poor roads in winter, can be said to have been used in this region since November, and there are probably seventy-five wheels of various makes in the town. This is due to the utterly neglected roads, which, if of good macadam, or firebrick, in town, owing to the light snowfall here, would be ridable for at least three quarters of every winter. Now the owners are out of the use of them, neglect exercise, mostly, and when the middle of April comes they are about as unfit for riding as when they first began.

How to push the erection of suitable guide-boards in this portion of the Nutmeg State is what we want points on soon. Will some one give us full particulars in a near-future BULLETIN?

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

STAMFORD, CONN.

ANKLE ACTION.

AMONGST the many thousands of riders in this country very few seem to have any desire to improve their style or realize for a moment the vast importance of correct ankle action. You meet a rider plodding along, working his legs like pistons, with a heavy lifeless motion. Remonstrate with him and see what he will say: "Oh, he can go well enough; he does not believe ankle action makes such a difference; and he does not want to scorch in any case." Now we want our readers to grasp these facts. Any rider can acquire a tolerable ankle action by careful practice, and the acquisition of such will increase his power by nearly one fourth, and will enable him to ride hills never before attempted, and to keep up a better pace at the expense of the same amount of energy. This being so, the acquisition of such an art should be a sine qua non to every rider. That it is so can very easily be proved. In following the pedal the foot describes a complete circle. Suppose the circle to be divided into eight segments, taken in order from the highest point. With a rider who does not use his ankles, force is applicable only through segments 1, 2, 3, 4, and in segments 1 and 4, the force not being applied at right angles to the end of the crank, a large proportion is wasted, and consequently it is only thoroughly effective through segments 2 and 3, or during one fourth of the revolution. The rider who has mastered the mysteries of ankle action will drop his heel as the pedal approaches the highest point, and he can apply a certain amount of force through segment 8. After passing the so-called dead point, his heel being still dropped, the force is applied at right angles to the crank, or nearly so, and consequently he can utilize his full power through segment 1. By rapidly straightening the ankle when entering segment 2 an additional impetus is imparted, and, as before, full power can be applied through segments 2 and 3. Entering segment 4 the heel should be raised and the pedal clawed backwards; and this clawing action will enable the rider to work past the dead point and well through segment 5. Consequently the man who rides with his ankles stiff can only work through segments 1, 2, 3, 4, or half the whole circumference, and his work is thoroughly effective only through segments 2 and 3, or one fourth the circumference, whereas the man who utilizes his ankles can work through segments 8, 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, or two thirds the whole circumference, and his work is thoroughly effective through segments 1, 2, 3, and 4, or one half the whole circumference. The advantage gained in the latter case is self-evident. The acquisition of the art is often tedious and troublesome, but if cyclists only knew the enormous increase of power which results they would not be content until they had mastered it.

From the "Cycling" volume of the Badmington Series, written by Lord Bury and G. Lacy Hillier, we take the following instructions: "Seated either on a bicycle slung so that the wheel may revolve, or upon a home-trainer, the beginner should raise the pedal to its highest point, and then, steadying the wheel with the brake, place his foot upon the pedal, carefully fitting the slots in his shoes into their places, and seeing in any case that the foot is straight. Then using the thigh muscles for the most part, let him thrust the foot (and pedal) forward in a horizontal direction, in fact a sort of sharp forward kick, having the heel dropped as low as possible, the toes well up, and the foot firmly set on the pedal, which will be at an angle. This should be practised carefully with the brake slightly on, and for this purpose, though a bicycle can be used, a tricycle will be found much handier, if no home-trainer of the West Bromwich pattern is available, as the brake can be put slightly on by means of a piece of string or a strap to the lever, tied to any convenient point, and the novice can spend a few minutes daily practising this exercise; in carrying out which programme the left foot should at first be used more than the right. As soon as the usual awkwardness of the ankle-joint has been worked off this action will be found remarkably effective in starting the machine; after a time the ankle muscles and those of the calf will become stronger, and a sharp straightening of the ankle, as the pedal passes through segments 1 and 2, will materially aid the propulsion of the machine. This straightening of the ankle will be continued until the foot is brought into a position at right angles to the leg, the muscular effort of which should now have by equal graduations become directly downwards. The pedal will now assume a horizontal position, and the power of the leg with the weight of the body and the pull of the arms will all be exerted to force it downwards — at this point the crank throw is in the most effective position and the hardest work is put in. When the pedal begins to follow a backward course the ankle action becomes of the greatest value. The toe is gradually dropped, and the heel raised as the pedal gets nearer and nearer to the lowest point, the action having at length reached the backward or 'clawing' stage. To secure the full advantage of ankle work this 'clawing' action must be very carefully practised; the toes should be sharply pressed upon the sole of the shoe as if they were trying to grasp something, whilst the ankle should be straightened as much as possible, the foot being almost in a line with the leg, the calf muscles being strongly retracted, and the backward pull (which of course requires fitted shoes) can be made practically effective through segment 5, and also of service well into segment 6. The ineffective portion, which exists on either side, is soon reduced to a very small part of the circle, for as soon as segment 7 is entered upon the heel should be sharply dropped, and an upward and forward kick or thrust, as described in the directions for the first position, will lift the pedal forwards and upwards through segment 8, when, of course, the whole series of actions will be repeated."— Irish Cyclist.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

BALTIMORE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—As there seems to be a doubt in the minds of some persons as to the possibility of successfully attending to all the business affairs of the League, and to have a good time as well in the two days allotted to the L. A. W. Meet in this city, in June, why not take three days for it, June 18, 19, 20? The first day, Monday, might be devoted exclusively to business, and only those desirous of attending the business meeting need attend in time for it; or if they were here they could put in the day sight-seeing and leave the business to the magnates. The second day, Tuesday, we might have a parade, or, better still, an enjoyable run or two, and a lantern parade in the evening. The third day, Wednesday, would be race day. This plan would give us for business, let us see: All day Monday, and, if necessary, Monday evening, or, if that is not considered desirable, a theatre party could be gotten up for Monday evening; then we would have Tuesday morning, or a greater part of it, for business, and the run or runs in the afternoon; or we could have a morning run, and dinner at one of our famous hostelries, and devote the afternoon to business, and have the lantern parade at night. Then we have Wednesday morning at our disposal, for the races will only consume the afternoon, so if there is still any unfinished business it could be attended to. This plan, with some modifications, will, I think, give us ample time for business, ample time for all the display desirable, and ample time for all the fun that any one desires. As for a banquet, I do not see the need of it, and think we would be better off in every way without it, for the effects of a banquet are, to say the least of it, very pernicious, and really do us more harm than good in its effect upon the community at large.

There is a way to make this meet a novel one, and, I think, a very pleasant one, and that is to have an encampment. There would be no difficulty in securing tents, and it might be possible to get permission to have the encampment in Druid Hill Park, and arrangements could be made to have the meals served from the Mansion House. The weather in June is quite warm enough, and generally fair, and I think all who participated would enjoy it. Don't you think the novelty of it would make it quite attractive? 3,579.

OUR FOREIGN BUREAU.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN: — As Foreign Marshal I have been receiving for some time a letter or two a week asking for information about touring in England and on the Continent. Many of the writers ask me to plan a route for them. This is impossible; they must map out their own tours, and I will, if they wish it, tell them if their ideas are feasible. But I do not conceive my office to be tourist agency; and such riders had better join a Cook's party at once and leave their wheels at home. And again, if intending tourists would only give me some idea as to what they wish to see, whether good roads or grand cathedrals, new machine shops or old towns, I could give them many tips as to their route, which, since I scarcely even know them or their tastes, I am unable to do.

THE FOREIGN MARSHAL.

LONDON, 2, 5, 1888.

NEW YORK CLUB.

AT the semi-annual meeting of the New York Bicycle Club on the 7th instant, the announcement was made that a lot had been purchased for the new house, plans for which have been under consideration for some months.

The cost of the lot alone, which is situated on the east side of West End Avenue, between 71st and 72d Sts., was $11,500; but the financial part of the project was by no means the hardest obstacle to be overcome. In the growing sections near the Riverside Drive, where this new house is to be built, sales of real estate are generally made in plots of 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, which forms two city lots; and on these, the speculative builders, who are the principal buyers for this property, can erect three houses, and thus make a larger profit on the transaction. It was found extremely difficult to secure a single lot, and when one had been found and all but purchased, the owner withdrew it entirely because it was to be used by a bicycle club. The same stupid prejudice was also met with elsewhere; and with these two stumbling blocks in the way, it was a considerable time before success was attained. The persistent efforts of the club's treasurer, Mr. Jas. B. Roy, finally secured a lot, however, which could not be improved upon; and work on the house will now be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. Among the many advantages of the site is the fact that the building will be the only one in the lot, and will therefore have light and air from both sides, a most uncommon thing in New York.

Before the house is completed, the club will have entered upon its ninth year of existence; having been founded Dec. 18, 1879, mainly through the suggestion of Mr. C. Kirk Munroe, who also first conceived the idea of a League of American Wheelmen. The club was not yet three months old, when, on Captain Munroe's motion, it invited all other clubs throughout the country to join in forming the League, and it therefore, has the place of honor at the head of the roll. In the organization of the Interstate Road-Racing Association, the New York Club was hardly less prominent; and, as a body, it has always borne its share of duty in any movement which would advance the cause of cycling.

Starting with only six members, the numbers were soon increased to over twenty; but a reaction came in the history of the sport, and at one time there were only four names on the roll. With the subsequent revival of interest came fresh accessions, but after the membership had grown to about thirty, there was but little change for several years. Then came the suggestion of amalgamation with the Ixion Club, a body of about equal numbers and only about two years less in age. Several months of negotiation resulted in an agreement that the Ixions should disband and enter the ranks of the New York Club in a body; the club to be then incorporated and somewhat reorganized, with an even division of offices between the two contingents. This was duly carried out, and the membership now stands at between ninety and one hundred. The house which the club has occupied on 58th St. has been given up, and during the coming winter the old house of the Ixions, at 351 West 59th St., will be the club headquarters. As wheel room there will necessarily be limited, new members who may store their wheels elsewhere will be granted a remission of their dues until the club can afford them full facilities. When the new house is finished next spring, there will be accommodations, at once, for one hundred and fifty wheels, and this number are confidently expected to seek admission, while further growth can be met by an extension of the wheel room, for which the lot gives ample space.

THE ticket holders are a success. We expect to sell very many next summer, when unprotected tickets are melting.

CYCLETS.

GOOD BY

To one and all.

THE BULLETIN now goes out,

To come again in a new form.

WE step down that better things may be done,

THAT the League may devote its energies to things of more importance than the publication of a paper.

To issue a paper with a circulation of 12,000, to conduct the advertising department as it ought to be conducted, and to provide matter for the columns is a business in itself.

THE new paper will have an advertising department under the direction of an experienced advertising agent, and its editorial force will be free to turn its attention to making the paper interesting.

A BICYCLE at the Stanley Show scales eleven pounds.

OUR Foreign Marshal is not the only League official that gets unreasonable requests.

MRS. H. R. LEWIS has the best on record, with a mileage of 3,043½ for 1887.

THE ladies' bicycle and tandem will be on exhibition in New York during the Board meeting.

WE accept renewals that bear postmark Feb. 29. Leap year throws in an extra day for you this year.

OUR club has taken to the banjo, and the tum-tum is heard incessantly at the rooms. They are a banjovial lot at the club.

MR. THOMAS STEVENS will lecture at Buffalo, March 13, under the auspices of the Unitarian Church.

C. H. LUSCOMB, Esq., has been made a park commissioner for Brooklyn, N. Y., and it is fair to suppose the interests of wheelmen will not suffer hereafter.

THE Baltimore wheelmen are now preparing for a three days' meet, with one day and evening given to business and nothing else.

THE Middletown (Conn.) Wheel Club will give a minstrel entertainment on March 1 and 2 at McDonough's Opera House.

KAUFMAN has made himself solid with the English cycling press by giving a little dinner to the representatives. Now see if he doesn't get credit for being the best of the lot.

W. E. CRIST, who is undoubtedly the fastest amateur bicyclist in America to day, will probably join the Manhattan Athletic Club and try for a position in the club's team to England.

IT is estimated that New York wheelmen spend more for chewing gum than they do for the League. They divide the masticators into two classes, the professional and the amachewer.

A RULE in one of the leading French clubs is that every member is expected to subscribe to at least one cycling newspaper in order to support the wheel press.

THE Ottawa Bicycle Club has decided to invite the Canadian Wheelmen's Association to hold their next meeting at Ottawa, on July 1 and 2. A guarantee fund of $250 has been subscribed by the members.

THE concert at Roxbury last Tuesday evening, given for the benefit of Miss Carrie V. Hayden, was eminently successful. A very large number of wheelmen were present, and Mrs. Hopkins's original reading, entitled "Biddy and the Tricycle," was well received.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with $2.00, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by: —

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public, or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, ruler, and ice skating.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31, 1888. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed. .....

Club, P. O. Address,

City and State, ...

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

THINGS YOU WANT TO KNOW

WILL BE FOUND IN THE

VICTOR CATALOG FOR '88,

OUT NEXT WEEK.

The publishers of this valuable and interesting work claim to be sensible, wide awake, progressive wheel-makers, and base their hope of success on the belief that their product will be appreciated by sensible, wide awake, progressive wheel riders. The line for '88 is complete, comprising the

VICTOR LIGHT ROADSTER,

VICTOR SAFETY,

VICTOR TRICYCLE,

VICTOR JR. BICYCLE.

They are all wheels to ride. If you have not already done so, don't fail to send your name and address on a postal card and so obtain much matter that will be both interesting and valuable to you.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., MAKERS OF VICTOR CYCLES, BOSTON.

IT is not a little surprising that the Reorganization Committee has done just what every cycling paper has been advising for years. We judge so because they are all claiming credit for the original idea.

IF we hear much more about the beautiful roads and the glorious climate of New Mexico we will all want to go down there on a tour. It seems to be a more inviting place than Canada, Mr. Burley Ayers.

EX-CAPT. LEWIS H. FROST, of the Chelsea Cycle Club, has gone to Galveston, Texas, where he expects to wheel both summer and winter. Frost is seldom seen in Texas, but now it will be a common sight.

WHEN a man is tugging and toiling in the heat of the day it may interest him to know what else he is doing. The following definition comes from Boston: Perspiration is invisible; sweat stands in drops.

NEW JERSEY has a Liberty Bill introduced in the legislature of the State by the League officers of that State. Down Trenton way there is opposition to the bill and the wheelmen have got to fight it through.

THOUGH the secretary is no longer editor he is still open to receive wedding cake from bridegrooms and big apples from the farming element. The man who wants to see the fighting editor will find him on Pearl Street.

CLERGYMEN and ladies have the reputation for slack business methods, and yet these two classes of riders have come forward with their renewals among the very first. The clergy and the ladies believe in the League.

JOHN S. PRINCE and A. A. McCurdy have signed articles for a ten-mile race, to take place in Omaha, Neb., April 7, at the base-ball park, where a board track will be laid, which will be four and a half laps to the mile.

MR. AND MRS. JOE PENNELL will have in an early number of Longman's Magazine an account of a tour through France. The article will be called "Our Sentimental Journey." Of course Joe's pencil will embellish the contribution.

WELL, well, well! Here's richness. Read this from the Cyclist: "Senator Morgan preached a sermon last Sunday week from the pulpit of a chapel at Goytre, near Pontypool." The local press reported him to the extent of half a column.

"ARE you going to the ho' this evening, Backbone?" Backbone: "What the dence is a ho'"? Spoke: "Why, what the common herd call a hop. We put it into French now, just as they do all the other dancing terms. Hop is vulgar."

AT the last meeting of the Newton Bicycle Club it was voted to change the club cloth. The old familiar Canada gray homespun, which was first brought out by the Newton Bicycle Club, and was so familiar to cyclists in the early annals of cycling, will be seen no more on the road.

MALTBY gave his first exhibition, since his return to America, at Birmingham, Conn., last week. He introduced many new tricks that he has learned since he left home on his foreign trip, not the least interesting of which was an act in which he appeared as a female rider.

A COUNTRY paper in Western Massachusetts was approached by the captain of a local club with a request for a notice of a tour which the club was about to take. The editor agreed to insert a complimentary notice, and the next week the members read with horror that "The Wayback Club will go on a tear next week."

SINGER & Co. exhibit a war cycle at the Stanley Show. It is of the Victoria pattern, and it will carry twelve men with kit, rifles, and a large quantity of ammunition. The same firm shows two safeties, which carry carbines in a patent clamp forward of the seat pillar. A war tricycle (the ordinary S. S. type) carries a carbine and a capacious ammunition box behind the axle, so that the weight is carried by the driving wheels.

MR. H. M. FARR of Holyoke, Mass., is chairman of a committee who are trying to raise funds to build a road from Holyoke to Northampton, a distance of eight miles. It is to be used solely for bicycles and tricycles, and almost enough money is subscribed. Here is a case where the State Division might step in with a little contribution.

HIS machine was standing beside the curb securely fastened by a patent locking brake. Two gamins came along, and of course they had to give the wheel a push. That it did n't yield to the push and run into the centre of the street surprised them. They could n't make it out. At last one of them arrived at a solution that seemed to satisfy him. "Come on, Barney," he said, "that 's one of the kind where you have to put a nickel into the slit to make it go."

WILLIAM J. NEWMAN, a member of the Cambridge Club, has offered to the member having the largest number of miles to his credit for the season ending November, 1888, an L.A.W. solid gold badge, and to the member who rides from March 1, 1888, to Nov. 1, 1888, 3,000 miles, his choice of a Butcher Hub cyclometer or a pair of ball pedals. All records must be made on the new Mail machine, and will be kept by the captain. The prizes will be delivered at the November meeting.

THE new Singer S. S. has not only the shifting stay which allows the machine to be changed from a gentleman's to a lady's wheel, but is also singular in the fitting of the brake, which is applied by a lever in the ordinary way. Slight pressure actuates a spoon brake upon the steering wheel, but when extra friction is required extra pressure upon the same lever puts into action a band brake upon the axle, so that all three wheels of the machine are braked at once — no small advantage upon a steep descent.

THE ladies' night of the Massachusetts Club, held on Friday evening of last week, was a great success. Between thirty and forty couples attended, and all were thoroughly pleased with the entertainment. At the first part, held in the parlor, vocal solos were rendered by Miss Etta May Esty, Miss Lillian Carl Smith, and Mr. F. W. Perry, a piano solo by Miss F. C. Berry, and violin solos by Master Johnnie Kelly. Next there was dancing in the gymnasium, and afterward a generous supper was served by the steward.

ROWE has had a meeting with Howell and arranged for a series of matches for five hundred dollars a side, to ride three bicycle races of one, five, and ten miles, the winner of two to receive the stakes. Five miles will be run at Leicester, April 4, one mile at Wolverhampton, April 28, and ten miles at Coventry, May 12. Rowe has done little work since his arrival, and the tendency among British sports is, therefore, to back Howell, in whom they have confidence. Rowe will go into training quarters at Cridlington with Woodside. The latter expects to do well in the coming season.

WHILE the hill-climbing squabble has been agitating the Boston, Philadelphia, and St Louis boys, Louisville is kept remarkably quiet; but, since there is small likelihood of a contest, let the voice of the Kentuckian be heard. Excepting the St. Louis riders, only two cyclers have been able to climb Son-of-a-Gun Hill, one, George Hendee, the other, Joe Gard, of Louisville, and three others in the Falls City, considered the equal of Mr. Gard on the road, and some few claim to be his superior; and good reason for the claim. Then, why not let Louisville into the discussion? Louisville challenges the winner. — Louisville Commercial.

AN English writer highly recommends corduroy as a material for caps, or, in fact, clothing for winter riding. He declares it to be waterproof, but without the unpleasant accompaniments of india-rubber, and he describes a wet ride he took in a cap made of such material, the lining of which was as dry when he returned as it was when he started. Any one who has ridden in a soaked cap will appreciate the complimentary words he showers upon the stuff.

A SELECTED committee of the London sporting and cycling pressmen have agreed to present Nick Kaufmann with a gold medal, as they collectively consider him the trick-riding champion. Kaufmann has agreed to protect this medal against all comers under any regulations the committee may choose to lay down. It is thought that by these means something definite will be arrived at in the matter of the trick-riding championship of the world, and the braggadocio letter-writing of the past put an end to at once and forever. — Cyclist.

RALPH TEMPLE, who was known as Ralph Friedburg in America, was never much of a speeder before he reached England, although he had a good track record. This did not attract attention, as it was made on the race tracks of the West and not in the big tournaments of the East. In 1883, he won seven firsts, two seconds, in nine races; 1884, ten firsts, one second, in eleven races; eleven firsts, three seconds, one third, in fifteen races in 1885. Out of seventy-eight races since he has been in England, he has won sixty-six, been second in eight, and third in two. He has run two dead heats. Besides this he has given one hundred and eighty trick performances. He formerly wabbled badly on the track, but now rides as straight as an arrow and loses no ground.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen of Jersey City intend giving a cycling entertainment in one of the largest rinks in the city on the evening of March 2. The programme will include club parade, club drill, two games of polo on Star wheels, fancy riding on Star machine, trick and fancy riding on crank wheel by W. S. Maltby, a half mile, one mile, and slow race (all open), etc. The committee having the matter in charge intend making the affair a success, and the indications are that it will be. Already delegations from other clubs have signified their intention of attending in a body. Messrs. Thomas Stevens, Elliott Mason, and President G. C. Pennell, of the Elizabeth Wheelmen, have kindly consented to act as judges. The drill team is under the able direction of Dr. E. W. Johnson.

WILL there be a spring race meet in New Orleans this year? It is fair to presume that there will. The Louisiana Cycling Club has formally taken the matter in hand, and its progressive, get-there spirit argues very favorably for the projected movement. Messrs. R. G. Betts, H. H. Hodgson, and P. Martin Hill compose the committee intrusted with the arranging of the preliminaries, and within the next ten days it will probably be definitely known whether or not the race meet will be held. The tournament of last September whetted the appetite for more, and while it is not probable that the projected meeting will again be a complimentary affair, the public would doubtless be glad of another opportunity to view an exhibition of the exhilarating sport; the ladies will, at any rate, for a bicycle contest is largely the "ladies' choice," as their attendance on the different wheel tournaments would indicate. Why, they probably know best. — N. O. Picayune.

THERE has been a great deal of comment in the daily papers of St. Louis concerning the lavish manner in which the members of the house of delegates and the council spend the people's money in carriage rides. To solve the problem of getting these gentlemen home at night, Delegate Waters has introduced a bill to appropriate $1,000 to purchase bicycles for those delegates who live in the distant wards. Under the provisions of this bill, seven delegates, representing as many wards, will be mounted in the manner specified. It is suggested that these gentlemen shall form an exclusive club, and award a handsome gold medal to the member showing most proficiency after three months' training. Of course, when this bill gets to the council, an amendment will be tacked on providing for the same style of vehicles for the use of this body. Would n't it be a great day for our streets if we could get the city fathers riding over them on bicycles? — Spectator.

J. M. ROBBINS writes from Albuquerque, New Mexico: "Some of the roads here are as fine as the most exacting wheelmen could demand, and the weather is simply perfect all the year round. Since Oct. 17, the date of my arrival here, I have seen only four days unfit for riding. During the month of January every day was warm enough to ride in knee-breeches and without gloves. To give you some idea of the condition of our roads here, I would say that last Sunday Mr. Kellerhouse and I wheeled to Tejeras Cañon, a distance of twelve and a half miles, in one hour, and back again in forty minutes, — only one dismount on the outward journey, and none on the return trip. We have one coast out here for three miles straightway on a road as smooth as a billiard table. To all those who may have any lung or throat trouble I would say come to Albuquerque, bring your wheel with you, regain health and strength by breathing our pure, life-giving mountain air, and by riding about the country every day on perfect roads in the bright warm sunshine of this almost perfect climate."

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

YOST AND McCUNE PATENT.

This is an absolutely safe wheel, which retails for $75, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all-round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public. Best class of cold-drawn weldless steel tubing in handle bars, backbone, and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 pattern SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for $100 has ball bearings all round, and cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTING OFFICES:

Merwin, Hulburt & Co., New York, N. Y. E. C. Meacham Arms Co., St. Louis, Mo.
C. F. Stokes, Chicago, Ill. E. T. Allen, San Francisco, Cal.
John P. Lovell Arms Co., Boston, Mass., Retail Salesroom, No. 147 Washington Street.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. CO. - - 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their tickets to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication they may look for tickets.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 127 — Total 81.

BOSTON, Feb. 24, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 20.

Bay City Wheelmen.

17626 Adams, Edw. W., 252 Market St., San Francisco.
17627 Butler, Geo. R., 25 Third St., "
17628 Foley, J. H., 16 Columbia Sq., "
17629 Garrett, M. D., 16 Columbia Sq., "
17630 Gilmore, W. L., 704 Laguna St., "
17631 Langton, C. N., 1134 McAllister St., "
17632 Lutgen, C. J., 532 California St., "
17633 Martin, J. R. H., 317 Scott St., "
17634 Russ, A. G., 16 Columbia Sq., "
17635 Richter, E. C., 16 Columbia Sq., "

Los Angeles Wheelmen.

17636 Bradley, A. R., 110 Sanseveine St., Los Angeles.
17637 Congdon, Wm., 310 So. Los Angeles St., "
17638 Keeler, Dr. H. G., "
17639 Off, John A., 268 So. Spring St., "
17640 Pease, Sherman, 245 So. Spring St., "
17641 Sale, L. D., 268 So. Spring St., "
17642 Swift, Chas., Box 418, "

San Francisco Bi. Club.

17643 Arrowsmith, Geo. E., 316 Montgomery St., San Francisco.
17644 Bannan, Wm., 316 Montgomery St., "

Unattached.

17645 Leggett, Chas. H., Merced.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 2.

Meriden Wheel Club.

17682 Illingworth, M. A., Meriden.

Middletown Wheel Club.

17646 Chafee, Chas. A., Middletown.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 5.

Chicago Bi. Club.

17683 Case, Robert M., Lakeside Building, Chicago.
17684 Douglas, H. A., Chicago Telephone Co., "
17685 Stokes, Chas. F., 293 Wabash Ave., "

Unattached.

17686 Brooks, Fred. G., 431 Washington Boul., "
17687 Crackel, Wm. H., Jr., Brown's.

IOWA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17647 Schreurs, John A., Jr., Muscatine.

KANSAS DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17688 Nicolet, Chas. H., Newton.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 5.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

17651 McCormack, Jas., Liberty and Lexington Sts., Baltimore.
17652 Pope, Fred. W., 7 South St., "

Maryland Bi. Club.

17648 Beatty, Castleman, 206 Dugan Whf., "
17649 Reid, C. D., 15 Mt. Royal Terrace, "
17650 Tyson, M. D., Box 92, "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 11.

Easton Bi. Club.

17689 Spofford, G. P., Campello.

Holyoke Bi. Club.

17690 Bolt, J., 133 Walnut St., Holyoke.
17691 Celce, Frank, 222 Walnut St., "
17692 Chase, John F., 171 Pine St., "
17693 Gleaman, A. F., care B. F. Arthur & Co., "
17694 Livermore, Chas. D., 33 Pearl St., "
17695 McGrath, A. A., care Connor Bros., "
17696 Outterson, E. L., 231 High St., "

Unattached.

17653 Haynes, Allston, Box 25, So. Framingham.
17654 Kingman, Lewis B., Attleboro.
17655 Moore, Arthur L., 178 Pleasant St., Worcester.

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 8.

St. Paul Standard Bi. Club.

17656 Bowe, Frank W., 85 Leech St., St. Paul.
17657 Brewster, W. B., Macalester.
17658 Haskell, Sprague F., 419 Iglehart St., St. Paul.
17659 Herz, Frank, 15 Iglehart St., "
17660 Kellogg, F. L., 115 Summit Ave., "
17661 Lott, K. F., 5th and Sibley Sts., "
17662 May, Felix A., 28 So. Forbes St., "
17663 Roach, Chas. A., 522 Brewster Ave., "

MISSOURI DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17664 Maloy, F. A., Louisiana.

NEBRASKA DIVISION — 1.

Lincoln Bi. Club.

17697 Shader, C. L., 1425 O St., Lincoln.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 5.

Elizabeth Wheelmen.

17665 Smith, Miss Elsie, E. Scott Pl., Elizabeth.
17666 Smith, Miss Lilia, E. Scott Pl., "

Plainfield Bi. Club.

17667 Kirkner, Geo. M., Plainfield.

Unattached.

17698 Harden, Reeve, Hamburgh.
17668 Park, C., Millville.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 5.

Buffalo Ramblers.

17669 Brandel, Geo. W., 115 Elmwood Ave., Buffalo.
17670 Smith, Wm. J., 40 Dodge St., "

Nassau Wheelmen.

17699 Painter, Chas., 91 So. 8th St., Brooklyn.

Niagara Falls Bi. Club.

17671 Hirsch, Simon, Niagara Falls.

Riverside Wheelmen.

17700 Miller, Fred. R., 158 W. 105th St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION — 3.

Toledo Cycling Club.

17672 Keller, J. C., 175 Irving St., Toledo.

Unattached.

17701 Arnot, Albert L., 211 Walnut St., Cincinnati.
17702 Seeley, Lewis S., Plymouth.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 4.

Reading Bi. Club.

17673 Douglas, L. D., 211 So. 5th St., Reading.
17674 Fogelman, W. B., 3d and Penn Sts., "
17675 Keeport, A. E., "

Unattached.

17703 Langhams, Philip T., 165 Ohio St., Allegheny.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 5.

Bristol Co. Wheelmen.

17676 Bliss, Walter G., Warren.
17677 Bradford, Frank J., Barrington Centre.
17704 Hall, Preston L., Warren.

Kent Co. Wheelmen.

17678 Miller, Wm. C., Box 827, E. Greenwich.

Rhode Island Wheelmen.

17679 Davis, John C., Box 1361, Providence.

TENNESSEE DIVISION — 1.

Clarksville Cyclers.

17705 Patch, Benj. A., Clarksville.

UTAH. — 1.

Unattached.

17680 Sloan, T. W., 40 E. Temple St., Salt Lake City.

VERMONT DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.

17681 Gates, L. S., Brandon.

VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

Old Dominion Wheelmen.

17706 Adams, J. H., 516 Twenty-Second St., Richmond.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, Monday, Feb. 20, 1888.

LIST 12.

THE following renewals are received to date: —

California,	87.	Missouri,	9.
Colorado,	1.	New Hampshire,	1.
Connecticut,	19.	New Jersey,	153.
Delaware,	2.	New Mexico,	1.
District of Columbia,	2.	New York,	87.
Illinois,	21.	Ohio,	40.
Indiana,	5.	Pennsylvania,	174.
Iowa,	3	Rhode Island,	7.
Kansas,	2.	Tennessee,	11.
Kentucky,	1.	Texas,	1.
Maine,	3.	Vermont,	2.
Maryland,	64.	Virginia,	2.
Massachusetts,	19.	Wisconsin,	7.
Michigan,	3.	Wyoming,	1.
Minnesota,	2.
Total,			730.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888: —

St. Louis Cycle Club, St. Louis, Mo.
Wilkesbarre Bicycle Club, Wilkesbarre, Pa.
Plainfield Bicycle Club, Plainfield, N. J.
Canton Bicycle Club, Canton, O.
Allegheny Cyclers, Pittsburg, Pa.
Niagara Falls Bicycle Club, Niagara Falls, N. Y.
Bay City Wheelmen, San Francisco, Cal.
Orange Wanderers, Orange, N. J.
Elizabeth Wheelmen, Elizabeth, N. J.
Chicago Bicycle Club, Chicago, Ill.
Holyoke Bicycle Club, Holyoke, Mass.
Hoosac Wheelmen, Hoosick Falls, N. Y.
Kings County Wheelmen, Brooklyn, N. Y.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

THE rowing tricycle, or road-sculler race, will be held at the Royal Aquarium, Westminster, commencing February 13, and lasting six days, and the following well-known oarsmen will compete: Geo. Bubear, Wallace Ross, Charles Carr, William East, and David Godwin.

LOST to sight, stolen from view, strayed from the public gaze, the Humber-type single tricycle. Is it possible that in two short years a machine that was once the rage, and which was ridden by all three-wheelers of note, can have so entirely disappeared? It must have struck the observant cyclist at the Stanley Show how completely the Cripper type had ousted its once favorite brother from the field of popularity, and how the makers had ceased to manufacture a machine which created quite a revolution in the tricycling world some few years back. The Humber-pattern tandem seems to be its only representative in some quarters now, and we suppose that will continue to bask in the changeful smiles of a fickle public for some time to come, because it owns one or two important points not to be met with in the "direct-steering" tandem. We are glad there are still some riders to be found ready to stick up for the "Humber," and though we do not anticipate its turning the tables on its most successful rival, still, like the ordinary, we hope it will continue in favor with those who really appreciate its merits, for of a truth it has been, and is, a fine machine. — Bicycling News.

THE CLUB.

JERSEY CITY. — At the last regular meeting of the Hudson County Wheelmen, of Jersey City, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. Elliott W. Johnson; secretary, Theodore F. Merseles, Jr.; treasurer, Carman Nichols; trustees, C. A. Stenken, Frank Eveland, H. Strugnell; captain, E. P. Baggat; first lieutenant, W. E. Eldridge; second lieutenant, F. J. Gubelman; sergeant, F. C. Sheldon; right guide, Wm. Robertson, Jr.; left guide, H. C. Pearsall; bugler, G. L. Bettcher; color bearer, N. E. Feury.

MUSCATINE, IOWA.—The Wheelmen of Muscatine, Iowa, met Feb. 16, and organized a club to be known as the "Bend City Wheelmen." The following officers were elected: President and captain, Robert L. Thompson; vice-president and first lieutenant, Roy C. Betts; secretary and treasurer, Ad. Reuling. The club has a membership of twelve, with good prospects of its being increased to twenty before the end of the season.

WILLIAMSPORT, PENN. — At a meeting of the Williamsport Wheel Club, held Jan. 13, the following officers were elected, viz.: President, W. H. Bloom; vice-president, Dr. S. S. Koser; secretary, W. E. Riley; treasurer, R. A. Housel.

ORANGE, N. J. — The annual meeting and election of officers of the Orange Wanderers was held in their club-rooms, Wednesday evening, Feb. 15, 1888. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. R. M. Sanger; vice-president, W. A. Belcher; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Gilmour; captain, C. W. Freeman; first lieutenant, F. P. Jewett; second lieutenant, R. S. Miller; color-bearer, J. M. Gilmour.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MARYLAND HOTEL.

THE Antietam House, Sharpsburg, Md., is hereby appointed League hotel, with rates of $1.25 per day to L. A. W. members.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 16, 1888.

RESIGNATION.

I HAVE accepted the resignation of Raymond S. Coon as representative for third district, New York State Division, L. A. W.

GEO. R. BIDWELL, C. C.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18, 1888.

APPOINTMENTS.

I HAVE appointed the following representatives for second district: E. K. Austin, Box 157, Flatbush, Brooklyn, N. Y.; for first district: J. M. Warwick, 30 Broad Street, New York City; for third district: Jas. R. Knowlson, 9 Washington Street, Troy, N. Y.

GEO. R. BIDWELL, C. C.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18, 1888.

OHIO APPOINTMENTS.

PLEASE note the following appointments for the Ohio Division: Representative first district: A. H. Brown, Toledo, vice J. M. Tryon, resigned.

Consuls: J. A. Kuert, Kenton, vice Perry A. Sagebiel, resigned: M. A. High, Cincinnati, vice Chas. A. Hampson, resigned: C. E. Schilling, Louisville.

Hotels: Empire House, Wilmot: regular rates, $1.50: L. A. W., $1.00, or twenty-five cents per meal. Commercial Hotel, Louisville: rates, $1.50; L. A. W., $1.00, or twenty-five cents per meal.

JAMES R. DUNN, C. C.

MASSILLON, O., Feb. 17, 1888.

TO MEMBERS OF NEW JERSEY DIVISION.

A BILL similar in every respect to the New York "Liberty Bill" has been introduced in the legislature of this State and is now before the senate. In the vicinity of the Oranges wheelmen are so numerous they are given the right of way by common consent; but in some sections, especially south of Trenton, they are not only denied the right to the road but are subjected to all sorts of insult and abuse, and drivers take pains to run them out of the road. This is not an occasional thing, but almost universal. The bill meets with opposition from that quarter, and it behooves every member of the Division to take a personal interest and use every endeavor to have the bill become a law. To this end nothing will be of greater assistance than letters from prominent citizens, especially politicians, addressed to the senator or assemblyman, as the case may be, asking him to support the bill. You can easily get them for the asking. Don't complain of what the League does not do till you have done this much yourself.

J. H. COOLEY, C. C.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION.

THE regular monthly meeting of this Division will be held at headquarters, No. 1023 Twelfth Street, N. W., Saturday, March 3, at 7.30 P. M. Matters of importance will be presented. Every member is expected to be present. Bring your new ticket.

E. T. PETTENGILL, C. C.

FEB. 18, 1888.

NEW JERSEY REPRESENTATIVE.

REPRESENTATIVE W. J. Atkinson having resigned, I have this day appointed Mr. Sanford Northrup (4th and Pennsylvania Streets, Camden, N. J.) representative in his stead.

J. H. COOLEY, C. C.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Feb. 20, 1888.

MARYLAND HOTEL.

THE Howard House, Ellicott City, is hereby appointed a League hotel. Regular rates, $2.00 per day; rates for League members, $1.50 per day.

A. E. MEALY, C. C.

SIX CENTS IS N'T MUCH!

But it will buy an accurate and satisfactory Guide-book of New York City — 128 pages and map. 75,000 already issued. Send six cents in stamps to Advertising Department,

Grand Union Hotel, New York.

Mention the BULLETIN and an extra copy will be mailed free.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted in this column as follows: Fifty cents for four lines, first insertion; twenty-five cents for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FOR SALE. — Columbia two-track tricycle, 1885 pattern; ridden but one season by experienced rider; best possible condition; cheap for cash if taken soon. Write for particulars. Big bargain. Address ROBERT L. THOMPSON, Muscatine, Iowa.

FOR SALE. — 54-inch Rudge Light Roadster, 1887 pattern; been ridden about 1,000 miles; almost perfect condition; $110 cash. Address Box N, Montpelier, Vt.

FOR SALE. — 52-inch Rudge Light Roadster, 1887 pattern; in perfect order; has been run very little; cost $135; saddle (Lillibridge), $5.00; best offer above $95 takes it. Correspondence solicited. FRED M. SCOTT, Barre, Vt.

FOR SALE. — 52-inch Victor Roadster, 1887 pattern: enamel and nickel; all latest improvements; in perfect condition; as good as new: has two gravel cuts on front tire; has been ridden about 100 miles; price, $100 cash. Lock Box No. 2. P. E. COX, Franklin, Tenn.

FOR SALE. — 56-inch Expert; good as new; will send C. O. D., subject to examination; will sell for $100 cash. For reason of selling, etc., address ED. H. COYKENDALE, Elmira, N. Y.

WANTED. — Second-hand wheels; must be cheap. Write make, condition, and price, to CHAS. E. DAVIS, Box 406, Wapakoneta, Ohio.

$95. — 52-inch Victor Light Roadster, 1887 pattern, new last fall, cost $132.50, guaranteed good as new; 58-inch Victor, new 1st spring, $90, cost $134. A 1 condition. Address H. CROWTHER, P. O. Box 1582, Philadelphia, Pa.

FACILE. — 42-inch (ordinary 52), lamp, cyclometer, cow-horn handles, light weight, good condition, for sale or exchange (with cash), for good tandem; positive bargain to buyer before season opens. Address CASH, 398 Madison St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

BARGAIN. — A 50-inch full-nickelled Expert Columbia bicycle, in good condition, with Lillibridge saddle, tool-bag, etc.; will be sold at a low price for immediate cash; price, $80. Address E. H. ABRAMS, Croton Falls, N. Y.

FOR SALE. — 52-inch Premier bicycle, cow-horn bars, spade handles; has been but little used, and is in first-class condition: a big bargain for $60 00: owner has no use for it, the only reason for selling. W. W. GUILFORD, 6 Union St., Boston, Mass.

BARGAINS IN BIKES AND TRIKES. — Fine assortment of new and slightly used machines, standard makes, and only such as can be guaranteed. Wheels bought, sold, and exchanged. Being sole New York agent for New Rapid and Quadrant cycles, we will make exceedingly liberal allowances for old mounts in exchange for above machines. Send for bargain list, NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., No. 38 Park Place, New York.

FOR SALE. — 48-inch Star, 1887 Pattern, enamel and nickel finish, all latest improvements and extras, condition perfect, ridden but two miles on asphalt; cost $151. W. G. MILES, 244 Clark St., Cincinnati, O.

FOR SALE. — 56-inch Expert Columbia bicycle, full nickel, balls all round, Kirkpatrick saddle, Hill & Tolman bell, late pattern, little used, first-class condition; cost $156.50; will sell for $100 cash. Address W. M. FERGUSON, Jefferson, Iowa.

FOR SALE. — One 54-inch American Champion, 1887 pattern, standard finish, balls all around, with Lakin cyclometer, cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; rode less than one hundred and fifty miles; good as new; price, $100. One 52-inch American Champion, 1887 pattern, balls all around, standard finish, with Lakin cyclometer, rams-horn handle bars, wonder saddle; rode about five hundred miles, fine order; price, $80. One 52-inch American Challenge, 1887 pattern, balls to both wheels, standard finish, cow-horn handle bars, spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; rode about two hundred miles; A 1 order; price, $56. For particulars, apply to M. S. STIMPSON, agent, Onarga, Ill.

TO EXCHANGE. — A corner lot worth $100 in a "booming" northern Michigan town, for a 52-inch bicycle, with ball bearings. Address Lock Box No. 30, Marcelona, Mich.

FOR SALE. — 52-inch American Sanspareil Roadster, in perfect order, excepting the large tire, which shows natural wear, new tire on rear wheel, ball bearing, weight all on forty-three pounds; cost $122.50; will sell for $55 if taken now. Good reason for selling. Full particulars of H. M. WHITE, Trenton, N. J.

FOR SALE. — A 45-inch enamelled Star, 1887 pattern, rams-horn handle bar and spade handles, Lakin cyclometer H. W. ROBINSON, 50 State St., Boston, Mass.

THE EARLY BIRD CATCHES THE WORM. — We have made unparalleled reductions in our entire stock of Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems and Safeties, both new and second-hand, for cash and exchange; send for list just published; state what you need, and we will send full particulars. L. H. JOHNSON, Orange, N. J.

FOR SALE. — A 50-inch Victor Light Roadster, 1887 pattern, run about four months, in splendid condition; will sell for $100 cash. R. A. HOUSEL, 37 West 4th St., Williamsport, Pa.

BICYCLES, SECOND-HAND. — If you wish your wheel sold quickly, at a small commission; or if you wish a choice from the biggest list of big bargains in America, send to MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortland St., N. Y.

WANTED. — Every wheelman to try a box of Prof. Dorrance's Corn and Bunion Cure; something new; never known to fail. Sent to any address on receipt of price, twenty-five cents. P. O. Box, 182,

PROF. DORRANCE,
Bay City, Mich.

SEND A POSTAL TO

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,

Newark, N. J., for their new "Illustrated Catalogue of Cycling Goods." A dictionary of wheelmen's wants, and where to procure them.

When we are compelled to use racing wheels to make records we SHALL SAY SO, but so far our ordinary road machines seem to be SPEEDIER, and to run more easiiy than the frail and specially light built racing wheels of our English and American competitors, which latter, in our opinion, furnish no basis for honest comparison. Our latest acquisition was Frank Dingley's wonderful performance in the Minneapolis Rink, when he ran 350 1-2 MILES IN 24 HOURS on a 36-pound Light Champion. This is about 33 miles ahead of Morgan's indoor world record, which was made on the same track. Then Whittaker's unapproachable run on the fifty-mile course at Crawfordsville (his mount, a 40-pound Light Champion), of 323 MILES IN 24 HOURS. Not to be forgotten is the 20 miles within the hour, on the Ordinary Champion, by the same rider, and on the public highway. Add to this Dingley's track record of 100 MILES IN 5 HOURS, 38 MINUTES, 44 1-5 SECONDS, still with the Ordinary American Light Champion. Thus, gentlemen, the "American Cycles," though road machines, hold every important road and long-distance record, and it is only fair to give some credit to the G. & J. BALL BEARINGS. Catalog cheerfully mailed on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Largest Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries in America.

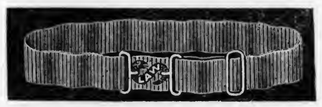
THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS,

Full Suits and Overcoats at Proportionate Prices.

We sincerely believe that never before have we been able to offer our customers so good and stylish a line of SPRING GOODS as now. Our line of Cheviot Suiting, guaranteed absolutely all wool is particularly remarkable. Our smooth-faced goods are also very carefully selected to suit our trade, whose wants we know now from long experience. For 6 cents we mail you 20 samples of these cloths, self-measurement blanks so accurate that we guarantee a fit. Also if you mention this paper we send you a good 48 inch linen tape measure. Or if you must save time, send us your waist, inside leg, hip and knee measures, together with $3, and 35c. to prepay express or postage. We guarantee safe delivery. For any cause a customer of ours may return his goods and receive back his money or a new garment, a guarantee of which statement may be obtained by writing to the American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000), at Boston. N. B.—In buying goods by mail, it is a good rule to send money only to concerns that are well known throughout the country and avoid the countless imitators that spring up for a day to compete with old and regular establishments.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.



18 Summer St., BOSTON, MASS.

SPADE HANDLES!

TO FIT ANY BICYCLE - - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making them the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

L. A. W. Silk Belt to match uniform, with silver snake buckles, $1 00.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 Fulton Street, and 87 Nashua Street,

NEW YORK.

Send 2-cent stamp for our new 52-page illustrated catalogue

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

Patented. Prices, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15, to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

RIDERS, NOW IS THE TIME You need a Home Trainer to keep yourself in condition. Don't store your Cycle away to rust and do you no good, but get the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND, and you and your machine will winter in good condition. For Sale by Cycle Manufacturers and Agents generally. Price, $7.50.

Patents applied for. M. A. WOODBURY, Manufacturer, Bradford, Pa.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

CLUB UNIFORMS A SPECIALTY.

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEEL BALL OF BEST CAST-STEEL, FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE Bicycling World

VOLUME XVI

NOVEMBER 4, 1887, TO APRIL 27, 1888

C. W. FOURDRINIER - - - - - - } Editors
J. S. DEAN - - - - - - - }

BOSTON

BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY

12 PEARL STREET

1888

CONTENTS--VOLUME XVI.

Albany Track 85
American Rambler 205

Bumpus, Tom 59
Boston Club Hare and Hounds 76
Bicycling in St. John, N. B. 76
Buffalo Bi. Club 92
Bicycles and Tricycles 109, 125, 142
Baltimore is all Right 328
Baltimore Meet Notes 441
Brooklyn Bi. Club 162

CORRESPONDENCE—
Minneapolis 6, 39, 55, 70
New York 6, 40, 71, 102, 135, 167
Pittsburg, 7, 22, 38, 54, 71, 87, 103, 119, 136, 150, 168, 184, 198, 215, 231, 248, 263, 310, 345, 426, 438, 459
New Jersey, 7, 24, 39, 54, 72, 88, 102, 118, 135, 151, 169, 183, 198, 214, 231, 246, 263, 279, 311, 344, 362, 398, 437, 456
Washington 8, 22, 38, 72, 320, 459
New Orleans 54, 88, 118, 167, 278, 393, 439
English, "Senator," 70, 134, 230, 262, 279, 380, 439
At Large, "Gentleman John," 87, 103, 166, 182, 198, 214, 246
St. Louis, 119, 150, 184, 215, 247, 270, 345, 364, 400, 455
Kansas City 136, 263, 280, 326, 381, 459
Wheel Club News, 168, 184, 199, 219, 235, 251, 264, 327, 359
Philadelphia 183, 230, 247, 346
Long Island 280, 311, 345, 394, 399, 438
Pennsylvania 280, 363, 399, 455
Chicago 311, 340, 380, 437
Buffalo 311, 346, 400, 437, 456
Detroit 326, 374, 403, 456
Connecticut-ings 344, 399, 459
Cleveland 362, 454
Two Remedies 13
Work for the Illinois Division 21
Bent Backbones 30
Delaware 72
Colie Bell Will Race Purvis Brace 76
Corey, Harry, Abroad 77
Foreign, "Senator," 86
Tour to the Twin Cities 93
Gentleman John Accepts, etc 93
"Chestnuts" 93
Musing on the Wheel 104
In re the Litigation 108
He is as Good as Any of Us 109
Reason of Postponement 123
New Mexico 150
Up the Amazon 165
Birmingham, Ala 168
Morgan Throws Down the Gauntlet 172
Mr. Ducker is not Dead 172
Denver, Col 183
No Victor Team for 1888 188
Le Feurs in England 200
Case of McCurdy's 204
Senator Among the Trade 221
Change of Firm 222
Roseville Track Changes Hands 236
Club Management 251
Six-day Race at Philadelphia 261
London, "Gentleman John," 278
Augusta, Ga 283
Impressions "Gentleman John," 310
Aged Riders 331
Road Racing 331
Remonstrance From Stanley & Sutton 332
English, French and American Teams 332
Syracuse 344
Moonlight Run to San Jose, etc 350
How to Apply the National Surplus to Secure Better Roads 351
Tucker and Wells Question 351
Brakes for Safeties 352
This and That, "Gentleman John," 362
Ladies' Bicycles 367
From Mr. Shriver 370
Racing at Philadelphia 379
Challenge from Kluge to Crist 386
Brakes on Safeties 386
Kauffman Trick Championship 386
Philadelphia Century 397
Peebles, Scotland, "Gentleman John," 398
New Science of Will Power Applied to Cycling 404
European Tour 405
"Boycott Corbin" 406
Roads Question 406

Official Announcement 441
Great Century, New York—Philadelphia 441
Scottish, "Gentleman John," 454
Buffalo Tournament 462

Crist, W. E. 28
Cause That Leads to it 124
Change of Firm 157
Corey, H. D. 157
Country Roads 204

Darrow, Geo. S 69
Dinner to Captain Whitney 92

Easter Maneuvers of English Troops 441
Exciting Match Race at New Orleans 442

Future of the Ordinary 108
Fatal Accident 405
Facile Swallow 407

Great Boulevard 123
Ghost Story 133
Gentleman John on the Use of the Blue Pencil, etc. 141
Gentleman John on Some Well known Wheelmen. 200
Gormully & Jeffery's New Hollow Rim 205
"Gentleman John" 284
Good for Philadelphia 435
Goo Advice 461

HILL CLIMBING—
College Hill 12
Corey Hill Ridden Four and One-half Times 27
Contest 405

Horses vs. Bicycles 60
How we "Did Up" Blobson 155
Hot on a Bicycle 331
How to Purchase a Second-hand Machine 368

Ivel Tandem 13
Interview with a German Inventor 110
Index to Machines, 173, 189, 204, 220, 237, 252, 269, 368, 387, 406

Kluge is "All Right" 69

Lanterns and Cycles in Elizabeth 5
Lynn Cycle Track Sold 53
Long Island Wheelmen 69
Loafing 107
Long Ride on One Wheel 230
Le Feur Brothers Great Undertaking 270
L. A. W. Board of Officers Meeting 315
Lady's Dart Bicycle 368
Le Feurs at St. Thomas 382
League Meet Committees, etc 387
Life and Cycling in New Mexico 441
Leap Year 462

Measurement of our Twenty-mile Course 12
Massachusetts Division L. A. W 45
Mr. Bowser Buys a Bicycle 61
My Experiment 144, 149
Massachusetts State L. A. W. Division 172
Maltby at Home 235
"Manslaughter" 435

Novel Business Calender and Stand 29
New Wheel 45
Notable Anniversary 101
New Mail 237
New Kind of a Liar 332
New Firm in the Bicycle Business 405
New York Bicycle Club 461

On the Tur' Again 188
Our Annual Strollings 203
Obituary 284

POETRY—
Then and Now 14
Some "Verses" 29
In Days of Old 141
The Sad Cyclist 155
Bicycle Ballad 235
League and the World 277
March Cycling 332
A Wheelman's Ballad 352
Broncho vs. Bicycle 385
To William A. Rowe 404

Poughkeepsie Bicycle Club Entertainment 441

RACES—
Hollingsworth, Winner of 24-hour Race 12
West Philadelphia Athletic Association 27
Bi. World's One-hundred Mile 27
Tricycle 27
New York and New Jersey Inter club 28
Manchester Bicycle Club 28
Hare and Hound's 28
Six-days, at Edinboro', Scotland 44
How They Take Care of a Man 45
Ralph Temple Wins 60
Harvard Bicycle Club 60
In Providence 69
New Bedford Club 76
Dorchester Chase and Boys' Race 76
Newcastle (Eng.) Six-day 156
Newcastle (Eng.) Forty eight-hour 351
Rifle Match 261
In Philadelphia 405
Rowe-Englehcart Match 442
Wood Beats Howell 442
Woodside Beats Allard 442
Howell Gets Back at Wood 442
Rowe Succombs to Wood 442
Howell Wins First Race 442

RECORDS—
Hour and 25-mile Tricycle Broken 12
Safety, 6 to 20 Miles 12
One-hundred-mile Tricycle Beaten 24
Safety 24
Tricycle, 21 to 50 miles 24
Wonderful Tandem, 26 to 30 miles 27
Unicycle 28
American 25-mile 44
Cowboys Win 44
One-hundred-mile Tandem 44
One-hundred-mile Tricycle 44
Ten-mile Unicycle 44
English 60, 200
Dingley Among the In-door 108
Eck Raps the 50-mile In-door 124
Dingley's 24-hour Indoor 124
Cyclists Beat the Cowboys 188
Six-day, four hours a day, Philadelphia Broken. 351

Recent Patents 94, 200, 254
Retrospective 139
Roxbury Bicycle Club 181
Rowe goes to England 220

Serious Accident 53
Sleep and Cycling 124
Some Fables 141
Score One Victory for the Cycle 173
Surprise Columbia 190
Scandalous Affair 203
Smith, Mr. and Mrs 219
Springfield Roadster for 1888 221
Scheme for Reorganization 229
Stanley Show Chat 267
Special S. S. S. Tricycle 269
Surprise Party 312
Senator Attends N. C. U. Powow 382

They All Read the Same Way 45
"The Swift" 387
Terre Haute Bi. Club 462
TRADE—
Volunteer Columbia 158
Veloce Columbia 174
Surprise Columbia Tricycle 190
American Rambler 205
Victor Light Roadster 206
Springfield Roadster 221
New Mail 237
Victor Safety 253
Special S. S. S. Tricycle 269
Ladies' Dart Bicycle 368
Swift Safety 387

Volunteer Columbia 158
Veloce Columbia 174
Victor Light Roadster 206
Victor Safety for 1888 253

Whittaker, S. G., Twenty-four hour Record of 13
Whittaker, S. G., Great Ride 28
Whittaker, S. G., Twenty-four Hour Record of .. 46

We Take a Trip 14
Wide Awake 101
Where There's a Will There's a Way 168
We Offer a Medal 405
Woodstock Amateur Association 462

THE BICYCLING WORLD & BULLETIN.

FOUNDED 1878

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year.
5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 2 MARCH, 1888.

Volume XVI
Number 18.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO. · VICTOR CYCLES ·

· BOSTON · MASS ·

CYCLING IN AMERICA HAVING PASSED ITS PIONEER PERIOD, THE QUESTION NOW IS NOT, "SHALL WE RIDE WHEELS?" BUT, "WHAT WHEELS SHALL WE RIDE?" THIS QUESTION HAS BEEN DECIDED TO THE COMPLETE SATISFACTION OF A LARGE PROPORTION OF THE WHEELMEN OF THIS COUNTRY BY THEIR EXPERIENCE WITH THE VICTORS, A LINE OF WHEELS OF THE HIGHEST GRADE, PRESENTING MORE THOROUGHLY GOOD FEATURES THAN ANY OTHERS.

· THE VICTOR LIGHT ROADSTER ·

THE STRONGEST, HANDSOMEST AND LIGHTEST RUNNING BICYCLE MADE. IT HAS EARNED ITS REPUTATION AND WILL SUSTAIN IT.

· THE VICTOR SAFETY ·

IN '87 ITS SUCCESS AMOUNTED TO A POSITIVE HIT. MODEL FOR '88 GREATLY IMPROVED. THE ONLY SUCCESSFUL TYPE OF SAFETY BICYCLE. ADJUSTABLE TO ALL SIZES.

· THE VICTOR TRICYCLE ·

BUILT TO BEAT THE WORLD, AND HAS NO TROUBLE IN DOING IT. LIGHT, STRONG, GRACEFUL! PERFECTLY ADAPTED FOR BOTH LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

· THE VICTOR JUNIOR BICYCLE ·

INTRINSICALLY THE BEST YOUTHS' MACHINE EVER OFFERED. TANGENT SPOKES, BALL BEARINGS, SPADE HANDLES, VICTOR SADDLE—EVERYTHING RIGHT! SIZES, 38 TO 50 INCH INCLUSIVE.

It Is Impossible to give any adequate description of these goods here, but we ask you to send for catalogs and full particulars regarding them. OVERMAN WHEEL CO.

MAKERS OF VICTOR CYCLES AND ACCESSORIES
BOSTON MASS.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Having secured the SOLE AGENCY of the UNITED STATES for the celebrated

King of the Road Lamps,

Made by Joseph Lucas & Son of Birmingham,

We are prepared to supply the trade on liberal terms.

Riders should insist on having the best, for a poor lamp is worse than no lamp, and there are none so good as the "KING OF THE ROAD."

SEND FOR 1888 CATALOGUE OF

New * Rapids * and * Quadrants,

Containing complete price list of Lamps and other First-class Accesories.

Mailed on Receipt of name and address.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

FOR SALE—Over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles at bargain prices; send stamp for list and mention this paper. A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio.

FOR SALE—Humber safety, enamelled, ball bearing, extension spring and handle bar, geared to 54 and almost new. For particulars address H. C. ROFFE, Box 153, Boston, Mass.

FOR SALE—Expert Columbia, 54-inch, nickel plated, almost new. Price $100. L. W. ENOTS, Tompkinsville, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Rudge Bicyclette, new last June, fine order, spade handles, Townsend sadle, lamp; will sell at a bargain. Address ISAAC KNOWLDEN, 12 Warren St., New York.

FOR SALE—A Marlboro Club Tandem; new last season; in first class condition. G. J. McARTHUR, 23 Union St., Boston.

FOR SALE—58-in. "Expert;" Ball Bearings all over; drooped handles, lamp and bell; in good condition; guaranteed; best offer over $50 takes it. Address G. T. L., 30 North 3rd St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DON'T BUY A BICYCLE until you have sent stamp to A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio, for list of over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles. Mention this paper. Second hand Guns and Bicycles taken in exchange.

PHOTOGRAPHS of noted wheelmen; send for circulars to FRANK H. ROBERTS, Collinsville, Ill.

FOR SALE—56-inch Expert Columbia bicycle, full nickel, balls all round, Kirkpatrick saddle, Hill & Tolman bell, late pattern, little used, first-class condition; cost $126.50; will sell for $100 cash. Address W. M. FERGUSON, Jefferson, Iowa.

FOR SALE—Columbia two-track tricycle, 1885 pattern; ridden but one season by experienced rider; best possible condition; cheap for cash if taken soon. Write for particulars. Big bargain. Address ROBERT L. THOMPSON, Muscatine, Iowa.

FOR SALE—42-inch (ordinary 52), lamp, cyclometer, cowhorn handles, light weight, good condition, for sale or exchange (with cash), for good tandem; positive bargain to buyer before season opens. Address CASH, 308 Madison St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, $125. 587 Photo. Outfit (cost $80), $60. Send stamp for particulars. H. R. BRYAN, Hudson, N. Y.

FOR SALE—51-inch Light Rudge, two-thirds nickel, made to order; good as new; cheap. Address D. G. B., 611 W. Market st., Louisville, Ky.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert Columbia, 1886 pattern, at $85; 60-inch Harvard, $25; 57-inch Am. Star, $30; 50-inch Am. Star, $35; 56-inch British Challenge, $95; 55-inch Premier, $50; 50-inch Champion, $75. For particulars address JULIUS ANDRAE, 225 West Water street, Milwaukee.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

HANDY POCKET WRENCH.

For Bicycles, or other use. Malleable iron, four inches long; strong and useful. Price, 30 cts., post-paid. Stamps or silver. The John Wilkinson Co., 77 State Street, Chicago, Ill.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

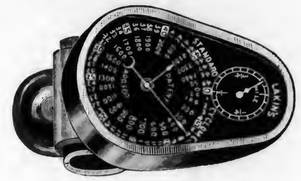
GET THE BEST!

The Standard Cyclometer.

Greatly Improved for 1888.

Simplest and Best Instrument ever Invented.

The Reasons Why:



It has stood the test for accuracy.

It has proved itself the strongest and best made cyclometer on the market.

It has been in use several years, and its merits are well established among wheelmen.

Can be read from the saddle, and used with or without the hub lantern.

A positive and continuous action, making it reliable inevery respect.

REGISTERS 2500 MILES.

We have given the manufacture of the Cyclometer careful investigation and study, with a resolute determination to remedy all defects, and at last we place upon the market an instrument that seems absolutely perfect in all its workings. We furnish a certificate of accuracy with all instruments. In ordering give size and make of wheel, also size of axle, and length of axle between the hub shoulders inside. Price, with balance weight and lantern attachment, $10.00.

J. A. LAKIN & CO.,

Send for Circular. WESTFIELD, MASS.

THIS WILL INTEREST YOU.

I shall sell COLUMBIA CYCLES this year, but have not given up the Rudge agency. The Rudge wheels are of the highest grade, and many riders will continue to buy and use them in preference to any other make, and I shall always keep them in stock, but the Columbias, are so well known, they have become a staple article of trade, aud my stock would not be complete without them. I find that two-thirds of the people who come to my store to buy, ask for Columbias. I have all the 1888 wheels in stock and the line is well worth examining even if you do not wish to buy.

I SHALL RENT COLUMBIAS THIS YEAR.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS.

Full Suits and Overcoats at Proportionate Prices

We sincerely believe that never before have we been able to offer our customers so good and stylish a line of SPRING GOODS as now our line of Cheviot

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

Suiting, guaranteed absolutely all wool is particularly remarkable. Our smooth-faced goods are also very carefully selected to suit our trade, whose wants we know now from long experience. For 6 cents we mail you 20 samples of these cloths, self-measurement blanks so acurate that we gurantee a fit. Also if you mention this paper we send you a good 48 in linen tape measure. Or if you must save time, send us your waist, inside leg, hip and knee measures, together with $3, and 35c. to prepay express or postage. We guarantee safe delivery. For any cause a customer of ours may return his goods and receive back his money or a new garment, a guarantee of which statement may be obtained by writing to the American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000), at Boston.

N. B.—In buying goods by mail, it is a good rule to send money only to concerns that are well known throughout the country and avoid the countless imitators that spring up for a day to compete with old and regular establishments.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,

18 Summer Street, BOSTON, MASS.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,

100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

STEEL BALLS

FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

—OF BEST CAST STEEL.—

HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED.

.16 to 3 diam. Samples and Prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO.

FITCHBURG, MASS.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

(Yost & McCune Patent.)

The Only Absolutely Safe Wheel Against "Headers" Made. It is the Best, and it is also the Cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER.

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

Best class of cold drawn weldless steeltubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., - New York, N. Y.
C. F. STOKES, - - - - Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., - Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

Have You Seen the 1888 NEW MAIL?

SURELY GET

A

CATALOGUE,

OR SEND FOR A

HANDSOME CARD,

Illustration of it.

MAILED FREE,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., BOSTON.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

—BY—

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 2 MARCH, 1888.

THE pressure on our columns this week has been tremendous, and we must therefore ask the kind consideration of correspondents whose letters do not appear this week. We also had a lot of interesting trade notes that will have to wait over one issue. We trust that those who notice omissions will pardon such.

WE desire briefly to salute our old and new constituency, in that we appear as the official organ of the L. A. W. once again. We have no fine words to say, no great promises to make, we are here for business. It will be our business to make all who are brought incontact with us, whether as a reader or an advertiser, feel that the relation has brought both pleasure and profit to all concerned.

BROTHER Bassett must have forgotten it is leap year when he stated that "MR. WORLD" made a proposal to "Miss Bulletin." However, the young lady got what she wanted, and the young man is also contented.

ONE of our esteemed contemporaries across the pond nonchalantly announces that "Howell, after getting through with Rowe, will meet Temple." Perhaps it would be well for Howell to wait until Rowe gets through with him before he makes definite plans for the future.

W. A. ILLSTON has been suspended for selling his prizes and accepting payment of his expenses. Thus are the "Amateur Champions" being weeded out one by one, leaving the amateur path to fast riders of wealthy parentage, and indifferent riders who are not worth legislating on or acting about. It also leaves unmolested the rogues and tricksters who win or lose as best suits their purpose and that of their backers and bookmakers. Its all very nice to have energetic officers bound to purify the sport, but in the meantime we move for an investigation committee to find the sport. We would further suggest that the committee be provided with a Search Warrant.

WILLIAM READ & SONS should certainly be commended for their stroke of enterprise in putting in this issue their 1888 Catalogue in extenso. We commend to our readers the wisdom of a careful perusal of the New Mail catalogue.

"TIDINGS of comfort and joy" is indeed that contained in "Ratchet's" and "Wing-Foot's letters, regarding large appropriations for Road Improvements.

THE LEAGUE AND THE WORLD.

RING the golden joy-bells and let the trumpets sound,
And spread the gladsome tidings to the Nation's farthest bound:
And, all ye loyal thousands, let your banners be unfurled,
Who joined the League; for now, at last, the League has joined the WORLD!

Rally round the League, boys; the campaign has begun,
And the fight for Road Improvements now is going to be won.
So strike in confidence and hope, and put the good cause through,
For you've got the WORLD to back you up in everything you do.

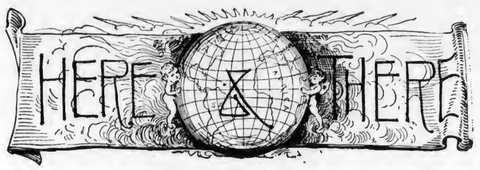
The Millenium approaches, and the Day of Jubilee,
When All Creation cycling, we undoubtedly shall see;
For year by year, in mighty bounds the wheelmen's numbers grow,
And who can tell the wonders that a decade hence may show?

If that Gulliver of cycling, Hugh McCallan, were to write
From January first until the last December night,
We should get much information, yet 'twould only be a part
Of what will surely come to pass if all stand heart to heart.

At the present rate of growth, and with ten years of honest toil,
We'll not even knuckle under to Jay Gould or Standard Oil!
The railroad kings in terror to the League will humbly kneel,
And they'll go through insolvency, while Creation goes a-wheel!

Republicans and Democrats we'll serve cold to the Fates,
When the "L. A. W. ticket" sweeps the whole United States:
And we'll send the road hogs packing in an antiquated hack,
For what are they against us with the whole WORLD at our back?

The Gotham Park Commissioners shall gnaw their hearts in vain,
For the League will never let them enter Central Park again;
And Karl Kron shall be appointed the Historian of our fame,
Upon the sole condition that he tells the WORLD his name.



Then up and down, and all across our great and glorious land,
Shall be neither mud nor gullies, nor a highway built of sand,
But boulevards, macadamized as smooth and hard as glass,
Shall cover, as a net-work, valley, plain and mountain pass.

Aluminum* will furnish all with cycles light as feathers,
And covered ways protect us in the stormiest of weathers;
All the ladies, even Daisy, will appreciate two-wheelers,
And everybody cycle, rich and poor and rogues and "peelers."

Then boom the Road Improvements with all your main and might,
In Congress and in Legislature carry on the fight,
'Gainst miry roads and ignorance be now your gauntlet hurled,
And proclaim to All Creation that the League has joined the WORLD!

*Pardon the ancient allusion. PEDALS.

THE regular annual meeting of the Binghamton Wheel Club was held at the handsome parlors of Messrs. Copeland & Harris, No. 1 Court street, Friday evening, Feb. 17, and the following officers were elected: President, A. H. Saunders; Vice President, T. H. Harris; Secretary, B. T. Ash; Treasurer, J. H. Copeland; Captain, E. H. Towle; First Lieutenant, H. Y. Bresee; Second Lieutenant, John Cutler; Third Lieutenant, Frank Cox; Club Editor, W. F. Sherwood; Bugler, W. P. Mosher; Color Bearer, S. W. Newton; Executive Committee, M. C. Craver, W. J. Rogers, and A. W. Lyon. After the business meeting the members were invited into an adjoining room to partake of the hospitalities of their genial hosts. The occasion was one which will be long remembered by those present. The tables were covered with the choicest viands. A happier crowd is seldom seen. After the spread, the company was entertained with music and dancing by two local minstrels who were engaged for the occasion. It would be difficult to find a club that is more harmonious than the Binghamton Wheel Club, and a large share of the credit for this congenial state of affairs is due to the generosity and hard work of the men who were most active in founding it.

"GENTLEMAN JOHN."

LONDON.

ALONE and let alone in London. A place too big for convenience, too smoky for health and too muddy for anything. Can't say I care much about the place itself, but I must confess I have been well treated by the big cycling guns, and shall think well of their little town.

"TAKE this ticket," said the middle weight of Wheeling office, Mr. Percy Low. "take it and come to-night. Smoking concert, you know." Every year Wheeling invites all the "sandwich men" that can come together of an evening and "fill them up," first on good strong food, and then with "beer and 'bacey," and gives them a grand concert besides. A "sandwich man" is an unfortunate member of the human race who walks between two boards, upon which one reads such signs as "Wheeling, One Penny," "Pear's Soap," "Jubilee Insect Powder," "Don't Read This Side," etc., etc. As he is paid at about the rate of twenty-five cents or a shilling a day, it does not take the imagination of a Kennedy-Child to see that his life is rather devoid of luxury. BTE

"WE want but little here below," but sometimes want that little badly, and the experience of a sandwich man is no exception. They call the man a sandwich man because he is the sandwich. The boards form the bakery which incase the thin slice of meat which he represents (the mustard is omitted). Some people have come to look upon the "sandwich man" much as they do a theatrical "supe," an automaton for cheap hire. Mr. Percy Low of Wheeling is not built that way. He's too broad on his beam ends for that kind of doctrine, and so he entertains the "sandwich men" once a year, and entertains them well, too. And so I went and saw the "sandwich men," and a great sight it was, too. Brought together in a large hall were three hundred of the most poverty-stricken men in all London feeding, feeding, feeding, as if life was very earnest, very real, and it was a long time between meals. The way the poor fellows "walked into" roast beef was a caution. After each of the sandwich men had got a tight skin and had surreptitiously filled his pockets with such articles of food and table cutlery as he supposed "never would be missed," the tables were cleared, and beer, tobacco and pipes were given to the men. Then the concert began, and it was a concert, as some of the leading talent from the various London theatres put in an appearance, and with singing, recitation, dancing and ventriloquism, helped Mr. Percy Lowe and his assistants to carry out the programme successfully. To look at the wonderful collection of faces of all kinds was a study, a study truly, but such a sad one. Each one of the three hundred faces said "dismal failure" too plain for words.

Some men are born for great things,
Some are born for small;
But 'twere better than "hustling" a sandwich board
Not to be born at all.(?)

Several of the numbers on the programme were popular airs, and the men joined cheerily in the choruses.

THE heavy weight and "fighting editor" of Wheeling, Mr. C. W. Nairn, and the light weight, Mr. W. McCandlish, assisted by Mr. Harry Swindley, of the Cyclist, and Mr. Charlie Liles, a noted amateur Sullivan, were among the assistants of the Right Honorable Percy Low in his "Sandwich man's Feed."

"SENATOR" MORGAN (as usual) has been hustling and has several big races on hand, "cow-boy races," "six-day cycle races," "Rowe versus Howell races," etc., etc. "Senator" seems old and worn and looks like an old war horse. I must say that the "Senator" is very well treated by everybody over here. He does too much work though for one man.

TEMPLE has gone to Liverpool to fill a trick-riding engagement. Temple is a nice fellow and very popular. Woodside is still in Ireland. But such is cycle fame. What a "two by four" fame it is at the best. Even the biggest guns are very ordinary, every-day mortals, and their fame does not go to the ends of the earth by a good deal.

THE newspapers over here have made a great "to do" about the Le Feur brothers. The Scotch papers were selling editions with big headlines—"Yankee Enterprise Again." I do not know how the Le Feur brothers will get along, but I'd rather take my cycling all on land, and nearer civilization than the country of the Upper Amazon. But tastes differ. Of course, as they explain, they are young, have money, energy and muscle, and are tired of their humdrum life in the Northwest. Balloon ascensions, Niagara antics and Brooklyn Bridge leaps are as much out of my line as would be a trip with a convertible water or land cycle, but then there are men who have time and taste for that sort of thing, and it is nobody's business, anyway. Without such daring adventurers the uttermost parts of the earth would remain an unread book, and it takes Stanleys and Stevenses and Columbuses, and Hatter-asses and Le Feurs to travel in such places. They're built that way.

Far from the Pullman palace car,
The railroad sandwich and
The statistic fiend in quest of data,
For a new official road book.

You can't make this rhyme, I did not intend it to. Bye-bye.

NEW ORLEANS.

"BI."

WHAT'S the matter with Corey? This is a question that has been asked a dozen times within the past week or two, but as no one here can answer it satisfactorily, perhaps you Boston folks can enlighten us somewhat. H. D. wrote that he would be in New Orleans during the first part of February, and the daily press announcing that fact, quite a number of wheelmen were on the lookout for him to size him up and piroutte him round a bit, but alas! no Corey came, and they are waiting still.

AND so Hendee wants to be re-instated! He deserves it, and if it were left to the South would get it, too; so would Phil Hammell; so would Nobb Myers.

MR. KNIGHT, of the Kankakee (Ill.) Club, is stopping in the city for a week or two. Fairchild had him aboard a tandem last Sunday, and now Mr. K. is sorry he didn't bring his trike with him.

THE Louisiana Cycling Club has under consideration the holding of a spring race meet, and a committee is now at work on the matter, but exactly how the movement will pan out, it is, at this writing, hard to say.

MR. C. H. FENNER has declined the proffered nomination of the Chief Consulcy, and it is now pretty well understood that Mr. A. M. Hill of this city will be the only candidate for the position, which, of course, means his unanimous election.

THE Louisiana Club has placed a signboard and a wheelman's register down at Schadwell's (the "Dutch woman's") on the Gentilly road, and in future it will be the proper caper, after the milk, cream cheese and oranges, ad lib., have been stowed away, for the wheelmen to leave a specimen of his chirography in the little book.

SOUTHERN cycledom is not to be wholly without a journal, after all. The Sporting South is the title of the paper, and it will make its debut in this city March 3d. Base ball, boating, military and out-door life in general will be its field, and cycling, of course, will come in for a good share of attention. The South will be a weekly; subscription, $2.00 per annum.

THE N. O. B. C. continues to run along in its same quiet groove, but the pretty club house should be used more, or at least a gas jet turned on during the week to make things appear bright and attractive, for now that the house is on a main street it is noticed the more. Once already have I heard the remark "they never seem to use it; the house is always wrapped in darkness;" and it wasn't a wheelman that said so, either. Turn on the gas occasionally, boys, and make thinks look cheerful, for even the casual observer cannot but be struck by the continual darkness.

GUILLOTTE announces that he will never again ride in a handicap race, but while he was talking about it a day or day ago and when the Thanksgiving Day handicap was alluded to, he got worked up and wanted to bet something fine that he could give the winner of that race, Mal Graham, the same handicap (four minutes), and beat him in five miles, provided the Audubon track was used, and now if Graham will only take it up, there are those who would willingly chip in for a prize to see the race come off, and the monotony broken. One mile in five is a terrific handicap, and while Guillotte is unquestionably a flyer, I'd go my pin money that he'd never catch Graham under such conditions.

SPECIAL LETTER.

"SENATOR."

FROM a "special" in the Sporting Life I see that the Le Feur brothers, the special correspondents of the BICYCLING WORLD of Boston, Mass., sailed for Brazil on board of the "Murray Castle," taking with them a wonderful machine, a quadricycle which can be converted into a tricycle or an equatic machine by means of simple contrivances designed and constructed by the Le Feur brothers (Batiste and Jean) for their great trip up the "King of Rivers." I received a telegram from them upon their arrival in Liverpool, and have since received a letter from them, in which they stated that they had been interviewed by "Gentleman John," who made a special trip from Edinburgh for the purpose.

I COULD not well get away at the time, as I was in Wales, resting from my labors for a short period. "Gentleman John" has doubtless got as interesting an interview as possible from the brothers. I should have been delighted to have seen the brothers personally, but there are times when a railroad ride of a few hundred miles seems too much like work, and as I was in for rest and not work, I left it to "Gentleman John." In their letter to me the Le Feur brothers seem very sanguine of successfully exploring the country of the Amazon, and judging from their straightforward epistle, I should judge they mean business, and are not off upon a wild goose chase, but are simply bent upon curing a spirit of restlessness which has overcome them in their dreary home in the bleak Northwest. They think that they will send the first account of their "manner of setting out" and voyage on the "Murray Castle," from the island of St. Thomas. I hope the editors of the BICYCLING WORLD will excuse my neglect of complying with the almost imperative telegram of their daring correspondents upon the grounds that I have been overworked of late, and that "all work and no play, makes Jack a dull boy." I shall read of the Le Feur brothers fortunes or misfortunes with a great amount of interest, as I am sure will all the many readers of the BICYCLING WORLD.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"RATCHET."

ON the afternoon of "George's" birthday, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith on a tandem, C. L. S. Walker, Ed. Stark, A. J. Clark, Jr., and Mr. Decker of Belleville, and E. R. Collins of Westfield, started from Oraton Hall, and made a run through Central avenue and around the Oranges, returning home in good time for supper. As long as they kept to the macadam they found the riding fair to good, but the side streets were in a sorrowful state.

PROF. RICALTON of East Orange sailed for Europe last Wednesday (22) on the Celtic. He will start for India immediately after his arrival in Liverpool.

I HOPE you won't think I've sandwiched too much "road business" in this article, as I "sorter" thought cycledom might be pleased to hear that the "cry for road improvements" is likely to result in better riding through some of our pretty little Jersey towns.

THE Bloomfield Township Committee has appropriated $4000 for gravel and road repairs, $5000 for road construction, and $500 for cross-walks. This is good as far as it goes, but it would make a big hole in $25,000 to put the Bloomfield streets in half-decent order.

VERY much against our will we are compelled to say that the Roseville cycling and athletic grounds have become—or will become in a few days—things of the past. The entire property has been laid off in building lots, and the owner, E. C. Swift, has already disposed of the larger part of them, upon which the purchasers will immediately begin to build; and that settles $12,000.

THE Bloomfield Township Committee passed a new ordinance 21 February, forbidding the riding of bicycles upon any sidewalks in the town, under a penalty of five dollars fine for each offence. Riders who really have the interest of the sport at heart should approve the course pursued by the committee, as one careless rider can do more on a sidewalk in five minutes to injure cycling than the entire League could undo in a year. Therefore it is best to take away from such any chance whatever of bringing reproach upon the sport.

AN adjourned meeting of the citizens of Belleville was held 24 February, and decided that the township should borrow $50,000 to meet the expense of macadamizing the principle streets, and for other improvements on streets. The following streets will be macadamized: Main street, from William to Franklin township line; Jerolemon, from Main to the Spring Garden road; Holmes, from Main to Union avenue; Academy, from Main to Washington avenue; Rutgers, from Main to Washington avenue; John, from Main to Bloomfield township line; William, from the railroad to John; Mill, from Washington avenue to Bloomfield line; Cortlandt, from John to Mill; Quarry, from William to Mill; Union avenue, from John to Holmes. This will make a grand total of 42,720 lineal feet of macadam in addition to the streets and avenues now completed. The citizens were very enthusiastic on the subject of road improvements, and are anxious to see the work begun. The streets of the town, with a few exceptions, have been sadly neglected of late years, and the town has suffered greatly in consequence. Commodore Hancox stated at the meeting that the present system of road tax was only a waste of money. He said his tax for this purpose in 1887 was $38, and he was morally certain that the township had not expended $10 on the roads in his immediate vicinity during the past thirty years. Let the cycling press keep up its cry for better roads, and we will get them. It may be slow work but it will be sure.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

THE cycle club held their regular monthly meeting at their club rooms in the Natorium Monday, Feb. 13, at which it was voted to continue as a League club. After the meeting refreshments were served and the members present had a good time generally. Three or four active members were admitted and if the club keeps growing at its present rate it will soon be the largest in the state. The road book is out and C. C. Brewster had a special meeting of the Board of Officers of the division called for Tuesday, Feb 1st. There being no quorum present no meeting was held, but those who did attend where furnished pen, ink and envelopes and addressed a copy of the book to each member who had renewed. The Chief Consul has since been in receipt of many letters complimentary to the little volume.

EDGAR FLOYD-JONES had quite an experience out at Forest Park, Thursday, which resulted in a thorough ducking for that gentleman. He was out riding his bicycle and ventured to ride on the mushy ice of the lake, but when near the centre something cracked and Edgar found himself floundering in the water. After considerable trouble he got out but could not budge his bike, which was stuck fast in the mud, where it remained until the next morning

WASHINGTON'S Birthday was observed more generally this year than it has been for several years past, and many of the resident wheelmen took advantage of the fine weather to take a spin out into the country. Quite a crowd ran out to the pump. Anent, the Athletes' article regarding a road race on the Lancaster Pike it would perhaps be a go, provided that such riders as Lin. Gordon, Hal. Greenwood, E. W. Sanders, W. H. Wylie, Will Snyder, Alex. Lewis, Hildebrand, Klipstein and E. A. Smith would attend the meet. From the above a team could be picked that would make the best of Pennsy's boys hustle.

HAPPY St. Louis! The House of Delegates have been in session lately until past midnight, and the delegates have on several occasions ordered carriages at the city's expense to take them home. This caused a tremendous kick from the taxpayers, and the result was that a humorous member of the assembly introduced an ordinance appropriating $1000 for the purchase of bicycles to take the members living at a distance home. The Delegates will organize a club to be known as the "House Wheelmen's Association," a gold medal will be given to the member showing the greatest efficiency in three months.

EVERYBODY whom I have spoken to relative to the change of the League's organ welcomes it, and says it is just what was wanted and should have been done long ago. The two papers ought to knock the persimmon, as far as bicycle literature is concerned. A good deal of curiosity is felt as to how the combination will look typographically and otherwise, and I predict a rush to the Post Office, Sunday morning, to secure copies of it. One of the most complete of cycling log books that I ever saw is owned by C. C. Hildebrand. He has kept an accurate account of all the riding he has done since he took to wheeling in January, '85. In looking over it I find an account of the only 24 hour record run ever attempted in this vicinity. This took place in the fall of '85, and the participants were Messrs. Hildebrand and Klipstein. The distance covered—124 miles—is not much, but like the De Soto road, it is the kind of distance that count. The course lay from St. Louis via the Manchester road to Washington and return. This record has now stood for over two years and not a single attempt has been made since to break it, or even to make the trip out to Washington.

THE coming election of the Mo Bicycle Club promises to be a lively affair. The candidates as far as announced are: for President, A. C. Stewart; Vice-President, Dr. Keith; Secretary, Geo. Boswell;

Treasurer, A. P. Dennis; Captain, Ab. Lewis; First Lieut., C. C. Hildebrand. As will be seen from the above no changes are contemplated in the President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer offices. President Stewart at first declined the nomination but at the urgent request of some of the oldest and most prominent members of the club decided to run. Dr. Keith has made a good Vice-President and a better Secretary than Geo. Boswell would not be easily found. At the last meeting of the club the compensation of the Treasurer was fixed at $120 per year and a remission of dues or a total of $144. The compensation had formerly only been a remission of dues. Burt Taylor has made a good color bearer and with the exception of trying to butt a hole into Twenty-Third street on the day of the League parade has done well. "Ribsey" Williamson is a bugler, and will, I think, again toot the horn the coming season.

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

As Frank Davids says, "we have emerged from our place of congealment," after another hard winter of "progressiveness, "stags," and the innocious theatre, etc., ad lib., and we come up smiling, ready for another season's crusade a-wheel. Washington's Birthday witnessed the opening of the season with us, the roads being wonderfully dry for this time of the year.

THE proud distinction of two of the Mercury Wheel Club members, of being the first to register at the Sherman House, Babylon, is likely to be contested this year. They have held it for two years, and are going to make a bid for it again. I suggest, in order to obviate dispute, that the entrance must be made entirely a-wheel, from either Jamaica or Flushing, inside of twelve hours. The dates were April 23d, 1886; April 8th, 1887.

DEVELOPMENT of club life around New York has been wonderful, especially in Brooklyn, where, on Bedford avenue, near Fulton avenue, have been erected two of the most sumptuous wheeling club houses in the country, and the K. C. W.s and L. I. W.s have every reason to be proud of their fine quarters. Of the large clubs, the Brooklyns alone remain without specially built quarters, but what they lack in social characteristics they make up in genuine hospitality and pre-eminent riding ability.

THIRTY thousand dollars was appropriated last year for the improvement of "Jackson avenue," generally known as the North Hempstead Turnpike—the money to be expended on that part of the road between the Long Island City line and the Causeway over Flushing meadows. The work had so progressed last fall that we hoped for an early completion. This will furnish a continuous good road from Long Island City to Little Neck, about fourteen miles. The trouble with road building in Queens County has generally been that the local Pooh-Bahs always had a "finger in the pie," to the detriment of the work and loss to the taxpayers.

I EXPECT to soon be able to give news of reduced rates and better accommodations at Hempstead and Garden City. The beauty of the ride to these towns from New York has never been fully appreciated. I know of but two ladies who have been over over it, although it can easily be made in one day, going and returning by way of College Point ferry to 99th street, E. R. The beautiful cathedral is worth the visits alone, not to mention the lovely views and splendid roads. Metropolitan wheelmen and ladies desiring escort from Flushing will be cheerfully accompanied. Distance from College Point, about fifteen miles.

KANSAS CITY.

"MENTOR."

THE sad news of Will G. Phillips', of Paola, death has been received here, and it has cast a dark shadow over the whole wheeling fraternity. No one knew him but to like him for his many noble traits of character and his untimely end is sad in the extreme. Mr. Phillips came up from Paola to this city on a business trip, and returned home very late at night. While opening the door to his house he was fired on by a burglar, who had been trying to effect an entrance to his home. The shot took effect in his hand, and it was thought at first that the wound would not prove serious, but, unfortunately, blood poisoning set in, which resulted in his death. Will Phillips will be remembered by all who attended the second annual Kansas Division meet in Paola last July, the success and enjoyment of which he so faithfully labored for. He attended the League meet in St. Louis last May, and he will be remembered by all who met him then. He carried $10,000 on his life, and before coming up from his city he purchased an accident ticket for $5000 for the day. Besides this he was well off in worldly goods. His father was County Treasurer of Miami County.

THE League meet in Baltimore in June is the subject of considerable talk, and it is expected that quite a number will attend it.

THE riding season will soon be here, and wheelmen are making preparations for the summer outings. Even this week a number have been out on their wheels. To-day (18) however, it has been raining, and has spoiled riding for to-morrow. The season opened up sooner this year than ever known before. Captain Haynes states that club runs this season will be worthy the name.

REPRESENTATIVE STUART has received a copy of the "1888 Missouri Hand Book," and it is quite worthy of commendation. Mr. L. J. Berger, the compiler of the road information, should receive the thanks of the Division for his efforts to make the book complete. He has done nearly all the work since he removed to Chicago. Though a non-resident of the State, he finished his labors on it after his business hours. The book is a monument to his unceasing and gratuitous toil to carry out the undertaking he commenced. Lew may not get his reward in this world, but he'll get it in the next.

TOM ROE is securing the photos of all the wheelmen he is acquainted with in return for his, and two of his counterfeit presentments have reached this city.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

THE attention of the cycling community here has been divided this week between the six-days' tournament at the Elite Rink, and the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club's house-warming. The latter came off last evening, and was a most enjoyable and successful affair. From far down Girard and Elm avenues the house could be seen a perfect blaze of light, having a huge keystone in red Chinese lanterns, with the letters "Pa." in white on the inside of the keystone. This is the club badge, so familiar to all wheelmen wherever the "gray uniform" is known. The reception committee were in full dress, while a majority of "Pennsy's" members sported cycling uniform. The house was crowded from garret to cellar, or, as I suppose it would be more correct to say, from locker to wheelroom; and I must add that the wheelroom was crowded also. The wheel space appears entirely inadequate for such a large membership, but this, I suppose, can be easily remedied. The decorations reflect great credit on the committee in charge, and the general arrangement of the reception cannot be too highly praised. Although the house was taxed to its utmost capacity there was no jarring whatever, not even in the locker room where refreshments were spread, and where the crush was greatest. Ices, cake and lemonade were served throughout the evening, and the passing hours enlivened by the music of a fine orchestra.

AMONG the visitors who registered were nearly all the prominent club men of Philadelphia, with many from neighboring cities. The club were also recipients of numerous regrets, prominent among which was a telegram from the New Orleans club, saying, "With you in spirit."

THE club has been in existence only about five years, yet the history of cycling has been such a short one in this country that the "Pennsy" is spoken of and looked up to as an old club. The founders were Messrs. Aaron, MacOwen, Van Vliedt, Miller, Crawford and O'Kafe—all names very familiar to the Philadelphia cycler of 1888—and the quarters occupied were two small rooms in the rear of a drug store at Fortieth street and Elm avenue. The membership gradually increasing, four rooms lower down the avenue were engaged, and they finally occupied the entire building.

THE site of the new club house—opposite Memorial Hall in Fairmount Park—is one probably unsurpassed by any in the country, while the house itself is well arranged for convenience and comfort. The front is of red stone and ornamental brick, with decorations of copper, while three bay windows add a very artistic appearance. The wheel room is in the basement, and an inclined plane of asphalt affords an easy approach. The first floor proper is occupied by a large hallway, the reception room, the smoking and reading room, and last but not least the ladies' room, which last evening was profanely invaded and occupied by masculines.

ASCENDING the handsome staircase to the second floor, a door in front leads to the billiard and general meeting room, which is the largest in the house. The remainder of the floor is taken up by a small committee room and two rooms occupied by the janitor and his family. Dressing and bathing rooms fill up the top story entirely. Five hot and cold water shower baths afford accommodations for any number of tired and dusty wheelmen; and here can probably be often found the Crawfords, Schaffers, Kohlers, and others of that ilk (alas, that Fontaine can no longer be counted

NOT SO SIMPLE BUT FACT.

Marion, Ind., February 22nd., 1888.

Gormully & Jeffery, Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIRS:—

We have a Club membership of 32 riders of which 31 ride the AMERICAN wheel and we are well satisfied with our choice.

Yours Respectfully,

M. B. Edmiston, Captain; Natl. D. Elliott, President; D. W. Wallace, Lieutenant, Fred Willson, Sec. and Treas., Marion Ramblers.

Most complete Catalogue in the trade, 64 pages, on application.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co.,

CHICAGO, - - ILL.

Largest American Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $75.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1.	For Gentlemen	$175
No. 2	For Ladies or Gentlemen (The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")	175
No. 3.	For Ladies or Gentlemen	160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman.

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
30-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195.
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

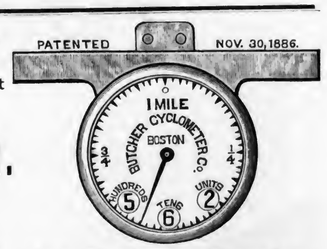
Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST
Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

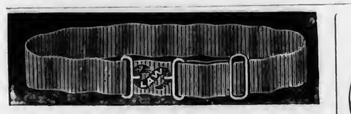
—:o:—



Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.



All the Accepted Road Records
Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.
SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, ... $5.00.

[Free by Mail on Receipt of PRICE, . . $10.00.

L. A. W. SILK BELT,
To match uniform, with silver snake buckles $1.00.

Ira Perego
128 and 130 Fulton St., and 87 Nashua St.,
NEW YORK.
Send 2 cent stamp for our new 52 page illustrated catalogue.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufctruring Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

among the number), refreshing themselves after an eighteen-miles-an-hour scorch on the Pike, a favorite way these "Pennsy" boys have of showing attention to visiting wheelmen. The present officers are: President, Isaac Elwell; Vice President, F. W. Grugan; Secretary, Lee MacInstry; Treasurer, J. B. Young.

ACTUALLY, the new uniform question is brought up again by a writer in the last Bulletin, and to what purpose I can't for the life of me imagine. He takes exception to the color, to the style, and to the whole business generally. I am sorry to say that I can't quite agree with 10,276. Probably a gray would have shown dirt less, but my own uniform, after a season's wear is still in excellent condition in every way, and so far as style and fit are concerned I flatter myself that it was equal to anything that I have seen in the uniform line, excepting, perhaps, some of the dark blue cloths which make up so handsomely for dress service, and are utterly unfit for hard road riding. If 10,276's breeches were too tight at the knees, that was his own or the tailor's fault, not the uniform's. I suppose it would be a hard matter to suit everybody, but the present uniform is certainly both neat and serviceable.

THE opening of this club house naturally induces a retrospect. It is but ten years ago that the first bicycle was sold in Philadelphia by Mr. H. B. Hart, the pioneer of the wheel trade in this city. Mr. Hart was good enough to fall into a reflective mood for my benefit yesterday. In 1878, being then in the sewing machine business, his attention was attracted to the "beast" by the practical use made of it by the Longstreths and one or two others. After careful inquiry he decided there was enough in it to warrant a small outlay. So, notwithstanding the discouragements of his friends, he procured a bicycle and put it on exhibition in his window. Well, he says you never saw anything like the excitement that machine created. The people stood in crowds around the window; and that was the beginning of a business that gradually ousted the sewing machine trade altogether, for little by little the new craze grew, until at length people saw that it was no longer a "craze," but a rational means of recreation and of practical utility. But it took lots of faith in those early days.

AUGUSTA, GA.

"ACTON."

I THOUGHT a few items from hereabouts might interest your readers. At the last regular meeting of the Augusta Bicycle Club the following officers were elected: Captain, Thos. L. Chapman; Lieutenant, John C. Gibson; Secretary and Treasurer, B. Hake. The club is on a solid basis, and intends making things lively this season. They have leased the ball park, and have laid out a four-lap track. The park has a good, covered grand stand, bleaching boards, judges' stand, ticket office, dressing rooms, etc. The first series of races will commence second Tuesday in May, and continue three days, but the big time will be at the Augusta National Exposition in October; then we intend to offer prizes that will induce professionals, promateurs and simon pures to compete; and by the way, one of our most enthusiastic wheelmen is one of the Board of Directors of said Exposition Co.

AND speaking of riding on the sidewalk, the City Council lately passed an ordinance giving wheelmen the right to the sidewalk, except on Broad street, provided they carry a bell and a red lamp at night. How does the red light strike you?

AND these poor fellows in Mobile stoned by burly niggers! Well, if they tried it on the Augusta riders some burly niggers would be dead niggers, and the coronor would be inquiring how it happened. [It seems that the "burly negro" story is a canard.—ED.]

GENTLEMAN JOHN inquires where are Brantley and Pollhill? Both in Georgia, the former in Macon and the latter in Athens, and both doing well, I hear. The Captain and Secretary of the club have scarcely missed a day's riding this winter, and we had club runs in January. What do you fellows in Boston think of that? [We sigh and mourn.—ED.]

RECORD OF THE WEEK.

IN a letter received from San Francisco we learn that the yearly rains have temporarily stopped cycling, but that on the 22d of last month, if weather permitted, it was intended that the clubs would have a twenty-five-mile race. The San Francisco club are on the lookout for larger and better accommodations. The B. C. W. Club held a carnival on the evening of the 14th February, which was very successful and largely attended.

ROWE's training place will be at Bridlington, England. Allen will train him.

THE Canadian Wheelmen's Association will hold their next general meeting at Ottawa, July 1 and 2.

ALL the clubs in England are being canvassed as to their opinion on the action of the N. C. U. relative to road racing.

HAVE you a second-hand wheel for sale? If so, see rates under the "For Sale" column. The medium we offer is unequalled.

EVERY cyclist in the country will sympathize most sincerely with Colonel Pope at the loss of his father, who died quite suddenly last week Friday.

Sporting Life, London, has a fine portrait of W. A. Rowe, and nearly a column of letter press, recounting the wonderful American's performances.

THE English trade are combining and trying to devise some plan whereby they will secure themselves from theft at the hands of those who hire machines.

ROWE arrived in England Saturday, February 11, and at once issued a challenge to Howell to ride him a one-mile and a ten-mile race for $500 a side.

THE valentines sent out by the Pope Mfg. Co. are very pretty, though we must criticise the apparent inconsistency of the "summer and winter combination."

THE professionals are coming to Boston, and they promise to give a six-day race at the Mechanics' Institute some time this month, if the building can be secured.

that get it.
my idea of how to get
No doubt others can r, but mine is this:
and pro rate it among ritory, and every State unty, and every County
, and let us build good n travel on winter and civilized countries, and our present revenues.
rden nobody, but our manner entitled to privilege of printing and issuing the official programme of the annual meet of the L. A. W., which will probably be held in Baltimore on the 18th, 19th and 20th of June next. I would say that the issuing of the programme will be done by the Maryland Division, L. A. W., under the supervision of Mr. M. S. Wood, Chairman of Programme Committee, and the proceeds or profits will be used (if any) by the Division to assist in defraying the expenses of the meet.

A. E. MEALY, C. C., Md. Div.

Baltimore, Feb. 25, 1888.

ILLINOIS OFFICIAL NOTES.

Knapp the second place at the late Philadelphia tournament by care. Knapp went all wrong the second day, but Corcoran pulled him through.

THE John P. Lovell Arms Company have secured the services of Mr. G. M. Worden to travel through the New England States in the interests of the Springfield Roadster bicycle. Another good man gone right!!

THE Dorchester Club will have a pool tournament this evening, March 2, and the annual meeting on the evening of March 6th. The social season will be closed by a party at Lyceum Hall, Dorchester, March 9th.

Bi. News gives it as its opinion that while Rowe may be a speedier man against time than Howell, but that when the two men meet in a race, the experience of Howell will give the Englishman a more than even chance to win.

"SENATOR" MORGAN preached a sermon last Sunday week from the pulpit of a chapel at Goytre, near Pontypool, Wales. The local press reported him to the extent of half a column. In what role will the versatile Senator next figure?

THE roads in this vicinity at the present writing are nearly free from snow and ice, but "de white man" and Massachusetts weather at this time of the year are "mighty unsartain," and ere this reaches the press we may have snow a foot deep.

WE do not believe in talking trade in our news columns, but we want to call the attention of every cyclist to the unequalled value of our columns in cases where a second-hand cycle is for sale. Send in your ad. now. See terms in the For Sale column.

THE in-door season is closing with a good deal of social activity. Reports from all over the country bring us news of balls, billiard tournaments and minstrel shows. We are glad to know that soon these enervating, though pleasant amusements will give place to the out of door life of the cyclist.

THE Northampton (Mass.) Wheel Club will have their fourth annual ball at the City Hall next Wednesday evening, March 7. This club was organized in 1883, and incorporated in 1887. The present officers are: L. L. Campbell, President; H. R. Grayes, Secretary; A. A. Chabot, Captain.

ONE of the most successful racing men at Cambridge University, England, is a Mr. Rumney. He writes a letter to the S. of C. de-

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

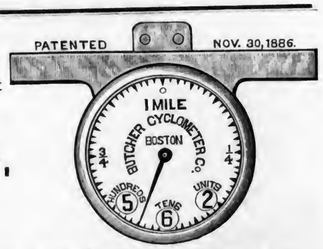
—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave., BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records



Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

PATENTED NOV. 30, 1886.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.

SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, ... $5.00.

[Free by Mail on Receipt of PRICE, . . $10.00.

L. A. W. SILK BELT,
To match uniform, with silver snake buckles $1.00.

Ira Perego
128 and 130 Fulton St., and 87 Nashua St.,
NEW YORK.
Send 2 cent stamp for our new 52 page illustrated catalogue.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.

Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

among the number), refreshing themselves after an eighteen-miles-an-hour scorch on the Pike, a favorite way these "Pennsy" boys have of showing attention to visiting wheelmen. The present officers are: President, Isaac Elwell; Vice President, F. W. Grugan; Secretary, Lee MacInstry; Treasurer, J. B. Young.

ACTUALLY, the new uniform question is brought up again by a writer in the last Bulletin, and to what purpose I can't for the life of me imagine. He takes exception to the color, to the style, and to the whole business generally. I am sorry to say that I can't quite agree with 10,276. Probably a gray would have shown dirt less, but my own uniform, after a season's wear is still in excellent condition in every way, and so far as style and fit are concerned I flatter myself that it was equal to anything that I have seen in the uniform line, excepting, perhaps, some of the dark blue cloths which make up so handsomely for dress service, and are utterly unfit for hard road riding. If 10,276's breeches were too tight at the knees, that was his own or the tailor's fault, not the uniform's. I suppose it would be a hard matter to suit everybody, but the present uniform is certainly both neat and serviceable.

THE opening of this club house naturally induces a retrospect. It is but ten years ago that the first bicycle was sold in Philadelphia by Mr. H. B. Hart, the pioneer of the wheel trade in this city. Mr. Hart was good enough to fall into a reflective mood for my benefit yesterday. In 1878, being then in the sewing machine business, his attention was attracted to the "beast" by the practical use made of it by the Longstreths and one or two others. After careful inquiry he decided there was enough in it to warrant a small outlay. So, notwithstanding the discouragements of his friends, he procured a bicycle and put it on exhibition in his window. Well, he says you never saw anything like the excitement that machine created. The people stood in crowds around the window; and that was the beginning of a business that gradually ousted the sewing machine trade altogether, for little by little the new craze grew, until at length people saw that it was no longer a "craze," but a rational means of recreation and of practical utility. But it took lots of faith in those early days.

AUGUSTA, GA. "ACTON."

I THOUGHT a few items from hereabouts might interest your readers. At the last regular meeting of the Augusta Bicycle Club the following officers were elected: Captain, Thos. L. Chapman; Lieutenant, John C. Gibson; Secretary and Treasurer, B. Hake. The club is on a solid basis, and intends making things lively this season. They have leased the ball park, and have laid out a four-lap track. The park has a good, covered grand stand, bleaching boards, judges' stand, ticket office, dressing rooms, etc. The first series of races will commence second Tuesday in May, and continue three days, but the big time will be at the Augusta National Exposition in October; then we intend to offer prizes that will induce professionals, promateurs and simon pures to compete; and by the way, one of our most enthusiastic wheelmen is one of the Board of Directors of said Exposition Co.

AND speaking of riding on the sidewalk, the City Council lately passed an ordinance giving wheelmen the right to the sidewalk, except on Broad street, provided they carry a bell and a red lamp at night. How does the red light strike you?

AND these poor fellows in Mobile stoned by burly niggers! Well, if they tried it on the Augusta riders some burly niggers would be dead niggers, and the coronor would be inquiring how it happened. [It seems that the "burly negro" story is a canard.—ED.]

GENTLEMAN JOHN inquires where are Brantley and Pollhill? Both in Georgia, the former in Macon and the latter in Athens, and both doing well, I hear. The Captain and Secretary of the club have scarcely missed a day's riding this winter, and we had club runs in January. What do you fellows in Boston think of that? [We sigh and mourn.—ED.]

RECORD OF THE WEEK.

IN a letter received from San Francisco we learn that the yearly rains have temporarily stopped cycling, but that on the 22d of last month, if weather permitted, it was intended that the clubs would have a twenty-five-mile race. The San Francisco club are on the lookout for larger and better accommodations. The B. C. W. Club held a carnival on the evening of the 14th February, which was very successful and largely attended.

ROWE'S training place will be at Bridlington, England. Allen will train him.

THE Canadian Wheelmen's Association will hold their next general meeting at Ottawa, July 1 and 2.

ALL the clubs in England are being canvassed as to their opinion on the action of the N. C. U. relative to road racing.

HAVE you a second-hand wheel for sale? If so, see rates under the "For Sale" column. The medium we offer is unequalled.

EVERY cyclist in the country will sympathize most sincerely with Colonel Pope at the loss of his father, who died quite suddenly last week Friday.

Sporting Life, London, has a fine portrait of W. A. Rowe, and nearly a column of letter press, recounting the wonderful American's performances.

THE English trade are combining and trying to devise some plan whereby they will secure themselves from theft at the hands of those who hire machines.

ROWE arrived in England Saturday, February 11, and at once issued a challenge to Howell to ride him a one-mile and a ten-mile race for $500 a side.

THE valentines sent out by the Pope Mfg. Co. are very pretty, though we must criticise the apparent inconsistency of the "summer and winter combination."

THE professionals are coming to Boston, and they promise to give a six-day race at the Mechanics' Institute some time this month, if the building can be secured.

KNAPP into second place at the late Philadelphia tournament by care. Knapp went all wrong the second day, but Corcoran pulled him through.

THE John P. Lovell Arms Company have secured the services of Mr. G. M. Worden to travel through the New England States in the interests of the Springfield Roadster bicycle. Another good man gone right!!

THE Dorchester Club will have a pool tournament this evening, March 2, and the annual meeting on the evening of March 6th. The social season will be closed by a party at Lyceum Hall, Dorchester, March 9th.

Bi. News gives it as its opinion that while Rowe may be a speedier man against time than Howell, but that when the two men meet in a race, the experience of Howell will give the Englishman a more than even chance to win.

"SENATOR" MORGAN preached a sermon last Sunday week from the pulpit of a chapel at Goytre, near Pontypool, Wales. The local press reported him to the extent of half a column. In what role will the versatile Senator next figure?

THE roads in this vicinity at the present writing are nearly free from snow and ice, but "de white man" and Massachusetts weather at this time of the year are "mighty unsartain," and ere this reaches the press we may have snow a foot deep.

WE do not believe in talking trade in our news columns, but we want to call the attention of every cyclist to the unequalled value of our columns in cases where a second-hand cycle is for sale. Send in your ad. now. See terms in the For Sale column.

THE in-door season is closing with a good deal of social activity. Reports from all over the country bring us news of balls, billiard tournaments and minstrel shows. We are glad to know that soon these enervating, though pleasant amusements will give place to the out of door life of the cyclist.

THE Northampton (Mass.) Wheel Club will have their fourth annual ball at the City Hall next Wednesday evening, March 7. This club was organized in 1883, and incorporated in 1887. The present officers are: L. L. Campbell, President; H. R. Grayes, Secretary; A. A. Chabot, Captain.

ONE of the most successful racing men at Cambridge University, England, is a Mr. Rumney. He writes a letter to the S. of C. describing how he kept himself in good racing form on vegetable diet only. Several gentlemen affirm that they get the best results from this kind of food, using it exclusively.

THE only possible improvement that can now be made on the rear driving safety is that which will reduce the sensitive steering of the earlier patterns to a minimum. The 1888 patterns of this type are a great advance over former years, and probably the approach to perfection is as near as it will ever be.

AN amusing mistake occurs in Bi. News; speaking of the Rambler safety, it credits this machine to the Pope Mfg. Co. We can easily imagine the hilarity, tempered by dismay, experienced by our good friends, Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co. When the News handles American matters it always gets mixed up in a laughable manner.

HERE is an item that should start the ball of competition rolling in a new direction. The writer is a prominent wheelman living in a well-known cycling centre: "Let us start a championship for 'aged' riders. I am fifty-one years old, have been a rider of the bicycle for six years, and am good for fifty miles a day with the boys. Is this 'record?'"

JOE PENNELL and his wife have taken a tour over the route chosen by Sterne in his "Sentimental Journey," and have published their book of travels. Wheeling departs from its usual good taste by perpetrating a stupid pun to the effect that Pennell's trip will be a "Sterne chase." Wheeling is not often taken that way, and we hasten to offer apologies for its lapse this time.

"GENTLEMAN JOHN."

SPECIAL INTERVIEW WITH THE LE FEUR BROTHERS.

(Special Correspondents of the Bicycling World.)

"COME to Liverpool and see us. We are about to sail for Brazil as special correspondents of the BICYCLING WORLD. We have letters of introduction to you from the editors of the BICYCLING WORLD. It is their especial wish that we should see you. Come to the Adelphi Hotel. (Signed) The Le Feur brothers."

It was a telegram to this effect that I opened in the city of Edinburgh, and I wondered what it meant. I read and re-read, and could make neither head nor tail of it. Who in —— were the "Le Feur brothers," and what in thunder was their mission to Brazil, or their connection with the BICYCLING WORLD? I had not been receiving my BI. WORLD regularly, through some unaccountable cause, and I had not (as I since have) heard of the engagement of these gentlemen as special correspondents of the BICYCLING WORLD. The oftener I read the above telegram, the more I became anxious to know what on earth it meant. This was at noon. I picked up a Murray's time table and found that I could catch a train for Liverpool in two hours, so I packed a few necessaries in my Gladstone bag, bade my friends a good-bye, explaining the object of my mission, and after talking for a few minutes over a brandy and soda at Spier & Pond's buffet at the Waverly station, I was off on an express train for Liverpool.

Arrived at the Lime street station in Liverpool, I got a hansom and drove to the Adelphi Hotel, where I soon found the Le Feur brothers sitting chatting with some Americans who had "crossed" with them, in the smoking room of Liverpool's best hotel. I handed them my card, and they handed me their's, and shook hands with me, at the same time expressing their thankful approval of the immediate manner in which I had personally responded to the call expressed in their telegram as given verbatim above.

The Le Feur brothers are off on a rather unique trip. They are French Canadians, and are both good-looking, strong chaps. Batiste, the older of the two, is apparently about thirty years of age, and his brother Jean looks about eighteen or twenty. Batiste is very dark, and is a fine-looking fellow, and has a heavy dark moustache to match his hair. He has a good, square-cut chin, and a frank, open smile. His brother Jean has a smooth-shaven face, and is hardly so dark as Batiste, but both have the same firm nose and mouth, and the square chin of determination. They seem fellows with plenty of money at their disposal, and as far as I could glean from them, they are going to explore the Amazon river.

Batiste, the elder brother, said he had made arrangements with "Ratchet" of New Jersey to supply the readers of the BICYCLING WORLD with as interesting an account of their adventures in South America as his time and ability would permit. "We have," said Batiste, "a four-wheeled machine, which, for want of a better word, we shall call a quadricycle, but which by unscrewing a few bolts and nuts we can easily convert into a tricycle. We are both mechanics, and have utilized both the crank and lever motions as a motive power for our machine, and when one or other of these means of propulsion becomes tiresome or ineffectual, we have a simple contrivance by which we can apply a rowing power. We first formed the idea by reading the account of Thomas Stevens' trip around the world on a bicycle, as published in Outing of New York, and when we read of Ricalton's travels on a curious machine of his own design, we decided that we should explore a country which had as yet never been marked by the rubber tyre of a cycle of any description, viz., South America. We had read in Outing of the difficulties which Thomas Stevens had to contend with, through the difficulty in carrying sufficient luggage for common comfort upon an 'ordinary' bicycle, so we abandoned the 'ordinary' in favor of a machine of our own design, which would answer the purposes of exploration infinitely better. The wheels of our quadricycle are made from the large wheels of tricycles of American manufacture, and we are provided with two folding canvas canoes, two medium range rifles and a shot-gun, besides a couple of Colt's frontier revolvers to be used in case of emergency. We also carry a photographic camera and a well-stocked medicine chest and small magic lantern. We can arrange our canoes with the quadricycle in such a manner as to make a water cycle, in which the strength of both riders is utilized.

The camera will be used to photograph all the objects of interest on the way." Both of the boys seem to have had a liberal education, and are well versed in practical medicine, chemistry and mechanics, and have apparently plenty of ready cash, as they stop at the best hotels, wear the finest of fine raiment, and smoke cigars that would astonish a merchant prince.

They carried a letter to "Senator," but as "Senator" was in Wales it was impossible for him to see them as they left Liverpool on the 25th on one of Booth's Red Star Line steamers for Brazil, by St. Thomas. They do not seem at all afraid of the barbarous inhabitants of the Amazon shores, but go full of hope and ready for anything that comes. I secured photographs and autographs of the gentlemen.

The boys think they can go about 3000 miles up the Amazon, and are well provided with aneroids, compasses and good maps and charts of the Amazon and its tributaries. Despite the fact that they hail from the far Northwest and are French Canadians, they speak a lingo that has much more of the "take-it-as-it-comes" American than of the Frenchman or Canadian. Neither of the brothers use alcohol in any form, and they smoke very moderately. They are well built, solid and good looking fellows, and mean to make their way up the Amazon at all hazards. They have promised to drop a line or two descriptive of their voyage on the "Murray Castle" from the island of St. Thomas. After a fine dinner at the "Adelphi," we went to the theatre, and on coming out I bade them good-bye, and took the midnight express back to Edinburgh.

OBITUARY.

MR. CHARLES POPE, who died in Boston Friday, 24 March, was born in Dorchester, August 12, 1814, and was consequently in his seventy-fourth year. He was formerly engaged in the furniture and feather trade business, and afterward became interested in real estate, principally in the settling of large estates. He has been a Justice of the Peace thirty-five years. The deceased has always taken a very active interest in city affairs, and was said to be one of the best posted men on local history in Boston. There are six children living—three sons and three daughters—Col. Albert A. Pope, the founder of American bicycle industries; Arthur W. Pope, of the firm of A. W. Pope & Co., of this city, and Rev. Louis A. Pope of Warren, R. I.; two of the daughters are practicing physicians, and are members of the New England Hospital Medical Society and of the Massachusetts Medical Society. Mrs. Pope, wife of the deceased, died three years ago, and for several years before her death was a confirmed invalid. The older sister has been active in benevolent work, and has had a particular working interest in the New England Hospital for women. At the beginning of her mother's illness, years ago, the family cares of the household were hers.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE PRESIDENT.—H. W. Hayes, 103 State St., Boston, Mass.

TREASURER.—W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR.—Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., New York City.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP.—James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard St., Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 421 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—C. S. Butler, 263 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Share, 336 Navy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD.—Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 99 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred. T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 West 58th St., New York; W. S. Bull, 360 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER.—W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan, Old Broad St., London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

FROM his new platform the Secretary-Editor sends kindly greeting, and assures his constituency that the future is bright with promise of success. May we all endeavor to make the promise good.

WE are unable to publish a table of renewals this week for we had to close the books last week in order to revise the mail list, and the revision is not complete at the time of this writing.

THE regular spring meeting of the Board of Officers at New York impends. There are mutterings of a conflict, and there are indications that measures to avert an inharmonious meeting of the opposing forces are being taken. These little outbreaks do the cause no good, and we hope to see peace prevail. The League has important work in hand, and cannot afford to waste time in bickerings.

ONE M. T. Thompson, of East Rockport, Ohio, offers a solution of the much-vexed question, "What to do with the surplus?" His idea is a good one, and if carried out will do more permanent good than will be done by distributing the surplus in the improvement of rivers and harbors, or the building of public buildings. Here is what he says:

"I notice the President has sent in his message to Congress, and what seems to bother him is how to get rid of all the money the government has on hand. He does not seem to have a remedy, and I suppose the reason is that he has always lived in cities where streets are paved, and had no reason to think that most of the roads in the country were almost impassable half the year. How near-sighted some people are, particularly some at the head of our government. I see they talk about reducing the revenue on tobacco and whiskey, so as to put a stop to this enormous income. I wish to say this is a grand mistake; and while I myself use tobacco, I wish it was $10.00 per pound, and whiskey $1000 a smell. It would be much better for must people that get it.

Now I will suggest my idea of how to get rid of this money. No doubt others can suggest a much better, but mine is this:

Take this money and pro rate it among every State and Territory, and every State pro rate it in every county, and every County to every road district, and let us build good roads, that people can travel on winter and summer, like other civilized countries, and keep right along with our present revenues. They at present burden nobody, but our roads do. Are not the farmers entitled to some of this idle money? Must the government, when it does spend a little, spend it all in the cities, buildings, etc.? It is time the farmers asked for something, for if they do not ask they will never get it, for the heads of our government do not think enough of you, only at the polls."

BUILDING a man of straw for the purpose of knocking him down may have its uses, but in the long run it is not profitable. The Secretary has had several very sharp interrogatives relative to the profit coming from the sale of ticket-holders, and in one or two instances it has been assumed that the profit goes into the Secretary's wallet, and forthwith a little sermon on dishonesty was preached. These are among the enjoyable things incident to the office. We will set all minds at rest, however, by stating that the project of having a ticket-holder was submitted to and approved by the Executive Committee. They are contracted for in the name of the League, are paid for with League money, and the entire proceeds go to the League. It has taken the edge off several of the complaints that the complainants have all been purchasers. If any person has refrained from purchasing for fear of enriching the Secretary we hope he will no longer hesitate, for the holder is useful and the price is moderate.

THE wheelmen of Western Massachusetts are pushing the scheme for a cycle path between Holyoke and Northampton for all that it is worth. The path will be about seven miles long, and run within three feet of the fence entirely removed from the roadway. One Holyoke wheelman subscribed $100 towards the project, and $200 more was obtained in that place. Northampton and Springfield are expected to subscribe liberally. This will be the third path of the kind in the country. Pennsylvania has one, New York another, and Massachusetts now proposes to enter the list. It may be that in the near future we shall see these paths multiply, so that it will be possible to travel from one end of the land to the other. This looks large, but a much larger scheme would be the improvement of the ordinary high way to allow for so extended a journey.

LEAGUE PROGRAMME.

There seems to have been more or less rumor through the cycle and daily press that the Maryland Division has been receiving bids from outside parties for the privilege of printing and issuing the official programme of the annual meet of the L. A. W., which will probably be held in Baltimore on the 18th, 19th and 20th of June next. I would say that the issuing of the programme will be done by the Maryland Division, L. A. W., under the supervision of Mr. M. S. Wood, Chairman of Programme Committee, and the proceeds or profits will be used (if any) by the Division to assist in defraying the expenses of the meet.

A. E. MEALY, C. C., Md. Div.

Baltimore, Feb. 25, 1888.

ILLINOIS OFFICIAL NOTES.

Owing to removal from the State, Mr. W. E. Dunn, Representative No. 10, this Division, sends in his resignation, and it is hereby accepted.

E. P. Blake, Local Consul No. 12, Bloomington, Ill., is hereby appointed to succeed Mr. Dunn as Representative No. 10.

W. J. Matern, Bloomington, is hereby appointed Local Consul No. 12, vice Blake, promoted.

Hotel Palace, Springfield, D. J. Black, proprietor, is hereby appointed League Hotel No. 6. Rates, $1.50 per day.

Mr. J. H. Zumstein is hereby appointed Local Consul No. 41, at Windsor, Ill.

N. H. VAN SICKLEN, C. C.

NEW YORK ROAD BOOK.

The following regarding the New York Hand and Road Book will answer many inquiries that are now being made. The book contains two hundred pages, numerous maps, lists of consuls, hotels, and repair shops, general information about the L. A. W. and N. Y. Division, etc., with complete indexes. Tabulated reports of 14,000 miles of roadway, extending east to Mt. Desert, Maine; west to Cleveland, Ohio; north to Quebec, P. Q., and south to the Natural Bridge Virginia, and Washington, D. C. General description of local riding districts, and much other information of value to cyclers, bound in flexible leather. Price to Division Members, $1.00 per copy. To League members of other States, $1.50. Remit to Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th street, New York City, or A. B. Barkman, 608 4th avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 128—Total 93.

BOSTON, March 2, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—1.

Capital City Wheelmen.

17707 Crocker, H. A., 716 8th st., Sacramento.
17708 Hunt, W. F., 812 7th st., "

Oak Leaf Wheelmen.

17709 Warster, F. W., Stockton.

Unattached.

17710 Meyer, Albert C., San Mateo.

COLORADO DIVISION—1.

Denver Ramblers.

17711 Croll, Horatio V., 1351 So. 12th st., Denver.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—5.

Derby Cycling Club.

17712 Hull, Capt. Nathan A., 69 Minerva st., Birmingham.

Unattached.

17713 Darrow, Wm. M., Box 1039, New London.
17714 Dawson, John H., 133 Main st., Willimantic.
17715 Rourke, Jas. T., Box 500, "
17716 Pemberton, E. L., Ansonia.

DELAWARE DIVISION—2.

Wilmington Wheel Club.

17764 Pyle, Clarence W., 922 Jefferson st., Wilmington.
17717 Westbrook, W. T. Jr., 825 Adams st., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—5.

Capital City Cycling Club.

17765 Westlake, Allen T., 400 No. 5th st., Springfield.

Joliet Cycle Club.

17718 Lockwood, D., 118 Park ave., Joliet.

Peoria Bi. Club.

17766 Hatfield, S. K., 101 No. Washington st., Peoria.
17767 Patee, Fred, "Sat. Eve. Call." "

Unattached.

17768 Philbrick, Chas. C., 150 No. Clark st., Chicago.

INDIANA DIVISION—2.

Ft. Wayne Bi. Club.

17719 Stone, Frank, care H. J. Ash, Ft. Wayne.

Terre Haute Bi. Club.

17720 Weller, Edw. A., 602 No. 9th st., Terre Haute.

KANSAS DIVISION—1.

Unattached.

17769 Junken, Elmer E., Abilene.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—2.

Unattached.

17721 McCarroll, F. C., Hopkinsville.
17722 Ware, Hal. P., "

MARYLAND DIVISION—3.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

17770 Meginness, R. F. Fayette and Charles st., Baltimore.

Ramblers Cycle Club.

17771 Lockwood, W. D., 1731 McCulloh st., "
17772 Dell, Thomas M. 203 West Hoffman st., "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—10.

Cambridgeport Cycle Club.

17723 Shannon, W. J., 106 Allston st., Cambridgeport.
17724 LaCroix, E., 67 1-2 Prospect st., "

Suffolk Wheel Club.

17773 Blaney, John S., 1 st. near 6th, So. Boston.

Unattached.

17726 Brant, Frank L., Box 15, E. Weymouth.
17727 Chamberlaine, David B., Hingham.
17728 Adams, C. A., Box 795, Waltham.
17729 Haack, Henry, 29 Wadsworth Av., "
17730 Hornbech, H. E., 205 Adams St., "
17731 Swan, F. E., 111 Chestnut St., "
17725 Prouty, E. T., 16 Newton St., Holyoke.

MISSOURI DIVISION—4.

St. Louis Cycle Club.

17732 Rea, Fred H., 3028 Chestnut st., St. Louis.
17733 Washington, Dr. Jno N., 13th and O'Fallon st., St. Louis.

Unattached.

17734 Edwards, J. W., Bowling Green.
17735 Moriarty, E. P., 17 West 9th st., Kansas City.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—1.

Rockingham Bi. Club.

17736 Goodall, E., Portsmouth.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—3.

Unattached.

17737 Clifton, Geo., West Hoboken.
17738 Cook, W. E., 9 Church st., New Brunswick.
17771 Hayward, C. H., 143 Hudson st., Hoboken.

NEW YORK DIVISION—20.

Brooklyn Bi. Club.

17739 Coudert, L. L., 408 Green st., Brooklyn.
17740 Fay, H. G., 480 Broadway, New York.

Buffalo Bi. Club.

17775 Mulick, James E., 140 Allen st., Buffalo.
17776 Otto, John C., 770 Elliott st., "

Harlem Wheelmen.

17741 Wyeth, W. L., 37 West 124th st., New York.

Hoosac Wheelmen.

17742 Brien, James T., Hoosick Falls.
17743 Wood, Walter A., "

Kings Co. Wheelmen.

17777 Bochm, George, 34 McKibbon st., Brooklyn.
17778 Brown, S. J., 292 Lafayette ave., "
17779 Cavanagh, James, 616 Bedford ave., "
17780 Hartman, Charles F., 130 Throop ave., "
17781 Murphy, Andrew L., 9 Wall st., "
17782 Murphy, W. F., 9 Wall st., "
17783 Rollins, Geo. W., 35 South Oxford st., "
17784 Simmonds, J. C., 86 Morton st., "
17785 Snyder, J. M., 409 Grand st., "
17786 Starrett, Robert, 166 Lynch st., "
17787 Stillwell, Ralph L., 391 Marcy ave. "
17788 Von Trotha, Cuno, 663 Bedford ave. "

Unattached.

17789 Halstead, M. O., Elmira.

OHIO DIVISION—12.

Central Wheelmen.

17790 Kroeger, Jno. H., 528 John st., Cincinnati.

Cleveland Bi. Club.

17791 Roberts, F. W., 76 Euclid ave., Cleveland.
17792 Sherwin, John, National City Bank, "

Findlay Wheelmen.

17793 Horn, Austin J., Box 328, Findlay.
17794 Weitz, Anmi P., "
17795 Withers, Ed. H., Ohio W. Glass Co., "

Springfield Wheelmen.

17747 Warder, Geo. A., Springfield.

Toledo Cycling Club.

17748 Grah, Mrs. Clara, 1310 Adams st., Toledo.

Unattached.

17749 Brown, Jos. E., 883 Pine st., Cincinnati.
17750 Wiebold, B. H., 11 Storrs st., "
17796 Campbell, J. B., Akron.
17797 Whitelaw, J. H., 37 Granger st., Cleveland.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—12.

Century Wheelmen.

17751 Dietsch, Harry, 1122 Wallace st., Philadelphia.
17752 Geaylor, Louis, 1203 Federal st., "

Clarion Bi. Club.

17753 Hubler, J. A., Clarion.

Reading Bi. Club.

17798 Crawford, John, Reading.

Unattached.

17754 Lane, A. W., 1828 No. 13th st., Philadelphia.
17755 McCloskey, F. M., 4032 Chestnut st., "
17756 Sulleberger, F. B., Box 1582, "
17757 Wallis, J. Frank, 2630 E. Lehigh ave., "
17758 Conolly, J. P., 510 Lackawanna ave., Scranton.
17759 Fahrney, E. D., Waynesboro.
17760 Inglis, John, North East.
17799 Scouller, Will, "

SOUTH CAROLINA—3.

Charleston Cycling Club.

1 744 Lutjen, J. L., King and Queen sts., Charleston.
17745 Moran, John P. "
17740 Tecklenburg, J. P., 14 St. Philip st., "

VERMONT DIVISION—1.

Unattached.

17761 Parker, Chas. E., Vergennes.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—2.

Racine B. Club.

17763 Adreance, J. Wm., Racine.

Unattached.

17762 Leenhouts, Cor., 408 10th st., Milwaukee.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Montrose Bicycle Club, Montrose, Penn.
Portland Wheel Club, Portland, Me.
Essex Bicycle Club, Newark, N. J.
Kittanning Bicycle Club, Kittanning, Penn.
Pawtucket Bicycle Club, Pawtucket, R. I.
Columbia Wheelmen, Stockport, N. Y.
Kings County Wheelmen, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Peoria Bicycle Club, Peoria, Ill. "
Findlay Wheelmen, Findlay, Ohio.
Waterbury Wheel Club, Waterbury, Conn.
Omaha Wheel Club, Omaha, Neb.
Harlem Wheelmen, New York City.
Everett Wheel Club, Everett, Mass.
Manchester Bicycle Club, Manchester, N. H.

All membership in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed.

Club. P. O. Address.

City and State.

References:

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance. In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

NEW MAIL,

CATALOGUE 1888.

WILLIAM READ & SONS,

Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

NEW MAIL.

For our 1888 Catalogue we offer as the Best Preface the Record of Actual Road Usage for the past year of the NEW MAIL, with its Special Features. No Higher Grade in every detail; No More Successful Wheel ever appeared in the market than the New Mail Light Roadster, brought out by us last year, of American manufacture. All Parts Steel Forgings and Strictly Interchangeable.

THE ONLY WHEEL

having the Great Improvements — (proved an absolute success by actual test of road use for past 2 1-2 years), of which we control, "Perfection" Patent Strengthened Backbone and Forks and Thickened Base Rim. Never, since we have been in the bicycle business, have we received so many flattering testimonials from all parts of the country as of the last year's New Mail, and as the Testimony of users themselves is much the strongest evidence of the worth of a wheel and more satisfactory to a purchaser than a manufacturer's recommendation, we include these testimonials fully in this Catalogue on following pages and ask careful perusal, as they are the opinions of well-known and many of them hard riders. Stronger recommendations of a Wheel Cannot be Offered. Read the testimonials in full.

TRICWELL'S BALL BEARING HEAD,

BUY THE BEST AT FIRST.

READ ALL THIS.

It must be admitted that a bicycle, owing to the great strain it is subject to in road use together with the many accidents liable to befall it, CANNOT BE Made Too Well. It must be admitted also that the pleasure of wheeling (and it is but a pleasure and enjoyment) is obtained in full NOT by using a second or third class machine, one which will simply do, but by riding the Best, the most Perfectly Made, with frictionless bearings and true adjustments. Such is also the Cheapest, as expense is not constantly incurred in repairs, necessary in cheaper wheels, which are advertised as good as any. It is often the case that one buys a cheap wheel thinking to change to a better afterward, but This is the Most Expensive in the End, for the low grade constantly needs repair, and hence outlay of money, and when a change is made for the Best (and such change is Sure to be desired), the wheelman has to suffer great loss on the old wheel, or pay a large difference to exchange, thus making the new mount actually cost More than if bought at first.

We shall keep the New Mail up to the Highest Pitch in Quality and recommend it as the Cheapest Wheel in the end in the Market.

☞ NOT A SINGLE BUCKLED WHEEL LAST YEAR.

GET THE BEST BOTH FOR ECONOMY AND SATISFACTION.

We make mention of this as several new grade wheels are on the market at lower prices, but the manufacturers of them have their 1st quality and best wheels at the same price as ours. Does it stand to reason that the low price wheels are as well made or as good as their best at higher prices?

Don't be misled in supposing that they will stand the usage of the best.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

The GREAT SPECIALTY of the New Mail,

TRIGWELL'S BALL BEARING HEAD.

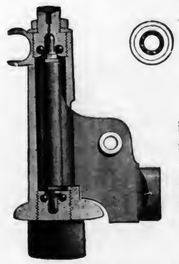
An Absolute Success. We Control It.

Full description of this head follows on succeeding pages, but since other manufacturers have made exertions to decry Ball Heads as of no advantage whatever, we are forced to refer to the fact emphatically that the true Merit of the Trigwell may be clearly understood. We wish to impress these facts, viz.: that

WE CONTROL THE TRIGWELL AND OTHERS CANNOT USE IT!

That the TRIGWELL is the ONLY BALL HEAD confining the balls so that they cannot roll out or be lost.

That we were the FIRST to adopt the Ball Head and hence have had the greatest experience with it, and declare the TRIGWELL, which we have used 2 1-2 years,



A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS!

The best proof of this success is our declaration that for the coming year WE DO NOT ALTER the head in a Single Detail! Every part has been Dead Right and no change required. Is simpler for repair in case of accident, and been found More Durable than the old cone pattern.

Read the detailed description of the advantages of the Ball Head on following pages, and read the testimonials of those who have used them.

Wheelmen appreciate that a Perfectly-Made and Frictionless Head is the most important requisite for a true running wheel. As such and as THE MOST IMPORTANT MODERN IMPROVEMENT ON BICYCLES, we offer OUR SPECIALTY, the Trigwell Ball Bearing Head.

1000 Miles Without Oiling or Adjustment.
Perfect Rigidity and Ease of Steering.
In Use Three Years with Great Approval.

Wheelmen are aware that ordinarily constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly without wear, and one adjustment serves for a very long time,—for months, in fact,—and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, oiling is rarely needed. These Heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

The rigidity of a Bicycle and the freedom in steering, is increased to such an extent that hills can be surmounted with far greater ease, and rough roads traversed with considerably less discomfort. A Ball Head will not require Lubricating or Adjusting more frequently than ONCE EVERY ONE THOUSAND MILES. The invention was awarded the Medal at the Inventions Exhibition, 1885, by a jury of experienced and practical riders.

The 100-Mile Race of the London Bicycle Club from Bath to London, was won last year on a Bicycle fitted with this Head, in 7h. 33m., against a strong head-wind for at least a third of the distance, with heavy rain falling for six hours.

The Trigwell is the Only Ball Head which confines the balls by collars, so that when the head is taken apart the balls cannot roll out and be lost.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

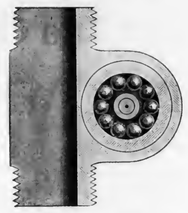
WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.



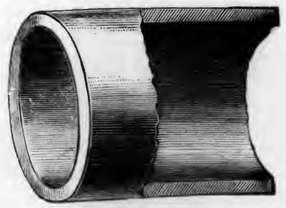
—SHOWING THE—

Neat and Close Fitting DUST SHIELD

OF THE BALL HEAD.

Having no small side screws as in the old heads. Also showing the Perfectly Turned Cones on which the balls move. These are hardened, and hence not liable to wear, as in the old pattern heads. Also can be unscrewed by the user.

Section of Head Showing Balls resting on top of Neck Centre.



HEAD.—Trigwell's Ball Head, as used by us the last three years, and which has proved so great a success. We consider this head the greatest modern improvement on Bicycles, and we have received testimonials from all over the country in its favor. Its merits consist in smooth and perfect steering, lack of wear, and the great rigidity it gives to the whole wheel. The steering must be tried to be appreciated,—it is Perfect. Its wearing qualities are such that the wheel can be run 1200 to 1500 miles without adjustment of the head, and one oiling lasts three months. It is needless to contrast this with the action of the cone head, which every wheelman knows from experience requires adjustment every few miles. It gives GREAT ADDITIONAL RIGIDITY, as with it a PERFECT bearing in the head can be obtained, and the whole wheel rendered solid, whereas in the cone head, the instant the head is tight it "sticks" and is useless, while the Ball Head can be tightened to a great degree before any tendency to stick is observed. We have had only the most perfect success with this Head, in the great quantity of machines we have sold. There are many patterns of Ball Heads, but the Trigwell is the only one which can be taken apart without the balls falling out, with the liability of being lost, We were the first to use the Ball Head, and we consider the Trigwell the only one of merit, and our experience of two years has borne out our opinion of it. We offer it as the most important improvement made in Bicycles of late years. And we wish to impress on wheelmen the fact that the Trigwell Head, controlled by us, is the best, and in fact the only one which has had an extensive use and test.

WARWICK'S NEW "PERFECTION" BACKBONE AND FORKS.

USED ON THE NEW MAIL ALONE!

We draw attention to the following improvements in the Backbones and Side Forks, (drawings of which are below.) We think it will be evident to all that the one source of weakness in Backbones is where it joins the neck, whereby owing to the great vibration and springing of the Backbone, they do sooner or later break at that point. This can of course be obviated by using a much thicker and heavier Tube, but this not only adds to the weight at the neck end, but also the full length of the Backbone, where extra strength and weight is not required; it is to remedy these defects and to prevent the breaking which is so frequent, and at the same time to reduce the weight, giving increased thickness where it is required, and reducing it where it is not required, that we introduce this improvement to your notice. To do this the Tube is thick at one end and gradually tapered internally until it is thin at the other end. This Tube when ovalled, will make stronger, lighter and more rigid Backbones and Forks than have been made hitherto.

The following drawing will give some idea of the advantages claimed over ordinary goods.

Sectional and End View, Showing Neck-End of Backbone.

Sectional View, Showing Backbone and Forks when made up.

Sectional and End View, showing Back-Fork End of Backbone.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps.

New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

THE NEW MAIL

Has this Splendid Improvement in BACKBONE and FORKS, the

NEW

Warwick Perfection

PATENT FOR STRENGTH.

It is well known that in all machines backbones are liable to, and do break, causing bad accidents. The place of breakage is usually, if not wholly, at the upper end under the saddle, where is the greatest strain. We have adopted this new backbone of Warwick's, which has greater thickness of metal at the large or neck end, and tapers thinner to the small end, thus obtaining a stouter and stronger backbone with no danger of breakage, while there is no increase of weight.

FORKS are the same "Perfection" pattern, thicker at large end and tapering to the small. This gives STRONG, RIGID FORKS.

A FACT THAT EVERY BICYCLE RIDER SHOULD TAKE NOTE OF.

The following appeared in the "Cyclist," November 17th, 1886.

It is said that when anything breaks in a carriage, the coach-builder next time increases the strength of that part. It is true he also increases the weight of the carriage, but what is that compared to safety? A friend of ours has broken five backbones this year, and in every instance they have gone in the same place, viz., just where the solid head is brazed into the tube of the backbone. What manufacturers of 'cycles do under such circumstances is to put a new backbone with precisely the same thickness at the point where it breaks time after time. In the spirit of the king who said, "Will no one rid me of this petulant priest?" we ask, "Will no manufacturer rise to the occasion and strengthen backbone tubes at the point where they invariably break?"

The following is our reply thereto.

BREAKAGE OF BACKBONES.

[625.]—In your last issue, under the heading of "Notes of the week," we notice a paragraph in which reference is made to the breakage of backbones, and of the fact that they always break in the same place, viz., just where the solid neck is brazed into the tube of the backbone, and your contributor asks, "Will no manufacturer rise to the occasion, and strengthen backbone tubes at the point where they invariably break?" We should like to call your contributor's attention to your advertising columns, where he will see that we manufacture a backbone in which the liability to break at the point named is entirely obviated, and this without any additional weight, so that we can fairly claim to have "risen to the occasion" which your contributor so earnestly desires.

THOMAS WARWICK & SONS.

"AN UNDISPUTED FACT."

AN ACCIDENT AND HOW IT COULD HAVE BEEN PREVENTED.

The following is taken from "WHEELING," July 21st and 28th, 1886.

'Of all the recent improvements in the Bicycle, the latest introduction of Messrs. WARWICK & SONS, in Backbones, is perhaps the most important to riders. The Neck-end of a Backbone has always been the weak spot in a light-built roadster, and many machines give there sooner or later, from the strain caused by the constant springing and the great amount of vibration, often causing nasty spills. The 'Perfection' Bone is five gauges thicker at the Neck than it is at the Back Fork end, being tapered internally; the extra thickness and strength being just where it is essential, and besides, being less weight than an ordinary Bone. We are indebted to Messrs. WARWICK & SONS for several important improvements in machine parts, and I opine that their latest introduction will prove yet another boon to Bicyclists. I have to record two cases that have come under my notice bearing upon this important subject. W——, of the Edgbaston C. C., has sustained a bad fall, through the Backbone of his Bicycle breaking. Another backbone breaker, last week, was D——, of the Dragon C. C."

The Above Accidents would not have Occurred if the Bicycles had been Fitted with the PERFECTION BACKBONES.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps.

New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press on Warwick's "Perfection" Backbone and Fork-Sides.

From "THE CYCLIST," June 23d, 1886.

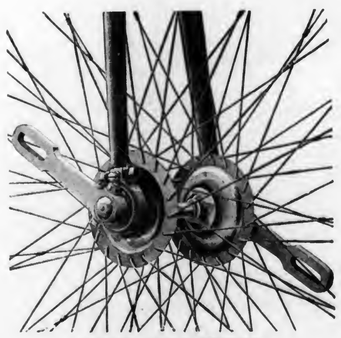
"We have just had shown us, by Messrs. WARWICK, what we consider the best improvement made in Backbones and Forks for many years. As is well known the strain on both forks and backbone is mostly close to the head, and until now this extra strain has been met by an enlarged diameter of the tubing used. Messrs. WARWICK, however, in their latest production, go farther, and taper the metal itse l as well as the tube, so that the frames are not only larger in diameter, but of a larger gauge in thickness of material at the points where most strain exists, whilst both metal and weight are reduced where the strain is least. From what we have seen of these tubes we have every reason to believe that as soon as they are known to the trade they will be largely used."

From "SPORT AND PLAY," July 5th, 1886.

"Messrs. WARWICK & SONS, of Birmingham, the well-known Bicycle Fitting and Hollow Rim Manufacturers, have recently perfected a very important and substantial improvement in the construction of Backbones and Forks, which we opine will supersede anything of the kind hitherto introduced. The invention consists of a patent method for tapering the metal from which the tubes are made, the upper part of the fork and backbone, near the neck end, where the great strain is concentrated, being of 14 gauge steel, and tapering off to 18 gauge at the lower end. By this means, greater rigidity is obtained, and the liability of breakages (which under the old system was of frequent occurrence) is reduced to a minimum, in addition to which a considerable saving in weight is effected. The invention is a very ingenious one, and we feel confident that it will be largely taken up by the bicycle and tricycle manufacturers when its merits are made known."

From "WHEELING," September 1st, 1886.

"At a time when the desire for the lightest machine obtainable is the chief desire of the tourist, and 40 lb. tricycles and 22 lb. bicycles are considered and sometimes prove, to be the correct mounts for road-races, it may not be out of place to draw more general attention to a recent improvement in the tubes from which are made forks, backbones, and frames for our lighter wheels.



"In the usual form of backbone tubes the weakest part in proportion to the strain upon it is undoubtedly the neck-end, especially about the brazed joint of neck and tube. The rage for light machines, which is now almost universal, has had the tendency more than ever to bring this practically before us, as with the necessary reduction in weight, comes increased liability to breakage under sudden strains. Under these circumstances, aggravated as they are by the common occurrence of exchanges and sales, relegating to a 14 stone man a machine specially built for a rider of 10 stone weight only, any alteration which, without increasing weight, shall add to the strength or rigidity of our machines, is one to be welcomed as a boon and a blessing to men in these latter days, when steel for toughness and endurance as against slain flesh and blood is tested and tried and found wanting. Messrs. T. WARWICK & SONS, of Hollow Rim fame, have recently introduced a Backbone, which instead of being about 16 or 17 gauge in thickness from top to bottom is of 14 gauge thickness at the neck end, tapering internally to only 19 gauge at the end which is brazed to the backforks. This must strengthen the backbone very considerably indeed if properly brazed. We should consider such a joint unbreakable. As to weight, Messrs. WARWICK claim that the weight of the backbones and fork-sides is less than those now in use."

WE CALL SPECIAL ATTENTION TO OUR

TRUE TANGENT SPOKES

AND METHOD OF TYING.

Giving Great Rigidity to the whole wheel. No Rattle. Spokes Tied and Brazed, and Wound Seven Times!

NOTE THIS TYING.

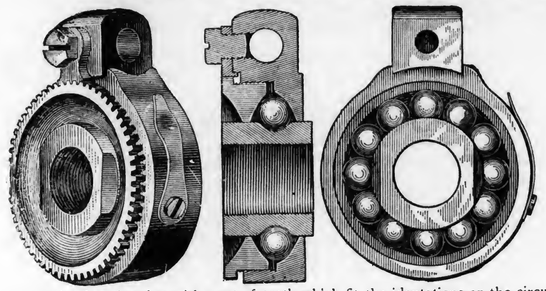
This cut shows the NEW MAIL system of tying its Tangent Spokes at intersections. UNLIKE ANY OTHER! Tied as well as brazed and wound SEVEN TIMES, giving great strength and rigidity to the whole wheel. Impossible for Spokes to separate or rattle. True Tangent Spokes, 72 in number. DETACHABLE CRANKS. 5 to 6 inch throw.

DETACHABLE HANDLE BARS

WITH

Oval or Spade Handles.

Very Strong, in Solid Frame, and very Neat. Easily detached by merely unscrewing the two nuts each side of head. Every part interchangeable.



If by accident you break your Bar, we can send you a new one which you can replace yourself.

We offer it as the NEATEST and SIMPLEST in the market.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. ☜ New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

BOWN'S ÆOLUS ADJUSTABLE BALL BEARINGS

USED ON THE NEW MAIL.

We recommend this as the best Bearing, as it is easily adjusted and does not tighten up nor wedge after long runs.

CONSTRUCTION.—A single row of balls is used, twelve in number, and the adjusting power of cones is made use of for adjustment, it being constructed as follows: On the axle a steel collar is secured, having two wedge-like projections left upon its outer circumference, which thus form together a conical groove in which the balls are placed. The case is separated vertically, and both halves are coned outwards; the outer or adjustment half is provided with a milled edge, and by screwing up this with the fingers, the cones are tightened concentrically upon the balls with a great degree of nicety, and the adjustment plate is prevented from unscrewing by a bracket with a set of teeth which fit the identations on the circumference of the adjusting case.

A SPLENDID RIM.

Warwick's Latest Hollow Rim with Thickened Bottom.

ENTIRELY SMOOTH. NO SEAM OUTSIDE.

A great advantage, as an outside seam looks badly and is liable by wear on the road to open. The thickened bottom stiffens the whole rim and makes a

SECURE HOLDING BED PLATE FOR END OF SPOKES.

NOT A BUCKLED RIM LAST YEAR!

Best Rubber Tires. Strongly Cemented.

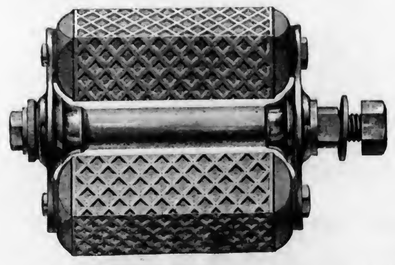
—TO SHOW THAT—

We Have Entered into Every Detailed Part to Get Perfection,

WE PRESENT A CUT OF THE



NEW MAIL'S REAR AXLE,

Which Wheelmen know is a source of trouble in many wheels, from not being made or running true. This is Mathematically

TRUE IN ITS BEARINGS,

And we call attention to its Handsome Shape and Proportions.

BALL PEDALS

—MADE WITH THE—

GREATEST NICETY

—OF—

FINEST STEEL.

Which we offer as unsurpassed in the market for true running qualities. Rubbers—the square corrugated, adapting to the form of Foot.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. ☜ New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

We have thus, in the preceding pages, described in detail the construction of our Bicycles, showing a combination of improvements which can be found in

NO OTHER WHEEL.

That they are improvements and features of merit, we leave wheelmen to judge. They are no Experiments.

WE WERE THE FIRST TO ADOPT AND PUT IN USE THE BALL HEAD,

Believing it to be a marked and necessary improvement, and after the past two years extensive experience on all our wheels, which it is well-known are in use all over the country, and have gained their high reputation from their staunchness in hard, cross-country riding and tours, we offer the

TRIGWELL BALL HEAD

(which we obtained and judged the only one of merit,) AS A PERFEBT SUCCESS. That it is a great advantage, we refer to the many testimonials. Once having used this Ball Head, you would never go back to the common kind.

THE WARWICK NEW BACKBONE AND FORKS.

with increased thickness of metal and strength, are too obvious advantages to need explanation. The New Mail has them. Are not these three features alone (Ball Head, Perfection, or rather common-sense Backbone and Forks and our Rim) enough to decide one in choice of this Wheel?

But also we include Corrugated Square Rubber Ball Pedals, Spade Handles, Kirkpatrick Saddle, Harwood's Adjustable Step, all at the price The price of the New Mail is exactly the same as all other makes of Tangent Spoke Weeels of 1888 manufacture.

We invite careful study and inspection on next page of the perfect proportions and symmetry of this

SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER

THE NEW MAIL.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. ☜

New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

Prices, Including Spade Handles, Ball Head and 'Perfection' Backbone and Forks.

Believing when purchasing a high Grade Machine, wheelmen desire ALL the Latest Improvements and Features, we shall make nearly all this year's product with Ball Head and "Perfection" Backbone and Forks, and these prices include such.

Of course if these additions and improvements are not desired, the prices become $2.50 less to agree with other machines in the market quoted this lower. Are not these Great Improvements worth the small difference of $2.50?

PRICES.

Enameled, with Bright Parts Nickeled and Spokes Nickeled to Intersections.		Inside Leg Measure to Ball of Foot.	Enameled, with bright parts Nickeled.		Inside Leg Measure to Ball of Foot.
48 in.	$125.00	31½ in.	54 in.	132.50	34½ in.
50 in.	127.50	32½ in.	55 in.	133.75	35 in.
51 in.	128.75	33 in.	56 in.	135 00	35½ in.
52 in.	130.00	33½ in.	58 in.	137.50	36½ in.
53 in.	131.25	34 in.	60 in.	140.00	37½ in.

Half Nickel, $10.00. Full Nickled, $15.00 Extra. With Paralled Pedals, $5.00 less than above Prices.

Also these prices are for the latest wheels, made this year, and are exactly the same (no higher) as all other tangent wheels of this year's manufacture. Wheels of previous years' manufacture we offer less.

Get the Latest and Most Improved!

Terms,— Strictly Cash. Send cash by Express or by Boston or New York Draft and we send the wheel strongly crated, with Tool Bag and Tools. We nickel the spokes to intersections, giving a very light and handsome appearance.

TESTIMONIALS.

Cambridge, Jan. 31, 1888.

Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons:

Dear Sirs,—I have ridden for several years various machines, and think the NEW MAIL compares favorably with any, and in many respects is far superior. Last year I rode the NEW MAIL some fifteen hundred miles, and found it rigid and easy running. The Ball Bearing Head is a decided improvement over the Cone Bearing, as it allows one to keep the head tight, at the same time does not interfere with the steering. In finish I think the NEW MAIL has no superior. Yours truly,

GEO. S. PERKINS,
Capt. Cambridge Bicycle Club.

Chelsea, Mass., June 2, 1887.

Wm. Read & Sons:

Dear Sirs,—The NEW MAIL Bicycle I purchased of you the first of the season has given perfect satisfaction; it is the easiest running wheel I ever rode. The Ball Head is perfection itself. I would not be without one. Yours respectfully,

O. L. DRESSER,
Capt. Chelsea Ramblers.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 12, 1888.

Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons:

Gentlemen,—Since purchasing the NEW MAIL of you last year I have ridden it constantly, and it pleases me in every respect. I think the Ball Bearing Head is the greatest improvement ever put on a Bicycle. I would never ride any other now, as I think no Bicycle is complete without it. For hill climbing I found that I could ride up the same hill much easier on the NEW MAIL than I could on my former mount. The NEW MAIL, as a whole, is far superior to any other make, and I cheerfully recommend it to those who are looking for the best.

Yours respectfully,
FRANK W. BARRETT,
Capt. Worcester Bicycle Club.

[From the noted fast rider, W. E. Crist.]

Washington, May 3. 1887.

Gents,—The NEW MAIL is the easiest wheel of any I ever tried. It is simply perfect. Yours truly,

W. E. CRIST.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 26. 1887.

Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons:

Dear Sirs,—I received from you, through your agent at this point, Mr. J. M. Gore, one of your 53-inch NEW MAILS. On this wheel I trained for the annual L. A. W. Louisiana division races, and on the day of the races rode the same, surprising both my friends and myself. My success was undoubtedly due to the easy manner in which the wheel rode. I have experienced equal pleasure on the road with the wheel, it riding as smoothly and easily as one could desire. I have ridden several makes of wheels during two years' experience as a wheelman, but much prefer your wheel to any so far ridden. Again thanking you for the good wheel you have sent me, I remain,

H. W. FAIRFAX,
Sec.-Treas. New Orleans Bicycle Club.

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 15, 1888.

Gentlemen,—After an experience of five years with the various prominent makes of Bicycles, I would like to state that, in my judgment, the NEW MAIL of Messrs. Read & Sons is the best road machine now made.

The Ball Bearing Head, as now used, cannot be excelled by any appliance for facility and nicety of adjustment. It is the easiest running and most rigid wheel I ever rode, and I think I may safely say (from the tests I have given it), enjoying, as I do, the reputation of being one of the hardest road riders in the State, that for a reliable roadster, it has no equal.

CHARLES A. BIEDERMAN,
President Pasadena Cycling Club.

Winner of Lakin's Long Distance Cyclometer Contest for 1887, and holder of Pacific Coast record for one mile.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. ☜

New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

TESTIMONIALS.—Continued.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31, 1877.

WM. READ & SONS, Boston:

GENTLEMEN,—Though perhaps I am rather late in the day, I write to congratulate you on the NEW MAIL. Having owned and ridden a number of different makes of Bicycles, I am thoroughly convinced that in my NEW MAIL I have the easiest running and least expensive wheel made. The strength of the ball head and ease of steering deserves especial mention, for since I received the NEW MAIL wheel (May 3d, 1887), I have ridden 2730 miles, and the majority of this over rough country roads; during this time, the head needed adjustment not more than five times, while with other wheels this would have to be done at least twice a week.

Respectfully yours,
ALEX. M. LEWIS,
Lieut. Missouri Bicycle Club.

[From a Bicycle Dealer.]

JUNE 25th.

GENTS.—I would like the agency for your NEW MAIL. I purchased one for my own riding, and I find that it is the Highest Grade Bicycle on the market. I have been in the Bicycle business a long time, and am agent for several of the leading wheels, but I think your machine superior to all others, and I put it at the head. Let me know if I can have the agency for it.

Yours truly.

[From a large Dealer in Bicycles at the West.]

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

There is not much doubt but that I'll sell a good number of your wheels this season. I am riding the "55" myself, and I must say that it is away up. The "51" I sold to an old rider of four years' experience. He came into my store last Saturday and had his choice out of four of the best wheels in the market, the NEW MAIL included (all of which I had samples), and, just as I expected, he selected the NEW MAIL for his mount.

Yours respectfully.

BOSTON, June 1, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston.

DEAR SIRS,—In 1876, while at the Centennial Exposition, I saw the first English Bicycles. I was so much pleased with their appearance that the spring following I bought one of the best. Since then I have ridden many thousand miles on different machines. I considered my last mount as good a wheel as could be bought, and was perfectly satisfied with it. But this spring I was induced to buy one of your NEW MAILS, and I have ridden it far enough now to know that after all these years of experience, I never knew what it was to be on a perfect machine before. The combinations are perfect, and I consider the Trigwell Ball Bearing Head one of the greatest improvements ever attached to a bicycle. The hills I used to walk are mounted with ease, and the machine is run as straight as a die, with scarcely any effort. I am more than pleased—I am delighted with it.

This testimonial is entirely unasked, and I only write to encourage you in your good work, and to advise any one in want of a first-class mount to take the NEW MAIL without question.

Respectfully,
J. L. BLACKMER, League 14760.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.

GENTLEMEN,—It is with pleasure I write you regarding the NEW MAIL that I have ridden this year. It has proved satisfactory in every way. Is staunch, rigid, easy to ride, and light running—"a thing of beauty and joy forever." Can hardly see how it is possible to make the '88 wheel an improvement.

With compliments of the season, believe me,

Yours truly, EDWARD SELLS.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5, 1888.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIRS,—Having ridden the NEW MAIL the past season with such perfect comfort and little expense for repairs, I feel that I owe you my personal thanks. The Ball Head, in particular, deserves especial mention, and is, I think, the chief recommendation for any first-class wheel. After having been ridden for eight months, my wheel is in perfect condition, while my expenses of repairing have only been $1.00, all told. Again thanking you,

Yours, very truly,
JONES S. IRVINS, Mo. Bi. Club.

TESTIMONIALS.—Continued.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4, 1888.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston.

GENTS.—I have been riding the NEW MAIL the past season, and think it, by far, the best wheel I have ever ridden. My repairs have cost me nothing, and the wheel to-day is as good as when it came out of the shop.

Yours truly, J. S. FUQUA.

WHEELING, W. VA., Jan. 13, 1888.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS:

GENTS,—I have been a constant rider of the bicycle for eight years in a portion of country where hill climbing and coasting can be indulged in to the heart's content, and during this time have ridden many of the leading wheels in the market, but never have I ridden one so nearly perfect as your NEW MAIL. It is so responsive to every motion, so little give to the perch in drawing the little wheel over ruts, and, greatest of all, the Ball Bearing Head. The Ball Head is a great success notwithstanding the croaking of the many who have never tried it. It is as much of an improvement over the usual form of head in use as the light roadsters of to-day are over the best bikes of 1883.

Wishing you a great trade for '88, I am truly yours,
T. A. HOGE.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 3, 1887.

WM. READ & SONS:

DEAR SIRS,—The Ball Head on the NEW MAIL has only to be tried to be appreciated by wheelmen; with it you have a rigid head, yet easy and perfect steering.

Wheelmen who say the old Cone or hemispherical bearings are good enough for them, have but to try a wheel with your Ball Head to alter that opinion. Have ridden over two thousand miles the past season on my NEW MAIL. Respectfully yours,
JAMES L. SPEIRS,
Lieut. Rhode Island Wheelmen, Providence, R. I.

ALBANY, June 22, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS:

GENTLEMEN,—I have been waiting to give the NEW MAIL I bought of you a thorough trial before writing. I am more than pleased with it. Last week I rode it from Albany to Poughkeepsie over roads which had just been washed, necessitating much riding through deep gravel and over stones. At the end of the run I was almost afraid to look at it for fear of finding loose spokes or started joints, but my fears were groundless. Everything was as snug as when I started. I never had a wheel before that would not have been loose in every joint at the end of such a ride. It climbs hills a third easier than my old machine.

The Ball Head is perfect, and with all the knocking around it has had shows not the slightest shake, yet turns perfectly free. It is safe to predict that next year every first-class wheel will have a Ball Head.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES L. PALMER.

January 15, 1887.

MR. CHARLES SCHWALBACH, Agent:

DEAR SIR,—I shall ride a NEW MAIL this coming season, and to all who are in doubt as to what wheel to purchase, I would recommend the NEW MAIL.

HARRY H. FARR,
1st Lieut. Ilderan Bicycle Club, Brooklyn, N. Y.

MR. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Agent:

DEAR SIR,—The Ball Bearing Head is a great success, and I would not ride a wheel without this improvement. It is the easiest running and most rigid wheel I ever rode, and can recommend to all who desire a first-class mount for the coming season. During my recent trip to Bermuda it was ridden over 200 miles there, and was universally admired by all. Yours truly,
G. L. COURTENAY.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 26, 1887.

MR. SHIPTON, Secretary to the C. T. C., says:—My views as to the merits of your new Ball Bearing Head are pretty fully expressed in the C. T. C. Gazette for October last, to which you are at full liberty to make reference. The eulogium then bestowed I cannot but affirm by the light of more recent experience. To put it briefly, I consider the Ball Bearing Head to be the most valid of all the modern-day improvements, and I would not be without it for twice its cost. The balls are held in place by a collar, and it is practically impossible to disarrange them.

☞Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps.☜ New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

TESTIMONIALS.—Continued.

MR. HAWLEY, Hon. Sec. of the L. B. C., says:—My Bicycle was ridden about 4,000 miles last year, during which time the Ball Head was only adjusted three or four times. I certainly think this is a distinct advance in 'cycle manufacture.

MR. HY. HERBERT, Clarence B. C., says:—I cannot speak too highly of the Patent Ball Bearing Head, which is really everything that can be desired for rigidity and ease of steering.

MR. HARRY JONES, of the Haverstock B. C., says:—My record last year amounted to 8,241½ miles. I have ridden over some of the roughest roads through nearly every county in England and Wales, and can say that some of the grass roads traversed in Lincolnshire, etc., would have been quite unridable with the ordinary head, but in this and where any delicate steering is required, I have found the Ball Bearing Head invaluable, and also a great assistance in hill climbing. I have ridden it over 1,000 miles without oiling, and only adjusted it three times during the year, and the wear is imperceptible.

BOSTON, Feb. 1, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIRS,—A few words in regard to the "Trigwell Ball Bearing Head." I have used the Trigwell Head during the past season and have covered about 2000 miles of road riding, thereby giving it a thorough trial, and I am free to say it has given perfect satisfaction. Its point of superiority over other heads is that it can be set down perfectly tight and yet will move freely and never work loose. I have never had any trouble with the balls breaking, and a single drop of oil once in a while keeps them in excellent condition. In every way it has proved a great success, and I would recommend every rider to give it a trial.

Yours, very truly, C. L. SMITH.
Late Captain Cambridge Bicycle Club.

TOLEDO, OHIO, Jan. 22, 1887.

GENTLEMEN,—One of the wheel's chief beauties lies in the Ball Bearing Head, which needs no tightening, and renders the steering easy and quick. Hereafter, no wheel will be perfect for me unless it has a ball-bearing head. Thanking you for many courtesies extended, I remain, Yours truly,
J. M. TRYON, Sec'y-Treas. Toledo 'Cycling Club. Rep. 1st. District, Ohio Div., L. A. W.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 19, 1887.

The "Ball Head," as used in the MAIL, cannot be equalled by any appliance for ease and nicety of adjustment, and perfect bearing, and in riding and coasting without hands, I find a great aid. The NEW MAIL will carry me through the coming season, and equally favorable results are expected.

Yours truly, R. W. STEVENS,
Kings County Wheelmen.

[From the well-known Captain of the Kings County Wheelmen, a long distance rider.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 23, 1887.

GENTLEMEN,—Its improved Ball Bearing Head is indeed a success, and adds very materially to its value as a wheel for use in drills, etc. A machine possessed of these qualities, to say nothing of its graceful appearance, is certain to become popular with the wheeling fraternity. Very truly yours,
EDW. PETTUS, Capt. C. K. W.

MR. CHAS. SCHWALBACH, Agent.

DEAR SIR,—Out of nearly five months this season I have missed only five days' riding, and that on country roads of all grades, and have therefore thoroughly tested the Ball Head, which feature alone is incomparable and an important attraction to me, to say nothing of the material, grace or construction, its lightness, and the narrow tread, which is a very important aid in hill climbing. I have covered nearly 2,300 miles this season, and have not spent one cent for repairs.

Yours respectfully, A. E. ANDERSON.
K. C. Wheelman.

WILKES-BARRE, Jan. 18, 1887.

MR. L. L. EVANS, Agent.

DEAR SIR,—The machine I bought of you, with the Ball Bearing head, gave satisfaction in every particular. As I have owned and ridden several different makes of machines with the cone head, I have no hesitation in pronouncing the "Ball Head" far superior in every respect, and consider it one of the great revolutions in the Bicycle. G. W. LAYCOCK.

TESTIMONIALS.—Continued.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13, 1888.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS:

GENTS,—In reply to your request as to how I like the NEW MAIL, I will say that I like it very much, have given it many a hard ride over miserable roads, and have yet to spend the first dollar for repairs. Yours,
W. M. LOUDERMAN.

LAPORTE, IND., Dec. 14, 1887.,

Having ridden a number of different makes of Bicycles I find none that have the easy running and staunch qualities of the NEW MAIL and the unequaled Trigwell Ball Bearing Head. I would not ride a Bicycle without it as it is the most rigid as well as the easiest steering Head made and no Bicycle is complete without it, and as to beauty and finish the NEW MAIL stands, "the Perfection." J. E. LONN.

LAPORTE, IND., Dec. 14, 1887.

My 54-inch NEW MAIL is the easiest running, as well as the easiest steering Bicycle I ever rode. I would advise any one to get a Trigwell Ball Bearing Head on their Bicycle and they would not exchange it for another make at any price. The NEW MAIL is the Bicycle of to-day. WILLIAM LONN.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIRS,—When the "NEW MAIL" first came out here, I purchased one, and, at the request of your agent, Mr. J. M. Gore, who asked me to let him have my opinon of it, I would say that I am very well pleased with it. I find it an easy running, strong wheel. Yours truly, G. W. ANDERSON.

May 19, 1887.

DEAR SIRS,— It affords me great pleasure in saying that among the many wheels I have ridden, none have equalled the "NEW MAIL." Its hill climbing ability surprises me. I would ride no other machine if I could have a "NEW MAIL."

FRANK A. BUCKLYN.
Brown University, Prov, R. I.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Sept. 23, 1887.

Messrs WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIRS,— The NEW MAIL is a daisy, runs elegantly and the steering is the height of perfection. No plain Cone Head machine will compare with it in steering. The NEW MAIL is my sixth machine in eight and a half years of wheeling, so I speak from experience. Very truly yours,
THOMAS B. SOMERS.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS:

GENTS,— I have always been prejudiced against American Machines in favor of English make. But through the guarantees of your agents, was induced to try a NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER, and the season's experience in all round riding satisfies me, and I must admit it in justice to yourselves, that the NEW MAIL LIGHT ROADSTER is the machine in preference to all others.

The Ball Head speaks for itself. One has but to use it to satisfiy them. Have run the entire season without an adjustment and only once oiling it. Very truly yours,
ALBERT H. HAMILTON.

HUNTINGDON, IND., Sept. 9, 1887.

GENTS,—The NEW MAIL is a strong wheel, and very easy running. The Ball Head is the best I have seen, and works perfectly. No binding nor grinding in this. Wishing you best success, Yours truly,
N. SESSIONS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29, 1887.

MR. J. M. GORE, Agent for New Mail, New Orleans, LA.:

DEAR SIR,—I have been riding the NEW MAIL for about two months, and find it the finest mount I have ever been astride. As I am a very slight build, I give all credit to the wheel I ride and ☞Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps.☜ New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

TESTIMONIALS.—Continued.

not to my physical power. Trusting that your wheel will prove as satisfactory to all riders as it has to me, I remain, Yours very respectfully, E. A. JONAS.

MERIDEN, CONN., May 26, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS:

GENTLEMEN,—My 53-inch NEW MAIL is very satisfactory. During the past four weeks I have ridden it without adjusting the head, and it is all right to-day. The wheel is a splendid hill climber and an excellent coaster, and for all around use is, in my opinion, the best made. I could say more, but this will give you my ideas on the subject, and you can quote me if it will help you.

Yours truly, WILBUR H. SQUIRE,
Meriden Wheel Club.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23, 1887.

GENTS,—I have been riding for eight years, and the NEW MAIL is the third wheel I have owned. I consider it the best wheel I have ever been on. Yours truly,

N. D. LANCASTER.

WINDSOR, NOVA SCOTIA.

WM. READ & SONS:

GENTS,—I am perfectly delighted with the NEW MAIL. It is the easiest running wheel I have ever used, and it has already secured a host of friends. I remain, Yours truly,

A. F. SHAND.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4, 1887.

Messrs. E. K. TRYON, JR. & Co. Philadelphia:

GENTLEMEN,—Having ridden the NEW MAIL upwards of 600 miles, I find it to answer every purpose over rough and smooth roads. As a piece of workmanship it is excellent.

Very truly yours, J. A. BRADLEY,
Penn. Bicycle Club, Philadelphia.

WEEDSPORT, N. Y., July 13, 1887.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass:

GENTLEMEN,—The 54-inch NEW MAIL Bicycle which I purchased of you some two months since, has given the most perfect satisfaction. During my five years experience as a wheelman, I have owned four different makes of Bicycles and have ridden others, but I consider the NEW MAIL the staunchest and easiest running of any whee I have ever ridden. I consider the Ball Bearing Head a great improvement, and, since I have tried it, and know what it is, I would never own a wheel that did not have this kind of a head. I have now given my wheel two months pretty hard ridding over the rough roads in this section, but have not as yet had to adjust the Head Bearing, in fact I have not had to adjust any Bearing on the wheel, each one being in the same position as when shipped from the factory. If I was going to have a wheel built to my own specifications I don't know where I could improve on the '87 NEW MAIL. It is certainly the prettiest looking wheel on the market.

Very truly yours,
H. D. BROWN.

BOSTON, Jan. 20 1888.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS:

GENTS,—In reply to your inquiries as to working of my 61-inch NEW MAIL, I would say that I have but unqualified praise to bestow upon it. A Bicycle to stand the extra test of being put over all kinds of roads where pleasure and business demands one should go, must be a good one, light, durable and to be depended upon to bring the rider back with as little worry and fatigue as possible. I can say that the NEW MAIL has stood very rough usage at my hands and is apparently in just as good condition as ever.

Yours in haste,
L. F. SMALL.
Association Gymnasium.

SMITHPORT, PA., Jan. 17, 1888.

Messrs. WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.:

GENTLEMEN,—The NEW MAIL is, I think, second to no wheel made. It is handsome in appearance and runs finely, and I honestly recommend it as the finest and best. I have ridden some of the best makes of wheels, and never found such an easy running machine as the NEW MAIL. The Ball Head works to perfection, while most all others have none.

Some people think a "good" wheel costs too much; well, I have had all I ever want of cheap wheels, and a person who buys a cheap one will soon see same as I did when first I thought of trying bicycling. Send me an 1888 catalogue when out.

Respectfully, C. R. SPRAGUE.

TESTIMONIALS.—Continued.

310 So. FIFTH ST., BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 31, 1887.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.:

GENTS,—Please send me picture of NEW MAIL, as I am a rider and much pleased with your machine. It makes a perfect coaster and roadster.

M. G. DENIPE.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Feb. 5, 1888.

WM. READ & SONS:

DEAR SIRS,—Please send me your catalogue of NEW MAILS for 1888. I bought a NEW MAIL just before the close of last season, and am very well pleased with it. The ball-head is the only thing. Yours,

JOHN P. FOGARTY.

ORCHARD LAKE, MICH., Jan. 21, 1888.

WM. READ & SONS:

DEAR SIRS,—I have ridden all makes of bicycles, but for completeness, easiness of running, and durability, I find that the NEW MAIL is at the head. Very respectfully,

JNO. S. ARNOLD.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Jan. 31, 1888.

WM. READ & SONS:

DEAR SIRS,—The 56-inch came safely to hand on Saturday, the 28th inst., and is in the highest degree satisfactory. You have my thanks for turning out such an elegant machine and filling the order so satisfactorily. The gentleman for whom I ordered the wheel made a trial run on it Sunday, and expresses himself in terms of the highest praise for its smooth, easy running qualities. He says: "She goes through sand easier than any wheel I ever rode."

The 52-inch also continues to give the highest satisfaction to its rider.

I think the new tapered-pin pedal hard to beat. It is the neatest thing out. Yours truly,

C. R. ARNOLD.

TRINIDAD, COL., Feb. 2, 1888.

Messrs. WILLIAM READ & SONS:

GENTLEMEN,—When I traded by C—— for the NEW MAIL, I did so because I thought the construction the most perfect theoretically. I am very much pleased to find, after four months use on our rough roads, that the workmanship is equal to the design. I have not touched the head or front wheel bearings; the hind wheel has been tightened once. The long cranks, larger hind wheel, and greater rake, are all improvements. I have not had a single fall, though I used to tip over rather easily on the ——.

I don't understand the objection to the Ball Head. Even if it only lasted for one year and then had to be renewed, it would pay to have it in the greater comfort of handling.

I wish you all luck with the NEW MAIL, and will do all I can to sell more of them. Yours respectfully,

W. DEARDEN.

VAN ETTENVILLE, N. Y.

WM. READ & SONS, Boston, Mass.:

GENTS,—Am greatly pleased with the NEW MAIL, and consider it one of the finest mounts which I ever saw.

Very respectfully yours,
HARRY BANFIELD.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

BOYS' BICYCLES.

WE HAVE TAKEN THE

AGENCY FOR NEW ENGLAND,

—FOR THE—

AMERICAN

IDEAL

BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES.

We recommend the IDEAL as the Best Boys' Wheel, and this year it has Several Improvements and a new and very handsome finish, together with Spade Handles and Cobblestone Saddle.

DESCRIPTION.

Closed head with dust shield—long neck—detachable handle bars—butt ended spokes—adjustable step—parts interchangeable—axles, fine forged steel, very strong—tapered backbone—step rubber covered to prevent slipping—Cobblestone saddle—spade handles—handle bars and break lever are Cowhorn—pedals of best rubber—bright parts nickel-plated, and each supplied with tool bag and wrench.

AMERICAN IDEAL,

WITH SPADE HANDLES.

A Finely Made and Finished Wheel.

WITH SPADE HANDLES.

Diameter of Front Wheel.	Length of Leg, Inside Measure, to Sole of Foot.	PRICE.
30 Inches,	22 Inches,	$25 00
34 Inches,	24 Inches,	30 00
38 Inches,	27 Inches,	35 00
42 Inches,	29 Inches,	40 00
44 Inches,	30 Inches,	45 00
46 Inches,	31 Inches,	50 00
48 Inches,	32 Inches,	55 00
50 Inches,	33 Inches,	60 00

IDEAL TRICYCLE,

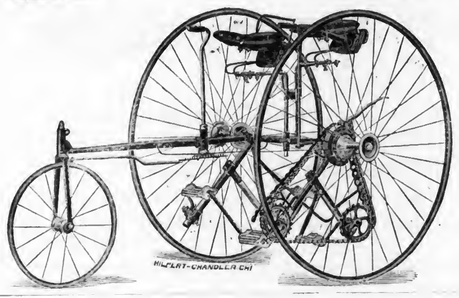
FOR BOYS OR GIRLS.

A Finely Made Machine, and it has met a LARGE DEMAND for Girls' use. Not a Toy, but of the quality of high grade wheels.

PRICE, - - - - - 40.00.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.



IDEAL TRICYCLE.

(FOR BOY OR GIRL.)

Diameter Drivers.	Price Standard Finish.	Price Full Nickeled.	Weight.	Weight of Crate.
30 inches.	$40 00	$55 00	47 lbs.	24 lbs.
34 "	45 00	60 00	51 "	25 "

Ball Bearings to Driving Wheels..... Extra, $ 14 00
" " " Steering Wheel..... 4 00
" " " Cranks..... 10 00

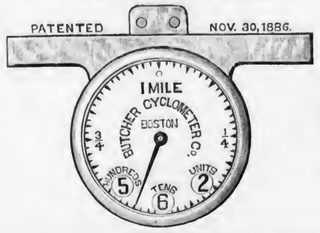
This really beautiful little machine has received every care and is listed now for its third season with a well-earned reputation of being just what we claimed for it when we introduced it to the cycling public two years ago, and of a quality both in material and manufacture that will compare very favorably with larger and costlier machines

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TANDEM.

(TWO TRACK.)

Price, Standard Finish, with—		Price, Full Nickeled, with—
30 inch Drivers.....	$65 00	30 inch Drivers.....	$85 00
34 " ".....	70 00	34 " "	90 00

If desired with ball bearings to Drivers, extra..... $ 14 00
If " " " " " Steering Wheel, extra..... 4 00
If " " " " " Cranks, extra 10 00



SUNDRIES.

NEW MAIL BALL PEDALS.

Perfection in Pedals. Fit any Wheel. Offered as the Finest Made and Truest Running Pedal in the Market. These should be seen to be appreciated. We are in constant receipt of testimonials in their praise. Made with the greatest nicety throughout. Don't buy without examining this make surely.

Price, $10.00 Per Pair.

THE BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.

The action of the new Stroke Cyclometer is produced by a sliding rod enclosed in the crossbar at the top. This rod, working, as it does, directly opposite to the centrifugal force of the wheel gains what has been so long sought, a reliable motion without an arm striking the fork. The sliding rod strikes at either end against a buffer, and its motion is so great in length that all possibility of jar affecting it is done away with.

PRICE, $5.00.

HARWOOD'S Detachable Safety Step.

HARWOOD'S SAFETY BICYCLE STEP

Fits any Machine. No screw holes on Backbone. By this Improved Step, a firm and positive foothold is secured when mounting or dismounting, and danger of cutting the leg is obviated by the projecting Safety Flange. The edges of the teeth are so beveled that they will not catch or tear the clothing, in case of a misstep or fall. The steps are easily applied, are light and strong, and are an ornament to the bicycle. Price, $1.00

The BUTCHER CYCLOMETER

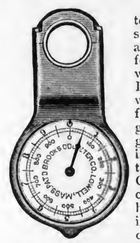
Can be read from the saddle. It registers to 10,000 miles and then returns to zero. It weighs less than twenty ounces. The weight which holds the dial always upward can be easily removed and a lamp substituded in its stead. In ordering, mention size and make of wheel.

PRICE, $10.00.

LAKIN CLYCLOMETER.

The Mile Dial is divided into Quarters, Eights, Sixteenths and Thirty-Seconds. At every revolution of the hand on the mile dial, the long hand on the large dial will move forward one figure and thus record each mile.

While it requires 50 turns of the mile hand to make one complete revolution of the long hand, it also requires 50 revolutions of the long hand to make one revolution of the short or fifty mile hand, and they all return to zero together.

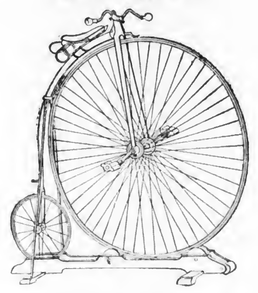


Price, $10.00.

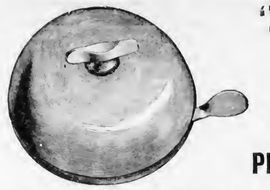
New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.



Brooks' Ideal Cyclometer. Price $5.00.



This instrument is designed to meet the demand for a strictly first-class Cyclometer at a moderate cost, and is offered with confidence that it will supply a long felt want. Being entirely without weights or springs, and its few parts being always in gear, it is the least likely to get out of order. Its weight is 11 ounces, about one-half that of other direct acting Cyclometers. The collar enclosing the hub of the bicycle has a rubber packing, rendering its attachment to hubs of different sizes very easy.

EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND.

Price $7.50.

'Perfection' BELL.

Very Popular.

PRICE, $2.50

Lillibridge Adjustable Saddle.

PRICE, $5.00.

NEW PATTERN

Kirkpatrick Saddle.

Price, $6.00.

BUFFALO Home Trainer

Price $30.00.

NEW MAIL ENAMEL

Every Wheelman should have a Bottle of Enamel for touching up or refinishing his wheel when marred. Dries instantly. Scratches entirely obliterated. Cannot be sent by mail.

Price, with Brush, 50 Cts Per Bottle

NEW MAIL ENAMEL.

We think it has been conceded that the ENAMEL on New Mail Machines is the FINEST IN THE MARKET.

A BRILLIANT JET BLACK ENAMEL.

For the first time we offer this in the market, this year, in bottles for wheelmen's use, for refinishing wheels when scratched and marred. Dries instantly.

PRICE, WITH BRUSH, 50 Cts. PER BOTTLE.

☞ By a decision of P. O., Enamel cannot be sent by mail.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps.

New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, BOSTON.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS.

We usually have in stock an assortment of good Second-Hand Bicycles and Tricycles, taken in exchange for other sizes, but serviceable as ever. Such we run off at very low prices, and will gladly describe what we may have on hand at the time, if you will let us know size desired. Below is a list of some now in stock, which we can forward, unless sold before receipt of order:

No.	Size.	Name of Wheel.	Finish.	Bearings.	Pedals.	Condition.	Price.
1	48	Expert.	Nickeled.	Ball.	Ball.	Fine.	50.00
2	48	Standard.	Enameled.	"	Cone.	"	30.00
3	50	Royal Mail.	"	"	Ball.	"	65.00
4	50	" " Ball-Head.	"	"	"	"	75.00
5	50	Standard.	Nickeled.	"	"	"	40.00
6	50	Premier.	Enameled.	"	"	"	35.00
7	51	Royal Mail, Ball-Head.	"	"	"	"	65.00
8	52	Champion.	"	"	"	"	50.00
9	52	"	Nickeled.	"	"	"	60.00
10	52	"	Half Nickeled.	"	"	"	55.00
11	52	"	Nickeled.	"	"	"	60.00
12	52	Expert.	"	"	"	"	65.00
13	54	"	"	"	"	"	65.00
14	54	"	Enameled.	"	"	"	75.00
15	54	Rudge.	Half Nickeled.	"	"	"	75.00
16	54	Royal Mail, Ball-Head.	Nickeled.	"	"	"	65.00
17	54	" " "	Enameled.	"	"	"	65.00
18	56	Expert.	Half Nickeled.	"	"	"	60.00
19	56	Royal Mail, Ball-Head.	Enameled.	"	"	"	65.00
20	56	Victor.	"	"	"	"	50.00
21	56	"	"	"	"	"	60.00
22	56	Club.	"	"	"	"	50.00
23	58	Rudge.	"	"	"	"	75.00
24	56	New Mail, Ball-Head.	"	"	"	"	85.00
25	55	" " "	"	"	"	"	85.00
26	54	" " "	"	"	"	"	85.00
27	53	" " "	"	"	"	"	85.00
28	52	" " "	"	"	"	"	85.00
29	50	Royal Mail.	"	"	"	New, Never used.	75.00 Cost 135.00
30	54	Royal Mail Racer.	"	"	"	"	50.00 Cost 140.00
31	56	New Rapid.	"	"	"	"	85.00
32	50	Royal Mail, Ball-Head.	"	"	"	"	85.00

☞ Above Mails are great bargains. They all have the Tangent Tied Spokes, and the wheels are as serviceable as new for use — in fact, many scarcely show any riding. Exchanged for different sizes. They will soon be taken up.

Some of the Principal Agencies for the New Mail.

ST. LOUIS, MO.	E. C. Meacham Arms Co.
CHICAGO, ILLS.	Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA.	E. K. Tryon, Jr., & Co.
BROOKLYN, N. Y.	Charles Schwalbach.
NEW YORK CITY.	Peck & Snyder.
WASHINGTON, D. C.	H. W Higham.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.	Devany, Hopkins & Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I.	Whitten & Co.
WORCESTER, MASS.	F. W. Barrett.
SALEM, MASS.	D. Edgar Hunter.
DETROIT, MICH.	J. B. Field & Co.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.	H. T. Hearsey.
BUFFALO, N. Y.	S. G. Le Valley.
PORTLAND, ME.	G. L. Bailey.
CLEVELAND, O.	Brush, Moore & Co.
PITTSBURGH, PA.	J. B. Kaercher.

☞ Fine Photograph of New Mail sent on receipt of 10c. in stamps. New Mail Enamel, 50c., with brush.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvelous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

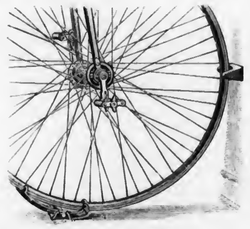
STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY.

Second-Hand Wheels,

Bought, Sold and Exchanged. Send for Second-hand List and our large Illustrated Catalog of Wheels and Accessories, with full particulars of our terms of easy payments. Of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Liberal discounts to agents on second-hand Wheels. Prices on all Wheels guaranteed as low as the lowest.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

Bicycles on Easy Payments.



New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on Easy Payments with no extra charge except 8 per cent. interest. Low rates by fast freight or express. Bargains in Juvenile Wheels of Best Makers, at from $6.40 up. Large line of Accessories. REPAIRING AND NICKEL PLATING.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

THF BUFFALO BICYCLE STAND

—FOR—

CLUB HOUSES & DEALERS' WAREROOMS.

Price, 50 cents.

Buffalo Home Trainer, Price $30.

E. N. BOWEN,

385 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mfr. of Accessories. Repairing a Specialty.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

Club Uniforms a Specialty

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.

Fully Warranted, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

Brook's Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

BICYCLE CLUBS,
FAIR MANAGERS, AND OTHERS.

—:o:—

THE WORLD'S TEAM

—OF—

CHAMPION WHEELMEN,

EVERY MAN A STAR,

IS NOW OPEN FOR ENGAGEMENT to appear on racing tracks the coming fall. The best men of the Old and New World positively belong to this agreation of CYCLING STARS, now is the time to arrange for the visit of the CYCLING CHAMPIONS of the World to appear on your tracks.

For further particulars address,

HENRY E. DUCKER,

848 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE COLUMBIA ELLIPTICAL, COLD-DRAWN, SEAMLESS-STEEL, TUBULAR REAR FORKS USED ON THE EXPERT AND LIGHT ROADSTER.

CATALOGUE FREE. POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

FORKS ON COLUMBIAS

GREATEST POSSIBLE RIGIDITY FOR GIVEN WEIGHT OF METAL. | IN ONLY THREE PIECES. | A RECORD OF NEVER BREAKING OR TWISTING.

The Rudge Agency

Is continued at its old headquarters,

152 to 158 CONGRESS STREET, - - - - BOSTON,

Under the management of

H. M. SABEN.

The factory is now ready with new machines, and specialties for 1888 will be ready next month.

The 1888 Catalogue is now ready, and will be sent on application. Good Agents Wanted in unoccupied territory.

THE BICYCLING WORLD & L. A. W. BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 9 MARCH, 1888.

Volume XVI. Number 19.

1

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., Boston.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, can vouch from experience as to the strength and superior running qualities of the "Victor" bicycles. Out of 23 members, we have 22 "Victor" riders. We find it the only wheel that will stand the rough roads and enable us to climb the hills in our rough and hilly country. Yours, etc.,

KENTON WHEEL CLUB.

Covington, Kentucky.

Above appeared in "The Wheel," Feb. 17,

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 28th, 1888.

OVERMAN WHEEL COMPANY, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: Pease find enclosed a letter from ——, of ——, Ills., together with a press copy of our reply. We have related to them a few facts about the "Victor" Bicycle, and doubt whether or not their opinion will be changed, as some people are so "hard-headed" or stupid that they fail to recognize a good Bike when they see it. A few days since a party of wheelmen were gathered together discussing the various 1888 pattern Bicycles, when one of the party remarked: "—— has bought a —— wheel," and this remark was followed with something like this from a "Victor" rider, of course: "Poor chump! I tell you boys, I really feel sorry for the fellow who is foolish enough to buy any other Bike than the 'Victor.'"

Your machines are steadily gaining favor both here and across the river in Cincinnati.

We are, yours truly, KENTON WHEEL CLUB, Edward C. Toie, Secretary.

2

3

——, Ills, Feb. 22d, 1888.

KENTON BICYCLE CLUB, Covington, Ky.

Gentlemen: We note in late bi. papers the O. W. Co.'s ad. to the effect that all of the members of your club, but one, ride Victors, finding them the only suitable wheels for your roads. As it is seldom that an entire club choose the same machine, we would be glad to know whether the testimonial is a genuine one. Sometimes such things get "twisted," you know. We enclose stamped hddressed envelope for your reply, and would like to hear from you soon.

Yours truly, —— —— ——.

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 28th, 1888.

Messrs. ——, ——, Ill.

Gentlemen: Yours of 22d inst. is received and contents noted. We had supposed that the authenticity of this testimonial would be doubted, but will say that our testimonial, like the wheel we ride, is true in every respect. We have learned to honor the "Victor" Bicycle and its manufacturers from long experience; that is, since that wheel was placed on the market in 1885. Our assertion that it is "the only wheel that will stand our rough roads and enable us to climb all hills in our surrounding country," is plain, unadulterated truth, ascertained after five years' experience with almost every make of wheel ridden in the United States.

We have in our club some of the hardest riders in this vicinity, and with rough and hilly roads our "Victors" are given severe tests. Three years ago, five-sixths of the members of the Kenton Wheel Club rode direct spoke wheels, and it is safe to say that had not the tangent spoke wheel come into existence this club surely would have ceased to live, as these wheels were constantly going to pieces; so great is the vibration caused by the rough roads, that it was impossible to keep the spokes tight and prevent the rim of front wheel from forming the familiar shape something like a figure "8." The "Victor" has remedied all these faults; no more loose spokes; no more "buckled" wheels; no longer are we compelled to carry with us a box of tools to be used to keep our wheels in riding condition; its hill climbing and easy running qualities are too well known for further comment.

Racing in this vicinity is done on roadster wheels; the condition of tracks will not permit the use of racers; out of 21 local races, 18 were won on "Victors;" racers who ride other makes will never refuse the chance to race on a "Victor;" in fact, in all hill climbing contests and all long distance runs, the "Victor" is preferred. Gentlemen, these are facts; we are not prejudiced; we are not the only "Victor" riders; in Cincinnati to-day nine-tenths of the wheelmen riding other than "Victors," are anxious to dispose of their present mounts, and get the most perfect wheel made. We are glad that you made inquiry of us as to the genuineness of this testimonial, as we can clearly understand how doubtful it may appear for an entire club to choose the same machine; we trust, however, that after having become more familiar with the "Victor," or after having ridden it, that you more fully appreciate its merits. Our intercourse with the Overman Wheel Company has been such as to convince us that they are too honorable to publish bogus testimonials, especially as their mails daily bring them unsolicited words of praise. We would be pleased to hear from you the opinion of the "Victor in ——. We are, respectfully yours, KENTON WHEEL CLUB, Edward C. Toie, Sec.

4

NOTE—The wheels in the Kenton Club are all highest grade, tangent spokes, hollow rims, and were not bought because they were cheap. Boys buy cheap wheels—men buy good wheels.

ONE WAY TO DETECT APES—WATCH THEM COPY THE VICTOR ADVERTISING.

Send to OVERMAN WHEEL CO. for New Catalog. - - - BOSTON.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Write for Our 1888 Catalogue.

New Rapid Roadster,

New Rapid Light Roadster,

New Rapid Safety,

QUADRANT TRICYCLE, No. 8, for Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycles, No. 14, for Ladies and Light Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycles, No. 15. Two Ladies can ride.

We desire to announce to the trade that we have secured United States agency for Jos. Lucas & Son's goods, including the celebrated

KING OF THE ROAD LAMPS,

and shall be pleased to give quotations.

Agents Wanted for our Cycles and Sundries in unoccupied territory.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. ☞Cash must accompany the order.☜

FOR SALE—50-inch Columbia Light Roadster, standard finish, ball bearings all around, cowhorn handle bars, Kirkpatrick saddle; in first-class condition. For particulars address P. O. Box 2181, Ithaca, N. Y.

VERY CHEAP, Very Cheap—One 42-inch Facile, nearly new, latest pattern. One 42-inch Special Facile in first-class condition. Best offer accepted. For particulars write to CHARLES REED, Abington, Mass.

FOR SALE—Quadrant Tandem Tricycle, 1886 pattern, first-class condition. Call or address R. W. SOUTHWELL, 1 Dexter Row, Charlestown.

FOR SALE—58-in. "Expert;" Ball Bearings all over; drooped handles, lamp and bell; in good condition; guaranteed; best offer over $70 takes it. Address G. T. L., 30 North 3rd St., Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR SALE—52-inch American Light Champion, with extra heavy spokes in rear wheel, 1887 pattern. Been ridden only 4 months. $90.00 spot cash takes it. A. J. CUSSON, 1318 N. Jefferson street, Bay City, Mich.

FOR SALE—Over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles at bargain prices; send stamp for list and mention this paper. A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio.

FOR SALE—Rudge Bicyclette, new last June, fine order, spade handles, Townsend saddle, lamp; will sell at a bargain. Address ISAAC KNOWLDEN, 12 Warren St., New York.

FOR SALE—A Marlboro Club Tandem; new last season; in first class condition. G. J. McARTHUR, 23 Union St., Boston.

FOR SALE—56-inch Expert Columbia bicycle, full nickel, balls all round, Kirkpatrick saddle, Hill & Tolman bell, late pattern, little used, first-class condition; cost $156.50; will sell for $100 cash. Address W. M. FERGUSON, Jefferson, Iowa.

FACILE — 42-inch (ordinary 52), lamp, cyclometer, cowhorn handles, light weight, good condition, for sale or exchange (with cash), for good tandem; positive bargain to buyer before season opens. Address CASH, 398 Madison St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, $125. 587 Photo. Outfit (cost $80), $60. ☞Send stamp for particulars. H. R. BRYAN, Hudson, N. Y.

FOR SALE—51-inch Light Rudge, two-thirds nickel, made to order; good as new; cheap. Address D. G. B., 611 W. Market st., Louisville, Ky.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York City.

PHOTOGRAPHS of noted wheelmen; send for circulars to FRANK H. ROBERTS, Collinsville, Ill.

DON'T BUY A BICYCLE until you have sent stamp to A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio, for list of over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles. Mention this paper. Second hand Guns and Bicycles taken in exchange.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

CARTER'S
Foot Rest,
FOR THE STAR,
For Easy Coasting.
Price $1.00.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,
Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand.
JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.
Send stamp for list.

WE COVER THE GROUND,

Bicycles and Tricycles for the million. High grade, medium grade law grade, all the best in the world for the money. Bicycles for gentlemen, Tricycles for ladies, Bicycles for boys, Tricycles for misses.

20 Different styles, 20

☞Second-hand Bicycles bought, sold and exchanged. Send stamp for the most complete WHEEL catalogue ever printed.

THE JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

This Should also Interest You.

I have just received my first consignment of the VOLUNTEER COLUMBIA, and am pleased to be able to offer my customers so good a bicycle at so reasonable a price. A 50-inch with all improvements, $100.00.

Old riders will, of course, prefer the Expert or Light Roadster, but those who want a first-class wheel and have only a limited sum of money to expend, should examine The Volunteer. There seems to be a big demand for Cyclometers and Lamps this Spring, and I am carrying a complete stock of all leading makes, as well as all little odds and ends incident to a cycler's outfit.

My store will be open evenings after April 1st.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,
313 West 58th Street, New York.
NEAR THE PARK.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE
PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS.
Full Suits and Overcoats at Proportionate Prices

We sincerely believe that never before have we been able to offer our customers so good and stylish a line of SPRING GOODS as now our line of Chevoit

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

Suiting, guaranteed absolutely all wool is particularly remarkable. Our smooth-faced goods are also very carefully selected to suit our trade, whose wants we know now from long experience. For 6 cents we mail you 20 samples of these cloths, self-measurement blanks so acurate that we gurantee a fit. Also if you mention this paper we send you a good 48-in linen tape measure. Or if you must save time, send us your waist, inside leg, hip and knee measures, together with $3, and 35c. to prepay express or postage. We guarantee safe delivery. For any cause a customer of ours may return his goods and receive back his money or a new garment, a guarantee of which statement may be obtained by writing to the American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) at Boston.

N. B.—In buying goods by mail, it is a good rule to send money only to concerns that are well known throughout the country and avoid the countless imitators that spring up for a day to compete with old and regular establishments.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, BOSTON, MASS.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

(Yost & McCune Patent.)

The Only Absolutely Safe Wheel Against "Headers" Made. It is the Best, and it is also the Cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER.

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearlngs. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

Best class of cold drawn weldless steelttubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., - New York, N. Y.
C. F. STOKES, - - - Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., - Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

Have You Seen the 1888 NEW MAIL?

SURELY GET A CATALOGUE,

OR SEND FOR A HANDSOME CARD, Illustration of it.

MAILED FREE.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., BOSTON.

BICYCLING WORLD

"THE MULE."

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

For rates, etc., address Mr. Hazard as above.

All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

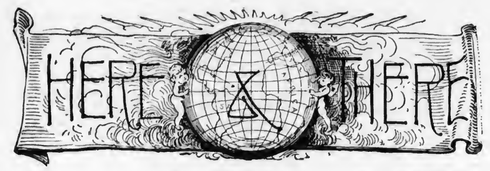
EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 9 MARCH, 1888.

LEAGUE matters place us in the position where we have again to apologize for the crowding out of matter. We shall have to provide for a supplement next week, unless we can see our way clear to getting even in our regular space once more. We are scarcely on our feet as yet, but we will soon steady down into our regular swing, and all we ask is a little patience, kind sirs.

A GOOD tale reaches us via the C. T. C. Gazette. An Irish member of that vast organization left the Emerald Isle and went to Canada. At Montreal £6 customs duties were demanded on his cycle. He refused to pay, but now asserts that after some discussion and the production of card of membership in the C. T. C., his machine was delivered on payment of the reduced sum of 26 shillings. This is an admirable certificate of the intelligence of Canadian customs officials. Pretty soon we shall expect to hear that one can pay his hotel bills and square his tailor by "producing" his C. T. C. certificate of membership.



WE are constantly being asked by our readers what wheel we consider the "best," and wherein the superiority of such and such a type obtains over that of another. At the present moment we have no less than five letters from different sections of the country propounding this conundrum in various forms. Some eight weeks ago we published an article on the future of the ordinary and the rear-driving safety, which we think is applicable to those who desire to be enlightened as to which is the "best" cycle to ride? Tastes differ, circumstances alter cases, and what for one man is the correct thing, for another would be entirely out of place. These may be glittering generalities, and we intend that they should be. One thing we are certain of, and that is, because we, for instance, find a certain mount to meet our requirements much better than any other, it is no reason that our next door neighbor, after a good trial, should come to the same conclusion as ourselves. There are men who have tried both lever and rotary motion, and have discarded the former as worthless, there are also riders of equally good judgemnt and experience who aver that the rotary method of driving is one that wastes good power, and so on! Witness the savage war now going on between those who believe in the merits of the rear-driver and those who say the ordinary is the only machine to ride! What do we learn from this class of adverse opinion and criticism? On our part we learn the lesson that every man must choose for himself, and that the man who puts his judgement of the very best machine for all riders down as infallible can be written down as an egotist, if we do not call him something even less complimentary. A certain machine may suit us to perfection, but we are not the whole world. It is our business to edit a paper, give careful information, and let our readers make their own choice. It is not our mission to pose as infallible in our judgement as to "which is the best machine made!"

NOT infrequently we note in various papers descriptions of or references to steam and electric road carriages. Of course the ardent wheelman would shun any power other than his own muscular legs, but we would welcome the introduction of a practicable and successful artificially propelled vehicle for highways. This is not because we are lazy or indifferent to the pleasures and benefits of bona fide cycling, but because any thing which will induce the public to use and depend upon the highways will improve them. All other considerations are insignificant compared to the improvement of our roads. Give us smooth highways, and all other cycling desires will be easily obtained.

THE L. A. W. Officers' meeting, held in New York City last Monday, will go on record as being one of the important, and yet withal the most harmonious in the history of the League. We give in full the report of this meeting, and we earnestly bespeak the careful attention of every League member to the reports contained therein, and especially do we ask for a careful perusal of the proposed constitution. This, it will be seen, provides for a system of government founded on the peculiarly American plan of State rights. Each Division will have the power to formulate laws, assess dues, and otherwise conduct its business on an independent plan providing such rules and laws in no way conflict with the constitution of the parent body. We desire to make plain one clause that may mislead some of our readers. We mean the clause, Article IV, Section 2, referring to League club representation. This club representation only applies to the Division in which the League club is located. These representatives have no voice in the national counsels, their powers are limited entirely to their State Division affairs. We make this explanation as we are aware that a false notion has gotten abroad as to the status of such representatives.

We also desire to congratulate the League and the State of Pennsylvania that the unfortunate Wells affair was so quietly disposed of. This adjustment of what promised to be a very disagreeable piece of business is due to forbearance and consideration shown by both sides. The financial affairs of the League for the past year have not been of the most satisfactory, but the future certainly assumes a very roseate hue. As to membership, the year opens full of promise, and with a larger list than at the beginning of the past year. It is a significant fact, and one that speaks well for the committee that have had the re-organization scheme in hand, that none but words of approval have so far been heard in commenting on the plans proposed or the schemes already carried out.

MR. F. P. PRIAL writes us that owing to the affairs of the Cycling Publishing Company being in litigation, and a satisfactory renewal of his lease of the Wheel impossible, he will henceforth cease to publish or have any connection with the Wheel or the Cycling Publishing Co. On last Friday, March 2d, he published the first number of a new cycling weekly, entitled the Wheel and Cycle Trade Review, of which he will be editor and proprietor.

"GENTLEMAN JOHN."

INPRESSIONS.

THE Ripley Road is perhaps the most noted road in connection with cycling in all Merrie England. It was down this road last Sunday that I (the guest of Mr. Harry J. Swindley of the Cyclist) rode with that gentleman on the front seat of one of Fred Cooper's tandems. I said "it was down that road;" well it was hardly that, for we journeyed from Kensington to the "Angel" at Ripley, which is at the extremity of the famous scorching ground, from the "Angel" at Ditton to the "Anchor" (at some other place, I forget the name.) Despite the muddy roads we made fair progress, following the tracks of a tandem which had gone before, driven by the bellicose Charlie Liles and the pacific Ion Poole. Past Jack Keen's place at Surbiton we journeyed, and soon pulled up at the "Angel," where a goodly number of cyclists were eating a species of yellow blanc mange (known as "Angel Pudding"), after having eaten of the famous roast beef for which the "Angel" is famous the little cycling world over. After we had partaken of some "tangle foot," we dined, and dined well. So well, indeed, that many were the complaints that were made about the tightness of waistbands, etc. After registering our illustrious names in the "Angel" register, as a special observance of the Sabbath, the day which has been set aside as a day of recreation, we pitched pennies at a clothes pin on the lawn with Tom Moore, of Land and Water, and others, with varying success. This innocent recreation over, the tandem was again mounted, and in company with Messrs. Liles and Poole we wheeled home, calling on the way on Fred Cooper, who was laid up with a sprained foot. After drinking Mr. Cooper's health (and our own) we again sped off back to Kensington with the Liles-Poole combination setting a very decent pace, considering the muddy roads.

AT the "Angel" that day were some men of note, among which might be mentioned C. W. Nairn of Wheeling, a Mr. Language, known to his confreres of the North Road Club as "John, the Baptist," from his habit of wearing a camel's hair garment, and riding in all kinds of weather, and others of the Ripley Road Club. It is said that Mr. Charles Liles is the author of the above name. On the way, the tandems, tricycles and safeties were passed in good numbers, but scarce an ordinary. It is almost bad form over here to ride an ordinary bicycle, and they may be bought cheap. The safety seems to have come to stay, and has taken a strong hold upon the wheel public. The tricycles are nearly all of the Cripper type with equal sized driving wheels, though some believe in the Humber type with long trailing back bone and a larger wheel than was at one time thought proper for use on that type of wheel. Those who have ridden this form of trike, aver that by use of the longer trailer and larger back wheel that the vibration is very much diminished, the liability to slip or skid is greatly lessened, and the steering is very much easier. There are those who claim that the Humber type is far superior to the Cripper, and some of them are not the slowest riders, by any means; but the Cripper is quite good enough for the great majority. Automatic steering has largely gone out. Several firms are building ordinary bicycles on what (in their alleged wisdom) they are pleased to call rational lines, that is, with an infernal amount of rake, and a very large back wheel. But though they may feel safe and comfortable, are not speedy and appearance is sacrificed very considerably?

STARLEY & SUTTON are building a safety with 36-inch front and 30-inch rear wheels, said to be both fast and comfortable. But that is what is claimed for nearly every type or make of machine under the sun, and which, as you know, means often very much or very little.

A FEW days ago I was entertained by Messrs. Low and McCandlish, of Wheeling, at their editorial sanctum. Several ladies graced the sanctum with their presence. The evening was spent in a delightfully informal manner, and tea was served "a la Wheeling, one Penny." The office boy was roused from his wonted lethargy and made several foraging trips in the neighborhood, which contributed in large measure to the success of the evening's entertainment.

I HAVE been elected to honorary membership in the Ripley Road Club, and shall fill the position of Club Liar with my usual eclat and sang froid.

Cune Patent.)

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

Best class of cold drawn weldless steelttubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade [illegible] trimmed in nickel with tools and tool bag.

THE testimonial is not unlike that of the tramp who wrote the following eulogy of Pear's soap, with which he had, he stated, scrubbed his countenance in the long ago: "I used your soap ten years ago, and have not used any other since."

I TRIED a safety on the snow for twenty-two miles the other day, and it answered very well, although the snow made riding heavy. It was like riding in sand, and once in a while the wheels slipped. The good folk of Peebles were astonished beyond measure to see me riding into town from Edinburgh on a "Referee" safety with lamp lit, a few nights ago. But I shall not do it again. I am not proud, and a hard and dry road is quite good enough for an easily satisfied fellow like myself. But the safety is undoubtedly the wheel. I shall not again ride an ordinary, as the safety is faster, safer and more comfortable. It is better than a trike on the hills, and more convenient in every way. The great thing is to get the bearings properly braced. I have a little machine with a diamond frame, that is as light and strong as anything I have seen, and it scales under 32 pounds, with saddle, pedals and brake. With a racing saddle and rat trap it weighs but 28 pounds, and is not a racer either, but would do very well for the path. As far as I have seen, there is not a spring fork on this side that compares for effectiveness with that of the Victor safety. I made a special hunt during the Stanley Show, and the above is gospel truth.

PITTSBURG and VICINITY.

"DUQUESNE."

ONE would think that the local cycling scribe would furnish the local news, but "Duquesne" admits that he was scooped on a bit of Pittsburg news by "England Pride," the Bicycling News. In a late issue it comments on W. A. Rowe and his prospects, then appends a biographical account of "Billy," in which it under estimates his weight about twenty-five pounds, and says he won a one-mile open in Pittsburg in 2.57 in the year 1885. This is news to me. I have been skirmishing round for items all winter, but failed to catch that one. Pardee won all the open events here in 1885. Ye Gods! Was Rowe here under an alias?

STOUT, the Star trick rider, is "showing" out at the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. He gave an exhibition at the riding school, which was much enjoyed by the riders present.

BANKER is in better shape now than ever before, and it is his intention to show Wilhelm his rear wheel this year. There is one thing sure, Wilhelm will have to work to beat him, and if they meet in the five-mile State championship this year, it will be a race and not a procession, like last year, with the tail end so far behind that it was in front. Banker has put in some good licks at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and we will see what we will see.

IT is rumored that F. L. Clark, President of the S. V. W., is in training, and expects to win the one-mile novice at our first tournament. I would advise him to cable for the eleven-pound "James" racer, which was on exhibition at the Stanley Show. Either he or it would go.

W. C. COFFIN of the A. C.s has relinquished the safety and will shove an ordinary this season. He had trouble with his pedals striking curbs and stones which resulted in bending pedal pins and cranks, otherwise he was pleased with the safety, but being an expert crank rider, he preferred straight cranks to safety and bent cranks. I believe Mr. Coffin is the only one who has given the safety a thorough trial and forsaken it.

CHICAGO.

"THE MULE."

THE coming season will find cycling in Chicago ten times more popular than ever before. This is, I know, an everyday assertion, but in this instance there are solid facts behind it. Three years ago we had but one lively cycling agency in the city; now we have a dozen or more, all willing to go to any reasonable trouble and expense to extend the popularity of the wheel. Our clubs, too, have multiplied and grown rapidly. The Chicago, formerly the only club here, still exists, and gives promise of blossoming forth again in some of its former glory. The Lincolns, formed only eight months ago, has has nearly one hundred members; the Owls, the most successful club last season, is as strong as ever; the Hermes, Illinois, and other clubs all report business brisk and applications for membership plentiful. Chicago, therefore, expects to find herself somebody in the wheeling world this year.

FOR a great deal of this prosperity, Bob Garden, Ned Oliver, and Charley Leig are responsible; for aside from the interest they take in the sport, their pocket-books are interested. Garden came here to take the place of the late Major Durell, and before a month passed became a favorite. The consequence is, that he, who months ago was nnknown, now figures, as referee here, and chairman there, so that no event can possibly occur without him. As to Oliver, the old New Yorkers who knew him, as one of the proprietors of the Wheel, would hardly recognize him now. Prosperity smiles upon him, and a double chin would be observed, but for his luxuriant beard. Many of the old timers have retired. J. O. Blake, for example, takes very little active interest in the sport. But their places have been taken by a more enthusiastic crowd, who intend to make things boom still more.

PHIL HAMMEL, who has a rather harsh experience with the Racing Board of the League, has applied for membership of the Owls, and will be admitted. There are prospects of a road race in the near future, between Hammel and a popular amateur, the latter, of course, taking advantage of the League's refusal to recognize road racing.

TOM ROE, the man who was fortunate enough to have nearly a quarter of a million of dollars left him, and is unfortunate enough not to know what to do with it, has arranged a race between Gus Kluge and H. Fulton, the latter being under the wing of Surbridge, the Victor agent. It was to have occurred Saturday, but a morning paper has been giving all hands its opinion in such strong language that it has been postponed indefinitely. In consequence of the late Minneapolis fiasco, everything with which Roe is connected is regarded with suspicion, but it is tolerably certain he has been more sinned against than sinning, His principal fault lies in allowing himself to become the prey of a flock of vultures.

JACK PRINCE was here during the week, and spoke in an enthusiastic way of cycling in Omaha. He considers the half-mile track there second only to Springfield.

THERE is a prospect of a little racing this summer, but it will be arranged principally by our two big athletic clubs. We have two tracks already, and another will be commenced shortly.

PHIL HAMMELL is anxious to arrange a race with Percy Stone, any distance, and for any reasonable amount, and will race either here or in St. Louis. A challenge will probably be issued next week.

SURBRIDGE has moved into new quarters on Wabash Ave. The Columbia, Sprinfield roadster and Victor agencies are now all in a bunch.

THE clubs promise to furnish an abundance of news this season' and I hope to furnish sufficient to render the Chicago gossip fairly interesting.

BUFFALO.

"MERCURY."

READERS of the BICYCLING WORLD, I salute you. I most humbly beg of you to bear with me on my first appearance as a contributor to this valuable little paper. "Gentleman John," "Ratchet," "Lancelot," "Linneus," "Duquesne," and orher contributors, let me grasp your hands in good fellowship, and should you ever visit Buffalo give me a call. Come when the big tournament is held this summer.

IN your issue of February 3d I saw an item concerning the Ramblers of this city, which states that they intend giving a carnival under the guidance of Mr. Ducker. The fact is, Mr. Ducker put such a proposition before the club at a special meeting held for that purpose. It was discussed at some length, but was finally dropped on account of the season being too far advanced to make it successful. Ducker claims it requires from two to three months in which to work it up. His offer holds good yet, and the club hope to take it up and push it for all it is worth to make it a success.

I NOTICE Gideon Haynes is to go on the road for W. B. Everett & Co. We are interested in his welfare as he was formerly a Buffalo wheelman; in fact. was President of the Ramblers for a time. I believe I voice the sentiments of all his Buffalo friends in wishing him a most successful career.

RETLAW wrote a very good article on club management, but he fails to supply a long felt want, the management of "Kickers." What club is so unfortunate as not to be the happy (?) posessor of three or four of these interesting individuals. They generally show themselves just after the election of officers of the club. Now, I don't mean to insinuate that they are disappointed on account of not being elected to some office, oh, no, but, gentle reader, can you tell me the why and wherefore? Retlaw, let us hear from you.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"RATCHET."

THE bill which is soon to be presented to the Legislature of this State, to give cycles the same rights as are accorded to other wheeled vehicles on the roads, is not receiving as much attention from wheelmen as it should—at least not in this section of the State. Cases of "road hogism" are few and far between in this section, and for that reason it seems difficult to convince the riders here that matters are not the same all over the State. Here we have all the privileges needed; but in "South Jersey" it's the reverse, as wheelmen as a rule are treated by drivers (not only farmers and laborers, but by the so-called "upper-tendom" as well) as though wheelmen had no right to live, let alone to ride. The legislators from South Jersey have stated that they will "kill the bill," and for this reason those from this section should be "cocked and primed" to work for its passage.

THE East Orange Township Committee, at its meeting last week, appropriated $12,000 to be used on repairing and improving its roads. This means a few more streets of macadam.

THE prospects are that the cycling track of Bergen Point Athletic Club will receive a good share of patronage from members of clubs within easy reach.

THE Passaic County Wheeling and Athletic Association will soon begin the erecting of a $3,000 club house at Passaic. The Association has over one hundred members. The initiation fee is $10.

IT is pleasant to hear the words of gratification expressed by local members of the L. A. W. at the resumption of the League organship by the BICYCLING WORLD. If I had time and space I could quote you many such pleasant expressions.

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

A LIST of prices at Hulet's Hotel, Hempstead, from one of the fraternity at that place, would be interesting to the rest of us. The Garden City Hotel management refuses to reduce prices below their present exorbitant rate of $1.25 for dinner, 75 cents for lunch, $3.00 for supper, lodging and breakfast, and the Stewart Arms is scarcely more favorable. A great deal is said of good hotels. I'd like to wager that I can name one that will break the record for general poorness. For first place I pick out the Jericho Hotel, and anybody who has been so unfortunate as to have been caught there over night will bear out what I say. Here, as is the case everywhere on the Island away from potent, civilizing influence of the summer boarder, there seems to prevail a chronic state of ignorance and blindness to improvement, all the more remarkable because of the proximity of the metropolis. Time and the wheel will cure this, I hope.

To the wheelmen, one of the pleasantest features of hotel appurtenances on the South side, where lakes are so frequent and water so plentiful, is the plunge bath. The idea makes one shiver these days, but in the heat of a July day, what could be more invigorating than a stop at Stellenwerf's for an "all over" bath in cool lake water, when on the way to Patchogue.

THE Ilderans of Brooklyn have decided to consolidate with the Brooklyn Bi. Club, the latter practically absorbing the former. The Brooklyns are rapidly recruiting, and should have close to one hundred and fifty members by the opening of the riding season. Five of this club enjoyed (?) a little spin down to Coney Island and back on Sunday morning, returning with various momentos with which they decorated the club house. These included a ship's

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

(Yost & McCune Patent.)

The Only Absolutely Safe Wheel Against "Headers" Made.
It is the Best, and it is also the Cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER.

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

Best class of cold drawn weldless steelttubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

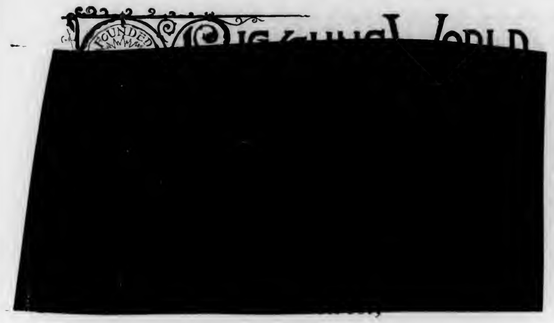
Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., - New York, N. Y.
C. F. STOKES, - - - - Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., - Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

Have You Seen the 1888 NEW MAIL?



SURELY GET A CATALOGUE,

OR SEND FOR A HANDSOME CARD, Illustration of it.

MAILED FREE.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., BOSTON.

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

For rates, etc., address Mr. Hazard as above.

All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

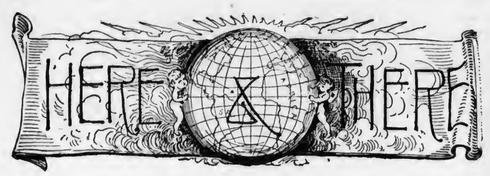
EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 9 MARCH, 1888.

LEAGUE matters place us in the position where we have again to apologize for the crowding out of matter. We shall have to provide for a supplement next week, unless we can see our way clear to getting even in our regular space once more. We are scarcely on our feet as yet, but we will soon steady down into our regular swing, and all we ask is a little patience, kind sirs.

A GOOD tale reaches us via the C. T. C. Gazette. An Irish member of that vast organization left the Emerald Isle and went to Canada. At Montreal £6 customs duties were demanded on his cycle. He refused to pay, but now asserts that after some discussion and the production of card of membership in the C. T. C., his machine was delivered on payment of the reduced sum of 26 shillings. This is an admirable certificate of the intelligence of Canadian customs officials. Pretty soon we shall expect to hear that one can pay his hotel bills and square his tailor by "producing" his C. T. C. certificate of membership.



WE are constantly being asked by our readers what wheel we consider the "best," and wherein the superiority of such and such a type obtains over that of another. At the present moment we have no less than five letters from different sections of the country propounding this conundrum in various forms. Some eight weeks ago we published an article on the future of the ordinary and the rear-driving safety, which we think is applicable to those who desire to be enlightened as to which is the "best" cycle to ride? Tastes differ, circumstances alter cases, and what for one man is the correct thing, for another would be entirely out of place. These may be glittering generalities, and we intend that they should be. One thing we are certain of, and that is, because we, for instance, find a certain mount to meet our requirements much better than any other, it is no reason that our next door neighbor, after a good trial, should come to the same conclusion as ourselves. There are men who have tried both lever and rotary motion, and have discarded the former as worthless, there are also riders of equally good judgemnt and experience who aver that the rotary method of driving is one that wastes good power, and so on! Witness the savage war now going on between those who believe in the merits of the rear-driver and those who say the ordinary is the only machine to ride! What do we learn from this class of adverse opinion and criticism? On our part we learn the lesson that every man must choose for himself, and that the man who puts his judgement of the very best machine for all riders down as infallible can be written down as an egotist, if we do not call him something even less complimentary. A certain machine may suit us to perfection, but we are not the whole world. It is our business to edit a paper, give careful information, and let our readers make their own choice. It is not our mission to pose as infallible in our judgement as to "which is the best machine made!"

NOT infrequently we note in various papers descriptions of or references to steam and electric road carriages. Of course the ardent wheelman would shun any power other than his own muscular legs, but we would welcome the introduction of a practicable and successful artificially propelled vehicle for highways. This is not because we are lazy or indifferent to the pleasures and benefits of bona fide cycling, but because any thing which will induce the public to use and depend upon the highways will improve them. All other considerations are insignificant compared to the improvement of our roads. Give us smooth highways, and all other cycling desires will be easily obtained.

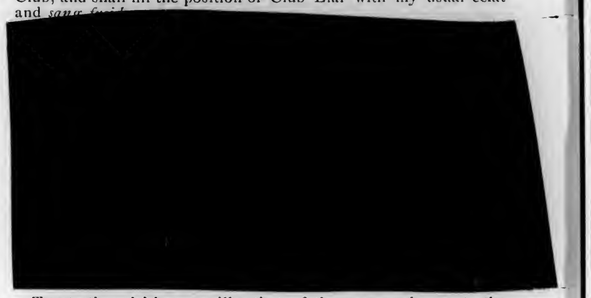
THE L. A. W. Officers' meeting, held in New York City last Monday, will go on record as being one of the important, and yet withal the most harmonious in the history of the League. We give in full the report of this meeting, and we earnestly bespeak the careful attention of every League member to the reports contained therein, and especially do we ask for a careful perusal of the proposed constitution. This, it will be seen, provides for a system of government founded on the peculiarly American plan of State rights. Each Division will have the power to formulate laws, assess dues, and otherwise conduct its business on an independent plan providing such rules and laws in no way conflict with the constitution of the parent body. We desire to make plain one clause that may mislead some of our readers. We mean the clause, Article IV, Section 2, referring to League club representation. This club representation only applies to the Division in which the League club is located. These representatives have no voice in the national counsels, their powers are limited entirely to their State Division affairs. We make this explanation as we are aware that a false notion has gotten abroad as to the status of such representatives.

We also desire to congratulate the League and the State of Pennsylvania that the unfortunate Wells affair was so quietly disposed of. This adjustment of what promised to be a very disagreeable piece of business is due to forbearance and consideration shown by both sides. The financial affairs of the League for the past year have not been of the most satisfactory, but the future certainly assumes a very roseate hue. As to membership, the year opens full of promise, and with a larger list than at the beginning of the past year. It is a significant fact, and one that speaks well for the committee that have had the re-organization scheme in hand, that none but words of approval have so far been heard in commenting on the plans proposed or the schemes already carried out.

MR. F. P. PRIAL writes us that owing to the affairs of the Cycling Publishing Company being in litigation, and a satisfactory renewal of his lease of the Wheel impossible, he will henceforth cease to publish or have any connection with the Wheel or the Cycling Publishing Co. On last Friday, March 2d, he published the first number of a new cycling weekly, entitled the Wheel and Cycle Trade Review, of which he will be editor and proprietor.

"GENTLEMAN JOHN."

INPRESSIONS.



THE Ripley Road is perhaps the most noted road in connection with cycling in all Merrie England. It was down this road last Sunday that I (the guest of Mr. Harry J. Swindley of the Cyclist) rode with that gentleman on the front seat of one of Fred Cooper's tandems. I said "it was down that road;" well it was hardly that, for we journeyed from Kensington to the "Angel" at Ripley, which is at the extremity of the famous scorching ground, from the "Angel" at Ditton to the "Anchor" (at some other place, I forget the name.) Despite the muddy roads we made fair progress, following the tracks of a tandem which had gone before, driven by the bellicose Charlie Liles and the pacific Ion Poole. Past Jack Keen's place at Surbiton we journeyed, and soon pulled up at the "Angel," where a goodly number of cyclists were eating a species of yellow blanc mange (known as "Angel Pudding"), after having eaten of the famous roast beef for which the "Angel" is famous the little cycling world over. After we had partaken of some "tangle foot," we dined, and dined well. So well, indeed, that many were the complaints that were made about the tightness of waistbands, etc. After registering our illustrious names in the "Angel" register, as a special observance of the Sabbath, the day which has been set aside as a day of recreation, we pitched pennies at a clothes pin on the lawn with Tom Moore, of Land and Water, and others, with varying success. This innocent recreation over, the tandem was again mounted, and in company with Messrs. Liles and Poole we wheeled home, calling on the way on Fred Cooper, who was laid up with a sprained foot. After drinking Mr. Cooper's health (and our own) we again sped off back to Kensington with the Liles-Poole combination setting a very decent pace, considering the muddy roads.

AT the "Angel" that day were some men of note, among which might be mentioned C. W. Nairn of Wheeling, a Mr. Language, known to his confreres of the North Road Club as "John, the Baptist," from his habit of wearing a camel's hair garment, and riding in all kinds of weather, and others of the Ripley Road Club. It is said that Mr. Charles Liles is the author of the above name. On the way, the tandems, tricycles and safeties were passed in good numbers, but scarce an ordinary. It is almost bad form over here to ride an ordinary bicycle, and they may be bought cheap. The safety seems to have come to stay, and has taken a strong hold upon the wheel public. The tricycles are nearly all of the Cripper type with equal sized driving wheels, though some believe in the Humber type with long trailing back bone and a larger wheel than was at one time thought proper for use on that type of wheel. Those who have ridden this form of trike, aver that by use of the longer trailer and larger back wheel that the vibration is very much diminished, the liability to slip or skid is greatly lessened, and the steering is very much easier. There are those who claim that the Humber type is far superior to the Cripper, and some of them are not the slowest riders, by any means; but the Cripper is quite good enough for the great majority. Automatic steering has largely gone out. Several firms are building ordinary bicycles on what (in their alleged wisdom) they are pleased to call rational lines, that is, with an infernal amount of rake, and a very large back wheel. But though they may feel safe and comfortable, are not speedy and appearance is sacrificed very considerably?

STARLEY & SUTTON are building a safety with 36-inch front and 30-inch rear wheels, said to be both fast and comfortable. But that is what is claimed for nearly every type or make of machine under the sun, and which, as you know, means often very much or very little.

A FEW days ago I was entertained by Messrs. Low and McCandlish, of Wheeling, at their editorial sanctum. Several ladies graced the sanctum with their presence. The evening was spent in a delightfully informal manner, and tea was served "a la Wheeling, one Penny." The office boy was roused from his wonted lethargy and made several foraging trips in the neighborhood, which contributed in large measure to the success of the evening's entertainment.

I HAVE been elected to honorary membership in the Ripley Road Club, and shall fill the position of Club Liar with my usual eclat and some gold

THE testimonial is not unlike that of the tramp who wrote the following eulogy of Pear's soap, with which he had, he stated, scrubbed his countenance in the long ago: "I used your soap ten years ago, and have not used any other since."

I TRIED a safety on the snow for twenty-two miles the other day, and it answered very well, although the snow made riding heavy. It was like riding in sand, and once in a while the wheels slipped. The good folk of Peebles were astonished beyond measure to see me riding into town from Edinburgh on a "Referee" safety with lamp lit, a few nights ago. But I shall not do it again. I am not proud, and a hard and dry road is quite good enough for an easily satisfied fellow like myself. But the safety is undoubtedly the wheel. I shall not again ride an ordinary, as the safety is faster, safer and more comfortable. It is better than a trike on the hills, and more convenient in every way. The great thing is to get the bearings properly braced. I have a little machine with a diamond frame, that is as light and strong as anything I have seen, and it scales under 32 pounds, with saddle, pedals and brake. With a racing saddle and rat trap it weighs but 28 pounds, and is not a racer either, but would do very well for the path. As far as I have seen, there is not a spring fork on this side that compares for effectiveness with that of the Victor safety. I made a special hunt during the Stanley Show, and the above is gospel truth.

PITTSBURG and VICINITY.

"DUQUESNE."

ONE would think that the local cycling scribe would furnish the local news, but "Duquesne" admits that he was scooped on a bit of Pittsburg news by "England Pride," the Bicycling News. In a late issue it comments on W. A. Rowe and his prospects, then appends a biographical account of "Billy," in which it underestimates his weight about twenty-five pounds, and says he won a one-mile open in Pittsbueg in 2.57 in the year 1885. This is news to me. I have been skirmishing round for items all winter, but failed to catch that one. Pardee won all the open events here in 1885. Ye Gods! Was Rowe here under an alias?

STOUT, the Star trick rider, is "showing" out at the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. He gave an exhibition at the riding school, which was much enjoyed by the riders present.

BANKER is in better shape now than ever before, and it is his intention to show Willelm his rear wheel this year. There is one thing sure, Wilhelm will have to work to beat him, and if they meet in the five-mile State championship this year, it will be a race and not a procession, like last year, with the tail end so far behind that it was in front. Banker has put in some good licks at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and we will see what we will see.

IT is rumored that F. L. Clark, President of the S. V. W., is in training, and expects to win the one-mile novice at our first tournament. I would advise him to cable for the eleven-pound "James" racer, which was on exhibition at the Stanley Show. Either he or it would go.

W. C. COFFIN of the A. C.s has relinquished the safety and will shove an ordinary this season. He had trouble with his pedals striking curbs and stones which resulted in bending pedal pins and cranks, otherwise he was pleased with the safety, but being an expert crank rider, he preferred straight cranks to safety and bent cranks. I believe Mr. Coffin is the only one who has given the safety a thorough trial and forsaken it.

CHICAGO.

"THE MULE."

THE coming season will find cycling in Chicago ten times more popular than ever before. This is, I know, an everyday assertion, but in this instance there are solid facts behind it. Three years ago we had but one lively cycling agency in the city; now we have a dozen or more, all willing to go to any reasonable trouble and expense to extend the popularity of the wheel. Our clubs, too, have multiplied and grown rapidly. The Chicago, formerly the only club here, still exists, and gives promise of blossoming forth again in some of its former glory. The Lincolns, formed only eight months ago, has has nearly one hundred members; the Owls, the most successful club last season, is as strong as ever; the Hermes, Illinois, and other clubs all report business brisk and applications for membership plentiful. Chicago, therefore, expects to find herself somebody in the wheeling world this year.

FOR a great deal of this prosperity, Bob Garden, Ned Oliver, and Charley Leig are responsible; for aside from the interest they take in the sport, their pocket-books are interested. Garden came here to take the place of the late Major Durell, and before a month passed became a favorite. The consequence is, that he, who months ago was unknown, now figures, as referee here, and chairman there, so that no event can possibly occur without him. As to Oliver, the old New Yorkers who knew him, as one of the proprietors of the Wheel, would hardly recognize him now. Prosperity smiles upon him, and a double chin would be observed, but for his luxuriant beard. Many of the old timers have retired. J. O. Blake, for example, takes very little active interest in the sport. But their places have been taken by a more enthusiastic crowd, who intend to make things boom still more.

PHIL HAMMEL, who has a rather harsh experience with the Racing Board of the League, has applied for membership of the Owls, and will be admitted. There are prospects of a road race in the near future, between Hammel and a popular amateur, the latter, of course, taking advantage of the League's refusal to recognize road racing.

TOM ROE, the man who was fortunate enough to have nearly a quarter of a million of dollars left him, and is unfortunate enough not to know what to do with it, has arranged a race between Gus Kluge and H. Fulton, the latter being under the wing of Surbridge, the Victor agent. It was to have occurred Saturday, but a morning paper has been giving all hands its opinion in such strong language that it has been postponed indefinitely. In consequence of the late Minneapolis fiasco, everything with which Roe is connected is regarded with suspicion, but it is tolerably certain he has been more sinned against than sinning, His principal fault lies in allowing himself to become the prey of a flock of vultures.

JACK PRINCE was here during the week, and spoke in an enthusiastic way of cycling in Omaha. He considers the half-mile track there second only to Springfield.

THERE is a prospect of a little racing this summer, but it will be arranged principally by our two big athletic clubs. We have two tracks already, and another will be commenced shortly.

PHIL HAMMELL is anxious to arrange a race with Percy Stone, any distance, and for any reasonable amount, and will race either here or in St. Louis. A challenge will probably be issued next week.

SURBRIDGE has moved into new quarters on Wabash Ave. The Columbia, Sprinfield roadster and Victor agencies are now all in a bunch.

THE clubs promise to furnish an abundance of news this season and I hope to furnish sufficient to render the Chicago gossip fairly interesting.

BUFFALO.

"MERCURY."

READERS of the BICYCLING WORLD, I salute you. I most humbly beg of you to bear with me on my first appearance as a contributor to this valuable little paper. "Gentleman John," "Ratchet," "Lancelot," "Linneus," "Duquesne," and orher contributors, let me grasp your hands in good fellowship, and should you ever visit Buffalo give me a call. Come when the big tournament is held this summer.

IN your issue of February 3d I saw an item concerning the Ramblers of this city, which states that they intend giving a carnival under the guidance of Mr. Ducker. The fact is, Mr. Ducker put such a proposition before the club at a special meeting held for that purpose. It was discussed at some length, but was finally dropped on account of the season being too far advanced to make it successful. Ducker claims it requires from two to three months in which to work it up. His offer holds good yet, and the club hope to take it up and push it for all it is worth to make it a success.

I NOTICE Gideon Haynes is to go on the road for W. B. Everett & Co. We are interested in his welfare as he was formerly a Buffalo wheelman; in fact. was President of the Ramblers for a time. I believe I voice the sentiments of all his Buffalo friends in wishing him a most successful career.

RETLAW wrote a very good article on club management, but he fails to supply a long felt want, the management of "Kickers." What club is so unfortunate as not to be the happy (?) posessor of three or four of these interesting individuals. They generally show themselves just after the election of officers of the club. Now, I don't mean to insinuate that they are disappointed on account of not being elected to some office, oh, no, but, gentle reader, can you tell me the why and wherefore? Retlaw, let us hear from you.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"RATCHET."

THE bill which is soon to be presented to the Legislature of this State, to give cycles the same rights as are accorded to other wheeled vehicles on the roads, is not receiving as much attention from wheelmen as it should—at least not in this section of the State. Cases of "road hogism" are few and far between in this section, and for that reason it seems difficult to convince the riders here that matters are not the same all over the State. Here we have all the privileges needed; but in "South Jarsey" it's the reverse, as wheelmen as a rule are treated by drivers (not only farmers and laborers, but by the so-called "upper-tendom" as well) as though wheelmen had no right to live, let alone to ride. The legislators from South Jersey have stated that they will "kill the bill," and for this reason those from this section should be "cocked and primed" to work for its passage.

THE East Orange Township Committee, at its meeting last week, appropriated $12,000 to be used on repairing and improving its roads. This means a few more streets of macadam.

THE prospects are that the cycling track of Bergen Point Athletic Club will receive a good share of patronage from members of clubs within easy reach.

THE Passaic County Wheeling and Athletic Association will soon begin the erecting of a $3,000 club house at Passaic. The Association has over one hundred members. The initiation fee is $10.

IT is pleasant to hear the words of gratification expressed by local members of the L. A. W. at the resumption of the League organship by the BICYCLING WORLD. If I had time and space I could quote you many such pleasant expressions.

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

A LIST of prices at Hulet's Hotel, Hempstead, from one of the fraternity at that place, would be interesting to the rest of us. The Garden City Hotel management refuses to reduce prices below their present exorbitant rate of $1.25 for dinner, 75 cents for lunch, $3.00 for supper, lodging and breakfast, and the Stewart Arms is scarcely more favorable. A great deal is said of good hotels. I'd like to wager that I can name one that will break the record for general poorness. For first place I pick out the Jericho Hotel, and anybody who has been so unfortunate as to have been caught there over night will bear out what I say. Here, as is the case everywhere on the Island away from potent, civilizing influence of the summer boarder, there seems to prevail a chronic state of ignorance and blindness to improvement, all the more remarkable because of the proximity of the metropolis. Time and the wheel will cure this, I hope.

TO the wheelmen, one of the pleasantest features of hotel appurtenances on the South side, where lakes are so frequent and water so plentiful, is the plunge bath. The idea makes one shiver these days, but in the heat of a July day, what could be more invigorating than a stop at Stellenwerf's for an "all over" bath in cool lake water, when on the way to Patchogue.

THE Ilderans of Brooklyn have decided to consolidate with the Brooklyn Bi. Club, the latter practically absorbing the former. The Brooklyns are rapidly recruiting, and should have close to one hundred and fifty members by the opening of the riding season. Five of this club enjoyed (?) a little spin down to Coney Island and back on Sunday morning, returning with various momentos with which they decorated the club house. These included a ship's hawser, sugar-scoop, clam-shells, a Christmas tree in parts, and the O'Leary belt, the latter having been presented to the beauty of the club, by Pa Neptune, in appreciation of his temerity, the thermometer being about 15 degrees above, and the wind blowing at 25 miles per hour.

THE Huntington Bicycle Club has changed its name to the "Huntington Bicycle Social Club," and has rented a commodious clubroom, having taken in about thirty new members. The officers of the new club are Douglas Conklin, President; Geo. M. Tiloston, Vice President; H. F. Rogers, Secretary and Treasurer; and Dr. Turner, Surgeon. For natural scenery, I consider the views about Huntington and Cold Spring unequalled on the Island.

It seems queer that with the daily example of so many visiting wheelmen before them, there should be so few cyclers on the South Side. The natural advantages are all in their favor, yet I know of but two between Hempstead and Patchogue, and one of these is the newsman at Bay Shore.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

HARRY COREY has stopped making records on the path, but for a railroad record we think the following will certainly stand. He writes: "I had an engagement last Sunday in Boston, but Saturday night found me in Syracuse, and an engagement ahead of me in Philadelphia for 9 A. M. Monday. How to leave Syracuse Saturday night, be in Boston on Sunday and Philadelphia on Monday at 9 A. M. was a puzzler, but while thinking the matter over in the railroad station in Syracuse at 9 P. M., the Boston express came through and after a hasty calculation I jumped on board and went to bed. Woke up in Boston Sunday morning, went to church, had a talk with our Secretary (E. W. Pope), spent a mighty pleasant afternoon, and took the 6.30 Sunday night for Philadelphia, arriving at 7 o'clock Monday morning."

MR. H. B. HART of Philadelphia made us a pleasant call last Tuesday.

ROWE is credited by the English papers with placing Crocker at the head of the American professionals left in this country.

THERE were nine hundred visitors to the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club house in Philadelphia, on Washington's Birthday. We think this must be the biggest on record.

W. S. DOANE is back from the West on business. He may go back out West again, or he may stay East in the interests of the concern he expects to be with this season.

OUR friend, the Item's deduction that because the percentage of gain made in the League is only 18 per cent. for 1887, as against 101 per cent. and 92 per cent., that something must have been out is not quite just. It must be remembered that in 1885 and 1886 a comparatively small proportion of riders were League members, while now the percentage is much larger, it necessarily follows that the percentage of increase must be lower because the material outside the national organization is less in numbers.

WE have been in personal communication with Mr. Wells of Philadelphia and Mr. Shurman of Lynn in regard to a hill-climbing contest on Corey Hill. It is agreed between them that each contestant shall start alone, and as this was a concession on Mr. Shurman's part, he asks that Mr. Wells make the first attempt. July 14 is the date preferrred by Mr. Shurman. In all probability Mr. Shurman will be in Philadelphia during the next month, and articles of agreement will no doubt be entered into by the Philadelphia and the Lynn gentlemen. Mr. Wells has announced his intention of tackling Corey Hill next July, match or no match.

WE beg the Philadelphia Item's pardon for overlooking the announcement made by the Item, that the WORLD had been appointed official organ. We also beg to make the amende honorable, for our hasty works caused by our error in not noting the Item's news on the subject. The Item returns good for evil as follows: "The BICYCLING WORLD above all the existing cycling periodicals deserved to get the official organship of American National Cycling Association, and that it did get it was noted in the Item, but the WORLD was presumably so happy that it passed over what it evidently was looking for. It is all right friend WORLD, Philadelpeia wishes you a longer lease of life than the Bulletin was fated to have."

"KARL KRON is at work again, and he now has his little pile of newspaper criticisms on his book "Ten thousand miles on a bicycle," ready to fire off at any one who ventures to send him a one-cent stamp. This compilation of criticisms fills no less than 123 pages regular pamphlet size, and it is, so to speak, the son of its father, the great X miles." We have one or two communications from K. K., on the above and kindred subjects, which shall see the light of day through our columns at any early day.

To those who want to buy or to sell a second-hand bicycle we commend our "For Sale and Exchange" column. Now is the time to sell second-hand machines.

THE Lynn Cycle Track will be kept in good shape during the coming season. Mr. Murphy, the present proprietor, asserts that the present surface will not be disturbed.

THERE is some faint chance that the American team, together with a "European attachment" of the best they have over there, will visit this country this fall. If war in Europe breaks out it will rather knock the Senator's plans for a Continental campaign.

MR. SAM'L T. CLARK, of the Clark Cycle Co., of Baltimore, has just returned from a very successful trip abroad. This firm will push with increasing vigor the interests of the New Rapid cycles and the Quadrant tricycle. We shall hope to hear from the firm in regard to any specialties that they may have to present to the public.

ROWE and Howell will ride three races for $500 a side,—a one, five, and ten mile race. The winning of two out of three to take the stakes. The first race, five miles, to be run off at the Belgrave-road Grounds, Leicester, on Saturday, April 14. To be on the mark at 4.30 in the afternoon. The second match (one mile) to be run off at Wolverhampton on April 28, and the ten-mile match at Coventry on Saturday, May 12. To be on the mark for the mile match at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and for ten mile match at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE cowboys and the cyclists will have another go at each other, The parties agree to contest a six-day, eight-hour-per-day race at Royal Agricultural Hall, London, commencing March 19, and ending March 24. The race to be for a purse of £250. The cowboys to use an unlimited number of mustangs, and to have use of the outside track, and the bicyclists the inside raised track. The cowboys to change at will, and the bicyclists each thirty minutes. Each side to be allowed the use of an extra man in case of accidents only.

A LEAGUE member from Washington writes us as follows: "Answering your criticisms in a recent issue of the BI. WORLD, are not your remarks on the unsuitability of the two-wheeled machine for ladies on a par with the generally conceived impression that to ride a bicycle a lady had to straddle it? Can any style of bicycle throw as much mud as a tricycle, surrounded top and bottom as one necessarily is with the three or four wheels? We have used the ladies' bicycle, we fear you have not, and we know it much cleaner than any tricycle can be; and as to whether ladies will ride them, you should come to Washington and see with what zeal they are doing it, mud or no mud."

REV. WM. JOHNSON is the only clergyman in St. Louis who rides a wheel. Let us hope that his example will cause more of the brain-worked St. Louis gentlemen of the cloth to take to the cycle as an anihilator of time and an enemy to dyspepsia. Speaking of the reasons why clergymen do not cycle more generally, Mr. Johnson sensibly says: "Probably clergymen imagine that they will lose in dignity. Let me say that is a mistake. I do not think that there is a clergyman who will say that he has dropped a single inch in the estimation of any person whose opinion is worth having. They have lost nothing, and on the contrary have gained health, renewed youth and happiness.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

Having received a most cordial invitation to be present at a surprise party to be given at Amaranth Hall, Wellington, Mass.; we found ourselves on the train bound for that pretty suburban retreat at 6.25 P. M., last Saturday. The "surprised," if we may be permitted to coin a fitting word, was Mr. Charles Hopkins, of Wellington, and the "surprisers" (again a liberty with the English language) were the members of the Ladies' North Shore Tour of 1887 and a few of their friends. During the interval between our arrival and the appearance of Mr. Hopkins, those inclined tripped the light fantastic. On the arrival of the beneficiary and after hand-shaking all round a most enjoyable impromptu entertainment was given. Music, both vocal and instrumental, recitations, and fancy dancing went to make up a most excellent entertainment. Miss Carrie Hayden danced one of the Spanish national dances in an exceedingly graceful manner, and then this versatile young lady impersonated Topsy in a way that showed unbounded talent. Mrs. Ober gave a humorous recitation of how a woman applied for a

Not So Simple But Fact.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 22d, 1888.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIRS:—

We have a Club membership of 32 riders of which 31 ride the AMERICAN wheel and we are well satisfied with our choice. Yours Respectfully,
M. B. Edmiston, Captain; Natl. D. Elliott, President; D. W. Wallace, Lieutenant, Fred Willson, Sec. and Treas., Marion Ramblers.

FLATONIA, Texas, Oct. 1st, 1887.

Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs—Do not read this unless you want to see how we appreciate your wheels. After 3 years' use we are satisfied to ride nothing else but G. & J. Wheels within 50 miles of here. Our town club has 12 bicycles, and every wheel is your make." Yours truly,
FLATONIA BICYCLE CLUB, Flatonia, Texas.

Most complete Catalogue in the trade, 64 pages, on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG CO.,
CHICAGO, - - ILL.

Largest American Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1.	For Gentlemen	$175
No. 2.	For Ladies or Gentlemen (The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")	175
No. 3.	For Ladies or Gentlemen	160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman.

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195.
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

The Swift
SAFETY.

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
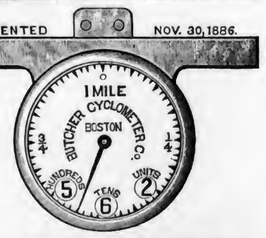
MADE.

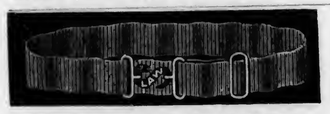
THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

Send for Catalogue.



THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.



All the Accepted Road Records
Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.
Free by Mail on Receipt of
PRICE, . . $10.00.

PATENTED NOV. 30, 1886.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.
SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF
PRICE, ... $5.00.

L. A. W. SILK BELT,
To match uniform, with silver snake buckles $1.00.
Ira Perego
128 and 130 Fulton St., and 87 Nashua St.,
NEW YORK.
Send 2 cent stamp for our new 52 page illustrated catalogue.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

divorce on the ground that her husband was an inveterate "joiner," —he would "join" everything in the shape of a secret society. Then followed some delightful guitar and cello music by Mrs. Hopkins, Miss Sternes, and Mr. Barker. Miss Sternes also sang. Miss Gardiner gave the sad story of Genevera with intensity and much dramatic force. Mr. Barker sang that good old song, "Ben Bolt," and also a humorous one on the delights (?) of old bachelorhood. Mr. Page's stories of how two "dead broke" Chicago drummers "came it" on a Sunday School were mirthful and well told. Miss Nellie Sturtevant gave a most remarkable pantomime of the story by Adelaide Proctor, and the "Faithful Soul." It was a very clear exposition of what can be done by pantomime alone. "Bridget and the Tricycle," an original composition by Mrs. Hopkins, was inimitably rendered by that lady. It is one of the best things of the kind it has ever been our pleasure to hear. Miss Fay Davis read very piquantly a satirical portrayal of true love, "Modern True Love." It was a dainty little morsel of rhetoric. Alas, trains won't even wait for editors, and so we had to leave, as the merry-making commenced to wax fast. A Virginia reel and then a bolt for the station. With the exception of three we believe every member of the North Shore Tourists were present. Won't some one "surprise" us some more? We like it.

L. A. W. BOARD OF OFFICERS' MEETING.

The convention held at the Grand Union Hotel last Monday, was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock by President Kirkpatrick, but no business could be transacted until the report of the Committee on Credentials was received. This committee consisted of Messrs. W. H. Emery of Boston, W. W. Share of Brooklyn, and W. R. Tucker of Pennsylvania, and they finished their task at 11.30. The report showed that the number of members of the Board present was 49, and that they represented 103 proxies. The proxies of Sandford Northrup of New Jersey and B. S. Rose of New Jersey were rejected because the owners had neglected to renew their membership before March 1. The report was accepted without debate.

Mr. Tucker, a recently appointed representative from Pennsylvania asked for recognition, and his appointment was at once confirmed, so that he might be allowed to address the meeting. He spoke at considerable length on the case of John A. Wells, whose appointment to membership in the Board had been refused confirmation at the last meeting of the Board. He said that he spoke without prejudice and with only a desire for justice. He wished to state that in his opinion a serious mistake would have been made had Mr. Wells been elected Secretary-Editor, considering that gentleman's financial connection with the Bulletin, but he did think that it was only fair that a committee of five unprejudiced members should be appointed to investigate the charges made or to be made against him.

Mr. Clapp objected, stating that no charges had been made against Mr. Wells in this matter. It was simply a question of his confirmation.

Mr. Tucker admitted the truth of this, and amended his motion accordingly.

The President then appointed the committee as follows: Messrs. Dunn of Ohio, Mealy of Baltimore, Kendall of Boston, and Brewster of St. Louis. The committee at once retired, and were not heard from again until late in the afternoon.

Secretary Bassett read the following appointments as having been made since the last meeting of the Board of Officers: Chief Consuls—R. H. Polk of Montgomery, Ala.

Representatives—George S. Atwater, of Washington; Thomas Bray, of Chicago; E. P. Blake, of Bloomington; Samuel T. Clark, J. Kemp Bartlett, Jr., of Baltimore; Wm. A. Mosman, of Jamaica Plain; Edward C. Hodges, of Boston; L. B. Graves, of Minneapolis; Robert Holm, E. L. Mockler, of St. Louis; Harry G. Stuart, of Kansas City; T. H. Pollock, of Plattsmouth; Dr. Henry Jackson, of Salem, N. J.; C. C. Byers, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; Geo. Dakin, of Buffalo; E. K. Austin, of Flatbush; J. M. Warwick, of New York; J. R. Knowlson, of Troy; A. H. Brown, of Toledo; W. R. Tucker, John A. Wells, of Philadelphia.

All the above were confirmed, except the appointment of John A. Wells, which was laid on the table.

The roll call showed the following members of the board to be present: From New York—George R. Bidwell, C. H. Luscomb, W. W. Share, K. L. Clapp, N. M. Beckwith, W. S. Bull, A. M. Dickinson, J. R. Knowlson, C. S. Butler, J. C. Gulick, A. B. Barkman, W. H. DeGraaf, E. A. Schriver, I. R. Adriance, H. C. Spaulding, Gerry Jones, F. B. Graves, J. W. Clute, G. M. Gesbitt and J. R. Knowlson. Massachusetts—H. W. Hayes, W. H. Emery, G. W. Parker, A. W. Robinson, C. S. Howard, Abbot Bassett, W. G. Kendall, W. R. Maxwell, H. S. Wallison, J. B. Seward, and E. B. Coleman. California—J. W. Gibson. Connecticut—W. M. Frisbie. District Columbia—E. F. Pettingill and G. S. Atwater. Maryland A. E. Mealy. Missouri—W. M. Brewster. New Jersey—J. H. Cooley, L. H. Porter, C. F. A. Kinch, Jr. Ohio—James R. Dunn and T. J. Kirkpatrick. Pennsylvania—G. A. Jessup, J. E. Carpenter, Kirk Brown, Frank Read, J. E. Harder, J. J. Van Nort, J. A. Dayton and W. R. Tucker. Rhode Island—C. S. Davol and H. L. Perkins.

Vice President Hayes took the chair at this time, to allow President Kirkpatrick to appear before the Wells Investigating Committee.

The Treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Brewster. The report showed that the receipts, including the balance on hand Oct. 14 and $70 received from life membership fees, to be $666.01. The expenditures have been, John C. Gulick, Attorney's fees, $340.45; balance, $325.56; less life membership reserve fund, $295.00; cash on hand, $30.56.

Small bills amounting to a total of $245.61 remain unpaid because of lack of funds.

Secretary Bassett presented his report as follows:

In presenting my report at this time it gives me pleasure to note that the affairs of the League, so far as this office is concerned, presented never before, during my incumbency, so promising an outlook. The office is relieved of the expense of the Bulletin, is guaranteed an income for the year, and the attention of the Secretary can now be turned in part towards other work than the weekly preparation of a paper. Moreover, the office is out of debt. All sums due the divisions last year have been paid, and we are now in possession of funds sufficient to pay every dollar we owe, and, furthermore, we shall be able to settle with the divisions in full on next quarter day, unless the funds now in hand and at our command are drawn upon by the Treasurer to meet bills in his hands for legal services dating back to 1886, and which of right should be paid. We have been carrying many an inheritance of this kind, and when these are cancelled we have only our own burdens to carry, and these we can easily maintain.

One year ago it was stated that an earnest effort would be made to make the Bulletin self-sustaining, and this statement was coupled with a promise that if failure ensued it would be confessed. During the year our hopes were raised at times, and we believed that we could attain our end, but the winter months covered us with confusion, and we gave up all hope of profit from the paper under the existing order of things.

It will be remembered that the present management took charge of the paper, and had to accept contracts from the largest advertisers at prices far below cost, and thus at the outset we had to give up all thoughts of any considerable income from the Bulletin. During the first two months of the year we had to publish at great expense several very long stenographic reports of meetings, and it was to be expected that there would be a loss. In March the income for advertising came within $10 of paying the printer's bills. In the months of April, May, June, July and August the receipts were in excess of the bills for printing, but after that, and to Jan. 1st, when cycles were housed and trade was dull the Bulletin went behind. We entered into a contract in September with a very capable advertising agent to take full and exclusive control of the advertising department outside of the cycling interest, and the Secretary relaxed his efforts to obtain business. The arrangement was not productive of much new business.

The following tables give comparisons of the business for the past two years:

Copies printed, 1887	609,950
Copies printed, 1886	484,150
Excess in 1887	125,800

Cost to print, 1887	$12,373 80	Cost to print, 1886	$13,808 76
Rec'd Advt., 1887	10,611 10	Rec'd Advt., 1886	10,337 85
Loss, 1887	$1,762 70	Loss, 1886	$3,470 91
Accts. to profit and loss, '87.	$426 59	Act's to profit and loss, '86.	$1,034 06

The experiences of the year told us one thing, and that very plainly, and that is that the Bulletin could only be made to pay by conducting it as a business enterprise, in which a large amount of money must be sunk before any profits could be realized. It is no small undertaking for the League to undertake to furnish each and every member with a paper that by all precedents is worth $1 in the market, to conduct all of its clerical work, pay legal expenses, etc., etc., and all this for 64 cents per capita. The League is without capital, and it has no money to lose even though down the vistas of the future it may discern the glare of a prospective profit.

But we can congratulate ourselves that a well-known and responsible publishing house has come forward to try the experiment for us, and to demonstrate if it be feasible for a paper to pay a profit with no income save from its advertising. A weekly paper will go to each and every member of the League during 1888.

The expenses of the Secretary's office for the year have been $5687.96. Of this sum $3000 belongs to the first six months, and $2000 to the second. During the year to come it is very probable that the expenses will be cut down below even the figures of the last six months. Included in the office expenses is the sum of $500 for postage paid on correspondence which may indicate the work done by the Secretary in this direction.

Appended we give statistical tables showing the membership of the League for 1886 and 1887, and the renewals for 1887 and 1888. The renewals for 1888 are not yet completed, for they are still coming from the remote divisions, and many will have to be added.

Totals Shown.

Membership, 1886	10,264
Renewals, 1887	7,707
Membership, 1887	11,939
Renewals, 1888
Applications, 1888, to March 2	639
Life members	48

Membership to Date.

Renewals	7,761
Applications published	639
Applications on hand	53
Life members	48
	$501

League of American Wheelmen—Financial Statement, Feb. 28, 1888.

Cash on hand		$2824 79
Accts. receivable, good		1512 40
Accts. receivable, doubtful		515 56
Due Colorado on 1887 (protest pending)	$3 87
Due divisions on renewals and applications to date.	3360 00
Due A. Mudge, printing	850 12
Due on other accts	74 10
Present worth	324 72
	$4852 81	$4852 81

The report of the Executive Committee was presented by Vice President Hayes. It was as follows:

The report of the Executive Committee at this time will be very brief, as the reports of the Secretary and Treasurer cover the more important acts of our Committee since the last meeting.

Many measures for the good of the cause have suggested themselves to us, but the lack of funds under which we have labored has prevented our availing ourselves of them, and our administration has been necessarily confined to our financial needs.

Your committee have endeavored to economize in every way, saving a dollar whenever possible, always in the endeavor to free ourselves from the heavy hand of debt which has come down to us as a legacy.

We had hoped and have worked to make our official organ a source of income to us, but have labored in vain, and finding that the great drain upon our finances came from this source we looked about for the best means of freeing ourselves from the burden upon us.

Acting under the authority vested in us, we have arranged with a reliable and well-known publishing firm to take charge of the official organ upon terms that we consider highly advantageous to us.

We have arranged to give the members a bright and newsy weekly paper as heretofore, and at the same time relieved ourselves of the risk and responsibility of running a newspaper which we have now concluded it is not the province of the League to do.

As the Bulletin was running behind at the rate of about $100 per week, we closed the contract as speedily as possible, without waiting to submit our plan to the Board, as we felt that the plan and proposals as offered by the BI. WORLD Co. were so advantageous to us that they would commend themselves at once to every member of the Board, and at the same time result in saving of about $500 to us, which we need very much. Both the BI. WORLD Co. and ourselves were anxious to have the contract fixed at once, as in case the same is terminated at the end of one year, we are then in a better position at the opening of the advertising season to take up our respective papers again if we see fit.

This we trust we shall not be obliged to do, and hope that the contract upon which we have entered may be continued many years to the advantage of all concerned.

Your committee feel that a great weight has been taken from their shoulders and those of the League in this matter, and our energies can now be applied to matters which shall advance the interests of our cause in many ways.

But to do this we must have the assistance and co-operation of every member of our organization and we have plans now under consideration by us, which we trust when submitted to you will command your generous support. While we have rid ourselves of the burden that has been upon us in the last few years, the marks of its weight are still upon us, and our endeavor must be in the few months left of our administration to place our League upon its feet financially, and when this is accomplished your next Executive Committee can, wiping out the past, start fresh upon a new and prosperous career.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK,
H. W. HAYES,
GEO. R. BIDWELL.

The report was unanimously accepted, and the action of the committee in relating to the Bulletin consequently approved.

Chairman Butler of the Rules and Regulation Committee presented the following report:

To the President and Members of the Board of Officers, L. A. W.:

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of this Board, called to meet in New York, on the 5th and 6th of March next, your Committee on Rules and Regulations will submit the following changes in the By-Laws for your consideration:—

ARTICLE IV.

ELECTIONS.

Section 1. Sect. 2. First line: Substitute June for March.
Second line: Substitute July for March.
Fourth line: Substitute June for March.
Sixth line: Substitute 15th of July for tenth day of April.
Eighth line: Substitute first day of August for the twentieth day of April.
Sect. 3. Fifth line: Substitute June for March.
Seventh line: Substitute 15th July for 10th April.
Eleventh line: Substitute 1st for 20th.
Twelfth line: Substitute August for April.
Sect. 4. First line: Substitute 15th for 1st, and August for May.

The sections which we propose to amend now stand on the books as follows:—

Section 1. During the month of March, each year, the Secretary shall cause to be printed in the official organ a voting blank for Chief Consuls and Representatives, together with a statistical table, showing the number of Representatives each State is entitled to. And there shall also be published in the Bulletin, at the same time, full and explicit directions to members regarding the votes which are to be sent to the Secretary-Editor, and full and explicit directions from the Chief Consuls of States where special regulations governing the ballot have been adopted.

Sect. 2. Each member who was admitted, or whose dues were paid up to the first day of March shall be entitled to one vote for Chief Consul for the State wherein he resides, and one vote for each Representative that his State is entitled to on March 1. Except in divisions where special regulations governing the ballot have been adopted, each vote shall be signed by the member voting it and returned to the Secretary before the tenth day of April, and by him delivered to the Committee on Rights and Privileges. This committee shall sort and count the votes, and make a return of the same to the President on or before the twentieth day of April; the person obtaining the largest number of votes in each State for Chief Consul shall be elected, and person receiving the largest number of votes as Representatives shall be elected.

Sect. 3. Each State Division may make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the League, regarding the method of apportioning, casting, and counting the vote for Chief Consul and Representatives as its officers may adopt, providing only that the number of Representatives so chosen shall be indicated by the membership of the Division on March 1. Each vote shall be signed by the member voting, and in this case returned to the Secretary of his Division before the tenth day of April. A correct copy of such special regulations and official notice of their adoption shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the League to render this permission operative, and in such cases the vote shall be canvassed in the Division, and the result thereof certified by the Secretary of the Division to the President of the League on or before the twentieth day of April in each year.

Sect. 4. The President shall, on or before the first day of May, declare the result of the election, cause the same to be published without delay in the official organ, and also notify every member of the Board of Officers and person so elected of the result.

The object of these changes is to place the annual elections in the summer, at a time when wheelmen are most active. Also to correspond to the dates fixed upon in the reorganization that the next election may be deferred to July, when it may be held under the new constitution. This will enable the reorganization scheme to go into effect at once, instead of lying over for one year from next July.

CHARLES S. BUTLER, Chairman.
WM. W. SHARE,
WINSLOW TRACY WILLIAMS.

The report was adopted, and in consequence the changes in rules will go into immediate effect.

Chairman Luscomb of the Rights and Privileges Committee reported that no matter had been referred to them since the last meeting which required an expenditure from the League treasury.

The Membership Committee reported that it had no cases on hand, and no reports were received from the Committees on Racing and Transportation.

Chairman Luscomb reported for the Committee on Re-organization. He stated that since the committee was appointed a year ago, its members had carefully studied the subject of re-organization, and had consulted and received valuable advice from many of the League's old and prominent members. They had endeavored to frame their report in accordance with the wish of the greatest number of members, and had given particular attention to the primary object of their work, the granting of more power to the State Divisions. The committee had received numerous letters of advice on the advisability of abolishing the amateur distinction, and a request to do away with the rule had been received from the Iowa Division. The draft of the proposed new constitution was then read, as follows:

PROPOSED CONSTITUTION "L. A. W."

ARTICLE I.

Section 1. This organization shall be known as the League of American Wheelmen.

Sect. 2. Its objects are to promote the general interests of cycling; to ascertain, defend and protect the rights of wheelmen; to facilitate touring and to secure improvement in the condition of the public roads and highways.

ARTICLE II.

Sect. 1. The League shall be a confederation, composed, First, of all State Divisions now having one hundred or more resident League members, and such as may hereafter reach that limit, and Second, of one or more Territorial Divisions of not less than one hundred League members each, constituted of League members not connected with State Divisions.

Sect. 2. State Divisions shall organize by the adoption of this Constitution and the election of a Chief Consul, a Vice Consul and Secretary-Treasurer and representatives, as hereinafter provided.

Sect. 3. States and other geographical tracts, containing less than one hundred League members shall be grouped into Territorial Divisions containing not less than one hundred members each. Such Divisions shall be designated and located by the Committee on Membership and Appointment, due regard being had to geographical situation. After such appointment, each Territorial Division shall organize as provided in the case of State Divisions and in the event of their failure to select the officers prescribed in Sect. 2 of this Article, within two months after apportionment, the President of the League shall appoint.

Any subdivision of such Territorial Division attaining the limit of one hundred may, upon application to the Committee on Membership and Apportionment, be declared and created a State Division, entitled to all rights and privileges as such, provided such action shall not reduce such Territorial Division below one hundred. The action of the Committee on Membership and Apportionment shall be subject to review before the Committee on Rights, Privileges and Appeals, at the instance of any subdivision claiming a grievance.

ARTICLE III.

Sect. 1. Any amateur wheelman of good character, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the endorsement of two League members, or three reputable citizens, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of the initiation fee and dues, as provided in this Constitution and By-Laws, and the By-Laws of his Division.

Sect. 2. The name of each applicant for membership must be published in the official organ, and unless within two weeks thereafter, a protest shall be filed with the Membership Committee, he shall become a member of the League.

Sect. 3. Each such applicant shall pay to the Secretary of the League an initiation fee of one dollar and the sum fixed by the Division in which he shall become a member, for annual dues; such dues to be paid on or before May 1st in each year. The Secretary shall retain from such annual dues and from all renewals, an annual per capita tax of fifty cents.

The balance of such annual dues and the whole amount of the initiation fee shall be returned by the Secretary to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Division, quarterly.

Sect. 4. Any member failing to pay his dues as above provided before the first day of July following, his membership shall be forfeited and the Secretary shall cause his name to be stricken from the rolls. Any member having thus defaulted, can again become a member only in the manner provided in Sect. 1 of this Article.

Sect. 5. Each Division must, on or before the first day of April, file in the office of the Secretary of the L. A. W. a certificate stating the amount fixed as its annual dues, and in default thereof the amount shall be fixed by the Executive Committee of the League.

ARTICLE IV.

Sect. 1. The management of the League shall be vested in a National Assembly, consisting of the Chief Consuls, Vice-Consuls and Delegates from the several Divisions, to be elected as hereinafter provided, which shall have power to make by-laws for the guidance of the League, to establish regulations for the government of Divisions in the relations to the League and to each other, and to generally direct and decide in all matters not provided for in this Constitution. Fifteen members personally present shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Sect. 2. Each Division shall elect a Chief Consul, Vice-Consul, Secretary-Treasurer and Representatives annually, between the 15th day of July and the 15th day of August, as follows:

One Representative for each 100 resident League members, also one Representative from each League Club of not less than twenty members, and an additional Representative for each fifty members upon its roll on July 1st. Club Representatives to be chosen each by the Club of which he is a member. These shall constitute the Division Board of Officers.

Sect. 3. Each Division shall adopt for its guidance, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations, not inconsistent with the National Constitution and By-Laws. The term of office of all Division Officers shall commence on the 1st day of September in each year.

Sect. 4. Each State Division Board of Officers shall hold its annual meeting in the month of September, and shall then elect from the Division one Delegate for each two hundred members upon its roll on September 1st. Such Delegates, together with the Chief Consul and Vice-Consul, shall constitute the National Assembly of the League of American Wheelmen.

ARTICLE V.

Sect. 1. The Annual Meeting of the National Assembly shall be held on the third Monday in February in each year.

Sect. 2. Special business meetings shall be called by the President upon the written request of not less than fifteen delegates, and from not less than five Divisions; thirty days notice of such meeting must be given in the official organ, with a statement of the business to be transacted at the meeting, and no other business shall be considered.

ARTICLE VI.

Sect. 1. The officers of the League shall be a President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, who shall be elected by the National Assembly, at the annual meeting, provided, however, that the Secretary shall hold office as long as he shall render satisfactory service. The National Assembly may, however, by a two-thirds vote of the members and proxies present at any meeting, declare the office of Secretary vacant and hold an election for his successor, one month's notice thereof having been given.

Sect. 2. There shall be the following National Committees:

I. Executive and Finance.
II. Membership and Appointment.
III. Rights, Privileges and Appeals.
IV. Rules and Regulations.
V. Improvement of Highways.
VI. Transportation.
VII. Racing.

Sect. 3. Officers and Chairmen of Standing Committees, if not members of the National Assembly when chosen, shall be members of that body during their term of office.

ARTICLE VII.

Sect. 1. This Constitution may be altered or amended by a majority of the members voting in person or by proxy at a Constitutional Convention called therefor.

The President shall call such a convention upon the written demand of not less than fifty members, at least ten from each of five Divisions, giving one month's notice thereof, by publication in the official organ.

Proxies for unattached members may be cast, but no member may vote more than twenty-five such proxies.

Fifty members personally present shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE VIII.

Sect. 1. The League shall provide and furnish an official organ, to be known as the L. A. W. Bulletin, which shall be distributed to the membership without charge.

ARTICLE IX.

Sect. 1. Any wheeling club in the United States that shall have in its by-laws a provision requiring every active member to be a member of the League of American Wheelmen, and that shall file annually with the Secretary of the L. A. W. a certificate thereof, shall become a League Club, and entitled to all the privileges accorded League Clubs under this Constitution. The number of votes that any League Club shall be entitled to cast, through its delegates, at any Constitutional Convention, shall be one vote for every member of said club in good standing upon the rolls of the League. Representatives from League Clubs shall file with the Secretary a certificate of their election, signed by the President and Secretary of the club which they represent.

CHARLES T. LTSCOMB,
CHARLES S. BUTLER,
JAMES B. DUNN,
GEORGE R. BIDWELL,
} Committee on Reorganization.

Vice-President Hayes moved that the report be referred to the Constitutional Convention which it was proposed to hold in Baltimore next June.

Mr. Clapp thought it was desirable to discuss some of its provisions, so as to be able to make recommendations to the Constitutional Convention. Several others agreed with Mr. Clapp, and there seemed to be considerable opposition against the clause which allows League clubs special representatives. Mr. Hayes' motion finally prevailed, however, and the committee was continued, with instructions to prepare a set of bye-laws for consideration at the Convention in June.

Mr. Kirk Brown entered a complaint regarding the trouble that members distant from Philadelphia have in obtaining the League uniform. After some discussion, during which Mr. Bidwell stated that the Philadelphia firm had the contract for furnishing the suits for three years and that he had heard of no complaints, the matter was referred to the General Committee on Grievances.

The following letter was then read:

T. J. Kirkpatrick, President, and Board of Officers, L. A. W.

It is with great pleasure that I act to-day in accordance with the instructions of a large and representative meeting of this division, held on the evening of January 7, in this city, and on behalf of the Maryland Division and the citizens of Baltimore, do most cordially invite the League of American Wheelmen to hold its next annual meeting in this city on the 18th, 19th and 20th of June next.

Should it be your pleasure to accept the above invitation, the members of this division will endeavor to make the ninth annual meet the most successful one in the history of the L. A. W. Awaiting your reply, we are

Most fraternally yours,
A. E. MEALY, Chief Consul.
R. M. LOCKWOOD, Sec.-Treasurer.

On motion of Chief Consul Jessup, the invitation was accepted with thanks.

A recess for dinner, and to await the Wells' committee report, was taken at 1 o'clock.

The committee remained in session until nearly 5 o'clock. They were then ready to make a report, but this was rendered unnecessary by the unexpected resignation of Mr. Wells. The resignation was accepted by Chief Consul Jessup, and this, of course, effectually settled the matter, for the committee had been appointed solely for the purpose of considering the justice of his confirmation as a member of the board. A desire was expressed by a few of the members to hear the report of the committee, but this was deemed unwise by the majority. Mr. Jessup expressed in very warm terms his appreciation of the courtesy extended the Pennsylvania Division in this matter, and said that whatever had been the decision of the investigating committee, the State would have been content. Mr. Wells stated in his letter of resignation that he would be a candidate for representative at the next election. If he is elected by the League members of his state the Board of Officers will probably make no effort to prevent him taking his seat.

Eugene Aaron was once more the subject of discussion by the board. Mr. Read, of Pennsylvania, made some very severe criticisms upon certain actions of that gentleman, and asked for a return of the bond which he had signed when Aaron was made Secretary-editor. He thought that under the circumstances he should not be held responsible for the money which it was claimed the ex-Secretary still owed the League.

Mr. Beckwith moved that Mr. Read be given his bond and that the whole matter be dropped forever. The motion prevailed unanimously.

There being no further business for consideration, the board adjourned at 5.30 o'clock.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE PRESIDENT.—H. W. Hayes, 103 State St., Boston, Mass.

TREASURER.—W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR.—Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., New York City.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP.—James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard St., Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—C. H. Luscomb, 289 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 421 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—C. S. Butler, 263 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Share, 336 Navy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD.—Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 69 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred. T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 West 58th St., New York; W. S. Bull, 369 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER.—W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan, Old Broad St., London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 129—Total 68.

BOSTON, March 9, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—2.

San Francisco Bi. Club.
17800 Currah, J. M., 413 Bush st., San Francisco.
Unattached.
17801 Waite, F. W., Riverside.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—6.

Hartford Wheel Club.
17802 Smith, R. F., 148 Wethersfield ave., Hartford.
17803 Shew, W. A., 159 " "
Naugatuck Wheel Club.
17804 Dayton, A. W., Naugatuck.
Waterbury Ramblers.
17805 Hughes, W. G., Waterbury.
Unattached.
17806 Bennett, Fred. F., 236 Main st., Hartford.
17807 Johnson, Morgan, 262 Main st., "

DELAWARE DIVISION—5.

Wilmington Wheel Club.
17808 Baird, Chas. M., 903 W. 6th st., Wilmington.
17809 Elliott, Clarence A., 127 Elliott ave., "
17810 Hukill, A. Wallace, 429 E. 5th st. "
17811 Kurtz, F. L., 4th and Poplar sts., "
Unattached.
17812 Pierson, C. E., 502 Market st., "

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17813 Jenkins, Dr. Ralph, Homœopathic Hospital, Washington.

FLORIDA—8.

Jacksonville Wheelmen.
17814 Benedict, W. N., Jacksonville.
17815 Caldwell, H. W. "
17816 Emery, Geo. W., "
17817 Hosmer, L. D., "
17818 Parker, M. L., "
17819 Ritzewoller, Alex., "
17820 Sanderson, E. M., "
17821 Wilson, Lorenzo A., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—4.

Illinois Cycling Club.
17822 Story, F. A., 788 Walnut st., Chicago.
17823 Strecker, Geo., 48 Fowler st., "
17824 Toepel, A. F., 336 Ohio st., "
Quincy Bi. Club.
14825 Thompson, Thos. E., 25 N. 5th st., Quincy.

INDIANA DIVISION—1.

Indiana Wheelmen.
17826 Hay, Thomas, 18 Martindale Bk., Indianapolis.

IOWA DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17827 McAuley, J. F., Box H, Osceola.

KANSAS DIVISION—1.

Olathe Wheelmen.
17828 Gale, E. P., Olathe.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17829 Russell, Tom, Maysville.

MARYLAND DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17830 Knoop, J. F., 1538 W. Baltimore st., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—16.

Conomo Bi. Club.
17831 Hersey, Alfred E., Box 175, Manchester.
Unattached.
17832 Atkinson, Chas., 32 Pemberton sq., Boston.
17833 Jones, E. W., Commonwealth Bank, "
17834 Kilby, Quincy, Hotel Chapman, "
17835 Doogue, Wm., Manchester.
17836 Patch, H. R., 87 Cedar st., Malden.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—2.

Star Bi. Club.
17837 Beadle, Harry E., 36 Myrtle st., Detroit.
Unattached.
17838 Robbins, N., Jr., Grand Haven.

MISSOURI DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17839 Peckham, Geo. F., Street Dept., City Hall, St. Louis.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—1.

Plum Creek Wheel Club.
17840 Powell, Ben E., Plum Creek.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—2.

Unattached.
17841 Ahern, H. Edw., Summit.
17842 Williams, J. M., "

NEW YORK DIVISION—13.

Albany Bi. Club.
17843 Minch, Chas. H., 465 Madison ave., Albany.
Albany Wheelmen.
17844 Van Wie, John Jr., Post Office, "
Manhattan Bi. Club.
17845 Allen, A. C., Jr., 62 Cedar st., New York.
17846 Kane, Frank deG., 204 W. 23d st., "
17847 Ritter, Washington, 30 Broad st., "
Pawling Bi. Club.
17867 Cole, Albert S., Pawling.
Walton Bi. Club.
17848 Hodge, R. J., Walton.
17849 Pond, E. W., "
Unattached.
17850 Allis, J. W., Little Falls.
17851 Batchelder, A. G., "Courier" Office, Buffalo.
17852 Boyd, F. J., 98 Cannon st., Poughkeepsie.
17853 Corey, Charles D., McGrawville.
17854 Rich, Frank H., 285 Alexander ave., New York

OHIO DIVISION—3.

Central Wheelmen.
17855 Milholland, Geo. W., Lockland.
Unattached.
17856 Bowen, Fred. J., 324 W. 3d st., Dayton.
17857 Marriott, E. L., Dupont.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—4.

Unattached.
17858 Gray, Addison H., Franklin.
17859 Kelly, E. J., Monongahela City.
17860 Mears, Fred. K., 10 N. 6th st., Philadelphia.
17861 Wheeler, Mrs., S. A., 468 S. Main st., Wilkes Barre.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—3.

Kent Co. Wheelmen.
17862 Weld, Charles H., East Greenwich.
Unattached.
17863 Bugbee, Geo. W., 140 Clifford st., Providence.
17864 Carr, Franklin, 337 Friendship st., "

TENNESSEE DIVISION—2.

Clarksville Cyclers.
17865 Hodgson, Lee, Clarksville.
17866 Payne, Alex. G., "

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

....., 188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... P. O. Address,.....

City and State,.....

References:.....,.....,.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance, In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

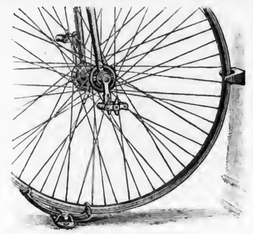
LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Walton Bicycle Club, Walton, N. Y.
Weedsport Bicycle Club, Weedsport, Pa.
Lockport Wheelmen, Lockport, N. Y.
Buffalo Ramblers, Buffalo, N. Y.
College Hill Bicycle Club, College Hill, O.
Marion Bicycle Club, Marion, Ohio.
Omaha Wheel Club, Omaha, Neb.
Ottawa Wheelmen, Ottawa, Kansas.
Albany Wheelmen, Albany, N. Y.
Jacksonville Wheelmen, Jacksonville, Fla.

All membership in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

RENEWALS.



BOSTON, March 3, 1888.

List 13.

The following renewals are received to date:

Arkansas	1	Nebraska	45
California	34	New Hampshire	9
Colorado	1	New Jersey	149
Connecticut	101	New York	400
Dakota	2	North Carolina	2
Delaware	11	Ohio	197
District of Columbia	8	Pennsylvania	200
Georgia	1	Rhode Island	33
Illinois	114	Tennessee	7
Indiana	40	Texas	3
Iowa	7	Utah	3
Kansas	21	Vermont	12
Kentucky	11	Virginia	5
Louisiana	3	West Virginia	7
Maine	60	Wisconsin	10
Maryland	51	Canada	1
Massachusetts	267	Nova Scotia	1
Michigan	33
Minnesota	9	Total	1970
Missouri	48

THE BUFFALO BICYCLE STAND
—FOR—
CLUB HOUSES & DEALERS' WAREROOMS.

Price, 50 cents.
Buffalo Home Trainer, Price $30.
E. N. BOWEN,
385 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.
Mfr. of Accessories. Repairing a Specialty.

STEEL BALLS
FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.
—OF BEST CAST STEEL.—
HARDENED, GROUND AND BURNISHED,
.16 to 3 diam. Samples and Prices on application.
SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE CO.
FITCHBURG, MASS.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.
SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.
Fully Warranted, only $5.00.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO
Brook's Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE BICYCLING WORLD
Job Office.
Estimates made on all sized jobs from a Business Card up to a Full Catalogue.
12 Pearl St Boston, Mass.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER," Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard,
COVENTRY.

OUR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE COLUMBIA ELLIPTICAL, COLD-DRAWN, SEAMLESS-STEEL, TUBULAR REAR FORKS USED ON THE EXPERT AND LIGHT ROADSTER.

CATALOGUE FREE. POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

FORKS ON COLUMBIAS

GREATEST POSSIBLE RIGIDITY FOR GIVEN WEIGHT OF METAL. | IN ONLY THREE PIECES. | A RECORD OF NEVER BREAKING OR TWISTING.

The Rudge for 1888.

(Catalogues Now Ready.)

This favorite line of cycles is presented for 1888 with renewed confidence that no better machines are offered on the American market.

If YOU have not chosen your mount for the season don't fail to examine the RUDGE catalogue.

H. M. SABEN.

152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there is an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

THE BICYCLING WORLD & BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy. | BOSTON, 16 MARCH, 1888. | Volume XVI. Number 20.

1

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., Boston.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, can vouch from experience as to the strength and superior running qualities of the "Victor" bicycles. Out of 23 members, we have 22 "Victor" riders.

We find it the only wheel that will stand the rough roads and enable us to climb the hills in our rough and hilly country. Yours, etc.,

KENTON WHEEL CLUB.

Covington, Kentucky.

Above appeared in "The Wheel," Feb. 17,

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 28th, 1888.

OVERMAN WHEEL COMPANY, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: Pease find enclosed a letter from ——, of ——, Ills., together with a press copy of our reply. We have related to them a few facts about the "Victor" Bicycle, and doubt whether or not their opinion will be changed, as some people are so "hard-headed" or stupid that they fail to recognize a good Bike when they see it. A few days since a party of wheelmen were gathered together discussing the various 1888 pattern Bicycles, when one of the party remarked: "—— has bought a —— wheel," and this remark was followed with something like this from a "Victor" rider, of course: "Poor chump! I tell you boys, I really feel sorry for the fellow who is foolish enough to buy any other Bike than the 'Victor.'"

Your machines are steadily gaining favor both here and across the river in Cincinnati.

We are, yours truly, KENTON WHEEL CLUB,
Edward C. Toie, Secretary.

2

3

——, Ills, Feb. 22d, 1888.

KENTON BICYCLE CLUB, Covington, Ky.

Gentlemen: We note in late bi. papers the O. W. Co.'s ad. to the effect that all of the members of your club, but one, ride Victors, finding them the only suitable wheels for your roads. As it is seldom that an entire club choose the same machine, we would be glad to know whether the testimonial is a genuine one. Sometimes such things get "twisted," you know. We enclose stamped addressed envelope for your reply, and would like to hear from you soon.

Yours truly, —— —— ——.

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 28th, 1888.

Messrs. ——, ——, Ill.

Gentlemen: Yours of 22d inst. is received and contents noted. We had supposed that the authenticity of this testimonial would be doubted, but will say that our testimonial, like the wheel we ride, is true in every respect. We have learned to honor the "Victor" Bicycle and its manufacturers from long experience; that is, since that wheel was placed on the market in 1885. Our assertion that it is "the only wheel that will stand our rough roads and enable us to climb all hills in our surrounding country," is plain, unadulterated truth, ascertained after five years' experience with almost every make of wheel ridden in the United States.

We have in our club some of the hardest riders in this vicinity, and with rough and hilly roads our "Victors" are given severe tests. Three years ago, five-sixths of the members of the Kenton Wheel Club rode direct spoke wheels, and it is safe to say that had not the tangent spoke wheel come into existence this club surely would have ceased to live, as these wheels were constantly going to pieces; so great is the vibration caused by the rough roads, that it was impossible to keep the spokes tight and prevent the rim of front wheel from forming the familiar shape something like a figure "S." The "Victor" has remedied all these faults; no more loose spokes; no more "buckled" wheels; no longer are we compelled to carry with us a box of tools to be used to keep our wheels in riding condition; its hill climbing and easy running qualities are too well known for further comment.

Racing in this vicinity is done on roadster wheels; the condition of tracks will not permit the use of racers; out of 21 local races, 18 were won on "Victors;" racers who ride other makes will never refuse the chance to race on a "Victor;" in fact, in all hill climbing contests and all long distance runs, the "Victor" is preferred. Gentlemen, these are facts; we are not prejudiced; we are not the only "Victor" riders; in Cincinnati to-day nine-tenths of the wheelmen riding other than "Victors," are anxious to dispose of their present mounts, and get the most perfect wheel made. We are glad that you made inquiry of us as to the genuineness of this testimonial, as we can clearly understand how doubtful it may appear for an entire club to choose the same machine; we trust, however, that after having become more familiar with the "Victor," or after having ridden it, that you more fully appreciate its merits. Our intercourse with the Overman Wheel Company has been such as to convince us that they are too honorable to publish bogus testimonials, especially as their mails daily bring them unsolicited words of praise. We would be pleased to hear from you the opinion of the "Victor in ——. We are, respectfully yours, KENTON WHEEL CLUB,
Edward C. Toie, Sec.

4

NOTE—The wheels in the Kenton Club are all highest grade, tangent spokes, hollow rims, and were not bought because they were cheap. Boys buy cheap wheels—men buy good wheels.

ONE WAY TO DETECT APES—WATCH THEM COPY THE VICTOR ADVERTISING.

Send to OVERMAN WHEEL CO. for New Catalog. - - - BOSTON.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Write for Our 1888 Catalogue.

New Rapid Roadster,

New Rapid Light Roadster,

New Rapid Safety,

QUADRANT TRICYCLE, No. 8, for Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycle, No. 14, for Ladies and Light Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tandem, No. 15. Two Ladies can ride.

We desire to announce to the trade that we have secured United States agency for Jos. Lucas & Son's goods, including the celebrated

KING OF THE ROAD LAMPS,

and shall be pleased to give quotations.

Agents Wanted for our Cycles and Sundries in unoccupied territory.

This Should also Interest You.

I have just received my first consignment of the VOLUNTEER COLUMBIA, and am pleased to be able to offer my customers so good a bicycle at so reasonable a price. A 50-inch with all improvements, $100.00.

Old riders will, of course, prefer the Expert or Light Roadster, but those who want a first-class wheel and have only a limited sum of money to expend, should examine The Volunteer. There seems to be a big demand for Cyclometers and Lamps this Spring, and I am carrying a complete stock of all leading makes, as well as all little odds and ends incident to a cycler's outfit.

My store will be open evenings after April 1st.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. ☞ Cash must accompany the order. ☜

FOR SALE—48-in., '87, Special Star; balls to small wheel; hollow framing, ramshorn bars and spade handles; cricket saddle, Lakin's Standard Cyclometer. In perfect condition. Price $115. A. B. SCHNEIDER, 37 Stebbins st., Springfield, Mass.

SPRINGFIELD TANDEM—Used last season; in good condition. For Sale Cheap. JOSEPH SMITH, 27 Winthrop st., Charlestown, Mass.

FOR SALE—50-inch Columbia Light Roadster, standard finish, ball bearings all around, cow-horn handle bars, Kirkpatrick saddle; in first-class condition. For particulars address P. O. Box 2181, Ithaca, N. Y.

FOR SALE—52-inch American Light Champion, with extra heavy spokes in rear wheel, 1887 pattern. Been ridden only 4 months. $90.00 spot cash takes it. A. J. CUSSON, 1318 N. Jefferson street, Bay City, Mich.

FOR SALE—A Marlboro Club Tandem; new last season; in first class condition. G. J. McARTHUR, 23 Union St., Boston.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, $125. 5x7 Photo. Outfit (cost $80), $60. ☞ Send stamp for particulars. H. R. BRYAN, Hudson, N. Y.

JOHN HARRIOTT,

MANFACTURER OF

Bicycle and Athletic Medals,

CLUB PINS & BADGES,

DESIGNS ON APPLICATION.

3 Winter Street, - Boston, Mass:

STEEL BALLS

FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

Of Best Steel. Hardened, Ground and Burnished. -16 to 3 diam. Samples and Prices on application. SIMONDS ROLLING MACHINE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 19 Cortlandt street, New York City.

FOR SALE—Over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles at bargain prices; send stamp for list and mention this paper. A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio.

DON'T BUY A BICYCLE until you have sent stamp to A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio, for list of over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles. Mention this paper. Second hand Guns and Bicycles taken in exchange.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

CARTER'S

Foot Rest,

FOR THE STAR.

For Easy Coasting.

Price $1.00.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,

Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand.

JOHN WILKINSON CO.,

55 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Send stamp for list.

WE COVER THE GROUND,

Bicycles and Tricycles for the million. High grade, medium grade law grade, all the best in the world for the money. Bicycles for gentlemen, Tricycles for ladies, Bicycles for boys, Tricycles for misses.

20 Different styles, 20

☞ Second-hand Bicycles bought, sold and exchanged. Send stamp for the most complete WHEEL catalogue ever printed.

THE JOHN WILKINSON CO.,

55 State St., Chicago, Ill.

* * * BICYCLE CLUBS,

* * * FAIR MANAGERS,

* * * AND OTHERS.

—:o:—

*T*H*E*

W*O*R*L*D*'S T*E*A*M

—OF—

CHAMPION WHEELMEN,

E*V*E*R*YM*A*NAS*T*A*R

IS NOW OPEN FOR ENGAGEMENT to appear on racing tracks the coming fall. The best men of the Old and New World positively belong to this aggregation of CYCLING STARS, now is the time to arrange for the visit of the CYCLING CHAMPIONS of the World to appear on your tracks.

For further particulars address,

HENRY E. DUCKER,

848 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Send 6c for 20 Samples and rules for

Measuring, for Coats, Pants, Vests & Overcoats.

Sent by Mail or Express Prepaid.

Mention this paper when you order, and we will give to each purchaser a pair of PANT STRETCHERS. The best invention ever made for taking out wrinkles and bagging at the knees, and shaping the bottoms of Pants.

VESTS, $2.25 COATS $8.00

Suits, $13.25 to $30.00.

Also, Manufacturers of Bicycle and Tennis Suits and Fancy Uniforms.

BAY STATE PANTS CO., Custom Clothiers

34 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

GET THE BEST!

The Standard Cyclometer.

Greatly Improved for 1888.

Simplest and Best Instrument ever Invented.

The Reasons Why:

It has stood the test for accuracy.

It has proved itself the strongest and best made cyclometer on the market.

It has been in use several years, and its merits are well established among wheelmen.

an be read from the saddle, and used with or without the hub lantern.

A positive and continuous action, making it reliable in every respect.

REGISTERS 2500 MILES.

We have given the manufacture of the Cyclometer careful investigation and study, with a resolute determination to remedy all defects, and at last we pace upon the market an instrument that seems absolutely perfect in all its workings. We furnish a certificate of accuracy with all instruments. In ordering give size and make of wheel, also size of axle, and length of axle between the hub shoulders inside. Price, with balance weight and lantern attachment, $10.00.

J. A. LAKIN & CO.,

Send for Circular. WESTFIELD, MASS.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.

Fully Warranted, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

Brook's Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

(Yost & McCune Patent.)

The Only Absolutely Safe Wheel Against "Headers" Made.
It is the Best, and it is also the Cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER.

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

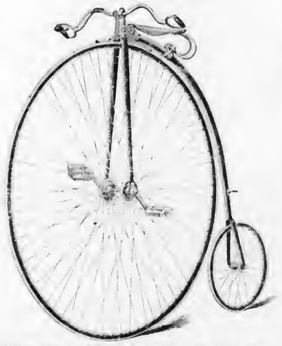
Best class of cold drawn weldless steeltubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:



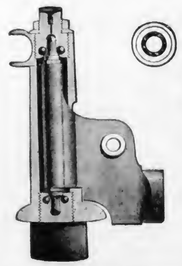
MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., - New York, N. Y.
C. F. STOKES, - - - - Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., - Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

NEW MAIL.

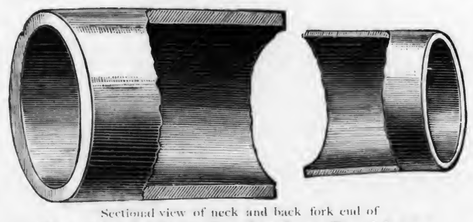
Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps



The New Mail is already having a remarkable demand.

A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Get a Catalogue.



SPECIALTIES OF THE NEW MAIL.

Found in No Other Wheel.

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞ No a Buckled

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it.

Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., BOSTON.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

BY

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

☞ For rates, etc., address Mr. Hazard as above.

☞ All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 16 MARCH, 1888.

TO correspondents: We suppose your contributions are laying quietly in some snow drift. Many are missing up to the time of closing the forms.

THE new Wheel seeks success in the "pursuit of a mind-your-own-business-and-keep-your-nose-clean policy." We trust the latter occupation will not seriously interfere with Brother Prial's editorial duties.

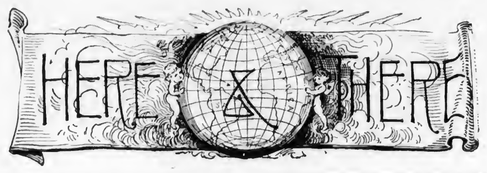
W. E. CRIST, "a famous American amateur," is to visit England this summer, and join a team of racing men. We wonder if some one won't pry into Crist's affairs and ask him what are his means of support.

JUST as we go to press we are advised that the "Liberty bill," relating to the use of bicycles and tricycles on the roads of New Jersey, was passed by the Senate of that State last Wednesday afternoon, and now becomes a law. This is one more nail in the coffin of genus "Road Hog." Jersey will no longer be looked on as an alien country.

TO the ladies we desire to say a word in reply to numerous inquiries as to whether a portion of our paper will not be devoted to their use. We most sincerely hope that the ladies will use the columns of our paper in free interchange of ideas and opinions. Any ladies who may desire to favor us with letters treating of the sport from a feminine point of view may rest assured that we shall be most delighted to give same attention and space.

IF our paper is late this week the fault cannot be placed at our door. The storm, such as has not visited this region in years, has caused a congestion of mail at the post office that will take days to start moving in a normal way again. Six days work will have to be crowded into three or four days, and so some one will have to suffer delay and inconvenience. The storm has also shut off some of our correspondents' usual contributions.

OUR Washington correspondent is right in thinking that we have not ridden a lady's bicycle. We have, however, ridden tricycles and safeties and we still maintain the opinion that rear-driving safeties are dirtier than tricycles. We would be pleased if our friend would send us a description of the safety Washington ladies are riding with such zeal and satisfaction. We are gal enough to wish the ladies to have the best of machines, be they of two or three wheels.



THE town of South Scituate, Massachusetts, has changed its name to Norwell, in honor of Mr. Henry Norwell of the firm of Shepard & Norwell of this city. It is reported that Mr. Norwell proposes to testify his appreciation of the honor by increasing the income of the town about $2500 per annum for a term of ten years. As he has been elected surveyor of the town's highways it is fair to presume that they will be well looked after, and that is the reason we note the change of name of South Scituate.

IN the matter of brakes on safeties of the rear-driving class, there seems to prevail an opinion among the most experienced riders of this type that the best is a band brake on the rear wheel. Although we have never tried a band brake except on tricycles, we are inclined to the belief that it would be an improvement over the ordinary spoon. It certainly is the cleaner of the two, and its effectiveness is in no wise effected by the state of the road. But be the brake spoon or band, it should preferably be applied to the driving wheel.

IF one can judge from the number of road racing fixtures, England's wheelmen do not propose to abandon that branch of the sport even if the Union say him nay. How absurd of any one to think they would. Is it likely that ardent wheelmen who will violate the law of the Realm and run the risk of arrest for "furious driving" will meekly bow to the edict of an association. Wheeling is the only English cycling paper that seems to regard the question rightly and believes in letting the proper public authorities manage matters within their jurisdiction without outside interference.

WE are gratified to announce that the American team will return to this country in August, and will inaugurate a series of races in the fall. The American team, however, will not have the field clear to themselves, as it is the intention of the best English and continental professionals to also cross the water and try conclusions on some of our best tracks. So anxious are we to do all in our power to resuscitate the waning interest in cycle racing that we deem the proposed coming of the flower of the professional ranks of sufficient importance to editorially call the attention of clubs and race meeting projectors to the fact. Manager Morgan expects to make a season of some ten weeks, commencing the latter part of August, and right here let us say that the high standing of the team's squareness in the English estimation should be a guarantee that the same straight methods will be followed in this country. We believe that, with the advent of these men, the lagging interest in cycle racing will revive. In order to help along the cause we would suggest that race-projecting clubs and associations address Mr. Morgan in our care or the care of Mr. H. E. Ducker, 858 Niagara avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., and particulars will be forwarded by Mr. Morgan or his agents as soon as possible. We want to see racing "move on" this fall, and we think we see in the coming of the professionals a lever to "move" same.

J. G. MURGATROYD, a supporter of Fred Wood, deposited a forfeit to bind a match for Wood to ride Rowe, or any other member of the American team, any distance from one to twenty-five miles, for £50 (open to £100) a side. The race to take place a month after Wood's return to England from the Antipodes.

WASHINGTON.

"C. RICHARDS D."

For three weeks past I have not been able to forget the fact that my tandem is stored away in Boston, in curl papers and vaseline, and that I am under sunny skies, wheelers. We at the Hub, do not realize how much the Washington cycler and cycleress have to be thankful for in the way of dry and ridable streets throughout the greatest portion of the year; or how advantageously they may use the wheel in business; but it is a fact that cycling has come down to a more practical common-sense and matter-of-fact basis here, than in other city in the country. There are doubtless scores of riders in Washington, who know little and care nothing for clubs, or the League, or wheel runs, or meets, or any of the parade business of cycling, but who only keep a wheel for every day use, as they would a horse and carriage. A prominent physician of the city, one who attended President Garfield in his last illness, keeps a tricycle solely for night practice—to save time and horseflesh, and he may be taken as the type of a large class.

The fair sex appear to ride in the same business-like way. In front of Columbian University, one sees locked wheels at all hours of the day, and some of these, particularly during the hours when a public course of lectures are being delivered, are ladies' tricycles. I saw one of these riders "arrive", a few days ago, and the "business" way that she pulled her three-wheeler over the curb, and onto the sidewalk, and, drawing from her hand-satchel a chain and lock, secured it, made me wish that Boston streets were paved with concrete, that the sight might be an every day occurrence with us. But the ladies who ride for pleasure, are decidedly in the minority, by far the larger portion seeming to be young ladies in their teens, or just entering. The practice of hiring wheels, too, is so common, that I fear few wheel riders among ladies are wheel owners.

And speaking of lady riders, I have lived to see ladies riding a bicycle, and a pretty sight it is, let me assure friend "Daisy", and all other feminine cycling friends at the East. The mount and dismount, I have felt must be an objectionable feature to the use of the two-wheeler by a woman; but both are done so quietly, so quickly, and so simple that the middle aged cycler who is obliged to execute a series of gymnastic movements, everytime he mounts his wheel, is led to ask: "Why isn't this the thing for me?" As to the bicycle itself, the idea of constructing a modern safety with a U frame, is so absurdly simple, the query suggests itself every day. Why hasn't it been done before? And if all future ladies riders of the bicycle, shall ride as gracefully as three or four I have seen upon the streets of Washington, there is but one thing to be said: That a woman on a bicycle is far more graceful and pleasing an object than the average lady tricycler, and that is saying a great deal. I have ridden this machine in Washington, both on concrete and dirt roads, and find it quite steady, a feature I am told which makes it easy for a lady to learn to ride it. However, as I am stating simple impressions, I will not ask Eastern friends to take my word for it, but only counsel them to "wait and see". But the ladies' bicycle will have a future, I am sure.

As my key to the cosy club house of the "Capitals" (large Capitals) was found to be quite free from rust, it has admitted me to frequent meetings (and greetings) with old friends during my visit here. Among them may I mention as the brightest, the festivities incident to the annual celebration of Washington's Birthday. It is too late now to give you an account of all the mirth provoking doings of that merry night, but suffice it to say that from the opening remarks of the counsel for the plaintiff, in the case of Hashaway vs. Jenkins, suit for breach of promise of marriage, to Pyramus and Thisbe (extravagantly rendered) and to the digestibles and non-digestables, fluids, etc., which followed, it was Capital throughout. For originality, good fellowship, and ability to run a club on business principles for the benefit of the club as a whole, the Capital Bi. Club offers an example which might be profitably emulated by clubs located "not a thousand miles" from the gilded dome on Beacon Hill. However, club life in the present, in this conntry, is going through an evolution period, and the same may be said of the ort of cycling, for that matter.

KANSAS CITY.

"MENTOR."

As a matter of course the initial number of the World was looked for with considerable interest by wheelmen here. On Tuesday I dropped into the United Wheelmen's rooms and I found quite a group reading the new official organ. One and all expressed themselves as more than pleased with the new paper.

A number of members of the United Wheelmen are agitating the leasing of more commodious quarters. The majority of the members are residents of the East side, and it is expected that the new club will be located east of Main street. Only by constant agitation will the project be carried through to a successful issue.

The United Wheelmen have adopted the black jersey uniform, with black stockings and hook-down cap.

C. B. Ellis has united with the club, and one by one the old-time feeling is gradually dying out. Charlie states that he intends doing more riding this season than ever before.

Apropos riding Captain Haynes assures me that the club runs this season will be worthy of the name. Wheelmen now are itching for the riding season to open up.

Harry Ashcroft, of Dodge City, Kas., late of this city, is fast becoming the Baron Munchausen of the wheeling fraternity. Sunday's Times contains an account of a ride he made out in Kansas in a blizzard.

It is not generally known that the Hon. John M. Glover, who is an aspirant for gubernational honors in this State is a brother of Grif Glover, of St. Louis, who is a Rambler from way back. This should result in Mr. Glover's election to the highest office in the State.

Harry G. Stuart, Secretary of the United Wheelmen, is engaged on a plan for the forming of a library in the club. He should receive the support of every member in this literary move.

There seems to be a demand for wheeling songs. Who will be the first to meet the "long-felt want?"

A well-known wheelman here is thinking seriously of touring to California this summer.

DETROIT.

"TWINKLER."

At the annual meeting of the Detroit Bicycle Club, the following officers were elected: President, C. A. Lightner; Vice President, A. F. Peck; Secretary, R. Traub; Treasurer, John Hanley; Captain, P. N. Jacobsen; and First and Second Lieutenants, Messrs. Lane and Larmour. The new President, Mr. Lightner, is a hustler, and if the Detroit Bi. Club doesn't do some lively work this season he will know the reason why. Captain Jacobsen is now in New Orleans.

Ferry avenue has been paved with asphalt (Detroit's first move in the direction of better pavements), and already our wheelmen are showing their appreciation by frequent visits.

Who will be the first to ride to the Pointe this season? is a question which is already agitating the minds of our wheelmen. Several tried the experiment on Washington's Birthday, but they had to give it up as a bad job.

Like our Eastern brethren we want better roads; but the special point of our petitions is: "Oh Father(s) (City Fathers), give us, we pray thee, better pavements, like unto Ferry avenue."

NEWS AND COMMENT.

An English sea captain, who is also a great cyclist, always takes along a bicycle and when he touches land, and roads will permit, he takes a spin into the country. He lately took a trip to the Bananas Island, off the West coast of Africa. None of the inhabitants had ever seen such a thing before, and terrified mothers on beholding the frightful thing would hurriedly pick up their open-eyed and open-mouthed progeny and scoot for the woods with all celerity, and then they would remain until the "danger" had passed.

'Tis said that Neilson has gone into the boot and shoe business

The versatile Senator Morgan claims relationship with Secretary-Editor Bassett.

Woodside and Allard are to ride a ten-mile match on Easter Saturday at Coventry.

The tandem safety is having some severe tests in England, and so far the verdict is most favorable.

Mr. Milton S. Wood of Baltimore is in town. He is looking after and getting material for the League meet programme.

For the amateur to sell his prizes for filthy lucre is sufficient to cause his suspension at the hands of the N. C. U.

Rowe has already been winning some minor races in England. His style of riding and appearance are universally commented on favorably.

Dick Howell remarked that he "would not be beaten by Rowe for all he could see." Mr. Sullivan made a similar remark in regard to Mr. Mitchell.

It is very doubtful if a single manufacturer or dealer will have a "team" in their employ next season. They are not like Oliver Twist, they have had enough.

President Kinch and F. S. Miller, of the Union County Wheelmen, are, with several others, engaged in a project to erect an $8000 athletic club house in Westfield, N. J.

The pessimists and optimists in England are all aglow in discussing the changes of German competition in the cycle trade. We think the optimists have the best of it.

"The merry little yankee," Temple, met with a bad fall at Newcastle-on-Tyne last month. It put the lad on his back for a few days, but we are pleased to note that no bones were broken.

The Lord Mayor of London and all the members of Parliament are to be invited by the management to witness the next great race between cowboys and cyclists to be held in London this month.

We have not the result of the six-day race lately run in London, but Young and Battensby were sticking to one another at last accounts, there being only one lap between them at the end of the third day.

"It is an ill wind," etc., again is proven from the fact that the unsettled state of affairs on the Continent have no doubt been a strong factor in driving the Senator and his "galaxy of talent" back to the land where the eagle screams.

We wish to congratulate the Wheel and Cycling Trade Review, our Phœnix-like New York contemporary, on its appearance since the change. The heading is very artistic, and the new make-up is very attractive. We congratulate Mr. Prial.

Good news, that contained in Senator Morgan's letter, printed on another page, announcing that he and his team of English, French and American flyers will be in this country next August. This means a boom in racing and consequently we rejoice.

Engleheart's strong-hold is the rear-driving safety. We doubt, however, if Rowe will consent to ride the dwarf machine in the ten-mile match to take place Easter Saturday with the Englishman. Rowe is not used to this type, and we fear defeat, in case he consents to ride the safety.

W. S. Maltby is in town for a few days. He called on us and stated that after a few months' more exhibition riding through the Eastern States, he would abandon trick riding as a means of livelihood. He is open to engagements, and any letters addressed to him in care of this office will be forwarded.

The Boston Road Book is out this week. Mr. C. A. Underwood, of the Jamaica Plain Club, the compiler and publisher, has taken especial pains to have this the most complete work of the kind ever issued No Boston rider of cycles can afford to be without one. The book is printed by the Bicycling World Co.

Are the members of the American team really experiencing a change of heart, or are the girls at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, who attend church, especially attractive? The reason for this query is the following, taken from Senator Morgan: "This is Sunday night and the boys have gone to church, while I stay at home and attend to my correspondence."

They have real Christians out on the Pacific slope. Dr. Johnson, of San Francisco, while driving his horse lately, accidentally ran into Mr. U. Rice, who was riding a bicycle. Contrary to the usual custom, the good doctor, instead of swearing like mad at the injured wheelman, went back to his assistance and offered to pay damages, if any. We call the doctor a "thoroughbred."

W. E. Crist, one of the best American amateurs, sails for England in about two weeks to take part in races during the coming season. W. F. Knapp and Crocker will go over at the same time to join the glad throng of professionals now in England. These two men go over under the auspices of Frank Dole, and will in no way be connected with manager Morgan's merry men, except as they meet in competition. T. W. Eck goes with the party.

Sidewalk riding in Warren, R. I., will be suppressed, and very properly too.

The wheelmen of Elizabeth, N. J., in trying to influence the religious societies of their city to purchase tricycles for the clergymen are doing good missionary work. This kind of proselyting seems rather like turning the tables doesn't it?

The mail and telegraph failing us we are not able to give the result of the six-day race which took place at Philadelphia last week. At last accounts Rhodes led at 134 miles, and all the rest right up within a few laps. It was any body's race on Thursday.

A reference to the official announcements at the head of our editorial column will disclose the fact that the Bicycling World Co. has placed Mr. Geo. D. Hazard, No. 83 Equitable Building, in charge of its advertising department. We would refer our readers to this official announcement.

Another scheme is being pushed in Rochester, N. Y., to build a cycle track along the right side of the Boulevard to the lake. There has already been guaranteed $200 by F. L. Hughes, R. A. Punnet, Wilmot Castle and Thompson & Kenfield, provided it is finished by June 1. It is to be four feet wide, and it is proposed to charge five cents for the round trip, the guarantors taking $200 worth of tickets and disposing of them as they see fit.

We never saw a worse day in Boston than last Monday was. It snowed, it rained and it blew a gale, the very heavens seemed to appreciate the fact that Boston's darling, Boston's little tin god, John Lawrence Sullivan had met with defeat at the hands of one Charles Mitchell, a blarsted Britisher. Boston was a sad place last Saturday and Monday (to say nothing of Sunday), bank presidents, railroad Directors, millionaires, boot blacks and newsboys, alike, showed evidence of crushing calamity. On the crowded streets, all one had to whisper was the name of that hated pug, Mr. Mitchell, and the crowd would disperse and fly from you as from one afflicted with leprosy. Yes, Boston is sad, and so is Sullivan, we hear. Now, if the Fates wish to crush us entirely they will see to it that Howell beats Rowe. What is there in life worth living for in case of such a dire double catastrophe?

The wheelmen of Northampton, Mass., Springfield and Holyoke, are determined that the proposed cinder path between Holyoke and Northampton shall be an accomplished fact by next fall. The distance is 10 miles over pretty tough roads. The scheme is as follows: To begin with, permission must be obtained from proper authorities, and the path will be located as near the fence as possible and away from the highway so that teams in passing shall not drive over the path and cut it up. About three feet from the boundary fence was the distance aimed at by the constructors of the Binghampton path. The ground is first picked and dug up to the depth of about one foot, and all sods, stones, roots etc., that would tend to crop uot after a little wear are thrown out, then the path is rake smooth and rolled thoroughly with a heavy roller. Next come the cinders or, if cinders are not available, ashes makes a good substitute; another rolling of these, and if possible after a rain, when the whole is moist, makes a most desirable path. There are places where deep gulches caused by small streams, are met with and in some cases it is more expedient to construct a rough trestle work and bridge these places than to fill them up. The way this is done is by bringing the trestle work up to the desired height, making a good flooring, perfectly ridable and put a rail on each side sufficiently high for safety. Three hundred dollars has already been subscribed, and there is no doubt but that the required amount, some $700 to $800, will be forthcoming.

WHEEL CLUB NEWS.

The annual meeting of the Rhode Island Wheelmen was held Feb. 13th, and the following officers were elected: President, James A. Kinghorn; Vice President, Ansel L. Sweet; Treasurer, Howard L. Perkins; Secretary, Wm. A. Bennett; Captain, James L. Speirs; First Lieutenant, A. F. Titus; Second Lieutenant, Geo. P. Hutchins; Trike Lieutenant, Geo. L. Cooke.

The Brooklyn (N. Y.) club now propose to build a new club house.

The Fort Wayne (Ind.) Bicycle club held an informal reception and smoker at their rooms Saturday evening last, March 10.

The Winona Bicycle club have issued regular blanks and rules for use of those who intend to compete for the long distance record for 1888.

The Rhode Island Wheelmen, of Providence, gave a most enjoyable ladies' night last Friday. The lady friends of members presented the club with a handsome French clock.

OFFICERS for 1888 of the Cambridge Bicycle Club: President, John Amee; Captain, Geo. A. Perkins; Secretary, Geo. A. Nash; Treasurer, J. H. Daggett; Executive Committee, above officers and Emmons C. Ellis; C. A. Underwood, J. H. Grimes.

AT the annual business meeting of the Toledo Cycling Club, held March 5th, the following were chosen officers for 1888 and 1889: President, Fred Boice; Vice President, Geo. S. Mills; Secretary and Treasurer, Geo. S. Waite; Captain, H. Richards; Lieutenant, W. Morgan; Color Sergeant, J. H. Kitchen; Bugler, W. Howell; Members of Club Committee, President, Vice President, Jno C. Keller, and Smith Comly.

THE Wanderers' Bicycle club, of Toronto, last week elected officers as follows: Hon. President, C. H. Riggs; president and vice-president, C. P. Orr and F. T. Morphy; captain and vice-captain, G. H. Orr and D. Nasmith; first lieutenant, B. Brown; second lieutenant, A. S. Rennie; third lieutenant, Geo. Toye; secretary and recording secretary, H. J. Sylvester and J. H. Taylor.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen, of Jersey City, N. J., have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Dr. E. W. Johnson; secretary, Theo. F. Merseler, Jr.; treasurer, Carman Nichols; captain, E. P. Baggot; first lieutenant, W. E. Eldridge; second lieutenant, F. J. Gubelman; sergeant, F. C. Sheldon; R. G., W. Robertson, Jr.; L. G., H. C. Pearsal; bugler, G. L. Bettcher; color bearer, N. E. Feury.

AT the annual meeting of the Capital City Cycling club, Washington, D. C., held last week Tuesday evening at the Hotel Palace, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, T. F. Sheridan; vice-president, R. N. Baker; secretary-treasurer, W. S. Reed; board of directors, William E. Henkle, Frank Channing, A. A. Billingsley, the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer; captain, W. S. Reed; first lieutenant, William H. Burt; second lieutenant, Robert Walker; bugler, A. T. Westlake; color bearer, A. A. Billingsley; quartermaster, J. P. Fogarty. Two new members were mustered in at this meeting, Ralph N. Baker and A. T. Westlake.

ON the evening of March 1st the Essex Bicycle Club, now the oldest club in the League of American Wheelmen, if not the oldest bicycle club in America, held its ninth annual meeting, electing the following officers for the ensuing year: John B. Lunger, President; Frederick J. Keer, Vice President; Wm. S. Righter, Secretary and Treasurer; E. Eugene Sargeant, Captain; Madison Alling, Lieutenant; Elwood C. Harris, Charles Joy and Herbert W. Knight, as members of the Executive Committee. After the usual routine club business, and a general debate as to the best means to advance the welfare of the L. A. W., a recess was taken, while all the members present proceeded to do the usual wheelmen's justice to a dinner furnished by one of our most popular caterers, when the viands having given place to the cigars and the flowing bowl, the meeting was continued, the reports read, the debates taken up, with an unusual display of wit Not till the hands of the clock, like our wheels, had traveled round many times, did the meeting adjourn.

AN event of much interest to Holyoke Wheelmen occurred Friday evening of the past week. It was the inaugural entertainment of the Holyoke Bicycle Club at their new quarters in Rigali's High Street block. Some thirty wheelmen were present, and the presence of talented musicians and singers rendered it an occasion of much enjoyment to those present. The most pleasant feature, however, was the presentation to the club, by Mr. H. M. Senior, the President, of a valuable oil painting, representing the windward work of the Volunteer and Thistle, the handiwork and gift of his wife. The club is now in a flourishing condition, and has club rooms fitted up in elegant style. The officials of the club at the present time are: President, H. M. Senior; Secretary, E. H. Meader; Vice President, M. Druce; Captain, F. L. Arms. The Holyoke Northampton cinder path scheme will soon be a fait accompli as the united exertions of Messrs. H. M. Farr and E. C. Clarke have brought the required fund to a point, not far from the necessary amount. The League division treasury and other generous wheelmen need not hesitate in sending along their subscriptions, however small, to further the good cause.

AS explained last week, pressure on our space made it necessary to hold over a good deal of interesting matter, among which was an interesting article on the reception given by the Kings County Wheelmen, at their new club house, No. 1255 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn. The affair took place on the evening of Feb. 21, and was one of the most successful ever given by any club. City officials and prominent business men of Brooklyn and New York were present. Speeches were made by many, and a fine time generally was had. The K. C. W. club house is one more added to the already long list of palatial club houses in the country. The present Board of Officers of the Kings County Wheelmen is composed as follows: Franklin W. Loucks, President; F. W. Lovejoy, Vice President; Melville H. Leighton, Secretary; T. S. Snyder, Treasurer; Malcomb L. Bridgman, Captain; H. J. Hall, Jr. First Lieutenant; T. C. Crichton, Second Lieutenant; R. W. Steves, Color Bearer; E. R. Nichols, Bugler. The Board of Trustees of the club consists of F. W. Loucks, F. W. Lovejoy, M. H. Leighton, M. L. Bridgman, A. R. Smith, Charles Schwalbach, Henry J. Hall. We wish we had space to describe the house in detail, but we have not. The club was formed in April, 1880, and has steadily grown into prominence and strength, as one of the foremost clubs of the United States.

EVER since the Long Island Wheelmen took posession of their new and elegant club house, on Bedford avenue last fall, they have continued to grow in numbers until their quarters threaten to become to small to accomodate them. Althought known as "The Fossils," there appears enough life in them to cause some people to doubt whether the name is suitable to them. Since the season closed when riding ceased to be particularly enjoyable, they have indulged in all sorts of in-door amusements. Billiards, pool, and bowling is well patronized every evening. Besides, every week one night is devoted to some special entertaintment, which is always successfully and enjoyably carried out. This is largely due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Clark, who is chairman of the Entertainment Committee. The season opened with a "house warming," to which were invited representatives of other clubs, and members of the press, at which time the house was taxed to its utmost capacity. Following this came a ladies reception, tendered to the ladies friens of the members—a very swell affair when the house was well filled. Since then each alternate Saturday night, an interesting programme has been arranged and enjoyed by members and their male friends only—known as stag night. Two weeks ago Saturday night, "A Mock Trial" was given with great success, and was reported by the press. Last Saturday night was a "stag night" again; a "smoker" was the entertainment for that evening. This consists of various entertaintments, such as music, vocal and instrumental, and readings. Cigars, tobacco and pipes, are liberally provided, and a light supper served later in the evening, and members and their male friends enjoy it in an informal way. Saturday, the 25th., was what is known as "ladies night," which on the Saturday evenings following between the "stag nights. This is an entertainment provided for the members and their ladies friends, and generally consists of music and dancing. A very well arranged programme was enjoyed by about seventy-five persons on this occasion. There would have been a much larger attendance, probably, had the weather not been so threatning,

"BALTIMORE IS ALL RIGHT."

A SKETCH OF THE PROGRAMME.

WELL, it is a positive fact that the League will now meet in Baltimore on the 18th, 19th, and 20th of June next, as the invitation of the Maryland Division was accepted, at the meeting of the Board on March 5th in New York. Consequently every member of the L. A. W. should begin arranging matters so that he can attend. Baltimore at the season named is in her prime, and can afford much real pleasure and enjoyment to her visitors. This coming meeting is the most important one since the organization of the association, and it is the duty of every member, who possibly can, to be present and take part in the re-organization of the L. A. W., as the report of the Re-organization Committee was referred over by the Board of Officers at their meeting, to the general meeting in Baltimore on June 19th. Consequently those members of the League who are interested in the management of the organization, should make special efforts to be present, but whatever they do, we hope they won't stay at home, and then kick because things did not go to suit themselves. Well, what inducement is old Baltimore going to offer for the L. A. W. members to visit her? She is going to receive them with open arms, and in such a way that no one but Marylanders can, as the hospitality of Maryland is peculiar and pleasing in itself, and every one who visits her will always vouch for her welcome to all strangers. The programme of the meet will be as follows: First day, 10 A. M.—Meeting of Board of Officers; 2.30 P. M.—Meeting of L. A. W. for re-organization; 8.30 P. M.—Meeting of Board of Officers. During the morning of the first day, the visitors will be shown through the different club houses, and other places of interest, while the Board of Officers are in session, and in the afternoon every one, Rank and File, will be in attendance at the meeting for re-organization, etc. In the evening, while the Board of Officers are again holding their meeting, others will spend the evening at the club houses, or enjoy a moon-light run through the Parks, or join the ladies' evening run.

Not So Simple But Fact.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 22d, 1888.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIRS:—

We have a Club membership of 32 riders of which 31 ride the AMERICAN wheel and we are well satisfied with our choice. Yours Respectfully,
M. B. Edmiston, Captain; Natl. D. Elliott, President; D. W. Wallace, Lieutenant, Fred Willson, Sec. and Treas., Marion Ramblers.

FLATONIA, Texas, Oct. 1st, 1887.

Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs—Do not read this unless you want to see how we appreciate your wheels. After 3 years' use we are satisfied to ride nothing else but G. & J. Wheels within 50 miles of here. Our town club has 12 bicycles, and every wheel is your make." Yours truly,
FLATONIA BICYCLE CLUB, Flatonia, Texas.

Most complete Catalogue in the trade, 64 pages, on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG CO.,

CHICAGO, - - ILL.

Largest American Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5/8 inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.
No. 1. For Gentlemen.....$175
No. 2. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 175
(The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")
No. 3. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman.

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195.
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

—:o:—

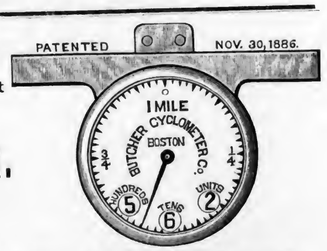
Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.
BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records

Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the



BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

Free by Mail on Receipt of PRICE, . . $10.00.

PATENTED NOV. 30, 1886.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.

SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, ... $5.00.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

THE PARADE WILL FORM

at 9 or 10 A. M. the second day, the route of which will be very short, and over easy riding ground, and will disband in Druid Hill Park, where the League photograph will be taken, and then all join a most pleasant run of two and one-half miles over a fine road to the Arlington Driving Park, here a substantial lunch will be served, and at 3 P. M. the races will begin. Nothing will be left undone by which good sport and close races can be had; already some of the country's fastest men have promised to be on hand. Then wheel back to town via Druid Hill Park. Get supper at 8.30, report at a hall which will be secured, and then enjoy a gigantic Smoker, with plenty of "good, not so good, and horrible music" in attendance. Here the evening will be spent as each individual fancies best.

Third day—At 8.30 A. M., the 25-mile editors' race will be run at Druid Lake (or at least an invitation will be tendered the editors to run this race at Baltimore, which will probably be accepted). After this race (should it be run) the tours and runs will be started, of which there will be many, and any visitors coming to the meet without wheels will miss a great deal of pleasure, and many sights well worth seeing in and around the city. These runs will mostly be short, will take in many most beautiful and romantic spots in the suburbs of the city, and will return to the city in time to take steamer for down the Bay; except one route, which will be to take in the finest stretch of shell road in the country (no exceptions). This route will probably embrace about twenty miles of superb riding, and will be met about ten miles down the river by the excursion party. This excursion referred to will be of the L. A. W. No more of those stiff and tiresome banquets where we must be tortured by speech-making, etc., but we wind up with a grand old time. In imagination please follow me in what will occur. At 3 o'clock the L. A. W. will leave the Baltimore Pier, embarked on one of the finest and largest excursion steamers in the country, occupied only by the L. A. W. members, a few selected friends, and many of the Baltimore ladies. After visiting different points of interest in the harbor, the course will then be turned outwards, and accompanied by a magnificent band which will be engaged in concert, a stop will be made to pick up the tourists who had started out in the morning via the shell road. Then all aboard once more, and we will pass out into the world renowned Chesapeak Bay. By this time the orchestra in the dancing saloon will have started up, and the wheelmen can enjoy the fascinations of dancing on a highly polished and waxed floor, while others above can enjoy the hurricane deck, the open-air concert by Baltimore's best military band. While all this is happening we will have been ploughing the waves, till a little ahead we will notice the tall steeples, and recognize a large building, off the starboard bow. what is it? As I live, we are approaching

THE GRAND WIND-UP OF THE MEET

THAT ANCIENT CITY, ANNAPOLIS,

the capital of old Maryland, and here we slip past a huge training ship, now a man-of-war, and now we slow gracefully up to the wharf of the Naval Academy. Here we will disembark; the band will go with us and station itself on the lawn in the Naval Academy grounds, while we are looking around seeing the many interesting sights. We shall spend an hour, visiting different points of interest, the State House, the Governor's residence, and many old land-marks of revolutionary fame. At last the steamer's whistle calls "all aboard," and we suppose we are to return direct to Baltimore. But no, it is only 6 o'clock and we have hardly commenced; now we back out from the wharf, turn round, and the steamer picks its way out the narrow channel of the River Severn. Now, we enter the Bay once more, and round a tremendous bluff that stands boldly out from the shore. What place is that we see where all those magnificent buildings are, decorated with bunting of all descriptions? What a beautiful place! That is Bay Ridge, the "Coney Island" of Baltimore. Here we land, and once more tread upon terra-firma. Now it is about seven o'clock, what is to be done? Off here is an immense open Dancing Pavilion, with full orchestra playing full blast. Off there is a Gravity Railway, over yonder is a long stretch of bath houses, and the splashing in the salt water. Down there is an immense music stand, occupied by a full brass band in concert, and Innes, the trombonist, is playing a solo, or some other specialist is performing. What is that in the centre? That is the dining hall, which seats 1200 people; there at 8 P. M. we have a supper, and oh! such a supper! By eleven o'clock we have had plenty to eat, tired of dancing, and almost tired of living. But the moon has come out to greet us, and is staring down at us as if he was about half or three-quarters full, so we get on board the steamer once more and pull out from the wharf. But, Bang! Bomb!! Phiz!!! the earth turns inside out; oh no, 'tis only a few parting fireworks; they will soon die out in smoke, so we will let her go for Baltimore, and land at the pier about one o'clock Thursday morning, and the Ninth Annual Meeting of L. A. W. will be over, and old Baltimore shakes hands all round, alas, the best of friends, old and new, must part. By next week all committees will be in shape for publication, and members can get all information necessary. But don't miss coming to Baltimore June 18th, 19th and 20th. "SKIB."

BOYS AND GIRLS ARE HAVING A GOOD TIME

AGED RIDERS.

HERE is an item that should start the ball of competition rolling in a new direction. The writer is a prominent wheelman living in a well-known cycling centre: "Let us start a championship for 'aged' riders. I am fifty-one years old, have been a rider of the bicycle for six years, and am good for fifty miles a day with the boys. Is this 'record?'"—Bi. World, March 2.

If any reply is wanted to the above, permit me to state that I am sure the "riders" will respond to such an invitation.

An "old man's" race would be something unique, and it would be lots of fun to see the gray-beards "whoop her up." Make the youngest limit forty (40) years, allow a handicap for ages over that; have a race of say ten miles.

How would the next league meet do? I understand there is a good ten-mile course in Baltimore.

Talking about ages, there is one rider in Brooklyn, N. Y., eighty odd and several beyond the forty-year limit. One lively old bird at Mystic, Conn., has lots of "go" in him, and is something over sixty at that. Several elderly riders in New York City and New Jersey can show up some ancient metal of the right sort, headed by "Ixion," who must be fifty-five at least." "No. 5550."

ROAD RACING.

I HAVE been watching with considerable interest the discussion and fight that is going on in England on the road racing question. The great trouble seems to be that the N. C. U. and its supporters are handling the matter in a half-hearted way. I do not feel at present able to define my feelings as to whether road racing is desirable or not. Certainly it is one thing or the other, it is either flesh or fish, it cannot combine both in one. I am strongly of the opinion that the position taken by the BICYCLING WORLD to the effect that the local authorities and race promoting club should decide the matter. By this method the question would adjust itself without the aid or interference of any national organization. I, however, think that in case of the refusal of the local authories to permit road racing over the highways under their jurisdiction if riders persist in racing in defiance of such refusal, then the national body could step in and supplement the punishment of the civil authorities by denying the right of amateur status to the wrong doer. It seems to me that this is the way to meet the difficulty. Let the national body follow the lead of the local authorities, it will be perfectly safe in so doing. This half way of dealing with the matter appears to me to be absurd. Why prohibit road races for all distances under 100 miles? The fact that the N. C. U. or the L. A. W. "permitting" road races for all distances of 100 miles and over would in no way change the attitude of the local authorities. The local law authorities will refuse to be influenced by any ruling that the N. C. U. may make as to what distances may be run, therefore, why make any such foolish rule? Make it imperative that the road race promoters do not race in direct opposition to the commands of the authorities and the distances to be run will be of small moment. When the custom becomes a nuisance, road racing must be stopped, and all law-abiding cyclists will combine to aid in stopping it. Let the protest and command come from the People first, and then it will be time enough for the N. C. U. or the L. A. W. to take action. I think that the action of the L. A. W. in withdrawing its moral support from the practice is perhaps a wise move, but I firmly believe that any other action than that of supplementing the road authorities' action is foolish and arrogant in the extreme. SANDY.

HOT ON A BICYCLE.

"I DON'T know how long ago it is since I began to learn to ride a bicycle," remarks Mr. James Payn in one of his recent notes in the Illustrated London News; but it is certainly more than three years. It was at some establishment in Piccadily which had a slanting floor. This was supposed to be a great advantage, because the machine went of itself, and, as the proprietor of the place asserted, 'encouraged you.' Nobody ever went there that I ever heardof except myself; but dead men tell no tales. As I rushed down that declivity by the dim gaslight, I used to wonder whether others had attempted to perform the same reckless feat and fallen victums to their foolhardiness. If you did'nt turn the machine sharply when you arrived at the bottom, you were as dead as the wall. I had given two guineas for twelve lessons, and was bound to go through them: but, after the first, I hired a boy, as I gave out to instruct me, but in reality to ensure my personal safety. He ran by my side, and I clung to him with one hand, and sometimes with both, as Mr. Winkle on the ice clung to Sam Weller. When I learnt to go alone, I stationed him with his back to the wall, ostensibly to give me verbal directions; but of course it was understood that he was to prevent a catastrophe, which, being very stout for his age, he was well fitted to do. His presence there gave me great confidence, though I protest it never made me careless—no, not for a single instant—but I let myself go rather more freely than I should have done. I am sorry to have to record it for the sake of our common nature, but, forgetful of the loyalty due to his employer—he had not one trace of that feudal feeling which was once our country's pride—he dodged at the critical moment, and, but for a spasm of terror which turned the handle of the vehicle, I should not now be alive to relate his treachery. The machine was shattered to fragments; but—the Welsh are right, I think, in attributing a certain malevolence as well as ill-luck to some inanimate objects—in its last agonies it bit me severely in the leg. I have never been 'hot upon bicycles' since then."

MARCH CYCLING.

LATITUDE OF BOSTON.

The sun was bright and warm,
And the roads were smooth and hard,
So we trundled out our wheel,
And adventured country-ward.

The buds were peeping out,
And the birdies chirped and twittered;
And over all the landscape
Merry sunbeams glanced and glittered.

But twenty miles from home
A blizzard swooped down on us;
And we'd only cycling togs—
And airy ones—upon us!

Next morning we were found
In a cake of solid water,
And it took more ardent spirits
To revive us than it ought'er.

This was a week ago,
So we're not as yet quite thawed out;
But if by June, it comes out warm,
We may get that cycle sawed out.

PEDALS.

A NEW KIND OF A LIAR.

They have found a new kind of a club liar down in Maine, "hard-featured, rock-bound Maine." It seems the boys had started in mild on the subject of art and the capabilities of artists. One of the party having just returned from Boston where he had viewed the two great cycloramas, and he had been expatiating on the wonderful illusion of these paintings, thus starting the ball a'rolling. Things got pretty hot, the lies were getting to be unctious and indigestible, when finally the climax was reached by Snodders, familiarly known as the "boozer," giving the following: "You know, boys," said Snodders, with a whiskey and watery wink, "how hard 'tis to get good liquor in Maine. You fellers have been lying pretty hard, but what I'm tellin' you is sober truth." ("Sobriety and Snodders," the combination caused audible grins.) "Well," continued Snodders, "you know what an artist Bob Simmons is? One night there was a possul of us over at old Simmons' house, and we got arter Bob to paint us a pictur'. He said he didn't feel like paintin', and kept on makin' excuses, till old Simmons went out and fetched in a bucket of paint an' a bresh an' told Bob that he jest must paint some sort of pictur', whuther or no. Wall, Bob he took up the bresh an' begun to slosh it arom' till the fust thing we knowd he had done painted the pictur' of a jug. It was jest as nachul as any jug I ever seed, an' when I tuck it up an' sorter shuck it I heard sumthin' slosh. I turned it up, I did, and hanged ef thar wasn't whiskey in it. We let in to drinkin' it, an' it wan't long till we was all drunk."

Up to this moment little Dick Stokes—"Sleepy Dick" he was called—spoke up for the first time, and said with a yawn, "Boys, those are all shameful lies, now I'll tell you a true story, there ain't no fun in an impossible lie. Yes, boys, my story is true, and I'll bet my bicycle agin yours, Snodders, that I can prove the truth of my story."

"Wait till I hear your yarn," said Snodders.

"Here goes," replied "Sleepy Dick." "You fellers all know Sam Hadley, and know he can ride his bicycle as well as paint a picture. Well, I was in Bill Rickets' store the other day, and Sam had just ridden up on his machine and was in the store guying Rickets. We got discussing art, and so to show his skill and to amuse me he got a pot of black paint, and painted a bicycle, and I'll be darned if it wasn't so well done that Jim Harkins came along, took the durn thing, jumped on board of it, and rode down street like mad."

"I'll take yer bet," shouted Snodders. "Now prove the truth of the story."

"Well, you see, it was this way," said "Sleepy," after having indulged in a good yawn, and rubbed his eyes. "You know that old second-hand bike Rickets has had in his store for so long? Well, Sam just took a brush and some black paint and began to paint that old machine all over. You'll mind, boys, I didn't say Sam painted a picture, but a bicycle!!"

The howl that went up drowned the noise of the slamming door, as Snodders escaped; as for Dick, he only said in a sleepy tone of expostulation, "you should not lie so, boys, it is not moral," and then he tilted his chair back, and slumber once more held him as her own. Next day Dick put up Snodders' bicycle at auction, and Snodders "bought it in" for $25.00 and drinks for the crowd.

A REMONSTRANCE FROM STARLEY & SUTTON.

Editor Bicycling World: In your issue of Feb. 3d., we see it stated that we have not got over our aversion to American visitors. The writer of these words, expresses the very reverse of the fact, when he tries to make us out as prejudiced, or in anyway selfish or close minded. We are always most happy to welcome any one from America, and if it gives them pleasure, to show them over the works. The whole tone of remarks are caddish in the extreme! If you will make any enquiries you like from any authorities in this country, you will find that their opinion of the firm of Starley & Sutton is to tally different to what any one would imagine it to be, after reading the remarks of your correspondent. We have been recommended by Messrs. Iliffe & Sturmey to place an advertisement with you, as your paper is a good medium, and we don't think they would have done so, unless your paper was carried on impartially, and we therefore bring the remarks of the "Senator" before you, as we fear they have escaped your notice.

Yours truly, STARLEY & SUTTON.

[We are very glad to print the above, and we can only say, we think the "Senator" did not fully weigh the import of his remarks which, unfortunately, found space in our columns.—Ed.]

THE ENGLISH, FRENCH AND AMERICAN TEAMS WILL BE HERE IN AUGUST.

Editor Bi. World:

After very careful consideration of the subject, the American team, that has earned for itself a popular repute in this country and the wide world over, has decided to return to America in August next. The numerous letters received by the manager of the team from intended tournament projectors, and Mr. Henry E. Ducker in particular, and the energy of the Bicycling World in advocating reform in cycle racing, have in a great measure done much in deciding our return from, and to forego lucrative engagements both in Great Britain and the Continent. Further, our interest in American cycling has also to a great extent made this step imperative on our part. It is well known through various causes that cycle racing has been practically a failure in America for the past two years, through causes known and unknown; and considering our future will probably be cast in the sport, we have decided to return and add our mite in endeavoring to place cycling on the popular plane it deserves to be. There is no reason why cycling should not in the near future be the national pastime of the United States. It certainly deserves to be more than the sports which now rule supreme. If the programmes of the several projected meetings are announced early I have no reason to doubt that several fast English and French champions will cross the briny to meet Americans in battle on the cinder path. I heartily concur in class-racing for amateurs and professionals, and must congratulate the American press, and Bi. World in particular, in the campaign they have inaugurated to introduce same. I think the rules of the National Trotting Association of America, with a few alterations, could be made acceptable for class racing. Let us all, then, unite in making a radical reformation in the sport, and endeavor to make the year 1888 a jubilee year in cycle racing for the United States of America, which will undoubtedly be the means of improving not only the sport, but the cycle industry generally. With road riding I have little to do, but it seems to me the suggestion of Col. Albert Pope last year as to appointing a surveyor to look after the road question, is just as important and commendable as class racing to popularize the pastime. I hope the manufacturers, now that they are freed from "team expenses," will lend a generous, helping hand (as they always have done) in making tournaments paying to the promoters. The generous help of the editors of the general press will, I have no doubt, be continued, and to them we must, in a great measure, look for success in all our undertakings. We owe them much for the past, we expect from them much for the future. For my part, representing the American team, I will use every endeavor to do all in my power to assist the same. Any information regarding the addresses of cyclist both in this country and the Continent I will be happy to furnish, and will use any influence I possess to secure their entries. All letters to the London Sporting Life (148 Fleet St.) will be attended to. With greeting to all from the American team, I remain yours, "Senator" Morgan.

London, Eng., March 1st.

TRADE NOTES, CLIPPINGS, AND ALL SORTS.

Some of the English daily newspapers are taking a stand against road racing.

The Clark Cycle Co. have placed an order for 750 New Rapid bicycles alone. This is a splendid order, and shows the kind of a swathe this concern intend to cut.

We acknowledge the corn, and we submit gracefully to the strictness on our criticism in the following, received from Mr. N. C. Fowler of the Pope Mfg. Co.: "I read your criticism on the Pope Mfg. Co. valentine with mingled feelings, surprise paramount. I have always possessed an inborn admiration for the thought-to-exist artistic insight of the editor of the Bicycling World. And now I find him to be the only assumed-to-be intelligent man yet reported, who utterly fails to grasp the significance of the valentine design. I might say here, that, on account of an inevitable occurrence, the chromatic effect is not as fine as expected, but that lack doesn't affect the idea of the design. The design is allegoric simplicity, a kindergarten reminder that the cycling season is opening, or, to put it shorter, spring bursting through winter. And you did not see it."

"The Mule," writing from Chicago, sends us the following morsel of news: "It is quite probable that John A. Wells, of Philadelphia, and Hal Greenwood, of St. Louis, will meet in a hill-climbing contest shortly after the League meet. Ned Oliver has been deputised to take care of Wells' interests, and to-day I found him writing a letter to St. Louis, proposing one race at De Soto, one at Eagle Rock hill, Newark, N. J., and a third, if necessary, on Corey hill. Oliver proposes that each side deposit $50 for a gold medal, the loser to pay all expenses, which are to consist of railroad fares and hotel bills. Wells and Jack Rogers are also to engage in a race of some kind at the League meet.

The Springfield Roadster people are likely to have many men on their bicycles this year that will be heard from both on the road and on the hill—Corey hill especially!

William Read & Sons report the opening spring trade as being unusually strong and lively. Well, with a machine like the New Mail it is natural that it should be "lively."

English riders who visited the late Stanley Show are now fully satisfied that we in America can build a wheel. This conclusion was arrived at after seeing the exhibit of the Pope Mfg. Co.

Mr. Alec Hill, of the Coventry Machinists' Co., will arrive in Boston per Catalonia and will travel through the States the coming season in the interest of that Company. We wish Mr. Hill success in his new field of labor.

On the matter of cyclometers, it will be remembered that the route of the World's road race last fall, was surveyed by a cyclometer made by the Butcher Company. So accurate was the cyclometer found to be that repeated trips failed to show a variation worthy of note. In the distance, 20 miles, the variation was limited to less than 40 feet, a variation easily accounted for by the sinuosity of the wheels' track.

We thank Bi. News for kind words in connection with our consolidation. It says: "We cannot help congratulating the officials on the move, as the World is certainly, in our opinion, the best conducted and most readable of our transatlantic contemporaries. It will seem a big change to find Bassett and Fourdrinier and Co. side by side, after having known them as antagonists—shall we say—for so long; but it will be for the public good, and we are glad to see it." In connection with the above, we desire to say we have a very nice little paragraph written by Gentleman John complimentary to Mr. Hillier. The paragraph alluded to will see the light of day very soon.

The Overman Wheel Co show some strong testimonials on the front page in this week's issue. The excellence of the Victor wheels is in keeping with the excellence of these testimonials.

J. H. Shurman has gone to St. Louis to have a look at De Soto hills, and to show what the Springfield Roadster can do on that celebrated route. Mr. McCune will accompany Mr. Shurman.

The Victor Jr. is now on exhibition at No. 182 Columbus avenue. The 1888 pattern of the Victor Safety will be on exhibition early next week at the same place.

The boys' safety and the new small-wheel tricycle are attracting great attention at the store of Messrs. W. B. Everett & Co. To look at the beautiful little rear driver makes us wish we were a boy again.

"Wm. Read & Sons did the handsome thing by the New Mail in the first issue of the combine," said a well known wheelman to us the other day. Yes, we rather think they did the handsome thing, and we believe the enterprise will bear generous fruition.

We rode an Ivel Safety the other day—only a short ride on a level floor in the warerooms of Wm. Read & Sons, but it was enough to make us wish to try this celebrated machine on the highway. The ease and steadiness of steering was very apparent.

"Prospects for a large and elegant trade," is about the report we receive from the Clark Cycle Co. of Baltimore. We are promised particulars from this firm at an early day in regard to anything that may be novel in the New Rapids or Quadrants

The White Cycle Co. have purchased land at Milford, Mass., and as soon as the weather will permit they will build a factory exactly to meet their wants. Special machinery is being constructed, and will be put in place the moment the building is completed.

The first four at the finish of the recent 72-hour race rode American Champions and light Champions. They were Dingley, Knapp, Hollingsworth and McDowell. It was the latter's first bicycle race, and his showing would seem to indicate that he had a future.

Gormully & Jeffery have their little say on the testimonial question, as will be seen by referring to their advt. There are two of 'em, but they "arrive at their intended destination in a manner similar to the original design." In other and vulgar vernacular, "they get there."

Mr. O. S. Barrett of Adrian, Mich., and who in the war of the rebellion lost the use of his limbs below the hips, thus writes in regard to his Singer velociman: "My cycle is all right. I can handle it beautifully, and would not exchange it for the best single-horse rig in our city. It is a daisy."

The Coventry Machine Co. are pulling strongly into line for a vigorous campaign the coming season. By the way, local riders and others should remember that the Coventry have one of the best equipped repair shops in the city. We wish for this concern all the success that is due the makers of a machine the superior of which does not exist.

The Victor catalogue for 1888 is out, and is a model of its kind. It, of course, contains cuts and descriptions of all of the Overman machines and parts thereof, but it also contains a long list of the sundries that the cyclist needs and uses. On the last few pages of the catalogue they have a number of testimonials, headed "The Proof of the Pudding," and the League sign-board stencil, which indicates "O.K. Bicyclers go this way," a very neat and inticing way of calling the attention of riders to the way they should go. By all means send for one of these catalogues.

ve as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)
e Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in adary or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August); in October, November or December, enclose $1.25. roof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it

The question of appropriate dress and underwear for the cyclist is getting to be more and more a matter where intelligence, and regard for health and comfort take a place in the minds of riders. We cannot urge too strongly on the readers of this paper to take into consideration the claims of the Jersey Fitting Underwear Co., an advertisement of whose goods appears in this issue. We ourselves have used some of these garments and can speak with great satisfaction as to their worth. Messrs. Holmes & Co., the patentees, will send catalogue and price lists to all who desire to purchase. After having once used these goods we are satisfied that the wearer will continue to use them. Read their advertisement carefully and act accordingly.

you arrived at the bottom, you were as dead as the wall. I had given two guineas for twelve lessons, and was bound to go through them: but, after the first, I hired a boy, as I gave out to instruct me, but in reality to ensure my personal safety. He ran by my side, and I clung to him with one hand, and sometimes with both, as Mr. Winkle on the ice clung to Sam Weller. When I learnt to go alone, I stationed him with his back to the wall, ostensibly to give me verbal directions; but of course it was understood that he was to prevent a catastrophe, which, being very stout for his age, he was well fitted to do. His presence there gave me great confidence, though I protest it never made me careless—no, not for a single instant—but I let myself go rather more freely than I should have done. I am sorry to have to record it for the sake of our common nature, but, forgetful of the loyalty due to his employer—he had not one trace of that feudal feeling which was once our country's pride—he dodged at the critical moment, and, but for a spasm of terror which turned the handle of the vehicle, I should not now be alive to relate his treachery. The machine was shattered to fragments; but—the Welsh are right, I think, in attributing a certain malevolence as well as ill-luck to some inanimate objects—in its last agonies it bit me severely in the leg. I have never been 'hot upon bicycles' since then."

MARCH CYCLING.
LATITUDE OF BOSTON.

The sun was bright and warm,
And the roads were smooth and hard,
So we trundled out our wheel,
And adventured country-ward.

The buds were peeping out,
And the birdies chirped and twittered;
And over all the landscape
Merry sunbeams glanced and glittered.

But twenty miles from home
A blizzard swooped down on us;
And we'd only cycling togs—
And airy ones—upon us!

Next morning we were found
In a cake of solid water,
And it took more ardent spirits
To revive us than it ought'er.

This was a week ago,
So we're not as yet quite thawed out;
But if by June, it comes out warm,
We may get that cycle sawed out.

PEDALS.

A NEW KIND OF A LIAR.

They have found a new kind of a club liar down in Maine, "hard-featured, rock-bound Maine." It seems the boys had started in mild on the subject of art and the capabilities of artists. One of the party having just returned from Boston where he had viewed the two great cycloramas, and he had been expatiating on the wonderful illusion of these paintings, thus starting the ball a'rolling. Things got pretty hot, the lies were getting to be unctious and indigestible, when finally the climax was reached by Snodders, familiarly known as the "boozer," giving the following: "You know, boys," said Snodders, with a whiskey and watery wink, "how hard 'tis to get good liquor in Maine. You fellers have been lying pretty hard, but what I'm tellin' you is sober truth." ("Sobriety and Snodders," the combination caused audible grins.) "Well," continued Snodders, "you know what an artist Bob Simmons is? One night there was a possul of us over at old Simmons' house, and we got arter Bob to paint us a pictur'. He said he didn't feel like paintin', and kept on makin' excuses, till old Simmons went out and fetched in a bucket of paint an' a bresh an' told Bob that he jest must paint some sort of pictur', whuther or no. Wall, Bob he took up the bresh an' begun to slosh it aroun' till the fust thing we knowd he had done painted the pictur' of a jug. It was jest as nachul as any jug I ever seed, an' when I tuck it up an' sorter shuck it I heard sumthin' slosh. I turned it up, I did, and hanged ef thar wasn't whiskey in it. We let in to drinkin' it, an' it wan't long till we was all drunk."

Up to this moment little Dick Stokes—"Sleepy Dick" he was called—spoke up for the first time, and said with a yawn, "Boys, those are all shameful lies, now I'll tell you a true story, there ain't no fun in an impossible lie. Yes, boys, my story is true, and I'll bet my bicycle agin yours, Snodders, that I can prove the truth of my story."

"Wait till I hear your yarn," said Snodders.

"Here goes," replied "Sleepy Dick." "You fellers all know Sam Hadley, and know he can ride his bicycle as well as paint a picture. Well, I was in Bill Rickets' store the other day, and Sam had just ridden up on his machine and was in the store guying Rickets. We got discussing art, and so to show his skill and to amuse me he got a pot of black paint, and painted a bicycle, and I'll be darned if it wasn't so well done that Jim Harkins came along, took the durn thing, jumped on board of it, and rode down street like mad."

"I'll take yer bet," shouted Snodders. "Now prove the truth of the story."

"Well, you see, it was this way," said "Sleepy," after having indulged in a good yawn, and rubbed his eyes. "You know that old second-hand bike Rickets has had in his store for so long? Well, Sam just took a brush and some black paint and began to paint that old machine all over. You'll mind, boys, I didn't say Sam painted a picture, but a bicycle!!!"

The howl that went up drowned the noise of the slamming door, as Snodders escaped; as for Dick, he only said in a sleepy tone of expostulation, "you should not lie so, boys, it is not moral," and then he tilted his chair back, and slumber once more held him as her own. Next day Dick put up Snodders' bicycle at auction, and Snodders "bought it in" for $25.00 and drinks for the crowd.

A REMONSTRANCE FROM STARLEY & SUTTON.

Editor Bicycling World: In your issue of Feb. 3d., we see it stated that we have not got over our aversion to American visitors. The writer of these words, expresses the very reverse of the fact, when he tries to make us out as prejudiced, or in anyway selfish or close minded. We are always most happy to welcome any one from America, and if it gives them pleasure, to show them over the works. The whole tone of remarks are caddish in the extreme! If you will make any enquiries you like from any authorities in this country, you will find that their opinion of the firm of Starley & Sutton is to tally different to what any one would imagine it to be, after reading the remarks of your correspondent. We have been recommended by Messrs. Iliffe & Sturmey to place an advertisement with you, as your paper is a good medium, and we don't think they would have done so, unless your paper was carried on impartially, and we therefore bring the remarks of the "Senator" before you, as we fear they have escaped your notice.

Yours truly,
STARLEY & SUTTON.

[We are very glad to print the above, and we can only say, we think the "Senator" did not fully weigh the import of his remarks which, unfortunately, found space in our columns.—Ed.]

THE ENGLISH, FRENCH AND AMERICAN TEAMS WILL BE HERE IN AUGUST.

Editor Bi. World:

After very careful consideration of the subject, the American team, that has earned for itself a popular repute in this country and the wide world over, has decided to return to America in August next. The numerous letters received by the manager of the team from intended tournament projectors, and Mr. Henry E. Ducker in particular, and the energy of the Bicycling World in advocating reform in cycle racing, have in a great measure done much in deciding our return from, and to forego lucrative engagements both in Great Britain and the Continent. Further, our interest in American cycling has also to a great extent made this step imperative on our part. It is well known through various causes that cycle racing has been practically a failure in America for the past two years, through causes known and unknown; and considering our future will probably be cast in the sport, we have decided to return and add our mite in endeavoring to place cycling on the popular plane it deserves to be. There is no reason why cycling should not in the near future be the national pastime of the United States. It certainly deserves to be more than the sports which now rule supreme. If the programmes of the several projected meetings are announced early I have no reason to doubt that several fast English and French champions will cross the briny to meet Americans in battle on the cinder path. I heartily concur in class-racing for amateurs and professionals, and must congratulate the American press, and Bi. World in particular, in the campaign they have inaugurated to introduce same. I think the rules of the National Trotting Association of America, with a few alterations, could be made acceptable for class racing. Let us all, then, unite in making a radical reformation in the sport, and endeavor to make the year 1888 a jubilee year in cycle racing for the United States of America, which will undoubtedly be the means of improving not only the sport, but the cycle industry generally. With road riding I have little to do, but it seems to me the suggestion of Col. Albert Pope last year as to appointing a surveyor to look after the road question, is just as important and commendable as class racing to popularize the pastime. I hope the manufacturers, now that they are freed from "team expenses," will lend a generous, helping hand (as they always have done) in making tournaments paying to the promoters. The generous help of the editors of the general press will, I have no doubt, be continued, and to them we must, in a great measure, look for success in all our undertakings. We owe them much for the past, we expect from them much for the future. For my part, representing the American team, I will use every endeavor to do all in my power to assist the same. Any information regarding the addresses of cyclist both in this country and the Continent I will be happy to furnish, and will use any influence I possess to secure their entries. All letters to the London Sporting Life (148 Fleet St.) will be attended to. With greeting to all from the American team, I remain yours. "Senator" Morgan.

London, Eng., March 1st.

TRADE NOTES, CLIPPINGS, AND ALL SORTS.

Some of the English daily newspapers are taking a stand against road racing.

The Clark Cycle Co. have placed an order for 750 New Rapid bicycles alone. This is a splendid order, and shows the kind of a swathe this concern intend to cut.

We acknowledge the corn, and we submit gracefully to the strictness on our criticism in the following, received from Mr. N. C. Fowler of the Pope Mfg. Co.: "I read your criticism on the Pope Mfg. Co. valentine with mingled feelings, surprise paramount. I have always possessed an inborn admiration for the thought-to-exist artistic insight of the editor of the Bicycling World. And now I find him to be the only assumed-to-be intelligent man yet reported, who utterly fails to grasp the significance of the valentine design. I might say here, that, on account of an inevitable occurrence, the chromatic effect is not as fine as expected, but that lack doesn't affect the idea of the design. The design is allegoric simplicity, a kindergarten reminder that the cycling season is opening, or, to put it shorter, spring bursting through winter. And you did not see it."

"The Mule," writing from Chicago, sends us the following morsel of news: "It is quite probable that John A. Wells, of Philadelphia, and Hal Greenwood, of St. Louis, will meet in a hill-climbing contest shortly after the League meet. Ned Oliver has been deputised to take care of Wells' interests, and to-day I found him writing a letter to St. Louis, proposing one race at De Soto, one at Eagle Rock hill, Newark, N. J., and a third, if necessary, on Corey hill. Oliver proposes that each side deposit $50 for a gold medal, the loser to pay all expenses, which are to consist of railroad fares and hotel bills. Wells and Jack Rogers are also to engage in a race of some kind at the League meet.

The Springfield Roadster people are likely to have many men on their bicycles this year that will be heard from both on the road and on the hill—Corey hill especially!

William Read & Sons report the opening spring trade as being unusually strong and lively. Well, with a machine like the New Mail it is natural that it should be "lively."

English riders who visited the late Stanley Show are now fully satisfied that we in America can build a wheel. This conclusion was arrived at after seeing the exhibit of the Pope Mfg. Co.

Mr. Alec Hill, of the Coventry Machinists' Co., will arrive in Boston per Catalonia and will travel through the States the coming season in the interest of that Company. We wish Mr. Hill success in his new field of labor.

On the matter of cyclometers, it will be remembered that the route of the World's road race last fall, was surveyed by a cyclometer made by the Butcher Company. So accurate was the cyclometer found to be that repeated trips failed to show a variation worthy of note. In the distance, 20 miles, the variation was limited to less than 40 feet, a variation easily accounted for by the sinuosity of the wheels' track.

We thank Bi. News for kind words in connection with our consolidation. It says: "We cannot help congratulating the officials on the move, as the World is certainly, in our opinion, the best conducted and most readable of our transatlantic contemporaries. It will seem a big change to find Bassett and Fourdrinier and Co. side by side, after having known them as antagonists—shall we say—for so long; but it will be for the public good, and we are glad to see it." In connection with the above, we desire to say we have a very nice little paragraph written by Gentleman John complimentary to Mr. Hillier. The paragraph alluded to will see the light of day very soon.

The Overman Wheel Co show some strong testimonials on the front page in this week's issue. The excellence of the Victor wheels is in keeping with the excellence of these testimonials.

J. H. Shurman has gone to St. Louis to have a look at De Soto hills, and to show what the Springfield Roadster can do on that celebrated route. Mr. McCune will accompany Mr. Shurman.

The Victor Jr. is now on exhibition at No. 182 Columbus avenue. The 1888 pattern of the Victor Safety will be on exhibition early next week at the same place.

The boys' safety and the new small-wheel tricycle are attracting great attention at the store of Messrs. W. B. Everett & Co. To look at the beautiful little rear driver makes us wish we were a boy again.

"Wm. Read & Sons did the handsome thing by the New Mail in the first issue of the combine," said a well known wheelman to us the other day. Yes, we rather think they did the handsome thing, and we believe the enterprise will bear generous fruition.

We rode an Ivel Safety the other day—only a short ride on a level floor in the warerooms of Wm. Read & Sons, but it was enough to make us wish to try this celebrated machine on the highway. The ease and steadiness of steering was very apparent.

"Prospects for a large and elegant trade," is about the report we receive from the Clark Cycle Co. of Baltimore. We are promised particulars from this firm at an early day in regard to anything that may be novel in the New Rapids or Quadrants

The White Cycle Co. have purchased land at Milford, Mass., and as soon as the weather will permit they will build a factory exactly to meet their wants. Special machinery is being constructed, and will be put in place the moment the building is completed.

The first four at the finish of the recent 72-hour race rode American Champions and light Champions. They were Dingley, Knapp, Hollingsworth and McDowell. It was the latter's first bicycle race, and his showing would seem to indicate that he had a future.

Gormully & Jeffery have their little say on the testimonial question, as will be seen by referring to their advt. There are two of 'em, but they "arrive at their intended destination in a manner similar to the original design." In other and vulgar vernacular, "they get there."

Mr. O. S. Barrett of Adrian, Mich., and who in the war of the rebellion lost the use of his limbs below the hips, thus writes in regard to his Singer velociman: "My cycle is all right. I can handle it beautifully, and would not exchange it for the best single-horse rig in our city. It is a daisy."

The Coventry Machine Co. are pulling strongly into line for a vigorous campaign the coming season. By the way, local riders and others should remember that the Coventry have one of the best equipped repair shops in the city. We wish for this concern all the success that is due the makers of a machine the superior of which does not exist.

The Victor catalogue for 1888 is out, and is a model of its kind. It, of course, contains cuts and descriptions of all of the Overman machines and parts thereof, but it also contains a long list of the sundries that the cyclist needs and uses. On the last few pages of the catalogue they have a number of testimonials, headed "The Proof of the Pudding," and the League sign-board stencil, which indicates "O.K. Bicyclers go this way," a very neat and inticing way of calling the attention of riders to the way they should go. By all means send for one of these catalogues.

The question of appropriate dress and underwear for the cyclist is getting to be more and more a matter where intelligence, and regard for health and comfort take a place in the minds of riders. We cannot urge too strongly on the readers of this paper to take into consideration the claims of the Jersey Fitting Underwear Co., an advertisement of whose goods appears in this issue. We ourselves have used some of these garments and can speak with great satisfaction as to their worth. Messrs. Holmes & Co., the patentees, will send catalogue and price lists to all who desire to purchase. After having once used these goods we are satisfied that the wearer will continue to use them. Read their advertisement carefully and act accordingly.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE PRESIDENT.—H. W. Hayes, 103 State St., Boston, Mass.

TREASURER.—W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR.—Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., New York City.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP.—James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard St., Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 421 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—C. S. Butler, 263 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Sharc, 330 Navy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD.—Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 99 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred. T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 West 58th St., New York; W. S. Bull, 360 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER.—W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan, Old Broad St., London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

THE renewal lists are closed with that published this week. We have placed 7848 names on the renewal books, and our total membership, including applications published to-day, is 8675.

THE League goes to Baltimore for its [illegible] parading has gone by. [illegible] are not agreeable in the [illegible] those who dislike to [illegible] rtheless, report for duty [illegible] e ordeal with the best [illegible] e owe something to our [illegible] sion on the Bay will include a visit to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and a picnic lunch at Bay Ridge. Baltimore issues a very cordial invitation, and we do not doubt she will meet with many responses.

IN answer to letters of inquiry sent to this office we will say that the members of the Board of Officers now in office will hold their positions until September 1st. The election will take place between the dates July 15 and Aug. 15, and the new Board will assume its duties Sept. 1.

THERE is developing some oppostion to the proposition to give League clubs a representation in the Division Board of Officers. This clause was put into the new rules in recognition of a demand that something should be done for League clubs. These clubs are recruiting stations for the League. They are a force that must be recognized. To become a League club a club must handicap itself and make many sacrifices. They should have something in return. and the little that is given them by the proposed amendment is by no means too much. Failure to pass some such law as that now before the League would lead to the withdrawal of three out of five of our League clubs, and the League would lose very many members.

WILL the coming lady ride a bicycle? One year ago one would have given an emphatic "No" to this question, but the world moves, and the Washington ladies are now riding the two-wheeler. We saw the wheel ridden by a lady in New York, and must confess that many of our prejudices were removed. She rode well and accomplished the mount and dismount with ease and grace.

THERE are a few good reasons for holding a parade on the occasion of the annual meet, and a very few. It is no more than fair that the wheelmen who enjoy the hospitalities of a city's people, should appear before their hosts in their capacity as wheelmen, and the business houses that contribute money towards the entertainment of the guests have a right to demand that some public display be made in order that they may have a chance to get back a portion of what they have paid in. In this view of the case every wheelman who goes to Baltimore should go with the intention of joining the parade. There are many that dislike this feature of the annual meet, and they will tell

NEW JERSEY wheelmen are to be congratulated on the passage of a Liberty bill by the Legislature. Chief Consul Cooley has worked hard to get the bill through, and deserves great credit. The good work goes proudly on.

DOWN in the little town of Warren, R. I., the wheelmen have been to town meeting. Chief Consul Davol writes us 'We carried everything we tried to carry at town meeting to-day. Elected a new council with two wheelmen on it, and an entire ticket in favor of road improvement. We appropriated $3000 for the streets, and $600 to purchase a road scraper and roller. It was a big victory for a little town, and the wheelmen arehappy."

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

A meeting of the Board of Officers of the Massachusetts Division, L. A. W., will be held at Young's Hotel, Boston, on Saturday evening, March 31, at 7 o'clock. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, and the business meeting will immediately follow. H. W. HAYES,
Chief Consul.

RESIGNATION.

To the Members of the District of Columbia Div. L. A. W.:

Gentlemen—My business affairs preventing me from devoting the time and personal attention to the Division which the office of Chief Consul requires, and believing a change will be for the best interests of the organization, I have this day tendered to our President my resignation.

I have also suggested to him the advisability of appointing as my successor Representative George S. Atwater of Washington, one who will fill the position with credit to himself and honor to the organization, and who being a recent acquisition to our ranks may be able to obliterate the animosity which has existed in certain circles toward the L. A. W., and thus largely increase our local membership.

Expressing my thanks for the cordial support given me during the three years of my incumbency, and requesting a continuance of the same to my successor,

I remain, gentlemen, yours fraternally,
E. T. PETTENGILL, C. C.

APPOINTMENT DISTRICT COLUMBIA.

Mr. E. T. Pettengill, Chief Consul for District of Columbia, having tendered his resignation, the same is hereby accepted. I take pleasure in appointing as his successor George S. Atwater of Washington, who will at once assume the duties of the office.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, President L. A. W.

CALIFORNIA CONSULAR LIST—No. 1.

The terms of all Local Consuls expiring March 1st, the following appointments for the ensuing year are hereby announced:

Alameda—P. E. Haslett.
Haywards—C. H. Johnson.
Livermore—George A. Morrill.
Napa City—W. S. Hoover.
Oakland—Lewis Sears, 857 Broadway.
Oroville—S. S. Simon.
Pasadena—George H. Frost, 62 East Colorado st.
Sacramento—John Breuner, Jr., 604 K street.
San Francisco—J. R. Hopkins, 513 Stanyan st.
San Jose—Arthur C. McKenney.
San Mateo—D. W. Donnelly.
Santa Cruz—E. N. Radke.
Stockton—W. A. Severy, 198 Main st.
Vacaville—J. M. Miller.

ROBERT M. WELCH,
Chief Consul for California.

MASSACHUSETTS AMENDMENTS.

BOSTON, March 8th, 1888.

To the Board of Officers Mass. Division, L. A. W.

Your Committee on Rules and Regulations present the following amendments to the By-laws to be acted upon at the next meeting of the Board:

Art. II. Sect. 2.

(a) Second line, substitute "fifteenth day of June (June 15)" for "twentieth day of March (March 20)."
(b) Second line, substitute "June" for "March."
(c) Third line, substitute "fifteenth" for "tenth."
(c) Fourth line, substitute "July" for "April."
(c) Tenth line, substitute "First day of August (Aug. 1)" for "twentieth day of April (April 20.)
(d) Third line substitute "July" for "March."

These changes are offered that our By-laws may conform to those of the National Board, as adopted at its last meeting in New York. WM. H. EMERY,
CHAS. S. HOWARD,
Com. on Rules and Regulations.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 130—Total 72.

BOSTON, March 16, 1888.

ARIZONA—1.

Unattached.
17868 Robinson, H. T., Phœnix.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—9.

Ariel Bi. Club.
17869 Allen, C. D., 322 Montgomery st., San Francisco.

Bay City Wheelmen.
17870 Froboese, Geo. H., 405 Kearney st., "

Oak Leaf Wheelmen.
17871 Wright, A. H., 143 Eldorado st., Stockton.

San Francisco Bi. Club.
17872 Rhodes, W. H. L., 214 Battery st., San Francisco.

San Mateo Wheelmen.
17937 Farnan, James M., San Mateo.

Unattached.
17873 Grider, J. C., Stockton.
17874 Garnosset, A., Box 1355, San Jose.
17938 McDonald, L. D., Menlo Park.
17875 Watson, Wm., Box 240, Santa Clara.

COLORADO DIVISION—2.

Denver Ramblers.
17876 Davis, A. J., 1317 19th st., Denver.
17877 Hullinger, Bailey, 19th and Blake sts., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—3.

Winsted Wheel Club.
17878 Dean, James L., 238 Main st., Winsted.
17879 Moffatt, H. B., "

Unattached.
17880 Fenton, Edw. G., 104 So. Front st., New Haven

ILLINOIS DIVISION—2.

Quincy Bi. Club.
17881 Whipple, H. L., 637 Main st., Quincy.

Unattached.
17882 Smith, Ben M., Cambridge.

IOWA DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17883 Daugherty, C. R., Washington.

KANSAS DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17884 Barber, E. T., Rossville.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17885 Judd, G. S., Maysville.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—6.

Cambridge Bi. Club.
17886 Burns, H. H., 33 Bigelow st., Cambridgeport.

Taunton Bi. Club.
17887 Rogers, Walter B., Taunton.

Unattached.
17939 Buck, Wm. F., 147 Bloomingdale st., Chelsea.
17888 Foster, Frank G., Whitinsville.
17889 Harris, Frank L., So. Main st., No. Brookfield.
17890 Pease, Austin W., 27 Temple st., Boston.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—1.

Winona Cyclists.
17891 Balcom, W. M. Winona.

MISSOURI DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
17892 Annan, J. Paul, 904 Olive st., St. Louis

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—2.

Unattached.
17893 Dally, Wm. L., 1 Colt st., Paterson.
17894 Metcalf, Manton B., 200 Centre st., Orange.

NEW YORK DIVISION—24.

Kings County Wheelmen.
17895 Sheppard, Walter, 266 Keap st., Brooklyn.

Manhattan Bi. Club.
17896 Broughton, Harry I., 162 E. 87th st., N. York.
17897 Whitelaw, Wm. A., 391 4th ave., "

New York Bi. Club.
17898 Andreini, J. M., 52 Wall st., "
17899 Blake, John R., 170 W. 59th st., "
17900 Greene, H. W., 21 E. 14th st., "
17901 Leeper, Frank C., 99 Franklin st., "

Riverside Wheelmen.
17902 Powers, Edw. A., 228 W. 105th st., "

St. Paul's Wheelmen.
17903 Shepard, Arthur B., Garden City, L. I.

Syracuse Cycling Club.
17904 Avery, G. Howard, 228 Madison st., Syracuse.
17905 Bigelow, W. B., Baldwin's Village.
17906 Denny, Harry N., 40 W. Fayette st., Syracuse.
17907 Harris, Geo. W., Drawer 103, "
17908 Haskins, E. L., Del. and Grace sts., "
17909 Judson, W. H., 47 South Salina st., "
17910 Kent, Frank, 10 Highland st., "
17911 Nye, W. B., 82 West Genesee st., "
17912 Olmstead, Will H., 73 Clinton st., "
17913 Rice, Ed. L., 162 South Salina st., "
17914 Truesdell, Chas. C., Jr., 54 Seymour st., "
17915 Wiard, W. W., 7 Holland st., "
17916 Wood, Charles W., 74 So. Salina st., "

Unattached.
17917 Fuller, C. Irving, 407 Embargo st., Rome.
17918 Miller, Benj. F., 8 German Ins Bldg, Buffalo.

OHIO DIVISION—8.

Toledo Cycling Club.
17919 Balch, Will H., 25 Chamber Commerce, Toledo
17920 Brough, S. A., 181 Irving st., "
17921 Hahn, Herman L., W. and L. E. R. R. Aud. Office, Toledo.
17922 Scott, W. H., Toledo Nat. Gas Co. "

Unattached.
17923 Brown, H. B., Hartwell.
17924 Mearkle, A. C., Salem.
17925 Munro, W. C., Box 747, Cincinnati.
17926 Tappan, John B., Milan.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—7.

Philadelphia Bi. Club.
17931 Lobo, M. F., U. S. M int, Philadelphia

Unattached.
17927 Bard, E. F., Lincoln.
17928 Duchman, Frank, "
17929 Romig, Wilmot K., "
17930 Miller, David H., Lancaster.
17932 Miller, Frank C., Reading.
17933 Smith, A. H., Franklin.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—2.

Kent Co. Wheelmen.
17934 Hedd, Wm. H., East Greenwich.

Unattached.
17935 Beach, W. B., 2d, Box 1172, Providence.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—1.

Clarksville Cyclers.
17936 Ely, Edwards, Clarksville.

RENEWALS.

BOSTON, March 10, 1888.

List 14.

The following renewals are received, closing the lists:

Arizona	1	Michigan	8
California	34	Minnesota	2
Colorado	1	Missouri	18
Connecticut	3	Montana	1
District of Columbia	1	Nebraska	0
Illinois	10	New Jersey	8
Indiana	4	New York	40
Iowa	2	Ohio	28
Kansas	4	Pennsylvania	25
Kentucky	1	Utah	1
Louisiana	10	Virginia	1
Maine	2	Wisconsin	7
Maryland	2
Massachusetts	18	Total	248

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Eurota Bicycle Club, St. Louis, Mo.
Syracuse Cycling Club, Syracuse, N. Y.

All membership in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, .....

City and State, ...

References: .....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance, In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold. stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY.

Second-Hand Wheels,

Bought, Sold and Exchanged. Send for Second-hand List and our large Illustrated Catalog of Wheels and Accessories, with full particulars of our terms of easy payments. Of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Liberal discounts to agents on second-hand Wheels. Prices on all Wheels guaranteed as low as the lowest.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

Bicycles on Easy Payments.

New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on Easy Payments with no extra charge except 8 per cent. interest. Low rates by fast freight or express. Bargains in Juvenile Wheels of Best Makers, at from $6.40 up. Large line of Accessories. REPAIRING AND NICKEL PLATING.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

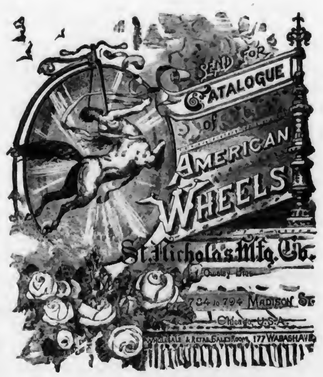
Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

TRICYCLISTS' INDISPENSABLE ANNUAL AND HANDBOOK. By HENRY STURMEY. Describes every machine made, with detailed analysis of all the various parts, principles or novelties in present use, etc. Profusely illustrated. Edition for 1884, revised and enlarged, 50 cents, by mail. There will be no edition of this book for 1885.

SPADE HANDLES,

Made of Best Steel-drop Forgings,



$2.50.

The Best Handles Made. We have them to fit any Wheel.

Special Discount to the Trade.

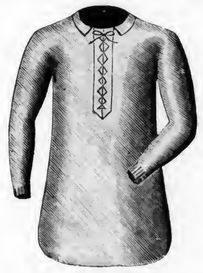
CYCLE SUPPLY CO.,
43 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.

THE CYCLIST, the leading paper of England, is a well-filled newspaper, containing the earliest, the best and fullest reports of all wheel matters. No other paper covers the ground as the Cyclist does, and it is not only the largest in size, but has by far the largest circulation of any wheel paper. Edited by Henry Sturmey and C. W. Nairn. $2.50 per year, including postage.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

WE CALL SPECIAL ATTENTION OF CLUBS AND ALL ATHLETES TO OUR

CATALOGUE FOR 1888.



Jersey-Fitting Shirts.

FOR BICYCLE RIDERS,
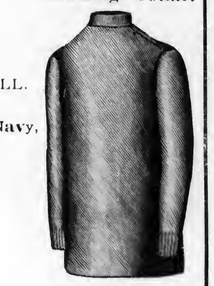
LAWN TENNIS PLAYERS,
YACHTING AND ROWING,
BASE BALL AND FOOT BALL.
GYMMASIUM.

League Color, Grey Mixed, Black, Navy, or any Color,

PLAIN OR STRIPE.

Laced Front, Long Sleeves, Turn-over Collar.



Long Sleeves, Low Neck.

Every Wheelman and Sportsman will give these garments his approval when he examines the SHOULDERS, ARM HOLES AND NECK, as they are made to fit. These goods are patented, and all infringements will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Long Sleeves. Standing Collar.

Foot Ball.

Base Ball.

We embroider letters on front of this for twenty-five cents each letter.

Jersey-Fitting Pants.

Full Pants.

Are knit with a selvedge edge, in two separate parts from the waist to the feet, and formed while being knit to fit the limbs, so the strain upon the garment is equally divided on every part of the body. The seam, being a selvedged edge, is small and flat, and will not rip. BUTTONED IN FRONT, SAME AS PANTALOONS, WITHOUT CERTAIN OBJECTIONS.

We offer them to the trade and clubs as SOMETHING NEW, and invite all to examine them.

Knee Pants.

Our Bicycle Full Tights.

We understand, first of all, these garments must be elastic, so they will not bind or impede the free use of the limbs, and to stand the strain brought upon them. This can only be accomplished in Ribbed Goods. For this reason we make all of our goods with a FINE RIB, ELASTIC AND STRONG, and from worsted made by the best manufacturers in the country, of fine combed wool of a long, elastic staple, which gives it Elasticity and Strength.

Gymnasium.

Bicycle Knee Tights.

Made same as full tights, to three inches below the knee.

Racing Wheelmen tell us it is a loss of fifteen seconds in a mile to have some slight irritation from a non-elastic pair of cloth pants.

Ladies' Jersey-Fitting Tricycle pants.

A NEW THING.

These pants are close fitting, come three inches below the knee, are very classy, and the most comfortable garment a lady ever wore. Made in Cream Colored Cotton, Drab, Red, or any colors in Worsteds.

Trunks.

Ladies' Union Undergarment.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

We make the same thing for men, suited to outside wear, and of the same worsted as we use for Jerseys and Tights.

We would like to have every Wheelman and Sportsman see these garments.

TRADE MARK.

Jersey-Fitting Ribbed Full-Fashioned Stocking.

We believe there is none better.

We send these goods to any part of the country.

Send for Price List and Catalogue.

Each garment bears our Trade Mark. and are endorsed by the best manufacturers of Bicycles and Professional Gymnasts.
In ordering these goods be particular and give full name or style of each garment ordered.

Manufactured By

HOLMES & CO., - - - - 17 Kingston, St. Boston, Mass.

RIDERS OF RACING COLUMBIAS HOLD THE BEST WORLD'S RECORDS. EQUALLY GOOD MATERIAL, WORKMANSHIP AND CARE ARE GIVEN TO THE MANUFACTURE OF

ROAD COLUMBIAS,

AND THE COLUMBIA ROADSTERS AND LIGHT ROADSTERS ARE THE MACHINES INVARIABLY RIDDEN BY TRANSCONTINENTAL TOURISTS, AND ARE ALWAYS IN THE MAJORITY ON LONG DISTANCE TOURS.

ILLUSTRATED CATATOGUE, 60 PAGES, 40 ENGRAVINGS, FREE. POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

The Rudge for 1888.

Illustrated Catalogue sent free upon application.

RUDGE AGENTS WANTED.

Apply to H. M. SABEN, Manager, - - 152 Congress Street, Boston.

FOUNDED THE 1878

BICYCLING WORLD & L. A. W. BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy. BOSTON, 23 MARCH, 1888. Volume XVI. Number 21.

YOUNG MAN!

If you are a novice, don't give it away to the the neighbors by buying a cheap wheel because its original cost is below that of a high grade machine. It will prove a delusion and a snare, and will superinduce profanity and poverty.

Buy a bicycle that will stand up under you and do what you want done. If you ride a

VICTOR

No one will question your right to wheel up to the front with the veterans.

VICTORS ARE BUILT RIGHT.

Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., Makers,

BOSTON.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Write for Our 1888 Catalogue.

New Rapid Roadster,

New Rapid Light Roadster,

New Rapid Safety,

QUADRANT TRICYCLE, No. 8, for Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycle, No. 14, for Ladies and Light Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tandem, No. 15. Two Ladies can ride.

We desire to announce to the trade that we have secured United States agency for Jos. Lucas & Son's goods, including the celebrated

KING OF THE ROAD LAMPS,

and shall be pleased to give quotations.

Agents Wanted for our Cycles and Sundries in unoccupied territory.

You May be Interested in This.

I shall make a specialty of renting Bicycles, Tricycles and Tandems this season, and shall offer only the best wheels in perfect condition. The Columbia Light Roadster Bicycles, Veloce and Bicyclette Safeties, Columbia Light Roadster and Surprise Tricycles and Columbia Tandems will compose my road stock. I shall not rent second-hand wheels, but on the contrary my road wheels will be new and 1888 patterns. My pamphlet, giving terms and particulars, will soon be ready, and I should be pleased to mail a copy to any applicant.

I have received, in the way of exchange, a number of first-class Second-hand Bicycles during the past week, sizes 52 and 54, that I can offer at very low figures.

Correspondence promptly answered.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

WARRANTED TO PLEASE—The Common Sense Stocking Supporter. The best in use. Price 35c., mailed. E. H. CORSON, Rochester, N.H.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert, enamel and nickel, Kirkpatrick saddle, King of Road lamp; machine and tyres scarcely show a scratch; all just as good as new; good reason for selling. Price, $85.00. Address G. W. GAIL, Jr., care The Clark Cycle Co., Baltimore.

4 BARGAINS—Each Wheel Good as New—Sparkbrook Humber Tandem, Marlboro' Club Tricycle, Rudge Humber Tandem, 54-inch Victor Bicycle. For details address L. H. PORTER, 20 West 23d street, New York.

FOR SALE—48-in., '87, Special Star; balls to small wheel; hollow framing, ramshorn bars and spade handles; cricket saddle, Lakin's Standard Cyclometer. In perfect condition, Price $115. A. B. SCHNEIDER, 37 Stebbins st., Springfield, Mass.

FOR SALE—50-inch Columbia Light Roadster, standard finish, ball bearings all around, cow-horn handle bars, Kirkpatrick saddle; in first-class condition. For particulars address P. O. Box 2181, Ithaca, N. Y.

WILL SELL VERY CHEAP—50-inch Expert, balls all round; double grip handles and pedals; cyclometer and hub lamp; first-class condition. Write for particulars. A. P. C., P. O. Box 1883, New York.

FOR SALE—Sparkbrook Tandem (balls all over), lamp, cyclometer, buffer saddles; fine condition; a bargain. H. E. BIDWELL, Pittsburg, Pa.

FOR SALE—50-inch British Challenge, in fine condition; all the latest improvements. Cheap. P. W. SWAIN, Rockland, Mass.

FOR SALE—52-inch American Light Champion, with extra heavy spokes in rear wheel, 1887 pattern. Been ridden only 4 months. $90.00 spot cash takes it. A. J. CUSSON, 1318 N. Jefferson street, Bay City, Mich.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, $125. 5x7 Photo. Outfit (cost $80), $60. Send stamp for particulars. H. R. BRYAN, Hudson, N. Y.

WANTED—One 50-inch and one 54-inch Victor, New Rapid or Expert machine, late pattern. Will pay spot cash for suitable wheel. Address, with full particulars, BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

FOR SALE—1877 Victor Safety bicycle; in first-class condition. Address J. S. DEAN, 28 State street, Boston, Mass.

VICTOR Light Roadster, 1888 pattern; ridden very little; at $40 under cost. 52 or 54-inch. H. CROWTHER, Box 1582, Philadelphia.

FOR SALE—Columbia two-track Tricycle; had very little use; will sell cheaply. Address ASH-MEAD, 84 Fairview ave., Jersey City, N. J.

BARGAIN—52-inch Standard Columbia, ball bearings to front wheel; bicycle in excellent condition throughout; will sell cheap for cash for $45. A. H. BROWN, Wappingers Falls, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Royal Mail Bicycle, 1887 pattern; spade handles, etc. Cost $150; ridden 200 miles; $110 buys it. Address WM. H. FEIKER, Box 97, Northampton, Mass.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycles for cash, or will trade new Champions, Victors, Rapids, Stars, Springfield Roadsters, etc. Send full description and lowest price. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, Peoria, Ill.

BICYCLES—Second-hand, sold on commission for owners. For full particulars see our ad. in The Wheel, or address MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 19 Cortlandt street, New York City.

FOR SALE—Over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles at bargain prices; send stamp for list and mention this paper. A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio.

DON'T BUY A BICYCLE until you have sent stamp to A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio, for list of over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles. Mention this paper. Second hand Guns and Bicycles taken in exchange.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

CARTER'S Foot Rest, FOR THE STAR, For Easy Coasting.

Price $1.00.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand. JOHN WILKINSON CO., 55 State St., Chicago, Ill. Send stamp for list.

WE COVER THE GROUND.

Bicycles and Tricycles for the million. High grade, medium grade, low grade, all the best in the world for the money. Bicycles for gentlemen, Tricycles for ladies, Bicycles for boys, Tricycles for misses.

20 Different styles, 20

Second-hand Bicycles bought, sold and exchanged. Send stamp for the most complete WHEEL catalogue ever printed.

THE JOHN WILKINSON CO., 55 State St., Chicago, Ill.

BEFORE BUYING, SEE OUR LISTS.

HART CYCLE CO.,

No. 811 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS.

Full Suits and Overcoats at Proportionate Prices

We sincerely believe that never before have we been able to offer our customers so good and stylish a line of SPRING GOODS as now our line of Chevoit

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

Suiting, guaranteed absolutely all wool is particularly remarkable. Our smooth-faced goods are also very carefully selected to suit our trade, whose wants we know now from long experience. For 9 cents we mail you 20 samples of these cloths, self-measurement blanks, so acurate that we gurantee a fit. Also if you mention this paper we send you a good 48-in linen tape measure. Or if you must save time, send us your waist, inside leg, hip and knee measures, together with $3, and 35c. to prepay express or postage. We guarantee safe delivery. For any cause a customer of ours may return his goods and receive back his money or a new garment, a guarantee of which statement may be obtained by writing to the American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000), at Boston.

N. B.—In buying goods by mail, it is a good rule to send money only to concerns that are well known throughout the country and avoid the countless imitators that spring up for a day to compete with old and regular establishments

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,

18 Summer Street, BOSTON, MASS.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.

Fully Warranted, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

Brook's Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

JOHN HARRIOTT,

MANUFACTURER OF

Bicycle and Athletic Medals,

CLUB PINS & BADGES,

DESIGNS ON APPLICATION.

3 Winter Street, - Boston, Mass.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

(Yost & McCune Patent.)

The Only Absolutely Safe Wheel Against "Headers" Made. It is the Best, and it is also the Cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER.

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearings. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

Best class of cold drawn weldless steelttubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., - New York, N. Y.
C. F. STOKES, - - - - Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., - Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street.

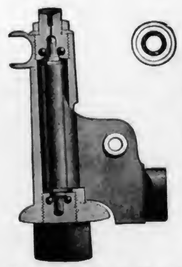
SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

NEW MAIL.

Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps

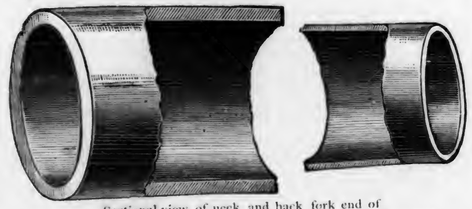
SPECIALTIES OF THE NEW MAIL.

Found in No Other Wheel.



Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

The New Mail is already having a remarkable demand.



A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Get a Catalogue.

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞ Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it.

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., BOSTON.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

BY

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

☞ All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

☞ All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 23 MARCH, 1888.

IF wheelmen are anxious to make voluntary contributions, the Northampton, Springfield and Holyoke side path scheme is one to be encouraged. Also the Rochester, N. Y., similar scheme.

WE have become known as sort of anti-black-tight maniacs, that is, in the opinion of those who fancy the close-fitting sable clingers. But, although not a betting man, we will wager a trifle that black tights for road use will not prove the Darwinian theory of the survival of the fittest to be correct.

BUILDING bicycle paths between towns seems to have taken concrete form, and now several are not only projected, but subscriptions are well along and plans laid out for the completion of same. The possibility of a system of these paths throughout the land should set our local clubs to thinking and acting, so that such a system may become possible. It would pay our dealers and manufacturers to interest themselves in this question.

ANOTHER batch of American talent will sail for England. Crocker wants Rowe's scalp, and Knapp thirsts for the life blood of Woodside. Whittaker, who it is said will also go over, will no doubt have a go at Temple. Crist will make it lively for the English amateur cracks. All in all the early racing season in England promises to be lively, and later on we shall hope to see the Americans return with their heads covered with laurel wreathes, and their pockets filled with British gold.

THE wheel scribes are very generally be wailing the fate of Phi Hammel, of Chicago, and the injustice of the Racing Board in not re-instating this gentleman. We know of a case just as hard as that of Mr. Hammel. Early in the days of cycling a rider whose social and business standing is second to none, unthinkingly ran for a cash prize at a country fair. This thoughtlessness caused this gentleman the loss of his membership in a club, the members of which were proud to call him a friend. We have never heard that this gentleman kicked at the inevitable. He accepted it graciously and philosophically, a fact that those who have purposely and inadvertantly erred will do well to take to heart. This article is not written as a defence of the amateur rule, but simply as a hint to those who persist in crying over spilt milk—spilled by themselves.

KENTUCKY wheelmen will do well to remember the name of Representative Coleman from Kenton County, Ky., as introducing into the legislature of that State a bill to prohibit cyclers using the highways of Kenton County. Don't forget the name, and when occasion occurs to vote, let the wheelmen of Kenton County see to it that Mr. Coleman's name does not receive their personal endorsement. Further, we hope every wheelman in Coleman's district will consider it a duty to not only refuse to vote for him, but to work against him with all their power.

WE have been asked by a goodly number if we intend to take part in the proposed editors' race at Baltimore. We think it but fair to allay any alarm that may have arisen in the bosoms of our fellow editors, and therefore we emphatically aver that we will not start in that proposed race. We wish to give everybody a chance and we would not for the world dash the hopes for first place of such men as Wells, Rogers and Prial. We are magnanimous and feel perfectly willing to step aside and let these second-rate men have a chance. We run the WORLD but we really do not want the earth, hence we are willing to step down and not enter into competition; we are perfectly willing to allow "the other fellows" to gain glory and gather in the medals. Twenty-five miles is not our distance, it is too short.

A NEW way how to dispose of the surplus in the United States National Treasury engages the attention of a correspondent in another column of this issue. It certainly is a novel suggestion, and one bold enough to take away the breath of the most original thinker. We are heartily in sympathy with our correspondent, and we only wish that the proposed application of the surplus on the improvement of the highways were a little less chimerical than it appears to us to be. Who will start the ball by interesting some Congressman and Senator, so that the plan will have consideration at the hands of the high and mighty law makers?

THE League's Executive Committee has issued a circular letter to Chief Consuls on the need of raising funds to pay the League debts and providing a working capital. The circular concludes thus:

"The Executive Committee has the choice between two plans: It can instruct the Secretary-Editor to withold payment to the Divisions of all that is due them, thus making them creditors of the National Body, as they were in 1887, or it can call for a popular subscription. The League has been in financial straits quite long enough, and it behooves us to throw off the incubus. We must have money for the work in hand. We have decided that it is much the best plan to make an appeal to members for a popular subscription in our behalf. We ask that you bring this matter to the attention of your Division at once, and confer with the members relative to the best method of aiding us. We ought to have a sum equal to at least fifty cents per capita, and as much larger individual subscriptions as the generosity of the donors may dictate. We leave it to your Division to decide whether or not they will vote a sum from the Division treasury, or call upon members for donations, or both. Our present income is large enough for our purposes could we have it all, but each year we see it melt away under the burning influences of debts we have inherited from former years."

We regret to have to differ from the Executve Committee in this matter. It is clearly better that the League should be in debt to the Divisions than call for a popular subscription. We believe it should work out its own destiny so long as it can see its way clear. We think it unwise to call for subscriptions among the members to simply tide over a temporary difficulty. Let the parent organization borrow of its Divisions but not go out soliciting aid from its members. Its future existence and prosperity is sufficient security for the payment of the loan. Begging, if successful, has always a demoralizing effect.

The SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER for 1888.

(Yost & McCune Patent.)

The Only Absolutely Safe Wheel Against "Headers" Made. It is the Best, and it is also the Cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER.

This is an absolutely safe wheel which retails for $75.00, with tools and tool bag, enamel finish, trimmed with Nickel, and plain bearlngs. One of the best wheels for all round road riding and hill climbing ever offered to the public.

Best class of cold drawn weldless steelttubing in handle-bars, backbone and side forks. Other parts of the best steel drop forgings. In every way first-class as to its workmanship and material.

The 1888 Pattern Springfield Roadster for $100,

Has ball bearings all around, and cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, enamel finish, trimmed in nickel, with tools and tool bag, workmanship and material such as used in all high grade wheels. The mechanical construction of these two wheels is identical. Those who purchase plain bearings can at any time have ball bearings added, if they so desire, at the additional cost of $25.

These wheels are safe, speedy, good road wheels, and reliable in every respect. Do not fail to examine before purchasing 1888 mount.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

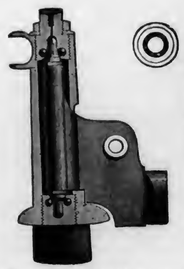
MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., - New York, N. Y.
C. F. STOKES, - - - - Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., - Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

NEW MAIL.

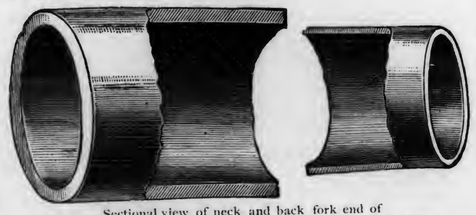
Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps



The New Mail is already having a remarkable demand.

A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Get a Catalogue.



SPECIALTIES OF THE NEW MAIL.

Found in No Other Wheel.

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞ Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it.

Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., BOSTON.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

— BY —

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

☞ All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

☞ All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 23 MARCH, 1888.

IF wheelmen are anxious to make voluntary contributions, the Northampton, Springfield and Holyoke side path scheme is one to be encouraged. Also the Rochester, N. Y., similar scheme.

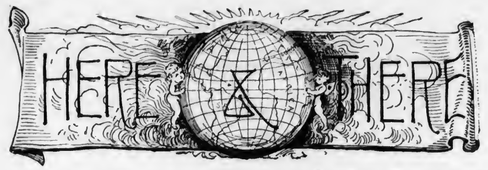
WE have become known as sort of anti-black-tight maniacs, that is, in the opinion of those who fancy the close-fitting sable clingers. But, although not a betting man, we will wager a trifle that black tights for road use will not prove the Darwinian theory of the survival of the fittest to be correct.

BUILDING bicycle paths between towns seems to have taken concrete form, and now several are not only projected, but subscriptions are well along and plans laid out for the completion of same. The possibility of a system of these paths throughout the land should set our local clubs to thinking and acting, so that snch a system may become possible. It would pay our dealers and manufacturers to interest themselves in this question.

ANOTHER batch of American talent will sail for England. Crocker wants Rowe's scalp, and Knapp thirsts for the life blood of Woodside. Whittaker, who it is said will also go over, will no doubt have a go at Temple. Crist will make it lively for the English amateur cracks. All in all the early racing season in England promises to be lively, and later on we shall hope to see the Americans return with their heads covered with laurel wreathes, and their pockets filled with British gold.

THE wheel scribes are very generally be wailing the fate of Phi Hammel, of Chicago, and the injustice of the Racing Board in not re-instating this gentleman. We know of a case just as hard as that of Mr. Hammel. Early in the days of cycling a rider whose social and business standing is second to none, unthinkingly ran for a cash prize at a country fair. This thoughtlessness caused this gentleman the loss of his membership in a club, the members of which were proud to call him a friend. We have never heard that this gentleman kicked at the inevitable. He accepted it graciously and philosophically, a fact that those who have purposely and inadvertantly erred will do well to take to heart. This article is not written as a defence of the amateur rule, but simply as a hint to those who persist in crying over spilt milk—spilled by themselves.

KENTUCKY wheelmen will do well to remember the name of Representative Coleman trom Kenton County, Ky., as introducing into the legislature of that State a bill to prohibit cyclers using the highways of Kenton County. Don't forget the name, and when occasion occurs to vote, let the wheelmen of Kenton County see to it that Mr. Coleman's name does not receive their personal endorsement. Further, we hope every wheelman in Coleman's district will consider it a duty to not only refuse to vote for him, but to work against him with all their power.



WE have been asked by a goodly number if we intend to take part in the proposed editors' race at Baltimore. We think it but fair to allay any alarm that may have arisen in the bosoms of our fellow editors, and therefore we emphatically aver that we will not start in that proposed race. We wish to give everybody a chance and we would not for the world dash the hopes for first place of such men as Wells, Rogers and Prial. We are magnanimous and feel perfectly willing to step aside and let these second-rate men have a chance. We run the WORLD but we really do not want the earth, hence we are willing to step down and not enter into competition; we are perfectly willing to allow "the other fellows" to gain glory and gather in the medals. Twenty-five miles is not our distance, it is too short.

A NEW way how to dispose of the surplus in the United States National Treasury engages the attention of a correspondent in another column of this issue. It certainly is a novel suggestion, and one bold enough to take away the breath of the most original thinker. We are heartily in sympathy with our correspondent, and we only wish that the proposed application of the surplus on the improvement of the highways were a little less chimerical than it appears to us to be. Who will start the ball by interesting some Congressman and Senator, so that the plan will have consideration at the hands of the high and mighty law makers?

THE League's Executive Committee has issued a circular letter to Chief Consuls on the need of raising funds to pay the League debts and providing a working capital. The circular concludes thus:

"The Executive Committee has the choice between two plans: It can instruct the Secretary-Editor to withold payment to the Divisions of all that is due them, thus making them creditors of the National Body, as they were in 1887, or it can call for a popular subscription. The League has been in financial straits quite long enough, and it behooves us to throw off the incubus. We must have money for the work in hand. We have decided that it is much the best plan to make an appeal to members for a popular subscription in our behalf. We ask that you bring this matter to the attention of your Division at once, and confer with the members relative to the best method of aiding us. We ought to have a sum equal to at least fifty cents per capita, and as much larger individual subscriptions as the generosity of the donors may dictate. We leave it to your Division to decide whether or not they will vote a sum from the Division treasury, or call upon members for donations, or both. Our present income is large enough for our purposes could we have it all, but each year we see it melt away under the burning influences of debts we have inherited from former years."

We regret to have to differ from the Executve Committee in this matter. It is clearly better that the League should be in debt to the Divisions than call for a popular subscription. We believe it should work out its own destiny so long as it can see its way clear. We think it unwise to call for subscriptions among the members to simply tide over a temporary difficulty. Let the parent organization borrow of its Divisions but not go out soliciting aid from its members. Its future existence and prosperity is sufficient security for the payment of the loan. Begging, if successful, has always a demoralizing effect.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"RATCHET."

Who says "cycling?" Cycling! Oh, yes, with snow drifts 10 feet high in some places, and slush 2 feet deep in others! We have had a full-grown, thorough-bred Dakota blizzard and no mistake, and as yet, none of our "oldest inhabitants" have had the hardihood to claim that they ever saw anything at all like it this side of the Alleghany mountains. Fortunate, very fortunate indeed, was it for those who were compelled to brave the elements on Monday, 12 March, that the Mercury did not take a notion to drop to a "Dakota level" of 20 or 30 degrees below zero. Had it done so the loss of life in this vicinity would have been frightful. As it was during the interval between 11 P. M. on the 11th and 8 P. M. on the 13th, it is now known that more than a dozen lives were sacrificed within 20 miles of Newark. The number may go higher still when the drifts in the vicinity of the Orange mountains disappear, and a thorough search can be made. Some of the gullies and the mountain roads are completely filled up with "the beautiful," but in this case "deadly" snow, and it is impossible to conjecture how many, if any, poor luckless "tramps," with whom we have been over-run, for a month past, have met their deaths there. Even as I write this, one of our "staff" brings in a report the bodies of two, as yet unknown men have been discovered back of Livingston.

The old time skating rink at Montclair is to be transformed into a bicycle riding school. It is pretty nearly time for the Montclair men to begin working for the new club which was promised.

The American Athlete says: "William Lamb, of Smithville, has challenged Charles Frazier to a five mile race for $50 a side." Lamb proved by his riding last July that he is a "goer," but his head must have swelled terribly since then if he thinks he can down Charley Frazier. A mile allowance to "the boy" might make the race more even.

A writer in a cycling journal wants to know why it is that a certain bicycle which costs $100 here, can be bought for $75 in England. This is a point which has often puzzled my brain. It applies to any article in the manufacture of which metal is used. Sewing machines, when the bottom price here was $55 (15 years ago), could be bought in England, shipped to this country, and would stand the purchaser precisely $23.40, duties and all. A friend of mine being in need of a set of a certain make of taps and dies, was unable to get them here for less than $18.50 the set. He sent to England and got what he wanted for $3.25, cartage and all. Will some of your many readers or contributors let a little light on this subject? Let "London W." try his hand!

As it is almost impossible, Mr. Editor, for me to give you any cycling news of interest, perhaps you will think the following incident connected with the blizzard worth a little space: At noon on Monday, Alexander Bennent, Charles Lee and James Marshall, Bennent's brother-in-law, all three of whom worked in the Singer Sewing Machine works at Elizabethport, started to cross Staten Island Sound in a row boat to reach their homes on the Island. The wind was then blowing at the rate of from 60 to 80 miles an hour, and it was never supposed that the men could reach their destination. The empty boat was afterward found in the ice a long distance from the starting point and it was thought its inmates had found a watery grave. A party started out to make a search on the Island on Wednesday, in order to please the friends of the three men, the searching party not having the remotest idea of getting track of them. After long and laborious ploughing though the drifts, they came to the bodies of Bennent and Lee alonside of a haystack, frozen stiff. Marshall was found, still alive, and had managed to burrow a few feet into the stack from where he was just able to make his voice reach the searcher's ears. The place where the men were found was 3 miles from where they landed. Marshall, as soon as he was able to talk, said that the party walked for hours until finally Bennent and Lee were so exhausted that they were unable to help themselves and sunk down on the snow. Marshall being the stronger man first carried Lee and then Bennent to the haystack and tried to cover them with loose hay. He talked to them for a while, but finally they failed to answer, and although he tried every means to revive them, he failed, and he realized that they were freezing to death and he was powerless to save them. It was then that he began to feel the terrible torpor coming over him, and he began to burrow into the hay to save himself, but soon was overcome and finally lay down to die, the searchers just reached him in time. Both hands and both feet were terribly frozen and to save his life all four members have since been amputated. The physicians, at last accounts, stated that he had little or no chance of living. If he does survive, he should be presented with the first medal the Humane Society can procure as such heroism as he displayed is seldom equalled, and more rarely still by a boy (he was but 17 years of age). It is understood that should he live the employees of the Singer works intend to establish a permanent fund for his support.

SYRACUSE.

"SALINA."

Syracuse has not been snowed under as badly as the provincial towns of New York and Boston, but we have experienced a winter that will make the opening of the riding season exceptionally welcome. Club affairs have consisted—as is usually the case during the colder months—of talk, and "old salt" Salina has deemed it wise to remain frozen up and wait for the sunshine before inflicting any saltings from this place. But he's awake now. He attended a club meeting Monday night that lasted nearly until Tuesday, at which time the questions of joining the L. A. W. as a club and adopting the League uniform were discussed, those nuts with such uncrackable shells, and which every club of importance has to battle with at some time in its history, received a terrible hammering. The debate on both sides was vigorous, prolonged and intensely interesting. It resulted, as of course it should, in a victory for the Leaguers, and the Syracuse Cycling Club (thirty-four members) will be proud to see its name printed in the new World a la Bulletin, as the great and good body of American Wheelmen.

The question of offering badges for road riding during the season of 1888 was batted around the room until it was finally necessary to lay it on the table for repairs. A return game will probably be played next month.

Badges or no badges, there will be much riding in old Onondaga County the coming summer. The active members are talking wheel to the associate contingent, until they can't sleep without dreaming of wheels and backbones, ball bearings, bal(d) heads, etc., and there will be many new wheels sold here this spring.

Checkers has been the prevailing game at club rooms during the winter. The Secretary and Treasurer has harassed more than one member with the double-back-action, single-double, corner-down-the-centre game he plays. A checker tournament is an event of the near future.

Members who wore the League uniform last season can't agree with No. 10,276 in his criticism of the garment. The suit, as now erected, has given perfect satisfaction here, and is deemed to be the best that can be secured for the money.

We congratulate the editors of the new B. W. and L. A. W. B.; it's a Bully Weekly and Let All Wheelmen Buy. Now it's the newsiest and best wheel paper published. It always was, but it's better than ever, now it's named.

CONNECTICUT-INGS.

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

It was painful to read those Long Island Hotel prices, but more painful to think any cycler in his right mind would patronize such a house, which was evidently designed for the use of money kings, editors, and such like, who can afford such figures. No longer ago than last Saturday a pleasant call from Mr. Worden of Boston, who is with the J. P. Lovell Arms Co., revealed the fact that most of the L. A. W. hotels through York state are of the $4.00 per day sort, and that puts any ordinarily circumstanced cycler into some other hotel, every time. However, we will not push the matter of having a few moderate-priced hotels appointed, much as it would convenience many tourists, but shall be glad to get the Bicycling World and Bulletin, and think we have good value for the money, if no other benefit comes to us as members. Roads should have the earnest attention of any and all League members, to the exclusion of many other things that in years gone have taken time and cash, with few good results.

We are planning a jaunt to Cape Ann and round there, in the season of flowers.

We recently received an outline of what must be a charming tour in France, and one we would much like to take; it bore the words: "Compliments of Jo. and E. R. Pennell," and that imparted to it an added interest and value in our eyes.

When "Brer. Pennell" complains of League members bothering him about routes, etc., the other side, they should be referred to Stamson of Stamford, Conn., U. S. A., who can supply some of their wants, and give them many points they want to know.

Interest in cycling hereabouts is picking up a little already, and some of the vaseline is already off. One of our safety riders has missed but sixteen days during the whole winter, and thinks that after such a one as that just past, he can "arrive there" through any one to come.

While that special cycle path scheme is a good one, it would be still better, if possible, to enlist "hoss-men" in a plan to help make the roads smooth and good, so that so many more could be benefitted. The roads are none too wide, for "our girls" are getting more and more into riding habits, that is, suits [Oh!—Ed.], and their tricycles will take up considerable room between now and the time the lady's bicycle is an accomplished fact and numerous. Let it come, and cannot we hear more about it, and see it illustrated?

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

The management of the Long Island Railroad has again pre-emptorily refused to make any change in its rates for carrying wheels. This road has a monopoly of the carrying trade on the island, as well as that of the passenger traffic. Its system is as antiquated as it is complicated, and its officers were all born old, never having had any of the usual youthful sympathy which exists in young men. I venture to say that, with an enterprising and enlightened management, alive to the interests of the whole island (and not to only that section where the personal interests of its offices lie), the population would soon double. The policy of the road seems to have been, and to be, to kill all trade by exorbitant charges and poor accommodations. Witness the effect of this state of affairs at Greenport, for instance, where everything is tinged with the air of Connecticut, and the "dyed in the wool" New Yorker hardly knows himself. Now, as to where the shoe pinches, and it does pinch; the rates for carrying bicycles, accompanied by owners, and at latter's risk, are at present in many cases higher than the passenger fares for the same distances, the accommodations are at the least poor, and not more than half the trains have any baggage or combination cars attached, wheelmen often being forced to wait hours on this account alone. This state of things looks all the worse by comparison with the action of nearly all the other roads centering in New York in making bicycles free. Is there no legal method by which the Long Island Railroad can be forced, as a "common carrier," to put baggage cars on every train? If there is, perhaps they would be willing to compromise the other matter.

Brooklyn riders are particularly ill-favored in this matter of railroad connection. The ten miles of bad road which exists between Brooklyn and Jamaica are probably as bad as any ten on the island where riding is possible at all, and a party of any size generally finds all the room in an 8x6 combination "taken when they get to the depot." The rapid transit (?) system which was extended to Jamaica last year, has no accommodations for baggage whatever.

I hope I may not be thought to be "gone" on this transportation business, but anybody who has been put to that inconvenience, and suffered from the disregard of commonest courtesy by the Railroad Company as I have, will appreciate my feelings. I only hope the Company will be responsible for the profanity and generally "cussed" state of things they provoke, when the Great Reckoning comes about.

It is often said, that anybody who can stand the climate of New York all the year round can stand any climate on the face of the earth. We are having at present a touch of "climate" that knocks out anything of the kind on record. Sunday was a lovely day, in fact perfect, speaking wheelingly, and now there is about three feet of snow already fallen on a level, with no hint of a stop, and the wind ranges from fifty to sixty miles per hour. New York has never, within the recollection of the present generation, seen such a storm. The stoppage of the elevated roads, horse cars and nearly all other vehicular traffic, and the practical closing of the exchanges has never been known before from this cause.

All cycling clubs of Northern New Jersey are invited to take part in the proposed great "century" run across the State on Saturday, June 18th, on the way to the Baltimore meet, and are requested to appoint one representative each to act for the club in the temporary organization, sending word of such action to Mr. L. A. Clarke, 25 Broad street, New York City. The following is a list already communicated with, viz.: Citizens, Manhattan, Harlem, New York, K. C. W., L. I. W., Brooklyn, Mercury, Huntington, Yonkers, Hudson County, Essex, Orange, Passaic, Elizabeth.

PITTSBURG and VICINITY.

"DUQUESNE."

Captain H. E. Bidwell, of the K. B. C., has resigned from his club. He will, however, still ride his bike occasionally. The K. B. C.s lose one of their best riders, and one whose place cannot be filled. For enthusiasm he was unsurpassed, and he was the Nestor of the club. If the gentleman had retained his tandem and disposed of the bike, he would not have surprised us very much, but when he offers his tandem, he upsets all theories extant, as to why he gave up active cycling.

The Alleghany Cyclers are going to hustle for road records, and all aspirants for medals will be successful, provided they get up into the thousands.

T. P. Coleman, better known as the child poet, has applied for membership in the K. B. C., and will seek inspiration for his sonnets on a Victor safety, which he says is good enough for him, or anybody else.

A great many of our enthusiasts have signified their intention of taking in the Buffalo meeting, and would be glad if "Mercury" would inform them when the said meet is to be held, how many days it will last, etc.

A. H. Newell will in the future give wheelmen a reduction of ten per cent. on presentation of League ticket. This is only for meals and lodging at the road house, and not at the bar. It is to be hoped that the riders of the "silent" will hold this in fond remembrance, as every one knows that "Tony" is unexcelled as a caterer.

Will Mr. T. B. Lee kindly inform the Bicycling World the length and gradient of Erwin's hill, and will Mr. Hugh Fleming, Jr., do the same for Federal St. By so doing, they will confer a favor on all who ride wheels in this city, and also give us an idea of what one in seven or one in eight is. I have heard that Erwin's hill is one in seven or one in eight, now which is it?

A. C. Stewart, L. C. Chauvenet, Geo. F. Bhker, W. M. Brewster, and a few others, an arrangement could be made to have one side of certain streets unsprinkled before a certain time in the morning and at night, anyway, it would do no harm to try it.

Dropped in at Meacham's a few days since and found Hal Greenwood busily employed in showing customers the merits of the different wheels his firm handles. In reply to my query regarding Wells' challenge, etc., he stated that in about two weeks he would begin training harder than he ever trained before, and then he would make some of those would-be hill-climbers sick The E. C. Meacham Arms Co. carry a big stock of cycles and perhaps the finest assortment of sundries in the city. It would be to their advantage to place an "ad." in the Bi. World and Bulletin, and thus let riders know it. [We think so, too.—Ed.]

The Post-Dispatch surprised us a few days ago, with some of its old-time vim and enterprise, with a column article entitled "A Cycling Cleric." It was a very well written one, and of a kind that brings the cycle prominently before a class of people who have paid it but little attention so far, and was favorably commented on on all sides. People can say what they want to of Hicks, but the fact remains that, save an occasional break or personal attacks, he is one of the best writers of cycle articles in the country, and he ought to make it his business to again start the Post-Dispatch cycle column, and regularly keep it up to its former standard of excellence. The Globe-Democrat also has a cycle correspondent, and if I am not mistaken he is a lively, be-spectacled, young man, who is well known to all members of the Cycle Club.

The St. Louis Wheel Co. will give a grand road race towards the end of April. The value of the prizes will eclipse anything ever before here, excepting the "Ramblers'" 1885 tournament. The race given last year by the above Company was the event of the season, and the liberal prizes offered for this one will, no doubt, draw out a big field of starters. The course will be from Manchester to the Pump, a distance of sixteen miles. The chances are that about thirty entries will be received, and as the race will be a handicap, all will stand equal chances of winning. Prominent among the starters will be W. H. Wylie, E. N. Sanders, Will Snyder, Alex Lewis, E. A. Smith, the winner of last year's race, and probably Klipstein and Hildebrand. The participants in last year's race feared the last two more than any one else but for some reason they did not enter.

Kinslay," who turned out to be one of the most wealthy members of the club, but a late acquisition, and, therefore, unknown to nine-tenths of the members and all the visitors!

The report that Phil Hammel would be admitted to the Owls, proves to have been premature. Although he was encouraged to believe he would be elected, when the boys came to talk business, it was found that the majority objected.

Preparations for Bob Garden's second annual road race have been commenced. It is a little early to dive into particulars, but I am assured that the prizes will aggregate $1200 in value, and that the race will be open only to local club men.

Conkling is growling, because in my last I inadvertantly referred to Surbridge as the Victor agent. Strangely enough, Surbridge is doing the same thing! Tom Roe, too, says that though he got a warm shot, his wasn't half as bad as Surbridges'. Its all a matter of taste!

PHILADELPHIA.

"ARIEL."

Crocker, Knapp and Whittaker sail for England next week under the management of Mr. Eck. They are backed by Mr. Dole, who is also Littlewood's backer. Crist, the Washington flyer, together with Barber, his fellow club member (they are both Capital boys) also expects to cross the briny and meet the Britishers on their native heaths. Eck challenges any two men in the world for a race at any distance, from one quarter mile to a six days race, any amount; and said to your correspondent, "There's a chance for the Senator." He did not name his men, but Crocker is one of the two and he is a good one. He told me himself that he would not mind having a go at Rowe, and I believe it would be a race worth seeing. Crocker has sent his wheel along pretty well down in the seconds (2.30 I understand, in practice) and he is a better man this year than last. Howarth, his trainer, says he is the easiest man to manage he ever handled, doing just what is told him, like the manly straightforward fellow he is.

The Wells matter settled in a jiffy, wasn't it? Are we satisfied? Well, I don't know.

So "Duquesne" says that Banker opines he can show Wilhelm his little wheel this season? W-e-l-l; we shall see; but I know who Philadelphia cyclers would bet their little shekels on, and no discredit to Mr. Banker either.

A flying trip to the city of Reading showed some changes in that place. The Reading Wheel Co. takes the place of the cycling firm of Crowther & Potter who have disolved. Messrs. Crowther and Scheele will be the new concern. The Victor wheels will be their specialty. The Ariel Wheel Club is also a thing of the past. Cause, non-attendance.

The Century Wheelmen had an indoor athletic entertainment last Tuesday evening, at their club house, No. 1807 North Broad street. There were several bouts with gloves by members of the Schuylkill Navy and the club members, and a wrestling match between Messrs. Schell and Hotchkiss for a medal, which was won by Dr. Schell, who took both falls. Messrs. Brown and Gideon handled the gloves in a style that recalled memories of Dempsey and McCaffrey, so 'twas said. One of the latter's straight counters from the shoulder drove his antagonist half through the window. A half mile race on the home trainer was won by M. G. Bailey over F. W. Brampton and Frank Strasberger. There were a number of other interesting events, and altogether the whole affair was voted a great success. The club is very much crowded, and is in so flourishing a condition that a new club house will probably be a thing of the near future.

BUFFALO.

"MERCURY."

The proposed constitution of the L. A. W., published in the Bicycling World of the 9th inst., looks well, and perhaps will work well. Sect. 2 in article 4, relative to allowing one or two representatives for each League club, providing it has a membership of over twenty, impressed me very much. Now, that's the way to talk; let every League club have something to say, be it ever so small, in the management of the L. A. W. It sometimes happens that a city boasts of more than one club, and that one is larger and older than the others; and it most always happens that the larger and older club takes in all the plums (Consuls) and has everything to say, while the smaller clubs are told to take a back seat, with the remark, "youngsters should be seen and not heard." Now, that is wrong, if it be a League club; it is entitled to at least one mouthpiece, if not two. I am not speaking of any particular city, as may

Not So Simple But Fact.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 22d, 1888.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIRS:—

We have a Club membership of 32 riders of which 31 ride the AMERICAN wheel and we are well satisfied with our choice. Yours Respectfully,
M. B. Edmiston, Captain; Natl. D. Elliott, President; D. W. Wallace, Lieutenant, Fred Willson, Sec. and Treas., Marion Ramblers.

Flatonia, Texas, Oct. 1st, 1887.

Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs—Do not read this unless you want to see how we appreciate your wheels. After 3 years' use we are satisfied to ride nothing else but G. & J. Wheels within 50 miles of here. Our town club has 12 bicycles, and every wheel is your make." Yours truly,
FLATONIA BICYCLE CLUB, Flatonia, Texas.

Most complete Catalogue in the trade, 64 pages, on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG CO.,

CHICAGO, - - ILL.

Largest American Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1.	For Gentlemen	$175
No. 2.	For Ladies or Gentlemen (The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")	175
No. 3.	For Ladies or Gentlemen	160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman.

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195.
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

The Swift
SAFETY.

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
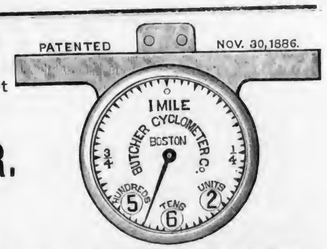
MADE.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.



Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records
Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.
Free by Mail on Receipt of
PRICE, . . $10.00.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.
SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF
PRICE, ... $5.00.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $1.50, $2.00, $2.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

STEEL BALLS
FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.
Of Best Steel. Hardened, Ground and Burnished. .16 to 3 diam. Samples and Prices on application.
SIMONDS ROLLING MACHINE Co., Fitchburg, Mass.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

perhaps be imagined, but in a general way, for I believe such a state of things exists in several cities. Another good idea in this proposed constitution is contained in article 2, in regard to State Divisions. The membership of the L. A. W. is increasing every year, and such a step as the proposed constitution provides is necessary sooner or later; the sooner, the better. They ought to abolish the amateur distinction.

For the past week Isham has had his show window decorated with a large collection of photos. of cycling celebrities, which have attracted a good deal of attention.

The Buffalos held their second ball of the season, Friday evening (March 16th). It was a success. H. M. Barker, R. C. Chapin and A. H. Morey were on the entertainment committee.

The first numbers of the Bicycling World and L. A. W. Bulletin combined have been received with evident satisfaction. Many L. A. W. members and other wheelmen express the belief that it will prove a most successful venture.

The Buffalo club has a heavy (?) question to deal with just now, in regard to having the gymnasium open on Sundays. Its members are equally divided on the subject. A local paper suggests this method: Close the large door and open a little side door, a la saloon, on Sunday.

The ex-American idol, J. Lawrence Sullivan, has fallen from his lofty pedestal of fame to the common herd (of pugilists) below. It is to be hoped our cycling champions will not follow suit, if they do there will be a "Rowe" (no bouquets, please). I'll see you later, au revoir. [Please go easy on puns.—Ed.]

The Ramblers' pool tournament is causing a good deal of excitement among the members and their friends. Any evening you may see a number of spectators in the rooms, interested in a game between two "experts." Some very close games and pretty plays have been the result. The prizes are valuable, and worth playing for. At the present writing, Deitzer leads, with Reiman and Hauenstein struggling for second place.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

"Good old Pitman, the Vet." What old timer does not know Pitman personally, and what later-day cyclist has not heard of him? He sent us his photo. the other day, and we give it a post of honor among our collection. Mr. Pitman held the first tricycle 100-mile road record made in America. The "Vet." is a "Benedict" now and so the "selfish machine" (we mean the one that boasts only one saddle) practically knows him no more, but he is just the same whole-souled fellow that we used to know when he sought fame on road and path.

We are sorry to hear that Cleveland will not have a race track this year.

Mr. Sam'l. T. Clark of Baltimore was in town last week, and we had the pleasure of meeting him.

"Philadelphia is not a profitable place to hold a tournament in." Verdict by Eck, Crocker, Knapp, Rhodes, & Co.

The American team, on arriving in this country in August will proceed to Lynn and there put in their preparatory practice.

A petition is being circulated by citizens of Philadelphia asking for the improvement of Broad street, north of Dauphin street in that city.

The Rhode Island Wheelmen will move into larger quarters. The rooms are in the Providence Bank Building, on South Main street.

The Atlanta, (Ga.), Bicycle Club will hold a race meeting at Piedmont Park, Atlanta, April 16 and 17. There are 13 events on the two days programme.

The attendance at the benefit tendered to the stranded professionals in Philadelphia, only amounted to 400. 'Tis unneccessary to say that the "benefit," financially, was not great.

Next Wednesday a tournament under the management of John A. Wells and W. Updegraph, will be held at the Elite Rink, Philadelphia. It will consist entirely of amateur events.

We have to go to the land of the shamrock to learn that the Indian name for ball-head is "pompasuhkouknontop." Won't somebody try to pronounce the above, and then if the relatives will please send us the fragments of the remains we will provide the alcohol, the bottle and an appropriate epitaph.

A correspondent writes: "For an 'open' winter this one of 1887-1888 takes the prize, but I am in favor of keeping our winters 'closed'—too much cold gets in if they are 'open.'"

"Ixion" objects to having his age placed at 55 years. In reply to "No. 5550," who writes, "Ixion must be 55 at least," he says: "If my family bible tells the truth, No. 5550 is just 26 years out of the way."

The Rhode Island Division will hold a special meeting Saturday, March 24, to consider the call for financial aid made by the Executive Committee. We believe this will be the first Division to officially take action.

In all probability a number of Philadelphia men will wheel to Baltimore instead of taking the train. Those who rode to the Washington meet a few years ago are anxious to repeat the pleasant experience.

Mr. Ducker is already preparing for the fall racing campaign. He is having some six-color lithograph posters ten by fifteen feet made. Mr. Henry E. appreciates the fact that half-way methods do not pan out.

We suppose the name "Goat," as given to the rear driving safety is very, very funny. We must confess to a dullness of intellect in not being able to grasp the hidden wit. Will some one please send us "the key" to this jokelet?

Our contributor, "London W.," desires to thank Mr. Elliott Mason for sending the distance record card, and he also wishes to acknowledge the implied compliment that he (London W.) still rides a bicycle, which he does. We are making strenuous efforts to prevail on our co-editor to represent the World in the great proposed editors' race at Baltimore.

We are three thousand miles away from England and the jurisdiction of the N. C. U., yet we cannot but feel the greatest interest in the final result of the road racing war now waging in the mother country. We are not in accord with the views expressed by our correspondent, "Sandy," in our last issue, but he comes nearer to our views than most men who have "views" on this subject.

This is a nut for some of our racing men to crack. It is respectfully presented by "Spinaway," and reads as follows: "A genuine professional is far more to be admired than some of the professionals who now don amateur clothing, but have no other claims to be considered as such." Now gentlemen, don't all speak at once and get up on your dignity, that would be a "dead give away." Pardon the slang.

We were pleased to meet Mr. Alec Hill, lately arrived in this country and who will represent the Coventry Machinists' Co. on the road this summer. We welcome Mr. Hill to the United States, and hope his experience in this country will prove so pleasant and profitable that he will decide to make it his permanent home. Mr. Hill had only five days' notice from his principals of their intention to send him to this country.

The Boston Club is notorious the world over for its entertainment of wheelmen from other cities, and therefore it is with reason that those members of the club who attended the late session of the Board of Officers in New York complain of the lack of entertainment proffered them by the wheelmen of the latter city. They trust that the time will never come when prominent wheelmen can visit this city and not be invited to, at least, inspect the inside of the club houses.

A correspondent from Kansas City sends us the following notes: "The draft of the constitution and by-laws, as reported by the Re-organization Committee at the Board of Officers' meeting, March, has, as a whole, been universally well commented upon. There are a few features which could be altered to good advantage. [Go to Baltimore and make your suggestions, that is the only way to bring about any satisfactory result.—Ed.]" "Captain Nelson T. Haynes of Kansas City is quietly learning to twang the banjo, and promises to enliven the monotony of club runs with the little ditty, 'I'm a Wandering Wheelman,' etc. Quite a crowd of the members at the club a few evenings since were singing while Haynes played the only accompaniment he knew. All the songs were sung to the one accompaniment. Shades of Wagner! It was moved and seconded that the club employ an instructor to teach 'Haynesy' to play."

The Clarksville, (Tenn.,) cyclers will celebrate their second anniversary March 30th and 31st. It will take the form of a banquet at Elden's Opera House. Runs and tours, and a street parade on the afternoon of March 30. The reception Committee are I. N. Parker, R. F. Bunting, and B. A. Patch.

WHEEL CLUB NEWS.

The Rhode Island Wheelmen will take another trip to Boston this spring. The experience they had in Wellesley last year does not seem to discourage a second trip. We hope Dr. Bogman and his "pocket pistol" will accompany the party. The Providence Wheelmen are raising money to defray the expenses of a tournament they wish to give at Roger Williams' Park on Decoration Day. The three-mile state Championship will be run on that occasion.

The Dorchester, Mass., Club held their annual dinner last Tuesday evening.

Rowe took a tumble in England the other day. He came in collision with Battensby at Newcastle and got badly shaken up. "No bones broken."

Keystone Bicycle Club of Pittsburg, Pa., held its annual meeting at the 7th Avenue Hotel on the evening of March 7, after a season of refreshments spiced with anecdotes, they balloted for officers for the ensuing year, with the following result: President, R. F. Smythe; Secretary-Treasurer, J. W. McGowin; Captain, C. F. Scidell; First Lieutenant, T. B. Lee; Second Lieutenant, C. A. Smith; Third Lieutenant, J. W. Gloninger; Color Bearer, B. D. Smilh; Directors, F. F. Sneathen and J. W. Atwood. It is the present intention to hold club runs every Saturday.

We think the example of the Pennsylvania Club, of Philadelphia, as set forth in the following item, would be a profitable one for clubs in other sections to imitate. "The Pennsylvania Bicycle Club of Philadelphia, will give the first of its series of public entertainments on Thursday evening, April 19, at Association Hall, Fifteenth and Chesnut streets. The entertainment will consist of a lecture by Mr. A. H. MacOwen on the pleasures incident to a trip "With Wheel and Camera Through the Isle of Wight." The lecture will be illustrated by nearly 100 views taken directly from nature and shown by the aid of a stereopticon."

The new officers of the Syracuse, (N. Y.,) bicycle club are as follows: President, Carl G. White; Vice-President, Harry N. Denny; Secretary and Treasurer, George H. Harris; Captain, H. W. Chapin; members of the Club Committee, President, Secretary, Captain, and H. W. Wiard and Clarence Decker; Bugler, Chas C. Truesdell; League Consul, James P. Becker and League Representative, Fred Brigham. Club rooms, 7 Joy Building, on Genesee street,(the old turnpike which extends from Albany to Buffalo, and if you ever travel over that road stop and see the boys.)

The members of the Missouri Bi. Club were very pleasantly surprised a few evenings since by observing the long wished-for book case, which is to contain the nucleus of the club's library, standing in one corner of the reading room. It is finished in cherry, and makes a handsome addition to the club's furniture. Bert Taylor, the librarian, is now getting up a choice collection of literature to fill its spacious shelves, and ere long the club will possess a first-class library.

The Marion County Wheelmen of Hannibal, Mo., held their annual meeting March 5, at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. H. Hall; Vice President, P. P. Lockling; Secretary-Treasurer, H. C. Woodruff; Captain, A. C. Miller; Lieutenant, C. H. Appler; Bugler, W. C. Foss; Color Bearer, Jno Sydney. At the meeting it was voted to continue as a League club, and the uniform worn last year, which is one of the handsomest one I ever saw, was adopted for the coming season. They decided to print their constitution, by-laws and road rules in convenient pocket form for reference. Captain A. C. Miller is the hustler and local Consul of Marion County, and the club under his guidance will no doubt be heard from this season.

The Missouri Bicycle Club held its annual meeting for the election of officers Tuesday, March 6, at their club house. The meeting was a red hot one, and slate smashing was rather heavily indulged in. Messrs. Stewart and Berry were nominated for the Presidency, but both withdrew in favor of W. M. Brewster. After the smoke of the battle had cleared away, the following were found to be elected: President, W. M. Brewster; Vice President, E. A. Smith; Treasurer, A. P. Dennis (re-elected); Secretary, Geo. Boswell (re-elected); Captain, Ab. Lewis; First Lieutenant, C. C. Hildebrand; Second Lieutenant, R. N. Stubbs; Color Bearer, W. P. Grath; Bugler, "Ribsey" Williamson. For the first time in the history of the club, the President is an active wheelman in all that the name implies, and a hustler whose reputation is well known to all. The so-called "young element" is put in complete charge of the club, and no doubt will soon fill the active membership to the prescribed limit.

MOONLIGHT RUN TO SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, BY THE SAN FRANCISCO CLUB.

No better combination of weather and roads, moonlight and time, could have been desired upon the occasion of the first run of the season of the San Francisco Bicycle Club. The Captain had previously given orders for the club to assemble at the foot of Market street to take the 4 P. M. boat for Oakland on Saturday, Feb. 25th, and in accordance therewith only seven members showed up at the above time and place. This was somewhat of a disappointment in the way of numbers, however, we had a jolly little party. After crossing the bay we boarded the train at the Oakland Mole and were carried to Brooklyn, and from this point our actual ride commenced. The moment we were fairly out upon the road, we appreciated what a delightful ride was before us. The expression, "sand-papered roads," is comparatively mild, they were like a skating rink floor, and the air was so balmy and bracing, that as we passed by

FIELDS OF NEWLY-SOWN GRAIN

we felt that we could not throw our shoulders far enough back to drink in a sufficient supply of the fragrance of friut blossoms and of the growing grain. As the party was small the officers permitted both themselves and the high private of the rear rank to indulge in such rate of speed as was most suited to the notions of the several riders. It was not long before we had a pace-maker in the lead, and any casual observer would have called it a road race. We reached San Leandro well bunched, in a very short space of time, and dismounted to cool. The thermometer stood about sixty-five degrees, and with our rapid pedalling we were perfectly willing to take a rest of five minutes before continuing our trip. At this point we voted upon which road to take, and we settled it that we should prefer to reach Mt. Eden via San Lorenzo, as these roads, though a trifle longer, were reported in better condition. (Our route is described in "California Road Book," Route No. 2, and variation "A.") After our rest we mounted again and were rapidly wheeling towards Centreville and dinner. We soon settled into our former hot pace and eventually reached Centreville. Actual riding time from Brooklyn, one hour and twenty minutes; distance, 26 miles. We were now under the genial care of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gregory of the Gregory House. We arrived a trifle late for dinner, but with such nice people for hosts, nothing would do but that we must have a nice hot dinner, and we had one, too, and hugely enjoyed it as well. Dinner over, we lighted cigars and settled ourselves comfortably, that we might prepare to continue our ride after dinner had properly settled. Billiards and cards served to while away time both pleasantly and profitably. [Evidently our correspondent held a royal flush.] At 8 o'clock the Captain gave word that it would be advisable to make a start, and we arranged in accordance therewith. While we were at dinner, had quietly taken her place in the sky, and now she shed her "softe white lighte" in such profusion that "ye hearte of ye merrie bicycler" was made exceedingly glad. It was a day and a half before full moon; and such a moon as it was! Not a breath of air, nor a cloud in the sky. All acquiesced in the sentiment that it would be difficult to plan another moonlight ride, where the roads, weather and moon would be all properly suited to the circumstances as they were on this particular occasion. We were so favored with good roads and plenty of light that our speed was hardly reduced, even though it was night. Washington Corners was the next point en route, but we pressed on without a stop, passed through Harrisburg and pulled up at Milpitas for a breathing spell. I forgot to mention that just before reaching Centreville we struck a bit of road, though only an exact mile long, it is a mile that is always remembered by any rider who passes over it; and especially if the rider be a new one, or soft. The part referred to is the bridge over the Alvarado marshes, which leads to Alvarado. The bridge when originally laid was cheaply done, and the piling and studding has settled unevenly, making small hillocks throughout its length. This, combined with the soft and knotty planks which are unevenly worn, produces a sensation to the rider that makes him soon feel as if an air cushion or air-tight rubber bag would prove very acceptable. This bridge often causes peculiar (not harmonious) remarks to be made of it by most all wheelmen who cross it. I think (I may be mistaken) I heard one of our high privates give vent to a "few peculiar" ejaculations thereon. After a few minutes rest at Milpitas we remounted, and were soon on the home stretch to San Jose. The roads, as we approached the "Rhubarbs" (according to Matthews) of the Garden City, became dusty and gravelly, so our progress was not quite so rapid; but we managed to pull up at the St. James Hotel in San Jose at the seasonable hour of 10.20 P. M. Our actual riding time for the trip being three hours and twenty minutes. We registered and placed our bikes aside, and then paid a visit to the editor of the S. F. Times. That done, we made a call upon the members of and found a few of them at home in their new club room. After a good social time we all adjourned to a refreshment booth at the invitation of the Garden City boys, and spent the balance of the evening.

THE "FAIRE MUNE"

THE GARDEN CITY WHEELMEN

The company eventually broke up and each went his way. We went to bed to prepare for an early ride on the morrow. After a good and needed night's rest we were up at 6.45 and out on the road at 7 to enjoy a ride to Alum Rock, a place of resort, surrounded by mineral springs some 7 miles from town. The point we wished to reach is called "the Junction," being the junction of Lick avenue (leading to Mt. Hamilton where the observatory is located) and the road which continues on to Alum Rock. The grade to the junction is 4 feet to the hundred, so gentle that most any wheelman is capable of riding it.

On arriving at the Junction we rested and then mounted our wheels prepared to enjoy the smooth coast of nearly 2 1-2 miles. It is needless to say we rushed down this grade with a speed almost equal to that of a "wild locomotive" and the faster we went, the greater our enjoyment. On the return to the hotel we had a good hearty breakfast, and at 10 A. M. made ready to start homeward. Our prospective ride we did not sincerely contemplate enjoying, for we saw we were to face a stiff north breeze all the way home; and as the day wore on the breeze blew harder. However, we made up our minds to ride home, though the wind was against us, and we did it; all very much pleased and satisfied with a ride of 100 miles made over most excellent roads.

L. A. W., 7616—2758.

SIX-DAY, FOUR HOURS A DAY PHILADELPHIA RECORDS BROKEN.

[The following account was mailed in Philadelphia, Sunday, March 11, and it reached us March 16. No one to blame, but the snow drifts were too deep.—Ed.]—

The six-day, four hours per day, bicycle race closed at the Elite Rink, Saturday, March 10, and four of the five riders who finished beat the record. About 1000 people were present, by far the best attendance of the week. There are upwards of 3000 wheelmen in Philadelphia, and why this race was not better patronized is one of the mysteries. On Thursday night Crocker rode 72 miles in the four hours, an average of 18 miles an hour, and this too on an eleven-and-a-half lap track. He was riding in splendid form, and none of his competitors could touch him. Whittaker was thrown out of the race by an ugly header early in the race, and he sprained both wrist and knee so badly as to throw him out entirely, although he went on the track with Miss Armaindo Saturday evening and rode about 15 miles. The score for the week was as follows:

	MILES.	LAPS.
Crocker,	405	9
Knapp,	405	6
Ashinger,	404	6
Rhodes,	403	10
Dingley,	376	0

The first four men all break the record, which for this kind of a race was held by Ashinger, who had made 400 miles for that time.

Ariel.

FORTY-EIGHT HOUR RACE AT NEWCASTLE, ENGLAND.

ROWE WINS HIS FIRST RACE.

We give below the results of the 48-hour race lately held in St. George's Drill Hall, Newcastle, week ending March 3. Shortly before time was called for the finish all the men were cleared off the track, and only Battensby and Young left The bell rang out the last five minutes, and then was witnessed the final struggle. Both men strove hard, but Battensby got home a length in front amidst deafening cheers, having won the race by a lap and a little over. The scores were:

	M.	L.
Battensby,	766	9
Young,	766	8
Lamb,	758	6
Terront,	756	4
Parkes,	603	8
Dubois,	537	0

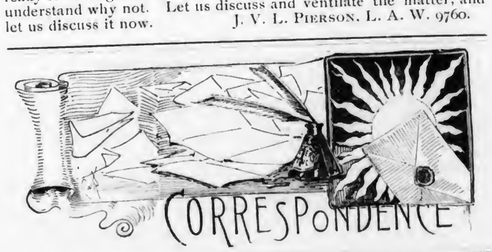
The five-mile international race, ridden in heats, was won by W A. Rowe. Rowe, however, did not like the corners, and neve fairly let himself out. He is matched by Mr. Morgan for £100 against W. Wood, over the Jarrow track, for fifty miles, the latter's stake being £75. We are indebted to the Cyclist for above.

HOW TO APPLY THE NATIONAL SURPLUS TO SECURE BETTER ROADS.

The Secretary-Editor of the L. A. W. says in the Bi. World of March 2d: "One M. T. Thompson offers," etc. We wish to second Mr. Thompson with spirit. Mr. Thompson's idea is to relieve the United States Government of the $200,000,000.00 surplus which President Cleveland and many other eminent men are troubled about, by distributing it among the States for the purpose of building good roads.

Apparently the advisable way would be to distribute the money among the States and Territories in proportion to the number of square miles of their domain. There being 5,000,000 square miles in the United States, excluding Alaska and the Indian Territory, there would be $40.00 per square mile distributed on this basis.

This would give Ohio with 40,000 square miles, $1,600,000.00; Pennsylvania, $1,840,000.00; New Jersey, $320,000.00; New York, $1,880,000.00; Massachusetts, $320,000.00; Vermont, $400,000.00; Michigan, $2,240,000.00; Arizona, $4,560,000.00; and Colorado, $4,200,000.00; and being distributed again among the Counties, would give to a County the size of Essex, N. J., which has an area of 160 miles, $6,500. which is a sum not too small to be of use, and one which would pay for more work in some other parts of the country than it will with us.



I do not think counties should be forced to take their share of the award, but those whose roads do not require improvement, and I am told there are such, would refrain from applying for the award and leave it to go to other places in the same State.

Also if the officials of any County should prove too indolent to take the trouble to write out the proper application within a certain specified time, then such County should forfeit its claim and the amount should be at the disposal of the State.

If this, on further consideration and investigation, should prove not to be an inadvisable use of the money, it would seem to offer just such an opportunity as the League has been looking for to work for road improvement, and it would gain for itself and for wheelmen generally no little prestige and renown by advocating the measure.

We have some eight or ten million farmers to stand by us with their influence in any such movement. This is an outline of work ready for filling in. Shall we fill it in? If not, let us all know and understand why not. Let us discuss and ventilate the matter, and let us discuss it now.

J. V. L. Pierson, L. A. W. 9760.

MR. TUCKER AND THE WELLS QUESTION.

Editor Bi. World: Fearing that a portion of your account of the last meeting of the Board of Officers, in which I am quoted as saying, "He wished to state that in his opinion a serious mistake would have been made had Mr. Wells been elected Secretary-Editor, considering that gentleman's financial connection with the Bulletin, etc.," may be misleading and not fairly presenting my views on the subject to which they relate, I desire to submit the following, and respectfully ask for its publication;

The objections I would have urged against Mr. Wells, as Secretary-Editor, were based entirely on the position he would have occupied to the L. A. W. Bulletin, he being then and now, a member of the firm, which had the contract for printing that paper; his election would, in his dual capacity, have placed him in an extremely delicate business position, and one, he could not expect to have occupied, without much criticism—whether just or otherwise.

My questioning the wisdom of his election, was only for the reasons above stated and not intended in any way as a criticism on his relations to the L. A. W. or its Board of Officers, either then or now.

To make my position thoroughly impersonal, I would say, that I should have considered it my duty to have opposed the election of any one to the position of Secretary-Editor, who intended to occupy a like dual position.

With much respect, I remain, yours truly,

Philadelphia, March 10, 1888. W. R. TUCKER.

BRAKES FOR SAFETIES.

Editor Bicycling World: Regarding your editorial comment in last week's issue supporting the idea of placing the brake on the rear wheel of the rear-driving safety, I should be glad to hear through the columns of your paper, ideas of some others riders concerning this point.

I have been riding a rear-driving safety for three years, and am conversant with most of the leading English types of this machine, and nearly all that I have examined seem to have the brake of the spoon pattern acting upon the front wheel, unless by some complicated arrangement of the front forks, it has been found impossible to attach the brake at this point. My experience with the spoon brake on the rear wheel, has not been of the pleasantest, as not only was the mud splashed over the lower bracket bearings, but over my clothes as well. With a good, stout spoon brake attached to the handle-bar, and acting upon the front wheel, it seems not only to be in its natural position, but much more effective and certainly less complicated, consequently, not as liable to get out of order. In looking over a number of English catalogues for this year, recently received, I notice that the spoon brake acting upon the front wheel is almost universally used, and it is only attached by a band or spoon on the rear wheel, where the construction of the machine will not allow it to be placed in the first named position.

Would some other riders of this type of safety, give their experience on this point, and greatly oblige.

Yours fraternally, L. A. W., 3001.

AT a special meeting of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club held March 14th, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to remove from our midst our much-beloved comrade and fellow member, Isaac C. Thompson; and

Whereas. We sincerely mourn the loss of one whom all of us respected as a fellow member, and by many loved as a friend; be it

Resolved. That our warm and earnest sympathy is extended to his afflicted family in their hour of sorrow; and be it

Resolved. That a copy of these resolutions and preamble be sent to the family of the deceased, and also be published in the BICYCLING WORLD, and American Athlete.

NATURALLY all eyes possessed by League members will be cast with much curiosity in the direction of Pennsylvania, where the election for representatives is taking place. We shall all wonder what they will do with Mr. Wells.

A WHEELMAN'S BALLAD.

RUDE winds from some bleak polar shore,
In savage gusts of icy sleet,
Among the tree-tops fiercely roar,
And on my frosted windows beat.
In deepening drifts along the street.
Through weary months the snow has lain,
And lingering days my longing cheat,
When I may mount my wheel again.

So then I'll stoutly bar my door,
Draw near the fire my cushioned seat,
And hope the cycling joys of yore.
By memory's magic to repeat.
Alas! These thoughs of "run" and "meet,"
But bring my longing added pain;
Then hasten, Spring, on nimble feet,
When I may mount my wheel again.

Now Winter's rule is almost o'er,
The lengthening daylight's kindly heat,
Remembered roads will soon restore,
Where on my wheel, again I greet
The bluebirds singing in the wheat.
No longing then my joy will stain,
Nor life, as now, drag incomplete,
When I may mount my wheel again.

ENVOI.

Prince, well I know that power is sweet;
Yet not for all thy years of reign,
Would I exchange those hours so fleet,
When I may mount my wheel again.

DUDLEY C. HASBROUCK.

THE last private musicale of the season, which have been given during the winter at the house of Mr. C. Hopkins, Wellingon, Mass., was held last week. We regret that other imperative engagements prevented our accepting Mr. Hopkins' kind invitation to be present.

DOCTOR COOPER'S suspensory drawers are specially suitable for cyclists' use. We call attention of riders to the advertisement of the Kingston Knitting Co., which appears in this issue, and who make a specialty of these drawers, as well as other woolen garments for athletes' use.

OUR readers should notice the enterprise of Messrs. Starley & Sutton in crossing the water and patronizing our advertising columns. These gentlemen were the pioneer makers of the now popular form of the rear-driving safety, and in fact this type is always spoken of as the "Rover" type. We can safely commend the Rover to the favorable notice of our readers. Messrs. Starley & Sutton's Rover was the first of the kind ever to appear in America, and our Mr. "London W." rode it with great satisfaction. In fact he has been a convert to the rear-driving safety ever since.

CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB.

FRANK W. WESTON,

UNITED STATES CHIEF CONSUL,

Savin Hill, Boston, Mass.

DUES FOR FIRST YEAR, $1.00. AFTER FIRST YEAR, 75 CENTS PER ANNUM.

Membership application blanks and any required information on club matters can be obtained by applying as above and enclosing a stamped addressed envelope for reply.

RENEWAL NOTICE.—The time allowed for renewals has now expired. Those who have not renewed, but wish to retain their membership must use the application blanks as above.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.—Unless protest is received within ten days from date of this publication, the following applicants (to each of whom a copy of this paper will be mailed,) are considered provisionally elected, and are entitled to wear the badge and uniform of the C. T. C.

Calhoun, J. G., 357 Main St., Hartford, Conn.
Calhoun, D., 11 Walnut St., Hartford, Conn.
Green, M. J., Meyers St., Oroville, Cal.
Kusel, C. E., Oroville, Cal.
Peck, A. D., Jr., 9 Otis St., Boston, Mass.
Rhodes, H. H., 1513 Douglas St., Omaha, Neb.
Reese, J. S., 412 W. Balto St., Baltimore, Md.
Simon, S. S., Oroville, Cal.
Smith, E. B., Neb. Tel. Co., Omaha, Neb.
Stone, W. E., Box 1028, Springfield, Mass.
Thayer, G. B., Evening Post, Hartford, Conn.
Titus, H., Oroville, Cal.
Johnson, L. H., 491 Main St., Orange, N. J.
Pound, R., 63 E. 2d St., Plainfield, N. J.
Gardner, A. B., 23 South St., Utica, N. Y.
Stursberg, H., Jr., Germania Mills, Holyoke, Mass.
Cunningham, W., 97 Chambers St., New York City.
Danforth, Mrs. J. R., 2030 Wallace St., Phila., Pa.
Danforth, Rev. J. R., 2030 Wallace St., Phila., Pa.
Weimer, W. E., 724 Cumberland St., Lebanon, Pa.
Briant, A. E., 35 Pine St., Chicago, Ill.
Scribner, G. O., San Diego, Cal.
Kroppack, O. L., 801 Tenth ave., Burlington, Ia.
Locke, A. W., North Adams, Mass.
Robinson, H. W., 50 State st., Boston.
Graves, F. B., Box 106, Rochester, N. Y.
Robinson, A. W., 10 Salem st., Charlestown, Mass.

APPOINTMENTS.

Consul for Lowell, Mass.—Walter U. Lawson, 104 High street.
State Consul for District of Columbia—Howell Stewart, 1420 Q St., Washington, D. C.
Consul for Washington, D. C.—Dr. E. B. Farney, 1211 Pennsylvania Ave.
State Consul for Delaware—S. W. Merrihew, 906 Jackson St., Wilmington.
Consul for Charlestown, Mass.—E. A. Simonds.
Consul for Newton, Mass.—Rev. H. L. Wheeler, M. A., Box 222.
State Consul for Maryland—W. H. Thomas, Jr., 218 St. Charles St., Baltimore.
Consul for Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—I. Reynolds, Adriance.
Consul for Watertown, N. Y.—Francis A. Sherman.
Consul for Rochester, N. Y.—Fred B. Graves.
Consul for Newark, N. J.—S. H. Sargeant.
Consul for Dayton, O.—Fred W. Gebhart.
Consul for Pittsburg, Pa.—Clarence Reisinger.
State Consul for Rhode Island—Chas. S. Davol, Box 1 Warren.
Consul for Exeter, N. H.—Albert N. Dow.
Consul for New Bedford, Mass.—Dr. A. F. Wyman.
Consul for Cambridge, Mass.—J. R. Jewett, 153 Mt. auburn St.
State Consul for California—Milton J. Green, Oroville.
Consul for Oroville, Cal.—C. E. Kusel.
Hotel for Exeter, N. H., "Gorham Hall,"

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE PRESIDENT.—H. W. Hayes, 103 State St. Boston, Mass.

TREASURER.—W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY EDITOR.—Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., New York City.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

MEMBERSHIP.—James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard St., Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 421 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—C. S. Butler, 293 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Shure, 336 Navy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

RACING BOARD.—Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 90 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred. T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th St., New York; W. S. Ball, 300 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TOURMASTER.—W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with STAMP FOR RETURN POSTAGE.

FOREIGN MARSHAL, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan, Old Broad St., London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

THE Executive Committee has voted to call for a popular subscription from members and friends of the League, and it is issued this week. We commend the circular to each and every reader of the BULLETIN. We do not feel it necessary to add a word to what has been said, for we have great faith in the loyalty and interest of the members, and we feel assured that the call will meet with a liberal response.

REGARDING the financial condition of the League, we desire to say that the affairs of 1887 taken by themselves show a clear profit in favor of the League. If we had entered upon the year free from the obligations of previous years there would have been a surplus for the treasury, after close of the year's work.

MEMBERS who wish a change of address should send to the Secretary-Editor. He retains the conduct of the mailing list.

"NEW officers of the L. A. W. will be elected at Baltimore." — Wheel. There is truth in the foregoing, provided the annual meeting of the new National Assembly is held in Baltimore next February. If our esteemed contemporary will look up the law it will find that in adopting the new scheme of re-organization it is necessary that the present officials of the League hold over until the election of their successors next February by the National Assembly.

A CORRESPONDENT suggests a League straw hat for summer wear. The Boston Club introduced this idea in their club last year and carried it out with success. We commend the idea to outfitters.

WHAT business house would lay bare to the public gaze all the details of its business and the schemes which it is pursuing? The League is a business enterprise and must be run as such. If there are those who believe that there is something "fishy" in everything that is done by the Executive Committee, or any other committee, without the publication of all the details of the scheme in the paper, or giving them forth in public meeting, we have an idea that his ideas of business are not in harmony with common sense. Several questions were asked at the late New York meeting of the Uniform Committee and of the Secretary, which were not replied to as fully as they would have been had the questioner sought the information in a less public manner. A member of the League has certain rights, but among them is certainly not the right to know everything that transpires in the running of the League.

DEALERS report a boom in business and predict the best year yet. When business booms, so also booms the League, and 15,000 may be reached.

WE regret that the editor of the WORLD cannot see the wisdom of the call for a subscription. His plan to withhold funds from the Divisions is not in our opinion a wise one. The cry has been that the Divisions must have money to work with. The League has responded to the cry, and sent more funds in their direction. Withhold the money and no work can be done. The League has been crawling long enough. Let us throw off the burden of debt by one grand effort, and allow both League and Divisions to accomplish something.

A POPULAR SUBSCRIPTION.

The Executive Committee has been urged many times to call for a popular subscription from the members and friends of the League to relieve the organization from the burden of debt it has been laboring under. The committee has said that it would do this at the proper time. They now feel that the time has come. The outlook for the League is very flattering, and the committee feels that good work can be done if the incubus of debt is removed. The following circular has been sent to the Chief Consuls of the League, and it is published here so that it may reach the eyes of the membership and friends. The committee will gladly receive subscriptions from clubs or individuals, and duly acknowledge the same. They hope never again to make such a call, but they feel that it is imperative at this time:

BOSTON, March 15, 1888.

Dear Sir—The Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen desires to call your attention to the present and prospective financial condition of the organization, and they ask that you will co-operate with them in a measure looking towards a speedy relief from the embarrassment that the League is now under, which is but a continuation of that which has obtained for several years. The members of this Committee feel that the time has come for the taking of heroic measures to place the League financially upon its feet once more, that we may enter upon our work under the new plan of organization fully equipped for our duties. The League will stand very nearly out of debt on the first day of April. The Secretary-Editor assures us that he hopes to be able to pay the Divisions in full on that day, but his hopes are largely grounded on the payment of sums due us from advertising patrons, and he may be unable to do as he may wish to. If he were able to do so, there is still no money on hand to pay bills now in the hands of the Treasurer, and these should be met at once. It is just possible that we shall be able to free ourselves from debt very early in April, and stand clear before the world; but if we do this, it will be at the expense of what should be our working capital, and we fear that we shall go in debt before the close of the year. The great bulk of the League's income is derived from the dues of members, and this money is received during the first two months of the year. We have received a little short of $8,000 in the way of dues up to April 1, and of this sum the National Body gets $4,000. This money will have to be spent in making up the deficits of 1886 and 1887, and all that the League may depend upon for future income will be fifty cents per capita that comes to us. It is fair to suppose that we may get 12,000 members this year, or 4,000 more than we now have. These 4,000 members will give the League a little over two thousand dollars, for the Treasurer will get but fifty cents per member after the new plan is adopted, though until it is adopted the money will be divided as of old. Thus it will be seen that the national organization will have about $2,000 for its expenses for fourteen months, since under the new plan renewals are not due until May, 1888, four months later than usual. This sum is entirely inadequate to the probable demands on the treasury.

The Executive Committee has the choice between two plans: It can instruct the Secretary-Editor to withhold payment to the Divisions of all that is due them, thus making them creditors of the National Body, as they were in 1887, or it can call for a popular subscription. The League has been in financial straits quite long enough, and it behooves us to throw off the incubus. We must have money for the work in hand. We have decided that it is much the best plan to make an appeal to members for a popular subscription in our behalf. We ask that you bring this matter to the attention of your Division at once, and confer with the members relative to the best method of aiding us. We ought to have a sum equal to at least fifty cents per capita, and as much larger individual subscriptions as the generosity of donors may dictate. We leave it to your Division to decide whether or not they will vote a sum from the Division treasury, or call upon members for donations, or both. Our present income is large enough for our purposes could we have it all, but each year we see it melt away under the burning influences of debts we have inherited from former years.

Any and all sums of money should be sent to our Treasurer, Wm. M. Brewster, 309 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo. Fraternally submitted,

T. J. KIRKPATRICK,
H. W. HAYES,
GEO. R. BIDWELL,
Executive Committee.

PENNSYLVANIA APPOINTMENTS.

Chief Consul George A. Jessup wishes the following appointments of Consuls announced officially:

Reading—George Scheele, 810 Pine st., vice H. Crowther, resigned.

Susquehanna—A. P. French, vice T. A. Hayward, resigned.

Lancaster—Wm. S. Gleim, vice S. B. Downey, resigned.

Brownsville—E. S. Michner.

J. G. CARPENTER, Sec-Treas.

To Consuls New York State Division, L. A. W.

All Consuls of this Division are hereby re-appointed to Sept. 1st, 1888. GEORGE R. BIDWELL, Chief Consul.

MISSOURI APPOINTMENTS.

I have appointed the following Consuls, viz.:
Louisiana, J. C. Irwin.
Bowling Green, J. W. Edwards.
League Hotel for Bowling Green, the Palace Hotel. Rate, $2.00 per day; to L. A. W., $1.50 per day.

Fraternally, W. M. BREWSTER, C. C.

St. Louis, Mo., March 10, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 131—Total 49—8727.

BOSTON, March 23, 1888.

ARKANSAS—1—11.

Unattached.
17940 Smith, Sidney, Box 51, Pine Bluff.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—1—394.

Bay City Wheelmen.
17941 Thompson, W. E., care Wells, Fargo Co., San Francisco.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—1—66.

Capital Cycling Club.
17942 Demaray, Edw. A., 1104 12th st., Washington.

ENGLAND—1—4.

C. T. C.
17943 Burr, Thomas Alfred, 10 Queen sq., W. C. London.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—2—484.

Illinois Cycling Club.
17944 Clement, A. M., 969 Munroe st., Chicago.
Unattached.
17945 Pursley, Willis, care Buckley, Pursley & Co., Peoria.

INDIANA DIVISION—2—161.

Terre Haute Bi. Club.
17946 Haring, Harry D., 1339 Chestnut st., Terre Haute.
Unattached.
17985 Dedrick, Walt. R., Jeffersonville.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—3—62.

Newport Bi. Club.
17947 Holmes, P. I., Newport.
Unattached.
17948 Miner, W. C., Maysville.
17949 Theal, A. N., Covington.

MARYLAND DIVISION—3—270.

Baltimore Cycle Club.
17950 Jacobson, A. W., 229 W. Lanvale st., Baltimore.
17951 Pennington, Dr. S.C., 337 No. Charles st., Baltimore.
17952 Tyler, Walter B., care S. E. Egerton & Co., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—2—980.

Unattached.
17953 Mitchell, Wm. F., Hyde Park.
17954 Rockwood, E. E., Attleboro Falls.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—1—189.

Unattached.
7955 Heath, E. J., Ithaca.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—1—81.

Winona Cyclists.
17956 Wheeler, C. M., Winona.

MISSOURI DIVISION—5—272.

Eurota Bi. Club.
17957 Lewis, Wm. J., 3014 Morgan st., St. Louis.
Missouri Bi. Club.
17958 Hendel, Jesse A., 203 No. Ewing ave., "
17959 Wade, G. K. B., 3500 Morgan st., "
Unattached.
17960 Spiegelhalter, Fred., 1100 Chouteau ave., "
17961 Lamb, R. H., 1304 Union ave., Kansas City,

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—3—567.

Hudson Co. Wheelmen.
17962 Rolfes, Chas., 413 Bloomfield st., Hoboken.
Orange Wanderers.
17963 Taylor, Everett K., So. Orange,
Unattached.
17964 Townsend, C. H., Newark.

NEW YORK DIVISION—5—1879.

Unattached.
17965 Buchheit, Geo. J., 28 Carroll st., Buffalo.
17966 Burgess, J. H., Elmira.
17967 Henderson, J. S., 105 Greenwich st., New York.
17968 Johnson, Chas. R., 67 Rutger st., Utica.
17969 Luce, Chas. C., 41 Rutger st., "

OHIO DIVISION—2—685.

Unattached.
17970 Heidcamp, Frank A., 341 Main st., Cincinnati.
17988 Marvin, Geo. L., Andover.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—10—1108.

Alpha Wheel Club.
17971 Jacobson, James, Bethlehem
Mountain Wheel Club.
17972 Denlinger, W. H., Philipsburg.
17973 Turnbach, C. E., "
Unattached.
17974 Bleakley, O. D., Franklin.
17975 Frazier, John P., "
17976 Kennerdell, Richard, "
17977 Snook, E. W., "
17978 Ewing, S. Blaine, Canonsburg
17979 Flegal, Harvey, J., Du Bois.
17980 Lowry, W. G., Clark.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—5—171.

Kent Co. Wheelmen.
17981 Blakeslee, Francis D., East Greenwich.
Pawtucket Bi. Club.
17982 Henry, Chas. W., 87 Garden st., Pawtucket.
Unattached.
17983 Jenks, Edwin L., 218 Broad st. "
17984 Phinney, C. F., 139 Pine st., "
17985 Sweet, Chas. F., "

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—1—25.

Unattached.
17986 Allen, A. S., Summit Point.

LEAGUE of AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

Membership, including Life, Renewals and Applications to List 150 inclusive.

BOSTON, Mass, March 16, 1888.

	Life.	Renew-als.	Appli-cations.	Total.	Total, inc. Life.
Alabama,	0	8	1	9	9
Arizona.	0	2	1	3	3
Arkansas.	0	8	2	10	10
California.	1	262	40	302	303
Colorado,	0	29	11	40	40
Connecticut,	2	356	25	381	383
Dakota,	0	10	0	10	10
Delaware,	0	26	11	37	37
Dist. of Col.,	0	64	1	65	65
Florida,	0	7	8	15	15
Georgia,	0	11	4	15	15
Illinois,	2	425	55	480	482
Indiana.	0	143	16	159	159
Iowa,	0	88	16	104	104
Kansas,	0	98	9	107	107
Kentucky,	1	49	9	58	59
Louisiana,	0	42	1	43	43
Maine,	0	101	4	105	105
Maryland,	0	238	29	267	267
Massachusetts,	5	887	86	973	978
Michigan,	1	168	19	187	188
Minnesota,	0	67	13	80	80
Mississippi,	0	0	1	1	1
Missouri,	1	250	16	266	267
Montana,	0	3	0	3	3
Nebraska.	1	71	2	73	74
N. Hampshire,	2	81	4	85	87
New Jersey,	1	541	22	563	564
New Mexico,	0	2	0	2	2
New York,	9	1698	167	1865	1874
N. Carolina.	1	4	0	4	5
Ohio.	0	619	64	683	683
Pennsylv'nia.	17	1063	78	1141	1158
Rhode Isl'nd,	2	142	25	167	169
S. Carolina,	0	1	6	7	7
Tennessee,	0	39	7	46	46
Texas,	0	19	4	23	23
Utah,	0	9	1	10	10
Vermont,	0	50	2	52	52
Virginia,	2	65	9	74	76
W. Virginia,	0	21	3	24	24
Wisconsin,	0	64	6	70	70
Wyoming,	0	4	0	4	4
Wash. Ter.,	0	1	0	1	1
Bermuda.	0	1	0	1	1
Canada,	0	6	1	7	7
England.	0	3	0	3	3
France,	0	0	0	0	0
Nova Scotia.	0	4	0	4	4
Switzerland,	0	1	0	1	1
	48	7851	779	8630	8678

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed.

P. O. Address,

Club,

City and State,

References:

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance, In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER," Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER," For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER," We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER" A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard,
COVENTRY.

THE KINGSTON KNITTING COMPANY,
17 Kingston Street, BOSTON, MASS.,

Would call the special attention of the Trade to their excellent line of ATHLETIC GOODS, in the Latest Styles of the season, and for beauty of design, elasticity and durability cannot be excelled. We weave all of the cloths and manufacture from the best Worsted and Woolen Stock, which gives us many anvantages in getting up beautiful effects, in Polo, Bicycle, Gymnasium, Lawn Tennis, Yachting, Rowing, Base Ball, Fencing Suits, Leotards and Dress Suits, in mixtures, solid colors, and the more delicate shades. Also, L. A. W. Suits, very stylish. All of these goods are gotten up in Light, Medium and Heavy Weights, as ordered.

Our Knee Pants and Full Body Tights are the admiration of all who wear them, the introduction of our New Suspensory Pocket and reinforcement giving ease and comfort to the wearer, and are great promoters of health, and highly recommended by Eminent Physicians and Professors of Physical Culture.

Our Bicycle Hosiery is made of fine Worsted Stock, Glove-fitting, and to match the shades of our garments. Those we are now introducing of Linen Fashioned Soles and Toes, are a great comfort in warm weather, and very durable.

The TRADE will find it decidedly for their interest to do busintss with us. Our prices are very reasonable. Correspondence solicited.

Send for our Circular. KINGSTON KNITTING CO.

The "BEST" Bicycle Whistle.

This Whistle is pronounced by all Cyclists to be the most convenient,

Loudest and "Best" call on the market.

The mouth piece is so constructed that it can be held easily in the mouth, and with little effort will produce a loud sound.

PRICE, 25c. EACH. Discount to Dealers.

WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

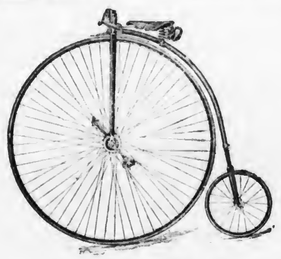
SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest List of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

THE POPE MFG. CO. CORDIALLY INVITES CYCLERS AND THOSE INTERESTED IN CYCLING TO CALL AT ITS WAREROOMS, 79 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON; 12 WARREN ST., NEW YORK; 291 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO; AND AT ITS AGENCIES IN EVERY IMPORTANT PLACE, TO

INSPECT COLUMBIA



BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, TANDEMS AND SAFETIES FOR 1888, WHICH ARE PRESENTED AS EMBODYING THE BEST RESULTS OF THE FINEST PROCURABLE MATERIAL, SCIENTIFIC EXPERIMENT AND PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE. CONTAINING 64 PAGES AND 40 ENGRAVINGS. IS THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE PUBLISHED. AND IS SENT FREE.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

RUDGE

FOR 1888.

The many tried and valued features of this reliable make, and the large number in use, is a sufficient recommendation to intending purchasers. See it before buying. Catalogue now ready.

H. M. SABEN,

152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

FOUNDED THE 1878

BICYCLING WORLD & BULLETIN.

L. A. W. U.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year.
5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 30 MARCH, 1888.

Volume XVI.
Number 22.

OF COURSE NOT.

The riding public ask why the makers of Victor Cycles don't advertise a list of second-hand bicycles. It is generally the case that when a maker has a hard time getting rid of his stuff he will trade the said stuff for old wheels, and we suggest that when makers are found largely in this business it is a strong evidence that the wheel they make is not "appreciated."

The makers of the Victors are happy to say that riders do appreciate their wheel, and hence that they are enabled to dispose of the wheels for coin. The reason we do not trade for other maker's wheels is because

WE * DON'T * HAVE * TO.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Write for Our 1888 Catalogue.

New Rapid Roadster,

New Rapid Light Roadster,

New Rapid Safety,

QUADRANT TRICYCLE, No. 8, for Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycle, No. 14, for Ladies and Light Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tandem, No. 15. Two Ladies can ride.

We desire to announce to the trade that we have secured United States agency for Jos. Lucas & Son's goods, including the celebrated

KING OF THE ROAD LAMPS,

and shall be pleased to give quotations.

Agents Wanted for our Cycles and Sundries in unoccupied territory.

A United States Letter-Carrier on the Volunteer Columbia.

BICYCLING WORLD AND L. A. W. BULLETIN. PLATE No. 1.

You May be Interested in This.

I shall make a specialty of renting Bicycles, Tricycles and Tandems this season, and shall offer only the best wheels in perfect condition. The Columbia Light Roadster Bicycles, Veloce and Bicyclette Safeties, Columbia Light Roadster and Surprise Tricycles and Columbia Tandems will compose my road stock. I shall not rent second-hand wheels, but on the contrary my road wheels will be new and 1888 patterns. My pamphlet, giving terms and particulars, will soon be ready, and I should be pleased to mail a copy to any applicant.

I have received, in the way of exchange, a number of first-class Second-hand Bicycles during the past week, sizes 52 and 54, that I can offer at very low figures.

Correspondence promptly answered.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

FOR SALE—50-inch Columbia Light Roadster; full nickeled, ball bearings, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle. $99. C. A. CONOVER, Coldwater, Mich.

BARGAINS—Columbia 2-track Tricycle, $85.00; Humber Tandem, $150; both in excellent condition. Correspondence solicited. "CYCLE," 111 West 95th st., New York.

WANTED—A 45 or 48-inch Special 1887 Star. Address, "W.," Station G., Philadelphia, Pa.

WANTED—Columbia Tandem and Columbia Light Roadster Tricycle; will pay cash or give in exchange any new bicycle or tricycle that may be wanted. State condition, time in use and machine number. "R.," World office.

FOR SALE—A 52-inch Champion American, 1887 pattern, balls all around; spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; only shows wear on tires and pedals; $85.00 cash buys it. Address F. S. CUMMINGS, Fairfield, Iowa.

FOR SALE—54-inch Expert Columbia, with lamp, etc. Address W. H. MORRISON, 1011 Third avenue, New York.

FOR SALE—54-inch Victor Light Roadster Bicycle, 1887 pattern; in excellent condition. $105 spot cash takes it. Address CHAS. B. KIRK, Muncie, Ind.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert, enamel and nickel, Kirkpatrick saddle, King of Road lamp; machine and tyres scarcely show a scratch; all just as good as new; good reason for selling. Price, $85.00. Address G. W. GAIL, Jr., care The Clark Cycle Co., Baltimore.

4 BARGAINS—Each Wheel Good as New—Sparkbrook Humber Tandem, Marlboro' Club Tricycle, Rudge Humber Tandem, 54-inch Victor Bicycle. For details address L. H. PORTER, 29 West 23d street, New York.

FOR SALE—53-inch Apollo Bicycle; balls all around; spade handles, hygenic saddle and rat-trap pedals; good condition. Price $85. Address M A.C., P. O. Box 2384, Boston.

BIG BARGAINS—One 51-inch Columbia Light Roadster, 1887 pattern; spade handles; ridden one season; perfect condition; not a weak spot in it. $100, including Butcher's Cyclometer. One 51-inch Rudge Light Roadster, brand new; never ridden; $110. Lock Box 202, Holyoke, Mass.

WILL SELL VERY CHEAP—60-inch Expert, balls all round; double grip handles and pedals; cyclometer and hub lamp; first-class condition. Write for particulars. A. P. C., P. O. Box 1883, New York.

FOR SALE—Sparkbrook Tandem (balls all over), lamp, cyclometer, buffer saddles; fine condition; a bargain. H. E. BIDWELL, Pittsburg, Pa.

WANTED—One 50-inch and one 54-inch Victor, New Rapid or Expert machine, late pattern. Will pay spot cash for suitable wheel. Address, with full particulars, BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2430, New York City.

FOR SALE—1887 Victor Safety bicycle; in first-class condition. Address J. S. DEAN, 28 State street, Boston, Mass.

VICTOR Light Roadster, 1888 pattern; ridden very little; at $40 under cost. 52 or 54-inch. H. CROWTHER, Box 1582, Philadelphia.

SINCE I BROKE MY LEG I have no use for wheels; will exchange for anything I can work with a crutch. Cash or Photo. Outfit preferred. Pony Star Bicycle, good as new; also Victor, 1883 Tricycle, in good order. Address Lock Box 34, Newton, Mass.

FOR SALE—Expert Columbia, 54-inch, half-nickeled; nearly new. E. F. BIRMINGHAM, 149 Nassau street, New York.

FOR SALE—My 56-inch Expert Columbia Bicycle, practically as good as new. Price $80. A. S. PARSONS, No. 105 Magazine St., Cambridgeport, Mass.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 50 cents a line.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycles for cash, or will trade new Champions, Victors, Rapips, Stars, Springfield Roadsters, etc. Send full description and lowest price. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, Peoria, Ill.

BICYCLES—Second-hand, sold on commission for owners. For full particulars see our ad. in The Wheel, or address MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 40 Cortlandt street, New York.

WE COVER THE GROUND.

Bicycles and Tricycles for the million. High grade, medium grade, low grade, all the best in the world for the money. Bicycles for gentlemen, Tricycles for ladies, Bicycles for boys, Tricycles for misses.

20 Different styles, 20

Second-hand Bicycles bought, sold and exchanged. Send stamp for the most complete WHEEL catalogue ever printed.

THE JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.

WANTED—A well-posted Bicycle Salesman and Bookkeeper; must give good reference; state salary expected. Address W. L. VAN HORN, Denver, Col.

WARRANTED TO PLEASE—The Common Sense Stocking Supporter. The best in use. Price 35c., mailed. E. H. CORSON, Rochester, N.H.

FOR SALE—Over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles at bargain prices; send stamp for list and mention this paper. A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio.

CARTER'S
Foot Rest,
FOR THE STAR,
For Easy Coasting.

Price $1.00.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.,
Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

DON'T BUY A BICYCLE until you have sent stamp to A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio, for list of over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles. Mention this paper. Second hand Guns and Bicycles taken in exchange.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 40 Cortlandt street, New York City.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand.
JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.
Send stamp for list.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.

Fully Warranted, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

Brooks Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Send 6c. for 20 Samples and rules for

Mention this paper when you order, and we will give to each purchaser a pair of PANT STRETCHERS. The best invention ever made for taking out wrinkles and bagging at the knees, and shaping the bottoms of Pants.

Sent by Mail or Express Prepaid.

Measuring, for Coats, Pants, Vests & Overcoats.

VESTS, $2.25 COATS $8.00
Suits, $13.25 to $30.00.

Also, Manufacturers of Bicycle and Tennis Suits and Fancy Uniforms.

BAY STATE PANTS CO., Custom Clothiers
34 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

BEFORE BUYING,
SEE OUR LISTS.
HART CYCLE CO.,
No. 811 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

No. 1.

THE * SPRINGFIELD * ROADSTER

FOR 1888.

YOST & McCUNE PATENTS.

No. 1 cut shows the $75 Springfield Roadster which retails for $75, with plain and cone bearings, nickel-plated trimmings, Fish Saddle, Tools and Tool Bag.

No. 2 cut shows the $100 ball bearing Wheel, with spade handles, cow horn shaped handle bars, enamel finish, and nickel-plated trimmings.

These Wheels preserve the beauty of the ordinary Wheel, with absolutely safety qualities, not to be overlooked by those who anticipate riding, and appreciated by all old riders.

CATALOGUE FREE.

No. 2.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

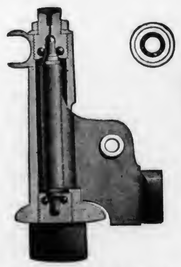
MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., -	New York, N. Y.
KIRK BROWN, - - -	Philadelphia, Pa.
C. F. STOKES, - - -	Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - -	St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - -	San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., -	Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street, Boston.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, No. 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

NEW MAIL.

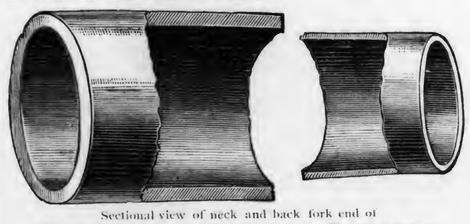
Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps



The New Mail is already having a remarkable demand.

A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Get a Catalogue.



SPECIALTIES OF THE NEW MAIL.

Found in No Other Wheel.

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞ Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it before selecting your mount.

Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington Street, BOSTON.

WESTERN DEPOTS—Meacham Arms Co., St. Louis, Mo.
Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

BY

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

☞ All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

☞ All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 30 MARCH, 1888.

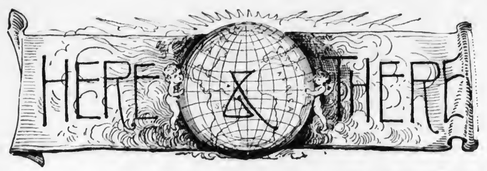
AUSTRALIA wheels into line, and decides that a cycle is a carriage.

THE Wheel does not think it necessary to pry into Mr. Crist's affairs, as we suggested might be done when he goes to England. Neither do we, but the searchers after pure amateurs are not always confined to cases where it is "necessary" or desirable.

LONDON W. sends the following in answer to "Ratchet's" query in our last issue: "'Ratchet' makes a pertinent suggestion in connection with the price of cycles in this country as compared with that of England, and asks me to explain. The facts as they appear seem to carry their own explanation. Competition is not so keen here as abroad, and the trade is more controlled by royalties or patented devices and limited licenses. Probably when the tariff reformers take off, as I hope they will, the duty of 35 per cent. ad valorum now exacted on imported machines, prices will tumble materially, and when the field of manufacture is thrown open to the world, as it must be before many years, it will be found that America can produce as good cycles at as low a price as can England. To this time, riders—and proprietors of cycle papers—look forward eagerly."

IT is very funny to note in the English cycling press the difference of opinion on the action of the N. C. U. in regard to road racing. Wheeling calls it a "victory," and Bicycling News says the meeting was a "failure." It is, however, quite natural and in line with the condition of things "over there." Wherever you find Bi. News you can be sure that Wheeling will be on the other side. About a year ago, Mr. Hillier and Mr. McCandlish made an attempt to bury the hatchet, and for a time the condition of affairs was saccharine ad nauseam. The apparent permanent peace turned out to be a truce and now that is ended we find the hatchet is again exhumed, and the two papers are hammering away at one another as of yore. In the Kauffman championship these two papers are arrayed against each other. In it is a case of the "Etonswall" papers, as described by the immortal Pickwick all over again.

WITH this issue we present to our readers the first of a series of colored plates, which we think, when all are issued, will be of great value and interest to our readers. The series will contain portraits of Rowe, Bassett, Stevens, and other cyclists of note. It was our intention to have made Plate No. 1 the portrait of Rowe, but through a mistake our lithographer made on this plate, we were compelled to have same reprinted. This week, therefore, we present a handsome picture of one of Uncle Sam's postmen as he should appear in covering his route in the suburbs and country. It is, perhaps, the best one of the series with which to start—it suggests the methods whereby this paper goes weekly to its larger constituency. To flatten out these plates in cases where creased, lay the plate face down, put a damp cloth on back, and use a hot flat iron.



AND so the N. C. U. has decided that the better policy is to keep hands off road racing. At a meeting held March 8th, it was resolved:

"That the Union discourages road racing, and appeals to clubs to assist it by refusing to hold such races." The resolution also went on to say that the Union prohibits any of its officials from officiating or assisting at any road race, and "refuses to recognize records made on the road."

Practically this is the position taken by the L. A. W. on this momentous question. It remains to be seen whether the stand taken by the N. C. U. will tend to really discourage road racing in England. Wheeling looks on this as a great victory, as this paper has taken about the same position on this question in England that the WORLD has in America. The effect of the withdrawal of moral support to this branch of the sport will no doubt have its effect. It cannot help it. There is, however, a great difference between the meaning of the words "forbid" and "discourage," and we think the N. C. U. have done wisely in not insisting on the adoption of the former verb as their ultimatum on the indulgence in road racing.

THE "Mule," writing from Chicago, says: "Tom Roe has received a letter from a man named Huff, warning him that the race between Prince and McCurdy, in which Roe is supposed to be backing the latter to the extent of $15,000, has been fixed for his man to lose, and that no money has been put up by the Prince party, the stakeholder being in the swindle. Roe, however, denies that he has put up a cent, and says he was induced by someone to allow his name to be used, and that the party afterwards tried to persuade him to find the money, which he refused to do. There is a very bitter feeling here against the parties concerned in these cycling swindles, the general opinion being that if continued they will bring the sport into disrepute. Roe declares that for his part he has always acted fairly, but he will steer clear of such events hereafter, not relishing the severe criticisms he has, justly or unjustly, been subjected to. This is pleasing news, as Roe is a man who can and will do the sport a vast amount of good."——J. O. Blake, of Chicago, has left the John Wilkinson Co., and become associated with Spalding, who will find him a valuable acquisition.

THE Buffalo Courier has the following little complient to pay to two of our New England railroads: "Every bicycle rider in the country will be pleased to hear that the New York newspapers are denouncing in bitter terms the shameful treatment which the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad accorded its stormbound passengers during the recent blockade In some cases they actually would have suffered from hunger, had not the farmers come to their relief. The bicyclers' interest in the matter lies in the fact that this line and its ally, the Boston & Albany, have won especial odium among them because they are almost the only important roads in the country that persistently refuse to carry baggage free when it chances to be in the form of a bicycle. A wheelman may ride from San Francisco to New York without paying a cent for the carriage of his machine, but it will cost him a dollar or two to take it from New York to Boston. The particular injustice of which he complains, however, is that he must pay fifty cents if he resorts to a train in order to avoid even half a mile in sand, so that touring in the region is attended with serious disadvantages. The New York city and New England wheelmen doubtless sympathize with the longing of the victims of the storm for a 'parallel line.'"

"GENTLEMAN JOHN."

THIS AND THAT.

I HAVE just finished reading "Our Sentimental Journey," the joint production of Joseph and Elizabeth Pennell, who have long striven along with certain of our number to maintain the tone of cycling. I must needs say that the Pennells have "out pennelled" themselves in this their latest production. I am the proud possessor of one of the "large paper edition," which numbers but 112 copies (I think), my book being numbered 25. It was only by diligent search that I succeeded in getting the book, and the Edinburgh publisher informed me that the rest had been all bought in London. Of course, the "small paper edition" is for sale in all the respectable bookstores, and everyone who likes a crisp and cheery narrative, descriptive of wheel touring, should at once go down in his inside pocket and buy a copy. There is no doubt about the success of "Our Sentimental Journey." Mr. P. promised me a copy, but I could not wait for it, and so had to buy one to satisfy my curiosity. I may say that my curiosity was satisfied, and my expectations realized. The pictures are good, and the language is of that quaint style (at the same time artistic and matter-of-fact) that has so often charmed us in the other works which owe their origin to the hand of our esteemed wheelwoman, Elizabeth Robbins Pennell. The preface is terse and humorous, and refers to Sterne, the author of the original "S. J.," and to Ruskin (the man with the copious flow of "best bad language" on the cycle question) in a most respectful and playful manner that amounts at times to genuine humor

"STEERSMAN" and "Aeolus," two Scottish cycling scribes are responsible for a new cycling periodical which was born to-day (March 7th); I forget its name. I wish the gentlemen well, and hope that they may not drop much money on the venture. I may be wrong, but I have often regarded a wheel paper as a first-class thing to put money into, but a real hard thing to get it out of again, unless some enthusiast with money and scant wit should come along in time to save the editor of the "cycling weekly" from the asylum or the poorhouse. There is nothing personal in the above paragraph, so gentlemen with sensitive toes need not blame me if I have inadvertantly trodden on them.

THE roads are infernally awful around Edinburgh at present, and the cyclists are (like hen's teeth) few and far between. Ordinary bicycles are fast going out here, and it is now a toss up between a Cripper and a safety, with the odds in favor of the safety.

As there is absolutely no news in this Scotch capital, I think I could do worse than end this epistle right here.

"IT was with mingled feelings" of relief and joy, that I saw that the Bulletin had become absorbed by the BICYCLING WORLD. Now that the twain have become one flesh, it is to be hoped that the combined efforts of Fourdrinier and Dean, with the aid of a loyal staff of correspondents, may not be without fruit. America has had an "abdomen full" of the little mushroom periodicals that, like Jonah's gourd, spring up with scant notice to prey upon the cycle trade. Gentlemen, don't. If you are going to give us a paper, do so, but let there be a little more news sandwiched in between the "puffs" than has been your custom. And such items as the following are daily growing in disrepute: "Kennedy-Child denies that he is about to become a benedict." "Harry Corey was the first man to climb Corey Hill, which immediately took his name and has kept it ever since." "John Wells wants to race Hal Greenwood up a mountain either for gore, glory, or gate receipts." "W. A. Rowe is a scorcher from Recordville." "Colonel Pope is no relation of the man that had a jubilee lately, and got a lot of nasty, uncomfortable cloth slippers." "Richard Howell is no relation of Howells, of Harper's Magazine fame. His name was given to him in recognition of the fact that howls are the only form of newspaper wail in which he gives voice to his personal grievances." "The Owl does not always sleep all day." "The rumor that the bicyclienne, Louise Armaindo, was again going to nauseate cycling America by her disgraceful performances is not without foundation."

THESE are the kind of items that have surfeited us and make us weary.

BUT there is an end to all things, and I must needs make one here. I made one before in this letter but wandered off again. There is such a thing as being as versatile as a kaleidescope, but you must agree that such an abnormal development of the bump of versatility is seldom desirable. If I am a little on the kaleidescope order you must excuse me on the ground that I am "built that way," and remember, "poeta nascitur non fit."

CLEVELAND.

"COMMODORE."

THE local wheelmen are alive and stirring, though the riding season has not really opened. Notwithstanding the wretched condition of the roads, however, and the unpropitious weather there are a few enthusiastic riders who keep their wheels in daily use, and runs of from ten to twenty-five miles in the country are of common occurrence. Captain Chubb, of the Ramblers and the Star Wheel Club, and one or two others will start in the regular season with six hundred odd miles to their credit. There will be no racing track here this year, the Cleveland Athletic Park Association having found their venture very unprofitable. But road riding has taken a boom.

THE "Rover" style of safeties, or "jiggers," as they are popularly called here, are growing in favor in this section. Messrs. Collister and Huntington, two of the most prominent riders in Ohio, have adopted them, and their example has been followed by many lesser lights.

AN effort has been made to induce the Cleveland Base Ball Association to build a third of a mile track on their grounds, but they are not inclined to take hold of the matter this year, as their expenses in strengthening the team have been very heavy. It is more than likely, however, that we will have a new track next year on the base ball grounds, which are within a mile and a half of the centre of the city, and very convenient of access.

A NEW and promising club has just been organized, which will probably absorb one or both the old organizations within the next twelve months. It is known as the Forest City Ramblers, and was formally inducted into the bicycling fraternity on March 17, with a charter list of thirty-one members. It is their intention to lay out routes all over Northern Ohio, put up sign boards wherever they are needed, and collect information for an elaborate road book to be published during the coming winter. Its projectors are all earnest and indefatigable riders, and as there are a thousand wheelmen in the city, the prospects of the new club are excellent. The uniform will consist of gray pants, coat, shirt and cap and black stockings. By a unanimous vote of the charter members it was decided to make the Ramblers a League club, so the L. A. W. will have an influential addition to its ranks.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"RATCHET."

ANOTHER club gone to pieces! This time it is the Monmouth Wheelmen, of Red Bank. This was at one time a very strong, popular and pushing organization, and had a membership of about sixty-five. The members seemed to have been gradually losing their interest, however, for some time past, and it was finally thought advisable to disband. A new club will be formed in a short time, and none but "workers" will be taken as members.

THE spring games of the Orange Athletic Club will be held 9 April.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to have Mountain avenue, from Belleville avenue to Montrose, macadamized.

QUITE a number of wheelmen intend to visit Baltimore in June, and in all probability many of them will go a-wheel.

THE South Orangites have decided to give their roads an overhauling. Hereafter an overseer of roads will be a fixture.

THE New Jersey Liberty Bill was signed by the Governor last week, and now our boys in South Jersey can "go for" the "road hogs."

THE bill authorizing the bonding of Bellville for $50,000, the entire amount to be used on road repairs, has passed the Senate, and only needs the signature of Governor Green to become a law.

"WHY is a store that doesn't advertise like Enoch Arden? Because it 'sees no sale from day to day'." This old chestnut is respectfully submitted to those men who "can't afford to advertise."

CHAUNCEY L. S. WALKER, 63 years of age; residence, Newark, N. J.; mount, 42-inch pony Star; began riding, winter of '86-'7; rides nearly every day in half-decent weather; good for 50 to 75 miles a day at almost any time. How will this answer for the "ancient list" of No. 5550? Next!!

IT has been agreed between the former owner and the purchasers of building plots on the property formerly leased by the New Jersey Cycling and Athletic Association, that the Roseville track shall not be disturbed this season. It may be obtained on reasonable terms for tournaments or athletic games. Some of our local base-ball clubs will use the diamond during the season.

"WHY doesn't the 'Alphabetical Association' secure the Roseville track for some Saturday afternoon—say the second Saturday in May—and run a tournament?" This query was put by a prominent cycler a few days ago, and it strikes me that the hint contained therein could be taken with advantage. There is an abundance of racing material in the clubs and some good sport could be furnished. And with the clubs located as they are—viz: in New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Elizabeth, Harlem, Westfield, and Passaic—it should be a comparatively easy matter to draw a crowd.

A SPLENDID chance for missionary work, on the part of a road improvement association, can be found in Jersey City. That city, with a population of about 160,000, has the most notoriously bad roads in this State. Just drop the amateur rule entirely; do away with anything like a racing board, and go in, heart and hand, for better roads, and in two years' time I predict that the membership of the L. A. W. will be nearer 20,000 than 10,000. Appoint a live committee in each State: instruct them to look up all the bad roads; let them study in what way they can best be improved, and the probable cost for same. Then let them join in with the horse-owners and together "ding-dong" at the proper authorities until they carry their point.

NEW ORLEANS.

"BI."

SNOW has no terrors for the Southern wheelmen. Two Sundays ago, while all Boston was buried 'neath a huge snow-drift, we New Orleans wheelmen, attired in our usual airy riding clothes, were skimming happily over the roads, the same as if there were no such thing as winter. On that particular Sunday, while all Boston was indoors hugging the grate, we boys were down the Gentilly roads at Schadwell's, rambling through fields of lettuce, cabbages, beets and artichokes—all nearly ready for the market; stopping, perhaps, to pluck a plump, juicy plum from off a well-loaded tree, or, perchance, a spray of sweet-smelling orange blossoms from this or that one of the two hundred trees which ornament the Schadwell field. Our sympathies go out to our brothers of the frozen North in the hour of their discontent; we're sorry for you, but then, such is the irony of fate.

WRITING of snow, orange blossoms, Sunny South, and the like, has put it into my head that if the League could contrive to have a mid-winter meeting somewhere in the South, it might prove a pleasant and taking feature with a goodly proportion of the membership. Say, for instance, if one was held in this city during Carnival week of next year, could not a special train for League members be made up, reduced rates, and better accommodation be obtained? The local wheelmen would, no doubt, do their share, and if each visitor were to bring his, or her, wheel, no doubt a combination of our Carnival pageants, orange blossoms, shell roads, entertainments, etc., would go towards making a pleasant epoch in the lives of the many Leaguerites fortunate enough to be able to leave a wintry climate for a warming under the Southern sky, and if the League has any meeting on hand for that season of the year, this hasty and disjointed scribble may furnish some one with an idea capable of much elaboration. Next year our Carnival festivities are to be on a much grander scale than ever before. They will extend over a whole week instead of two days, as heretofore, and it is safe to say that whether there is a League excursion or not, no one will regret their visit, or censure me for thus early mentioning the subject.

A REGULAR quarterly meeting of the State Division is fixed for Monday, April 9th, 7.30 P. M., at the rooms of the New Orleans Bicycle Club. There will be no individual notices sent out this time, an official notice through the WORLD AND BULLETIN being considered sufficient; consequently it behooves the local contingent to make a note of the date, time and place, and to carry it in mind. There should be no repetition of the January adjournment for lack of a quorum.

MALCOMB S. GRAHAM, of the Louisiana Cycling Club, has formally announced his readiness to meet the N. O. B. C. crack, C. B. Guillotte, whenever the latter puts his defi in proper form, and now if Guillotte is really anxious and sincere in his belief that he can again allow the Louisiana boy a 5-minutes handicap, and beat him in 5 miles, he has the opportunity accorded him. There'll be some lively running if the two do come together; it is safe to bank on that.

A GIGANTIC out-door festival is to occur during next month (April), being arranged by some of the city's most prominent ladies for the benefit of a local cause, and the wheelmen have been asked to lend their aid to the extent of indulging in a tilting (or ring) tourney. The fact is but little known as yet, but so soon as the arrangements are perfected, ye gallant cycler will get him a wooden stick, yclept a lance, hang up some rings, and by diligent practice endeavor, ere the eventful day comes round, to be certain of a sure eye, a steady hand, and speed enough to get through on time. May there be a big field of starters, and may every last one of 'em win lots of glory and experience—as they surely will!

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

THE first meeting of the delegates to the Associated Cycling Clubs of Philadelphia was held last Tuesday evening, at the club house of the Philadelphia Bicycle Club. The representation was was as follows: Philadelphia, W. R. Tucker and Edward Burt; Germantown, T. H. Wright and Frank Harris; Pennsylvania, W. D. Supplee and John A. Wells; Century, Thos. Hare and P. S. Collins; Tioga, Geo. D. Gideon and A. Howell; South End, S. Jackson, Jr., and J. L. Edwards. These gentlemen constitute the Board of Delegates. The objects of the association are: First—To encourage friendly relations between the wheeling clubs of Philadelphia, and to facilitate united action in matters affecting their interests. Second—To defend the rights of wheelmen, and to promote cycling interests in general, and local cycling interests in particular. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, and the following gentlemen elected to serve until January 31st, 1889: President, W. R. Tucker; Vice President, W. D. Supplee; Secretary-Treasurer, J. R. L. Edwards. After considerable discussion it was decided not to have a general run to the L. A. W. meet at Baltimore next June. The association adjourned to meet at the Germantown club house in May.

SPEAKING of Kolb reminds me that he and John C. Dotter, late of the late Ariel Wheel Club of Reading, will probably be seen in a novelty on the Lancaster pike this season. The latter has brought the Rucker tandem attachment, on which he and Will used to cavort, along with him, and Kolb proposes getting an open-head machine for the rear wheel. Briefly, as your better-posted readers are aware, the concern consists of two large wheels of the ordinary bicycle (from which the backbones and trailers have been removed) connected by an elliptical weldless steel tube, which has a universal motion knuckle-joint just forward of the rear wheel. It goes without saying that two experienced men can make it warm for any would-be scorchers, and the machine is a perfect demon on hills, both up and down. In fact, coasting must be tabooed, the speed is so terrific if the hill is of any length. I wonder that this type has not become more popular, especially for touring. There is perfect immunity from headers, and the luggage-carrying capacity is very great. Of course, like the Siamese twins, they must always "go together," and the thing requires a careful man on the rear wheel.

A SPECIAL meeting of the Pennsylvania Club will be called to take action in reference to the proposed improvement and extension of their new club house this spring. They are very much cramped for wheel room, and must arrange for future additions to the roll.

OVER five thousand people crowded the Elite Rink last night to witness the closing scenes in the six days', four-hours-per-day, race between Louise Armaindo and Noremac and Vint, the pedestrians. The combined scores of these two were counted against Miss Armaindo's, and they started in at a lively gait to increase the lead of six laps for the five nights. Knapp began pacing Miss Armaindo at ten o'clock, and as long as he was on the track she gained on the pedestrians; but it was too lively a pace to hold, and at 11.30, when the race ended, the pedestrians had won by a combined score of 328 miles, 22 laps, against 326 miles, 18 laps, for Armaindo.

ON the last evening of the professional races, week before last, Whittaker rode two exhibition laps from a flying start, by request. According to three stop watches he rode these at the remarkable rate of 2.23 3-4 for the mile, one of the laps being ridden in about twelve seconds.

THE loss of Mr. Isaac Thompson, of the Pennsylvania Club, who died from blood poisoning, resulting from a splinter of wood being driven into his foot, will be keenly felt by all his fellow-members. His name was one of the oldest on the club roll.

DETROIT.

"TRUE TANGENT."

DETROIT being a lively cycling centre, one would naturally think you ought to have had a regular correspondent here long ago, however, it is never too late to mend. The proposed new constitution for the League has excited considerable interest in this locality, and is generally received with favor. There will probably be quite a good representation from Michigan at the convention in Baltimore. Among those intending to go may be mentioned, Chief Consul J. H. Johnson, B. J. Holcomby and C. H. Smith, of Detroit, and J. E. Beal of Ann Arbor.

THE rivalry between the racing teams of the State promises to be more earnest this year than ever before, and Detroit confidently expects to have a team fully able to successfully meet all comers.

THE question of a successor to Chief Consul Johnson is already being discussed, and as Mr. Johnson positively declines a re-election, several names have been mentioned for the office. Although there is a strong desire on the part of some to have the office located in Detroit, yet many are of the opinion that Mr. J. E. Beal of Ann Arbor is the man who should have the position. Mr. Beal has faithfully served the Division in the capacity of Secretary-Treasurer for nearly three years, is a thorough gentleman, well posted, has time and means at his disposal, and commands the respect and confidence of all who know him. The only thing that can be urged against Mr. Beal's candidacy is the fact that he does not reside in Detroit. He has surely earned the promotion, and will be able, I think, to be of more service to the Division than any other man that can be elected.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

CHIEF CONSUL BREWSTER got back from New York, and is brim-full of news regarding the Board of Officers' meeting. He had a nice trip, and spoke encouragingly of the coming season as being the most prosperous the League and cycling has yet seen. The settlement of the Wells' difficulty is favorably spoken of on all sides, and League members are happy that this bone of contention is settled for good, as they do not think that Mr. Wells will make the unwise break to run for representative again.

THE next entertainment of the Missouri Bi. Club takes place Thursday, April 5, and will be a "Fool Party." This will be the final entainment of the season. The arrangements are as yet kept dark, but will be very complete, and all that attend will have an enjoyable time.

ONE of the hardest League workers in the states is Ed. L. Mockler, the gentlemanly Secretary of the Cycle Club, and representative of the 5th district. Ed. is always on the look out for new members, and through his individual exertions, secured a large part of the present members of his club.

THE proprietor of the Western Hotel, the League Hotel, at Ballwin, has had a League Hotel sign painted and hung in a prominent position in front of his hostelry. This is the first sign of the kind in Missouri, and is a very significant sign of the times—more will be sure to follow. No more will the cry be heard, "Not an official sign in the State."

THE Cycle Club will have to vacate its present quarters at the end of the present month, as the proprietors of the Natatorium require their rooms, and the upstairs hall as well, for the convenience of bathing. They held a meeting Monday, March 19, and a committee was appointed to secure quarters, and the club will either build or rent such a house as its present large membership demands.

CONSUL PARSONS, of Edina, Mo., has made arrangements with the Independent, their local paper, to publish improved road articles and is paying for it out of his own pocket at a special low rate. This is exceedingly liberal on Mr. P.'s part, and he deserves the thanks of the whole League for his efforts. He writes, that the paper would have inserted the articles free if they were contained in plates. This is a pointer for League officers: Have some standard road articles electrotyped as early as possible.

THE riding season opened up here in earnest Sunday, March 18. The day was beautiful, and with a temperature of about 62 degrees, made riding very comfortable. The Cycle Club had a run called to Ballwin, twenty-one miles away, to which nineteen of their members responded. For the initial run of the season the Ballwin run is decidedly tough, and some of the tender feet were rather tired after getting there. The Missouri Club had no regular run announced, as Captain Lewis thought the roads would not be in a rideable condition on account of the recent heavy rains. The Manchester road was simple perfection, however, and three of the Missouri's men joined the run. The following took part in it: Messrs. Wylie, Bates, Clark, Lee, Husck, Jordan, Carlin, Klipstein, Hildebrand, Mockler, Holm, Sanders, Wagner, Greenwood, Tivy, Mason, Lindell, Bob Gordon and Oellein. On the way back to the city the party stopped at Son of a Gun Hill, and saw Greenwood climb it twice. Others tried it, but all failed. If Hal does not make Wells weary, then we are much mistaken.

THE Board of Officers of the Missouri Division held a meeting Tuesday, March 21, at the Missouri's club house. After discussing various plans to increase the League membership it was decided to print a circular setting forth fully the objects of the League, and its claims for patronage. This will be distributed among the unattached, and some good is expected to result therefrom. At this meeting C. C. Brewster read a circular which was addressed to all the Chief Consuls, relative to their bringing before the Division Board the financial status of the League. As the National body will not receive any funds until June, 1889, and the Executive Committee having decided to pay off all the League's debts at once with the balance now on hand, it will be seen that the League would be without its working capital, and to cover this the division decided to issue a call for voluntary subscriptions. It is to be hoped that members will at once respond liberally. If each member contributes 50 cents ample funds will be secured; the League will be on its feet, and with money in its treasury will not have to plead poverty to every call for aid.

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

SINCE the ratification of the consolidation of the Brooklyn and Ilderan Clubs the combination have done little beside talk "house," and if the views of the club architect are carried out IT will be second to none in the world. The site will be near their present quarters, on either Hanson place or South Portland avenue, and the estimated cost is near twenty-five thousand dollars. The combined membership is very large, and should approach one hundred and fifty by the opening of the riding season.

THE blizzard is a chestnut by this time, but I should like to call attention to the fact that it caught Czar Corbin down beyond Jamaica and kept him there two days as a sort of retaliatory dispensation for having refused any concession to wheelmen on his road, again showing the allwise justice of Providence, and that the very forces of nature are on the side of the true and the beautiful.

APROPOS of this matter of transportation on Long Island, I should like to call the attention of those in power to what I said last week concerning legal redress. It seems to me that there could hardly be a more fit occasion for the exercise of our combined resources. There exists here a crying evil, having under its influence a large proportion of the League membership in this State; we have shown what can be done in the way of legislation; are we to submit quietly to being imposed upon, with no hope of a change, merely because of a peculiar personal bias existing in the mind of one man?

IT doesn't look as though the opening record to Babylon would be made this week. I know of several who intended to try it on Sunday, March 12, but were prevented by various reasons, although the roads would have permitted it at that time. Babylon wasn't heard from between the Sunday night of the storm and Thursday, being completely snowed in, or rather, out.

IT may be that the proposed century run to Philadelphia will have to be resolved into an ordinary every-day two-days' run, because of the existence of a strong doubt of the ability of so large a crowd to do the distance, but until a more complete expression of opinion is heard the original design will be adhered to. Any word of action taken should be sent to Mr. L. A. Clarke, 25 Broad street, New York City. That gentleman desires me to say that those clubs heard from already, are enthusiastic for a run of some kind, in a body. All clubs in the vicinity of New York, up the Hudson, in Connecticut or elsewhere, who desire to tour from New York to Philadelphia on the way to the League meet at Baltimore, leaving New York on Saturday, June 16th, to send word as early as possible.

Bi. News prints the following from a correspondent, and does not even blink: "I can go the same hill on a rear-driving, and putting feet on rests and folding my arms, let the machine go its own path in two miles, which on a favorable day it will do in four minutes." Even we in America have the greatest respect for the Monumental gall of this gentle folder of arms.

Not So Simple But Fact.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 22d, 1888.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIRS:—

We have a Club membership of 32 riders of which 31 ride the AMERICAN wheel and we are well satisfied with our choice. Yours Respectfully,
M. B. Edmiston, Captain; Natl. D. Elliott, President; D. W. Wallace, Lieutenant, Fred Willson, Sec. and Treas., Marion Ramblers.

FLATONIA, Texas, Oct. 1st, 1887.

Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs—Do not read this unless you want to see how we appreciate your wheels. After 3 years' use we are satisfied to ride nothing else but G. & J. Wheels within 50 miles of here. Our town club has 12 bicycles, and every wheel is your make." Yours truly,
FLATONIA BICYCLE CLUB, Flatonia, Texas.

Most complete Catalogue in the trade, 64 pages, on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG CO.,

CHICAGO, - - ILL.

Largest American Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1. For Gentlemen..... $175
No. 2. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 155
(The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")
No. 3. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman.

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195.
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

DETROIT.

"TRUE TANGENT."

DETROIT being a lively cycling centre, one would naturally think you ought to have had a regular correspondent here long ago, however, it is never too late to mend. The proposed new constitution for the League has excited considerable interest in this locality, and is generally received with favor. There will probably be quite a good representation from Michigan at the convention in Baltimore. Among those intending to go may be mentioned, Chief Consul J. H. Johnson, B. J. Holcomby and C. H. Smith, of Detroit, and J. E. Beal of Ann Arbor.

THE rivalry between the racing teams of the State promises to be more earnest this year than ever before, and Detroit confidently expects to have a team fully able to successfully meet all comers.

THE question of a successor to Chief Consul Johnson is already being discussed, and as Mr. Johnson positively declines a re-election, several names have been mentioned for the office. Although there is a strong desire on the part of some to have the office located in Detroit, yet many are of the opinion that Mr. J. E. Beal of Ann Arbor is the man who should have the position. Mr. Beal has faithfully served the Division in the capacity of Secretary-Treasurer for nearly three years, is a thorough gentleman, well posted, has time and means at his disposal, and commands the respect and confidence of all who know him. The only thing that can be urged against Mr. Beal's candidacy is the fact that he does not reside in Detroit. He has surely earned the promotion, and will be able, I think, to be of more service to the Division than any other man that can be elected.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

CHIEF CONSUL BREWSTER got back from New York, and is brim-full of news regarding the Board of Officers' meeting. He had a nice trip, and spoke encouragingly of the coming season as being the most prosperous the League and cycling has yet seen. The settlement of the Wells' difficulty is favorably spoken of on all sides, and League members are happy that this bone of contention is settled for good, as they do not think that Mr. Wells will make the unwise break to run for representative again.

THE next entertainment of the Missouri Bi. Club takes place Thursday, April 5, and will be a "Fool Party." This will be the final entainment of the season. The arrangements are as yet kept dark, but will be very complete, and all that attend will have an enjoyable time.

ONE of the hardest League workers in the states is Ed. L. Mockler, the gentlemanly Secretary of the Cycle Club, and representative of the 5th district. Ed. is always on the look out for new members, and through his individual exertions, secured a large part of the present members of his club.

THE proprietor of the Western Hotel, the League Hotel, at Ballwin, has had a League Hotel sign painted and hung in a prominent position in front of his hostelry. This is the first sign of the kind in Missouri, and is a very significant sign of the times—more will be sure to follow. No more will the cry be heard, "Not an official sign in the State."

THE Cycle Club will have to vacate its present quarters at the end of the present month, as the proprietors of the Natatorium require their rooms, and the upstairs hall as well, for the convenience of bathing. They held a meeting Monday, March 19, and a committee was appointed to secure quarters, and the club will either build or rent such a house as its present large membership demands.

CONSUL PARSONS, of Edina, Mo., has made arrangements with the Independent, their local paper, to publish improved road articles and is paying for it out of his own pocket at a special low rate. This is exceedingly liberal on Mr. P.'s part, and he deserves the thanks of the whole League for his efforts. He writes, that the paper would have inserted the articles free if they were contained in plates. This is a pointer for League officers: Have some standard road articles electrotyped as early as possible.

THE riding season opened up here in earnest Sunday, March 18. The day was beautiful, and with a temperature of about 62 degrees, made riding very comfortable. The Cycle Club had a run called to Ballwin, twenty-one miles away, to which nineteen of their members responded. For the initial run of the season the Ballwin run is decidedly tough, and some of the tender feet were rather tired after getting there. The Missouri Club had no regular run announced, as Captain Lewis thought the roads would not be in a rideable condition on account of the recent heavy rains. The Manchester road was simple perfection, however, and three of the Missouri's men joined the run. The following took part in it: Messrs. Wylie, Bates, Clark, Lee, Husck, Jordan, Carlin, Klipstein, Hildebrand, Mockler, Holm, Sanders, Wagner, Greenwood, Tivy, Mason, Lindell, Bob Gordon and Oellein. On the way back to the city the party stopped at Son of a Gun Hill, and saw Greenwood climb it twice. Others tried it, but all failed. If Hal does not make Wells weary, then we are much mistaken.

THE Board of Officers of the Missouri Division held a meeting Tuesday, March 21, at the Missouri's club house. After discussing various plans to increase the League membership it was decided to print a circular setting forth fully the objects of the League, and its claims for patronage. This will be distributed among the unattached, and some good is expected to result therefrom. At this meeting C. C. Brewster read a circular which was addressed to all the Chief Consuls, relative to their bringing before the Division Board the financial status of the League. As the National body will not receive any funds until June, 1889, and the Executive Committee having decided to pay off all the League's debts at once with the balance now on hand, it will be seen that the League would be without its working capital, and to cover this the division decided to issue a call for voluntary subscriptions. It is to be hoped that members will at once respond liberally. If each member contributes 50 cents ample funds will be secured; the League will be on its feet, and with money in its treasury will not have to plead poverty to every call for aid.

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

SINCE the ratification of the consolidation of the Brooklyn and Ilderan Clubs the combination have done little beside talk "house," and if the views of the club architect are carried out IT will be second to none in the world. The site will be near their present quarters, on either Hanson place or South Portland avenue, and the estimated cost is near twenty-five thousand dollars. The combined membership is very large, and should approach one hundred and fifty by the opening of the riding season.

THE blizzard is a chestnut by this time, but I should like to call attention to the fact that it caught Czar Corbin down beyond Jamaica and kept him there two days as a sort of retaliatory dispensation for having refused any concession to wheelmen on his road, again showing the allwise justice of Providence, and that the very forces of nature are on the side of the true and the beautiful.

APROPOS of this matter of transportation on Long Island, I should like to call the attention of those in power to what I said last week concerning legal redress. It seems to me that there could hardly be a more fit occasion for the exercise of our combined resources. There exists here a crying evil, having under its influence a large proportion of the League membership in this State: we have shown what can be done in the way of legislation; are we to submit quietly to being imposed upon, with no hope of a change, merely because of a peculiar personal bias existing in the mind of one man?

IT doesn't look as though the opening record to Babylon would be made this week. I know of several who intended to try it on Sunday, March 12, but were prevented by various reasons, although the roads would have permitted it at that time. Babylon wasn't heard from between the Sunday night of the storm and Thursday, being completely snowed in, or rather, out.

IT may be that the proposed century run to Philadelphia will have to be resolved into an ordinary every-day two-days' run, because of the existence of a strong doubt of the ability of so large a crowd to do the distance, but until a more complete expression of opinion is heard the original design will be adhered to. Any word of action taken should be sent to Mr. L. A. Clarke, 25 Broad street, New York City. That gentleman desires me to say that those clubs heard from already, are enthusiastic for a run of some kind, in a body. All clubs in the vicinity of New York, up the Hudson, in Connecticut or elsewhere, who desire to tour from New York to Philadelphia on the way to the League meet at Baltimore, leaving New York on Saturday, June 16th, to send word as early as possible.

Bi. News prints the following from a correspondent, and does not even blink: "I can go the same hill on a rear-driving, and putting feet on rests and folding my arms, let the machine go its own path in two miles, which on a favorable day it will do in four minutes." Even we in America have the greatest respect for the Monumental gall of this gentle folder of arms.

Not So Simple But Fact.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 22d, 1888.

Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIRS:—

We have a Club membership of 32 riders of which 31 ride the AMERICAN wheel and we are well satisfied with our choice. Yours Respectfully,
M. B. Edmiston, Captain; Natl. D. Elliott, President; D. W. Wallace, Lieutenant, Fred Willson, Sec. and Treas., Marion Ramblers.

FLATONIA, Texas, Oct. 1st, 1887.

Messrs. Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs—Do not read this unless you want to see how we appreciate your wheels. After 3 years' use we are satisfied to ride nothing else but G. & J. Wheels within 50 miles of here. Our town club has 12 bicycles, and every wheel is your make." Yours truly,
FLATONIA BICYCLE CLUB, Flatonia, Texas.

Most complete Catalogue in the trade, 64 pages, on application.

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG CO.,

CHICAGO, - - ILL.

Largest American Manufacturers of Cycles and Sundries.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1.	For Gentlemen	$175
No. 2.	For Ladies or Gentlemen (The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")	175
No. 3.	For Ladies or Gentlemen	160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman.

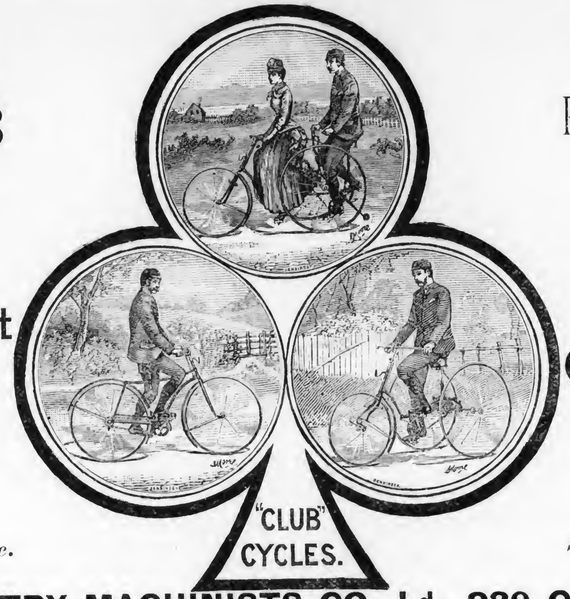
"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195.
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.



THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

———THIS SPACE IS RESERVED FOR———

WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO.

Broad and Hanover Sts., - Springfield, Mass.

LOOK OUT FOR NOVELTIES

ON ALL GRADES OF WHEELS.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

"London W." has taken to canoeing. Don't think from this that he has given up cycling, for he has not. But hereafter he will divide the joys to be gotten out of this life between canoeing and cycling. He has kindly invited us to share the aquatic joys. We have accepted, and we are now preparing ourselves in a neighboring natatorium for the ordeal we expect to pass through.

We hear that Woodside has changed his mount. Instead of the Rudge he will hereafter propel a New Rapid.

A word to the wise: The bicycle thief has "broken out" again. Look out for him and put him where he belongs.

Lynn comes to the front and scouts the idea that Crocker can get away with Rowe at any distance, be it long or short.

We understand Jack Rogers was in the Hub the early part of this week. We feel slighted—he did not favor us as usual.

Editor Corson of the Star Advocate warns us to be prepared for a surprise. All right, Corson, we are braced. Let her go!!

The Sunday Item of Philadelphia quotes the League Official Gazette. We would like to know where that paper is published.

The professional championship of Australia is held by Webard, who lately beat Clarke two out of three races for £25 a side and the championship.

It seems that Engleheart, in his great race with Rowe on Easter Monday, will ride an ordinary machine and not a Safety, as originally supposed.

It is quite possible that the "genial" A. K.-Child may blossom out in the bicycle business again. We understand "negotiations" are pending somewhere.

Puck suggests the following, and we know that Puck will be glad that we indorse the sentiment. It says: "Consolation race—women—moral, go and take a header."

They cannot get Safety bicycles down in Rhode Island fast enough, and this in face of the fact that we were told a year or two ago that the Safety craze was a passing "fad."

In this issue we present a cut or the ladies' bicycle, and a description of same. This form of frame is a novelty in this country, though in England it has been in use some time.

We should not be a bit flustrated if we were to hear that Pack Jrince and A. CacMurdy were to run a race for $2,527,235.29 a side. There is nothing like big money and square racing.

A German paper with an unpronounceable name has discovered that the "Roadsculler" is a machine for riding on land as well as water. We have to go to Germany to learn lots of things.

There is no time like the present. We address this remark to all riders who have second-hand machines for sale. We would respectfully suggest as a medium the columns of this paper.

"Senator" Morgan is trying to revive the defunct and decayed Professional Union. We doubt whether the "Senator" will make much headway as his field for securing membership is very limited.

The dispute as to who is the best hill climber is likely to widen into a challenge from the Missouri Club to the Pennsylvania Club for a road race between teams from these two representative clubs.

The British family of Cyclist's Journals has lately had an addition, and they call it The Scottish Cyclist. We welcome the new arrival, and hope that it will soon be as fat and thriving as its elder brethren.

Mr. Page does not admire Mr. Prial's notion that bicycles should be carried on the horse cars of New York City. We don't say the following to curry favor with Mr. Page, but we think Page is right—for once!

We came pretty nearly having a six-days' indoor tournament in Boston this month, but the unfortunate experience of the professionals in Philadelphia discouraged the management from making the experiment.

Richard Howell calls Woodside a "self-styled champion," and offers to ride him a mile race and give him a "reasonable" start. What Mr. Howell would call "reasonable" is an open question. It might arouse discussion.

The racing costume, as affected by certain racing men in Australia, is frowned upon by the modest antipodes as being "indecent." We have passed through the same qualms here, but utility seemed to get the best of outraged feelings.

Page, of the Spectator, has grown a foot because in the Overman Catalogue his paper has been put in alongside the World, and other amateur efforts. We are not proud, Page. We can stand it, but don't presume too much, you know.

"Twinkler," of Detroit, writes us a few notes as follows: Lovely weather here and good roads, which are duly appreciated by our wheelmen.——Capt. Jacobsen of the Detroit Club has returned from New Orleans.——Palmer Avenue will be paved with Asphalt. Next?

At last the cycling organizations are turning their attention to a useful and legitimate end. Road Improvement Associations are springing up in all parts of this country and England. This is as it should be, and every cyclist should give his moral, as well as financial aid to all kindred movements.

We want to go to Mexico, as we learn that they never have wind, rain, or snow, and that the roads are smooth and level, and hard as a board. Just think of reading such an item as this sitting in the shadow of a 16-foot snow bank, and in a climate as frigid, cold, and crushing as the sarcasms of Mr. Page. We mean Mr. Page of St. Louis.

The business and professional men of Louisville, Ken., are seriously looking as to the availability of the cycle, as a machine, for the despatch of their business. They say if the city fathers will only give them good streets, there are many of these professional men who would avail themselves of this improved method of locomotion.

The L. A. W. Division of Rhode Island has voted a $50 subscription to aid the National body. A paper for individual subscription was also opened. The Division will discountenance road racing, and it also passed resolutions condemning fast and reckless riding past horses and pedestrians, and other careless and discourteous conduct on the road.

The cyclists turned the tables on the cow-boys at the 6-days' tournament in London, which came to a conclusion last Saturday. The score stood at the close of the racing, 891 miles for the cow-boys, and 892 miles for the cyclists. Beardsley was taken violently ill just before the finish, but by mutual consent a man named Lane, hailing from Nebraska replaced the plucky Beardsley. Whether it was drugs or too much riding that knocked Beardsley out, report sayeth not. We would suggest a return match so that two out of three could be credited to the horsemen or to the wheelmen.

LADIES' BICYCLES.

"But what shall we do for the indespensable sex? For them there are tricycles, which are in all respects practicable on the road, only subject to the objection of increased size and weight, and also of a higher cast, which may be somewhat reduced hereafter by a larger demand, although the third wheel must always make the machine inferior to the bicycle. If any daring person inquires why ladies cannot ride the bicycle, he must address the inquiry not to Nature, which has interposed no objection, but to the same irrational conventionalism which has decreed to the female equestrian an ungraceful, inconvenient side saddle and a trailing robe that make her helpless while in her seat, and endanger her life as soon as unseated. True, she rides, but in spite of these obstacles—by dint of her wit and innate gracefulness; so she walks—on narrow soles and French heels. Give her—or rather, let her dare to take—for the occasion, not that terrible Bloomer, but some modification of sensible gymnasium or short dress, and she will quickly adapt it to satisfy all requirements of delicacy and grace, and will thus be able to mount this swift steed now awaiting her—a steed which fits well enough the Nature woman, but cannot make itself to fit skirt-civilization. The male biped will not willingly leave her behind on his multipedal steed, nor will she consent to be left."

This extract from an article of mine in Lippincott's Magazine for November, 1879—it really was in 1779, but out of regard for conventionalism, and in the certainty that your technical proof-reader would not allow the correct date to pass him, I have written it a century late, it being at least as long ago as 1779, measured on the cycling cycle—recurs to me just now. At that time, I had never trodden the pedal and knew considerably less of the subject than I have learned since; yet I may claim to have been a seer as to Fæmina and the two-wheeler, although I must confess I erred in looking to change in dress and not in machine, which has managed in part to "unmake itself to fit civilization." The Mme. Armaindo business is on record, without making a real exception: yet among my memories its a tale by a perfectly undoubted observer, who once saw a young girl slip out of a sumptuous suburban Boston villa and mount and ride away on the adulterated big bicycle, dressed in propria que maribus, and clearly enjoying her stolen and dreadfully naughty sweets.

The first step towards emancipation of woman from her exclusion from cycling was the discovery that she not only could but must use a saddle, and the throwing away of the stupid "seat" in all its forms. With the decree that "the loop frame must go," at first seemed to come a new obstacle, in the central tube. The first maker to depress this tube below and out of the way of skirts was Singer, if my recollection is right, and for a year or two past there has been no lack of tandems which our skirted dears could manage. From any tricycle of "Cripper" type, and from any tandem with a depressed perch, there was only one step lacking to a bicycle which did not need to be ridden astride. The present small-wheeled type of bicycle, allowing the connecting frame to be shaped almost ad lib., offered the opportunity, but there is no originality in the Washington machine (if I understand that), for ladies' bicycles of this type are more than a year old in England. [True.—Ed.]

As to ease of driving and managing, this must clearly have the advantage over the best tricycles, but I still have doubt as to the comparative neatness, although I note, with pleasure, the testimony from Washington as to the grace and apparent ease shown by the ladies who have already tried it. A tired, panting, perspiring, dishevelled, and muddied woman, per cycling, is an object hardly more comfortable to see than to be, to speak plainly; and, to me, nothing seems more inappropriate and reprehensible than any racing or "century" or "record" work by women. To ride cycles well and really successfully, women must ride with both real and apparent ease, and without bedragging with dirt and grease. How far they have been able to do this is the cycling point on which I am least informed, and hence I do not mean to imply that they cannot and do not comply with the utmost demands in this respect. But the demands are plain, and it is only within a year or two back that machines have been offered to women which began to dispense with the old abominable weight. To offer a woman, at best handicapped with a form of clothing whose impediments a man (bothered if the skirt of his winter overcoat wraps in the wind about his knees) does not realize, a clumsy wheelbarrow of a tricycle, weighing 100, 95, 90, 85, 80, or even 75 pounds, while the male rider, clad in trimest suit, goes off gayly on his bike, thinking himself half killed if it weighs over 40 pounds, is not only an outrage per se, but is offering a woman a stone to eat while men have soft biscuit. Woman simply cannot ride such crocks as have been offered to them. I trust better conditions are now at hand for them.

New York, March 22, 1888. JULIUS WILCON.

HOW TO PURCHASE A SECOND-HAND MACHINE.

We think a few hints on this most important subject, will be most timely for it is just about now, that the market for second-hand machines is very active. "Osric," a writer in the Bicycling News, gives some excellent points, and we gladly boil down his ideas for the benefit of our readers: "No machine that has not ball bearings to both wheels should be purchased in this time of progress. A cone bearing back wheel is always troublesome. Though the cones be the best, they at their tighest have generally a little play, and over rough roads are a source of misery to the rider and his companions by the infernal rattling which proceeds from that horrid back wheel. Ball bearings are the only remedy, and the absolute comfort of the rider depends on having a ball back wheel.

The next point is the running of the machine. To test this the left foot should be placed under back wheel, the head caught hold of, and thus the front wheel raised off the ground and gently turned. The wheel ought to run smoothly without noise, and should a loud ominous clicking or grinding be heard, it may be known that the forks are not properly fitted to the bearings, and cause friction. If the wheel runs stiffly, enquiry should be made as to its cause, for it is only natural that the seller will have the machine in the best possible condition. However, the running being satisfactory, the rim of the front wheel should be carefully watched as it turns. If the wheel deviate from its course, and wobble from side to side, it is out of true. I should advice all novices to leave such a machine alone, or else make strict enquiry into the cause, as it is often the case that the wheel has been buckled and simply tinkered up to sell. A wheel will always rise and fall as it turns, and no notice should be taken of this.

The next point is what is termed play. The mode of testing this is to hold machine by the head, take rim in hand, and shake wheel from side to side. If there be any rattle, then that is play. Seldom or ever is play present with ball bearings, but should that be the case, request can be made that the bearings be tightened up, and if the rattling continues, it may be settled there is something radically wrong—the ball worn or perhaps one gone. The back wheel should be tried in same manner as to trueness and play.

One of the greatest points of a machine which is generally overlooked, even by cyclists of some standing, is the trueness of the back wheel with the front. To test this the machine can be turned upside down—that is, the head and saddle rested on the ground—the backbone brought straight with rim of front wheel, and the back wheel in this position must be exactly in line with front, and if at an angle, which is very often the case, the bicycle is hardly worth purchasing. The head should also be closely examined, the screw loosened, the backbone taken out, and the centres (that is, the cones or points) well looked to, and notice taken of any wear, etc. All bolts should be tested, spokes consecutively tried, and looseness taken note of, as the rigidity of the machine greatly depends on their tension. Pedals are not generally considered in the stability of a machine. They are of three different kinds—ball, cone, and plain. Balls are, of course, the best, but it is seldom they are given with a cheap second-hand mount. Cone and plain are about equal as to their durability, but the latter to my thinking, are the easiest running, not being subject to locking as with cone."

INDEX TO MACHINES ALREADY DESCRIBED.

Machine.	Date of Issue.	Page.
Volunteer Columbia	Jan. 6	188
Veloce Columbia	Jan. 13	171
Surprise Columbia Tricycle	Jan. 20	190
American Rambler	Jan. 27	205
Victor Light Roadster	Jan. 27	209
Springfield Roadster	Feb. 3	221
New Mail	Feb. 10	237
Victor Safety	Feb. 17	253

THE LADIES' DART BICYCLE.

SMITH NATIONAL CYCLE CO., WASHINGTON, D. C.

A great deal of interest and curiosity has been evinced by our readers of both sexes as to "what kind of a machine the ladies' bicycle is." We take pleasure in presenting this week a cut of the machine and a description thereof.

A glance at the above will show how the lines of the machine closely follow those of many of the Cripper style of tricycle, allowing for a natural and proper disposition of the skirts. The wheels are 30 and 24 inches. Instead of mounting from behind as ordinarily, the machine is mounted as follows: Mounting is accomplished while the machine is standing still and from either side. The pedal on which the "mounting foot" is to be placed is brought forward so that the crank is about parallel with the ground. By stepping over the reach with one foot on the ground and one foot on the pedal, which is forward of the axle, the rider is in position to mount. The handles are then grasped and the rider lifts himself by the foot on the pedal into the saddle; this movement also starts the machine ahead. A little practice soon gives anyone the hang of it. Dismounting is accomplished by stepping off forward from pedal nearest the ground, and when the lowest extremity is reached, is within four inches of the ground. Weight, all on, 38 pounds; price, with balls to head, pedals, wheels, and crank journals, $135.00. We also present below a cut of the Dart tandem bicycle.

The lady rides in front, and it is not necessary that she should know anything about balancing a bicycle, as the steering and balancing is all done by the man on the rear seat. The introduction of these two machines makes it possible for a lady to enjoy the pleasures of riding the narrow gauge type, and we have no doubt but that they will have a future. The machines will be on the market in about four weeks, and their advent will be duly announced in the advertising pages of this paper. The price of the tandem, balls all round is $200. The weight of the tandem is 70 pounds, all on.

"Nicele," of Cleveland, Ohio, writes us as follows: An item for the "Chestnut" column. The oldest member of the Star Wheel Club of Cleveland is not quite as aged as he will be after a while, but he is in his 43d year, and is entitled to enter the chestnut ranks. He has been an active rider but 3 1-2 years. In 1885 he made an estimated distance of 2400 miles, including one century run. During 1886, by cyclometer measurement, he covered 3401 miles, making 18 runs of over 50 miles. Last year, by cyclometer measurement, he rode 4749 miles, making 18 runs of over 50 miles, including one of 102 7-8. He tied for first place in a number of club runs! [If this keeps on, we shall begin to think that the "youngsters" will have no show at the long-distance records.—Ed.]

No. 4361, writing from Memphis, Tenn., says: "Speaking of aged riders, let me present my champion. I know of a rider who is forty-six years of age, and I'll wager a ticket to the League Meet that he can do a hundred miles on the road every day in the week, and attend church Sunday night by way of pastime. He has several times made his century with the youngsters, and he was not the first to cry "quit" on those occasions. Perhaps some of the boys who attended the Ohio Meet in '86 will remember this same old man. No. 5550 suggests a race at the League Meet. Not a bad idea by any means. Just get up the race, and I'll warrant that Tennessee will have a man not far from the front." [We scarcely think that a man of 46 should be classed as an "old" man.—Ed.]

We made a mistake last week in printing the number of the Kingston Knitting Co. as 17 Kingston street. Our readers will please take notice: the correct number is No. 27 Kingston street, and address their communications accordingly. This company make a very excellent line of tights for athletes, which are very popular among sporting people. It will be worth your while to send for their catalogue.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

President.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

Vice President.—H. W. Hayes, 103 State St., Boston, Mass.

Treasurer.—W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

Secretary-Editor.—Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

Executive Committee.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., New York City.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Membership.—James R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 40 Orchard St., Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

Rights and Privileges.—C. H. Luscomb, 280 Broadway, New York; Winfield S. Slocum, Herald Building, Boston, Mass.; A. Moore Berry, 421 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

Rules and Regulations.—C. S. Butler, 263 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.; W. W. Shaw, 336 Navy St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. T. Williams, Norwich, Conn.

Racing Board.—Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield, N. J.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, 69 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.; Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.; Col. Geo. Sanderson, Scranton, Pa.

Transportation.—Burley B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Fred. T. Sholes, Box 93, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 West 58th St., New York; W. S. Bull, 300 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Tourmaster.—W. S. Bomberger, Hagerstown, Md.

Bureau of Information.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman, No. 668 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Inquiries from members regarding roads, routes, cycles, sundries or general information, will receive prompt attention when accompanied by name, address, and league number, legibly written, together with stamp for return postage.

Foreign Marshal, Joseph Pennell, care of S. S. Morgan, Old Broad St., London, England, can be applied to for information regarding roads and routes abroad by intending tourists. Always enclose stamp.

THE following on road racing is from the pen of the Secretary of the C. T. C. It is written in advocacy of the movement on the part of the N. C. U. to suppress this feature of our sport: "That road racing, if permitted, promises to end in the permanent curtailment of the liberties of the rational cyclist no thoughtful reader will deny for a moment, and it, therefore, behooves every delegate of the Union who values the liberties of the majority above the selfish claims of a small and irresponsible section of quasi-"scorchers," to be in his place, or, at any rate, to register his vote in favor of relegating these gentlemen to the cinder path, where, in the best interests of cycling, it is to be hoped they will remain."

THE Rhode Island Division is the first to respond to the call for a popular subscription by voting $50 from its treasury and starting a subscription paper for additional funds. This Division has very nearly reached the total of membership it had last year, and bids fair to make a good showing the coming year.

CHIEF CONSUL MEALY, of Maryland, is out with a recruiting circular, and hopes to have every wheelman in the State a member of the League when the organization knocks at its front door next June.

THE Massachusetts and Rhode Island Road Book is being sent out. It follows the general style of the New York book, though it has fewer pages. The routes are carefully noted, and many through routes are taken from other books. The book will be of great value to tourists, and it marks another good thing done by the L. A. W.

WITH this month closes the first quarter of the League year, and now, for three months, applicants should remit $1.75 for initiation fees and dues.

WE are receiving not a few applications for membership from those who allowed their membership to lapse. Those who are indignant with us for refusing their renewals at this late date, we respectfully refer to the rules. If they can move the rules, which dictate our action, they will find the Secretary very pliant. The man who pays the penalty for his laches with easy grace is a being whom we have a great admiration for at this time.

LEAGUE clubs may be represented by proxy at the Baltimore Constitutional Convention. Representatives from these clubs may cast up to fifty votes. Thus will the influence of League clubs be felt in the reorganization scheme.

FROM MR. SHRIVER.

Editor L. A. W. Bulletin:—Criticism is always easier than construction, and it would seem especially ungracious to criticise the work of the Re-organization Committee, which has been so carefully and well done. Yet I cannot pass without a word of protest the provision which would perpetuate in our proposed new constitution the pernicious system of filtering both power and responsibility through several hands, by means of electing one set of men, who are to elect another set of men, who are finally to choose the Executive officers. This sort of things has always either broken down in practice or has produced evil if really enforced. Instead of having the members elect a Division Board, who shall elect a National Assembly, who shall elect a President, etc., I for one can see no reason why there should not be a direct election of all these officers on the same original ballot.

One other alteration I would suggest. That we have sufficient independence to ignore arbitrary State lines, and form our Divisions in accordance with community of interests. Certainly it would be better if we should make, in our microcosm, the arrangement which would really be of advantage in the practical subdivision; and so far as wheelmen are concerned, establish a State of Manhattan. How far the same rule would apply in other sections is something to be determined by local interests; but there can be no reason why wheelmen living all their life under the same circumstances, but happening to have their residences on opposite sides of the Hudson River, should belong to separate divisions. On the other hand there is every reason why New York City and Brooklyn, Westchester, Richmond, Kings and Queens Counties in New York State, and Hudson, Essex and Union Counties in New Jersey, should be under the same Chief Consul and local Board, and so hold the same union in their cycling life as they already have in their commercial life. Under such an arrangement, Suffolk County, forming the eastern end of Long Island, would naturally be annexed to Connecticut, and all New York State above Peekskill would form a division by itself. E. J. SHRIVER.

IOWA DIVISION.

The spring meeting of the Board of Officers of the Iowa Division L. A. W. will be held at Cedar Falls on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 29th and 30th, 1888. On account of the postponement of the fall meet last year, it has been decided to make this a general meet of all members of the Division. An attractive programme will be arranged for the entertainment of all who attend by the wide awake wheelmen of Cedar Falls, and it is desired to make this the largest gathering of wheelmen ever held in the State. I sincerely trust that all League members, also unattached riders, will make their arrangements to attend.

Fraternally,
ROBT. L. THOMPSON, C. C. Iowa Div.
Muscatine, Iowa, March 24th, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.

The annual business meeting of the California Division, L. A. W., was held in Mystic Hall, Red Mens, Building, 320 Post street, San Francisco, on Friday evening, Feb. 24th, 1888, Chief Consul Welch presiding. There were present 25 members in person and 12 by proxy. Minutes of last annual meeting and of the Santa Cruz meeting were read and approved. The Chief Consul then asked to be excused from reading his annual report at length, and gave a brief sketch of its principal points instead, promising to have it printed in full for distribution. The Secretary-Treasurer then read his report:

To the Officers and Members of the California Division, L. A. W:

Gentlemen—Herewith I submit the report of the Finance Committee, as follows:

Dr.

1887.
Feb. 24.	To cash on hand	$20 90
May 2.	To half proportion of dues to March 14	55 00
June 8.	" " " "	55 00
Aug. 17.	Net proceeds from Santa Cruz meet Com	66 00
Dec. 31.	Interest on deposit in S. F. Savings Union	1 21
1888.
Jan. 13.	Balance proportion dues for 1887	38 25
		$245 30

Cr.

1887.
Aug. 17.	By Wagner and Ott medals	$40 00
Aug. 17.	By Pederson & Co. medals	119 05
	By balance cash on hand	38 25
		$245 30

The only outstanding demands against this balance are the printing and incidental expenses of this meeting.

On closing the membership lists for the year 1887, California stood credited with 343 members, distributed as follows:

First Representative District.

Los Angeles	15	Santa Barbara	6
La Panza	1	San Diego	3
Monrovia	1		—
Pasadena	2	Total	60
Riverside	2

Second Representative District.

Belmont	3	San Mateo	3
Half Moon Bay	2		—
San Francisco	100	Total	108

Third Representative District.

Alameda	6	Santa Cruz	3
Berkeley	1	San Jose	21
Gilroy	1	San Leandro	2
Haywards	2	Watsonville	1
Livermore	2		—
Oakland	21	Total	63

Fourth Representative District.

Anderson, Shasta Co.	1	St. Helena	1
Cloverdale	2	Vacaville	3
Napa City	3	Willows	1
Oroville	9	Yreka	1
Sacramento	8		—
Stockton	20	Total	52

Since the list for 1888 opened inclusive of that for the week ending February 18th there have been five applications for membership, all from San Francisco, and 105 renewals; these latter are from the several Districts, as follows:

First Representative District.

Pasadena	1	San Diego	1
Pomona	1		—
Santa Barbara	1	Total	4

Second Representative District.

Half Moon Bay	1	San Francisco	57
San Mateo	2		—
		Total	60

Third Representative District.

Alameda	1	Santa Cruz	3
Berkeley	1	San Jose	1
Gilroy	1		—
Oakland	5	Total	12

Fourth Representative District.

Cloverdale	2	St Helena	1
Forbestown, Butte Co.	1	Vacaville	1
Napa City	3		—
Stockton	10	Total	18

and from persons who have moved to the State since 1st March, 1887, and whose addresses have not yet been furnished me by the Secretary-Editor, 13.

On the 7th inst. a circular to local Consuls was sent out from the office of the Chief Consul urging them to see to the forwarding of renewals from their respective localities. The reports received from some of these officials, together with the large renewal list of the Bay City Wheelmen, which is not included in the figures given above, as well as other renewals known to have been sent from this city, give us reason to hope that when the lists close on 1st March next, we will stand credited with no smaller membership than that with which we closed the year 1887.

The renewal season, it must be borne in mind, occurs at a most unfavorable time of the year, when there is the least activity among cyclists and when they are most unfrequently brought into communication with each other. This condition is general everywhere, and has been recognized, as you are aware, in the scheme of re-organization, which contemplates changing the expiration of the League year and the renewal season to the summer months.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

N. A. ROBINSON, Secretary-Treasurer.

Chairman Ireland presented of the Racing Board, reciting the business transacted at the various meetings during the year, the championships established, and the result of those contested, with the records passed upon and allowed.

Mr. Houseworth of the Committee on Rights and Privileges was happy to report that his committee had been called upon to resist no encroachments or the privileges of cyclists, and that its work for the year had been confined to canvassing the vote of election of 1887.

The completed road book was presented as the report of the Touring Board.

New business being next order, Mr. C. C. Moore, on behalf of the Oak Leaf Wheelmen, invited the Division to meet at Stockton on 4th July next.

On motion the invitation was accepted.

The Chief Consul was appointed to appoint a Committee consisting of one representative from each cycling club in the State to co-operate with the Oak Leaf Wheelmen in arranging for the annual meet.

On motion adjourned to meet at Stockton on July 4, 1888. N. A. ROBINSON, Secretary-Treasurer.

LOUISIANA MEMBERS, ATTENTION!

The regular quarterly meeting of this Division will be held Monday, April 9th, 7.30 P. M. at the rooms of the New Orleans Bicycle Club, No. 178 Baronne street. As several matters will be brought up, on which is desired a full and representative vote and opinion, the punctual attendance of each and every member is respectfully urged. RITCHIE G. BETTS,
Secretary-Treasurer Louisiana Division.
New Orleans, March 21, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 132—Total 40—8773.

BOSTON, March 30, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—6—310.

Unattached.
17989 Kull, Alfred C., 16 Columbia Sq., San Francisco.
17990 Lancaster, James W., Pasadena.
18025 Morrison, J. W., Santa Ana.
18029 Reid, Ransom, "
18027 Vanderlip, Geo. G., "
18028 Vanderlip, John T., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—2—385.

Unattached.
18029 Munson, Fred B., Box 1173, New Haven.
17991 Terry, Edwin S., 46 Church St., "

DELAWARE DIVISION—1—38.

Wilmington Wheel Club.
17992 Fleming, Willard A., Clayton.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—3—69.

Unattached.
17993 Green, Edw., 1001 M St., N. W., Washington.
17994 Moses, G. H., 1411 G St., N. W., "
17995 Smith, Wm. E., 1827 Vermont Ave., "

IOWA DIVISION—1—105.

Unattached.
17996 Sherman, L. A., Dunlap.

MARYLAND DIVISION—3—273.

Baltimore Cycle Club.
17997 Quartley, Chris. G., 409 W. Mulberry St., Baltimore.
17998 Slothower, Harry, 305 Exchange Pl., "
Unattached.
18030 Reese, Robt M., 15 N. Charles St., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—5—785.

Lowell Bicycle Club.
17999 Whittier, Stephen T., Hamilton Mfg. Co., Lowell.
Rovers Cycle Club.
18000 Nichols, Sam'l G., 600 Commercial St., Boston.
Unattached.
18031 Davis, Wm. T., 33 Richfield St., Dorchester.
18001 Goodell, G. H., Whitinsville.
18002 Lincoln, R. H., Wollaston.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—2—102.

Grand Rapids Bi. Club.
18003 Randall, L. E., G. R. & I. R. R. Office, Grand Rapids.
Unattached.
18004 Orrell, W. C., Flint.

MISSOURI DIVISION—1—273.

Unattached.
18005 Kruse, F., Hickory and Jefferson Ave., St. Louis.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—1—88.

Unattached.
18032 Hill, G. F., Great Falls.

NEW YORK DIVISION—8—1888.

Buffalo Bi. Club.
18009 Angle, S. L., 138 Park St., Buffalo.
18007 Held, Frank C. B., 509 Main St., "
Long Island Wheelmen.
18033 Bogert, Frank S., 17 Halsey St., Brooklyn
18034 Clarendon, Chas. H., 210 Halsey St., "
Unattached.
18008 Britton, Ernest, 20 W. 23d St., New York.
18009 Goodchild, Jno., 52 Broadway, "
18010 Kudlich, Hans V., Box 3478, "
18011 Mayer, M. F., 100 Main St., Elmira.

OHIO DIVISION—3—685.

Cleveland Bi. Club.
18012 Simmons, R. T., 331 Sibley St., Cleveland.
18013 White, M. D., 99 Cedar Ave., "
Unattached.
18014 Knowles, E. M., E. Liverpool.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—5—1173.

Columbia Wheelmen.
18015 Overlin, Howard L., Columbia.
Unattached.
18016 Burgoon, B. J., Du Bois.
18017 Lockard, Chas. A., Franklin.
18018 Murray, Dexter N., Box 102, Sewickley.
18019 Snyder, Edw. G., Waynesboro'.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—1—175.

Unattached.
18020 Gardiner, Herbert M., Barrington.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—3—30.

Bluff City Wheelmen.
18021 Godshaw, S. A., 408 Main St., Memphis.
18022 Seelig, Julius, 270 Poplar St., "
18023 Stephenson, Lee, "

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—1—20.

Unattached.
18024 Golladay, J. W., Jr., Moundsville.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

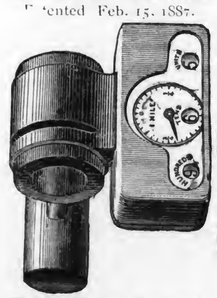
Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,

Club,

P. O. Address,

City and State,



References:

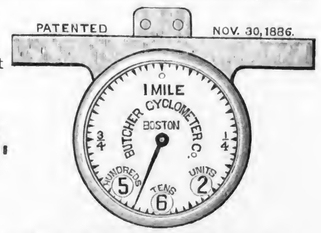
(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance. In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞ If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

'ented Feb. 15, 1887.

Free by Mail on Receipt of PRICE, . . $10.00.



All the Accepted Road Records

Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.
SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF
PRICE, ... $5.00.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

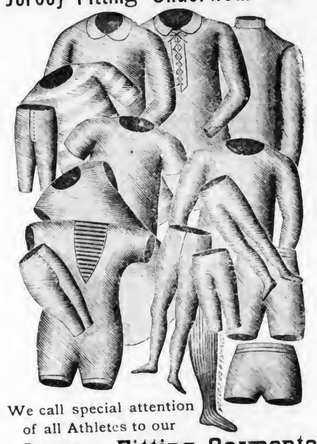
L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $30 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

Second-Hand Wheels,

Bought, Sold and Exchanged. Send for Second-hand List and our large illustrated Catalog of Wheels and Accessories, with full particulars of our terms of easy payments. Of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Liberal discounts to agents on second-hand Wheels. Prices on all Wheels guaranteed as low as the lowest.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.



Bicycles on Easy Payments.

Victor, Springfield Roadster, New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on Easy Payments with no extra charge except 5 per cent. interest. Low rates by fast freight or express. Bargains in Juvenile Wheels of Best Makers, at from $6.40 up. Large line of Accessories. REPAIRING AND NICKEL PLATING.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

We call special attention of all Athletes to our

Jersey - Fitting Garments

FOR

BICYCLE RIDERS, LAWN TENNIS PLAYERS. YACHTING AND ROWING. BASE BALL AND FOOT BALL. GYMNASIUM.

League Color. Grey Mixed. Black. Navy. or any Coloy. Plain or Stripe.

Every Wheelman and Sportsman will give our JERSEYS his approval when he examines the Shoulders, Arm Holes and Neck, as they are made to fit. These goods are PATENTED, and all infringements will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

FULL PANTS AND KNEE PANTS.

Buttoned in Front, same as Pantaloons, without Certain Objections.

We offer them to the trade and clubs as SOMETHING NEW, and invite all to examine them.

Knee Tights. Full Tights. Trunks and Leotards.

We understand, first of all, these garments must be elastic, so they will not bind or impede the free use of the limbs, and to stand the strain brought upon them. This can only be accomplished in Ribbed Goods. For this reason we make all of our best goods with a FINE RIB, ELASTIC AND STRONG, and from worsted made by the best manufacturers in the country, of fine combed wool of a long, elastic staple, which gives it Elasticity and Strength.

We make all of the above goods in three different qualities.

Ladies' Jersey-Fitting Tricycle Pants. A New Thing

These pants are close-fitting, come three inches below the knee, are very elastic, and the most comfortable garment a lady ever wore. Made in Cream-Colored Cotton, Drab, Red, or any colors in Worsteds.

Jersey-Fitting Ribbed Full-Fashioned Stockings.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List.

Manufactured by

HOLMES & CO.,

17 Kingston St., Boston, Mass.

Please mention this paper.

SPADE HANDLES,

THE BEST AND HANDSOMEST MADE, FOR

$2.50,

Sent to any Address on Receipt of Price.

Special Discount to the Trade.

CYCLE SUPPLY CO.,

3 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.

$3.00

Per Pair.

TOULMIN'S BUFFALO BICYCLE SHOE,

Is made of the finest genuine Kangaroo or Dongola in any size or width.

Greatly improved over 1887 Shoe; is the lightest, strongest and easiest shoe made.

☞ Send for Circular.

Liberal Discount to Clubs and Bi. Agents.

Also Manfr. of the celebrated

Buffalo Base Ball Shoes.

W. B. TOULMIN,

77 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

JOHN HARRIOTT,

MANFACTURER OF

Bicycle and Athletic Medals,

CLUB PINS & BADGES,

DESIGNS ON APPLICATION.

3 Winter Street, - Boston, Mass.

GET THE BEST!

The Standard Cyclometer.

Greatly Improved for 1888.

Simplest and Best Instrument ever Invented.

The Reasons Why:

It has stood the test for accuracy.

It has proved itself the strongest and best made cyclometer on the market.

It has been in use several years, and its merits are well established among wheelmen.

Can be read from the saddle, and used with or without the hub lantern.

A positive and continuous action, making it reliable in every respect.

We have given the manufacture of the Cyclometer careful investigation and study, with a resolute determination to remedy all defects, and at last we place upon the market an instrument that seems absolutely perfect in all its workings. We furnish a certificate of accuracy with all instruments. In ordering give size and make of wheel, also size of axle, and length of axle between the hub shoulders inside. Price, with balance weight and lantern attachment, $10.00.

J. A. LAKIN & CO.,

Send for Circular. WESTFIELD, MASS.

CHICKASAW BICYCLE AGENCY,

225 Third St., Memphis, Tenn.

New and Second-hand Machines Bought Sold & Exchanged.

Cycling Sundries in Great Variety.

A FULLY EQUIPPED REPAIR SHOP IN CONNECTION.

THE CYCLIST, the leading paper of England, is a well-filled newspaper, containing the earliest, the best and fullest reports of all wheel matters. No other paper covers the ground as the Cyclist does, and it is not only the largest in size, but has by far the largest circulation of any wheel paper. Edited by Henry Sturmey and C. W. Nairn. $2.50 per year, including postage.

TRICYCLISTS' INDISPENSABLE ANNUAL AND HANDBOOK. By Henry Sturmey. Describes every machine made, with detailed analysis of all the various parts, principles or novelties in present use, etc. Profusely illustrated. Edition for 1884, revised and enlarged, 50 cents, by mail. There will be no edition of this book for 1885.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY.

THE KINGSTON KNITTING COMPANY,

27 Kingston Street, BOSTON, MASS.,

Would call the special attention of the Trade to their excellent line of ATHLETIC GOODS, in the Latest Styles of the season, and for beauty of design, elasticity and durability cannot be excelled. We weave all of the cloths and manufacture from the best Worsted and Woolen Stock, which gives us many advantages in getting up beautiful effects, in Polo, Bicycle, Gymnasium, Lawn Tennis, Yachting, Rowing, Base Ball, Fencing Suits, Leotards and Dress Suits, in mixtures, solid colors, and the more delicate shades. Also, L. A. W. Suits, very stylish. All of these goods are gotten up in Light, Medium and Heavy Weights, as ordered.

Our Knee Pants and Full Body Tights are the admiration of all who wear them, the introduction of our New Suspensory Pocket and reinforcement giving ease and comfort to the wearer, and are great promoters of health, and highly recommended by Eminent Physicians and Professors of Physical Culture.

Our Bicycle Hosiery is made of fine Worsted Stock, Glove-fitting, and to match the shades of our garments. Those we are now introducing of Linen Fashioned Soles and Toes, are a great comfort in warm weather, and very durable.

The TRADE will find it decidedly for their interest to do business with us. Our prices are very reasonable. Correspondence solicited.

Send for our Circular. KINGSTON KNITTING CO.

The "BEST" Bicycle Whistle.

This Whistle is pronounced by all Cyclists to be the most convenient,

Loudest and "Best" call on the market.

The mouth piece is so constructed that it can be held easily in the mouth, and with little effort will produce a loud sound.

PRICE, 25c. EACH. Discount to Dealers.

WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,

100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

Rubber Tires, all sizes, at reduced prices.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

Great DURABILITY, reasonable LIGHTNESS, exact INTERCHANGEABILITY OF PARTS, and BEAUTY OF OUTLINE are, in our opinion, first among the requisites of any bicycle, of whatever grade; accordingly, for all parts of this, we have taken precisely the same qualities and tempers of steel that we use in the corresponding parts of the Expert; and there is no metal but steel in either machine.

We are ready to put it in competition, in appearance and under actual service, with many machines of higher price for which much more is claimed.

VOLUNTEER * COLUMBIA

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 60 PAGES, 40 ENGRAVINGS, FREE. POPE MFG. CO., BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

By dispensing with a few of the least essential advantages of our high-grade machines; by devoting less tool-work, labor, and time to the finishing of parts where appearance only, and not efficiency, is effected, omitting the expensive rubbing down and polishing of the successive coats of enamel; and by constructing a large number of machines at once, of but four sizes and one finish, we are enabled to make and put our Volunteer upon the market at a lower price than a wheel of equal value has yet been sold at.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

RUDGE

FOR 1888.

The many tried and valued features of this reliable make, and the large number in use, is a sufficient recommendation to intending purchasers. See it before buying. Catalogue now ready.

H. M. SABEN,

152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

FOUNDED THE 1878

BICYCLING WORLD & BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year.
5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 6 APRIL, 1888.

Volume XVI.
Number 23.

OF COURSE NOT.

The riding public ask why the makers of Victor Cycles don't advertise a list of second-hand bicycles. It is generally the case that when a maker has a hard time getting rid of his stuff he will trade the said stuff for old wheels, and we suggest that when makers are found largely in this business it is a strong evidence that the wheel they make is not "appreciated."

The makers of the Victors are happy to say that riders do appreciate their wheel, and hence that they are enabled to dispose of the wheels for coin. The reason we do not trade for other maker's wheels is because

WE * DON'T * HAVE * TO.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Write for Our 1888 Catalogue.

New Rapid Roadster,

New Rapid Light Roadster,

New Rapid Safety,

QUADRANT TRICYCLE, No. 8, for Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycle, No. 14, for Ladies and Light Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tandem, No. 15. Two Ladies can ride.

We desire to announce to the trade that we have secured United States agency for Jos. Lucas & Son's goods, including the celebrated

KING OF THE ROAD LAMPS,

and shall be pleased to give quotations.

Agents Wanted for our Cycles and Sundries in unoccupied territory.

ABOUT INCOMES.

A great many young men (and old ones, too, for that matter) in possession of only moderate incomes, find it inconvenient, and sometimes impossible, to draw upon their incomes to the extent of a hundred or two, yet they would like to own a bicycle or tricycle, and in fact actually need the exercise that cycling gives. I make a specialty of supplying the Cycling Wants of persons with moderate incomes, by selling Columbia Cycles, as well as the Rudge or Second-hand Wheels on small weekly or monthly payments. Send to me for particulars in detail. Cash customers are also welcome. Wheels rented.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

"LOOK AT THIS." Two "Victors" for sale; one 50 and the other 54 inch; both in excellent condition. Lakin's cyclometers to go with each if desired. Address, Lock Box 307, Plainville, Conn.

58-INCH English bicycle for sale. Balls all round, including pedals. Cow-horn bars, spade handles, and all modern improvements. New last fall. Owner going abroad. $70 takes it. GEORGE D. HAZARD, Room 83, Equitable Building, Boston.

STAR, hollow frame and levers, ball bearing; warranted. $55., or will exchange. W. D. CLOYES, Cortland, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Harvard tricycle, in good condition. Apply or address, E. A. SIMONDS, 143 High St., Charlestown.

FOR SALE—Rudge Crescent Tandem, Townsend Saddles, Lakin Cyclometer. Ridden less than 300 miles; A1 condition. Address, E. O. HATCH, 49 No. Market St., Boston.

FOR SALE—50-inch Columbia Light Roadster; full nickeled, ball bearings, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle. $99. C. A. CONOVER, Coldwater, Mich.

BARGAINS—Columbia 2-track Tricycle, $85.00; Humber Tandem, $150; both in excellent condition. Correspondence solicited. "CYCLE," 111 West 95th st., New York.

WANTED—Columbia Tandem and Columbia Light Roadster Tricycle; will pay cash or give in exchange any new bicycle or tricycle that may be wanted. State condition, time in use and machine number. "R.," World office.

FOR SALE—A 52-inch Champion American, 1887 pattern, balls all around; spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; only shows wear on tires and pedals; $85.00 cash buys it. Address F. S. CUMMINGS, Fairfield, Iowa.

FOR SALE—54-inch Expert Columbia, with lamp, etc. Address W. H. MORRISON, 1011 Third avenue, New York.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert, enamel and nickel, Kirkpatrick saddle, King of Road lamp; machine and tyres scarcely show a scratch; all just as good as new; good reason for selling. Price, $85.00. Address G. W. GAHL, Jr., care The Clark Cycle Co., Baltimore.

4 BARGAINS—Each Wheel Good as New—Sparkbrook Humber Tandem, Marlboro' Club Tricycle, Rudge Humber Tandem, 54-inch Victor Bicycle. For details address L. H. PORTER, 29 West 23d street, New York.

BIG BARGAINS—One 51-inch Columbia Light Roadster, 1887 pattern; spade handles; ridden one season; perfect condition; not a weak spot in it. $100, including Butcher's Cyclometer. One 51-inch Rudge Light Roadster, brand new; never ridden; 110. Lock Box 202, Holyoke, Mass.

FOR SALE—52-inch 1887 Apollo Bicycle; ball bearings, Kirkpatrick saddle and Butcher Hub Cyclometer; nearly new. Price, $90. H. L. BILLINGS, 20 Bedford st., Boston.

FOR SALE—52-inch Expert; all improvements; an A1 machine, in first-class condition. Price $75. A genuine bargain. G. E. BRETT, 51 Franklin st., Boston.

WANTED—One 50-inch and one 54 inch Victor, New Rapid or Expert machine, late pattern. Will pay spot cash for suitable wheel. Address, with full particulars, BICYCLE, P. O. Box 2434, New York City.

FOR SALE—1887 Victor Safety bicycle; in first-class condition. Address J. S. DEAN, 28 State street, Boston, Mass.

SINCE I BROKE MY LEG I have no use for wheels; will exchange for anything I can work with a crutch. Cash or Photo. Outfit preferred. Pony Star Bicycle, good as new; also Victor, 1883 Tricycle, in good order. Address Lock Box 34, Newton, Mass.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

BICYCLES—Second-hand, sold on commission for owners. For full particulars see our ad. in The Wheel, or address MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York.

WANTED—A well-posted Bicycle Salesman and Bookkeeper; must give good reference; state salary expected. Address W. L. VAN HORN, Denver, Col.

WARRANTED TO PLEASE—The Common Sense Stocking Supporter. The best in use. Price 35c., mailed. E. H. CORSON, Rochester, N.H.

FOR SALE—Over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles at bargain prices; send stamp for list and mention this paper. A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio.

DON'T BUY A BICYCLE until you have sent stamp to A. W. GUMP & CO., Dayton, Ohio, for list of over 250 Second Hand and Shop Worn Bicycles. Mention this paper. Second hand Guns and Bicycles taken in exchange.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycles for cash, or will trade any new make wanted. Send full description and lowest price. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, Peoria, Ill.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York City.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand.
JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.
Send stamp for list.

The Boston Road Book.

The most complete Road Book of Boston and the surrounding country ever printed.

EVERY WHEELMAN SHOULD HAVE ONE.

For Sale by all Cycle Dealers and at the WORLD Office. Also, by the Publisher, C. A. UNDERWOOD, 386 Tremont st., Boston, Mass. Price, postpaid, 20c.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE

PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS.

Full Suits and Overcoats at Proportionate Prices

We sincerely believe that never before have we been able to offer our customers so good and stylish a line of SPRING GOODS as now our line of Chevoit

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

suiting, guaranteed absolutely all wool is particularly remarkable. Our smooth faced goods are also very carefully selected to suit our trade, whose wants we know now from long experience. For 6 cents we mail you 20 samples of these cloths, self measurement blanks so acurate that we guarantee a fit. Also if you mention this paper we send you a good 48-in linen tape measure. Or if you must save time, send us your waist, inside leg, hip and knee measures, together with $3, and 35c. to prepay express or postage. We guarantee safe delivery. For any cause a customer of ours may return his goods and receive back his money or a new garment, a guarantee of which statement may be obtained by writing to The American Express Co. (capital $20,000,000), at Boston.

N. B.—In buying goods by mail, it is a good rule to send money only to concerns that are well known throughout the country and avoid the countless imitators that spring up for a day to compete with old and regular establishments

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, BOSTON, MASS.

For This Week Only.

JERSEY-FITTING RIBBED STOCKINGS, $1.00.

We have bought 50 dozen pairs of these goods, and offer them this week ONLY. Same thing sold elsewhere for $1.50 and $2.00.

SPADE HANDLES.

$2.50.

Fit any wheel. Made of best Steel Drop Forgings. Discount to the trade.

BEST BLACK ENAMEL.

50 Cents per 1-2 Pint.

Sent by mail on receipt of price.

CYCLE SUPPLY CO.,
3 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.

Fully Warranted, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

Brooks Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

JOHN HARRIOTT,

MANUFACTURER OF

Bicycle and Athletic Medals,

CLUB PINS & BADGES,

DESIGNS ON APPLICATION.

3 Winter Street, - Boston, Mass.

BADGES, MEDALS, Etc.
MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS.
H. C. HASKELL,
18 John St., New York.
Correspondence Invited.

No. 1.

THE * SPRINGFIELD * ROADSTER

FOR 1888.

VOST & McCUNE PATENTS.

No. 1 cut shows the $75 Springfield Roadster which retails for $75, with plain and cone bearings, nickel-plated trimmings, Fish Saddle, Tools and Tool Bag.

No. 2 cut shows the $100 ball bearing Wheel, with spade handles, cow horn shaped handle bars, enamel finish, and nickel-plated trimmings.

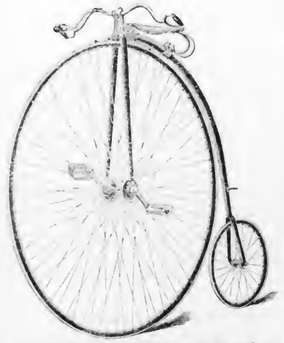
These Wheels preserve the beauty of the ordinary Wheel, with absolutely safety qualities, not to be overlooked by those who anticipate riding, and appreciated by all old riders.

CATALOGUE FREE.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., -	New York, N. Y.
KIRK BROWN, - - -	Philadelphia, Pa.
C. F. STOKES, - - -	Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - -	St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - -	San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., -	Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street, Boston.

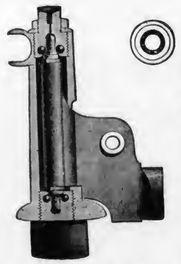


SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, No. 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

NEW MAIL.

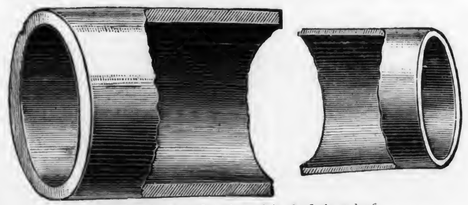
Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps

SPECIALTIES OF THE NEW MAIL.



Found in No Other Wheel.

The New Mail is already having a remarkable demand.



A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Get a Catalogue.

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it before selecting your mount.

Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington Street, BOSTON.

WESTERN DEPOTS—Meacham Arms Co., St. Louis, Mo.
Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

BY

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

☞All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

☞All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 6 APRIL, 1888.

WE do not believe that there is a more widely-known cyclist in the world than Mr. Thomas Stevens, and one in whose movements and appearance there is a more wide and natural curiosity. We therefore are pleased to present to our readers this week an excellent likeness of this greatest of all cycling tourists. In connection with this plate we print an incident in the tour of Mr. Stevens' across the plains, graphically told in verse by the "Poet Scout," Captain Jack Crawford.

THE generosity of the divisions in voting sums to aid in paying the debts of the League must be a very satisfactory answer to the Board of Officers who made the request. Massachusetts responds with a donation of $300.00, and Rhode Island with one of $50.00. Other divisions are to be heard from, but most of them have taken steps to do something for the cause. We have expressed ourselves on this subject, and the principal governing same, but we are always ready to go with the tide, when we cannot stem it. As an earnest of this we have sent our "mite" up to the Secretary-Editor, and our only regret is that we cannot afford to make the remittance larger.

CAN it be possible that the obsolete fashion of nickel plate as a finish for bicycles is going to be revived? There are a great many riders who advocate this finish. As far as we are concerned we go for ename! every time, for the reason that the nickeling process must be exceedingly well done, or rust will come to the surface, especially where the machines are exposed to sea air. We know that there is a prejudice against nickeling, because it has been looked upon as a sort of a badge indicating a novice. We are not in sympathy with this reason, though it may be true, but if we found nickeling to be the most desirable finish, they might plaster badges of "novice" all over us and it would make no difference in our choice. A similar objection to the safety being such a ridiculous looking machine has kept many from riding it. A good thing that is practical and approaches the best results should not be discarded because it is an indication of greenness, or because the machine is not so graceful as the ordinary. We are glad, however, to notice that these trivial objections are fast giving way to common sense and reason.

ELSEWHERE we print a letter from W. McCandlish, co-editor of Wheeling, touching on the controversy now stirring cycling press circles abroad. We are sorry that anything should have appeared in these columns reflecting on the bona fides of any of the pressmen referred to in Mr. McCandlish's letter. We know all of them personally or by reputation, and attach no weight to any assertion accusing them of being parties to a scheme to give a fraudulent title to Kauffman or anyone else. As to their being bribed by a champagne supper, the suggestion is absurb. As to the rules of the competition, so far as we can judge they seem fair. There can be no reason why the Star and bone-shaker should not be used with the ordinary bicycle. We do not care to express any opinion as to the value of Mr. Kauffman's title, nor do we think any one who is not willing to compete under the rules published in Wheeling is justified in finding much fault if Kauffman arrogates to himself a title that will look well on the bill boards.

RACING AT PHILADELPHIA.

VERY successful was the cycling tournament held at the Elite Rink on Wednesday evening, March 28. Upwards of a thousand people were present, and a large attendance of the fair friends of the riders enlivened the scene. The races were all run off with commendable promptness, and although there were several falls, no one was damaged to any extent. Mr. Halstead of the Harlem Wheelmen, at present in the city on business, carried off the honors, and showed us what practice on a twelve-lap track can do. The programme was as as follows:

One-mile match race, prize, silver flask—E. I. Halstead, Harlem Wheelmen, first, 2.58 1-5; M. J. Bailey, Century Wheelmen, second by a short length or two. This was a very exciting race, and the time is remarkably good for an 11 1-2-lap track.

One-mile match race, prize, silver flask—S. H. Crawford, first, 3.03 4-5; J. A. Green, second.

One-mile club race, Camden Wheelmen: prize, silver cup—H. S. Weaver, first, 3.07; Potter, second; Strong, third. The latter's Star did not prevent a couple of tumbles, throwing him out of the race.

One-mile club race, South End Wheelmen: prize, silver cup—J. A. Green, first, in 3.11 1-5, beating F. E. Beckold by a short length.

One-mile club race, Century Wheelmen: prize, silver cup—F. H. Garrigues, first, 3.13; R. L. Shaffer, second

Three-lap one-legged race, prize, silver pitcher—E. I. Halstead, first, 0.52 2-5, distancing J. A. Green on a Star.

Eddie McDowell rode a mile against time, but his performance showed only 3.03 3-5.

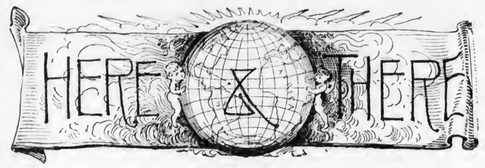
One-mile club race, Penna. Bi. Club—Won by L. A. Hill over J. A. Wells, in 3.20. Dallett, who was entered for this race, failed to appear, and Mr. Wells kindly entered as a matter of interest. It was whispered that he would have distanced Mr. Hill had the grade been, say one in three or four, instead of level.

One-mile club race, Tioga Club; prize, silver cup—Van Deusen, first, in 3.22 3-5, beating his brother.

One-mile club race, handicap, Vesper Wheelmen; prize, silver cup—Geo. J. Bowman, first, 3.24 1-5; F. Coningsby, second.

One-mile novice, prize, card stand—E. G. Kolb had a walk-over in 3.20, Green and Draper having collided on the lower turn, throwing both heavily against the railing, which was wrecked. They fortunately escaped without serious injury.

One-mile match race, between winners of races 1 and 2; prize, smoking set—Halstead and Crawford ran this off, and the latter gave the Harlem man a lively tussle. Halstead beat in 3.03 4-5, with Crawford a close second.



One-mile match race, prize, gold medal—F. M. Johnson, first, 3.33.4-5; C. R. Massey, second. This was a race for blood, and the winner was chaired around the track by the Pennsylvania boys, despite his kicking protests.

Two-mile open, prize, silver nut bowl—E. I. Halstead, first, 6.10; I. Van Deusen, second; M. J. Bailey, third.

One-mile, 3.20 class; prize, napkin set—Wm. Flennard, first, 3.22 3-5; Murray Kilmer fell. This was the third Star rider who went to grass during the races.

One-mile, 3.10 class; prize, fruit dish—S. H. Crawford, first, 3.07 3-5; J. J. Bradley, second. "ARIEL."

Philadelphia, March 31, 1888.

ENGLISH LETTER.

"SENATOR."

I RECEIVED a leap year proposal the other day from London, and being busy, I turned same over to the "Matrimonial Agent" of the team," W. W. Woodside. who made an elaborate reply, stating he was prepared to match an unknown (possibly it may be the "Owl") against the proposer, and that he would be pleased to meet her in London to sign articles.

THE adveat of W. A. Rowe has started the "voice of the prophets," who always (?) know "who ought to win, yer know," and the speculations before April 14th would no doubt fill a Clipper annual. The papers continue to print columns about the newcomer, and his "picture" is becoming well known. The Manchester Umpire devoted a column to him recently, and declared with the London Field that, "according to his past performances," he is undoubtedly the fastest man who ever crossed a bicycle. When Rowe arrived at Newcastle-on-Tyne he was met by a large crowd, who evinced curiosity to see the famous American. When he was shown the 12-lap board track with 3-foot ends he was slightly astonished, and innocently remarked, "I can break no records on that." Rowe will know a lot when he returns home. This trip will do him good. With Woodside, he is industriously training at Bridlington Quay for two weeks, and is already in splendid form, his fall on the boards at Newcastle the last night, doing him no harm whatever. On the 14th of April Rowe will step on the mark with Howell, in possibly the best form of his racing career, and if he cannot win, it won't be the fault of non-preparation. Excursion trains will run from all around the midlands, and cyclists from many distant parts of the country will attend to see the "battle of giants." I don't underrate Howell's abilities, and it is a queer indication of the form of Rowe and Temple that the supporters of the new flyer, W. Wood of North Shields, would not make a match with Temple, but readily accepted a 20-mile match with Rowe, the American team staking a hundred pounds to Wood's supporters' seventy-five, the race to come off April 21st. So you see the English betting market considers Temple the hardest nut to crack, and there is not much wonder at it. One thing is certain—they are off, or we are out. I think the former is the certainty.

I RECEIVED a long letter, postmarked Sydney, N. S. W., the other day, and for a moment could not think who my Antipodean correspondent could be, although the handwriting seemed familiar—(wish mine was as good; what say you, Mr. Editor and compo's?). Well, here's another piece of evidence of BICYCLING WORLD'S circulation and power for good. The letter commenced: "Dear Senator. You will possibly be surprised to hear from me" (and in truth I was; my teeth chattered, when I thought of the supposed dead). "I saw your letter in BICYCLING WORLD, which was extensively copied in this country," continued Fred S. Rollinson, "and I thank you heartily in presenting my case to American readers in the way you did. I had fully made up my mind that my romantic story should remain untold, but it seems you unearthed it, with your usual penchant for information. I am now very happy and married, my wife being one of the most accomplished and best of women possible, and we are thankful for our present happiness." I am sure the many friends and acquaintances of Fred. S. Rollinson will learn with pleasure that he is doing well, and has "one of the best of women,' for a life companion. Really, I feel personaliy thankful for the share BICYCLING WORLD has taken in Fred's interest. The letter concluded by earnestly asking me to pay his father a visit, who is in a good social and commercial position in Sussex, assuring me of a hearty welcome, and stating that he may visit England in 1889, and be accompanied by a team of Australian amateur champion cyclists.

MY comments on D. J. Canary (quite opposite to those of Rollinson) have also taken effect like the vaccine which the cruel doctor afflicted me with, when, both as a child and a big child. D. J. woke up during our visit to Newcastle, and came out with a set of rules, and a challenge to Kauffman to contest for fifty pounds and the "earth's championship." Kauffman's breath was fairly taken away by the sudden onslaught, as it was entirely unexpected, and Kauffman was getting his little championship medal ready which he was going to present to Kauffman as the "world's wonder." D. J. said, "come on, I'll knock your claims," but "Kauffman" wanted to include a "Star" bicycle, boneshaker (safeties and tricycles, I believe also), so Dan had to claim the title, which certainly belongs to him as far as his three won battles in America are concerned, and Temple, Hurst, Martinetti (and no doubt Maltby), have supported Canary's rules, which exclude the Star, so the contest will not come off under Kauffman's rules. The funny part of the business is, nearly all the "representative" cycle journalists of this great country "decided" that "the Star shall be considered an ordinary." The following week, however, a difference of opinion was noticeable, and grave doubts were expressed as to a Star being an ordinary bicycle. Mr. Atkinson of the Sporting Life told me plainly he did not sign the rules with the understanding that the Star was an ordinary, and did not certainly consider it so. I am pleased also to state that Canary has taken my comments as to certain little failings (which is human after all), and I was glad to learn from D. J., in presence of his pretty wife and baby, that his last engagement was the most profitable, for he had commenced to think of a "rainy day."

PERCY LOW, associate editor of Wheeling, tells me he may visit America the coming summer. I don't know if F. P.'s law suit has anything to do with this, I think not. That Scotch (good old Scotch!) libel suit of mine may prevent my holding any property in porridge land, otherwise I don't anticipate trouble. A Scotch professional says I called him names and ruin.d (save the mark) his prospects. He wants a thousand pounds, he will get less. Well if Mr. Low comes to America, I can heartily recommend him as a "rare old sport," he will shine anywhere.

I RECEIVED a call this week from M. F. Nandy, London editor of Le Veloce Sport, Bordeaux. It was in regard to the American team's appearance in Bordeaux and South of France generally, in May and June. The editor of Le Veloce Sport and the Bordeaux Club, which numbers nearly 500, assures us a hearty welcome to France.

THE meeting of Rowe and Howell at Leicester to-day, at which they signed articles, was a rather pleasant one. Howell was boxing in his dressing room, and stopped on Rowe's making his appearance. Howell remembered him through his visit to Springfield. The two rivals shook hands, and Howell remarked he hoped he would like England, and that no matter who would be the victor in their championship races, they would entertain the same respect for each other. Altogether the meeting was a dramatic one, about a dozen on when "Blucher met Wellington."

CHICAGO.

"THE MULE."

THE club house question seems to be agitating the minds of nearly all our riders. The Chicagos, as already related, have just gone into first-rate quarters in the centre of the city, and preparations are being made by at least two other clubs to cut a dash in the near future. The Owls, probably the most successful club Chicago has had so far, move into a new house next week, and will hold a smoker to celebrate the event on the 15th. Of course, to hear some of the enthusiasts talk there never was such a club house before. The Lincolns, not content with anything ordinary expect to build a house, and to that end, have organized the Illinois Cycling Company, with capital stock sufficient to cover all expenses. The building will be on the North side, where the greater number of the club members reside. The club is composed of about one hundred and fifty members, many of whom are well-to-do and can afford to support a handsome headquarters. The Illinois boys have been talking of looking up something more substantial than their present quarters, but have done nothing in the matter so far.

CHARLEY PHILBRICK will race again, and has bet $20 that he will beat 2.40. Of course he'll lose.

WHILE playing polo on a Star at the Casino, last Monday, Tom Roe hurt his right leg so severely that he has been confined to the house ever since.

SURBRIDGE has secured the services of Birdie Munger as salesman. I hear that the latter intends making a few road records for the boys to try to beat this summer.

J. O. BLAKE, for many years vice-president and manager of the John Wilkinson Co., has left that concern, and is now superintendent of Spalding's retail department.

R. D. Garden has obtained the sanction of the commissioners to hold his annual road race. A meeting of a dozen representative riders was held recently, and all the plans made for what should prove a great race. It will be run on May 30, from the Leland Hotel to Pullman, and it is already certain that the $1,200 worth of prizes will be easily obtained.

THE Cycling Association, composed of representatives from local clubs, has at last been established, each of the five clubs being represented. The association expects by concerted action to accomplish much which could hardly be done by any one club, and will, I hear, promote an annual race meeting.

L. M. RICHARDSON has written W. J. Morgan, to asceatain the latter's opinion about a six-day race here next fall. Mr. Richardson has confidence enough in the scheme to invest considerable money in it, and, should Morgan think well of it, will open negotiations with the secretary of the exposition building.

THE Garden City Athletic Club has secured an excellent piece of ground on the West side of the city, and will offer liberal prizes for cycling events at its race meetings. Van Sicklen, Rae and other well known riders are members of this club, which has seven hundred members as the result of three months' work.

KANSAS CITY.

"MENTOR."

A. A. MCCURDY, who will be remembered as figuring in a disreputable "fake" race in Minneapolis recently, was in the city last Saturday (24), ostensibly for the purpose of securing a place to race J. S. Prince, of Omaha, for $15,000 aside! Whew! What a race that would be! It is not likely that they will race here. In the meantime wheelmen here will look out for the result of the Rowe-Howell £100 races to the utter exclusion of Prince-McCurdy $15,000 hippodromes.

HIRAM HALE, of Junction City, Kansas, will be again on the path this year.

KANSAS, "the home of the blizzard," sends greeting to Boston, of "beautiful Italian climate fame."

L. S. C. LADISH took a run down to St. Louis last week to see the boys. He says that cycling there will boom this year.

J. C. HIGDON was married in St. Louis last Monday, and Higdon's friends wish him congratulations. The "chestnut" tandem is now in order.

IT is said that Frank S. Ray has quit wheeling. Mr. Ray was a member of the Missouri Touring Committee, and also a correspondent for wheel papers.

A NUMBER of wheelmen here whose League uniforms have taken on a brick red color, have had them dyed a beautiful black, which makes them nearly new.

J. A. DE TAR and T. E. Galvin returned Monday from a two months' pleasure trip on the Pacific Coast. They had a great time, and were favorably impressed with country, climate and people. Their were accompanied by their wheels, and did considerable riding over the country surrounding San Diego.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

LAST Sunday, in Boston, was one of the most charming days for wheeling that we have seen for a long time. The air was clear, crisp, and yet warm enough, and the roads in the immediate vicinity of the city were in superb condition. We saw hundreds of riders while we were out walking. We had to walk, because we had no machine. We must say we envied our fellow cyclists.

IT is our purpose next week to give a description of the Facile Safety of the rear-driving type.

WHEELMEN, and especially those of the South, should bear in mind the dates of the great meet and races at Atlanta, Ga., as being April 16 and 17.

THE annual "International Tournament," which has been such a prominent feature in English cycledom for the past two years, will be omitted this year.

OUR friend Kennedy-Child, ever restless, ever on the move, has winged his flight toward the setting sun. It is very probable that Chicago will be his next abiding place.

NOTWITHSTANDING Wheeling's attemp to kick over the Cyclist's Life Boat Sustentation Fund, subscriptions still continue to come in and they already have some $250 pledged and paid.

WE received a call from Mr. Will Pitman of New York, Saturday, and we regret exceedingly to learn of the reason of his visit to this city. His mother died last Saturday and Mr. Pitman arrived here just before she breathed her last. The remains were taken to Bangor, Maine, for interment. We know all will sympathize with Mr. Pitman in his sad bereavement.

THE interest in the cyclist-cow-boy contest in London do not seem to have abated one bit, as Agricultural Hall on every evening of the six days competition was filled to its utmost capacity.

NOW that the N. C. U. have decided to have nothing to do with road racing, a movement has been made headed by the North Road Cycling Club to form a road records committee. At present the scheme is in embryo.

OUR readers will be glad to notice the first letter from the La Feur brothers, in St. Thomas, W. I. Their letter will be read with great interest, and as the earnest of what is to follow when they reach the banks of the Amazon.

H. B. M. QUEEN VICTORIA has donated a $525 cup for competition by the amateur oarsmen of Great Britain. We would respectfully suggest Her Majesty the sport of cycling as worthy of royal patronage in the shape of a $1,000 cup.

THEY do say that the new "universal language," Volapuk, has but one swear word. What must the poor cyclist of the future do when the festive cur tangles itself up in the spokes of his wheel, and the erratic hoodlum shies brickbats at him?

THE Albany, (N. Y.) Athletic Association propose to give a Bicycle Tournament during the coming fall, and they have already opened negotiations with "Senator" Morgan to the end that he and his merry men may appear on that occasion.

WE suppose that all the members of the Massachusetts L. A. W. Division have all received copies of the Road Book. Ours has come to hand and is a most acceptable addition to our library, and a monument to the enterprise and care of Messrs. Hayes & Grimes.

A GOOD many of our readers will couple the name of Mrs. Allen with that of one of the leading lady cyclists of England. She was the peer of Mrs. Smith, and one of the most enthusiastic of wheelwomen. We regret to chronicle her death, which occurred on the 9th of March.

THE newspaper war between "Senator" Morgan and Dick Howell has broken out anew. We suppose that there has got to be just so much of this beligerency in cold type to be gone through with anyway. It is a good way to advertise, and the "Senator" and Dick know how to work it.

JEFFERSON COUNTY, ALA., has appropriated $200,000. to be spent on new roads. We wish we could give a column every week of just such items as this. It bodes well for the wheelman's future, and it indicates intelligence and a state of civilization which we would like to see more generally manifested.

THE London Star says that Rowe is living, walkIng, and very fast riding "temperance lecture," as he has never touched beer, spirits, or tobacco in any form. This to an English mind is almost incomprehensible. All good Americans will wish this "temperance lecture" may prove a winning and taking one.

MR. C. S. HOWARD, assistant city editor of the Boston Globe, and a well known cycling scribe and L. A. W. representative, sails for the Azores in the bark "Sarah" tomorrow. Saturday. Mr. Howard goes away to enjoy a well-earned rest and vacation. He will be tendered a dinner at the Boston Club house before he leaves.

WHY is it that the British paper; never quote an American without working in the word "reckon?" We suppose it is for the same reason that "well posted" (?) American writers, in quoting Englishmen, raise hob with the letter H. It is a ridiculous habit, and shows their ignorance, or an attempt to be wearisomely funny.

THE criticisms made by the English papers on W. A. Rowe are very complimentary. Report pronounces him a magnificently developed specimen of humanity, and as to his manners and speech, they say these are in "direct contrast to those of some of the other English professionals." We suppose this is also intended as a compliment.(?)

THE Appeals Committee of the N. C. U. refuse to entertain Mr. Hale's request for re-instatement. There seems to be general regret expressed in the English papers that Mr. Hale should have laid himself open to suspension, though there is no doubt that the punishment is according to the rule. This takes from the amateur ranks one of the fastest English riders. In fact, this year it looks as though all the old amateur racing men were to disappear from the path, and a new crop would have to be raised to take their place.

The Harvard Bicycle Club have decided to have a hare-and-hounds chase April 20th, for which Codman, '90, and Brown, '91, are the hares; and on April 27th a 15-mile handicap road race. A committee, consisting of R. H. Davis, J. A. Bailey and Kenneth Brown, were appointed to make all arrangements. The race will probably be run over the Harvard Bicycle Club course, beginning near Central square and ending near the railroad at Mt. Auburn. Last fall almost all the contestants were stopped some of the numerous railroads which the course crosses, but there does not seem to be any better course near enough to Cambridge. There was also some talk about holding a track race meeting in May. This will probably be acted on at the next meeting. Four men have already decided to train on the track as soon as it opens, and two or three more may do so when the time comes.

At the meeting of the Massachusetts L. A. W. Division, last Saturday, at Young's Hotel, Boston, the division voted the sum of $300 towards paying the debts of the parent body. The division also decided to hold its annual meeting at Cottage City, in August next. The matter of changing by-laws to conform to proposed rules of the League was laid on the table. The Committee on the Improvement of Highways reported that the only feasible plan was that a change in the law be made, to provide for the appointment of a State official to lay roads between county seats, to be maintained by the State; report accepted. The Committee on Sign Boards reported favorable and courteous answers from towns, to the circular it had issued calling the attention to the State laws in this matter. A communication from Secretary-Editor Bassett on the price to be charged members was placed on file. It was decided that a spring meeting be held, with Seward, Kendall and Emery to arrange the details. Fifty dollars per annum was voted to the Secretary-Treasurer for his personal expenses in connection with his office.

Truckwell, writing from Los Angeles, Cal., says: "The entertainment given by the Los Angeles wheelmen, March 9th, consisting of tableaux, drill riding, slow races, trick riding, sack riding, obstacle races, was quite a big success. By the way, in this part of the Pacific Slope, we are unable to see why there should be so much kicking against the League suits, unless it is that the kickers are so unshapely that not even a plaster paris mould would fit them, or, I mean to say, suit them. Chief Consul R. M. Welch has appointed J. Phil Percival local consul for this place. We hold our annnal races this year on May 30th, at Agricultural Park. The programme will consist of: One-mile heat race, bicycle, best three in five heats (club); one-mile novice race, bicycle (open); one-half mile heat race, best two in three (for club cup and championship): one-hundred yards slow race (club); one-fourth mile Tandem tricyle race (club); one-hundred yards dash foot race (open); one-half mile dash, bicycle, for boys under eighteen years; one-mile dash, bicycle (open); one-mile handicap (club), medal, by G. A. Von Brandis, handicapper; fancy riding by the Midget (Ledru B. Kinney), three-mile State championship (L. A. W.); one-mile consolation.

THE "SENATOR" ATTENDS THE N. C. U. "POW-WOW."

I was present on Thursday night at the meeting of the National Cyclists Union, it being "my first offence." A real live lord (Viscount Bury) was in the chair, and a real smart chairman he was, too, as some of the squeaky and hoarse-voiced "orators" found out. The Fenchurch-street large room was crowded, and one could smell the battle from afar on entering the room. George Lacy Hillier quietly whispered I could find a seat upstairs. So up I climbed, and looked down upon the assembly below, many faces being known to me. I was silently contemplating the "fine and large" mustache of George Lacy, and comparing it to that of the chairman, when "My lord and gentlemen" rang out in stentorian tones from right under the gallery in which I had perched myself, so skedadling around the opposite side I saw the speaker, who was saying: "I implore you not to tinker with the subject; do one thing or the other." The speaker was the fearless editor of 152 Fleet street, W. McCandlish of Wheeling, to wit.

The meeting was a special one, and the subject, "Shall the N. C. U. condemn road racing?"—(this, mind you, after they recently passed a resolution to the contrary a few weeks since). The clubs and press had, however, kicked against the mandate so much that the "tinkers," as McCandlish aptly puts it, resolved to call another meeting to debate a question they had already decided. Geo. Lacy Hillier, contrary, I'm sure, to his feelings, denounced road racing as an injury, which it undoubtedly is, to cycling in general, and in a speech, which was more or less full of Disraelian phrases, and more or less eloquent, assured the meeting that young men who race on the road not only outrage public feeling, but injure themselves in racing, very often in an entirely unprepared state, while the path is a model for the purpose. "If you put your foot down on it now," quoth George, "the day will come when we will do it, and in this room, too.' It is evident that Mr. Hillier has not lived in the land of cyclones and earthquakes, where a room is liable to shift at any moment, or he would not have made such a rash prophetic assertion. Papa Nairn was eloquent, and Henry Sturmey jumped up and down like one one of those little fellows on a stick—which I don't for a moment liken Henry to, except from a "jumpers" standpoint. The meeting eventually passed a "resolution," by an overwhelming majority, that the N. C. U. discourage road racing, and calls on clubs to help them to suppress. Yet, gentlemen, and my lord chairman, you might as well try to dam Niagara and put a belly-band around the moon, as to try and stop road racing. It is like measles, which is bound to come out, and men will scorch, if they can scorch, and the resolution (which I truly believe is right) will not stop road racing, and will weaken the already lax hold of the N. C. U. on its constituents. A road race is illegal, we all know, and, what is more, is injudicious to the cause, and I hope this one act of the vaciliating English body will bear fruit, even if it be a poor crop. Road racing, especially advertised open events, is nothing more or less than cheap advertising for some paper or manufacturer. But how about a public which is not over-favorable to the sport? They look upon it as an encroachment of their rights, and, after all, if men must race, why not use our tracks, which want patronage badly?

THE LE FEURS AT ST. THOMAS.

(Special.)

Here we are at last, and here we intend to remain for a short time, as we have changed our plans somewhat. Instead of going direct to Para, via the "Murray Castle," which brought us (in very slow time) from Liverpool, we decided to stay at this beautiful little spot for perhaps two weeks, during which time a thorough "looking over" of the island will be our business.

And before going into details of our trip, etc., let us jointly express our grateful thanks to "Gentleman John," your correspondent in England, for his courtesy in travelling from his Scottish headquarters to Liverpool, expressly to meet us. We spent a very enjoyable evening together and it was with regret that we parted. If we had "Gentleman John" along with us, he would be able give your readers a much more interesting account of our trip than we can hope to.

We sailed, or rather steamed, from Liverpool on February 25, and when we had reached the open sea, it was hard work to keep comfortable while on deck. We were bundled up in all sorts of wraps, but even then we felt the effects of the cold as much as we would had we been in our Canadian home. We had a very heavy blow during the first two days out. The ship proved to be sea-worthy and staunch however, although as far as making anything like respectable time was concerned she was wanting. Very different was the monster Cunarder on which we reached Liverpool after a passage of little more than seven days from New York. We had quite a pleasant party on board, some bound for St. Thomas, or adjacent islands, others for Para or Rio Janeiro, two for Colon (Aspinwall), and one, a French naturalist, said his destination "was the world, or any part of it which would furnish the best 'specimens.'" I suggested that he go to Boston where he would find the office of the World, and information, perhaps, as to but he didn't seem to catch on. We had among the passengers also, a maiden lady of very uncertain age, who had evidently made up her mind to make no more ocean voyages alone if she could help it, and who set to work to captivate the naturalist. Had she heard his remark about "not wanting to go back to the days of Noah for his 'specimens,'" she would have given up in disgust. As it was, she would follow him about from morning to night, and compel the poor sufferer to talk "specimens," while she was looking love, in four languages.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR "SPECIMENS,"

It can readily be understood that we were not long troubled with the cold weather. Liverpool being situated on latitude 53 degrees 24 seconds, and longitude 3 degrees West, and our objective point being situated on latitude 21 degrees 40 seconds North, and longitude 65 degrees West, our course soon took us out of the cold belt, and in a comparatively short time after leaving behind us the shores of the "empire on which the sun never sets," we began to feel the effects of the Gulf stream and trade winds, and the manner in which we discarded, one after the other, our thick articles of clothing, and replaced them with lighter ones, was a caution. Our course was almost W. S. S. W., and although we sailed over the usual route taken by the Southern traders, we saw no sight of sail or steamer on the trip. At dinner one day we were informed by the captain

A · FEW · THINGS · WE · DO · NOT · ADVERTISE.

Records which we know to be false.
Records after they are taken from us by another wheel.
Records which are not unanimously accepted by the cycling press as genuine.

ONE OF THE THINGS WE DO NOT DO.

Retire from racing after every obtainable road, long distance and track record is beyond our reach.

A Few Things We Do:

An honorable manufacturing business.
Guarantee our wares to be exactly as represented.
Make a wheel which is capable of, and does hold all world's road and long distance records.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO., - - - Chicago.

Makers of the American Cycles.

Largest and most artistic Catalog in the trade, on application.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8 inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1.	For Gentlemen	$175
No. 2.	For Ladies or Gentlemen (The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")	175
No. 3.	For Ladies or Gentlemen	160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30 inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

—:o:—

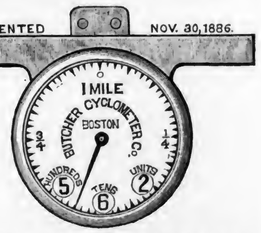
Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records

Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the



BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

Free by Mail on Receipt of
PRICE, . . $10.00.

PATENTED NOV. 30, 1886.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.

SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF
PRICE, ... $5.00.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

THE TRICYCLE IN RELATION TO HEALTH AND RECREATION. By B. W. Richardson, M. D., F. R. S. By mail, 30 cents.

LOOK!!
BARGAINS
IN
SECOND HAND BICYCLES
The Largest Stock North of New York City.
Guns and Sporting Goods.
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.
F. P. EDMANS & CO.,
TROY, N. Y.

that he expected to reach the island the same night, but "man proposes and God disposes," as about 3 P. M. we were overhauled by a young hurricane, which carried us about a hundred miles or so off our course. No other damage was done beyond the delay, and the following day we passed by "Sugar Loaf" and "Black Rock," and could say that this stage of our journey was as good as ended. We soon rounded the point of the island, and came off which the vessel hove-to, waiting for a pilot to come on board. It seemed rather useless to take on a pilot at all, the most of us thought, but "law is law" so the "guides" must be patronized. It is rather amusing to watch a West Indian pilot board a vessel, touch his cap to the captain, ask "want to go to the coal wharf, Cap'n?" and, scarcely waiting for an answer, walk up on the bridge and assume command. And they are in command from the time they receive their instructions until the anchor takes hold of the bottom. The one who guided us into the land-locked harbor was as black as ebony, but with a face on which there seemed to be a perpetual grin. He evidently knew his business, and was no way backward in saying to the captain: "If dat lubber don' know how to han'le de wheel, put on 'nother man what does, right 'way. Dis is no time ter be foolin'." And the captain did put another man at the wheel in quick time.

IN SIGHT OF THE LIGHTHOUSE,

When about to enter the harbor, the vessel was hailed by an intelligent looking mulatto, dressed in a spotless white linen suit and with a white naval cap on his head. The genteel looking chap was standing in the stern of a trim-looking eight-oared barge, on which were displayed the Danish ensign, and the flag of the captain of the port. The oarsmen looked as neat as pins in their white shirts and trousers, the shirts having blue collars and cuffs. They wore blue "Jack tar" hats. To his first hail the captain returned rather a surly reply, but became more civil when the official ordered him to heave-to till he came aboard. The companion ladder was out and as he nimbly stepped on the deck he smiled pleasantly as he told the captain "business is business, and we allow no vessels to enter here until satisfied that there is no danger of their carrying in any sickness." When satisfied that we came from no infected port, he took his departure and we went on our way rejoicing. All hands admired the way in which the oarsmen handled their ash sticks: their stroke was equal to that of the crack crew of the man-o'-war. We soon came to anchor opposite the city, if such it can be called, and were immediately besieged by a flotilla of "bum boats," the ebony-colored occupants of which were selling everything imaginable in the way of

TOOTHSOME TROPICAL FRUITS,

as well as cigarros, cheroots and—yes—even whiskey, or rather, Jamaica rum. The latter neither Jean nor myself have any use for, in any shape, but we began at once the task of sampling the various fruits, etc. And who would not eat oranges at six cents a dozen; bananas at five cents ditto? Pineapples, such as would cost in New York fifteen to twenty-five cents, could be purchased here at five cents each.

To find out what fruit really is like, Mr. Editor, you should sample the specimens found in the American markets (I lived in New York nearly two years and know whereof I speak) and then take a trip to one of these West Indian Islands and sink your molars into the oranges, plantains, bananas, pineapples, etc., they have here, and—yum! yum!—you will think you never saw or tasted fruit before. The cigarro, or tobacco cigarette, which ever you choose to call it, takes precedence over the cherroot (or cigar) in this part of the world. It is about seven inches in length, and a little thicker than an ordinary lead pencil. Put up in bunches of twenty-five each, they sell for twenty-five cents per hundred. The tobacco used is of excellent quality and they really make good smoking. Of the cheroots I cannot speak so highly, as those we have tried we have found altogether too rank for our taste. Cheroots can be had at from seventy cents to eighteen dollars per hundred.

Before leaving the "Murray Castle," and while chatting with our naturalist friend, we were startled by a shrill scream, which we at once recognized as coming from the lungs of the love-smitten maiden lady before mentioned. Making a dash for where she was standing near the rail, we tried to ascertain the cause of the scream. She was too flustrated, however, to do more than moan and wring her hands, praying for us to save her. She finally became quiet enough to say that she knew we were; she had seen a great monster alongside of the ship, with a mouth—oh! such a mouth. "If 'twas as big as yours," said Jean, in an aside, "it would first shake down the buildings with its roar, and then swallow the island."

"WE WERE ALL GOING TO BE DEVOURED,"

After looking over the side for a time, to keep her quiet, we saw—what do you suppose?—why, a shark, only an innocent (?), harmless (?), little (!) shark, not more than seven feet long. The guileless creature came to the surface, rolled over on its side, and, when it opened its jaws and we had a good sight of its ferocious looking teeth, as it grasped a piece of pork which one of the boys threw overboard—well, we laughed at the lady's frightened countenance, but I tell you on the strict quiet, that I felt cold chills creeping up and down my spinal column for hours afterward. As for Jean, I've seen the boy hang fast to the horns of a wounded buck, which had made a charge at him, while he told me to "keep cool and send a bullet where it will talk," and he never trembled, but the look at those ugly, devilish-looking teeth took the grit all out of him, and he turned away as white as a sheet.

The harbor here is completely lined, they tell us, with these "monsters of the deep," and it is surprising that so few lives are lost. Any time between sunrise and sunset you will see from one to a dozen small boats near some vessel which is anchored. The boats are occupied for the most part by urchins from eight to fourteen years of age; the only article of clothing they wear is a breech cloth. The majority of them carry knives with blade 8 to 10 inches long. Toss a coin overboard, and over the side of the boat, head first, hands joined together and extended above the head, will go one of these urchins. To a person unacquainted with the sports of this part of the world, the act appears suicidal, but watch; and just as you have made up your mind that the diver has fallen in the power of those pitiless looking teeth you will see a wooley pate come out of the water, and the owner of the pate climbs quickly into his boat. Standing up, he takes the coin from his mouth, tossed it to his companion, stretches his mouth from ear to ear in a grin, and is ready to risk his life in another dive for coin.

Very little of the produce one sees for sale here is raised on St. Thomas. The soil is comparatively barren, taken as a whole, and the inhabitants have to depend to a certain extent on neighboring islands for the necessities are mostly brought from England and France, the imports from the United States being light as compared with the other two countries. The Island does not receive anywhere near the attention it deserves at the hands of historians or geographers, who unsually refer to it as "quite a coaling station; having a mixed population which varies at different seasons." When I say that within forty-eight hours from the time the "Murray Castle" dropped anchor, five others steamers entered the harbor for coal, it will be see that it is "quite a coaling station." The island is a dependency of Denmark, and in the old-fashioned delapitated looking fort are stationed three officers and about twenty men, whose duty it is to see that the laws and rules of that country are enforced. The force is changed every two or three years, though some of the men have twelve years, preferring the tropics to their Northern homes.

St. Thomas, W. I., March 12, 1888.

BRONCHO vs. BICYCLE.

(A STORY TOLD BY A NEW MEXICO COWBOY.)

By Capt. Jack Crawford, the "Poet-Scout."

The first we saw o' the high-toned tramp
War' over thar at our Pecos camp:
He war' comin' down the Santa Fe trail
Astride of a wheel, with a crooked tail.
A skinnin' along, with a merry song,
An' ringin' a little warnin' gong.
He looked so outlandish, strange an' queer
That all of us grinned from ear to ear,
An' every boy on the round-up swore
He had never seed sich a hoss afore.

Wal', up he rode, with a sunshine smile,
A smokin' a cigarette, an' I'll
Be kicked in the neck if I ever seen
Sich a saddle as that on his queer machine
Why, it made us laugh, fur it wasn't half
Big enough fur the back of a suckin' calf.
He tuk our fun in a keerless way,
A venturin' only once to say
Thar' wasn't a broncho about the place
Could down that wheel in a ten-mile race.

I'd a lightnin' broncho out in the herd
That could split the air like a flyin' bird,
An' I hinted 'round in an off-hand way
That, pervidin' the enterprise 'd pay,
I thought as I might jest happen to light
On a hoss that 'd leve 'im out o' sight.
In less 'n a second we seed him yank
A roll o' greenbacks out o' his flank,
An' he said, if we wanted a bet, to name
The limit, an' he would tackle the game.

Just a week afore we had all been down
On a jamboree to the nearest town,
An' the whisky joints, an' the faro games,
An' shakin' our hoofs wi' the dance-house dames,
Made a wholesale bust; an', pard, I'll be cussed
If a man in the outfit had any dust;
An' so I explained, but the youth replied
That he'd lay the money-matter aside.
An' to show that his back didn't grow no moss,
He'd bet his machine agin my hoss.

I tuk him up, an' the bet war' closed,
An' me a chucklin,' fur I supposed
I war' playin' in dead sure winnin' luck,
In the softest snap I had ever struck,
An' the boys chipped in, with a knowin' grin,
Fur they thought the fool had no chance to win.
An' so we agreed fur to run that day
To the Navajo Crossin', ten miles away.
As han'some a track as you ever seed
Fur testin' a hoss's purtiest speed.

Apache Johnson an' Texas Ned
Saddled up their horses an' rode ahead
To station themselves ten miles away,
To act as judges, an' see fair play.
While Mexican Bart an' Big Jim Hart
Stayed back fur to give us an even start.
I got aboard o' my broncho bird,
An' we came to the scratch an' got the word.
An' I laughed till my mouth spread from ear to ear
To see that tenderfoot drop to the rear.

The first three miles slipped away first-rate.
Then broncho began fur to lose his gait,
But I wa'nt oneasy, an' didn't mind,
With tenderfoot more'n a mile behind.
So I jogged along, with a cowboy song,
Till all of a sudden I heard that gong
A ringin' a warnin' in my ear.
Ting! Ting! Ting! Ting! too infernal near,
An' lookin' back'ards I seed the clump
Of a tenderfoot gainin' every jump.

I hit ol' broncho a cut wi' the quirt,
An' once more got 'im to scratchin' dirt;
But his wind seemed weak, an' I tell you, boss,
I seed that he wasn't no ten-mile hoss.
Still the plucky brute tuk another shoot,
An' pulled away from the wheel galoot;
But the animal couldn't hold his gait,
An' somehow the idee entered my pate,
That if tenderfoot's legs didn't lose their grip,
He'd own that hoss at the end o' the trip.

Closer and closer come tenderfoot,
An' harder the whip to the hoss I put;
But the Eastern cuss, with a smile on his face,
Ran up to my side with his easy pace;
Rode up to my side, an' durn his hide,
Remarked 'twar' a pleasant day fur a ride.
Then axed, onconsarned, if I had a match.
An' on his breeches give it a scratch.
Lit a cigarette, said he wished me good day,
An' as fresh as a daisy scooted away.

Ahead he went, that infernal gong
A ringin' "good-bye," as he flew along;
An' the smoke from his cigarette come back,
Like a vapory snicker along the track.
On an' on he sped, gittin' further ahead,
His feet keepin' up that onceasable tread,
Till he faded away in the distance, an' when
I seed the condemned Eastern rooster again,
He war' thar' with the boys at the end o' the race,
That same keerless, onconsarned smile on his face.

Now, pard, w'en a cowboy gits beat he don't sw'ar,
Nor kick, if the beatin' are done on the squar';
So I tuk that Easterner right by the hand,
An' tol' him, that broncho awaited his brand.
Then I axed 'im his name, an' whar from he came,
An' how long he'd practiced the wheel-rollin' game.
Tom Stevens he said war' his name, an' he come
From a town they call Bosting, in ol' Yankeedom;
Then he jest paralyzed us by sayin' he'd whirled
That very identical wheel 'round the world.

Wal', pard, thar's the story o' how that smart chap
Done me up, w'en I thought I had sich a soft snap:
Done me up on a race with remarkable ease,
An' lowered my pride a good many degrees.
Did I give 'im the hoss? W'y, of course I did, boss,
An' I'll tell you it wan't no diminutive loss.
He writ me a letter from back in the East,
An' said he'd presented the neat little beast
To a feller named Pope, who stan's at the head
O' the ranch whar' the cussed wheel horses ar' bred.

Boston, March, 1888.

A CHALLENGE FROM KLUGE TO CRIST.

W. E. Crist, Esq., Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir—I hereby challenge you to a series of three races, the the winner of two to take the prize, which shall be a trophy subscribed for by each of us. Any distance from one to twenty miles—one, five and ten being suggested. Track and date to be settled between us, as soon as you will favor me with a meeting, or by mail if challenge is accepted. Trusting that you will not refuse a race at earliest date possible.

I am yours fraternally, CHAS. E. KLUGE.

BRAKES ON SAFETIES.

Editor Bicycling World: In reply to No. 3001, would refer him to an article in C. T. C. Gazette for February, '88,—same being a classified statement of a score or more of experienced riders on the various qualities, good and bad, of the various styles of "rear-driving safeties." With nearly all of these riders, spoon brakes on front wheel are considered insufficient and unsatisfactory. The editor summing up, recommends application of brake as follows: "First by a strap on the drum affixed to the driving axle; second by ditto affixed to hub of driving wheel; third by a spoon in front of hind wheel tyre pointing downward and located within three inches of ground." L. A. W. 5110.

BRAKES ON SAFETIES.

Editor Bicycling World:—In answer to "L. A. W. 3001," permit me to say that the brake is placed on the front wheel of rear-driving safeties because it is simpler and easier. All other reasons prove the rear wheel to be the proper place to apply the brake. If placed as low as the crank axle, it will not throw mud or dust, whereas the front wheel brake will drop mud on one's feet when coasting, or throw off a cloud of dust in dry weather. Applying a front brake at speed will cause the rider to take a header, if the application stop the wheel, and the speed be sufficient to revolve rider and wheel around the forward point of contact with the ground. In stopping, the momentum causes most of the weight to be carried by the front wheel, and therefore the front brake is often effective enough to be dangerous. With a rear brake there can be no such results, for if the stop be too sudden the rear wheel lifts and all strain is relieved. The sudden stopping caused by the front brake throws a tremendous strain on the front forks and the connecting frame, which is almost entirely avoided in the rear brake.

Further, let me say, if you want to be happy, avoid band brakes. They must of necessity be heavier than spoon brakes, because they have to exert a power many times greater. They are usually more complicated and harder to keep clean, and, last and largest, there is no peace of mind when you have one, for unless blissfully ignorant, you are ever wondering if that brake is not rubbing somewhere. Unless very carefully fitted, it will rub somewhere, and under the best of fitting, a bit of mud or gravel may get under it, and make the remainder of the road all up hill. Or the repairer may accidentally destroy its proper curve; or it may not be tempered alike throughout its length, and therefore lose its curve. Under any circumstances it will find some way to make its owner wish it out of existence. If any one doubts this let them examine band brakes on machines that are in use. Respectfully, CHAS. E. DURYEA,
Washington, D. C.

THE KAUFFMAN TRICK CHAMPIONSHIP.

Editor Bicycling World:—In the weekly letter which, with your good permission, W. J. Morgan devotes to the advertisement of the American team, I have noticed with regret a most unjustifyable attack upon the honor of the English press. My regret only refers to the fact of the BICYCLING WORLD printing the words, as we have a sincere and strong feeling of friendship for the WORLD and its editors. Morgan's opinions are of value to those who choose to appraise them.

It is insinuated in the paragraph to which I take exception that such men as C. W. Nairn, F. Percy Low and your servant for Wheeling, Harry I. Swindley for the Cyclist, T. H. S. Walker for Der Radfahrer, and R. I. Mecredy for the Irish Cyclist, were "got at" by means of a champagne supper to cheat the trick riders of the world, and to give the championship to Nick Kauffman without his winning it. Now sirs! and you, London W.! more particularly, you know us. Is it likely? No! I will not insult American gentlemen and journalists by assuming for an instant that you believe that the men who have stood by American good faith for many years, would do this mean and dirty thing. I will not go into detail. The story is strictly false. Morgan and his team have pretty nearly worn us out over here, and I presume Morgan knows it, or he would not have ventured to break off with the whole cycling press, bar Bicycling News, in this manner. In a spirit of international good feeling and sport, we constituted ourselves the ladder by which your "Senator" climbed to success in England. This is the kick for the downfall of said ladder, which is now of no further use.

Nick Kauffman has been declared champion by the united press, as the only man who would ride all comers on all classes of machines, and his challenge not being accepted by any of the so-called champions, no other decision could be come to.

Yours truly, W. M. MCCANDLISH.
London, March 12, 1888. Co-editor Wheeling.

LEAGUE MEET COMMITTEES AND HOTEL ARRANGEMENTS.

For the benefit of those contemplating attending the L. A. W. meet to be held at Baltimore on June 18th, 19th and 20th, I would say that all arrangements are being pushed ahead as rapidly as possible by the various committees, and every indication points toward a most successful and attractive meeting. Already inquiries are being made by League members from all over the country as to hotel accommodations, transportation, etc., and for the information of all interested, I give below the names and addresses of the chairmen of the different committees in charge, with a brief outline of the duties of each committee, and all communications addressed to any of these chairmen, seeking information concerning the meet, will receive prompt attention.

GENERAL COMMITTEE.

Chairman, A. E. Mealy, 1521 Eutaw place; Secretary, R. M. Lockwood, 1731 McCulloh street. This committee is made up of the chairmen of the different sub-committees, and have full control of the entire arrangements for the meet.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Chairmen, W. H. Beatly, No. 92 Dugan's wharf; Secretary, C. H. Eisenbrandt, 124 E. Baltimore street; Treasurer, Jno. S. Bridges, corner Baltimore and Light streets.

RECEPTION.

Chairman, Geo. S. Hagerty, care of Keen & Hagerty, Baltimore. All communication on securing advance hotel accommodations and storage of wheels must be addressed to this committee. All persons writing to have rooms at the hotels secured in advance, will please name their choice of hotels, and what price accommodations they desire. The committee will in such case use their best efforts to carry out the instructions to the letter, but in case the hotel named should be already full, they will use their judgment in securing the next best, in which case they will expect the support of the party whom they are trying to serve.

TRANSPORTATION (Local).

Chairman, Jos. Chism, 10 E. Lombard street. All information as to how to reach Baltimore during the meet will be furnished by this committee, or by the NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE.

Chairman and Western representative, B. B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Eastern representative, Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 West 58th street, New York.

ENTERTAINMENT.

Chairman, Albert Mott, 1513 Barclay street, Baltimore.

PARADE.

Chairman, E. P. Hayden, care of Drovers & Mechanics' National Bank, Baltimore.

RACES.

Chairman, Sam'l T. Clark, 2 and 4 Hanover street, Baltimore. Will furnish any information in the way of racing events.

TOURS AND RUNS.

Chairman, F. W. Pope, 7 South street, Baltimore.

PROGRAMME (Official).

Chairman, Milton S. Wood, care of A. Hoen & Co., Baltimore.

PRESS.

Chairman, C. R. Eisenbrandt, 124 E. Baltimore street.

For any information not embraced in the above committees, address the Chairman of the General Committee.

HOTEL ARRANGEMENTS.

The Carollton Hotel (American) can accommodate 400 guests; terms, $2.50 to $4.00 per day; to L. A. W. members during the meet, $2.00 to $3.00 per day, according to location of rooms.

The "Hotel Rennert" (European) can accommodate 100 guests; terms, single rooms, $1.50 to $3.00; double rooms, $2.50 to $4.00 per day; a reduction of 50 cents per day will be allowed L. A. W. members. Suites of apartments, containing parlor, bed, bath and toilet rooms, from $6.00 to $10.00 per day; a reduction of $1.00 per day to L. A. W. members.

The Eutaw House (American), accommodations for 250 guests. Terms, $2.50 to $3.50 per day; to L. A. W. members during the meet, $2.00 to $3.00 per day, according to location of rooms.

Guy's Hotel (European), accommodotion for 200 guests. Terms, single rooms, $1.50 per day; double rooms, $2.50 per day; with a probable reduction to L. A. W. members.

Other hotel arrangements will be complete in a few days. A. E. MEALEY.

WE wonder what kind of racing tracks they must have in Australia, if they have any at all, and do they utilize any convenient ploughed field for the purpose of racing. This query has been brought about by reading the following, which we take from Sporting Life: "The 25-mile bicycle race, for 50/., between J. Libeau, of New Zealand, and S. Clark, champion cyclist of Scotland, was contested on the Carrington Ground on February 4. Clark led off, but after a couple of laps had been recorded, Libeau overtook him, and then both men seemed to settle down to their work. During the first lap of the fifteenth mile Clark fell twice, and Libeau added nearly two laps to his credit. These he maintained until he was in the last mile, when in rounding the curve at the western end of the course his bicycle struck a stone and he came to grief, but remounting, won by about half a lap in 1 hour 49 min."

INDEX TO MACHINES ALREADY DESCRIBED.

Machine.	Date of Issue.	Page.
Volunteer Columbia	Jan. 6	18
Veloce Columbia	Jan. 13	171
Surprise Columbia Tricycle	Jan. 20	190
American Rambler	Jan. 27	205
Victor Light Roadster	Jan. 27	209
Springfield Roadster	Feb. 3	221
New Mail	Feb. 10	237
Victor Safety	Feb. 17	253
Special S. S. S. Tricycle	Feb. 24	269
Ladies' Dart Bicycle	March 3	308

"THE SWIFT."

(Coventry Machinists' Co., 239 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.)

THE 1888 pattern Swift has many improvements and advantages over the 1887 pattern. The top rail of the frame has been neatly curved in the neighborhood of the saddle, which allows the seat to be placed farther back so that the rider obtains more power over his pedals and consequently rides easier. The seat pillar is secured to the frame by means of a split socket, which does away with the pin at the side, which some riders found a little too prominent. An improved method of securing the mud guards to the frame, both back and front, is now used, which successfully overcomes the disagreeable rattle peculiar to mud guards generally. The adjustment to take up the slack of his chain is so simply constructed that it can be done without soiling the hands, and each machine is fitted with an adjustable but firm chain-guard.

The adjustable and detachable cranks are now made seven inches long instead of six inches, giving a longer throw if required. The centre-steering is now used instead of the socket, which was more difficult to adjust and too sensitive. The Swift is fitted with a neatly curved, hollow handle bar, with barrel-shaped handles, affording a firmer and more natural grip. The adjustment is now altered, being fitted into a split socket, which makes it much simpler, and the machine much lighter than last year. The improved spoon brake on the front wheel has been substituted for the lever brake on the back. This spoon is now made with the joint under the top of the fork. It is three and one-half inches long, the whole surface of which is made to grip the wheel, bringing the machine to a standstill instantly.

The machine is fitted with a specially devised spring lamp bracket, which, together with the usual spring on a lamp, successfully overcomes this difficulty. The new Swift has hollow forks both back and front, which makes the machine much stronger and lighter.

All parts of this machine are put to a severe test and examined before they are "assembled." After the machine is "assembled" it is stripped for the painter, and when finished it has to undergo another examination before it is shipped. This insures a strong and reliable machine, which is proved by the universal praise that we hear from the riders of Coventry Machinists' Co. machines.

The New Mail is having a very large call, and William Read & Sons report all they can do to fill orders.

Geo. Hendee was in Chicago Thursday, visiting Mr. Stokes, the Springfield Roadster agent. He speaks very encouragingly of the prospects of this machine, but it has made little headway here, never having been thoroughly tested by our riders.

We have before alluded to Mr. Underwood's Road Book of Boston, and we again call the attention of the cycling public of the country, and especially that of Boston, to the fact that this Road Book is now on the market, as will be seen by referring to our advertising pages. It is one of the most complete and comprehensive that has ever been issued, and we bespeak for Mr. Underwood's venture a large sale. It can be had by writing to Mr. Underwood, himself, or sending to this office.

It is worth a trip to William Read & Sons, 107 Washington street, to see their splendid display of New Mails this week in their large window. In the background is a handsome display of parts, all steel forging. This firm are expecting a large invoice of Ivels this week. They should be seen by those who anticipate buying safeties.

The Springfield Bicycle Co. have gotten out a very attractive colored hanger. Mr. Worden of this Company has just returned from a very successful four weeks' trip through New England. He reports business booming.

A very neat little arrangement, called a toe-clip, has been introduced in England. It is a simple piece of steel, curved to fit the end of the toe, and it can be attached and taken off any pedal. Those who have taken "the tip" say that it is immense. The patent is controlled by the New Rapid "people."

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

FAST DAY is with us this week, and the riding season is once more open to us. This New England holiday is always looked upon as the gateway through which we approach the season, and that day always sees the riders out if the weather is auspicious. We are talking about New England and we do not forget that there are some favored communities where Nature always presents an inviting front to wheelmen, and where the season has neither end nor beginning.

MASSACHUSETTS comes prondly forward with a donation of $300 to the League. She is distributing a road book that is costing her a very large sum of money but she is loyal to the League, and extends a helping hand in time of need. Generosity that calls for a sacrifice is doubly blessed.

NEW JERSEY wheelmen are talking of sending a lady representative to the Board of Officers. Since the ladies have no particular point to urge, nor advantage to gain by such a representation we do not see the necessity for it. As a matter of sentiment it may strike some as a desirable move, but it will force undue publicity upon the lady, which is oftentimes embarrassing, and no good purpose will be served withal.

WE have done much in our day to persuade ladies to ride the wheel. We shall do all in our power henceforth to bring to their notice the benefits and pleasures of cycling, but we do not feel that, because a lady rides, she should take an active interest in club affairs, and engage in the legislative work of the League.

A CORRESPONDENT in Clarksville, Tenn., writes to protest against that provision in the reorganization scheme, which obliges a State to have one hundred members before it can organize a division. He is not altogether satisfied with the new idea of grouping the smaller States into Territorial divisions, and maintains that a State with fifty members can do more and better work by itself than as a part of a Territorial division. Our correspondent urges that the Chief Consul of a Territorial division would have a very large territory to rule over and could work to no advantage. Meetings would be attended only by members in his own State, and all legislation would have a local coloring. Speaking for Tennessee, he claims that she has many plans for the coming season, and hopes to be able to make a good showing in League work, but if she must have a hundred members to become a division she will be buried in a Territorial division and lose all incentive to active endeavor.

WE have had several letters of similar tenor to the above. There is undoubtedly a feeling among the smaller divisions that the League is taking too long a stride in the change of the number requisite to the formation of a division from twenty-five to one hundred. One writer urges that "the change is a good thing for the big divisions, it is death to the smaller ones. They, the big fellows, can stand alone well enough now, but they are going to have more power, while we little fellows that struggle hard to get fifty or sixty members have got to take upon our shoulders the little fellows of five or ten and carry them along. New York has a big income; she is going to keep it and have more. Our State has a little income; she has got to divide it with the little fellows." All these arguments have weight. Let them be brought up at Baltimore and be duly considered.

NICKEL PLATING for cycles does not altogether meet the demand for a covering at once grateful to the eye and protective to the metal. Wheelmen will be interested in the development of a platinum-plating process, which promises to cover all the failings too often vexatiously proved in nickel-plating. Platinum is the most imperishable of all ordinary metals, and utilized as plating it defies rust, never tarnishes, and never becomes discolored. An English company has lately been formed for the purpose of working the process, and thus far the most flattering results have been obtained.

CYCLE manufacturers are becoming very much interested in the new process of welding by electricity, which has been invented by Prof. Elihu Thomson, and representatives of the Pope Mfg. Co., the H. B. Smith Mfg. Co., and other manufacturers have been down to Lynn to see the practical working of the invention. The invention is one of the most important that has been made in the mechanic arts for many years. By this process metals may be welded almost instantaneously and a juncture is formed as strong or stronger than any point in the units. Moreover, any two metals, no matter how dissimilar, may be as firmly united as two pieces of common wrought iron. The machine used for the purpose consists of a huge induction coil, through which are passed alternating currents of high potential force, and they are transformed into alternating currents of low potential force. In the low potential circuit is obtained a current of one volt, or a fraction over, equal to 10,000 to 30,000 amperes. To each end of the transformer is attached a horizontal conductor of solid copper several inches in diameter, and about a foot in length. At the end of each conductor simple clamps, working with thumbscrews, are attached. Into each of these clamps one of the pieces of metal is screwed, with the ends of the latter almost, but not quite, in contact. The current is turned on and easily regulated by a rheostat handle, working with a crank and screw. The operation of fusing the two pieces of metal, or different metals, together is the work of but a few seconds. A very strong current is required, but only for a limited time, and a very great amount of power is not necessarily needed to produce the desired result. The actual volume of the current, while it lasts, however, must be considerable. The temperature reached is an important feature, but cannot be determined by any definite rules. Experience, governed by a careful study of the incandescence of the metals, is the principal factor to success. By the color of the welding point, just as an ordinary blacksmith judges of the proper temperature of his two pieces of metal, must the important moment when the pieces to be welded reach just the right heat be determined. The temperature rises so quickly that it is concentrated directly upon the weld, and is not diffused over the bulk of the metal. It is applied first to the centre of the bar, working thence outward, and the process is, therefore, directly the reverse of the ordinary method. Cast-iron, which could never before be welded, and also copper and lead pipe are united strongly by this process. The company welds its electric wires, and no joint is visible. Visitors to the factory are shown many curious and interesting products. A highly polished rod is shown made up of all alternate sections of brass, copper, german silver and iron. Several cast-steel chisels, gouges, etc., which had been broken, were so skilfully welded that no one could tell, after the "dressing up" process, they were not new tools. It is safe to say that no class of workers in metal will be more interested in this invention than are the cycle makers. They require welding of the very best attainable kind, not only as regards strength, but in the matter of looks. It would seem that they have much to look forward to in the development of Professor Thomson's ideas.

MASSACHUSETTS CONSULS.

All Consuls of this Division are reappointed until Sept. 1, 1888. H. W. Hayes, Chief Consul.

RESIGNATION.

H. W. Hayes, Chief Consul Mass. Div. L. A. W.:

Dear Sir—Having taken up a residence in this city, I herewith tender my resignation as a representative to the League of American Wheelmen for Massachusetts. In so doing permit me to express my appreciation of the confidence shown in me by my constituents during the past few years. I shall be glad to see my friends in my new quarters in the office of "The Press," 28 North William street, New York city.

Very fraternally yours, W. I. Harris.

New York, March 30, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 133—Total 79—8852.

Boston, April 6, 1888.

California Division—1—311.

Unattached.

18030 Tromboni, Marco, 608 Brannan st., San Francisco.

Connecticut Division—1—386.

Unattached.

18037 Manville, Edwin A., Absonia.

Illinois Division—3—187.

Capital Cycling Club.

18038 Mallette, W. B., 1130 South 7th st., Springfield.
18039 Smith, H. L., 1027 South 7th st., Springfield.

Unattached.

18040 Smith, Henry J., care Watch Co., Peoria.

Indiana Division—1—161.

Unattached.

18041 Jaeger, Fred. W., Box 255, Muncie.

Iowa Division—2—107.

Unattached.

18042 Dougherty, C. B., Washington.
18043 Dougherty, R. E., "

Maryland Division—1—274.

Unattached.

18044 Bowerman, J. C., Waverly.

Massachusetts Division—15—1000.

New Bedford Cycle Club.

18045 Cumiskey, John A., So. Dartmouth.
18046 Taylor, Wm. H., 99 So. 6th st., New Bedford.

Springfield Bicycle Club.

18047 Syrett, Benj., care Smith & Wesson, Springfield.

Taunton Bi. Club.

18048 Anthony, E. C., 92 School st., Taunton.

Worcester Bi. Club.

18049 Stebbins, W. K., Heywood B. & S. Co., Worcester.

Unattached.

18050 Baldwin, Thos. H., 220 Pendleton ave., Springfield.
18051 Buckler, A. E., 216 Tyler st., "
18052 Crossman, Chas. P., 59 Stebbins st., "
18053 Prouty, Geo. C., 10 Newton st., "
18054 Smith, E. B., 15 Worthington st., "
18055 Pawlowsky, Oscar E., 210 Pendleton ave., Springfield.
18056 Bird, Henry W., 432 Washington st., Boston.
18057 Graves F. C., Box 5283, "
18058 Bishop, Frank E., 400 Essex st., Lynn.
18058 Morse, John F., Westboro.

Michigan Division—7—197.

Muskegon Valley Bi. Club.

18059 Hayward, M. D., White Cloud.
18060 Jacobi, F. Jr., Newaygo.
18061 Noble, Miner L., Sparta.
18062 Riblet, Fred. W., Newaygo.
18063 Trask, H. A., White Cloud.
18064 Van Leuven, Frank, Newaygo.

Star Bi. Club.

18065 Grylls, Miles W., Detroit.

Mississippi—9—10.

Greenville Wheelmen.

18066 Galdman, J. C., Greenville.
18067 Galdman, F. A., "
18068 Graham, H. C., "
18069 Herrin, J. B., "
18070 Langor, L. N., "
18071 Sanders, Henry, "
18072 Shanks, Tom, "
18073 Washington, R. H., "
18074 Yerger, W. Jr., "

Missouri Division—2—275.

Marion County Wheelmen.

18075 Woodruff, H. C., Hannibal.

Unattached.

18076 Carter, E. C., "

Nebraska Division—1—78.

Omaha Wheel Club.

18077 Adair, Wm. R., Omaha Nat. Bank, Omaha.
18078 Livesey, J. L., "
18079 Paterson, Geo., Neb. Fuel Co., "
18080 Colson, Paul A., Fremont

New Jersey Division—1—307.

Unattached.

18081 Luck, Arthur C., Brick Church

New York Division—21—1900.

Manhattan Bi. Club.

18082 Lahr, Chas. A., 69 Attorney st., New York.
18083 Vandenhowe, D., 131 E. 55th st., "

Universal Cycling Club.

18097 Boniface, Roy, 302 State st., Brooklyn.
18098 Crowne, Thomas P. Jr., 250 High st., "
18099 Finn, Oscar J., 78 Tillary st., "
18100 Finn, Philip C., 78 Tillary st., "
18101 Finn, Wm. J., 78 Tillary st., "
18102 Fletcher, John, 500 Marcy ave., "
18103 Ford, Jas. H., 252 W. 34th st., New York.
18104 Goodstein, Mark, 279 Bridge st., Brooklyn.
18105 Harris, Maune, 241 Adams st., "
18106 Hennessy, Daniel J., 207 Nassau st., "
18107 Huselton, Gus O., 67 Sands st., "
18108 Huselton, Wm., 67 Sands st., "
18109 Isaacson, Adolph, 233 Adams st., "
18110 Masterson, Walter G., 704 Norwood ave., "
18111 Rogers, Hiram D. Jr., 78 Maiden lane, N. York
18112 Stanton, Walter A., 1031 Lafayette ave., Brooklyn.

Unattached.

18084 Allen, E. E., 44 8th ave., New York.
18085 Demphy, John B., 154 E. Tupper st., Buffalo.
18086 Mitchell, John C., 29 Cherry st., "

Ohio Division—2—600.

Unattached.

18087 Wetmore, Geo. S., Windsor Hotel, Akron.
18088 Zulch, Gustave, M. D., New Knoxville.

Pennsylvania Division—3—1172.

Century Wheelmen.

18113 Rosenau, Philip, 715 Filbert st., Philadelphia.

Unattached.

18089 Hening, Frank H., Homestead.
18090 Flanegan, R. M., Monongahela City.

Tennessee Division—1—50.

Unattached.

18091 Coykendall, Jas. B., Knoxville.

Virginia Division—1—77.

Shenandoah Valley Wheelmen.

18092 Stone, Edgar E., Winchester.

Wisconsin Division—4—71.

Racine Bi. Club.

18093 Collins, C. H., Racine.
18094 Erickson, A. F., "
18095 Freeman, John, "

Unattached.

18096 Bloodgood, F. Jr., 102 Wisconsin st., Milwaukee.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

Certificates have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Los Angeles Wheelmen, Los Angeles, Cal.
Quaker City Wheelmen, Salem, Ohio.
Old Dominion Wheelmen, Richmond, Va.
Racine Bicycle Club, Racine, Wis.

New Club.

Greenville Wheelmen, Greenville, Miss.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 15, and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

LEAGUE CLUBS.

The following suggestions regarding League clubs are respectfully offered:—

By-laws, Art. V., Sect. 9—Any cycle club in the United States that shall have in its by-laws a provision requiring every active member to join the League of American Wheelmen, shall become a League club, and entitled to all the privileges accorded League clubs under these by-laws. The number of votes that any League club shall be entitled to cast through its delegates at the annual meeting, or at any constitutional convention, shall be one vote for every member of said club, in good standing, upon the rolls of the League.

The following is a common form of by-law: This club shall be a League club, under the rules of the League of American Wheelmen, and each member shall become also a member of the League. The initiation fees and dues of the L. A. W. shall be paid out of the club treasury, and each member of the club shall pay his share of these dues to the treasurer. New members, not already connected with the League, shall be proposed for membership by the secretary.

After qualifying as a League club, the secretary must file at this office a certificate giving the name of the club, date of organization, date of qualifying, name, and address of secretary, list of officers, and give address to which the club copy of BULLETIN shall be sent.

The secretary will enter the club upon his books, giving it a number, and will publish application in the BULLETIN.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, P. O. Address, .....

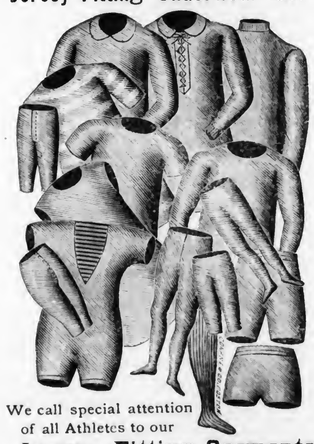
City and State,



References:

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance. In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

We call special attention of all Athletes to our

Jersey - Fitting Garments

Each Garment in above cut we make in three different qualities.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List.

Manufactured by

HOLMES & CO.,

17 Kingston St., Boston, Mass.

Please mention this paper.

CATALOGUES GRATIS.

LICK OBSERVATORY VIEWS

MT. HAMILTON, CAL.

H. A. MATHEWS

331 MONTGOMERY STREET.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

$3.00 Per Pair.

TOULMIN'S BUFFALO BICYCLE SHOE,

Is made of the finest genuine Kangaroo or Dongola in any size or width.

Greatly improved over 1887 Shoe; is the lightest, strongest and easiest shoe made.

☞Send for Circular.

Liberal Discount to Clubs and Bi. Agents.

Also Manfr. of the celebrated

Buffalo Base Ball Shoes.

W. B. TOULMIN,

77 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE Standard Gloves.

Made from

CALIFORNIA BUCK SKIN,

with Open Backs—(or Knit, if preferred).

Reinforced and padded where the greatest wear comes; open fingers which gives full use of hands; fastened across the back of wrist with a patent fastener. These gloves will never get hard no matter how wet they get. They will always remain soft and pliable. A great help to avoid cutting the hands in case of a fall. Cyclists who have once used these gloves will never go without them.

Price, by Mail, Best Quality, $1.25 per pair.

W. C. BOAK, Le Roy, N. Y.

☞Discount to the trade.

BEFORE BUYING,

SEE OUR LISTS.

HART CYCLE CO.,

No. 811 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ANKLE ACTION

(See L. A. W. Bulletin Feb. 24th) is learned the easiest and best on the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND. Price $7.50. In Bicycles, Tricycles and Sundries, we can also please you with style, quality, price and terms.

☞Correspondence solicited.

M. A. WOODBURY,

43 and 45 Mechanic St., Bradford, Pa.

BICYCLING NEWS—the Cyclers' Illustrated Paper—Every week by mail for a year, $2.50. Contains sketches of the latest inventions and of well-known European and English routes. Also special correspondence from the United States and all countries; useful information and accounts of tours. The oldest and most interesting cyclists' paper in the world.

THE CYCLIST, the leading paper of England, is a well-filled newspaper, containing the earliest, the best and fullest reports of all wheel matters. No other paper covers the ground as the Cyclist does, and it is not only the largest in size, but has by far the largest circulation of any wheel paper. Edited by Henry Sturmey and C. W. Nairn. $2.50 per year, including postage.

TRICYCLISTS' INDISPENSABLE ANNUAL AND HAND-BOOK. By Henry Sturmey. Describes every machine made, with detailed analysis of all the various parts, principles or novelties in present use, etc. Profusely illustrated. Edition for 1884, revised and enlarged, 50 cents, by mail. There will be no edition of this book for 1885.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY.

THE KINGSTON KNITTING COMPANY,

27 Kingston Street, BOSTON, MASS.,

Would call the special attention of the Trade to their excellent line of ATHLETIC GOODS, in the Latest Styles of the season, and for beauty of design, elasticity and durability cannot be excelled. We weave all of the cloths and manufacture from the best Worsted and Woolen Stock, which gives us many advantages in getting up beautiful effects, in Polo, Bicycle, Gymnasium, Lawn Tennis, Yachting, Rowing, Base Ball, Fencing Suits, Leotards and Dress Suits, in mixtures, solid colors, and the more delicate shades. Also, L. A. W. Suits, very stylish. All of these goods are gotten up in Light, Medium and Heavy Weights, as ordered.

Our Knee Pants and Full Body Tights are the admiration of all who wear them, the introduction of our New Suspensory Pocket and reinforcement giving ease and comfort to the wearer, and are great promoters of health, and highly recommended by Eminent Physicians and Professors of Physical Culture.

Our Bicycle Hosiery is made of fine Worsted Stock, Glove-fitting, and to match the shades of our garments. Those we are now introducing of Linen Fashioned Soles and Toes, are a great comfort in warm weather, and very durable.

The TRADE will find it decidedly for their interest to do business with us. Our prices are very reasonable. Correspondence solicited.

Send for our Circular. KINGSTON KNITTING CO.

The "BEST" Bicycle Whistle.

This Whistle is pronounced by all Cyclists to be the most convenient,

Loudest and "Best" call on the market.

The mouth piece is so constructed that it can be held easily in the mouth, and with little effort will produce a loud sound.

PRICE, 25c. EACH. Discount to Dealers.

WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,

100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

Rubber Tires, all sizes, at reduced prices.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

Expert Testimony.

The Expert is put out for its seventh year with its world-wide reputation for staunchness, durability, ease of running, and beauty of lines and finish, holding easily the first among all medium weight machines, and with the noteworthy distinction of being the only bicycle which has ever passed this stage of its existence with constantly increasing favor and sales.

There is probably no machine manufactured that can call out so much favorable testimony.

It has been ridden across the continent three times—by Capt. Hugh J. High, Geo. B. Thayer and F. E. Van Merebeck. It was the machine ridden by Thomas Stevens around the world. When this intrepid wheelman arrived at Erzeroum, Asia Minor, the Boston Herald reported that he said: "I haven't had occasion so far to as much as tighten the spokes in the Expert. Everything about it is in perfect order." On the completion of his journey he wrote: "Notwithstanding all that it had gone through, the Expert that carried me round the world is in very good condition. I used none of the extra parts forwarded to Constantinople, but a few rubber tires, and spokes, broken out by the Afghans."

Prof. Williams, of Brown University, after his return from a bicycle tour of England and France on the Expert Columbia, said: "Having examined carefully the wheels of England and France, I do not think that a better roadster is made in the world than the Expert Columbia."

The report of the Ohio tour in the Fort Wayne Journal says "That the Expert Columbia, as usual, went through the trip famously; every one coming home in perfect condition. They were found to be the favorite wheels in every town visited."

A. J. Wilson (Faed), of England, after having ridden and carefully examined Thomas Stevens' Expert, said it was fully up to the quality of any that he had ever ridden.

It might be remarked here that the Expert, which is claimed to be a medium weight roadster, is as light as many of the "so-called" light roadsters.

A full illustrated description of this machine is found in the new Columbia Catalogue, which is sent free by mail upon application.

Respectfully submitted,

POPE MFG. CO.,
Boston, New York, Chicago.

RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

A large invoice of these famous machines, and also of the well-known

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER,

Just received.

Rudge Catalogue Free.

H. M. SABEN, Manager,
152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

FOUNDED THE 1878

BICYCLING WORLD & BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 13 APRIL, 1888.

Volume XVI. Number 24.

KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION.

Your eyes will tell you that all over the land the old riders--those who have learned to know a bicycle when they see one, and who will not ride if they cannot have "the best thing"—are riding

VICTORS.

Ask any VICTOR rider how his machine runs; how it climbs hills; how it coasts; and see what he says. Victors are not thrown together—they are built.

Send for Catalogue of

VICTOR BICYCLES, TRICYCLES AND SAFETIES.

OVERMAN WHEEL COMPANY, - - - MAKERS,

BOSTON, MASS.

THE CLARK CYCLE COMPANY

(Successors to SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO.)

BALTIMORE, MD.

Write for Our 1888 Catalogue.

New Rapid Roadster,

New Rapid Light Roadster,

New Rapid Safety,

QUADRANT TRICYCLE, No. 8, for Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tricycle, No. 14, for Ladies and Light Gentlemen,

Quadrant Tandem, No. 15. Two Ladies can ride.

We desire to announce to the trade that we have secured United States agency for Jos. Lucas & Son's goods, including the celebrated

KING OF THE ROAD LAMPS,

and shall be pleased to give quotations.

Agents Wanted for our Cycles and Sundries in unoccupied territory.

More About Incomes.

I stated last week that persons with moderate incomes, who could not afford the outlay required to purchase a Bicycle or Tricycle for cash, might take advantage of my "EASY TERMS" plan, and, by making small weekly or monthly payments, soon become the "full paid up" owner of a wheel. I might also suggest lthat a neat litte sum might be saved by purchasing a Good Second Hand Wheel. I have a few Bicycles in stock that are exceptional bargains (sizes 50, 52, 54 and 56), and several TRICYCLES and TANDEMS, all leading makes. Detailed description will be furnished by mail, and the wheels guaranteed as represented.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, new 1886, not used 1887; balls all round; safe, fast and satisfactory; first-class condition. Price $150. Address R. F. SHANNON, 907 Liberty st., Pittsburg, Pa.

FOR SALE—50 and 52-inch Expert, 1887 pattern; 50 and 58-inch, '86 pattern Victor Tricycle, old style; good as new; $80. Springfield Roadster, $67. 50 and 52-inch Harvard, cheap. Cyclometers, saddles, etc., cheap. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

BRAND NEW New Mail, '88 pattern; warranted perfect. $115. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street, Boston.

FOR SALE—50-inch Premier Bicycle, 1887 pattern; including Lillibridge saddle, Spaulding lamp, bell, luggage carrier and tool bag; used three months; perfectly sound, for $70. Address C. N. D., 40 Perry st., New York, N. Y.

SPECIAL STAR—51-inch; balls, tangent spokes, hollow frame rims and levers; used but little; condition A No. 1; very cheap if sold soon. C. H. TOWNSEND, Willimantic, Ct.

QUADRANT TRICYCLE SIDE STEERER—40-inch drivers. All attachments; has not been run 100 miles. Apply at room 36, No. 12 Pearl street, Boston.

FOR SALE—52-inch Expert; nearly new; cheap for ready cash. W. F. FRATCHER, Clayton, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Traveler Tandem (Singer & Co.) in first-rate order. Price, including lantern and cyclometer, $175. E. H. Tarbell, 111 Washington st., Boston.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Expert Columbia, 1884 pattern; 3 pair-handle bars, Butcher cyclometer, H. & T. alarm. For terms apply to FRED. BINFORD, Pawtucket, R. I.

58-INCH English bicycle for sale. Balls all round, including pedals. Cow-horn bars, spade handles, and all modern improvements. New last fall. Owner going abroad. $70. takes it. GEORGE D. HAZARD, Room 83, Equitable Building, Boston.

FOR SALE—59-inch Columbia Light Roadster; full nickeled, ball bearings, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle. $99. C. A. CONOVER, Coldwater, Mich.

"LOOK AT THIS." Two "Victors" for sale; one 50 and the other 54 inch; both in excellent condition. Lakin's cyclometers to go with each if desired. Address, Lock Box 367, Plainville, Conn.

A BARGAIN—50-inch Expert for $80, cash at once. E. H. ABRAMS, Croton Falls, N. Y.

FOR SALE—A 52-inch Champion American, 1887 pattern, balls all around; spade handles, Lillibridge saddle; only shows wear on tires and pedals; $85.00 cash buys it. Address F. S. CUMMINGS, Fairfield, Iowa.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert, enamel and nickel, Kirkpatrick saddle, King of Road lamp; machine and tyres scarcely show a scratch; all just as good as new; good reason for selling. Price, $85.00. Address G. W. GAIL, jr., care The Clark Cycle Co., Baltimore

BIG BARGAINS—One 51-inch Columbia Light Roadster, 1887 pattern; spade handles; ridden one season; perfect condition; not a weak spot in it. $100, including Butcher's Cyclometer. One 51-inch Rudge Light Roadster, brand new; never ridden; 110. Lock Box 202, Holyoke, Mass.

FOR SALE—1887 Victor Safety bicycle; in first-class condition. Address J. S. DEAN, 28 State street, Boston, Mass.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

JERSEY RIBBED STOCKINGS—$1.00 per pair. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street.

BICYCLES—Second-hand, sold on commission for owners. For full particulars see our ad. in The Wheel, or address MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York.

ENAMEL—BY MAIL, 50c. per one-half pint. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycles for cash, or will trade any new make wanted. Send full description and lowest price. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, Peoria, Ill.

BICYCLES—Taken in exchange for new Buggies, roll curtain office desks, or Type Writers; Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

SPADE HANDLES—$2.50—CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street.

SPADE HANDLES—For any machine, $2.50 pair; cow-horn handle bars, with lever, $3.50. Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

REMEMBER WE send enamel by mail for 50c. per half pint. CYCLE SUPPLY CO.

EVEN A FARMER will not buy a wheel unless it has spade handles. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street, Boston.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

ESTIMATES on all sorts of repairing. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley st.

NICKEL PLATED WHISTLES, 25c. CYCLE SUPPLY CO.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York City.

IF you put a pair of our Spade Handles on that old wreck of yours, it will be worth $10 more. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkley street, Boston.

NICKEL PLATED STEEL WRENCHES, 50c. Cycle Supply Co.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand. JOHN WILKINSON CO., 55 State St., Chicago, Ill. Send stamp for list.

BADGES, MEDALS, Etc. MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS. H. C. HASKELL, 18 John St., New York. Correspondence Invited.

GET THE BEST!

The Standard Cyclometer.

Greatly Improved for 1888.

Simplest and Best Instrument ever Invented.

The Reasons Why:

It has stood the test for accuracy.

It has proved itself the strongest and best made cyclometer on the market.

It has been in use several years, and its merits are well established among wheelmen.

Can be read from the saddle, and used with or without the hub lantern.

A positive and continuous action, making it reliable in every respect.

REGISTERS 2500 MILES.

We have given the manufacture of the Cyclometer careful investigation and study, with a resolute determination to remedy all defects, and at last we place upon the market an instrument that seems absolutely perfect in all its workings. We furnish a certificate of accuracy with all instruments. In ordering give size and make of wheel, also size of axle, and length of axle between the hub shoulders inside. Price, with balance weight and Lantern attachment, $10.00.

J. A. LAKIN & CO.,

Send for Circular. WESTFIELD, MASS.

Send 6c. for 20 Samples and rules for Measuring for Coats, Pants, Vests & Overcoats.

Sent by Mail or Express Prepaid.

Mention this paper when you order, and we will give to each purchaser a pair of PANT STRETCHERS. The best invention ever made for taking out wrinkles and bagging at the knees, and shaping the bottoms of Pants.

VESTS, $2.25 COATS $8.00

Suits, $13.25 to $30.00.

Also, Manufacturers of Bicycle and Tennis Suits and Fancy Uniforms.

BAY STATE PANTS CO., Custom Clothiers,

34 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

The Brooks Ideal Cyclometer.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE and BEST.

Fully Warranted, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

Brooks Odometer Co., Lowell, Mass.

No. 1.

THE * SPRINGFIELD * ROADSTER

FOR 1888.

YOST & McCUNE PATENTS.

No. 1 cut shows the $75 Springfield Roadster which retails for $75, with plain and cone bearings, nickel-plated trimmings, Fish Saddle, Tools and Tool Bag.

No. 2 cut shows the $100 ball bearing Wheel, with spade handles, cow horn shaped handle bars, enamel finish, and nickel-plated trimmings.

These Wheels preserve the beauty of the ordinary Wheel, with absolutely safety qualities, not to be overlooked by those who anticipate riding, and appreciated by all old riders.

CATALOGUE FREE.

No. 2.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., -	New York, N. Y.
KIRK BROWN, - - -	Philadelphia, Pa.
C. F. STOKES, - - - -	Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - -	St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - -	San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., -	Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street, Boston.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, No. 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

All our orders call for the Ball Head!

Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps

NEW MAIL.

Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

Specialties Found in No Other Wheel.

The New Mail is having a remarkable demand.

A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Sure 'tis a Trigwell Ball Head Year!

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it before selecting your mount, it don't cost anything to read it.

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington Street, BOSTON.

WESTERN DEPOTS—Meacham Arms Co., St. Louis, Mo.
Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, Ill.

BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

BY

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 13 APRIL, 1888.

THE "winter of our discontent" seems at last to realize that its departure is much desired.

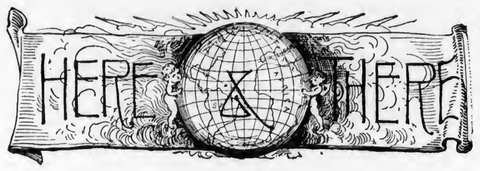
THE Herald's complimentary remarks about our co-editor has set him up most amazingly, and he threatens to strike if his salary is not increased to an inconceivable extent.

ALTHOUGH racing has been most effectually stamped down by injudicious and over legislation, it can, we think, by a little tender nursing, be brought around to a healthy state again. We believe that frequent and unpretentious meetings will do more to foster path racing than an occasional large tournament. At all events we must look to a new crop, or get what fun we can from professionals.

THE roads were full of cyclists on Fast Day in the vicinity of Boston. The early part of the day was superb, but a heavy rain in the afternoon dampened the skins and the ardor of a good many riders before they got home. A good many sore joints, muscles, and abraised cuticle made evident to many of the riders that a winter's inaction had left them feeling pretty soft.

IT is said that the English "pros." are much surprised at Rowe's complete abstinence from tobacco and alcoholic stimulents. We doubt, though, if their habits are changed, notwithstanding that Rowe thinks his success is due to his habits. Some will feel inclined to say, with Lacy Hillier, "what would he have been if he had indulged in a mug of stout with his dinner?" We know not, but we do hope his "hot tea" will keep him in front of Howell.

THIS week's issue will have to go as one of the largest ever published by a cycling paper in this country. There has only been one larger, and that was our issue, containing forty-six pages, of May 14, 1886. The "next best" was our issue of April 2d, 1888, containing thirty-two pages. This issue of the WORLD AND BULLETIN contains thirty-eight pages. In connection with this issue, we desire to call attention to the enterprise of the Coventry Machinists Co., in printing their catalogue in our advertising pages. This is an indication of what kind of a swath the Coventry people intend to cut this year. If infusion of life, energy, and the presentation of excellent goods can jointly produce business, then all we can say is that the "Club cycles" will show up in sales among the "leaders" of the trade at the end of the season.



ONLY on special occasions do we speak in this department o our advertisers, but we do think the fact that a firm dealing in road repairing machinery using our columns as a means of reaching a class of customers to whom they expect to sell their specialties, is worthy of comment. We deem it a significant sign, and one that contains a cheerful sermon. It indicates with all its collateral important features, the fact that the road-building machinery manufacturers recognize in wheelmen an influence which must prove of vast mutual benefit. We do not feel we are stepping beyond the bounds of propriety in commending the enterprise of Messrs. J. W. Davis & Co. to the notice of all League members to the end that Road Commissioners and others may have their attention called to Messrs. Davis' advertisement. We cannot do too much to aid in every way the accomplishment of what now, alas, is a desideratum only.

NEVER since cycling became an institution in this country has there been such universal interest shown in the matter of road improvements by the cyclers of the United States. From every quarter we hear of more or less activity among the riders to further and promote schemes and laws looking towards the building and maintenance of better highways. It is an encouraging feature, and one that should embolden the wheelmen to more aggressive action. The numbers of riders are now so large that they are no longer an element in our politics to be utterly ignored by those who look to us for our suffrages. We hope that every member of the League and every rider of a bicycle will never lose sight of the fact that his vote counts ONE, and that his influence may count for several more, so that when the question of road or street building or repairs comes up for their consideration and suffrage they will use their vote and utmost influence to the end that the best men and means will be employed to bring about a better condition of roads. The ball has been set a-rolling, on every hand are signs of awakening interest on this most important question. Let every road improvement organization persist in accomplishing the aims and ends it has in view; let every bicyclist look on it as an imperative duty to support such organizations both by moral and substantial aid; let every rider of the wheel make this one idea, "Roads Improvement," his hobby, and if we never miss an opportunity to cast a vote, speak a word, or spend a dollar for The Cause, the result must be "success," and the cycle and its votaries, as practical civilizers, will hold a place in history, which those who made it will be proud, and those who come after and continue the good work will be grateful.

PHILADELPHIA CENTURY—NOTICE OF MEETING.

A MEETING of delegates of the clubs interested in the proposed great Century run to Philadelphia, on June 16th, will be held at the office of Mr. L. A. Clarke, 25 Broad street, New York City, on Friday afternoon, April 27th, 1888, at 4 P. M. sharp. Definite action has been taken by six clubs, and in two instances the run has been already called. Details are yet to be arranged, but in general the plan is as follows, viz: Rendervous at Newark and Orange on evening of Friday, June 15th; leave Orange at 4 A. M. next morning; easy riding to Trenton, where have dinner; in afternoon to Philadelphia, on Plain Side, and through Fairmount Park; in evening out on the celebrated Lancaster Pike, with the Philadelphia Wheel Clubs, and those others who will have gone on by train, far enough to finish the Century. It is not designed to be a road race, but a practical exemplication of the usefullness of the wheel, and, weather permitting, should be the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted. My imagination soars toward 200 participants.

"WING-FOOT."

"GENTLEMAN JOHN." PEEBLES, SCOTLAND.

CHAPTERS have been written upon "American informality," and there is, I think, room for much more manuscript of a purely laudatory nature upon the subject. When one contrasts the free and easy American mode of hospitality with which any sojourner in their country is treated by the best circles (provided, of course, that he or she has the instincts of a gentleman or lady), with the stiff, formal, unchristand-unchristianlike demeanor of the large majority of the "cheap and nasty" two-legged fossils who have made Peebles their home within the last few years, the Americans (looking at the matter without prejudice and in an unjaundiced manner) have rather the best of the comparison. Robert Burns, the Scottish bard (it looks very much like tautology to append "the Scottish bard" to Burns' name) has a few lines which describe to a nicety the narrow-minded colonists to which I refer. He says:

"There's nothing here but Hieland pride,
Hieland pride and hunger;
And if the Lord has sent me here,
'Twas surely in his anger."

Even if a stranger condescends to attend their church, they glare at him with an I-am-holier-than-thou glare, and stare at him with a what-manner-of-man-art-thou stare, and act very much as a Highland steer does when he sees a bicyclist for the first time. The term which is applied to anyone who has not been brought up in the little self-sufficient hamlet of Peebles, is an "incomer;" and they have an even more disrespectful word, a "Stourey-foot." The meaning of the name "incomer," as applied to strangers, is of course very evident, but that of "Stourey-foot" is not at once plain to one not conversant with the Scottish dialect. "Stourey" means dusty, and the name implies that a stranger is a person upon whose pedal extremities still clings the dust or "stour" of other cities. See? Then a person who has been brought up (or, as a pronounced Southerner or Westerner might say, has been "raised") in the obsolete hamlet of Peebles, is a "gutter-blood." A "blood" of the gutter—of the street—of the town. In fact I wonder if the average Peebles adult-mind is capable of grasping the idea that the name "gutter-blood" is a very doubtful eulogistic epithet. In fact since I have been here, I have seen much daily evidence which has forced me to believe that the drowsy air of Peebles is more conducive to the healthy growth of matter than of mind, of pounds avordupois and turnips, than of well bred men and women. The male adult is imbued with the tradition that "man's chief end" is to drink all he can (which he generally does), to eat and sleep all he can, and to utterly ignore the "golden rule," in which the treatment of a fellow man is so vigorously dealt with.

A MAN who rides four miles on a Sabbath day upon a cycle, to hear a half-witted and, generally, under-paid Scotch minister preach of the narrow road which we are told leads to a place where happiness is said to abound, is looked upon as a sinner already damned, already fast and irrevocably entangled in the meshes of Beelzebub, the heavy weight champion of Hades. He is pointed out in church and whispered about during the service, when they should have been listening to the hair-raising twaddle in which the minister tells them that he has positive knowledge that they are already the holders of everlasting passes to the fire which has no end. I think that even the firmest believers in the "fire-eternal" have grown callous under the treatment of the Peebles divine, and look upon eternal pyrotechnic treatment after death as undesirable but unavoidable. The idea of attending the house of the Lord in knee breeks, and leaving a velocipede among the grave stones outside, is looked upon as a crime, for which there can be no adequate atonement. But as the class to which I refer are both "ill born and ill bred," and perfectly harmless, I shall dismiss them from my thoughts, as unworthy of more than this very mild descriptive reproof. I have always been a mild-mannered man, and dislike strong language very much, as evidenced by my newspaper writings. It is with unassumed and most genuine fervency, that, not unlike Sparticus, I cry, "Thank the gods that I am (not) a barbarian," and not a native of Peebles. For this last, especially, may Heaven be praised.

IF I were going into business on this side, I do not know of a more likely investment than a factory in Peebles to manufacture a condensed "milk of human kindness, put up in one-pound tins. I am sure it is needed here sadly, and the expense of commercial travelling could of course be dispensed with, as the factory would have difficulty (unless it was upon a mammoth scale) in supplying the people in the vicinity of Peebles. Perhaps I have dwelt "somewhat rather much at length" upon the Peebles crustacean, but I could not do less than "damn them with faint praise." They need it, if ever a God-forgotten people did.

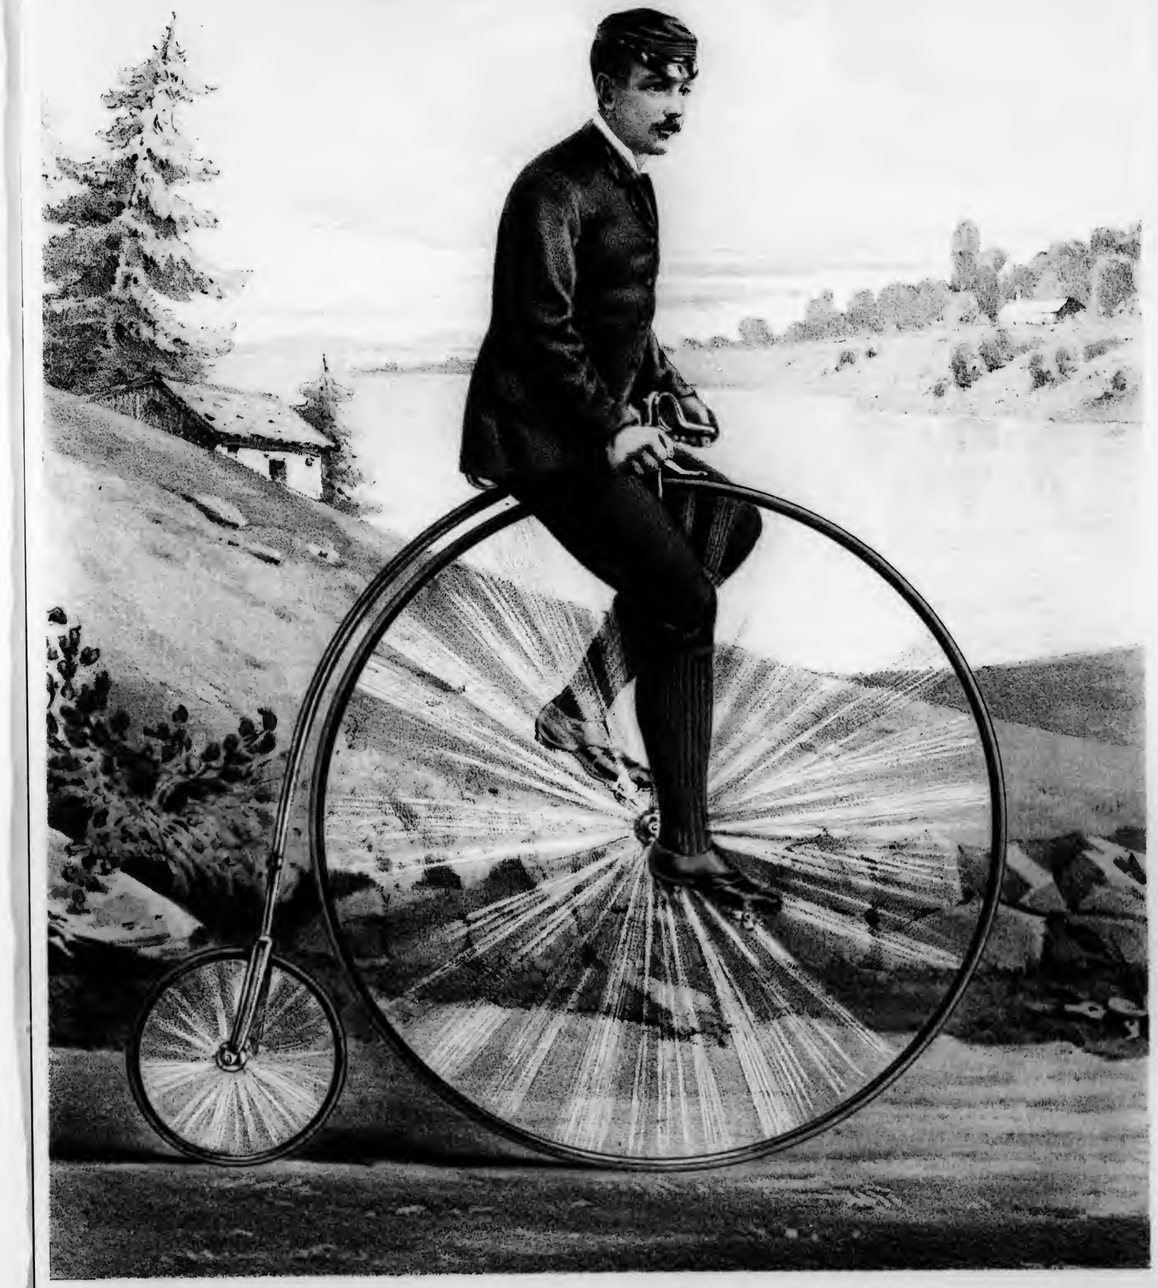
I GOT a sweet-scented little note from Percy Low, of Wheeling, in which he tells me that I have been "missed" from Fleet street, and people were divided in opinion as to whether I had got arrested under an alias (how would "Gentleman John" do?) at the late Sullivan-Mitchell (alleged) fight, or had taken a steamer for the Brazilian ports to join the Le Feur brothers. Poor fellows. I am afraid the Le Feur brothers would have had more fun in England than among the wilds of Brazil. Of course they are both reckless sort of chaps, and care but little for expense, and as little for notoriety, as evidenced by the quiet "manner of their going and setting out," both from America and from Liverpool. Had it not been for the efforts of "Ratchet," of New Jersey, the Le Feur brothers might never have been engaged as special correspondents of the BICYCLING WORLD, and their doings might have remained in comparative obscurity to a large portion of the world. As it is, their trip promises to out-Stevens, to out-Ricalton, to out-Stanley and to out-Outing anything that has been heard of. I am just dying to hear of their safe arrival at St. Thomas, as is, I am sure, every careful reader of the BICYCLING WORLD, the unrivalled leader of American cycling journalism.

NEW JERSEY NOTES. "RATCHET."

THE Mayor of Orange, in his annual message, makes a number of valuable suggestion in regard to streets. He says: "The Street Commissioner reports having expended $4,274.52 in labor on streets, of which $2,377.38 was spent in rounding up on dirt roads. I am convinced that the putting of much work on dirt streets is a mistake, as the rounding up, as it is called, must be repeated annually, and the expense thus incurred would go far towards the payment of a permanent pavement. At this season of the year many of the prominent thoroughfares are almost impassable, and their improvement has been delayed by a combination of circumstances — the unwillingness of property owners, and the necessity of placing a large part of the cost on the city at large. I refer to Lincoln avenue, Lumber street, Essex avenue and Scotland street. Jefferson street has been opened, but no move has been made to grade. If it were wise to open and pay heavy damages for land taken, measures should be adopted to open up the property for street purposes and grade it. One, at least, of the streets alluded to, should be macadamized during the coming season, and proper provision made for the cost."

ORANGE has appropriated about $15,000 for road and street improvements.

A MACADAMIZED road between Irvington and South Orange avenue is being talked up.



THE Elizabeth Wheelmen will soon have a team on the road practicing for the semi-annual road race. Ditto, the Union County Wheelmen.

THAT Newark to Paterson, or Newark to Norristown and return, road race is again being talked up. Likewise a race from Jersey City to Philadelphia and return.

WHEELMEN who are interested in road racing are advised to fight shy of North Plainfield. Dr. J. H. Cooley Chairman, of the L. A. W. Racing Board, has been elected Mayor of that place. Dr. Cooley is not in favor of road racing.

THE Orange Wanderers held a meeting on 24 March, and thirteen new members were elected. It was decided to withdraw the resignation from the "Alphabetical Association," and W. A. Belcher and and C. W. Freeman were elected delegates to that organization.

THE Jersey City Journal says: "Dr. Johnson, the President of the Hudson County Wheelmen, was the first person to ride a bicycle in Jersey City. He began riding in 1880." The monthly meeting of this club was held 5 April, and the usual routine business transacted. The Hudson County team for the inter-club road race will soon be found on the Irvington-Milburn course, getting themselves into shape.

C. K. Alley, of New York, on the Columbia Light Roadster.
BICYCLING WORLD AND L. A. W. BULLETIN, PLATE No. 3.

SOME of our cyclers seem to be determined to bring the wheel into disrepute if possible by riding on the sidewalks of Broad, and other streets, as well as Central, Belleville and Lincoln avenues. It required some work to secure the passage of the bill giving to cycles the same rights as are accorded to other vehicles in New Jersey, and it seems unjust that any wheelman should, by insisting upon riding on sidewalks, violate the provisions of the bill. It is no more than fair, however, to say that the majority of those who use the sidewalks are boys or half-grown men.

HERE's another chance for some missionary work; and another reason for abolishing the amateur rule, doing away with the Racing Board, and appointing committees on road improvement: "Never before were the roads of Randolph township in such a condition as now. The road overseers in most cases refuse to open or do any work because they can get no assurance from the Township Committee when they can get their pay, and they say they do not propose to hire men and pay them, and then wait for their money till after next year's taxes come in. Other townships have been opening their roads and paying their bills, and are doing this necessary work without any trouble at all. Our present committee, untroubled by any debts at all, seems wholly unable to devise means to meet the needs of the people."—Essex County Exchange.

AND apropos the road race, it seems to me as though the Brooklyn Bi. Club, now that they count the Ilderans in, should be able to put an almost invincible team on the road, provided, of course, that the road racers of the latter have joined the former club. It will be remembered that the last race was won by the Kings County Wheelmen's team, scoring 73 points. The second man to finish was Bradley, Ilderans, 23 points; fifth, Mead, B. B. C., 20; sixth, Waters, B. B. C., 19; tenth, Todd, B. B. C., 15; thirteenth, Schoefer, Ilderans, 12; fourteenth, Williams, B. B. C., 11. The first four men named had an aggregate of 77 points, while taking two Ilderans and two Brooklyns, their aggregate would have still been a winning one—74 points. It looks as though the Kings County and Hudson County men would have a big job on their hands on Decoration Day.

CONNECTICUT-INGS.

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

THAT proposed joint tour from New York to the City of Brotherly Love will be pleasant and profitable in proportion to the pace taken, for in the latter part of the month of roses a continued scorch would not be up to our club's standard of average comfort. Make it a two days' ride and our Secretary could easily be "induced to accept an invitation to join!"—Believe that is the popular modern way to put it.

FINALLY we can see bare ground again, and begin to feel encouraged that soon the wheels can revolve, and cycling joys be ours. Some of our safety riders have been riding for some time, but the wintry March has set us back a month, nearly. It has brought our winter record of missed days' riding up to the unprecedented one of over thirty.

GIVE this lazy scribe a reasonably low and safe, easy-driven wheel, on which six to nine miles an hour on the road can be done, and he will be contented.

OUR fellow voyager across the deep blue last summer, Captain Hurlbutt, has been indisposed recently, but we hope before wheeling weather comes the Cap'n will be out again, and help reorganize the old club that disbanded here a year ago. Assistant Postmaster Jessup is working for the new club, and a meeting to see what can be done is called for this week Thursday evening.

ONE of our Star riders is reported as intending to tour in Europe this season, but has sold his wheel and "will not go as a cycler," save the mark!

NEW men are already coming on and taking up the second-hands, that so much relieves the owners of them, who want something newer, lighter, lower, safer, or easier, and by a strange fatility these points are seldom combined in new machines.

WE are glad to see interest waking in the matter of easier-going cycles for the "most distracting half of humanity," and that they can ride on a nearer even footing with the sterner party of the second part. It occurs to us that the lady's machine must be so low that with the dirt-carrying chain and the very low frame work, they must be uncleanly to ride. Take one driven without chain, and with a better dress guard than wire netting, and the pleasure of the dainty rider must be much enhanced. We know from experience that the now regular chain safety is as famous for slinging mud as is a politician, and that the task of cleaning the chain to save wear was—well it was seldom done! Why cannot "Brer. Wilcox" draw us a sketch of what he thinks would be a good thing in the shape of a lady's safety cycle, as he has studied the "safety and easy-driving problem," and he "could if he would."

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

No more important move has been made for a long while in the Quaker City than the bill introduced into Councils on April 5th, by Mr. Anderson, to re-pave Broad street with asphaltum, from Passyunk avenue to Columbia avenue. This would give us what is sorely needed, a rideable street through the centre of the city, and as it would adjoin the asphalted surface of Diamond street, we would have a superb outlet to the park, a riding avenue surpassed by no place in the country. Mr. Anderson deserves the thanks of all wheelmen, and more than this, he deserves their hearty co-operation. This suggestion respectfully referred to the associated cycling clubs. What a boom such a thoroughfare will give cycling! The proof of the practical utility there is in the wheel would double the number of riders in a year's time. My bicycle would save me about thirty dollars a season in car fares alone, and isn't that an argument to clinch the nail with?

MR. E. I. HALSTEAD, of the Harlem Wheelmen, is now a Pennsylvania Club member, having been elected to membership last Thursday evening. At that meeting thirteen new members were taken in, making the club roll about 175. The dark gray uniform with the silver Keystone will be one of the prominent features at the Baltimore meet.

ANOTHER death must be recorded; that of Mr. Harry H. Levette, of the Century Wheelmen, which resulted from incautious handling of powerful electric appliances at the works of the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Co., Lynn, Mass. He was still an active member of the club, although for some time residing at Lynn. Suitable resolutions were passed.

A RECKLESS driver ran over the velocipede belonging to a little boy, near Belmont Hill in the park last week, and was chased and caught by Messrs. Shaffer and Allen of the Centurions, who caused his arrest by the first guard met. A few cases of this sort and the reckless element who run into and over everything in the shape of cycles, will learn that punishment is swift and sure in every case.

QUOTING from the Lynn Item, the Wheel and Cycling Trade Review (full name, if you please, Mr. Editor; Mr. Prial seriously objects to having his journal's name curtailed) says J. H. Shurman of Lynn will stop at Philadelphia on his Western trip, and inspect "Eagle Hill." Surely this overgrown village has not obsorbed the Orange district too.

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

THE following shows the value of infloo'nce in the politics in Queens Co., and also the condition of things against which the warfare for good roads must be waged. The Jerico pike and the North Hempstead pike are the two arteries of travel on Long Island, connecting the metropolis and the towns in the interior, the latter, the one in question, being macadamized from Little Neck to "Harry Hill's" on Flushing meadows, where it divides. The shorter route from this point is direct Jackson avenue, so called, but the longer is a better road known as Thompson avenue, the latter getting the most traffic, at the best both being poor. For a number of years efforts have been made to get an appropriation for the improvement of the former, but have always, until last year, failed, because the keeper of a certain road-house on Thompson Ave., objected, on the ground that it would take his trade away, and threatened to "cut the ticket." And yet the old case-hardened agriculturalists keep on year after year, voting the "ring" ticket, and making their own already degraded condition lower and lower.

"LONG ISLAND roads are of a sandy complexion." We are thinking of trying "Recamier Cream" hereafter, instead of macadam, "to remove imperfections."

THE Mercury Wheel Club holds the opening record to Babylon again, as it has for the two previous years, two members having gone through on Sunday last, reporting the roads to be in the finest kind of condition.

A GOOD many wheelmen will no doubt take advantage of the prevailing beautiful weather this week to witness the attempted removal of the Brighton Beach Hotel, which has been cut into sections and is to be moved 500 feet, upon railway flat-cars. This is a most extraordinary undertaking, and special trains are to be run to Coney Island to allow people the opportunity of seeing a large summer hotel moved 500 feet in fewer seconds.

The annual dinner of the Kings County Wheelmen will be eaten at Dilliards on April 14th. Covers will be laid for one hundred and fifty, and the Mayor and other city dignitaries and celebrities have been invited. The K. C. W.s have won the handsome silver cup, representing the pool championship of those two close but friendly rivals, the L. I. W.s and the K. C. W.s.

The North Hempstead turnpike, out as far as the end of the the macadam, is in first-class shape. Brer. Lincoln, of the Mercurys, and myself went as far as Little Neck and return on Easter Sunday, and enjoyed the novelty of alternately riding in dust, and between snow banks three feet in depth. The roads between Jamaica and Flushing were not open up to Sunday.

At the athletic games of Co. A, 23d Regiment, Saturday evening, April 7th, Messrs. J. F. Borland and J. W. Schœfer, of the Brooklyn Bi. Club, took first and second places, respectively, in the two-mile handicap bicycle race, and Mr. Ed Hornbostel took first place in the one-mile handicap run. The Brooklyns turned out as large and enthusiastic as ever, and made their share of the noise. The annual election of this club took place Tuesday evening of this week, but the result has not yet come to hand. The "goat" fever has broken out very badly in all the Brooklyn clubs, and circus posters have gone up in price since A. B. B. began selling them.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

Percy Stone recently started to rent a bran new Salvo tandem, and consequently tandem riding is quite the thing now. Klipstein and Miss Kate Medart have had one or two runs on it lately, and in each case covered between fifteen and twenty miles. As Miss Medart has never ridden before this is a very good showing, and her reputation is all the more enhanced by "Klip" declaring positively that he only did his share of the work.

The renting of wheels is assuming large proportions here. Last Sunday the St. Louis Wheel Co. rented no less than thirty of them, and could have placed fifty if they had had them on hand.

The final entertainment of the winter season was given at the at the Missouri Bi. Club's house Thursday. As usual the attendance was large, and all enjoyed themselves immensely. The managers have concluded to have these entertainments at intervals during the summer. The next one will be a Lantern Slide entertainment, at which the club's photographers will show fine views of pictures taken while on some of the runs, the whole to conclude with the usual hop.

The Cycle Club held their annual meeting for the election of officers Monday, April 2, at their club rooms. The following were elected for the ensuing year: President, Geo. H. Lucas, re-elected; Vice President, Eug. Jaccard; Treasurer, Walter Tyler; Assistant Treasurer, H. W. Greenwood; Secretary, E. L. Mockler, re-elected; Captain, E. N. Sanders. At this meeting three active and two associate members were admitted to membership. The committee appointed to look up new quarters have not as yet succeeded in finding a suitable house, but no doubt will be able to do so before the lease of their present quarters expires.

Street re-construction is going on at a lively rate here, but I am sorry to state that very little of it is asphaltum or Telford pavement. Grand avenue will be improved from Laclede avenue to Tower Grove park at a cost of over $40,000. This will make this park easily accessible from all parts of the city. Tower Grove park has the finest roads in the State, and it reflects very creditably on the good sense and judgment of Mr. Hy. Shaw, who, when he presented the park site to the city, stipulated that a fund of no less than $25,000 would have to be annually expended in keeping the roads and the park itself up to the required standard.

Acting upon the suggestion contained in my last letter, President Brewster appointed Messrs. Douglas, Boker, and Chauvenet a committee to confer with the muncipal authorities relative to leaving parts of certain streets unsprinkled before certain hours at morning and evening. The committee went to work at once, and on Thursday interviewed President Flad, of the Board of Public Improvements, in regard to it, who received them very graciously, and upon hearing their request, promised to bring the matter before the Board next Tuesday, when he requested them to be present, and do all in his power to extend the courtesies. It is to be hoped that the request will be granted, as many of the resident riders will give up riding if they could not use their wheel in going to and from business.

The first run of the season of the Missouri Bi. Club took place Sunday, April 1, to Ballwin. It being Easter Sunday the attendance was rather light. In spite of this, seventeen Missouri men faced the wind, and reached Ballwin in time to enjoy one of mine host Busch's dinners. The Manchester road being freshly macadamized, a diversion was made to the Clayton road, and it followed to North and South road, where the Manchester road was again taken. The features of the run were Percy Stone's climbing of Sun-of-Gun on a Victor safety, and Hildebrand's like feat on a Columbia Light Roadster, and Bob Sharpe's strong attack on hen fruit. Messrs. Sharpe and Weil took their first long run with the club, and pluckily rode the entire distance. Both of these gentlemen have been regular attendants at Prof. Barron's gymnasium classes during the winter, and their riding showed the good resulting therefrom.

PITTSBURG and VICINITY.

"DUQUESNE."

The McKeesport Club men elected the following officers for ensning year: President, L. Hammitt; Vice President, J. D. O'Neil; Secretary and Treasurer, O. M. Hunter. After some talk, it was decided to give a gold medal to the member covering the greatest distance during the season, and a silver medal to the second man, also a gold medal for greatest distance in twenty-four hours.

An applicant for a position on our police force had over eleven inches expansion, and will probably be refused. Next!

"Ariel" labors under a mistake. I didn't offer to back Banker against Wilhelm; I am not around giving money away.

I made a mistake last week, the child-poet will ride a "Star" this year. You may now prepare for "An Ode to Sirius," or some equally ethereal subject.

Hiland avenue is in bad shape, and not likely to be repaired this summer. This will be hard on some butterflies who secure their mileage by riding from Penn avenue to the reservoir and return.

The Commercial Gazette gives publicity to A. C.'s run to De Haven, and says it is their annual run. Inasmuch as they go to De Haven on nearly all their club runs, the use of the word "annual" is slightly ambiguous.

Messrs. Editors, would like you to settle a dispute. Rowe, versus sprinter, distance 100 yards; which wins? It is claimed by the majority that the sprinter would beat Rowe, as he would lose so much on the start. The whole question narrows down to. can Rowe beat ten seconds? Can you tell us? [Rowe can beat ten seconds with a flying start, but it would be a question if he could do as well within two or three seconds from a standing start.—Ed.]

BUFFALO.

"MERCURY."

Three cheers and a tiger for Senator Laughlin, who has taken up a project which has been laying idle for over a year, and—but hold on! Let me state the cause of my crowing. The fact is, our worthy Senator has introduced a bill in the Senate at Albany, which provides for the location of a boulevard, 100 to 200 feet wide, to extend from this city to Niagara Falls. It names several prominent men from Buffalo, Tonawanda and Niagara Falls as commissioners to locate the boulevard. They will meet at the City Hall, Buffalo, June 15th, and organize; they are also instructed to report on or before Sept. 1st, 1888. A commission of three will then be appointed to appraise lands taken by the boulevard. If the bill passes all right, work will undoubtedly be commenced before the year is out. As I predicted before this, a cycling boom is in store for Buffalo. The Commercial states: "The bicyclists of this city have signified their intention of assessing each member of the L. A. W. in this State one dollar for the completion of the boulevard." Now aren't they a little too previous? Whether the plan will work remains to be seen. I hardly think it will, for this reason: There are some League members (and a very large "some") who will think twice before they give a dollar towards something from which they derive no benefit. I admit there are members whose liberality will not be questioned; I will wager they are in the minority. I would suggest, if I may be so bold. that subscriptions be solicited in the different cities of New York State, and I believe in that way more money would be realized than by the other plan. I don't see how the assessing of each L. A. W. member is possible; there is nothing in the constitution that provides for a thing of that sort. [Right you are.—Ed.]

The Ramblers are considering the advisability of renting more commodious quarters. The members expect to act in the capacity of "mine host" during the tournament this summer, and think the

A FEW THINGS WE DO NOT ADVERTISE.

RECORDS which we know to be false.——RECORDS after they are taken from us by another wheel.——RECORDS which are not unanimously accepted by the cycling press as genuine.

ONE OF THE THINGS WE DO NOT DO.

Retire from racing after every obtainable road, long distance and track record is beyond our reach.

A FEW THINGS WE DO.

An honorable manufacturing business.——Guarantee our wares to be exactly as represented.——Make a wheel which is capable of, and does hold all world's road and long distance records.

Do not forget that we make a large sized specialty of sundries and manufacture nearly everything in the way of accessories needed by the bicycle rider. We are always glad to discount on these goods to any authorized agent or repairer, whether he handles our line of bicycles or not. Our latest acquisition is the Excelsior Cyclometer, which is known by everybody to be absolutely reliable. We have a lot of these cyclometers in sizes, 50, 52 and 54 inch, of the old pattern, which we are offering, to close out, at the ridiculously low price of $5.00 each. They are just the same in matter of mechanism as the new style Excelsior, the only difference being that they cannot be read from the saddle. Those who desire to take advantage of this bargain had better order early, as they are going fast.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO., - - CHICAGO, ILL.

Makers of the American Cycles.

Largest and most artistic Catalog in the trade, on application.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8 inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.
No. 1. For Gentlemen.....$175
No. 2. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 175
(The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")
No. 3. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman

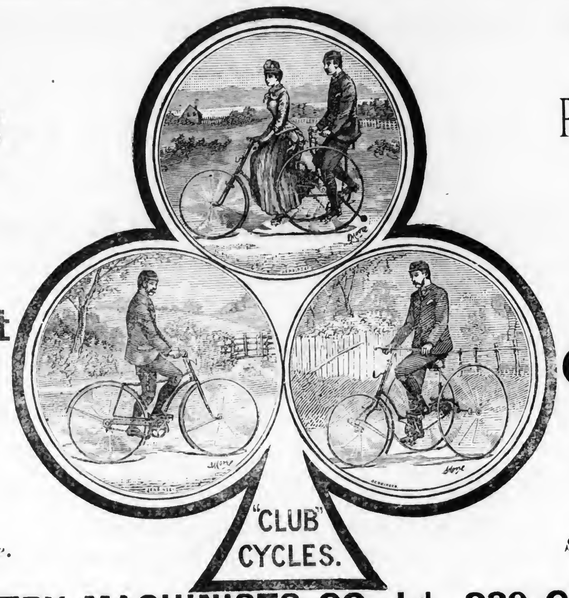
"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.



THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

WARWICK CYCLE MFG. CO.

Broad and Hanover Sts., - Springfield, Mass.

LOOK OUT FOR NOVELTIES

And improvements in High Grade Wheels, as follows:

Front Wheel, Ball Bearings.
Back Wheel, Ball Bearings.
Pedal, Ball Bearings.
Head, Roller Bearings.
Detachable Handle Bar.
Spade Handles.

New Backbone.
New Forks.
New Spokes.
New Hollow Wheel Rims.
New Rubber Tires.
New Saddles.

present rooms too small to accommodate the large number of visiting wheelmen who will accept their kind invitation to make themselves perfectly at home.

PARDON me, Mr. Editor, if I again insert a pun in my squib; it is not of my making. I happened into Bowen's place the other evening, and noticing the Victor catalogues were issued in red and white covers, I remarked the fact to Bowen, and he replied: "Yes, I suppose they meant to have one, red outside and white within, and the other, white outside to be read (red) within." The office cat, which had been sleeping peacefully under the stove, let forth an unearthly screech and squirmed about in horrible agony on the floor. Three bicycles took a tumble.

HERE is something interesting to cyclers in general and "Duquesne" in particular. I wandered over to the domain in which the "King-pin of tournament managers" (I needn't mention his name; everybody knows him) holds forth, and probing that worthy sire, elicited the following information: He informs me that his plans are almost completed, and in answer to my inquiry as to which club, if any, will have charge of it, "the Ramblers," he replied. "and just as soon as my plans are perfected, I will make a formal proposition to them." He stated further, that he had a talk with C. J. Hamlin, the Driving Park magnate, and there are chances that he (Hamlin) will lay out a cycling track at his own expense, providing the tournament is held during the Fair and opening of the Exposition Building, which will occur some time during September. Ducker says the tournament will last four or five days. My half hour's conversation with him gave me enough enthusiasm to run a tournament all by myself. I hope to have more definite information in my next.

DETROIT.
"TWINKLER."

A HOME-TRAINER contest by members of the Detroit Bicycle Club took place at the club parlors on March 25. The affair was the more enjoyable as it was entirely informal. Nearly all the members took part, and the audible comments upon the riding of some, were more productive of mirth than of fast time. The best time made was by Lieutenant Lane, who made a quarter in twenty seconds. The Detroit Club has delightful parlors. Give us another contest.

PRESIDENT KIRKPATRICK has accepted the invitation of the Star Bi. Club of Detroit, and will be its guest at the division meet this summer. The meet will be held at Grand Rapids, probably in July.

ALREADY candidates for Chief Consul and Representatives are being discussed. There is a strong sentiment in favor of Mr. J. E. Beal of Ann Arbor, for Chief Consul. Mr. B. well deserves anything within the gift of the Division, or of the League for that matter. He is well known, popular, and an indefatigable worker. It is understood, however, that he will not accept office for next season on account of contemplated absence from the State, so we must look elsewhere. Now what's the matter with Mr. Clarence Lightner, President of the Detroit Club? Mr. L. is a man of much ability, and is "a hustler from Hustlerville."

NEWS AND COMMENT.

J. FRED MIDGLEY will be actively on the road this year. He is under the care of Mr. Charles P. Daniels, one of the best trainers in the country. Midgley's mount will be the same as last year, the Springfield Roadster. He will not only ride on the road, but he proposes to take part in all the track events this side of Chicago. We also understand that Mr. Worden, who is now in the employ of the Springfield Bicycle Co., will place himself under the directions of Mr. Daniels, and also train for the coming season.

WILMINGTON, Del., is to have a bicycle track. It will also be used for pedestrian races.

'TIS said that Long Branch, N. J., will add to its many attractions, that of a bicycle track, the laying out and building of same to cost some $25,000.

SPRINGFIELD claims to have been the birthplace of cycling, so far as this country is concerned. We would respectfully ask, where does Boston come in?

CAPTAIN JACK CRAWFORD, the "Poet Scout," author of the very clever character poem which appeared in our last issue, is now staying at the Adams House in this city.

THE English War Department have designed a uniform to be worn by the cycling contingent. It consists of a dark green military tunic and cap, faced with red, dark green knee breeches and stockings.

A TWENTY-MILE road race, between the New Bedford Cycle Club and the Taunton Bicycle Club, will be run on Memorial Day, for a trophy of $50 value, subscribed by the New Bedford citizens.

A FRENCH nobleman is the latest one to dabble in the application of steam to a tricycle. He makes the usual claim that it is perfectly practicable, very light, and will maintain a speed of twenty-five miles an hour on good roads.

ROWE will not appear among the starters for the world's open one-mile championship to be run at Wolverhampton, England, April 23. Woodside, and possibly Temple, will represent the American contingent. Howell is named to start.

A BREATHLESS universe is awaiting the result of that $30,000 match between Prince and McCurdy. There may be some "breathless" backers if there is any chance of repeating that Minneapolis affair in which Mr. McCurdy so prominently figured.

IN the final heat of the five-mile international race between Battensby and Rowe last month, at Agricultural Hall, London, Rowe beat the Englishman by "a few inches." So close was the finish that some discontent was shown by the spectators, as many thought that Battensby had it.

THE subject of our cartoon this week is Mr. C. K. Alley, one of the very best known riders in New York State. He has always been prominent in League matters, and has held the important position of Vice-president of the National organazation. His New York friends will be especially pleased with this plate.

WE went out to Corey hill the other day. We found it there just the same as last year, and it had a sort of come-if-you-dare look on its high forehead which was not very encouraging to the prospects of Messrs. Shurman's, Wells' and Greenwood's chances of climbing the same on a bicycle twelve times without stopping.

THEY have got a one-legged man in Lynn, Mass., who can ride a bicycle, perform on the trapeze, or gyrate on the festive roller skate. This individual glories in the name of Prof. Erni. This has an Italian sound, but we would bet dollars to doughnuts that he hails from the vicinity of Cork, and that his name begins with Pat.

WILLIAM J. CORCORAN, the well-known trainer, will stay in this country and look after the ped, George Littlewood, in his six-day race to come off in New York. After this event, which will take place in May, Corcoran will assist Dr. Dole in his college athletics. Mr. Dole will back Crocker to ride three races with Rowe at Lynn for $500 a side, on the return of these two men from England.

L. A. W. No. 551 writes: "In regard to aged riders, I would remark that I am 45 years of age, and have ridden a bicycle for two years. For three years previous I have suffered from kidney complaint, but thanks to the intelligent use of my wheel I am now as tough as steel and as limber as an eel. I shall be in Baltimore, and I hope to meet many of the older 'Knights,' and I hope to be able to demonstrate that I am as good and better than some of our younger brethren."

AT a meeting of the Long Island Wheelmen held April 4, the Hon. A. C. Chapin, Mayor of Brooklyn, was elected to honorary membership. It will be remembered that His Honor the Mayor recently appointed Mr. Chas. H. Luscomb, Captain of the club, a Park Commissioner. The club gave a ladies' reception on Saturday evening, the 7th inst., at which Mayor Chapin was present. An interesting programme of music, recitations, and dancing was given. Among the performers were Mrs. Nellie Yale Nelson, leading lady of the Gilbert Dramatic Society, and Miss Vogt, pianist.

"QUONG WING," hailing from Denver, Col., writes: "The eyes of the Denver men were opened very wide by some correspondence in your issue of March 23, and we all wonder why the existing road records stand, with such men loose in the country as the seven who went on the San Francisco Bi. Club's moonlight run, and covered the first twenty-six miles in one hour and twenty minutes, this, too, with one mile of scarcely rideable road, which must necessarily have thrown them behind five or six minutes. We figure their riding better, or equal to the world's records, ridden in daylight. Perhaps their 'special Club Liar' broke loose, or the riders were timed by a Waterbury oil can?"

MR. W. C. COFFIN of Pittsburgh writes the following: "In a late issue of the BI. WORLD I see that "Duquesne" attributed my giving up the Victor Safety to the fact (?) that I could not keep my pedals from doubling into cow horns, or words to that effect. The fact, however, is that the pedals never gave me any more trouble than my full-fledged crank, but, through recklessness in jumping every gutter and other obstacle that I thought at all surmountable (without regard to the welfare of my wheel), I broke the saddle twice and any number of spokes, and then gave it up because of my own abuse of it. Give the wheel the same treatment that you do your Light Roadsters, and I will put up my pile that it will outlast them."

THE Longwood Minstrels of Boston is composed of some of the most accomplished amateur performers in the country. Indeed, it can be truthfully said that the entertainment given by this troupe, composed as it is of some of the best-known society men of "The Hub," rivals those given by some of the foremost professional troupes. It goes, therefore, without saying that the volunteer entertainment given by several members of the "Longwoods" at the Boston club house, last Saturday, was one of the most delightful ever enjoyed by that club. The Boston club men cannot say enough in praise of the really excellent impromptu "show," and they are profuse in their thanks to the members of the Longwood Club, who so kindly volunteered to appear on that evening.

THE Scranton (Pa.) Bicycle Club have taken steps to become an incorporated body and also to purchase property on Washington Ave., 40x160, on which they propose to build a club house. They are a "cordial lot" out in Scranton, as the following from Secretary Jno. F. Roe will testify: "Fellow-wheelmen coming in our midst this summer will find us unable to extend the hospitalities of club rooms as of yore, but instead we extend the hospitalities of the whole city. Any wheelman by inquiring of the Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. or any hotel clerk will be directed to a member of the club who can entertain him in the saddle, and will take pleasure in doing so."

L. A. W. No. 7276 writes from New Bedford, Mass., as follows: "I note in your columns a clipping from the Bi. News, in which a man speaks of coasting a hill with folded arms at a two-minute gait, and which you seem to disbelieve. If it is the time you doubt, I have nothing to say; but, if it is a question of coasting "hands off," I would like to say that it is not anything extraordinary, as I have coasted half a mile with my hands in my lap, and I am the reverse of expert in riding. A friend of mine, who has been on my machine a half dozen times of a few minutes each, always folds his arms when he coasts, but, as he is very expert and can ride almost any kind of machine at sight, it is to be expected. My mount is a Rudge Bicyclette."

THE N. C. U. have made the startling discovery that the "Surprise Dart Safety Tricycle" is not a tricycle at all. This decision of the N. C. U. has completely upset all our notions of what a tricycle ought to be. We turn to the rules of the N. C. U., and we find they say a tricycle is "any machine three or more wheeled, two or more tracked." Then we turn to the cut of the Surprise, and we see a three-wheeled machine making three tracks!! The ruling of the N. C. U. is a positive proof that that organization can make black into white. With such power as this, the N. C. U. ought to be able to purify the rankest, most corruptible beat in the professional or amateur ranks into an amateur, guileless and pure. We know of a few specimens that we would like to see purified by this infallible and all powerful body which can decide beyond cavil, a tricycle to be a mowing machine, or bicycle to be a locomotive.

THE NEW SCIENCE OF WILL POWER AS APPLIED TO CYCLING.

THE article in the Boston Sunday Globe a few weeks ago on Christian Science or Mind Cure has led me to think what an excellent science this would prove to the cyclist if it can be successfully worked. I learn from this article that all things in their present state are the outcome of the Mind or Life of the human being. I am told that hunger, broken limbs, sickness, cyclones, and earthquakes are all creations of a diseased and perverted Mind; that such things do not exist, but are merely the emanations of a distempered imagination. These statements are rather staggering to one who has always believed that broken bones were a disagreeable reality, and that earthquakes and cyclones were affairs out of the controlling jurisdiction of man and his Mind. To the believer in the new and remarkable "ism," we poor mortals who have not yet been able to set a dislocated bone by merely "will power," are wallowing in the lowest depths of ignorance and darkness. I propose to wake up to the delightful possibilities this new theory presents, and tell you and your readers how I have experimented and intend to experiment, and show how I, with the Power of Mind well in hand, will neutralize all the discomforts I have heretofore thought I had encountered while riding a cycle. With this Power the header will lose all its terrors. What if I do knock out half a dozen teeth, and swallow them for that matter? What if my machine does become a wreck and my nose be denuded of skin? Bosh! it is all imagination, a trick of an ill-trained mind. No such catastrophe has occurred; my Mind says so, and I believe it, though I must confess to a funny sensation on the end of my nose, a queer feeling in my insides where the teeth have lodged, and a sense of bareness pervading my gums. As to the damaged bicycle, my Mind, with a very little effort, straightens out the buckled wheel, the bent pedal and puts back in place the broken spoke. This is, we know, hard on the repairers, but what is the use of having a Mind unless I use it? When I have gotten this Mind of mine well in hand I expect to have great sport with those who have a Mind and do not know how to use it. How I shall laugh to myself as I see these poor benighted nd ividuals toiling along against an imaginary head wind wrongly supposed, and wickedly reported by the weather bureau to have had a velocity of fifty miles an hour. My Mind will have decided that there is no head wind, or if there is it must be a fair one. How I shall chuckle when I see these same heathen struggling up a rough stony grade perspiring, groaning and swearing in an old-fashioned, mistaken manner. I shall have Willed that the grade or the bad surface do not exist except in the perverted imagination of my comrades. I shall will a surface as smooth as asphalt and as level as calm water. I tell you, Mr. Editor, I have allowed this old Mind of mine to have altogether too easy a time. It has got to work for a living now, and by the time the snow leaves the ground I and my educated Mind will surprise the boys. Oh, by the way, knowing that the snow and vile condition of the streets were "all in my eye," according to the new theory, I Willed that the streets be dry and smooth and then started out to ride. I must confess sub rosa that the old Mind did not work, as I was apparently aware that the ground was very wet, and that I appeared to cause much merriment on behalf of some passers-by. This, however, was of course imagination. If I was not a convert I should say my nose is very sore, but it isn't, that I am prepared to aver, even if I don't like to have anything touch it. I shall be obliged to give you full account of how I progress in getting my Mind tractable and docile. I am going to try it on my landlady and see if I cannot convince her that I am not six weeks in arrears. If I cannot do this I am afraid my Mind will have to take my stomach into partnership.

"CULTURE."

TO WILLIAM A. ROWE.

THE nation's eyes are on you,
Billy Rowe;
And we've millions bet upon you,
As you go;
Don't you let Dick Howell beat you,
Or there'll be none here to "treat" you,
For we'll be a bankrupt country,
Billy Rowe.

Let Richard do the head-work,
Billy Rowe;
Just you freeze on to the ped-work,
Every show;
Cut the pace out fine and large,
And sail by that loitering barge,
And show him you can travel,
Billy Rowe.

Do him up so jolly brown,
Billy Rowe;
That 'twill flatten London-town,
Don't you know;
Break the records by the mile,
In your good old Springfield style,
And come home like Julius Cæsar,
Billy Rowe;

The fire-works are waiting,
Billy Rowe;
And the prospects are elating,
You should know;
For a grand jubilation,
In your honor, by the nation,
And "with cards" to All Creation,
Billy Rowe.

You shall live on milk and honey,
Billy Rowe;
With the "Surplus" for pin-money,
—All free blow:
You shall revel like a lord,
And the nation pay your board,
If you'll ONLY DO UP HOWELL,
Billy Rowe!

PEDALS.

EUROPEAN TOUR.

TO my many cycling friends, and other readers of the BI. WORLD who may be interested, I would say that I am now making arrangements for a European cycle tour for a party of twenty-five, to take place during the summer of 1889. The route will be across Ireland, England, France, Switzerland, down the Rhine to Antwerp, where steamer will be taken for England. The party will leave America the latter part of May, 1889, and be gone about three months. At both London and Paris (World's Fair in latter city) halts for a week or more will be made. I should be pleased to correspond with those wheelmen who take interest in the contemplated trip.

Your truly,
F. A. ELWELL,
152 Pearl St., Portland, Maine.

WE OFFER A MEDAL.

THE "aged riders" are waking up, and records of rides are being received right along. The latest is from Indiana, and is as follows: "Last June I. C. Doan, of Richmond, Ind., aged fifty years, rode a light roadster to Indianapolis (seventy miles) in the forenoon. At the end of the first fifty miles he made a ten-mile spurt in three-quarters of an hour. The same afternoon he rode out to Crawfordsville, forty miles further. Next day rode sixteen miles, visiting the Crawfordsville road race, returned to Indianapolis by rail in the evening, and jogged back to Richmond next day on his wheel, and was neither stiff nor sore. Entire riding distance, 196 miles. Put him amonge ye ancients." In connection with the above we have it on good authority that Mr. McCune, President of the Springfield Bicycle Co., thinks nothing of his sixty miles a day at a ten-mile clip. By all means let us have a veterans' race at Baltimore, Md., next June. In order to bring about the event, we hereby offer a gold medal to be competed for at Baltimore during the June meet of the L. A. W. on the following conditions:

Age of rider must be forty-five years or over; distance to be covered, two miles; any form or type of road machines, only, to be used. Entrance free, but entries, with age and machine to be used, must be received at this office by May 20th next.

THE HILL CLIMBING CONTEST.

WE learn from the Athlete that arrangements between Greenwood and Wells have at last been completed, and we are told that: "The first contest will take place on Kimmswick Hill, St. Louis, on Saturday, June 30th, or on the following Monday in case of rain. The second contest will be held on Eagle Rock, July 28th, and if a third race is necessary it will take place on Corey Hill the first week in August. The rules will be the same as those usually governing hill-climbing contests, the man climbing the hill in the quickest time to be declared the winner. In case either contestant is thrown out by an accident to his machine, he will be allowed to repair the damage and make another trial. The winner of two out of three races will be declared champion of America. The loser will pay the railroad and hotel expenses of the winner, and also the entire cost of the $50 championship medal." We are of course personally sorry that the contest on Corey is made provisional, but we hope that each man will prove successful on his "native hill," so that Corey will be the scene of the deciding battle. In the meantime we should like to hear from Mr. Wells as to the proposed match between himself and Mr. Shurman of Lynn? We are advised that Mr. Shurman thinks "12 times up and down Corey" within his capacity. We hope this fact won't discourage Mr. Wells.

A NEW FIRM IN THE BICYCLE MANUFACTURING BUSINESS.

THE Warwick Cycle Mfg. Co with factory and headquarters at Springfield, Mass., is a new firm in the country, but the name of Warwick as connected with some of the most valuable improvements in construction, is by no means a new or an unknown combination to most of our readers. The President of the American Company, Mr. George T. Warwick, is the son of Mr. Thomas Warwick, of Birmingham, England, the patentee of the celebrated Warwick rims and backbones. This English firm, is probably, one of the most extensive and successful makers of bicycle material in that country. For some time past Mr. George T. Warwick has been in this country looking the ground over, and the results of his investigations have brought about the establishment of a firm to manufacture cycles in the United States. As yet the new concern have not made any public announcement as to their products, but in a general way we learn that rubber cushions are to be used in the construction in a way to minimize the jar as much as possible. The backbones and the rims will of course, be of the celebrated Warwick patents; the bearings will be ball with vertical adjustment. There will be several new features included in the new machine, among which will be an improved way of detaching handle-bar, putting in spokes, the details all of which will have attention in full when the company are ready to announce. The officers of the company are: President, George T. Warwick; Vice-president, D. L. Swan; Treasurer, George K. Tapley: Secretary, Fred. R. Swan. The machinery for manufacturing is being constructed, and the company hope to be running by May 1. They manufacture a full line of bicycles and also tricycles. They will also make spider-web wheels for carriages. These wheels will of course be stronger than the bicycle wheels and there will also be a rubber cushion at the end of each spoke.

THAT FATAL ACCIDENT.

THE death of Mr. Edward A. Paul last Monday week, has caused a great sensation among wheelmen in Washington. As we went to press one day earlier last week, the news and particulars failed to reach us in time for publication. The facts are briefly: At about 5.30 Saturday week, Mr. Paul started out on his bicycle to ride to Whitney Close; on his return and nearly opposite his house, No. 2410 14th street, a colored man riding a horse at a furious pace, ran Mr. Paul down, throwing him to the ground and fracturing his spinal column. Mr. Paul retained his consciousness almost to the last, although below his shoulders he was completely paralyzed. At the time of the accident Mr. Paul was on the proper side of the road, and there was plenty of room for any vehicle to pass. Eye-witnesses say that Chase was urging his horse; on the other hand Chase avers that the horse became unmanageble, and that he could not control its speed or direct its course. Chase was arrested and released on bail, but on the death of Prof. Paul he was rearrested to await the coroner's verdict. Professor Paul was the Principal of the High School. Action was taken by the Alumni of the High School, and his funeral was largely attended by school officials, also by a large number of cyclists. Prof. Paul was a young man, being in his 33d year; he was born in Haverhill, Mass. The "Capital Club" called a meeting and took steps to raise funds to carry on and prosecute the case. Much indignation is felt by all at Chase for his reckless riding, and the awful results thereof. We requested information by wire as to coroner's verdict, but up to the time of going to press we have received no word.

LATER.—Since the above was written and put in type, we have received advices, that the Coroner's Jury has returned a verdict that Edward A. Paul came to his death through a collision caused by the careless and reckless riding of James M. Chase. Chase will be held for action of Grand Jury.

RACING IN PHILADELPHIA.

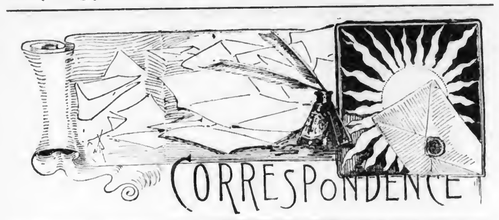
YOUNG MCDOWELL, the Philadelphia professional, was tendered a benefit Saturday evening, at the Elite Rink, by the South End Wheelmen. The races: One-mile, Pennsylvania Club.—Halsted first, in 2.57 3-5. Fuller dropped out.

One-mile, South End Wheelmen—Betchold had a walk over. Time, 3.12 4-5. Bailey had also a walk over in the one mile, Century Wheelmen. Time, 3.04 2-5.

One-mile, Camden Wheelmen—Weaver first, 3.09 2-5. Potter second.

One-mile novice—H. M. Green, first, 3.16 3-5. Draper a close second, 3. 17.

One-mile open—Halsted first, 3.03 2-5. Potter second, 3.06 4-5.



One-mile inter-club between Bailey, of the Century Club, and Halsted, of the Pennsylvania, won by the latter in 3. 04.

There was also some fine fancy riding by J. M. Stout, the deaf mute rider of New York, solos by Prof. Kennedy, and some remarkable shooting by Medis the Rifle Queen.

The officers were: Judges, W. D. Roberts, C. A. Snyder; timers, Frank Kohler, W. D. Supplee; clerk of course, J. A. Green; starter, G. N. Strong; referee, J. A. Wells.

"WE were glad during the past week to make the acquaintance of J. Purvis-Bruce, the Scotch-American correspondent of the BICYCLING WORLD, who up to now has been only known to us by his writing under a nom de plume ('Gentleman John'), which raised our wrath each time we came across it. Mr. Bruce is a most amusing companion, and we can understand now, the many complimentary things that have been said about him at various times by our American and English exchanges, and we hope to see a good deal more of him before he leaves these shores. There is something about his face, surmounted by its curly head of hair, and light tweed-covered figure, which seem to make him on the best of terms with everyone, and now he has discarded his nom de plume, we shall have the very greatest pleasure in meeting him, if not in every-day life, in the pages of the leading American cycling paper." The above we take from Bicycling News. We must ask our good friends of the News to pardon us, but the wording of the above would indicate that Mr. Purvis-Bruce has taken to wearing a "light tweed-covered figure" above his face! We have tried to figure the thing out, but we become perplexed and bewildered trying to imagine the genial Scotch-American "upside down and every way." Now we expect to get a lesson on punctuation from Mr. Harmsworth, but the off-hand reading of the above paragraph struck us on our funny side, and we hope there will be no reprisals inflicted on us and ours for our temerity in thus jokingly alluding to above kindly notice of Mr. P.-B.

"BOYCOTT CORBIN."

Editor Bicycling World and Bulletin: Dear Sir—Right heartily do I indorse "Wing-Foot" in his article against Corbin and his pet monopoly, the Long Island R. R., and bitterly do I regret my numerous shekels that have gone to enrich it. Now as there is no law, or power in the League to give us redress, nor, as I opine, any great superfluity of cash in the treasury to conduct such a fight, why cannot we boycott Mr. Long Island Corbin by building a cinder path from Brooklyn to Jamaica, where good riding commences, by popular subscription, as wheelmen have done in other parts of the country?

I am sure that this can be done for a much less sum than what we spend for transportation in one season, and I for one will do my level best to promote the scheme financially and otherwise.

Won't you kindly give this space in the WORLD AND BULLETIN, so that some one or more well known wheelmen who will give weight to the undertaking, will take it up in a manner to place it before our brotherhood? I would gladly start the ball rolling myself, but am at loss how to proceed, and indeed, this is the first time I have raised my voice in the interest of our fraternity, much as I may have been tempted to do so before. L. A. W. No. 14763.

Brooklyn, April 4th, 1888.

[We shall always be glad to hear from you.—ED.]

THE ROADS QUESTION.

Editor Bicycling World:—I must say I certainly agree with Brother Ratchet, of New Jersey. Certainly we must all admit our poor roads keep back the bicycling fraternity from numbering thousands, aye, tens of thousands, more than they do at present. The long-headed wheelmen do not expect to see the millenium for bicyclists come, after a few determined but short efforts on their part to secure advantages and rights essential to the rapid increase of wheeling and wheeling-interests in the United States. The old adage, "what is everybody's work is nobody's work," holds true here, as elsewhere. A "live committee," not in each State, but in every Territory containing so many wheelmen, would, I am sure, at least serve as a nucleus, from which in ten years, possibly in five or even less time, a wide-spread and determined movement in the interest of good roads would sweep over the country, leaving in its train good roads, provisions for keeping them good, and a multitude of bicyclists arising in every town and village. From my own observation, I have arrived at the conclusion that the prejudice and indifference of legislators and farmers which has in the past kept our roads in such a deplorable state arises chiefly through ignorance. In every division the Chief Consul could select from a large class of able writers a few of the most enthusiastic, who could be relied upon to keep the local papers supplied with articles clipped from wheeling periodicals, dwelling chiefly on the benefits to be derived from good roads by farmers, who must use this means to obtain a market for their goods, and in fact by all owners of horses. In every State Legislature men can be found able and willing to propose a bill for the improvement of roads. All that is needed is pressure brought constantly to bear upon our noble (?) politicians. And that pressure can be laid on best, in my judgment, when particular bicyclists feel an especial responsibility in the matter. If we would change the character of the broad river we must begin at the fountain head, If we can succeed in localities, if we can educate people generally to realize the benefits accruing to them through improved roads, it is not an impossibility we may see in the future, even so seemingly radical a plan as that proposed a few issues back, namely to devote the surplus in the United States Treasury to the bettering of our roads, prove a glorious reality. Let us keep this matter constantly before us, and who has ideas, let him express them in the WORLD. L. A. W. 7504.

INDEX TO MACHINES ALREADY DESCRIBED.

Machine.	Date of Issue.	Page.
Volunteer Columbia	Jan. 6	158
Veloce Columbia	Jan. 13	174
Surprise Columbia Tricycle	Jan. 20	190
American Rambler	Jan. 27	205
Victor Light Roadster	Jan. 27	206
Springfield Roadster	Feb. 3	221
New Mail	Feb. 10	237
Victor Safety	Feb. 17	253
Special S. S. S. Tricycle	Feb. 24	269
Ladies' Dart Bicycle	March 30	368
Swift Safety	April 6	387

THE actual capacity at one time of the enameling furnaces of the Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co. is one hundred complete bicycles.

WE are pleased to learn from the Holmes Co., that the demand for their excellent line of goods especially adapted to the cyclists' use, is very large this year. Riders should place their orders soon, and not wait until the season is really opened.

IF you desire to ride safe and attain speed, climb hills with ease, ride rough roads with but little vibration, buy the 1888 pattern Springfield Roadster. $75.00. ***

IT is stated that, out of the many hundreds of Columbia Light Roadsters that were fitted with the tubular rear fork during 1887, not one has been known to break or twist. This is one of the specialties for 1888.

THE Rudge machines gave such satisfaction last year that, beyond a few minor details, it has been difficult to improve them, and their sterling worth will be well appreciated by the riders who desire a high class English mount.

MR. VICTOR R. PYLE, of Wilmington, Del., reports that he holds the Third St. hill records for that city on a Springfield Roadster.

C. J. BROWN, of Florence, Mass., has taken a travelling position for the Springfield Bicycle Co., in place of Geo. M. Hendee who has gone to Chicago to assist C. F. Stokes in representation of the Springfield Roadster in that city. Mr. Hendee reports prospects and business good.

OUR Philadelphia correspondent reports on trade from his standpoint as follows: "Messrs. Tryon & Co. sold twenty-one Victor safeties last week, and five light roadsters. That's how cycling is booming this season, and the safety in particular. Mr. H. B. Hart also reports an increased demand, and prospects were never so good for a lively trade. I had a letter from Mr. C. R. Overman last week dated from Fort Wayne, Indiana, in which he tells me that they alone have booked over four times as many orders as last year."

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS buys the 1888 pattern Springfield Roadster, with ball-bearings all round; two rows of balls on each side of front wheels, two rows on each clutch-shaft, and one on each side of front wheel; two rows on each clutch-shaft, and one on each side on rear wheel, with our overlapped side-fork fastening, which makes a very rigid and firm anti-fraction bearing. ***

IT is deemed by the makers that the American Light Champion is the lighest of the light roadsters, a 54-inch '88 pattern, with all on, weighing but 37 1-2 pounds.

THE Rover, made by Starley & Sutton, is one of the strongest all-round machines made. Messrs. Starley & Sutton have always insisted that the "five-side" frame was the only proper one to use in this type of machine. That they are nearly correct is proven from experience of other makers. We expect to see a good many of Starley & Sutton's machines in the United States this year.

THE New Mail pattern for 1888 has been tried on the road this season, and a well-know rider was heard to remark that "it was the easiest-running machine he ever bestrode." This must be an exceedingly gratifying verdict for Messrs. Read & Sons, as they have aimed conscientiously to make the bearings of the New Mail as fine as human ingenuity can devise.

THE Rudge Crescent Tandem for 1888 shows many improvements in details, and the splendid advantages of this machine were warmly appreciated by its many riders last year.

THE Gormully & Jeffery Mfg, Co. have recently added a retail department to their factory. A handsome store has been provided on the main floor, and a full line of the American cycles, in every variety and finish, silently solicits the patronage of any visiting customer, though a competent salesman is in charge.

MR. ROSS, of W. B. Everett & Co., has just returned from a short but exceedingly successful trip Westward. Mr W. A. Doane, late of Stoddard, Lovering & Co., has accepted a position in Denver, Col., with W. L. Van Horne, and will push the Apollo in that vincinity.

THE inquiries made through the mail and personally to William Read & Sons by riders for information in regard to the Ivel Safety have been very numerous, since it became known that that firm were to handle this celebrated machine for this country. American riders should congratulate themselves that these wheels can be bought in the United States. If it is true that imitation is the highest kind of flattery, then Dan Albone ought to be happy, as the Ivel's lines have been carefully copied by more than one prominent maker. See our advertising columns for the announcement of this machine.

MR. R. OVERMAN has just returned to town, after an exceedingly successful trip out West. In fact, Mr. Overman says that business has never been so good with his firm as it is this year.

OUR St. Louis correspondent writes: "Mr. J. B. McCune, of the Springfield Bicycle Mfg. Co., paid the city a visit on April 3 and 4. He brought on a 46-inch Springfield Roadster with him, and requested Hal Greenwood to give it a trial. Hal at once complied, and in company with Mr. McCune rode out to Son of a Gun Hill, to test its qualities. Although Hal had been on this machine but once before, he had no trouble in climbing Son of a Gun with ease. After this performance he tackled the "Undertaker," a much steeper grade, and succeeded in climbing it two rail lengths beyond Arthur Young's mark. This is indeed a wonderful performance, and in a way establishes the reputation of the wheel, as being a hill climber, par excellence.

WE understand that the Kingston Knitting Company, are receiving many compliments from buyers of bicycle and Athletic goods for their elegant styles and excellent fitting garments, and their very reasonable prices.

THE English papers assert that Rowe will ride a new Rapid in his forthcoming races.

H. SQUIRES, of 178 Brodway, New York, and Strong & Green, of Philadelphia, will handle the Club Cycles for the coming year, The Coventry Machinists' Co. have just received an invoice of light 36-inch Marlboro's.

THE new check-nut and duplex screw which is fitted to the heads of the Columbia Light Roadster and Expert will convince any rider who advocate ball heads that, so far as keeping the head tight, these two improvements render that part of the machine as perfect as possible.

WE would remind Grand Rapids Star that this paper does not recognize anonymous communications. On receipt of name we shall be pleased to have our anonymous friend's letter put in type.

MR. ALICK HILL, of the Coventry Machinists' Co., has started on his business trip through this country. He has already made it evident that the Club bicycles will play a very prominent part in the total sales of machines made in the United States during the season of 1888.

THE FACILE SWALLOW.

Julius Wilcox, Importer, 33 Murray Street, New York.

The front-driving Geared Facile is identical with the familiar ungeared in shape and proportions (50 and 52 being the usual sizes), and in appearance is not distinguishable from that at a glance, as the only visible differences are in the small gear-wheels added and the slightly longer levers. Both the front and the rear-driving patterns were delayed in 1887, by some changes required in the patent geared axle, which has cost $8,000 to perfect, said to be one of the most beautiful pieces of mechanism ever put into a bicycle. In a general way, the rear-driver may be called a Facile reversed, the rider facing the back wheel and pushing that first. The driving axle is double, consisting of a hollow one connecting the hubs, and having as a fixture with it and the left hub the larger of the two-toothed wheels, outside the fork; within this hollow axle is placed the usual solid one, having the cranks on its ends. The inner axle runs freely and independently within the hollow one, and connection for the driving is made by the smaller toothed wheel, borne on the end of left crank, which transmits power to the larger toothed wheel. The left lever pulls down on this small pinion; the right lever in turn lifts it up, transmitting power through the solid axle and left crank, both levers driving alike. The effect is that, while the cranks and solid axle make one turn, the hollow axle and the wheel make one and a half.

The frame of the Swallow is wholly unlike any other machine. It consists of two Y's with their tops meeting above the wheel, and joined there by a ♎ tube, which serves as a backbone and also (being concave on its under side) as a mud-guard for the wheel. The single arms of the Y's form extensions for the levers, which are a little lengthened to offset the gear, the crank remaining the usual Facile length, three inches. A short curved tube carries the front of the saddle, and on its forward end the steering neck. The brake is a "plunge," the spoon having extra length to offset its working on a smaller wheel. The handles have a backward inclination. Handle-bar and brake-lever adjust together in height, and for convenience of stowing or packing are easily swung round parallel with the wheels, or removed altogether. Step (not shown in cut) is on extension. Lamp will be borne by a spring carrier on front fork. Foot-rests are not shown, but will probably be attached just back of the head, where they will have the peculiarity of not being interfered with by the turning of the wheel. Saddle is a special one, borne on three springs, supported on the three upright tubes, and adjustable in height. Steering-wheel is 28 inches; the driver varies from 36 to 42; the standard size—38, geared to 57—will fit nearly all persons.

Entire frame, including handle-bar, levers and connecting rods, is weldless steel tubing. Spokes are usually direct, and rims solid; but tangent spokes with hollow rims may be used. Head is the matchless "Abingdon," bearings are the Facile double-ball, every bearing being adjustable ball; the axle runs on five rows, and the machine contains in all 250 balls, the largest number ever put into a cycle. Finish, polished enamel with nickel trimmings.

The front fork has great rake, but the centres are in line with the point of contact with the ground; steering is all that could be desired, and the machine can be ridden without hands.

In material, construction and finish this machine is as fine as can be produced, and it may be added that riders whose ideas of the Facile are based on the machines of a couple of years ago are not aware of the progressiveness and improvement in them since. Increased skill is shown in them in many points; for instance, not only in the "Abingdon" ball neck, but in the insertion of the ends of the tubes into the solid lugs, instead of vice versa, the result being to not only improve the brazing, but to protect the tube ends from burning in the process. This particular "tip" was found on the Humber machines at this year's show by the representative of one of the cycling papers, and was by him innocently credited to "the wonderful mechanical genius of Mr. Humber," whereas it was seen in last year's show on the newer Facile patterns, and has been used by them ever since.

The following points of superiority over the chain machines are claimed for the geared Faciles by the makers, and are enumerated by the importer as follows:

1. Position of rider, the Facile action being fully vertical, on rising as well as descending pedal.
2. Shorter stroke; with a 6-inch crank and average gearing, the foot on the chain machine goes 15 3-4 inches to drive the wheel 170, whild on the geared Faciles it goes only 24 inches and drives the wheel 188 1-2.
3. Much easier as well as slower and shorter stroke.
4. Tread the narrowest ever attained, which in part accounts for the easy running.
5. Greater speed, with riders equally matched.
6. Better on hills, notwithstanding the gear averages six inches higher.
7. Less vibration, the wheels not being so extremely small.
8. Pedals do not go so near the ground, hence less liable to strike stones.
9. Lighter in weight, not because more slightly built, but because having fewer parts.
10. Bearings entirely escape the special and severe strain which those of the chain-wheel and driving-wheel must bear from the pull of the chain.
11. The gear wheels have less friction than the chain, and are much less exposed to trouble from mud and grit.
12. The gear wheels need less lubricating, and this is done more easily.
13. The gear wheels are easily cleaned.
14. The gear is noiseless, which a chain is not, and the Facile has no rattle from guards.
15. The Facile gear excels the chain in durability.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

MUCH has been said in the press concerning the Kentucky bill, prohibiting cycling, and it has been stated that the League was doing nothing in the matter. It is not with the blare of trumpet and the beat of drum that the League does its work, and in this case, as well as many another, a deal of quiet work is going on. The Rights and Privileges Committee took up the Kentucky case a long time since, and immediately communicated with the Chief Consul of Kentucky, giving instructions as to advised methods of procedure. The Chief Consul and the Committee are now in communication with the authorities, and vigorous methods will be pursued as soon as the necessity for action appears.

SINCE the above was written we have this from the Chief Consul of Kentucky: "The bill introduced in the Legislature prohibiting cycling on the Kenton County roads was refused to be acted upon by the committee to whom it was referred. Another victory!"

PRESS of business forces Chairman Cooley, of the Racing Board, to retire, after months of valuable service to the League. His election to be Mayor of North Plainfield may have something to do with the step he has taken. Mr. Caesar once remarked that he had rather be the first man in his native village than to be the second man in Rome, and Chairman Cooley may have the same idea. He will be succeeded by Gerry Jones, of Binghamton, who has been a member of the Board for several years, and who is well fitted for the position.

THE wheelmen of Washington are much exercised over the death of Mr. Paul, the principal of the high school, who was run down on his cycle by a pair of horses. A meeting was held at the quarters of the Capital Bicycle Club to take action to secure a thorough investigation. There was general condemnation of the recklessness of drivers in the streets of Washington, and a committee was appointed to collect testimony and employ legal assistance in the prosecution of the driver who ran down Mr. Paul. The lady riders sent resolutions of sympathy with the movement. Quite a sum of money has been raised to prosecute the case.

PENNSYLVANIA wheelmen who have been asked to serve as local Consuls, and those who have been requested to make arrangements with hotels, looking to their appointment as League hotels, are requested to fill out the blank postal cards sent them, or to communicate with the Chief Consul at once, in order to expedite the issue of the road book, which is to contain a full list of Consuls and hotels.

MARYLAND APPOINTMENTS.

"The Cabin John Bridge Hotel" is hereby appointed League Hotel, at Cabin John Bridge, Md. Regular rates $3.50 per day; rates to L. A. W. members, only on presentation of membership tickets, $2.75 per day, or 75c. each for breakfast, dinner and supper, and 50c. for lodging.

Local Consul—Mr. G. Herbert Beckley is hereby appointed Local Consul for Reisterstown, Md.

To Consuls of Maryland Division.—All Consuls of this Division are hereby reappointed to September 1st, 1888. Fraternally,

A. E. MEALY, Chief Consul.

APPOINTMENT RACING BOARD.

Dr. J. H. Cooley, owing to pressure of professional duties, having resigned as member and chairman of Racing Board, I take pleasure in appointing as his successor as chairman Mr. Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y., who is already a member of the Racing Board and thoroughly familiar with its workings.

T. J. KIRKPATRICK, President.

Nominations for Chief Consuls Wanted.

The Chief Consuls for the States of Colorado and Wyoming having failed to renew their membership in the L. A. W., I now declare their offices vacant. I would be pleased to receive nominations for the offices from the members in these States. Please make them at once. T. J. KIRKPATRICK, President.

IOWA APPOINTMENT.

H. B. Cropper, Esq., has been appointed as representative for this Division, to fill vacancy caused by the non-renewal of D. G. Kirschbaum.

ROBT. L. THOMPSON, C. C. Iowa Div.

To the Maryland Division, L. A. W.

As it is very important that our membership should be largely increased within the next few months, I would especially request that each and every member of this Division put forth his every effort to secure new members. If you know any wheelmen who are not L. A. W. members, or know of any such parties, kindly send me their names and addresses at once; then call upon them in person. In the meantime I will have sent them some printed matter that may assist you materially in securing their applications. Let every member of this Division enter into this work, with the determination that he will do his share toward bringing our State to the prominent place she should occupy. You have the material to work on, and all it wants is little effort on the part of our present members. So come forward every member, and do your share, and thereby increase your own personal benefits. Every new member of the Division secures more advantages for each and every member.

Fraternally yours,

A. E. MEALY, Chief Consul.

1521 Eutaw Place, Baltimore.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 134—Total 158—9010.

BOSTON, April 13, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—2—313.

Unattached.

1S114 Dyer, M. L., Los Angeles.
1S115 Hoyt, F. T., Jr., Box 2078, San Francisco.

CANADA—1—8.

Wanderers Bicycle Club.

1S116 Foster, Fred, 13 King St., Toronto.

COLORADO DIVISION—2—42.

Denver Ramblers.

1S240 Calderwood, J. Macdonald, 1316 18th St., Denver.
1S241 Tucker, John L., 1244 California St., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—2—388.

Unattached.

1S242 Law, W. H., 55 Crown St., Meriden.
1S117 Wilcox, H. P., Stamford.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—11—80.

Capital Bi. Club.

1S120 Botcler, Frank M., Box 299, Washington.
1S118 Wilson, Lewis D., 21 3d St., N. E., "
1S127 Wilkins, Ben T., Jr. "

Washington Cycle Club.

1S119 Atwater, Mrs. Geo. S., 2304 Pa. Ave., "
1S122 Dolan, P. V., 1410 Pa. Ave., N. W., "
1S126 Weber, D. E., 1246 8th St., N. W., "

Unattached.

1S121 Dodge, Herbert A., 717 A St., N. E., "
1S123 Smith, Mrs. Wm. E., 1827 Vermont Ave., Washington.
1S124 Town, C. E., 1st Aud. Treas., "
1S125 Toney, J. M. G., 1315 10th St., N. W., "
1S128 Tegeler, Miss Ella M., 716 12th St., N. W., Washington.

GEORGIA—1—15.

1S243 Ingram, T. L., Columbus.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—13—500.

Streator Wheelmen.

1S216 Colley, Lisle R., 55 River Ave., Streator.
1S217 David, Lester W., 141 Main St., "
1S218 Elder, Edgar B., 2 Bloomington St., "
1S219 Holmes, E. S., 9 Main St., "
1S220 Vanloon, E. C., 30 Main St., "

Ottawa Cycling Club.

1S129 Estabrook, Geo. P., Ottawa.
1S130 Hess, Louis W., "
1S131 Lynch, Thos. J., "

Unattached.

1S132 Fitzwilliam, Wm. R., Bloomington.
1S133 Loehr, Harry M., "
1S134 Lowentrout, Otto A., "
1S244 Finker, Chas., 182 Dearborn St., Chicago.
1S221 Farrell, Felix E., Jacksonville.

INDIANA DIVISION—3—165.

Terre Haute Bi. Club.

1S222 Griffith, V. N., 520 Wabash Ave., Terre Haute.

Unattached.

1S223 Chase, Frank W., La Fayette.
1S134 Wright, Nat C., Connersville.

IOWA DIVISION—7—114.

Dubuque Wheelmen.

1S136 Blocklinger, Albert H., 110 Broadway, Dubuque.
1S137 Eckert, Frank B., 230 Bluff St, "
1S138 Grievish, Ed. W., "
1S139 Guyett, Rod. G., Box 256, "
1S140 Herrenig, F. L., L. Box 17, "
1S141 Sears, Nathan F., 1592 Locust St., "
1S142 Upton, Chas. N., "

KANSAS DIVISION—1—108.

Unattached.

1S245 Schwinn, Benj. F., Fort Scott.

MARYLAND DIVISION—23—268.

Baltimore Cycle.

1S224 Abbott, C. F., 302 So. Chas. St., Baltimore

Hagerstown Bi. Club.

1S143 Beck, J. Ed., Hagerstown.
1S144 Dayhoff, Harry E., "
1S145 Grove, Clinton R., "
1S146 Hays, Chester P., "
1S147 Hays, R. M., "
1S148 Kefley, Malcolm S., "
1S149 Lechleider, Martin L., "
1S150 Lutz, Thos. W., Box 1, "
1S151 Miller, Emery H., Drawer L., "
1S152 Mobley, L. R., "
1S153 Mobley, W. B., "
1S154 Miller, A. W. S., "
1S155 Morrison, W. B., "

Unattached.

1S156 Stackhouse, Geo. F., care of W. S. Bomberger, "
1S225 Hubbard, Alvard, 116 N. Howard St., Baltimore.
1S161 Gillet, Edgar, 410 S. Eutaw St., "
1S162 Molinard, W. R., 217 South St., "
1S163 Sadtler, Albert, 2100 Druid Hill Ave., "
1S158 Caldwell, R. L., Glyndon.
1S158 Henry, Robt. S., "
1S159 Rich, Alex. M., Reisterstown.
1S160 Rich, Geo. Herbert, "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—12—1013.

Chelsea Cycle Club.

1S164 Catlin, W. A., care of E. R. R., Boston.
1S165 McCune, W. E., Box 704, Everett.

Easton Cy. Club.

1S248 Thomas, A. E., So. Easton.

Roxbury Bi. Club.

1S247 Silver, Joseph G., 7 Berlin St., Roxbury.

Suffolk Bi. Club.

1S246 Davis, F. R., 725 4th St., So. Boston.

Unattached.

1S166 Gray, Frank M., 417 Wash. St., Boston.
1S167 Hill, A. S., 239 Columbus Ave., "
1S168 Louden, I. Freeman, 210 Tremont St., "
1S170 Hewett, Herman S., Brockton.
1S169 Coburn, Dr. H. W., Lowell.
1S226 Hills, E. E., 8 Wash Sq., Worcester.
1S227 Mccorney, Chas. F., 410 Main St., "

MICHIGAN DIVISION—2—201.

Unattached.

1S171 Courtney, G. Y., 302 2d Ave., Detroit.
1S172 Shamafelt, W. C., Three Rivers.

MISSOURI DIVISION—6—281.

Joplin Bi. Club.

1S249 Henricks, J. W., Joplin.
1S250 Jenkins, T. B., "

Unattached.

1S173 Rutledge, W. T., Monroe City.
1S174 Scott, F. A., Moberly.
1S228 Brugler, Rev. Chas. F., 1615 Lucas Pl., St. Louis.
1S229 Greenwood, S. N., 3017 Dickson St., "

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—3—570.

Dennisville Bi. Club.

1S175 James, Fluviel W., Dennisville.

Unattached.

1S176 Clarke, Geo. H., 15 Robinson St., New Brunswick.
1S177 Williams, Will F., Box 779, Plainfield.

NEW YORK DIVISION—24—1934.

Auburn Cycle Club.

1S252 Cossum, Fred J., 2 Mary St., Auburn.
1S253 Ellis, Frank M., 34 Genesee St., "
1S254 Forrest, Chas. A., 165 Van Anden St., "
1S257 Osborn, Herbert, 77 Seymour St., "

Citizens' Bi. Club.

1S178 Ross, Reuben W., 347 W. 32d St., New York.

Long Island Wheelmen.

1S230 Cole, W. L., 565 Carlton Ave., Brooklyn.
1S231 Hare, W. Irving, 224 Wash. Ave., "
1S232 Topping, A. P., 270 Classon Ave., "

New York Bi. Club.

1S179 del Genovese, Albert, 66 Fulton St., "

Syracuse Cycling Club.

1S180 Schell, H. R., 74 So. Salina St., Syracuse.

Yonkers Bi. Club.

1S233 Kingsbury, Arthur W., 49 Warburton Ave., Yonkers.

Unattached.

1S185 Hecox, W. H., Jr., 29 Chestnut St., Binghamton.
1S182 Nickerson, L. M., 89 So. 6th St., Brooklyn.
1S183 Doll, A. M., Gas Light Co., Buffalo.
1S255 Kellogg, H. W., Castile.
1S256 Lucas, T. W., "
1S184 Flack, A. H., Clavereck.
1S180 Hutchinson, Geo. W., Hornellsville.
1S188 West, Chas. F., Glen's Falls.
1S234 Blanchard, H. J., Groton.
1S251 Cooke, Alfred Sherman, Gas Light Co., Lockport.
1S181 Thornall, Clarence E., 1133 Lexington Ave., New York.
1S187 Keeler, Harvey T., Walden.
1S258 Wright, Arthur T., "

OHIO DIVISION—16—707.

Canton Bi. Club.

1S260 Trump, H. A., Eagle Block, Canton.

Orrville Bi. Club.

1S235 Bechel, H. M., Orrville.
1S236 Tanner, P. E., "

Toledo Cycling Club.

1S189 Fisher, Geo. M., Jr., 135 Summit St., Toledo.,
1S190 Hodge, James, "
1S191 Knights, Carl, Pliny, Watson & Co., "
1S192 Nelson, R. A. Collingwood Ave., "
Wellington Bi. Club.

1S193 Crabtree, Vincent, Wellington
1S194 Horr, Chas. P., "
1S195 Wight, John W., "

Unattached.

1S197 Howells, J. A., Bridgeport.
1S198 Scott, J. M., "
1S261 Smith, E. R., 9 Rouland St., Canton.
1S262 Smith, Mrs. E. R., 9 Rouland St., "
1S196 Clark, Herbert, Wellsville.
1S259 Sigmund, Will S., Springfield.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—11—1188.

Chambersburg Wheel Club.

1S199 Rhinehart, L. M., Green Village.

Unattached.

1S203 Shutt, Will J., Bloomsburg.
1S204 Philips, S. Jones, Kenneth Square.
1S239 Swigert, J. Clyde, Newville.
1S201 Bowne, W. N., 1023 Spruce St., Philadelphia.
1S203 Edwards, R. E., 305 Walnut St., "
1S202 Chambers, Wm. P., 909 Penn. Ave., Pittsburg.
1S237 Cornice, E. P., Central Stock Yds., "
1S238 Myler, T. F., E. Liberty " "
1S205 Weaning, Arthur F., Waynesboro.
1S200 Ballinger, A. L., 746 W. 4th, Williamsport.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—17—192.

Social Wheelmen.

1S206 Campbell, Ernest W., 231 Prarie Ave., Providence.
1S207 Thornton, Edward C., 110 Oxford St., "

Unattached.

1S267 Tyler, Geo. F., Anthony.
1S208 Walker, Arthur C., Centreville.
1S212 MacAllen, Geo. I., Central Falls.
1S204 Andrews, Taney G., 121 Federal St., Providence.
1S209 Bruce, B. T., 103 Pine St., "
1S271 Collins, J. F., 25 Andern St., "
1S268 Campbell, Chester I., 135 Pavilion Ave., "
1S209 Donle, Fred. H., 18 Spring St., "
1S210 Macleod, F. W., Box 269, East Providence.
1S211 Worrall, Henry, Jr., 13 Haswell St., Providence.
1S213 Phillips, H. O., 170 Broad St., Pawtucket.
1S214 Walker, Hugh, Saylesville.
1S270 Campbell, James, Box 761, Rumford.
1S265 Foster, Charles A., Washington.
1S266 Foster, George A., "

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1—78.

Unattached.

1S215 Patrick, R. J., Hampton.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Universal Cycling Club, Brooklyn, N. Y.

NEW CLUB.

Dubuque Wheelmen, Dubuque, Iowa.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 1; and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

LEAGUE MEET COMMITTEES AND HOTEL ARRANGEMENTS.

The annual meeting of the L. A. W. will be held at Baltimore, Md., June 18, 19, 20. Correspondence relating to matters connected with the Meet should be conducted with the chairmen of the different committees, as given below:—

General Committee.—Chairman, A. E. Mealy, 1521 Eutaw place; Secretary, R. M. Lockwood, 1731 McCulloh street. This committee is made up of the chairmen of the different sub-committees, and has full control of the entire arrangements for the meet.

Finance Committee.—Chairman, W. H. Beatly, No. 92 Dugan's wharf.

Reception.—Chairman, Geo. S. Hagerty, care of Keen & Hagerty, Baltimore. All communication on securing advance hotel accommodations and storage of wheels must be addressed to this committee.

Transportation (Local).—Chairman, Jos. Chism, 10 E. Lombard street. All information as to how to reach Baltimore during the meet will be furnished by this committee, or by the National Transportation Committee.—Chairman and Western representative, B. B. Ayres, 152 S. Hoyne avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Eastern representative, Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 West 58th street, New York.

Entertainment.—Chairman, Albert Mott, 1513 Barclay street, Baltimore.

Parade.—Chairman, E. P. Hayden, care of Drovers & Mechanics, National Bank, Baltimore.

Races.—Chairman, Sam'l T. Clark, 2 and 4 Hanover street, Baltimore.

Tours and Runs.—Chairman, F. W. Pope, 7 South street, Baltimore.

Programme (Official).—Chairman, Milton S. Wood, care of A. Hoen & Co., Baltimore.

Press.—Chairman, C. R. Eisenbrandt, 424 E. Baltimore street.

Hotel Arrangements.—The Carrolton Hotel (American) can accommodate 400 guests; terms $2.50 to $4.00 per day; to L. A. W. members during the meet, $2.00 to $3.00 per day, according to location of rooms.

The "Hotel Rennert" (European) can accommodate 100 guests; terms, single rooms, $1.50 to $3.00; double rooms, $2.50 to $4.00 per day; a reduction of 50 cents per day will be allowed L. A. W. members. Suites of apartments, containing parlor, bed, bath and toilet rooms, from $6.00 to $10.00 per day; a reduction of $1.00 per day to L. A. W. members.

The Eutaw House (American), accommodations for 250 guests. Terms, $2.50 to $3.50 per day; to L. A. W. members during the meet, $2.00 to $3.00 per day, according to location of rooms.

Guy's Hotel (European), accommodation for 200 guests. Terms, single rooms, $1.50 per day; double rooms, $2.50 per day; with a probable reduction to L. A. W. members.

MASSACHUSETTS ROAD BOOK. Those who join the League in second quarter, paying $1.75, can get book of Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass., by paying ten cents. League members in other States can get book for $1.

NEW YORK ROAD BOOK. 200 pages. Price to Division members $1.50; to League members from other States, $1.50. Remit to A. B. Barkman, 108 4th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

CALIFORNIA ROAD BOOK. 100 pages. M. R. Gibson, 612 Hyde St., San Francisco, Cal.

OHIO ROAD BOOK. Bound in leather, $1; in cloth, 50c. Frank C. Meyer, Canton, Ohio.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

....., 188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... P. O. Address, ...

City and State, ...

References: .....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance, In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞ If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

Duplex Whistle. Price, 50 Cents.

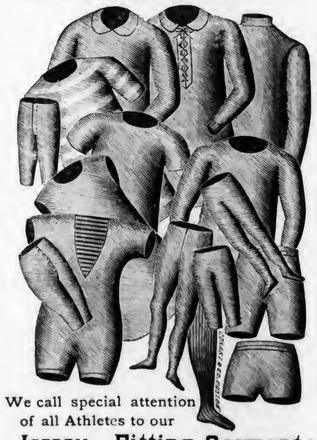
Tone loud and clear, with none of the harsh, grating sound usual to whistles designed for this purpose. Riders who have used the old Duplex Whistle have found it to be very inconvenient on account of the great amount of force required to produce the sound necessary to be heard at a distance. This is entirely overcome in these new whistles, as the very slightest effort is all that is required to blow them. Address all orders to

Ask Your Dealer for

The Springfield Roadster Whistles

AND

Yost's Air-Drying Enamel.



The Best Ever Offered. 50 Cents per Bottle.

Single Tube Whistle. Price, 40 Cents.

Springfield Bicycle Mfg. Co., - - - No. 9 Cornhill, Boston.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

We call special attention of all Athletes to our

Jersey - Fitting Garments

Each Garment in above cut we make in three different qualities.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List.

Manufactured by

HOLMES & CO.,

17 Kingston St., Boston, Mass.

Please mention this paper.

ANKLE ACTION

(See L. A. W. Bulletin Feb. 24th) is learned the easiest and best on the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND. Price $7.50. In Bicycles, Tricycles and Sundries, we can also please you with style, quality, price and terms.

☞ Correspondence solicited.

M. A. WOODBURY,

43 and 45 Mechanic St., Bradford, Pa.

THE BICYLING WORLD (established 1879.) The leading cycling paper of America; employs the best writers on cycling subjects, and makes a specialty of practical articles relating to cycling. All the news, carefully edited and given with dispatch. One Dollar a year.

$3.00 Per Pair.

TOULMIN'S BUFFALO BICYCLE SHOE,

Is made of the finest genuine Kangaroo or Dongola in any size or width.

Greatly improved over 1887 Shoe; is the lightest, strongest and easiest shoe made.

☞ Send for Circular.

Liberal Discount to Clubs and Bi. Agents.

Also Manfr. of the celebrated

Buffalo Base Ball Shoes.

W. B. TOULMIN,

77 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

JOHN HARRIOTT,

MANFACTURER OF

Bicycle and Athletic Medals,

CLUB PINS & BADGES,

DESIGNS ON APPLICATION.

3 Winter Street, - Boston, Mass:

BEFORE BUYING,

SEE OUR LISTS.

HART CYCLE CO.,

No. 811 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

THE CYCLIST, the leading paper of England, is a well-filled newspaper, containing the earliest, the best and fullest reports of all wheel matters. No other paper covers the ground as the Cyclist does, and it is not only the largest in size, but has by far the largest circulation of any wheel paper. Edited by Henry Sturmey and C. W. Nairn. $2.50 per year, including postage.

TRCYCLISTS' INDISPENSABLE ANNUAL AND HANDBOOK. By Henry Sturmey. Describes every machine made, with detailed analysis of all the various parts, principles or novelties in present use, etc. Profusely illustrated. Edition for 1884, revised and enlarged, 50 cents, by mail. There will be no edition of this book for 1885.

BICYCLING NEWS—the Cyclers' Illustrated Paper—Every week by mail for a year, $2.50. Contains sketches of the latest inventions and of well-known European and English routes. Also special correspondence from the United States and all countries; useful information and accounts of tours. The oldest and most interesting cyclists' paper in the world.

TRICYCLING FOR LADIES. By Miss F. J. Erskine. "For some time past there has been a real need with many ladies who have had their interest awakened on the subject of tricycling for some small book which should put them in possession of the most useful and necessary information without having to pay for it by their own experience. This want is now supplied, and in Miss Erskine's book will be found hints on the choice and management of tricycles, with suggestions on dress, riding and touring, etc., adapted to a lady's special requirements." 25 cents.

TWO PILGRMS' PROGRESS, "From Fair Florence to the Eternal City of Rome—Delivered under the Similitude of a Ride, wherein is Difcovered the manner of their fetting out, their dangerous journey and fafe arrival at the Defired City." By Joseph and Elizabeth Pennell. A delightful book of travels on a tandem, and containing nearly 200 pages of letter press by Mrs. Pennell, and numerous iustrations from the pencil of Jo Pennell. The book is elegantly bound, and is an ornament to any table or library. Price, $1.60, post paid.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

Of Interest to Cyclers.

Well, here we are!!

And we've come to stay, too.

We propose to have SOMETHING of interest to say to you each week; something FRESH and READABLE.

To commence with, it will not be amiss to call your attention to our REPAIR SHOP and unexceptional facilities for repairing wheels. If you wish anything done in a thoroughly workmanlike manner we can accommodate you.

We not only claim to do repairs as they should be done, but we also claim to have the best line of wheels in the world.

The VICTOR-BICYCLE, TRICYCLE and SAFETY

VICTOR CYCLES are not NEW.
Victor Cycles are not CHEAP.

For six years they have compelled the esteem of the best riders in the land.

Though thousands make up the family of Victor riders, it is yet an exclusive family, composed only of those who appreciate the fact that it is genuine economy to buy the best.

As the horseman is judged by his beast, so is the cyclist by his wheel.

"The apparel oft proclaims the man;" and to-day, he who rides a Victor is looked upon as a wheelman of judgment. His choice is sufficient proof that he appreciates merit.

WHETHER

Mounting the hill,
Coasting the grade, or
Spinning the long miles, the
VICTOR IS NOWHERE LESS THAN VICTOR.

Its reputation has caused it to be freely copied; and it is well known that high grade cycles, in common with other lines of fine goods, are made to suffer by the cheap imitations which are offered by makers whose chief aim is to market an inferior article by trading upon the reputation of those of known merit.

If you are wise you will

Keep up with the Procession.

Your eyes will tell you that all over the land the old riders—those who have learned to know a bicycle when they see one, and who will not ride if they cannot have "the best thing"—are riding

VICTORS.

ASK any Victor rider
How his machine RUNS.
How it coasts,
How it climbs hills, and see what he says.

VICTORS ARE NOT THROWN TOGETHER THEY ARE BUILT

Cycling in America having passed its pioneer period, the question now is not, "Shall we ride wheels?" but "What wheels shall we ride?" This question has been decided to the complete satisfaction of a large proportion of the Wheelmen of this country by their experience with the VICTORS, a line of wheels of the highest grade, presenting more thoroughly good features than any others.

Call and examine the wheel.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. | 108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO.

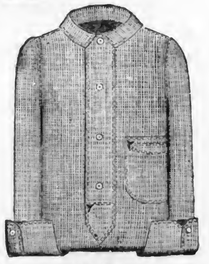
A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

BICYCLE UNIFORMS.

COATS.



A Grade—Made to order of Special Bicycle Cloth, in Gray, Black and Navy Blue, best quality.....$15.00
B Grade—Made to order of good quality Cloth, Gray, Black and Navy Blue..... 12.00
C Grade—Made to order of heavy Flannel, Gray, Black and Navy Blue..... 9.00

KNEE PANTS.

A Grade.....$7.50
B Grade..... 6.00
C Grade..... 5.00

Send for samples of Uniform Material.

SHIRTS.

A Grade—Made to order of extra fine imported Flannel, best in the market.....$5.00
B Grade—Made of fine imported Flannel..... 3.50
C Grade—Made of imported Flannel..... 2.50

BICYCLE BELTS.

No. 00. Extra heavy nickel buckle..... .50
No. 1. Leather mounted..... .40
No. 2. Best leather mounted..... .50
No. 3. Leather mounted, cotton web..... .25

BICYCLE SHOES.

No. BX. Spalding's Hand Made Kangaroo Bicycle Shoe, cut low, with leather sole and low heel.....$5.00
No. CX. Spalding's Dongola Bicycle Shoe, made same as No. BX..... 4.00
No. DX. Spalding's Canvas Bicycle Shoe, leather trimmed and sole..... 2.50

Spalding's Catalogue of Summer Sports and Athletic Uniforms Free,

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO. | 241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

BICYCLE CAPS.

No. A—30. Made of same material as No. A Grade of uniforms.....$2.00
No. B—30. Made of same material as No. B Grade of uniforms..... 1.75
No. C—30. Made of same material as No. C Grade of uniforms..... 1.25

BICYCLE HOSE.

No. 000. The Holmes Bicycle High Stocking and Supporter. The thigh part is of soft material, cool and comfortable, and so knit as to hold stockings in place; at the same time it relieves any drawing or pressure. We have sole control of this stocking. Colors: Black, navy blue, gray and L. A. W. Brown.....$2.50

No. 00. New Linen Sole Bicycle Stocking. A new and specially valuable addition to the cyclist's comfort. It is a handsome ribbed stocking, made in all colors, and the feet are made of the finest linen, which is almost as soft and pliable as silk. The advantages of this stocking (which is covered by a strong patent) are of course very evident, namely, having a splendid serviceable leg, and keeping the feet cool and comfortable.

Price per pair.....$1.25

No. 0. Fine Ribbed Bicycle Hose..... 1.50
No. 1. Plain Wool Bicycle Hose..... 1.00

Spalding's Bicycle Catalogue

Mailed Free.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO. | 241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

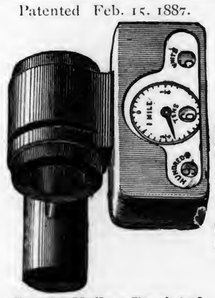
Davis Patent Road Machine.



This machine is in successful operation for making new roads, and scraping all roads to a level, laying out gutters, and rounding up the middle in handsome shape. The machine is built of Ash timber and heavy iron work. The pole is 16 feet long, and so hung in the two-wheel carriage that it can be raised and lowered at will by means of the lever, as shown. The scraper is secured to the pole by means of a heavy steel spud, which allows angling to right or left by means of the circle iron, and the draft is always direct from whiffletrees to scraper through draft-rod under pole.

☞ Send for Circular and Price.

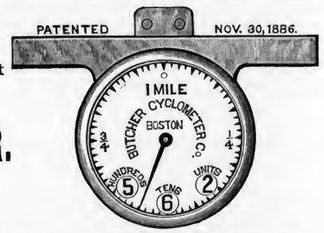
J. W. DAVIS & CO., 134 Water St., NEW YORK.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records

Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.



SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,

6 and 8 Berkeley Street,

BOSTON, MASS.

Free by Mail on Receipt of PRICE, . . $10.00.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.

SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, ... $5.00.

Second-Hand Wheels,

Bought, Sold and Exchanged. Send for Second-hand List and our large illustrated Catalog of Wheels and Accessories, with full particulars of our terms of easy payments. Of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Liberal discounts to agents on second-hand Wheels. Prices on all Wheels guaranteed as low as the lowest.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

Bicycles on Easy Payments.

Victor, Springfield Roadster, New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on Easy Payments with no extra charge except 8 per cent. interest. Low rates by fast freight or express. Bargains in Juvenile Wheels of Best Makers, at from $6.40 up. Large line of Accessories. REPAIRING AND NICKEL PLATING.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

BETTER THAN EVER.

PUNNETT'S

JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.

Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.

Club Uniforms a Specialty

Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.

PUNNETT,

Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

L. A. W. BADGES,

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle Street,

Portland, Me.

Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

THE TRICYCLE IN RELATION TO HEALTH AND RECREATION. By B. W. Richardson, M. D., F. R. S. By mail, 30 cents.

LOOK!!

BARGAINS

IN

SECOND HAND BICYCLES

The Largest Stock North of New York City.

Guns and Sporting Goods.

Bicycle Repairing a Specialty.

F. P. EDMANS & CO.,

TROY, N. Y.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS' CO., LTD.

1888.

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE

OF THE

"CLUB"

BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

MANUFACTURED BY THE

COVENTRY MACHINISTS' CO.,

LIMITED,

COVENTRY, ENGLAND.

U. S. BRANCH,

239 COLUMBUS AVE., BOSTON, MASS.

GEO. W. STEVENS, MANAGER.

INTRODUCTION.

After twenty years of successful cycle making, we think the present a suitable opportunity for giving a short resumé of the work of the COVENTRY MACHINISTS' COMPANY, which is the oldest, as it is one of the largest, of the firms devoted to the production of cycles in the world.

Originally started by a few local capitalists in 1859, to provide employment for inhabitants of Coventry thrown out of work by the decay of the ribbon trade, for which the "City of Three Spires" had previously been famous, the earlier years of the Company were devoted to the manufacture of sewing machines.

In 1867, however, the bicycle first made its appearance in France: and the managers of the Company at once saw that there was a future, however long that future might have to be waited for, for any firm which took up the bicycle in a large way and with a liberal spirit. What this energetic forethought of the early managers of the Company has resulted in, as regards not only Coventry, from a trade point of view, but for the whole country, is now a matter of history.

After a few years of "boneshaker" making, a march forward was made by the introduction of the spider wheel and the rubber tyre: and in the "GENTLEMAN'S." Bicycle, the Company — in 1873-4 — had one of the best machines up to date. This was followed by the "SPECIAL CLUB," a bicycle in which it was sought, and successfully, to reduce vibration to a minimum. This machine revolutionized the whole bicycle trade, and in spite of all imitations, the "Special Club" still retains its position as the finest roadster made. Since then two descriptions of "Safety" bicycle have been successfully sent out from the Cheylesmore workshops.

In the interim came the early days of the tricycle, when, with lever action and a Bath chair handle to steer by, the "Speedwell" Tricycle was made by the Company, and held its own when tricycling was young. The rotary action speedily followed, and then came the "Cheylesmore," the most successful rear-steering tricycle which was ever put on the market.

Though quite content with the "Cheylesmore," from a financial point of view, the Company, having made up their mind to be in the first rank always, and to march with the times, brought out the front-steering "Imperial Club," and, to suit those who preferred the two large wheels in front, likewise made the "Sandringham Club." The fame of these two machines was as a "household word;" but still, fashion, or fancy, required something new, and the front-steerer, guided by means of a handle-bar, after a short experience on the "Ranelagh Club," merged into that tricycle which is now known most favorably everywhere as the "Marlboro' Club."

Improved, as it will be, and with a specially light pattern weighing about fifty pounds, the Company have every faith that the fame of the "Marlboro' Club" Tricycle will be even greater than it has been in the past.

In 1881 business had so developed that it was deemed desirable, in London, to abandon the agency principle, and to open a special London office, which was consequently done at 16 Holborn Viaduct. In two years this establishment had to be doubled by taking in the next-door premises, and now the Company have at once the largest and finest depot, both for window display and repairing workshops, in the British Metropolis. Branch depots of the Company also exist at 9 Victoria Buildings, Manchester; at 239 Columbus Avenue, Boston; and at 4 Avenue de 'lOpera, and 34 Rue Quatre, Septembre, Paris.

The Company have also great gratification in referring to a special grant of Royal favor in the appointment of them as manufacturers to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales — a privilege accorded to no other firm or company in the trade.

The foregoing short retrospect will, we think, enable us, without fear of a charge of egotism, to say to the public of 1888 that, since the first bicycle was turned out in 1867, up to the present time, when 600 men are busy turning out both bicycles, safeties, and tricycles in the greatly extended works at Cheylesmore, Coventry, it has been, and is, the Company's first thought to give the cycling public exactly what they want of the best possible material and finish.

For 1888 we have improved the "King of Clubs" Ordinary Roadster Bicycle, now fitted with a 24in. back wheel and Brook's International saddle and spring.

The "Swift" Safeties, while retaining all the points which made them so popular during the past season, have been altered in several details. A new and lighter-pattern frame is made, which is eminently suitable for countries where the roads are good. The No. 2 is an equally good machine of another type. The "Junior's Swift" we have been induced to make owing to the flattering reception of the "Junior's Club" Tricycle during the time it has been on the market.

The "Marlboro' Club" is improved for the coming year in various details, the driving wheels being made smaller, and four bearings fitted, if preferred, in place of the two extended bearings which were so eminently satisfactory last season. Our patent spring forks are fitted at option of purchaser. A new pattern of this machine is introduced this year, in the shape of the "Marlboro'" Light Roadster, designed to meet the requirements of those who, riding on good roads, wish to travel at a rapid rate. That the "Marlboro' Club" is undoubtedly the fastest tricycle ever made will be proved by a glance at the records on page 16.

The "Marlboro'" Tandems need no remarks — being so well known they speak for themselves. A new machine is made this year (non-convertible), which, we are confident, will give every satisfaction to purchasers.

We are somewhat ashamed to make our annual apology for delay in delivering machines. The large provision made, we thought, would be ample to meet any demand that might arise, but the increase of business was so great that it proved entirely insufficient. The large extensions and additions made this winter will, we trust, be sufficient to enable us to supply machines during the coming season in a more reasonable time.

OUR SPECIALTIES

AND

PATENTED IMPROVEMENTS.

In order to show at a glance the principal features that go to make up a high-class Bicycle or Tricycle, we beg to enumerate some of our most important Patents and Specialties: —

1. THE DOUBLE OR HOLLOW FELLOE (Bicycle and Tricycle).
2. THE RUBBER SUSPENSION SPRING (Bicycle).
3. SPECIALLY-CONSTRUCTED DUST PROOF & ADJUSTABLE BALL BEARINGS (Bicycle and Tricycle).
4. LOCK-NUTTED SPOKES ("Special Club" Bicycle).
5. DETACHABLE CRANKS (Bicycle).
6. THE "CHEYLESMORE" AUTOMATIC CLUTCH GEAR (Tricycle).
7. THE IMPROVED PATENT SWING LEVER BRAKE (Tricycle).
8. BALL PEDALS (Bicycle and Tricycle).
9. ELLIPTICAL OR OVAL BACKBONE (Bicycle).
10. FLUTED HOLLOW FORKS (Bicycle).
11. IMPROVED LONG CENTRES (Bicycle).
12. NEW SLIDING ARRANGEMENT FOR ADJUSTING SADDLE HORIZONTALLY.
13. NEW PATENT SPIRAL SPRING (Tricycles).
14. AUTOMATIC STEERING FOR "MARLBORO' CLUB," &c., &c.
15. NEW PATENT SPRING FORK FOR REMOVING VIBRATION FROM STEERING WHEELS OF FRONT-STEERING TRICYCLES AND SAFETY BICYCLES.
16. FOLDING HANDLE-BAR FOR TANDEM AND LADIES' TRICYCLES.
17. NEW PATENT BALL BEARING HEAD.

THE "CLUB" PATENT HOLLOW FELLOE as used in the construction of the "King of Clubs" Bicycle, the Marlboro' Light Roadster, and all our racing machines, is made by rolling seamless steel tubing into a crescent form, thus avoiding the inherent weakness of other forms of hollow felloe made in two parts, or folded over. We have used this felloe now for eight years with perfectly satisfactory results.

OUR NEW DIRECT TANGENT SPOKES, used in the "King of Clubs" Bicycle, are headed in the rim and screwed at a true tangent into the hub, without bend or twist of any kind, doing away with the liability to break, which is a great fault with tangent spokes laced through, or simply headed in the hub and screwed in the rim. Competent judges who saw the few samples we had last year, pronounced it the finest tangent wheel made.

THE PATENT ADJUSTABLE "CLUB" BALL BEARINGS used in all our machines, are made entirely by us, with new and improved machinery constructed for the purpose. Four years ago we laid down an expensive plant for the sole purpose of making the balls for these bearings. They are made from the finest quality of steel, and will run for years without an appreciable amount of wear, unlike the cheap rolled balls in common use.

THE "CLUB" BALL PEDALS are too well known to need much description, but should our customers prefer any other make, they will be substituted.

THE FINEST COLD DRAWN STEEL TUBING is used in all our machines, and we guarantee every part to be constructed of the very best material procurable. The nickel plating and enamelling is done by specially designed and improved processes, and the care and skill bestowed upon our machines has reaped its reward in making the workmanship and finish of the "Club" Cycles synonymous with the highest excellence attainable.

The above are a few of the points embodied in the machines described in the following pages. We have purposely refrained from filling the specifications of the machines with unnecessary details, but should our friends desire information on any point not sufficiently explicit, the same shall be cheerfully given them.

BOSTON, MASS., March 1st, 1888.

The King of "Clubs."

(IMPROVED FOR 1888).

SPECIFICATION. — Hollow front and split back forks; round backbone; Stanley head; long centres and deep neck; 24in. back wheel; adjustable single ball bearings to both wheels; ¾in. and ⅝in. tyres; ¾in. hollow felloe to front wheel; patent direct screwed tangent spokes; front wheel grip lever brake; detachable cranks; 26in. patent detachable hollow handle-bar; handles, head, spring, hubs and cranks nickel-plated; enamelled plain black; improved spring and saddle combined; rubber or rat-trap ball pedals; plated spanner and oil-can; tool bag.

PRICE, 50 inches, ... $130.

Ball Pedals Included.

If fitted with Ball Head, $2.50 extra.

The "Universal Club."

SPECIFICATION. — Improved slide spring; plain hollow forks; round backbone; Stanley head, with long centres; improved single ball bearings to both wheels; steel hubs, with direct butt-ended spokes; front wheel grip brake; 26in. or 28in. patent detachable bent handle-bar; painted in two colors; spokes enamelled; hubs plated; saddle; rubber ball pedals; spanner and oil-can; tool bag.

PRICE, 50 inch, ... $105.

The "Swift" Safety, No. 1.

SPECIFICATION. — 30in. wheels, geared to 57in.; ball bearings to both wheels and cranks; adjustable seat and handles; spokes enamelled and bright parts plated; patent method of adjusting the chain; enamelled black; rubber or rat trap ball pedals; plated spanner and oil-can; tool bag.

PRICE, ... $135.

A lighter pattern of this machine, with hollow felloes, weighing 35lbs., is made.

PRICE, ... $140.

The "Swift Safety, No. 2.

SPECIFICATION. — 30in. wheels geared to 57in.; ball bearings to both wheels and cranks; adjustable seat and handles; spokes enamelled and bright parts plated; enamelled black or painted two colors; rubber pedals; spanner and oil-can; tool bag.

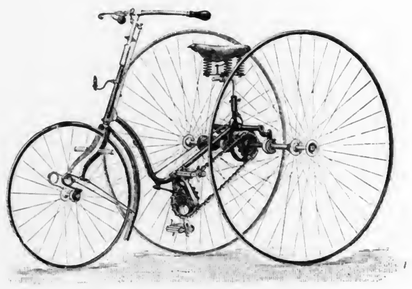
PRICE, ... $120

The "Swift" Safety Racer.

SPECIFICATION. — 30in. wheels geared as desired; ball bearings to both wheels, cranks, and pedals; spokes enamelled and bright parts plated; ½in. hollow felloes and ½ in. best red rubber tyres; enamelled plain black; plated spanner and oil-can.

PRICE, ... $145.

(Including ball pedals.)



The "Club" Safety.

SPECIFICATION. — 36in., 38in. or 40in. driving wheels geared up as desired from 50in. to 60in.; the forks are carried direct to the main axle so that all twist in the bearings is prevented; sufficient rake is allowed to prevent all chances of "croppers;" the adjustment of the chain is extremely simple: the crank bearing slides into a dovetailed slot, and is fastened by a set-screw from the front; both wheels are fitted with ball bearings, and the crank shafts revolve on a double row of balls each side; spokes enamelled and bright parts nickel-plated; painted in three colors or enamelled plain black; a very comfortable spring, which allows of considerable horizontal adjustment of the saddle; suspension saddle; rubber or rat-trap ball pedals; plated spanner and oil-can; tool bag.

PRICE, ... $125.

The "Marlboro' Club."

SPECIFICATION. — A central-geared automatic front-steerer; the steering rod is adjustable and carried direct to the front wheel; hand brake; fitted with our patent adjustable ball bearings to all parts and our patent spring fork to front wheel; nickel-plated bright parts; enamelled plain black; ¾in. rubbers. Made with two extended bearings, or four, at option of purchaser.

STANDARD SIZE. — 36 or 40in. driving wheels; 28 or 26in. front wheel; gearing, 54 to 57 in.

PRICE, ... $180.

When ordering please state whether automatic steering, or two or four bearings are required.

The "Marlboro Club" Racer.

SPECIFICATION. — Same as "Marlboro' Club" Roadster, with the exception of ½in. hollow felloes and best red rubber tyres. Ball pedals. Enamelled plain black, and bright parts plated. Gearing as required. [26in. driving wheels, 24in. front wheels.

PRICE, ... $190.

(Including ball pedals.)

"Marlboro' Club" Tricycle

HOLDS THE WORLD'S RECORDS.

FOR

¼ Mile	40 ⅘ secs.
½ Mile	1 min. 20 secs.
1 Mile	2 min. 45 ⅘ secs.

(The latter being the fastest time ever made in a race.)

"F. W. ALLARD BREAKS RECORD."

"On Saturday, 22nd October, at Coventry, F. W. Allard, on a Coventry Machinists' tricycle, went for the tricycle record from 20 miles to 50, and succeeded in doing some 6m. 16s. better than A. L. Bower's time. Twenty miles were covered in 1h. 3m. 6s. Allard being a suspend, Bower's record, of course, will stand in the record books of the Union."

MLS.	H.	M.	S.	MLS.	H.	M.	S.
21	1	6	7	36	1	53	53
22	1	9	12	37	1	57	13
23	1	12	18	38	2	0	31
24	1	15	25	39	2	3	55
25	1	18	32	40	2	7	21
26	1	21	41	41	2	10	49
27	1	24	50	42	2	14	20
28	1	28	1	43	2	17	56
29	1	31	15	44	2	21	45
30	1	34	25	45	2	25	27
31	1	37	36	46	2	29	16
32	1	40	52	47	2	33	7
33	1	44	5	48	2	36	53
34	1	47	20	49	2	40	32
35	1	50	35	50	2	43	53⅗

Wheeling, Oct. 26th, 1887.

HOLDS THE N.C.U. CHAMPIONSHIP (5 Miles) in 1886.

ALSO THE

CHAMPIONSHIPS OF GERMANY & AUSTRIA, 1887.

The "Marlboro' Club."

(LIGHT ROADSTER.)

SPECIFICATION.— A central-geared front-steerer; adjustable handle; hand brake; fitted with ball bearings to all parts, except pedals; four bearings on axle; nickel-plated bright parts; hollow rims; painted three colors or enamelled plain black; ⅝in. rubbers; plated spanners and oil-can; tool bag.

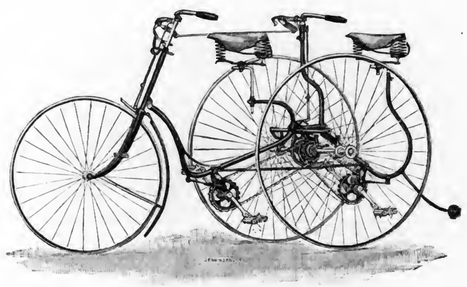
36in. driving wheels; 28in. front wheel; geared to 54in.

PRICE, ... $185.

The "Marlboro' Club," No. 2.

SPECIFICATION.—40in. driving wheels; 28in. front wheel; ball bearings to driving-wheels and crank axle; patent double driving gear; crescent steel felloes; direct spokes; ⅞in. red rubber tyres; adjustable handle; hand brake; automatic steering; handles and hubs nickel-plated; spokes and remainder enamelled black; rat-trap or rubber pedals; spanners and oil-can.

PRICE, ... $160.



WORLD'S TANDEM RECORD

(250 MILES IN 24 HOURS),

RIDDEN BY A LADY AND GENTLEMAN.

The "Marlboro' Club" Tandem.

(CONVERTIBLE.)

SPECIFICATION.— Patent double-driving gear; adjustable handles; ball bearings to all parts; extended bearings and patent double band brake, applied by either or both riders, with lever for each rider; enamelled plain black; ⅞in. rubber tyres; patent spiral springs; handles, hubs and cranks nickel-plated; plated spanner and oil-can; easily converted into a single "Marlboro'." Made with two extended bearings or four bearings on axle. Double steering.

Standard size of driving wheels, 40in.; front wheel, 28in.

PRICE, ... $250.

When ordering, please state whether two or four bearings are required.

The "Marlboro' Club" Tandem

HOLDS THE WORLD'S RECORDS

FOR

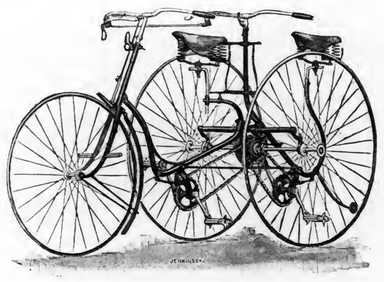
1-4 MILE TO 25 MILES INCLUSIVE.

¼ Mile (flying start) . . 35⅕s.
1 Mile . . . 2m. 37⅜s.

MLS.	M.	S.	MLS.	H.	M.	S.
2	5	42	14	0	41	6⅖
3	8	37	15	0	44	2
4	11	35	16	0	46	58⅖
5	14	28⅕	17	0	49	50
6	17	21⅘	18	0	52	48⅕
7	20	18⅗	19	0	55	54⅘
8	23	19	20	0	58	51⅗
9	26	18⅗	21	1	1	43
10	29	17	22	1	4	45
11	32	13	23	1	7	50
12	35	10⅖	24	1	10	51⅕
13	38	9	25	1	13	42⅘

September 20th, 1887, Messrs. C. W. BROWN and W. C. GOULDING rode

259 MILES IN 24 HOURS.



September 24th, Messrs. C. W. BROWN and G. R. WHITE rode

100 MILES IN 7H. 6M. 50S.

250 miles have been ridden in 24 hours by a lady and gentleman.

The "Marlboro' Club" Tandem.

(NON-CONVERTIBLE.)

SPECIFICATION.—Patent double driving gear; adjustable handles; ball bearings to all parts; extended two bearing or four; spoon brake to front wheel and band brake to axle; enamelled plain black; ⅞in. or 1in. tyres to all wheels; handles, hubs and cranks nickel-plated; plated spanners and oil-can; tool bag.

36in. driving wheels; 28in. front wheel.

PRICE, ... $250.

When ordering, please state if two or four bearings are required.

The "Boy's Own."

SPECIFICATION.—Adjustable ball bearings to front wheel; cones to back wheel; direct spokes; crescent felloes; ¾in. and ⅞in. rubber tyres; cone pedals; bent handle-bars; round steel backbone; head, handle-bar, brake, spring and hubs plated; spokes black; remainder painted in two colors.

No deviation from standard patterns can be made.

PRICE, 36 to 38 in., $45; 40 to 44 in., $50.

The Junior's "Swift" Safety.

SPECIFICATION.—24in. wheels; improved dust-proof parallel bearings; tubular steel frame; semi-hollow forks; Arab spring; plated handle-bars, brake lever and hubs; enamelled plain black or painted two colors.

No deviation from standard pattern can be made.

PRICE, ... $70.

"Junior's Club" Tricycle.

(AUTOMATIC STEERER.)

Ball Bearings to Main Axle and Pedal Shaft.

PRICE, . . 30 in., $60; 36 in., $75.

No deviation from standard pattern can be made.

PRESS NOTICES, ETC.

"On the lines of the 'Marlboro',' but with the improvements of direct (free) steering and the new tangent spokes (described fully in the 'Club' bicycles.) The whole framework is exceedingly light, and all necessary parts are easily adjustable, and, as may be supposed, there is no useless weight. On several occasions it has appeared successfully on the path, so that it is not an untried steed. Recently, on the 19th Oct., 1886, at Lynn, Mass., United States, in a twenty four hours' race, Miss Louisa Armaindo, 'the lady cycle champion,' and W. J. Morgan, rode 250 miles in 24 hours, and, a few days later, at the same place, made five miles in 15m. 47⅘s., and twenty miles in 66m. 12⅖s. In England it has also been most successful, but we will only cite one instance. At the Kildare Sports, Lillie Bridge, London, 11th Sept., 1886, Messrs. Allard and Bower won a one mile handicap from scratch in 2m. 57s., the fastest tandem time ever ridden on the ground. There is always a value in such performances, as they show what can be done on the machine. Standard size—36in. driving, geared up to 64in., with 28in. pilot."—Bazaar. May 7th, 1887.

"The Coventry Machinists' Co. seems to be piling up records for their machines lately, as will have been noticed by referring to this weeks's issue, and several late issues giving English records." — Bicycling World, November 11th, 1887.

"The Tricycling Championship of Austria has been won by A. Slid, on a 'Marlboro' Club.'" — Bicycling World, August 5th. 1887.

ENGLISH TRICYCLE RECORDS.

"E. Kiderlen, on Tuesday, the 12th inst., rode a mile on a 'Humber Cripper,' on the Long Eaton track, in 2m. 38⅗s., the quarter mile occupying 40⅘s., the half-mile in 1m. 59⅘s. On the night after (Wednesday), F. W. Allard made promateur tricycle records as follows: Quarter mile, 40⅖s.; half-mile, 1m. 20s. Mr. Allard rode the 'Marlboro' Club' tricycle." — Bicycling World, August 5th.

"At Coventry, July 13th, F. W. Allard lowered the quarter-mile and half-mile tricycle records, in spite of a rough track and strong wind; he finished his quarter-mile in 40⅖s., inside record. Allard rode, as usual, a 'Marlboro' Club,' and Oxborrow acted as pacemaker." — Bicycling World, August 5th.

"Outing" has despatched Mr. Osbert Howarth to the Azores, where he will ride down the crater of the mammoth volcano on his 'Marlboro' Club' tricycle — at least so says Bicycling News."—Irish Cyclist, 24th August, 1887.

"TOURING IN NORWAY."— Messrs. H. J. Leake and S. Golder, of the Speedwell and Coventry District Cyclists, have just completed a lengthy cycling tour in Norway, visiting, amongst other places, Christiansand, Christiania, Drammen, Homledal, Tunvolden, Honefos, Radsfjord, Odnæs, Tomlevolden, Sveen, Frydenlund, Fagernäs, Reieu, Grindaheim, Skogstad, Nystuen, Maristuen, Husum, Borgund, Blaaflatin, Saerdalsoren, thence down the Sogne Fjord to Sogndal, Balholm, Vik and Vandheim to Bergen. Making Bergen their headquarters, trips were made to Vossevangen, Hardanger, and Stavanger. They speak very highly of the Norwegian roads, the surface in many places being far better than our English roads. Altogether they had a most pleasant trip, and any one wanting an enjoyable holiday, cannot do better than visit the rocky North. The machine ridden was a 'Marlboro' Club' tandem, by the Coventry Machinists' Company, which behaved itself admirably, nothing in any way going wrong, although the machine, with its sixty-pound luggage, was put to several very severe tests. A tandem they consider is the best machine for Norwegian touring, the roads being terribly narrow and winding." — Bicycling News, 10th August, 1887.

"The Coventry Machinists' Co. have, as usual, swept the board in Germany, the Tricycle Championship of Germany and International Race both being won on a 'Marlboro'' racer. The National and International Tandem Races were secured by riders of the 'Marlboro'' tandem, and the 'Swift' Safeties won all the safety events." — Cyclist, August 31st, 1887.

"On Saturday, Allard and Oxborrow established a new tandem record for the mile on one of the Coventry Machinists' Co's 'Marlboro' Club' Tandems. The previous best was 2m. 38⅗s., made by Kiderlen (Dutch champion) and Dr. Turner at Long Eaton in July last. Allard and Oxborrow did the mile in 2m., 37⅗s., a reduction of 1⅕s. Afterwards the same riders made a tandem record of 35⅕s. for the "flying quarter of a mile," being only ⅖s. behind bicycle record for the same distance." — Daily Telegraph, August 29th, 1887.

"Messrs. Brown and White, on a 'Marlboro' Club' Tandem, have lowered the 100 miles road record to 7h. 6m. 50s., beating the previous best by 23m. 10s." — The Cyclist, September 28th, 1887.

"259 miles now stands as tandem record for 24 hours, and is credited to Messrs. Goulding and Brown and the 'Marlboro' Club.'" — The Cyclist, September 28th, 1887.

"Last Saturday the North London T.C. held their annual Ten Miles' Race for the Club Championship over a somewhat trying course from Chigwell to Ongar in Essex. The men finished as follows: C. W. Brown (1); W. C. Goulding (2); H. T. Whorlow (3); C. Jeans (4); L. C. Brookes (5); J. Greenwood (6). The winner's time was 39m. 30s. Goulding close up. Brown rode a 'Marlboro' Club' racer, Goulding and Whorlow 'Wasp' roadsters, and Jeans and Brookes 'Quadrants.'"

"The same standard for driving-wheels, 40in., is retained, but the height of the pilot has been increased to 24in., and the 'Marlboro'' spring has been added as a connecting medium and vibration-breaking link between the fork-ends and fork-axle; it takes the form of a double curled spring."

"It is most comfortable on rough roads, and, the foot-rests being on the curved forks, the full benefit of the spring can be enjoyed." — Bazaar, May. 7th, 1887.

PARTICULARS OF THE TWENTY-FOUR HOURS' ROAD RACE

"On Tuesday last Messrs. C. W. Brown and W. C. Goulding (North London T. C. and North Roads C. C.) made a successful attempt to beat the 24 hours' tandem record held by Messrs. Marriott and Bird, which has stood since 1884; distance, 231 miles."

"Several attempts have been made on this record, but in all cases the machines have been unable to stand the prolonged strain. Messrs. Goulding and Brown have been unable to practice, and had never been on a tandem together before. However, mounted on a gem of a 'Marlboro' Club,' they felt very confident of success. Their own account is as follows: —

"'We left Hitchin, 34th milestone, at midnight, timed off by Mr. Whorlow, and with Mr. Austin as pacemaker all went well to Eaton Socon, where we posted a card to the Records Committee. Just beyond here we let the tandem go down a slight hill, which left our pacemaker behind. However, we kept steadily on to Buckden, where our lamp went out, and the night being exceedingly dark, we were compelled to dismount and re-light it. Just before reaching Alconbury we nearly ran over a cow which was asleep in the middle of the road. Our lamp now gave signs of burning out, and through a mistake in the wick we had to re-light it eleven times before we reached Wisbech, losing about six miles by doing so."

"'We posted another card at Peterborough, and completed our 50 miles at 3.50 a.m. The road from here was very bad, with ruts and stones, and we were not sorry to reach Wisbech, 69 miles, at 5.30. Here Mr. J. White was in readiness with breakfast, and we left with him at 5.55. At Sutton Bridge we got our book signed by the tollman, and reached Lynn, 90 miles, at 7.30. At Narborough our pace was too much for Mr. White, who was unwell, and we went on alone to Swaftham and East Dereham, where we stopped five minutes. Then on to the Gate House, Norwich, 132½ miles, where Mr. Endersby was waiting with chops and tomatoes. We arrived at 11.12 a.m., and were congratulating ourselves in having the wind behind on the return journey, as it had been blowing hard against us since 3 a.m., but on leaving at 11.50 we found it slightly against us, and in a mile or two it blew harder than ever. Five miles from here Mr. Endersby's safety went wrong, so we were left alone again, which rather took the heart out of us. However, stuck to it against the wind back to Wisbech, where we expected another pacemaker, but were disappointed. We arrived at 5.50 p.m., and left at 6.5. Our lamp would not burn, so we had to go ten miles an hour instead of twelve back to Peterborough, 217 miles, where Mr. White again met us, and then on to Norman's Cross, 223 miles. We stopped five minutes, and left at 9 p.m. At Alconbury we tied the record, and kept on to Buckden, where we stopped for the last time. At Biggleswade we met the timekeeper, Mr. Whorlow, and he called at 11.40; so with Messrs. G. P. Mills and Dudley Marks on a tandem pacing, we settled down to another five miles. We finished at the 40th milestone at midnight, Whorlow calling time. We had covered 259 miles, and our machine was as rigid as at the start. We have to tender our thanks to those riders who assisted us during the ride."

"It is worthy of note that on Saturday last the same machine was ridden in the North Road C.C. 100 miles race by Messrs. C. W. Brown and G. R. White, who easily defeated the other tandems, doing the distance in 7h. 6m. 50s., which goes into the book as record."

SUNDRY DEPARTMENT.

In all cases where customers have no ledger accounts with us it is necessary that REMITTANCES SHOULD ACCOMPANY ORDERS. Postage charged extra.

BAGS—

Ordinary,		$1 00
Cyclist wallet,		1 50
Handy bag,		2 00
Don,		2 00
C. M. C. valise,		4 00
Bags for luggage,	from	5 00

BELLS—

Single alarm,		1 25
Harrison double alarm,		2 00
Perfection,		2 50

BEARINGS—

Balls,	each	10 cts.
Rear wheel pin and cones,		$1 25
Cones adjusting,		75
Oil hole covers,		05

BRAKES—

Bicycle spoon,		1 00
Lever and bracket,		1 50
Brake spring,		15
" band		1 50

CEMENT— per bot. 25

CRANKS—

Nickel-plated,	per pair.	4 00
Cap and screw,	each	25

CENTRE PINS for Bicycles— " 75

Cup for bottom centre,	"	50
Head covers,	"	50

CHAINS— per foot 1 00

Chain adjuster,	each	50
Guards for Tricycle,	"	3 00
" " Safety,	"	1 50

CYCLOMETERS—

Brook's,	5 00
Lakin's Standard	10 00

ENAMEL— per bottle 50

HANDLES—

Bicycle cranked,	per pair	5 00
Horn ends,	"	1 50
Rubber,	"	2 00
Handle bar nuts,	"	20

LUBRICATORS—

Spring tops,	each	25
Slide,	"	15

LAMPS—

King of the Road, head,	4 00
" hub,	4 50
Salsburys Invincible, for Safety and Marlboro',	6 00
Wick,	05

LOCKS—

Brass,	75
Yale brass,	1 00
" plated,	1 25

LUGGAGE CARRIERS—

For Tricycle, 3 00

NUTS

$\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{9}{16}$	15
$\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{8}$	10

OIL—

C. M. C. Lubricating,	per bottle	20
Lamp oil in cans,	from	50

OIL-CANS—

Ordinary,	15
Paradox,	25

PEDALS—

Rubber, cone,	per pair	5 00
" ball,	"	10 00
" rat-trap,	"	10 00
Bowns,		10 00
Pedal pins, cone,	each	1 00
" ball,	"	1 25
Cones only,	"	50
Rubber, small,	"	25
" large,	"	50

PLATE POWDER— 25

POLISHING PASTE— 25

STEPS—

Club adjustable, 2 00

SADDLES—

Ordinary,	from	1 00
Long distance,	"	2 00
Buffer saddle,		5 00
Kirkpatrick,		6 00
International,		6 00
Club tricycle saddle,		6 00

SADDLE PILLARS— each 1 50

SPANNERS—

C. M. C. handy, complete	1 00
" large part only,	75
Acme,	50

SPRINGS—

Rubbers for Am. Club, large,	40
" " small,	30
Blades,	1 50
Arab Cradle,	5 00
" double action,	6 00

SPOKES—

Large plain,	each	15
" plated,		25
Small plain,		10
" plated,		15
Locknuts for Am. Club,		10

SCREWS—

Various small,	05
" large	10

STANDS—

Wicksteeds, 2 00

TYRES—

56 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	5 50
54 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	5 25
52 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	5 00
50 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	4 75
48 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	4 50
44 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	4 25
40 × $\frac{7}{8}$,	4 00
40 × $\frac{3}{4}$,	3 25
26 × $\frac{3}{4}$,	2 50
24 × $\frac{3}{4}$,	2 25
20 × $\frac{3}{4}$,	2 00
16 × $\frac{3}{4}$,	1 25

WHISTLES—

Whistle and chain, 25

Any article not named in the foregoing list will be procured to order at manufacturers' prices with the least possible delay.

APPRECIATED? RATHER!

The NEW MAIL. 1888.

APPRECIATED? RATHER!

Trigwell Ball Head.

No doubt about this. New Testimonials coming in every day about it, and orders from all parts of the country for the New Mail for its Splendid Specialty, the Trigwell Ball Head. This is a New Mail Year and a Trigwell Ball Head Year.

Have yor seen it, or received a Catalogue?

And now we offer also

THE IVEL.

From the Wheel.

THE MOST NOTED SAFETY.

Winner of the World's Safety Record!

Used by Mills, Furnivall, Langredge, Liles, etc.

While many new Safeties are being brought out and experimented with, we have taken the Agency for what has been proved a Success, and the Best, by fast Road Records, and now we offer the World Renowned "Ivel" Safety.

The first lot will be ready for delivery at our warerooms April 15th, and we invite wheelmen to book their orders early, as already many have done so, being cognizant of the Splendid Qualities of this machine. We anticipate first lots will be quickly taken up. Don't place your order for a safety till you see them! The SAFETY OF 1888.

IVELS!

WILL BE IMPORTED BY WM. READ & SONS.

We are pleased to learn that Messrs. Wm. Read & Sons will import the famous Ivel wheels. In looking over the list of English rear-driving safeties, none can be found which could become more popular than the Ivel safety.

At the Stanley Show a number of improved Ivels were shown, which received the most favorable comment from the cognoscenti.

THE IVEL SAFETY.

The Ivels are well known, and have earned a high reputation upon the road and path. In the Ivel safety, the principle of making the steering-wheel a trifle bigger than the driving-wheel was first adopted, this, without doubt, having a great effect in making the machine run easily, and all who have tried the Ivel, have a good word for its remarkably easy steering, a desideratum of no small importance in this class of machine. This sterling cycle holds many records on the road, which, as the maker very truly says, proves the machine to be at once safe and comfortable. Mr. George P. Mills has ridden 295 miles in twenty-four hours upon it, whilst he has also covered fifty miles in the wonderful time of 2h. 47m. 36s., both performances being accomplished upon the ordinary highway.

☞ Those desiring a Safety should inspect these at our warerooms, or get a descriptive Circular.

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington Street, - Boston.

☞ Send for Descriptive Safety Catalogue, containing many testimonials from good judges of Safeties, and such, as best guides.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY

THE KINGSTON KNITTING COMPANY,

27 Kingston Street, BOSTON, MASS.,

Would call the special attention of the Trade to their excellent line of ATHLETIC GOODS, in the Latest Styles of the season, and for beauty of design, elasticity and durability cannot be excelled. We weave all of the cloths and manufacture from the best Worsted and Woolen Stock, which gives us many advantages in getting up beautiful effects, in Polo, Bicycle, Gymnasium, Lawn Tennis, Yachting, Rowing, Base Ball, Fencing Suits, Leotards and Dress Suits, in mixtures, solid colors, and the more delicate shades. Also, L. A. W. Suits, very stylish. All of these goods are gotten up in Light, Medium and Heavy Weights, as ordered.

Our Knee Pants and Full Body Tights are the admiration of all who wear them, the introduction of our New Suspensory Pocket and reinforcement giving ease and comfort to the wearer, and are great promoters of health, and highly recommended by Eminent Physicians and Professors of Physical Culture.

Our Bicycle Hosiery is made of fine Worsted Stock, Glove-fitting, and to match the shades of our garments. Those we are now introducing of Linen Fashioned Soles and Toes, are a great comfort in warm weather, and very durable.

The TRADE will find it decidedly for their interest to do business with us. Our prices are very reasonable. Correspondence solicited.

Send for our Circular. KINGSTON KNITTING CO.

The "BEST" Bicycle Whistle.

This Whistle is pronounced by all Cyclists to be the most convenient,

Loudest and "Best" call on the market.

The mouth piece is so constructed that it can be held easily in the mouth, and with little effort will produce a loud sound.

PRICE, 25c. EACH. Discount to Dealers.

WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

Rubber Tires, all sizes, at reduced prices.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

About the Columbia Light Roadster.

The handsomest machine on the market to-day.
A genuine light-weight Bicycle.
About seven pounds lighter than the Expert.
Lighter than other "light roadsters."
For its fourth season.
Such improvements in details of its construction as experience has shown advisable.
National reputation for ELEGANCE, EASE of RUNNING, and STRENGTH.
Holding the first place among light roadsters.
The best procurable material.
All of the highest grade steel.
All drop forged or cold rolled.
No castings.
Front wheel spokes at a somewhat greater angle than the last year's machine, making three crossings.
The steering head cylindrical, slightly tapered, of new design.
The strongest handle-bar, attached in the simplest and best way.
Cold drawn seamless steel felloes, the strongest and most rigid made.
Positive locking device for steering head set-screw.
Tubular rear forks, the strongest and most rigid made.
Improved Kirkpatrick saddle.
A full description of the Columbia Light Roadster is found in our new Illustrated Catalogue, which is sent free upon application.

POPE MFG. CO.,
Boston, New York, Chicago.

RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

A large invoice of these famous machines, and also of the well-known

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER,

Just received.

Rudge Catalogue Free.

H. M. SABEN, Manager,
152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

THE BICYCLING WORLD & BULLETIN.

FOUNDED 1878

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy. | BOSTON, 20 APRIL, 1888. | Volume XVI. Number 25.

To Be Sure

every wheelman in the country doesn't ride a Victor, neither does every man in the country wear good clothes, but if you will notice what the best riders are using you will see that

VICTOR CYCLES

are away up at the front. When you want to find out what wheels are most used, look over the wheel centres, like Boston, New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Buffalo, &c. Victors are preferred because they have Bown's Æolus Ball Bearings all round, Compressd Tires, guaranteed to stay in, True Tangent Spokes, Warwick Hollow Rims, Square Rubber Pedals, &c. In short because they

ARE BUILT TO RIDE.

Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN WHEEL COMPANY, MAKERS, - - BOSTON.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

FOR SALE—Standard Columbia, bright and enamel, plain bearings, C. H. Bars, Spade Handles. First-class condition. $50.00. C. E. LATHROP, Armada, Mich.

FOR SALE—Quadrant Tandem, Lakin Cyclometer, Luggage Carrier, Lantern, Bell, all complete; A1 condition; can be seen at Dr. R. W. SOUTHWELL, 1 Dexter Row, Main st., Charlestown.

FOR SALE—1887 New Rapid Rover Safety; used carefully one season. Price $100. W. A. MEEKER, Agent New Rapid and Quadrant Cycles, 329 River st., Troy, N. Y.

MUST BE SOLD—New Club Tandem, convertible and detachable; enameled; excellent condition; Lamps, Luggage Carrier, Spanner, &c. One 51-inch enameled American Champion, practically as good as new. Lock Box 18, Whitehall, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, new 1886, not used 1887; balls all round; safe, fast and satisfactory; first-class condition. Price $150. Address R. F. SHANNON, 907 Liberty st., Pittsburg, Pa.

BRAND NEW New Mail, '88 pattern; warranted perfect. $115. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street, Boston.

58-INCH English bicycle for sale; Balls all round, including pedals. Cow-horn bars, spade handles, and all modern improvements. New last fall. Owner going abroad. $70 takes it. GEORGE D. HAZARD, Room 83, Equitable Building, Boston.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert, enamel and nickel, Kirkpatrick saddle, King of Road lamp; machine and tyres scarcely show a scratch; all just as good as new; good reason for selling. Price, $85.00. Address G. W. GAIL, Jr., care The Clark Cycle Co., Baltimore

BIG BARGAINS—One 51-inch Columbia Light Roadster, 1887 pattern; spade handles; ridden one season; perfect condition; not a weak spot in it. $100, including Butcher's Cyclometer. One 51-inch Rudge Light Roadster, brand new; never ridden; $110. Lock Box 202, Holyoke, Mass.

FOR SALE—One 54-inch American Champion Bicycle; full nickel; ball bearings all round; Kirkpatrick Saddle; in use since January, 1888; good as new. Best offer over $80 takes it. Address L. E. WELCH, Jr., Albany, Ga.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One Columbia Ladies' 2-track Tricycle. One 54-inch Expert Columbia (C) finish. One 50-inch Standard Columbia, full nickel; all of these wheels are as good as new, and will be sold cheap. Correspondence solicited. Will trade for a good Columbia Tandem. Address PALLISTER BROS., Ottumwa, Iowa.

FOR SALE—Sparkbrook Tandem, perfect order; new tires, ball pedals, cyclometer, lamp, buffer saddles, enamel and nickel trimmings. A bargain. H. E. BIDWELL, Pittsburg, Pa.

FOR SALE—50-inch American Rudge; balls all around; run one season; in No. 1 condition. Address W. F. BIERY, Weissport, Pa.

FOR SALE—50-inch Harvard, nickled, except felloes, cow-horn bars, Butcher cyclometer, Ross luggage carrier, two saddles, balls to both wheels. Bargain, $55.00 cash. H. VAN BUREN, 59 Perry street, New York.

FOR SALE, or change for Safety, 50-inch Bicycle; tangent spokes, balls all around; Church Cyclometer, run about 500 miles. Address H. C. THROPP, Weissport, Pa.

55-INCH CLUB—weight 34 pounds, all ball bearings; slightly used, tires perfect. Price $115. FRED A. METCALF, 40 Clinton st., Brooklyn, N.Y.

ONE 54-inch Royal Mail Racer. Cost $140 when new; never has been ridden but twice; will sell for $60. W. H. BARRETT, 13 Market square, Lynn, Mass.

CHEAP! 1 Coventry Rotary Tandem, $120. 1 Genuine Humber, $150. 1 52-inch Victor Roadster, $85. 1 52-inch Light Rudge (nickeled), $80. 1 54-inch Light Rudge (enameled), $74. All wheels in good running order; warranted, and bargains. Address H. J. BARINGER, Jr., Bicycles, Hudson, N.Y.

FOR SALE—New Columbia Light Roadster Tricycle, list $165; will sell for $140 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit, Mich.

WILL EXCHANGE fine 18-mos. old Mastiff Dog, for Bicycle of equal value. Address EXCHANGE, care Bicycling World.

FOR SALE—56-inch Expert, enamel and nickel; Lillibridge Saddle; adjustable spade handles, rat trap pedals, ball all around, King of the Road Lantern (new); in fine condition. Price $100. Address "BICYCLE," Box 707, Geneva, Ohio.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycle, Springfield Roadster preferred. Give description and exact condition. Must be cheap. H. M. FLETCHER, Peoria, Ill.

FOR SALE—American Star Special, and Expert Columbia 60-inch, at very low prices. Address P. O. Box 269, Cincinnati.

FOR SALE—Club Tandem; balls all around; in fine condition. Price $150. Apply Room No. 14, 32 Pemberton sq., Boston.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN—A Genuine Humber Tandem Tricycle, in excellent order. $125 cash. Good reasons for selling. Address J. D. CANDEE, 300 Asylum street, Hartford, Ct.

NOTICE—A 50-inch Victor Bicycle, half-nickel; good as new; ball bearings. $85. For particulars address WM. T. KIERNAN, Albany Cork Works, Albany, N. Y.

FOR EXCHANGE—10 acres good Florida orange grove land, value $2.50 to $3 per acre, for a 52-inch nickel plate Bicycle. Address T. H. HARRIS, 76 West Bay st., Jacksonville, Fla.

FOR SALE—A 53-inch Mail, in first-class condition; new Butcher Cyclometer. A. HALL, 17 Court st., Boston.

FOR SALE—My 56-inch Expert Columbia Bicycle, practically as good as new. Price $80. A. S. PARSONS, No. 105 Magazine st., Cambridgeport, Mass.

4 BARGAINS—One 48 and one 50-inch Standard Columbia; one 48-inch Facile, '87 pattern, practically new; one Kangaroo, of English make. Full particulars on application. NOVELTY MFG. CO., North Adams, Mass.

BICYCLE FOR SALE—A 56-inch American Rudge, in good condition. Price $75.00. ARTHUR H. TUCKER, Blue Hill, Mass.

FOR SALE—Victor Tri., used but little, $110; Marlboro' Tri., used two months, $115; Marlboro' Tri., excellent condition, $100; Safety Bi., only used a few times, $100. EDW. P. BURNHAM, Park st., Newton, Mass.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

BICYCLES—Second-hand, sold on commission for owners. For full particulars see our ad. in The Wheel, or address MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycles for cash, or will trade any new make wanted. Send full description and lowest price. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, Peoria, Ill.

BICYCLES—Taken in exchange for new Buggies, roll curtain office desks, or Type Writers; Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

SPADE HANDLES—For any machine, $2.50 pair; cow-horn handle bars, with lever, $3.50. Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

FOR SALE—50 and 52-inch Expert, 1887 pattern; 50 and 58-inch, '86 pattern Victor Tricycle, old style; good as new; $80. Springfield Roadster, $97. 50 and 52-inch Harvard, cheap. Cyclometers, saddles, etc., cheap. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 49 Cortlandt street, New York City.

JOHN HARRIOTT,
MANFACTURER OF
Bicycle and Athletic Medals,
CLUB PINS & BADGES,
DESIGNS ON APPLICATION.
3 Winter Street, Boston, Mass.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

We call special attention of all Athletes to our
Jersey - Fitting Garments
Each Garment in above cut we make in three different qualities.
Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List.
Manufactured by
HOLMES & CO.,
17 Kingston St., Boston, Mass.
Please mention this paper.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

This Supporter is in use by Bicycle Riders, Base Ball Players, Athletes, and Gymnasts, and we are told that it is the best and most satisfactory supporter made.

Let every Sportsman try them.

PRICE $1.00.

Jersey Fitting Supporter.

Will send by mail on receipt of price. Send size of Waist and Hip.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Jersey Fitting Underwear Co.
17 Kingston St., Boston Mass.

THE Standard Gloves.
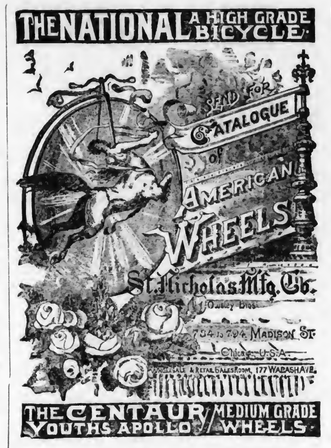
Made from
CALIFORNIA BUCK SKIN,
with Open Backs—(or Knit, if preferred).

Reinforced and padded where the greatest wear comes; open fingers which gives full use of hands; fastened across the back of wrist with a patent fastener. These gloves will never get hard no matter how wet they get. They will always remain soft and pliable. A great help to avoid cutting the hands in case of a fall. Cyclists who have once used these gloves will never go without them.

Price, by Mail, Best Quality, $1.25 per pair.
W. C. BOAK, Le Roy, N. Y.
Discount to the trade.

M. D. Corey on the Veloce Columbia.

More About Incomes.



I stated last week that persons with moderate incomes, who could not afford the outlay required to purchase a Bicycle or Tricycle for cash, might take advantage of my "EASY TERMS" plan, and, by making small weekly or monthly payments, soon become the "full paid up" owner of a wheel. I might also suggest lthat a neat litte sum might be saved by purchasing a Good Second Hand Wheel. I have a few Bicycles in stock that are exceptional bargains (sizes 50, 52, 54 and 56), and several TRICYCLES and TANDEMS, all leading makes. Detailed description will be furnished by mail, and the wheels guaranteed as represented.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

NEAR THE PARK.

BICYCLING NEWS—the Cyclers' Illustrated Paper—Every week by mail for a year, $2.50. Contains sketches of the latest inventions and of well-known European and English routes. Also special correspondence from the United States and all countries; useful information and accounts of tours. The oldest and most interesting cyclists' paper in the world.

BADGES, MEDALS, Etc.
MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS.
H. C. HASKELL,
18 John St., New York.
Correspondence Invited.

THE FAMOUS CUSTOM-MADE
PLYMOUTH ROCK $3 PANTS
Full Suits and Overcoats
t proportionate prices

Owing to the enormous number of mail orders received from New York City alone we have opened there a branch salesroom, at 285 BROADWAY, opp. Stewart Building.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS

where our New York customers may call and be measured, without the rouble of writing us. But, if our goods are so desirable in New York, surely they must be bargains to the customer in the country, where clothing is higher. These goods are within the reach of every one in the United States, all at the the same price, excepting cost of postage or express. Upon receipt of 6 cents we mail 20 samples of cloth to select from, self-measurement blanks, and a 48-inch linen tape-measure. If you cannot wait for samples, tell us about what color you prefer, send us your waist, inside-leg and hip measures, together with $3.00, and 35 cents to prepay express or postage, and we will guarantee safe delivery and perfect satisfaction. For any cause, we refund money upon request, or make another garment if customer desires. The Amer can Express Co. (capital $20,000,000) will promptly reply to any inquiry sent their Boston office. Address all mail to us at Boston office.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PANTS CO.,
18 Summer Street, Boston Mass.

THE BICYCLING WORLD (established 1879.) The leading cycling paper of America: employs the best writers on cycling subjects, and makes a specialty of practical articles relating to cycling. All the news, carefully edited and given with dispatch. One Dollar a year.

CAN YOU TELL A GOOD THING WHEN YOU SEE IT?

IF SO

READ THIS!

Jersey Fitting Ribbed Stockings

75 cents and $1.00 Per Pair.

SOLD EVERYWHERE FOR $1.50 AND $2.00.

Elastic Enamel, 50 Cents per Bottle.

We are the only dealers who advertise to send it by mail. They all say it can't be done. Wewill send it just the same.

REAL SPADE HANDLES, $2.50.

Not the kind that break every time your wheel falls down, but the very best ones made, and we guarantee them to fit. Prominent manufacturers are putting these Handles on their '88 Wheels.

CYCLE SUPPLY CO.,

3 Berkeley Street, : : Boston.

No. 1.

THE * SPRINGFIELD * ROADSTER

FOR 1888.

YOST & McCUNE PATENTS.

No. 1 cut shows the $75 Springfield Roadster which retails for $75, with plain and cone bearings, nickel-plated trimmings, Fish Saddle, Tools and Tool Bag.

No. 2 cut shows the $100 ball bearing Wheel, with spade handles, cow horn shaped handle bars, enamel finish, and nickel-plated trimmings.

These Wheels preserve the beauty of the ordinary Wheel, with absolutely safety qualities, not to be overlooked by those who anticipate riding, and appreciated by all old riders.

CATALOGUE FREE.

No. 2.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., -	New York, N. Y.
KIRK BROWN, - - -	Philadelphia, Pa.
C. F. STOKES, - - -	Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - -	St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - -	San Francisco, Cal.
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., -	Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street, Boston.

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, No. 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

All our orders call for the Ball Head!

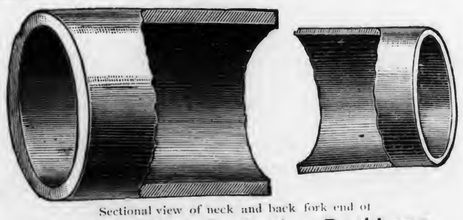
Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps

NEW MAIL.

Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

Specialties Found in No Other Wheel.

The New Mail is having a remarkable demand.



A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Sure 'tis a Trigwell Ball Head Year!

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it before selecting your mount, it don't cost anything to read it.

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington Street, BOSTON.

WESTERN DEPOTS—Meacham Arms Co., St. Louis, Mo.
Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

—BY—

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

Copy for new advertisements must be handed in by Tuesday morning, to insure their being inserted in the current week's issue. CHANGES must be in hand no later than Monday, to insure attention for the following issue.

☞ All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

☞ All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 20 APRIL, 1888.

WHAT is the use of legislating against road racing when we read that "New Bedford citizens have subscribed $50 for a trophy for a twenty-five-mile road race?" We pause for a reply.

WE wish to speak a good word for Gerry Jones, the new Chairman of the Racing Board. He impresses us as an intelligent and capable young man, and one who, if he so inclines, can so conduct the affairs of his Board, that amateur racing will be stimulated into a healthy activity.

THE little bill prohibiting the use of cycles on the highways, presented by Representative Coleman from Kenton County, Ky., never got any further than the committee. We congratulate the members of "the committee" on the wisdom thus displayed, but nevertheless do we urge on the cyclists of Kenton County to remember Mr. Coleman, and when he "bobs up serenely" for reelection to use stickers ad lib. A "Liberty Bill" would be a good thing for Kentuckians to consider at this juncture.

WE desire to congratulate our New York contemporary, the Wheel and Cycling Trade Review, on the active campaign it is carrying on in the interests of Road Improvements. We are with it heart and soul on this most vital question. Mr. Isaac B Potter, of 38 Park Row, New York, has issued a stirring circular to New York Wheelmen, soliciting their aid and co-operation in making the New York State Association a success. Mr. Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Consul, always at the front in any movement which has the welfare of wheelmen at heart, supplements Mr. Potter's appeal by one to L. A. W. members. We sincerely trust that the result will exceed the expectations of the most sanguine. We are with you, gentlemen. Let every State have its Roads Improvement Association, and don't let the work cease, in the organization thereof, "A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together."

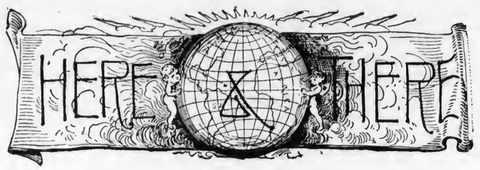
WE fancy that some club Secretaries are wondering why we do not publish the results of the spring elections. We desire to give the reason why. Since the change we have received each week enough of this character of copy to fill over a page of the WORLD. At this particular juncture we have concluded that the club Secretaries would bear with us if we leave out these lists of names to make room for matter that we imagine will prove more readable and generally interesting. We have thought from week to week that we would insert these results, but the appalling accumulation of these club elections has frightened us out of the idea. We like to please all, but we know we cannot do that; the most we can hope to do, is to meet the wishes of the large majority of our readers, and in "cutting out" club elections during the active season of cycling, we hope to reach the object in view. We, however, wish to thank the club Secretaries for their thoughtfulness in sending their lists.

"TO be or not to be," that is the question that at present agitates the minds of the American and English public as to whether Howell will prove himself the fastest man in the world. The first of the series, the five-mile race, has been won by Howell. We do not pretend to be Rowe's manager or his adviser, but we cannot refrain from criticising his tactics in riding the first race. It seems to us at long range, that Rowe's best chance would have been to ride a fast race from the word go. Howell does not like that kind of race, and we doubt if Rowe had forced the pace if Howell could have out-spurted the American on the tape. Every one knows that the Englishman is one of the fastest sprinters on the path, and we doubt if there is a man living (unless it be Temple) who can outsprint him when he is fresh. We hope Rowe and his managers will profit by the experience of the first race, and that the one mile and ten miles will be ridden at record speed; for we believe that if Rowe allows the race to be decided on the "last quarter," he will be out-ridden every time.

GOOD FOR PHILADELPHIA!!

THE following circular letter has been sent to the members of the Committee on Highways of the Philadelphia City Councils by the local bicyclers:

"At a meeting of the A. C. C., of Philadelphia, held on the 12th inst., a resolution was adopted favoring the passage of the ordinance now before City Councils for repaving Broad street, between Passyunk and Columbia avenues, with asphaltum, and the undersigned officers of the association were instructed to respectfully request a hearing before your committee when the ordinance in question is considered.



"This association represents the membership of the leading cycling clubs of the city organized for the purpose of securing united action in matters affecting their interests."

The letter is signed by W. R. Tucker, President, and J. R. Lincoln, Secretary.

"MANSLAUGHTER!!"

WE are in receipt of advices from Washington as follows: "The grand jury to-day found an indictment against Joseph M. Chase for manslaughter, in causing the death of E. A. Paul, on the 2d of April, by having at that date forcibly ridden a horse against him, throwing him down and giving to said Paul a mortal-fracture wound on the spinal column."

THE Sewing-Machine and Cycle News, London, of 31st March, gave a half page to quoting in full the appreciative review of "Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle," which appeared in the previous Saturday's Field, saying it was glad to find so important a paper, "the leading organ of sport in England," dealing so fairly with Karl Kron, "whose work is without doubt the most gigantic publication that has ever been placed upon the wheel-world book market." The publisher informs us that the pamphlet of 150 pages, which is to be mailed to all applicants as a free advertisement of this gigantic book, has been delayed because of the bankruptcy of the Sprinfield Printing Company, employed to manufacture it. But the distribution of the 5,000 copies will begin as soon as the binding can be completed, and all postal-card requests sent to "K. K.," at Washington square, N. Y., will be filed for attention in the order of their arrival.

ENGLISH LETTER.

"SENATOR."

THE racing season, which commences on Saturday next, will, it is thought, be the most important of any yet seen in England. From a professional standpoint it goes without saying that more races for stake money and prizes will be run than ever before, and the talent will be the strongest and most representative ever brought together in the world. The rivalry is intense, and it will be "England vs. America" with a vengeance, as the success of the American contingent have made them many well wishers (?), who would like to see Rowe and Temple knocked out in short order. I should like to see Rowe give the big Leicester man a whacking. Remember what I said in my letters last summer, Howell will take a lot of beating, but we hope and trust, not for one hundred pounds sterling sake, but for the credit of America that Rowe will place his wheel a good ten yards ahead at the finish.

SUCH names as Howell, Rowe, Temple, Allard, Lee (Fred and John), English (Tom and Bob), Engleheart, Woodside, Dubois, Wood, Battensby, Young, Lumsden, Robb, Illston (if he decides to run), Oxborrow, and others, are a field if professionals that has had no equal since the sport began, and the amateur racing is correspondingly low tide at present. With Illston, Furnivall, and many of the best men "out of it," the press and public have now veered round to the professional prospect, and I hope the "pros." will take advantage of the stampede "and put in all they know," and thus establish professionalism on a sound basis as leading in cycle racing.

I WAS passing St. Bartholemew's Hospital in London the other day, and having received a letter from the "King of Amateurs" that morning, I turned my feet toward the gloomy portals, and after reading some Bible inscriptions over the door, I made my way to the student quarter, and ran up against Brewerton, the Surrey Cycle Club flyer, who was coming out. "Hello, Senator, who are you after now?' was his greeting. "I'm looking for Percy Furnivall, is he in?" "Yes, in the library;" and away dashed Brewerton, reappearing with the "K. O. A." The Springfield favorite looks handsomer, and is much improved in physique, than when seen on the track in America, the same good-natured, jolly, gentlemanly fellow of yore. "I had only a few minutes to spare this week," says Furnivall, "so I dropped in Agricultural Hall, but could not find you. Am up for an 'exam.' on Wednesday, hence my neglect of not paying you all a visit; and you know we must spurt a bit before an 'exam.' takes place," was Furnivall's greeting. This celebrated English amateur thinks extremely well of America and Americans. An adjournment to "Spier and Pond's" and a "refresher" was in order, and in course of a little talk, I put the question, "How did you come to allow F. J. Osmond to lower your supposed invincible spurting powers?" "Well, it was like this: Before the race started Mr. Hillier came to me and said, 'we know you can beat our man, and therefore your job is to beat Illston.' The consequence was, for once in my life I allowed other people's opinion to outweigh my own. I watched and beat Illston, and was caught napping by Osmond. I never took Osmond into consideration, but you bear in mind, he will in the future bear watching, as I think he is a good one. I don't know if George Lacy was giving me 'taffy,' as you Americans say, but one thing is certain, the ruse worked well." "Will you be seen on the track again?" "No, never again; that is my determination. My people wish me to stick to my profession, and give up racing altogether." "I have read the interview a reporter of Wheeling had with you some two years ago on 'windage' in cycle racing, and the influence it had against fast times; have your ideas changed on the theory, or do you now hold the same view on the question?" "Yes, I do, and think resistance of the elements is everything when fast time is under consideration. I think your man, Rowe, or Temple, or any first-class man, could do two minutes for a mile if there was an entire absence of wind against, and good pacing." "Yes, I have noticed in the large building, second-class men can do much faster time than outdoors, which demonstrates the correctness of your theory." With a few commonplace remarks on racing, training and the form of different men, I left this intelligent English athlete, and wandered down through Holborn and Fleet streets, thinking deep thoughts as to if I should ever be able to do 2.10, without training, if the element was "wid" me.

THE most marvelous sign of the times is, the editor of a London paper, who stuck bravely to the correctness of Rowe's wonderful records, is about the only man in England to-day that "believes firmly" that Engleheart will beat Rowe in their ten-mile race at Birmingham on Easter Sunday. I had to laugh the other day in Agricultural Hall; walking through this building, I came across this editor, who was in conversation with Rowe, Kauffman, Allen and others. Rowe got off this to the editor: "I'm afraid you allow your partiality to outweigh your judgment, as you are the only man who has said you think Engleheart can beat me. If you place Engleheart ahead of Howell you are woefully mistaken." In his next issue, the editor says: "Rowe, like all Americans 'we' have met, is full of confidence." I should think so.

"GENTLEMAN JOHN" thinks seriously of changing his nom de plume. Some people joke him about it, and I would not be surprised to see Angel, Ripley, Sandwichman, or some other cognomen in future grace the "copy" of my distinguished confrere. Bicycling News is particularly severe on the genial J. P., and he threatens reprisals. Talking of Bicycling News, I thought the other day, considering you, Mr. Editor, and your co-editor had used pots of ink and reams of paper in endeavoring to make friend Hillier believe the Springfield records "were all right" I would take the "living testimony" round to 1 Crown Court, Threadneedle street, and was soon in the office of G. L. H., stock broker, who received us as he does all Americans, in a friendly spirit. Having other engagements on hand I left Mr. Rowe in Mr. Hillier's care, and have no doubt that much racing and records was the theme, as the Bicycling News editor knows more about racing and the sport generally, than most people have forgotten.

TEMPLE'S foot continues obstinate, and his Easter engagements have been all cancelled by the doctor's orders, but we hope to see the Chicago lad astride his new 53 1-2-inch Humber in a few weeks.

THE American team open the Inter-national Continental Amateur Championship meeting in Berlin, on June 10, 11 and 12, and the five following weeks appear in the first of the 40 German cycle tracks, all of which, the editor of the Berlin Der Radfahrer tells me, are in first-class condition. The exact dates of the team's appearance in France are not decided as yet. It may be possible the team will be in two sections after June; two on the Continent, and two in England to match the cash prize meetings. Rowe has run every race (some twelve) since his arrival in England, and even on boards, has not asked any man to favor him, although Wheeling hints so much this week. I will give Wheeling a page advertisement of the fact if they or anybody else can prove such a thing.

NEW ORLEANS.

"BI."

WEATHER permitting, A. M. Hill, the "vet.,' is next Sunday to make an attack on the existing Southern five-mile record of 16.48, made by W. W. Windle at the Atlanta (Ga.) tournament in October last. Guillotte was trying for it in last Sunday's race, and but for his spell, would have succeeded. He isn't out of the swim yet, however.

PRESIDENT RENAUD, of the Cycling Club, has presented a handsome medal to be contested for during the summer in a series of handicap races, the member making the best average in the series to become permanent possessor of the prize, which is to be known as the "President's medal." The selection of routes, arranging of dates, etc., has been entrusted to a committee of three, who have just made public the following "schedule:" May 13th—Two and one-half miles, Napoleon avenue to Carrolton; June 10th—Ten and one-half miles, Carrollton to Schadwells; July 15th—Eleven miles, Lee Circle to West End, via Carrollton; Aug. 12th—Five miles, Horticultural Hall drive; Sept. 8th—Eight miles, Shrewsbury route. This will furnish all sorts of riding, from shell road and asphalt, to sand and its accompaniment, and the best man is pretty apt to come out on top.

FROM the above programme it will be seen that the roads will be used pretty extensively in this series, and a word or two on the chestnutty road racing problem may not come amiss. I have a high regard for the opinions of such men as Secretary Bassett and "Senator" Morgan, but has it ever occurred to these gentlemen that it is an utter impossibility for every city and two-horse town (one-horse shebangs can't generally boast such a "new-fangled thing" as a bicycle) in the country to possess a cycle track, and as racing seems a "necessary evil" that may and will exist in almost every cycling neighborhood, what is to be done to curb it, where the means for a track are lacking? It strikes me that all this hullaboo about road racing is entirely too premature. When the authorities protest, then it is time to call a halt. They haven't done so yet, and unless the cycling press is specially desirous of having a quietus put on a harmless sport, it should not attempt to force the issue. The conditions of every neighborhood are not alike. I remember well when, some sixteen or eighteen months back, I was interested in a road race, and tremblingly applied to our city officials for a "permit" for the event. I can even now almost fancy I hear the careless "oh! you'll not need one; so long as you don't make too much noise, it's all right," in reply. So we saved our quarter, ran our race, and not a soul said "boo," though fully a hundred people and half a dozen vehicles were crowded around the finish. New Orleans is a big city, too, but I daresay that this is but a fair sample of how much the press, police and people elsewhere interest themselves in road races.

DURING the month of March, C. M. Fairchild, of the L. C. C., rolled up the noteworthy total of 1018 miles, riding every day; longest ride 103 miles, shortest, 7 1-2. C. M. is a regular mileage crank (hear him disclaim! It's in his eye, however), and contrary to your pet idea, Mr. Editor, he is neither a new rider or a novice, being of the crop of 1879.

IT seems impossible to hold a division meeting lately. The one which was billed for the 9th inst, again attracted but a mere handful, and nothing was done for want of a quorum. League offices are usually such empty and thankless jobs that this sort of "monkey business" makes one really tired and discouraged. It would seem that past, present and prospective officials at least should know and realize this and lend their presence. Yet they don't. Of course excuses are plentiful, and I hear one from an "exalted-never-read-my-paper sort," complaining that he didn't get a postal. Neither did anyone else. I've been looking up records, and I find that this bright, particular division "big wig," during the last six or eight months, has done as much League work as this O, has secured as many members as this O, and ridden his wheel as many times as this O. By all means, let us erect a monument to this class. They're plentiful.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"HATCHET."

MR. EDITOR, I would like to ask if any of your readers have ever ridden, or know of anybody who has, the road from Flemington to Cherryville, in Hunterdon County, this State. As far as I can remember, the entire route is up hill, and such hills! The first one to be mounted, Cox's Hill, starts about one-eighth of a mile from the Presbyterian church corner, and is at least (I think) a mile and a half in length. A "write-up" of that section of New Jersey from the pen of some rider who knows "the lay of the land," would make interesting reading for your columns. Mullin Hill, about eight hundred yards west of Cox's Hill, while not so long, is much steeper for a quarter of a mile or so than the latter.

THE chances are that the town of Montclair will be illuminated by electricity within a month or so.

THE five-mile club handicap race of the Orange Wanderers will be decided on the Roseville track, Thursday, June 7, at 5 P. M.

JUST credit one more point to Orange, Mr. Editor, as Hillside avenue is to be graded, curbed and macadamized in short order.

THE residents of Palisade avenue, Jersey City, are starting a big kick over the condition of that thoroughfare. Let the cyclers of the city join in the kick, and something may be done toward improvement.

I MUST have been "away off" when I placed Randolph township in Essex County in my last. I thought I credited the item Morris County Exchange. I should have done so, at any rate, as Randolph is in that county, near Mount Freedom.

A LITTLE bird has whispered in my ear, saying that we may expect one or more race meets under the auspices of the Orange Wanderers, on the Roseville track, during the coming season. I hope it whispered truly, as, when the Wanderers have the say, there is always fun on the track.

THE authorities of Livingston are discussing the need of better roads. Some of the more enlightened of the villagers are fighting hard for macadam. A number of the "old-timers," however, seem to think "ploughed roadways" are "good enough." Some of them, to their credit (?) be it said, have no objection to having the roads "harrowed" as well as "ploughed." Another good chance for missionary work.

ALL right, "7504," have a "live committee in every Territory containing so many wheelmen," as you say, but let us have the committees appointed at once, as we need better roads now. This is the time of the year to enlist the aid of horse owners, and as such committees have got to come sooner or later, why not appoint them right away. As for keeping the local papers supplied with matter relating to road improvements, just count me in.

BUFFALO.

"MERCURY."

STILL they come; booms, I mean. There are prospects of an athletic association being formed, for the purpose of encouraging the interest in cycling, base ball, lawn tennis, and other out-door sports. A meeting was held the other evening, and the project was discussed with much enthusiasm. A committee was appointed to look for suitable grounds, and a syndicate will be formed, which will purchase the land and make the necessary improvements pending the formation and incorporation of the association. A mile cinder path for cycling, to be laid out, will in itself be a boon to our wheelmen. Mr. Ducker was spoken to on the subject, and was very much pleased. Should the grounds be in shape by next fall, the tournament may be held there.

THE following sign adorns the front of a mechanic's establishment: "Silent steeds of steel artistically illuminated, lubricated, and embellished for the infinitesimal compensation or remuneration of two shillings per operation."

THE Ramblers, at their regular monthly meeting, elected Louis Bruce Vice President, in place of F. A. Barnes, resigned. Several new names will be added to the club's list, at the next meeting. Henry E. Ducker is among the number. Captain Hanenstein announced a club run to Lewiston for Decoration Day.

AT the regular meeting of the Buffalo club, seven new members were elected, making a total of 118, the limit is 150. A committee was appointed to decide upon a club uniform; there are so many unattached wheelmen in this city who are members of the L. A. W. and accordingly wear the League uniform, that the club thought it best to have a distinctive uniform of their own. Captain Hotchkiss announced a club run to Erie, Pa. (century run), for Decoration Day; they go by train and return on wheel. The last club social took place Friday, April 13th.

CHICAGO.

"THE MULE."

THE Aeolus Club men, although not heard a great deal of outside of their own division of the city, are as lively a lot of boys as any. They have elected the following officers for the coming months: H. C. Barr, President; W. C. Smith, Vice President; N. Schuyler, Recording Secretary; F. Weissberger, Corresponding Secretary; H. Freeman, Treasurer; T. Bray, Captain. The retiring President has been presented with an L. A. W. badge. Captain Bray has been appointed by the club to serve on the Committee of Arrangements for Garden's second annual road handicap.

SURBRIDGE has lost Munger, who has joined the forces of House & Roe, and will remain there until Dec. 1st, and perhaps longer.

THE Illinois Club card of fixtures is out, and runs are scheduled all the way from twelve to ninety miles. The club has shown good sense in steering clear of such tremendously long journeys as have been sometimes attempted by others, believing in allowing such members as believe in century runs to enjoy them at their own discretion.

THE Committee of Arrangements for the Decoration Day road handicap is composed of Ed Oliver, Lincolns; H. D. Post, Owls; W. A. Davis, Illinois; Thos. Bray, Aeolus, a Chicago Bicycle Club Representative; and R. D. Garden. They are confident of receiving at least seventy entries. Gormully and Jeffery, with characteristic generosity will head the prize list with something handsome. With the entrance fees a special prize will be purchased for the man making the best time.

THE fraudulent McCurdy-Prince match has fallen through, and the former is in a ticklish position. He has been riding a Star, loaned him by Tom Roe, and has mortgaged it to an Omaha man for $60.00. The mortgagee, supposing McCurdy would remain in town for the race with Prince, allowed him to retain possession of the machine, whereupon Mac decamped, and was last heard of in Kansas City. If the offender is caught Roe promises to go to Omaha and prosecute him.

PITTSBURG and VICINITY.

"DUQUESNE."

Mr. C. W. Coffin should confine himself to what I said, and not rush into print without cause. If he will refer to my squib on the safety, he will find that I did not say his "pedals were cow-horn shape," neither will he find "words to that effect." I said they were bent. And I say again that they were bent many a time where a crank would not have been. This follows from the construction of the machine, and Mr. Coffin is well aware of the fact. Mr. Coffin has bent his pedal on a good level road, under circumstances which would not have affected an ordinary. If there are any misstatements in this I am willing to correct them, and furthermore, I would advise Mr. Coffin to wait for just cause before criticising. But to contend that any safety will not have more bent pedal pins than an ordinary is puerile, unless you ride on a fine road all the time, that has no obstructions over six inches high.

Brownsville has "the fever" now, and the men are talking of a quarter-mile track.

Now is the time to make your arrangements to attend the New Castle meet on July 4, next. If you wait until the last minute something will turn up to prevent your attendance.

Messrs. Place and Murray are investigating the merits of the tandem bicycle, and before many weeks are passed they expect to own one. Murray says that if he has the rear seat he can wear Place out on the hills. Probably he could!!

LONG ISLAND NOTES.

"WING-FOOT."

My friend, the Solitary Connecticutter, will be welcome in the "great century run," as will all the rest of the club. I only hope the New Havens will come in a body. If they do, perhaps the New Jersey boys and I will be able to get square with them for that Beauford Point dinner, last July. Does the "stout gem'm'n," who rode the tandem, remember my first attempt at riding double? "Solitary" is assured that the pace is not designed to be over eight miles per hour, and that racing is not to be allowed.

The Mercury Wheel Club holds its first club run to Huntington to-morrow and Sunday.

The Long Island Wheelmen beat the New York Bi. Club bowling team 29 pins in their match of Friday last. On the 27th they bowl against the K. C. W.s, and 28th they have a "stag" and theatre party with the K. C. W. at the Park.

The Long Island Wheelmen had the biggest kind of a time on Saturday evening at their regular weekly orgie. Messrs. Steinwetz of the Casino, Kingman, Bretel, Prof. Dubois, the Ilderan Banjo Quartette, and other attractions (solids and liquids) took up the time until 12 P. M.

At the annual election of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club Tuesday evening, the 10th inst., the following gentlemen were elected to their respective offices, viz.: Messrs. Howard Greenman, President; W. E. Fuller, Vice President; G. F. Corby, Secretary; H. Raymond, Treasurer; Howard Spelman, Captain. Messrs. Barkman and Borland, the latter on his safety, succeeded in getting down to Babylon on Sunday, and had a fearfully rough time of it. A couple of K. C. W. men also got through.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

All the Lynn, Mass., cycling celebrities have been interviewed as to their views on the defeat of Rowe by Howell. They all seem confident as to the final result, and their comments are various, and some of them amusing. One of the interviewed on being asked his opinions, said, he though "it was a bottomless pit sort of a note."!!

The American team will appear in Berlin, June 10, 11 and 12.

E. Mohrig, of San Francisco, will be in Boston about next week Tuesday.

Is Howell invincible? It certainly looks that way as our advices tell of the defeat of Rowe in the first of the series.

The subject of our colored cartoon this week is Mr. H. D. Corey. His many friends will be pleased to have such an excellent likeness of the well-known "Harry."

The Cambridge (Mass.) Club held their final ladies' night last week Thursday evening. The entertainment consisted of a varied musical performance and recitations.

Platinum plating may take the place of nickel. Experiments have been made by an English firm, and as it is far better able to resist action of dampness than nickel, it is likely to become popular.

The Roads Improvement boom is not confined to these shores. Ireland has formed an association, and we sincerely trust that the movement will not receive the disapproval of the English Government.

The Kings County Wheelmen, (N. Y.), held their annual dinner at Dillard's last Saturday. The usual Spring race meeting of the club will be held sometime in June.

The Montreal Bicycle Club held their annual meeting Thursday, April 12th. The club is prosperous, and as vigorous and enthusiastic as ever it was in its younger days.

We regret exceedingly to hear that W. McCandlish is a victim to the supposed infantile disease of scarlet fever. We hope next advices will report Mr. McCandlish better.

Now that the N. C. U. of England have sat on road racing, the celebrated road riding club, the "North Road C. C." called a meeting April 11th, to formally organize a Road Records Committee.

After the Baltimore meet, Washington cyclists cordially invite L. A. W. members to visit their city. A good time is promised. Bear this in mind when you make your plans for the Baltimore trip.

"Eden Park," Cincinnati, has up to the past few weeks been indeed a Paradise Lost to the wheelmen of Porkopolis. The stern angel at the gate has, however, been removed and the Cincinnati cyclists are once more allowed the sweet privilege of riding in "Eden."

The tables are turned, and all over the country we hear of "liberty bills," similar to those of New York and New Jersey, being introduced into the Legislature. Wheelmen are getting to be a power, and they are consequently getting aggressive. Pennsylvania is now in line with a proposed "liberty bill.

The Newcastle, (Pa.), Club will hold an all-day race meeting on July 4th. In the opinion of such riders as Hollingsworth, Wilhelm, Berlo, Swartz and many others, their track is equal to any in the country. Applications have been made for several national and State championships. Handsome and valuable prizes will be offered.

R. F. Cromelin, of Harrisburgh, Pa., was in Washington last week, and "scraped" an acquaintance with Belva Lockwood, late the woman suffrage candidate for President. They were both riding bicycles on Fourteenth street, when Belva dashed along so close to Mr. Cromelin as to tear off his overshoe. Nothing was said on either side.

The Lynn Item seems to think that "The creditors of the Lynn Cycle Club Track Association did not better themselves by not accepting one of the offers made them. The association made them two propositions. One was one-third cash down, one-third at the end of one year and the balance at the end of two years. The other was 50 per cent. cash. The creditors only secured a dividend of 44 per cent. through the Court of Insolvency."

On the evening of April 9 the Fort Wayne (Ind.) Bicycle Club celebrated its fourth anniversary by eating a dinner. The Wayne Hotel was the scene of the celebration, and a right good celebration it was. Half a dozen guests were present, and speeches were made that were all good and none bad or indifferent. We notice the toast of "the Road Hog" was assigned to Mr. P. C. Darrow, of the Gazette, and we do not doubt but that P. C. made sausages of the "bicyclers' bane."

The English Chancellor of Exchequer according to the Cyclist, "does not consider it advisable to impose a tax upon bicycles and tricycles, because he thinks no greater service could be rendered to a vast number of our young men than the freedom they now enjoy in being able to explore the country on their machines. And the Chancellor of the Exchequer is right, for to ospose even the smallest obstacle in the way of such an athletic exercise would be nothing short of a national calamity."

Henry E. Ducker writes: "I have at last awakened cycling enthusiasm in Buffalo, and as one of the results the Courier, one of the leading daily papers here, devotes a column daily to wheeling, and I send you a specimen of what it has to say. You have probably heard of the great International fair to be held here, and for which Buffalo people have raised $500,000. Well they want the tournament badly, and if I make good arrangements with them it will last four days, and I estimate an attendance of at least 100,000 people. This will give the wheel such a boom as it has never had

A FEW THINGS WE DO NOT ADVERTISE.

RECORDS which we know to be false.——RECORDS after they are taken from us by another wheel.——RECORDS which are not unanimously accepted by the cycling press as genuine.

ONE OF THE THINGS WE DO NOT DO.

Retire from racing after every obtainable road, long distance and track record is beyond our reach.

A FEW THINGS WE DO.

An honorable manufacturing business.——Guarantee our wares to be exactly as represented.——Make a wheel which is capable of, and does hold all world's road and long distance records.

Do not forget that we make a large sized specialty of sundries and manufacture nearly everything in the way of accessories needed by the bicycle rider. We are always glad to discount on these goods to any authorized agent or repairer, whether he handles our line of bicycles or not. Our latest acquisition is the Excelsior Cyclometer, which is known by everybody to be absolutely reliable. We have a lot of these cyclometers in sizes, 50, 52 and 54 inch, of the old pattern, which we are offering, to close out, at the ridiculously low price of $5.00 each. They are just the same in matter of mechanism as the new style Excelsior, the only difference being that they cannot be read from the saddle. Those who desire to take advantage of this bargain had better order early, as they are going fast.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO., - - CHICAGO, ILL.

Makers of the American Cycles.

Largest and most artistic Catalog in the trade, on application.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INCER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.
No. 1. For Gentlemen.....$175
No. 2. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 175
(The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")
No. 3. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $185.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman

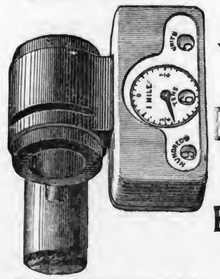
"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.



THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.
—:o:—
The Swift
SAFETY.
—:o:—
Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.
—:o:—
THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.
—:o:—
Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave.,
BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records
Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE
BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.
Free by Mail on Receipt of
PRICE. . . $10.00.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.
SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF
PRICE. . . . . $5.00.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.
Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

THE TRICYCLE IN RELATION TO HEALTH AND RECREATION. By B. W. Richardson, M. D., F. R. S. By mail, 30 cents.

ANKLE ACTION
(See L. A. W. Bulletin Feb. 24th) is learned the easiest and best on the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND. Price $7.50. In Bicycles, Tricycles and Sundries, we can also please you with style, quality, price and terms.
Correspondence solicited.
M. A. WOODBURY,
43 and 45 Mechanic St., Bradford, Pa.

THE BEST BICYCLE WHISTLE.

The Most Convenient, Loudest, and Best Call on the market. Price, 25c. each.
Whitten & Co., Prov., R. I.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

in the world as yet, and if my health only holds out the coming season we will astonish the world. Now what I want to see is the Eastern croakers (that say a large tournament could never be held in a large city) come to Buffalo this fall, we will send them all home with the idea that Boston and New York will have a tournament in 1889."

OUR much respected confrere, "London W.," does not approve of "aged men" struggling for supremacy on the path or road, and he seems to think our offer of a medal to be run for at the Baltimore meet a wicked device that may result in harm, through the over exertion of our "aged" friends. That there is an interest evinced is shown by the many letters and postals we get recording performances by "aged" men. The latest is from No. 5691, and he claims a record of 100 miles on the road in 7h. 56m. A thirteen-mile gait for about 8 hours is good going for the best of us. Next, if you please.

MR. F. P. PRIAL and Mr. Newman, of the Wheel, were in Boston this week, and gave us a call.

MR. HOWARD P. MERRILL, who last fall left for Los Angeles, Cal., has lately returned to his old position on the Springfield Union. He writes: "I have been in exile, so far as bicycling is concerned, but now I am back I propose to keep up with the procession." We are glad to welcome Mr. Merrill back.

BALTIMORE MEET NOTES.

A. E. MEALEY, Chief Consul, has addressed a letter to the Merchants and Manufacturers Association asking the co-operation and support of that body towards making the wheelmen's visit a success. The association has informally assured the Chief Consul of its support, and no doubt the members will subscribe towards making up the sum needed.

The route of march has been decided on, and is as follows: The line will form on Boundary avenue east of Charles street and will move down Charles street on east side to the south side of Monument, to Cathedral; countermarch on north side of Monument to the west side of Charles, to Madison, to Madison avenue, to Robert street, to the west side of Eutaw place, to Lanvale street, to the east side of Eutaw place, to Eutaw place extended, to Druid lake, where the men will be dismissed after the usual league photograph has been taken.

The business meeting will be held at 9 A. M., June 18th, and the Acadamy of Music has been fixed on as the place of meeting.

A party of 350 New Yorkers under the leadership of Chief Consul Bidwell, will go to the meet on a "special"

President Kirkpatrick, who will act as Chief Marshall, has appointed the following aides: E. P. Hayden, Baltimore; W. S. Bombeger, Hagerstown; W. S. Bull, Buffalo, N. Y.; Harry D. Corey, Boston, Mass.; W. R. Tucker, Philadelphia; S. T. Clark, Baltimore. Two or three others will complete the list.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE annual tour of 1888 will be from Philadelphia to Baltimore. Leaving Penna club house, Girard avenue, the morning of June 11, and arriving in Baltimore the evening of June 17, the eve of the Baltimore meet. The route and details will be published later.

W. S. BOMBERGER,
Hagerstown, Md., April 12, 1888. Tourmaster.

THE POUGHKEEPSIE BICYCLE CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

LAST week the Poughkeepsie (N. Y.) Bicycle Club gave a most enjoyable entertainment at the Casino Rink. Some six hundred people passed the doors, a large proportion of which were ladies. President Bullard headed the squad of wheelmen in their grand entree, and after that A. Edmans and E. Ellenwood, both of Troy, gave a very good exhibition of trick riding. The "drill squad" then repeated their evolutions in the dark with lanterns swung to their handle bars. It was evident that this feature of the entertainment met with vast favor at the hands of the younger part of the audience of both sexes. A tug-of-war came next, Poughkeepsie vs. Newburgh. The west shore men had to give up four feet of their rope, and so Poughkeepsie scored a victory. Then came the feature of the evening, a game of polo between Poughkeepsie and Newburgh teams. Neither team knew anything about polo and hence much fun. "Fouls" were the rule, and some of the scrimmages were extremely laugh-provoking. Again was Poughkeepsie's team declared the winners by a score of 3 to 0. At the conclusion of the fun at the rink all adjourned to the club house at a late hour, all declaring that the Poughkeepsie men were hospitality personified.

***

LIFE AND CYCLING IN NEW MEXICO.

A PERSONAL letter from ex-Captain Whitney of the Boston Club, dated from his sheep ranch near Albuquerque, N. M., was received by us the other day, and we are sure Mr. Whitney will pardon us if we give to our readers a few short extracts therefrom:

"I write this letter from our outer ranch, on which is built a one-story adobe house, 13x20. Our headquarters are twelve miles distant, and the house thereon is the finest ranch house in the Territory. We have a force of ten Mexicans and two white men. The Mexicans are a nasty crowd, and are very treacherous. I do not go around without my self-cocking seven shooter, as it may be wanted badly at any moment. The country round here is nicely adapted for cycling, a fine climate and good roads, the latter of which compare favorably with those of Eastern Massachusetts. I am going to send for my safety, and will utilize it to great advantage. Since I have been here, only three or four days have been unfit for riding, and barring the rainy season, which occurs in June and July, we can have ten months of almost continuous riding. I must say I miss steward Nottingham's good dinners, and I have to be content with pork, beans and tortillas, not a very luxurious diet, but I must acknowledge it is 'fillin'.' I hope to be in the Hub after 'shearing time.' We have now 4000 'old lambs' (i. e.), one, two and three years old, and if we have luck we shall show an annual increase of about 1500." Captain Whitney winds up by desiring to be remembered to all friends, whether they be North, South, East or West.

THE GREAT CENTURY—NEW YORK—PHILADELPHIA.

THE New York—Philadelphia Century is booming. The meeting of delegates from the clubs interested for the purpose of arranging details, will be held in room 10, 25 Broad street, New York City, on the afternoon of Friday, 27inst. Any club in the vicinity of New York, which through inadvertance, has not received special invitations, is cordially invited to send a representative. Out of seventeen clubs invited, all have taken action with the exception of the Brooklyn Bi. Club. The estimate of riders from these 16 clubs alone goes above one hundred. I wish to reiterate that the run is not to be a road race, but a comfortable day's ride, with a good dinner and a rest at Trenton.

The Philadelphia Clubs are becoming interested in this end of the procession, and promise a great turnout. I have today asked Mr. Tucker of the Associated Cycling Clubs to arrange for the evening run out on the Pike. My thanks are due Mr. H. B. Hart, for assistance.

For "Plain Side," in the notice of meeting in last week's WORLD, read, Penn Side. Also rendervous for "rendervoas."

Mr. Righter, of Newark, makes the good suggestion that, two or three days before the 16th of June, exploring parties be sent out over the roads to be traversed, between all large towns, simultaneously; each party reporting the state of the roads between its town, and that of the parts next ahead.

Would it not be well for the Orange or Elizabeth Clubs to start the project of a ladies' tour, starting on Friday, June 15th, stopping over night at Trenton, and being overtaken near Philadelphia by the Century party?

WING-FOOT.

THE EASTER MANŒUVERS OF THE ENGLISH TROOPS.

WE cannot give the space necessary for an exhaustive account of these interesting maneuvers, and how the cyclers took active part in same, but we cut the summary from the three English cycling papers which will conver an intelligent idea of what was accomplished. Wheeling says: "It may be taken that under no possible circumstances, short of deep snow, could the earlier work of the cyclists have been harder. It is certain that they overcame all difficulties and learnt many lessons. It is certain that, taking the march from Guilford to Ashford, (75 miles) no body of troops, however mounted, could have covered the distance in the time, taking cavalry to stick to their own horses. The value of Cyclists scouts is undoubted; as is their ability for rapid movements, aided, when necessary, by rail, but always ready to proceed to any place to which there is a road; to blow up a bridge, or obtain information, or other work not requiring fighting in large numbers. It is only by continually trying their power that their best points will be discovered. As to opposing cavalry at close quarters they cannot, and against infantry they will always be the smaller number."

Then Bicycling News remarks that: "Nearly the whole of the force (100 men) were mounted upon safeties, upon which the rifles were carried in clips, but the three Hartlepool men, the one East Anglian representative, the Post Office men, and two West Surreys were mounted on ordinaries. Upon these machines the rifle was carried up the backbone, the butt resting in a bucket over the back-wheel. The tricycle riders had a bad time of it, and in Surrey, Hants and Wilts, the ruts were so deep and so stiff that it was some times very difficult to keep safeties right end uppermost. L. Corp, Radermacher, of the Victorias, fainted from exhaustion on Friday, and Lieut. Lownes was so done up between Stockbridge and Salisbury that he went to sleep in the rain by the roadside. Great regret must be felt that the Maxim gun carriage gave out, as well as for the failure of the Flying Sapper, but as these were purely experimental machines nobody is to blame. The failure of the Sapper at least points to the fact that in the construction of military machines of this class, brazing must give way to bolting, and the machine must be made as easily repairable as possible, even at the sacrifice of a little lightness. Should cycling develop into another arm of the service, the honor of forcing its capabilities upon the authorities will remain with Lieut. Colonel Savile and the men who so willingly seconded him both this year and last."

The Cyclist says: "The march past of the new corps of cyclists who were honored by leading the columns, took place after being inspected by His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, who examined both officers and men as to the distance they had ridden, and was astonished that so many had succeeded in covering such distances as from Salisbury to Dover in the time allowed them. The march past was admirable. The force consisted of 100, and was divided into five companies—the first was composed of engineers; second, 26th Middlesex, just raised; third, 4th Manchester with detachments from Durham and Liverpool; fourth and fifth from the Scots, 24th Middlesex, and London Rifles and West London."

W. WOOD BEATS R. HOWELL.

It was a veritable surprise party that assembled at North Shields on Easter Saturday and saw the "champion of champions" vanquished. It was a surprise for Howell and his friends, and it was a surprise for the supporters of Wood. The distance run was fifteen miles, and one of the most remarkable features was that Howell never once led the Shields man during the race. The time, 51.27, was not remarkable except for its slowness. The greatest excitement prevailed at the finish.

HOWELL GETS BACK AT W. WOOD.

On Easter Monday at Leicester, Howell met W. Wood in a ten-mile race, and in view of the defeat of the former over the latter the week before, great interest was manifested. Wood led into the straight, but Howell's blood was up, and he rode as he never rode before, beating the Shields man by about four feet, time, 33.22 1-2; thus having his revenge.

WOODSIDE BEATS ALLARD.

F. W. Allard made his formal entry into the professional ranks on Easter Monday by riding a ten-mile race with Woodside. The track was a bit soft, a rain prevailed during the race and a strong, cold wind blew, making affairs for riders and spectators anything but agreeable. Entering the last lap, Woodside cut loose and crossed the tape ten yards ahead of his competitor. Time, 35.28.

THE ROWE-ENGLEHEART MATCH NOT RUN.

Owing to a bad accident to Engleheart on the morning of the day on which the ten-mile match was to be run, April 2d, the match between Rowe and Engleheart had to be postponed. So that the spectators should not be disappointed, arrangements were made with F. W. Allard to ride the distance with Rowe. Considering the fact that Allard had just ridden a hard race with Woodside every one admired his pluck, and the way he gave the big American all he wanted, to win. We take from the Cyclist an account of the race: "Rowe bestrode a 55-inch 'Columbia' racer, weighing just over 21 pounds, built by the Pope Mfg. Co., which mount he will ride in all his races in the Old Country, whilst Allard used the well-known wheel of the Coventry Machinists' Co.'s make. The pair were dispatched to a good start by Mr. G. R. Smith, Jr., and the following is a brief description of the race: Allard went away with the lead, Rowe going on in front after three laps had been traversed, and after leading for five laps Allard went on, resigning again to Rowe on the fourteenth lap. In the twenty-first lap Allard led, whilst three laps later the men passed the mark level. Seven laps from home Rowe assumed the command, and was never again headed. Despite the plucky endeavor of the Coventry man to get up on terms, the American held his own, and won an exciting race by a little more than a yard in 36m. 30s."

HOWELL WINS THE FIRST RACE OF THE SERIES.

Advices received report a loafing race for the five-mile race between Rowe and Howell, resulting in a victory for the Englishman in 15.37 1-5. We take the particulars of the race from the Boston Globe. "Today's distance was five miles. Rowe was in excellent condition, and, contrasted with Howell's overdrawn look, ought to have been the favorite, but the Englishmen preferred to trust a man whom they knew from experience is a first rate rider, and seven to four was freely laid on Howell. At the start Howell took a slight lead at a moderate pace, Rowe hanging on to the back wheel of his opponent. This continued to the end of the first mile, which was completed in 3 min. 11 1-5 sec. The pace was somewhat worse, but the positions was unaltered, during the second mile, the time at the end of which was 6 min. 24 1-5 sec. The crowd urged the men to improve the pace, but neither heeded the advice, and the third mile was finished 9 min. 39 sec., and the fourth in 12 min. 49 3-4 sec. from the start. Then both warmed to their work, excited by the shouts of the multitude. In the last lap, half way round, Rowe made a fine spurt and forged quite six yards ahead and for a moment looked liked winning, but Howell replied with one of the splendid rushes for which he is famous, quickly passed his man, and won by five yards amid the greatest enthusiasm; time, 15min. 37 1-5 sec. The mile race will be run at Wolverhampton, April 28, and the 10 miles at Coventry, May 12th."

AN EXCITING MATCH RACE AT NEW ORLEANS.

Since my last the Graham-Guilotte match, of which mention was then made, has taken its place among the things that have been. The banter was given and accepted, the match arranged and run off, all within three weeks. It took place Sunday, the 8th inst., on the shell-drive encircling Horticultural Hall, in Andover Park. It was without any great hope of even making up the heavy odds, but more to "keep his word" than anything else, that Guilotte allowed Graham the four-minute start in five and a half miles, but when the latter had reeled off his first two laps in 3 17, and was well around on his third before Guilotte had even started, it became plain to everyone how stern and hopeless was the chase. Guilotte, however, started at a rattling clip, making his first lap in 1.27; second, 1.30, after which he commenced to drop back, and after the fifth lap did no better than 1.42. Graham kept up a hot pace for two miles, when he, too, commenced to fail, settling into a four-minute gait, but when Guilotte caught him on his sixth round, it seemed to infuse new life into the boy, for he brightened up and clung to his speedier competitor's rear wheel until the finish, hanging on in fine style, finishing his 5 1-2 miles in 20.12 1-2, while Guilotte had still two laps to cover. The latter, however, never completed them. After his third mile an overloaded stomach commenced to make itself felt, and though he was in evident distress, and rode in poor form, he refused assistance, and hung on as long as he did out of pure bull-dog grit, backed by a powerful physique. Towards the end Guilotte's apperance "kinder" scared the boys; his eyes were rolling wildly, his skin seemed drawn to a severe tension, and was fairly crimson in color; he was frothing at the mouth, and kept pressing his hand to his side, and rode so out of his usual splendid style that everyone felt easier when he quit. He was game to the last, however, and doggedly refused to dismount his wheel until he could do so alone. His time for the ten laps was 16.10, as against Graham's 16.50, for the same distance—both inside the local record. Each lap is a trifle short of a half mile, about 200 feet. The timing was done by Messrs. H. W. Fairfax, A. M. Hill, and R. G. Betts. Graham surprised everyone by his speed and staying powers, and, when he clung to Guillotte's little wheel for round after round, his friends fairly "bubbled o'er." He has hitherto been rated only "passably fair," but now his neck is broken for any more big handicaps, and an eye will be kept on him in future events. "Bi."

TRADE NOTES, CLIPPINGS, AND ALL SORTS.

We hear "tidings of comfort and joy" from the Coventry Machinists' Co., to the effect that the activity and enterprise shown by that firm this season is bearing fruit.

The Pope Mfg. Co. has had in use for about a month a Long-Distance Telephone over a copper wire, extending from their Boston office to their Hartford factory, a distance of 125 miles. During the recent great storm, when the telegraph wires were all down, the Pope Co. was able to talk with its factory, with the exception of a few hours. The telephone is used for transmitting orders, enabling the company to notify the factory of an order within a few minutes of its receipt. This modern convenience results in the saving frequently of twenty-four hours in the filling of an order.

If you desire to ride safe and attain speed, climb hills with ease, ride rough roads with but little vibration, buy the 1888 pattern Springfield Roadster. $75.00.

***

The Cycle Supply Co., of No. 3 Berkeley St., is a new-comer, comparatively, but we think our readers will acknowledge that they are rushers. We would advise all to keep an eye each week (this week especially) on our advertising columns, and see what the Cycle Supply Co. has to say to the cycling world.

The most "toney" card that it has been our pleasure to see is that which the Gormully & Jefferey Mfg. Co. have issued, with the heading "Our Greeting to you Gentlemen." It is beautifully engraved with the well-known cut on the cover of the Indian, the dead horse and the bicycle, an allegory that all can read. While speaking of this firm we want to say a word about the Boston headquarters, 243 Columbus Avenue. Mr. J. S. Murray is the New England agent for the "American Cycles," and we must congratulate both parties on the move into a location where no doubt the Gormully & Jefferey goods will receive their share of the attention from the riding public. The store is an elegant one, and is fitted up in the most complete manner. There are dressing rooms for both ladies and gentlemen, and Mr. Murray has a snug private office. It is the intention of Mr. Murray to cater to the "hiring public." He will keep on hand a first-class lot of two and three wheelers for the use of both sexes, and it is to be hoped his enterprise will be amply rewarded. He still keeps the old stand at No. 100 Sudbury, for a repair shop and a riding school. Give him a call at his new headquarters and see his full line of "Americans," and also his second-hand machines.

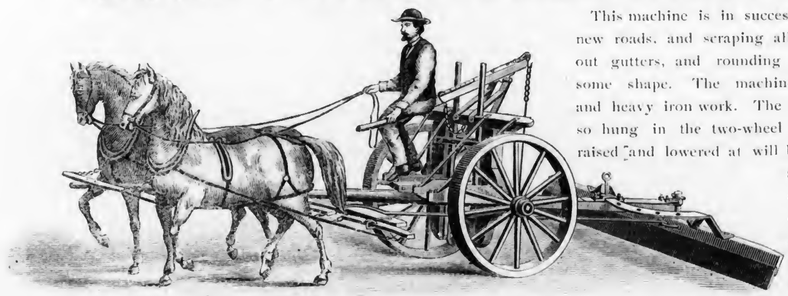
"G. Minturn Worden, of the John P. Lovell Arms Company of Boston, gave an exhibition to-day of the advantages of the Springfield roadster bicycle of which E. R. Darling, 129 Main street, Woonsocket, is the agent. He rode off very difficult curb-stones, ascended and descended steep hills and got wonderful speed out of it on the level. He proved that on this machine a "header" is impossible. Mr. Worden severely strained his knee a week ago alighting from a train, so nearly all the work was done with one leg. A great crowd witnessed the exhibitions."—Woonsocket Paper.

The Overman Wheel Co. write: "We are doing at our factory what we have never known to be done in a Cycle factory before, that is, running night and day. We have two separate gangs of men, a day gang and a night gang. The demand for wheels is so great that this is necessary in order to keep up with orders. Our engine never cools off. We expect to continue this through the season, and are making large additions to our present factory, which is already quite extensive. Our machinery is all new, and the latest pattern."

"As busy an establishment as any house of any class of business in the city just now is Whitten & Co.'s cycle agency, (Providence, R. I.) The extrodinary boom hereabouts last season will be more than duplicated this year. League members should, every one of them, take it upon themselves to see that the boom is not confined to spreading the popularity of riding, but is turned to increasing the League's membership and strength." Glad to hear it, and we hope the readers of this paper will bear in mind that Whitten & Co., are patentees of one of the best whistles on the market, see their advertisement.

CYCLE DEALERS

Send Us Your Business Card,



We will put you on our list, and from time to time send you our discount sheet on LAMPS and other CYCLING SUNDRIES.

Take one minute to do this—it will pay you.

THE CLARK CYCLE CO.,

Pearre Building, - - - BALTIMORE, MD.

Davis Patent Road Machine.

This machine is in successful operation for making new roads, and scraping all roads to a level, laying out gutters, and rounding up the middle in handsome shape. The machine is built of Ash timber and heavy iron work. The pole is 16 feet long, and so hung in the two-wheel carriage that it can be raised and lowered at will by means of the lever, as shown. The scraper is secured to the pole by means of a heavy steel spud, which allows angling to right or left by means of the circle iron, and the draft is always direct from whiffletrees to scraper through draft-rod under pole.

☞ Send for Circular and Price.

J. W. DAVIS & CO., 134 Water St., NEW YORK.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

VICE PRESIDENT.—H. W. Hayes, 103 State St. Boston, Mass.

TREASURER.—W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

SECRETARY-EDITOR.—Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, H. W. Hayes, Geo. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., New York City.

MR. BREWSTER sends his first acknowledgement of subscriptions this week. There are more to come.

NEW YORK has formed a Roads Improvement Association, and the first important action it will take will be a movement in Albany to secure the passage by the Legislature of a bill to secure the improvement of roads in the State. The wheelmen are the hardest workers in the association, and the Secretary is Isaac B. Potter, Esq., Representative for New York in the Board of Officers, and the forwarder of the celebrated Liberty Bill.

INTEREST in Kentucky legislation is still very keen. The representative who introduced the anti-wheel bill, has now introduced a bill for the repeal of tolls on certain turnpike roads, and thus redeemed himself in the eyes of wheelmen. The Kentucky men will now proceed to introduce a liberty bill which they expect will pass without much opposition.

THE officials of the Pennsylvania Division are at work upon a liberty bill similar to that passed recently by the legislature of New Jersey. It will be introduced at the next session of the legislature, and gives cyclers the same rights upon a public thoroughfare that are allowed horsemen and vehicles.

NEW YORK is going to work in earnest on the roads question. An association is being formed to push a bill in the legislature and this will include horsemen, farmers and wheelmen. When the roads are to be improved, horses and bicycles have a common interest, and the devotees of each are drawn towards each other. Good work can be done if the two pull in one boat.

THE new road bill which will be introduced at Albany will do wonders for the roads in New York if it be passed. It provides for the creation of a Roads Commission, the levying of a very small tax throughout the State, and the building and maintaining of improved highways between every county seat in the State. The bill further provides for the improvement of minor roads after the highway system has been completed.

IN reply to several inquiries we will say that the League has no idea of changing its uniform the present year.

THE District of Columbia Division has voted to extend an invitation to the League to visit Washington on June 21st, the day after the close of the League Meet at Baltimore. An attractive programme will be arranged.

THE Connecticut Road Book will be sent out on and after May 1. The first edition of 600, contains three hundred dollars' worth of maps alone.

THE Chicago cycle clubs have organized for work in the interest of cycling. Each club will pursue the even tenor of its way in everything that pertains to its individual interest, but when the cause of cycling needs defence or encouragement, the new association will act, and thus the influence of wheelmen will be much more effective.

IN many places it has been found necessary to pass special laws to prohibit cycle riding on sidewalks. Special legislation of this kind is always hurtful to the cause of wheeling, and it is to be regretted that wheelmen are responsible for such laws.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY is being colonized. Within a year three wheelmen from the East have located there, taking their wheels with them. And now we hear of a cycle club with thirty-five charter members in Tacoma. Thus does a little leven make a great uprising, and thus does the cycling missionary preach the gospel of the wheel with tangible results.

MARYLAND and Rhode Island have reason to be proud of their records. They have met and passed the maximum of last year and yet they have just begun to work. Success seldom comes without effort. The late lamented Fanny Dombey refused to make an effort, at the earnest solicitation of Mrs. Chick, and Dombey became a widower and little Paul was motherless. In like manner clubs go out and divisions decay, when an effort would make them flourish like the much lead about emerald-hued bay tree. It is not an unlooked-for coincidence that the most thriving divisions are headed by the hustlers, if we may be allowed the word, of the League. Gentlemen, we looks toward Maryland and Rhode Island, and we likewise bows.

WE are in receipt of a communication from the Secretary-Treasurer of a large division, in which he says inter alia: "I have held this office three years, and each year we have had many hundred names on the division roll. Out of the whole lot, and during the whole time, just one man has requested his address to be changed. We are at no little trouble to get communication with all our members, for the mail list, with which the Secretary-Editor supplies us on call, does not contain the addresses of out wandering members, whether they be out of the State temporarily or permanently, and it does contain the addresses of many men who are not members of our division, though residents of other States." The State officials often have literature and official notices to send out, and it is important that every League member keep his address with his Secretary-Treasurer as well as at this office.

Indiana Appointment.

I am in receipt of the resignation of A. B. Irvin, of Rushville, Ind., as Chief Consul. I take pleasure in appointing as his successor J. Fred Probst, of Terre Haute, who will at once assume the duties of the office.
T. J. KIRKPATRICK, President.

California Racing Board.

Report of meeting of California Division, Racing Board, held in San Francisco, 23d March, 1888:

The application of the San Francisco Bicycle Club for the five-mile State championship, to be run about 9th September next, was received and placed on file, pending the selection of a definite date for the meet.

The two-mile State championship was assigned to Bay City Wheelmen, to be contested on 30th May next, at Oakland.

The half-mile Coast record, made by Wm. G. Davis, on 24th November, 1887, at Oakland, in 1.27 3-4, was accepted.

It was decided that the championship medals for 1888 must be of uniform design, and are to cost $45 per pair. C. P. Peterson, 404 Post Street, San Francisco, has the contract for making them.

The rule relating to limits in handicaps was abolished as impracticable.
ALEX. S. IRELAND,
Chairman California Division L. A. W. Racing Board.

District of Columbia Appointments.

I have appointed the St. James Hotel, corner 6th St, and Pa. Ave., as the League hotel for Washington.

Mr. E. B. Forney, No. 1211 Pa. Ave., Washington, and Mr. Albert Albert F. Newman, No. 3136 M St., Georgetown, D.C., are this day appointed Consuls.

Fraternally, etc.,
GEO. S. ATWATER, Chief Consul.

Mississippi Appointment.

I take pleasure in appointing as Chief Consul of Mississippi, Mr. George G. Clarke, of Greenville.
T. J. KIRKPATRICK, President.

Nebraska Consuls.

The following Local Consuls have been appointed for Nebraska, Lincoln, R. D. Addis; Sterling, F. O. Dort; Plum Creek, F. L. Temple; Beatrice, F. A. Robertson; Schuyler, E. H. Phelps; Plattsmouth, T. M. Patterson; Fremont, Paul A. Colson; Sutton, Theo. Wentz; Chapman, J. Eaton; Elwood, C. W. Gilmore; Geneva, R. P. Fuller; South Omaha, H. B. Mulford; Stoddard, W. G. Wilson; York, R. Mc Connaghy.
F. N. CLARKE, Chief Consul.

Reinstatements.

By unanimous vote of the Racing Board, James Bearrup, of Wellington, Ohio, and Allie P. Steele, Franklin, Pa., have been reinstated as amateurs.
J. H. COOLEY, Chairman.
Plainfield, N. J., April 14, 1888.

Maine Representatives.

Our State now being entitled to two representatives, I hereby appoint Mr. C. D. Batchelder, of Sanford, and Mr. Harry S. Higgins as L. A. W. representatives for the remainder of present term.
FRANK A. ELWELL,
Chief Consul for Maine.

Maryland Appointment.

Mr. Clarence Hodson is hereby appointed Local Consul at Crisfield, Md.
A. E. MEALY, Chief Consul.

Subscriptions Received.

I have to report the following subscriptions to the fund now being raised in accordance with the circular of the Executive Committee, for the benefit of the L. A. W., viz.:

No. 1—March 23th, Rhode Island Division	$50
No. 2—March 26th, N. McDaniel, Washington, D. C.	1
No. 3—March 31st, Massachusetts Division	300
No. 4—April 4th, S. L. Griffin, Ogden, Utah	1
Total to date	$352

Yours truly and fraternally,
W. M. BREWSTER, Treasurer.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 135—Total 121—9131.

BOSTON, April 20, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—13—326.

Bay City Wheelmen.

18305 Middlehoff, W. H., 701 Laguna st., San Francisco.
18304 Pogue, H. A., 1719 Hyde st., "

San Francisco Bi. Club.

18377 Porter, H. C., 116 Eddy st., "

The Deceivers.

18356 Aguilar, R. F., Pomona.
18354 Holt, Geo. D., "
18357 Martin, John S., "
18353 Parker, E. K., "
18352 Smith, C. M., "
18355 Utley, Albert S., "
18351 White, Frank, "

Unattached.

18283 Hinz, Louis, Jr., 2512 Post st., San Francisco.
18379 Kellhoyer, W. B., 614 Powell st., "
18284 Tanner, F. H., 299 Hyde st., "

COLORADO DIVISION—2—41.

Denver Ramblers.

18273 Rice, Eugene R., 46 Tabor Block, Denver.
18358 Hallett, Geo. E., 1420 Larimer st., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—5—393.

Unattached.

18359 Brooks, James H., 54 Governor st., Hartford.
18378 Parker, Charles H., 60 Flower st., "
18334 Hagberg, John A., Box 584, Norwich.
18335 Lucas, Horace L., Box 1011, "
18272 Norton, W. B., Box 235, Manchester.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—1—81.

Capital Bi. Club.

18360 Graves, Benj. S., 915 N st., Washington.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—11—511.

Illinois Cy. Club.

18306 Kniseley, R. Jr., 747 Fulton st., Chicago.
18307 Mccartney, J. C., 415 Ogden ave., "
18308 Nichols, W. J., 235 Winchester ave., "
18309 Patterson, H. B., 1102 Wash. Blvd., "
18310 Sisson, M. E., 641 Jackson st., "
18311 Sisson, W. P., 641 Jackson st., "
18312 Weil, Benj., 629 Madison st., "

Owl Bi. Club.

18336 Field, C. G., 225 57th st., Hyde Park, "

Unattached.

18274 Swail, John H., Belvidere.
18337 Parantau, Edward, National House, Elgin.
18379 Miller, H. O., 5752 Monroe ave., Chicago.

KANSAS DIVISION—1—109.

Unattached.

18275 Pickarts, J. Max, Leavenworth.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—2—64.

Kenton Wheel Club.

18280 Croninger, Harry, Madison ave., Covington.
18285 Edwards, Nelson J., 108 W. Gray st., Louisville.

MARYLAND DIVISION—7—305.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

18338 Cherry, L. J., 124 Hanover st., Baltimore.
18268 Reed, James B., cor. Cheapside and Water sts., "

Hagerstown Bi. Club.

18281 Porter, Thomas H., Hagerstown.

Unattached.

18296 Bates, Fred A., 1005 Park ave., Baltimore.
18297 Reese, Arthur L., 109 W. Pratt st., "
18277 Spamer, E. O., H., 1324 Harlem ave., "
18276 Spamer, John, 1324 Harlem ave., "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—10—1020.

Mass. Bi. Club.

18313 Burkholm, Andrew W., 71 Revere st., Boston.

New Bedford Cycle Club.

18339 Blackmer, Arthur L., 33 Sycamore st., New Bedford.
18340 Briggs, Allen G., Box 100, Acushnet.
18341 Smith, Fred. W., 233 Middle st., New Bedford.

Somerville Cy. Club.

18316 Kimball, F. B., 33 No. Market st., Boston.

Y. M. C. A. Club.

18269 Beals, William E., Brockton.
18301 Marshall, Frank H., Box 502, "

Unattached.

18314 Burkholm, Mrs. A. W., 71 Revere st., Boston.
18318 Cummings, Hale L., 7 Edinboro st., "
18320 Garran, Frank W., 90 Tremont st., "
18317 Sheldon, Frank M., 3 Haymarket sq., "
18343 Hosmer, Lucius E., 8 Linwood pl., Charlestown.
18315 Duffill, A. E., 29 Mt. Pleasant st., E. Somerville.
18300 Deane, Milton L., 18 Purchase st., Fall River.
18282 Morse, Walter F., Norwood.
18342 Andrews, Arthur W., 17 Catherine st., Worcester.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—4—205.

Unattached.

18302 Selleck, Robert W., 415 Saginaw st., Flint.
18292 Davis, Guy E., Ypsilanti.
18293 Wallace, E. A., "
18303 Smith, Warren H., "

MINNESOTA DIVISION—1—82.

Standard Bi Club.

18345 Gleason, E. A., Pioneer Press, St. Paul.

MISSOURI DIVISION—2—283.

St. Louis Cycle Club.

18346 Wagner, Albert H., 511 Market st., St. Louis.

Unattached.

18318 Dormitzer, Paul, 918 La Salle st., "

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—9—579.

Orange Wanderers.

18307 Ennis, Wm. S., Hillyer st., Orange.
18308 Grandman, Wm. S., 74 Tompkins st., "
18305 Mathews, Harry, Hillside ave., "
18269 Morehouse, J. T., Box 40, Orange Valley.
18306 Pierson, W. T., 181 William st., Orange.

Roselle Ramblers.

18320 Kingsland, J. Edw., Roselle.
18319 Jouet, C. H., "

Unattached.

18322 Watson, Albert, 10 Grove st., E. Orange.
18321 Schippert, A. J. Jr., 30 Hancock ave., Jersey City Heights.

NEW YORK DIVISION—26—1093.

Auburn Cycle Club.

18332 Wimble, J. Hobert, 12 Morris St., Auburn.

Buffalo Bi. Club.

18323 Aldrich, J. W., 71 Coal and Iron Exege., Buffalo.
18325 Barnes, Walter H., 340 Prospect Ave., "
18326 Brogan, W. G., Glenwood Ave., "
18324 Aspinwall, J. L., 288 7th St., "
18327 Hall, E. T., 340 Main St., "
18328 Leonard, Mark J., 318 Niagara St., "
18329 Lloyd, W. F., 120 Johnson Place, "

Kings Co. Wheelmen.

18288 During, F. H., 949 Fulton St., Brooklyn.
18286 Smith, Fred B., 300 So. Third St., "
18289 Spencer, F. G., 9th Ave., and Union St., "
18290 Tagliabue, G., 1097 Dean St., "
18287 Worth, Louis, 348 So. 5th St., "

Harlem Wheelmen.

18263 Newcome, L. A., 109 Broadway, N. Y. City.
18264 Raisbeck, Thos. A., 203 West 56th St., "

Riverside Wheelmen.

18281 Hearne, John F., 135 West 100th St., "

Syracuse Cycling Club.

18370 McDougall, Edd., 70 Warren St., Syracuse.

St. Paul Wheelmen.

18347 Kintzing, F. T., Garden City.

Unattached.

18279 Miller, Henry J., 216 W. Tupper St., Buffalo.
18331 Scherer, Jerome A., 142 Boston St., "
18205 Will, Wm. C., 58 W. Market St., "
18283 Beam, Ira R., Dryden.
18261 Hamilton, Wm. S., 508 Col. Ave., Elmira.
18278 Richer, Irving L., New Berlin.
18292 Heydecker, Wm. C., 46 East 14th st., New York City.
18330 Lane, W. T., Port Chester.

OHIO DIVISION—5—712.

Cincinnati Bicycle Club.

18387 Littleford, Thos. S., cor. 4th and Plum sts., Cincinnati.

Unattached.

18348 Danner, J. M., Canton.
18380 Erwin, Edwin W., 110 West 7th St., Cincinnati.
18371 Frost, H. E., Ripley.
18385 Parr, Dr. J. G., Smithfield.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—7—1195.

Century Wheelmen.

18388 Kitchenman, J. W., 2024 N. 3d St., Philadelphia.

Chester Bicycle Club.

18372 Gilbert, Frank R., Chester.
18280 Smith, Fred M., "

Unattached.

18281 Kitts, J. Frank, Media.
18333 Williams, J. B., Nanticoke.
18393 Vanderherchen, Harry, 248 N. Del. Ave., Philadelphia.
18349 Wright, Chas. A., 527 Arch St., "

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—4—196.

Bristol Co. Wheelmen.

18350 Townsend, Geo. Albert, Drownville.

Unattached.

18391 Almy, Arthur C., 314 Dyer St., Providence.
18390 Lathrop, Wm. G., 17 Angell St., "
18389 Taylor, John T., Bank of No. America, "

VERMONT DIVISION—3—55.

Unattached.

18373 Hastings, L. W., Gallup's Mill, West Concord.
18374 Kidder, H. A. "
18282 Morrison, Henry D., Windsor.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1—70.

Old Dominion Wheelmen.

18392 Hubbard, P. C., 402 East Main St., Richmond.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—1—75.

Racine Bi. Club.

18375 Wratten, E. L., Racine.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

BICYCLE UNIFORMS.

COATS.

A Grade—Made to order of Special Bicycle Cloth, in Gray, Black and Navy Blue, best quality.....$15.00
B Grade—Made to order of good quality Cloth, Gray, Black and Navy Blue..... 12.00
C Grade—Made to order of heavy Flannel, Gray, Black and Navy Blue..... 9.00

KNEE PANTS.

A Grade.....$7.50
B Grade..... 6.00
C Grade..... 5.00

Send for samples of Uniform Material.

SHIRTS.

A Grade—Made to order of extra fine imported Flannel, best in the market.....$5.00
B Grade—Made of fine imported Flannel..... 3.50
C Grade—Made of imported Flannel..... 2.50

BICYCLE BELTS.

No. 00. Extra heavy nickel buckle..... .50
No. 1. Leather mounted..... .40
No. 2. Best leather mounted..... .50
No. 4. Leather mounted, cotton web..... .25

BICYCLE SHOES.

No. BX. Spalding's Hand Made Kangaroo Bicycle Shoe, cut low, with leather sole and low heel.....$5.00
No. CX. Spalding's Dongola Bicycle Shoe, made same as No. BX..... 4.00
No. DX. Spalding's Canvas Bicycle Shoe, leather trimmed and sole..... 2.50

Spalding's Catalogue of Summer Sports and Athletic Uniforms Free,

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO. | 241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

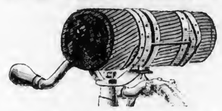
BICYCLE CAPS.

No. A—30. Made of same material as No. A Grade of uniforms.....$2.00
No. B—30. Made of same material as No. B Grade of uniforms..... 1.75
No. C—30. Made of same material as No. C Grade of uniforms..... 1.25

BICYCLE HOSE.

No. 000. The Holmes Bicycle High Stocking and Supporter. The thigh part is of soft material, cool and comfortable, and so knit as to hold stockings in place; at the same time it relieves any drawing or pressure. We have sole control of this stocking. Colors: Black, navy blue, gray and L. A. W. Brown.....$2.50

No. 00. New Linen Sole Bicycle Stocking. A new and specially valuable addition to the cyclist's comfort. It is a handsome ribbed stocking, made in all colors, and the feet are made of the finest linen, which is almost as soft and pliable as silk. The advantages of this stocking (which is covered by a strong patent) are of course very evident, namely, having a splendid serviceable leg, and keeping the feet cool and comfortable.
Price per pair.....$1.25



No. 1. Fine Ribbed Bicycle Hose..... 1.50
No. 1. Plain Wool Bicycle Hose..... 1.00

Spalding's Bicycle Catalogue
Mailed Free.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO. | 241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

THE ROSS IMPROVED

Detachable Luggage Carrier.

(For Crank and Star Bicycle.)

Wheelmen! You don't know what a convenient thing it is. Send for one and try it. You will be delighted, and never use any other. Improved and made stronger than last year.

Price $1.00; by mail $1.10. A discount to the Trade.

In ordering, state name of wheel and year of manufacture.

C. H. ROSS & CO.,
Sole Manufacturers,
46 Columbia Street, Albany, N. Y.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand.
JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.
Send stamp for list.

BEFORE BUYING,
SEE OUR LISTS.
HART CYCLE CO.,
No. 811 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

SAFETY INDISPENSABLE. By Henry Sturmey. A complete analysis of the Safety Bicycle, and illustrations of each kind. By mail, 30 cents. For 1885.

THE INDISPENSABLE BICYCLIST'S HANDBOOK. Illustrated descriptions of 350 different varieties of Bicycles. 400 illustrations. Price 50c., postpaid.

THE CYCLIST, the leading paper of England, is a well-filled newspaper, containing the earliest, the best and fullest reports of all wheel matters. No other paper covers the ground as the Cyclist does, and it is not only the largest in size, but has by far the largest circulation of any wheel paper. Edited by Henry Sturmey and C. W. Nairn. $2.50 per year, including postage.

TRAINING FOR AMATEUR ATHLETES, WITH SPECIAL REGARD TO BICYCLISTS. By Dr. H. L. Corbin. The author of this work being at once a responsible medical man and a rider of world-wide renown, it has an authority which no other book on training possesses. As its hints and directions are in every way practical, it can be strongly indorsed as giving all the information that a book can give on this important subject. Second edition. 50 cents.

TRICYCLING FOR LADIES. By Miss F. J. Erskine. "For some time past there has been a real need with many ladies who have had their interest awakened on the subject of tricycling for some small book which should put them in possession of the most useful and necessary information without having to pay for it by their own experience. This want is now supplied, and in Miss Erskine's book will be found hints on the choice and management of tricycles, with suggestions on dress, riding and touring, etc., adapted to a lady's special requirements." 25 cents.

TWO PILGRIMS' PROGRESS, "From Fair Florence to the Eternal City of Rome—Delivered under the Similitude of a Ride, wherein is Discovered the manner of their setting out, their dangerous journey and safe arrival at the Desired City." By Joseph and Elizabeth Pennell. A delightful book of travels on a tandem, and containing nearly 200 pages of letter press by Mrs. Pennell, and numerous illustrations from the pencil of Jo Pennell. The book is elegantly bound, and is an ornament to any table or library. Price, $1.60, post paid.

Lord Bury, President X. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY.

Facile Cycles.

GEARED FRONT DRIVER.
SWALLOW (GEARED REAR DRIVER.)
TRICYCLE (GEARED AND SUPERB.)
LIGHT ROADSTER (UNGEARED.)
OIL.
ENAMEL.

All best of their kind, and original.

Send for List, mentioning the "World."

JULIUS WILCOX,

33 Murray Street, - - - - - - NEW YORK.

The "BEST" Bicycle Whistle.

This Whistle is pronounced by all Cyclists to be the most convenient,
Loudest and "Best" call on the market.
The month piece is so constructed that it can be held easily in the mouth, and with little effort will produce a loud sound.
PRICE, 25c. EACH. Discount to Dealers.
WHITTEN & CO., Providence, R. I.

REPAIRING
Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.
MURRAY'S,
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!
To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.
Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.
Rubber Tires, all sizes, at reduced prices.
C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.
Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.
DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

VELOCE COLUMBIA.

NEW THIS SEASON. A REAR-DRIVING SAFETY OF THE MOST IMPROVED PATTERN.

CATALOGUE FREE.

POPE MFG. CO.,

Boston, New York, Chicago.

RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

A large invoice of these famous machines, and also of the well-known

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER,

Just received.

Rudge Catalogue Free.

H. M. SABEN, Manager,

152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

THE BICYCLING WORLD & L. A. W. BULLETIN.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING.

$1.00 a Year. 5 cents a copy.

BOSTON, 27 APRIL, 1888.

Volume XVI. Number 26.

To Be Sure

every wheelman in the country doesn't ride a Victor, neither does every man in the country wear good clothes, but if you will notice what the best riders are using you will see that

VICTOR CYCLES

are away up at the front. When you want to find out what wheels are most used, look over the wheel centres, like Boston, New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Buffalo, &c. Victors are preferred because they have Bown's Æolus Ball Bearings all round, Compressd Tires, guaranteed to stay in, True Tangent Spokes, Warwick Hollow Rims, Square Rubber Pedals, &c. In short because they

ARE BUILT TO RIDE.

Send for Catalog.

OVERMAN WHEEL COMPANY, MAKERS, - - BOSTON.

YOU MAY NOT HAVE KNOWN.

We are the clothiers to the Wheelmen.

We got the contract from the National Association for making the regulation uniform.

Its impartial judgment passed on the matter, and designated ours as the best.

That carries with it the other fact—We make the right sort of uniform for the least money.

Yet, when you know all the facts it isn't to be wondered at.

We are used to making the best uniform clothing for the foremost railroad companies and military and band organizations. Why not yours?

No department of our business is growing faster than that of making uniforms. We know how. We employ special skill. That's the only way to do it well.

How else do you suppose we have done that other feat of the clothing trade, to wit: Built up the largest retail clothing business for everyday and dress clothing? In no other way than by making the very best clothing.

And, then, selling it for as little as possible.

We're used to doing it.

Send in your orders. You'll get your suit promptly.

WANAMAKER & BROWN,
Philadelphia.

L. A. W. BADGES,
For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle Street,
Portland, Me.

Patented. Price, $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00, according to finish. Diamond Badges $15 to $50 for the larger pins, and $10 to $30 for the small size. Send for circular free. Also, for sale in New York, at M. J. Paillard's, 680 Broadway; G. R. Bidwell's, 313 West 58th St.; in Philadelphia by the Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch St.; in Boston by the Pope Manufacturing Co.; in Chicago by John Wilkinson & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

SAFETY INDISPENSABLE. By Henry Sturmey. A complete analysis of the Safety Bicycle, and illustrations of each kind. By mail, 30 cents. For 1885.

SPECIAL.

All Advertisements in this Department 20 cents a line.

THE NATIONAL A HIGH GRADE BICYCLE.

EATON BROS.' TOWEL SUPPLY, Boston. Will furnish towels at reduced rates to L. A. W. members.

BICYCLES—Second-hand, sold on commission for owners. For full particulars see our ad. in The Wheel, or address MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 10 Cortlandt street, New York.

WANTED—Second-hand Bicycles for cash, or will trade any new make wanted. Send full description and lowest price. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, Peoria, Ill.

BICYCLES—Taken in exchange for new Buggies, roll curtain office desks, or Type Writers; Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

SPADE HANDLES—For any machine, $2.50 pair; cow-horn handle bars, with lever, $3.50. Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

DON'T FORGET reduced rates to wheelmen. Have Eaton Bros. call.

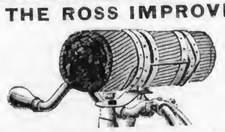
LAMSON'S LUGGAGE CARRIER, the cheapest, lightest and most convenient thing of the kind. May be put in pocket when not in use. By mail, seventy-five cents and one dollar. C. H. LAMSON, Portland, Me.

FOR SALE—50 and 52-inch Expert, 1887 pattern; 50 and 58-inch, '86 pattern Victor Tricycle, old style; good as new; $80. Springfield Roadster, $67. 50 and 52-inch Harvard, cheap. Cyclometers, saddles, etc., cheap. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

BICYCLES, second hand, sold for owners quickly on commission. A big list for buyers to choose from. Old mounts taken in part payment for new Victors. MANHATTAN WHEEL EXCHANGE, 10 Cortlandt street, New York City.

DO YOU WASH? Use Eaton Bros. Towels.



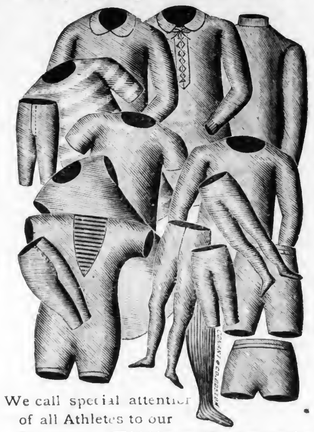
BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES. Send for our list before you buy. Complete Repair Shop. Special attention paid to tourists who need repairs. W. M. ERISBIE COMPANY, 10 Crown street, New Haven, Conn.

SMITH'S DETACHABLE LUGGAGE CARRIER; weight only four ounces; will carry 10 pound dead weight on the head of any Bicycle made. Price 75 cents. Discount to the trade. C. H. SMITH, 240 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich.

BICYCLES. Everything in new and second hand.
JOHN WILKINSON CO.,
55 State St., Chicago, Ill.
Send stamp for list.

THE ROSS IMPROVED

Detachable Luggage Carrier,
For Crank and Star Bicycle.



Wheelmen! You don't know what a convenient thing it is. Send for one and try it. You will be delighted, and never use any other. Improved and made stronger than last year.

Price $1.00; by mail $1.10. A discount to the Trade.

In ordering, state name of wheel and year of manufacture.

C. H. ROSS & CO.,
Sole Manufacturers,
46 Columbia Street, Albany, N. Y.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

We call special attention of all Athletes to our

Jersey - Fitting Garments

Each Garment in above cut we make in three different qualities.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List.
Manufactured by

HOLMES & CO.,
17 Kingston St., Boston, Mass.
Please mention this paper.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Co.

This Supporter is in use by Bicycle Riders, Base Ball Players, Athletes, and Gymnasts, and we are told that it is the best and most satisfactory supporter made.

Let every Sportsman try them.

PRICE $1.00.

Jersey Fitting Supporter.

Will send by mail on receipt of price. Send size of Waist and Hip.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Jersey Fitting Underwear Co.
17 Kingston St., Boston Mass.

Send price, lettering, and state gold or silver for any

CLUB PINS & BADGES,

You may want, and receive by return mail

A SPECIAL DESIGN.

Perfect satisfaction always guaranteed.

JOHN HARRIOTT,
3 Winter Street, Boston, Mass.

BEFORE BUYING,
SEE OUR LISTS.
HART CYCLE CO.,
No. 811 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ABOUT INCOMES.

(Continued.)

Another suggestion to persons, with moderate incomes, who desire to indulge in cycling, If you cannot buy, RENT. Renting wheels is looked upon by many with disfavor, as cycles used for renting purposes are usually in such a condition as to make riding them unenjoyable. This season I shall use for rental purposes new Columbia Light Roadster Bicycles and Columbia Tricycles and Tandems, also the Veloce Columbia. The road wheels will be kept in perfect condition. Send for one of my small books, giving terms, etc. I might also mention again that I am selling Columbia Cycles, have all sizes and styles of finish, and can fill orders promptly. Store open evenings.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,
313 West 58th Street, New York.
NEAR THE PARK.

THE NATIONAL A HIGH GRADE BICYCLE.

BADGES, MEDALS, Etc.
MADE FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS.
H. C. HASKELL,
18 John St., New York.
Correspondence Invited.

HOLMES & COMPANY,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
Bicycle and Lawn Tennis Jerseys and Tights
Ladies' Gents' and Children's Union Undergarments
IN SILK, WOOL AND MAKINO
No. 17 Kingston Street.
Boston, April 16 1888

Mr Geo D Hazard Manger
83 Equitable Bldg. Boston.
Dear Sir—

We take pleasure in informing you of the fact that our Advertising in the Bicycling World & L. A. W. Bulletin has proved entirely satisfactory the returns having been very large.

Very Truly Yours
Holmes & Co

GET THE BEST!

The Standard Cyclometer.

Greatly Improved for 1888.

Simplest and Best Instrument ever Invented.

The Reasons Why:

It has stood the test for accuracy.

It has proved itself the strongest and best made cyclometer on the market.

It has been in use several years, and its merits are well established among wheelmen.

Can be read from the saddle, and used with or without the hub lantern.

A positive and continuous action, making it reliable in every respect.

REGISTERS 2500 MILES.

We have given the manufacture of the Cyclometer careful investigation and study, with a resolute determination to remedy all defects, and at last we pace upon the market an instrument that seems absolutely perfect in all its workings. We furnish a certificate of accuracy with all instruments. In ordering give size and make of wheel, also size of axle, and length of axle between the hub shoulders inside. Price, with balance weight and lantern attachment, $10.00.

J. A. LAKIN & CO.,
Send for Circular. WESTFIELD, MASS.

Send 6c. for 20 Samples and rules for Measuring for Coats, Pants, Vests & Overcoats.

Mention this paper when you order, and we will give to each purchaser a pair of PANT STRETCHERS. The best invention ever made for taking out wrinkles and bagging at the knees, and shaping the bottoms of Pants.

Sent by Mail or Express Prepaid.

VESTS, $2.25 COATS $8.00
Suits, $13.25 to $30.00.
Also, Manufacturers of Bicycle and Tennis Suits and Fancy Uniforms.
BAY STATE PANTS CO., Custom Clothiers
34 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

ANKLE ACTION

(See L. A. W. Bulletin Feb. 24th) is learned the easiest and best on the EUREKA HOME TRAINER AND BICYCLE STAND. Price $7.50. In Bicycles, Tricycles and Sundries, we can also please you with style, quality, price and terms.

☞ Correspondence solicited.

M. A. WOODBURY,
43 and 45 Mechanic St., Bradford, Pa.

No. 1.

THE * SPRINGFIELD * ROADSTER

FOR 1888.

YOST & McCUNE PATENTS.

No. 1 cut shows the $75 Springfield Roadster which retails for $75, with plain and cone bearings, nickel-plated trimmings, Fish Saddle, Tools and Tool Bag.

No. 2 cut shows the $100 ball bearing Wheel, with spade handles, cow horn shaped handle bars, enamel finish, and nickel-plated trimmings.

These Wheels preserve the beauty of the ordinary Wheel, with absolutely safety qualities, not to be overlooked by those who anticipate riding, and appreciated by all old riders.

CATALOGUE FREE.

No. 2.

Wholesale Distributing Offices:

MERWIN, HULBERT & CO., -	New York, N. Y.
KIRK BROWN, - - -	Philadelphia, Pa.
C. F. STOKES, - - -	Chicago, Ill.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., - -	St. Louis, Mo.
E. T. ALLEN, - - - -	San Francisco, Cal
JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., -	Boston, Mass.

Retail Salesroom: No. 147 Washington Street, Boston.

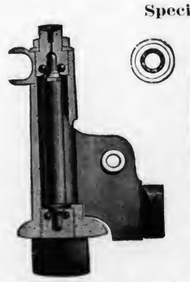
SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MFG. COMPANY, No. 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

All our orders call for the Ball Head!

Large Handsome Photograph for 10 cts. in stamps

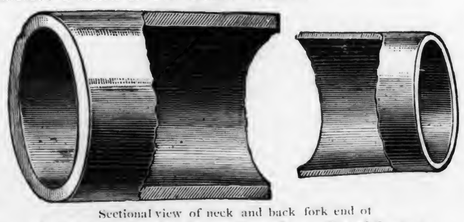
NEW MAIL.

Specialties Found in No Other Wheel.



Not a Broken Backbone Last Year!

The New Mail is having a remarkable demand.



A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

Sure 'tis a Trigwell Ball Head Year!

Trigwell Ball Head.

1000 miles without oiling or adjusting. Perfect Rigidity and ease of steering. Greatest of modern improvements.

Sectional view of neck and back fork end of

Warwick's New Perfection Backbone,

giving increased thickness and strength at upper end, where is the greatest strain. No spreading of backbone after riding.

Warwick's New Rim.

No Seam outside. Thickened Metal at Bottom.

☞Not a Buckled Rim Last Year.

To find out what the New Mail is read the Testimonials of many of the leading and hardest riders in the country contained in our Catalogue.

Send for it before selecting your mount, it don't cost anything to read it.

MANUFACTURERS,

WM. READ & SONS, 107 Washington Street, BOSTON.

WESTERN DEPOTS—Meacham Arms Co., St. Louis, Mo.
Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE BICYCLING WORLD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING

Published Every Friday

—BY—

THE BICYCLING WORLD COMPANY,

12 Pearl Street,

BOSTON, MASS., U. S. A.

☞ Entered at the Post Office as second-class mail matter.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

GEO. D. HAZARD, Manager. 83 Equitable Building, Boston.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

Copy for new advertisements must be handed in by Tuesday morning, to insure their being inserted in the current week's issue. CHANGES must be in hand no later than Monday, to insure attention for the following issue.

☞ All communications in reference to advertising should be addressed to Mr. Hazard as above.

☞ All checks and postals for advertising or subscriptions must be made to the order of the Bicycling World Co., as heretofore.

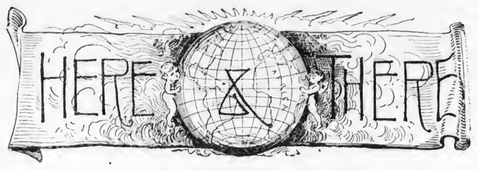
TO ADVERTISERS: The circulation of the BICYCLING WORLD AND L. A. W. BULLETIN is more than the total circulation of the other weekly and monthly cycling periodicals combined, published in the United States. Bear this in mind, and give US YOUR patronage.

EDITORS:

C. W. FOURDRINIER. J. S. DEAN.

BOSTON, 27 APRIL, 1888.

MR. DARROW, of the Gazette, makes some rather silly accusations in his last issue to the effect that petty "bickerings" were being indulged in between ourselves and Mr. Bassett. Mr. Darrow is over excited on the subject, he has permitted his glasses to magnify a mole hill into the vast proportions of a mountain, that is all.



WE want to say a word to our readers and to our advertisers. Complaints have been made that the paper does not reach our patrons as early as it should. The fact is, we have been striving hard to please both these elements, and the consequence has been that we have delayed the paper in order to get late advertisements in. In order to get the paper out on time it is necessary to have the forms closed and in the hands of the pressmen on Wednesday night. Hereafter we shall see to it that our forms are closed and ready for press at that time. We must, therefore, ask our advertisers to have copy for new ads. or for changes in hand by Monday or Tuesday morning at the latest. In case any copy reaches us later, and we find we cannot set it up and put in the issue immediately following, we must ask forbearance at their hands, as we must get the paper out "on time."

THE following excerpt from the Baltimore American is a sermon in itself. This is truly a case of "penny wise and pound foolish." One hundred million is a large sum, and would go a great way toward giving us good roads. This saving in money is big, but it does not include the wear and tear on men's tempers, nor the loss of time which is involved. These two items are vast and incalculable in extent. "Prof. Ely, of John Hopkins University, Baltimore, estimates the losses from bad roads in the United States, in the wear and tear on horses and wagons, at one hundred million dollars per year. There are ten million of horses; he says, in this country, and good roads would save an average of ten dollars for each horse, making the total one hundred millions. If the roads were all the time like they were here in March Prof. Ely might safely double his figures."

THERE is every indication that the season about to open is to be one of the most important and active ever enjoyed in this country. Certainly from the manufacturer and importer's standpoint there is every reason for congratulation. Among riders things have received an impetus, and their energies are being directed into channels that cannot but result in the most satisfactory manner if they will only persist in following the line of action they have so happily laid down. How refreshing it is to be able to turn from that musty, nauseating amateur question to that of road improvements. We feel somewhat inspired as we think on the possibilities thus opened up to us in the future. We are not so sanguine as to suppose that great things can be accomplished in a single year, but we do feel encouraged in the belief that the end of this year will see us strong and well on the way towards the accomplishment of securing those evidences of a high civilization—better roads. With us it must "be line upon line, here a little and there a little." Because great results do not at once show, we must not give up, and say "'tis no good, what can so small a body of men do among so many?" If every wheelman will carry the idea in his mind never to lose an opportunity to speak or work for the end in view, the influence of such words and acts, however small, could not fail to be felt and seen, if persisted it. It is this persistence, this ever present motive, that we urge upon our readers. You who are reading these lines can do good, you can make your individuality felt, to the end that the present desideratum, good roads, may become an accomplished fact. We may be accused of weary reiteration on this subject before the season ends, and we propose to give cause. We propose to allow no opportunity to pass, to speak of and for, the most important question that should and must engage the cyclist's attention, that of "road improvements."

A CORRESPONDENT, who signs himself "Kicker," writes: "Your Chicago correspondent, 'The Mule,' is a good writer and a nice fellow personally, but he has a habit Buttercupish (your pardon, sir) of occasionally mixing up the cubs (I mean clubs) in his letters. He says that the Lincolns have organized the Illinois Cycling Company to build them a club house. As one who knows, I wish to say that there has been no company ever organized in this State, under the above name, and, furthermore, a company cannot be incorporated for the purpose mentioned, as it would be against the laws of this and other states. In regard to the I. C. C. securing a club house, I wish to say that they have had one secured for some time past, and though they had to resign it, owing to the objections of the surrounding residents, the committee had the matter so well in hand that in less than forty-eight hours the lease was being made out for the house they will occupy May 1st. And although it is quite large and will be remodeled somewhat and finely furnished, it is only a stepping-stone to one that is to be built for them in the near future."

Chambers Journal for March, 1888, devotes a page and a half to the progress of cycling. It is a re-hash of what has already appeared in this and other cycling papers. It is of great value, however, from the fact that the article will reach the eye of thousands of non-cyclers, and may be the means of interesting them in the king of sports. The article winds up in the following rhapsodical manner: "The tricycle is the best liniment ever invented for joints that have grown stiff through want of use. A ten-mile run will throw your 'nervous depression' to the winds. It leads to healthy action of the stomach and of the skin and liver. We feel thankful for this form of recreation, by means of which one may drink in refreshment at every pore. While many make it a task and more toilsome than it need be, with most persons it strengthens brain and nerve, sweetens the temper, hardens the muscles, and makes those who practice it moderately, hardier and healthier."

"GENTLEMAN JOHN."

SCOTTISH NOTES.

I HAVE just come in from a long day's salmon fishing, and (as is the common experience or luck of such fishermen) I have done so with a creel lighter by several sandwiches than when I set out hopefully enough in the morn. It is strange that a man can be so infernally awfully enthusiastic as to carry a heavy, double-handed, twenty-foot salmon rod all day, with merely a dim hope that he may catch one of the king of fishes, or, at least, get a good "bite" or "rise." It is strange, but as a fact it remains. There are plenty of fine, "clean run" salmon in the river, and that makes the matter the more exasperating. It is common experience with the salmon fishers here that the fish absolutely refuse to look at a "salmon fly," ignore it, and with a wink, and a saucy flip of the tail, speed up the pool to critically examine the tackle of some other deluded disciple of Isaac Walton, and perhaps after the same pantomime has been gone through, to ignore him as cruelly and completely.

"It's my way of thinking,
That there's nothing like drinking,
When a salmon keeps winking
And blinking at ye."

These are the words of an old writer who seems to know all about the saucy ways of a salmon. I have, however, not yet been forced to affect alcoholic beverages as a cure for my depression.

TALKING about bicycles, which, in my capacity as BICYCLING WORLD newsgatherer, is my especial duty, I gave a twenty-eight-pound safety a good testing the other day. I rode the "Jigger" twenty-two miles (from Edinburgh to Peebles) over from one and one-half to two inches of snow, and although the work was necessarily hard, I got to Peebles. It was a case of "Pike's Peak or bust," and I didn't bust; neither did the machine, although the test was a very severe one. It was crunch, crunch—up hill and down dale—toujours crunch. The trip on an ordinary bike would have been an utter possibility, and somewhat arduous on a tricycle; as it was 'twas rather arduous. I would not like to be on a cycling corps in Siberia. The framework on the little safety is a pattern for beauty, and mechanical strength and simplicity, being a diamond in shape, and braced from the upper to the lower corner, thus relieving the bearings from strain when hill-climbing. As a rule the safety bicycles are sadly deficient in this particular over here. They seem (in most cases) to brace everything else sufficiently, but they are contented with a couple of three-eights steel rods as bearing braces, and the consequence is that whenever great pressure is applied to the pedals, the force is transmitted to the bearings, which, in response to the pressure, "give" or "sag," and you know what that means. Power improperly applied, or power applied to a machine that won't stand the pressure without "giving" or bending, is just so much power or labor wasted. Another great fault many of the safeties have, is that the seat is so placed that one has to lean the body very far forward to grasp the handles, and the pedalling is not vertical enough.

I DO not think, for all my (since removed) aversion to the appearance of a safety, that I could ever be induced to go back to the high ordinary. The safety is so incomparably superior in my estimation. The safety is no experiment. That it is an assured and established success is evidenced by the way the makers are improving this type. Ordinary bikes among the old timers and road riders are, over here, practically dead letters. Of course there are the cautious conservative cranks that do not appreciate or even find out a good thing before they have entered upon the years of second childhood. There's nothing like trying a thing. Experience teaches, if her teachings are a little expensive at times. Whenever riders appreciate the fact that any properly made machine is good enough, then such periodicals as prostitute their columns to the booming of certain wheels at so much a line "next to reading matter" (and having the appearance of such) will find that riders are not all complete idiots, who can be converted to a special make of machine by an absurd advertisement, that tells how much faster their wheels can run than those made by other existing companies. I don't mind a truthful advertisement, and do not blame makers for boasting about the records made on their machines. In more than one race that has been advertised as a gory battle against time (and reason) there has been no more reliable time piece than a Thomas Lucas' bass oil-can, with the spout hidden in the timer's (?) hand. I am pretty sure that we won't have so many unreasonable records this season as we did last. I remember a road race in which I took part. 'Twas but a mile and we rode pretty fast. We were (or at least I thought I was) all simon-pure amateurs. When we got to the tape (pretty much in a bunch) the man that held the Waterbury, yelled out "mile, 2.52." The spectators cheered us; I yelled "rats," or made some other disparaging remark, but the timer said he knew his business, and I rather think he did. Probably that mile was made in 3.10; not much faster though. We all remember what Vanderbilt said about the public: "The public be d——d," said he, when someone remonstrated with him about the effect of some of his speculations upon the poor, dear, trustful public. There are too many men who take the gate receipts at race meetings who inwardly think pretty much as Vanderbilt expressed himself.

A "C. T. C. PARSON" may be impressed by the idea, that because "so and so," the "pro.," did "for hire" ride a certain wheel so many miles on the highway in so short a time, that he, being mounted upon a fac simile (or at least upon a machine bearing the same name on its backbone) can pursue his parochial duties at a similar speed without excessive perspiration and no fatigue. The "C. T. C. parson" may think that, way down in the depths of his mind, "but he couldn't; n-o, he couldn't." Ten to one, the machine the "pro." rode was a specially built and "light-weight" machine. "There," said the "C. T. C. parson," as he pointed with pardonable pride to his tricycle, "is the machine that came in first in the twenty-four hours' grind for the championship of both hemispheres, not exactly that machine, but one just like it." "Oh," said his friend (who preached eternal condemnation every Sunday in an adjoining parish). "I must get a machine just like yours'." But laying makes and names aside, has not the rider generally got a little to do with it? Is not the "name" "but the guinea stamp?" Is not the man the gold for a' that? I think so. He generally has something to do with it. Because a certain "Chestnut" tricycle, mounted by a certain rider, made twenty miles within the hour, we must not say that all riders on "Chestnut" machines are good for the same time and distance. And yet there are such, that, open-mouthed, innocent and credulous, are ready to believe that the moon is made of scented soap, and it only needs an enterprising man who understands the advertising and transportation business to make an independent fortune. Since I saw a man writing testimonials as full payment for goods, I said to myself: "Be ye wise as serpents, and harmless as simon-pure amateurs."

CLEVELAND.

"COMMODORE."

THE BICYCLING WORLD is filling a "long-felt want" among wheelmen in this city, and is by far the newiest and most readable paper of its kind that we have ever had. May the WORLD move on. [Thanks for kind words, some of which for obvious reasons of modesty we have omitted.—ED.]

THERE will be a "boom" in bicycling this season. Local dealers have placed more orders for wheels within the past six weeks than ever before at the opening of a season, and the army of new riders will be a large one.

ED. W. FARRANDO of the Plain Dealer staff and a member of the Ramblers, had the misfortune to take a header from his wheel a short time ago and break his right leg below the knee. The injury will lay him up for several months.

THE riding season is here and the long winter of our discontent is only a remembrance, but a very disagreeable one. The roads are in first-class condition and scores of wheelmen are taking advantage of this pleasing state of affairs. Individual runs of from twenty to forty miles are already being made.

CAPTAIN HENRY E. CHUBB of the Ramblers has over eight hundred miles to his credit so far this year. R. W. Wright is but a few miles behind him. The race between these two riders promises to be interesting as the year progresses. In 1886 Mr. Wright led the local riders with 3,815 miles for the season's work, and last year Mr. Chubb came to the front with over 4,700 miles. Both have their eye on the 5,000 mile mark this year.

THE new bicycle club, the Forest City Ramblers, is an assured success. Its charter membership list numbers eighty and includes nearly every prominent wheelman in the city. The officers are: President George Collister; secretary, John T. Huntington; treasurer, Charles Fogelberg; captain, Henry E. Chubb; board of directors, the above officers and R. W. Wright, E. J. Douhet and Fred P. Root. All these gentlemen are identified with the two old clubs, so there will be no antagonisms between the existing organizations. A natty gray uniform has been adopted, and the Ramblers have made their entrance into the cycling world under the most auspicious circumstances. Medals have been offered to all club members covering twenty-five hundred miles during the season, with an additional bar for every thousand miles over that distance. Medals will also be given to any member covering over one hundred and fifty miles in twenty-four hours and to any member breaking the State twenty-four record, one hundred and ninety-four miles. An L. A. W. pin will be presented to the member attending the greatest number of of club runs. The first club run of the Ramblers was held a few days since. Twenty-five members attended and rode to Dover and return, a distance of twenty-eight miles. It was the first time that many of them had ridden this season.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"ARIEL."

SAFETIES, safeties everywhere! All cycledom seems to have run wild this season on the new mount, and for a while the ordinary is relegated to the back seat; not for long, however. The reaction will come sooner or later, and wheelmen will learn that where good roads abound, where simplicity of construction and ease of repair in case of breakage are a consideration, and for the experienced and careful rider, the ordinary is the wheel; the moral of which is—don't sell your wheel at a sacrifice merely to get a safety.

AMONG the guests at the annual supper of the Century Club on the 27th inst., will be Chief Consul Jessup.

THE editorial staff of the American Athlete was increased by one last Sunday, and Mr. Wells celebrated the event by climbing Ford Hill twice without a dismount. Mother and son both doing well. The latter will use a "Home Trainer" with ba(w)i head for the present. [Mr. Wells has our congratulations.—ED.]

TWENTY-SIX hungry Centurions found no dinner at Green Tree on their run there last Sunday, and coming back to the Bellevue for the wherewithal for the inner man, were compelled to take exceedingly light fare, the "Pennsy" boys having just cleared the table. Toothpicks and coffee are enlivening food, but they are not very staying.

MR. H. B. HART, of the Philadelphia Bicycle Club, the well-known dealer, has offered to defray the expense of having a prominent lawyer appear before Councils' Committee, when they meet the delegates of the Associated Cycling Clubs, in relation to having Broad street paved with asphaltum. One of our most public-spirited wheelmen is Mr. Hart, as Philadelphia cyclers well know.

THE first of the series of open entertainments projected by the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club was given on Thursday evening at Association Hall. The affair was a lecture by Mr. MacOwen on the Isle of Wight, and was illustrated by stereopticon views, many of them colored. It was a great success, financially and otherwise, and the attendance was large. Next month a minstrel entertainment will be given.

LEISEN was the only other man who succeeded in making the top of Ford's on the run last Sunday, although Supplee, Kohler, Lehman, Dallett, McDaniels, Synnestvedt and Halstead made the attempt. Halstead is not satisfied by any means, and proposes having another try at it. We are pleased to see that he is not devoting all his attention to things bicycular. "Carmen" is a very enjoyable opera, is it not, Mr. H., especially in agreeable company?

MR. KIRK BROWN, ex-President of the Century Wheelmen, makes the following offer. "I will donate a valuable gold medal for competition between the amateur wheelmen of Philadelphia, Camden and Wilmington in a hill-climbing contest, to take place between the present date and June 18th. Details to be arranged by committee consisting of the Pennsylvania, Century, South End, Camden and Wilmington Clubs, or such representatives as they may appoint.

THE Wilmington Wheel Club's racing team has challenged the Reading Club to a road race on the Lancaster pike, and intimate that the Pennsylvania Club will be likely to hear from them on the same subject. In a late issue of the Athlete the Wilmington correspondent spoke of McDaniel organizing a team for this purpose, but afterwards took water to a certain extent. A triangular race of this sort would be highly interesting. With Wilhelm, Schmidt, Schwartz and Scheele to represent Reading, it would take four good men and fast to capture first prize from them.

IF "Duquesne" will read my article aright, he will find that I did not accuse him of betting on Banker. I don't believe he is giving money away. He was pleased to cast some doubt on my statement as to the performance of Scheele's dog "Jack," some little time since. I can only say that Jack is like his master—a stayer—and a forty mile spin is nothing extraordinary for him, although I must admit that it is most unusual for a dog. Scheele claims Jack's runs as record, and says he has done more than forty miles already. That's the kind of dog they have in Reading. I don't say dogs because I well remember how Potter used to cuss "Glendon" because the big mastiff couldn't stand a ten-mile-an-hour gait.

ST. LOUIS.

"LINNEUS."

CONSUL JENNINGS, of Moberly, Mo., was in town lately buying new wheels for himself, Will and Rothwell. He said that he was in great hopes of having at least a dozen riders at his town before the season closes. Moberly is a town of 12,000 inhabitants, and has no paved streets. The city fathers are now awakening up to some sort of an improvement, and Jennings is moving heaven and earth to get them to adopt the brick pavement as used at Cleveland.

THE safety craze is on here. The last one to succumb is C. H. Beggs, an old-time Rambler.

THE membership of the Missouri Division has fallen from over 350 to only 281, as per list of April 13. This is not as it should be, and every member who has the interest of the division at heart should do all in his power to secure new recruits.

INTEREST in the coming road race keeps on unabated, and with fair roads the record will surely be broken. The weather has been rather cool for out-door training the past week, but as the race does not take place before May 5 no excuse will be had for not being in shape.

THROUGH the efforts (and contributions?) of Consul A. C. Miller the Hannibal Courier has established a wheel column. Last Monday's edition of that paper contained a very full account of the Rowe-Howell race, and also a description of the run of the Marion Co. Wheelmen to Spalding Springs.

BY the way, Prof. C. H. Stone made the round trip to De Soto on April 14 on a safety. This ride is very nearly a century (if the hills are taken into consideration it amounts to two), and as the Professor claims to have made it with less fatigue than on an ordinary it speaks volumes for the wheel.

E. N. SANDERS, the new Captain of the Cycle Club, is bringing the members on to the road in great shape. Ed is one of the best of our local racing men. He has entered the St. Louis Wheel Co. road race, and if not too heavily handicapped, will surely lead the procession on May 5. Stick a pin there.

THE Missouri Division recruiting circular will be out next week. It will consist of eight pages, bound in pamphlet form, containing all the whys and wherefores of League membership, an article on cycling and on the L. A. W., and an application blank. Two thousand of these will be printed, and distributed all over the State.

THE welcome news of Percy Stone's reinstatement reached us today, and he is in receipt of congratulations from all sides. Nothing is now in the way to make the big Missouri Club a League club, which will probably be done soon. Percy should show his gratitude by making every purchaser of a wheel become a League member.

AT the Missouri's Club house increased activity is noticed in the way of securing new members and getting large squads of the riding element out on the road. There are at present some dozen applications for active and associate membership hanging on the bulletin board to be acted upon at the next regular meeting of the club. The tennis courts have been put in shape, and many of the associate members will soon make good use of them.

THE committee having the selection of new quarters for the Cycle Club in hand have not as yet made a report, although it is pretty generally known that they have their eyes on a suite of rooms, situated on the Chestnut St. side of the Natatorium. These rooms have never been used before, but the proprietor promises to put them in elegant shape, and is very anxious to keep the club as his tenant. It is only a question of rent, and that will probably be settled ere this goes into print.

CHIEF CONSUL BREWSTER states that a fare of one and a third for the round trip has been secured for those that attend the League meet at Baltimore from here. Judging by remarks made it is possible that a larger party will represent Missouri at this gathering than has ever appeared at any other one. It would be desirable to have a full coach load go, as a special through baggage car for bicycles would then be attached, and there would be none of the usual getting up in the middle of the night to transfer the wheels. Another thing might be mentioned in this connection, and that is, through the efforts of Chief Consul Brewster the Penna. Co. will carry wheels free for the first time.

THE road question is bearing fruit all over the State. Papers at Edina, Canton, Hannibal, and Booneville are now publishing articles on roads, which were furnished them by Representative Holm. It would be a good idea for the balance of the representatives to do likewise, and get the country press interested. I clip the following editorial from the Booneville, Mo., Advertiser: "The rock road agitation is bearing fruit. The meetings Saturday last have set the people to thinking. It is probable that several miles will be built on the Jefferson City road this summer. West of Booneville, Messrs. J. M. Nelson and H. Bunce offer to build roads through their farms, a distance of several miles, if the city will macadamize some street to connect with the rock road. Booneville's City Council will take any steps possible to secure the completion of these highways, and we are hopeful of an early improvement in the condition of our roads. It is time something was done." "In 1884 Cooper Co. paid $6760 50 for roads; in 1885, $9316.35; and in 1886, $8296.90; a total in three years of $24,368.75. This money has been almost thrown away. The expense of maintaining rock roads will be a very small fraction of this amount, while the roads are immeasurably better."

KANSAS CITY.

"MENTOR."

THE League's Executive Committee circular, with an addendum by Chief Consul Brewster, has been received here by the members. The wheelmen of the city regret the financial condition of the League is such that officers ask its members to contribute to placing the organization on a good working basis. They will, however, not fail to respond liberally to the circular. The wheelmen here are noted for their liberality.

THE City Engineer here has recommended to the City Council the use of asphaltum for the residence streets. The residence streets are paved with cedar blocks, but are not substantial and lasting. Moreover, they are now being put down very cheaply, consequently poor. When they are sprinkled they are "terrors" for inexperienced riders. It is to be hoped that the City Council will act upon the Engineer's suggestion, and pave the streets with asphalt.

THE first official club run of the season took place last Tuesday. The destination was Independence, ten miles, but the roads were something terrible. The "toughs" who made the trip were: Lieutenant De Tar, Messrs. Scibel, Rawlings, Austin, Glarin and Stuart. The roads were in a fearful condition, and headers were frequent, very frequent. The run to-day (22) is to Parkville, a place never yet visited by a club of wheelmen.

AT the last meeting of the United Wheelmen, a letter from the St. Joe Ruralists' Bicycle Club was read, inviting the former club to spend Memorial Day (May 30) the guests of the latter. Arrangements are being made for the entertainment of wheelmen from all the surrounding towns and a glorious time is confidently expected. The United Wheelmen expect to turn out in goodly numbers. The wheelmen of St. Joe are a whole-souled genial lot, and will no doubt arrange a grand entertainment.

BUFFALO.

"MERCURY."

THE BICYCLING WORLD has many ardent admirers in this city, and its coming is always looked for with pleasure; but for some cause or other, many wheelmen failed to receive theirs at the usual time Monday morning. Anxious inquiries at the post office for the BICYCLING WORLD were in order Monday and Tuesday. Messrs. Editors, I congratulate you; your cartoons of prominent wheelmen are excellent. It would be a good idea to introduce L. A. W. officials to your many readers by this means, and I feel sure you would receive the heart-felt thanks of all by so doing.

"PEDALS," please give us some more of your poeticalisms.

THE road to Aurora is reported in a fair condition. A few riders will take advantage of it Sunday.

MANY objections are being raised against our boul—, I mean our parkway to Niagara Falls being styled "the boulevard." It's too Frenchy, don't cher know?

SEVERAL streets will be paved with asphalt this summer, including Genesee street, from Jefferson street to the city line, a distance of almost three miles; also one side of Humboldt Parkway.

THE first meeting of the newly-organized Zigzag Bicycle Club was held Tuesday eve, April 17th, and the following officers were chosen: President, A. H. Halleck; Secretary, H. D. Gates; Treasurer, Jos. Weig; Captain, G. W. Radcliffe. Here's success to the Zigzags.

THE Sporting Life says: "Wheelmen are beginning to see that there can be very little of genuine amateur racing. Speedy racing costs money and time, and few men can spare either for the sake of glory. If a man spends money he naturally wants to get some of it back." There is a good deal of truth in that.

NEW JERSEY NOTES.

"RATCHET."

THE monthly meeting of the Orange Wanderers was held April 18. Seven new members were elected. It was decided to offer five new medals, to be competed for as follows: One each to the gentlemen members attending the largest and second largest number of club runs; one to the lady member attending the most runs; one for the best season record; and one for the best 24-hour record. A committee was appointed to inquire as to the advisability of the club's giving a tournament on the Roseville Cycling Track some time during the season. On Monday evening (23) the members of the club, in a body, attended a performance of "The Highest Bidder," at Miner's Theatre, in Newark, in response to an invitation from Col. Morton, the manager. About twenty members of the club took a run to Belleville and Avondale on Saturday (21).

A PARTY from Oraton Hall took a forty-mile run over the Newark, Orange and Irvington roads on Sunday.

SOUTH ORANGE has appropriated $6000 for streets and highways, and $5000 for lighting streets. Tichenor avenue is to be laid out and graded.

A CYCLING contingent has been organized in the Orange Young Men's Christian Association, with R. S. Prindle as Road Captain, Spencer Ayres and Reed Hawley, Lieutenants.

FRANK BROCK, with Howard A. Smith & Co., thinks he is a flyer, and a race is likely to be arranged between him and W. W. Walters, manager of the firm's Orange store. Look out for "blood on der moon."

THE roads within twenty miles of Newark are now in prime condition, and cyclers by the dozen are seen daily. The Irvington-Milburn course is being put to practical use, and after the sleepy-headed authorities have cleared off some of the loose sand, good time will be in order.

THE Orange Wanderers are making preparations for the League meeting to be held in Baltimore on June 18, 19 and 20, combining with it a century run. Fifteen members are already pledged to take the run, which will be from club headquarters at four o'clock on the preceding Saturday morning.

DETROIT.

"TWINKLER."

THE Star Bicycle Club attended the Abbott Opera Company's performance of the "Chimes of Normandy" on Saturday evening last, by special invitation of Miss Emma Abbott. The club, in full uniform, and wearing button-hole bouquets and the club colors, occupied seats in the parquet. Misses Abbott and Annandale wore the club colors. Miss Abbott's first dress being composed of alternate stripes of cardinal and gold. During the performance, the club presented their hostess with a magnificent bouquet of roses and a gold badge of exquisite workmanship. The badge consisted of a bar, to which is appended a star, surrounded by a wreath of green gold, and surmounted by a monogram, E. A., in red gold. Miss Abbott wore the badge during the performance, and says it will form a part of her "Chimes" costumes hereafter. After the performance, the club was received upon the stage by the prima donna, who took occasion to remark that she would like to be a member of the Star Bicycle Club of Detroit. It is needless to say that she was then and there elected, amid great enthusiasm. Miss Abbott promises that upon her next visit to Detroit she will attend a club run if a tandem is to be had, and if Captain Metzger will consent to occupy the steering seat upon same; for, she says, "I want to be an active member." All agree that Saturday evening was the most enjoyable in the club's history.

LANDLORD CONNER, of the Sherman House, Mt. Clemens, having offered to "set up the dinner" for the first party of Detroit wheelmen who should make the run this season, some of our men thought last Sunday would be a good time to enjoy same, acting upon which thought, Captain Metzger, Lieutenant White, and Messrs. Blodgett, Abbot Bassett, Secretary — Editor of the League of American Wheelmen, and Mrs. Bassett, on the Columbia Tandem.

A FEW THINGS WE DO NOT ADVERTISE.

RECORDS which we know to be false.——RECORDS after they are taken from us by another wheel.——RECORDS which are not unanimously accepted by the cycling press as genuine.

ONE OF THE THINGS WE DO NOT DO.

Retire from racing after every obtainable road, long distance and track record is beyond our reach.

A FEW THINGS WE DO.

An honorable manufacturing business.——Guarantee our wares to be exactly as represented.——Make a wheel which is capable of, and does hold all world's road and long distance records.

Do not forget that we make a large sized specialty of sundries and manufacture nearly everything in the way of accessories needed by the bicycle rider. We are always glad to discount on these goods to any authorized agent or repairer, whether he handles our line of bicycles or not. Our latest acquisition is the Excelsior Cyclometer, which is known by everybody to be absolutely reliable. We have a lot of these cyclometers in sizes, 50, 52 and 54 inch, of the old pattern, which we are offering, to close out, at the ridiculously low price of $5.00 each. They are just the same in matter of mechanism as the new style Excelsior, the only difference being that they cannot be read from the saddle. Those who desire to take advantage of this bargain had better order early, as they are going fast.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO., - - CHICAGO, ILL.

Makers of the American Cycles.

Largest and most artistic Catalog in the trade, on application.

For Sale by J. S. MURRAY, General Agent, 243 Columbus Ave., and 100 Sudbury St., Boston.

INGER CYCLES

FROM THE

LARGEST CYCLE MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

LEADING MOUNTS FOR 1888.

"APOLLO LIGHT ROADSTER." 50-inch, $130.
Highest grade Wheel made; Ball Head; Spade Handles; Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER. 50-inch, $100.
The best machine ever built for the money, including Spade Handles and Detachable Bar.

"CHALLENGE" ROADSTER NO. 2. 50-inch, $75.
A thoroughly good roadster bicycle, with coned rubber pedals.

THE "SINGER" SAFETY. $135.
Fast; safe; a great hill climber and coaster.

"MINIATURE" SAFETY. $60.
For riders of from 8 to 16 years of age. 24-inch wheels, 5-8-inch tires; adjustable coned bearings.

"MINIATURE" TRICYCLE. $70.
30-inch driving wheels; a really good tricycle for riders of from 6 to 15 years of age.

"S. S. S." TRICYCLES.

No. 1. For Gentlemen..... $175
No. 2. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 175
(The above furnished with "Singer's Patent Axle and Bridge.")
No. 3. For Ladies or Gentlemen..... 160

SPECIAL "S. S. S." TRICYCLE. $135.
30-inch side wheel; 28-inch front wheel. Convertible for Lady or Gentleman

"S. S. S." TANDEM. $250.
Steered by either rider.

"TRAVELLER" TANDEM. $235.
40-inch side wheel; 22-inch trailer.

THE "VELOCIMAN" TRICYCLE. $195
The only practical Hand Power Tricycle for Invalids.

☞ For details of these Machines see our regular catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address on application.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., 6 and 8 Berkeley Street, ... BOSTON.

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tandem.

—:o:—

The Swift
SAFETY.

—:o:—

Send for Catalogue.

THE MOST Popular Tandem
MADE.

—:o:—

THE MARLBORO
CLUB
Tricycle.

—:o:—

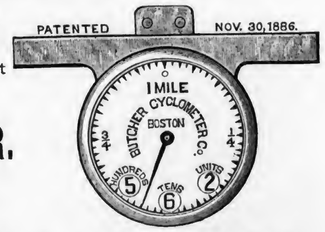
Send for Catalogue.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld., 239 Columbus Ave., BOSTON, MASS.

Patented Feb. 15, 1887.

All the Accepted Road Records

Were measured with, and thousands of the best wheelmen use only the



BUTCHER CYCLOMETER.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO THE

BUTCHER CYCLOMETER CO.,
6 and 8 Berkeley Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

Free by Mail on Receipt of
PRICE, . . $10.00.

PATENTED NOV. 30, 1886.

Our Spoke Cyclometer.

SENT FREE BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF
PRICE, ... $5.00.

THE BICYCLING WORLD (established 1879.) The leading cycling paper of America; employs the best writers on cycling subjects, and makes a specialty of practical articles relating to cycling. All the news, carefully edited and given with dispatch. One Dollar a year.

JUST THE THING
—FOR—
ROAD RIDING.

BICYCLE SUSPENDER.

Supports Stockings, Pants and Drawers. Does away with the injurious belt. Simple, easy, strong, does not bind.

Price, postpaid, $1. ROBERTS & CO.,
76 Euclid ave., Cleveland, O.

THE BEST BICYCLE WHISTLE.

The Most Convenient, Loudest, and Best Call on the market. Price, 25c. each.
Whitten & Co., Prov., R. I.

BETTER THAN EVER.
PUNNETT'S
JERSEY CLOTH GARMENTS.
Knee Breeches only $4 a Pair.
Club Uniforms a Specialty
Be sure and write for Samples and Measure Blanks.
PUNNETT,
Merchant Tailor and Athletic Outfitter,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Medbury, Glover, Bradish and Beadle, of the Star Club, and Messrs. Jones and Whelden, of the Detroit Club, made the run in two and a half hours, which is excellent time for this season of the year. The party was met by several Mt. Clemens wheelmen about five miles out, and by them accompanied to the Sherman House, where mine host Conner outdid himself. That dinner was "a thing of beauty, and a joy forever,' and the men were as happy as well-fed wheelmen always are, when it was discovered that we were in the midst of a blinding snow storm. To ride home was impossible, and there was no train until Monday morning, so nothing could be done except to telegraph to papas and mammas, wives and sweethearts, that we were "snowed in" and then await the convenience of the Grand Trunk Railway Co., which we did; and talk about fun—I don't believe you Easterners know what the word means, so come out here, and we teach you.

PITTSBURG and VICINITY.

"DUQUESNE."

THE Pittsburg Times of April 23, has some trash anent the proposed cycle race track, it says, "one prominent business man gives his check for one thousand dollars, another $500, and many others $100 apiece." This makes us tired, and how green their reporter must have been to allow them to load him up in such style?

A TOPICAL ditty entitled, "Billy come over the water," would be very appropriate unless Howell is defeated on April 28. We are getting tired making excuses for W. A. R.

C. M. CLARK and H. S. Stevenson will "do Yurup" this summer awheel; they expect to ride at least a month, and they will buy mounts on the other side. Mr Stevenson has sailed, but Mr. Clark will not sail until June 1st.

THE wheelmen hereabouts have been living in hopes of a track on the new Y. M. C. A. grounds, but the Association does not appear to have any use for such a thing, and there is a move on foot now to build a quarter-mile track for bicycles only: $500 is needed, but it will take some work to raise that amount.

THE Keystone Bicycle Club will give medals for 150 miles on the road in a day, also for century runs, and to the man riding the greatest number of days, the man riding greatest distance in the year will not be forgotten either, that is if he rides over 1500 miles.

CONNECTICUT-INGS.

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

THE Stamford Wheel Club was reorganized on the evening of April 5th, and on the 12th the following officiers were elected: President, E. D. Walsh; Vice-President, W. A. Hurlbutt; Secretary and Treasurer, C. M. Bryant; Captain, N. R. Jessup. There are about 20 members, to date, with more that will be heard from when the roads are in condition. Members are pushing the matter of a Cycle and Athletic exhibition, at the Armory, on May 30th.

MESSRS. PENNOYER, Bennett, Frietz and St. John are our latest cycling converts. Bert Richards, a Facilist, took a 30-mile-and-return ride up north into York State, on the 22nd. Our roads are hardly in good order yet, owing to frequent rain.

THE old-new club has the congratulations of our entire membership on their recent evidence of "life that's in 'em yet," and we hope that they will make their mark—many of them in wheel tracks over these New England hills—and be a permanent and "staying" club.

IS any maker going to furnish corduroy helmets? They are positively waterproof, not heavy, and very lasting. We have a cap of same that in a two hours' rain did not wet through at all. The age of "goods to sell" is passing; what tourists want is "goods to wear."

BROTHER LANE, our new L. A. W. member at Port Chester, promises to be a League worker, and we hope to accompany him and others in a certain scramble between New York and Philadelphia in June. Will some one kindly give us an idea as to the kind of road surfaces we may expect on that ride, and many WORLD readers will say 'bliged.

A DRUNKEN beast came very near a collision with the writer, recently, but his friends dragged him away just before we "came together," and there were saved "the usual sad rites that have to be performed over the remnants of the brute that clinches with us!" However Wild West this may sound, we felt just that way, lately, when the aforesaid beast brutally beat a defenceless old man near here, and the "authorities," save the mark, let him go unhung. Another case of more law than justice.

FOR some reason we had not seen in any cycling paper, recently, any account of the $17,000 cinder path from New Haven to New York, but our local papers say so, and we hope we can have the privilige of casting in our mite, and we will make it a much larger one than we would to any Missionary to the Cannibal Islands, too. Yes, that's the thing, give us good roads, or failing that, work in cinder paths so that we can take long rides throughout the country, for in them we find keenest enjoyment of the wheel. We are glad to see the cycling papers giving so much space to this most important subject, and hope for great things in '88.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

"12804."

TALK about fine weather. You ought to be in this town, get some of it, bottle it up and uncork, somewhere up North, where the boys are still shivering around the club's open grates. Last Wednesday the clubs here turned out in the "Free Bridge" celebration parade, and made a fine appearance. This bridge crosses the Potomac, and forms the connecting link between Washington and Arlington, Va. While the bridge was being constructed we were obliged either to be ferried across, or go round by the old "Long Bridge," a distance of about three miles. The new bridge gives us one of our most pleasant runs, and on Sundays wheels and carriages can be counted by the hundreds.

BY the way, if you want to see a variety of "mounts," just sail down here some pleasant Sunday, and you can see everything from the old two-wheeled velocipede down to the latest Safety.

WE held a very enthusiastic monthly L. A. W. meeting last week and trust that much good will come of it; and it was his "nibs," Atwater's, first time in the chair as C. C. After the meeting we clung to him like leeches; you know why. He came to time, as he always does, in good shape, and we let him off easy on "Bock." At this meeting $25 was voted to the L. A. W. to help the national body. It was also voted to make preparation to receive and entertain all wheelmen coming from the Baltimore meet on June 21, 22, 23 and 24.

NOW a word in regard to this L. A. W. Division. We number now about 75 men. It seems a shame that, with over 2500 riders in this city, so few should be L. A. W. men. Let every man try and get a friend to join, and in a short time we will "get there with both feet." Men say, when asked to join, "why, what is the League? I never heard of it." Let every L. A. W. member make it a point to explain what the League is, and have an application blank always in his pocket, and be not afraid to talk; and not only this, but when the year is at an end, see that he and his friends renew. If every man of this division supports Chief Consul Atwater in his endeavors, next year we shall have 1000 instead of 75.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

LYNN is sad, Lynn is sorrowful, Lynn is amazed! Rowe again beaten, this time by W. Wood. At the present writing it does look a bit blue for Rowe's chances to beat Howell, but still our faith in the American's changes is not entirely vanished. The one mile race is to be decided to-morrow, Saturday, 28th. If good wishes will put Rowe at the front, we know he will get there.

THE trick championship question in England is getting to be about as wearisome an old chestnut as the amateur question. Wheeling and the Cyclist on one side, and Bicycling News on the other, are growling away at each other in a most blood-curdling way.

CHASE, the man who rode over and killed Prof. Paul, three weeks ago, in Washington, has been released on $1,500 bail.

WHEELMEN wishing to train on the Buffalo track when built, will correspond with Henry E. Ducker, 848 Niagara street.

THE Lynn, Mass., Cycle Club will hold an athletic tournament at the Coliseum, some time before the end of this month.

IN a recent race in Australia, Rollinson and Clark vs. 3 horses 20 miles; the quadrupeds beat the wheelmen by about a mile.

THIS year it is Buffalo that the eyes of wheelmen will turn, and it is to be the Mecca to which all enthusiastic wheelmen will travel.

NOW, that we have got on the up track with our racing, it is hoped that Springfield, Hartford, Lynn and Cleveland will follow in the wake of Buffalo.

HAVE men no exclusive rights? This query is suggested by the rumor that Washington is to have a bicycle club, the members of which are to be of the "distracting sex."

MR. C. W. EATON, of Boston, an enthusiastic wheelmen, was lately married to Miss Lillian M. Lawrence, also of this city. His many friends will join us in congratulations.

THE new Buffalo track will be a half-mile, and the seating capacity of stand will be for 20,000 people. It is expected to have on the largest day, not less than 50,000 people.

THERE is no mistake but that Mr. Ducker has struck the key note of success for the revival of racing in this country, in uniting the tournament with the great International Fair.

MASSACHUSETTS L. A. W. members should read the official notice of the meet to take place on Decoration Day, May 30. It will be found in the "Official Department" of this paper.

WE are sorry to hear that Kennedy-Child was thrown from a horse in New York lately, while attempting to negotiate a hurdle. We are glad to learn that the damages were more painful than dangerous.

THE International Fair to be held at Buffalo in September promises to be one of the most interesting exhibitions of the year; this with the bicycle tournament ought to make Buffalo "thick with wheelmen" next September.

WE have heard of "one-legged races," "aged men's races," "Ladies' races," but it is left for Rome, N. Y. to produce a "deaf mutes race." One satisfaction, the fellow who gets left won't be able to tell "how it all happened."

THE farmers of Warwickshire, England, are advocating the taxing of cycles on the ground that "riders of these machines grumbled more about the state of the country roads than anybody else, and it was only fair they should pay taxes."

THE cartoon this week presents a likeness of our worthy Secretary-Editor and his wife. The last of the series will be that of W. A. ROWE, and we hope in the issue of that picture to be able to chronicle the victory of this man in his second race with Howell.

MR. WELLS says he has been waiting to hear from Mr. Shurman, of Lynn, in regard to making a hill-climbing match with him. He is ready to arrange details either personally or by mail. By the time this item reaches Mr. Wells' eyes he will have heard from Mr. Sharman.

A. L. ATKINS, in writing from Los Angeles, says: "I notice the editor wants to go to Mexico because there was no snow, cold, etc. He had better come out here, he can ride every day, summer or winter; always good roads, nearly always pleasant, no cold, no snow, no bad winds, no nothing."

WITH bated breath and awesome feelings we desire to announce to our numerous readers that the great and only John L. Sullivan has once more made Boston happy by his presence. Alas, however, Boston's joy is not unalloyed, for Boston's memory goes back to a scene enacted on French soil less than a month ago.

MR. IRVING E. MOULTROP, Vice-President of the Roxbury Club, joined the happy band of benedicts last Tuesday night. The partner of his future was Miss Abbie Hopkins of Melrose, Mass. The pair started on their wedding trip Wednesday, A. M. This makes the seventh man married out of the ranks of the Roxbury Club within about 18 months.

Oregon Siftings perpetrates the following: "Oh, did I tell you about little Henry, grandma? He's got a bicycle." "Sakes alive! Well, don't get excited about it. Just you put a big poultice of soap and sugar on it, and change it every morning, and it'll be gone in three days. Your grandfather used to have 'em every hayin' time, reg'lar as June. They ain't nothin'; they'll do him good."

MR. MERRILL, of the Union, agrees with us that "Rowe's only chance with Howell is to begin the race at the pistol shot and run his opponent out. It isn't claimed that Rowe can do this with Howell, but that is the only possible way for Rowe to ever win a race, on its merits, from Howell. Probably Rowe will profit somewhat from the experience of this first contest, and the defeat may do him good."

"SEPTEMBER 4, 6, 8 are the dates of the largest, biggest and best bicycle tournament the world has seen, and Buffalo the place. Over $5000 in prizes, with $500 in addition to be given to any wheelmen breaking a record, and this will be given out on a new way, as follows: In any race that a record is broken the winners of the three prizes, whether amateur or professional, will receive additional ten per cent. to the prize already won, thus making an incentive for all to run fast." So writes Mr. Ducker. We would ask if the extra ten per cent. for breaking records is to be presented in the form of cash to amateurs?

DR. H. T. APPLEBY writes to the Buffalo Commercial: "In yesterday's issue of the Commercial I noticed in an interview on athletic sports that Mr. Dann asserts that 'bicycling is bad for the heart.' If he means bicycle racing he should have said so, and I have no rejoinder. Any supreme effort, such as boat racing, bicycle racing or running, in youth especially, may produce enlargement of the heart, I deny, however, that the bicycle when used reasonably, has any tendency to produce other than a good, healthy heart action. Mr. Dann may be able to prove his assertions, but as an amateur bicyclist of eleven years, I doubt it."—Buffalo Commercial.

A CORRESPONDENT, dating from Mauch Chunk, Pa., writes a doleful story as to the causes of the disbandment of his much-loved club. He says: "The gossips do say the cause of the wreck was too much matrimony. 'The fever' raged in the club for a year or two, taking off most of the 'pillars.' When it subsided there was scarcely a bachelor left. This being so, we found it best to disband.'" This doleful chap signs himself as, "Yours truly, with much crape on my hat."—. We protest that instead of the bicycle club disbanding for want of membership, they ought to have increased the clubhouse accommodations, and elected their dear wives, too.

NO. 1513, writing from Cincinnati, says: "We, the Ohio riders, are not asleep; although we have been quiet for some time, we enjoy riding as well and heartily as anyone can. Sunday last some of the Crescent Wheelmen, of Cincinnati, started out for Hamilton, about twenty-one miles from here. The day began cloudy and dreary with threats of rain; but still, nothing could keep the boys back, save it would pour down in buckets. We met lots of other wheelmen on the road, who joined us. At Hamilton a good meal was stowed away, and after sufficient time had elapsed for the digestion of same, the party started homeward. A strong wind gave us all we wanted to do, but we 'got there,' though it was a tough one for the first of the season."

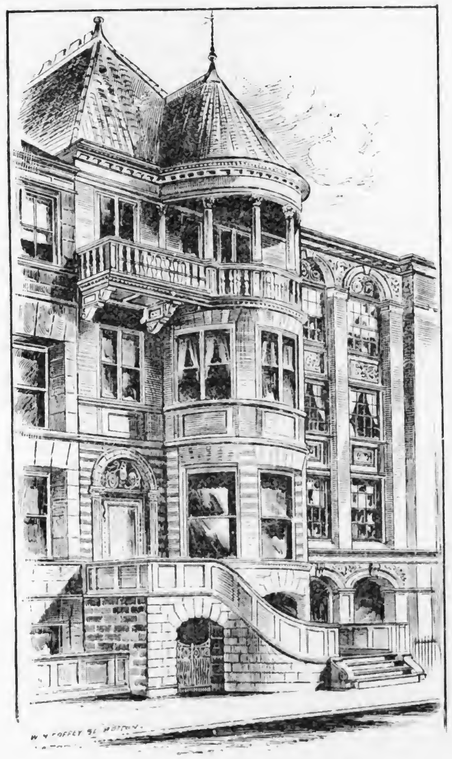
UNION HALL, Cambridgeport, was filled to its utmost capacity last Monday night, the occasion being that of the minstrel entertainment given by the Cambridge Bicycle Club. A most excellent programme was rendered in a way that reflects great credit on "the talent" of this club. The singing was very good, and the endmen, Messrs. Davenport, Close, Hopkins, and Curtis, manipulated the tampo and bones, and got off their humorous vocal efforts to the entire satisfaction of the audience. In the second part Mr. Davenport gave a good imitation of the great Irving, and Mr. Stone was particularly happy in his informal talk, and feats of legerdemain. Messrs. Jackson and Edgerly gave a first-class song and dance act, and the entertainment wound up with some good music by the Cambridge Bicycle Club banjoists. The show was far above the average amateur effort, and we hope the club treasury is plethoric, as a result thereof.

WE are pleased to notice practical evidence that Mr. Merrill has returned to Springfield and taken his old position with the Union. He tackles the bicycle news right off. We imagine the following is from his pen: "The members of the Springfield Bicycle Club are justly indignant over the recently published statement that the club 'has waned to an almost wholly social organization.' Because the club has very wisely concluded not to indulge in the expensive luxury of race meets, for which the dear public is always crying, but which it isn't willing to patronize, the club, forsooth has degenerated into a social organization. Far from it. The Springfield Bicycle Club to-day is more of a wheel club than at any time since its organization, with the possible exception of the first two years. Paradoxical, as it may seem, the club has done more riding since the decline of the racing meets than in the palmiest tournament days."

THE following, taken from a Little Rock exchange, would indicate that the yearning for adventure and the thirst for Indian scalps influenced "Charlie" to fly from the protection of the parental roof tree. We think the report is incomplete, as we see nothing indicating that there was a judicious application of the maternal slipper to the person of the adventurous "Charlie": "Last Wednesday Charlie McCullough, a fifteen-year-old boy, ran away from his father who resides in this city, and for two days no track of him could be found. Later it was discovered that he had crossed the upper bridge on a bicycle, and was seen going in the direction of Fort Smith. W. H. McCullough, father of the runaway boy, telegraphed to Conway, and Constable Yeager met the adventursome bicyclist with the instructions to bring him home. The prodigal was returned to his father's mansion yesterday evening."

SATURDAY evening, the 21st inst., the club house of the Long Island Wheelmen was the scene of gay festivity. It was the occasion of the last of the "ladies' nights" for the season, and Mr. Wm. J. Clark and his committee of entertainment "did themselves proud." These receptions have been given every two weeks during the winter and have been greatly enjoyed by all. There were about two hundred persons present Saturday evening last, to enjoy a well-arranged programme of music, vocal and instrumental; recitations and dancing. Mr. Benj. Wechsler rendered a violin solo, accompanied by Mr. E. E. Newell; recitations most ably delivered by Miss Minnie C. Dorlon, among which was "The Farmer and the Wheel, or the new Lochinvar," by Will Carleton; Mr. Anton Sbrignadello executed an original piano solo; a very lovely contralto solo was sung by Miss Mattie Dorlan, accompanied by her sister, Miss Minnie Dorlon; Miss Leonore Bedell also sang a solo; all of which were greatly enjoyed, and most heartily applauded. Refreshments were served, and dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

W. S. DOANE, writing from Denver, Col., says: "The roads in most directions around Denver, and in the city, are fully up to the best Boston roads, and the climate is such that riding can be indulged in almost continuously the year round. Riders here are numerous. On Sunday, April 1st, I was invited to take a run with the Ramblers, an active club with a large membership, composed of some of the best young men of the city. Our destination was Mount Vernon, fourteen miles distant, and is looked on as the hardest ride round these parts. Fourteen men started out, and as soon as the city limits were passed the fun commenced. Your humble servant was among the first to see stars, and before we got home the captain (the fastest rider in town), recorded fifteen headers taken by nine men. There is a fine of ten cents for each header, so the captain had to collect $1.50 from the unlucky ones. The hills sustained their reputation for being fearful. The first ten miles had an up-grade of 500 feet, and the next four miles a grade of 2,500. It took three hours to cover the fourteen miles. On the way back it was down-grade, but the rough roads made care very necessary. April 29 there is to be a 25-mile handicap road race."



NO. 307, writing us in regard to the proposed aged men's race at Baltimore, says: "It gives me great pleasure, and much amusement, to note the interest taken by my fellow 'antiques' in the 'aged' rider question, and am delighted by your very handsome offer of a gold medal to be competed for at Baltimore. As the originator of the 'new departure,' will you allow me to suggest that the race be ten or fifteen miles, including, at least, three stiff hills, as, judging from my own experience, only such a race would bring out the "old ones'" best points, i. e., staying power, and grit. A two-mile flat race would simply make them subjects for ridicule, as they cannot compete with the speed made by their younger brethren, who, as spectators, would not be sparing of sneers and epithets." We must beg to differ with our good friend on the distance to be run, and on the charge that "sneers and epithets" would be indulged in. If we thought that "ridicule" was to be the result, we should discourage any such race. Ten or fifteen miles is to long, but we are willing to compromise on a five-mile road race if the consent of the authorities can be obtained, and it is the wish of the majority of the "aged riders" who form the entry list.

GOOD ADVICE.

"CLUB HOUSES AFTER GOOD ROADS."

I READ with so much interest what the rest of God's-good-folks (wheelmeen) write to the BICYCLING WORLD AND BULLETIN that I imagine if others could read of what we in Binghamton, N. Y., have done it would interest them perhaps a little. I'll just put it in form of an invitation: Come each and every wheelman to Binghamton, N. Y., you will see the "Parlor City," and a most beautiful city it is. As to our club, in point of beauty, I cannot brag much, but if the members of the club are not "pretty" they are practical; witness this fact that we have just completed a nine mile path, three feet wide along the highway and near the fence. Bridges have been built when filling in was impracticable. This gives us what we consider the finest bit of riding in America. I repeat the invitation to come and see for yourselves, and if you will only come in small sections of two or three at a time I can assure you that you will have a freee pass with the best of board, and we can lodge you in good shape at our rooms while you stay. A selfish desire prompts me to write this invitation. I want you to see what a club can do with good grit and a little cash, (our path has cost about $600) so that you can go home and build more paths like our own, and when we visit you and go out we can enjoy a good ride with as little exertion as possible. We must brace up and put more cash in roads and less in fine rooms, club houses after good roads, and we will all find more pleasure. Again I say come. If any wheelman has any questions to ask about our path, cost, or how we built it, in fact, any query bearing on the subject, I will gladly tell them all I know ('twont take long). There is nothing more interesting to me than this question of good roads. J. H. COPELAND.

Binghamton, N. Y.

NEW YORK BICYCLE CLUB.

WE present above a drawing of the New York Bicycle Club House, as it will appear when finished. Ground has been broken, and the work will be pushed so that, it is hoped, by July or August, at the very latest, the house will be completed. The contracts have all been placed, and the total cost of the building will be about $30,000. The house is to be situated on West End avenue, a location excellent from the fact that the riding surface is good from the very door. The material to be used is red sandstone and a special rough brick. The dimensions of house are 25x64; the lot is 25x99. The basement will be used as a wheel room, and will cover the whole area (25x64), thus giving accommodations for some 150 wheels. The first floor will contain a fine hallway and two spacious parlors, to be divided by heavy portieres. The feature in the first and smaller room will be a large fireplace. The staircase will be of heavy oak, as in fact will be the wood work of the first floor.

The second floor will be devoted to lockers, baths and committee rooms.

The third story will contain a restaurant, billiard room, and the janitor's living room. The loggia on this floor will be utilized by the members in warm weather.

The general character of the interior finish will be in keeping with that of the exterior, first class in every respect. A servant's staircase in the rear of the building will be put in. Every convenience for members that experience has taught to be disirable, will be incorporated in the plans and fittings. The New York club stands as one of the pioneers of cycling organizations in the United States, founded March 1st, 1882, by F. A. Egan, P. M. Harris, B. G. Sanford, M. G. Peoli, and T. D. Howard, it has ever been among the foremost and most enterprising clubs of this country. Last year the club was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York.

When the scheme of building was first broached and decided on, the Ixions, a lively club, decided to cast their lot with the New York Club, and so the combination was decided on, and these two strong clubs merged their interests "for weal or for woe," and became one.

Even in this period of magnificent bicycle club houses, the new building of the New Yorks will stand in the front rank, and that the evidences of prosperity and enterprise may never grow less is our earnest wish.

RACING.

ROWE SUCCUMBS TO W. WOOD.

A SPECIAL to the Boston Herald dated London, April 21, 1888, says: "At Jarrow, today, the bicyclist Rowe sustained another defeat, this time by Wood of Shields. They raced twenty miles for a stake of £175 in the presence of 5000 spectators. The weather was fair, but the track was soft, owing to the recent rains. The betting at the start was 11 to 10 on Rowe. Toward the finish both men reserved themselves for a spurt in the last lap, which, therefore, was very fast. Rowe made a splendid effort, bnt Woods gamely replied, and managed to cross the tape just a foot ahead. Time, 1h. 6min. 40 1-5 sec."

TERRE HAUTE (IND.) BICYCLE CLUB.

THE above club issues the following: "You are most cordially invited to attend the 'Spring Race Meet' of the above club, to be held Wednesday, May 30, 1888, at the Vigo County Fair grounds. Following is a programme of the races to take place: 1, one mile novice; 2, half mile 1:40 class; 3, one mile club championship; 4, half mile hurdle; 5, half mile State championship; 6, one mile 3:30 class; 7, quarter mile dash (flying start); 8, one mile amateur; 9, one mile Star; 10, one-eighth mile banana; 11, one mile road wheels (ridden by owner); 12, two mile State championship.

Gold medals will be awarded in championships. Bananas in banana race. Gold and silver medals as first and second prizes in other races. A special gold medal (by J. Fred Probst), to the winner of most closely contested race, not including Nos. 4 and 10. Races to begin at 2:30 sharp.

Entry fee to each race, excepting No. 10, fifty cents, no entry fee to No. 10.

There must be three competitors in each race. L. A. W. rules will govern all races, excepting 4, 7 and 10.

Entries close May 26 with J. Fred Probst, who will furnish any other desired information."

BROOKLYN BICYCLE CLUB.

The above club issues the following: "As the coming riding season of the club promises to be an eventful one, owing to our double membership, and in order to maintain our supreme record as the great road riders in the United States, we will offer six individual record medals, to be presented to the six men riding the greatest number of miles during the year commencing April 1, 1888, and ending April 1, 1889.

First and second medals gold; third and fourth medals gold and silver, and fifth and sixth medals silver.

Members wishing to compete for the above, must notify the captain on or before April 21st, and have cyclometers checked.

Approximate mileage will be received up to April 21st, after which cyclometer records only will be received from competitors.

The races for the season the track and road will be as follows:

Club Novice Series. One mile track race, five mile road race, ten mile road race.

Club Champion Series. Two mile track race, five mile road race, ten mile road race.

Gold medal to first, gold and silver medal to second, and silver medal to third in each of the series.

Entries for the above will close on the day previous to the first race. Entrance fee $1.00 for each series.

Open Races. Three mile track (handicap), twenty mile road race.

Gold medal to first, and silver medal to second in each event. Entrance fee $1.00 for each race.

Entries close one week before the day of either race.

In all the events there must be five starters, or no race will be held.

Notice of club runs will follow from time to time.

WOODSTOCK (ONT.) AMATEUR ASSOCIATION.

The fifth annual meet of the above association will be held at Woodstock, Ont., May 24, 1888. Elegant and costly first and second prizes will be given in the following events:

1. Bicycle club competition; 2, two mile green race; 3, one mile open; 4, five mile open; 5, half mile open; 6, two mile open to 6:20 class; 7, one mile open to three-minute class; 8, two mile championship of Oxford; 9, two mile lap race, open.

C. W. A. rules to govern all races. Green race to be ridden on road machines.

W. A. A. A. cup for the county championship to be won three times before becoming the property of the holder.

Entrance fee to all races, 50 cents. Post entries 50 cents extra.

Each event must have three starters or only one prize will be given.

All entries (except the farmers' race) must be made in writing to S. Woodroofe, Secretary W. A. A. A. on or before May 23d.

THE BUFFALO TOURNAMENT.

Editor Bicycling World: At last I am able to announce the dates of what will be the largest and most successful bicycle tournament the world ever saw. Having entered into an arrangement with the Buffalo International Fair Association we will hold a tournament Sept. 4, 6, 8, and will have the opening of the above fair on which Buffalo is spending a half million dollars, and I think the whole wheel world is to be congratulated on my success, for there is no doubt but that this tournament will give the wheel a great boom. I shall have entire charge of this department, and as Barnum would say, "this is to be the crowning effort of my life." Now, dear WORLD, I want you to do this event justice in your reading columns, and I ask you to give us a big start. I send you all of the information that I have at hand at present and will send more as fast as completed. I desire at this time to urge on cyclists the fact that now is the time to get ready to make an exhibit here that shall be a credit to the wheel. This part is important and should not be overlooked, for it will be a grand chance. We will give you special rates from Boston, and, in fact, from all of the large cities, and a chance to see the falls as an additional attraction. Yours truly,

848 Niagara street, Buffalo, N. Y. HENRY E. DUCKER,

[By addressing Mr. Ducker, as above, particulars can be obtained. We, however, shall give all information as fast as arrangements are completed. We shall take pleasure in lending our aid to make this tournament a great success. ED.]

LEAP YEAR.—A TRUE STORY.

IT was the monthly squabble night of the club. The venerable President had just decided that the Club Kicker was out of order on a knotty point concerning the number of buttons which should be put on the new uniforms (the Club Kicker is very tall, and wanted five, while little Blondy wanted four, and after an hour and a half's wrangling it took the meeting just ten seconds to decide that each member should have as many as suited his own fancy). As I said, the Club K. had just been sat upon, and the Secretary was taking down the names of the new Uniform Committee, the change having become necessary because of the universal desire to squelch the aforesaid Kicker, who had "delayed the game" to such an extent on several occasions as to make two mortal enemies for life. The calm, dignified President hesitated about the last name. The old committee in a little different order had been re-appointed, with the single exception of the K., and that individual sat in an aggravated state of self-conscious expectancy, much resembling that of a condemned criminal. All eyes were upon the Chair.

He spoke:

"Every gentleman," said he, "in this room, is either an officer of, or upon one or another of the important committees of the club, (there was just a quorum present). Now, I think this shows that unless the members have an active part in the management of the club, they sooner or later lose their interest, and I therefore nominate for the remaining position, Mr. Charles W. Sniffen, a comparatively new man."

Here I noticed that the Dude and the Secretary opposite exchanged glances, the former performing a feat greatly resembling the act of swallowing a wad of cotton. The President looked at him in astonishment, and then went on, saying, as if as an afterthought: "By the way, I hear that Charlie is likely to be married, engaged in fact"——

He got no further. The cotton must have been gun-cotton, judging from effects, for here the Dude exploded into a loud roar, as his eye again caught the Secretary's, while the latter was so extraordinarily affected that he doubled up and rolled completely off his chair, uttering at the same time a loud who-o-o-p.

Now, we flatter ourselves upon the possession of our President. Nothing ever ruffles his judicially severe serenity, but on this occasion, as he afterward allowed, he was considerably "phazed." Rising from his seat, after a moment of bewilderment, he demanded the cause of so extraordinary an outburst, addressing himself more particularly to the Secretary, who, in falling, had barked his, the President's, shins.

The gentleman addressed managed to control his face, and asked the Dude, who, by this time, had revived under the fairy-like manipulations of the Athlete and M. Mile Man, whether he'd "better tell it."

"Let her go," said the Dude, "you tell it, I'm sure I couldn't."

The President intimated that "it" would have to be pretty good in order to make up the loss of dignity, etc.—the Secretary, hearing which, let out another hole in his belt, and told the following tale:

Said he, "Shallow, over there, and I, went down the other night, to call on pretty Kittie C——. (Dudie didn't know I was to be there, or I should have been alone). You all know Kittie,—deucedly pretty—black eyes, cream, with a touch of brown, for complexion, and all that sort of thing—full of fun, and always up to some trick or other. Well, we had been there some time, the Dude and I each wishing the other would go. Conversation flagged. The Dude even tried to get off that old one of his about the party in 'East Grand street," but Kittie threatened to "go up stairs, so there now,' if he did, so he let up for once. Just to make a break, I asked who was the perpetrator of a crayon sketch of uncertain motive, which hung over the piano.

'Oh!' said Kittie, 'that's my sister Agnes, but you'd never know it. Charlie Sniffin did that. He's a young artist who's been coming here for about ten years to see her, and doesn't make any headway at all. If I was a man,' looking very hard at me, 'I'd make up my mind in less time than that.'

"Ah There, over there," and I exchanged looks, but didn't let on that we knew poor Charlie.

"Ah, really," said I, "I often see his works mentioned in the papers," for which I received a box on the ears that made my head swim, and which seemed to inordinately amuse the Dude.

'Don't try to tell me any of your stories, 'I'm fly,' as my brother Jack says,' said Kittie. 'Poor Mr. Sniffin, he doesn't like me, I tease him so.' Why, do you know, the other night he came to see Agnes,—of course Agnes had to get fixed up, and he sat in the parlor, alone; I opened the door softly and whispered, 'are you alone?'

'Yes,' said he, looking at me suspiciously.

I put on a look that completely threw him off his guard. Going to where he sat, I struck an attitude, quietly but dramatically, and exclaimed:

'Mr. Sniffin—Charles—no, do not start, but hear me, oh hear me. How can I express myself? How can I tell you all that has borne so heavily on my mind these long, weary months? Charles, I have long loved you from afar, but never, until now, dared to speak. Charles—Charles, be mine.'

Before I had finished he had fled behind the piano, retreating still further, as I made an attempt to throw myself at him.

'Miss Kittie, you—you ca-can't really mean——?'

'I do mean it. Charles, my own dearest Charles. It is leap year, and you must be mine,' and I started for him again.

He made a break for the door, and escaped just as Agnes came down stairs. He hasn't been to call since, and I think Agnes must be awfully hard hearted. I'm sure if my young man stayed away so long, I'd just pine away and die,' and she gave me a look that made up for the box on the ear, and only added fire to the inextinguishable jealousy of the Dude."

Here hostilities between the Secretary and the Dude seemed so imminent that the Chairman hastily adjourned the most tumultuous meeting in the history of the club, in order to keep the peace, forgetting entirely about the business in hand, and the tremendous interests thus jeopardized. EX-SECRETARY.

TRADE NOTES, CLIPPINGS, AND ALL SORTS.

WE hear that W. A. Rhodes has signed with the Springfield Bicycle Co. for the coming season.

THIS week we print a fac simile letter from Holmes & Co., which should be "read, learned and inwardly digested" by our patrons. A reference to their advertisement is suggested.

ON the morning of the 21st ult. the employees of Iver Johnson & Co.'s factory, Worcester, Mass., formed the Springfield Roadster Bicycle Club, with club room at 40 Central St. The club has twelve active members (all riding Springfield Roadsters), and good prospects for more.

WE understand that the Kingston Knitting Co. are manufacturing some beautiful goods for the cycling trade, and are meeting the popular demand for good styles and good goods at very reasonable prices. We refer our readers to their advertisement.

MR. H. B. HART, of Philadelphia, reports unusually heavy sales. Last Saturday he sold $900 worth of cycles; Monday, $1000; and Tuesday between $800 and $900 worth.

WE have received one of Smith's detachable luggage carriers. It certainly looks like one of the simplest things we ever saw. We shall give it a test at the earliest moment possible.

MR. ALEC HILL, of the Coventry Machinists' Co., has just returned from a trip to Washington and Philadelphia. We are pleased to hear that his trip has been a successful one. He has infused new life into the Coventry's agents, and consequently large sales are the result. He starts for the West next week.

"LINNEUS," of St. Louis, writes us: "H. D. Corey, of the Pope Mfg. Co., was in town during the early part of the month. He reported a large business done en route, and particularly mentioned large sales of Columbias at Cleveland and Dayton. Unlike some of the cycling travelling men, Harry makes it a point to get among the boys, and get acquainted with them, for which he is liked all the more. Come again soon and often, Harry, and bring your riding legs with you.

THERE is no finer safety made in all England than the celebrated Ivel, made by Dan Albone, and certainly Wm. Read & Sons have shown commendable enterprise in securing the United States agency for this rear driver. We are pleased to hear that orders for the Ivel are being booked rapidly. The first lot of Ivel safeties was received on Tuesday morning, and every one was sold before sunset, and many orders await the second lot now due.

THE belief is general that every business, professional, or working man or woman, in summer at least, deserves and needs to be allowed to enjoy the privilege of a weekly half holiday. Progressive business men, whether philanthropic or not, agree that the granting of such a privilege does no injury to the trade, but rather by its beneficial effect upon the general business and labor health, tends to clear headedness and renewed working vigor, which more than pay for the slight of time. In every large city, and in almost all of the larger towns, the early closing movement received a boom last season, and indications point to a more general adoption this season. A large portion of the stores begin their half-holiday early in May, and many of them close during the summer about an hour earlier on the other week days. The Pope Mfg. Co., of Boston, has published a beautiful lithograph of unique and artistic design, suitable to display in door, window, or office, announcing the hour of closing. By an arrangement of stickers any hour can be given. The company will present one of these lithographs free to any early closing store, or will send one upon receipt of a two-cent stamp to pay postage.

COMING EVENTS.

April 28—International match race, one mile, W. A. Rowe vs. Richard Howell, Wolverhampton, Eng.
May 12—International match race, ten miles, W. A. Rowe vs. R. Howell, Coventry, Eng.
May 30—New York and New Jersey Road-Racing Association Team Race, at Irvington, N. J.
May 30—Tournament at Oakland, Cal.
May 30—Tournament at Los Angeles, Cal.
May 30—Maine Division L. A. W. Meet, at Portland.
May 30—Tournament Terre Haute Bicycle Club.
June 18 to 20—League of American Wheelmen Annual Meet, at Baltimore, Md.
July 1—Canadian Wheelmen's Association, Annual Meet, at Belleville, Ont.
July 4—California Division L. A. W. Meet.
July 4—Tournament at Newcastle, Pa.
Sept. 4, 6, 8—Buffalo Tournament.

Second-Hand Wheels,

Bought, Sold and Exchanged. Send for Second-hand List and our large illustrated Catalog of Wheels and Accessories, with full particulars of our terms of easy payments. Of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Liberal discounts to agents on second-hand Wheels. Prices on all Wheels guaranteed as low as the lowest.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

Bicycles on Easy Payments.

Victor, Springfield Roadster, New Rapid, American Champion, Star, Rival, Otto and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on Easy Payments with no extra charge except 8 per cent. interest. Low rates by fast freight or express. Bargains in Juvenile Wheels of Best Makers, at from $6.40 up. Large line of Accessories. REPAIRING AND NICKEL PLATING.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 9 G St., Peoria, Ill.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor.

THE Missouri officials will raise money for the popular subscription by appealing to the members for individual offers.

THE District of Columbia Division has sent in its offering to the League treasury in the shape of a check for $25. Very good indeed.

THE suggestion that convicts be employed to repair roads, drain swamps, etc., comes up once more, and this time from the officials of the Knights of Labor, who are urging that this kind of work should be done by convicts instead of what they are now given, for the latter brings them into competition with the honest laborer.

ROWLAND EVANS, of Philadelphia, has compromised his case against the huckster Carnell, who ran him down in Fairmount Park. Carnell pays to Mr. Evans $75, and Mr. Evans agrees to withdraw his suit and permit the "whip-slinger" to return to Philadelphia, from which he has been a fugitive for some time. Mr. Evans was assisted in his suit by the Penn. Division, and he will return to the officials of that division all the money advanced except his necessary expenses.

"BASSETT makes a statement in his part of the paper, which is promptly contradicted or adversely commented upon by Editor Fourdrinier in his part, and as the latter has much more space at his disposal, and the last word always, he generally has the best of the controversy."—Gazette. The piece of cloth out of which the above statement is made never felt the scissors. We omit the deductions since they are based on that which has no existence. The "bickerings" that have been going on between our colleague and ourselves are merely the growth of a somewhat abnormal imagination possessed by our Western contemporary.

Spring Meet, Massachusetts Division.

To the Members Massachusetts Division, L. A. W.:

In accordance with a vote of the Board of Officers of this Division, arrangements are being made for a Spring Meet of the members on Decoration Day, May 30th, and early notice is given that members and wheelmen generally may arrange their outing on that day, so as to be present.

Your committee, desirous of promoting the interests of the Division, by making the members better acquainted with each other, thereby securing more united effort in the interests of the League in this State, and to induce wheelmen to join our organization, have planned an inexpensive but, they trust, enjoyable programme for the day, and ask the co-operation of all in securing a large attendance.

The programme, as now contemplated, is as follows:

Assemble in Copley Square, leaving there exactly at 9.30 A. M.; a run to some grove on Charles River, where boating, swimming, base ball, and various other sports can be indulged in, a picnic lunch to be served, and such impromptu entertainments as the committee can devise and execute.

The entire cost to those attending is not to exced $1, and many who cannot afford the time and expense to attend the annual meets of the Division are expected to avail themselves of this opportunity.

Captains of clubs are requested to call runs in accordance with this programme, and notify Dr. W. G. Kendall, 176 Tremont street, Boston, of their doing so, and how many members of their club will be likely to attend. Unattached wheelmen who intend to be present are also requested to notify Dr. Kendall, as it is necessary to know what the attendance will be in order to provide sufficient lunch.

Let every man who intends being present send a postal at once, and let every wheelman in Massachusetts make an effort to be present.

Further information as to details will be given prior to Decoration Day.

J. B. SEWARD,
W. G. KENDALL,
W. H. EMERY, } Committee.

Boston, April 19, 1888.

Stone and Hull Reinstated.

In accordance with the vote of the Racing Board, Percy Stone of St. Louis and W. C. Hull of San Francisco are hereby reinstated, on condition that they do not race again. Fraternally yours,

GERRY JONES, Chairman Racing Board.

The Connecticut Road Book.

This Road Book was announced to appear April 1, but some delay has occurred through a late addition to its contents, and change in style of binding, necessitating extra work in making the covers. It is now being bound, and copies will be delivered as fast as received from the bindery, but it will probably be May 1 before orders can be promptly filled. Orders may be sent to L. A. Tracy, Chief Consul, Hartford, Ct.

Missouri Appointments.

I have appointed W. A. Rutledge Consul for Monroe City and vicinity. All other Consuls are re-appointed until Sept. 1st. Yours fraternally,

W. M. BREWSTER.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20th, 1888.

Minnesota Wheelmen, Attention.

In view of the recent circular letter of inquiry mailed all chief consuls by the L. A. W. Executive Committee, asking temporary financial aid, it is important that an expression of your opinion regarding same should be fully and promptly made. The point at issue is this: We have a balance, not a large one, due us from the L. A. W. treasurer on April 1st. The chief consul's opinion is that as we are not in immediate need of this, having no contemplated road book under way, that it would be better to remain the League's creditor for some time longer, than take up time and incur extra expense by assessing each member a stated sum.

If each member reading this notice will consider himself personally addressed, and promptly reply by letter, he will confer a great favor on me.

With the best wishes for a prosperous growth the coming season, I remain,

Yours fraternally,

S. F. HEATH, Chief Consul.

April 7th, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Tickets will be issued seventeen days after the publication of names.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

Members are requested to examine carefully these lists as they are published, and to report errors and omissions to the Secretary. In order that no objectionable person may unite with the League, members are given the right to protest, but such protest must be received by the Secretary within two weeks from the date of publication, and contain specific charges so far as it is possible to make them. All such communications will be considered confidential.

List 136—Total 135—9266.

BOSTON, April 27, 1888.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—5—331.

Ariel Bi. Club.

18465 Hewes, C. L., 1971 Grove st., Oakland.

Oak Leaf Bi. Club.

18446 Brown, A. G., Stockton.

Unattached.

18448 Skinner, W. C., Box 241, Los Angeles.
18447 Drake, Geo. F., 1720 Seward st., Oakland.
18445 Brewer, Edwin W., Pasadena.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—1—394.

Unattached.

18489 Ackrill Harry F., New Haven Register, New Haven.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—6—87.

Washington Cycle Club.

18396 McCormick, Chas. C., 616 K st., N. W. Washington.

Unattached.

18466 Elliot, Chas. H., 1668 14th st., N. W. "
18393 Childs, Wm. E., Surg. Genl's. Office, "
18394 Clark, Chas. R., Money Order Office, "
18395 Harvey, Evert L., 2d, Auditor's Office, "
18397 Terrill, L. D., 1228 14th st., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—13—524.

Harlem Wheelmen.

18449 Ryerson, John A., 135 Rush st., Chicago.

Kankakee Ramblers.

18498 Cobb, Walter, Kankakee.
18493 Darfee, Fred. "
18491 Halsey, W. S., "
18492 Halsey, N. G. Jr., "
18495 Kerr, Tom A. "
18494 Nichols, Emery, "
18497 Moore, B., "
18499 Seaver, J. H., "

Ottawa Cy. Club.

18398 Knensel, Gustave, 623 Illinois ave., Ottawa
18399 Wiley, Herbert C., 14 Court House, "

Quincy Bi. Club.

18490 Levy, Alfred J., 835 Broadway, Quincy.

Unattached.

18467 Chapman, G. S., Box 1700, Rockford.

IOWA DIVISION—4—118.

Cedar Falls Wheelmen.

18499 Bryant, Walter, Cedar Falls.
18500 Chase, H. L., "
18501 Hoag, Bert, "
18502 Hyer, H. J., "

KENTUCKY DIVISION—5—69.

Ruff Wheelmen.

18468 Alverson, W. D., Richmond.
18469 Mitchell, E. E., "
18470 Ruff, A. D., "
18471 Shackelford, D. B., "
18472 Turley, R. E., "

MAINE DIVISION—2—107.

Portland Wheel Club.

18503 Tuttle, Geo. O., 387 Congress st., Portland.
18504 West, Warren G., 33 Plum st., "

MARYLAND DIVISION—8—313.

Baltimore Cycle Club.

18421 Kappelman, E. L., 605 Carrollton ave., Baltimore.
18400 Mealy, W. R., 110 S. Howard st., "

Hagerstown Bi. Club.

18422 Wareham, E. A. Dr., Hagerstown.
18411 Martin, C. P., "

Unattached.

18473 Gunby, A. B., 411 W. Hoffman st., Baltimore.
18505 Jackson, Edw. S., 141 W. Townsend st., "
18507 Wiemer, W. Ringgold, 1719 Lafayette ave., Baltimore.
18506 Ramsburg, E. B., or E. Church st., Frederick.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—11—1040.

Bay State Bicycle Club.

18423 Ingraham, H. B., 49 Park st., Worcester.

Cambridge Bi. Club.

18450 Norris, Edmund H., 18 Mason st., Cambridge.

No. Adams Wheelmen.

18414 McLaren, R. T., Box 386, Adams.

Worcester Bi. Club.

18452 Windle, W. W., West Millbury.

Unattached.

18413 Friedman, A., 105 Bedford st., Boston.
18412 Deane, Richard B., 18 Parchase st., Fall River.
18425 Worthen, Lewis E., 106 Main st., Haverhill.
18424 Lichtenstein, R. C., 274 Lamartine st., Jamaica Plain.
18415 Perry, Albert A., Box 223, Milton.
18401 Sawtelle, W. H., 58 Prospect st., Waltham.
18451 Bucker, W. E., 457 Southbridge, Worcester.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—6—211.

Mountaineer Bi. Club.

18453 Havens, Wm. H., Iron Mountain.
18454 Jones, J. Russell, "

Unattached.

18508 Walworth, A., 17 So. 5th st., Ann Arbor.
18427 Chapman, H. J., 441 Lafayette ave., Detroit.
18428 Densmore, E. J., 23 Howard st., "
18426 Wallace, J. W., Ypsilanti.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—7—89.

Minneapolis Bi. Club.

18509 Barwick, C., 17 No. 1st st., Minneapolis.
18510 Lacioe, Harry D., 1413 8th st. S., "
18511 Leachman, Henry P., 1417 Wash. ave. S., "
18512 Pauly, Will T., Pauly House, "
18513 Reid, Wm. J., 120 1st ave. No., "
18514 Schutz, Geo. P., 800 14th ave., "

Unattached.

18402 Bartlett, Geo. H., 14 4th st. S., "

MISSOURI DIVISION—1—284.

United Wheelmen.

18471 Ramsey, Harry C., K. C. Safe Deposit, Kansas City.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—3—81.

Unattached.

18515 Cole, Bert W., Grand Island.
18455 Addis, R. D., Lincoln.
18510 Merrill, G., Sutton.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—3—91.

Manchester Bi. Club.

18456 Harvey, Fred S., Loco. Works Foundry, Manchester.
18457 Rice, J. H., 61 West Merrimack st., "
18458 Wheeler, R. A., 68 Lowell st., "

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—6—585.

Hudson Co. Wheelmen.

18459 Kinge, C. E., 327 1-2 Eighth st., Jersey City.

Morris Wanderers.

18416 Sullivan, Harry, Box 180, Morristown.

Unattached.

18518 Toplif, Cyrus L., Montclair.
18519 Van Vleck, Charles E., "
18517 Bartlett, Chas. A., Whitall, Tatum & Co., Millville.
18403 Defoe, S. A., M. D., Washington.

NEW YORK DIVISION—21—1981.

Auburn Cycle Club.

18475 Anderson, T. W., care Nye & Wait, Auburn.
18476 Hickok, J. L., 135 Wall st., "
18477 Holcomb, C. F., 40 Ross pl., "

Hoosac Wheelmen.

18432 Kincaid, Manfred D., Box 199, Hoosick Falls

K. C. W.

18408 Wardell, N. S., 30 Kosciusco st., Brooklyn.

League of Holland Wheelmen.

18417 Gunning, J. L., 18 West 60th st., New York City.

Poughkeepsie Bi. Club.

18520 Bowne, F., Box 237, Poughkeepsie.

Syracuse Cy. Club.

18404 Cherry, Walter B., 90 So. Clinton st., Syracuse.
18405 Hopkins, E. P., 70 University ave., "
18406 Sperry, B. N., 120 W. Genesee st., "
18407 Yale, Wesley A., 172 S. Salina st., "

Unattached.

18418 Jacobs, John H., 84 Newton ave., Astoria.
18521 Ormsbee, Allen, 183 Joralemon st., Brooklyn.
18429 Davidson, A. W., Greene.
18430 Rathbone, W. A., "
18431 Welch, C. W., "
18478 Bruyn, James V., Box 188, Kingston.
18479 Prall, Wm. C., Box 612, "
18480 Van Gaas Beck, Ed., Box 327, "
18522 Mayer, Wm. E., Box 131, Lancaster.
18460 Harrington, J. Stuart, 2 Court st., Watertown.

OHIO DIVISION—17—729.

Youngstown Bi. Club.

18437 Davis, C. W., Youngstown.
18438 Evans, H. S., "
18433 Kennedy, C. H., "
18439 Powers, Isaac, "
18434 McCay, Frank, "
18440 Jones, Fred., "
18435 Siegfried, Wm., "
18436 Zimmerman, W. W., "

Unattached.

18525 Schriber, M. F., 51 Harrison ave., Cincinnati.
18440 Corns, Harry, W. Woodbury ave., Columbus.
18480 Norton, C. B., Box 127, Conneaut.
18481 Davis, Geo. S., Wapakoneta.
18482 Hartman, H. "
18483 Knarr, John, "
18484 Ramsey, C. A., "
18485 Rauth, F., "
18526 Siegfried, F. H., Box 305, Youngstown.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—8—1203.

Unattached.

18487 Achre, H. T. Clark.
18441 Beck, Chas., Hanover.
18420 Van Schoick, Robt., Kingston.
18443 Walker, R. L. Jr., Mansfield.
18409 Hertzler, John Z., Morgantown.
18442 Herzog, Lewis E., 1101 Pine st., Philadelphia.
18527 Myler, Will M., E. L. Stock Yard, Pittsburgh.
18410 Swartz, S. J., York.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—3—109.

Rhode Island Wheelmen.

18523 Blackmar, Miss G. W., 14 Fuller st., Providence.
18444 Bogman, Mrs. Lucy Gorham, 161 Benefit st., Providence.

Unattached.

18524 Rice, Herbert W., 263 Washington st., "

TENNESSEE DIVISION—1—51.

Memphis Cycle Club.

18461 Thayer, Frank B., 265 Main st., Memphis.

VERMONT DIVISION—1—50.

Unattached.

18462 Bancroft, J. F., Saxton River.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—3—78.

Racine Bi. Club.

18488 Nichols, Geo. P., Racine.

Unattached.

18463 Arpke, Carl, Sheboygan.
18464 Keller, Emil H., "

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

CERTIFICATES have been filed in this office certifying that the following clubs will continue on the list of League clubs for and during the year 1888:—

Minneapolis Bicycle Club, Minneapolis, Minn.
Kankakee Ramblers, Kankakee, Ill.

All memberships in the League of American Wheelmen expired Jan. 17, and as all members must renew, so must all clubs. Before a club is entered on the list of 1888, the following certificate must be filed by the Secretary: "This certifies that the Blank Club will remain a League club for and during the year 1888. Blank, Blank, Sec."

LEAGUE MEET COMMITTEES AND HOTEL ARRANGEMENTS.

The annual meeting of the L. A. W. will be held at Baltimore, Md., June 18, 19, 20. Correspondence relating to matters connected with the Meet should be conducted with the chairmen of the different committees, as given below:—

General Committee.—Chairman, A. E. Mealy, 1521 Entaw place; Secretary, R. M. Lockwood, 1731 McCulloh street. This committee is made up of the chairmen of the different sub-committees, and has full control of the entire arrangements for the meet.

Finance Committee.—Chairman, W. H. Beatly, No. 92 Dugan's wharf.

Reception.—Chairman, Geo. S. Hagerty, care of Keen & Hagerty, Baltimore. All communication on securing advance hotel accommodations and storage of wheels must be addressed to this committee.

Transportation (Local).—Chairman, Jos. Chism, 10 E. Lombard street. All information as to how to reach Baltimore during the meet will be furnished by this committee, or by the National Transportation Committee.—Chairman and Western representative, B. B. Ayres, 132 S. Hoyne avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Eastern representative, Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 West 58th street, New York.

Entertainment.—Chairman, Albert Mott, 1513 Barclay street, Baltimore.

Parade.—Chairman, E. P. Hayden, care of Drovers Mechanics, National Bank, Baltimore.

Races.—Chairman, Sam'l T. Clark, 2 and 4 Hanover street, Baltimore.

Tours and Runs.—Chairman, F. W. Pope, 7 South street, Baltimore.

Programme (Official).—Chairman, Milton S. Wood, care of A. Hoen & Co., Baltimore.

Press.—Chairman, C. R. Eisenbrandt, 424 E. Baltimore street.

Hotel Arrangements.—The Carrolton Hotel (American) can accommodate 150 guests; terms $2.50 to $4.00 per day; to L. A. W. members during the meet, $3.00.

The "Hotel Reanert" (European) can accommodate 100 guests; terms, single rooms, $1.50 to $3.00; double rooms, $2.50 to $4.00 per day; a reduction of 50 cents per day will be allowed L. A. W. members. Suites of apartments, containing parlor, bed, bath and toilet rooms, from $6.00 to $10.00 per day; a reduction of $1.00 per day to L. A. W. members.

The Entaw House (American), accommodations for 250 guests. Terms, $2.50 to $3.50 per day; to L. A. W. members during the meet, $2.00 to $3.00 per day, according to location of rooms.

Guy's Hotel (European), accommodation for 200 guests. Terms, single rooms, $1.50 per day; double rooms, $2.50 per day; with a probable reduction to L. A. W. members.

MASSACHUSETTS ROAD BOOK. Those who join the League in second quarter, paying $1.75, can get book of Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass., by paying ten cents. League members in other States can get book for $1.

NEW YORK ROAD BOOK. 200 pages. Price to Division members $1.50; to League members from other States, $1.50. Remit to A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

CALIFORNIA ROAD BOOK. 160 pages. M. R. Gibson, 612 Hyde St., San Francisco, Cal.

OHIO ROAD BOOK. Bound in leather, $1; in cloth, 50c. Frank C. Meyer, Canton, Ohio.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

188

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor. (Box 5267, Boston, Mass.)

Dear Sir—Inclosed find $ for initiation fee and dues in the League of American Wheelmen to Dec. 31st next ensuing. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the League definition. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,

P. O. Address.

Club.

City and State,

References:

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

MEMBERSHIP FEE.—The Initiation Fee is $1.00; the Annual Dues are Twenty-five Cents a Quarter, in advance. In January, February or March, enclose $2.00; in April, May or June, enclose $1.75; in July, August or September, enclose $1.50; in October, November or December, enclose $1.25.

☞If you want a waterproof ticket holder, made of the best calf skin, with a receptacle for ticket, where it can easily be exposed to view, and a pocket for personal cards, send 25 cents extra. If you want your name, in gold, stamped on the holder, send 50 cents extra.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

In this Department, 15 cents a line. Cash must accompany the order.

HAVE YOU GOT a pair of Ball Pedals to sell? Give your lowest cash price and description to J. A. WHITTEMORE, Fairfield, Maine.

FOR SALE—Sparkbrook Tandem; excellent condition; new last year. Best offer over $175 takes it. Cost $260. E. N. BOWEN, 585 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

56-INCH Harvard Special; full nickeled; ball bearings; good condition. Price $55. C. W. WAGNER, Ann Arbor, Mich.

FOR SALE—Standard Columbia, bright and enamel, plain bearings, C. H. Bars, Spade Handles. First-class conditiou. $50.00. C. E. LATHROP, Armada, Mich.

FOR SALE—Marlboro' Club Tandem, new 1886, not used 1887; balls all round; safe, fast and satisfactory; first-class condition. Price $150. Address R. F. SHANNON, 907 Liberty st., Pittsburg, Pa.

FOR SALE—A 53-inch Apollo Bicycle; prime order; all improvements. Cheap. Address C. A. M., P. O. Box No. 2384, Boston.

FOR SALE—One 50-inch Ideal, in good condition; enamel and nickeled, with Lillibridge saddle; worth $50; will sell for $30, if taken at once. H. S. WEDMORE, Guilford, Conn.

$90. GREAT BARGAIN—54-inch Royal Mail; ball pedals, spade handles, &c., in perfect order. Has had no hard usage. Lock Box 973, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR SALE CHEAP—50-inch Columbia Light Roadster, standard finish, 1886 pattern; ball bearings all around; cow horn handle bars; Kirkpatrick saddle; in first-class condition. For particulars address Box 2181, Ithaca, N. Y.

56-INCH Rudge Light Roadster, 1887 pattern, with Butcher Cyclometer; condition A No. 1. Price $100. Will pay any one $10 causing the sale. F. C. PIERCE, Smithport, Pa.

58-INCH English bicycle for sale. Balls all round, including pedals. Cow-horn bars, spade handles, and all modern improvements. New last fall. Owner going abroad. $70. takes it. GEORGE D. HAZARD, Room 83, Equitable Building, Boston.

FOR SALE—58-inch Expert, enamel and nickel, Kirkpatrick saddle, King of Road lamp; machine and tyres scarcely show a scratch; all just as good as new; good reason for selling. Price, $85.00. Address G. W. GAIL, Jr., care The Clark Cycle Co., Baltimore

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One Columbia Ladies' 2-track Tricycle. One 54-inch Expert Columbia (C) finish. One 50-inch Standard Columbia, full nickel; all of these wheels are as good as new, and will be sold cheap. Correspondence solicited. Will trade for a good Columbia Tandem. Address PALLISTER BROS., Ottumwa, Iowa.

FOR SALE—Sparkbrook Tandem, perfect order; new tires, ball pedals, cyclometer, lamp, buffer saddles, enamel and nickel trimmings. A bargain. H. E. BIDWELL, Pittsburg, Pa.

FOR SALE—New Columbia Light Roadster Tricycle, list $165; will sell for $140 cash. T. B. RAYL & CO., Detroit, Mich.

BRAND NEW New Mail, '88 pattern; warranted perfect. $115. CYCLE SUPPLY CO., 3 Berkeley street, Boston.

FOR SALE—American Star Special, and Expert Columbia 60-inch, at very low prices. Address P. O. Box 269, Cincinnati.

FOR SALE—Club Tandem; balls all around; in fine condition. Price $130. Apply Room No. 14, 32 Pemberton sq., Boston.

BICYCLE FOR SALE—A 56-inch American Rudge, in good condition. Price $75.00. ARTHUR H. TUCKER, Blue Hill, Mass.

RACING TRICYCLE—Rudge Cripper; ball bearings; geared sixty one; $100. Buffalo Home Trainer; good condition; $20. DAVIS & HUNT, Cleveland, O.

THE NATIONAL A HIGH GRADE BICYCLE.

THE TRICYCLE IN RELATION TO HEALTH AND RECREATION. By B. W. Richardson, M. D., F. R. S. By mail, 30 cents.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

BICYCLE UNIFORMS.

COATS.

A Grade—Made to order of Special Bicycle Cloth, in Gray, Black and Navy Blue, best quality.....$15.00
B Grade—Made to order of good quality Cloth, Gray, Black and Navy Blue..... 12.00
C Grade—Made to order of heavy Flannel, Gray, Black and Navy Blue..... 9.00

KNEE PANTS.

A Grade.....$7.50
B Grade..... 6.00
C Grade..... 5.00

Send for samples of Uniform Material.

SHIRTS.

A Grade—Made to order of extra fine imported Flannel, best in the market.....$5.00
B Grade—Made of fine imported Flannel..... 3.50
C Grade—Made of imported Flannel..... 2.50

BICYCLE BELTS.

No. 00. Extra heavy nickel buckle..... .50
No. 1. Leather mounted..... .40
No. 2. Best leather mounted..... .30
No. 4. Leather mounted, cotton web..... .25

BICYCLE SHOES.

No. BX. Spalding's Hand Made Kangaroo Bicycle Shoe, cut low, with leather sole and low heel.....$5.00
No. CX. Spalding's Dongola Bicycle Shoe, made same as No. BX..... 4.00
No. DX. Spalding's Canvas Bicycle Shoe, leather trimmed and sole..... 2.50

Spalding's Catalogue of Summer Sports and Athletic Uniforms Free,

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO. | 241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

A. C. SPALDING & BROS.

BICYCLE CAPS.

No. A—30. Made of same material as No. A Grade of uniforms.....$2.00
No. B—30. Made of same material as No. B Grade of uniforms..... 1.75
No. C—30. Made of same material as No. C Grade of uniforms..... 1.25

BICYCLE HOSE.

No. 000. The Holmes Bicycle High Stocking and Supporter. The thigh part is of soft material, cool and comfortable, and so knit as to hold stockings in place; at the same time it relieves any drawing or pressure. We have sole control of this stocking. Colors: Black, navy blue, gray and L. A. W. Brown.....$2.50

No. 00. New Linen Sole Bicycle Stocking. A new and specially valuable addition to the cyclist's comfort. It is a handsome ribbed stocking, made in all colors, and the feet are made of the finest linen, which is almost as soft and pliable as silk. The advantages of this stocking (which is covered by a strong patent) are of course very evident, namely, having a splendid serviceable leg, and keeping the feet cool and comfortable.
Price per pair.....$1.25

No. 0. Fine Ribbed Bicycle Hose..... 1.50
No. 1. Plain Wool Bicycle Hose..... 1.00

Spalding's Bicycle Catalogue
Mailed Free.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO. | 241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Lord Bury, President N. C. U.—"I have very great pleasure in saying that your "ROVER" is a very perfect machine."
THE "ROVER" has set the fashion to the world.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is one of the happiest ideas that have evolved from the mind of maker.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." The fastest 50 miles ever ridden on the road was on the "Rover."—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has reached the States, and is favorably received in Boston.—Tri. Journal.
THE "ROVER" Starley and Sutton are having their expectations realized.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER." On this machine some startling speed rates may be look for.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." Worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by this firm.—Illustrated Sports.
THE "ROVER" has covered the longest distance in the hour on the road.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" has been attended by an enormous amount of success.—Athletic News.
THE "ROVER." For night riding its equal would be hard to find.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" has proved its worth.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.
THE "ROVER." We have the highest opinion of this machine.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" shows to what perfection cycling has arrived.—Court Journal.
THE "ROVER" is easy, comfortable, safe and a good hill climber.—Invention.
THE "ROVER" is extremely easy and pleasant.—Cassell's Family Magazine.
THE "ROVER" is quite free from the vice of side-slipping.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" is the best and safest of all the Safeties.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is the best hill climber on the road.—The Presbyterian.
THE "ROVER" is built on the soundest of principles.—Weekly Budget.
THE "ROVER" is speedy, comfortable and safe.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" is the King of Safeties.—Irish Cyclist and Athlete.
THE "ROVER" continues to merit my warmest confidence.—Health.

THE "ROVER" is a wonderful machine.—Hardware Trade Journal.
THE "ROVER" on which record was so badly beaten.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is very fast and safe to a degree.—C. T. C. Gazette.
THE "ROVER" attracts a great amount of attention.—Bell's Life.
THE "ROVER" was, of course, well to the fore.—Land & Water.
THE "ROVER" is a very excellent machine.—Colonies and India.
THE "ROVER" runs with remarkable steadiness.—The Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." We always use a "Rover."—Tricycling Journal.
THE "ROVER." The 100 mile race was marvellous.—Citizen.
THE "ROVER" is the fastest and safest machine.—Knowledge
THE "ROVER." This machine is par excellence."—Knowledge.
THE "ROVER" presents many features of interest.—Health.
THE "ROVER" is a splendid hill climber.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" is a sterling machine.—English Mechanic.
THE "ROVER" is exceedingly well received.—Ironmonger.
THE "ROVER" proved to be as fast as predicted.—Field.
THE "ROVER" is learned in ten minutes.—Irish Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" now so well known.—Bicycling News.
THE "ROVER" does not slip sideways.—The Cyclist.
THE "ROVER" is a perfect beauty.—Cycling Times.
THE "ROVER." The success of the year.—Bazaar.
THE "ROVER." A most luxurious vehicle.—Youth
THE "ROVER" is a perfect demon.—Wheeling.

STARLEY & SUTTON, "Meteor" Works, West Orchard, COVENTRY.

BICYCLE AND ATHLETIC CARMENTS
Manufactured by the KINGSTON KNITTING CO.,

Are made of the very best Worsted and Fine Wool Stock, and for beauty of design, superior workmanship, durability and reasonable prices cannot be excelled.

Our goods are made in beautiful colorings, in Plains, in Stripes and in Mixtures, for Bicycle, Gymnasium, Lawn Tennis, Yachting, Rowing, Base Ball, Dress Suits, etc.

Our Knickerbockers, Knee Tights and Full Body Tights are made in three weights, with special reference to comfort and durability, furnished with re-enforcements, Suspensory Pockets, Fly Fronts, and back Lacings, Loops for belts, Buttons on legs, etc., and have no superior in the market.

Our Jerseys in Plains and Stripes are beautiful goods, and made in all colors and mixtures, with Long Sleeves, Short Sleeves, and Sleeveless, with Low Necks, Single Collars, English Turn-over Collars and Laced fronts, and for comfort, beauty and elasticity are not excelled.

Our Bicycle and Lawn Tennis Coats are made in two styles and weights, in Stripes, Plains and Mixtures, and are this season the most stylish and popular garments worn. These goods, with our ribbed Sweaters and Stockings to match, are the leading styles and used by the best trade.

Our Fine Worsted Bicycle Hosiery, in all weights and colors, is not equalled by any other manufacturer, and is appreciated by our best Hosiery dealers.

Our Glove-Fitting Hosiery, with double heels and toes, is without a rival, and all of our goods are offered to the trade at very reasonable prices. Correspondence solicited. Address, KINGSTON KNITTING CO., - - 27 Kingston Street, Boston, Mass.

REPAIRING

Of all kinds a specialty. Send for estimate. The largest stock of parts in the United States for repairs of all kinds. Cash paid for old wheels. Send for catalogue of American Wheels.

MURRAY'S,
100 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

To fit any Bicycle - - $2.50.

Improved for 1888; making the most popular Handle on the market.

Rubber Tires, all sizes, at reduced prices.

C. W. SPINNEY, Fitchburg, Mass.

SECOND-HAND GUNS AND REVOLVERS
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before you buy a Bicycle send to A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio, for largest list of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

DIFFICULT REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

TRICYCLING FOR LADIES. By Miss F. J. Erskine. "For some time past there has been a real need with many ladies who have had their interest awakened on the subject of tricycling for some small book which should put them in possession of the most useful and necessary information without having to pay for it by their own experience. This want is now supplied, and in Miss Erskine's book will be found hints on the choice and management of tricycles, with suggestions on dress, riding and touring, etc., adapted to a lady's special requirements." 25 cents.

TWO PILGRMS' PROGRESS. "From Fair Florence to the Eternal City of Rome—Delivered under the Similitude of a Ride, wherein is Discovered the manner of their fetting out, their dangerous journey and safe arrival at the Defired City." By Joseph and Elizabeth Pennell. A delightful book of travels on a tandem, and containing nearly 200 pages of letter press by Mrs. Pennell, and numerous iustrations from the pencil of Jo Pennell. The book is elegantly bound, and is an ornament to any table or library. Price, $1.00, post paid.

ANOTHER COLUMBIA

The Columbia Tandem for 1888

For ladies and gentlemen; the only American high-grade tandem on the market, and the most successful tandem manufactured; a front-wheel handle-bar steerer, which two ladies can ride if desired; steered and controlled by brake from either seat; readily convertible into a "single;" as light as a roadster tandem can be built.

☞ The most comprehensive cycling catalogue published free.

POPE MFG. CO., 79 FRANKLIN ST., - - BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES: 12 Warren Street, New York; 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

A large invoice of these famous machines, and also of the well-known

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER,

Just received.

Rudge Catalogue Free.

H. M. SABEN, Manager,

152 Congress Street, Boston.

Is there an agent for the RUDGE in your vicinity? If not apply as above.

L.A.W. BULLETIN

ROLL CONTENTS
VOLUMES 4 - 6

ROLL NO. 2

END

PLEASE REWIND